payment of Rs 224 odd (which was immediately paid) and by passing two promissory notes for Rs 14 000 each payable with interest on two dates. The amount of interest was (probably by oversight) not specified but there was no doubt that the parties intended that it would be at a certain customary rate which worked out to between 6 and 7 percent per annum. A however subsequently and without communication with B went to one of the arbitrators and (without having had faith either on his part or the arbitrator's persuaded him to alter both promissory notes by inserting therein 9 percent as the rate of interest. A's action on the two promissory notes having been dismissed on the ground of material alteration he sued B for two items of moneys amounting to Rs 42 297 odd which he had claimed before the arbitrators and which were included in their award. Held that the receipt constituted the award of the arbitrators. That whether it did or did not amount to an award it was clearly an accord and satisfaction by a substituted agreement whereby the respective rights of the parties inter se were abandoned in consideration of the acceptance by all of a new agreement. That the arrangement for the discharge of the unpaid balance of the amount found due by means of the promissory notes only expressed the mode of payment which was essentially a matter of form only the substance of the award being that the specified amount was actually due. The plaintiff could therefore sue for the balance due upon the agreement when his action on the promissory notes failed. That the form of the plaintiff's action which was based on rights already extinguished by the agreement was faulty. But the present action should be treated as one based on the new agreement the defendant not having taken exception to plaintiff's statement of the grounds of his claim so as to give him an opportunity to amend them at an earlier stage. That a claim on the promissory notes and a claim for the amount found due under the award were not the same cause of action but were really inconsistent and mutually exclusive causes of action and the plaintiff was not required in his suit on the promissory notes to ask for relief on the cause of action arising out of the agreement by s 34 of the Ceylon Civil Procedure Act. That the plaintiff's suit which was for a part only of the unpaid balance should be decreed. But he would be precluded by s 34 of the Ceylon Civil Procedure Act from bringing a fresh action for the remainder. The object and meaning of s 34 of the Ceylon Civil Procedure Act (which is very similar to O II r 2 of the Indian Code) explained. This section is directed to securing the exhaustion of the relief in respect of a cause of action and not to the inclusion in one and the same action different causes of action even though they arise from the same transactions. The first part of the clause makes it incumbent on the plaintiff to include the whole of his claim in the action. The second portion makes it incumbent on him to ask for the whole of his remedy. The final paragraph (Explanation in the Indian Code) is not intended to be an illustration of the foregoing provisions, but a substantive enactment making what otherwise would be independent causes of action a cause of action for the purposes of the

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—*contd*O I r 10 (1882 Code ss 27 32 and 33)—contd

the suit in the Court of first instance Chunni Lal v Lala Ram I L R 16 All 5 followed Pachauri Raut v Ram Kishan (1914)

I L R 37 All 57

O I r 10 (2) and O XXXIV

r 1—Mortgage—Suit for redemption—Suit by some of the heirs of mortgagor—Application to add remaining heirs as defendants after cause of action had become time barred—Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 22 Some of the heirs of a mortgagor sued to redeem the mortgage a few days before the expiry of the period of limitation. To meet an objection raised for non joinder of parties the plaintiffs subsequently applied to make the remaining heirs party defendants to the suit. The lower Courts declined to make them parties on the ground that the claim as regards them was barred by s 22 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908. The plaintiffs having appealed Held that the plaintiffs right to redeem which they had when they filed the suit was not lost by their omission to make the remaining heirs parties. They were only necessary parties to give multiplicity of suits and to prevent the mortgagee being subjected to suits being filed against him in succession by various parties entitled to the equity of redemption. Held also that it was within the discretion of the Court under O I r 10 sub r (2) of the Civil Procedure Code to make the remaining heirs co defendants and then to consider what would be the legal result of such addition. Per Fawcett J—There is no provision in either the Civil Procedure Code or the Indian Limitation Act which says that a party cannot be added after his right of suit or liability to be sued (as the case may be) is barred by the provisions of the Indian Limitation Act. Accordingly I think it is absurd to hold that the plaintiffs right of redemption is entirely lost because he has not complied with the provisions of O XXXIV r 1. That in my opinion would be subordinating justice to a technicality of procedure. SHIVURAT v SHRIDHARWAR MARTAND (1920) I L R 45 Bom 1009

O I r 10 and O XXII r 10—

A trespasser cannot be said to have brought to suit on behalf of the rightful owner and the latter is consequently not entitled to have himself substituted for the trespasser. When a person has obtained a decree for possession of an estate it is not necessary for him to take out execution of the decree in order to sue an agent of his predecessor in possession for an account. MAHAPAT v KESHO PRASAD SINGH v LAL BISHU MOHAN LAL 2 Pat L J 199

O I r 10 and 11—Defendant

*if may be joined as plaintiff—Hindu—*Where a plaintiff had brought a suit for the recovery of possession of property falsely denying the title of persons whom he had joined as defendants and a setting that an exchange by which he had transferred this property to these defendants had never been acted upon and it was found that the exchange had in fact terminated the plaintiffs title and had been acted on and that he had therefore no locus standi to sue the principal defendant. Held on an application for liberty to join the transferee defendants as plaintiffs that it could not be said that the plaintiff

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—*contd*O I rr 10 and 11—contd

had made a bona fide mistake within the meaning of O I r 10 Civil Procedure Code. GANENDRA NATH RAY CHOWDHURY v SURYA KANTA RAY CHOWDHURY (1912) 17 C W N 482

O I r 13 (1882 Code s 34)—

Where parties without objection join issue and go to trial defendant cannot later raise irregularities in initial procedure to defeat jurisdiction. JOI CHANDRA DUTTA v SARANWALA DEBI

23 C W N 576

O II rr 1 2 and 3—(1882 Code ss 42 43 and 45)—Previous suit for declarationdismissal of for want of prayer for possession—Later suit for declaration and possession maintainable of

The dismissal of a previous suit for a declaration of title to certain properties on the ground that the plaintiff was found entitled to possession is no bar to a suit for possession based on the same title as the causes of action for which the allegations in the plaints must be looked to and different in the two cases. O II

rr 1 2 and 3 are no bar to the later suit. ChandKour v Partab Singh I L R 16 Cal 98*Thirukathal Madathil Ramam v ThiruthiyilKrishnan Nair* I L R 29 Mad 153*RamaswamiAyyar v Vythianatha Ayyar* I L R 26 Mad 60*Donoo Singh Mondra v Anand Singh Mondra* I

L R 12 Cal 291

Jibantsi Kolk Khan v ShihDoth Chuckerbutty I L R 8 Cal 519 and MohanLalv Bala I L R 14 All 512 followed. MuthuKarayana Peddi v Rayala Redd 6 Mad L J51 and Ranganam Pillai v Krishna Pillai I L R22 Mad 259 not followed. SULIMAN SAIB vHASSON (1913) I L R 38 Mad 247

O II r 2 (1882 Code s 43)—

See O VII r 6 I L R 2 Lah 13

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)

s 34 I L R 35 All 512

See AMENDMENT OF PLAINT

I L R 45 Cal 305

See CAUSE OF ACTION

I L R 41 Cal 825

I L R 46 Cal 610

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1902) s 43

I L R 32 All 625

I L R 33 All 244

See EXECUTION I L R 38 Mad 199

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) Sec

I ARTS 62 AND 190

I L R 40 Mad 291

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—POWER

I L R 33 All 291

See MORTGAGE 25 C W N 129

See RES JUDICATA

I L R 43 Bom 505

See SANTAL PATAGANAS SETTLEMENT RE

GULATION 1871 8 Pat L J 373

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE

5 Pat L J 314

1 ———— Landlord and tenant—lease

—Landlord to recover possession on tenants failure to pay rent—Suit by landlord to recover possession on tenants failure—Decree directing plaintiff to

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O II r 2 (1882 Code s 43)—contd

reco or posse ion on tenants failure to pay rent within three months—Defendants failure and recovery of possession by plaintiff—Prayer in the plaint for reservation of leave to bring a suit for rent not granted—Subsequent suit by the plaintiff to recover rent—Subsequent suit barred. A lease provided that on the tenants failure to pay rent the landlord should be entitled to take possession of the lands. The tenants having failed to pay the rent of two years the landlord sued them and obtained a decree which directed that on the defendants default to pay all the arrears of rent and costs within three months the plaintiff should take possession of the land. In the said suit the plaintiff had asked for permission to bring a separate suit for the rent in arrears for two years but none was given. Subsequently the plaintiff having brought a suit for the said rent of two years. Held that the suit was barred under O II r 2 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) as the claim in the suit for rent up to the date of forfeiture arose upon the same contract as did the landlord's right of forfeiture for non payment of rent that no necessary or reason existed for a separate suit for rent where there had been a forfeiture or non payment and that the claim for possession and the claim for rent ought to be enforced in one suit provided the cause of action was the same unless the Court should give leave for the reservation of one of the remedies. KASTHINATH PANCHANDRA v NATHOO KESHAV (1914) I L R 38 Bom 444

2 — Hundi—given in discharge of debt on accounts—Failure of suit on hundi—Subsequent suit based on the accounts. A debtor gave his creditor a hundi for the amount of his debt. The creditor accepted the hundi but the debtor failed to pay it at maturity. The creditor then sued the debtor on his hundi but failed to recover. Held that this was no bar to his suing on the accounts to recover the debt. The cause of action on the hundi was totally distinct from the cause of action in respect of the original debt. Pronath Mukerji v Bishan Prasad I L R 79 All 256 doubted. Payana Resia Layana Samanthan Chetty v Pana Lana Palaniappa Chetty 18 C W A 617 referred to. BENI RAM v PARI CHANDAR (1914) I L R 35 All 560

3 — Causes of action different though claim same—Agreement admitting liability and prescribing payment by promissory notes—Promissory notes materially altered—Suit on promissory notes dismissed—Suit upon agreement of lies—Accord and satisfaction by substituted agreement —Claim on prior rights extinguished—Suit on such claim if lies—Ceylon Civil Procedure Act s 34 (cf Civil Procedure Code O II r 2)—Pleading faulty—Claim in plaint based on wrong grounds—No objection by defendant—Amendment. 1 whose claim to receive certain items of money from B was disputed by the latter agreed with B to refer the disputes to arbitrators who after an informally conducted investigation drew up what was termed a receipt which B signed the arbitrators witnessed and A accepted and acted upon. The document dealt serially with seven sums thereby admitted to be due from B to A amounting in all to Rs 28224 odd and prescribed the mode in which it was to be paid namely by a cash payment of Rs 224 odd (which was immediately paid) and by giving two promissory notes for Rs 14000 each payable with interest on two dates. The amount of interest was (probably by oversight) not specified but there was no doubt that the parties intended that it would be at a certain customary rate which worked out to between 6 and 7 percent per annum. A however subsequently and without communication with B went to one of the arbitrators and (without bad faith either on his part or the arbitrator persuaded him to alter both promissory notes by inserting therein 9 percent as the rate of interest. A's action on the two promissory notes having been dismissed on the ground of material alteration he sued B for two items of moneys amounting to Rs 12297 odd which he had claimed before the arbitrators and which were included in their award. Held that the receipt constituted the award of the arbitrators. That whether it did or did not amount to an award it was clearly on record and satisfaction by a substituted agreement whereby the respective rights of the parties inter se were abandoned in consideration of the acceptance by all of a new agreement. That the arrangement for the discharge of the unpaid balance of the amount found due by means of the promissory notes only expressed the mode of payment which was essentially a matter of form only the substance of the award being that the specified amount was actually due the plaintiff could therefore sue for the balance due upon the agreement when his action on the promissory notes failed. That the form of the plaintiff's action which was based on rights already extinguished by the agreement was faulty. But the present action should be treated as one based on the new agreement the defendant not having taken exception to plaintiff's statement of the grounds of his claim so as to give him an opportunity to amend them at an earlier stage. That a claim on the promissory notes and a claim for the amount found due under the award were not the same cause of action but were really inconsistent and mutually exclusive causes of action and the plaintiff was not required in his suit on the promissory notes to ask for relief on the cause of action arising out of the agreement by s 34 of the Ceylon Civil Procedure Act. That the plaintiff's suit which was for a part only of the unpaid balance should be decreed. But he would be precluded by s 34 of the Ceylon Civil Procedure Act from bringing a fresh action for the remainder. The object and meaning of s 34 of the Ceylon Civil Procedure Act (which is very similar to O II r 2 of the Indian Code) explained. This section is directed to securing the exhaustion of the relief in respect of a cause of action and not to the inclusion in one and the same action different causes of action even though they arise from the same transactions. The first part of the clause makes it incumbent on the plaintiff to include the whole of his claim in the action. The second portion makes it incumbent on him to ask for the whole of his remedies. The final paragraph (Explanation in the Indian Code) is not intended to be an illustration of the foregoing provisions but a substantive enactment making what otherwise would be independent causes of action one cause of action for the purposes of the

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1903)

—contd

O II r 2 (1882 Code s 43)—contd

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

— O I r 2 (1882 Code s 43)—contd
 section SAMINATHAN CHETTY v PALANAPPA
 CHETTY (1913) 18 C W N 617

4 — Omission to sue for right relief — Maintainability of subsequent suit Where plaintiff knew what relief he was entitled to and deliberately omitted to claim the right relief his subsequent suit in respect to the same cause of action for the right relief was held to be barred by the provisions of O II r 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure ABDUL KARIM v KARAN SINGH
 (1911) I L R 37 AH 646

5 — Specific performance—of an agreement to sell previous suit for—Decree for specific performance—Deed of conveyance obtained in execution—Subsequent suit for recovery of possession on the voider—Suit not barred Where the plaintiff who had obtained in a previous suit a decree against the defendants for specific performance of an agreement to sell certain immovable property to the plaintiff and had got a sale deed in his favour in execution of the decree instituted the present suit for the recovery of possession of the lands from the defendants Held that the suit was not barred by O II r 2 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) At the time the plaintiff brought the previous suit the right to possession of the lands was not vested in him as he acquired that right only on the execution of the deed of conveyance Narayana Karirayan v Kandannai Goundan I L R 22 Mad 24
 1 approved Puttagayya Goundan v Narayappa Rao I L R 24 Mad 491 explained Naidu
 v Pand v Laku talad Enka I L R 18
 Ba 33 followed KRISHNAMMAL v SUNDARA
 RAJA Aiyar (1913) I L R 33 Mad 686

6 — Specific Relief Act (I of 18) s 4 — Suit for declaration—Previous decree between third parties—Plaintiffs not parties—Suit to declare that the decree is collusive and not binding on plaintiffs if maintainable
 The plaintiffs sued for a declaration (i) that they were the owners of the suit properties as the reversioners of one A who was the last male owner and (ii) that a decree obtained by the first defendant against the second in respect of the properties in another suit to which the plaintiffs were not parties was collusive and was not binding on the plaintiffs The plaintiffs had already brought a suit in the same Court against the present defendants to recover possession of some other properties as the reversionary heirs of A but did not include therein the properties claimed in the present suit though the defendants were in possession of them at the time of their previous suit The plaintiffs alleged that they came into possession of the properties subsequently to the previous suit The defendant contended that the suit was barred under O II r 2 of the Civil Procedure Code and that the suit for a declaration that the decree was void in the suit between the first and the second defendants was collusive and not binding on the plaintiffs was not main-tainable Held that the present suit was not barred under O II r 2 of the Civil Procedure Code Held further that a suit for a declaration that a decree obtained by the first defendant against the second defendant was collusive and not binding on the plaintiffs was maintainable

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

— O II r 2 (1882 Code s 43)—contd
 under s 42 of the Specific Relief Act NAGANNA
 v SRIVANAPPA (1914) I L R 38 Mad 1162

7 — Mesne profits—Subsequent suit for the same not barred—Cause of action for mesne profits different from that for possession of land Claim for possession and claim for mesne profits are separate causes of action and have been always so treated under the Code of Civil Procedure Where a plaintiff sued for possession of lands only when he might have joined in the same action claims for mesne profits and damages it is open to him to bring a subsequent suit against the same defendants for the profits which became payable before the institution of the former suit and which might have been included in such suit
 Monohur Lall v Court Sunkur I L R 9 Cal
 263 Tirupati v Narayana I L R 11 Mad
 210 Lalassar Babu v Jani Bibi I L R 19
 Cal 615 and Gulla Sarayama v Magan
 Ramudu I L R 31 Mad 406 followed Panna
 MMAL v PAMIPPA Aiyar (1914)

I L R 38 Mad 829

8 — Causes of action different—
 On T's death his widow sold two of his survey numbers (403 and 404) to D and shortly after wards sold survey No 324 to Z who was a brother of D joint in estate After the widow's death
 B a daughter of T sued D and T (another daughter of T) to recover possession of survey No 324 but the suit was at her request dismissed D then having sold the three survey numbers to the plaintiff the present suit was brought against the two daughters and D and Z to recover possession of the three survey numbers The lower Courts dismissed the suit on the preliminary ground that since B omitted to sue in respect of survey numbers 403 and 404 in the first suit the plaintiff was debarred from preferring his claim to those numbers in the present suit The plaintiff having appealed Held that the suit was not barred by the provisions of O II r 2 of the Civil Procedure Code inasmuch as the two sets of facts which required to be proved in both suits in order to enable the plaintiff to succeed were different sets of facts and the causes of action accordingly were different SORUVALAN KUNJAL
 v BANNIAR (1915) I L R 40 Bom 351

9 — Partition—Separate suits for property in different districts—Cause of action
 The plaintiff as member of a joint Hindu family brought a suit for partition of certain property in the district of Sultanpur He admitted that he was not in possession of this property and paid an ad valorem court fee on his plaint This suit was settled by a compromise Subsequently the plaintiff brought a separate suit in Allahabad for partition of some of the joint family property situated in that district but in this suit he alleged that he was in joint and undivided possession and paid a court fee of Rs 10 as on ordinary partition suit Held that the omission of the Allahabad property from his suit in Sultanpur was not a bar to the plaintiff's second suit and that the case did not fall within O II r 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure Van a Jam Chikrarty v Ganesha
 Chakrara v 16 Ind Cr Cases 153 154 v Daga
 I L R 7 Pat 350 and Subba Bai v Pama
 Das 8 Mad 11 v 136 referred to I AM
 HANNA v I AM LAL (1916) I L R 38 AH 217

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O II r 2 (1882 Code s 43)—contd

10 ——— Mortgage-deed—conferring option upon the mortgagee to sue for interest or for possession on the mortgagor's failure to pay interest at the stipulated time—first suit for interest for earlier default—second suit for possession on subsequent default—whether barred. Held that a mortgage is not barred by O II r 2 Civil Procedure Code from suing for possession of the mortgaged property on the strength of a stipulation conferring upon him the option to sue for interest or for possession in the event of the mortgagor's failure to pay interest at the stipulated time because on the occurrence of a previous default the mortgagee sued only for interest and not for possession. O II r 2 requires the plaintiff to include in his suit the whole of the claim which he is entitled to make in respect of the cause of action upon which the suit is brought and if he omits to sue in respect of or intentionally relinquishes any portion of his claim he cannot afterwards sue in respect of the portion omitted or relinquished. The object of the rule is to avoid the splitting of claims and to prevent further litigation. Under the terms of the mortgage deed in the present case the mortgagee could when he brought the earlier suit have sued either for interest or for possession, he could not have claimed both the reliefs at one and the same time. Consequently in suing for interest only he did not omit to sue in respect of or intentionally relinquish any portion of the claim which he was then entitled to make. The law of procedure should not be interpreted so as to run counter to an express stipulation entered into by the parties. Ram Dhoj v Deva (12 P P 1881) and Badi Bibi Sahibai v Sami Pillai (1 L P 18 Mad 207) followed. Ganga Ram v Abdul Rahman (23 P R 1907) distinguished. PAN MASHRI DAS v FAKIRIA 1 L R 1 Lah 457

11 ——— Omission to sue for a portion of claim—Subsequent suit for that portion if lies. The plaintiff sued for the possession of a holding consisting of a homestead and arable lands attached thereto. He had previously sued for his possession of that portion of the holding only which included the homestead on the allegation that the defendant had dispossessed him of the homestead. This suit was dismissed. Held that as it appeared from the evidence in this case that plaintiff had been dispossessed of the arable land at the same time as the homestead the whole suit was barred. The plaintiff having in the previous suit omitted to sue for a portion of his claim namely for the arable lands could not under O II r 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure be permitted to sue for them subsequently. Jab Nath Khan v Shib Nath Chakravarti 1 L P 8 Cal 819 and Pitapur Raja v Suriga Poy L R 12 I 116 s c 1 L R 8 Mad 50 distinguished. KALI KUMAR CHUCKERBUTTY v ASLAM (1914) 20 C W N 163

12 ——— Property different—in the two suits at titles of defendants—On defendant only common to both. The plaintiff claimed possession of a considerable amount of property as having been the property of her father to which she became entitled on the death of her mother. She brought two suits. The first was for possession of a specific house and grove the defendants

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O II r 2 (1882 Code s 43)—contd

being two persons. Pam Chandra and Kedar Nath as to whom she alleged that Pam Chandra had had his name recorded in respect of the grove in order that he might assist the plaintiff's mother and that Kedar Nath had been allowed to live in the house by the leave and licence of the plaintiff's mother. The second suit was for possession of various other items of property and with the exception of Kam Chandra the defendants also were different persons. Held that the second suit was not barred by O II r 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Murti v Bhola Ram 1 L R 16 All 165 distinguished by RICHARDS v J Balmakund v Sangari 1 L R 19 All 379 and Gowind Krishna Narain v Sirajuddin 7 A F J 677 referred to by BANERJI v BINDO BEE v RAM CHANDRA (1919)

1 L R 41 All 582

13 ——— Mahal—alleged to be in part in possession of trespassers—Separate suits against the lambardar for profits of one part and against the all-god trespassers for mesne profits of the other part—reinstatement. The plaintiff purchased an auction sale the whole 20 biswas of a mahal was resisted in his attempts to obtain possession of a portion of it by certain persons who set up a right of possession in themselves. In respect of such portion the plaintiff filed a suit against the persons in possession and ultimately obtained a decree against them but in that suit he made no claim for mesne profits. He also filed a suit against the lambardar of the mahal for profits in respect of the remaining portion of the mahal. The plaintiff subsequently filed a suit for mesne profits for a certain period against the three defendants in his former suit in ejectment. Held that the suit was not barred by reason of the omission of the present claim from his former suit against the lambardar for profits. SHEO DAFAN SINGH v BHAGWAN SAHAI (1918)

1 L R 41 All 286

14 ——— Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act (XVII of 1879) ss 12 and 13—Cause of action—Splitting up of—Two mortgages—Suit on one mortgage—Sale in execution of decree free from any incumbrance—Sale proceeds applied in paying off the mortgage in suit—Balance of sale proceeds—Second suit on another mortgage—Attachment of balance of sale proceeds. The defendant executed three mortgages as part of the same transaction over the same property. The mortgagee sued to recover money due on one of the mortgages only under the provisions of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act 1879. He obtained a decree in execution of which the mortgaged property was sold free from any incumbrance. The sale proceeds were applied in paying off the decretal amount and there remained a balance. The mortgagee brought a second suit on the remaining two mortgages and prayed for a decree against the balance. Held that the mortgagee having omitted to sue on the remaining two mortgages when he sued on the first mortgage bond he was barred by O II r 2 of the Civil Procedure Code coupled with the provisions of ss 12 and 13 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act 1879 from a second suit on the same property. The Court thus gave a decree on the two so as to be able to execute the balance of the sale proceeds.

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—*contd*O II r 2 (1882 Code s 43)—contd

of the property which was sold in execution of the first decree DALCHAND v APPU (1920)

I L R 45 Bom 55

15 ——— SUIT FOR INTEREST ON BOND—Decree satisfied—Subsequent suit for principal barred A hypothecation bond contained a clause stipulating that if interest was not paid for six months the creditor might sue either for interest alone or for both principal and interest without waiting for the expiration of the period fixed for repayment (which was three years) and the debtor was to have no objection whatever. More than three years after no interest having been paid the creditor brought a suit for interest alone and obtained a decree for sale of the mortgaged property. He deposited amount as deposited in Court and satisfaction entered. On a subsequent suit by the creditor for the principal sum and arrears of interest Held that the provisions of O II r 2 of the Civil Procedure Code were applicable and the subsequent suit was no main tenable. Appeal allowed. See the rule in the rule 11 of the Code of action which gives occasion for and the foundations of the suit and if that cause is a man to each for larger and wider relief than that to which he limits his claim he cannot afterwards seek to recover the balance by independent proceedings. MUHAMMAD HAFIZ v MIRZA MUHAMMAD ZAKARIYA

25 C W N 239

O II r 2 and 3—

See O II r 1 I L R 23 Mad 247

O II r 2 O XXXIV rr 2 and 4—Mortgage—Suit for sale—Construction of document—Priority of separate suits for interest and principal A mortgage bond executed on the 14th of September 1910 provided that the mortgage debt should be repayable after the expiry of three years. It also provided that if interest remained unpaid for more than a specified time the mortgagee might without waiting for the expiry of the term of the mortgage sue for either the unpaid interest or the whole amount of principal and interest then due. It further provided that if the mortgage debt was not paid at due date the whole amount principal and interest might be recovered by suit. After the expiry of the term of the bond the mortgagee sued to recover arrears of interest only and obtained a decree the defendant not entering an appearance. In that suit the plaintiff did not allege that he had a right to sue for the principal separately at a subsequent date. Held on a construction of the bond in suit and with reference to the former pleadings that the subsequent suit was barred by O II r 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure. See Prad v Iyengar—Q P D 198 and Muth v Bhola I am 11 P 10 All 165 referred to. See Janant Narayan K mal v Bhal Dhalor Farul Kar I L R 21 Bom 96 and Iambhay v Deva Iyengar Rec 1891 p 36 distinguished. Per Isaacs J Pr 4 of O XXXIV of the Code of Civil Procedure do not contemplate that there should be more than one suit for sale on a mortgage. Whether or not it might be possible so to draft a mortgage as to evade this statutory obligation this has not been done in the present case. MUHAMMAD ZAKARIYA v MUHAMMAD HAFIZ (1911) I L R 39 All 608

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O II r 2 O XXXIV r 14—

Procedure—Suit by mortgagee for simple money decree—Subsequent suit for sale on mortgage not barred—Pes judicata—Limitation—Acknowledgment Certain mortgagees sued for a simple money decree in respect of their mortgage debt stating that they had relinquished their claim under their mortgage and obtained a decree as prayed. The decree in this suit stated that the plaintiff would not be entitled to bring to sale the property mortgaged in the bond sued on. As however this decree was not satisfied the plaintiff mortgagees proceeded to put their mortgage into Court and prayed for a decree for sale on it. Held that the former proceedings were no bar to the present suit. INDARPAL SINGH v MEWA LAL (1914) I L R 38 All 264

O II r 3 (1882 Code s 45)—

See UNDER O I r 1 O I r 2

O II r 4 (1882 Code s 44)—

See ADMINISTRATOR 2 Pat L J 642

O II r 5 (1882 Code s 44)—

Misjoinder of causes of action—Hindu family—position of surviving members of joint and undivided not heirs of deceased member—Joinder of claim by widow of deceased member of joint and undivided Hindu family for maintenance against the property in which the deceased member was a co-partener at the date of his death with claims against the surviving co-partners for her stridhan ornaments Members of a joint and undivided Hindu family hold the family estate jointly and are seized of it per maj et per tot. On the death of a co-partener of a joint Hindu family his share and interest in the family property is automatically absorbed and the surviving co-partners become the full owners of the whole estate. Such co-partners are not the heirs of the deceased but inherit by survivorship and become the owners of the interest of the deceased in the family estate as co-owners in their own right and by the legal extinction of the interest of the deceased co-partener by reason of his death. The claim of the widow of such a deceased co-partener for maintenance is clearly not against the estate of the deceased husband but is against the property of which he was a co-partener at the time of his death. Accordingly there is no misjoinder of causes of action if the widow in one suit sues the co-partners of her deceased husband to recover her stridhan property improperly or illegally detained by them and also to enforce her right of maintenance of the estate of the joint family of which during his lifetime her husband was a member. JANKIBAI v SHRI KIVAN CAKPH (1913) I L R 38 Bom 120

O III r 1 (1882 Code s 38)—

Recognised agent of his right of audience A recognised agent as such has no right of audience. HERMAN JAY v BESGAL NADEER ILLAWAL Co (1914) 19 C W N 84

O III, r 1 O IX rr 4 8 10 and

12—Diem oral for default—Appeal to District Judge—Per se The defendant in a suit asserted that he wished to examine one of the three plaintiffs as a witness and the Court ordered such plaintiff to appear. The plaintiff failed to appear and the suit was dismissed. In appeal the District

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

— O III r 1 O IX rr 4 8 10 and 12—corold

Judge held that the order to the plaintiff to appear was not a good order and that in any case the suit should only have been dismissed as against the defaulter and not as against the remaining two plaintiffs. Held (1) that the first Court had power under O III r 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 to order the plaintiff to appear in person and to dismiss his suit on failure to comply with the order (2) that the order dismissing the suit against the defaulting plaintiff was not appealable to the District Judge and (3) that the order dismissing the suit against the remaining plaintiffs was in contravention of O IX r 10. SRI PRADHU v DWARKA PRASAD
4 Pat L J 152

— O III, r 1 and O IX r 12—
Order of Court directing a party to appear in person
— Refusal of the party to comply with the order
— Order of Court declaring him ex parte legality of
A Court is empowered under O III r 1 of the Civil Procedure Code to direct the appearance in Court of a party in person and if the party so directed refuses to appear the Court may declare him ex parte even though he had engaged a pleader who is prepared to appear for him in the case. Satya Hanmantrao I L P 23 Bom 316 discontinued from VAJOURTANANMAL v VALLABHA (1917)
I L R 41 Mad 256

— O III, r 2 (a) (1882 Code s 37)—

See POWER OF ATTORNEY

I L R 41 Bom 40

— O III, r 4 (1882 Code s 39)—

See VAKALATNAMA

I L R 43 Cal 854

— Vakalatnamah necessity of written acceptance of—withdrawal from a suit whether verbal permission of court or consent of party is sufficient A pleader should not be allowed to act upon a vakalatnamah which does not contain his written acceptance as required by the High Court rules. When a pleader has been appointed by a party his employment cannot be determined except in the manner provided by O III r 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908. He cannot retire from a case on the mere verbal permission of the court nor upon the consent of the party appointing him without any reference to the court. Pleders (IN THE MATTER OF TWO)
2 Pat L J 259

— O V rr 1 2 (1882 Code ss 64 and 65)—Ex parte decree—appearance of defendant in answer to a preliminary application not equivalent to appearance in answer to the plaint Held that the fact that before the admission of a suit one of the proposed defendants had appeared by pleader on a miscellaneous application for his appointment as guardian ad litem to a minor defendant did not oblige the Court from the necessity of serving such defendant when the suit was admitted with a copy of the plaint and notice of the date fixed for hearing. CHAND v SHANKAR LAL (1913)
I L R 35 All 163

— O V r 3 (1882 Code s 66)—

Order for personal attendance of plaintiff—has a tendency of plaintiff on adjourned date—Dismissal

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

— O V r 3 (1882 Code s 66)—corold

of suit An order made by a Court for the personal appearance of a party to a suit on a particular date does not imply that the party to whom it is issued is bound to appear on any subsequent date with which the suit may be adjourned. SEKHAR NATH v MALLU (1917)
I L R 39 All 476

— O V r 5 (1882 Code s 68)—
Suit on mortgage—First summons to be for settlement of issues and not for final disposal—Practice and Proceed re In 1910 a mortgage suit was filed. The plaintiff having died the name of his son was substituted in place of his name on the 13th April 1912. On the same day the Court issued summons for the first time to the defendants for final disposal. On the day fixed for hearing the Court raised no issue and as neither party had witnesses ready the Court found the claim not proved in absence of evidence. The plaintiff having appealed Held reversing the decree that the case was a miscarriage of justice in the way the case had been disposed of. The scheme of the Civil Procedure Code required in cases like the present that the parties should have the opportunity to produce evidence relevant to issues framed after ascertaining matters as to which the parties were in dispute. Held further that this summons to the defendants should have been for settlement of issues and not for final disposal. TULJARAM HARICHAND v SITARAM NARAYAN (1913)
I L P 38 Bom 377

— O V r 12 (1882 Code s 75)—

See SUMMONS SERVICE OF

I L R 43 Cal 447

— O V rr 12 17 O IX r 13—

See SUMMONS SERVICE OF

I L R 43 Cal 447

— O V r 18 (1882 Code s 78)—

Summons—Question of sufficiency of service of summons The summons in a suit was served on the paternal uncle of the defendant who was a member of the same joint family and lived in the same house with the defendant. Held that such service was insufficient in the absence of evidence that the defendant himself could not be found. MAHAR DAS v MANVAT LAL (1913)
I L P 35 All 556

— O V rr 15 to 23—Practice—Issue of summons—Summons transmitted for service to Court having jurisdiction in the place where defendant resides—Question of sufficiency or insufficiency of service to be determined by Court serving summons Where a summons is sent by a Court in which a suit is filed to a Court within the jurisdiction of which the defendant resides for service on the defendant it is the serving Court and not the receiving Court with which ordinarily speaking rests the decision whether such summons has been properly served or not though possibly there may be cases in which the receiving Court may find it necessary to reopen the question of service and to decide thereon. PRIYAN K BHAL v GUNDOXANDAN SEN I L P 33 Cal
859 discontinued from The provisions of O V rr 15 to 23 dismissed DWARKA PRASAD v BHU MONA LAL 11 I L R 33 All 6,9

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—concld

O II r 2 (1882 Code s 43)—concld

of the property which was sold in execution of the first decree. DALCHAND & LAL (1920)

I L R 45 Bom 55

15 ———— SUIT FOR INTEREST ON BOND—
Decree set aside—Subsequent suit for principal barred. A hypothecation bond contained a clause stipulating that if interest was not paid for six months the creditor might sue either for interest alone or for both principal and interest without waiting for the expiration of the period fixed for repayment (which was three years) and the debtor was to have no objection whatever. More than three years after no interest having been paid the creditor brought a suit for interest alone and obtained a decree for sale of the mortgaged property. The decreed amount was deposited in Court and satisfaction entered. On a subsequent suit by the creditor for the principal sum and arrears of interest Held that the provisions of O II r 2 of the Civil Procedure Code were applicable and that subsequent suit was not maintainable. A course of action referred to in the rule is the one of action which goes on occasion for and in the foundations of the suit and if that can enable a man to seek for larger and wider relief than that to which he limits his claim he cannot afterwards seek to recover the balance by independent proceedings. MUHAMMAD HAFIZ & MIRZA MUHAMMAD ZAKARIYA

28 C W N 299

O II r 2 and 3—

See O II r 1 I L R 33 Mad 247

O II r 2 O XXXIV r 2 and 4—Mortgage—Suit for sale—Construction of document—Possibility of separate suits for interest and principal. A mortgage bond executed on the 14th of September 1910 provided that the mortgage debt should be repayable after the expiry of three years. It also provided that if interest remained unpaid for more than a specified time the mortgagee might without waiting for the expiry of the term of the mortgage sue for either the unpaid interest or the whole amount of principal and interest then due. It further provided that if the mortgage debt was not paid at due date the whole amount principal and interest might be recovered by suit. After the expiry of the term of the bond the mortgagee sued to recover arrears of interest only and obtained a decree the defendant not entering an appearance. In that suit the plaintiff did not allege that he had a right to sue for the principal separately at a subsequent date. Held on a construction of the bond in suit and with reference to the former pleadings that the subsequent suit was barred by O II r 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Read v. I. I. P. Q. I. D. 195 and Mohi v. Dhola Puri I. I. P. 16 III 165 referred to. Jaavant Narayan Achar v. Abdul Wahab Parul Kar I. I. P. 11 Bom 26 and Ambay v. Daria Puri I. I. P. 1881 p. 96 distinguished. I. I. P. 188007 J. I. P. 4 of O XXXIV of the Code of Civil Procedure do not contemplate that there should be more than one suit for sale on a mortgage. Whether or not it might be possible so to draft a mortgage as to evade this statutory obligation did not have been done in the present case. MUHAMMAD ZAKARIYA & MUHAMMAD HAFIZ (1914)

I L R 39 All 503

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—concld

O II r 2 O XXXIV r 14—

Procedure—Suit by mortgagee for simple money decree—Subsequent suit for sale on mortgage not barred—Res judicata—Limitation—Acknowledgment. Certain mortgagees sued for a simple money decree in respect of their mortgage debt stating that they had relinquished their claim under their mortgage and obtained a decree as prayed. The decree in this suit stated that the plaintiff would not be entitled to bring to sale the property mortgaged in the bond sued on. As however this decree was not satisfied the plaintiffs mortgagees proceeded to put their mortgage into Court and prayed for a decree for sale on it. Held that the former proceedings were no bar to the present suit. INDRAPAL SINGH & MEWA LAL (1914)

I L R 38 All 284

O II r 3 (1882 Code s 45)—

See UNDER O I r 1 O I r 2

O II r 4 (1882 Code s 44)—

See ADMINISTRATOR 2 Pat L J 642

O II r 5 (1882 Code s 44)—

Misjoinder of causes of action—Hindu family position of surviving members of joint and undivided not heirs of deceased member—Joinder of claim by widow of deceased member of joint and undivided Hindu family for maintenance against the property in which the deceased member was a coparcener at the date of his death with claims against the surviving coparceners for her stridhan ornaments. Members of a joint and undivided Hindu family hold the family estate jointly and are seized of it per my et per tout. On the death of a coparcener of a joint Hindu family his share and interest in the family property is automatically absorbed and the surviving coparceners become the full owners of the whole estate. Such coparceners are not the heirs of the deceased but inherit by survivorship and become the owners of the interest of the deceased in the family estate as co-owners in their own right and by the legal extinction of the interest of the deceased coparcener by reason of his death. The claim of the widow of such a deceased coparcener for maintenance is clearly not against the estate of the deceased husband but is against the property of which he was a coparcener at the time of his death. Accordingly there is no misjoinder of causes of action if the widow in one suit sues the coparceners of her deceased husband to recover her stridhan property improperly or illegally detained by them and also to enforce her right of maintenance of the estate of the joint family of which during his lifetime her husband was a member. JAYKINAT & SONS & VIJAY GANESH (1913)

I L R 33 Bom 120

O III r 1 (1882 Code s 36)—

Recognized agent of has right of audience. A recognized agent as such has no right of audience. MURCHAND JAYSINGH & NARAYAN RAILWAY CO (1914)

19 C W N 64

O III r 1 O IX r 4 8 10 and 12—Dismissal for default—Appeal to District Judge—Stricken. The defendant in a suit asserted that he did not examine one of the three plaintiffs as a witness and the Court ordered such plaintiff to appear. The plaintiff failed to appear and the suit was dismissed. In appeal the District

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—*contd*O III r 1 O IX rr 4 8 10 and 12—corcid

Judge held that the order to the plaintiff to appear was not a good order and that in any case the suit should only have been dismissed as against the defaulter and not as against the remaining two plaintiffs. Held (1) that the first Court had power under O III r 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 to order the plaintiff to appear in person and to dismiss his suit on failure to comply with the order (2) that the order dismissing the suit against the defaulting plaintiff was not appealable to the District Judge and (3) that the order dismissing the suit against the remaining plaintiffs was in contravention of O IX r 10. See PROBHU : DWARKA PRASAD

4 Pat L J 152

O III, r 1 and O IX r 12—Order of Court directing a party to appear in person—Refusal of the party to comply with the order—Order of Court declaring him ex parte—legality of A Court is empowered under O III r 1 of the Civil Procedure Code to direct the appearance in Court of a party in person and if the party so directed refuses to appear the Court may declare him ex parte even though he had engaged a pleader who is prepared to appear for him in the case. See Hanmantrao I L P 33 Bom 315 discussed from VAIDYANATHAN : VALLABHAI (1917)

1 L R 41 Mad 256

O III, r 2 (a) (1882 Code s 37)—

See POWER OF ATTORNEY

I L R 41 Bom 40

O III, r 4 (1882 Code s 39)—

See VAHALATNAMIA

I L R 43 Cal 884

VAHALATNAMIA necessity of written acceptance of—withdrawal from suit whether verbal permission of court or consent of party is sufficient. A pleader should not be allowed to act upon a talalatnamah which does not contain his written acceptance as required by the High Court rules. When a pleader has been appointed by a party his employment cannot be determined except in the manner provided by O III r 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908. He cannot return from a case on the mere verbal permission of the court nor upon the consent of the party appointing him without any reference to the court. Pleaders (IN THE MATTER OF TWO)

2 Pat L J 259

O V rr 1 2 (1882 Code ss 64 and 65)—Ex parte decree—Appearance of defendant in answer to a preliminary application not equivalent to appearance in answer to the plaint Held that the fact that before the admission of a suit one of the proposed defendants had appeared by pleader on a miscellaneous application for his appointment as guardian ad litem to a minor defendant did not absolve the Court from the necessity of serving such defendant when the suit was admitted with a copy of the plaint and notice of the date fixed for hearing. Chand : SHANKAR LAL (1913)

I L R 35 All 163

O V r 3 (1882 Code s 68)—Order for personal attendance of plaintiff—Non attendance of plaintiff on adjourned date—Dismissal

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—*contd*O V r 3 (1882 Code s 66)—concl

of suit An order made by a Court for the personal appearance of a party to a suit on a particular date does not imply that the party to whom it is issued is bound to appear on any subsequent date to which the suit may be adjourned. SINDAR BATH : MALLU (1917)

I L P 39 All 476

O V r 5 (1882 Code s 68)—

Suit on mortgage—First summons to be for settlement of issues and not for final disposal—Practice and Procedure In 1910 a mortgage suit was filed. The plaintiff having died the name of his son was substituted in place of his name on the 13th April 1919. On the same day the Court issued summons for the first time to the defendants for final disposal. On the day fixed for hearing the Court raised issue and as neither party had witnesses ready the Court found the claim not proved in absence of evidence. The plaintiff having appealed Held reversing the decree that there was a miscarriage of justice in the way the case had been disposed of. The scheme of the Civil Procedure Code required in cases like the present that the parties should have the opportunity to produce evidence relevant to issues framed after ascertaining matters as to which the parties were in dispute. Held further that the summons to the defendants should have been for settlement of issues and not for final disposal. TEJASWANI HARKICHAND : BIZARAH NARAYAN (1913)

I L P 38 Bom 377

O V r 12 (1882 Code s 75)—

See SUMMONS SERVICE OF

I L R 43 Cal 447

O V rr 12 17 O IX r 13—

See SUMMONS SERVICE OF

I L R 43 Cal 447

O V r 15 (1882 Code s 78)—

Summons—Question of sufficiency of service of summons The summons in a suit was served on the paternal uncle of the defendant who was a member of the same joint family and lived in the same house with the defendant. Held that such service was insufficient in the absence of evidence that the defendant himself could not be found. MAHAR DAS : MANU LAL (1913)

I L R 35 All 556

O V rr 15 to 23—Practice—Issue of summons

Summons transmitted for service to Court having jurisdiction in the place where defendant resides—Question of sufficiency or insufficiency of service to be determined by Court serving summons Where a summons is sent by a Court in which a suit is filed to a Court within the jurisdiction of which the defendant resides, for service on the defendant it is the serving Court and not the issuing Court with which ordinarily speaking rests the decision whether such summons has been properly served or not though possibly there may be cases in which the issuing Court may find it necessary to reopen the question of service and to decide thereon. Parmanu A Bural v G gyndorardan See I L P 22 Cal 859 discussed from The provisions of O V rr 15 to 23 discussed DWARKA PRASAD : BRIJ MOHAN LAL (I L R 33 All 649)

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O VII r 10 (1882 Code s 57)—

—carold

See O XIII r 1(2)

I L R 41 Mad 701

Jurisdiction—can be considered by Court suo motu and plaint returned for presentation to proper Court—Contract made by telegram—place where contract completed Plaintiffs carry on business at Khanna and they sent an order by telegram from Khanna to defendants at Khamgaun in the United Provinces to purchase cotton seeds on their behalf Defendants replied by telegram that the seeds would be purchased and sent to plaintiffs at Khanna Defendants failed to supply the whole quantity and plaintiffs sued them for return of part of the purchase money and damages and instituted their suit in the Senior Subordinate Judge's Court at Ludhiana. The Judge took up the question of jurisdiction suo motu and decided that his Court had not jurisdiction and returned the plaint for presentation to the proper Court. This order was upheld by the Lower Appellate Court. Held that the Subordinate Judge was competent to take up the question of jurisdiction suo motu. Held further that the contract must be taken to have been made at Khamgaun where the defendants carried on business and where they received the telegram from the plaintiffs and where in the ordinary course of things the money for the cotton seeds would be paid and that consequently the Lower Courts were right in holding that the Ludhiana Court had no jurisdiction. Muhammad Shafi v Karamat Ali (70 P F 1896) follow. I. Premji Khetsay v Gulam Sarwar Khan (36 P R 1905) and Boseel & Co v Mandlstan (10 P F 1906) distinguished. A & PAM KALU RAM v BAKSHI RAM KANTHA PAM I L R 1 Lah 203

Plaint returned for presentation to proper Court—Court to which such plaint is represented bound to give credit for the fee levied by the Court to which the plaint was first presented. Where a Court after receiving a plaint and cancelling the stamp affixed thereto returns the plaint for presentation to the proper Court under O VII r 10 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1908. The latter Court to which the plaint is represented is bound to give credit to the fee already levied by the former Court. This is the existing practice in this Presidency and there is nothing in the new Code of the Civil Procedure in the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act or in the City Civil Courts Act to indicate that the Legislature intended to interfere with such practice. Prabhakarji v I. J. Kumbhar Pandit I L R 3 Bom 313 followed. VISWESWARA SARMMA v NAIR (1912) I L R 35 Mad 567

O VII, r 11 (1882 Code ss 53 and 54)—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908

See ss 110 to 12

4 Pat L J 57

See COURT FEE I L R 40 Cal 615

I L R 41 Cal 352

See COURT FEES Act 4 Pat L J 703

Objection by defendant that notice not duly served under s 89—Plaint is to be rejected or dismissed. Where it was stated in the plaint that notice under s. 80 Civil Pro-

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O VII, r 11 (1882 Code, ss 53 and

54)—conold

cedure Code had been duly served but after defendant had entered appearance it was discovered that the notice had not been duly served. Held that it was too late to reject the plaint under O VII r 11 and that there was also no statement in the plaint which suggested that the suit was barred. PATAN CHAND DHARAM CHAND v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1914)

18 C W N 1346

O VII, r 14 (1882 Code s 59)—

See EVIDENCE I L R 41 All 61

What documents should be mentioned in the list—Document upon which witness relies for refreshing memory is to be rejected because not specified in the list. Where in order to support the case of the plaintiff that he was born on a particular date a witness produced an almanack and horoscope and it was rejected on the ground that it had not been entered in the list of documents as required by O VII r 14 of the Civil Procedure Code. Held that the order rejecting the document was erroneous. It was not one to be relied upon as a probative document in itself but it was a record made by the witness at the time to which he was entitled to refer for the purpose of refreshing his memory. BAWWAT LAL v MAHESHI (1918)

23 C W N 577

O VII rr 14 and 18—Documents relied on by plaintiff should be produced in Court along with the plaint—Practice and procedure. It is desirable that a party who sues upon a certain document should produce it at the time he files the plaint and not spring it upon the opposite party a considerable time after when the suit comes on for hearing. OANGADHAR MAHADEV v KRISHNAJI VISRAM (1910)

I L R 44 Bom 625

O VII r 22—(Added by High Court under s 123)—Appeal—Notice—Duty of court as regards service of notice of appeal on the respondent. Under O VII r 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 if service has been effected on a party by means of affixing a copy to the outer door of the house named as the address for service of such party and he nevertheless does not appear at the date fixed for the hearing it is the duty of the court to fix a fresh date and direct additional service by registered post. MATHURA PRASAD v BHUP NARAIN I L R 43 All 411

O VIII, rr 3 4 5—Pleadings—Agreement in the plaint not denied specifically or by necessary implication in written statement—Fact not necessary to be proved—Practice—Limitation. The plaintiffs sued to recover a sum of money on an account stated. For the purpose of saving limitation they relied in their plaint upon a letter sent by the defendants firm. The defendants in their written statement stated—The plaintiffs' suit is not in time. The suit is not saved by the letter put in from the bar of limitation. The question being raised whether in this state of the pleadings the letter could be taken as having been admitted. Held that under rr 3 4 5 of O VIII of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 the letter may be accepted as admitted between the

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—*contd*O VIII, rr 3 & 4 5—concl'd

parties and therefore unnecessary to be proved LAXMIKANTH & CHINMAYAN CHIDHARILAL (1916)
 I L R 41 Bom 89

O VIII r 5—

See EX PARTE DECREE

I L R 43 Cal 1001

O VIII r 6 (1882 Code s 111)—

See HAND NOTE

2 Pat L J 451

Claim barred by Lex fori but not Lex loci contractus In a suit filed against him the defendant from U P claimed to set off debts which though barred in the U P was not barred by the Local Law (Punjab) Held that the set off was admissible BACHHA LAL & BANARSI DAS I L R 35 All 238

Suit by an Inamdar against a Khatedar for recovery of sums—Set off claimed in a capacity different from that in suit not allowable In a suit brought by an Inamdar against a Khatedar for the recovery of dues in respect of certain immovable property payable by the Khatedar the defendant as a pujari (worshipper) claimed to set off the stipend payable to him by the plaintiff Held that the defendant could not claim the set off which was due to him in a different capacity from that in which he held as tenant or Khatedar of the plaintiff
 MADHAT P O MORESHVAR & RAMA KALU (1914)
 I L R 29 Bom 131

Set off—Plaintiffs claim based upon an account of goods supplied—Defendant pleaded by way of set off amount of ages due—Claims based upon a money demand—Capacities of parties not varied—Set off can be allowed The plaintiffs claim was based upon an account of goods supplied to the defendant.
 The defendant admitted the claim but urged by way of set off the amount of pay due to him by the plaintiff. The Subordinate Judge allowed the set off and found that the plaintiffs claim was satisfied. The District Judge was of opinion that it was not open to the defendant to urge by way of set off the claim which he did urge.
 On application by the defendant to the High Court Held that under O VIII r 6 it was competent to the defendant to urge by way of set off the claim which he ought to urge as the capacity in both the cases was nothing but the personal capacity the claims being based upon a money demand. PACHAVENDRA RAJU & JALOTRAD FANCHIA DRA (1916)
 I L R 41 Bom 163

Set off—Suit by clerk who had left employment without notice for arrears of wages—Counter claim for damages in lieu of notice Held in a suit by a clerk, who had left his employers without notice to recover arrears of wages from his employers that it was not competent to the defendants to counter claim against the plaintiff for damages in lieu of notice VICTORIA MILLS COMPANY LIMITED & BEN MOHAY LAL (1917)
 I L R 29 All 362

O VIII r 6 O XX r 19—*Set off under the Code essential of—Equitable set off—
 I & capital at agent—Suit by agent to recover money on a count against principal—Claim of*

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—*contd*O VIII r 6 O XX, r 19—concl'd

defendant to set off—Defendant's claim not barred by limitation at date of suit but barred at date of written statement—Right of defendant to set off against plaintiff's claim—Right of defendant to get decree for amount found due to him in this suit
 An agent sued his principal on the 17th June 1912 to recover a sum of money that might be found due to him on the taking of accounts of his agency which terminated on the 31st May 1909. The defendant pleaded in his original written statement filed on the 26th February 1913 that no amount was due to the plaintiff but that a sum would be found due to him. If on taking accounts and that the suit should be dismissed he subsequently filed an additional written statement with the leave of Court praying that a decree might be given to him in his suit for such amount as might be found due to him on the accounts. The plaintiff contended that the defendant was not entitled to a set off or to a decree in this suit as his claim was barred by limitation. Held that the set off claimed by the defendant did not fall within the terms of O VIII r 6 Civil Procedure Code, as it was not for an ascertained sum of money since the money was not legally recoverable on this date the claim was made and the written statement did not contain particulars of the debts sought to be set off. Held further that since the defendant's claim was not barred at the date of the suit he was entitled to plead that there was a sum in the plaintiff's hands which the latter was bound to apply in satisfaction of his demand but that since a suit could not be brought by the defendant to enforce his claim which was barred at the date of his written statement he could not get a decree in this suit for the further sum that might be found due to him on the accounts.
 Principal of equitable set off discussed and cases reviewed NARASIMHA RAO v ZAFTUDAS OR TRAVUR (1919) I L R 42 Mad 873

s 112)—O VIII, rr 8 and 9 (1882 Code
 s 112)—

See O XVIII r 3

I L R 45 Bom 245

O IX—(1882 Code ss 96 to 109)

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

4 Pat L J 330

*Dismissal of suit—
 Appeal* Held that no appeal lies from an order dismissing a suit under O IX r 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure on the ground that summons had not been served on the defendants in consequence of the failure of the plaintiff to depose in the requisite court fees for such service. Lucky Charn Chowdhry & Budurunnisa I L R 9 Cal
 627 Parbati v Tools Kapri 20 Feb 1919
 I followed. LACHMI NARAIN & DARBARI LAL
 (1916) I L R 33 All 357

O IX rr 2 and 8—

See DISMISSAL FOR DEFAULT

4 Pat L J 712

O IX r 3 (1882 Code s 98)—

See O XVII r 2

I L R 44 Bom 767

See O XVII r 3

6 Pat. L J 850

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O IX r 8 (1882 Code s 98)—contd

See DISMISSAL FOR DEFAULT

4 Pa L J 277

O IX rr 3 & 8—One plaintiff out of six present—Appearing plaintiff general attorney for the others—Dismissal of suit for want of prosecution—Dismissal on merits—Set aside on same cause of action barred. On the date fixed for the hearing of a suit neither the defendants nor their pleader appeared. The plaintiffs pleader also did not appear but one of the plaintiffs was present. He was also the general attorney of the other plaintiffs. The Court dismissed the suit for want of prosecution. The plaintiffs applied to have the dismissal set aside but their application was refused on the ground that their remedy was by means of a separate suit. They consequently brought a second suit claiming the same relief as they had claimed in the former suit. Held that inasmuch as all the plaintiffs must be deemed to have been present through the plaintiff who had appeared and was general attorney for the non appearing plaintiffs the suit must be regarded as having been dismissed on the merits, and not under O IX r 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure and a second suit on the same cause of action was therefore barred. HIRSH SINGH v JHUPJI SINGH (1918)

I L R 40 All 590

O IX r 4 (1882 Code s 99)—

S SMALL CAUSE COURT

I L P 41 Calc 953

O IX rr 4 & 8 10 and 12—

See O III r 1 4 Pat L J 152

See O XVII r 3 I L R 34 All 123

O IX rr 4 and 9—

See PESTOPATION OF SUIT

2 Pat L J 720

O IX rr 4 & 9 O XLVII r 1—

See SMALL CAUSE COURT SUIT

I L R 44 Calc 950

O IX r 5 (1882 Code s 99A)—

O IX r 5 O XXIII, r 1—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) ss 134 137 I L R 39 Bom 52

O IX r 6 (1882 Code s 100)—

See O IX r 3

I L R 40 All 590

O IX rr 6 & 13—Failure of defendant to appear in the course of the hearing of a plaintiff's case—Court may proceed to pass judgment on the materials before it—Application to set aside judgment as made ex parte—Appearance—

Default. Where in the course of the hearing of a suit the plaintiffs having closed their case the defence began and the cross examination of one of its witnesses not having been finished at the end of a day it stood adjourned to the next day when neither the defendant nor his witnesses nor his pleader appeared and the Court treating the defence as closed heard plaintiffs' arguments and delivered judgment. Held that the mere fact that the Court had materials before it upon which it could pronounce judgment was not enough to bring the case under r 3 O XVII as

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O IX rr 6 & 13—contd

the other condition is that the adjournment must have been at the instance of a party was not fulfilled. That the case fell under r 2 of O XVII and the Court must be taken to have proceeded to dispose of the suit in one of the modes directed by O IX so that an application to set aside the order under O IX r 13 should have been entered. The provisions of O IX by themselves do not apply to a case in which the defendant has already appeared in answer to the summons but has failed to appear at an adjourned hearing of the suit. On such a case O XVII applies r 2 applying to a hearing adjourned by the Court r 3 to a hearing adjourned at the instance of a party in which last case if the party fails to appear on the adjourned date and there are sufficient materials on the record to enable the Court to proceed to judgment the Court may dispose of the case under that rule. Even in such a case if there are not sufficient materials on the record the proper procedure to follow would be that laid down in r 3. Mariannissa v Ramkalpa I L R 34 Calc 235 referred to. The test of a defendant's appearance in obedience to a summons for the purpose of r 6 O IX is as indicated in the form of the summons in App B to Sch 1 of the Code whether the defendant has appeared in person or by pleader duly instructed and able to answer all material questions relating to the suit or who is accompanied by some person able to answer all such questions. In the present case as the pleaders being furnished with the due instruction could not be doubted there was no non appearance within r 6 O IX. PRASAD BASU v JIBAN MOHAN PAI (1914)

18 C W N 775

O IX rr 6 & 13 O XVII, rr 2 & 3—

See EX PARTE DECREE

I L R 41 Calc 958

O IX r 8 (1882 Code s 102)—

See 148 4 Pat L J 428

See O III r 1 4 Pat L J 142

See DISMISSAL FOR DEFAULT

4 Pat L J 712

Plaintiff offering no evidence if defendant may prove case in written statement—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O IX r 8. When the plaintiff offers no evidence the Court can only dismiss the suit for want of prosecution. In such a case if the defendant offers evidence in support of his case the Code of Civil Procedure does not provide for such evidence being received. When however the plaintiff has adduced evidence then notwithstanding that at the close of the plaintiff's case the Judge has formed an opinion in the defendant's favour the defendant can insist on calling evidence to prove the case made in his written statement. Ex parte Jacob or In re Pincoff & Co D 31 referred to. KESRI CHAND KOTHARI v NATIONAL JUTE MILLS Co Ltd (1912)

16 C W N 968

Appel—Dismissal for non appearance of appellant—Appellant present but unrepresented and unable to argue the appeal himself—Procedural. On the date fixed for the

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

— O IX r 8 (1892 Code s 102)—contd
 bearing of an appeal one of the two appellants the other being a woman) appeared before the Court and applied for an adjournment to enable him to procure the attendance of his pleaders. He was called on to argue his appeal but he said he had nothing to say and thereupon the appeal was dismissed on the ground that it had not been supported. Held that in these circumstances the Court was not justified in dismissing the appeal for want of prosecution but was bound to consider the grounds of appeal and to decide the case on the merits. BALDEO PRASAD v. HUNWAR BHARADUS (1912) 1 L R 35 All 105

— O IX r 8 (1892 Code s 102)—
See O XVII r 2 6 Pat. L J 650
 — When plaintiff dies before the trial a Court has no right to dismiss for want of appearance. BAKHSH SINGH v. HABIB SNAH 1 L R 35 All 331

— O IX r 8 and 9—
See DISMISSAL FOR DEFAULT 3 Pat. L J 355
See APPEAL 1 L R 43 Cal 859

— When the plaintiff and his pleader are both absent on the day fixed for the hearing of a case and the Court does not intend to give them another opportunity of appearing it ought not to decide the suit on the merits but should dismiss it for default of appearance. PAUL KHAN v. HASMUTULLAH KHAN (1915) 1 L R 37 All 460

— Dismissal of suit for plaintiff's non appearance.—Inherent jurisdiction of Court for restoration of suit for ends of justice.—Defendant protested in the matter of costs on restoration of plaintiff's suit. On the 7th January 1919 a suit was called on for hearing when counsel for the plaintiff finding that his client was not in Court to give evidence asked for an adjournment. The defendants appeared and opposed the application which was refused and the suit was dismissed under O IX r 8. Subsequently the plaintiff applied for the restoration of the suit stating in his affidavit that at about 11 a.m. of the day of hearing he had gone to the premises of his principal witness to bring him to the Court that as the latter was away from the premises he waited for his return till about 12.30 noon and that soon after he came to the Court with the witness and found that the suit was called on and dismissed. The plaintiff submitted that as the suit was fourteen days on the Board List for the day he did not expect it to be called before 1 p.m. but that he was ready and willing to pay the defendant's costs of the day on which the suit appeared on board for hearing. The trial Judge dismissed the application on 23rd January 1919 holding that no sufficient cause under O IX r 9 of the Civil Procedure Code was shown by the plaintiff. The plaintiff appealed. Held (reversing the order of the trial Judge) that the case was one in which whether there was sufficient cause or not the Court should exercise its inherent jurisdiction to restore the suit for the ends of justice provided the defendant was amply protected in the matter of costs. Lalta Prasad v. Lam Karan (1912) 31 All 428 followed. BILAS

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

— O IX, rr 8 and 9—contd
RAJ LAXMINARAYAN v. CUPPONDAS DA (DARDAS (1919) 1 L R 44 Bom. 32

— O IX, rr 8 9 and 13—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE ss 148 115 4 Pat. L J 429
 — O IX rr 8 and 9 s 151.—Dismissal of suit for default.—Restoration.—Sufficient cause.—Court's inherent power to restore. O IX r 9 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 makes it compulsory on a Court to set aside a dismissal under r 8 where the plaintiff satisfies the Court that there was sufficient cause for non appearance. It however cannot take away the Court's power to restore the case for any other valid reasons. LALTA PRASAD v. RAM KARAN (1912) 1 L R 34 All 426

— O IX, rr 8 and 9 O XXII, rr 3 and 9.—Non appearance of plaintiff.—Dismissal of suit.—Order setting aside dismissal when plaintiff was found to have been dead at the time suit was dismissed.—Orders and rules applicable only to defaulters wrongly applied in case of dead party. On the non appearance of the plaintiff in a suit against the respondent an order was made on the 4th of July 1911 dismissing the suit for default. The plaintiff was in fact dead at the time order was made and his son the appellant was engaged in performing his father's funeral ceremonies and was unable to attend Court. These facts were brought to the notice of the Deputy Commissioner in an application made under O XXII rr 3 and 9 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) by the appellant as the heir and legal representative of the plaintiff which was filed and accepted by the Deputy Commissioner within the time allowed by law and an order was made on the 11th of September setting aside the dismissal of the suit and substituting the name of the appellant on the record in place of the deceased plaintiff. On an application for revision of the Deputy Commissioner's order of the 11th of September made by the respondent under s 115 of the Code to the Court of the Judicial Commissioner that Court reversed the order and confirmed that decision on review mainly on the grounds that the order of the 4th of July dismissing the suit was a proper order under O IX, r 8 of the Code that the appellant's application to set aside that order was not within time and was therefore barred and that O XXII r 9 of the Code applied only to a still pending suit and not to one that had been dismissed. Held (reversing the decisions of the Court of the Judicial Commissioner) that these decisions were vitiated by applying to a dead man orders and rules applicable only to mere defaulters. An abuse of the process of the Court within the meaning of s 151 of the Code had occurred by the course adopted in the Judicial Commissioner's Court. Quite apart from that section any Court might rightly have considered itself to possess inherent power to rectify the mistake inadvertently made in dismissing the suit. The order of the Deputy Commissioner setting aside the dismissal was manifestly sensible and correct and their Lordships restored it and remitted the case to India to be disposed of on the merits. DYNI BAKSH SINGH v. HABIB SNAH (1913) 1 L R 35 All 331

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O IX rr 8 10 and 12—

See NON APPEARANCE

1 L R 48 Calc 57

O IX, r 9 (1882 Code s 103)—

See s 141

1 L R 1 Lah 339

See s 148

4 Pat L J 428

See O XVII r 3

8 Pat L J 650

See APPEAL

1 L R 43 Calc 857

Dismissal for default application to set aside order of dismissal of application whether application lies to set aside No application lies under O IX to set aside and order made under O IX RAMGULAM SINGH v SHEO DEONARAY SINGH 4 Pat L J 297

An application under this order for restoration of a suit must be made within 30 days from the order of dismissal and this rule of limitation cannot be evaded by making an application for review under O XLVII r 1 DEODIP SINGH v GORAL SINGH 1 Pat L J 547

O IX, r 9 s 115—Application to set aside order dismissing suit for default of appearance should be disposed of on evidence.—Revision Where an application by the plaintiff for postponement of a case fixed for peremptory disposal on the ground that the plaintiff was ill and unable to attend Court having been refused the suit was called on for disposal and dismissed for default and an application to set aside the order under O IX r 9 of the Civil Procedure Code was without recording evidence summarily dismissed the Judge observing that he would not go over the same grounds again Held in revision under s 115 of the Civil Procedure Code that an application under O IX r 9 must be disposed of on the evidence after it has been properly recorded whether the procedure of the Court be to take the evidence viva voce or by affidavit It could not be disposed of on the view of the Judge merely as to whether the application was bona fide or not DURGAKANTA SARMA v ANTO KOH (1917) 22 C W N 671

O IX r 9 and O XXI r 90—

Application to set aside sale dismissed for default—application for restoration whether maintainable O IX r 9 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 does not apply to an order dismissing for default an application to set aside under O XXI r 90 a sale held in execution of a decree BHUBANESWAR PRASAD SINGH v TILAKDHARI LALL 4 Pat L J 135

O IX, r 9 O XLIII, r 1 (c)—

Application by judgment debtor under O XXI r 90 to set aside sale—Dismissal for default—Application for restoration rejection—Order of appeal able—Application to set aside sale of suit O IX r 9 of the Civil Procedure Code is applicable to applications for setting aside sales which have been dismissed for default DILIP NATH Bibee v Hemanta Kumar Ray 19 C W N 53 and Safdar Ali v Kishun Lal 12 C L J 6 held on An application to set aside a sale is a proceeding which may terminate in an adjudication such as is referred to in s 2 of the Civil Procedure Code and if the question had been res integra the Court would have held that it was a suit

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O IX r 9 O XLIII r 1 (c)—

contd

with the meaning of O XLIII r 1 cl (c) Charu Chandra Ghose v Chandri Charan Ray Chowdhury 19 C W N 25 referred to BHUBAN DEHARY NAG MAZUMDAR v DHIRENDRA NATH DABERJI (1916) 20 C W N 1203

O IX, r 10 (1882 Code s 105)—

See O III r 1

4 Pat L J 152

O IX rr 10 and 12—

See NON APPEARANCE

1 L R 48 Calc 57

O IX r 12 (1882 Code s 107)—

See O III r 1

1 L R 41 Mad 256

See O V r 3

1 L R 39 All 478

O IX r 13 (1882 Code s 108)—

See O IX, r 6

18 C W N 775

See s 148

1 L R 38 All 776

See s 151

1 L R 293 All 8

See O V r 10

1 L R 35 All 183

See O V r 12 17

1 L R 43 Calc 447

See EX PARTE DECREE

1 L R 48 Calc 158

See EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS

1 L R 41 Calc 1

See SUMMONS SERVICE OF

1 L R 43 Calc 447

Decree ex parte as against one of several defendants—Such defendant not a party to appeal—Appeal dismissed as against contesting defendants—Application by non appearing defendant to set aside ex parte decree against her—Merger Where a person who was originally a party to a suit is not made a party to the appeal preferred against the decree passed in the suit either as appellant or respondent and the Appellate Court has not adjudicated upon his case the decree of the Court of first instance does not merge in that of the Court of Appeal It is therefore open to such a person if he is otherwise in a position to do so to apply under O IX r 13 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 to the Court which passed the decree for an order to set it aside as against him The following cases were referred to in the judgment of SUNDAR LAL, J Rama nathan Chetti v Narayana Chetti 1 L R 97 Mad 60^o Sankara Bhatta v Subraya Bhatta 1 L R 30 Mad 535 Damodar Manna v Sarat Chandra Dhal 13 C W N 846 3 Ind an Cases 463 Kumud Nath Poy Chowdhury v Jotindra Nath Chowdhury 1 L R 33 Calc 391 Sajan Bibi v Safrudin 96 Ind an Cases 412 Dhan Sardar v Tarak Nath Chowdhury 12 C L J 53 Jatu Mishra v Dar Baksh Bhuiya 15 C W N 793 Brij Lal Singh v Chowdhury Mahadeo Prasad 17 C W N 133 Hedoti Khana v Karna Elanga 15 C L J 211 Manomohan Chaudhary v Jai Narayan Rai 4 C W N 466 Palalidhar P. v Manikaran P. 7 All L J 593 and Mahiprasad v Pam Charan Lal 1 L R 37 All an Cases MATI TIWARI v SWAMI NATH RAI (1918) 1 L R 39 All 13

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O IX r 13 (1882 Code s 108)—
contd

Ex parte decree—applications for re hearing terms on which may be granted In restoring a case for re hearing under O IX r 13 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 the court may make it a condition that the decretal amount or some portion thereof be paid into court. In cases where there has been no default on the part of the party asking for re hearing e g where he has not been duly served it is inequitable for the court to impose conditions. SHAN LAL SATHI & RAM NARAYAN LAL SETHI 5 Pat L J 420

Compromise decree application to set aside by one not a party to it—Appeal Held per CURLIAN (RICHARDSON J dubitante) An application by a party to a suit to set aside a compromise decree on the ground that as against him the decree was ex parte comes under O IX r 13 of the Civil Procedure Code and an appeal lies against the order refusing the application. BASIRUDDIN & SHEIKH SADIQ (1918) 22 C W N 571

O XVII rr 2 and 3 scope of—Decree ex parte—Defendant absent at adjourned hearing after taking adjournment for telling evidence Where at the close of the plaintiff's case an adjournment was granted to the defendant to enable him to produce his evidence and he failed to appear at the adjourned hearing and the Court proceeded to pass a decree against him Held by the Full Bench that the case came within O XVII r 2 and the decree could be set aside under O IX r 13. Per SADAS VA AYYAR and KUMARASWAMI SASTRIYAR JJ Rr 2 and 3 of O XVII Civil Procedure Code are mutually exclusive r 2 applies to all cases of absence of parties whether time was granted or not to do any of the acts mentioned in r 3 of the Order while r 3 applies only to cases where parties are present and commit default of the kind mentioned in the rule. Per WALLIS C J Pr 2 and 3 of O XVII are not mutually exclusive R 3 may be applied even in the absence of the defendant but the decree will none the less be ex parte and liable to be set aside. Chandra mathi Ammal v Varayanarasami Aiyar 1 L R 30 Mad 241 followed. Nagananda Aiyar v Sri Anamurthi Aiyar 1 L R 31 Mad 97 overruled. PITCHAMMA & SREERAMULU (1917)

1 L R 41 Mad 286

Decree ex parte—Application to set aside decree—Appeal—Decree confirmed in appeal before hearing of application to set it aside When the High Court has once confirmed a decree on appeal it is not open to the Court which passed the decree to entertain an application to set the decree aside and it makes no difference that the application to set the decree aside was filed before the appeal was disposed of. MATHURA PPA AD v PAM CHARAN LAL (1915)

1 L R 37 All 203

*Compromise petition purporting to be by all the defendants filed by those actually present in Court—Decree passed on such compromise petition—Subsequent repudiation by defendants not present at filing of petition—Jurisdiction of Court to set aside decree as ex parte decree under O IX r 13* The petitioners instituted

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O IX r 13 (1882 Code s 108)—
contd

a suit for declaration of their title to and for possession of certain lands. Two of the defendants (Nos 4 and 5) filed a petition of compromise and asked for a decree as far as they were concerned on that compromise and so ex parte decree against the other defendants. The Court however ordered fresh service on the other defendants and subsequent thereto defendants Nos 4 and 5 appeared in Court with a petition of compromise purporting to be executed by defendants Nos 1 to 3 as well as by themselves. On this petition a decree was made in terms of the compromise. Afterwards defendants Nos 1 to 3 put in a petition to the Court stating that defendants Nos 4 and 5 had no authority to present the petition of compromise on their behalf that no summons had been served on them and that the petition was fraudulently represented as being made by them. The Court acting under O IX r 13 Civil Procedure Code set aside the decree and ordered a retrial of the case. Held that the Judge when he made his order was under the impression that all the parties in the case were before him and that the petition was the petition of all the parties consequently in granting the petition he did not intend to make it ex parte and the decree could not be treated as an ex parte one and consequently O IX r 13 Civil Procedure Code did not apply. Diamondar Misra & Hrisini Nair (1914) 19 C W N 118

Ex parte decree application to set aside to Original Court after appeal determined by Appellate Court if and when lies Where the plaintiff sued D his four sons and two nephews on a mortgage executed by D and D's father (now dead) and the suit having been contested by D's nephews only a decree was made in plaintiff's favour in the presence of D's nephews but ex parte against D and his sons directing the sale of a two thirds of the mortgaged property (being the share of D and his father) and making all the 7 defendants personally liable for the unsatisfied balance if any of the mortgage debt and against the decree an appeal was preferred by plaintiff wherein he sought to have a decree for the sale of the share of D's nephews as well and the latter also preferred cross objection against the portion of the decree which made them personally liable and both appeal and cross objections were allowed by the High Court. Held that though D and his sons had been joined as respondents in the appeal and a self contained decree was made therein as no relief was claimed in the appeal against them there was still as against D and his sons a subsisting ex parte decree over which the Subordinate Judge had control and he had jurisdiction to entertain an application by D and his sons to set aside the decree. BRINJALL SINGH & MAHADEO PRASAD (1911)

17 C W N 133

Decree in favour of contesting defendants and against non appearing defendants if may be wholly set aside at the instance of latter—Refusal of Court to set aside—Plaintiff may ask for the setting aside of whole decree in revision Semle. The proviso to r 13 O IX of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) does

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O IX r 13 (1882 Code s 103)—
—contd

not authorise the Court in setting aside a decree at the instance of defendants against whom it had been obtained ex parte to set it aside in so far as it is in favour of the contesting defendants. ALI AHMED KHAN v C R BROWN (1912)

17 C W N 142

Ex parte decree, power of court to set aside. A Court has no power apart from the provisions of O IX r 13 Civil Procedure Code to set aside an ex parte decree passed by itself. Somayya v Subbamma (1903) 1 L R 26 Mad 539 overruled. DEEVAJENI NARAYANA PANDU (1906)

I L R 43 Mad 94

Ex parte decree against one of the defendants—Appeal by another defendant against the decree of Original Court—Ex parte defendant a party respondent in the appeal—Application to set aside ex parte decree made to the Appellate Court pending appeal whether competent. Where a decree was passed ex parte against one of the defendants and an appeal against the decree preferred by another defendant was pending in the Appellate Court an application by the former defendant to set aside the ex parte decree passed against him can be made only in the Original Court which passed the decree and not in the Appellate Court. Sankara Bhaita v Sitraya Bhaita (1907) 1 L R 30 Mad 635 distinguished. Chenna Reddy v Peddachi Reddy (1909) 1 L R 32 Mad 416 (F B) applied. PALANIAPPAN CHETTY v SUBRAMANIAM CHETTY (1921)

I L R 44 Mad 731

In restoring a case for rehearing under O IX r 13 the Court may make it a condition that the decretal amount be paid into Court but if the party applying has not made default it is inequitable to impose any conditions. SHYAM LAL SARKI v PAM NARAYAN LAL SETHI 5 Pat L J 421

O IX r 13 O V r 17—

See SUBSTITUTED SERVICE

I L R 38 Calc 394

O IX r 13 O XVII r 3—

See s 143

4 Pat L J 423

Procedure—Non appearance of defendant—Decree passed on merits in absence of defendant—Appeal—Application for rehearing. On a date to which the hearing of a suit before a Munsif had been adjourned the plaintiff and his witness were present but the defendants were not. The Munsif heard the plaintiff's witnesses and decreed his claim. The defendants filed an application for a rehearing before the Munsif who however rejected it. They then appealed against the decree to the District Judge who dismissed the appeal. Held on second appeal by the defendants against the District Judge a decree that the defendants might and should have appealed against the rejection by the Munsif of their application for a rehearing but they had no right in their appeal from the decree to raise any question as to their non appearance in the Court of first instance. KHANNU v ARIZUD DIN (1916)

I L R. 39 All 143

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O IX r 13 O XXXII r 3—
Guardian ad litem—Illusory appointment of guardian—Competence minors to have a decree passed without their being represented set aside. A suit was brought against certain minor defendants naming as guardian ad litem their uncle who was also a defendant. The uncle refused to act as guardian ad litem and I stated that the minors lived with their mother. No notice was served upon the mother but upon the application of the plaintiffs the Court Amm was appointed guardian ad litem of the minors. The plaintiffs did not depose any amount for the expenses of the guardian who did not take any steps to defend the suit or to inquire whether there was a defence. A decree was passed ex parte against the minor and an application on their behalf through their mother to have the case restored was rejected. The Courts below found that the decree was not void and dismissed the suit. Held that in the circumstances above set forth the minors were entitled to a declaration that the decree was null and void as against them. Walia v Banke Behari Pershad Singh 1 L R 30 Calc 1091 and Munnu Lal v Ghulam Abbas 1 L R 32 All 287 distinguished. Held also that the minors were not debarred from bringing this suit by reason of their not having applied to have the ex parte decree set aside under O IX r 13 of the Code of Civil Procedure. BHAGWAN DASAL v TARAN SINGH (1916)

I L R 37 All 179

O X r 4 (1882 Code s 120)—
Order striking out defence for failure of defendant to appear—Appeal. Whether an order passed by a Court which is purporting to deal with one of the parties before it under the provisions of O X r 4 of the Code of Civil Procedure does or does not amount to pronouncing judgment against that party depends upon the particular facts of each case. Where a Court struck off the defence of one defendant out of three but ultimately decided the case on the merits and passed a decree against all three defendants—their defences being similar it was held that no appeal lay from the order of the Court under O X r 4. MADHURI SURENDRA SARKI v BITHUL DAS (1917)

I L R 39 All 450

O XI—(1882 Code s 121 to 126)

See DISCOVERY I L R 41 Calc 6
25 C W N 99

O XI r 2—

See INTERROGATORIES

I L R 43 Calc 300

O XI r 12 to 15—

See 3— 5 Pat L J 550

O XI r 13—Appraisal of documents—Inspection—Discovery. When an affidavit of documents has been filed in one party under O XI r 13 of the Code the other party is not necessarily precluded from subsequently applying under r 18 paragraph 2 of the same Order for further inspection and discovery. BASASTA COOMAR COSWAMI v KAILASH DAS (1916)

16 C W N

O XI r 13 18 (2)—

See DISCOVERY I L R. 23

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd §

O XI, r 14 (1882 Code s 130)—

Discovery—High Court—Power to interfere with interlocutory order under the Charter Act (24 and 25 Vict c 101) s 15—Order for discovery—Power of Court how to be exercised—Order before issues framed or written statement filed—Right of inspecting party to take copies and notes—Order for production of documents can be made under r 14 of O XI before the issues have been framed. The order must no doubt be limited to such documents alone as relate to matters in question in the suit and the Court must consequently before it makes the order determine for the purpose thereof what are the matters in question in the suit and thus may well be done even before the issues have been framed. Provided this is done an order for production of the defendant's documents may be made at the instance of the plaintiff even before the written statements have been filed. Union Bank of London v Manby 13 Ch D 239 Augustinus v Nernicks 16 Ch D 13 referred to. A party cannot obtain a commission for the inspection or production of books or papers in order that he may ransack them for evidence to make out his case. A party cannot ask for discovery with a view to ascertain the evidence on which his opponent's action or defence rests. But if the documents are material to the applicant a case it is no objection to their production or inspection that they relate to the case of his adversary. The Court in ordering production should by its order specify the time and place of inspection and give direction as to the manner of inspection. The Court cannot delegate the exercise of its power of requiring the production of any document under the rule to a Commissioner. The party who has obtained an order to inspect documents may take notes of their content. He has also the right to take copies but on application to the Court. There is no possible ground for controversy that if the High Court is satisfied that an interlocutory order of the description now before us has been made without jurisdiction or under such circumstances as are likely to cause irreparable injury to one of the litigants the High Court has ample power to set matters right under s 15 of the Charter Act. Dhapa v Pam Pershad 1 L R 1 Calc 687 referred to. GONDWA MOHAN DAS v KUNJA BEHARA DAS (1907)

12 C W N 147

O XI r 15 (1882 Code s 131)—

Inspection of Plaintiff's documents before filing written statement when allowed—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XII r 9 14 O XI r 15—Documents issued upon and documents relied upon—Rules of English High Court O XXXI r 14. There is a distinction between documents sued upon and documents relied upon by the plaintiffs. Under O XI r 15 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 the Defendant is not entitled as of right to have inspection of the documents relied upon by the Plaintiff before filing his written statement. Pam Dyal Saligram v Aukhury Balkrishna 1 L P 18 Bom 583 (1891) not followed. CHANDMULL GOVESHILL v DHANRAJ ANANPATROY 24 C W N 302

O XI r 18 (2) (1882 Code s 134)—

See O XI r 13

1 L R 38 Calc 428

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XI, r 21—

See s 32

5 Pat L J 550

Procedure—Plaintiff

under suspicion of suppressing documents relating to the matter at issue—Dismissal of suit. Where a plaintiff had given the Court strong grounds for believing that he was keeping out of the way documents which would throw light on the subject matter of the suit but there had been no order made for discovery or inspection of documents it was held that the Court was not justified in dismissing the suit purporting to act under O XI r 21 of the Code of Civil Procedure. LIPTAN LALL v SULTAN SINGH (1915) 1 L R 38 All 5

O XII, r 6 (1882 Code ss 138

and 140)—

See COMMISSIONER ACHYOT

1 L R 45 Calc 135

Held in a case where the written statement taken as a whole could not be regarded as an unambiguous and unconditional admission that Rs 9535 was due to the plaintiff that the same could not be recovered by the plaintiff by an application under O XII r 6 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Held also that there must be a clear admission that the money is due and recoverable in the action in which the admission is made. Zandergan v Feast 34 W R (Eng) 691 followed. KORAMALL RAO BALLYA v MONOMAL DALCHAND (1919)

23 C W N 1017

O XIII r 1—1882 Code ss 138 &

140

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE

1 L R 45 Calc 878

O XIII r 4 (1882 Code s 141)—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT

1 L P 38 All 627

O XIV r 2 (1882 Code, s 145)

—Scope and application of rule—Issues of law determination of in the beginning—P of O XII—Suit by plaintiff in representative capacity character of plaintiff if should be stated in cause title—Amendment of plaintiff by leave of Court effect of. On the 30th July, 1890 the plaintiff was declared to be a disqualified proprietor and the Court of Wards took charge of her estate. On the 7th June 1890 by a lobala the Court of Wards sold to the father of the defendant all the properties in suit except two mauzas. By a further lobala dated 11th February 1901 the two mauzas were similarly conveyed. On the 1st August 1911 the Court of Wards released the property of the plaintiff from its charge. The plaintiff on 31st May 1912 sued for a declaration that the two lobalas were invalid and for restoration of possession of the properties concerned. As regards the two mauzas sold in 1901 the plaintiff originally did not show in the cause title the character in which the plaintiff sued although the body of the plaintiff and the prayers made it clear that she sued as the shebast of certain idols. Subsequently with the leave of the Court the cause title was amended so as to show that the plaintiff sued on behalf of herself and as shebast and the necessary amendments in the body of the plaint were made. On the application of the defendant the Trial Judge tried the issues of law first and CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)—*contdO XIV r 2 (1882 Code s 148)—

contd

dismissed the suit. Held that the application of r 2 O XIV Civil Procedure Code is not confined only to cases in which the issues of fact had not been settled. The rule also applies to cases where the Court has not postponed the settlement of the issues of fact and the course adopted by the Trial Judge in disposing of the issues of law was not illegal. That O VII r 4 does not require that when the plaintiff sues in a representative capacity that fact should be stated in the cause title of the plaint although that is a convenient place to state it. The amendments made in the plaint by the leave of the Court could not in any view amount to an addition or substitution of a new plaintiff within the meaning of s 22 of the Limitation Act. That Art 91 of the Limitation Act had no application to the suit in so far as it was instituted by the plaintiff as shikast of the idols. KUAPHOOT SINGH v WASIR ALI MEERZA (1915) 19 C W N 1193

O XIV r 5 (1882 Code s 149)—

Amendment—extent of court's power to alter frame of suit—suit for eviction on ground of wrongful possession—decree awarding rent legality. The Court's power to alter the frame of a suit is co-extensive with the power that it has to make amendments under r 3 of O XIV of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908. The court cannot convert one cause of action into a different cause of action. Where the plaintiff sued for a declaration of his title to the land in dispute and prayed (1) that he might be put into possession thereof by ousting the defendants and (2) that he might be awarded mesne profits by way of damages for use and occupation for the period during which the defendants had been in wrongful possession of the land. Held that the court was not competent to give a decree against the defendants on the basis that they were tenants of the plaintiff and liable to pay rent to him. JHARI SINGH v PIRITHI NATH SARDU
2 Pat L J 69

O XIV r 6—*See ADMINISTRATOR PENDENTE LITEI L R 39 Calc 587

The Court cannot where there is no agreement as is indicated in O XIV r 6 of the Civil Procedure Code go outside the allegations in the plaint in order to decide an issue as to whether the plaintiff discloses a cause of action. KSHITISH CHANDRA ACHARYA CHOUHDHURI v OSMOND BEEBEE (1919)
16 C W N 516

O XVI (1882 Code ss 59 78)—

O XVI r 4—Sale of immovable property in execution of an order for payment of expenses of witnesses—legality of—S 36 scope and effect of. In a certain suit the plaintiff was ordered to pay a certain sum as expenses for one of his witnesses. The order was executed and certain immovable property of the plaintiff sold in execution. The present suit was instituted for a declaration that the sale of the immovable property was without jurisdiction and illegal. Held—That the sale of the immovable property in execution of the order was illegal. O 16 r 4 is not to be treated as a short and summary procedure for realisation of the expenses of a witness in addition

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)—*contdO XVI (1882 Code ss 59 78)—
contd

tion to other modes of execution of orders under the provisions of s 36 of the Code. That section does not make any order capable of execution which was not so before. The section only means that the procedure prescribed for execution of decrees shall apply to execution of such orders as can be executed under the Code. There being a specific provision in that behalf in O 16 r 4 the amount ordered to be paid ought to have been levied in that manner and the immovable property of the debtor could not have been put up to sale. MD WARISH SADAKAR v RAHAMAT ALI MEATH
26 C W N 877

O XVI rr 10 12—Fine for non production of documents conditions to be fulfilled before imposing fine—Duty of Courts and Settlement Officers to strictly follow the law relating to issue and service of summons. O XVI r 10 of the Civil Procedure Code does not apply where there has been no summons upon any body to produce the document and no order under r 12 can be made until the procedure laid down in r 10 has been followed where that rule applies. The Civil Court and particularly the perpetual Settlement Courts which cause a large amount of disturbance to local interests cannot be too careful to follow the provisions of law strictly as regards summoning persons and documents before them. NARADIP CHANDRA NANDI v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1916)
20 C W N 511

O XVI r 12 (1882 Code s 170)—See s 141 23 C W N 580*O XVII (1882 Code s 156)—See O XVI r 16* 5 Pat L J 390*O XVII, r 2 (1882 Code s 157)—See DISMISSAL FOR DEFAULT*
4 Pat L J 712O XVII rr 2 3—See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O IV r 13* I L R 41 Mad 236See DISMISSAL FOR DEFAULTSee EX PARTE DECREE*
4 Pat L J 277I L R 41 Calc 856

O XVII r 2 O IX r 3 and O XXXII, r 3—Adjourned hearing—Plaintiffs default—Non appearance of defendant—Dismissal of suit—Fresh suit on the same cause of action. The plaintiffs filed a suit against several defendants, one of whom was a minor who was not represented in the suit as no guardian was appointed for him. At an adjourned hearing the suit was dismissed for plaintiffs' default. The plaintiffs having again sued the minor defendant alone on the same cause of action. Held that the dismissal of the first suit did not operate as a bar to the maintainability of the second suit since the order passed in the first suit was a nullity as between the plaintiffs and the minor defendant. DANGU v VAKREYA (1919)
I L R 44 Bom 767

O XVII, r 3 (1882 Code s 159)—See DISMISSAL FOR DEFAULT
4 Pat L J 491

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd 1

O XI r 14 (1882 Code, s 130)—
*Discovery—High Court—Power to interfere with interlocutory order under the Charter Act (24 and 25 Vict c 104) s 15—Order for discovery—Power of Court how to be exercised—Order before issues framed or written statement filed—Right of inspecting party to take copies and notes—Order for production of documents can be made under r 14 of O XI before the issues have been framed. The order must no doubt be limited to such documents alone as relate to matters in question in the suit and the Court must consequently before it makes the order determine for the purpose thereof what are the matters in question in the suit and this may well be done even before the issues have been framed. Provided this is done an order for production of the defendant's documents may be made at the instance of the plaintiff even before the written statements have been filed. Union Bank of London v Manby 13 Ch. D 239 Augustinus v Aernicks 16 Ch D 13 referred to. A party cannot obtain a commission for the inspection or production of books or papers in order that he may ransack them for evidence to make out his case. A party cannot ask for discovery with a view to a certain the evidence on which his opponent's action or defence rests. But if the documents are material to the applicant's case it is no objection to their production or inspection that they relate to the case of his adversary. The Court in ordering production should by its order specify the time and place of inspection and give direction as to the manner of inspection. The Court cannot delegate the exercise of its power of requiring the production of any document under the rule to a Commissioner. The party who has obtained an order to inspect documents may take notice of their content. He has also the right to take copies but on application to the Court. There is no possible ground for controversy that if the High Court is satisfied that an interlocutory order of the description now before us has been made without jurisdiction or under such circumstances as are likely to cause irreparable injury to one of the litigants the High Court has ample power to set matters right under s 14 of the Charter Act. Dhapa v Ram Pershad 1 L R 1 Cal 687 referred to. GOBINDA MOHAN DAS v KUNJA BEHARI DASS (1909)*

14 C W N 147

O XI r 15 (1882 Code s 131)—
*Inspection of Plaintiff's documents before filing written statement when allowed—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O VII r 9 14 O XI r 15—Documents issued upon and documents relied on—Rules of English High Court O XXXI r 14. There is a distinction between documents sued upon and documents relied upon by the Plaintiffs. Under O XI r 15 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 the Defendant is not entitled as of right to have inspection of the documents relied upon by the Plaintiff before filing his written statement. Pam Dyal Saligram v Aurbhury Balkrishna 1 L P 15 Bom. 368 (1894) not followed. CHANDMULL GOVESHIMULL v DHANRAJ GANAPATROY 24 C W N 302*

O XI, r 18 (2) (1882 Code, s. 134)—

See O XI n 13

I L R 38 Cal 428

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XI r 21—

See s 32

5 Pat L J 550

Procedure—Plaintiff under suspicion of suppressing documents relating to the matter at issue—Dismissal of suit. Where a plaintiff had given the Court strong grounds for believing that he was keeping out of the way documents which would throw light on the subject matter of the suit but there had been no order made for discovery or inspection of documents it was held that the Court was not justified in dismissing the suit purporting to act under O XI r 21 of the Code of Civil Procedure. KISHAN LALL v SULTAN SINGH (1915) 1 L R 38 All 5

O XII, r 6 (1882 Code ss 138 and 140)—

See COMMISSION AGENCY

I L R 45 Cal 138

Held in a case where the written statement taken as a whole could not be regarded as an unambiguous and unconditional admission that Rs 9535 was due to the plaintiff that the same could not be recovered by the plaintiff by an application under O XII r 6 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Held also that there must be a clear admission that the money is due and recoverable in the action in which the admission is made. Laddegan v Fear' 34 W P (Eng) 691 followed. KORAMALL PAM BALLYA v MONGILAL DALINGCHAND (1919)

23 C W N 1017

O XIII r 1—1882 Code ss 138 & 140

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARriage.

I L R 45 Cal 878

O XIII, r 4 (1882 Code s 141)—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT

I L P 38 All 627

O XIV r 2 (1882 Code s 145)—
*Scope and application of rule—Issues of law determination of in the beginning—O VII—Suit by plaintiff in representative capacity character of plaintiff if should be stated in cause title—Amendment of plaintiff by leave of Court effect of. On the 30th July 1880 the plaintiff was declared to be a disqualified proprietor and the Court of Wards took charge of her estate. On the 7th June 1890 by a kobala the Court of Wards sold to the father of the defendant all the properties in suit except two mazuas. By a further kobala dated 11th February 1901 the two mazuas were similarly conveyed. On the 1st August 1911 the Court of Wards released the property of the plaintiff from its charge. The plaintiff on 31st May 1912 sued for a declaration that the two kobalas were invalid and for restoration of possession of the properties concerned. As regards the two mazuas sold in 1901 the plaintiff originally did not show in the cause title the character in which the plaintiff sued although the body of the plaintiff and the prayers made it clear that she sued as the shebait of certain idols. Subsequently with the leave of the Court the cause title was amended so as to show that the plaintiff sued on behalf of herself and as shebait and the necessary amendments in the body of the plaintiff were made. On the application of the defendant the Trial Judge tried the issues of law first and*

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd—

O XIV r 2 (1882 Code s 146)—
contd

dismissed the suit. Held that the application of r 2 O XIV Civil Procedure Code is not confined only to cases in which the issues of fact had not been settled. The rule also applies to cases where the Court has not postponed the settlement of the issues of fact and the course adopted by the Trial Judge in disposing of the issues of law was not illegal. That O VII r 4 does not require that when the plaintiff sues in a representative capacity that fact should be stated in the cause title of the plaint although that is a convenient place to state it. The amendments made in the plaint by the leave of the Court could not in any view amount to an addition or substitution of a new plaintiff within the meaning of s 22 of the Limitation Act. That Art 91 of the Limitation Act had no application to the suit in so far as it was instituted by the plaintiff as hebut of the idols. KUARMONI SINGH v WASIR ALI MEERZA (1910) 19 C W N 1193

O XIV r 5 (1882 Code s 149)—

Amendment—extent of court's power to alter frame of suit—suit for eviction on ground of wrongful possession—decree awarding rent & legality of The court's power to alter the frame of a suit is co-extensive with the power that it has to make amendments under r 3 of O XIV of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908. The court cannot convert one cause of action into a different cause of action. Where the plaintiff sued for a declaration of his title to the land in dispute and prayed (1) that he might be put into possession thereof by ousting the defendants and (2) that he might be awarded the profits by way of damages for use and occupation for the period during which the defendants had been in wrongful possession of the land, held that the court was not competent to give a decree against the defendants on the basis that they were tenants of the plaintiff and liable to pay rent to him. JHARI SINGH v PRITHI NATH SAHU

2 Pat L J 69

O XIV r 6—

See ADMINISTRATOR PENDENTE LITE

I L R 39 Calc 587

The Court cannot where there is no agreement as is indicated in O XIV r 6 of the Civil Procedure Code go into the allegations in the plaint in order to decide an issue as to whether the plaintiff discloses a cause of action. KASHISH CHANDRA ACHARYA CHoudhury v OSWOND BEEBEE (1912)

16 C W N 516

O XVI (1882 Code ss 59 78)—

O XVI r 4—Sale of immovable property in execution of an order for payment of expenses of witness—legality of—S 38 scope and effect of In a certain suit the plaintiff was ordered to pay a certain sum as expenses for one of his witnesses. The order was executed and certain immovable property of the plaintiff sold in execution. The present suit was instituted for a declaration that the sale of the immovable property was without jurisdiction and illegal. Held—That the sale of the immovable property in execution of the order was illegal. O 16 r 4 is not to be treated as a short and summary procedure for realisation of the expenses of a witness in addi-

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd—

O XVI (1882 Code ss 59 78)—
contd

tion to other modes of execution of orders under the provisions of a 36 of the Code. That section does not make any order capable of execution which was not so before. The section only means that the procedure prescribed for execution of decrees shall apply to execution of such orders as can be executed under the Code. There being a specific provision in that behalf in O 16 r 4 the amount ordered to be paid ought to have been levied in that manner and the immovable property of the debtor could not have been put up to sale. MD WARISH SADAYAR v PAHANAN ALI MEATH 28 C W N 877

O XVI rr 10 12—Fine for non production of documents conditions to be fulfilled before imposing fine—Duty of Courts and Settlement Officers to strictly follow the law relating to issue and service of summons O XVI r 10 of the Civil Procedure Code does not apply where there has been no summons upon any body to produce the documents and no order under r 12 can be made until the procedure laid down in r 10 has been followed where that rule applies. The Civil Courts and particularly the peripatetic Settlement Courts which cause a large amount of disturbance to local interests cannot be too careful to follow the provisions of law strictly as regards summoning persons and documents before them. NADADIP CHANDRA NAYDI v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1910) 20 C W N 511

O XVI r 12 (1882 Code s 170)—

See s 141

23 C W N 580

O XVII (1882 Code s 158)—

See O XVI r 10 5 Pat L J 396

O XVII, r 2 (1882 Code s 157)—

See DISMISSAL FOR DEFAULT

4 Pat L J 712

O XVII rr 2 3—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O
IX r 10 I L P 41 Mad 286

See DISMISSAL FOR DEFAULT

4 Pat L J 277

See EX PARTE DECREE

I L R 41 Calc 856

O XVII r 2 O IX r 3 and O

XXXII, r 3—Adjourned hearing—Plaintiff's default—Non appearance of defendant—Dismissal of suit—Fresh suit on the same cause of action The plaintiffs filed a suit against several defendants, one of whom was a minor who was not represented in the suit as no guardian was appointed for him. At an adjourned hearing the suit was dismissed for plaintiff's default. The plaintiffs having again sued the minor defendant alone on the same cause of action—Held that the dismissal of the first suit did not operate as a bar to the maintainability of the second suit since the order passed in the first suit was a nullity as between the plaintiffs and the minor defendant. DALVI v VAREYA (1910) 1 L R 44 Bom 787

O XVII r 3 (1882 Code s 158)—

See DISMISSAL FOR DEFAULT

4 Pat L J 431

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

—contd

O XVII, r 3 (1882 Code s 158)—

1. Procedure—Order for parties to appear with witness at adjourned hearing—Default of plaintiff's witness—Dismissal of suit. On the date fixed for the hearing of a suit the parties and their witnesses were present but as there was some prospect of a compromise the hearing was adjourned. On the adjourned date the plaintiff's witnesses were present, but the witnesses, though summoned, did not appear. The plaintiff did not apply for an adjournment nor did they ask the Court to enforce the attendance of their witnesses under O XVII, r 10 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 and the Court, acting upon an application under O XVII, r 3, of the Code dismissed the suit. The plaintiff appealed and the District Judge dealing with the case as if the plaintiff had made default in appearing remitted the case to the first Court to be disposed of according to law. Held that the procedure of the District Judge was erroneous; he should have proceeded under O XVI, r 2 to direct the admission of fresh evidence and under O XVI, r 3 to refer the case to the Court of first instance. Per Channarayana. As we read the present Code we think it leaves the Court a discretion to proceed at once when witnesses have failed to attend if from any circumstances before it has reason to believe that the evidence of such defaulting witnesses is material and that the witnesses are defaulting. It would be for the witnesses to show that their absence is due to lawful excuse. PAN NARAYAN DUTTA v JAGDEO (1911) I L R 33 All 690

2. Dismissal of suit—Dismissal of suit. Procedure. At an adjourned hearing of a suit in the Court of a Magistrate the plaintiff's witnesses were not present and their pleader intimated to the Court that he had no more witnesses to call on with the case. This suit was thereupon dismissed under O XVII, r 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908, on the ground that the cause was not proved. The plaintiff then made an application for restoration under O IX, r 4. The Magistrate dismissed the application and his order was affirmed by the District Judge. Held on application in revision by the plaintiff that no revision lay. The suit having been dismissed under O XVII, r 3, of the Code on the merits the plaintiff's remedy was by way of appeal against the Magistrate's decree. Lalla Prasad v Nand Kishore I L R 42 All 66 followed. CAURA BIRI v CHARITA (1911)

I L R 34 All 123

3. Procedure—Suit partially heard but dismissed as for default because plaintiff was not in a position to continue it—Appellate powers of High Court. A plaintiff whose case had been partially heard failed to continue the prosecution of it, not because he wished to do so, but because owing to various difficulties connected with the absence of his pleader and of some of his witnesses, he thought that he was unable to proceed further with it. Thereupon the Court passed an order dismissing the suit for default. Held, that the Court should not have dismissed the suit "for default," but should have decided it as best

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

—contd

O XVII, r 3 (1882 Code s 158)—

I could on the merits and on the materials then before it. Edison v Valsu Sankar I L R 23 All 193 referred to. The circumstances of the case constituted a casus omissus so far as the Code of Civil Procedure was concerned but the High Court had inherent power to entertain an appeal against the decision of the Court below though none was specially provided for. SHREER KOTER v RAO LOTAN KOTER (1919)

I L R 41 All 663

O XVII, r 3 O IX, r 3—Life. A suit had been framed the 4th May was fixed for hearing. Subsequently plaintiff applied to add certain minor defendants. On 6th June was fixed for appointment of guardian of property. Plaintiff having failed to do so, process for removal of guardian was dismissed. Held that the Court should have dealt with the suit under O XVII, r 3 and therefore there was no res judicata. In a suit on a mortgage against the executors and members of joint family who had purchased the equity of redemption in a property the defendant was not bound to join under 4 points of law not agreed in the Lower Court can be raised in 2nd appeal if it does not require an admission of the evidence and is based on the findings of the Lower Court. SHANKAR ADITYA RAHULAY v SHRI LAL SAKHA

5 Pat. L J 600

O XVII, r 3 Sch II, Cls 13 and 22—Power to refer suit to arbitration. A suit was referred to arbitration by the Court. The plaintiff and defendant who were partners dissolved the partnership by an agreement on the terms of which was that certain matters of account should be referred to the decision of two named persons. Thereafter in pursuance of this agreement the plaintiff filed a suit which was subsequently stayed under para 18 of the second schedule of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 to enable the parties to refer their dispute to the arbitration of the two named persons.

One of the persons, however, having been found unwilling to act and the arbitration appearing unworkable, the plaintiff even applied for removal of stay. The Court however without removing the stay proceeded to decide the suit upon the materials before it purporting to be under O XVII, r 3 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 and held that the suit was barred by the agreement to refer. The plaintiff having appealed to the High Court Held that the suit was not barred by the agreement to refer to arbitration. Reason of the provisions of para 22 of the second schedule of the Civil Procedure Code and that the Court should have removed the stay and decided the suit on its merits. LAXMAN v MANJUNATH (1911) I L R 45 Bom. 1181

O XVIII, r 2 (1882 Code ss 179 and 180)—

See HIGH COURT FEES.

I L R 42 All 542

O XVIII, r 5 (1882 Code s 182)—

See DEPOSITION I L R 46 Cal. 890

See PENAL CODE, 1860 s 193.

I L R 1 Lah. 361

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd—

O XVIII, rr 5 6—

See DEPOSITION I L R 45 Calc 825

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) ss 239 43 46 439

I L R 42 Mad 561

O XVIII r 18—

See CO OWNERS I L R 39 Mad 501

O XIX, r 3 (1882 Code s 916)—

See AFFIDAVIT I L R 37 Calc 259
14 C W N 153

O XX rr 1 2, 3 (1882 Code s 198)—

See JUDGMENT I L R 48 Calc 97

Judgment written sized and dated by trial Judge pronounced in his absence by Judge in charge—Act which r a nullity or irregularity—Haver of irregularity—Prejudice proof of if necessary—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 97—Object of provisions relating to delivery of judgment The provisions of the law relating to the delivery of judgments have been framed for the benefit of the parties litigant and their contravention is an irregularity curable by consent or waiver The first Subordinate Judge having heard a case reserved judgment on 6th May 1915 On 23rd May 1915 he wrote signed and dated his judgment and on 31st May 1915 during his absence from headquarters the second Subordinate Judge who was in charge of the first Court delivered that judgment Held—That the judgment was not pronounced dated and signed in conformity with the requirements of the Code But the error did not constitute an illegality which nullified the proceedings. It was an irregularity which could be waived and was waived no objection having been taken at the time the judgment was pronounced. If an act of the Court was without jurisdiction or infringed a rule prescribed on grounds of public policy the proceeding became a nullity if it was on the other hand only an irregular exercise of jurisdiction a contravention of rules framed by the legislature with a view to afford protection to the individual litigant he might waive the benefit thereof and would not be entitled to obtain a reversal of the decree except on proof that the merits had been affected The purpose of the rule which has been infringed has to be examined in order to determine whether the infringement is an irregularity only or an illegality nullifying the proceeding FORT GLOSTER JETE MANUFACTURING Co v CHANDRA KUMAR DAS

24 C W N 791

O XX r 2 (1882 Code s 199)—

Judgment—Judgment written by the Judge who heard the case after he had ceased to be a Judge of the court in which the case was tried and pronounced by his successor in office A judge may pronounce a judgment written but not pronounced by the predecessor in office and this notwithstanding that at the time the judgment was written the judge who wrote it had ceased to be the Judge of the court in which the case was tried. Basant Bihari Ghoshal v The Secretary of State for India in Council I I P 35 All 365 and Satyendra Nath Roy Chaudhuri v Kastura Kumari Chatterjee I L R 35 Calc 756 followed. LILAWATI KUMAR v CHORE SINGH I L R 42 All 362

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd—

O XX r 2 (1882 Code s 199)—

—contd—

Judgment written but not delivered before transfer of Judge—Successor in office competent to pronounce his own judgment Where a judge fixed a date for delivering judgment wrote it out and placed it upon the record but was transferred before the date fixed and his successor took a different view and delivered his own judgment Held that his successor in office was not obliged to deliver the judgment but was competent to pronounce a judgment of his own in the case In the goods of Prem Chand Moonshi 11 Ch D 260 followed. R Baker Nicholas v Baker I L R 21 Calc 30 referred to LACHMAN PRASAD v RAM KISHAN (1910)

I L R 33 All 236

Judgment—Judgment written by the judge who heard the case after his transfer from the division and pronounced by his successor in office A judge may pronounce a judgment written but not pronounced by his predecessor in office and this notwithstanding that at the time the judgment was written the Judge who wrote it had ceased to be the Judge of the Court in which the case was tried. Satyendra Nath Roy Chaudhuri v Kastura Kumari Chatterjee I L R 35 Calc 756 followed. BASANT BIHARI GHOSHAL v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1913)

I L R 35 All 365

O XX r 3 (1882 Code s 202)—

See JUDGMENT 5 Pat L J 147

O XX r 7—(1882 Code s 205)

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

5 Pat L J 490

See LIMITATION I L P 37 All 527

O XX r 11 (1882 Code s 210)—

Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XX r 11 and O XX r 6—Personal decree against mortgagor—Court's discretion to direct payment by instalment—Judicial discretion—Seco 1 appeal in making a decree under O 31 r 6 of the Civil Procedure Code against a mortgagor personally the Court may direct the payment of the decretal amount in instalments under O 0 r 11 of the Code Whether or not the Court exercised a sound judicial discretion in making the order cannot be reviewed in second appeal Baljodi Lal v Bhakati v Chhedi Lal 11 C L J 311 disapproved. BIDHU SEKHAR BANDOPADHYAY v SIBDEUTY MAHA TABSUDIN (1911)

15 C W N 1633

O XX r 12 (1882 Code s 211)

212—

See PARTITION I L R 42 Mad 296

See RES JUDICATA

I L R 41 Mad 189

The Court that passes a decree for possession can award mesne profits notwithstanding the amount thereof and s 19 of the Bengal Agra and Assam Civil Courts Act does not limit the power conferred by this order on a Munif DEKAYATH SAHAI v MEENAMAT MATAWATI KUIE

6 Pat L J 55

Notice directed sent by judgment debtor to decree holder held sufficient in cases and no mesne

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XX, r 12 (1882 Code ss 211 212)—contdprofits decreed. SHAMBU NATH JHETTY AND OTHERS : SATISH CHANDRA MITTA

25 C W N 336

O XY, r 12 (2) XYI, r 102 and XXII, r 10 and s 2 (11)—

See MESNE PROFITS

I L R 39 Calc 229

O XX, r 14 (1882 Code s 214)—
S s s 148 1 Pat L J 92

See PRESUMPTION I L F 44 Calc 675

O XX, r 16 (1882 Code s 215A)—

O XX, r 16—

See PARTITION I L F 41 All 207

I L P 42 Mad 296

Partition—Appeal—
Preliminary decree—Subsequent interlocutory order giving directions for preparation of final decree
In a suit for partition a preliminary decree was passed and confirmed on appeal. When the case went back to the Court of first instance for the passing of a final decree that Court passed an order directing that actual partition should be made in accordance with certain directions then given by it. Held that no appeal would lie against such an order but its propriety could be questioned in appeal from the final decree. The Code of Civil Procedure contemplated the preparation of only one preliminary decree and the order in question could not be regarded as more than an interlocutory order containing directions as to the preparation of the final decree. BHABAT
INDU : YAKUB HASAN (1913)

I L R 35 All 159

Agar Tenancy Act (II of 1901) s 32—Joint Hindu family—Partition—Occupancy holding—Existence of occupancy holding no bar to partition. Held that the presence of an occupancy holding as an item of joint family property is no reason for not effecting a partition of the property as a whole. The Court can either give the occupancy holding to one party taking from that party an equivalent in value or if it be found impossible to do this the Court can leave the occupancy holding undivided merely making a declaration that the parties are entitled jointly to the holding. DWARAKA : RAM PAK (1914)

I L R 36 All 461

O XX, r 19—(1882 Code s 216)
S s O III s 6

I L R 42 Mad 373

O XYI, r 1 (1882 Code s 257)—
S s O III r 2 A D 90

4 Pat L J 336

See EXECUTION

Decree—Payment of money ordered in a decree—Payment ordered on a fixed date—Delay in making payment into Court owing to closing of Court—A payment on the opening day—Rate of interest Act (V of 1897) s 10—Part 1 A decree provided as follows. The plaintiff shall pay by the 10th day of April 1900 the defendant Rs 100. If the moneys

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXI, r 1 (1882 Code s 257)—
contd

are not paid by the plaintiff as agreed upon the property in dispute will remain with the defendants by right of ownership and the plaintiff will have no right of ownership over the same.
The plaintiff chose to pay the money into Court and handing it closed on the 10th, she paid the money on the 14th April 1900 the day on which the Court re-opened. A question having arisen whether the payment so made was within the terms of the decree—Held that the payment was properly made for O XYI, r 1 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 intended to enact and did enact that payment into Court was a valid compliance with the decree even though the decree directed payment to the decree holder. WIVA-KARD PAVJI : NATU WALAD MURHA (1910)

I L R 35 Bom 35

Payment of decree amount into Court—Notice to decree holder—Cessation of interest when & from date of deposit or date of service of notice Interest does not cease to run in respect of a decree debt deposited in Court until the decree holder gets notice of the deposit.
RAHARAYA SHANBHOGE : SHEPOT VENKATARA
JANALIA (1913)

I L R 42 Mad 576

O XXI, r 2 (1882 Code s 258)—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 231

I L R 26 Mad 357

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 47

6 Pat L J 337

See DEKKAN AGRICULTURAL REVENUE ACT

1879 s 71 I L R 45 Bom 1129

See EXECUTION

I L R 42 Mad 338

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 43 Calc 207

See EXECUTION PETITION

I L R 41 Mad 251

See EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS

I L R 40 Mad 233

See LIMITATION I L R 45 Calc 620

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 s 17

I L P 43 Mad 688

Civil Procedure
Code (Act XI of 1882) ss 211 253—Decree—Execution—Satisfaction of the decree—Payment or delivery not certified to the Court—Subsequent fraudulent execution A decree was compromised by the parties out of Court. The payment however was not certified to the Court. The decree holder having fraudulently applied for the execution of the decree. Held that the Court should not in the exercise of its duty under s 244 of the Civil Procedure Code 1882 allow a clear case of fraud to be covered and condoned by the provisions of s 248 of the Civil Procedure
Code 1882 or O XYI, r 2 Civil Procedure Code
1908. TRIBHAI RAMKRISHNA : HARI LAXMAN
I L P 41 Bom 576 followed. HANSA GODHARI
: BHAWA JODANI (1913) I L R 40 Bom 333

Execution of decree
Decree payable by instalments—Payment of instalments not certified—Limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch. I Art 18—(7) The effect

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

—contd— O XXI r 2 (1882 Code s 258)—

of O XXI r 2 is that a payment made on account of a decree and not certified to the Court executing the decree cannot be recognized by that Court for any purpose. Where therefore payments had been made towards liquidation of an instalment decree but such payments were not certified to the Court executing the decree it was held that limitation ran against the decree holder from the date upon which the first instalment was due. Certified and recorded within the meaning of O XXI r 2 signify that the executing Court being satisfied by either the decree holder or judgment debtors that a certain payment has been made in respect of decree has recorded the fact on the execution file. Govul Chend v Bhika 12 All L J 58 and Bhajan Lal v Cheda Lal 12 All L J 82, referred to Lalla Narain Ganguli v Felamani Das 20 C L J 131 dissented from CHATTAR SINGH v AMR SINGH (1916) 1 L P 33 All 204

3 — Limitation Act (1 of 1925) s 19 20—Payment extending limitation—Certification of payment by decree holders—Statute of payment in application for execution of decree if sufficient A decree holder in his application for execution of his decree notified to the Court that he had received a certain sum from the judgment debtor and relied on this payment as saving limitation. It was found that the payment had in fact been made by the judgment debtor himself by way of interest. Held that the decree holder may either apply to certify payment before execution or may do so in his application for execution of the decree. That there was sufficient certification by the decree holder and under the circumstances it was not necessary for the Court to record the certification and O XXI r 2 did not stand in the way of the decree holder. That in the face of the finding the fact of the endorsement and the question as to who made it and the authority by which it was made was immaterial. KHATIBAYNESSA BINI v SANCHITA LAL NARAYA (1915) 20 C W N 27

20 C W N 27

4 — Payment not certified if may be taken to extend limitation Under O XXI r 2 of the Civil Procedure Code an adjustment or payment of a decree which is not duly certified cannot be recognized by the Court for any purpose whatever if for extending the time of limitation. KUTBULLAH SAJJAR v DURGHA CHARAN RUDRA (191) 16 C W N 396

5 — Assignment of decree for benefit of judgment-debtor—Execution by assignee—Civil Procedure Code (Act XI of 1882) s 253 4 held a decree assigned to C was arranged between C and B that C should advance the decree amount to C as a loan and that an assignment of the decree should be obtained in the name of C for the benefit of C. The decree was accordingly assigned to B who applied for execution. C set up the above arrangement as a bar to execution. B contended that such arrangement amounted to an adjustment of the decree and not being certified to the Court it could not be given effect to under O XXI r 2 of the Civil Procedure Code. Held (their Lordships differing) per ABDUR RAHIM J. That the arrangement amounted to an adjustment of the decree and not being certified could not be pleaded as a bar to execution. The prohibition contained in O XXI r 2 is not confined to cases where the parties to the transaction adjusting the decree stood at the date of such transaction in the relation of judgment creditor and judgment debtor. Per SUNDARA AYYAR J. That O XXI r 2 does not make uncertified adjustments invalid but merely forbids effects being given to such adjustment when they are set up as a defence to the execution of a decree by one entitled to do so. The section will not disentitle the judgment debtor to prove facts which will show that the applicant is not the real transferee even if the facts he relies on show that the decree has been adjusted. The prohibition regarding uncertified adjustments will not apply where the adjustment is made with a third party. POYUSAMI NADAR v LETCHMANAY CHETTIAR (1912) 1 L R 35 Mad 659

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

—contd— O XXI r 2 (1882 Code s 258)—

1 L R 35 Mad 659

6 — Fraudulent decree obtained jointly by two brothers—Admission in partition suit between brothers by one that decree fraudulent and that debtor released upon payment of portion—Entire of satisfaction by the other of his share only of decree as discharged by payment—Application to execute for the balance—Executing Court if may act on the admission S1 and S2 two brothers obtained a decree against B. Subsequently in a partition suit instituted by S1 against S2 having complained that S1 had not entered in the assets of the family property the decree against B S1 filed a written statement in which he admitted that the decree had been obtained by fraud on account of enmity between the brothers and B and that B had been relieved of his liability and that upon payment of Rs 200 only out of the decretal amount. The payment however was certified in execution as made in part satisfaction only of the decree. Subsequently S1 died and S2 filed a certificate in execution admitting receipt of another Rs 200 from B and the full satisfaction of his half share of the decree and then applied on behalf of the minor sons of S1 for execution of the alleged unsatisfied balance of the decree. Held that the case really did not fall under the provisions of r 2 O XXI Civil Procedure Code as it was not a question of payment or adjustment of the decree and the executing Court was justified in relying on an admission solemnly made by the decree holder himself prior to the application for execution in a suit in which the genuineness of the decree was in issue and in dismissing the execution petition on its basis. BABAR ALI BOZAR v SHISHU KUMAR BASU (191) 16 C W N 951

7 — Adjustment of decree not certified through alleged fraud of decree holder—Remedy of judgment-debtor—Execution Court if may recognize adjustment. It is not open to the Court of execution to enquire into the fact of a payment or adjustment of a decree which has not been certified or recorded as provided in cl. (f) of r 2, of O XXI Civil Procedure Code when the conduct of the decree holder is alleged to have been fraudulent. Gajilkar Pandit v Shyam Charnani 17 C W N 45, Esamayyir

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXI r 2 (1882 Code s 58)—

contd

barred by limitation. The decree holder is not bound by the same rule of limitation as a judgment debtor. 26 C W N 528

11 ———— Payment or adjustment of decree—Certifying by Court—Limitation. There is no period of limitation for the certifying or recording of a payment or adjustment of a decree by the Court under O XXI r 2 cl 3 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908. An application for execution certifying the payments already made amounts to a certifying under O XXI r 2 which the Court is bound to take notice of and if the payment is disputed the Court should take evidence and come to a conclusion whether the payment has actually been made or not. Eusuff man Sarkar v Saneha Jal Nahala (1915) 43 Cal 67 followed. I A D U PA G : JAGYA (1900) I L R 45 Bom 91

12 ———— Transfer of decree holder—Application to execute the decree—Transfer benami for one of the judgment debtors—Objection by another judgment debtor—Competency of executing Court to inquire into title of transferee. O XXI r 2 (3) Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) does not disentitle a judgment debtor from proving facts which will show that a transferee of a decree applying for execution is merely a hennamdar of another judgment debtor even if the facts on which he relies show that there has been a payment which has not been certified and when the transferee is found to be such a hennamdar the Court is bound by O XXI r 16 to refuse execution in his favour. Pr Chinnam. We think that the Section merely forbids effect being given to an uncertified payment when it is set up as a defence to an application for the execution of a decree and when made by a person who is the legal owner of the decree rights. The alleged transferee has first to prove his right under the transfer set up by him and if it is only after he has done so that the question of adjustment of the decree arise. RAMAYIA : KRISHNA MURTI (1916) I L R 40 Mad 296

13 ———— *When no payment or adjustment of a decree has been certified under O XXI r 2 to the Court which passed the decree and when the verified application for execution does not state under O XXI r 11(c) that the payments have been made by the judgment debtor but under O XXI r 11(g) the decree holder applies for execution of the entire amount awarded by the decree the executing Court has to a sume that there has been no adjustment of the decree either in whole or in part and cannot after the lapse of the period fixed by Art 14 of the Limitation Act permit the judgment debtor to plead any adjustment under O XXI r 2(c). When the rights have recorded a payment made in adjustment of a decree is barred by limitation the judgment debtor is not entitled to agitate the matter under s 47. *PADMA KANT LAL : MURRAY PABATI KUTER 6 Pat L J 337

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXI r 2 (1882 Code s 258)—

contd.

14 ———— Uncertified adjustment of decree effect of. Omission on the part of the decree holder to cause an adjustment of the decree to be certified under O XXI r 2 (1) of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 does not amount to fraud or as to give the judgment debtor a right to relief by suit or otherwise. The provisions of r 2 (3) of that order are imperative that a court executing a decree is absolutely prohibited from entertaining directly or indirectly an uncertified adjustment of a decree. IMAM UDDIN KHAN : BINDURASINI PRASAD 5 Pat L J 70

O XXI rr 2 and 95—Upon application by the decree holder for delivery of possession the judgment debtor set up an agreement for setting aside the sale by which he alleged it had been stipulated that the judgment debtor would allow the sale to be confirmed but that the decree holder should not take possession for two years within which period if the judgment debtor made certain payments the decree holder was to reconvey the property to the judgment debtor and he prayed that the agreement should be certified under O XXI r 2 of the Civil Procedure Code and the Court rejected the judgment debtor's application on the ground that the agreement did not come within the scope of O XXI r 2. Hid that the order was appealable as coming within s 47 of the Civil Procedure Code. Muthu v Appa mi I L P 13 Mad 364 Mahdhusund Das v Gorinda Pira Choudhury I L P 7 Cal 31 Saratoolia Molla v Paj Kuria Paj I L P 7 Cal 702 Pan Varada Sahoo v Jandi Pershad I L P 31 Cal 737 Bhagwati v Panwar Lal I L P 31 All 87 relied on Bhupal Das v Ganesh Kuer I C B N 633 Motomed Masrif v Habiba Mia G C L J 719 explained. That the executing Court should entertain and enquire into the judgment debtor's objection and not relegate the parties to a fresh suit as the matter could be dealt with under s 47. Per Cox J—Quere. Whether the agreement alleged was an adjustment within the meaning of O XXI r 2. HARI CHAPAN DUTTA : SON MOHAN NANDI (1913) 18 C W N 27

O XXI r 2 and O XXXIV rr 4 and 5—Mortgage suit—compromise agreement to pay by instalment validity of—payment out of court whether court may give effect to in absence of certification. The provisions of O XXXIV of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 relating to the preparation of a mortgage decree are not exhaustive. The parties to the mortgage suit may arrange among themselves as to the terms and form of the mortgage decree and they will be bound by the terms agreed upon unless they are opposed to public policy. A mortgage decree is not excluded from the operation of O XXI r 2. The holder of a mortgage decree or the judgment debtor if he is within time under O XXI r 2 (2) is entitled to certify payments made out of court. The court to which an application is made for a decree absolute is not a court executing the decree and therefore, O XXI

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

— O XXI r 2 and O XXIV, rr 4 and 5—contd

r 2 (3) does not prevent the court from recognizing a payment or adjustment made out of court although such payment or adjustment has not been certified. MANGAR SAHU v BHATTOO SINGH 5 Pat L J 672

Preliminary decree—Decree ordering payment by instalments and in default of payment of any one instalment ordering execution for whole amount—Default made—Payment out of Court—Application for decree absolute—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 181 Held that O XXI r 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure has no application to a decree for sale on a mortgage by which the mortgage money happens to be made payable by instalments RAMJI LAL v JAPAN SINGH (1917)

I L R 39 All 532

— O XXI r 5 (1882 Codes 223(6))—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 ss 263 264 318 319

I L R 36 Bom 373

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 35 All 178

I L R 43 All 520

Agreement between one of the judgment debtors and the decree holder to enter up satisfaction of the decree—Agreement prior to decree—Application to enter up satisfaction if maintainable—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) s 244 An application was made to the executing Court by one of the judgment debtors to enter up satisfaction of the decree as against him, on the ground that there was an agreement to that effect entered into between himself and the decree holder prior to the passing of the decree. The latter objected that such an application was not sustainable. Held that the application was maintainable under O XXI r 5 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) Rukmani Ammal v Krishnamachary 9 Mad L T 461 referred to Laldas v Krishondas I L R 22 Bom 463 followed Hassan Ali v Ganzi Alim I L R 31 Cal 179 dissenting from SUBRAMANIA PILLAI v KUMARA VELU AMBALAM (1915) I L R 39 Mad 541

— O XXI r 6 (1882 Code s 224)—
See s 42 I L R 43 All 394

— O XXI rr 6 and 22—Application for transfer of decree and for issue of notice upon judgment debtor—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Art 182(6) latter application to the Court which passed the decree whether an application in accordance with law or a step in aid of execution An application for transfer of a decree was made on the 4th November 1910 in which there was also a prayer for issuing notice on the judgment debtor. The notice having been twice returned unserved the decree holder applied on the 4th January 1911 for issue of another notice which was served and the decree was duly transferred. On the 7th January 1914 an application for execution was made to the Court to which the decree was transferred. Held—That the application for execution, dated the 7th January 1914 having been made more than three years after the application (for transfer of the decree dated the 4th

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

— O XXI rr 6 and 22—contd

November 1910 was barred by limitation. A Court which transfers a decree has no power to issue a notice under O 21 r 22 therefore the application made on 24th January 1911 was not an application in accordance with the Law within Art 182 HAZARILAL v BAIDYA NATH SAHA 26 C W N 292

— O XXI r 7—(1882 Code s 225)—
See FOREIGN DECREE

I L R 40 Bom 551

(Corresponding to Act XIV of 1882 s 225)—Court of Wards Act (Bom Act I of 1905) ss 31 and 32—Executing Court power of—Jurisdiction of the Court which passed the decree under execution—S 32 of the Court of Wards Act (Bom Act I of 1905) not retrospective Under O XXI r 7 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) the executing Court has no power to question the jurisdiction of the Court which passed the decree under execution. S 32 of the Court of Wards Act (Bom Act I of 1905) was not intended to apply to pending suits. In terms it refers to suits brought by or against a Government ward. S 32 must be read with s. 31 which provides that before such a suit is brought notice shall be delivered to or left at the office of the Court of Wards. Thus s 32 does not apply to suits pending at the time of the assumption of superintendence of the ward's estate by the Court of Wards HARI GOVIND v NARSINGRAO KON HERRAO (1913) I L R 38 Bom 194

Execution of decree—Decree passed against a deceased person—Objection by alleged representatives of the deceased judgment debtor that the decree is a nullity and incapable of execution against them. It is a good answer to an application for execution against the alleged representatives of a judgment debtor to show that the judgment debtor was dead at the time that the decree was made and that such decree is void and incapable of a execution as against the person so dead. Imdad Ali v Jagan Lal I L R 17 All 478 followed. SRIPAT NARAIN RAY v TIPBENA MISRA (1915)— I L R 40 All 423

— O XXI r 10 (1882 Code s 230)—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 230
— O XXI r 11 (1882 Code ss 235 and 256)—

See ATTACHMENT I L R 38 Cal 448

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 ART 182

I L R 40 Mad 949

— O XXI r 12 (1882 Code s 236)—
See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 37 All 527

— O XXI r 13 (1882 Code s 237)—
See ADMINISTRATION SUIT

I L R 44 Cal 890

See MORTGAGE

I L R 47 Cal 447

— O XXI r 14 (1882 Code s 238)—
See LIMITATION ACT 1877 SCH II ART 179 I L R 37 Bom 317

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXI r 15 (1882 Code 231)—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT IV OF 1882) s 931

I L R 36 Mad 357

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

4 Pat L J 575

O XXI r 16 (1882 Code s 232)—

See EXECUTION

I L P 44 Mad 919

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

5 Pat L J 639

See MAINTENANCE

I L R 38 Cal 13

1 ————— Decree—Assignment—Application for execution—Attachment before paying judgment-debtor's objections—Notice to assignor and judgment-debtor—Attachment proceeds not merely irregular but illegal The transferee of a decree having preferred a darlast for execution the judgment debtor's property was attached in his shop by seizure before hearing his objections The next day an order was made on the application of the judgment debtor that the property should not be removed until his objections had been heard Subsequently the Court heard the judgment debtor's objections and held that the transferee was entitled to execution of the decree against the judgment debtor the omission to hear the judgment debtor's objections was a mere irregularity and proceedings in attachment could not be set aside Held reversing the order and dismissing the darlast that Legislature having provided that the decree should not be executed until the objections had been heard the proceedings were unlawful and not merely irregular as the objections of the judgment debtor had not been heard Kassam Coolam v Dattabhai Amar (1911)

I L P 33 Bom 58

2 ————— Execution of decree—Decree for money and costs of suit—Transfer of decree as to costs merely Held that a decree for payment of a sum of money and for costs of the suit is one and indivisible and the decree holder cannot transfer the decree so far merely as it may be a decree for costs retaining the right to execute the decree for the main sum awarded Ram Chandra Nath Kalia v Abdul Hakeem (1913)

I L R 35 All 204

3 ————— Execution of decree—Pes judicata On application by a person to have his name substituted as decree holder upon the ground that he was in fact the true owner of the decree an order was passed after notice to the judgment debtor permitting the applicant to execute the decree as its transferee Held on application for execution of the decree that the judgment debtor was not entitled again to raise the question of the validity of the transfer of the decree to the applicant Oman Prasad v Durlab Shankar 12 All I J 96 followed.

Taj Singh v Jagan Lal (1916)

I L R 38 All 289

4 ————— Assignment of decree—execution by assignee—notice not served on assignor effect of Demand Termination Act (VIII of 1935) s 153 B ()—Adjournment whether court

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXI r 16 (1882 Code s 238)—

—contd

bound to grant Where the interest of one of the decree holders in a decree has been transferred by assignment the decree cannot be executed until notice has been served upon the assignor in accordance with O XXI r 16 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 and the fact that a notice purporting to be under s 153 B (2) of the Bengal Tenancy Act 1883 has been shown to the assignor will not dispense with the necessity of complying with the provisions of that rule Where a case has been definitely fixed for hearing and witnesses have been called and expenses has been incurred if it should turn out that owing to some default on the part of one of the parties the court has no power to hear the case the court has a discretion to adjourn or dismiss it but apart from an express provision of law is not bound to grant an adjournment Maharaja Sri Rameshwar Singh v Harihar Jha 5 Pat L J 390

5

A mortgagee purchases in an execution sale with all arrears of rent and executes a rent decree subsequently obtained by the mortgagors He should be treated as an assignee thereof Ananda Mohan Roy v Prokotho Nath Ganguli

25 C W N 863

Execution of decree by assignee—whether non compliance with the provisions of the rule renders the execution proceedings void Held that the provisions of O XXI r 16 of the Code of Civil Procedure are of a mandatory character and that non compliance with them renders all proceedings in execution void Kassam Goolam Hossain v Dayabhai (I L R 36 Bom 58) Sreenath Das v Achutananda 6 Indian Cases 262 Bonomali v Joy Kumar (9 Indian Cases 673) Qul Muhammad v Bandu (56 Indian Cases 461) and Qul arif Lal v Daja Pam (I L R 9 All 46) followed Harnam Singh v Harura Mal (P L R 1903 page 157) distinguished Notari Das v Lachman Singh I L R 2 Lah 230

O XXI r 16 and 17 and O XXII r 10—In the case of a joint decree where there is an assignment of interest by one decree holder an application for a fresh application for execution The Limitation Act 1908 s 2 does not apply to proceeding in execution of a decree. McSahmat Gulas Khep v Saied Mohamed Zaffer Ha San Khan 6 Pat L J 359

O XXI, r 17 (1882 Code s 245)—

See LIMITATION I L R 316 Cal 168

O XXI, r 18 (1882 Code s 246)—

Cross decrees—Set-off—Decree for sale on mortgage against purchaser of portion of the mortgaged property—Personal decree for money—Part is not filled by the same character A person against whom a decree forecloses his right to redeem a property from sale is passed in his character as a puisne mortgagee or an attaching creditor is a judgment-debtor to that decree in a character distinct from the one in which he holds a decree made in his favour personally and which is enforceable against his judgment-debtor by the arrest of his person and the attachment of his property In the one case he has obtained his decree for costs in his individual and personal capacity In the

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

—contd O XXI r 18 (1882 Code s 246)—

other he is not ordered to pay any sum of money in his individual and personal capacity but is only given an option to do so if he likes to save from sale some property in which he is interested. In such circumstances therefore r 18 of O XXI of the Code of Civil Procedure will not be applicable. Nagar Mal v Ram Chand I L R 31 All 240 distinguished. SHEO SHANKAR v CHUNNI LAL (1916) I L R 38 All 669

O XXI r 18 19 20—Execution of decree—Cross decree—Set off—Money decree—Decree for enforcement of charge. Hell that under the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 a Court is competent to set off a simple decree for recovery of money against a decree for recovery of money by enforcement of a charge. NAGAR MAL v RAM CHAND (1913) I L R 33 All 240

O XXI r 19 (1882 Code 247)—Execution of decree Cross claims under the same decree—Set off allowed even if one of the claims could not be recovered owing to want of limitation. The applicant applied to execute a decree for recovering the amount Rs 4480 which he was entitled to recover from the opponents as money on profit. Under the same decree the opponents were entitled to claim the sum of Rs 855 as costs from the applicant but they were prevented from recovering it as it was barred by limitation. They however claimed to set off the amount against the amount sought to be recovered by the applicant. The Subordinate Judge having allowed the set off the applicant appealed. Held dismissing the appeal that the applicant could not be allowed to execute his decree for the smaller sum without reference to the larger sum which the decree awarded to the opponents. MADAPPA GANAPPA v JAKI GHOSAL (1915) I L R 40 Bom 60

Execution of decree under which two parties are entitled to recover money from each other. Under O XXI r 19 C P C the execution of a decree under which two parties are entitled to recover sums of money from each other is to be taken out by the party entitled to the larger sum and for so much as remains after deducting the smaller amount for which satisfaction is to be entered upon the decree. ANVARA MOHAMMAD POY v ATUL CHANDRA CHAKRABARTY 21 C W N 465

O XXI r 21 (1882 Code s 230 (2))—

See STEP IN AID OF EXECUTION

4 Pat L J 521

O XXI r 22 (1882 Code s 248)—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 ART 183

I L R 40 Mad 1127

Execution proceeding without notice a nullity and without jurisdiction—Sale sold. An order for execution made without notice under s 248 of the old Civil Procedure Code (O XXI r 22 of the new Code) is without jurisdiction and is a nullity and therefore the sale at such an execution cannot stand. Syrm Mandal v Satnath Banerji 21 C W N 46 (1916)
Maharaj J. Mohd. Singh v Indur Chand Polhwa C W N 390 (1914) Raghunath Das v Sundar D. K. K. I L R 4 Cal 72 s c 18 C W N

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

—contd O XXI r 22 (1882 Code s 248)—

1958 (P. C.) (1914) and Malka j. n. v. Narahari L R 27 I A 216 s c I L R 25 Bom. 337
5 C W N 10 (1900) referred to. A mere issue of the notice is not sufficient compliance with the section it must be served nor is the issue of such a notice only at a previous execution not followed by actual service sufficient for the purpose of the proviso to the section. GURUDAS BISWAS v BHOWANIPORE ZEMINDARY CO LD 25 C W N 972

O XXI r 24 (1882 Code ss 250 and 251)—

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
 s 196 I L R 37 Cal 122
 1 Pat L J 550

See WARRANT OF ATTACHMENT

3 Pat L J 836

O XXI r 25 (1882 Code s 343)—

See ATTACHMENT I L R 40 Cal 849

O XXI r 29 (1882 Code s 243)—

See CHOTA NAOPUR TENANCY ACT ss
 112 and 215 2 Pat L J 153

Indian Arbitration Act (IX of 1899) ss 11 and 15—Award. An award filed in Court under s 11 of the Indian Arbitration Act (IX of 1899) is nothing more than an award although it is enforceable as if it were a decree. Execution of such an award cannot be stayed under O XXI r 29 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). TRIMWANDAS HALLIAN DAS GANJAR v JIVANCHAND LALLUBHAI & Co (1910) I L R 35 Bom 196

O XXI r 31 (1882 Code s 259)—

See SPECIFIC MOVABLE PROPERTY

I L R 39 Mad 1

O XXI r 32 (1882 Code s 260)—

See PENAL CODE ss 186 and 230

3 Pat L J 106

Execution of decree—Decree declaring rights of certain parties and for bidding interference therewith by other parties to suit—Mode of enforcing such decree. A decree was passed declaring the rights of certain parties to the suit to conduct certain religious ceremonies and enjoining on certain other parties to the suit to refrain from interfering with the celebration of the said ceremonies by the parties in whose favour the decree was passed. Held that it was not competent to the Court passing such decree to secure obedience thereto by directing the Superintendent of Police to see that the ceremonies were carried out and to prevent interference there with nor was it competent to the Court to appoint a commissioner to see that the terms of the decree were given effect to. GOSWAMI GOBINDHAK LALJI v GOSWAMI MAKSUDAN BALLABH (1918) I L R 40 All 648

Breach of prohibitory injunction—Fem d. j. suit or application in execution. The remedy for a breach of a permanent injunction is by application for execution and not by suit. Per RICHARDSON J (Breach of J. not expressing any opinion)—O XXI

25

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXI rr 46 52—contd

on the first day of the month following between the hours of 1 A M and 6 A M, the deed further providing that the vendor would not by mortgage or otherwise sell or charge or alienate the allowance payable to him that on no account and in no circumstances was it to become payable to any person other than the vendor or his duly constituted attorney. The allowance was further declared to be a first charge upon a specified share of the estate so far as the subsisting mortgages executed by the vendor would allow. Held that the allowance payable as annuity could not be regarded as a debt or even as a portion of the consideration for the conveyance payment of which was deferred and no instalment of such allowance could be attached under r 46 of O XXI of the Civil Procedure Code until it should have actually fallen due. A sum payable upon a contingency is not a debt and does not become one until the contingency has happened. Whether a claim is a debt or not is in no respect determined by a reference to the time of payment. Held further that the allowance could not also be attached under r 52 of O XXI of the Code as that rule does not allow of an anticipatory attachment of money expected to reach the hand of a public officer and is restricted only to money actually in his hand. Quere. Whether notwithstanding the restrictions upon alienation embodied in the conveyance the right to receive the annuity is attachable in execution. PADMANAND SINGH v RAMAPRASAD MALVI (1911) 16 C W N 14

O XXI rr 46 54—Sale in execution of a hypothecation debt—Mov able property For the purposes of execution a debt due to judgment debtor under a hypothecation bond is moveable property within the meaning of O XXI r 46 Civil Procedure Code and the procedure as to moveable property is applicable the language of r 46 which treats as moveable property a debt not secured by a negotiable instrument is undoubtedly wide enough to cover a debt secured by a hypothecation bond or a simple mortgage. O XXI r 54 is not applicable to such cases though the General Clauses Act and Transfer of Property Act speak of such debt as an interest in immovable property. The security must follow the debt and if the debt is once attached the benefit of the security would accrue to the attaching creditor if his remedy against the property still exists. Taravadi Bholanath v Bas Kashi I L R 26 Bom 305. Debedra Kumar Mandal v Pup Lal Dass I L R 12 Cal 46. Kashinath Das v Satisno Patnank I L R 20 Cal 505. Karam un Nissa v Phul Chand I L R 15 All 134. Bas Nath Lohia v Binojendra Nath Palit 6 C W N 5. Balde Dhannrup v Pamhanra Balwant I L R 19 Bom 121 and Munayappa Naik v Subrahmanya Ayyar I L R 28 Mad 137 followed. Samis v Krisanavami I L R 10 Mad 169 and the view of the majority in Appanna v Scott I L R 9 Mad 5 not followed. NATARAJA AYYAR v SOUTH INDIAN BANK OF TINSVELLY (1914) I L R 37 Mad 51

Attachment of usufructuary mortgage a right under O XXI r 54 and not under r 46 illegal—Sal consequent invalid Attachment of the interest of a usufructuary

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXI rr 46 54—contd

mortgagee in a certain property should be in the manner provided by O XXI r 46 Civil Procedure Code for the attachment of a debt and not in the form provided for the attachment of immovable property. Where therefore there was an attachment of the usufructuary mortgagee's right in the manner prescribed for attachment of immovable properties and the mortgagor who did not receive from Court any order prohibiting him from making payment of the usufructuary mortgage debt discharged the same by payment and obtained from the mortgagee a release of his rights some time prior to the actual sale thereof in Court auction. Held that the sale of the mortgagee's right in Court auction was invalid and that the purchaser acquired nothing by the purchase as against the mortgagor who had redeemed the mortgage by payment. The fact that on the date of the payment the mortgagee could not have got a personal decree against the mortgagor for the payment of the mortgage debt on account of limitation is immaterial as limitation does not put an end to the debt and does not prevent the mortgagor and mortgagee from paying and receiving the mortgage amount. RAMASAMI MOOPHAN v SRINIVASA IYENGAR (1915) I L R 39 Mad 389

O XXI rr 46 58 and 68—

See CONTRACT ACT 1872 s 72

I L R 43 All 272

O XXI r 50—

See FOREIGN JUDGMENT

I L R 38 Mad 415

O XXI r 52 (1882 Code s 272)—

See DECREES I L R 39 Bom 80

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

1 Pat L J 449

I L R 44 Cal 1072

See RATEABLE DISTRIBUTION

I L R 38 Mad 221

See O XXI r 46 16 C W N 14

O XXI, r 52—Scope of—Attachment of money in the custody of Court One S mortgaged to the respondents his beneficial interest in his trade or business of a contractor. Subsequently he executed a similar mortgage in favour of the appellant. The respondents recovered judgment on their mortgage against the representatives of the estate of S and an order was made by the Court directing the registration and attachment of the money due to the estate of S from the Executive Engineer Lower Ganges Bridge and a letter was written by the Court to the Examiner of Accounts Lower Ganges Bridge, stating that the money due to the heirs of S were attached by the Court at the instance of the respondents and requesting the Examiner to hold the moneys under attachment until further order of the Court. Thereafter the appellant obtained a decree against the heirs of S on his mortgage and an order was made by the Court for the registration and attachment of the bills payable to S in the office of the said Executive Engineer and the Court requested this officer to send two specified sums to the Court for payment to the appellant. After the money was sent to the

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXI r 52—contd

Court the respondents filed a petition to the effect that the appellant was trying to take out the money but that it might be kept under attachment by an order of the Court. On this petition the Court ordered that the appellant was not to receive payment of the money unless and until the respondents application was disposed of. At the hearing of the execution cases the respondents contended that the question of title and priority in respect of the money in Court should be decided under O XXI r 5. Held that the order of the Court withholding payment of the money to the appellant virtually amounted to an attachment of the money as it came into the custody of the Court. That O XXI r 52 was clearly applicable to a case like the present and there was no reason to narrow the words of the rule so as to make it applicable only to a case in which the property sought to be attached was in the custody of a Court other than the Court executing the decree. That as regards the question of priorities neither party perfected their charge by giving notice to the persons who were to make the payments to their mortgagee and accordingly apart from any question of notice the respondent's charge which was prior in date must prevail. SURAJMAL AGARWALLA v RAM CHANDRA MAINTRI (1915) 20 C W N 412

O XXI, r 52 s 73—Attachment of property in custody of Court—Patable distribution governed by s 73 and not by O XXI r 5—Duty of attaching Court—Powers of custody Court—Several attachments—Priority of attachment—Where attaching Court and custody Court are same—Assets held by a Court Where the property attached is in the custody of a Court it is the duty of such Court to hold it at the disposal of the attaching Court and it is the duty of the attaching Court if the property attached is money to call upon the custody Court to pay it into the attaching Court and in other cases to provide for the realization of the property and to divide the money or proceeds rateably between the attaching decree holder and the other decree holders who are entitled to distribution under s 73 Civil Procedure Code: those who have applied to it for execution before the receipt of such asset. Where the property in the custody Court is the subject of several attachments in execution of several decrees the custody Court must award priority to the first in point of time. If the other decree holders want to share in the rateably distribution they must apply in time to the first attaching Court. The power conferred on the custody Court by the proviso to O XXI r 5 Civil Procedure Code to determine claims to priority etc does not entitle the custody Court itself to distribute the assets rateably among the attaching decree holders. KULON SATHI v HAJE BISHA SAHIB (1915) I L R 33 Mad 1 or ruled Thakurdas Mohit v Jo p Mohit (1915) I L R 41 Cal 107 not followed. Where the attaching Court and the custody Court are the same there is a recital of assets within the meaning of s 73 Civil Procedure Code only when so much of the money standing to the credit of the judgment debtor as is necessary to satisfy the decree holders who have applied to it for execution is ordered to be transferred to the credit of the first attaching creditor's suit. VISVA NADHAM CHETTY v ARUNACHALAM CHETTY (1921) I L R 44 Mad 100

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXI r 52 s 73—contd

O XXI r 53 (1882 Code s 273)—

Decree—Execution—Decree in favour of judgment debtor attached—Sale of decree—Wrong procedure In execution of a decree for Rs 440 the decree holder attached a mortgage decree in favour of his judgment debtors made under O XXI r 53 Civil Procedure Code 1908. The Court put up the decree for sale and it was purchased by the decree holder for Rs 200. The decree holder having applied for execution of the balance of the decretal debt the judgment debtor contended that under the attached decree the decree holder realized Rs 600 which was much more than what was due on the decree which was sought to be executed and prayed that the Decree be struck off. Held dismissing the Decree (1) that the decree attached ought not to have been put up for sale, (2) that under O XXI r 53 the procedure to be followed when a decree either for the payment of money or for the sale in enforcement of a mortgage or charge is attached the Court should under sub r (2) on the application of the creditor who had attached the decree of the judgment debtor proceed to execute the attached decree and apply the net proceeds in satisfaction of the decree sought to be executed. VITHALDAS v SUBRAYA (19-0) I L R 45 Bom. 343

O XXI, rr 53 and 90 and ss 47

and 60—Immovable property—decree for redemption costs and mesne profits whether decree for costs and mesne profit, after redemption is a money decree. C obtained a decree on a mortgage giving him possession of the mortgage property unless it were redeemed by a certain date and awarding him costs and mesne profits. The mortgage was accordingly redeemed but the costs and mesne profits remained unpaid. L attached C's decree in execution of a decree which he held against the latter. C objected that his decree was one for immovable property within the meaning of s 60 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 and that therefore it was not attachable in execution of L's decree. Held that as the only part of C's decree which was outstanding was the award on account of costs and mesne profits this decree was a decree for money and that L was entitled to attach and execute it under the provisions of O XXI, r 51 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908. LACHMAN OJHA v CHARITAP OJHA 4 Pat L J 338

O XXI, r 54 (1882 Code 274)—

See s 64 I L R 42 Mad 844

See O XXI r 40—I L R 37 Mad. 51

O XXI, rr 54 (2) 68 C and 90—

Not publication of proclamation in the village—A proclamation of a wrong sale as the price of sale—Not held not in the price ordered by Court but in the wrong place—Sale illegal and null and void and no remedy irregular Where a proclamation of sale of lands in execution of a decree as framed by the Court was no published in the village where the lands were situated but the pro-claimers intimates to the village that the sale would be held in a place other than the

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd—

O XXI, rr 54 (2) 66 67 and 91—

contd

different from those fixed by the proclamation a sale held at the place and by the officer fixed by the proclamation is illegal and a nullity and not merely irregular within the meaning of O XXI r 90 Civil Procedure Code Hasharnulla v Uma Churn Dutt (1889) 1 L R 16 Cal 791 applied JAYARAMA AYYAR v VIDYAGIRI ARIAR (1921) 1 L R 44 Mad 35

O XXI, r 55 (1882 Code 276)—

See ATTACHMENT 1 L R 44 Cal 632

O XXI, r 57—

See ATTACHMENT 3 Pat L J 310

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXXVIII

1 L R 42 Mad 1

1 ——— Execution of decree

—Attachment—Application for execution dismissed but subsequently restored on review By a mistake of the Court an application for execution against property which was under attachment was dismissed but the decree holder obtained a review of that order and the executing Court was directed to proceed. There was no order removing the attachment Held on application by the decree holder to sell the attached property that the attachment still subsisted and was valid as against a sale made by the judgment debtor previous to the review ABUL BAKISH v KANIZ FATIMA BIDI (1912) 1 L R 34 All 490

2 ——— Attachment before judgment—Application for execution dismissed—Attachment of causes—Second application for execution—Attachment of must be a led for An order for attachment before judgment obtained at the instance of the decree holder subsists after the decree for the purpose not merely of the original application for execution but for purposes of subsequent applications for execution as well Where in such a case the original application for execution was dismissed Held that the decree holder might apply for sale of the properties without taking out fresh attachment The attachment referred to in the concluding portion of O XXI r 57 is an attachment made under the provisions of O XXI and not an attachment under the provisions of O XXXVIII GANTHI CHANDRA ADAR v BANWARI LAL RAY (1912) 16 C W N 1097

3 ——— Strike off

meaning of it amounts to dismissal of attachment—Limitation Where a decree was passed on the 10th April 1897 and on the 27th February 1903 execution was commenced and it was ordered that the land should be attached and proclamation should be issued the 15th April being fixed for the date of the proclamation and on the 10th April the proclamation not having been made owing to laches on the part of the decree holder an order was passed—proclamation not filed struck off Held that this amounted to a dismissal of the attachment and a fresh application for execution after the 1st April 1909 was out of time MANOHARAN SURESHWAR v HADRAM DAI NI (1911) 17 C W N 204

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd—

O XXI r 57—contd

4

Execution of

decree—Sale in execution—Sale set aside—Order purporting to maintain attachment—Default of decree holder In execution of a decree the whole of a house was sold by auction in tend of a share held or which alone was saleable in execution of the decree Various objections were raised and in the end the Court executing the decree passed the following order—The sale is set aside the application for execution is struck off The attachment will remain Further applications were made for the execution of the decree but they did not relate to the house in question As the result of these execution proceedings the decree was satisfied in part and the papers were sent back to the Court which passed the decree Later on the decree holder applied for the execution of the decree by sale of a part of the house In the interval between this application and the time when the decree was sent back to the Court which passed it the judgment debtor had sold the property to the plaintiffs The plaintiffs objected to the application for execution that they were the owners of the house and it was not saleable—Held that the attachment had come to an end on the decree holders application being struck off and that a good title had passed to the plaintiffs by the sale The word default used in O XXI r 57 of the Code of Civil Procedure is not restricted to default of appearance or matters of that description It means a failure to do what the decree holder was bound to do that is to go on with his application and have the property sold Namuna Bibi v Roshia Miah, 1 L R 38 Cal 432 followed. Ishakath Pathial v Manakkal Parameswaran 35 Indian Cases 210, and Karatur Salanganarayan v Gapsetti Narayana Swami Naidu Garu 38 Indian Cases 300 d sented from DILBAR HUSAIN v SHEO NARAIN (1918) 1 L R 41 All 157

Forcing a dismissed application for execution effect of—Attachment of property terminated by dismissal of application for default—Sale after dismissal of application purchaser is affected by restoration order A property was attached in execution of a decree subsequently the application for execution was dismissed for default after the dismissal the judgment debtor sold the property The proceeding in execution was subsequently restored under O XXI r 60 and sale proclamation reissued On an objection by the purchaser to the sale Held that the attachment having under O XXI r 57 come to an end the revival of the execution proceedings did not operate as a revival of the attachment so as to prejudice the rights of strangers who have in the interval acquired an interest in the property Zainulabidin v Mahomed A Hyar 1 L R 15 I A 12 Janulihari Lal v Gossain Lal Bala 1 L R 37 Cal 107 s c 11 C I J 251 13 C W N 710 Chehalil v Kumbh 1 L R 22 Mal 17, Saurama Kumari v Mellerbari Khan 13 C L J 210 IAIRINGA ROER v MADHATA NAND PAM (1911) 16 C W N 332

O XXI, rr 57 66—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

1 L R 38 Cal 482

15 C W N 428

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

— O XXI r 58 (1882 Code s 278)—
See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III
OF 190) s 20 22 46

I L R 36 All 8

Execution of decree—
Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art II—
Limitation—Objection to attachment dismissed—Subsequent suit for possession—Investigation of objection by Court Art 11 (1) of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 applies only to those orders made under O XXI r 51 which are made after investigation of the claim or objection but it does not follow that merely because the claimant has not adduced evidence or has not appeared there has been no investigation within the meaning of the rule—Rahim Bux
v Abdul Kader I L R 32 Cal 537 Shagan Chand v Shikhi 8 A L J 676 Chand Prasad
v Anand Kishore 90 Indian Cases 369 Jachans Varma v Martindell I L R 19 All 553 and Kun Behari Lal v Kanda Prasad Varma Singh
6 C L J 567 referred to Gorlu v Mohini
Bibi (1916) I L R 40 All 225

Execution of decree—
Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art II—
Limitation—Objection to attachment dismissed—
Subsequent suit for possession—Investigation of objection by Court Where an objection made to the attachment of property within the meaning under r 58 O XXI of the Code of Civil Procedure (1908) is disallowed because the objector did not appear on the date fixed the order disallowing the objection is an order against the objector within the meaning of r 63 GULAB
v MUTSADDI LAL (1910) I L R 41 All 623

— O XXI r 58 —Mortgage decree for sale—Claim to mortgaged property if lies—Claim once allowed but disallowed upon fresh application for execution—Peirson—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 115 A claim is not entertainable under O XXI r 58 of the Civil Procedure Code if property which has been ordered to be sold under a mortgage decree and where such a claim was once allowed but subsequently the decree holder having again applied for execution of the decree by sale of the property, a further claim to the property by the successful claimant was disallowed by the executing Court Held on an application for revision under s 115 of the Civil Procedure
Code that in view of the authority of the case DEERHOLTS v PETERS (2) the High Court could not interfere MAHABIR PRASAD SINGH v JOGENDRA
NATH MANDAL 26 C W N 50

Execution—Writ
Writ—Purchaser from judgment debtor applying for removal of attachment—Order in attachment proceedings declaring the sale-deed in force—Suit to set aside the order—Attachment withdrawn pending suit—Suit by vendor against vendor to recover possession—Order in attachment proceeding not to operate to the prejudice of the vendor—
Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art II The defendant executed a sale-deed in favour of the plaintiff. After the date of the sale the property was attached by a creditor of the defendant. The plaintiff applied for removal of the attachment under O XXI P s Civil Procedure Code 1908. In the attachment proceedings the Court by its order dated

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

— Or XXI r 53—contd

the 14th December 1911, held that the writ deed was inoperative as it was effected to defraud creditors. The plaintiff filed a suit to set aside the order but it was withdrawn because the defendant settled with the judgment creditor and attachment was raised. The plaintiff thereupon filed a suit to recover possession. The defendant contended that the suit not having been brought within a year of the order passed in attachment proceedings was barred by limitation. Held that the suit was not barred as soon as the attachment was withdrawn there was no longer any attachment or any proceedings in execution in which the order against the plaintiff would operate to his prejudice. Gopal Purkottam v Puri Dyal (1894) 18 Bom 241 relied on Krishna Prasad Poy v Pipin Behary
Poy (1903) 31 Cal 298 referred to MANILAL
GIRDHAR v NATILAL MAHASHEKARAN (1900)

I L R 45 Bom 561

— O XXI r 58—60—

See CLAIM

15 C W N 817

— O XXI, rr 58 59 60—Claim petition if may be determined after property attached is sold—Reason The Court acted in excess of its authority and in violation of the express provisions of the Statute in allowing a claim petition preferred under O XXI r 58 after the property attached was sold and the order allowing the claim was liable to be set aside on revision. CHANDRA MUKHERJEE v NODDAR KHANDU (1911)
116 C W N 1029

— O XXI, rr 58 60 and 63 s 64—

Release of attachment and subsequent private transfer of the property effect of—O XXI r 63 regular suit to establish right to attach the property—Veeras sary parties to the suit—Lease who took lease a sub sequent to release from attachment added as a Def n dant after expiry of the period of limitation—Limita tion Act (IX of 1908) Art 11 and s 2, (1) and 2 (2) applicability of—Attachment before a leg ment is given in the rule—Property in the name of a female or other non coparcener a presumption of ownership and burden of proof P and K purchased certain immovable property from one Tulmala Dasi the ostensible owner D who held a decree for money against Tulmala's father in law (P) and uncle in law (K) effected an attachment on the property on the allegation that though it stood in the name of Tulmala the beneficial owners thereof were P and K. Thereupon P and K the purchasers preferred a claim under r O XXI r 58 and the property was released from attachment after which L took lease of the property from P and K. Thereafter D instituted a suit under O XXI r 63 to set aside the order in the claim case. P, K, R, S and Tulmala were all joined as Defendants and L was subsequently added as a Defendant more than a year after the date of the order in the claim case. Held— That the order for release from attachment does not put an end to the attachment so as to leave the claimant free to deal with the property as he likes if a suit is brought by the decree holder to establish his right to attach the property and a decree is passed in his favour the effect of the decree is to set aside the order of release and to maintain uninterrupted the attachment originally

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

old
O XXI rr 58 60 and 63 s 64—

made Therefore in such a case any private transfer of the property by the claimant though made after an order under r 60 releasing the property from attachment would be void under s 64 Civil Procedure Code Sardhar Lal v Ambika Prasad L R 15 I A 123 s c I L R 15 Cal 521 (1888) Phulkumar v Gharashyam I L R 35 Cal 202 s c I 2 C W N 160 (P C) (1907) Mahomed Ware v Putambar 21 W R 435 (1874) and Bonmah v Prosonna I L R 23 Cal 329 (1896) followed Lalu Muly v Kas Bai I I R 10 Bom. 400 (187) (1886) and other cases referred to. In a case of attachment before judgment the revival of execution proceedings does not operate as a revival of the attachment so as to prejudice the rights of strangers who have in the interval acquired a title to the property Patiranga Kuer v Madhutananda 14 C L J 476 (1911) and Mahabharat v Suryya Kanta (1918) Pat 343 3 P L J 310 (1918) referred to Under the provisions of Art 11 and s 22 (1) the suit as against L was barred as she was not added as a party within one year from the date of the order in the claim case S 22 (2) did not save limitation as the assignment by the successful claimant took place after the order for release and as such the assignment was not during the pendency of a suit Though the general presumption is that all property acquired by or in the possession of a member of a joint Hindu family is joint property there can be no such presumption where the disputed property stands in the name of a non co parccener The onus lies on Plaintiff to prove that the ostensible owner is not the real owner Protap Chandra Gore v Sifat Chandra Gangopadhyaya 25 C W N 544

O XXI rr 58 61—Claimant in possession under a collusive sale if in possession as trustee for judgment debtor A judgment debtor with the object of defrauding his creditor executed a collusive sale of his property in favour of a third person who was put in possession and preferred a claim to the property under r 58 of O XXI of the Civil Procedure Code when the same was attached by the creditor in execution of his decree Held that the claim should be rejected on the ground that the property was in possession of the claimant in trust for the judgment debtor within the meaning of r 61 of O XXI of the Civil Procedure Code It was not necessary in order to defeat the claim to show that the trust was one capable of enforcement by law W C McIntosh v Bidhu Bhusan Sen (1912) 16 C W N 959

O XXI, rr 58 63—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1882) ss 268 278 283

I L R 33 Bom 631

See COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882) s 169

I L R 33 All 537

See LIMITATION I L R 45 Cal 785

Order refusing in effect to investigate claim whether an order against claimant within O XXI r 63 Civil Procedure Code and Art 11 of Limitation Act (IX of 1908)

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXI rr 58 63—contd

Held by the Full Bench (1) that an order refusing to investigate a claim to attached property the ground that there was delay in filing it is order passed against the claimant within XXI r 63 Civil Procedure Code and Art 11 the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) and (2) that order on a claim petition merely stating that it was filed late it will be notified to the bidd is in effect an order rejecting the claim to which the provisions of O XXI r 63 will apply Asimha Chetty v Vinayala Nannar 2 L W 21 and Ponnuams Pillai v Samu Ammal 31 M L J 217 followed Thirukuthi Umma v Thakodi Chellakammuthi (Second Appeal No 1986) 1916 overruled VENKATARATNAM v RANG NAYAKAMMA (1918) I L R 41 Mad 91

Property attached execution proceedings—Claim preferred under O XXI r 58 rejected under O XXI r 63 without investigation—Suit brought by claimant more the one year after the order of rejection—Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Art 11—Suit within the Limitation Act In the course of certain execution proceedings the property in dispute was attached T1 present plaintiff preferred a claim to the property under O XXI r 58 C C 1 which was rejected under O XXI r 63 and the plaintiff then brought this suit to establish his title to the property and for consequential reliefs more than a year after the claim was rejected Held that the language of Art 11 of the Indian Limitation Act of 1908 is more comprehensive than the language of the proceeding Act and the article cannot be restricted to those cases in which an investigation had taken place NAJENDRO LAL CHOWDHURY v PARI BRUNDA DAS (1918) 23 C W N 37

O XXI r 58 O XXXVIII, rr 1 to 12—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT III OF 1907 ss 13 (3) 47

I L R 36 All 65

O XXI, r 59 (1882 Code 279)—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 ss 278 283

I L R 34 All 365

O XXI, r 60 (1882 Code s 280)—

Execution of decree—Attachment of property—Claim by a person in possession of maintenance charge on the property—Sale of the property in execution subject to the charge—Suit to recover possession of the property after the death of charge holder—Parties to appeal—Practice and procedure Certain property in which a judgment debtor was interested as a sharer was attached in execution of a decree against him His mother applied to raise the attachment on the ground that she was in possession of the property that she was entitled to retain it during her life time and that it was subject to a charge for her funeral ceremonies The property was sold subject to her charge and purchased by the plaintiff at the Court sale After the mother's death the plaintiff sued to recover the judgment debtor's share in the property by partition when the judgment debtor and a brother of his, defendants Nos 2 and 3 respectively contended that there was no attachment of the property at the time of

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd.

—contd— O XXI r 60 (1882 Code s 280)—

contd

sale and that the sale was therefore invalid. The trial Court decreed the claim on the ground that the sale was valid even though there was no attachment. Defendant No 1 alone appealed and the lower appellate Court held that absence of attachment vitiated the sale and dismissed the suit. The plaintiff having appealed Held that the property was sufficiently attached that all the subsequent proceedings including the sale of the right title and interest of the judgment debtor were in order and that there was no real basis for the objection that the sale was void in consequence of the absence of attachment. Held also that defendant No 2 ought to have appealed from the decree of the trial Court and that in his absence the decree could not be reversed by the lower appellate Court on the appeal of defendant No 1 alone. The Court however ordered defendant No 2 to be joined as party to the appeal. VAIKUNT SHRIDHAR v. MANJUNATH MADHAV (1920) I L R 44 Bom 360

O XXI r 61 (1882 Code 281)—

See R 58

16 C W N 959

O XXI rr 81 62 (1882 Code 281 282)—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE ACT 1880 s 278 283

O XXI, r 62 (1882 Code s 282)

See MORTGAGE I L R 47 Cal 447

O XXI, rr 82 and 83—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882
a 278 I L R 41 Bom 84

O XXI r 63 (1882 Code s 282)—

See O XXI D 58

I L R 41 Mad 985

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH
I Arts 11 13

I L R 39 Mad 1196

I L R 40 Mad 733

I L R 45 Cal 785

See RES JUDICATA

I L R 44 Cal 698

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF
1882) s 53

I L R 42 Mad 143

I L R 43 Mad 730

Order in favour of the claimant—Alienation by the claimant subsequently—Suit by decree holder subsequent to the alienation to set aside the order—Lis pendens doctrine of if applicable—Pendency of proceedings—Suit a form of appeal—Alienee joined as party after one year from the date of order not a necessary party—A bar of limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 27 cl 1 and 2. A purchaser of property from a claimant after an order has been passed in his (claimant's) favour but before a suit under O XXI r 63 was instituted is an alienee pendente lite and is therefore not a necessary party to the suit and if the necessary parties had not been brought within one year the alienee cannot advance the plea of limitation as a defence (2) of the Indian Limitation Act expressly excluded the operation of cl (1) in such cases. A suit brought under O XXI r 63 of the Code

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

—contd— O XXI, r 63 (1882 Code s 282)—

contd

of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) is a mere continuation of the proceedings in a claim petition and all alienations during the continuance of the proceedings originated by the claim petition to the disposal of the suit brought to set aside the order passed on the claim petition are affected by the doctrine of lis pendens formulated in s 53 of the Transfer of Property Act. Suits of this class though called original suits are not in the essence original actions but merely forms of appeal allowed by the Civil Procedure Code to be brought in the guise of original suits. Phu Kumari v Ghanshyam Misra I L R 35 Cal 202 followed. Yerra Panraddi v Karuga Pannadi Mad L T 154. Hanishankar Jeabhi v Naran Karsan I L R 18 Bom 260. Keshori Mohun Rai v Hurrook Dass I L R 12 Cal 696 and Settappa Gaudan v Mullia Gaudan, I L R 31 Mad 68 referred to. KRISHNA PPA CHETTY v ABDUL KHADEE SAHIB (1913) I L R 38 Mad 535

2 ———— Execution of a decree—Suit for declaration that property is not liable to attachment and sale—Valuation of suit. Held that in a suit for a declaration that property is not liable to attachment and sale in execution of a decree where the value of the property is in excess of the amount claimed in execution of the decree the proper valuation of the suit for the purpose of jurisdiction is not the value of the property but the amount for which the decree may be executed. Duaria Das v Kameshar Prasad I L R 17 All 69 and Dhan Dasi v Zamurrad Begam I L R 27 All 410 followed. Phul Kumari v Ghanshyam Misra I L R 35 Cal 202 referred to. KHETIA v MUMTAZ BEGAM (1915) I L R 38 All 79

3 ———— Applicability to claims to property attached before judgment—O XXI VIII r 5. Held by the Full Bench that O XXI r 63 Civil Procedure Code applies also to orders on claims preferred to property attached before judgment. Ramanamma v Bathula Kamasoyu I L R 41 Mad 73 overruled. PRASADA NATUNU v VITAYYA (1918) I L R 41 Mad 849

4 ———— Mortgagee's right of claim petition—Petition dismissed—Suit to establish right dismissed—Subsequent suit by mortgagee to set aside his mortgage—Suit against mortgagor a duty clause in execution of a decree in another suit by the mortgagee—Order on claim petition whether conclusive. An order on a claim petition which has not been set aside in a suit by the claimant under O XXI r 63 Civil Procedure Code becomes conclusive not only for the purpose of the execution of the decree in connection with which the claim was preferred but also of the execution of other decrees between the same parties. The establishment of the decree holder's right to bring property to sale free from a claimant's alleged right involves the right of the purchaser at the sale to get a title to the property free from such right. Laxmaswamy Chetty v Alagiris Chetty (1915) 27 I C 500 followed. Umesh Chander Roy v Pay Kumbha Sen (185) I L R 3 Cal 223 cited from SINGARAI CHETTY v CHIVVAPPAI (191) I L R 44 Mad 288

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

—contd— O XXI rr 58 60 and 63 s 64—
—contd—

made Therefore in such a case any private transfer of the property by the claimant though made after an order under r 60 releasing the property from attachment would be void under a 64 Civil Procedure Code Sardhar Lal v Ambika Prasad L R 15 I A 123 s c I L R 15 Calc 521 (1888) Phulkumar v Ghanashyam I L R 35 Calc 202 s c 12 C W N 160 (P C) (1907) Alahomed Warri v Pitambar 21 W R 435 (1874) and Bonmah v Prosonna I L R 23 Calc 829 (1896) followed Lalu Muly v Kasi Ban I L P 10 Bom 400 (407) (1886) and other cases referred to In a case of attachment before judgment the revival of execution proceedings does not operate as a revival of the attachment so as to prejudice the rights of strangers who have in the interval acquired a title to the property Patiranga Kuer v Madharananda 14 C L J 476 (1911) and Mahabharat v Surjya Kanta (1918) Pat 343 3 P L J 310 (1918) referred to Under the provisions of Art 11 and a 22 (1) the suit as against L was barred as she was not added as a party within one year from the date of the order in the claim case S 22 (2) did not estop limitation as the assignment by the successful claimant took place after the order for release and as such the assignment was not during the pendency of a suit Though the general presumption is that all property acquired by or in the possession of a member of a joint Hindu family is joint property there can be no such presumption where the disputed property stands in the name of a non co partner The onus lies on Plaintiff to prove that the ostensible owner is not the real owner PROTAP CHANDRA GOPE v SARAT CHANDRA GANGOPADHYAYA 25 C W N 644

— O XXI, rr 58 61—Claimant in possession under a collusive sale of in possession as trustee for judgment debtor A judgment debtor with the object of defrauding his creditor executed a collusive sale of his property in favour of a third person who was put in possession and preferred a claim to the property under r 58 of O XXI of the Civil Procedure Code when the same was attached by the creditor in execution of his decree Held that the claim should be rejected on the ground that the property was in possession of the claimant in trust for the judgment debtor within the meaning of r 61 of O XXI of the Civil Procedure Code It was not necessary in order to defeat the claim to show that the trust was one capable of enforcement by law W C McIntosh v BROHU BHUSAN SINGH (1912) 13 C W N 959

— O XXI, rr 58, 63—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1852) ss. 263 278 283

I L R 38 Bom 631

See COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882) s 169

L R 38 All 537

See LIMITATION I L R 45 Calc 785

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

—contd— O XXI rr 58 63—contd

Held by the Full Bench (1) that an order refusing to investigate a claim to attached property on the ground that there was delay in filing it is order passed against the claimant within XXI r 63 Civil Procedure Code and Art 11 the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) and (2) that order on a claim petition merely stating that it was filed late it will be notified to the bidd is in effect an order rejecting the claim to wit the provisions of O XXI r 63 will apply Amamba Chetty v Vinayapala Nair 2 L W 9 and Ponnam Pillai v Samu Ammal 31 M L J 247 followed Thithikutti Umma v Thakodi Chellammuthi (Second Appeal No 1936/1916) overruled VENKATARAM v RANG NAYAKAMIA (1918) I L R 41 Mad 9

Property attached execution proceedings—Claim preferred under XXI r 58 rejected under O XXI r 63 without investigation—but brought by claimant more than one year after the order of rejection—Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Art 11—Suit whether barred In the course of certain execution proceedings the property in dispute was attached The present plaintiff preferred a claim to the property under O XXI r 58 C O P which was rejected under O XXI r 63 and the plaintiff then brought this suit to establish his title to the property and for consequential reliefs more than a year after the claim was rejected Held that the language of Art 11 of the Indian Limitation Act of 1908 is more comprehensive than the language of the proceeding Act and the article cannot be restricted to those cases in which an investigation had taken place, NAAGENDRO LAL CHOWDHURY v FANI BHUSAN DAS (1918)

23 C W N 37

O XXI r 58 O XXXVIII rr 1 to 12—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT III OF 1907 ss 13 (3) 47

I L R 36 All 65

O XXI, r 59 (1882 Code 279)—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 ss 278 283

I L R 34 All 365

— O XXI, r 60 (1882 Code s 280)—Execution of decree—Attachment of property—Claim by a person in possession of maintenance charge on the property—Sale of the property in execution subject to the charge—Suit to recover possession of the property after the death of charge holder—Parties to appeal—Practice and procedure Certain property in which a judgment debtor was interested as a sharer was attached in execution of a decree against him His mother applied to raise the attachment on the ground that she was in possession of the property that she was entitled to retain it during her life time and that it was subject to a charge for her funeral ceremonies The property was sold subject to her charge and purchased by the plaintiff at the Court sale After the mother's death the plaintiff sued to recover the judgment debtor's share in the property by partition when the judgment debtor and a brother of his, defendants Nos. 2 and 3 respectively contended that there was no attachment of the property at the time of

— Order refusing in effect to investigate claim when an order against claimant within O XXI r 63 Civil Procedure Code and Art 11 of Limitation Act (IX of 1908)

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd.

— O XXI r 60 (1882 Code s 280)—
—contd.

sale and that the sale was therefore invalid. The trial Court decreed the claim on the ground that the sale was valid even though there was no attachment. Defendant No 1 alone appealed and the lower appellate Court held that absence of attachment vitiated the sale and dismissed the suit. The plaintiff having appealed Held that the property was sufficiently attached that all the subsequent proceedings including the sale of the right title and interest of the judgment debtor were in order and that there was no real basis for the objection that the sale was void in consequence of the absence of attachment. Held also that defendant No 2 ought to have appealed from the decree of the trial Court and that in his absence the decree could not be reversed by the lower appellate Court on the appeal of defendant No 1 alone. The Court however ordered defendant No 2 to be joined as party to the appeal. VAIKUNT SRIIDHAR v. MANJUNATH MADHAV (1920) I L R 44 Bom 860

— O XXI r 61 (1882 Code 281)—
See M. 58 10 C W N 959

— O XXI rr 61 62 (1882 Code 281 282)—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE ACT 1880 s 278 233

— O XXI r 62 (1882 Code s 282)
See MORTGAGE I L R 47 Calc 447— O XXI, rr 82 and 83—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882
s 278 I L P 41 Bom 64— O XXI, r 63 (1882 Code s 282)—
See O XXI r 58
I L R 41 Mad 985See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH
I ARTS 11 13
I L R 69 Mad 1196
I L P 40 Mad 733
I L R 45 Calc 785See PES JUDICATA
I L R 44 Calc 698See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 3 I L R 42 Mad 143
I L R 43 Mad 730

Order in favour of the claimant—Alienation by the claimant subsequently—Suit by decree holder subsequent to the alienation to set aside the order—lis pendens doctrine of, if applicable—Pendency of proceedings—Suit a form of appeal—Alienee joined as party after one year from the date of order not a necessary party—No bar of limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 29 cl 1 and 2—A purchaser of property from a claimant after an order has been passed in his (claimant's) favour but before a suit under O XXI r 63 was instituted is an alienee pendente lite and is therefore not a necessary party to the suit and if the prices and parties had been brought within one year the alienee cannot advance the plea of limitation as s 29 cl (2) of the Indian Limitation Act expressly excluded the operation of cl (1) in such cases. A suit brought under O XXI r 63 of the Code

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd.

— O XXI r 63 (1882 Code s 283)—
—contd.

of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) is a mere continuation of the proceedings in a claim petition and all alienations during the continuance of the proceedings originated by the claim petition to the disposal of the suit brought to set aside the order passed on the claim petition are affected by the doctrine of lis pendens formulated in s 5 of the Transfer of Property Act. Suits of this class though called original suits are not in the essence original actions but merely forms of appeal allowed by the Civil Procedure Code to be brought in the guise of original suits. Phu Kumari v Ghanshyam Misra I L R 35 Calc 209 followed Veero Panrati v Karuga Pannedi Med L T 154 Harishankar Jeabhi v Aeron Aarson I L P 18 Bom 260 Keshori Mokun Rai v Hurool Das I L R 12 Calc 696 and Settappa Goundan v Muthia Goundan I L R 31 Mad 68 referred to KRISHNA CHETTY v ABDUL KHADER SAHIB (1913) I L R 38 Mad 535

2 ———— Execution of decree—
Suit for declaration that property is not liable to attachment and sale—Valuation of suit Held that in a suit for a declaration that property is not liable to attachment and sale in execution of a decree where the value of the property is in excess of the amount claimed in execution of the decree the proper valuation of the suit for the purpose of jurisdiction is not the value of the property but the amount for which the decree may be executed. Dwarkan Das v Kameswar Prasad I L R 17 All 69 and Dhan Dutt v Zomurad Begam I L R 27 All 410 followed. Phul Kumari v Ghanshyam Misra I L P 33 Calc 202 referred to KHETRA v MONTAZ BEGAM (1915) I L R 38 All 72

3 ———— Applicability to claims to property attached before judgment—O XXI r 5 Held by the Full Bench that O XXI, r 63 Civil Procedure Code applies also to orders on claims preferred to property attached before judgment. Ramanamma v Bathulu Komaraju I L P 41 Mad 23 overruled IRASANA NAYUDU v VITAYYA (1918) I L R 41 Mad 849

4 ———— Mortgagee filing claim petition—Petition dismissed—Suit to establish right dismissed—Subsequent suit by mortgagee to enforce his mortgage—Suit against mortgagor and purchaser in execution of a decree in another suit by the same creditor—Order on claim petition whether conclusive—An order on a claim petition which has not been set aside in a suit by the claimant under O XXI r 63 Civil Procedure Code becomes conclusive not only for the purpose of the execution of the decree in connection with which the claim was preferred but also of the execution of other decrees between the same parties. The establishment of the decree holder's right to bring property to sale free from a claimant's alleged right involves the right of the purchaser at the sale to get a title to the property free from such right. Komasamy Chetty v Alagiri Chetty (1915) 27 I C 800 followed Umesh Chander Foy v Fay Bulubh Sen (1859) I L P 8 Calc 9 disented from. SINGARAJ CHETTY v CHINNAVARI (1911) I L R. 44 Mad 228

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd—

O XXI r 65 (1882 Code 286)—

See PELLABLE DISTRIBUTION

I L R 44 Calc 789

O XXI r 66 (1882 Code s 287)—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 38 Calc 482

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 ART 182

I L R 40 Mad 949

See MORTGAGE I L R 47 Calc 447

1 ————— Ancestral property—General rules of practice for Civil Courts Ch IV r 5 Property to which title is made out by gift is not property inherited within the meaning of r 4 Ch IV of the General Rules of Practice for the Civil Courts and such property is consequently not ancestral FAZAL AHMAD v WESAL-UD-DIN (1916) I L R 38 All 481

2 ————— Sale proclamation—Valuation of property to be sold—Appeal Held that no appeal will lie from a statement made in a sale proclamation as to the value of the property advertised for sale SUGAMJI AKA v SUBRAHMANYA AYYAR I L R 27 Mad 259 followed ABUDHA PRASAD v GORI NATH (1917) I L R 39 All 415

3 ————— Suit for declaration that property is not liable to attachment—And sale—Valuation of suit In a suit for a declaration that property is not liable to attachment and sale in execution of a decree where the value of the property in question is in excess of the amount claimed in execution of the decree the proper valuation of the suit for the purpose of jurisdiction is not the value of the property but the amount for which the decree may be executed AHTRA PAL v MUNNAT BEGAM I L R 38 All 12 followed RADHA KUNWAR v PEOJI SINGH I L R 38 All 485 referred to ANANDI KUNWAR v RAM NARAYAN DAS (1918) I L R 43 All 505

4 ————— Setting aside a sale—Material irregularity in publication of sale proclamation—Under statement of revenue due on the land—Undervaluation of property—Statement of the same by the decree holder—No objection by the judgment debtor to the amount of Government revenue or valuation—Mistake of the judgment debtor as to interest in the property sought to be brought to sale—Duty of Courts in India in conducting sales in execution—Mistake of judgment debtor due to action of decree holder—Rule of estoppel of judgment debtor no application—Right of auction purchaser before and after confirmation of sale—No absolute right for confirmation of sale Though it was not incumbent upon the Court to state the value of the property in a proclamation for sale a materially incorrect statement of the revenue or of the value of the property where the value is stated would constitute an irregularity which if it caused substantial injury to the judgment debtor would entitle him to have the sale set aside Where the judgment-debtor's act in not objecting to the statement of the peshkash and in stating the value on the footing of the peshkash being correctly stated by the decree holder was due to a mistake of fact regarding what the Court intended to sell the judgment-debtor should not be held to be stopped from objecting to the

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd—

O XXI r 65 (1882 Code s 287)—

contd

sale on the ground of material irregularity A party who does not raise an objection to the proclamation which he ought to have raised is estopped from complaining of an irregularity resulting from an erroneous statement which he should have corrected GRIDHARI SINGH v HURDEO NARAIN SINGH I L R 31 A 230 and OPHERIS v MAHABIR PERSHAD SINGH I L R 10 A 25 referred to ARUNACHELLAM v ARUNACHELLAM I L R 12 Mad 19 and BEHARI SINGH v MUKHAT SINGH I L R 28 All 273 referred to In India an execution sale is an act of the Court Where an act of a Court is induced by the mistake of parties it may be set aside But the Court will not apply the rule of estoppel to cases where the judgment debtor was not aware of the facts to which he was bound to object KALAYASTI RAJA OF v MAHARAJA OF VENKATAGIRI (1913) I L R 38 Mad 387

5 ————— Order of court fixing valuation—An order of a court fixing a valuation of the judgment debtor's property under r 66 of O XXI of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 is not a decree and no appeal lies from such an order DEOKINANDAN SINGH RAJAN DAKSHIN PRASAD NARAIN SINGH 2 F t L J 13

6 ————— Sale proclamation order is a judicial act—Duty of court in setting value of property to be sold The action of a court in settling the terms of a sale proclamation under O XXI r 66 is a judicial act and the value of the property should be stated as fairly as possible MUNSHI RAJENDRANATH SINGH v HAZARI SAHU 2 Pat L J 130

7 ————— Sale in execution of simple money decree—Notification of a mortgage in the proclamation of sale—Auction purchaser not precluded from challenging the validity of the mortgage Held that the notification of an incumbrance on the property about to be sold in a proclamation of sale made under O XXI r 66 of the Code of Civil Procedure (1908) will not preclude the auction purchaser from subsequently questioning the validity of the incumbrance In this respect the Code of 1908 has made no difference in the law as it stood under the former Code SHIB KUNWAR SINGH v SHRI PRASAD SINGH I L R 28 All 418 and JAWAY MAI v RADHA KISHAN I L R 35 All 257 followed AQUA SUITAN KHAN v MOHABBAT KHAN I L R 43 All 489

O XXI, rr 66 and 70 (1882 Code s 287)—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT s 153
163 and 167 2 Pat L J 176

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 43 All 708

O XXI rr 68 69 (1882 Code 290 and 291)—

See SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE
I L R 39 Calc 20

O XXI, r 70 (1882 Code 287)—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT s 153
163 and 167 2 Pat L J 177

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd—

O XXI r 71 (1882 Code s 233)—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907) s 47 I L R 39 All 267

See SECOND APPEAL

I L R 45 Bom 223

O XXI rr 71 and 84 to 87—

Purchase in a Court sale of judgment debtor's right to get a reconveyance of certain lands—Default in payment of balance of purchase money within fifteen days of Court sale—Liability of purchaser for deficiency on resale. A purchaser in a Court auction of a judgment debtor's right to get a reconveyance of certain lands on payment of a specified sum is on default in payment of the purchased money within fifteen days of the Court sale liable to pay under summary process under O XXI r 71 Civil Procedure Code any deficiency in the price on a resale though the date stipulated for payment to get the reconveyance happens to be shortly after the Court sale and before the expiry of the fifteen days allowed for the payment of the balance. The loss of the right to get a reconveyance which is a substantial right occasioned by the neglect of the purchaser to exercise his right to pay at the stipulated time does not make the property resold any the less the same property as the one sold before provided all the then existing rights of the judgment debtor therein are correctly stated in the proclamation for the resale. Cases in which an existing encumbrance on the property is omitted to be mentioned at the time of the first sale but finds a place in the proclamation for the resale stand on a different footing. Baynath Sthas v Mohesh Narain Singh I L R 16 Cal 535 and Kali Kishore Deb Sarkar v Gurn Prasad Sukal I L R 25 Cal 99 distinguished. VEN KATACHELLAMAYYA v NILAKANTA GIRJEE (1917) I L R 41 Mad 474

O XXI r 72 (1882 Code s 234)—

See MORTGAGE AND MORTGAGEE

I L R 41 Bom 357

Decree—Execution—

Collector—Decree holder allowed permission to bid by the Collector—Set off—Power of the Court to allow set off. A decree holder having received from the Collector permission to bid and having been declared to be the highest bidder can apply to the Court for permission to set off the decretal amount against the purchase money. MARTAND TEIVRAK v DAYA BAI ABASI (1919) I L R 44 Bom 346

O XXI rr 73 and 83—Several decree holders—Execution—Attachment—each decree—Applications for sale—Permission to judgment debtor to raise money by sale alienation to pay off one of the decrees—Money paid into Court by alienor—Rateable distribution—4 ds held by a Court meeting of where several decree holders in different suits had attached the same property of their judgment-debtor and applied for sale in execution of their respective decrees—But the judgment debtor obtained permission of the Court under O XXI r 83 to raise money by private alienation of the property to pay the decree amount due in one of the decrees and the amount was paid into Court by the alienor. Held that the money having been paid into Court

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd—

O XXI rr 73 and 83—contd

under a pending execution application was as it held by the Court under O XXI r 73 of the Code and was liable to rateable distribution among the several decree holders who had applied for execution. Sorahy, Coovary v Kala Raghunath I L R 26 Bom 106 distinguished from Kathum Sribha v Hajee Badsha Sahib I L R 38 Cal 221 referred to. Calstoun v Woomey Chundra Bonnerjee I L R 41 Cal 789 distinguished. THIRAVIYAM PILLAI v LAKSHMANA ILLAI (1917) I L R 41 Mad 618

O XXI rr 84 89 92 (1882 Code

s 306 310A 312)—Execution of decree—Sale of immovable property—Acceptance of final bid deferred—Application to set aside sale—Limitation. Held that a sale of immovable property in execution of a decree is not complete until the sale officer has accepted the final bid and the purchaser has paid in the deposit of 25 per cent of the purchase money required by r 84 of O XXI of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908. The period of thirty days prescribed by r 92 will not therefore begin to run against a person applying under r 89 if for any reason the final bid remains for a time unaccepted by the sale officer. MUVANI LAL v RAM NARAIN (1912) I L R 35 All 65

O XXI r 88 (1882 Code 310)—

Execution of decree—Sale in execution—Pre-emption—Title of pre-emptor defeasible. Held that a title to a share in undivided immovable property sold in execution of a decree which is still defeasible at the date of a sale in execution is not sufficient to support a claim for pre-emption under O XXI r 88 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908. Kamta Prasad v Mohan Bhagat I L R 37 All 45 and Nabihun Bibi v Kauleshar Rai & All I L R 351 followed. ABDUL GHAFUR v GHULAM HUSAIN (1913) I L R 35 All 296

O XXI r 89 (1882 Code s 310A)—

See s 73 I L R 40 Cal 619

See s 115 I L R 44 Mad 554

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1883

4 Pat L J 55

See CONTRACT ACT s 0

I L R 42 Bom 556

See SALE I L R 43 Cal 69

Execution of decree—Application to set aside the sale within limitation—Money tendered but not received through Treasury Officer's action. The judgment-debtor made an application under O XXI r 89 of the Code of Civil Procedure to set aside a sale held in execution of a decree on the day of limitation. The money required to be paid as tendered to the Treasury Officer shortly before 3 p.m. but he refused to take it because there was not sufficient time to count it and also because he thought that it could be paid at any time within three days of the tender. The judgment-debtor paid it the next day which was less than three days after the sale. Held that the judgment-debtor having done all that lay in his power to deposit the money in time and having been prevented by the action of the Treasury Officer should be taken to have made the payment within the time allowed by law. Unfomed Akbar Zama Khan

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

contd O XXI r 89 (1882 Code s 310A)—

v Sulhdeo Pande 13 C L J 467 referred to MUNNA LAL v PADMA KISHAN (1915)

I L R 37 All 591

2 ————— Sale of immovable property in Court auction—Subsequent private sale by judgment-debtor—Application by judgment debtor to set aside auction sale—No locus stands to apply—Order rejecting application—Remission petition to High Court under Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 116—Not maintainable though order erroneous Where after a sale in Court auction of certain immovable property the judgment debtor sold away all his rights in the same property to a stranger by a private sale and subsequently applied under O XXI r 89 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) to set aside the auction sale Held that the judgment debtor had no locus stands to apply under O XXI r 89 to have the sale set aside Anantha Lakshmi Ammal v Kunnanebankarath Sankaran Avar (1913) Mad W N 101 referred to Ishar Das v Asaf Ali Khan I L R 64 All 186 followed Per SADASTHA AYYAR J—A Civil Revision Petition under s 116 of the Code of Civil Procedure does not lie against an order of the Lower Court rejecting an application under O XXI r 89 though the order was erroneous in law as the lower Court did not act illegally or beyond its jurisdiction or with material irregularity in arriving at the decision Per SPENCER J—Neither an amendment of the petition nor the presentation of a fresh petition by the private purchaser could be allowed by the High Court to be made as he was not a party to the proceedings in the lower Court and more than one year had expired after the time allowed by Art 166 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) for filing a petition in the lower Court SUBBARAYUDU v LAKSHMI MINARASAMMA (1913) I L R 38 Mad 775

3 ————— Sale in execution of decree—Judgment debtor privately selling the property so sold—Application by judgment debtor to set aside Court sale A judgment debtor whose property has been sold at a Court sale in execution of the decree against him has a right to apply to have the sale set aside as a person owning the property sold in execution of the decree within the meaning of r 89 of O XXI of the Civil Procedure Code of 1908 in spite of the fact that he has transferred his interest in the property after the Court sale PANDURANG LAXMAN v GOVIND DADA (1916) I L P 40 Bom 557

4 ————— Non transferable occupancy holding—Purchase at mortgage sale—Subsequent rent sale and purchase by landlord—Right of first purchaser to set aside sale by deposit—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885 as amended by E L and A C Act (I of 1907) s 170 (J)) Where (in a case governed by Act I of 1907 E J and A C) the landlord himself purchases a non transferable occupancy holding at a sale held in execution of a decree for rent obtained against the registered tenant of the holding a person who had within 12 years purchased the whole holding at a sale in execution of a mortgage decree is not entitled to set aside the sale by making a deposit under O XXI r 89 of the Civil Procedure Code Toral Das Lal v Harsh

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXI r 89 (1882 Code s 310A)—

contd

Chandra Banerjee 17 C W N 163 s c 16 C L J 548 Dyanayi Das v Ananda Mohan Roy 18 C W N 971 and Akmalulla Chowdhry v Prayagshu 20 C W N 39 referred to ABDUR RAHAMAN SARKAR v PROMODE BEHARY DUTT (1915) 20 C W N 40

5 ————— Application by judgment debtor to set aside sale in execution of a decree—Execution of sale deed by judgment debtor not registered—Subsequent application whether competent—Fresh sale deed executed by him after application and registered before final order—Sustaining ability of application—Rights of parties to suit or application whether affected by subsequent events Where a judgment debtor applied under O XXI r 89 of the Civil Procedure Code to set aside a sale of certain lands held in execution of a decree and it appeared that he had previous to his application executed a sale deed therefor which was not however registered and that he had subsequent to his application executed a fresh sale deed in respect of the same lands to the same vendee which was registered before final order was passed on the application and the auction purchaser objected to the competency of the judgment debtor to make or sustain the application Held that the judgment debtor had locus stands to make the application as he had not ceased to be owner of the lands at the time of his making the application and that he did not lose the right to sustain the application by the subsequent execution and registration of a sale deed as it is a well recognized rule of law that the rights of the parties should be adjudicated as on the date of suit or application and not with reference to what transpires subsequently Kurri Ierreddi v Kurri Laperreddi I L P 29 Mad 336 and Ramanathan v Ranganathan I L P 40 Mad 1134 referred to Subbarayudu v Lalshminarasamma I L R 38 Mad 775 distinguished and Karala Manohar v Manuvaran I L R 24 Bom 400 dissented from SETHUPATHASAMI NAYANIVARU v SIBD MURUGESAN SAHIB (1918) I L R 42 Mad 568

6 ————— Auction sale Application made to the Mamlatdar to set aside sale—Mamlatdar not a Court within the meaning of O XXI r 89—Application must be made to Civil Court—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 166 An application by a judgment debtor to have an auction sale held by the Mamlatdar set aside under O XXI rr 89 Civil Procedure Code 1908 must be made to the Civil Court A Collector or other Revenue Officer cannot be considered as a Court within the meaning of O XXI r 89 and therefore the judgment debtor who presents his application to the Collector cannot stop limitation running against him THIRAVAYDA v RAMANAYUDU (1919)

I L R 44 Bom 50

7 ————— Civil Procedure Code (1882) s 305—Execution of decree—Sale in execution—Forfeiture of auction purchaser's deposit An auction purchaser deposited in Court Rs 1000 out of a total sum of Rs 2200 Owing to the judgment debtor making an application to have the sale set aside the auction purchaser did not deposit the remainder of the purchase

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXI r 89 (1882 Code = 310A)—

—contd

money. The judgment debtor's application was not accompanied as it should have been by court fee stamps in payment of the expenses of the sale. Held on application by the auction purchaser for refund of the money deposited by him that the Court would have exercised a proper discretion in allowing a refund as prayed and it was allowed subject to payment by the applicant of the expenses of the sale. MATHURA PRASAD PANDE v. GAUTHI SHANKAR DAS (1910) I L R 32 All 380

8 ————— Execution of

decree—Sale in execution of simple money decree—the decree holder also holding a decree upon a mortgage of the property sold—Application by decree holder to have sale set aside. A decree holder held two decrees against the same judgment debtor the one being a decree for sale on two mortgages and the other a simple money decree. In execution of the latter decree the decree holder caused part of the mortgaged property to be sold by auction and it was purchased by a stranger. Held that the decree holder was not competent to apply under O XXI r 89 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 to get this sale set aside. MUHAMMAD AHMADULLAH KHAN v. AHMAD SAID KHAN (1911) I L R 33 All 481

9 ————— Execution of decree—Property sold by judgment debtor to a third person after execution sale—Judgment debtor not competent to apply to have auction sale set aside. Where a judgment debtor after the sale in execution of his immovable property sold such property to a third party it was held that the judgment debtor was not competent thereafter to apply under O XXI r 89 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 to have the execution sale set aside. Dehi Praod Pandit v. Muhammad Lais Arabi 14 Oudh Cases 33 approved. ISHAR DAS v. ASAF ALI KHAN (1911) I L R 34 All 186

10 ————— Payment into

Court of portion of a judgment debt by persons other than the applicant, no right to take credit for—Receipt meaning of O XXI r 89 Civil Procedure Code is in the nature of an indulgence to judgment debtors and a judgment debtor who wishes to take advantage of its provisions must strictly comply with the same by paying all the amounts as directed by the rule less any amount that may have been paid by himself and he cannot take credit for any amount paid by a co-judgment debtor who has not joined him in the application and according to the rule credit can be taken only for any amount that may have been actually or constructively received by the decree holder and not for one which having been deposited could have been received by him had he been minded to do so. Trimback v. Ramehndra I L R 23 Bom 793 and Kriya Nath Pal v. Jam Lalshree Dasya I C 11 v. 83 followed. Anantha Lal hmi Ammal v. Sanlaran Nar I Mad L J 905 and Idolia Lalshrinorasmha Charyulu v. Lacha Lal hmianna (1911) I Mad 11 v. 156 distinguished. KARUNAKARA v. KRISHNA (1915) I L R 39 Mad 429

11 ————— Civil Procedure Code (Act VI of 1859) = 310 A — Decree holder

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXI r 89 (1882 Code = 310A)—

—contd

—Execution of decree—Auction sale—Application by judgment debtor to set aside sale—Deposit within thirty days—Auction purchaser not a necessary party to the application—Notice to all parties—Rateable distribution claimed by other decree holders—Satisfaction of the decree under which the property was sold. The deposit under O XXI r 89 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) must be made within thirty days from the date of sale. It is not necessary that the notice required to be given under r 92 of the said order should be given within thirty days of the date of sale. Once notice has been given under r 89 to all persons affected thereby the Court has full authority to set aside the sale. A decree holder having applied for execution of his decree the proceedings in execution were transferred to the Collector. He issued a proclamation and proceeded with the sale but before the auction sale took place he received from the Court intimation of applications made by other decree holders against the same judgment debtor for rateable distribution. The Collector inserted references to the applications in his proclamation of sale and the property was subsequently sold. Then within thirty days the judgment debtor applied to have the sale set aside under O XXI r 89 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) on depositing in Court for payment to the purchaser a sum equal to five per cent of the purchase money and for payment to the decree holder the amount specified in the proclamation of sale as that for the recovery of which the sale was ordered. Although the deposit was sufficient to satisfy the judgment debt of the creditor he objected to the judgment debtor's application on the ground that the deposit was insufficient because the amount deposited should have been sufficient to satisfy not only his decree but also the claims of those decree holders whose applications for rateable distribution had been brought to the notice of the Collector before the sale. Held setting aside the sale that the term "decree holder" in O XXI r 89 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) meant that person alone for satisfaction of whose decree the sale had been ordered and did not include other persons who would have a right to claim rateable distribution out of the sale proceeds under s 43 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). GANEH BABU NAIR v. VITHAL NAIK (1912) I L R 37 Bom 357

12 ————— A person who is out of possession of certain immovable property but is litigating to establish his title thereto is not entitled to make a deposit in court to set aside a sale of such property held in execution of a decree. If such a person does make a deposit and eventually loses the suit in which he was endeavouring to establish his title to the property put up for sale he cannot recover the amount of such deposit from the person found to be entitled to the property. NANDJI HORE JHA v. LALMOO MIAH 2 Pat L J 66

13 ————— Order tenure holder if may apply to set aside rent sale of land in East Bengal. The words of O XXI r 89 of the Civil Procedure Code are more comprehensive than the words of s 310A of the Code of 1859.

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXI, r 90 (1899 Code, s 311)—

—contd

judgment debtors had applied on the 13th March 1912 for execution of his decree but his application was dismissed for non prosecution on the 13th May 1912 and on the 20th May 1912 the petitioner applied to the Court to have the sale set aside under r 90 O XXI Civil Procedure Code, on the ground of fraud and material irregularity. The lower Court rejected this application holding that he was not entitled to make it. Held that the dismissal of the petitioner's application for execution of his decree on the 13th May for non prosecution did not affect the right of the petitioner to a share in a rateable distribution of the assets and on the date on which the application to set aside the sale was made under r 90 it was made by a person entitled to a share in the rateable distribution of the assets and consequently should have been entertained by the Court. BHOMKESH CHAKRABARTY v. JATINDRA NATH ROY (1913) 18 C W N 1311

5 ————— Application to set aside sale dismissed for default—Dismissal of application for restoration—Appel of law. An application to set aside a sale under r 90 of O XXI of the Civil Procedure Code having been dismissed for default the applicant applied for restoration of the case but this application was refused. Held that no appeal lay against the order refusing to restore the case. CL (c) to r 1 of O XLIII of the Code did not apply to this order. S 141 of the Code which replaces s 647 of Act XIV of 1882 has not effected any alteration in the law. On the date fixed for hearing of appellant's application to set aside a sale the appellant came to Court and finding the Judge engaged in the trial of another suit left the Court and went on another business leaving no instructions to his pleader. Returning later he found that his case had been called on in the meanwhile and dismissed for non prosecution. Held that there were no grounds for restoring the case. Manilal Dhunji v. Gulam Hosain I L R 13 Bom 12 and Ismail Ibrahim v. Jan Mahmud 10 Bom L R 204 cited on, Somayya v. Subbama I L R 26 Mad 599 and Lalia I L R 33 P. M. Karan I L R 34 All 426 not followed CHANDU CHANDRA GHOSH v. CHANDU CHANDAN RAY CHoudhuri (1914) 18 C W N 25

6 ————— Step in execution of decree for arrears of rent—Non transferable occupancy holding transferee of a portion of it entitled to apply for reversal of sale. A transferee of a portion of a non transferable occupancy holding is entitled to apply for reversal of a sale in execution of a decree for arrears of rent obtained by the entire body of landlords. The rule formulated in r 90 of O XXI of the Civil Procedure Code of 1908 has a wider scope and is of a more comprehensive character than the rule laid down in s 311 of the Code of 1892. ABDUL AZIZ v. TAPAZUDDIN SULTAN (1914) 18 C W N 326

O XXI, r 90—

1 ————— Sale in execution of decree. Appellate to set aside a sale by person claiming to be the real owner. Where immovable property has been sold in execution of a decree

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXI r 90—contd

against the ostensible owner a person claiming to be the real owner is not competent to ask the Court to set aside the sale under O XXI r 90 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Abdul A. v. Tajuluddin 23 Indian Cases 839 referred to HARDWARE LAL v. SALAMAT ULLAH KHAN I L R 38 AU 358

8 ————— Persons entitled to apply for setting aside sale—Persons whose interests are affected by the sale—Purchaser of holding sold in execution of mortgage decree if can apply for setting aside sale subsequently held by landlord in execution of rent decree. A holding was sold in execution of a mortgage decree against the tenant and purchased by the mortgagee. It was subsequently sold at the instance of the landlord in execution of a rent decree and the mortgagee applied under O XXI r 90 Civil Procedure Code to have the sale set aside on the ground of material irregularity and fraud in conducting the sale. Held that the words of r 90 whose interests are affected by the sale are very wide and the mortgagee had locus standi to make the application for setting aside the sale as his interests were clearly affected by the sale. SATLABILA DEBI v. NITYA GOPAL SEN (1915) 22 C W N 143

9 ————— Co sharer land lord whether entitled to apply under—Application after sale in execution of a decree in a suit under s 143A of the Bengal Tenancy Act whether proviso to s 160 (1) of the Bengal Tenancy Act or s 73 of the Code of Civil Procedure applies to such a case—S 115 of the Code of Civil Procedure, case of for revision under. In a suit framed under s 143A of the Bengal Tenancy Act the five sixth co sharer landlords obtained a decree against the tenants of a tenure for arrears of rent due in respect thereof and in execution of that decree in proceeding taken under Chap XIV of the Bengal Tenancy Act the said decree holders (five sixth co sharer landlords) brought the tenure to sale and themselves purchased the same. Then the remaining one sixth co sharer landlord, who also had a rent decree in his favour against the tenure in arrear but which decree was time barred applied for setting aside the sale under O XXI r 90 of the Code of Civil Procedure whereupon the five sixth co sharer landlords contended amongst other matters that the decree which was executed was in the nature of a money decree and as such the applicant the one sixth co sharer landlord had no locus standi to make the application under O XXI r 90 of the Code of Civil Procedure as he was not entitled to the rateable distribution of a sale under s 73 of the Code of Civil Procedure. His decree being time barred and he having made no application for execution thereof and both the lower Courts so decided. Held that as the decree has the force and effect of a rent decree the suit being framed in the manner provided for in s 143A the applicant was interested in the results of the sale under s 143A and the proviso to s 160 (1) of the Bengal Tenancy Act and as such he was entitled to make the application under O XXI r 90 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Held further that in dealing with the case merely under the provision of the Code of Civil Procedure and without a reference to the Bengal Tenancy Act the Court below had

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd.

O XXI r 90—contd

seriously erred. Per CUMING J It is doubtful whether the present motion falls within the scope of a 115 of the Code of Civil Procedure KHA GENDRA BHUSAN ROY v JATINDRA NATH ROY (1918) 23 C W N 619

O XXI r 90 91 and 93—

See LIMITATION ACT (IV OF 1908) s 22
I L R 38 Mad 837

O XXI, r 90 and 92—

See s 104 I L R 40 All 122

See MADRAS ESTATES ACT 1908 ss 111
AND 118 I L R 43 Mad 351

Application to set aside sale for material irregularity or fraud dismissed as barred—Sale confirmed prior to application—Suit to set aside sale on same ground whether maintainable. Where a judgment debtor failed to file an application to set aside the sale under O XXI r 90 Civil Procedure Code within the time allowed by law and the sale was confirmed he cannot institute a suit to set aside the sale on the ground of material irregularity or fraud in the publication or conduct of the sale Dictum of SADASIVA AYYAR, J in Padidanna v Lakshmina asamma (1915) I L R 38 Mad 1076 dissented from BRAHMAYYA v APPAYYA SASTRI (1921)

I L R 44 Mad 351

Application to set aside sale made before the new Code came into force—Fraud general allegation of—Second appeal. The fact that the execution sale took place and the application to set it aside on the ground of fraud was made before the new Code of Civil Procedure came into operation does not make the order passed on the application after the new Code came into force subject to a second appeal under the provisions of the old Code. General allegations of fraud unaccompanied by particulars are insufficient even to amount to an averment of fraud of which any Court ought to take notice. Halliday v The Mutual Society I P S A C 685 697 followed RAJ MOHAN PAL v GOVINDA CHANDRA PAL (1912) 17 C W N 534

See also BHADRESHWAR GOLOI v BISHNU CHARAN SEN (1910)

17 C W N 525

O XXI, r 91 (1832 Code s 313)—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT s 6;

14 C W N 1096

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 2.

I L R 38 Mad 837

Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 18 cl (3)—Stamp Act (II of 1899) s 35—Court-sale—Discovery that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest—Failure of consideration—Suit by auction purchaser for possession or return of purchase money—Relations of the judgment-creditor and auction purchaser—Suit not ex parte by Small Causes Court—Unstamped document regarded as non-existent. A Court of purchase having discovered that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest in the property sold brought a suit against the judgment-creditor for recovery of possession of the property or in the alternative return of the purchase money or the forfeiture of

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXI r 91 (1832 Code s 313)—

contd

total failure of consideration. A question having arisen as to whether the suit was maintainable Held that the suit was maintainable inasmuch as under the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) there was an implied warranty of some saleable interest when the right title and interest of a judgment debtor was put up for sale and the purchaser a right based on such implied warranty to a return under certain conditions of the purchase money which had been received by the judgment creditor was recognized. The relations of the parties namely the judgment creditor and the Court sale purchaser were in the nature of contract Held further that such a suit though the subject matter was less than Rs500 was not cognizable by a Court of Small Causes there being a prayer for possession of immovable property. An unstamped document being inadmissible in evidence must be taken as non-existent. PETROMI ARDESIRI IRANI v VINAYAK GANGADHAR BEAT (1910)

I L R 35 Bom 29

2. Auction purchaser induced to buy property of small value by misrepresentation—Remedy. Where it appeared that it was known to the decree holder that 1 anna out of a 1 anna 16 krants share put up by him for sale in execution of his debt had been previously sold in execution of a mortgage decree Held that it was not open to the purchaser at the sale who got 16 krants at least of the property purported to be sold to apply under O XXI r 91 of the Civil Procedure Code on the ground that the judgment debtor had no saleable interest in the property though if he was induced to make the purchase by fraud he might not be without other remedies. Naharmul Marwari v Sadul Ali 3 C L P 468 Protap Chandra Chakrabarty v Panoty I L P 9 Cal. 506 Ram Coomarr Dey v Shushee Bhoshan Chatterjee I L P 9 Cal. 676 Sonaram Das v Mohram Das I L P 9 Cal. 235 Durga Sundar v Govindra Chandra I L R 10 Cal. 363 Sant Lal v Puri Das I L P 9 All 167 and Burj Mohan Thakur v Puri Umanath Chaudhary I L R 9 Cal. 5 I L P 191 A 151 referred to SHEEOBINNIA SINGH v DRAXEN BHARI SINGH (1914)

19 C W N 1291

O XXI, r 81 and 93—

When in a pending application to set aside execution sale under this order decree holders were allowed to withdraw a portion of the purchase money on executing a bond which did not contain any provision for interest. Held that the Court had power under r 93 to order refund of the money with interest. MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH v A. H. FORCES

25 C W N 366

Executed on of decree—Auction purchaser deprived of property purchased—Suit for refund of purchase money—Sale not set aside. When, after a sale in execution of a decree has been confirmed, it is found that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest in the property put up to auction, and the auction purchaser is in consequence deprived of the property no suit will lie on the part of the auction purchaser for the recovery of the purchase money or to set the sale aside. Held that it is limited to an application for an order for refund of the sale

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXI, rr 91 and 92—contd

has been set aside Nanna Lal v Bhogwan Das 1 L P 33 All 111 followed. The following cases were also referred to in the judgments. Hira Lal v Hariharan 1 L P 2 All 789 Pam Varan Singh v Malab Lal 1 L P 2 All 823 Dorab Ali Khan v Aldool Alee 1 L P 51 A 116 Munna Singh v Gajadhar Singh 1 L P 5 All 57 Kishan Lal v Muhammad Sajdar Ali Khan 1 L P 1 All 353 Shanto Chandar Mukerji v Nain Sukh 1 L P 2 All 33 Sitlenwari Prasad Narayan Singh v Goshain Majanand 1 L P 3 All 419 Mohitern Imbrahim v Malomed Mus a Lican 23 M L 1 48 Kumar Shaha Pedder v Pam Gour Shaha Chaudhary 1 L P 37 Cal 67 Mulammad Nayibullah v Jai Varan 1 L R 36 All 39 Dot Malomed Khan v Pro sunnonath Poy S D A (L P) 519 Pugloomath Sukaj v Brijbeharee Lal S D A (L P) 456 Greech Chunder Pollar v Lookhoola Moye Dabre 1 W R C P 1 Brayendra Poy Chaudhary v Jugur Nath Poy 1 W I C P 14 and Sheikh Mahomed Banurulla v Shaikh Abdulla 1 L P (App) 33 referred to. I AM BAPCP. DIFPAT PAT.

I L R 43 All 60

O XXI, r 92 (1882 Code s 312)

See 10 I L R 40 All 680

See s 144 2 Pat L J 208

See O XXI r 83

L L P 45 Bom 1094

I L P 40 All 423

17 C W N 476

See O XXI r 91 and 92

4 Pat L J 643

See BOMBAY HIGH COURT CIVIL CIRCULAR P 104 r 1 I L R 45 Bom 1132

See MADRAS ESTATES ACT 1904 111

118 I L R 43 Mad 351

O XXI, rr 92 and 93—Execution of decree

Auction on purchaser's deposit of property purchased—Suit for refund of purchase money—Sale not set aside—Procedure. Held that under the present Code of Civil Procedure an auction purchaser who has been deprived by means of a suit against the judgment debtor of the property purchased by him cannot obtain a refund of the purchase money without getting the auction sale set aside. Munna Singh v Gajadhar Singh 1 L P 3 All 57 distinguished. Mulammad Nayibullah v Jai Varan 1 L P 36 All 39 Shanto Chandar Mukerji v Nain Sukh 1 L P 2 All 33 and Dorab Ali Khan v Aldool Alee 1 L P 1 All 353 referred to. Nanna Lal v Hira Man Das (1916) 1 L R 39 All 113

O XXI, rr 92 and 94—Valuation for duty of court to grant

The provisions of r 94 of O XXI of the Code of Civil Procedure are mandatory. Where the mortgage of a tenant's interest in a house purchased such interest in execution of a decree under the mortgage. It that the court was bound to grant the purchaser a sale certificate and was not justified in requiring him to produce a money order receipt for the purpose of showing that he (the purchaser) had paid a mutation fee to the landlord in order to have his name entered in the landlord's books as transferee of the tenancy interest. Balkrishna Misser v Narinda Sundari Dasi

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXI rr 91 and 94—contd

1 Pat L J 446

O XXI, r 93 (1882 Code s 315)

See O XXI r 91 25 C W N 366

See EXECUTION SALE.

I L R 39 Mad. 503

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 22

I L R 38 Mad. 837

1. *Civil Procedure Code (Act XXI of 1882) s 313 315—Auction sale under the Code—Sale of property in which judgment-debtor had no saleable interest—Right of purchaser to refund of purchase money—Suit—Application—Suit for possession—Cancellation of a sale—Right of suit occur under new Code—Effect of new Code on such right—General Clause s Act (X of 1897) s 1 (c) and (e)—Proceeding as to the cancellation of Where the plaintiff who purchased some lands in court auction in 1907 brought a suit to recover possession thereof in 1909 and failed in the suit in 1909 and in the second appeal therefrom in 1911 on the ground that the judgment debtor had no saleable interest in the property subsequently instituted a suit in 1914 for the recovery of the purchase money from the decree holder and the latter contended that the suit was not maintainable. Held that the suit was maintainable notwithstanding the provisions of O XXI r 93 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). The plaintiff had a right of suit under the old Civil Procedure Code (Act XXI of 1882) and such right having accrued to him while such Code was in force it could not be affected by the provisions of the new Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) by virtue of the provisions of s. 6 (c) and (e) of the General Clause s Act (X of 1897). As the right of the plaintiff to make an application under O XXI rr 91 and 93 would have been barred before the new Code came into force the new Code should not be so construed as to apply to the present case. Mohd Ibrahim v Malomed Musa Lican 2 Mad L J 457 Parvathi Ammal v Govindasami Pillai 1 L R 3 Mad 503 Gill v Pustompy And Shri Irani v Yashraj Gannabhai Bhat 1 L J 33 Bom 29 discontinued term Colonial Sugar Refining Company v Irving (1904) 1 C 303 applied. Abbot v Minister for Lands [189] 1 C 1 distinguished. Gajeshwar Pal v Jagan Chandra Chandra 1 L P 1 C 211 followed. TITIK MALAYAL NADOC v SUBARMANIAN CHETTIAR (1916) I L R 40 Mad 1009*

2. Execution of decree—Suit for refund of purchase money—Sale not set aside—Procedure. Held that under the present Code of Civil Procedure an auction purchaser who has been deprived by means of a suit against the judgment debtor of the property purchased by him cannot obtain a refund of the purchase money without getting the auction sale set aside. Munna Singh v Gajadhar Singh 1 L P 3 All 57 distinguished. Mulammad Nayibullah v Jai Varan 1 L P 36 All 39 Shanto Chandar Mukerji v Nain Sukh 1 L P 2 All 33 and Dorab Ali Khan v Aldool Alee 1 L P 1 All 353 referred to. Nanna Lal v Hira Man Das (1916) 1 L R 39 All 113

22 C W N 760

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—concld

O XXI r 94 (1882 Code s 318)—

See EXECUTION SALE

I L R 43 Mad 309

The person who is declared to be the purchaser after the bids are concluded is the person in whose name the certificate is to be granted under O XXI r 94 Civil Procedure Code. BARHAM MANDAL : DOKHITA SUNDARI NAMA UDPAI 24 C W N 27

O XXI, r 95 (1882 Code s 318)—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 43 All 520

1 — Execution sale—Purchase by decree holder—Delivery of possession—Order whether appealable—S 47 Civil Procedure Code whether applicable Where on a decree holder auction purchaser applying for delivery of possession of the properties purchased and obtaining possession by order of Court notwithstanding the objection by the judgment debtor that the properties did not pass by the sale the judgment debtor preferred an appeal. Held on a review of the authorities of all the Indian High Courts (which are conflicting,) that the Patna High Court should not without very good reason depart from a long course of decisions in the Calcutta High Court where the balance of opinion has been since 1833 strongly in favour of the view that an appeal does not lie. ABDUL GANI v RAJA RAM (1916) 20 C W N 829

2 — Execution of decree—Transfer from auction purchaser—Order for delivery of possession—Appeal—Revision A purchased certain immovable property at an auction sale held in execution of a decree and thereafter transferred the property so purchased to B the decree holder B applied under O XXI r 95 of the Code of Civil Procedure for an order for delivery of possession of the property purchased from A and an order was passed. Held that no appeal lay from the order for delivery of possession. Bhagwati v Bannarsai Lal I L R 31 All 82 referred to BUDDHU MISIR v BHAGIRATHI KUNWAR (1917) I L R 40 All 216

3 — Whether appeal lies from order under r 95 No appeal lies from an order under r 95 of O XXI of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908. Haji Abdul Gani v Raja Ram 1 Pat L J 232

O XXI, r 95 and s 47—Pent decree against tenants obtained by co-sharer landlords—Partition proceedings in which tenant's holding falls into share of some of the landlords—Suit by lotter against tenant for possession whether maintainable—Limitation—Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act (Beng of 1908) ss 139 and 231—Whether s 139 is retrospective—Suit for recovery of possession from tenants whose holding has been sold whether it is a suit for ejectment Certain co-sharer landlords in a mouza obtained in a rent decree in respect of a holding in the mouza but did not apply for possession. As a result of partition proceedings the holding in suit fell to the share of some of the landlords. Held that a suit by the latter against the tenants to recover possession was not barred by s. 47 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908. S 139 of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act 1908 is not retrospective

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—concld

O XXI r 95 and s 47—concld

and therefore where a rent decree was obtained against certain tenants in Manbhumi prior to the 22nd November 1909 on which date the Act was extended to that district a suit by the decree holders against the judgment debtors for recovery of possession was held not to be barred by ss 139 and 231 merely by reason of it not having been brought in the Court of the Deputy Commissioner within one year from the date when the cause of action accrued. S 139 (4) does not include a suit to recover possession from tenants whose holding has been sold in execution of a decree inasmuch as such a suit is not a suit to eject a tenant or cancel a lease and the tenants cease to be tenants at the time their holding is sold and their rights in the holding pass to the purchaser. Per Junia P. ad J. In the case of a decree awarding rent or money no title to any property is created by the decree but if the decree holder purchases property in execution of a rent decree he is entitled either to apply for delivery of possession under O XXI r 95 or to institute a suit for recovery of possession. Where however title to property and the right to recover possession are declared by the decree and the decree itself directs delivery of possession the procedure for the decree holder to obtain possession is by execution of the decree and not by suit. SARDAR SIRDHAR v JAGESHWAR SINGH MAHA PATRA 4 Pat L J 716

O XXI rr 95 98—

See O XXI r 30 I L R 38 All 181

Court sale—Symbolical possession—Judgment debtor in actual possession—Idersee possession—Limitation In execution of a decree in a suit of 1890 the plaintiff purchased the plaintiff property at a Court sale and a receipt for possession was given by the plaintiff to the bailiff on the 3rd July 1901. The defendants, judgment debtors who had been previously in possession of the property were however not disturbed in their possession at the date of the receipt. The plaintiff having sued to recover possession on the 3rd July 1913. Held that the plaintiff was not entitled to succeed as the provisions of O XXI r 95 Civil Procedure Code 1908 under which the case fell were not complied with a formal receipt for possession would not help the plaintiff to dispossess the defendants. Padma Kriha v Ram Bahadur O Bom I R 507 discontinued. SHRIDHAR MA DHARVAO v GANPATI LUNGA (1913)

I L R 43 Bom 559

O XXI r 96 (1882 Code s 319)—

See O XXI r 30 I L R 36 All 181

O XXI, r 97 (1882 Code s 328)—

See FAILURE I L R 42 Calc 313

O XXI rr 97 and 99—

S s Pos s 104 I L R 47 Calc. 907

O XXI rr 97 to 103 (1882 Code s 325)—Effect of order under 99 in favour of a party in possession—Suit by judgment debtor for order to make a mutation—Indian Limitation Act IX of 1908 articles 11 and 151 The person in suit brought to sue B. L. who died in 1903 leaving a widow. Prasanna Lal who on 24th March 1913 obtained a decree on 22nd September 1904. Prasanna Lal died on 5th March

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—confu

O XXI re 91 and 94--cont'd have his name entered in the landlords books as transferee of the tenants interst. BAKUNTA

MISSIRI KAPINDA SUNDARI DEVI

1 Fat L J 45b

0 XXI, r 93 (1882 Cod s 315)~

See O VVI P 21 25 C W N 668

See EXECUTION SALE

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 12

I L P 38 Md 837

Civil Procedure Code (Act VII of 1855) as 313 315—Auctioneer under the Code 1882—Sale of property in which judgment-debtor had no salable interest—Right of purchaser to refund of purchase money—Suit for application—Suit for possession—Cause of action—Right of suit accrued before new Code—Effect of new Code on such right—General Clauses Act (Act V of 1901) s. 6 (c) and (e)—Repealing a statute in whole or in part Where the plaintiff who purchased some land in court auction in 1900 brought a suit to recover possession thereof in 1902 and failed in suit in 1903 and in the Second Appeal thereon in 1911 on the ground that the judgment was not valid as the plaintiff had no saleable interest in the property he subsequently instituted a suit in 1914 for the recovery of the purchase money from the debtor and the latter contended that the suit was not maintainable Held that the suit was maintainable notwithstanding the provisions of O XXI of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) as the plaintiff had a right of suit under the old Civil Procedure Code (Act VII of 1855) and such right accrued to him while such Code was in force and could not be affected by the provisions of the new Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) as the provisions of s. 6 (c) and (e) of the General Clauses Act (Act V of 1901) as the right of the plaintiff to make an application under O XXI of 1908 would have been barred before the new Code came into force the new Code should not be construed as to apply to the present case

Abraham v. Mahomed Musa Lethi v. J. A. 437 Purnitha Ammal v. Govindaray I R 39 Mad 403 followed Pu Kempa Krau v. Vinayal Gangahar I at 1 L J 79 dismissed from Colonial S. G. P. J. Panj v. Iruig (1900) 4 C 63 appld. Minister for Lands [1895] 4 C 111 reversed Goj v. huar Pol v. S. v. Chantia I L J 41 Cal 117 followed. The State v. Naray v. Subramanian Chettiar I L R 40 Mad 1009

2
of occupancy holding erected in execution of a lord's decree to recover purchase money of waivable
The plaintiff purchased an occupancy hold ing in execution of a decree obtained by the mort gagee of the property and took possession of it. He was sued in ejectment by the landlords in whose favour a decree was subsequently made. The plaintiff sued to recover the purchase money with interest. Held that under the present Code of Civil Procedure the suit was incompetent. S. 44
Manniyad v. Jattu Manniyad (1911) 42 C. B. L. 60

03- 4 7 6

0 XI in θ_1 and θ_2 -con f

[illegible]

I L R 43 AM 60

O XXI, r 82, (1852 Code s 312)

See CO I L R 40 AN 690

Dec 8 144 2 Pat L J 206

See O 111 r 87

I L R 45 Bom 1094

I L R 40 AN 425

17 C W N 476

See O VLI p 23 AND 24

4 Pat L J 645

See BOMBAY HIGH COURT CIVIL CIRCULAR
1 106, N 1st I L R 45 Bom 1132

See MADRAS ESTATES ACT 1904 s. 111
118 I L R 43 Mad 351

0 XXI ff 92 93—Erection of

O XXI rr 92 93—Execution of decree—Auction proceeds deposited of property purchased—Suit for refund of purchase money—Sale not set aside—Procedure Held that under the present Code of Civil Procedure an auction purchaser who has been deprived by means of a suit against the judgment debtor of the property purchased by him cannot obtain a refund of the purchase money without getting the auction sale set aside. Munna Singh v. Gajadhar Singh
I L R 5 All 57; di tanguel hi Muhammad
Yahid ul'ah v. Jai Narain I L R 36 All 509
Shanto Chandra Mulwari v. Yarn Sekh I F R
23 All 355 and Dorab Jy Alia v. Abdul Aziz
L P S I 116 referred to. KARVILAL v.
Bhimvel Das (1915) I L R 39 All 114

— O XVI, rr 92 and 94—Sale certificate application for duty of court to grant The provisions of r 94 of O XVI of the Code of Civil Procedure are mandatory Where the mortgagee of a tenant's interest in a house purchased such interest in execution of a decree under the mortgage held that the court was bound to grant the purchaser a sale certificate and was not justified in requiring him to produce a money order receipt for the purpose of showing that he (the purchaser) had paid a mutation fee to the landlord in order to

O XVI ff 92 and 94—Sale certificate application for duty of court to grant The provisions of r 94 of O 41 of the Code of Civil Procedure are mandatory. Where the mortgagee of a tenant's interest in a house purchased such interest in execution of a decree under the mortgage held that the court was bound to grant the purchaser a sale certificate and was not justified in requiring him to produce a money order receipt for the purpose of showing that he (the purchaser) had paid a mutation fee to the landlord in order to

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—concld

O XXI r 94 (1882 Code s 316)—

See EXECUTION SALE.

I L R 43 Mad 309

The person who is declared to be the purchaser after the bids are concluded is the person in whose name the certificate is to be granted under O XXI r 94 Civil Procedure Code. BABURAM MANDAL r DOKHNA SUNDARI NAMASUDRANI 24 C W N 27

O XXI, r 95 (1882 Code s 318)—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 43 All 520

1 — Execution sale—Purchase by decree holder—Delivery of possession—Order whether appealable—S 47 Civil Procedure Code whether applicable Where on a decree holder auction purchaser applying for delivery of possession of the properties purchased and obtaining possession by order of Court notwithstanding the objection by the judgment debtor that the properties did not pass by the sale the judgment debtor preferred an appeal. Held on a review of the authorities of all the Indian High Courts (which are conflicting) that the Patna High Court should not without very good reason depart from a long course of decisions in the Calcutta High Court where the balance of opinion has been since 1883 strongly in favour of the view that an appeal does not lie. ABDUL QASIM r RAJA RANI (1016) 20 C W N 829

2 — Execution of decree—Transferee from auction purchaser—Order for delivery of possession—Appeal—Reversion A purchased certain immovable property at an auction sale held in execution of a decree and thereafter transferred the property so purchased to B the decree holder D applied under O XXI r 95 of the Code of Civil Procedure for an order for delivery of possession of the property purchased from A and an order was passed. Held that no appeal lay from the order for delivery of possession. BHAGWATI v BUNWARI Lal I L R 31 All 87 referred to BUDDHIV MISIN v BHADRAITHI KUNWAR (1917) I L R 40 All 216

3 — Whether appeal lies from order under r 95 No appeal lies from an order under r 95 of O XXI of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 HAJI ABDUL QASIM r PAKA PAM I Pat L J 232

O XXI, r 95 and s 47—Pent decree against tenants obtained by co-sharer land owner—Partition proceedings in which tenants holding falls into share of some of the landlords—Suit by latter against tenant for possession whether maintainable—Limitation—Choti Vajpur Tenancy Act (Beng of 1908) ss 139 and 31—Whether s 139 is retrospective—Suit for recovery of possession from tenants whose holding has been sold whether is a suit for ejectment Certain co-sharer landlords in a partition obtained a rent decree in respect of a holding, in the partition but did not apply for possession. As a result of partition proceedings the holding in suit fell to the share of some of the landlords. Held that a suit by the latter against the tenants to recover possession was not barred by s 47 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908. S 139 of the Choti Vajpur Tenancy Act, 1908 is not retrospective

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—concld

O XXI r 95 and s 47—concld

and therefore where a rent decree was obtained against certain tenants in Manbhum prior to the 22nd November 1900 on which date the Act was extended to that district a suit by the decree holders against the judgment debtors for recovery of possession was held not to be barred by ss 139 and 231 merely by reason of it not having been brought in the Court of the Deputy Commissioner within one year from the date when the cause of action accrued. S 139 (4) does not include a suit to recover possession from tenants whose holding has been sold in execution of a decree inasmuch as such a suit is not a suit to eject a tenant or cancel a lease and the tenants can only be tenants at the time their holding is sold and their rights in the holding pass to the purchaser. Per JUDGE PRADIP J. In the case of a decree awarding rent or money no title to any property is created by the decree but if the decree holder purchases property in execution of a rent decree he is entitled either to apply for delivery of possession under O XXI r 95 or to institute a suit for recovery of possession. Where however title to property and the right to recover possession are declared by the decree and the decree itself directs delivery of possession the procedure for the decree holder to obtain possession is by execution of the decree and not by suit. SARDAR SIDDHAR r JAGESHWAR SINGH MANA PATRA 4 Pat L J 718

O XXI r 95 86—

See O XXI r 35 I L R 36 All 161

Court sale—Symbolical possession—Judgment debtor in actual possession—Idem possession—Limitation In execution of a decree in a suit of 1890 the plaintiff purchased the plaint property at a Court sale and a receipt for possession was given by the plaintiff to the bailiff on the 3rd July 1901. The defendant judgment debtors who had been previously in possession of the property were however not disturbed in their possession at the date of the receipt. The plaintiff having sued to recover possession on the 3rd July 1903. Held that the plaintiff was not entitled to succeed as the provisions of O XXI r 95 Civil Procedure Code 1908 under which the case fell were not complied with a formal receipt for possession would not help the plaintiff to dispossess the defendant. PITHA KRISHNA v RAM BAHADUR O Boma I R 507 distinguished SHRIDHAR MA DHARAO r GANPATI LUNJA (1918)

I L R 43 Bom 59

O XXI, r 98 (1882 Code s 319)—

See O XXI r 35 I L R 36 All 161

O XXI r 97 (1882 Code s 328)—

See BAILEY I L R 42 Cal 313

O XXI r 97 and 99—

See POKHON I L R 47 Cal 207

O XXI, r 97 to 103, (1882 Code s 335)—Effect of order under r 97 in favour of a party in possession—Suit by party against whom order is made—Limitation—Limitation Act IX of 1908 and s 151 The plaintiff who died in 1901 leaving a widow who on 1st July 1901 it to the defendant On 1st July 1901 it to the defendant On 1st July 1901 it to the defendant

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—concld

O XXI, rr 97 to 103 (1882 Code 335)—concld

1905 M M plaintiff as daughter & son of B L sued for possession of the property making K. N the adopted son of R M the sole defendant Mussamat Ambo was the widow of R M. The claim was decreed by the Chief Court on 7th July 1900 subject to payment of Rs 1400 for improvements to Mussamat Ambo. M M tried in execution of this decree to get possession of the property decreed to him but was obstructed by Mussamat Ambo who alleged that she was in possession in her own right under a will by her husband, R M. The decree holder complained of the obstruction and Mussamat Ambo also applied to the Executing Court which found under O XXI r 99 Civil Procedure Code that Mussamat Ambo was in possession of the property on her own account and was claiming in good faith. That order was passed on the 18th June 1909. The Court definitely refrained from going into the question of title. On 20th October 1909 M M applied to the Chief Court for revision but that application was rejected on 2nd April 1911 on the ground that he had another remedy available to him by suit under O XXI r 103. On the 2nd March 1914 M M filed the present suit. Held that the effect of the order of 18th June 1909 under O XXI r 99 Civil Procedure Code was to hold Mussamat Ambo entitled to possession as against the decree holder unless and until a regular suit was brought against her title r 103 and the plaintiff had to establish by that suit his own right to present possession as well as his own title and he could not succeed merely by showing that the finding under r 99 was erroneous. Sardari Lal v Ambika Pershad (1 I L R 15 Cal 521) (P C) and Khub Lal v Ram Lochan (1 I L R 17 Cal 260 262) referred to. Sarat Chandra v Tarini Prasad (1 I L R 31 Cal 491) Raghunath Jha v Brijnanda Singh (31 Indian Cases 441) and Bhagwan v Goman (42 P P 1909) distinguished. Held also that the present suit for possession of the property against Mussamat Ambo having been brought more than a year after the date of the order under r 99 was barred by time under article 11 A of the Limitation Act and was not governed by art 141. Mahadev Ram v Bibi Chinnaji (1 I L R 26 Bom 730) Bhimappa v Irappa (1 I L R 26 Bom 146) Shagun Chand v Shikhi (8 All I R 626) and Chara Prasad v Aand Ashore (70 Indian Cases 369) referred to. Chail Behari Lal v Kishor Nath 1 I L R 1 Lah 57

A fresh writ for possession can in certain cases be obtained even outside the period of the Limitation Act without making an application under order O XXI r 97 within the period. Raochunabhai Prasad Missra v Ram Charan Mahtia 4 Pat L J 95

O XXI rr 98 99 101—Scope of suit under r 103. The scope of a suit under r 103 of O XXI Civil Procedure Code, filed to contest an order made under either r 98 or r 99 or r 101 is not the determination of the mere question of possession of the parties concerned but the establishment of the right or title by which the plaintiff claims the present possession of the property. Nadadwipendra Mookenjee v Madhu Sudan Mandal (1912) 16 I C 41 (Cal) followed. Umay Mohide v Pocker (1911) 1 I L R 44 Mad 227

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—concld

O XXI rr 98 to 103—Art 11A of the Limitation Act will only apply to an order under rr 98 to 103 which has been made upon investigation. Sreemati Nirode Barani Dasi v Manindra Narayan Chandra

21 C W N 853

O XXI r 99 (1882 Code s 331 335)—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXI rr 68 63 99—Claim dismissed for non prosecution—Obstruction by claimant to taking of possession by purchaser—Court is bound to investigate into bona fides of claim. Where a claim preferred under O XXI r 58 to immovable property attached in execution of a money decree was dismissed for non prosecution and the property was sold but the purchaser on proceeding to take possession was obstructed by the claimant. Held that the only remedy of the claimant after his claim was dismissed under O XXI r 63 though for default was by a fresh suit and he could not ask the Court to hold an investigation of the claim under O XXI r 99. Jugal Kishore Marwari v Anurika Devi (1912)

16 C W N 882

O XXI rr 100 and 101 (1882 s 332)—Judgment debtor—Meaning of. The words judgment debtor in O XXI r 100 and 101 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 include the representative of the judgment debtor and all persons who are bound by a decree against the judgment debtor and by a sale in execution of such decree. A person who has purchased a portion of a holding prior to the institution of a suit for rent under s 148A of the Bengal Tenancy Act 1885 is so far as his interest is concerned bound by a decree obtained under that section and by a sale in execution of such decree. Such a purchaser is not entitled to make an application under O XXI, rr 100 and 101. Bhakra Jha v Brij Bhari Sikra 2 Pat L J 478

O XXI rr 100 and 101—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) art 11. Where an application under O XXI r 100 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 has been dismissed for default a suit under r 103 is governed by art 11 of the Limitation Act 1908. Sattid Raziuddin Hussain v Bindebri Prasad Sinha 5 Pat L J 852

O XXI rr 100 101 and 103 (1882 Code 332)—Application made under r 100—Order dismissing the application under r 101—Whether such an order is an order made under r 101 within the meaning of those words in R 103—Conclusive nature of the order. An order made against an applicant refusing him relief under r 101 of O XXI of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 is as much an order under that rule as an order granting him relief would be and the order would be conclusive under r 103 subject to the result of a separate suit. Zitru v Hari Sridusket (1917)

1 I L R 42 Bom 10

O XXI, r 101 (1882 Code 332)—

See O XXI r 98

1 I L R 44 Mad 22

See O XXI r 100 2 Pat L J 478

Joint possession with judgment-debtor if possession in one's own interest—Scope of section. A claimant who has an interest in the land of which possession has been deli

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXI r 101 (1882 Code s 332)

—concld

vered in execution of a decree either as a member of the family of the judgment debtor or otherwise and who is affected by the delivery of possession is a person who is in possession in respect of his own interest though jointly with the judgment debtor and he can claim to be in possession of the property on his own account within the meaning of r 101 O XXI of the Civil Procedure Code RADHA GOBINDA MISRA v RAGHU NATH MISRA (1913) 18 C W N 695

O XXI r 103 (1882 Code s 332)—

See O VI r 17 I L R 44 Bom 515

See O XXI r 97 I L R 1 Lah 57

See O XXI r 100

I L R 42 Bom 10

O XXI r 103 and O XXXIV r 1—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) ss 52 and 91 cl (f)—Las pendens—Sale in execution of a money decree pending a suit on mortgage of the property sold—Possession obtained by purchaser—Sale in execution of mortgage decree—Right of the latter purchaser to oust the former from possession—Order as to possession—Appeal—Suit Where lands were attached in execution of a money decree and afterwards a suit for sale on a mortgage of the same lands was filed but the attaching creditor was not made a party thereto the purchaser of the lands in execution of the money decree is not entitled to retain possession of them as against the subsequent purchaser in execution of the mortgage decree. Where claim proceedings under O XXI Civil Procedure Code fall also under a 47 of the Code O XXI r 103 does not prevent an appeal against an order thereon as it falls under 47 of the Code VETTYDRAMUTHU PILLAI v MAYA NADAN (1920)

I L R 43 Mad 696

O XXII (1882 Code 361 to 372)—

See PARTIES I L R 45 Calc 862

O XXII r 1 (1882 Code s 361)—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881) s 89—

Personal injuries not causing the death of the party—meaning of—Suit for malicious prosecution—Death of defendant more than a year after prosecution—Whether right to sue survives Where in a suit for malicious prosecution the defendant dies more than a year after the prosecution in question and before judgment is given in the suit the right to sue does not survive within the meaning of O XXII r 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The expression personal injuries not causing the death of the party in s 89 of the Probate and Administration Act does not mean injuries to the body merely but all injuries which do not necessarily cause damage to the estate of the person wronged. Punjab Singh v Ramaiyar Singh (1919) 4 Patna L J 66 followed Krishna Behari Sen v The Corporation of Calcutta (1904) I L R 31 Calc 993 dt cited from The Legal Practitioners' Suits Act (XII of 1850) makes no provision for the continuation of suits already begun by the wronged against the wrong-doer in the event of the death of either party. Haris Paldas v Pambdas Mathuradas (1889) I L R 13 Bom 66 and Ramchode Doss v Pulkarni Bhai (1905) I L R 32 Mad 43 followed. RAMESH CHANDRAJI v NURSE (1911) I L R 44 Mad. (F B), 357

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1909)

—contd

O XXII rr 2 and 4—

See SUBSTITUTION OF HEIRS

25 C W N 595

O XXII r 3 (1882 Code 363)—

See O XXII r 2

I L R 44 Bom 767

Death of appellant—application by some of the legal representatives under belief that they are the sole heirs—Arbitration—award—not signed by all arbitrators at the same time and place—whether valid The plaintiffs end defendant in this case referred their dispute in respect of a contract to arbitration. The arbitrators gave their award and plaintiffs applied to have it filed in Court. The Lower Court rejected the application saying It is I think quite clear that Ali Ahmad arbitrator did not sign the award on the same date or at the same place as Ham Din and this is in itself sufficient to invalidate the award. The plaintiffs appealed to the High Court. At the hearing it was objected that appeal had abated as the appellant had died and only his sons and not his daughters and the widow had been brought on the record as his legal representatives although the latter were also his heirs by Muhammadan law. For the appellants it was urged that the parties were governed by custom and they therefore bona fide believed that the sons were the sole heirs and legal representatives of their father. Held that as the applicants (present appellants) bona fide believed that they were the sole heirs and legal representatives of the deceased appellant and had made their application for substitution on that belief the appeal did not abate notwithstanding that by Muhammadan Law other persons would also be co heirs of the deceased. Musala Peddi v Ramayya (I L R 23 Mad 125) followed. Ghumandi Lal v Amir Begum (I L R 16 All 211) and Haider Hussain v Abdul Hadd (I L R 30 All 115) referred to. Held also that an award cannot be invalidated at least in this country simply on the ground that it had not been signed on the same day and at the same place by both the arbitrators. The concurrence of the arbitrators in the judicial act and the signing is merely ministerial. All that is necessary is that there must be combined action of the arbitrators and judicial exercise of their minds upon the matter to be decided. Bazerji's Law of Arbitration in India second edition pages 230 and 231. Bhabarundari Doss v Mathur Lal Dey (8 Beng L R 123) Mathurkutti v Jayalan v Acha Nayalan (I L R 18 Mad 9) and in re Hopper (Q B 361) approved. Tharmaraju v Boyaraju (I L R 12 Mad 115) and Vaid Pcm v Fakir Choud (I L R 7 All 593) distinguished. Bhagwan Das v Shiv Dal (97 P P 1913) not followed. ABDUL FAKMAN v SHAHAB UD DIN

I L R 1 Lah 481

O XXII, rr 3 and 5—Death of plaintiff—Order made to bring the legal representatives on record—Suit sequi nt applicat on by other persons to alter the order—Power of the Court to correct the order A suit was filed by five persons one of whom P died while the suit was pending. Thereupon an application was made on behalf of the minor G son of the 1st plaintiff that he should be brought on the record as heir and legal representative of the deceased P relying upon an alleged adoption of G to P. The Subordinate

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXII rr 3 and 5—contd

Judge granted the application and amended the record by substituting G's name for that of R. Subsequently the petitioners (minor daughters of R) having learnt of the application applied that G's name should be deleted and that their names should be brought upon the record in his place and G's adoption to R was fictitious. The Subordinate Judge held that he could not alter his previous order in view of r 3 of O XXII Civil Procedure Code 1908. Held that under r 5 of O XXII Civil Procedure Code 1908 the Subordinate Judge had the power to correct the order previously made and to determine who were the real legal representatives of the deceased plaintiff. VATSALABAI SANEHAI PANDURAO (1918)

I L R 43 Bom 168

O XXII rr 3 & 5—Order dismissing application to be brought on the record as representative of the deceased plaintiff—whether appealable—O XXII r 3—order of abatement of suit—whether a decree and whether a person not a party to the suit can appeal—O XXII r 9—whether applicable when abatement is not due to application not having been made within time. Ram Kanwar brought a suit against Narsing Das. While the suit was pending Ram Kanwar died and the present appellant Pam Sarup made an application to be brought on the record as being the legal representative of the deceased plaintiff. The Court finding that the applicant was not the legal representative dismissed his application. The Court also passed separate order under O XXII r 3 recording that the suit had abated inasmuch as no application by any legal representative had been made within six months of plaintiff's death. Ram Sarup next applied to have this Order of abatement set aside but his application was dismissed under O XXII r 9. Ram Sarup then appealed to the High Court against all three orders. Held that the present Civil Procedure Code provides no appeal from an order dismissing the application of a person to be brought on the record as the legal representative of a deceased plaintiff (vide O XXII r 5) and that such an order is not a decree. Palkavi Pathamma (1913 Mad W A 673) Dalabai v Ganesh (I L R 27 Bom 162) and Parasram Rao v Janki Bai (I L R 28 All 109) followed. Held also that an order of abatement of the suit amounts to a decree but that appellant in this case not being a party to the suit has no status to appeal therefrom. Dalabai v Ganesh (I L R 27 Bom 162) and Narayan Nath v Af of Hu an (123 P R 1916) (F B) referred to. Held further that an order under O XXII r 9 can only be set aside in cases in which an abatement takes place by reason of an application not having been made within the time permitted by law to replace the legal representative of the deceased plaintiff and has no applicability to cases in which the suit has abated on account of some other cause as in the present case. Although therefore an appeal is allowed from an order under r 9 (vide O XXII (b) (k)) this rule has no application to this circumstance of the present case and the appeal must be dismissed on this ground alone. Narayan Nath v Af of Hu an (123 P R 1916) (F B) followed. PANAPUR v MORTILAM I L R 1 Lah 493

O XXII, rr 3 and 5—

O XXII, rr 3 and 5

L R 35 All 331

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXII r 4 (1882 Code s 368)—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 ART 44 ANN 144 I L R 43 Mad 842

See MUHAMMADAN LAW WILL

I L R 42 All 497

See ABATEMENT I L R 1 Lah 225

1 ——— Partnership—Suit for dissolution—Death of defendant after preliminary decree—Application for substitution—Limitation. In a suit for dissolution of partnership after the preliminary decree was passed one of the defendants died. Some two years after his death the plaintiff applied for substitution of the name of the heir of the deceased defendant and asked the Court to proceed with the suit. Held that in the circumstances O XXII r 4 of the Code of Civil Procedure applied and the application was too late. Jamnadai Chhabildas v Sorabji Kharsedy I L R 16 Bom 27 followed. MOTILAL v RAM NARAYAN (1917) I L R 39 All 551

2 ——— Abatement of suit—Death of plaintiff respondent after decree in her favour and pending an appeal—Application in appeal to declare the suit to have abated. An appellate Court has no power under O XXII r 4 of the Code of Civil Procedure to declare that a suit as distinct from an appeal has abated in a case in which there has been a decree already made before the death in consequence of which the suit is alleged to have abated took place. SUNAR PANDI v MUSAMMAT KUMARI (1918) I L R 41 All 293

3 ——— B obtained a preliminary decree against T in a mortgage suit and applied subsequently more than 6 months after the death of T for an order absolute and substitution of the heirs of T and preferred an appeal on refusal. This was dismissed and a second appeal was preferred. Held that the appeal to the Lower Appellate Court was not an appeal from an order. The original order was an order rejecting the application to make the mortgage decree absolute and had the effect of finally dismissing the mortgage suit and was a decree and therefore a second appeal lay. Held further that the suit had abated as the application had not been made within 6 months of the death. An application following on a preliminary decree for sale is not an application for execution. Until the final decree is passed the proceedings following the preliminary decree in a mortgage suit must be looked on as a proceeding in a pending suit. BUDDHATH JANA v TARA CHAND JANA [25 C W N 597]

4 ——— In a suit for dissolution of partnership after the preliminary decree was passed one of the defendants died. Some 2 years later plaintiff applied for substitution of the name of the heir of the deceased defendant. Held that O XXII r 4 applied and the application was too late. I L R 39 All 551

O XXII rr 4 & 6 and 9—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.

4 Ps' L J 240

O XXII, r 4 and O XXI, rr 20 and 23—Suit by several plaintiffs joint v for recovery of possession—Joint decree in their favour—Death of one pending Defendant's appeal—Failure to bring his representatives on the record—Defect of parties

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXII r 4 (1908 Code s 461)
33—concl'd

due to abatement of appeal against same—Appeal if may proceed—Court's power to add party ex motu—Common manager if may represent parties in suits—Bengal Tenancy Act (I of 1885) s 95 The Plaintiffs jointly sued for a declaration that certain lands attached under s 145 Criminal Procedure Code in a proceeding under a 145 Criminal Procedure Code were included within their estate and obtained a decree in the trial Court. The Defendants appealed but on the death of one of the Plaintiffs pending the appeal leaving three sons and two grandsons by a predeceased son as he heirs the Appellants more than six months after his death got his sons only substituted in his place on a false representation that the deceased had died within six months. At the hearing of the appeal they tried to bring the deceased's grandsons also on the record but failed to make out sufficient cause for their substitution after time and on the Respondents' objection the order substituting the deceased's sons was vacated. Held that though under O XXII r 4 Civil Procedure Code the appeal abated as against the heirs of the deceased Plaintiff only the result of such abatement was that the appeal was imperfectly constituted and in the absence of necessary parties the Court could not proceed to decide the appeal on the merits. Bejoy Gopal v Umesh Chandra 6 C W N 196 (1901) Tariq v Khatyannessa 10 C W N 981 (1906) Dharanjy v Chandeshwar 11 C W N 504 (1907) Basir v Faiz 19 C W N 990 (1914) Almuddin v Tara Sanhor 23 C L J 901 (1918) Sivaram v Hriday 29 C L J 461 (1917) Chundarsing v Khimabai 1 L R 22 Bom 718 (1897) and Upendra Nath v Sham Lal 1 L P 34 Cal 100 (1907) referred to. That assuming that the Court had power under O XLI r 20 and 33 to add the representatives of the deceased Plaintiff as parties to the appeal this was not a case in which the power should be exercised. Upendra v Girindra 1 L R 25 Cal 565 (1898) Hudson v Basdeo 1 L R 26 Cal 109 s c 3 C W N 76 (1893) and Ruppaia v Abdul 1 L R 31 Cal 613 s c 3 C W N 496 (F B) (1904) referred to. Quare Whether the decisions in Siba Sundari v Ray Mohun 8 C W N 214 (1903) and Karibai Das v Umesh Chandra 14 C L J 67 (1911) did not take an unduly comprehensive view of the powers of the common manager. KALI DAYAL BHATTACHARJEE v NAGENDRA NATH PAKRASHI 24 C W N 44

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXII r 6 (1882 Code s 461)—concl'd

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

4 Pat L J 240
O XXII, r 7 (1882 Code ss 369 and 462)—Compromise by guardian of a minor without leave of the Court followed by a decree—whether such decree is a nullity or only voidable—Limitation for a suit to set aside such a decree—Indian Limitation Act IX of 1908 Arts 44 91 95 100 Held that if a compromise is entered into by a guardian on behalf of a minor without the leave of the Court and a decree is passed in accordance with the terms of the compromise such a decree is not a nullity but is voidable at the instance of the minor. Virupalschappa v Shidappa (1 L P 96 Bom 109) Ganesha v Mal Chand (95 P R 191 F B) and Muhammad Ibrahim v Allah Bokh h (145 P R 1919) followed. Hanuman Prasad v Muhammad Ishaq (1 L P 28 All 137) and Parlob Singh v Bhabuti Singh (1 L P 35 All 48; P C) distinguished. Held also that a suit by the minor to set aside such a decree is governed by art 10 of the Limitation Act. JITA SINGH v MAN SINGH

I L P 2 Lah 164

O XXII r 8—typical—Insolvency of one appellant and death of the other—Abatement of appeal—Substitution of names—Limitation Of two appellants in a civil appeal one died and the other became an insolvent. Neither the representatives of the deceased appellant nor the official assignee applied within the time limited by the Court for substitution in place of the deceased appellant nor did the insolvent himself who was said to have compounded with his creditors apply. The defendant on the other hand asked for the dismissal of the suit. Held that there being no limitation provided for the Official Assignee to appear and apply for the restoration of his name on the record after the adjournment is annulled until an order is obtained under O XXI r 8 of the Code of 1908 Procedure the proceedings cannot abate and must be deemed to continue. KHURRAM LAL v JAGDESHWAR

I L R 43 All 621

O XXII, r 9 (1882 Code ss 371 and 372)—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

4 Pat L J 240

See LIMITATION ACT 1908

I L R 36 All 235

Abatement of appeal—Application for substitution presented after time—Act No IX of 1908 (Indian Limitation Act) s 5 Whether or not a formal order to that effect is passed, a suit or appeal abates automatically when no application is made within time to bring upon the record the representative of a deceased plaintiff or appellant. If no formal order has been made an application for substitution must be considered as an application under O XXII r 9 (?) of the Code of Civil Procedure. Under the rule above mentioned a court is competent to decide whether in the circumstances of the case there is reason for allowing the application although presented beyond time without being confined to the circumstances given in s 6 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908. LACHMI NARAYAN v MUHAMMAD YUSUF I L R 42 All 549

O XXII r 4 and 9—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 5

I L R 36 All 235

O XXII r 5 (1882 Code s 367)—

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION

I L R 42 Bom 535

See s 115

I L R 42 Mad 76

O XXII, r 5 and 6—

See O XXII r 3

I L R 1 Lah 493

O XXII, r 6 (1882 Code s 461)—

See DEFENDANT DEATH OF

I L R 33 Mad 682

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd—

O XXII r 10 (1882 Code s 372)~

See O 1 n 10

2 Pat L J 199

See O N I R 16 6 Pat L J 358

6 Pat L J 358

See PARTIES I L R 40 Calc 328

I L R 40 Calc 328

1. ----- Assignee's application to be substituted for plaintiff and to add plaintiff's son as defendant.—Ex parte order upon unknown petition.—Ex parte order if may be recalled —Voice to parties interested necessity of A judicial order which may possibly affect or prejudice any party cannot be finally made unless he has been afforded an opportunity to be heard. When a person alleging to be the assignee of the interests of the plaintiff applied to be substituted in his place and prayed that the plaintiff and his son who was no party to the suit be made defendants and the Court made the order as prayed ex parte and without notice to the plaintiff Held that all orders of this character made ex parte are subject to the implication that they may be revoked at the instance of any party prejudicially effected thereby and the Court has inherent power to give such directions as the justice of the case may require That it was incumbent on the Court to reconsider the order in so far as it directed the substitution of the applicant in the place of the plaintiff when the latter preferred objections to the order That the addition of the plaintiff's son who was no party to the suit (though he himself had consented to be so added) could not be made without hearing the defendant as the applicant appeared by that means to be really seeking a relief not included in the plaint as originally framed. Sembli Applications of this character should be supported by an affidavit. ASANT
BRAN v F I. CARISTIAN (1912)

17 C W N 86

2. Lease forfeiture of insolvent of a defendant—Vesting of his estate and effects in the Official Assignee—Refusal of Official Assignee to defend the suit—Inability of defendant to defend independently of the Official Assignee—Practice In a suit by the lessor against the lessee for forfeiture of a lease by reason of breaches of covenant no cause of action survives against a defendant who has become insolvent and whose estate has vested in the Official Assignee. If in such a case the Official Assignee refuses to defend a suit affecting the estate of the insolvent the latter cannot defend independently of the Official Assignee. TRIBHUVAN DAS V. MOTIDAS & ABDULLAH HAKIMI (1914)

I L R 39 Hom 568

3 Preliminary decree—Sale of mortgaged property—Right of purchaser to be made a party to the suit. A preliminary decree for redemption of a usufructuary mortgage was passed in 1908 but there was an appeal and the decree of the High Court which confirmed the decree of the Court below was passed in 1910 and the time for payment of the mortgage money was extended. After the time fixed for payment had expired but before the final decree was passed the mortgagor sold the mortgaged property to the purchaser for a sum sufficient to discharge the mortgage. Held that the suit was still pending at the time of the sale and the purchaser was not a party to the suit and the sale was voidable at the instance of the mortgagee.

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—cond

O XXII r 10 (1882 Code s 372)

~~—could~~

Ganguli: 9 C W N 171 referred to MURHAM
NED MASIH ULLAH & JARAO Bai (1915)

I L R 37 AB 226

4 ----- Whether 10 in cludes leases granted pendente lite—addition of lessees pendente lite to the proceedings. The language of r 10 of O XII of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 is sufficiently wide to cover the case of leases granted by defendants during the pendency of a case. Where the defendants during the pendency of the litigation had leased several mires mines included in the property in suit for a period of 20 years to one person and for a shorter period to another person held that interests were created in the property in suit within the meaning of r 10 of O XII in favour of the lessees and that the plaintiffs were entitled to have the leases added as parties to proceedings taken to ascertain the mesne profits due to the plaintiffs under the decree in the suit and to compel the lessees to account for any profits which they had received from the land. RAM KUMAR LAL BHAGAT v. RAJA MAKUND SARI 1 Pat L J 536

1 Pat L J 596

O XXII rr 10 and 13—

See 8-47

4 Pat L J 168

0 XXII r 11 (1882 Code s 552)---

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 Art 182

90S Art 162

0 XXII r 12—

See 0 3

4 25 C W N 585

Q. XVIII c. 3 (1882 Code s. 373)—

Sec 9 115

I L R 44 Cal 454

1 R J

See CONTRACT ACT IV. OF 1872 SS 131
137 I L R 38 Bom 52

I L R 38 Rom 52

See JURISDICTION (MEANING OF)

I L R 48 Calc 138

See LETTERS PATENT 1865 CL 15

I L R 45 Bom 377

See LIMITATION I L R 46 Calc 168

See PROBATE 2 Pat. L. J. 535

See WITHDRAWAL OF SEPT

3 Pat L J 651

Withdrawal without per mission—Suit for ejectment—Insufficiency of notice to quit—Withdrawal of the suit without permission of the Court—Fresh suit after proper notice—Whether the previous suit a suit for the same subject matter—Res Judicata—Subject matter meaning of a suit was brought by the plaintiff to eject the defendant. Finding however that there was no sufficient notice to quit he withdrew the suit without obtaining the leave of the Court. Subsequently the plaintiff having given a formal notice to quit brought a fresh suit for ejectment. The defendant contended that the withdrawal of the former suit without permission operated as a bar to the second suit under O. XIII r 1 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908. Held that the withdrawal did not operate as a bar as the previous suit was not a suit for the same subject matter as the second suit within the meaning of O. XIII r 1 of the Civil

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

—O XXIII r 1 1882 Code s 373)

—contd

Procedure Code 1908 Subject matter means the series of acts or transactions alleged to exist giving rise the relief claimed. RAKHMAT v MAHADEO NARAYAN (1917) I L R 42 Bom 155

—Withdrawal of suit when to be allowed Courts in India have no general power of dismissing a suit with liberty to the plaintiff to bring a fresh suit on the same matter. The only power they have in this respect is that given by O XXIII r 1 sub r (2) Civil Procedure Code. It is not the object of that Rule to enable the plaintiff after he has failed to conduct his suit with proper care and diligence and after his witnesses have failed to support his case to obtain the opportunity of commencing the trial fresh in order to avoid the result of his previous misconduct of the case and so to prejudice the opposite Party. HIRA LAL MITRA v UDDEY CHANDRA DEY (1912) 16 C W N 1027

—Trial of a suit—Close of the trial after recording all evidence produced by both parties—Time given to the plaintiff to produce more documents—Plaintiff's application to withdraw the suit with permission to bring a fresh one—Grant of the permission for fresh suit—Material irregularity in the exercise of jurisdiction After the case far both the plaintiff and the defendant had been closed and all their witnesses had been examined the Court gave time to the plaintiff to adduce documents to counteract the effect of the documents already produced by the defendant. On the plaintiff's inability to adduce the documents on the appointed day he applied for leave to withdraw from the suit with permission to file a fresh one on the same cause of action and the Court having passed an order granting the leave. Held setting aside the order that the Court acted with material irregularity in the exercise of its jurisdiction. The hearing was finished and it was improper to allow plaintiff to try and produce documents to counteract the defendant's documents. The plaintiff's failure to produce the documents was not a sufficient ground to put the defendant to the trouble and annoyance of a fresh suit. BAI KASHIBAI v SHIDAPA WAPPA (1913) I L R 37 Bom 682

—Appellate Court powers of—Withdrawal of suit Held that an Appellate Court can under O XXIII r 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure (1908) give a plaintiff whose suit has been dismissed by the Court of first instance permission to withdraw his suit and give him leave to institute a fresh one. Conga Pam v Datta Ram I L R 3 All 8 followed Choragudi Chinnu Kalayya v Raja Varada Raja Appa Rao 27 Mad L J 514 and Elina v Pinnu I L R 35 Bom 261 cited from ARZAL BHOAM v AKHARI KHANUM (1910) I L R 37 All 328

—Withdrawal of a suit in Appellate Court—Power of the Court to allow permission to withdraw with liberty to file a fresh suit—Jurisdiction An Appellate Court can when an appeal has been admitted and when both parties are present before it allow the plaintiff to withdraw his case on proper terms and allow him to start afresh. Elina v Pinnu (1911) 35 Bom 261 distinguished CHHATUBHAI MAYSTON v DATTABHAI GOVIND (1919) I L R 44 Bom 595

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

—O XXIII r 1 (1882 Code s 373)

—contd

—Order for withdrawal of a suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit made without jurisdiction when passed under circumstances not contemplated by the rule An order withdrawing a suit with leave to institute a fresh suit made under O XXIII r 1 (2) Civil Procedure Code but in circumstances not within the scope of the Rule cannot be treated as an order made without jurisdiction such an order is consequently not null and void. A fresh suit instituted upon leave so granted is not incompetent. The Court trying the subsequent suit is not competent to enter into the question whether the Court which granted the Plaintiff permission to withdraw his first suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit had properly made such order. HRIDAY NATH ROY v CHANDRA BARNIA SHARMA 24 C W N 7

—Inability to produce important evidence is not sufficient ground for granting permission to withdraw a suit with liberty to file a fresh one on the same subject matter. UCHANT ANIR v BASWAN AHIR

8 Pat L J 1

—Application to withdraw from suit with liberty to sue again—Court may grant application but without liberty. When the trial Court being of opinion that no sufficient ground had been made out for allowing the plaintiff to withdraw from the suit with liberty to institute a fresh suit in the same cause of action passed an order allowing him to withdraw without liberty. Held that the suit was not disposed of by the order. Where a plaintiff does not desire to withdraw from the suit unless with liberty to bring a fresh suit and the Court considers that such liberty ought not to be granted the proper course is simply to dismiss the application. Mofa Balaraju Guru Govinda ji v Parshotama Ramdas I L R 3 Bom 345 followed SHUBHANI DEBYA v CHANDRA NATH PRASANNIK (1913) 20 C W N 10.

—Suit dismissed by trial Court on evidence allowed to be withdrawn with liberty to sue again by appeal Court though no formal defect by reason of which suit might fail was made out—Fresh suit of barred—Res judicata Where a contested suit in which evidence was called, both sides having been dismissed by the trial Court the plaintiff was allowed by the Appellate Court to withdraw from the suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit though no formal defect was shown of which the suit would fail was made out and really because the plaintiff was unable to produce the necessary evidence in time. Held that the order of the Appellate Court was made without jurisdiction and a subsequent suit in respect of the same property and in which the same relief was prayed for was barred by the rule of res judicata. The sufficient ground for permitting withdrawal with liberty to bring a fresh suit in the same cause of action referred to in cl (b) r 1 O XXIII of the Civil Procedure Code may be something of the same nature as the "formal defect" mentioned in cl (a) Kha da Co. Ltd. v Durga Charan Chandra 11 C L J 45 and Mahabharat Sardar v Hemann Das 11 C L J 517 followed KALI PRASANNIK DEB v PUNCHANN NANDI CHATTERJEE (1916) 26 C W N 10

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

————— O XXIII, r 1 (2) (a) and (b) O VII, r 10 and s. 115—*Withdrawal of suit—Suit grossly under valued in the plaint—Plead valuation beyond the jurisdiction of the District Munsif's Court—Application by plaintiff for leave to withdraw portion of the suit with liberty to bring fresh suit—Leave whether properly can be granted—Judicial discretion—Jus dictum—Ejusdem generis—Material irregularity in exercise of jurisdiction—Other sufficient grounds in O XXIII r 1 (2) (b) construction of the plaintiffs instituted a suit in a District Munsif's Court for recovery of possession of several items of immovable property including a house valuing the house at P 200 and other items at P 1917 and add for purposes of jurisdiction. The defendant objected that the house was grossly under valued and that the suit was on proper valuation beyond the jurisdiction of the District Munsif. A commissioner appointed to ascertain its value reported that the house alone was worth P 400. The plaintiff thereupon applied to the Court for leave to withdraw the suit in respect of the house with liberty to bring a fresh suit therefor. The Court granted the application notwithstanding the objection of the defendant. The latter preferred a Civil Revision Petition to the High Court against the order. It held that assuming that the lower court had jurisdiction to act under O XXIII r 1 (2) (b) it acted with material irregularity in the exercise of its jurisdiction as it did not exercise a judicial discretion in passing the order that the plaintiff ought not to have been permitted to withdraw his claim for the house as the undervaluation in the plaint was so gross that he could not have acted honestly in doing so and did not deserve any indulgence from the Court and that consequently the High Court should interfere under s. 115 of the Civil Procedure Code and set aside the order. Per SADA SIA AYYAR J. The words "other sufficient grounds" O XXIII r 1 (2) (b) should not be interpreted ejusdem generis with formal defect in r 1 (2) (c). Limits of the doctrine of ejusdem generis discussed. After a Court of first instance has come to the conclusion that the suit as brought is beyond its jurisdiction, it has no power to pass any other judicial order in the suit except those which the statute expressly empowers it to pass such as an order returning the plaint for presentation to the proper Court under O VII r 10 or an order awarding costs under s. 30 of the Code. KANNESWAMY PILLAI v JAGATHANBAL (1914) L. L. P. 41 Mad. 701*

————— O XXIII, r 1 (3)—Suit by reversioner as to declare an alienation invalid and give relief as to what area of Sub-granted land should be for possession—Defence the law as in the first suit—Suit not barred by Civil Procedure Code O XXIII r 1 (3) The first presumptive reversioners of a deceased Hindu instituted a suit against his widow and her alleged for a declaration that an alienation by her was invalid, and no binding on them. Pending the suit the widow died and the reversioners withdrew the suit but did not ask for permission to bring a fresh suit. They subsequently brought a suit against the defendant for the recovery of possession of properties of which she had set up the very same defence as in the first suit which he had set up in the first suit.

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

————— O XXIII r 1 (3)—contd

Held that the subsequent suit was not barred by the provision of O XXIII r 1 (3) Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). Where the cause of action and the relief claimed in the second suit are not the same as the cause of action and the relief claimed in the first suit the second suit cannot be considered to have been brought in respect of the same subject matter as the first suit and the plaintiff in the second suit is not debarred from continuing the allegations made by the defence in the first suit. Gopal Chandra Banerjee v Purra Chandra Banerjee & C W N 110 followed. Achuta Menon v Achuta Vastu I L P 21 Mad 35. Machana Vayala Dikshatulu v Gorurathulu Jagannama (1910) Mad W N 782 and Senaraya Peddaru v Venka achala Peddaru 2 M L W 17, overruled. SINGA PEDDURU v SENGAL PEDDURU (1915) I L R 39 Mad. 987

————— O XXIII, r 1 and s. 107 (2)—Whether an Appellate Court has power to allow the withdrawal of the suit with liberty to file a fresh suit Held by the Full Bench that it is open to an Appellate Court in proper cases when reversing the decree of the lower Court to give the plaintiff leave to withdraw the suit with liberty to file a fresh suit. Choraraj Chitra Kolappa v Pappi Varadaraja Iyengar P. 27 Mad L J 244 overruled. KASAPPA v PAPAPPA (1916) L. L. R. 40 Mad. 259

————— O XXIII, r 1 s. 115—Application by plaintiff to withdraw suit with leave to bring a fresh one made when hearing of suit was nearly concluded—Leave granted to bring a fresh suit—Exercise of discretion—Revision A suit was instituted in the Court of the Munsif. After the evidence had concluded and either during or after the argument the plaintiffs applied for leave to withdraw with liberty to bring a fresh suit. They based their application upon the fact that they had failed to give formal proof of a claim which was essential to their success. The Court granted leave to bring a fresh suit. Upon an application in revision against this order Held that the Court had jurisdiction to grant leave to the plaintiffs to bring a fresh suit and the fact that the Court may have exercised and probably did exercise a wrong discretion in granting the plaintiffs application was not sufficient to bring the case within the purview of s. 115 of the Code of Civil Procedure. JYOTSC LAL v BHANUSINGH DAS (1915) L. L. R. 40 All. 612

————— O XXIII, r 2—See HINDU LAW—PARTITION L. L. R. 48 Cal. 1059

————— O XXIII, r 3, (1892 Code, s. 375)—See ARBITRATION 25 C W N 127

See COMPROMISE 3 Pat. L. J. 43 and 255

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' PRIZE ACT s. 10 B. L. L. R. 37 Bom. 614

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION 25 C W N 69.

See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT s. 93 1 Pat. L. J. 37

1. ————— Compromise

—Terms not within the scope of the compromise in the

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd—

O XXIII, r 3 (1882 Code s 375)—

—contd—

decree—Decree so far as it relates to the suit effect of—Terms forming consideration for those relating to the subject matter of the suit—Decree not ultra vires—Objection in execution maintainable of—Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 35 and 51—Reciprocal promises—Non performance by one party wrongfully—Consequent non performance by the other rightfully effect of—Contract at end—Compensation—Offer of performance essentials of—Conditional offer—Offer to release without executing release deed insufficient The plaintiff sued to recover a sum of money on a simple money bond executed by the first defendant and the father of the second and third defendants. The parties entered into a compromise by which the disputes between them including the claim in the suit were adjusted and a decree was passed in the suit in accordance with the compromise so far as it related to the suit. Under the compromise the defendants agreed to get a release of certain properties which had fallen to the share of the plaintiff in a partition between the plaintiff and the first defendant and some other properties purchased by the former from the latter from the claims of a mortgagee (decree holder) of the same on the plaintiff depositing in Court within a certain time a sum of money for payment to the mortgagee towards his decree. The plaintiff failed to deposit the amount. The defendants gave notice to the plaintiff by a posted letter offering to get a release of the properties if the plaintiff paid the amount in one week but the plaintiff did not pay the amount. The third defendant took an assignment of the mortgage decree brought the properties to sale in execution and purchased them in auction. The defendants applied in execution of the compromise decree to recover a sum of money due to them under the compromise alleging that they had performed or offered to perform the condition laid on them under the compromise. The plaintiff contended that the defendants could not recover the amount as the claim for it could not be deemed to have been included in the decree and if it were included the decree was ultra vires and further that the defendants having failed to fulfil their part of the agreement were not entitled to enforce the other terms of the compromise. Held that all the terms recorded in the compromise decree which formed part of the consideration for the adjustment of the subject matter in the suit must be deemed to be part of the decree and can be enforced in execution proceedings. A compromise decree even if it includes matters beyond the scope of the suit is not ultra vires and no objection can be taken to the enforcement of the same in execution proceedings. When the parties to a contract fail to perform their reciprocal promises, the one willfully and the other because he was not bound to fulfil his part unless the former has fulfilled his preliminary part the contract itself comes to an end by the acts of both the parties except for the purpose of enabling the innocent party to claim compensation from the other. An offer of performance must be unconditional, if it is to have the same effect as performance. A mere offer by a posted letter that the party liable was ready to execute a release without having a document of release ready is not a valid offer under s. 38 of the Contract Act. Held (on the facts of the case) that though the plaintiff failed to pay the

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd—

O XXIII r 3 (1882 Code s 375)—

—contd—

money into Court as the defendant failed to fulfil their part of the agreement to make a valid and conditional offer to perform the same and as the defendants disabled themselves from performing their part by reason of the purchase of the properties by the third defendant the defendants were not entitled to enforce the other terms included in the compromise decree. SABAPATHI v. VANNA MALINGA (1914) 1 I L R 38 Mad 959

2 ————— Lawful or not compromise—Hindu Law—Offer of archaka alienation of—Custom validity of—Disqualification of female to perform duties of—Right of females to inherit—Performance of duties by proxy—Public policy—Undue influence—Low price effect of—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 16 cl (a) Where the parties to a suit instituted in respect of a half share in the archaka muras in a Saivite temple entered into a compromise during the pendency of a Second Appeal in the case by which one of the parties alienated for a pecuniary benefit a portion of his right to the office in favour of the other party (who was a female) and the latter applied by a petition to the High Court to pass a decree in accordance with the compromise. Held that the compromise was not lawful and that no decree could be passed in accordance therewith under O XXIII r 3 of the Civil Procedure Code. Per SADASIVA AIAAR J. An alienation of a religious office by which the alienor gets a pecuniary benefit cannot be upheld even if a custom is set up and sanctioned such an alienation. It is settled custom that females by reason of their sex are permanently disqualified from performing the duties of an archaka in a Saivite temple. A person who is permanently disqualified to do the duties of an office cannot inherit the office while at the same time delegating the duties to other whether the permanent disqualification is the result of conviction to any other religion or insanity or sex. A trusteeship for secular purposes can be held by a female. The fact that a person is obliged to part with his property for what he considers an unduly low price owing to his poverty does not vitiate his agreement to holding that the contract is vitiated by undue influence. SCANDARABAI AMMAL v. LOGAVANAGURAMAL (1914)

1 I L R 38 Mad. 850

3 ————— Compromise—Petition of compromise filed in suit for partition—Registration—Registration Act (XVI of 1908) s 17 In a suit for a declaration of title to certain immovable property the plaintiff applied to the Court stating that the suit had been compromised and asking that a decree might be made under O XXIII r 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure. In support of this application he filed a copy of a petition which had been presented shortly before by both parties to the Revenue Court in proceedings for mutation of names in respect of the same property as was in the dispute in the Civil Court, and which set forth that the matter before the Revenue Court had been compromised in the manner therein stated. The petition had been accepted and acted upon by the Revenue Court. Held that the petition was valid in the Civil Court. Per The matter in dispute was decided out of Court.

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

could

O XXXII, r 7 Sch II (20)—could

—could

O XXXII r 7, (1882 Code 482)—

could

proceedings there seems to be a distinction between a case where minor's liability has been determined by a decree in his father's life time and a case where the minor's liability in the first instance is in dispute. For in the former case there is a debt which the guardian is clearly entitled to pay off in full and the fact that the judgment creditor has sued execution against the minor making an outsider his guardian ad litem does not alter the situation. PER HEATON J O XXXII r 7 Civil Procedure Code 1909 implies that during the continuance of the proceedings in Court the dispute between the minor and another party which the Court had to decide could not be compromised except by the guardian ad litem of the minor and by him only with the leave of the Court. GR MALLAPPA : MALLAPPA MATTANDAPPA (1919)

I L R 44 Bom 574

Held whether or not the order applies to execution proceedings its principle applies and in this case when minors were concerned in a compromise recorded in proceedings to set aside the execution proceedings the omission to record the Court's sanction did not render the compromise void especially as the minors were not prejudiced. PANJOLAN SAHU : SAN SARAT DAS 5 Pat L J 379

It cannot be inferred that the Court has sanctioned a compromise within the meaning of this order merely because the petition of compromise gave notice to the Court that interests of minors were going to be effected and that the Court passed a decree in accordance with the compromise. PAUNDELLAN SANKU : DURA PERSHAD (1921) 6 Pat L J 190

Minor—Next friend—Compromise in suit—Necessity for order of Court specially permitting next friend to enter into compromise on behalf of minor. Where a compromise in a suit is entered into on behalf of minors appearing by a next friend it is necessary to the validity of such compromise that there should be on the record a specific order of the Court giving leave to the next friend to enter into the compromise on behalf of the minors. Manohar Lal v Jai Nath Singh I L R 28 All 53 distinguished. BADRI PRASAD : GOPAL BIRHAT LAL (1919)

I L R 41 All 553

O XXXII r 7 Sch II (20)—Minor

Arbitration—Reference to arbitration out of Court by minor's guardian—Award—Application by the guardian to have it award filed—Application not an agreement with reference to suit—Minor not entitled to protection of O XXXII r 7. A dispute to which a minor was a party was submitted to arbitration out of Court by the minor's mother. After the award was published the mother on behalf of her minor son applied to the Court under cl. 20 of the Second Schedule of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 to have the award filed in order that a decree might be passed on such award. The other party did not object to such filing and the award was accordingly filed and a decree passed thereon. Subsequently the minor through his mother sued to set aside the decree. The trial Court dismissed the suit. In appeal as the Court was of the opinion that there was no conflict between the case of Mahadev Paltrina

Kellar v Krishnabai (1896) P J 609 and the case of Sithaldas v Dalaram I L R 26 Bom 293 the following question was referred to a Full Bench. When a dispute to which a minor is a party has been submitted to arbitration out of Court and the award made upon such submission has been brought into Court under cl. 20 of the Second Schedule Civil Procedure Code and the Court has been asked to file it and thereafter pass a decree upon it neither party objecting is not the Court bound to sanction this agreement to have the award filed and a decree passed upon it as for the benefit of the minor and so also to certify the decree? and if the Court fails to do so is not the minor entitled to the protection of O XXXII r 7 of the Civil Procedure Code? Held the question must be answered in the negative. Held further that there was no conflict between the cases of Mahadev Paltrina Kellar v Krishnabai (1896) P J 609 and Sithaldas v Dalaram I L R 26 Bom 293. HANMANTYAM PADHAKISON : SMT. KARAYAN (1918)

I L R 43 Bom 258

O XXXII r 8—Appeal—Insolvency of one appellant and death of the other—Abatement of appeal—Substitution of names—Limitation. Of two appellants in a civil appeal one died and the other became an insolvent. Neither the representatives of the deceased appellant nor the official assignee applied within the time limited by the Court for substitution in place of the deceased appellant nor did the insolvent himself who was said to have compounded with his creditors apply. The defendant on the other hand asked for the dismissal of the suit. Held that there being no limitation provided for the Official Assignee to appear and apply for the restoration of his name on the record after the adjudication is annulled until an order is obtained under O XXI r 8 of the Code of Civil Procedure the proceedings cannot abate and must be deemed to continue. KHURVI LAL : RAMESHAR

I L R 43 All 621

O XXXIII, r 1 (1882 Codes 401)—

See O I r 3 I L R 24 Bom 358

See O XXI r 1

I L R 38 Bom 415

1.—Company—Official liquidator right of to apply for leave to sue in form of pauper's petition—definition of—General Clauses Act (3 of 1897) whether applicable to O XXXIII—Explanation to r 1 and r 3 of O XXXIII construction of An official liquidator of a company is competent to apply for leave to sue in form of pauper's petition on behalf of the company under O XXXIII of the Civil Procedure Code if the company is a pauper within r 1 thereof. The reference to necessary wearing apparel in the explanation to r 1 and the provisions of r 3 requiring presentation of petition by applicant in person in O XXXIII do not necessarily exclude the application of the Order to a company and the definition of person as including a company under the General Clauses Act (3 of 1897) applies to O XXXIII of the Code as there is nothing in the definition which is repugnant to the subject or context of the Order. The fact that the liquidator in his personal capacity is not a pauper does not

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

concl'd O XXXIII r 1, (1882 Code s 401)— affect the question nor does the fact that the liquidator receives a commission on collections realised make him a person interested in the subject matter of the suit within cl (e) r 5 of O XXXIII. Cortes v Kent & Co Works Compn r B & C 314 and Venkataramaiah v Achamma I L R 3 Mad 3 followed in the matter of the will of Dinubai I L R 18 Bom 93 and Manaji Rajniji v Kando Pabde I L R 36 Bom 279 distinguished. PERUMAL GOUNDER v THIRUDALARAJAPURAM JAYAKKOOLA DHANA SEKHARA SANGHA NIDHI (1917)

I L R 41 Mad 624

2 ——— Inquiry—into pauperism—Claim for redemption of mortgage—Applicant able to raise money upon security of equity of redemption. Held that a plaintiff seeking to sue for redemption in form of pauperis cannot claim to sue as a pauper so long as he can raise money on his equity of redemption and that in so doing he will not in effect be mortgaging his claim. Vedanti D. Juraliyala v Perundisamma I L R 3 Mad 219 distinguished. KAPIL DEO SINGH v PAM PIRKA SINGH (1916)

I L R 33 All 237

3 ——— Death of plaintiff—Right of executrix who is not a pauper to continue the suit in forma pauperis. The privilege of maintaining a pauper suit is a personal privilege granted to a pauper who has no means of carrying on or continuing litigation and there seems to be no authority whatever for holding that the representative of a pauper is entitled to continue the suit of his testator or testatrix even though admittedly he is not a pauper simply because his testator or testatrix was a pauper. MANAJI PATEL (RAO SAHEB) v KHANDOO BALOO (1911)

I L R 36 Bom 270

——— O XXXIII rr 1 2 and 5—Application to sue as pauper—Disqualification—Subject matter of suit—Cause of action—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXXIII rr 1 2 and 5. A mortgagee applied for permission to institute a suit as a pauper for the setting aside of a sale of the mortgaged property by the mortgagee with an alternative claim for damages. The mortgagee admitting there was a surplus due to the applicant after the mortgage debt had been satisfied paid Rs. 101 into Court and contended that the applicant was not a pauper and further that the applicant disclosed no cause of action. Held that the applicant was a pauper within the meaning of the Explanation to O XXXIII r 1 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) but that the allegations contained in the application did not disclose a cause of action. Dwarkanath v Madhavi I L R 10 Bom. 0 not followed. PATMABATI v DOSABHOI PICTONJEE UMERIKAR (1909)

I L R 34 Bom 648

——— O XXXIII, rr 2, 5 (a) and 15—Pauper suit—application for permission deemed to be made not accompanied by schedule of property—whether second application is barred. The petition is applied for permission to sue as pauper. This application was rejected because it was not accompanied by a schedule of moveable and immoveable property belonging to the applicants. rr 2 and 5 of O XXXIII of the Code of Civil Procedure. They then presented a second applica-

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

concl'd O XXXIII, rr 2, 5 (a) and 15—

tion for permission which was rejected as barred under r 15 of the same order. Held that r 15 of O XXXIII of the Code does not bar a second application where the first application was rejected under r 5 (a). Honnay Sit Shern (4 Indian cases 303 & B) referred to. 1st Chaudhri Sen v Paji Peary Mohan Mookerji (33 Indian Cases 31) distinguished. MUSAMMAT BAI KALAI v SUTH DAS I L R 1 Lah 151

O XXXIII rr 4 5 7 (1882 Code ss 408 407 and 409)—

See PAUPER SUIT I L R 40 Calc 851

——— O XXXIII r 5 (1882 Code 405 and 407)—Application for leave to sue in form of pauper—Question is to be decided by Court before granting leave—Limitation—Doubtful question—Difference of judicial opinion—Duty of Court. Upon an application for leave to sue in form of pauper, the Court is not justified in determining, at the stage contemplated by O XXXIII r 5 of the Civil Procedure Code a question of limitation as to which there has been considerable difference of judicial opinion. O XXXIII r 5 (1) applies only to cases where the allegations of the petitioner do not show a cause of action and this should appear clearly upon the face of the petition. CHANDRASEKHAR LUTTA v MANJIBAI CHAKRABARTY KUMAROVIAH (1917) I L R 41 Mad 620

——— O XXXIII rr 5 0—Whether next friend of pauper or minor plaintiff shall prove his own pauperism. The father as next friend of a girl of about two years of age applied for leave to sue in form of pauper for damages for aerium bodily injuries received by her. The Court rejected the application under O XXXIII r 5 Civil Procedure Code on the ground that the next friend the father of the applicant was not a pauper. Held that the order should be set aside and the matter remitted into order. O XXXIII r 5 of the Civil Procedure Code. ANANDASWAMY SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1910)

23 C W N 955

——— O XXXIII r 7 (1882 Code s 409)—Shelut personally indigent and not owner of idol's properties if may apply for leave to sue in form of pauper to recover idol's property in hands of co-shaibants collecting suit. A shelaibant applied for leave to sue in form of pauper to recover certain endowed properties which he alleged some of the defendants who were his co-shaibants had illegally alienated in favour of the other defendant. Neither in his personal capacity nor as shelaibant was he possessed of sufficient means to enable him to pay the court fees prescribed for the plaint. Held in revision, that the application could not be rejected merely because the shelaibant's Hindu properties of the idol sufficient to pay the requisite court fees. DAYDA LAL CHATTERJEE v DWARKA NATH DAS (1911)

16 C W N 93

——— O XXXIII, r 8 (1882 Code s 410)—Application to sue in forma pauperis not deemed to be made before judgment if may sue in order of attachment before judgment can be made at the instance of a person who has applied for leave to sue in form of pauper before his application. been judicially

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—concl—concl O XXXIII r 8 (1882 Code, s 410)

determined in his favour O XXXIII, r 8 clearly shows that there is no suit in existence until the application to sue in form of pauper has been granted PURVA CHANDRA CHAKRABARTI : TARA PRASAD MAITY (1916) 21 C W N 870

O XXXIII r 10 11 (1882 Code s 411)—Stamp duty on a pauper's plaint—Decree for less than the amount claimed In a suit brought in form of pauper the plaintiff succeeded only in part and failed as to the rest of the claim the lower Court ordered the defendant to pay the entire costs incurred by the plaintiff including the amount of court fees which would have been payable on the plaint Held that the court fees payable on the plaint should be apportioned under the provisions of r 10 and 11 of O XXXIII of the Code of Civil Procedure CHANDRA : Secretary of State for India I L R 14 Mad 163 followed CANOY DHAL RAI : MUGANATH GAUTAM (1916)

I L R 33 All 469

O XXXIII r 10 and 13—

Sec s 47 4 Pat L J 188

O XXXIII, r 13—Civil Procedure Code (Act VI of 1882) s 412—Suit in form of pauper—Settlement of suit out of Court—Court passing no order for payment of Court fees—Government applying for the payment—Practice and procedure. A suit for partition brought in form of pauper was settled out of Court On the 7th October 1909 the Court dismissed the suit but made no order for the payment of Court fees under s 412 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 At the date Government had ninety days time within which to apply to the High Court under its extraordinary jurisdiction Before the expiry of the period the new Civil Procedure Code came into force The Government thereupon applied to the Court under O XXXIII s 13 for an order as to payment of Court fees but the Court declined to make the order On appeal Held (i) that the order passed by the Court under O XXXIII r 13 was an order within the meaning of s 47 and it was therefore appealable (ii) that before the expiry of the period within which the Government could have applied to the High Court under the old Code the new Code had come into force and by it the Government were enabled to apply to the Court for an order under r 12 of O XXXIII (iii) that the suit having been dismissed there was a failure of it and the right accrued to Government to have the Court fee from the party defeated SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA : VARAYAN (1911) I L R 35 Bom 448

O XXXIII r 15—Application to sue in form of pauper effect of rejection under r 6—Distinction if any between orders under r 5 and r 6 On the rejection of an application for leave to sue as pauper the only course open to the applicant is to institute a suit in the ordinary way There is no distinction between rejection under r 6 and an order of refusal under r 7 ATUL CHANDRA SEN : PATA PRABU MOHAN MOOKHERJEE (1915)

20 C W N 669

O XXXIV (Transfer of Property Act 1882, s 85 to 90)—

See MORTGAGE

37 Calc 907

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—*concl*O XXXIV (Transfer of Property Act 1882 ss 85 to 90)—concl

See PALAN ON TERMS OF WORKSHIP

I L R 42 Calc 455

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882 s 88 I L R 34 All 72

Mortgage suit application for decree absolute in—Limitation—Scope and effect of Order The decree in a mortgage suit was made when the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 was in force The application for making the decree absolute was made more than 12 years after the date of the decree and after the Civil Procedure Code of 1908 came into operation Held that prior to the Code of 1908 there was no period of limitation within which a plaintiff was bound to apply for the order absolute for sale in a suit brought for sale of the mortgaged property and the provisions of O XXXIV of the First Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 which repealed ss 85 to 90 of the Transfer of Property Act do not apply so as to take away a vested right which the plaintiff had of applying to have the decree for sale made absolute and the application filed by him was not barred by limitation Gopeshwar Lal : Jitan Chandran IS C W N 394 followed KISTA BARI : BANANOHARI DEBIA (1914)

19 C W N 470

Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 211—Consent decree—Installments—Application for decree absolute for sale—Limitation An application for a decree absolute for sale of a mortgage charge under the terms of a consent decree which provided for satisfaction of the decretal debt by installments is an application under the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXXIV and is governed by Article 181 Sch I of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Such application must be made within three years from the time the right to apply accrues DATTO ATMARAN : SHANKAR DATTATRAYA (1913)

I L R 38 Bom 32

O XXXIV r 1 (Transfer of Property Act, 1882 s 85)—

Sec O 1 r 9 I Pat L J 468

Sec O 1 r 10(2) I L R 45 Bom 1009

Sec O XXI r 103 I L R 43 Mad 696

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 34 All 549 572

2 Pat L J 300

See HINDU LAW MORTGAGE

I L R 42 Calc 1068

See MORTGAGE I L R 37 Calc 907

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882 ss 88 AND 89 I L R 40 Bom 321

1 Mortgage suit—All persons interested in the mortgage to be parties to the suit—Some only of the heirs of mortgagor joined as parties—Suit not bad for non joinder of parties The plaintiff a mortgagee sued to recover the mortgage debt by sale of mortgaged properties The original mortgagor who was a Mahomedan having died before the suit only his widow and daughters were made defendants. It was contended that the suit was bad for non joinder of other heirs of the mortgagor or his brother and

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXXIV r 1 (Transfer of Property Act 189 s 85)—contd

sister's children. Held that the non joinder of parties was not fatal to the suit inasmuch as the suit was properly constituted at the date of the plaint so as to enable the Court to adjudicate as between the parties impleaded. SHANASAHU v SADASHU SURDE (1118)

I L P 43 Bom 575

2 ————— Mortgage suit—non joinder of parties —joinder of parties after expiration of period of limitation. Part of O I of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 is subordinate to r 1 of O XXXIV. A mortgage is indivisible and if all the parties entitled to a share in the money due on the mortgage are not upon the record the suit must be dismissed in its entirety. When a necessary party has not been impleaded at the time of the institution of the suit but has been brought on the record after the period of limitation has expired the whole suit must be dismissed. When it is intended to sue in the name of a managing member of a joint Hindu family governed by the Mutal shara on account of a breach of contract made by a former managing member of the family it must be clearly stated in the plaint that the suit is by that managing member. It is not sufficient that he should be accidentally on the record as one out of many members of the family of whom several have been omitted. CIPWAL NARAIN MAITON v MRS SAMMAT MAKBUNESSA. I Pat L J 468

3 ————— Mortgage—redemption —parties in redemption claiming independently of the mortgage whether necessary parties. The plaintiff as a purchaser of the equity of redemption filed a suit for redemption of a mortgage in favour of defendant No 1. To this suit defendants Nos 2 and 3 were added as parties in possession under O XXIV R 1 Civil Procedure Code 1908. These defendants were not in possession through defendant No 1 and they claimed independently of the mortgage. A question being raised whether defendants Nos 2 and 3 were necessary parties. Held that as these defendants claimed independently of the mortgage and against both the mortgagor and the mortgagee they could not be proper parties to the suit which was a redemption suit. SATAGAUDA APPANNA v SATAPA (1919)

I L R 44 Bom 693

4 ————— Mortgage—Suit for sale —Intentional non joinder of an equi mortgagee—Effect of such non joinder. Subsequently to the execution of a mortgage of a 4 bissa zamindari share in favour of A S the mortgagee executed a further (usufructuary) mortgage of a portion of the same share in favour of A S and his brother N S. A S brought a suit for sale on the earlier mortgage but without making N S a party there to. Held that the effect of the non joinder of N S would not be the total dismissal of the suit but only so much of it as related to that portion of the property which was covered by the subsequent mortgage. RAM SINGH v OKAL SINGH (1915)

I L R 35 All 454

O XXXIV r 1 O I r 35—I t is to suit—Mortgage—Intentional non joinder of a party—Effect of such non joinder. The plaintiff as a purchaser of the equity of redemption filed a suit for redemption of a mortgage in favour of defendant No 1. To this suit defendants Nos 2 and 3 were added as parties in possession under O XXIV R 1 Civil Procedure Code 1908. These defendants were not in possession through defendant No 1 and they claimed independently of the mortgage. A question being raised whether defendants Nos 2 and 3 were necessary parties. Held that as these defendants claimed independently of the mortgage and against both the mortgagor and the mortgagee they could not be proper parties to the suit which was a redemption suit. SATAGAUDA APPANNA v SATAPA (1919)

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXXIV r 1 O I r 9—contd

for sale just within limitation making one of the heirs of one mortgagor a party defendant and stating that nothing had been heard of the other for twenty five years. In the written statement it was pleaded that this heir was alive butly that time the suit against him was time barred. Held that the unimpleaded heir of the mortgagor was not a necessary party to the suit and that the suit might be proceeded with against the other representative of the mortgagor and his separate property for the whole amount due on the mortgage. Jai Govind v Jas Ram Ill Il V (1898) 19 followed. Genan Lal v Patu Ram 9 All L J 56 dismissed. Manam Ali v Baij Nath 1911. Jahu I L J 33 Cal 613 Hakim Lal v Ram Lal 6 C L J 46. Krishna Ayyar v Mathi Purnarasa miya Pillai I L R 23 Mad 21. Haro Kumari v Easton Mortgage Co 1 C L J 274 and Deendra Nath v Mir Abdol Samad 10 C L J 150 referred to. SANWAL SINGH v GANE H LAL (1913)

I L R 35 All 4-1

A suit by the karta of a joint family to enforce a mortgage is valid even though the other members of the family are not impleaded and the plaintiff has not expressly stated he is suing as karta provided it is obvious from the pleading. JAG SANI v RAM CHANDRA PRASAD

O Pat L J 640

D XXXIV rr 1 2 3—Execution of decree—Payment of part of decretal amount into Court—Effect of payment as regards running of interest on the decree. Where money is paid into Court by the judgment-debtor in satisfaction of a decree interest on the decree will cease from the date of payment in proportion to the amount paid although such amount may not in fact be the whole amount due under the decree. AMTUL HABIB v MUHAMMAD YUSUF (1917)

I L R 40 All 125

O XXXIV rr 1 14—

See MORTGAGE I L R 41 Cal 727
See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1893) ss. 61 83 AND 99

I L R. 38 Mad 927

O XXXIV r 2 (Act IV of 1892 s 86)—

See O 2, r 2 I L R. 39 All 500

Decree of first Court allowing redemption within six months of the date of the decree—Appeal by the judgment debtor against the decree and cross-objection by the decree holder both dismissed—Six months time allowed to run from the date of the original decree or of the appellate decree. A decree declared the right of the decree holder to recover possession of certain property subject to the right of the judgment debtor to redeem on payment of a certain sum within six months of the date of the decree. A suit that decree the judgment debtor appealed and the decree holder filed a petition for execution. Both were dismissed and the decree of the first court confirmed. The judgment debtor appealed against the decree but more than six months after the date of the original decree the judgment debtor filed

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXXIV, r 2 (Act IV of 1882
s 86)—contd

into Court the sum necessary for the redemption. The decree holder applied for execution of the decree. Held—That where in a suit on a mortgage the decree of the Appellate Court simply limits the appeal leaving the decree of the first Court untouched the time for redemption runs from the date of the decree of the first Court. PASANTA KUMAR ADARI vs. SRI N. RADHA PAI DAS
26 C W N 440

O XXXIV r 2 3 4 and 5—Lease to mortgagee—Transfer of equity of redemption—Preliminary decree on mortgage—Suit by transferee for rent due subsequently to due date—Maintainability of In a suit on a mortgage the amount due is calculated only up to the due date fixed in the preliminary decree and a suit to recover the amount which becomes due after the due date is not barred. Where the mortgagee took a lease of the mortgaged property from the mortgagor and subsequently obtained a preliminary decree on the mortgage. Held that a suit by the transferee of the equity of redemption for rent accruing due subsequently to the due date fixed in the preliminary decree was maintainable. TARA CHAND MANDARI vs. BROJA GOPAL MURTHU
5 Pat L J 595

O XXXIV r 2 and 4—

See O II r 2 I L R 39 All 56

O XXXIV r 2 and 4 and appndix D Forms 4 7 8 9—Mortgage suit—Decree for sale—Default of payment—Suit against interest after date fixed in decree—Right of mortgagee—Subsequent interest—Whether payable on arrears—Sum of principal interest and cost—Pledge of interest—Discretion of Court—Mortgage bond—Pledition for enhanced interest after default at fixed percentage whether penal In a decree for sale on a mortgage the decree holder is, on default of payment by the mortgagor on the date fixed in the decree, entitled to subsequent interest on the aggregate amount of principal interest and cost declared or found to be payable on that date and such further interest should ordinarily be at the rate of six per cent per annum but the Court has a discretion in the matter. Sunder Koer vs. Pu Sham Kriyen I L R 31 Cal 110 and S. B. Baraja vs. Uthman N. Nandan vs. Ponnusami Nadar I L R 21 Mad 271 referred to. Where in a mortgage bond there was a stipulation to pay enhanced interest at twelve per cent on principal and interest on default of payment of the principal with interest at nine per cent on a day fixed therein and where it appeared that the debts to discharge which the mortgage was executed earned interest at twelve per cent and more. Held that the stipulation for such enhanced interest was not penal and could be enforced. VENKATACHELAPATHY AYYAN vs. THA. VASI SERRAI (1918)
I L R 42 Mad 455

s 87)—O XXXIV r 3 (Act IV of 1882

See MORTGAGE DECREE

4 Pat L J 347

Mortgagor's right to redeem by offering payment after the date fixed for the same but before the final decree for foreclosure is passed A preliminary decree for foreclosure was passed on 14th October 1917 and six months

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXXIV r 3 (Act IV of 1882
s 87)—contd

time was allowed i.e. up to 5th April 1918. On the 9th April 1918 the decree holder applied to make the decree in the foreclosure suit final and notices were issued on the mortgagors fixing the 1st May 1918 as the date for paying the final decree. Before the final decree was passed the mortgagors on the 17th April made an application to the Court to pay off the decretal amount. On the 1st May 1918 the Court rejected this application and passed the final decree. Held—That the mortgagors were entitled to redeem at any time before the final decree was passed. The right of the mortgagors to redeem was not extinguished until the final decree was passed. YASIR ALI vs. KASIM ALI
26 C W N 532

O XXXIV r 3 and 5—

See FORECLOSURE I L R 43 All 469

Mortgage—Conditional decree for sale—Application for final decree—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sec 1 Art 181—An application is necessary for a final decree for foreclosure or sale Plaintiff obtained a conditional decree for sale of certain property on the 6th July 1908. In March 1913 he applied for a final decree. Held that the application was barred by Art 181 of Sec 1 to the Limitation Act 1908. An application for such a final decree presented after the passing of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 and the Limitation Act 1908 is governed by Art 181 of the latter Act. BALA PAM NAIK vs. KANHAJI PHAPAN MAHAIPATRA
1 Pat L J 364

O XXXIV r 3 C—

See LIMITATION I L R 42 Cal 294

O XXXIV r 3 8—Extension of time for paying mortgage amount only upon good cause—Non payment of a foreclosure decree not a good cause for extension—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 110—No interference even with an order passed without jurisdiction if justice does not require Extension of time for payment of the mortgage amount due under a decree in suits instituted either by the mortgagor or the mortgagee can be given only where good cause is shown therefor and a party is not entitled to it as a matter of right under O XXXIV r 3 8 and 8 of the Code of Civil Procedure. An extension of time cannot be granted on the sole ground that no order for foreclosure absolute has been passed. The High Court is not bound to interfere in revision with an order for extension of time wrongly passed. Forbb practice referred to MURUGESA MUDALI vs. RAMISAMI CHETTI (1914)
I L R 39 Mad 882

s 88)—O XXXIV r 4 (Act IV of 1882

See O XXI r 2 5 Pat L J 672

See EQUITY OF REDEMPTION
2 Pat L J 587See MORTGAGE DECREE
4 Pat L J 207

O XXXIV r 4 5—

See LIMITATION I L R 42 Cal 776

See O XXI r 2 5 Pat L J 672

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXXIV r 5 (Act IV of 1882

s 89)—contd

September 1910 was also barred by limitation. That s 14 of the Limitation Act has no application to appeals and the present case does not come within s 5. BEH SINGH v. BHANUDEV SINGH (1910) 19 C W N 473

2 ———— Application for decree absolute for sale on a mortgage—Limitation—Interim decree—Limitation Act (1908) s 1 Art 181. An application under O XXIV r 5 (1) of the Code of Civil Procedure (1908) is an application in the suit and not an application in execution and is governed as regards limitation by Art 181 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908. Datta Narain H. Choudhary v. Shankar Dattatraya I I R 38 Lom 3 Imphol Chand Parich v. Sarat Chandra Mukherjee I I R 34 Cal 372 Ali Ahmad v. Ibrahim I I R 4 All 51 and Uttam Singh Jagjit Singh I I R 12 referred to. The right to make such an application accrues on the date when the term limited by the preliminary decree expires unless such time has been extended by a court of appeal. The principle of the decision in Agar Das v. Jhama Lal I I R 10 All 100 applied. MADHO IYER v. Nihal Singh (1911) I L R 38 All 21

3 ———— Limitation Act (1908) Sch I Art 181—Limitation—Decree for sale on mortgage—Appeal from preliminary decree—Application for decree absolute. Held that in a suit for sale on a mortgage if an appeal has been preferred from the preliminary decree the decree which is to be made absolute is the decree of the final court of appeal. In such a case therefore limitation for an application for a decree absolute runs not from the expiry of the term fixed for payment by the original decree but from the date of the decree of the final Court of Appeal. Yoharat Singh v. Irudraiah I L J 4 All 376 Muhammad Sulaiman Khan v. Muhammad Yar Khan I L R 11 All 267 and Abdul Majid v. Jauhar Lal I L J 30 All 550 referred to. Madho Ram v. Nihal Singh I L R 38 All 21 overruled quod hoc. GAJADHAR SINGH v. KISHAN SINGH LAL (1917) I L R 39 All 641

4 ———— Suit for sale on a mortgage—Application for final decree—Limitation—Limitation Act (1908) Sch I Art 181. An application for a final decree under O XXIV r 5 of the Code of Civil Procedure is an application in the suit and not an application in execution. The limitation applicable is that prescribed by art 181 of sch. I to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 and time begins to run, if there has been an appeal in the suit from the date of the decree of the final Court of Appeal. Gajadhar Singh v. Kishan Singh Lal I L R 39 All 641 referred to. NIJAM UD DIN SHAH v. BORSA BHIM SINGH (1918) I L R 40 All 203

5 ———— Preliminary mortgage decree for sale—Non payment into Court of decree amount within the time limited—Obligation on Court to pass a final decree for sale. O XXIV r 5 Civil Procedure Code recognizes only one method of payment i.e. payment into Court of the amount fixed by a preliminary mortgage decree. Hence on default of payment into Court within the time fixed by the decree the Court

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXXIV, r 5 (Act IV of 1882,

s 89)—contd

is bound on the application of the decree holder to pass a final decree for sale. Jogendra Prasad Varma Singh v. Gouri Shankar Prasad Saku 2 Pat 1 J 33 followed. Semble If any payment had been made to the decree holder in the interval and certified by Court under O XXIV r 5 Civil Procedure Code credit may be given for the same at the time of passing the final decree. SINGH LAL v. ISTHUPAJA (1914) I L R 42 Mad 61

6 ———— Act No IV of 1882. (Transfer of Property Act) s 89—Mortgage—Final decree for sale—Mortgagor's right not absolute but extinguished until sale. Under the present Code of Civil Procedure which repeals s 89 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 the mere passing of a final decree for sale under O XXIV r 5 does not extinguish the mortgagor's right until a sale has actually taken place in pursuance of the decree. SHAH MENDI HASAN v. ISMAIL HASAN (1914) I L R 42 All 517

7 ———— Application for final decree—Objection by defendants—Objection not entertained and decrees made absolute—Whether application in rem or in personam against the order. Where in two suits on two mortgages the plaintiff applied for a decree absolute under O XXIV r 5 (2) of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 and the defendants filed objections held that an application in rem did not lie to the High Court against an order declining to entertain the objections and making the decrees absolute. MUSAR GANGAIAH SINGH v. RAJ PITTER CHAND BANARJAY (1914) 5 Fat L J 842

8 ———— Application for order absolute—Limitation Act (1908) Art 181 such application after three years if barred when there was an interim suspension of right to apply. A third mortgagee obtained a preliminary decree and the last date for payment was 31st July 1911. The payment not having been made he made an application on the 2nd October 1915 to make the decree absolute. Prior to this the second mortgagee had instituted a suit to enforce his security in which the High Court in its appellate judgment dated the 10th March 1914 expressed the opinion that the third mortgagee could not sell the property before he had paid up the second mortgagee and a payment was made by him to the second mortgagee on the 22nd May 1915. Held—That as the third mortgagee could not have made an application to have his decree made absolute between the 10th March 1914 and the 22nd May 1915 his right to apply for order absolute was temporarily suspended and was not revived till the 22nd May 1915. Therefore assuming that Art 181 of the Limitation Act applied his application dated the 2nd October 1915 was not barred by limitation for not having been made within three years from the last date fixed for payment i.e. from 31st July 1911. Pulney v. Warren & Co 73 (22) (1801) and East India Company v. Compagnie des Indes (1837) referred to. Lallan Chandra v. Modhu Sudan I L J 35 Cal 209 (1915) (1907) Drishamoni v. Lallan Chandra I I R 43 Cal 560 (1916) Pante Sarnamjee v. Sohi Mookherjee 11 M L A 254 (1864) and Prannil v. Pookla E gum

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

—s 89)—O XXXIV r 5 (Act IV of 1882)

M I 4 3 J (1889) followed. HEMENDRA MOHAN KHASNOBIS v DHARANINATH CHANDRA ROY
25 C W N 376

—O XXXIV r 6 (Act IV of 1882)

s 90)—

See CIVIL COURTS ACT (VIII OF 1857)
s 1 I L R 41 All 331

See DECREE HOLDER
I L R 33 Mad 677

See HINDU LAW (ALIENATION)
I L R 43 Mad 421

See LIMITATION I L R 42 Cal 294

See MORTGAGE I L R 40 Cal 342
I L R 45 Cal 702
2 Pat L J 51

See MORTGAGE DECREE 3 Pat L J 649

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907) s 16 AND 31

I L R 31 All 106

1. —Application for decree over against the mortgagee—Limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 131 An application for a decree under the provisions of O XXXIV r 6 of the Code of Civil Procedure is not an application for the execution of the original decree for sale but is an application in the original suit for a new decree. Such an application is governed as to limitation by art 131 of sch. I to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 and must be made within three years from the date when the right to apply accrued. Dihari Lal v Disheswar Das 9 A L J 400 referred to MOHAMMAD ILTIYAT HUSSAIN v ALI RAZA BIKI (1918)

I L R 40 All 553

2. —Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 66—Mortgage—Application for personal decree against mortgagee—Limitation A mortgage bond executed in 1907 provided that the money advanced on it was to be paid after the lapse of seven years and the interest was to be paid yearly. The mortgagee was given the option of suing either on default in the payment of interest or after the expiry of the term. He brought his suit in 1914 and obtained a decree under which he brought the mortgaged property to sale. The sale proceeds proving insufficient to satisfy the decree he then applied under O XXXIV r 6 for a personal decree against the mortgagee. Held that the application was not time barred. Ganga Prasad v Sher Ali 1 A L J 313 followed. MAKHAND SINGH v KALLU SINGH (1919) I L R 41 All 531

3. —If a mortgage decree holder is unable to realise enough to pay off the amount due owing to some of the properties being in a Native State he is entitled to a personal decree. SAMANTA GAGANNATH MAHAPATRA v LOKENATH SIKUL (1921) 6 Pat L J 106

4. —Mortgage—Decree over—Sale of mortgaged property but not in execution of applicant's decree A second mortgagee sued on his mortgage and obtained a final decree for sale of the mortgaged property. He did not put his decree into execution and made no attempt to

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

—O XXXIV r 6 (Act IV of 1882)

s 90)—contd

get the property sold. Subsequently the first mortgagee obtained a decree for sale of the property and the property was sold in satisfaction of that decree. The second mortgagee then applied for a decree over under O XXXIV r 6 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Held that he was not entitled to a decree over as the mortgaged property had not been put to sale in execution of his decree. Kamti Prasad v Saij I Ahmad 1 L P 31 All 313. Muhammad Ilibar v Munshi Fawaz Ali 1899 p 908 and Dadri Das v Inayat Khan 1 L R 22 All 404 followed. Kedar Nath v Chandu Mal 1 L R 26 All 25. Pirbhu Narain Singh v Amir Singh 1 L P 29 All 369 and Jenna Bahu v Parmeshwar Narain Mathia 1 L P 47 Cal 370 distinguished. DARBARI MAL v MULA SINGH I L R 43 All 519

5. —Mortgage suit—small portion of property omitted from plaint The omission to include in the plaint a portion of the mortgaged property does not debar the plaintiff in a mortgage suit from applying for an order under O XXXIV r 6 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 provided that the omission was not intended to and has not prejudiced the Judgment debtor. COPAL PANDA v BAIKUNTHA MAHAPATRA
2 Pat L J 535

—O XXXIV, r 7—

See UNSATISFACTORY MORTGAGE
26 C W N 123

—O XXXIV r 8 (Act IV of 1882)

s 90)—

See O XXXIV r 3
I L R 39 Mad 882

See s 143 I L R 34 All 368

1. —Decree for sale on a mortgage conditioned on redemption of prior mortgages—Power of Court to extend time for payment of redemption money When a suit for sale by a subsequent mortgagee became by reason of the intervention of a prior mortgagee also a suit for redemption of the prior mortgage and a decree was passed accordingly it was held that the Court had power under O XXXIV r 8 to extend the time for payment of the sum found necessary to redeem the prior mortgage. Held the plaintiffs having through a bona fide mistake paid into Court so insufficient amount. KALLAN v SADRHO LAL (1912)

I L R 35 All 116

2. —Powers—Preliminary mortgage-decree by Appellate Court—Power to extend time for payment only for first Court—Order of extension by Appellate Court—Appeal against non-maintainability of—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 113 no power to extend time under No appeal lies from an order extending time for payment of the mortgage amount due under a decree such an order is not a decree within s 2 cl. (2) of the Code of Civil Procedure. Even so cases where the preliminary mortgage-decree is passed by the Appellate Court it is only the Court of first instance that can extend time for payment under O XXXIV r 8 proviso of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). Venkatakrishna Iyyar v Thayaraja Chetti 1 L R 23 Mad 521 S

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXXIV r 8 (Act IV of 1882 s 93)—contd

naram v Chinnai Lal I L R 23 All 33 and Ramdhani Sahu v Lalit Singh I L R 31 All 328 followed s 148 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) does not enable a Court to extend time for doing acts allowed by a decree Hari Singh v Tika Ram 9 All I J 351 and Suranjan Singh v Panna Sahal Lal 17 Ind C 917 followed DHARMARAJA AYYAP v SRINIVASA MUDALIAR (1915) I L R 39 Mad 576

3 ————— Suit for redemption—Decree modified in appeal—Application to postpone day fixed for payment—Held that the power given by the proviso to O XXXIV r 8 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 is a power exercisable by the Court which has to execute the decree. Hence in the case of a decree passed by an Appellate Court an application for postponement of the day fixed for payment must be made to the Court of first instance and not to the Court which passed the decree Pam Dhani Sahu v Lalit Singh I L R 31 All 328 and Dharmaraja Ayyar v K G Srinivasa Mudaliar I L R 39 Mad 576 followed BANI PRASAD v HARNAM DAS (1914) I L R 39 All 396

4 ————— Prior and subsequent mortgages—Suit and sale of mortgaged property by prior mortgagee—Subsequent suit for sale by puisne mortgagee not impleaded in former suit—Court not competent to extend time limited for payment of purchase money to auction purchaser—Held that a suit by a puisne mortgagee who had not been made a party to the prior mortgagee's suit in the Court of which the mortgaged property had been sold by auction to pay off the auction purchaser and bring the mortgaged property to sale is not quoad the auction purchaser a suit for redemption and the Court has no power under O XXXIV r 8 to extend the time limited for payment if whatever may have been found due to the auction purchaser Kahan v Badho Lal I L R 35 All 116 distinguished Idumbha Parajan v Pethi Paddi I L R 43 Mad 35 dissented from NAND KUMAR v SOHAN SINGH I L R 43 All 25

5 ————— Partition suit decree for recovery of plaintiff's share on payment to alienees on a certain date—Payment on subsequent date—Jurisdiction of Court to extend time for payment—Construction of decree. A decree in a suit for partition provided inter alia that the plaintiffs could recover certain properties from the alienees on payment of a sum of money into Court by a certain date without any provision as to effect of non payment. Plaintiffs however paid the money on a subsequent date. Held that the decree was in terms and in effect one for redemption and that the Court had jurisdiction under O XXXIV r 8 to extend the time for payment IDUMBA PARAJAN v PETHI PADDI (1914) I L R 43 Mad 357

O XXXIV r 10—

See O XXXIV r 4

I L R 40 All 109

O XXXIV r 14 (Act IV of 1882

s 100)—

See O VI n 2 I L R 38 All 264

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XXXIV, r 14 (Act IV of 1882 s 100)—contd

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

2 Pat L J 197

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT 1908 s

5

I L R 42 Mad 114

See MORTGAGE I L R 42 Cal 780

I L R 47 Cal 377

See s 11, I L R 38 All 327

See O II r 2 I L R 33 All 264

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT s 93

I L R 36 All 518

1 ————— Execution of decree—Unfructuary mortgage—Suit for possession of mortgaged property—Decree for possession and costs—Execution for costs by attachment of part of the mortgaged property. Certain unfructuary mortgages owing for possession of the mortgaged property which had not been delivered to them obtained a decree for possession and for costs. In execution of their decree for costs the mortgagees applied for attachment of part of the mortgage property. Held that this application was not barred by the provisions of O XXXIV r 14 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 Akharajmal v Daim I L R 32 Cal 296 distinguished Utham mad Abdul Fashid Khan v Dilekha Rai I L R 27 All 517 referred to HANMANS PAI v SRI NIRMAL NATH (1913) I L R 35 All 518

2 ————— Transfer of Property Act (Act IV of 1882) s 65—Execution of decree—Decree against heirs of deceased debtor—Execution sought against property once subject to a mortgage which had become time-barred. Held that a decree in a suit under s 65 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 against the heirs of a deceased mortgagee as such heirs for payment of money originally due under a mortgage which however had become unenforceable by lapse of time could be executed against any property of the deceased in the hands of the heirs including the property once the subject of the mortgage and that the bar of O XXXIV r 14 of the Code of Civil Procedure did not apply Madho Prasad v Dibi Dial Ali W A 1891 page 168 Arumachalam Chetti v Iyyaranyan I L R 21 Mad 476 Khub Chand v Kahan Das I L R 1 All 210 Ponnappa Pillai v Pappanayangar I L R 4 Mad 1 Ganesh Singh v Dibi Singh I L R 32 All 377 Madho Prasad Singh v Baij Nath Ali W A 1905 page 152 Azhan Lal v Umrao Singh I L R 30 All 116 and Indarpal Singh v Meena Lal I L R 36 All 261 referred to CHEDI LAL v SAADAT UN NISSA BIBI (1915) I L R 39 All 36

2(a) ————— Under s 14 of the Civil Procedure Code a party who has obtained a decree for costs in Privy Council can proceed by application to realise the amount of costs decreed against the surety (for the judgment debtor) personally but not against the property which he had charged under a CO2 of the old Civil Procedure Code. Even under O 34 r 14 of the Civil Procedure Code which has replaced s 99 of the Transfer of Property Act the properties charged cannot be sold except by instituting a mortgage suit MUSANNMAT CHANDRABATI v MADHO PRASAD 19 C W N 17

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XII r 22 (1882 Code 561)—

contd

6 ————— Respondent if may support decree on ground decided against him without filing cross objections. The respondent in an appeal can urge in support of the judgment a point not decided in his favour without presenting a cross appeal. IMANI ALI FATHAFI v. AFFAT UNNE SA (1913) 18 C W N 493

7 ————— Cross-objections memorandum of by one respondent against another maintainability of. Under O XII r 22 Civil Procedure Code one respondent can file a memorandum of cross objections against another. Jadunandan Prasad Singh v. Koor Kalyan Singh 15 C L J 61 not followed. MUSUNNAI MUDALI v. ARDU REDDY (1915) 1 L R 38 Jcd 705

8 ————— Appeal—Cross objection—Objection taken by respondent against a respondent. In a suit for sale on a mortgage the deed upon which the suit was based purported to have been executed by six persons. In the Court of first instance however execution was held to have been proved as against four only of the alleged executants. These four appealed making the other two alleged executants respondents along with the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs also filed cross objections in which they sought to fix the two defendants respondents with liability for the mortgage deed. Held that the plaintiffs were not precluded from filing objections against the respondents. Abdul Ghani v. Muhammad Farsh 1 L R 28 All 35 followed. Kallu v. Manni 1 L R 23 All 93 referred to. MUSUNNAI MUDALI v. JAM NARAIN SARKU (1918)

1 L R 40 All 520

9 ————— Held that when an appeal is dismissed as filed out of time a memorandum of objections filed by a respondent cannot be heard. ALAGAPPA CHETTIAR v. CHOCALINGAM CHETTIAR (1918) 1 L R 41 Mad 501

10 ————— Held that this order is not applicable to Letters Patent appeals and therefore cross objection not maintainable in these appeals. BROJENDRO CHANDRA SARKA v. PROSANGA KUMAR DHAR 24 C W N 1016

O XII r 22 (3) 33—

See SALE 1 L R 43 Cal 780

Claims decreed against one of two defendants—appeal by judgment debtor—Cross objections by plaintiff—whether Appellate Court can decree claim against the other defendant. Plaintiffs sued the defendants for recovery of the amount due on a bank account. The last balance was struck in 1915 and was signed by defendant No 2 alone while a previous balance in 1911 was signed by both. Defendant No 1 pleaded that he was not liable at all and that the debt was incurred only by defendant No 2 which was admitted by the latter. The first Court decreed part of the claim against defendant No 2 only. Defendant No 2 appealed and plaintiff filed cross objections in which they impleaded defendant No 1 as a respondent but no notice was given to the latter. The Appellate Court held both defendants were liable to the extent of part of the debt and decreed the claim against both defendants. The plaintiff then preferred this second appeal.

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XII r 22 (3) 33—contd

to the High Court. Held that the ground of defence in the present case being in no sense common the Lower Appellate Court had no power to decree the claim against defendant No 1 on the mere cross objection of the plaintiffs to the appeal of defendant No 2 either under the provision of O XII r 22 or of O XII r 33 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Aga Tim v. Aga Saw (19 Indian Cases 616) Bolshi Linderuani Prasad v. Dhaninder Das (3 Indian Cases 662) and Khsum Chand Bhuduria v. Ghane Muhammad Baha (38 Indian Cases 361) followed. ILANI BAKSHI v. JIWANDA MAL 1 L P 1 Lah 860

O XII r 22 (4)—The death of appellant who has sued for malicious prosecution and obtained a decree but preferred an appeal claiming more damages than he had been awarded caused the appeal to abate. MURUGAPPAN CHETTIAR v. LOUVASAMI ILLAI 1 L P 44 Mad 528

O XII, r 23 (1882 Code s 562)—

See ALI r 1 2 Pat L J 393

See O ALI r 1 (4) 23 C W N 1049

See AGRA TENANTS ACT 1901 s 182 1 L R 28 All 181

See TENANTS ACT 1871 s 6 1 L R 39 Bom 352

See REWARD

1 L R 43 Cal 148 and 938

Remand not on preliminary point—Whether an appeal lies—How can Appellate Court direct further investigation. Where the Court of first instance after considering the evidence adduced by the parties decided the suit, but the lower Appellate Court remanded them to the Court of the first instance with directions to re-admit the suits and determine them after getting a local investigation made according to the directions given in the judgment and allowing the parties to adduce additional evidence if they wished to do so upon a preliminary objection taken in second appeal on the ground that as the Court of first instance did not decide the cases on a preliminary point no appeal under O XII r 23 lay against the order of remand. Held that the order made by the lower Appellate Court purported to be and was in form and substance an order under O XII r 23 although the Court ought not to have remanded the case under the provisions of that rule and that therefore an appeal lay. Held also that the order remanding the case to the trial Court was erroneous. If the lower Appellate Court thought that the investigation was wrong and that there should be further investigation or that it was necessary to take additional evidence in order to enable it to pronounce judgment it might direct such investigation or take such additional evidence retaining the appeals on its file. PROSANGA KUMAR CHATTOPADHYAY v. DATTA NATH MISHRA 24 C W N 708

It is not a good ground for passing an order of remand to say that the preliminary point has been decided by the Court of first instance on a wrong view of the burden of proof unless the appellate Court also finds that decision is wrong. WAMBILAN KUMAR v. JALTA IBA AU 1 L R 24 All 612

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

— O 1

O XLI r 23 (1882 Code s 562)—

co 11

1 ————— De 101 of fi at Court not a preliminary point—Lower of Appel late Court to ena 1 There are cases in which an order of remand may be made even where the dis posal has not gone on a point which can strictly be called a preliminary point Ajappa v Kunju with 9 Mad L R 1 followed Yes in which there was a regular hearing of a matter by the first Court and the evidence on which the disposal of the case was made by that Court was not placed on record is a fit one for remand JAMBULATTA
v RAJAMMAL (1913) I L R 36 Mad 492

2 ————— Suit dis
*miss*d for default of appearance but restored by Appellate Court—Remand—Hypoth Held that no appeal would lie from an appellate order directing that a suit which had been dismissed because neither party had appeared should be restored to the file of pending cases and heard. WANDUN vis a v KUNDAN LAL (1917) I L R 35 All 427

3 ————— Remand—Relimi
nary point—Issues framed and evidence taken but suit decided upon one issue only Held that it is competent to an Appellate Court to remand a case under O XLI r 23 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 where the Court of first instance having framed issues and recorded all the evidence has decided the suit with reference to its finding upon one of the issues framed by it leaving the other issues undecided Mata Din v Jamna Das
1 L R 17 All 631 followed KAMTA v PARBHU
DATTA (1916) I L R 39 All 165

4 ————— Whether Appellate Court on remanding a case is empowered to direct first Court to pass another decree A subordinate Appellate Court is not competent to remand a case for further evidence to the Court of first instance and to require that Court to pass another decree.
All that the Appellate Court is empowered to do is to frame an issue and to send that issue to the Court below for the return of a finding and it is the duty of the Appellate Court after receiving that finding to dispose of the appeal on the evidence before it. A plaintiff who has omitted to sue under s 9 of the Specific Relief Act 1877 when first dis posed of is not debarred when the summary relief under that section has become barred by limitation from relying in a suit for ejectment on s 119 of the Evidence Act 1872. As soon as he has proved that the defendant has dispossessed him the onus is thrown upon the latter to prove his title. HARA
DHAN MANDAL MODAK v ISWAR DAS MAWARI
2 Pat L J 61

O XLI r 23 25—Remand—Prelimi nary point—Point involving merits of the case A suit principally involved the consideration of two issues viz (i) whether the plaintiff had title to the lands in suit and (ii) whether they were entitled to khaz possession. The first Court finding against the plaintiff on the first point did not decide the second issue. The lower Appellate Court reversed the finding of the first Court and remanded the suit for decision on the second issue. The High Court directed the lower Appellate Court to keep the case on its own file and if he thought necessary to refer the second issue for trial to the first Court under O XLI r 25. Per CHITRA J The deci

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XLI r 23 25—contd

sion of the Munsif was not on a preliminary point within the meaning of O XLI r 23. The law as to remands under O XLI r 23 has not changed the old law. Per COXE J When there are two points to be decided and it is necessary for the decision of the second point that the first point must be first decided the decision of the first point is necessarily preliminary to the decision of the second. The question whether a point is connected with the merits of the case or only with considera tions of law does not affect the question whether it is or is not a preliminary point. Salim Sheikh
v Asir Khan 8 C L J 159 referred to ABDEL
KARIM v FATEZ BUX (1911) 15 C W N 575

There is no reason why there cannot be an order under r 23 and 25 at the same time. An execution sale is a nullity if held without jurisdiction. BHADAJ SANKU v SHAIKH
MANOWAR ALI 4 Pat L J 645

O XLI r 23 25 and s 115—
See REMAND 5 Pat L J 146

O XLI r 23 (1882 Code s 566)—
See APPELLATE COURT 24 C W N 145

1 ————— Failure by Appel late Court to frame material issue not raised and tried—Material irregularity—Permission by High Court A suit for damages against a Steamers Company for loss due to short delivery was decreed by the Munsif who did not frame and try the issue whether notice under s 10 of the Carriers Act had been served on the Company that issue not having been presented to him by the parties. The Sub ordinate Judge on appeal reversed that decree and dismissed the suit on the ground that service of notice under the said section had not been made out. Held that the failure of the Subordinate Judge to frame and try the requisite issue under r 25 O XLI Civil Procedure Code was in the circumstances a material irregularity which might have led to a failure of justice. RAMJAS AGAR WALLA v INDIA GENERAL NAVIGATION AND PAUL WAY COMPANY LD (1911) 16 C W N 424

2 ————— High Court if board by opinion of Bench expressed in remanding a case Where a Bench of the High Court in remanding an appeal for a finding under s 566 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1857 had expressed an opinion as to the way in which the case should be decided upon the finding the Bench before which the appeal comes up for final disposal after the finding of the Court below has arrived will not be bound by that opinion. Bonchari Gho b v Anuddin Buxa 24 B R 107 Loelman Fira b
v Jamna Prasad 1 I L J 10 All 162 3 Udhar Hossain v Bihari 1 L R 16 All 306 referred to GAREYBRA NATH PAI CHODHURY v SURYA
NATH RAY CHODHURY (1912) 17 C W N 422

O XLI r 27 (1882 Code s 568)—
See O XVII r 3 I L R 3 All 610

See APPEAL I L R 42 Cal 675

See MUNICIPAL ELECTION
I L R 46 Cal 119

1 ————— Evidence admis
sible of Lower Court 1 27 (b) of O XLI of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 does not mean that,
in order to e
State Court to j c

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XLI, r 27 (1882 Code, s 563)—

contd

nounce judgment in favour of a particular party additional evidence should be admitted in appeal it means only that where it is impossible to pronounce judgment at all on the evidence the Court may call for a document KALRA DUTT MANDAN v. FULST MANDAN 1 Pat L J 435

2

*Additional evidence on appeal—Powers of the Appellate Court—Test to be applied for admitting—State of mind of the Judge after hearing the appeal—No external standard—Any other substantial cause meaning of Where a Subordinate Judge first heard an appeal and then passed an order for the admission of some additional documents in evidence on the ground that it was necessary to have the documents before the Court to enable it satisfactorily to pronounce its judgments. Held that the admission of the documents as additional evidence was permissible under O XLI r 27 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908). The test laid down under cl (b) of O XLI r 27 is not whether any tribunal would be unable to pronounce any judgment without production of the additional evidence in question but whether the mind of the Appellate Judge is in such a condition on the evidence on record that he requires any documents to be examined to enable him to pronounce judgment. The expression any other substantial clause added in O XLI r 27 confers a wide discretion on the Appellate Court to admit additional evidence when the ends of justice require it to be done. Reasons: See v O P Pailway Company 1 L R 31 Bom 331 explained and distinguished Krishnama Channar v. Nara Simha Channar 1 L R 31 Mad 114 referred to Andappall Pillai v. Muthukumara Thevar (1912) Mad H N 450 followed Subba Reddy v. Ethirayammal 22 Mad L J 14 inserted from ARUNJA AMMAL v. APPADURAI MUDALI (1912).*

I L R 33 Mad. 414

3

*Appellate Court—Admission of fresh evidence—Practice regarding admission. Where an Appellate Court desires to admit fresh papers in evidence under r 27 of O XLI of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908), it must record its reasons in writing for doing so and admit them formally in evidence. Daji Babaji v. Saktharam Krishna (1914).*

I L R 38 Bom 665

4

*Additional evidence called for by Appellate Court—Re summing up of witness already examined before the Court of first instance. Held that O XLI r 27 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 is not intended to enable an Appellate Court to recall and re-examine before it a witness who has already been examined and cross examined before the Court of first instance. Murshid Ali Siddiq v. Mahomed Ali Siddiq (1916).*

I L R 38 All 391

5

Additional evidence—Refusal by the lower Appellate Court to admit—Second Appeal—Power of High Court to interfere and set aside decision—Jurisdiction—Exercise of discretion with their refusal. Held by WALLIS J and ARUNDA J SADASIVA AYYAR, J dissenting that where a lower Appellate Court refuses to admit a certain material document

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XLI, r 27 (1882 Code s. 563)—

contd

as additional evidence in the appeal under O XLI r 27 Civil Procedure Code the High Court cannot interfere in second appeal and hold that such additional evidence ought to have been admitted by the lower Appellate Court. Per WALLIS C J.—It has long been the practice of all the High Courts not to entertain second appeals from refusals of the lower Appellate Court to admit fresh evidence under O XLI r 27 Civil Procedure Code and such practice should not be departed from. Per SADASIVA AYYAR J contra.—The High Court has power in second appeal to consider the propriety of the exercise of discretion by the lower Appellate Court as regards the admission of additional evidence. VAITHINATHIA IYLLAI v. KUTTU THEVAR (1919) 1 L R 42 Mad 737

O XLI r 27 and s 115—Appellate Court—Additional evidence. A mistake in law on the part of the Appellate Court in directing evidence to be tendered which it is not competent to receive in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 is not revisable by the High Court. Semble that an Appellate Court is not competent to examine an attesting witness who by inadvertence has not been called in the first Court. GAYA SINGH v. NARAYAN SINGH

5 Pat L J 263

O XLI, r 22 33 (1882 Codes 577)—

See CROSS OBJECTIONS 5 Pat L J 329

O XLI r 33—

See IMPEACHMENT I L R 43 Cal 1039

See HINDU LAW—GIFT

I L R 40 Mad 818

See HINDU LAW—LEGAL NCESSITY

I L R 38 Cal 721

See LIMITATION ACT SMT I ART 181

I L R 43 All 320

See MORTGAGE I L R 43 Mad 803

See REMAND I L R 46 Cal 738

See SALE I L R 43 Cal 790

See O XLI r 4 1 Pat L J 143

1

*Appeal—Procedure—Power of Appellate Court to interfere with portion of decree not challenged by either party. Plaintiff sued defendant for rent and obtained a decree for a portion of his claim. Plaintiff then appealed against the disallowance of the balance of the amount claimed but defendant submitted to the decree and neither filed a cross appeal nor took objections under O XLI r 22 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908. Held that it was not competent to the Appellate Court acting under O XLI r 33 to interfere with the decree obtained by plaintiff in so far as it had not been challenged by defendant. Attorney General v. Simpson (1901) 2 Ch 671 referred to RANGAM LAL v. SHANU (1911) 1 L R 34 All 32*

2 Civil Procedure Code (Act VII of 1882) ss 562 564—Repeal of s 561 in the new Code—Effect of repeal—Remand order by the Court of appeal. In a suit to redeem a mortgage the first Court took accounts between the parties and decreed redemption. The lower Appellate Court having found that there were

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd.

O XII r 33—contd

some errors in the taking of accounts and that a piece of land wrongly taken to be in the mortgagor's possession reversed the decree and remanded the suit for trial to the first Court. On appeal from the order of remand Held setting aside the order of remand that an Appellate Court could remand a case to the trial Court only when the latter had disposed of the suit upon a preliminary point and the decree was reversed on appeal. Held further there was no reason why the first Court's decree as such should have been reversed for according to both Courts, the possession was to be restored to the plaintiffs and the only difference between the two was in small particulars of accounts which could have been met by a slight readjustment of the decree. Per CURHAM. The removal of s. 564 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 has apparently no other object but to withdraw those restrictive provisions of the section which in practice had been found embarrassing such restrictions occurring for instance in cases where the Appellate Court has allowed an amendment of the pleading or has added a party to the record. NAROTTAM RAJARAM v MOHANLAL KHANDAS (1919) I L R 37 Bom 289

3. — Plaintiff claiming alternative reliefs obtaining a decree—Right of appeal A plaintiff who claims for alternative reliefs in his plaint can prefer an appeal although he obtained a decree. O XII r 33 confers on the Appellate Court the power to pass such decrees as ought to have been passed. BISWANATH GORAIN v SURENDRA MOHAN GHOSH (1913) 19 C W N 102

4. — Appellate Court power of to allow withdrawal of suit with liberty to bring fresh suit when part only of decree is appealed against The plaintiff's suit for recovery of possession of land on declaration of title was decreed in part and the defendants appealed against the decree in so far as it was against them. The plaintiff did not prefer any cross appeal or cross objection. Held that under r 33 of O XII it was competent to the High Court in appeal to allow the plaintiff to withdraw from the entire suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit upon the same cause of action but this power must be cautiously exercised and should not be permitted to be invoked in favour of a litigant so as to enable him to evade the provisions of other statutes, e.g. the Limitation Act and the Court Fees Act. In the circumstances of the case the High Court allowed the plaintiff on terms as to costs to withdraw from the suit with liberty to bring subject to the law of limitation, a fresh suit in respect of the same cause of action only with regard to the lands which had been decreed in his favour by the lower Court. AKHAYE SINGH v BETTY DEHARY MITTER (1915) 20 C W N 544

5. — Scope and effect of as to powers of Appellate Courts—Dismissing entire suit on plaintiff's appeal when part of claim admitted by defendant who prefers no appeal In a suit for arrears of rent the plaintiff claimed rent at a particular rate. The defendants admitted a lower rate and the Court of first instance decreed the suit at this admitted rate. The plaintiff having appealed, the District Judge dismissed the entire suit although the defendants did not prefer an appeal nor file any cross objection. Held that r 33 of O XII is very widely expressed but it should not be applied so as to enable a party litigant to ignore the other provisions of the Code or the provisions of statutes like those which relate to limitation or payment of court fees. That ordinarily r 33 should be limited to those cases where as a result of the Appellate Court's interference with the decree in favour of the appellant further interference is required in order to adjust the rights of the parties in accordance with justice, equity and good conscience. That in the present case the lower Appellate Court allowed the defendants to enstano to evade the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code the Limitation Act and the Court Fees Act and even assuming that r 33 is applicable to a case of this description that judicial discretion vested in the Court of Appeal below was not properly exercised. ANJAL MAJHI v LATOO BEPARI (1915) 20 C W N 512

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XII r 33—contd

6. — Powers of the Appellate Court to reverse a finding of the lower Court in the appellants favour against which no cross objection was preferred by the respondent under O XII r 22—Construction of document Plaintiff had sold his share in some lands and the buildings thereon along with a passage to defendants by a lobala. He subsequently sued for recovery of a portion of the passage alleging that it had not passed by the lobala. The Munsif gave a partial decree and the Subordinate Judge partially allowed the defendants appeal, but reversed a portion of the Munsif's decree which was in favour of the defendants and against which the plaintiff had not preferred any cross objection. Held that in the appeal by the defendants the lower Appellate Court under the circumstances of the case was not justified under O XII r 33 in interfering with the portion of the Munsif's decree which was in favour of the defendants, as the plaintiff had not filed any cross appeal or taken cross objection under O XII r 22. Held further on a construction of the lobala with reference to the pleadings and other documentary evidence that the whole passage was sold as there were statements in the deed which were inconsistent with the plaintiff having reserved any portion of the passage. GOPAL CHANDRA DAS v NADAR CHAND DAS (1917) 22 C W N 526

7. — Decree against three defendants—Appeal by two only the third not being made a party to the appeal—Jurisdiction of Appellate Court to modify decree in favour of the non appealing defendant A decree was passed for varying amounts against three defendants of whom two only appealed the third not being made a party to the appeal. Held that it was competent to the Appellate Court to modify the decree in favour of the defendant who had not appealed by decreasing the whole sum due to the plaintiffs against the defendants who had. Pongam Lal v Jhandu I L R 34 All 37 distinguished. JAWAHAR BANO v SHUJAAT HUSAIN I L R 43 All. 85

—O XII, r 35 (1882 Cod s 579)—
See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1883 s 105
5 Pat L J 472

—O XII, r 1—
See O XII 1 and 4 Pat L J 66

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

—contd

O XLII r 1—contd

See Pes Judicata I L R 1 Lah 83See RESTORATION OF SUIT
2 Pat L J 720

O XLIII r 1 (1882 Code s 588)—

See s. 47 2 Pat L J 361

See s 115 151 4 Pat L J 51

See O I A R 20 C W N 1203

See O I R 4 I L R 39 AH 430

See O I I I I R 1

I L R 35 AH 425

See O A L R I I L R 40 Mad 18

See O XLI r 23 I L R 35 AH 427

See SCM II PARA 2 I L R 38 AH 297See MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT (III of 1873) s 14 I L R 41 Mad 721See RECEIVER I L R 41 Cal 746

I L R 40 Mad 18

14 C W N 183

1 ————— cl (a)—Valuation of claim for purposes of jurisdiction—Decision of final and bars appeal Where a suit for the declaration of the plaintiff's right to an easement and for a permanent injunction to restrain the defendant from interfering with such right was valued at Rs 100 but the Court having found the value to be Rs 790 returned the plaint for presentation to the proper Court Held that an appeal lay against the order under cl (a) of r 1 of O XLIII of the Civil Procedure Code S 14 of the Court Fees Act has no application to a case where the valuation though it may indirectly affect the amount of Court fees payable on the plaint is necessary for the purpose of determining the jurisdiction of the Court to entertain the suit Bropo Kumar v Eshan Chandra 30 L R 79 referred to PEARLSKA v SUBRAMANIAM (1912) 17 C W N 503

2 ————— A case against the order of an Appellate Court returning a memorandum of appeal to be presented to the proper Court NUP UD DIT KHAN v PRAN KRISHAN CHAKRA VARTI (1918) I L R 40 AH 659

3 ————— cl (1)—Suit by Hindu widow—Adoption pending suit—Widow allowed to prosecute suit though divested on strength of ante adoption agreement—Order of appealable Where during the pendency of a suit brought by a Hindu widow the defendant objected that by an adoption made since the institution of the suit the plaintiff had divested herself of the estate of her husband and so could no longer prosecute the suit but the Court overruled the objection in the view that plaintiff was entitled to prosecute the suit under an ante adoption agreement with the natural father of the adopted son Held that the order was not one under r 10 of O XLII of the Civil Procedure Code and was not appealable under O XLIII r 1 cl (1) PROMOTHA NATH FOX CHOWDHURY v DINAMONI CHOWDHURANI (1916) 20 C W N 552

4 ————— cl (b) and (c)—Appeal—Order directing an application to be substituted by an appeal in place of the original plaintiff Held

O XLIII r 1 (1882 Code s 583)—

contd

that an order dismissing an application to be brought upon the record as a plaintiff is not a decree and no appeal lies against such an order DEMI CHAND v ARJA NAND (1915) I L P 37 AH 272

5 ————— cl (t)—Temporary injunction—Order refusing injunction if appealable An appeal lies against an order refusing a temporary injunction Reasut Hussain v Hadjee Abdullah J L R 2 Cal 131 referred to HARI LAL v PRAYAG RAM (1913) 17 C W N 996

6 ————— cl (s)—Mortgage suit—Appointment of Receiver at mortgagee's instance under terms of mortgage deed—Court's order on Receiver to pay money to mortgagor to enable him to appeal if appealable—Interest non payment of ground for appointing Receiver When a mortgage deed provided for the appointment at the instance of the mortgagor of a Receiver in circumstances specified in the deed and laid down the mode in which the rents and profits were to be distributed by the Receiver and in pursuance of these provisions a Receiver was appointed with powers to dispose of the rents and profits in a certain manner in the course of a suit brought by the mortgagor to enforce the mortgage but after a preliminary decree for sale had been passed in the suit the Court upon the application of the judgment debtor passed an order directing the Receiver to pay certain sums to the judgment debtor in order to enable him to prefer an appeal against the decree Held that an appeal lay against the order under O XLIII r 1 cl (s) of the Civil Procedure Code Mohunt Anand Das v Ram Perlash Das 14 C W N 183 relied on That the Receiver not having had power to make the payments in question either under the mortgage deed or the terms of his appointment the Subordinate Judge was wrong in making the order The power given by Court to the Receiver to institute or defend suits regarding the properties whether for collection of rents or for any other purpose, or the provision in the mortgage deed that pecuniary grants might be allowed for law expenses did not justify the orders of the Subordinate Judge for payment to the judgment debtor until after sums had been deposited in Court sufficient to recover interest due on the mortgage debt as required by the mortgage deed and the terms of appointment of the Receiver The mortgagor in this case not having made any payment as interest since the loan was made was entitled under the provisions of the law to apply for the appointment of a Receiver pending the disposal of the suit EASTERN MORTGAGE AND AGENCY COMPANY LD v FAKRUDDIN MOHAMED CHODDURY (1912) 17 C W N 16

Order directing submission of account Ser
P ceiver

5 Pat L J 97

7 ————— Order expressing merely an intention to appoint a Receiver—Appeal An appeal lies only from an order actually appointing a Receiver and not from an order by which the Court expresses an intention to appoint a Receiver

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—co II

O XLIII r 1 (1883 Code s 539)—

could

and calls upon the plaintiff to suggest names with particulars regarding service remuneration etc. Pamji v. Koman Di 13 F I J, 9 followed. MUHAMMAD ASKARI v. NISAR HUSAIN

I L R 42 All 227

8 ———— Appeal from order

—Order granting leave to sue Receiver for negligence—Appeal. An appeal does not lie from an order granting leave to sue a Receiver for damages arising from his negligent discharge of duty. SHRIJIVAS v. N. C. Wazir (13 0)

I L R 45 Bom 99

9 ———— u) — Remand — Appeal

—Suit of the nature cognizable by a Court of Small Causes. A mahal having been divided by perfect partition into two thereafter the owner of one of the new mahals was made to pay a sum of Rs. 17 as Government revenue which was in fact payable by the owner of the other mahal. He then sued the owner of the other mahal to recover the sum so paid. The suit was filed in the Court of a Munsif who held that the suit did not lie and dismissed it. The plaintiff thereupon appealed to the Subordinate Judge who reversed the finding of the Munsif and remanded the suit for disposal on the merits. Held that no appeal lay from the order of remand, inasmuch as the suit was one of the nature cognizable by a Court of Small Causes. Since however the plaintiff had paid the money which he was seeking to recover and it had not been refunded, the High Court declined to treat the appeal as an application in revision. Nath Prasad v. Baij Nath I I P All 66 Qutub Husain v. Abul Hasan I L R 4 All 134 and Tulsa Kunwar v. Jagdish Prasad I L R 23 All 563 referred to. AMBA PRASAD v. MUSHTAQ HUSAIN

I L R 42 All 200

10 ———— Execution of

decree — Appeal — No appeal from order in execution proceeding if an appeal would not lie in the suit itself. Held that a second appeal will not lie from an order passed in proceedings in execution of a decree where no second appeal could have lain in the suit itself in which the decree was passed. Sri Bulloh Bhattacharya v. Baburam Chattopadhyay I L R 11 Cal 169 Shyam Charan Mitter v. Debendra Nath Mukerjee I L R 27 Cal 481 Maula Ammal v. Maula Maricar I L R 30 Mad 219 and Narayan Parmanand v. Naginda Bhaidas I L R 30 Bom 113 followed. SATY PRASAD v. BHAWANI PRASAD

I L R 43 All 403

11 ———— Appeal from order of remand — Whether findings of fact can be questioned. Held that an appellant coming to the High Court in appeal under O XLIII r 1 (u) of the Code of Civil Procedure from an order of remand under O XII r 23 cannot question findings of facts arrived at by the Lower Appellate Court. Sawan Singh v. Methu (85 P R 1914) followed. MOHNA RAM v. HOTA RAM

I L R 2 Lah 25

O XLIII r 1 (a) and s 115 — Suit for rent in a Revenue Court Service inam — Discontinuance of service — Ryoti land — Decree in Revenue Court — Appeal — Jurisdiction of Revenue Court — Plaintiff ordered by District Judge to be returned for presentation to Civil Court — Appeal to the High Court against order of District Judge if competent

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—co II

O XLIII r 1 (a) and s 115 — could —Order whether a decree — Estates Land Act (Mofras Act I of 1908) s 19' cl (a) — Prohibition of appeals — Conversion of appeal into civil revision petition. A landholder sued for arrears of rent in a Revenue Court from the defendants who originally held the lands on service tenure but had ceased to perform the services prior to the suit. The Revenue Court passed a decree in favour of the plaintiff. On appeal the District Judge set aside the decree holding that the Revenue Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit and ordered that the plaintiff should be returned to the plaintiff for presentation to a proper Court. On plaintiff preferring an appeal to the High Court the respondent raised a preliminary objection that the appeal did not lie. Held that no appeal lay against the order of the District Judge because a 19' cl (a) of the Estates Land Act prohibited the applicability of O XLIII of the Civil Procedure Code to proceedings under the Act and the order was not a decree under the Civil Procedure Code. Held also that the appeal should be converted into a civil revision petition under s 115 of the Civil Procedure Code as the latter section was not excluded by s 192 of the Act and that the Revenue Court had jurisdiction to entertain the suit as the lands were ryoti lands and did not fall within the exception to ryoti land in s 3 of the Act inasmuch as the services were not performed at the date of the suit. The Secretary of State for India v. Chelakani Rama Rao I L R 39 Mad 617 distinguished. RAJAH VENKATA RAMAYYA v. VEERASWAMI (1917)

I L R 41 Mad 554

O XLIII r 1 (r) and O XXXIX r 2 cl (3) — Interlocutory injunction disobedience of — Order declining to arrest or attach property — Appellate duty — Petition to commit while suit pending —Order thereon after dismissal of suit legality of — Imprisonment order of without first ordering attachment illegal. An appeal lies under O XLIII r 1 cl (r) of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) from an order declining to order arrest or attachment of property for disobedience of an interlocutory injunction and the Appellate Court can on appeal pass the order which the Lower Court should have passed. Where the injunction was disobeyed and the application to commit was put in while the suit was pending the fact that the order on the application was made after the suit was dismissed does not affect the powers of the Court to take action for the breach. The Court can in its discretion order either arrest or attachment of property and is not bound in the first instance to attach and then only order imprisonment. SURRI v. KUNHI KOYA (1916)

I L R 39 Mad 907

O XLIII r 1 (u) O XLII r 23 — Remand order passed otherwise than under O XLII r 23 if appealable. No appeal lies against an order passed by an Appellate Court remanding a case otherwise than under O XLII r 23 of the Civil Procedure Code. MOHENDRA NATH CHAKRA VARTY v. RAMTARAN BANDOPADHYA (1919)

23 C W N 1049

O XLIII r 1 (w) O XLVII r 1 4, 8 —

See O XLII P 10 (—)

I L R 42 All 626

See REVIEW

I L R 43 Cal 60

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—cont'd—

—cont'd—

O XLIII r 1 (w) and O XLVII r 7
Review appeal from order granting grounds for An order granting a review merely for sufficient ground is not appealable. An appeal under O XLIII r 1 (w) against an order granting a review is subject to the provisions of O XLVII r 7. SUNDAR MAL v UPENDRA NATH SEAL 1 Pat. L. J. 193

Appeal against order granting review—scope of jurisdiction. An application for review was filed within one month of the date of the order sought to be reviewed and was allowed. An appeal was preferred against the order granting review and the Appellate Court set it aside on the ground that the order sought to be reviewed was really on earlier order. Held that although O XLIII r 1 (w) allows an appeal against an order granting a review that clause must be read with O XLVII r 7 by which the grounds on which an order granting a review can be set aside on appeal are limited. The Lower Appellate Court therefore had no jurisdiction to set aside the order granting the review. SUREA NARAIN CHOWDHURY v RANGA BHARYA MAL 25 C. W. N. 884

O XLIV r 1 (1882 Code s. 592)—
Application for leave to appeal in forma pauperis.
Application rejected—Further application for leave to pay the full court fee also rejected—Permission. The rejection of an application made under O XLIV r 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure for leave to appeal as a pauper is not the rejection of the appeal. It is therefore no ground for rejecting a subsequent application for permission to pay the full court fee on the appeal. MUHAMMAD FARZAND ALI v RAHAT ALI (1915) 1 L. R. 40 All. 331

O XLV rr 2, 3 and 8—
See s. 109 3 Pat. L. J. 179
See APPEAL TO PRINY COUNCIL. 1 L. R. 42 Mad. 32

O XLV rr 4, "and 8"—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s. 110 AND O XLV 4 Pat. L. J. 193

O XLV r 5 (1882 Code s. 627)—
See VALUATION OF SUIT 1 L. R. 43 Cal. 225

Where a single Judge of the High Court sitting as Vacation Judge granted a stay of execution of a decree passed by a subordinate Court before any appeal has been filed but on the validity of a decree it would be held the order was without jurisdiction. PURSHORAM SARAN v HAREG LAL 1 L. R. 43 All. 198

O XLV r 7 (1882 Code s. 691)
See PRINY COUNCIL. 14 C. W. N. 420

O XLV rr 10, 11 (1882 Code s. 65 and 606).
See LIMITATION ACT 1908 Art. 15 5 Pat. L. J. 39

O XLV r 13 (1882 Code, s. 608)—
See PRINY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF 1 L. R. 23 Cal. 335

O XLV r 13 (1882 Code s. 608)—

contd.
Partition—Appeal from preliminary decree—Application for stay of further proceedings in the suit. O XLV r 13 of the Code of Civil Procedure does not authorize the staying of proceedings in a suit for partition where a preliminary decree has been passed and it remains to pass the final decree because an appeal from the preliminary decree has been filed and is pending. Lalitar Singh v Bhobhwar Singh 9 C. L. J. 561 referred to. PAN NARAYAN v HANMAN DAS 1 L. R. 42 All. 170

Appeal to His Majesty in Council—Special leave to appeal—Pecceer when the High Court has power to appoint. It is competent to the High Court to appoint a Pecceer to an estate which is the subject matter of an appeal for which special leave has been granted by the Privy Council. RAJA WEIR NARAYAN SINGH v RANI JAGDAMBA KUTTI 4 Pat. L. J. 482

O XLV rr 13 and 14—
See STAT OF EXECUTION 3 Pat. L. J. 40

O XLV r 15 (1882 Code s. 10)—
See LETTERS PATENT (PAT.) CL. 39 2 Pat. L. J. 684

Privy Council—Restoration of property pending appeal to the Privy Council—Procedure. The word execution as used in O XLV r 15 was intended to cover cases of restitution as well as a case of enforcement of a decree for possession of the like passed for the first time in the case on an appeal to His Majesty in Council and a person who desires to obtain execution of any kind whether by way of restitution or otherwise must apply in the first instance to the Court indicated by r 15. A decree was passed by the High Court against B who appealed to the Privy Council. During the pendency of the appeal D and others obtained possession of the property in suit from B. The Privy Council reversed the decree and B applied to the Subordinate Judge to restore him to possession of the property and filed a copy of the printed judgment of their Lordships of the Privy Council in proof of the fact that the judgment of the High Court had been reversed. Held that the application should have been made to the High Court and the Subordinate Judge could not entertain it. Held further that the Subordinate Judge was not entitled to take any action on the printed copy of the judgment of their Lordships of the Privy Council without proof that an Order in Council had followed thereon. DAMODAR DAS v BRIJ LAL (1915) 1 L. R. 37 All. 567

Order in Council—Execution of—Only those persons (or their representatives) who have made an application under r 15 are entitled to apply for execution of an order in Council. Where several persons sued together to recover possession of separate portions of an undivided estate which had been wrongfully sold for arrears of Government revenue and the suit was eventually decided in their favour by an Order in Council, Held that an application under Order

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd.—
O XLV r 15 (1882 Code s 10)—
contd.

XLV rule 15 made by some of the plaintiffs did not entitle all of them to apply for execution to the Court to which the Order in Council was sent for execution. Prior to the passing of the Order in Council proceedings for the partition of the small share were completed by the Collector. This fact was not brought to the notice of the Privy Council and the order declared the plaintiffs right to recover the specific separate shares claimed in the plaint. Held that the plaintiffs were nevertheless entitled to execute the order with reference to the estate or interest substituted by the partition for the shares originally claimed in the suit. MARAJA SIR PAMESHWAR PRASAD SINGH v. RAI BALU ATH GOENKA 2 Pat L J 496

2 ———— Order in Council execution of—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 183— Reverser. After several attempts to enforce an Order in Council dated the 23rd November 1899 the decree holder applied to the High Court on the 2nd December 1907 under s 610 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1882. The High Court ordered notices to be issued but there was nothing to show that this order was complied with. On the 10th August 1910 the High Court passed a formal order transmitting the Order in Council to the Lower Court for execution. This application was dismissed and on the 22nd January 1916 another application was made. Held that the order of the High Court dated the 15th August 1910 did not revive the Order in Council within the meaning of Art 183 of Sch I of the Limitation Act 1908 and that the application was therefore time barred. TEJESRAM DEO NARAYAN SINGH v. BADRI MISSEK 1 Pat L J 385

——— O XLV rr 15 and 16 O XXI r 16 ss 37 38 and 50—Privy Council order of transmission to the original Court—Execution—Application to the original Court—Application by transferee of the decree—Competency of the original Court to entertain application—Power of Attorney construction of. Where an order of His Majesty in Council was transmitted under O XLV r 15 of the Civil Procedure Code by the High Court to the District Court as the Court which passed the first decree the latter Court has jurisdiction to entertain an application made by an assignee of the decree under O XXI r 16 of the Civil Procedure Code to recognize the assignment and to allow him to execute the decree. It is established law that a Power of Attorney must be construed strictly. When an agent has a general Power of Attorney to act in some business or series of transactions he may be assumed to have all usual powers including the power to transfer decrees. Palaniappa Chettiar v. Arunachella Chettiar 23 Mad L J 595 distinguished. KRISHNA BHOO PATIL DEO v. RAJA OF VIZIANAGRAM (1914) 1 L R 38 Mad 832

——— O XLVI, r 1 (1882 Code s 617)—
See s 141— 1 L R 38 Mad 353

——— O XLVI, r 7—Court of Small Causes institution of suit in before Judge not having Small Cause jurisdiction—Disposal of such suit as a small cause by successor in office having jurisdiction to try such suits—Reference under O XLVI r 7 juris diction and powers of High Court in. A suit valued at Rs 99 was instituted in the Court of a Munsif having Small Cause Court power up to Rs 50 and was registered as an ordinary suit. Before the suit came on for hearing the Munsif was succeeded by another Munsif who had Small Cause Court power up to Rs 100. He tried the suit as a Small Cause Court suit and dismissed it. The defendant moved the District Judge who made a reference to the High Court under O XLVI r 7 on the ground that the Munsif had no jurisdiction to try the suit as a Small Cause Court suit. Held that on such a reference the High Court has full power to consider the matter on the merits in each case and may in the exercise of its discretion discharge such a reference even though in strict law the suit should have been tried under a different procedure. PARNESHWARI DASS v. JAGAT CHANDRA DASS (1914) 19 C W N 900

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd.—
O XLVI r 7—contd.

——— O XLVII r 1 (1882 Code s 623)—

See APPEAL 1 L R 42 Calc 675

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL
1 L R 41 Calc 734

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

O XLII r 27 1 L R 42 Calc 075

O IX r 9 1 Pat L J 547

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT s 53
5 Pat L J 253

See PRACTICE 1 L R 44 Calc 28

See RECEIVER 14 C W N 183
1 L R 41 Calc 809

See REJULICATA 2 Pat L J 313

See REVIEW 5 Pat L J 34—
1 L R 44 Calc 1011

See SMALL CAUSE COURT SUIT
1 L R 44 Calc 590

1. ———— Ex parte decree if may be reviewed on the ground that defendant had sufficient cause for not appearing—Limitation. The fact that a defendant against whom an ex parte decree was passed did not apply within time under O IX r 13 Civil Procedure Code for a revival of the case is no bar to his applying for a review of the decree under O XLVII r 1 of the Code on the ground that he was prevented by sufficient cause from appearing at the hearing. Jay Aram Purkait v. Ananga Mohan Bhandari 1 L F 26 Calc 595 relied on. CHET NARAYAN SANKH v. RAMPAL MANJHI (1911) 18 C W N 843

2. ———— Order setting aside sale alleged to be made by consent of parties—Decree holder alleging that order made in his absence—Reverser if may be granted. Where a sale in execution of a decree was set aside upon the strength of a petition of compromise to which the decree holder was alleged to be a consenting party and the decree holder subsequently applied for a review alleging that he was not present at the time when the order was made and that as a matter of fact what appears to be a consent order was in essence an ex parte order. Held that it was open to the decree holder under these circumstances to apply for review under r 1 O XLVII of the Civil Procedure Code. HAKIMOR v. BASDEO SAKH (1911) 17 C W N 631

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XLVII r 1 (1882 Code s 623)—

contd

3—Review of judgment—Suit dismissed for want of necessary notice as well as on the merits—Ground of review touching the merits only—A suit against the Court of Wards was dismissed on two grounds (i) that the notice given by the plaintiff under the Court of Wards Act was defective and (ii) that the plaintiff was illegitimate—An application was made for review of judgment on the ground of discovery of new and important evidence on the question of legitimacy—Held that the application was properly dismissed, inasmuch as the decision on the question of legitimacy on the reception of new evidence would not lead to the modification or setting aside of the original decree—MAHAHER PRASAD v THE COLLECTOR OF ALLAHABAD (1914)

I L R 36 All 277

4—Review petition—Subsequent filing of appeal—Jurisdiction of Court to hear review petition is not taken away by appeal subsequently filed—Practice—An application for review of judgment was filed in a District Court and a rule nisi was granted—The party subsequently filed an appeal in the High Court—The District Court rejected the review application on the ground that it could not proceed with the application as an appeal was already filed—The applicant having applied to the High Court—Held setting aside the order and directing the District Court to dispose of the application on the merits that there was no express provision in the Civil Procedure Code which rendered the application for review incompetent on the mere presentation of an appeal by the same party at any subsequent time—Chenna Reddi v Peddabbi Reddi I L R 32 Mad 416 followed—NARAYAN PURUSHOTRAM v LAXMINAI (1914)

I L R 38 Bom 416

5—Review of judgment—Adducing of further evidence not sufficient ground—An application was made to a District Judge for a review of his order that a certain property was not the property of an insolvent—The ground upon which the application was in substance made was that if another opportunity was given to the applicants they would satisfy the Court that its former order was wrong—Held that this was not a sufficient reason for entertaining the application within the meaning of O XLVII r 1 of the Civil Procedure Code—BENKA PRASAD v RAGHURAM SARAN (1915)

6—Application for review—Limitation—Jurisdiction to entertain—Where the Judge having decided to modify the decision of the first Court erroneously passed a decree dismissing the appeal, but later on on the application of the landlord modified the decree and brought it in conformity with his judgment without notice to the tenants and on the latter's appeal the High Court directed the Judge to restore his previous decree leaving it open to the landlord to apply by way of review and in pursuance of the High Court's order the successor in office of the Judge restored the previous decree of his predecessor and later on entertained an application for review made by the landlord and purporting to act under s. 151 of the Civil Procedure Code—Held that the tenants to appropriate

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XLVII r 1 (1882 Code s 623)—

contd

the timber trees—Held that the order to be reviewed was the order passed by the Judge in pursuance of the High Court's directions both in regard to the limitation applicable to and the jurisdiction to entertain the application for review—GURAI KAH v RANI KHAMOVI SINGHA MAHARAJA (1915)

19 C W N 1188

7—Review of decree—Not appealed against—On a proper construction of O XLVII r 1 (1) the decree mentioned therein means a decree from which no appeal has been preferred by the applicant for review himself—That there is no implied reference to O XII r 4 in O XLVII r 1 (2) the effect of which is to restrict the right which would otherwise be possessed by one defendant to apply to review of judgment notwithstanding an appeal by a co-defendant—The law in effect is that a defendant who has not himself appealed may apply for a review of judgment notwithstanding the pendency of an appeal by a co-defendant except in two contingencies namely first where the ground for review is identical with the ground of appeal and secondly when as respondent in the appeal he can prevent to the Appellate Court the case on which he seeks review—CHANDRA KANTO BHATTACHARJEA v LAKSHMIAN CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTY (1916)

21 C W N 430

8—Appeal and application for review filed by same party—Appeal with drawn—Jurisdiction of Court to entertain application for review not ousted—An appeal which has been withdrawn must be treated as if it had never been presented within the meaning of O XLVII r 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure—Ramappa v Bharmar I L R 39 Bom 225 referred to—A party to a suit filed an appeal against the decree and thereafter an application for review of judgment—After the review had been filed the applicant withdrew his appeal—Held that the fact of an appeal having been filed and withdrawn was no bar to the hearing of the application for review—Parab Singh v Jaswant Singh I L R 42 All 79—In the matter of the petition of Nand Kishore, I L R 32 All 71 and Pandu v Deep I L R 7 Bom. 287 referred to—PAM PRASAD v ASA RAO

I L R 43 All 288

9—Must be read as in itself definitive of the limits within which review is permitted and reference to practice under former and different statutes is misleading—The words any other sufficient reason in O 47 r 1 mean a reason sufficient on grounds at least analogous to those specified immediately previously that is to say to excusable failure to bring to the notice of the Court now and important matters or error on the face of the record—Upon an application for review the Court cannot proceed to deal with the case on the merits as if on an appeal—CHITRAJU PAU v NEXI (P C)

28 C W N 688

10—Review of judgment—Decisions after judgment sought to be reviewed—New and important matter—The plaintiff instituted a suit for ejectment—The defendants pleaded that they were tenants of the plaintiff—The Munsif ordered the defendants to get a declaration of their tenancy—The Assistant Collector declared them to be tenants and the Munsif thereupon dis-

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd—

O XLVII r 1 (1882 Code s 623)—

cor 1

ms of the suit. On appeal however the Commissioner set aside the order of the Assistant Collector and this decision was upheld by the Board of Revenue. The plaintiff then applied within 90 days of the decision of the Board of Revenue for review of the Commissioner's judgment. Held that the judgments of the Commissioner and the Board were new and important matters within the meaning of O XLVII r 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Wajke's Pionji Shu anaji v Shau Ma Jud n 1 I P 13 Pat. 339 and Hamaan Hara v Hara Fulaal I L R 31 Bom 198 referred to. PAM LAL v KALKA PRASAD (1911)

I L R 33 All 563

—O XLVII, rr 1 & 4—Review of judgment upon fresh evidence—Sufficient reasons not shown why the evidence was not produced at trial Where no sufficient reasons appeared on the affidavit upon which an application was made after judgment, for a rehearing upon additional evidence to show why the proposed new evidence was not timely submitted. Held that the application was properly rejected. SHIVALENGAPPA BASAPPA SHINTE v REVAPPA (1914) 19 C W N 762

See REVIEW I L R 47 Calc 568

O XLVII r 1 O XLI r 19—

Consent decrees obtained by fraud setting aside of—Inherent jurisdiction of Court—Such decree if can be set aside on review—Court fee A decree passed by consent in an appeal was set aside on an application by the respondent under O XLI r 19, Civil Procedure Code. The Court finding that the appellant got the service of the notice of the appeal suppressed and had a false fraudulent calalatnama and a petition of compromise filed and that the respondent came to know about the compromise decree only after process in execution of the decree was taken out. Held that O XLI r 19 had no application to the case but the decree could be set aside on review under O XLVII r 1 and the Court had also inherent jurisdiction to set aside the decree. That it is an inherent power of every Court to correct its own proceedings when it has been misled and the order of the lower Court should not be set aside merely because it was passed under a wrong section. That as the order could be summarily set aside by the Court no court fee as on an application for review need have been paid on the application. Innooda Devi v Stevenson 22 B R 290 Basan Gouda v Churugur Gouda I L R 34 Bom 403 relied on Gulab Koer v Badshah Ruhadur 13 C W N 1197 sc 10 C L J 420 referred to. PEARY CHOWDHURY v SONOO DASS (1914)

19 C W N 419

O XLVII, r 2 (1882 Code s 623)—

Judge who did not decide case but signed the decree if may entertain review application under r 2—Judge who passed decree meaning of—Review granted only on notice by Judge who decided case if authorizes Judge who signed decree to entertain review application An application under O XLVII r 2 of the Civil Procedure Code for a review of a decree upon some grounds other than the discovery of new and important matter or evidence or the existence of a clerical or arithmetical mistake cannot be made to a Judge who signed the decree but did not write or deliver the judgment in accordance with

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd—

O XLVII, r 2 (1882 Code s 623)—

cor 1

which the decree was drawn up. The expression "the Judge who passed the decree" in r 2 O XLVII Civil Procedure Code means the Judge who decided the case and not the Judge who merely signed a decree after satisfying himself that it has been drawn up in accordance with the judgment delivered by his predecessor and the fact that the former had granted an application for review which was set aside on the ground of the order having been passed without notice to the other side did not authorise the latter to entertain the application. TAMBUDDI SHIFIKAT SATYA SANKAR GHOSHAL (1915) 20 C W N 391

Where an order of remand by the High Court directed the Lower Court to ascertain the rate of rent payable for the years in suit. Held that the decision of the rate of rent by the Lower Court did not operate as Resjudicata as regards rent payable in other years. KISHEN DEYAL PAI v MUSSAMAT KULFATI KUZER 3 Pat L J 372

O XLVII rr 2 & 7 sub r 1 cl (1)

—Review of order setting aside sale by another officer

—Appeal after confirmation of sale if lies where final order not appealable Where an application for review of an order of a District Judge upon a ground other than the discovery of new or important matter or evidence or the existence of a clerical or arithmetical error was owing to the absence of the District Judge received by the Subordinate Judge who also directed notices to issue to the opposite party and the District Judge himself passed several orders in the case relating to the postponement of the hearing and analogous matters but died before the case could be heard on the merits and the review application was subsequently granted by the successor in office of the District Judge. Held that the order granting the review was in contravention of r 2 of O XLVII of the Civil Procedure Code and should be set aside. Where an order setting aside a sale was set aside on review and the sale confirmed. Held that an appeal against the order passed on review preferred after the sale was confirmed was not incompetent. An appeal against an order granting a review would lie under sub r 1 of r 7 of O XLVII even where no appeal would lie against the final decree disposing of the case. SHANSEER ALI v JAGANNATH (1912) 17 C W N 403

O XLVII r 4 (1882 Code 626)—

See APPEAL I L R 43 Calc 178

6 Pat L J 625

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908)

ss 5 & 14 I L R 42 Bom. 295

See REVIEW I L R 41 Calc. 809

O XLVII, rr 4 & 7 (See 1882 Code

ss 626 and 629)—

See APPEAL I L R. 42 Calc 433

I L R 43 Calc. 178

See REVIEW I L R 42 Calc 830

O XLVII r 4 O XLI, r 11—

—Appeals summarily dismissed—Applicant on former two—if may be granted without notice to respondent——Practice—Hearing of appeal if to be restricted to—grounds on which it is based—Bengal Tenancy

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd

O XLVII r 4 O XLI r 11—

contd

Act (VIII of 1885) ss 22 35 159 161 167 The practice of the Court allowing applications for review of orders dismissing appeals under O XLI r 11 of the Civil Procedure Code to be granted without the issue of any notice to the respondents is in conformity with the law and should not be departed from Semle The Division Bench which granted the review can alone consider the propriety of the order previously made and either maintain or vacate the original order of dismissal Semle An order granting a review of an order of dismissal under O XLI r 11 without issue of notice to the respondent if contrary to law is not a nullity At most it is one made irregularly or with material irregularity in the exercise of jurisdiction possessed by the Judges and cannot be ignored or vacated by the Bench bearing the appeal When an application for review of an order of dismissal under O XLI r 11 is granted the hearing of the appeal cannot be restricted to the grounds which were made the basis of the application for review JANAKINATH HORE v PRABHASINI DAS (1915) 19 C W N 3077

O XLVII r 5 (1882 Code s 627)—
Application for review heard by one of a Bench of two Judges the other having gone on a month's leave —Jurisdiction—Appeal under the Letters Patent Where one of a Bench of two High Court Judges who had disposed of an appeal having left the Court on a month's leave an application for review of the judgment was heard and dismissed by the remaining Judge Held that the learned Judge had no jurisdiction to dispose of the application by reason of r 5 of O XLVII of the Civil Procedure Code and an appeal lay against that order JAGAT CHANDRA AGHARVA v SHYAMA CHARAN BHATTACHARYA (1917) 22 C W N 550

O XLVII r 7 (1882 Code s 629)—

See O XLI n 10 I L R 42 All 626

See O XLIII r 1 I Pat L J 193

See APPEAL I L R 43 Cal 433

1 ————— Reference by District Judge of case tried by Small Cause Court S 116 Civil Procedure Code—S 23 Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887)—Interference by High Court on question of fact The plaintiff brought his suit in the Court of Small Causes for recovery of damages against the defendant who was said to have held some land under a contract to take half the proceeds as remuneration for his labour and expense The Small Cause Court found that the defendant was a servant remunerated by the receipt of half the produce and decreed the suit On a reference by the District Judge recommending the setting aside of the decree of the Small Cause Court Judge on the ground that at the defendant should have been held to be a tenant against whom the suit could not be entertained Held that the Court of Small Causes was a Court subordinate to the District Judge and O XLVII r 7 contemplated a reference by the District Judge of cases tried by such Court That in cases of revision under s 11 Civil Procedure Code or under s 23 of the Small Cause Courts Act the High Court does not generally interfere with findings of fact arrived at by the District Court if those proceedings are supported by the evidence before the Court No case having been made out for interference on a question of

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—co id

O XLVII r 7 (1882 Code s 629)—

contd

fact the reference was discharged RATAN DEBARI v HIRA JAL SARKAR (1916)

20 C W N 1110

2 ————— Review of judgment—Appeal from order granting of review—Grounds of appeal In an appeal under O XLVII r 7 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 from an order granting an application for review of judgment the appellant is strictly limited to the grounds set forth in the rule KHURSHED ALAM KHAN v RADHAT ULLAH KHAN (1917)

I L R 40 All 68

O XLVII r 8 (1882 Code s 630)—

Decree of Division Bench of High Court of two Judges found erroneous giving plaintiff more than he claimed—Application for amendment before one of them—Jurisdiction of single Judge to amend decree—Court in granting application for review is bound to rehear whole case—Rehearing of case by single Judge without authority from Chief Justice—Jurisdiction An application for amendment of a decree made in favour of the plaintiff by a Division Bench of the High Court of two Judges was moved by some of the defendants before one of them (the other Judge having left the Court) and a Rule was issued on the plaintiff to show cause why the decree should not be set aside or amended or why such other order should not be made as might seem fit on the ground that the decree purported to give plaintiff a relief not claimed by him The Judge made the Rule absolute and then in terms of r 8 O XLVII O P C proceeded to rehear the case with the result that the judgment and decree of the Division Bench were amended The plaintiff appealed against this last decision Held (Per JENKINS C J and N P CHATTERJEE J) that in the absence of an order by the Chief Justice authorising the learned Judge alone to sit for the hearing of the case his decision was without jurisdiction The case thereafter was heard before the Regular Bench the Judges whereof refused to rehear the whole case and confining themselves to the point of amendment only passed a decree amending the judgment and decree Some of the defendants having applied for review of this last decree on the ground that the learned Judges should have reheard the whole appeal Held that the decree of the Division Bench stood amended as soon as the Rule to amend it was made absolute and all subsequent proceedings were superfluous That as the last decree of the High Court only affirmed that order it was not necessary to set it aside Per MOORE J J R 8 of O XLVII of the Civil Procedure Code clearly leaves it optional with the Court to determine whether when a review is granted the case should be reopened in part or in its entirety GOVIND SUNDAR BHOWMIK v I KHAN RAJ BHOWMIK (1916) 20 C W N 1185

O XLVIII r 8—Review of judgment

—Second application for review—Practice—Semle That there is nothing in the Code of Civil Procedure which prevents a second application for review being made after a previous application for review has been made and rejected Cobinda Ram Mondol v Bhola Nath Bhalla I L R 14 Cal 432 referred to PALLA v MATHURA PRASAD (1916)

I L R 38 All 260

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—co id.

—corid

Sch II Se ARBITRATION

Sch II para 1 (1882 Code s 506)—
contd

Arbitration by Judge and two others as arbitrators—Award—Decree in accordance therewith—Finality of decree—Reference whether under second schedule—Proceeding extra curram curia—Adjustment of suit and r O XVIII Civil Proceed re Code Consent decree A reference of a pending suit to arbitration by the presiding Judge along with others as arbitrators is not a reference under the second schedule to the Civil Procedure Code but is a proceeding extra curram curia and a decree passed in accordance with their decision should be regarded as a consent decree not subject to the provisions of the second schedule and is therefore final. Vanjappa v Vanjappa 23 M L J 290 and Praydas v Girihardas I L R 26 Bom 76 followed. It isundesirable that a Judge before whom a case is pending should associate himself with other persons as an arbitrator. CHINNA VENKATA SRI NAICKEN v VENKATASAMI NAICKEN (1919) I L R 42 Mad 625

I L R 29 All 429 (1907) Seth Dooley Chand v Mamaji Hwaji 21 C B N 387 (1916) and Girija Nath v Karai Lal 27 C I J 339 (1917) refused to. An appeal lies in a case where the reference itself is impugned for want of consent of the parties interested. FANINDRANATH POY v DWAPKA NATH POY 25 C W N 832

Sch II para 5 (1882 Code ss 507 and 510)—Arbitration—Refusal of arbitrator to act—Appointment of fresh arbitrator by Court—Notice The authority of a Court to appoint a fresh arbitrator in the place of one who has refused to act does not arise unless and until the Court has served on the non applicant party the notice required by paragraph 5 (2) of the second schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure 1908. ABDUL GRANI v DUV DAYAL (1919) I L R 41 All 570

Sch II rr 8 and 15—

See ARBITRATION 4 Pat L J 265
I L R 45 Bom 1071

Sch II para 10 (1882 Code s 516)—

See ARBITRATION I L R 43 Cal 721

Sch II para 11—

Arbitration—Reference to arbitration on condition that certain adjustments should not be taken into consideration—Adjustment differ nee between treating as an account stated and as a mere admission—Admissibility of documents in support of particular items though excluded as evidence of a general settlement—Arbitrator misconduct of—Evidence honest though mistaken admission of a document by an arbitrator in violation of a rule of evidence introduced pro hoc vice. The defendant in an action brought to recover certain sums claimed by the plaintiff under a mortgage and two deeds of further charge consented to the suit being referred to arbitration on a condition which was embodied in the consent order referring the case to arbitration to the following effect—

And it is further ordered that the said arbitrators do proceed on the basis of there having been no adjustments and the adjustments relied upon by the plaintiff in this suit shall not be taken into consideration. The arbitration proceedings were carried on before arbitrators appointed for the purpose and afterwards before an umpire and in the course of the proceedings the umpire in spite of the defendant's protests admitted one of the adjustments in evidence as proof of an admission by the defendant that a certain item of Rs. 1300 included in the adjustment was due from him to the plaintiff. Previously the other of the two adjustments had been used by the plaintiff without protest from the defendant to prove one item therein. The defendant protested and asked the umpire to submit a special case for the consideration of the Court under clause 11 of the Civil Procedure Code. The umpire doubted whether that clause would apply but postponed further consideration of the item in question to enable the defendant to move the Court if so advised for leave for the umpire to state a special case. The defendant thereupon, purported to put an end to the umpire's authority and refused to go on with the reference which nevertheless was proceeded with before the umpire ex parte and an award made the passage in the con

Sch II para 1 (1882 Code s 506)—
Award Reference by parties interested Defendant who did not appear not joining Validity of reference discussed

14 C W N 420

Reference to arbitration by some only of the parties to the suit—Ex parte defendant not a party to the reference—Reference whether valid award—Decree validity of—Jurisdiction of Court to make a reference—Party interested in meaning of Where a suit was referred to arbitration at the instance of some of the parties thereto but a defendant against whom relief was claimed in the plaint who was ex parte in the suit did not join in the reference though he had an interest in the subject matter of the reference and a decree was passed in accordance with the award of the arbitrators Held that the Court had no jurisdiction to make the order of reference under Sch II r 1 of the Civil Procedure Code that the decree was invalid and should be set aside and that the suit should be proceeded with on the merits. If a person is ex parte in a suit he does not thereby cease to be a party interested in the reference. Ishar Das v Keshab Das I L R 19 All 657 and Vasishthanatha Iyer v Vasthalinga Mudalar 18 M L J 374 dissented from. Girija v Karai Lal 27 C I J 339 followed. POTTA PAVANA PANDA v NARASINGA PANDA (1919)

I L R 42 Mad 622

A pardansham lady and her two sons were defendants to a suit. An agreement was said to have been made by the parties to refer the matter to arbitration and the Court made an order of reference. The agreement to refer so far as it purported to be made by the lady was signed by her pleader to whom a gomasta had given a vakalatnama. The vakalatnama however did not contain a power to refer the suit to arbitration though it contained powers to file petitions of compromise and so forth. Held that the provisions of para 1 of Sch II to the Civil Procedure Code were not complied with in the case of the female defendant who was undoubtedly interested in the matters in difference in the suit along with her sons. The provisions of this paragraph must be strictly complied with in order that there may be a valid reference. Ramjivan Pam v Keli Charan Singh

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ¹ CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—to ill

—contd

Sch II para 11—contd

sent order quoted above was reasonably susceptible of two constructions that it was either a particular and specific following upon a general exclusion of all adjustments qua adjustments or as contended by the defendant a stipulation that certain documents containing the adjustments should not be admitted in evidence for any purpose and that it was possible to admit a document as evidence in support of a particular item and at the same time exclude it as evidence of a general settlement. Held further that if the defendant's contentions were correct the stipulation relied on was a rule of evidence introduced pro hac vice and that the honest though mistaken admission by the umpire of a document in violation of that rule would not be a ground for setting aside the award and that the defendant's conduct in rejecting the umpire's offer to adjourn consideration of the item under discussion in order to give the defendant an opportunity to obtain the Court's leave for a statement of the case and in deciding to withdraw from the reference with out the leave of the Court was incorrect. ASIRI BAI v. ESBARI (1913) I L R 38 Bom 40

Sch II para 12 (1882 Code s 506)—

Arbitration—Award—Clerical mistake in award—Commissioner appointed to examine the award—Report of the Commissioner reversed by the Court—Court passing a decree different from the award—Practice—Procedure The matters in dispute in the suit were referred to arbitrators who made their award. Both parties filed objections to the award. On an application being made by the parties to amend the award on the ground that there were certain clerical errors the Court issued notice to the arbitrators to rectify the award under paragraph 12 of the Second Schedule of the Civil Procedure Code. The arbitrators considered the objections and submitted their opinion regarding the alleged errors. The Court thereupon made an order appointing two Commissioners to examine accounts made by the arbitrators. The Commissioners made their report supporting the opinion of the arbitrators. The Court then considered the objections with regard to certain disputed items reversed the report of the Commissioners on these items and directed them to make a second report. The said report was made and eventually the Court passed a decree in favour of the defendants which was different from the award of the arbitrators. On appeal to the High Court. Held (setting aside the decree of the lower Court and passing a decree in terms of the arbitrators award) (1) that a wrong procedure was followed by the Court from the commencement of the proceedings inasmuch as the Court in effect directed the Commissioner to sit in appeal on the award of the arbitrators with regard to the disputed items and when the Commissioner supported the decision of the arbitrators the Court itself sat in appeal on the decision of the Commissioner. (2) that the Court could not be said to have exercised the only powers it had under para 12 (b) and (c) of Schedule II Civil Procedure Code 1908 which were either to amend an obvious error or which could be amended without affecting the award or to rectify a clerical mistake or to set aside an accidental slip or error. Shah v. I. R. 45 Bom 512

Sch II para 14 (1882 Code s 520)—

Award illegal on the face of it meaning of—Patent illegality—Remittance to arbitrators for reconsideration when permissible In a suit for partition and recovery of a share in the family properties the defendants pleaded inter alia that the plaintiff was born blind and was therefore not entitled to any share under Hindu Law. After issues were framed the whole dispute was by agreement of the parties referred to arbitrators who without deciding the question as to congenital blindness passed an award to the effect that the plaintiff was entitled to a life interest in one fourth share subject to its becoming an absolute interest in case the plaintiff married. Held on objection to the award that the award was not so patently illegal as to come within the meaning of cl (c) of paragraph 14 of the second schedule of the Civil Procedure Code and that the award could not be remitted to the arbitrators for reconsideration. English and Indian cases reviewed. MADEPALLI VENKATASWAMI v. MADEPALLI SUBBAYYA (1917) I L R 41 Mad 1022

Sch II paras 14 15 and 16—Arbitration—Award—Ground for remitting or setting aside an award—Arithmetical error It is not a ground for remitting an award on a matter referred to arbitration or for setting aside an award that the arbitrator has made a mistake in arithmetic and apparently unintentionally has awarded a larger sum of money to be paid by one party to the other than he would have awarded if his attention had been directed to the mistake. Nor does the decision of an arbitrator appointed to divide family property that a certain debt is due from the family to a person not a party to the reference amount to the determination of a matter not referred to arbitration and in any case such a decision so far as it might be considered as an award in favour of the creditor would be entirely separable from the rest of the award. Akmal Khan Shuja v. Jehangir Hormaji 10 Bom H C Rep 397 and Muslofa Khan v. Phulja Bibi I L R 27 All 526 referred to. SWAN LAL v. PARSHOTAM DASS I L R 42 All 277

Sec II para 14 15 20—

See ARBITRATION I L R 36 All 336

Sch II Para 15 (1882 Code s 521)—

See ARBITRATION I L R 38 All 354
I L R 38 Cal 522
4 Pat L J 265

Sch II para 15 16—

See APPEAL 1 Pat L J 308

See ARBITRATION I L R 39 Cal 522
I L R 38 All 354

See AWARD I L R 38 Mad 258

Arbitration—Agreement

to refer pending suit—Agreement not made by all the parties to the suit—Award—Objection to validity of agreement to refer—Revision Out of twenty one defendant sixteen joined with the plaintiff in an application to refer the matter in the suit to arbitration. Of the remaining five defendants three had not entered an appearance and the Court had already passed an order that the case would be proceeded with ex parte as to them and as to the remaining two the plaintiff abandoned his claim against them. A reference

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—co 11

—co 1d

Sch II paras 15 16—cont

Sch II, pa a 16—cont

was made and an award was delivered for payment of a sum of money by one of the defendants alone and a decree followed in accordance with the award. Hell that there was a valid order of reference or of any rate one which the defendant against whom the award was made should not be permitted to challenge. Pitum Mal v Sathie 11 I L R 24 All 2 J Kadi Sathie v Pitum Mal 1 I L R 39 All 2 J V Purani v Hira Singh 6 All I J 333. Istar Dis v Ke hob Den 1 I L R 333 All 6. Hawra v Hobbis 3 All I J 615 and Sathie I rasi v Dhanam K. b Saran 1 I L R 35 All 107 referred to. Hell also that in view of paragraph 15 16 of the second schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 the question whether there had been a valid reference to arbitration was a question reserved to the decision of the trial Court and ought not to be made the subject of the revisional jurisdiction of the High Court. Litman v Lachya 1 I L R 36 All 69 referred to. ARUDHA PRASAD v BADEL HUSAIN (1917) 1 I L R 39 All 489.

Arbitration here in accordance with award—Appeal grounds for

No appeal lies from the decree of a Court as to the validity or invalidity of an award, except in cases where the decree pronounced in pursuance of the award is in excess of or not in accordance with the provisions of the award itself. KUDIRAM MARATO v CHANDICHARAN MAHATON 1 Pat L J 306.

Sch II paras 15 and 16 O XXXII r 7—Arbitration—Agreement by guardian of minor party to refer—An objection taken to validity of award—Decree in accordance with award—Appeal Per RICHARDS C J and BAYES and RYVES JJ. Where an objection to the validity of an award which might have been raised under article 15 of the second schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure is not raised within the time limited, or being raised is rejected and the Court proceeds to pronounce judgment and to frame a decree no appeal will lie except on the grounds stated in article 16 of the same schedule. Sembla (per RICHARDS C J and RYVES J). That Order XXXII rule 7 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 does not control article 1 of the second schedule. It is not therefore necessary for the guardian of a minor party to obtain the express leave of the Court before agreeing to a reference to arbitration being made by the Court. Ghulam Khan v Muhammad Hassan 1 I L R 29 Calc 167 and Hardeo Sahai v Gouri Shankar 1 I L R 25 All 35 referred to. Lakshmana Chetti v Chinnathari 1 I L R 24 Mad 396 distinguished. LUTAWAN v LACHYA (1913) 1 I L R 36 All 69.

Sch II para 16—

Se s 115

I L R 45 Bom 832

Sch II paras 16 21 O XXXIII

r 3—Reference to arbitration—Decree on award—Appeal A suit was instituted against four defendants. Defendants Nos 1 to 3 were absent and as against them the Court ordered the proceedings to be ex parte. At the first hearing the plaintiff and defendant No 4 appeared by counsel and an application was put in on behalf of the plaintiff with the concurrence of the defendant No 4 asking for an adjournment on the ground that negotiations for a compromise were going on. On the adjourned date the defendant No 4 made an application intimating to the Court that Mr W S Marris (then Collector of Alwarth) has been appointed as arbitrator by agreement between the plaintiff and himself and that the said arbitrator had consented to act and had been to make inquiry and prayed for an adjournment. The application was endorsed by the plaintiff's counsel. The adjournment was granted and similar applications were from time to time made to the Court and they were granted. Finally the Court communicated with Mr Marris himself inquiring how soon he hoped to be able to complete the award and fixed another date for the case. On that date the Court was informed that the inquiries had been completed and the award might be expected shortly. The absent defendants had in the meantime stated to Mr Marris their agreement to accept his award. The award having been submitted to the Court the defendant No 4 applied that the award might be filed and be made a rule of Court. The plaintiff objected on a variety of grounds. The Court below overruled all the objections and passed a decree in conformity with the award. On appeal to the High Court it was not contended that the decree was in excess of or not in accordance with the award. Hell that having regard to the substance rather than to the form of the proceedings before the Court below there was in this matter a reference to arbitration by the Court under the earlier paragraphs of the second schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure and in the circumstances the appeal which was against the decree based on the award was not maintainable. Kida marthi Arishnamoorthy v Carigiparti Ganapathin gam 34 Indian Cases 741 and Shoma Sundaram Iyer v Abdul Latif 1 I L R 27 Ode 61 referred to. KULSUM FATMA v ALI AKBAR (1917)

I L R 39 All 401

Sch II para 17 (1880 Code s 522)—

Sec s 9

I L R 37 Bom 442

Agreement to refer to arbitration a pending litigation privately not coming under—Order filing agreement—Impractical maintainability of—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXXIII r 3— Mere agreement is not on adjustment under. An order of a Court filing an agreement to arbitrate presented by the parties to a suit is the decree and is appealable as such even under the old Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) as well as under a 101 (d) of the new Code. Ghulam Khan Mahammad Hassan 1 I L R 9 Calc 161. Narayana Rao v Sarabaiiah 21 Mad L J 263 and Tiruneloodathungar v Vaidinatha Ayyar 1 I L R 29 Mad 303 followed. Paragraph 17 of second schedule to Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) corresponding to s 523 Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) covers only cases where parties without having recourse to litigation agree to refer their differences to arbitration. So an agreement to refer to arbitration a pending litigation made without the intervention of the Court cannot be filed under paragraph 17 of the second schedule. Ghulam Khan v Muhammad Hassan 1 I L R 29 Calc 167 and Tincovery Dey v Falur Chandra 1 I L R 30 Calc 218 followed. A mere agreement to refer to arbitration a matter pending before a Court cannot be

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd—

Sch II para 17 (1892 Code s 522)—

contd

treated as an adjustment of the dispute under O XVIII r 3 corresponding to s 375 Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1892) though an award consequent on the arbitration may be treated MAGLEAN (J a view in Tincovery Dey v Faiy Chand Dey 1 L R 30 Cal 218 followed Pragla v Udharsan 1 L R 26 Bom 76 Brojodurlabh Sinha v Ramanath Ghosh 1 L R 24 Cal 908 and Lakshmana Chetti v Kannathamba Chetti 1 L R 24 Mad 326 distinguished VEVETACHALA v RANGIAH (1913)

1 L R 33 Mad 353

Agreement to refer to arbitration.—Mahomedan Law mother as de facto guardian if can execute the agreement on behalf of her minor children.—A party to the agreement if can subsequently question the validity of the agreement and withdraw therefrom.—Subsequent assent of the de jure guardian if can validate the agreement.—Subordinate Judge if may allow mother to act for her infants in partition proceedings.—Ka v who is A Mahomedan mother on behalf of her minor children entered into an agreement with some others to refer to arbitrators a dispute about some properties and they all made an application to Court under r 17 of the Second Schedule to the Civil Procedure Code. The guarding of the minors properties appointed by the District Judge subsequently gave his assent to the agreement to refer and participated in the said application under r 17. The Court thereupon acted upon the agreement and referred the dispute to arbitration. Held that the mother was not competent to bind the infants by the agreement to refer to arbitration. The mother has no larger powers to deal with her minor child's property than any outsider or non relative who happens to have charge for the time being of the infant. Monsieur UDDIN AHMED & KHAIRUDDIN AHMED

20 C W N 246

Sch II paras 17 18—

See ARBITRATION 1 L R 46 Cal 1941

Arbitration.—Failure of arbitrators to make an award.—Sut as to part of the matters referred.—Direction by Court to proceed with the arbitration accepted by the parties. Certain persons agreed to refer matters in dispute between them to arbitration and two arbitrators and an umpire were appointed. But owing to further disputes arising the arbitration was not proceeded with and one of the parties sent a notice to the umpire purporting to revoke his authority as umpire. Thereafter one of the parties to the submission filed a suit in a Munsif's Court as to part of the matters referred to arbitration (the whole of such matters being beyond the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Munsif). The Munsif at first dismissed the suit but the case having been remanded to him on appeal then passed an order staying the suit under paragraph 18 of the Code of Civil Procedure and further went on to issue a precept to the arbitrators and the umpire to continue the arbitration. No exception however being taken by any one concerned to this order the arbitration proceeded, the parties argued their respective cases fully before the arbitrators and an award was made. An application to have this award made a rule of Court was accepted

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd—

Sch II paras 17 and 18—contd

by the Subordinate Judge and an appeal against this order was dismissed by the District Judge. Held that in the circumstances there was no ground for holding that the arbitrators had no jurisdiction to proceed with the case and deliver an award. Apparu Routhier v Seem Routhier 1 L R 41 Mad 115 and Shoo Babu v Udit Narain 12 A L J 757 referred to SEENATH RAI v NILAL CHAND 1 L R 43 AH 661

Sch II cls 17 20.—Award—Application to file an award on reference made out of Court.—Proceedings in Court continued.—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 5 and 14 Sch I Art 118. Pending proceedings for mutation of names the parties concerned referred to arbitration out of Court the whole question of their title to the property in dispute and the arbitrator delivered his award. The mutation proceedings were nevertheless continued. More than six months after the date of the award some of the parties filed an application in the Civil Court purporting to be under cl. 17 of the Second Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure and subsequently an amended application under cl. 20. Held that the application was time barred. Cl. 17 of the Second Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure was totally inapplicable and neither s 5 nor s 14 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908 could be applied in favour of the amended application under cl. 20. RAK UGAR PANDU v ANURATH NATH PANDU (1915)

1 L R 33 AH 65

Sch II s 16 (1892 Code s 522)—

See ARBITRATION 1 L R 41 Mad 115

Sut on Bonds accepted by buyer—

See ARBITRATION 1 L R 2 Lah 335

Agreement to refer disputes arising out of a contract to arbitration.—Sut instituted by one of the parties for damages for short supply of goods.—Whether sut should be stayed. Plaintiff sued defendant for a large sum as damages alleging that defendant had contracted to supply 75 cases of longcloth at certain rates but had given delivery of 33 cases only. The defendant put in pleas and at the same time made an application to the Court under Schedule II paragraph 18 Civil Procedure Code praying that the sut should be stayed on the ground that clause 15 of the contract between the parties contained a provision to the following effect—Any claim or dispute arising in connection with this contract unless an amicable settlement can be arrived at must be referred to arbitration in Delhi in accordance with the Survey and Arbitration Rules of the Delhi Hindustani Mercantile Association. The Senior Sub Judge Delhi declined to stay the sut on the ground that the arbitration clause did not apply to short delivery of goods citing Chhajju Mal & Co v Gurmukh Singh Bhagwan Das (72 P R 1917). Held that when a Court is apprised that a sut has been instituted in contravention of an arbitration agreement the Court has a discretion to stay the sut and that the burden lies on the plaintiff to show that some sufficient reason exists why the matter should not be so referred and not on the defendant to show that no such reason exists. The reason given by the Lower Court for declining to stay the sut was therefore

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd—

Sch II s 18 1882 Code s 523)—contd
 incorrect and the case must be remanded for a decree of the application in accordance with Dinabandhu v Dugga Choudhary (1911) 1 L R 42 All 118 and Holroyd v Railway Passenger Insurance Co (1909) 1 L R 42 All 118 followed. Chhaya Mal v Gopini v Curmukh Singh Bhagwan Das (1911) 1 L R 42 All 118 and Dreyfus v Jai Chant (1911) 1 L R 42 All 118 distinguished. GANESH DAS ISHAR DAS v DEORA DAT-JAGAN NATH 1 L R 2 Lah 19

Sch II para 2 (1882 Code s 523)—
Private award application to file—Form of application and appeal if depends on value of award or value of matter in dispute—Change of law—When an award has been made on a reference to arbitrators without the intervention of the Court the amount of the award and not that originally in dispute between the parties determines the forum in which an application to file the award is to be made and the Court to which appeal shall lie from the order passed on the application. Nar Singh Das v Jodhya Prasad Sahni 1 L R 31 Cal 203 not followed in view of the change in the law. MOHESH CH KOOVDOO v ASHAR CHANDRA KOOVDOO (1914) 13 C W N 857

Whether applicable where the award has been lost—Held that when an award has been reduced to writing and has been lost, the special procedure provided by paragraph 20 of Schedule II of the Code of Civil Procedure cannot be resorted to and the parties should be referred to a regular suit. Gopi Peddi v Mahanandi Peddi (1 L R 12 Mad 331) and Gowardhan Das v Kesha Ram (66 P R 1918) referred to. Hill v Townsend (12 R R 595) and Banerji's Law of Arbitration p 370 distinguished. MUSAMMAT KHODEJA v GHULAM NABIO 1 L R 1 Lah 45

Sch II paras 20 and 21—

See s 11 1 L R 45 Bom. 327

See s 104 1 L R 42 All 185

Private arbitration award filed and judgment pronounced and decree following if can be reopened in subsequent suit to set aside the award and decree—Pea judicata—Matters heard and determined in proceedings under cl 21 of Sch II of the Civil Procedure Code are res judicata and cannot be reopened in a subsequent suit between the same parties and brought for the purpose of setting aside the award and the decree following upon the judgment pronounced in accordance therewith. A proceeding under cl 21 of Sch II Civil Procedure Code is a suit within the meaning of s 11 of the Civil Procedure Code. CURU CHAMAN SIKKAR v UMA CHAMAN SIKKAR 26 C W N 910

Sch II para 21—

See ARBITRATION 4 Pat L J 394

Sch II para 21 O XLIII, r 1—
Arbitration—Application to file an award made out of Court—Application granted ex parte—Refusal to set aside ex parte order—Appeal—Held that an appeal will lie against an order rejecting an application to set aside an ex parte decree passed under para. 21 of the Second Schedule to the Civil Procedure Code, 1908. ABHAI SINGH v KUNSERAL SINGH (1916) 1 L R 33 All 297

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908)

—contd—

Sch III para 2 (1882 Code s 322)—
 See s 48 1 L R 42 All 118
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 375A 1 L R 46 Cal 183

Sch III para 7—Held that so far as the machinery necessary to satisfy a decree was concerned the Collector is the sole authority and a Civil Court cannot interfere with that discretion but the Court decides whether the decree has been satisfied or not. BHURCHAND HANSRAJ v VIRA CHAMPA 1 L R 37 Bom 32

CIVIL SUIT

—pendency of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS STAY OF
 1 L R 38 Cal 106

CIVIL TRESPASS

See PENAL CODE s 441
 16 C W N 1007

CLAIM

Crops wrongfully attached reaped and sold—Claimant of chargeable with costs of reaping—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 69 70—Where perishable things under attachment in respect of which a claim has been preferred are sold the claim is not extinguished but attaches to the sale proceeds. The decree holder attached some standing crops. Before the crops were reaped the claimant preferred his claim to a portion of the crops and prayed that reaping might be stayed pending the adjudication of his claim or that the crops on his share of the land be kept separate. This was not done and the crops were sold. The claim was ultimately allowed. Held that the claimant was not chargeable with the costs of reaping as in attaching and selling the crops the decree holders acted at their own peril and the claimant was not liable to pay those costs either under s 69 or s 70 of the Indian Contract Act. Dakhina Mohan v Soroda Mohan 1 L R 21 Cal 119. Tiluck Chond v Soudamini 1 L R 4 Cal 566. Abdul Wahid v Shaduka Bibi 1 L R 21 Cal 496. Goma Mahad v Chakras 1 L R 3 Bom. 74. Peruvann Guano Co v Dreyfus Brothers [1899] A C 166 referred to. RASIK CHANDRA GHOSH v JITENDRA KUMAR GHOSH (1910) 15 C W N 817

CLAIM CASE

See PENDING SUITS
 1 L R 44 Cal 698

CLAIM PETITIONS

See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (XV OF 1882) s 19 CL (5)
 1 L R 39 Mad 219

CLAIM PROCEEDINGS

See LIMITATION 1 L R 45 Cal 785
 See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (XV OF 1882) s 19 CL (5)
 1 L R 39 Mad 219

CLAIMANT

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)
 SCH I ART. 29 62 AND 120
 1 L R 36 Mad 972

CLEAR RECEIPT

See CARRIERS I L R 39 Calc 311

CLERICAL MISTAKE

See DECREE I L R 39 Calc 265

CLERK

relinquishment by of employment without consent of master—See MASTER AND SERVANT
I L R 35 All 132

CLUB

See EXCESS PROFITS DUTY
I L R 48 Calc 844

CO ACCUSED

confession of—

See CONFESSION I L R 38 Calc 446

I L R 38 Calc 559

See CONSPIRACY I L R 41 Calc 754

See EVIDENCE ACT (1872) s 30

I L R 38 Bom 156

I L R 43 Bom 739

plea of guilty by—

See CONFESSION I L R 38 Calc 446

COAL

See MINING LEASE I L R 41 Calc 492

wrongful removal of—

See JURISDICTION

I L R 39 Calc 739

COAL MINES

See MINES I L R 38 Calc 372

grant of—

See DOWRY TENURE

I L R 39 Calc 696

COASTING-VESSELS ACT (XX OF 1838)

ss 4, 7 and 13—Registry of vessels—Certificate of registry—Certificate issued in the name of a person who trades in his own name jointly with his son—The son continuing the business in the same name after the person's death—Fresh certificate not obtained—Liability of the son for plying the craft without certificate A person owning a craft had taken out a certificate of registry in his own name under s 7 of the Coasting Vessels Act (XX of 1838) He traded in his own name jointly with his sons On his death his son carried on the business as before under the same name and did not take out a fresh certificate for the craft. The son was prosecuted under s 13 of the Act for plying the craft without a certificate but was acquitted by the Magistrate. The Government having appealed Held that the craft having been registered in the father's name and the ownership of it having passed on his death to his son the latter was bound to obtain a fresh certificate in his own name under s 4 of the Coasting Vessels Act (XX of 1838) and that his failure to do so was punishable under s 13 of the Act. *APPEAL: HAYDAS
LALUNIDAS* (1913) I L R 38 Bom 111

COCAINE

See BOMBAY ABKARI ACT s 43

I L R 34 Bom 342

See POST OFFICE ACT XI or 1892 ss

19 61 70 I L R 37 All 289

importation of—

See EVIDENCE I L R 41 Calc 545

Possession of illicit cocaine—Mere possession of bill of lading and invoice relating to illicit cocaine seized in the Custom House—Attempting to import such cocaine into Bengal—Alteration on the same fact of conviction of being in possession to one of attempting to import—Bengal Excise Act (Ben Act V of 1903) ss 2 (12) 46 (a) 52 and 61—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1893) ss 246 237 The doctrine of constructive possession must be very cautiously applied especially in the domain of criminal jurisprudence The mere possession of a bill of lading and an invoice covering goods lying undelivered in the Custom House by a person who is not the consignee does not amount to possession of such goods within the meaning of the Bengal Excise Act Kash-Nath Banta v Emperor I L R 32 Calc 557 and Ashraf Ali v Emperor I L R 36 Calc 1016 distinguished Where the accused was found in possession of a bill of lading and an invoice relating to six hales of old wearing apparel which contained to his knowledge a large quantity of contraband cocaine purporting to be consigned to R I by a firm in London and he made over the documents to a firm of shipping agents for clearance from the Custom House and failed to produce the alleged consignee for whom he professed to be acting or to give any clue about him Held that the conviction of being in possession of such cocaine under ss 46 (a) and 52 of the Bengal Excise Act was not sustainable but that the accused should have regard to ss 236 and 237 of the Criminal Procedure Code be convicted on the same facts of attempting to import the cocaine into Bengal under s 61 read with ss 46 (a) and s 2 (12) of the Act *KALI CHARAN MUKERJEE
v EMPEROR* (1913) I L R 41 Calc 537

CO CLAIMANTS

Litigation expenses paid by if recoverable from others benefited by the result Where some of several claimants take proceedings for recovery for their own benefit the fact that the result is also to the benefit of the other claimants does not create any implied contract or give the former an equity to be paid a share of the costs of the litigation by the latter Abdul Wahid Khan v Shaluka Bibi I L R 21
Calc 496 and Halima Bee v Koshan Bee I L R
30 Mad 526 followed *PARADHARI SINGH v
PERMANAND SINGH* (1913) 19 C W N 1183

CO CONSPIRATORS

separate trial of—

See CHARGE I L R 42 Calc 857

CO DEFENDANTS

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 11 I L R 40 Bom 210

CODICIL

See WILL I L R 40 Calc 102

CODIFICATION

See CUSTOMARY LAW 1 Pat L J 225

COERCION

See CONTRACT ACT (1 of 187) s 2

I L R 40 Mad 235

See HINDU LAW ADULTERATION

I L R 39 Bom 441

See LETTERS PATENT 2 Pat L J 635

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (1 of 1877)

s 39 I L R 33 Bom 149

See UNLAWFUL INFLUENCE

See VOLUNTARY PAYMENT

I L R 40 Calc 598

evidence of—

See WILL I L R 38 Calc 355

CO EXECUTANT

See ATTRITING WITNESS

14 C W N 1046

CO EXECUTORS

compromise between—

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 39 Mad 265

COGNIZANCE OF OFFENCE

See COMPLAINT I L R 41 Calc 1013

See JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATE

I L R 37 Calc 221

See MAGISTRATE I L R 39 Calc 119

Police report—Case made over to another Magistrate for enquiry and report—

Criminal Procedure Code (Act 1 of 1898) s 173

190 (1) (b)—Practice Where a Magistrate upon receiving a police report under s 173 does not take cognizance of the case under s 190 (1) (b) which he is perfectly competent to do but makes it over for enquiry and report to an Honorary

Magistrate he acts contrary to the provisions of the law ABDULLAH MANDAL : EMFEROB (1913)

I L R 40 Calc 854

CO HEIRS

See TENANTS IN COMMON

I L R 39 Mad. 1049

COLLECTOR

See BHAGDARI ACT (Bom Act V of 1862)

s 3 I L R 38 Bom 679

See BOMBAY ABBAKARI ACT (V of 1878) ss.

37 67 I L R 37 Bom 101

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE 1879

s 48 I L R 42 Bom 123

s 121 I L R 45 Bom. 67

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882—

ss 270 290 300 320 330

ss 301 272 285 I L R 35 Bom 516

I L R 38 Bom 519

s 300A I L R 38 Bom 510

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

ss 3 115 I L R 37 Bom 114

s 47 O XXI R 90

I L R 44 Bom 551

COLLECTOR—contd

s 68 O XXI R 100

I L R 37 Bom 459

I L R 38 Bom 672

s 70 O XXI R 79

I L R 2 Bom. 991

s 93 I L R 35 Bom 213

SCH III s 7 (1) (b) ss 69 70

I L R 37 Bom 32

See COURT OF WARDS ACT (Bom Act 1 of 1905) s 3 (c)

I L R 37 Bom 313

See HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT BOMBAY—

ss 10 AND 13 I L R 35 Bom 145

s 11 I L R 37 Bom 37

s 67 I L R 36 Bom 429

See INCOME TAX I L R 42 Calc 151

See INCOME TAX ACT 1883 ss 14 AND 50

I L R 44 Bom 234

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 38 Calc 230

I L R 44 Bom 9-

See LIMITATION ACT

I L R 35 Bom 325

See MAMLAIDARS COURTS ACT BOMBAY

s 23 I L R 38 Bom 123

See PENSIONS ACT (XXIII of 1871)—

s 4 I L R 37 Bom 91

s 6 I L R 39 Bom 352

See REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT (Bom

ACT X of 1876)

I L R 38 Bom 542

award by—

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT

I L R 36 Bom 59

Boundary dispute—

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE 1879

s 121 I L R 45 Bom 67

Certificate of—

See HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT (Bom. III

of 1874) ss 10 AND 13

I L R 35 Bom 146

See PENSIONS ACT (XXIII of 1871) s 6—

I L R 39 Bom 259

execution sale (see note aside of—

See BOMBAY HIGH COURT CIVIL CIRCULAR

F 106 s. 17 I L R 45 Bom 12

partition effected by—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT 1 of

1908) s. 54 I L R 42 Bom 687

See DECREE I L R 40 Bom. 118

powers of—

See LAND REVENUE CODE (Bom. ACT 1 of 1879)—

s 56 I L R 38 Bom 91

s 79A I L R 35 Bom 72

sale by—

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 40 Calc. 173

See YEAR OF SALE.

I L R 37 Calc 117

COLLECTOR--CO. 67

~ ~ ~ suit against without notice~

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT VII OF 1882) s. 424 F. L. R. 35 P. 42

Injection—Com

Complaint to Collector of the District under a 38 (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act (1112 of 1885) - Transfer of report to Subdivisional Officer for disposal - Deputy Collector - Jurisdiction of Subdivisional Officer to hold such inquiry and to direct a prosecution for subversion of false evidence - Bengal Tenancy Act 3 (16) R. 38 (3) - Government Notification of 12th September 1910 - Reg. 15 of 1933 s. 20 and Criminal Procedure Code (Act 1 of 1898) s. 16 Under s. 3 (16) of the Bengal Tenancy Act and Government Notification of the 19th September 1910 a Subdivisional Officer is a Collector and is authorized to hold an inquiry under s. 3 (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act. A Collector of the District has power on complaint made to him to transfer such inquiry for disposal to a Subdivisional Officer who under ss. 20 and 16 of R. 15 of 1883 is subordinate to the Collector and is required to perform all the duties assigned to him in that function. Where there is a complaint under s. 3 (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act was made to the Collector of the District in transfer of it by him for disposal to the Subdivisional Officer who found that certain facts were not proved in the course of the inquiry had been fabricated. Still that the latter had jurisdiction under s. 471 of the Criminal Procedure Code to direct a prosecution if the officers for offence under ss. 193 and 196 of the Criminal Code. (JUDGMENT BY THE JUDGE) (1913)

COLLECTOR OF BOMBAY

உதிரை எல்

I L R 33 Bom 664

COLLECTOR OF CULTS.

I L R 43 Rom 22

COLLECTOR OF RANGOON

reference by

S. S. P. A. S. I. T. A. C. O. N. S. E.
 I L R 40 Calc 21

COLLECTORATE REGI TER

[illegible]

COLLISION

23 C W N 519
I L R 41 Calc 308
I L R 3- Low 35

COLLISION—Id.

See ILLINOIS ACT (IN OF 1830) & 101
I L R 37 Bom 68

— 363 —

20 C W N 1022

COLLUSION

See AS RULE OF A MONEY DECREE I L R 38 Mad 368
CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1908) s 73 I L R 40 Mad 811
See DIVORCE I L R 44 Cal 1091
S. J. JAMES DECREE I L R 45 Cal 220

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1908) s. 73 I L R 42 Mad 511

See Devotion I L R 44 Cal 1091

I L R 45 Cal'e 923

COLONIAL COURT, OF ADMIRALTY ACT
1890 (53 & 54 VICT. C. 27)

Ex. 2 (3) (A) 35 -

U. S. DEPT. OF SHIP I L R 42 CASE 85

COLONIAL PROBATE, ACT (55 & 56 VICT
c 6)

U. S. GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE
16-50841-1

COLONIZATION OF GOVERNMENT LANDS
(PUNJAB) ACT 1912

2 13—Deed of his square by a tenant who became proprietor and tenant—3 held a certain void by the act and whether the same is the proprietary right Our Sham Singh held a square of land in Chul No 107 in the Lypper District as a tenant On 24 July 1901 he made a will bequeathing his square in Chul No 107 to him in his second wife After Act 5 of 1911 came into force he acquired proprietary rights in the said square and in 1911 he died The plaintiff the son of Sham Singh is his wife then in right the present suit claiming 1/4 of the said square and contended 1/4 that the will was rendered void and inoperative by Act 5 of 1911 and that a devise of proprietary right could not pass by proprietary right Both the Lower Court and the plaintiff and the plaintiff appealed to this Court Held that as the testator was a proprietor at the time the will was made in the will no manner was rendered void or inoperative by 5 of Act 5 of 1911. Held that that as the owner in his last executed will proprietor was his before the will became operative the plaintiff is entitled to the square under the will 5 of Act 5 of 1911 of 1911 followed Datta Singh v. Rajwant Singh
I L R 1 Lah 500

COMMERCIAL CONTRACT

Indentor who has accepted shipping documents and draft -
I L P 1 Lab 36S

COMMERCIAL INTERCOURSE WITH ENEMIES ORDNANCE (VI OF 1914)

— 22 —

1 L R 42 Cal'e 1084
 1 L R 40 Mad 31

COMMITMENT—contd

s 21J I L R 38 Bom 114

s 476 AND 478 I L R 40 AH 116

s 478 I L R 40 AH 32

See JULY

I L R 37 Cal 467

to Sessions—

See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURT

I L R 40 Cal 680

while suit pending—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1908) O L R 1 P I (r) AND (i)

XXIX R 3 CL (3)

I L R 39 Mad 907

Duty of Magistrate to examine witnesses not produced but whom if he accused is prepared to produce after process—Application to summon witnesses and for time to file documents made after the commitment order—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 208—Practice. A Magistrate is bound before passing an order of commitment to examine all the witnesses produced by the accused but not those whom he is prepared to produce after process obtained for their appearance. Queen Empress v Ahmadi, I L R 20 All 64 referred to. Emperor v Muhammad Haid, I L R 20 All 177 dissented from. A Magistrate does not act illegally under s 208 of the Criminal Procedure Code in refusing an application for summons on witnesses and for time to file documents made after the order of commitment has been passed. Farron v SUBATH (1914) I L R 42 Cal 603

Charge exclusively triable by a Court of Sessions—Magistrate's duty when there is evidence which if believed would support the charge. Where the charge against the accused was one of rape which is exclusively triable by a Court of Sessions and other minor offences and the Magistrate holding that the story of rape was probably an exaggeration tried the accused for the other offences and convicted him. Held that as there was evidence which if believed would support the charge of rape the Magistrate should have committed the case to the Court of Sessions. Per SHAMSUL HUDA, J. That in revision the High Court should not take the responsibility of coming to a conclusion even incidentally regarding a charge on which the accused has not been tried. MOZZALTE HIND EXPONER (1919) 23 C W N 1031

COMMITTEE

See PARTIES—PILGRIM ENDOWMENT

I L R 40 Cal 323

COMMON CARRIERS

See CARRIERS

See CONTRACT ACT (I of 1872) s 46

60 I L R 40 Bom 529

by sea—

See BILL OF LADING

I L R 38 Mad 211

liability of—

See CARRIERS ACT s 6 15 C W N 226

1. ———— Contract of carrying—Accepted risk—Construction—Negligence indemnity against carrier—Act (111 of 1865) s 6 & 9—

COMMON CARRIERS—contd

Insurance policy warranted no recourse against carrier—Subrogation—Right to recover—Miscellaneous—Damages. Goods were shipped on a flat belonging to the carriers under a bill of lading endorsed to the Manufacturing Company. Clause 5 whereof the carriers were exempt from loss of the good unless such loss should have arisen from the negligence or criminal acts of their servants or agents. There was an existing agreement between the Manufacturing Company and the carriers by clause 10 whereof the Manufacturing Company undertook and agreed to hold the carrier harmless and indemnified from and against all claims which could be insured against or covered by an ordinary F I A policy. An ordinary F I A policy was used by the Insurance Company in favour of the Manufacturing Company in respect of the goods having the clause warranted no recourse against carriers. The goods were lost by the negligence of the carriers and the Insurance Company paid the Manufacturing Company the amount of the policy. In an action for the loss of the goods brought by the Insurance Company and the Manufacturing Company against the Carrying Company as common carriers—Held that the action lay. The rights and liabilities of the common carrier in India are outside the Indian Contract Act and are governed by the principles of the English Common Law as modified by the Carriers Act. A common carrier is subjected to two distinct classes of liability (i) insurable risks from which the element of default is absent and (ii) carrying risk in which that element is present. English Courts in dealing with exemption clause recognize this distinction and construe them as not extending to carrying risks in the absence of clear words to that effect. Free & Co v Union Lighterage Company [1904] 1 A B 412 James Nelson & Sons Limited v Nelson Line (Liverpool) Limited (No 2) [1906] 1 K B 769. Wylid v Pickford & Co [1911] 2 A B 413 Dare v London and North Western Railway Company I L R 9 C P 495 Martin v The Great Indian Peninsula Railway Company, I L R 3 F 9 Coch v General Steam Navigation Company I L R 3 C P 11 and Crouch v The London and North Western Railway Company 23 L J C P 73 referred to. Barker & Leather Company v Royal Mail Steam Packet Company [1905] 2 A B 696 distinguished. A fortiori in India where there is statutory prohibition against exempting a carrier from loss arising from negligence and criminal act this canon of construction should be adopted at any rate within the limits implied in the prohibition. Clause 10 of the agreement must be construed as an integral part of the contract of carriage. It did not extend to loss arising from negligence or criminal acts. The stipulation in the policy warranted no recourse against carriers did not amount to a relinquishment by the Insurance Company in respect of risks not exempted where the loss had arisen from the negligence of the carriers. Thorn & Co v Brown & Co's Case 186 distinguished. Inasmuch as the Insurance Company claimed its way of subrogation and not a payment the suit should have been brought only in the name of the Manufacturing Company. Burnell v Polcarra & Co [1911] 1 C 33 and Sprott v Thompson I R 3 C 22 referred to. BRITISH AND FOREIGN MARINE INSURANCE CO. LD v THE CENTRAL NAVIGATION AND RAILWAY CO. LD (1910) I L R 38 Cal 25

15 C W N 226

COMMON CARRIERS—contd

Notice of loss of goods—Indra (111 of 1875) 10—Notice of loss under s 10 of the Carriers Act before notice of loss is given to the carrier by the plaintiff. Knowledge of the loss of goods by the carrier is not sufficient to fix the carrier's liability. INDIA GENERAL NAVIGATION AND RAILWAY CO. LD. (1910)

I L R 35 Cal 50

3. ———— Right of consignee to insist on carrier weighing goods before delivery—Peja al to weigh if refusal to deliver—Right of consignee to weigh and charge for storage—Defendant Steamship Company who were common carriers used to allow consignees of goods by their boats to inspect them before granting receipt in the delivery book and have them reweighed (if so demanded) in case of suspicion of short weight and enter the short weight in the delivery book. The plaintiff's agent without making any such inspection paid the freight and the bill of lading and gave a clear receipt in the delivery book of the Company but did not take actual delivery as he found some of the bars damaged. He then asked the Company a servant to reweigh the goods and this being refused, did not take delivery. The plaintiff thereupon sued the Company for the price of the goods. Held that the suit must fail as refusal to reweigh did not amount to a refusal to deliver the goods. The mere fact of the plaintiff's agent not accepting delivery and granting a clear receipt would not have taken away his right to compensation for partial loss of any portion of the consignment in transit or in the custody of the Company, the position of the latter being that of an insurer. He might weigh the goods himself and claim the price of the shortage in weight. PANJABI LIAISON & INDIA GENERAL NAVIGATION & RAILWAY CO. LD. (1911)

92 C 17 N 310

4. ———— Liability for loss of goods—Through loss of goods—Through loss of goods by one company and injury to the goods by the loss of another company—Indian Carriers Act (111 of 1875) s 9—Right of consignee to sue for loss of goods and for loss of goods—Indra al to sue for loss of goods (111 of 1875) s 10. The plaintiff delivered 313 chests of tea to the first defendant (Railway Company) at Bongaon in Assam for transport to Chittagong and thence to Panchgani. The railway receipt being in the usual form used for land transport from Assam to Chittagong. The plaintiff's agent made a breach on the first defendant's railway goods delivered for transport from Assam to Chittagong had to be transported from Gauhati to Channpur by river in steamers and flats belonging to the second defendant under some arrangement with the first defendant which it was notified. Accordingly the said chests of tea were put upon one of the flats of the second defendant at Channpur for carriage to Channpur and while the chests were in the said flat a fire broke out and destroyed 90 of the chests. The plaintiff brought this action against both the defendants for recovery of Rs. 7150 representing the value of the 90 chests so destroyed. The action against the first defendant was dismissed under s 9 of the Indian Carriers Act 1875 as the receipt for the goods was not served on them within the period of 12 months. Held that there was no contract between the plaintiff and the second defendant and that under the arrangement there was a general contract between the defendants whereby one became a sub-contractor to the other. Held further that under the circumstances the first defendant had no authority to act as agent of the second defendant to enter into contract for carriage on the latter's behalf. Held also that the second defendant was a common carrier within the definition of the Indian Carriers Act 1875 and as such was liable to the plaintiff who was the owner of the goods. The Indian Carriers Act 1875 makes a common carrier liable to the owner of the goods as such though not as insurer. Held also that the plaintiff was entitled to succeed inasmuch as he had established negligence on the part of the second defendant. THE DEKHARAI TEA CO. v. THE ASSAM RAILWAY CO. (1919)

COMMON CARRIERS (contd)

23 C 17 N 958

COMMON GAMING HOUSE

See COTTON GAMBLING

I L R 39 Cal 905

See PUBLIC GAMBLING ACT (111 OF 1807)

s 3 AND 4 I L R 61 All 366

1 AND 9 I L R 41 All 272

COMMON LAND

Abadi—Occupied by some of the proprietors asserting their exclusive title and denying that of the other proprietors—Whether a suit by joint proprietors for joint possession is competent—Partition of abadi land—Where a plot of abadi land was taken exclusive possession of by the defendants two of the proprietors of the village who assert their exclusive title and denied the title of the other proprietor. Held that a suit for joint possession by the other proprietors was competent. Balson and Co. v. Ramchand Dutt (1 L R 18 Cal 10 P C) and Vajay v. Tej Singh (9 I P 1978) distinguished. A Civil Court but not a Revenue Officer or Revenue Court has jurisdiction to partition the abadi land, but the onus of proving that there was shamilat in the abadi which could be partitioned and that partition thereof was feasible rests upon the person claiming partition. Ishwar Singh v. Atma Singh (117 P 1 1924) followed. MANJI v. GHULAM MUHAMMAD

I L R 2 Lh 73

Abadi—Encroachment—Abadi—encroachment by one of the co-sharers—Suit for ejectment by some of the co-sharers without proof of material or substantial injury and without a finding for partition—The plaintiffs and some other persons are the owners of 910th share of Pana Opra one of the Pana of the town Toshaan the remaining co-sharers (butchers by trade) own the rest of the Pana. The plot in dispute is a vacant site in the Pana which was alleged to have been in long occupation of defendants No. 3 and 4 who sold it to defendants 1 and 2 two of the co-sharers in the rest of the Pana and two deeds of sale dated 6th August 1916. The plaintiffs alleged that the plot in dispute was part of the common land in Pana Opra that defendants 1 and 2 under the deeds of sale had taken exclusive possession of it on 11th Decemr 1917 and began to make constructions upon it and the plaintiffs had taken proceedings against them in the Criminal Courts which were dismissed on 4th March 1918 owing to defendants' defence of the deeds of sale. They

COMPARATIVE TABLE OF THE COMPANIES
ACTS OF 1882 AND 1913—contd

Section of Act VII of 1913	Corresponding section of Act VI of 1882 etc
97
98
99 100 101
102
103
104
105
106
107	" A
108
109
110
111
112 113
114
115
116
117
118
119
120
121 122
123	"
124	"
125	"
126
127 128
129
130
131
132
133
134
135
136
137
138
139
140
141 (1) (2) (4)	"
141 (3)
142	"
143
144	"
145
146
147 (1) (2) (4)	"
147 (3)
148
149
150 151 152
153
154 155 156
157 158
159
160
161
162
163
164
165
166
167
168 169
170
171
172 173
174
175
176
177
178
179
180
181
182
183
184
185
186
187
188
189
190
191
192
193
194
195
196
197
198
199
200

COMPARATIVE TABLE OF THE COMPANIES
ACTS OF 1882 AND 1913—contd

Section of Act VII of 1913	Corresponding section of Act VI of 1882 etc
144
145
146
147	75
148	89
149	90
150	91
151	92
152	96
153	203
154 155 156
157 158
159
160
161
162
163
164
165
166
167
168 169
170
171
172 173
174
175
176
177
178
179
180
181
182
183
184
185
186
187
188
189
190
191
192
193
194
195
196
197
198
199
200

COMPARATIVE TABLE OF THE COMPANIES
ACTS OF 1857 AND 1913 contd

Section of Act VII of 1913	Corresponding section of Act VII of 1857 etc
11	12
12	1
13	13
14	14 15 16 17
15	18 19
16	20
17	21
18	22
19	23
20	24
21	25
22	26
23	27
24	28
25	29
26	30
27	31
28	32
29	33
30	34
31	35
32	36
33	37
34	38
35	39
36	40
37	41
38	42
39	43
40	44
41	45
42	46
43	47
44	48
45	49
46	50
47	51
48	52
49	53
50	54
51	55
52	56
53	57
54	58
55	59
56	60
57	61
58	62
59	63
60	64
61	65
62	66
63	67
64	68
65	69
66	70
67	71
68	72
69	73
70	74
71	75
72	76
73	77
74	78
75	79
76	80
77	81
78	82
79	83
80	84
81	85
82	86
83	87
84	88
85	89
86	90
87	91
88	92
89	93
90	94
91	95
92	96
93	97
94	98
95	99
96	100
97	101
98	102
99	103
100	104

COMPARATIVE TABLE OF THE COMPANIES
ACTS OF 1852 AND 1913—contd

Section of Act VII of 1913	Corresponding section of Act VII of 1857 etc
11	100
12	101
13 14
15	172
16	24
17
18	20
19	40
20	21
21	22
22	23
23	24 25
24	26
25	27
26	28
27	29
28	30
29	31
30	32
31	33
32	34
33	35
34	36
35	37
36	38
37	39
38	40
39	41
40	42
41	43
42	44
43	45
44	46
45	47
46	48
47	49
48	50
49	51
50	52
51	53
52	54
53	55
54	56
55	57
56	58
57	59
58	60
59	61
60	62
61	63
62	64
63	65
64	66
65	67
66	68
67	69
68	70
69	71
70	72
71	73
72	74
73	75
74	76
75	77
76	78
77	79
78	80
79	81
80	82
81	83
82	84
83	85
84	86
85	87
86	88
87	89
88	90
89	91
90	92
91	93
92	94
93	95
94	96
95	97
96	98
97	99
98	100
99	101
100	102

COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913)

S e COMPANIE ACT (VI OF 1832)

See COMPANY

ss 2 (3) 3 (3) 171 215 232—

See LIQUIDATOR I L R 43 Cal 585

s 22—

See COMPANY I L R 43 Cal 493

s 38—

See COMPANY (REGISTER)

I L P 47 Cal 901

Purchase of share at a Court sale—Rectification of register—Power of Court—Director a power to refuse to register a Court purchaser as a shareholder—Court a power to interfere with the discretion—Appeal to the High Court—Practice A purchaser of shares of a limited company at a Court sale is not entitled as of right to have his name entered in the register of the company as a shareholder. He is subject to the same rules on this point as a private purchaser is. The proviso to s 38 of the Indian Companies Act 1913 should not be confined to the last clause but must be read as a general reservation imposed on all clauses of the section. Having regard to the fact that under the proviso an appeal is allowed from the decision of an issue directed to be tried it is necessary and desirable that there should be a clear direction as to the trial of an issue so that there may be no obscurity on the point and no room for the argument that there was no issue directed to be tried and consequently no right of appeal. MANILAL BRILLAL v GORDHAN SPINNING AND MANUFACTURING COMPANY (1916)

I L R 41 Bom 76

Shares purchased by the father of a joint Hindu family and registered in his name—Death of father—Managing member entitled to registration Where shares in a joint stock company have been purchased by the father of a joint Hindu family out of the joint family funds and registered in his name the person entitled on the death of the father to be registered in the books of the company as owner of such shares is the managing member of the family. PIARI LAL v THE MUM MILLS COMPANY LD CANNFORD (1919)

I L R 41 All 619

ss 76—

See COMPANY I L R 45 Cal 483

s 104, cl (1) (b)—Share fully paid up otherwise than in cash—meaning of—Exchange of debenture not matured for share whether a payment in cash for share Where in accordance with the terms of a debenture deed a company allots to a debenture holder a fully paid up share in exchange for the surrender of a debenture deed not then matured the share so allotted is one fully paid up otherwise than in cash within s 104 (1) (b) of the Indian Companies Act (VII of 1913). Spargo's Case I P 8 CA App 307 distinguished. INOBA RUA PUDER COMPANY v THE REGISTRAR OF JOINT STOCK COMPANIES MADRAS (1917)

I L R 41 Mad 307

ss 131 134—

See COMPANY I L R 45 Cal 183

s 134 (1)—Default to submit balance sheet to Registrar of Companies—Elements necessary to constitute offence In order to bring within the

COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913)—contd

s 134 (4)—contd

rule laid down in Clark v Lawton [1911] 1 K B 588 a person whose defence to a charge under s 134 (4) of the Companies Act is that compliance on his part with the requirements of the section was impossible on account of no general meeting having been held it is necessary in the first instance to show with reference to the provisions of s 76 of the Act that the accused who was an officer of the company was known to be a party to the default in holding the general meeting and where that question has not been inquired into at all the case has not been properly tried and the conviction cannot stand. IAJ KUMAR KUSANT v KING EMPEROR (1917)

21 C W N 840

s 153—Scheme or arrangement made between Bank in liquidation and its creditors—Date from which arrangement is binding on the construction of section 153—Creditor who has obtained a decree and is not one of those who have assented to the arrangement A scheme or arrangement made between a company in liquidation and its creditors under s 153 of the Companies Act (VII of 1913) becomes on the true construction of that section operative and binding from the date it is made and duly assented to by a three fourths majority of the creditors and not from the date of its being sanctioned by the Court. A creditor therefore who has obtained a decree between those dates cannot execute it against the company after the former date although he has not assented to the arrangement. PACHURAN DAYAL v THE BANK OF UPPER INDIA (1919)

I L R 41 All 566

ss 153 and 253—Contributory—Suit brought by the Company against alleged contributory before order for compulsory liquidation—Dismissed in default—Whether bar to subsequent application to have that person placed on list of contributories—Civil Procedure Code Act V of 1908 Order IV r 8 The Punjab Building Company went into voluntary liquidation and the Voluntary Liquidator brought a suit against I D the present respondent for recovery of a certain sum alleged to be due to the Company by reason of his being a shareholder. The respondent denied liability and the suit was dismissed in default on 15th May 1918. An application by a creditor had previously been made for compulsory winding up which was granted on 8th March 1919. The Official Liquidator then sought to place the respondent on the list of contributories of the Company and the question was whether the dismissal of the suit in default precluded the Liquidator from re-arguing the question of the liability of the respondent as a contributory of the Company. Held that the term Contributory as defined by s 153 of the Companies Act 1913 includes any person alleged to be a contributory and is not confined to a person whose liability as a contributory has been established. Held also that s 259 of the Act is not applicable to a suit brought by the Company and such a suit can proceed in spite of an order for winding up made after its commencement. Held consequently that the dismissal under O IV r 8 of the Code of Civil Procedure of the suit instituted by the Voluntary Liquidator is a bar to the subsequent application by the Official Liquidator to have the name of the defendant placed on the list of contributories. Prae KAN v LAZAL DIX

I L P 1 Lab 27

COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913)—contd

s 162—

See COMPANY

I L R 47 Cal 654

Company—Petition for winding up—Circumstances justifying an order for winding up—Sufficiently established. Certain shareholders in a company registered under the Indian Companies Act, 1913 applied under s 162 of the Act praying that the company might be wound up by the Court. Of the circumstances mentioned in s 162 as justifying an order for winding up the only one which might have been applicable was that mentioned in cl. (vi) but all that was shown by the applicants was that the company had not of late years made any profit and that the applicants themselves were apprehensive that if the company continued to work loss instead of gain would result. On the other hand it was not apparent either that the substratum of the company was gone or that the company was conceived and brought forth in fraud. Held that the applicants had failed to make out a case that it was just and equitable that the company should be wound up. In the matter of the MARAMANDAL SHASTHA PRAKASHAN SAMITHI LTD BEVARIES (1917) I L R 39 All 334 ss 162 163—Winding up—Application for stay of winding up proceedings—Judgment of cl 15 of the Letters Patent—Demand in writing—Company neglecting to pay within three weeks—Bona fide dispute as to indebtedness of the Company—Petition presented with an ulterior object. On the 18th August 1915 the Company (appellant) instituted a suit against its ex directors (including the respondent the petitioning creditor) for the recovery of a sum of rupees six lacs the charge against the respondent being neglect of duty. On the 10th April 1916 the respondent instituted a suit against the Company for the recovery of Rs 2,83,747 alleged to be due to him on account of deposits made by him with interest. The Company in their written statement admitted the deposits denied interest was payable and contended that if the Company a suit was successful nothing would be due to the respondent. The Company a suit first came on for hearing on the 13th August 1917 was part heard on the 20th August 1917 and after several adjournments was fixed for some day in January 1918. On the 13th December 1917 a winding up petition was presented by the respondent against the Company and usual directions were given as to the issue of advertisements. On the same day an application was made by the Company to stay the issue of advertisements in order that an application might be made by the Company for stay of all proceedings in connection with the winding up petition on the ground that the said petition was an abuse of the process of the Court. On the 14th December 1917 the said application was made and was dismissed by GREAVES J. The decree provided that the Company be at liberty to prefer an appeal against the order and upon their paying to the respondent the sum admitted to be due to him without prejudice to their contention the proceedings under the winding up petition would be stayed. The decree also provided that the respondent do return the said sum to the Company should the appeal be decreed but if the appeal be dismissed he do withdraw his petition for winding up. Held that the order of GREAVES J was a judgment within the meaning of cl. 15 of the Letters Patent. Held also that the learned Judge was wrong in dismissing the application in toto. The proper order to be made under the circumstances of the present case would be that the winding up proceedings be stayed until the determination of the two suits. THE COMPANY v. SRI PAMESHAR SINGH (1918) 23 C W N 844 ss 168 and 232—Company—Winding up—Execution put in force—Attachment made before but sale after the date of the commencement of the winding up—Liquidator—Appeal—Practice. Held on a construction of a 232 of the Indian Companies Act 1913 that an execution is not put in force merely when property of the judgment debtor is sold in pursuance thereof but it is put in force when the property is attached. Hence where property of an insolvent company was attached prior to the date of the commencement of the winding up but was actually sold subsequently to such date the sale was upheld. Per WALSH J—The recognized practice with regard to liquidators who are officers of the court and not ordinary litigants is that a liquidator appointed in a winding by the court might not to appeal in any case without the permission of that court and if he does so he runs considerable risk of having to pay the costs out of his own pocket. KAYASTHA TRADING AND BANKING CORPORATION LTD v. SAT NARAYAN SINGH I L R 43 All 433

COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913)—*contd*ss 162 163—contd

s 169—

The right of appeal under s 169 is Co extensive with that under the Civil Procedure Code. SANTI LAL v. THE INDIA EXCHANGE BANK I L R 38 All 539

On 3rd December 1910 the District Judge made an order for winding up. On 7th February 1911 an application by some shareholders to reconsider the order was dismissed. On 25th February 1911 applicants appealed to the High Court ostensibly against the order of 7th February 1911 but in effect that of 3rd December 1910. An notice of appeal was served on Respondents until 25th March 1911. Held that the appeal was time barred under s 169. GHISU MAL v. OFFICIAL LIQUIDATOR SHRI BALDEO MILLS CO. LTD I L R 33 All 641

Held that the provisions of this section as to service of notice of appeal are imperative. C J BOWER v. IMPERIAL BANK LTD I L R 35 All 177

s 171—

See LIQUIDATOR I L R 43 Cal 586

See WINDING UP 2 Pat L J 77

Civil Procedure Code (1908) s 47—Transfer of decree against a company in liquidation—Application by transferee to be substituted for original decree holder—Procedure. Where a decree against an insolvent company is transferred pending the insolvency proceedings, it is the duty of the transferee to go first to the execution court and get himself substituted for the original decree holder before he applies to prove his claim before the official liquidator. KASHI PRASAD v. THE UNION BANK OF INDIA, LIMITED DELHI (1919) I L R 41 All 432

COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913)—contd

— s 207—Voluntary liquidation—Decree passed against company prior to liquidation—Stay of execution—Jurisdiction A decree had been obtained against a company which subsequent to the passing of the decree went into voluntary liquidation. The decree holder applied for execution of the decree which was granted by the Court of first instance. On appeal the District Judge ordered stay of execution. Held that the District Judge had no jurisdiction to stay execution. Under the Indian Companies Act the only Court that could stay execution was the High Court. Held further that s 207 of the Indian Companies Act is no bar by itself to the progress of execution unless and until an order has been obtained from a Court having jurisdiction under the Companies Act either for winding up or for stay of proceedings. SURAJ BHAN v. BOOR AND EQUIPMENT FACTORY AGRA (1916) I L R 38 All 407 — ss 207 (ii) 208—Voluntary winding up—Appointment of liquidator—Liability of liquidator acting under irregular appointment A person who accepts an appointment as liquidator of a company which is being voluntarily wound up and who acts as such must whether his appointment is regular or not carry out the duties as well as exercise the rights of a liquidator and must make a return of his appointment to the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies as provided by s 203 of the Indian Companies Act 1913 and obtain his retirement in a proper manner giving notice of that also. Semble that it is competent to a company in general meeting assembled under s 207 (ii) of the Indian Companies Act 1913 to delegate to the directors of the company the appointment of a liquidator. EXPANSON v. SATISH CHANDRA GHOSH (1917) I L R 39 All 412

— s 215—

See LIQUIDATOR I L R 43 Calc 586

— Winding up—Voluntary liquidation—Examination of Directors and Managers—Discretion of Court Under s 215 of the Indian Companies Act 1913 a voluntary liquidator can apply to the Court for examination of persons connected with the management of the Company. NOORMOH FUDUN v. LAXMAN MOHESHWAR (1919) I L R 44 Bom 459

— s 223—

See SET OFF I L R 45 Bom 1219

— s 231—Provincial Insolvency Act 111 of 1911 s 37—Transfer by a Bank of a customer's pro notes to one of its creditors within three months of going into liquidation—Whether the maker of the pro notes can when sued by the transferee object to the transfer to the plaintiff as a fraudulent preference by the Bank in favour of one of its creditors The defendant had dealings with the Industrial Bank of Ludhiana and in 1913 executed two promissory notes in their favour. The Bank got into financial difficulties and sold these two pro notes to the present plaintiff a creditor of theirs in part payment of his claim. The Bank went into liquidation within three months of the transfer of the pro notes. Plaintiff now sued defendant for principal and interest due on the pro notes. It was urged for defendant that the transfer of the pro notes to plaintiff was invalid as a fraudulent preference by the Bank in favour of one of its creditors. Held that a disposition of a Company's property cannot be impeached on the ground of fraudulent preference except on behalf of the general body of the creditors. Willmott v. London Celluloid Company (31 Ch D 125 and 31 Ch D 147) and Lindley on Companies 6th edition Volume 11 page 90 followed also. Mohandas Thakardas v. Takamdas Hotchand (37 Indian Cases 250). And that consequently the defendant could not invoke the aid of s 231 of the Companies Act to impeach the transfer of his pro notes to plaintiff s 37 of the Insolvency Act referred to. RAM SARUP v. YAGAT RAM I L R 2 Lah 102

COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913)—concl'd— s 231—concl'd

— s 232—

See LIQUIDATOR I L R 43 Calc 586

— s 234—

See COSTS I L R 39 Bom 333

— s 269—

See s 158 I L R 1 Lah 237

COMPANY

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXXIII

I L R 41 Mad 624

See COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913)—

See COSTS I L R 39 Bom 333

See EXCESS PROFITS DUTY ACT 1919

s 6 I L R 45 Bom 881

See INSURANCE I L R 34 Bom 1

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 44 Bom 787

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH

I ART 116 I L R 42 Mad 33

See MORTGAGE I L R 39 Calc 810

See PROVIDENT INSURANCE

I L R 42 Calc 300

See SALE I L R 43 Calc 790

See SET OFF I L R 40 Mad 1004

See WINDING UP I L R 34 Bom 533

— borrowing powers of—

See COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882) ss 76

77 I L R 36 All 416

— formation of—

See COMPANIES ACT 1882 ss 6 40 41

I L R 40 Calc 1

— contracts by—

See COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882)

ss 67 96 123 I L R 37 All 273

— Contributory—

See COMPANIES ACT 1913 ss 158 269

I L R 1 Lah 237

— Order reducing remuneration of an employee—

See COMPANIES ACT 1882 s 160

I L R 1 Lah 173

— winding up of—

See COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913) ss 153

to 232

COMPANY—contd

Registered and controlled in India but manufacturing outside—

INCOME TAX ACT 1918 s 31 (1)

I L R 45 Bom 1236

Underwriting new Capital—

INCOME TAX ACT 1918 s 9

I L R 45 Bom 1306

1 ——— Poprieto's of a zamindari—
Forming also a company to public policy Where the proprietors of a zamindari having grown too numerous formed themselves into a limited liability company and the company was duly registered under the provisions of the Indian Companies Act. Held that such a course was likely to be beneficial not merely to the proprietors of the zamindari but to all who may be compelled to have dealings with them and there was nothing in the constitution of the company which was opposed to the public policy. LAL GOPAL DUTT CHANDRICKER v THE HINDUSTANI NATIONAL ZAMINDARY SYNDICATE LTD (1911)

15 C W N 237

2 ——— Two claimants to shares standing in name of third party—Priority of title—What a pressible The rule laid down in Moor v North Western Bank [1891] 3 Ch 599 followed namely that as between two persons claiming title to shares in a company which are registered in the name of a third person priority of title prevails and is the claimant's obligation in point of time can show that as between himself and the company before the company received notice of the claim of the first claimant he the second claimant, has acquired the full status of a shareholder or at any rate that all formalities have been complied with and that nothing more than some purely ministerial act remains to be done by the company which, as between the company and the second claimant the company could not have refused to do forthwith. So that as between himself and the company he may be said to have acquired a prior absolute and conditional right to have the transfer registered in favour of the company was informed of the existence of a better title. Servani R D v National Bank of India (1911)

I L R 33 Bom 331

3 ——— Internal directors in minority—most of—Innocent party not affected the result—Principal and agent—Fraud of agent is not binding on innocent party—Prima facie not affected by notice to agent in such case—Absolute and irrevocable to execute a mortgage on specified property on the happening of a particular contingency—Effect of such irrevocable giving a charge on the property on the occurrence of the contingency By a mortgage of the 15th April 1903 the defendants mortgaged to the plaintiff certain property to secure a loan of six lacs. Under the mortgage the plaintiff had the right to appoint a nominee to be a director of the defendants and he appointed one Dani his munim in Bombay as such nominee. In June 1907 the defendants borrowed three lacs on a cash credit on 1st with the Bank of India for one year from Jan 11th 1907. The said transaction was made conditionally on the defendants giving an undertaking not to further charge the property previously mortgaged to the plaintiff and a resolution to that effect was passed at a meeting of the defendants directors at which Dani was present. No letter of undertaking was in fact given. The loan from the Bank of India was renewed at the end of the year for another year. The Bank made some attempt to obtain a higher rate of interest but in the end the loan was renewed at the same rate as before. In 1909 the defendants failed to pay the said loan to the Bank of India when due. Finally the said loan was renewed for three months on further security being given on June 30th, 1909. On August 5th 1909 the defendants applied to the plaintiff for a further advance of five lacs of which two lacs were required urgently on the security of the said property mortgaged to the plaintiff. The plaintiff consulted J Dani who approved of the transaction. The plaintiff thereon advanced two lacs and received a receipt for the sum in which it was stated that the said two lacs formed part of a sum of five lacs lent to the defendants advanced by the plaintiff and that the plaintiff should have time to consider whether he would advance the said sum of five lacs as a further charge and that in the event of the plaintiff deciding to advance such sum the defendants would execute a proper legal deed of charge to secure such sum and interest and in the event of the plaintiff deciding not to make such further advance the said sum of two lacs should be repaid immediately with interest and to other with the original loan of six lacs. At the date of the said receipt there were only three directors of the defendants and not four the minimum number under the Articles of Association of the defendants. Thereafter the plaintiff decided to make the proposed advance and signified his intention to the defendants. A formal deed of charge was prepared but not executed owing to the insolvency of the defendants and other circumstances. On August 10th the plaintiff for the first time received notice of the resolution of the defendants in favour of the Bank of India. The plaintiff had the receipt pressed in his favour by the defendants stamp it as a charge on land and interest. On September 17th the defendants were declared insolvent and Mr R. D. Servani was appointed liquidator. As such liquidator he was ordered to sell the mortgaged property and hold the sale proceeds subject to the amount due to the plaintiff. The liquidator sold the mortgaged property and paid the plaintiff's claim on the mortgage of six lacs. The plaintiff sued the defendants for a declaration that he was entitled to a charge on the balance of the sale proceeds for two lacs and interest and for payment of that sum. Held that there was no properly constituted Board of Directors of the defendants at the date of the said receipt but that the resolution of the defendants directors in favour of the Bank of India was exhausted after one year and was not renewed on the renewal of the loan by the Bank of India. Held further that Dani had withheld information from the plaintiff as to the said resolution in favour of the Bank of India fraudulently and that the plaintiff could not be imputed to have received notice of the resolution that in any case the defendants would not be allowed to take advantage of their breach of resolution, and that the plaintiff's rights were in no way prejudiced by irregularities in the internal management of the defendant as such as the absence of a Board at the date of the receipt in favour of the plaintiff of which the plaintiff had no notice. Held further that the receipt given by the defendants to the plaintiff was unconditional undertaking to execute a deed of further charge in favour of the plaintiff on the happening of a future event namely on the plaintiff tendering the sum of three lacs the balance of the proposed loan of five lacs on the property specified therein for the whole amount of five lacs of which the two lacs already advanced was a part and that the said receipt consequently gave the plaintiff a valid charge over the defendants property for the two lacs advanced and interest SMITH & NOTTAL v THE TRICHINAPOLIS MILLS COMPANY Ltd (1912)

COMPANY—contd

COMPANY—contd

I L R 26 Bom 564

4 ————— Contract with company—Terms of in correspondence and company's minute conflict—Right of law to enforce terms of sale R by letter offered to sell to the applicant company a patent for Rs 10,000 paid in cash and Rs 20,000 in paid up shares of the company. The letter contained a provision that the company would be entitled to retain and cancel the shares in the event of R who was to serve as the company's manager by reason of death, resignation etc failing to complete 4 years service. The company in their minutes recorded resolutions which did not embody this condition and in express terms spoke of the transaction as a sale of the patent for Rs 50,000. Held that the only contract between R and the company was that contained in the minute and that if this minute incorporated the terms of the letter it did so in so far only as the letter was not inconsistent with the express terms of the minute. That on R's death within 4 years R's widow was entitled to have fully paid up shares to the amount of Rs 20,000 allotted to her. PERFECT POTTERY COMPANY v IRA L. ROSE (1914)

18 C W N 1185

5 ————— Sale of share—Bond given for price—Unauthorized refusal of manager to register transfer—Suit on bond—Plea of non-registration of transfer not open to defendant A sold to B certain shares in a company and B in deed of paying the price in cash executed a bond therefor in favour of A. Registration of the transfer was refused by a person describing himself as the chief manager of the company who however did not appear to have any authority under the articles of association to refuse to register a transfer of shares. Held on suit by A on the bond that it was not competent to B to plead as a defence that the transfer of the shares purchased by him had not been registered as there had in fact been no refusal to register by the company. BAHADUR SINGH v SHAM SUDAN TRO (1914)

I L R 26 All 665

6 ————— Allotment of shares by an irregularly constituted board—Action of allotment not given to applicant—Lawful—Certiorari. Held that an allotment of shares in a joint stock company made by an irregularly constituted board of directors was prima facie invalid. British Empire Match Company Limited v Export Rose 49 Law Times 241 referred to. But this defect may sometimes be cured if the articles of association of the company provide for the validation of an act done by a de facto director in a bona fide manner. Held also that if no notice of allotment of share in a company is given to an applicant before the company goes into liquidation such applicant is not liable to be placed on the list of contributories. In re Scott & Petroleum Company 23 Ch D 413. Dawson v African Consolidated Land and Trading Company [1905] 1 Ch 6 and British Asbestos Company v Boyd [1903] 2 Ch 409 referred to. CHANGA MAL v THE PROVINCIAL BANK Ltd (1914)

COMPANY—contd

I L R 28 All 412

7 ————— Directors—Appointment of as officer under the company—Personal interest of a director clashing with his duty to shareholders—Meeting of directors—No right for such director to vote on his appointment—Invalidity of appointment if no quorum of directors without counting him—Duties of an editor of a newspaper—Incapacity to perform—Properly of dismissal for disrespect. The director of a company is an agent of the company and trustees for the shareholders of the powers committed to them. A director who has an interest in the subject of discussion of a meeting of the directors in which his interests conflict with his duty to the shareholders is incompetent to vote. Hence even when the articles of association of a company may permit a director to hold any other office under the company in conjunction with his directorship and on such remuneration as the directors may fix yet the appointment of a director to any other office at a meeting of the directors at which the quorum was made up only by counting him also as one present is not a valid appointment as the company did not have the unbiased and independent advice of at least each a number of the directors as would without him have made a quorum. A person appointed as co-editor of a newspaper should put forth or publish the paper and exercise a general supervision over the matter which is written for the paper or extracted as news. For this certain literary and business qualifications are necessary. If he is absolutely incapable of performing the duties which the company has a right to expect of him his dismissal on that account from co-editorship is right. PANAMA & PACIFIC TRADING & SHIPPING CO. LTD v TAYNAR (1915)

I L R 38 Mad 891

8 ————— Managing Agents authority to pay—Liability of stranger or manager or manager's partner—Express and implied authority. The manager or managing director of a Mill Company has no implied authority to purchase on behalf of his mill the liability of a stranger still less of their own manager or manager's partner in a private transaction of his own. NOTTAL & SMITH v THE ROYAL COTTON MANUFACTURING COMPANY Ltd (1915)

19 C W N 621

9 ————— Dismissing its Managing Agents—Shareholders of Co if may be restrained from continuing proposal of removal of Managing Agents—Injunction—Contract of service—Specific Relief Act (1 of 1877) ss 21 and 67. Under ss 21 and 67 of the Specific Relief Act a Limited Liability Company cannot be restrained by injunction from discharging the services of Managing Agents even when the contract of service provides that the Managing Agents are only to be removed in a specified manner and after a specified period. Nor can the shareholders be restrained by injunction from considering the question of such removal at an Extraordinary General Meeting. The remedy of the Managing Agents for dismissal at wrongful lies in a suit for damages. Isle of

COMPANY—contd

Wight Railway Co v Taborin & Co Ch D 549 relied upon. N C SINGAR AND SONS v THE BARABONI COAL CONCERN LD (1911)

16 C W N 233

10 ——— Annual list of members—and summary—Omission of director to file summary—Provision—Liability of director under Indian Companies Act (11 of 1913) s 3 (f)—Place where default committed—Jurisdiction of Presidency Magistrate to try offence—Criminal Procedure Code (Act 1 of 1898) s 187 531 The director of a company is liable under s 3 (f) of the Indian Companies Act (11 of 1913) for default in filing a copy of the annual list of members and the summary prescribed therein in the office of the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies at Calcutta.
 A Presidency Magistrate has jurisdiction to try such offence under s 187 of the Criminal Procedure Code and even if it is established that the DEBENDRA NATH DAS GUPTA v REGISTRAR OF JOINT STOCK COMPANIES (1914)

I L R 43 Cal 433

11 ——— Balance sheet—Of a company —Omission of director to call annual general meeting and to place before it a properly audited balance sheet—Liability of director for default in filing copy of the same—Indian Companies Act (11 of 1913) ss 16 131 134—Jurisdiction The director of a company is liable under s 131(f) of the Indian Companies Act (11 of 1913) for default in filing a copy of the annual balance sheet duly prepared and audited in the office of the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies at Calcutta and cannot plead in answer to a charge under s 134 his own omission to call the annual general meeting of the company required by s 70 and to place before it a balance sheet. Park v Loeon [1911] 1 K B 535 referred to. The offence under s 134 (f) is triable in Calcutta whether or not if the position had been laid under s 70 or 131 of the Act the Presidency Magistrate might have had jurisdiction to try the offences committed under the latter sections. DEBENDRA NATH DAS GUPTA v REGISTRAR OF JOINT STOCK COMPANIES (1917)

I L R 43 Cal 433

12 ——— Banking—Company—Sale of shares through Company—Shares unsold through the misconduct of the Managing Director of the Company—Misrepresentation by the Managing Director that the shares were sold—Money paid to the shareholder as the price of the shares—Company going into liquidation—Shareholder as the creditor of shares paid for on list A of contributors—Payment of calls as liquidator to the shareholder—Suit by the shareholder to recover back the amount of calls paid—The Indian Companies Act (VI of 1882) s 61 cl (7) Plam-113 No 1 the plaintiff has nominated the plaintiff Nos 2 to 4 was the owner of 161 shares in the Indian Spice Bank Limited. In April 1913 upon reception from the plaintiff No 1 the share certificates and blank transfers executed by the nominal registered holders of the shares were handed to the Managing Director of the Spice Bank who undertook to sell the shares on commission. In May 1913 the Managing Director without selling the shares paid in respect of them a sum of Rs 10,500 being approximately the equivalent of the net sale proceeds of the shares at Rs 63 per share and he falsely represented to the plaintiffs that the shares had been sold at this figure. In December 1913 the Spice Bank went into liquidation. Plaintiffs Nos 2 to 4 were thereafter placed upon list A of contributors in respect of the shares standing in their name on behalf of plaintiff No 1 on the ground that they remained registered shareholders. In the liquidation proceedings plaintiff No 1 was obliged to pay the amount of calls made aggregating in all Rs 8,000 with interest up to payment amounting to Rs 219.

COMPANY—contd

 Plaintiff No 1 subsequently filed this suit to recover back the sums paid by him on the ground that the Managing Director in the course of his employment was guilty of neglect and misconduct towards the plaintiffs in not selling the said shares and that the direct consequence of such neglect and misconduct had been that the plaintiffs Nos 2 to 4 were placed upon list A instead of list B with the result that plaintiff No 1 had to pay the calls on the shares. Held that the plaintiffs had no cause of action inasmuch as shareholders of a company contract to contribute a certain amount to be applied in payment of the debts and liabilities of the company and it is an incident with their position as shareholders when they remain assent to claim back any of that money. Houlds worth v City of Glasgow Bank 5 App Cas 317 and In re Allestree Linoleum Company 37
 Ch D 191 193 referred to. NAROTTAM MOHARI
 v THE INDIAN SPECIE BANK LIMITED IN LIQUIDATION (1917)

I L R 43 Bom 254

13 ——— Income Tax—Fixed preference and ordinary shareholders—Preference shareholders liable to pay income tax on their dividends unless otherwise provided—The Income Tax Act (11 of 1916) sections 4 11 19 49 Schedule II Part II
 —The Income Tax Amendment Act (V of 1916)
 —The English Income Tax Act of 1842 ss 49 51 107 As between fixed preference and ordinary shareholders in a joint stock company the former are not entitled to have their preference dividends paid free of income tax in a case where there are no express words to that effect in the contract regulating the rights of parties.
 Under the Indian Acts as well as the English Acts the income tax is in effect paid on behalf of the shareholder by the company. In a narrow technical sense it may be said that the company being a separate legal entity the net profits belong to the company and not to the shareholder at any rate until a dividend has been actually declared. But in effect the net profits do belong to the shareholders. If therefore any sum has to be paid out of the net profits to the Crown for tax in effect it is the shareholder who have to pay. The provision of the Income Tax Act as to assessment on and payment by the company are in effect mere machinery for the collection of the tax and the matter is really made clearer if one saw in any way this machinery and regards the matter as between the Crown and the subject. AIR v Ashford Gas Company [1914] 2 Ch 671 referred to.
 PURSHOTTAM HARKISODAS v THE CENTRAL INDIA SPINNING WEAVING AND MANUFACTURING COMPANY LIMITED (1917)

I L R 42 Bom 579

14 ——— Mortgage by—Several mortgages by a Company—Suit on first mortgage against Company and second mortgage—Company cannot deny validity of paying the mortgage debt—Liqui-dators obtaining sanction to create charges or assets to meet costs of litigation—Liquidators application opposed by first and second mortgage

COMPANY—contd

—Charge created by the liquidators in favour of the first mortgagee.—Sale of mortgaged property in the mortgage suit.—Holder of charge claiming priority over the second mortgage for moneys charged.—Holder of charge postponed until the claims of second mortgagee satisfied.—Transfer of Property Act (11 of 1882) 2 (d) and 5.—Luxordena.—Transfer effected under an order of the court pending suit.—Sanction not an order capable of execution.—Escey. The plaintiff the first mortgagee of a limited liability company instituted a suit in the High Court at Bombay to enforce his mortgage against the mortgage defendant No 1 and second mortgagee of the company defendant No 2. During the pendency of the suit the affairs of the first defendant company were ordered to be wound up at the instance of its creditors, and the liquidation proceedings were transferred to the District Court at Poona where the company had its registered office. The plaintiff however obtained leave from the High Court to proceed with his mortgage suit in Bombay against the company in liquidation. Subsequently the liquidators of the company applied to the Poona District Court in which the liquidation proceedings were going on for sanction to raise Rs. 25,000 for costs of litigation on the security of the assets of the company except the goods pledged to the plaintiff. The plaintiff and the second mortgagee contended that the sanction should not be given so as to affect their security as the assets would not include the interests in the property held by the mortgagees. The sanction was however given by the District Judge to the liquidators who thereupon executed two documents of charge for Rs. 10,000 each in favour of the plaintiff reciting the decision of the District Judge and agreeing that upon the sale of the mortgaged premises the sums so charged and all interest due thereon should be payable out of the sale proceeds in priority to all other payments. In the mortgage suit an order by consent was passed for sale of the mortgaged properties by the liquidators serving the contention of all the parties. The surplus sale proceeds in the hands of the liquidators after satisfaction of the plaintiff's mortgage claim in the suit amounted to Rs. 81,000 or thereabouts. The plaintiff claimed by virtue of the documents of charge to be paid the amount of Rs. 20,000 secured thereby in priority to the claim of the second mortgagee contending further that as the latter failed to appeal against the decision of the District Judge they were estopped from disputing the same. Held overruling the plaintiff's contention (1) that the second mortgagee was a party to the pending mortgage suit protected by s. 52 of the Transfer of Property Act against any postponement of their security by the charges created pendente lite by the liquidator for the authority of the District Court in Poona could not affect orders in a pending suit in the Bombay High Court. (2) that the charges created by the liquidators were not transfers in execution of an order of a Court within the scope of s. 2 (d) of the Transfer of Property Act inasmuch as the Poona Court's sanction was not an order capable of execution but merely an authority to the liquidators to act in a certain manner if occasion should arise. OSTAL SENIAL & THE POONA COTTON AND SUE MANUFACTURING CO. LIMITED (1917) I L R 42 Bom 215

COMPANY—contd

name of the pledgee in the register of the Company.—Shares not fully paid up.—Compulsory liquidation of the Company.—Payment of calls as contributory by pledgee of shares.—Pledgee not entitled to recover calls paid on the footing of an order nisi.—Pledgee paying calls not a trustee for the pledgor.—Contract—Agent and Principal. From March to October 1913 the plaintiff Bank advanced to B the agent of the undischarged principal defendant No 1 various sums aggregating Rs. 1,74,200 on the security of 300 shares of the Indian Specie Bank B undertaking to maintain a margin of Rs. 15 per share. The shares deposited by B were transferred to the plaintiff Bank's name on the share register of the Indian Specie Bank and the dividends when received by the plaintiff Bank were credited to the loan account of B. In September 1913 the Indian Specie Bank shares began to fall. On 7th October 1913 B procured further securities as margin which reached about Rs. 20,000 but thereafter failed to provide any further margin and eventually 161 shares were sold by the plaintiff Bank of which 161 had been transferred to the purchase of same before December 1913 when a winding up order was made for the compulsory liquidation of the Indian Specie Bank. In the liquidation the plaintiff Bank had been placed on the list of contributories for 344 shares and on the list for 161 shares for the shares deposited by B. On the 26th February 1914 B was adjudicated in solvent. Subsequently in pursuance of the call made by the Official Liquidator of the Indian Specie Bank the plaintiff Bank paid Rs. 60 per share in respect of 344 shares standing in its name. The plaintiffs sued to recover from the 1st defendant (1) Rs. 1,77,005 13 7 and interest thereon in respect of the advances made by them (2) Rs. 1,72,000 being the amount of calls paid by them as contributories and interest thereon and (3) an order for any claim which might be made against them in respect of 161 shares. The Official Assignee as the assignee of the estate and effects of B was made a formal party being defendant No 2. The trial Court decreed the entire claim of the plaintiffs. Held on appeal (1) That the plaintiff's claim must be limited to a decree for the sums advanced by them interest and costs. (2) That the plaintiffs were not entitled to be indemnified for the amount of calls paid or to be paid by them as contributories inasmuch as the forced payment of calls by them as the registered holder of the shares upon a compulsory liquidation could not be regarded as an expenditure for the preservation of the security nor were the plaintiffs as mortgagees the trustees for the mortgagor at the time of paying such calls. Phene v. Gillan & Sons I 10 referred to. BIRCHAND JIBRAJ & THE STANDARD BANK LIMITED (1916)

I L R 42 Bom 129

16 ——— Unregistered charge.—Charge given by resolution of Company to its Secretary on unpaid calls for premium certificates tendered to the Company.—Failure to register charge.—Duty of officers to register neglected.—Indian Companies Act (11 of 1882) s. 65.—Explanatory—Mode of construction.—Proceedings in Legislative Council cannot be referred to and construed on. The question in this appeal was whether a charge given to the appellant the Secretary of a Limited Company upon unpaid calls could be enforced by him although not registered as required by s. 65 of Act 11 of 1882 (Indian Companies Act) which section required registration of all mortgages

15 ——— Pledge of partly paid up shares.—Is a Company.—Shares loaned to the

COMPANY—contd

and charges specifically affecting property of the company and imposed a penalty upon any official of the company who knowingly and wilfully authorizes or permits the omission of such entry in the register. The decision of this question depended on the proper interpretation of the explanation to the section which was as follows—

Omission to register under this section a mortgage or charge does not render the same invalid. But the officers of the Company cannot avail themselves as such of a mortgage or charge specifically affecting property of the company and not so registered. Held that the construction of the explanation must depend upon its terms and no theory of its purpose can be entertained unless it is to be inferred from the language used. No statement made on the introduction of the measure or its discussion in the Legislative Council can be looked at as affording any guidance as to the meaning of the words. Held that the words as such in their proper construction should not be read as denoting the capacity in which the officers take the mortgages or charge as contended by the appellant nor do they refer to the following words of a mortgage or charge as contended by the respondents. They are introduced simply as giving the reason for the inability to take advantage of the securities which as that officers entrusted with a duty as to registration could not take advantage of a security to them as to which they had neglected this duty. In the circumstances of the case therefore it was held that the appellant could not avail himself of the charge even though he had ceased to be an officer. KRISHNA AYYANAR v. NALLAPERUMAL ILLAI (1920) 1 L R 43 Mad 550

17 ——— Winding up—List of contributors—Minor—Estoppel by conduct after attaining majority—Indian Companies Act (VI of 1882) A minor applied for and was allotted certain shares in a limited company. He received dividend, and continued to do so after attaining majority. On the winding up of the company he was included in the list of contributors. Held that having intentionally permitted the company to believe him to be a shareholder and in that belief to pay him dividends since he attained majority he was estopped by his conduct while a person en jure from denying as between himself and the Company that he was a shareholder. View of Stirling J. in Re Iceland Consols Limited (No 2) 53 L T 922 adopted. A minor may be a member of a company under the Indian Companies Act (VI of 1882). FAZLEBHOY JAFFER v THE CREDIT BANK OF INDIA LTD (1914) 1 L R 39 Bom 331

18 ——— Companies Act (VI of 1882) ss 198 199—Compulsory winding up—Creditor's petition—Company's inability to pay its debts. The petitioner who was an assignee of certain debts due by the defendant Company to its late Secretary and Manager demanded payment from the Company. The Company refused to pay on the ground that the demand was in respect of a claim which the Company honestly believed to be a fraudulent claim and unsustainable at law. The petitioner thereupon applied to the Court to compel only wind up the affairs of the Company. It was not shown that the Company was unable to pay its debt in full. The lower Court having rejected the application the petitioner appealed. Held that the application was rightly rejected for the petitioner's object in making the application was to bring the pressure of insolvency proceedings to bear upon the Company in order to make it pay cheaply and expeditiously a heavy debt which it desired to dispute in the Civil Court. The principle upon which a Company can be wound up on a creditor's application is simply its inability to pay its just debts. The inability is indicated by its neglect to pay after proper demand made and the lapse of three weeks. Such neglect must be judged by reference to the facts of each particular case. Where the defence is that the debt is disputed all that the Court has first to see is whether that dispute is on the face of it genuine or merely a cloak of the Company's real inability to pay just debt. TULSIDAS LALL BHAI v THE BHAPAT I HAND COTTON MILL COMPANY LTD (1914) 1 L R 49 Bom 47

COMPANY—contd

19 ——— Indian Companies Act (VI of 1882) ss 198 and 131—Winding up—Petition for compulsory winding up of company by the Court—Grounds to be alleged in petition—Internal mismanagement of the company not such grounds—Admission of petition discretion of Court as to—Shareholder petition by Any ground alleged under 128 (c) of the Indian Companies Act in a petition for the winding up of a company presented under a 131 of that Act must be of a like nature to the specific grounds given under cl (a) (b) (c) and (d) of a 198. If any other grounds are alleged they do not fulfil the requirements of the Act. Allegations as to the internal management or mismanagement of a company are matters for the shareholders to deal with and do not call for the interference of the Court. A petition by a shareholder stands in a different footing to a petition by a creditor and should be more closely scrutinized on presentation. There is no obligation on the Court to admit a petition merely because it is presented. Not only must a petition allege facts which if proved would justify an order for winding up a company but even if it alleges such facts the Judge has a discretion to consider whether it is really bona fide. The Court may if it thinks fit refuse to admit a petition or as an alternative course give the company concerned notice that a petition has been presented so that it may take proceedings to restrain the petitioner from proceeding with his petition. PIONEER BANK LIMITED in the matter of it (1914) 1 L R 39 Bom 16

20 ——— Winding up—Shares apply for subject to a condition and partly paid for—Condition not fulfilled—Resolution of company to refund part payment—Position of applicant as regards winding up proceedings. A company started in Meerut in 1904 with objects of a very general nature proposed in 1906 to erect a mill at Fyzabad and accordingly issued a prospectus and invited the public to subscribe the necessary capital. On the faith of this prospectus one M applied for shares but added to his application a condition to the following effect—The shares are only to be taken on the condition that any mill is started in the suburbs of Fyzabad. The company however forced that they could not raise the necessary funds to start a mill at Fyzabad and therefore passed a resolution that the money already subscribed for that purpose should be refunded. But before this was done the company went into liquidation. Held that M was in the circumstances to a member of the company but a creditor and entitled to get back what he had already paid. MAHENDRA GOPAL MUKERJI v LACHMAN PRASAD (1913) I L R 35 All 532

COMPANY—contd

21 Contributory—Applications for allotment of shares made by alleged contributory under conditions which were not earned out by the Company A who was the holder of fifty shares in a limited liability Company entered into an agreement with the Company through its managing director to take 150 more shares on the conditions (a) that he was to be appointed a terminal director of the Company and (b) that the business of the company was to be transferred from Meerut where it had been formed to Saharanpur. The 150 shares were allotted to A but he never paid the allotment money and though the business of the Company was nominally at least transferred to Saharanpur A was never appointed a director. Shortly after this allotment the Company went into liquidation. Held that A could not be made a contributory in respect of the 150 shares which he had offered conditionally to take. The London and Provincial Provident Association Ltd In re Wogridge 57 L J Ch 932 referred to POWELL v SEW (1917) I L R 40 All 45

22 When there has been a suspension of business of a Company the power of the Court to wind up the Company will be exercised when there is a fair indication that there is no intention to carry on business. MURALI DHAR ROY v THE BENGAL STEAMSHIP CO. LD. I L R 47 Cal 654

23 Form of order under the Indian Companies Act 1913 for the dissolution of a Company in compulsory liquidation undistributed assets remaining in the hands of the Liquidator. In re SURABHOS LD (in Liquidation) I L R 47 Cal 620

24 A shareholder applied to have his name removed from the Register of the Company under s 38 of the Companies Act 1913—A mortgagee of the uncalled capital of the shares came to Court and opposed. Held that A was entitled to intervene and oppose being vitally interested in the proceedings and might be seriously prejudiced by an order of Rectification made behind his back. Held also that the jurisdiction under s 39 of the Act is unlimited. PANESH CHANDRA MITTER v JOGIV MOHAN CHATTERJI I L R 47 Cal 601

25 Whether interest is payable to creditors entitled thereto after commencement of winding up if Company turns out to be solvent—where interest is not mentioned in the order adjudicating upon the claim— Solvent, explained—Indian Companies Act VII of 1913. Held that if a Company is or ultimately turns out to be solvent interest is payable upon any debts which carry interest or upon which a right to interest has been acquired out of the surplus assets remaining after payment of principal and interest up to the date of the winding up order. Buckley on Companies 9th edition page 471 referred to. Held also that the solvency of a company is established if after payment of the principal and interest up to date of winding up there are some assets which may be realized and will be available to meet the liability on account of interest which accrued due after the commencement of the liquidation. Held further that the creditor is not debarred from claiming the interest merely because he did not ask for it when proving his claim originally. In re Duncan and Co (1 Ch D 307) per Buckley J referred to—also Stiebel a Company Law page 1232 CHAKRAVARTY v PUBLIC BANKING AND INSURANCE COMPANY IN LIQUIDATION I L R 1 Lab 154

COMPANY—concl

28 Solvent Company—surplus funds after paying creditors in full with their payable to creditors in payment of interest due and subsequent to date of winding up order—Indian Companies Act VI of 1882 ss 147 and 163—Joint appeal from order dealing with two separate cases—notice of appeal not served within three weeks. The Official Liquidators of the Peoples and Amritsar Banks in liquidation paid up 15 annas in the rupee to the creditors and there remained still a substantial surplus in their hands. The creditors claimed that they were entitled to the surplus in payment of interest accrued due since the dates of the winding up orders while the contributories claimed that the surplus funds should go to them. Held that the Banks under liquidation having turned out to be solvent the creditors whose debts carried interest were entitled to claim out of surplus assets interest subsequent to the date of the winding up order. In re Humber Ironworks and Shipbuilding Co (Warrent Finance Co's Case) (L R 4 Ch App 643) In re Duncan and Co (1 Ch D 307) In re Hatcher (1 Ch D 299) Ram Saran Das v Baskeshwar Nath (55 P W P 1907) In re Pereira (1 Mad W O R 21) In re Mukhammad Mahomed Shah (1 L R 13 Cal 66) and In re General Felling Stock Co (1 P 7 Ch App 616 649) Halsbury's Laws of England Volume 5 page 612 Lindley on Companies page 1000 Buckley a Company Law page 474 (9th Edition) and Stiebel a Company Law page 122 followed. Held also that although a joint appeal against an order dealing with two separate cases is not sufficient as in this case all the parties concerned in both cases were served with notice and the mistake was merely one of form it could be rectified by putting in a properly stamped appeal with the second case. Held further that though the respondents did not receive notice of the appeal within three weeks as provided for by s 169 as the present case did not show any marked want of diligence on the appellants' part the appeal was properly instituted. DAULAT RAM v THE NOLLEN MILLS CO LIMITED DELHI (95 P L R 1995) Tara Chand Jaramdas v Official Liquidators Peoples Bank of India Limited (48 P L R 1915) Hira Lal v Himalaya Glass Works Co (176 P L R 1911) and Biven Das v Liquidator Doaba Bank Limited Amritsar (43 P L R 1916) distinguished. DEVI DITTA MAL v OFFICIAL LIQUIDATOR AMRITSAR BANK ETC I L R 1 Lab 388

COMPENSATION

See BOMBAY CITY IMPROVEMENT ACT 1893
I L R 36 Bom 203
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—
ss 96 100 I L R 38 Bom 380
s 250 I L R 40 All 79
I L R 44 Bom 463
O 2211 n 3 I L R 33 Mad. 959

COMPENSATION—contd.

See COMPENSATION TO ACCUSED
I L R 38 Cal 302
See CONTRACT ACT (I of 1872) s 63.
I L R 38 Bom 249

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 250
I L R 37 Bom 376
I L R 38 All 132
I L R 44 Bom 463
I L R 40 All 610

See DISTRICT MUNICIPAL ACT (BOMBAY)
s 160 I L R 36 Bom 47

See EJECTMENT SUIT IN
I L R 41 Mad 641

See ELECTRICITY ACT (I of 1910)
ss 14 19 I L R 39 Bom 124

See INFORMATION 14 C W N 328

See INTEREST I L R 35 Bom 255

See LAND ACQUISITION

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I of 1894)
See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I of 1905) s 6 AND SUB s (6) AND (8)
I L R 39 Mad 944

See MALABAR COMPENSATION FOR TEN-ANTS IMPROVEMENTS ACT (MAD I of 1900) ss 5 19 I L R 38 Mad 589

See MUNICIPAL LAW I L R 43 I A 243

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV of 1860)
s 494 I L R 40 All 615

See RAILWAYS ACT (I of 1890) s 70
89 I L R 34 All 422

See SHERIFF I L R 39 Cal 33

See SPECIFIC MOVEABLE PROPERTY
I L R 39 Mad 1

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY (ACT IV of 1882) s 93 I L R 39 Mad 579

— apportionment of—

See BOMBAY IMPROVEMENT ACT 1898
I L R 36 Bom 203

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I of 1894)
I L R 38 Mad 395

— for breach of contract—

See CONTRACT I L R 34 All 429

— for improvements—

See HINDU WIDOW
I L R 40 Cal 555

— for loss of crops by theft or cattle—

See ESTATES LAND ACT (MAD I of 1905)
ss 4 27 73 143
I L R 40 Mad 640

— for vexatious accusations—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 250
I L R 34 All 354

— for wrong to land—

See JURISDICTION
I L R 42 Cal 942

COMPENSATION—contd

— order for—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1898) ss 200 423
I L R 38 Mad 1091

— principles of apportionment of—

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I of 1894)
I L R 38 Mad 395

— right to—

See MALABAR TENANTS IMPROVEMENTS
ACT (MAD ACT I of 1900)
I L R 38 Mad 416

— withdrawal of—

See SHERIFF I L R 40 Cal 895

— Appellate Court powers—Criminal Procedure Code (I of 1898) s 250—Consequential or incidental order An Appellate Court has no power to order compensation under s 250 of the Criminal Procedure Code. MEH SINGH v MANOAL KHANNU (1911) I L R 39 Cal 157

— Fixtures removal of—*Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng III of 1899) ss 341 617—Fixtures erected on buildings before 1st June 1863
—Assessment of compensation not a condition precedent to demolition of fixtures—Small Causes Court as Special Tribunal for determination of, compensation—Amount of claim exceeding ordinary jurisdiction of Small Cause Court—Suit not cognitable by Subordinate Judge—Decree correct in substance but not in form—Costs* In s 341 of the Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng III of 1899 which in respect to fixtures erected on buildings before 1st June 1863 enacts that the Corporation shall make reasonable compensation to every person who suffers damage by the removal or alteration of the fixtures there is nothing that renders the assessment of compensation a condition precedent to the demolition of the fixtures. Until the removal is effected no damage at all is in fact suffered S 617 where any municipal authority is required by this Act to pay compensation, the amount to be so paid and if necessary the apportionment of the same shall in case of dispute be determined by the Court of Small Causes includes a claim for compensation by a person against the Corporation for removal of fixture., although the amount exceeds the ordinary jurisdiction of the Small Cause Court. In a suit in the Court of a Subordinate Judge by the appellants against the Corporation for compensation for removal of fixtures they prayed for (a) a declaration that the fixtures in dispute had been erected before 1st June 1863 (b) that they were entitled to compensation for the loss they would suffer by their compulsory removal (c) that the Corporation could not remove the fixtures until reasonable compensation had been paid (d) asked the Court to fix the amount of compensation and (e) for an injunction restraining the Corporation from interfering with the fixtures until compensation was paid. The Subordinate Judge decreed the suit giving compensation. It was dismissed, as being premature (under s 341) and not cognizable by the Subordinate Judge (under s 617) by the High Court where the Corporation, though they had denied the fact in their written statement, admitted that the fixtures had all been erected before 1st June 1863. Held by the Judicial Com-

COMPROMISE—contd

Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1852) ss 467 461
The sanction of the Civil Court (required by s 462 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1852) is not necessary for a compromise entered into under the authority and by the direction of the Court of Wards on behalf of a minor under their charge
NARIMO DEWANI v PEMBA DITCHEV (1917)

I L R 44 Cal 829

4 ————— Petition of compromise rectifying a verbal mortgage in a proceeding prior to Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882)—Destruction of record suit to rectify mortgage, after—Certified copy of petition if admissible and if constitutes mortgage document—Petition if should be stamped—Copy bearing one rupee stamp—Original petition if must have been stamped with one rupee stamp—Court fees Act (VII of 1870) On April 1st 1877 the parties to a suit filed a petition of compromise rectifying the terms on which the dispute was settled among them being an agreement by one party who was recognized as owner to grant a usufructuary mortgage to the other. The Judge ordered the compromise to be placed on the record and the case to be put for final disposal on the following day. The record of the proceedings having been destroyed in the present suit for redemption of the mortgage a certified copy of the petition bearing a stamp of Rs 1 only was produced as evidence of the agreement. Held that the certified copy was rightly admitted in evidence relative to the facts stated therein. That the suit was not brought on the petition but on an antecedent verbal mortgage valid according to the law in force before the Transfer of Property Act and did not depend upon whether the petition was fully stamped or not. That if the Judge did pass his formal order as he proposed to do no objection could be taken on the ground of the stamp on the petition being insufficient. That no inference could be drawn from the copy bearing a one rupee stamp (which was the proper stamp for issuing a copy under the Court Fees Act of 1870) that the original petition (if it be treated as the document creating the mortgage) was not properly stamped
AHMAD PATA v SATYAD ABID HUSAIN (1916)

21 C W N 265

3 ————— Petition of compromise presented to the Magistrate while writing judgment—Duty of Magistrate to accept and give effect to the petition—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1873) 345 Under s 345 of the Criminal Procedure Code a case may be compromised at any time before sentence is pronounced. A Magistrate therefore cannot refuse to accept a petition of compromise presented to him whilst he is writing the judgment.
ASLAM MEAN v EMPEROR (1917)

H L R 45 Cal 816

4 ————— Compromise of a claim—Mortgage—Mortgage must be bona fide—Mumukshupa a debt from a daughter of infant by setting up a false will. A died in 1932 leaving an adopted son B and a daughter P who was married to one G. B died in 1937 leaving as his heir P's son K then an infant only two or three months old. About this time certain persons A set up a will by A and R which they claim is a fake as from the death of B and G and the purpose of it to settle the dispute by a mortgage in favour of G on his son's behalf gave up certain portions of the estate left by B to the other party. On the validity of the mortgage being challenged by B on behalf of her son K in a suit for partition brought by her against the other party to the deed. Held that though the latter could be expected and were not obliged to prove the will in solemn form in the present litigation it was necessary for them to show that there was a will and that upon that will they had a claim which was made honestly and in good faith. Held on the evidence that there was no will and the claim put forward on its basis was not honest or bona fide but merely a sham claim with a view to inducing G to give up some of the infant's property in their favour. That upon the question of the validity of the mortgage the position of the infant was different from what would have been his position had he executed the deed for himself.

COMPROMISE—contd

KRISHNA CHANDRA DATTARAY v HENAYA SANKAR NANDI MAZUMDAR (1917)

22 C W N 493

5 ————— Construction of—With respect to annuity and interest was confined to the heirs of the grantee—No illegal perpetuity where annuity was a charge on the zamindari as long as heirs of grantee existed—Right to arrears of annuity by assignee of a reversioner—Objection not taken in early stage of case and no issue on it settled not allowed to be raised in appeal to Privy Council. In a suit between an ancestor of the appellant (third defendant) and an ancestor of the respondent (third plaintiff) for an impartible zamindari a compromise was made in 1831 by the parties by which the ancestor of the appellant retained the zamindari subject to his giving up one village and paying an annual sum of Rs 700 a month in perpetuity to the ancestor of the respondent. The terms of the compromise were contained in two petitions dated 8th January 1831 one being in Tamil and the other in English the only difference between them being that in the former the annuity was to be paid to the grantee and his descendants from generation to generation and in the latter to the grant and his heirs. In a suit for the annuity by a collateral descendant of the respondent's ancestor Held on the construction of the compromise that the right to it was not confined to the heirs. Held also that the agreement was not in covenant but in charge and that the annuity being a charge on the estate it was not illegal as there was no difficulty in making it perpetual as long as there were lineal or collateral heirs of the grantee. Where an objection which might and ought to have been taken was not taken by the appellant at a stage of the case when an issue could have been raised on it and the matter was subsequently decided by the High Court against the appellant the objection by him was not allowed to be raised on an appeal to the Privy Council.
RAJAH of RAMANOR SETHUPATI PAVOTHAYAN TEFAR (1918)

I L R 42 Mad 581

6 ————— Compromise for bill of sale—If not a compromise non-compulsible of a suit for cancellation of a declaration of nullity of the agreement. Defendant instituted criminal proceedings against the plaintiff under the Indian Penal Code ss 403 and 477 both of which are non-compulsible offences. In consideration of his withdrawing both criminal proceedings and a civil suit pending between the parties the plaintiff executed a deed conveying to the defendant his share of a certain village. There was a provision in the deed that the conveyance should only come into operation if and when all the above mentioned proceedings were withdrawn.

COMPROMISE—contd.

The criminal proceedings were withdrawn and the plaintiff was acquitted the order of the Magistrate being made with the consent of the parties. When the defendant took steps to fulfil the rest of his agreement namely to withdraw his civil suit against the plaintiff the latter declined to give his consent to the withdrawal. Plaintiff instituted this suit praying for cancellation of the deed of conveyance executed by him and for a declaration that it was null and void on the ground of its having been executed for an illegal consideration. Held that a part of the consideration for the agreement being illegal the agreement was void. But that the plaintiff being pari delicto with the defendant the Court acting on principles of equity would refuse the prayer for relief by way of a declaration that the deed was null and void. The Court will not exercise its discretionary power under the Specific Relief Act 1877 s. 39 in favour of a party who is pari delicto with his opponent. BHUNDHARI PRASAD v. LAKHRAJ SAHU 1 Pat L J 48

6(a) ————— So far as it relates to properties within the scope of the suit a compromise decree operates as res judicata but so far as it relates to properties outside the scope of the suit such a decree if the terms of the compromise are embodied within the decree is evidence of an agreement to transfer an interest in the property. It is not necessary in such a case to register the compromise petition. BISSESWAR RAM v. MUHADEO PAHAY 1 Pat L J 208

6(b) ————— This appeal related to the Taluka of Taranga in the Central Provinces which originated in a grant by Government early in the 10th Century of a large tract of waste land to the ancestor from whom both the contending parties derived their descent. In 1860 the subject of the grant had been reclaimed and covered with villages. The family of the grantee were then the Taluqdar (Badrinath) his two younger brothers and a cousin (Lokenath) the son of the grantee a second son. This last mentioned member of the family sued the Taluqdar in the Revenue Court to establish his right to a half share of the rents of the Taluka on the ground that it was joint family property subject to the ordinary incidents of Hindu Law and that he was entitled to a moiety of the estate. He obtained a decree which was put into execution. In the course of the subsequent proceedings a compromise was come to and the dispute was referred to arbitration. An award was given which was made a decree of Court on 29th October 1864 under which the claimant obtained in settlement of his claim 11 villages free from all liability for revenue. The compromise deed stated that the plaintiff (claimant) was to possess and enjoy them. The defendant (Taluqdar) has no power over these villages. The plaintiff is at liberty to possess, occupy and manage them just as he pleases. But the defendant is to pay out of his own pocket the Government revenue in respect of these villages. The plaintiff has no concern with the payment of the revenue and will not have to pay it. The defendant shall have power over the rest of the villages in the Taluq. The plaintiff shall have no power over them. The defendant shall be responsible to pay (revenue) to Government. Plaintiffs shall have no concern

COMPROMISE—contd.

On settlement being finally effected the defendant shall be responsible for payment of the revenue assessed. Corroboration of that award was given by the judgment of the Settlement officer dated 31st October 1867 which was affirmed on appeal by the Naib ular of 24th May 1867 by a letter from the Government of India to the Chief Commissioner in 1890 regarding the liability of the claimant (Lokenath) to reimburse the taluqdar in respect of the enhanced revenue by the decision of the Board in 1899 [Lokenath v. Bisseswarnath (1899) 1 L P 27 Calc 103 L P 26 I A 209] and by other documentary evidence in the case. In the present suit brought on 16th July 1911 against the then taluqdar by the grandson of the claimant (Lokenath) the main question was whether the revenue assessed on the villages in possession of the plaintiffs was a charge as they claimed on the rest of villages of the taluqa and the plaintiffs prayed for a declaration that it was. Held (reversing the decision of the Court of the Judicial Commissioner) that the liability to pay the revenue on the 11 villages granted to the claimant without the right to reimbursement was not a charge on the estate. There was nothing to support the charge and it could not be inferred from the surrounding circumstances. Paya of Pannad v. Sundara pandiyasami Tetar [(1918) 1 L R 42 Mad 531 L R 46 I A 64] distinguished. SUNDARALAL RAMJILAL (P C 1920)

I L R 47 Cal 932

7 ————— Certain properties not included in suit—Registration—Compromise incorporated in decree—Registration Act (18 of 1908) s. 17 (1)—Code of Civil Procedure (Act 5 of 1908) O XXIII r 3. Where a suit for partition is compromised on the understanding that each defendant admits the plaintiff's right to certain portions of the claim made by him in consideration of the plaintiffs admitting the claim of each of the defendants for certain property which each such defendant desires to retain and the compromise is incorporated in the decree then such compromise does not require to be registered even though it deals with property not included in the suit such a decree although not registered, is evidence of an agreement between the parties under which certain lands have been allotted to each. Per Juala Prasad J.—The words so far as it relates to the suit in O XXIII r 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 show that all the terms which form the consideration for the adjustment of the matters in dispute whether they form the subject matter of the suit or not, become related to the suit and can be embodied in the decree. KABU MIAN v. TEJO MIAN 3 Pat L J 43

8 ————— Adjustment of matters outside scope of suit—All ratios of terms of registered lease—whether registration compulsory—Registration Act (XII of 1908) s. 17 (1) (b) (c) (?) (VI)—Transfer of Property (II of 1882) ss. 105 and 107—Duty of Court in filing compromise—Code of Civil Procedure (Act I of 1908) O XXIII rr 3 and 7.—Parties to compromise registered minors are bound—Construction of Compromise Documents in the nature of affidavits, petitions, and pleadings which are filed in the course of a proper judicial proceeding are admissible in evidence without the necessity of registration. A compromise which to and is

COMPROMISE—contd

incorporated in an order of the Court or is filed by way of petition in the proceedings is within the protection of sub s (2) (i) of s 17 of the Registration Act 1908 and does not require registration even where it effects an alteration in a registered document. A lease of certain coal land executed in 1895 provided for the payment of a commission of 6 annas per ton over and above a certain quantity taken from the mine each year and that in default the minimum royalty was to be measured at Rs 1750 per annum. It was stipulated that the commission and royalty should be payable to each of the co sharer lessors according to their respective shares and that in respect of the share of each co sharer he should be entitled to recover the same by suit from the lessee. In 1901 a suit was brought on behalf of all the lessors or the successors of the original lessors for the recovery of commission and royalty on the basis of the agreement of 1895. At the time of the institution of the suit four of the plaintiffs G A H and K were minors. The suit was compromised in 1902. The Court did not expressly sanction the compromise on behalf of the minors but nevertheless the recompromise was recorded. By the compromise the rate of commission and the royalty were reduced and a certain sum was accepted in lieu of the arrears claimed. In his judgment embodying the compromise the Subordinate Judge remarked—The terms of the lease have also been changed but this is no part of the subject matter of the suit. In 1906 there was another suit between the lessors and the lessee. In that suit G who had attained his majority challenged the compromise of 1902 on the ground that he was a minor at that time. K had also attained his majority before the institution of the suit but did not challenge the compromise of 1902. Before the institution of the suit H had disposed of his entire interest in the leasehold property as follows one third was purchased by S one third was purchased by J and the remaining one third by K S and J were co sharer landlords. In 1906 N was still a minor. The suit was compromised. Held in a suit by the lessors for recovery of arrears of commission and royalty at the rates provided in the lease of 1895 (1) That under the terms of the lease the amount payable to the co sharers by way of commission and royalty was divisible and therefore although the compromise of 1902 was not binding on all the minor plaintiffs it was not void in its entirety and accordingly those of the lessors who were bound by the compromise were entitled to recover commission and royalty at the compromise rate only.

(2) That K was not bound by the compromise of 1902. (3) That G was not bound by the compromise of 1902 although he was an adult at the time when the suit of 1906 was compromised as he had in that suit challenged the compromise of 1902. (4) That K was bound by the compromise of 1902 as he did not impeach it in the suit of 1906. (5) S and J were bound by the compromise of 1902 as they were adults and being themselves bound in respect of their own individual shares they were also bound in respect of the shares purchased from the minor H. (6) The compromise did not per se constitute lease and therefore did not require to be registered under the provisions of sub s. 1 (d) of s 17 of the Registration Act 1908 but that it fell within the terms of sub s. 1 (b) and as it was embodied in the decree of the Court it was exempted from the necessity of registration by sub s 2 (iv) CHARG CHANDRA MITRA v SANBHU NATH PANDEY

COMPROMISE—contd

2 Pat L J 255

9 Compromise incorporated in decree—interest not claimed in plaint inserted in compromise decree whether recoverable. Where the plaintiff sued for the recovery of a certain sum of money with interest at 9 per cent per annum and the suit was compromised on the terms that if a specified amount were paid on a particular day interest should be calculated at 12 per cent while if it was paid after that date interest should run at 24 per cent—held in a suit on the compromise decree that interest was recoverable at the rate of 9 per cent only. The agreement to pay after a specified date a rate of interest not claimed in the suit was outside the scope of the suit and that portion of the compromise was therefore invalid. GAURI DUTT v DOTAN THAKUR
2 Pat L J 673

10 Construction of document—Compromise settling all matters in dispute except one—Agreement therein that on that matter the parties would be bound by the finding of the Court—Finding of the Court not appealable. The parties to a suit for the recovery of property of various kinds by right of succession agreed in respect of the various classes of property except one. As to this however they agreed that they would be bound by the finding of the court in respect of it. Held that the effect of this last term of the compromise was that the finding of the court was final and binding upon the parties and that no appeal would lie against it. Bahir Das Chakravarti v Robin Chunder Pal I L R 29 Calc 308 followed. SHAMSHI BEGAM v MUHAMMAD IBRAHIM I L R 43 All 268

11 Procedure—Minor—Guardian appointed by Court of Wards—Assent of Civil Court—Court of Wards Act (IX of 1879) as 14 13 51—Civil Procedure Code 1882 as 375 464. A guardian appointed under the Court of Wards Act 1879 on behalf of minors has power to compromise proceedings in a Civil Court to which these minors are defendants upon the guardian assenting to an agreement of compromise it is necessarily recorded by the Civil Court under s 375 of the Civil Procedure Code 1882 and its validity does not depend upon its terms having been examined and approved by the Civil Court. NARIND DEWANI AND OTHERS v PUNBA DICKEY AND OTHERS (1910)
I L R 48 Calc 469

12 Not notified to Court—Claim decreed subsequently—Whether decree holder can bring a fresh suit for recovery of sum on the compromise which he might have got by execution of the decree. The plaintiffs appellants brought a suit against the defendant respondent for the recovery of money due to them by the latter. The evidence in the case had been closed on 25th January 1910 and the Court ordered certain files to be sent for so the case was adjourned to 10th February and on that day to the 25th February for the same reason. On the 10th February the defendant by way of compromise executed a lease in favour of plaintiffs of certain land under which the latter's claim was to be adjusted. The plaintiffs however did not withdraw their suit and on the 25th February the Court passed a decree in their favour. The plain tiffs having failed to recover their claim now sued for the amount due to them under the lease admittedly their decree had become barred by limitation. Held that the decree suffered by the compromise and the plaintiffs could not now sue on the lease to recover the sum which they might have got by execution of the decree. Moturi Setty v Sri Pajah Lealdatta (1st Mad 1 J 1915) approved. Srinivas Narana v Iashinetti (1 L J 15 Bom 119) Talarum v Anant (1st L J 5 B M S) and Lashtah Perda v Bholari Panla (1 Indian (1st 53) distinguished. Haji Fajir Dost Muhammad

COMPROMISE—contd

1 L R 1 Lah 445

13. — What it relates to subject matter of suit.—Suit by tenant against co-tenant for share of rent paid in respect of tenancy.—Compromise by which defendant tenant gives up land and Plaintiff gives up claim. One of two joint tenants having paid up the entire rent sued the other for contribution. By a compromise which was embodied in the decree the Defendant in consideration of the Plaintiff abandoning his claim gave up his share of the land to Plaintiff. Held—That the term of the compromise related to the suit or at all events were covered by its subject matter. Jachim Mondal v Chaudhary Bux

2 C W N 323

14. — Suit by a female heir of a joint owner compromised by a solenama.—The compromise of binding upon her sons.—Bona fide compromise in settlement of family disputes effect of. After the death of one of the members of a joint Hindu family his daughter brought a suit for establishment of her title of her father's share in the ancestral estate. The suit was brought against an alleged adopted son of her father and the heirs of her father's brothers. The suit was terminated by a solenama entered into by the daughter and the alleged adopted son who alone was contesting the suit. Under the solenama they mutually gave up claims to certain properties in favour of each other and the disputes were settled. Two subsequent suits by the daughter based upon the solenama also ended in compromise. On the death of the daughter her sons brought a suit for declaration of their title to the estate of their maternal grandfather. Held—That there could be no doubt that there was a final settlement of disputes and of the rights of each party and the settlement being also bona fide was binding upon the reversioners. Lal Khanna Lal v Kunwar Gobind 1 L R 38 I A 87 (102) s c 15 C W N 547 (1911) Lala Oudh Behare v Panee Mura Kurwar 3 Agr H C R 84 (1867) Hiran Bibi v Sohani Bibi 18 C W N 999 (P C) (1914) Malendra Nath v Shameshannassa 21 O L J 107 (162 163) (1914) and Shyam Lal v Jameswari 28 C I J 87 (82) (1915) referred to. RAJENDRA NATH MITRA v NIBAFAN CHANDRA POT

25 C W N 829

COMPROMISE AFTER DECREE

— Execution of.—Idemnity of mortgage profit after decree enforceable by execution.—When decree becomes unenforceable by execution. Where in a suit for land and mortgage profit the decree leaves the amount of mortgage profit undetermined the suit to that extent remains unliquidated and is open to the party to adjust that portion of the suit by a lawful compromise and a decree made in accordance with the terms of such compromise can be enforced by execution. Where such compromise provides that the amount of mortgage profits must be recovered by execution first against certain land execution cannot be taken against the person of the judgment debtor merely because the land is not immediately available for sale in execution. It must be shown that the obstacle is one which cannot be removed. VATHUNADA AYYAR v VATHUNADA AYYAR (1909) 1 L J 53 P d 78

COMPROMISE AFTER DECREE—contd

COMPROMISE DECREE

Sic APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

6 Pat L J 171

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1909

O XXII R 7 6 Pat L J 169

Sic COMPROMISE

See CONSENT DECREE

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

1 L R 38 All 679

See MISTAKE

1 L R 43 Cal 217

See PRACTICE

1 L P 36 Bom 7

See REGISTRATION OF DOCUMENTS

L E 40 I P 249

See RES JUDICATA 1 L R 35 Mad 75

See REVIEW APPLICATION FOR

1 L R 40 Cal 541

— against widow.—

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

1 L R 43 Bom 249

— by guardian without Court's leave.—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act 1 1908) O XXII R 7

1 L R 2 Lah 164

— effect of.—

See MUTT 1 L P 40 Mad 177

— A decree obtained by collusion or compromise can be attacked in a separate suit not only on the ground of fraud but also any reason sufficient to avoid an agreement. SHAM NATH CHOWDHURY v LALITA

1 L R 31 AU 144

— Suit to set aside on the ground that agreement was unlawful.—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 188) s 37.—Administrator agreeing to execute lease for which auction afterwards refused by Court.—Profit and Administration Act (V of 1881) s 90 cl (1) and (2)—Set aside whether agreement specifically enforceable.—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 21 (c)—Administration of trustee.—Compromise based on agreement which is unlawful in part.—No decree is to be set aside in part.—No judicial rule. Where a person acting for himself and also as administrator of the estate of a deceased person compromised a suit awarded thereby to execute within a month a durpukar lease of property wholly belonging to himself and

COMPROMISE DECREE—contd

the estate of the deceased and undertook previously to doing that to obtain the permission of the Court which had granted the letters of administration but such permission was refused on the ground of the proposed lease not being beneficial to the estate. Held that the administrator had acted in excess of his powers under s 99 of the Probate and Administration Act in entering into the compromise which was therefore not a lawful compromise within the meaning of s 375 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882). Where a compromise decree has been made on the basis of an unlawful agreement a suit lies to set it aside. Colah Koer v. Badshah Bahalur 13 C B V 1197 s.c. 10 C I J 120 followed. A compromise decree can be set aside on any ground on which the agreement itself could be set aside. Haddersfeld v. Fister [1894] 2 Qb 273 followed. If the agreement could not be set aside fully enforced nor should the decree. The agreement by the administrator in this case could not be specifically enforced being one made by a trustee in excess of his powers within the meaning of s 21 cl (e) of the Specific Relief Act. Held that in the circumstances of the case the whole decree should be set aside and not merely the portion affecting the estate of the deceased. Whether in such a case the decree should be set aside in the entirety or only to the extent directly affected by the illegality would depend upon the circumstances of the case and no universal rule can be laid down with regard to it. Suresh Chandra Bisui v. Hari Doyal Sraou (1910) 14 C W N 451

----- Date of payment fixed by agreement of parties—Court's jurisdiction to extend time—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXXII r 1. In a suit upon a mortgage a compromise decree was made directing that a payment by the defendant into Court of a certain sum on or before the 4th April 1917 the plaintiff shall deliver up to the defendant all documents relating to the mortgaged property and put the defendant into possession of the same. On the 31st March 1917 the defendant paid into Court a portion of the sum and applied for enlargement of time to pay up the balance. The application was refused the defendant however paid into Court the balance on the 12th May 1917. Held that it would be equitable to extend the time for the payment of the balance up to the 12th May 1917 or which date the money was paid into Court and the High Court extended the time up till that date and directed the plaintiff (Court) to make a final decree in terms of O XXXIV r 3 of the Civil Procedure Code. Aburach Mondal v. Aminuddin Mullik (1918) 23 C W N 439

----- Defendant to be ejected from land in suit unless it executed agreement of lease in favour of Plaintiff within two months—I am not excluded in two months—Time of enforcement of contract—Executing Court if may relieve against forfeiture—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXXII r 3. Government sued the defendant for recovery of possession of a plot of land in the Barrickpore Cantonment. The suit was compromised on terms under which the Defendant admitted the right of the Plaintiff and agreed to hold the land as a separate holding under the Plaintiff but without the payment of any additional tax and the Defendant and his son undertook within two months to execute an agreement in favour of the Plaintiff in a certain form embodying therein the terms of the compromise in default whereof it was provided that the Plaintiff would take possession of the land in suit by executing the decree that would be passed on the basis of the compromise. A decree was passed in terms of the compromise. The Defendant and his son not having executed the agreement within two months as stipulated the Plaintiff applied for execution and prayed for recovery of possession on receipt of notice of the application the Defendant expressed his willingness to execute the agreement and before the executing Court urged that there was not the essence of the contract and the Court had power to relieve him against the forfeiture. Held that it is open to the executing Court to consider what the rights of the parties equitable or otherwise are which follow from the contract embodied in a compromise decree. That the relation of landlord and tenant having been created in the case by the compromise decree the principle of the case of Arishna Bai v. Hari (second) 1 L R 11 Bom L (F B) 8 Bom L R 813 (1906) was applicable to the case and the executing Court had erred in refusing relief to the Defendant on the ground that the contract had crystallised into a decree. Lachman v. Jana Yesu 16 Bom L R 668 (1914) referred to. In the circumstances of the case the High Court held that the defendant should not be ejected for failure to execute the agreement within two months from the date of the compromise decree and should be given some time within which to execute it. SURENDRA NATH PANDEY 1 THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA

COMPROMISE DECREE—contd

24 C W N 545

----- Compromise of a suit by a female heir of a joint owner held binding. RAJENDRA NATH MITRAL NIBARAN CHANDRA ROY 25 C W N 859

----- Compromise decree as being with properties other than those in suit effect of—Res judicata—no other regulation of compromise is necessary. So far as it relates to properties within the scope of the suit a compromise decree operates as res judicata but so far as it relates to properties outside the scope of the suit such a decree if the terms of the compromise are embodied within the decree is evidence of an agreement to transfer an interest in the property. It is not necessary in such a case to register the compromise petition. BISSERSWAR PANI v. MAHADEO PARAN 1 Pat L J 208

----- Respondents brought a suit for a declaration that certain property attached by the appellant in execution for money decree against a third party belonged to them. A compromise was arrived at to the effect that the Respondents would execute a mortgage bond for the amount in favour of the appellant. A decree embodying this was passed and the mortgage bond not being executed within the terms of the decree appellant applied for execution of the mortgage bond. Held that the question as to what was the subject matter of the suit must depend upon the facts of each case and that in the present case the mortgage bond was capable of being enforced in execution of the decree under Civil Procedure Code O XXXI r 34. In the matter of Arshu Prokash Choudhary 24 C W N 68

COMPROMISE DECREE—contd

Suit to set it aside—
On ground of fraud and of being ex parte quo the minor plaintiffs—where compromise was sanctioned by Court under a misapprehension of a material fact. One Jiwan died leaving a widow a son B S and a daughter Met L. The son succeeded to the father's property but died in 1894 during his minority. He was succeeded by his mother who remained in the enjoyment of the property for many years and upon her death Jiwan's collaterals took possession. On 8th February 1914 Jiwan's daughter and sister of B S brought a suit against the collaterals for recovery of the property as Jiwan's daughter and on 24th May 1914 a compromise was arrived at between the parties upon which a decree followed. The present plaintiffs (two of whom being minors) who were among the defendants in that suit brought the present action for setting aside the decree based on the compromise. They alleged fraud inasmuch as Met L. claimed as Jiwan's daughter and not as sister of B S the last male owner but failed to show that they did not know of this or at any rate had not the means of knowing it. They also pleaded that the decree was ex parte as far as they were concerned and that at all events the minor plaintiffs were not bound by the decree. Held that as the decree was not tainted with fraud no suit lay to set it aside as regards parties who were majors at the time. Sadhu Brijn v. Colal Singh (1 Cal 11 v 3) followed. Held also that the objection that the decree was ex parte could only be taken by an appropriate proceeding in the suit itself e.g. by an application under O. 11 rule 13 of the Code of Civil Procedure or an application for review or an appeal to a superior Court. Held however that as regards the two minor plaintiffs that the decree was not binding on them as the sanction of the court to the compromise was obtained under a misapprehension of a material fact as to the status of Met L. quod the estate also being represented as the daughter of the last male owner while as a matter of fact she could come in only as a sister. Brij v. Solomon v. Bhoobai (1 I P 6 Cal 68) followed. Jiwanda Singh v. Met Lachit 1 I L R 1 Cal 344

COMPROMISE PETITION

Hindu Law—Partition

1 I L R 48 Cal 1039

COMPULSION OF LAW

—payment under—

See DEBIT IN COURT

1 I L P 43 Cal 269

See VOLUNTARY PAYMENT

1 I L R 40 Cal 598

COMPULSORY ACQUISITION

See LAND ACQUISITION

COMPULSORY SALE

See Pre-emption 1 I L R 42 All 402

COMPUTATION OF TIME

See CONTRACT FOR SALE

1 I L R 45 Cal 431

See TO APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

1 I L R 42 Cal 35

CONCILIATION

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF ACT ss 39 48

1 I L R 36 Bom 18

See LIMITATION 1 I L R 38 Bom 65

—certificate of conciliator—

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF ACT (XII of 1870) s 48

1 I L R 42 Bom 36

—effect of award—

See CENTRAL PROVINCES TENANCY ACT (VI of 1893) s 45

1 I L R 43 Cal 78

CONCLUSIVE PROOF

See AGRA TENANCY ACT 1901 s 9

1 I L R 43 All 81

CONCURRENT FINDINGS

See LIMITATION L P 46 1 A 197

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—EVIDENCE

1 I L R 48 Cal 858

See REGISTRATION

1 I L R 41 Cal 872

See SPECIAL OR SECOND APPEAL

1 I L R 37 Mad 443

See WILL 1 I L R 38 Cal 355

CONCURRENT JURISDICTION

See PROBATE 1 I L R 37 Cal 224

See RESTORATION OF SETT

14 O W N 548

CONCURRENT SENTENCES

See APPEAL 1 I L R 40 Cal 631

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 414

15 C W N 734

See MISJOINDER OF PARTIES

1 I L R 38 Cal 453

CONDEMNATION OF VESSEL

See SALE OF GOODS

1 I L R 45 Cal 28

CONDITION PRECEDENT

See CHARITABLE TRUST

1 I L R 48 Cal 124

CONDITIONAL ADOPTION

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

1 I L R 37 Bom 251

1 I L R 43 Bom 542

CONDITIONAL REQUEST

See WILL

1 I L R 48 Cal 1100

CONDITIONAL CONSENT

—by Collector—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of

1908) s 9. 1 I L R 39 Bom 550

CONDITIONAL OFFER

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of

1908) s 9. 1 I L R 39 Bom 550

1 I L P 38 Mad 23

CONDITIONAL ORDER

See PUBLIC NUISANCE

I L P 42 Calc 702

See PUBLIC PATHWAY

I L R 41 Calc 61

CONDITIONAL SALE

See MORTGAGE

I L R 2 Lah 53

foreclosure proceedings—

See MORTGAGE

I L R 1 Lah 202

CONDONATION

See DIVORCE

I L R 39 Calc 390

I L R 44 Calc 1691

CONDUCT

causing injury to health—

See DIVORCE

I L P 39 Calc 390

CONDUCT OF PARTIES

See ZAMINDARI SALE

I I R 27 Mad 22

CONFESSION

See ADMISSIONS

See ADMISSIONS AND CONFESSIONS TO POLICE OFFICERS

I L R 41 Calc 601

See CONSPIRACY TO WAGE WAR

I L R 38 Calc 559

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 14
15 &c

3 Pat L J 291

s 164 I L R 2 Lah 325 129

s 265 AND 342 I L P 33 Mad 302

EVIDENCE ACT 1872—

s 24 I L R 45 Bom 1080

s 26 I L R 42 Bom 1

s 30 I L R 38 Bom 156

I L R 37 All 247

I L R 43 Bom 739

s 91 I L R 35 All 230

I L R 36 All 222

See EXCISE OFFICERS

I L R 46 Calc 411

See MISDIRECTION

I L P 45 Calc 557

admissibility of—

See JURY RIGHT OF TRIAL BY

I L R 37 Calc 467

admissibility of against a co

conspirator—

See CONSPIRACY TO WAGE WAR

I L R 38 Calc 109

by co-accused—

See BAIL I L R 40 Calc 75

See EVIDENCE ACT 1 or 172 s 30

I L R 38 Bom 150

I L R 37 All 247

I L R 42 Bom 79

See JURY TRIALS I L P 42 Calc 759

effect of retracted—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 34

5 Pat L J 420

CONFESSION—could to Magistrate after arrest—

See CONSPIRACY TO WAGE WAR

I L P 39 Calc 189

recorded by Magistrate without enquiring whether voluntary—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 14

15 &c

I L P 2 Lah 375

record of memo of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1893

s 164 342

I L R 2 Lah 129

relevancy of—

See CONSPIRACY TO WAGE WAR

I L R 38 Calc 559

Unrecorded

See MISDIRECTION

I L P 45 Calc 557

1 Purporting to be involuntary—
L. J. 1872 s 29 A statement in writing by the accused which contains an allusion from which it is to be inferred that the statement of which it forms a part was not made voluntarily is inadmissible. EMPEROR v. TARANATH POX UNKNOWN (1910) I L P 37 Calc 705

2 Under Criminal Procedure Code
1893 ss 164 342 364—*Evidence Act 1872
s 29* A confession under s 164 of the Criminal Procedure Code must be made either in the course of an investigation under Chapter XIV or after it has ceased and before the commencement of the inquiry or trial. The condition requiring the confession to be prior to the commencement of the inquiry or trial is only imposed when the investigation has ceased and not when it is made in the course of the police investigation. Where a number of persons were arrested on the 1st May and the confessions of some of them were recorded on the 4th and 5th while others were brought in subsequently and their confessions taken while the police investigation was then actually going on and on the 17th an order under s 196 was obtained and the police report sent in and on the next day the examination of the prosecution witnesses began—Held that the Magistrate did not take cognizance under s 196 of the Code nor did the inquiry commence on the 4th and that the confessions were taken in the course of an investigation under Chapter XIV. The fact that the Magistrate who has taken the confessions after wards holds the inquiry does not under s 164 constitute the recording of the confessions an examination of the accused in the course of it and at its commencement. *Emper v. Anantaram
Singh* I L P 5 Calc 954 and *Emper v. Jafar
Khan* I L R 5 All 95, declared obsolete. *Sat
Anantaram v. Emperor* I L P 32 Calc 109, distinguished. S 164 includes confession taken by a Magistrate who afterwards holds such inquiry or trial. Emper v. Anantaram Singh I L P 5
Calc 954 and P. v. P. in Patan 10 Bom. H C
100 declared obsolete on the point. Ss 164 342 and 364 of the Code are not exhaustive and do not limit the generality of s 21 of the Evidence Act as to the relevancy of admissions. *Queen
Emper v. Anantaram* (1893) Paton Lal Unrep.
Cr C 679 referred to. The mere fact that a statement was elicited by a question does not make it irrelevant as a confession under s 164 of the Criminal Procedure Code or s 29 of the

CONFESSION

Failure Act 1914 such fact may be material on the question of a voluntary confession. KARAR GHOSH v. EMERSON (1909)

I L R 37 Cal 467

3 ———— ———— Retraited confession of a person is not a confession if it is made after the examination of a witness. Where the only evidence given during the trial to connect the accused with the act of murder with which they were charged were their own confessions contained in statements made by them under sections 144 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 which confessions were retracted before the trial commenced Held that the confessions were admissible in evidence against the accused. It is not necessary that the report of a confession should be always examined. GUDA MAHARAJA v. THE KING EMPEROR

2 Pat L J 20

4 ———— ———— By co-accused, the plea of a confession is not a confession if it is made after the trial of the remaining prisoner alone. Held that the confession of a co-accused against a prisoner on trial—Evidence Act (1 of 18) s 30. Where a co-accused pleads guilty and the Court has accepted it and directed his removal from dock and the trial proceeds against the remaining prisoner alone, confession by the former is not admissible under s 30 of the Indian Evidence Act 1872 against the latter. Queen Empress v. Lakhji I L R 19 Bom 190 approved. EMERSON v. KARARAT SINGH (1911) I L R 38 Cal 446

5 ———— ———— Verification by Magistrate. Where a confession was verified by a Magistrate the proper course for the prosecution was to examine the Magistrate himself and not the other verification witnesses whose evidence would be inferior to his. KAPER SONDAP v. FARROR (1911) 18 C W N 69

6 ———— ———— Retraited confession in use after long police custody admissions in not retracted if admissible. A who was charged with an offence under the Arms Act made a confession in the course of which he stated he was a member of a Samity but subsequently retracted the confession by a statement in which he repeated that he was a member of the Samity. Held that the statement that he was a member of the Samity was good evidence against himself even though he originally confessed might have been made after long police custody. Amir Khan v. King Emperor 7 C W N 457 Laxindra Kumar Gho v. Emperor 11 C W N 1114 I L R 37 Cal 467 King Emperor v. Anya 3 Bom L R 418 and Emperor v. Abani 1 C W N 2 referred to. POLY BERNARD DAS v. KING EMPEROR (1911)

18 C W N 1105

7 ———— ———— Recording of a confession. The accused regarding its voluntariness at the end of the statement—Criminal Procedure Code (Act 1 of 1898) s 164—Confession partly false evidentiary value of. Where an enquiry as to the voluntary character of the confession is made by the Magistrate not at the commencement but at the end of the statement by the accused the test is merely one of form. If a confession is found to be false in part as to the justifying motives for an offence it does not follow that the rest of it relating to the commission of the offence must be rejected. Where the entire statement of a prisoner has been given in evidence

CONFESSION—contd

any part of it may be contradicted by the prosecution and if sufficient grounds exist the Court may accept the incriminatory and reject the exculpatory portions. Peo v. Higgins 3 C L P 603 Peo v. Clew 1 C L P 221 Reo v. Steptoe 4 C L P 397 referred to. PULLY TAYLOR v. EMERSON (1913) I L R 40 Cal 873

8 ———— ———— By force—Allegation of ill treatment and inducement to extort confession—Onus of proof. Where on accused when retracting a confession alleged ill treatment and inducement by the police to extort the confession the onus is on him to prove such ill treatment and inducement. KING EMPEROR v. KAPILI KATOVI (1918)

22 C W N 809

9 ———— ———— Evidence Act (1 of 1872) s 24—Circumstances making confession inadmissible. When a confession was made after police custody for several days and protracted consultation between the accused and the investigating and other police officers and was subsequently retracted Held that the confession was made under circumstances which excluded its admissibility. MOBARAK ALI v. KING EMPEROR (1919)

23 C W N 836

CONFESSION AND STATEMENT

——— difference between—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT 1 OF 1898) s 164

I L R 39 Mad 977

CONFIDENTIAL COMMUNICATIONS

——— test of—

See EASEMENT ACT (1 OF 1882) s 15

I L R 39 Mad 304

CONFIRMATION OF SALE

See SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE.

I L R 41 Cal 593

CONFISCATION

——— of boat—

See OPPIUM ACT s 11

15 C W N 296

——— Cargo—Enemy ship—Cargo shipped by British subjects before declaration of war—War declared whilst cargo of sea—Cargoes consigned to German merchants (in one instance to British merchant)—Destination (Enemy Port)—Contracts C I F—Moneys advanced by British Banks against documents of title—Property in goods at the time of capture. On August 4th, 1914 war was declared between Great Britain and Germany. Before the declaration of war H S N G & Co British subjects, had shipped some bales of jute by a German ship the S.S. Pappenfels of the Hansa Line, and had consigned the goods to D O & Co British merchants. G & Co and D W & Co had also shipped goods by the same ship but had consigned the goods to German merchants. The Pappenfels was captured at sea after the declaration of war and condemned as good and lawful prize of Colombo. The Pappenfels was sent to Calcutta to have the liability of the cargo to condemnation determined by the High Court at Fort William in Benal Messrs. H S N G & Co G & Co and G W & Co submitted claims for the return of their goods. These claims were refused. Held (i)

CONFISCATION—contd

that in determining the question of liability of the goods to confiscation regard must be had to the property in the goods and not to the risk except so far as it may assist the Court in determining the answer to the question—To whom did the goods belong at the time of capture? (ii) that the sellers did not pass the property in the goods to the buyers at the time of appropriating the goods to the contract and (iii) that in the circumstances the property in the goods was in the seller and they were not liable to be confiscated. RE CARGO ex SS RAPPENTFLS (1914)

I L R 42 Cal 334

CONGENITAL BLINDNESS

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 45 Cal 17

CONSCIOUS POSSESSION

See COUNTERFEIT COIN

I L R 44 Cal 477

CONSENT

See ACQUISITION

I L R 37 All 412

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1908) s 92

I L R 39 Bom 580

See CONSENT OF COURT

See CONSENT OF PARTIES

See EVIDENCE I L R 38 Mad 160

See LESSOR AND LESSEE

I L R 48 Cal 176

See PRINCIPAL COPE (Act VI of 1860)

ss 366 360 90

I L R 40 Bom 391

of landlord—

See TRANSFERABILITY

I L R 42 Cal 172

of father-in-law but not senior widow to adoption by junior widow

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 44 Bom 508

CONSENT DECREE

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 ss 13 462

I L R 36 Bom 53

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O XXXIV

I L R 38 Bom 32

See COMPROMISE AND COMPROMISE DECREE

See INSTALMENTS I L R 38 Bom 32

See JURISDICTION I L R 38 Cal 639

See MORTGAGE I L R 35 Bom 371

See PROCEDURE I L R 36 Bom 77

See WORTHFUL DISMISSAL

L R 46 I A 314

effect of—

See MARRIAGE I L R 40 177

1 Parties—Hindu Widow—Reversionary heirs—Confession of judgment When in a suit between a Hindu widow and a claimant to the estate of her husband and a stranger who was not a party to the suit in the Original Court was made a party to the appeal without leave of the Court and a

CONSENT DECREE—contd

consent decree made the decree was not binding upon the reversionary heir. A Hindu widow who is a limited or qualified owner cannot confess judgment and be party to a consent decree so as to bind the inheritance in the hands of the reversionary heirs. Katania Natchier v The Rajah of Sitabganja 9 Moo 1 A 559 Stapleton v Stapleton I White & Tud 8th Ed 234 1 All 2 distinguished Imrit Konuar v Poop Narain Singh 6 C L R 76 explained *Shoa Narain Singh v Kharjo Koerry 10 C L R 337 Sant Kumar v Deo Saran I L R 8 All 665 Jaram Lalce v Veerbas 5 Bom L R 888 Coland Krishna Narain v Khunni Lal I L R 29 All 487 Mahadev v Balloo I L R 30 All 75 Roy Padma Kissen v Navratan Lall 6 C I J 490 Asharam Sadhani v Chandu Churn Mulkerr 13 C B N 117 referred to. A consent decree does not operate to the prejudice of persons not parties thereto. Nicholas v Asphar I L P 4 Cal 218 In re South American and Mexican Company [1895] 1 Ch 37 and The Belconn 10 P D 167 distinguished Huddersfield Banking Company Limited v Fister [1895] 2 Ch 273 followed *RAJAKESHI DASSET v KATYAYANI DASSET (1910) I L R 38 Cal 609

2 res judicata— Consent decree between predecessors in title of parties in suit—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) 11 A consent decree has to all intents and purposes the same effect as res judicata as a decree passed per initum and this notwithstanding the words in a 11 of the Civil Procedure Code has been heard and finally decided. In re South American and Mexican Company [1895] 1 Ch 37 followed A consent decree come to between the predecessors in interest of the present parties touching matters now substantially and directly in issue between them is res judicata BRISHANKAR NARAYAN v MORARJI KESAVJI & Co (1911) I L R 36 Bom 283

3 Default—Court's power to vary the terms of consent decree The plaintiff sued for a declaration that an ostensible sale deed was merely a mortgage deed and that he was entitled to redeem the property. The parties arrived at a compromise and a consent decree was passed in terms that the plaintiff do pay defendant within one month from the 4th September 1917 a sum of Rs 1100 and the survey No 529 at Jamner should be given to plaintiff's possession as owner by defendant in February 1918 after removing that year's crop if the above sum was not paid by plaintiff to defendant within one month defendant should retain possession of the survey number as owner. The plaintiff made default and the defendant claimed that he was entitled to retain the property under the terms of the consent decree. The plaintiff thereupon paid the sum into Court on the 26th November 1917 and presented an application for extension of time mentioned in the consent decree. The lower appellate Court dismissed the application on the ground that it had no power to vary the terms of the consent decree. On appeal to the High Court held that it would be open to the Court to relieve against a default of the plaintiff on proper terms inasmuch as the plaintiff paid the money still three months before he would get possession under the consent decree. Per Mores J C J—In each case the terms of the consent decree must be considered. The Court cannot

CONSENT DECREE—contd.

law a general principle that in no case can the terms of the consent decree be varied. SURESH DHONT v MADHAVJI JIRANI (1911)

I L R 44 Bom 544

4 ——— Dellia v Agricul tural two to P L J (1911) 1911 L R—In the event—Entirely at the of consent decree entered into 1911 In a suit for possession of land which the plaintiff alleged had been sold to him but which the defendant contended had been mortgaged a consent decree was entered directing the defendant to pay to the plaintiff a certain sum in his right as a mortgagee within six months from the date of the decree failing which he might redeem the mortgage was to take. The defendant in test of complying with the terms of the decree made an application that he was an agriculturist and that he should be allowed to pay the sum by annual instalment. The lower Court allowed the instalments on the ground that the terms of the consent decree could be altered under a B of the Dekkian Agriculturists Relief Act 1879. Held reversing the order that the defendant by his application had asked the Court to alter the terms of the consent decree entirely and this could not be done even under a B of the Dekkian Agriculturists Relief Act 1879. Shayagappa v Chandappa (1913) 37
Bom 616 relied on Supdu D'odu v Madharoo
Jirani (1919) 41 Bom 111 explained MADHAV
BALKRISHNA v AFFAJI VENKATESH (1904)
I L R 45 Bom 1123

CONSENT OF COURT

See MADHOMAN LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R 42 Cal 351

CONSENT OF GOVERNMENT

See MAGISTRATES I L R 39 Cal 119

CONSENT OF PARTIES

See JURISDICTION

I L R 42 Cal 116

CONSENT ORDER

Effect of—

See RECEIVER 6 Pat L J 208

CONSEQUENTIAL ORDER

See COMPENSATION

I L R 39 Cal 157

CONSEQUENTIAL RELIEF

See COURT FEES

I L P 40 Cal 24, 615

I L R 44 Cal 352

3 Pat L J 194

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT s 9 49

I L P 33 Mad 452

prayer for—

See COURT FEES ACT s

I L R 39 Cal 704

CONSIDERATION

See CONSTRUCTIONS OF DOCUMENT

I L R 41 Bom 5

See C to t CONTRACT

I L R 42 Bom 473

CONSIDERATION—contd.

See PAIDEN R I L R 33 All 48

See PAIDEN R ACT (1918) s 9

I L R 35 All 55

I L R 36 All 53

See CARDIANS AND WARDS ACT (Vt)

of 1800) s 7 (2) 29 30

I L R 37 Mad 3

See MORTGAGE I L R 36 All 47

I L R 41 All 25

See PROMISSORY NOTE

I L R 37 All 9

I L R 38 Mad 68

See STAMP DUTY I L R 37 Cal 63

effect of non payment of—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) s 39

I L R 34 All 27

failure of—

See BILL OF EXCHANGE

I L R 41 Bom 56

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) s 18

cl (3) I L R 35 Bom 2

s 20 60 I L P 40 Bom 63

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) Sch 1

Art 97 62 I L R 37 Bom 53

s 97 I L R 41 Bom 3

See MORTGAGE I L R 35 Bom 39

for Hindu—

See HINDI SUIT ON

I L R 40 Bom 47

Interest in advance added to bond—

See INTEREST I L R 44 Bom 77

minor representing as major—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT 1877 s 41

I L R 44 Bom 17

unlawful—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) s 24

I L R 42 Bom 33

Mortgage—Legal consideration—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 2 cl (d)
Where A executed a mortgage in favour of X in 1884 and in consideration of X not enforcing the same and in substitution therefor A along with B C and D executed a fresh mortgage in 1893 in favour of Y and on Y suing to enforce the late mortgage the Court of first instance dismissed the suit on the ground that there was no legal consideration. Held that the mortgage of 1893 which replaced that of 1884 was for legal consideration. Held further that it was not necessary that the promisor should benefit by the consideration it was sufficient if the promisee did some act from which a third person was benefited and which he would not have done but for the promise. Hurliessen Dass Srourgee v
Adarshan Chander Banerjee 6 C W 27 Aluarn
v Prest 6 Erch Pep 7 0 Bailey v Croft 4 Taunt 511 Haug v Brooks 10 A & E 309 referred to FAMINDRA NARAIN FOY v KACHEMAN BIBI (1917)
I L R 45 Cal 774

CONSIONEE.

duty of—

See C s I L R 41 Cal 703

CONSPIRACY—contd

posse 103 of—

See OPIUM I L R 46 Cal 820

CONSIGNMENT

loss of—

See RAILWAY COMPANY
I L R 41 Cal 576CONSOLIDATED PATE

See RATES AND TAXES

I L R 42 Cal 625

CONSOLIDATING STATUTE

construction of—

See EXERCUTION I L P 38 Mad 199

CONSOLIDATION OF APPEALS

See APPEAL I L R 43 Cal 95

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

3 Pat L J 446

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1903 s 110

O XLV R 4 I L P 43 All 923

CONSOLIDATION OF MORTGAGES

See MORTGAGE I L R 32 All 651

I L R 1 Lah 105

CONSPIRACY

See CHARGE I L R 42 Cal 957

See CRIMINAL CONSPIRACY

See DAMAGES I L R 41 Bom 137

See MARRIAGE CONTRACT OF

I L R 39 Bom 682

See PENAL CODE ss 34 109 467

I L R 38 Bom 524

s 120B

I L R 40 All 41

as a cause of action—

See LIMITATION I L R 40 Cal 698

charge of—

See CONSPIRACY TO WAGE WAR

I L R 33 Cal 559

See PENAL CODE s 121A

to cheat—

See WITNESS I L R 46 Cal 700

1 ——— Suit for damages for—Conspiracy provision relating to in the Indian Penal Code if excludes civil action for other conspiracies—Common unlawful object—Arrest of faith by Magistrate and Police officers to induce son to confess to a crime—Motive difference in amongst persons as conspiring not material—Special damages to what extent to be proved in suit for damages for conspiracy—Malicious prosecution by joint tortfeasors and conspiracy differentia uses of action for limitation—Limitation on Act (XV of 1877) Sch II Arts 3 30 120—Standard of proof for actionable conspiracy if same as for criminal offence—Assess merit of damages The law does not permit of a man being arrested in order to put pressure on his son to confess even if the person causing the arrest felt that by so doing he will get evidence that will lead to the conviction of persons engaged in a huge conspiracy Where three persons were found to have acted in concert in having a man arrested with that object the fact that two of them did not believe the story upon which the charge against the son was based to be true whilst the third believed in its truth was no ground for the exemption of the latter from liability for damages resulting to the father from the conspiracy for the motive of one conspirator may be different from that of the others The standard of proof of a conspiracy in a suit for damages resulting therefrom is not in India the same as if the defendants were being tried on a criminal charge In the Goods of Gopeshwar Dutt (unreported) relied on. A suit for damages resulting from a conspiracy which could be indictable at Common Law lies in British Indian Courts according to the principles of justice equity and good conscience and the Indian Penal Code by providing for only one form of criminal conspiracy viz to wage war against the King cannot be considered to have taken away this civil remedy either expressly or by necessary implication. Quint v Leatham [1901] A O 495 followed A suit brought on a conspiracy must be kept strictly to the cause of action that has been set out in the plaint If a conspiracy is as in this case indictable at Common Law it gives rise to civil liability if damage has been occasioned by it to the plaintiff The present suit being based on two causes of action (i) to recover the damage occasioned to the plaintiff as the result of an actionable conspiracy and (ii) to recover damages for malicious prosecution against the defendants as joint tortfeasors Held that the suit though instituted beyond the period of limitation provided for suits for compensation for malicious prosecution was in regard to the first mentioned cause of action not barred by limitation as it was brought within the period provided by Art 36 or Art 120 of the Limitation Act the former article being applicable to the matter and if it did not apply the latter being applicable Damage to a substantial amount should be proved by the plaintiff in order to establish a cause of action for conspiracy though if substantial damage is proved the damages awarded need not be limited to the precise amount proved Held that the plaintiff should recover the amount he had to spend owing to his arrest such damage not being too remote PEARL MOHAN DAS v D WASTON (1911)

CONSPIRACY—contd

16 G W N 145

2

—— Constructive offence in furtherance of an intention common to the accused on trial and another—Abetment by conspiracy—Conspiracy between two persons on trial three others so named and others unknown—Acquittal by jury of conspirators on trial effect of—Verdict not conclusive as to persons not on trial—Discretion to reverse against latter—Character of verdicts in England and India—Evidentiary value of the same witness as to the identity of different persons—Opinion of the Judge as to the weight of evidence of identity of persons under trial—Stay of trial against others—Warrant against one withdrawn on acquittal of other all of co-offenders—Prostitution of proceedings by the District Magistrate on the advice of law officer of the Crown—Legality of proceeding Where two persons were charged under ss 3 and 5 of the Penal Code for offence committed in pursuance of an intention common to them and to the petitioner and also under ss 3 and 5 of the Penal Code for abetment by conspiracy between them selves, the petitioner two others named and others unknown and were acquitted by jury Held that

CONSPIRACY TO WAGE WAR—concl'd

the accused. This is no technical rule but one founded on long judicial experience. For a conspiracy to wage war no act or illegal omission is necessary. The agreement of two or more will suffice. While admissions which include confessions are by s 21 of the Evidence Act 1872 declared relevant and may be proved against the persons making them, all that s 30 of the Evidence Act provides is that the Court may take them into consideration as against other persons. This distinction of language is significant and shows that the Court can only treat a confession as lending assurance to other evidence against a co-accused and a conviction on the confession of a co-accused alone would be bad in law. Moreover under s 30 that only can be taken into consideration which is a confession in the true sense of the term so that to place any reliance on a retracted confession against a co-accused would be most unsafe. Yashwanthrao v. Emperor I I P 28 Cal 659 referred to. Verification proceedings do not add any value to an approved evidence or to confessions and cannot be regarded as corroboration. A discharge is not binding on the Court for it is not equivalent to an acquittal. Still a discharge means that the Magistrate after taking the evidence found that there were not sufficient grounds for committing the accused for trial. A retracted confession cannot ordinarily take the place of legal proof. Where several persons are charged with the same conspiracy it is a legal impossibility that some should be found guilty of one conspiracy and some of another and any accused not shown to be a member of that conspiracy is entitled to demand an acquittal. Enfron v. Lait Moran Cruicker Butts and Others (1911).

I L R 38 Cal 559

CONSTRUCTION

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT

See CONSTRUCTION OF STATUTES

See CONTRACT I L R 37 Cal 334

See CONTRACT FOR SALE

I L R 45 Cal 481

See DEKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT s 2 EXPL (b)

I L R 38 Bom 151

See DISTRICT MUNICIPAL ACT (BOMBAY) s 160

I L R 36 Bom 47

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 41 Cal 642

I L R 42 Cal 561

I L R 43 Cal 432

See JACHIN I L R 46 Cal 683

See LIMITATION I L R 28 Mad 101

See MORTGAGE 15 C W H 722

See IN THE ATTORNEY

I L R 41 Bom 40

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 18 2 s 103

I L R 37 All 144

See WILL I L P 38 Cal 32

I L P 44 Cal 181

I L P 45 Bom 711

of deed of sale executed by Hindu

w dow —

See HINDU LAW—ADDITION

I L R 37 All 469

CONSTRUCTION—cont'd

of deeds executed by natives of India—

See HINDU LAW I L R 37 All 369

CONSTRUCTION OF CONTRACTS

See CARRIER LIABILITY OF

I L R 33 Mad 120

See CONSTRUCTION

See CONTRACT ACT (1872) s 10

I L R 40 Bom 501

See MAHA BHAIKAM

I I R 35 All 412

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

I L R 34 Bom 292

CONSTRUCTION OF DEEDS

See CHATITABLE TRUST

I L R 48 Cal 124

See CONSTRUCTION

See ESTOPPEL 2 Fat L J 600

See HINDU LAW 1 Fat L J 581

See MORTGAGE 1 Fat L J 563

2 Fat L J 355

1 ——— Simultaneous execution of sale deed and agreement to convey—Transaction amounts to mortgage by conditional sale. The land in dispute was sold by the defendants to the plaintiff's father on the 7th November 1892 for Rs 300. On the same day the latter agreed with the defendants that if they repaid Rs 300 in five years he would re-sell the land to them. From 1892 the defendants were in possession of the land as tenants of the plaintiffs and paid Rs 18 as rent every year. In 1910 the plaintiffs sued to recover possession of the land. The defendants claimed to redeem the lands alleging that the transaction of 1892 amounted to mortgage. The first Court held that the transaction was a mortgage and allowed redemption but the lower appellate Court held that it was a sale and decreed plaintiff's claim. The defendant having appealed—Held reversing the decree that in view of the facts and the contemporaneous nature of the two documents the proper construction would be that they constituted conditional sale and that the real intention of the parties was to effect a mortgage by conditional sale by the contemporaneous execution of the two documents of sale and re-sale. Wadhavrao Kishavrao v. Shreekrishna Gantavrao (1914).

I L P 29 Bom 119

2 ——— Deed of sale—Contemporaneous agreement to reconvey on payment of consideration—Lease for a term of years—Sale deed amounts to effect to a deed of mortgage—Debt treated as continuing—Property treated as security for repayment of debt. The plaintiffs executed in favour of the defendants a sale deed of lands for Rs 200 a large part of which consisted of old bond debt. Contemporaneously with it two more documents were executed between the parties. One of them was an agreement of reconveyance executed by the defendants to the plaintiffs agreeing to reconvey the land (i) if the sum of Rs 60 was repaid at a certain specified date and (ii) in repayment with interest of sums if any lent by the defendants upon the lands or of any further sums by

CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT.—contd

- s 131 I L R 43 All 132
See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) s 94
 I L P 38 All 103
S e HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
 I L R 40 Bom 668
See HINDU LAW—FIDUCIARY
 I L R 39 All 553
S e HINDU LAW—GIFT
 I L R 49 All 575
See HINDU LAW—PARTITION
 I L P 35 All 337
See HINDU LAW—WILL
 I L R 33 All 41
 I L R 34 All 405
 I L R 43 All 291
See LANDLORD AND TENANT
 I L R 34 All 545
See PARTNERSHIP s 10
 I L R 34 All 13
See MAHOMEDAN LAW—POWER
 I L R 33 All 421
See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WILL
 I L R 34 All 479
 I L R 4 Bom 372
 MAHOMEDAN LAW—WILL
 I L R 43 All 508
See MORTGAGE
 I L R 33 All 107
 I L R 34 All 446
 I L R 38 All 497
 I L R 41 All 45
See OUDH ESTATES ACT (I OF 1869) ss
 13 16 AND 17 I L R 32 All 227
See PUNJON ACT (XXI OF 1871) ss 3
 4 6 AND 8 I L R 33 All 580
 s 11 36 All 318
See PARTNERSHIP
 I L R 32 All 63 187
 I L P 33 All 95 104 296 299
See SECOND APPEAL s 1st L J 251
See TALUQDARI PROPERTY
 I L R 43 All 297
See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF
 1882) ss 58 100
 I L R 33 All 201
 s 58 I L R 39 All 244
 s 100 I L P 43 All 339
See WILL
 — Lea e and Sanad —
 s e REVISION I L R 39 Bom 279

1 — — Deed of — followed after an interval by an agreement for repurchase—
 —Sale—Mortgage by conditional sale document purporting to be an out and out sale deed was executed on a certain date and seven days later a second document was executed by the vendee whereby he covenanted to reconvey the property sold if the vendor paid back the purchase money after the lapse of nine or ten years from the date of that sale deed. The two deeds were separately stamped and were registered in the same manner. Held in view of the delay intervening between the two deeds and other circumstances that at their execution that the two deeds were intended to be joint of one and the CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENTS.—could same transaction so as together to constitute a mortgage by conditional sale but must be construed separately and were merely what they purported to be. Bhagwan Sahai v Bhagwan Din I L R 1 All 387 followed. *Lakshmi Das

 v Legge* I L P 22 All 140 distinguished.
JHANDA SINGH v WAHID UD DIN (1911)
 I L R 33 All 585

2 — — Mortgage—Sale subject to agreement executed on the same day reserving right of vendor to repurchase—Documents to be read together
 Two documents were executed by the same parties on the same day. The first purported to be an out and out sale of certain property but was expressed to be subject to the terms of the deed of agreement executed by the vendee. The agreement referred to was an agreement under certain conditions to reconvey the property purchased.
Held that in the circumstances the two documents must be read together as constituting a mortgage by conditional sale. *Bhagwan Sahai v Bhagwan
 Din* I L R 12 All 387 distinguished. *WAJID
 ALI KHAN v SHAFAT HUSAIN* (1910)

3 — — Sale—Agreement to repurchase executed on same day—Mortgage by conditional sale When what purported to be an out and out sale was accompanied by a contemporaneous agreement given to the vendor a right of repurchase within five years at the same price it was held that the transaction was what it purported to be and could not be construed as a mortgage by conditional sale. Bhagwan Sahai v Bhagwan Din
 I L P 12 All 387 followed. Lakshmi v Bhau
 I L R 31 Bom 528 referred to. *ONULAM NABI
 KHAN v NAZIM NISSA* (1910)

4 — — Will—Devises of one kind of property accurately described exclusion of other somewhat similar property not mentioned in the will
 By his will a testator devised to his wife shares in certain parts of which the numbers were given in the village of Hariah describing the property as in his separate possession. Held that this description would not pass shares in shamilat patts in the village which were not mentioned or referred to in the will. PLISHA v MATHERA PURI (1910)
 I L P 33 All 337

5 — — Will—Gift—Property given to two brothers who were joint—Nature of title by brothers—Hindu law Where property is given or devised, without specification of the individual interests of the recipients to persons who are members of a joint Hindu family it does not follow that they take such property as joint property the principle of joint tenancy being unknown to Hindu law. *in connection with the joint Hindu family Jagannath Narain Das v Ram
 Narain Das* I L P 23 Cal 60 *Dr. Diwali v
 Lal Behar Lal* I L P 26 Bom 415 and *Opri v
 Jallhara* I L R 33 All 41 referred to. Nankam na Kuttar v Palladian Das I L R 28 All 33 doubted. Kishori Lal v MUNDRA DUBAIN
 (1911) I L P 33 All 665

6 — — No will—Ten there is no power to revoke One of the invariable tests in coming to a conclusion as to the testamentary character of a paper is whether the paper is revoca-ble. If it is not revocable the document is not a will. The fact that the paper is drawn in the form of an agreement and that it is registered

CONSTRUCTION—contd

and an agreement dated the 5th of September 1802 executed by the predecessors in title to the respondents reserving to the vendors a right to re-purchase the property sold on repayment of the original purchase money within nine or ten years constituted when taken together a mortgage by way of conditional sale of the property or an absolute sale of it with an agreement for repurchase. The deeds were separately stamped and registered on different dates. The vendors never availed themselves of the conditions of repurchase and the appellants sued in 1907 for redemption. The parties to the suit were Mahomedans. Their Lordships of the Judicial Committee were of opinion that the intention of the parties which was the test in such a case must be gathered from the language of the documents themselves viewed in the light of the surrounding circumstance and came to the conclusion that on this principle the decree of the High Court appealed from that the transaction was an out and out sale and not mortgage by conditional sale should be affirmed. Bhagwan Sahas v Bhagwan Din 1 I R 12 All 387 L P 17 I A 90 followed Bollishan Das v Legge 1 L P 22 All 149 1 P 27 I A 58 distinguished Alderson v White 2 Decc & J 97, referred to. The provisions of a bond executed by the parties of even date with the sale deed refuted the suggestion that any of the parties to the sale deed held any religious scruples against the payment or receipt of interest on money lent or that when intending to create a mortgage they would have adopted special methods of conveying to conceal the fact that interest for the loan was in fact to be given and received. With reference to a remark of Lord CRANWORTH L C in Alderson v White that I think a Court after the lapse of 30 years ought to require cogent evidence to induce it to hold that an instrument is not what it purports to be their Lordships commenting on the facts that the period of 10 years fixed in the present case for repurchase terminated in 1803 that the suit was instituted on the 3th of October 1907 44 years after the lapse of that period that the judgment appealed from was delivered on the 11th of March 1911 that the record was not received at the Privy Council office till the 24th of February 1912 and the appeal not set down for hearing until June 1916 said litigation so prolonged becomes an instrument of oppression is discreditable to any judicial system and every effort should be made to correct the abuse. JHANDA SINGH v WAHID UD DIN (1916) 1 L R 38 All 570

13 —Sale or mortgage—

Sale with option of repurchase—Transfer of Property Act (1 of 1899) s 8 cl (c) The plaintiffs mortgaged in 1899 with the defendants 12 fields for Rs 4,000 the rate of interest agreed upon being 4 per cent per annum. In 1904 the parties made up a bill under the mortgage and of other transactions and the plaintiffs were found indebted to the defendants for Rs 13,600. To pay the amount the plaintiffs sold to the defendants 20 out of 12 fields mortgaged. The sale deed contained the provision that if within the period of 20 years the plaintiffs repaid Rs 13,600 in one lump sum or in instalments the defendant should recover the land to the plaintiff. On the same day the plaintiff executed to the defendant a permanent lease of the land sold at a fixed annual rental of Rs 412 8 0. The plaintiffs alleged that the transaction of 1904 was a mortgage and sued to redeem the same in 1911 on accounts being taken under the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act. Held that the transaction in dispute was not a mortgage but a sale with an option to the plaintiffs to repurchase. NARAYAN AMTIPISNA v VIGNESH WAR (1915) 1 L R 40 Bom 378

CONSTRUCTION—contd

14 ——of stock in trade of business—Schedule of stock in trade forming part of mortgage. Where the stock in trade of a business was mortgaged as security for a loan and a list of the specific articles of which it consisted was attached to the mortgage deed. Held that the mortgage did not include stock acquired after the date of the mortgage to replace that which had been sold. Tappfield v Hillman 6 Man & Gr 215 and Gollman v Chamberlain 25 Q B D 328 referred to. ROBERT WILLIAM ANDERSON v BAYK OF UPPER INDIA LIMITED (1915) 1 L R 37 All 890

15 ——Sale or mortgage—Sale or mortgage with collateral agreement for repurchase—Agreement containing terms as to payment of interest and accounting for the profits of the property sold. Of two documents executed on the same day and between the same parties the first purported to be an absolute sale of a certain village. The second was an agreement on behalf of the vendee the material terms of which were as follows: After a description of the property purchased, the agreement continued with a recital that the property had been purchased by the executants for Rs 6125 on this condition that whenever within five years the vendors shall pay to us the amount of the consideration mentioned in this document we or our heirs shall have no objection in re-conveying the aforesaid share. If we set up any plea the same shall be invalid and the vendors shall be at liberty to take legal steps and to have the property reconveyed by us. They shall also have to pay interest on the whole consideration at the rate of 10 annas per cent per month out of which the actual produce of the village sold shall be deducted, and they shall have to pay the balance along with the consideration money. Held that the terms of the agreement that interest should be paid on the purchase money and that profits of the village should be taken into account in order to ascertain the actual sum which the vendors would have to pay in order to recover the property indicated that the transaction was not merely a sale with a condition for repurchase but a sale with mortgage by conditional sale. ALLERSON v WHITE 2 De Gex & J 97 Bhagwan Sahas v Bhagwan Din 1 I R 12 All 387 Chulam Nobi Khan v Ali Anwar 1 L P 33 All 337 and Jhanda Singh v Wahid Din 1 L R 38 All 570 referred to. MUHAMMAD HANID UD DIN v FAIR CHAND (1916) 1 L R 42 All 437

16 ——Guarantee—Letter of construction of—Conditional or unconditional guarantee—Undertaking by broker to find money on mortgage of debtor's property and pay off sum advanced by creditor—Debtor declining to make the mortgage through broker of discharges broker's liability to pay off advance. B being in financial difficulties approached A for an advance of Rs 100 of rupees representing that he was about to raise a loan of Rs 100 in a first mortgage of certain Mills through broker B and would pay off A a balance out of that loan. A advanced the money to B upon B giving a guarantee to this effect. In consideration of your having at my request acceded to the proposal of D to advance to him a sum of Rs. 11 lacs, I hereby bind myself to you to procure a loan within two weeks of Rs. 11 lacs as the first mortgage of the Mills, and to pay you thereout the sum of Rs. 11 lacs agreed to be advanced by you to the Mills. Held that by this document B gave a substantial undertaking that a loan would be procured and out of the loan the sum of Rs. 11 lacs was to be paid to B and not merely a conditional undertaking that B would procure the lending of 11 lacs if a first mortgage of the Mills was given and pay thereout Rs. 11 lacs to A. VIJAY BHONS & COMPANY v. SHAFIJI BURJORJI (1917)

CONSTRUCTION—contd

I L R 36 Bom 387

18 C W N 769

18 ———— Bond—Construction of—Rate of interest—Stipulation to pay interest at Re. 19 per month and compound interest with a monthly rate of 1 per cent if to be read into the stipulation. Where the executants of a bond which secured an advance of Rs. 2000 stipulated therein we shall pay interest on this sum at the rate of Re. 19 per month and we shall pay the interest every six months from this date. If we fail to do so interest and compound interest shall at the end of every six months be added to the principal and we shall go on paying interest therein at the aforesaid rate until the time of repayment. Held that upon a true construction of this bond the stipulation was that interest should be paid at the rate of Re. 19 per cent per month. INNO DEB DAS v. AZIZUL KARIM KHAN BARAKAT (1912)

18 C W N 957

19 ———— Agreement—Broker's commission—Authority to raise loan on security of immovable property—Broker's entitlement to commission on finding capital when latter insists on a margin of security not proposed or agreed to by borrower—Construction of contract—Broker's right in lands or only capital—English rule of construction—Arbitrary if to be applied here—Time when essence of contract is not in suit for services if may be claimed at any time—Whether under contract as express. The defendants being urgently in need of money to advance their projects for sale executed the following letter of authority in favour of the plaintiffs. We authorise you to raise a loan of 11 lakhs (or less if so required) to clear all our present debt on mortgage of our entire estate at an interest of 7 per cent per annum within the period of one month. We agree to pay you a commission of 5 per cent on such amount as may be advanced by the capitalist to us.

The plaintiffs did not state what the value of the security was but the plaintiffs on their own responsibility represented to the capitalist whom they found that the value of the property would be not less than 20 lakhs and the capitalist insisted upon satisfactory proof that there was that margin of security before he would agree to make the advance. The negotiation with the capitalist having for this reason fallen through the plaintiffs sue for recovery of the stipulated commission. Held that upon a construction of the contract that the stipulation was not merely to find a capitalist ready and willing to advance the money but also to procure funds for the satisfaction of the debts of the defendants. That even assuming that the plaintiffs undertook only to find a person ready and willing to advance the money they had not done so as the capitalist whom they found imposed a condition as to the margin of security never proposed or accepted by the borrower and at no stage of the negotiations was he ready to accept the estate as it stood as security for the loan so to advance the funds on the terms prescribed by the principal. Held also that time was, in the circumstances of the essence of the contract and no case had been made out of an extension of time by continuation of bona fide negotiations for completion. Quare Whether an implied contract to pay the agent a quantum meruit for his services could be presumed when there was an express contract upon which the plaintiffs case failed. Held that no such case having been made by the plaintiffs, and no evidence given to show upon what scale remuneration could be calculated quantum meruit no relief could be granted on that basis. Quere Whether the technical meaning ascribed to the expression to raise a loan in English cases implying that the agent who is engaged to raise a loan discharges his duty as soon as he finds a creditor who is able and willing to advance money should be imported in the interpretation of contracts in this country. Held that where the remuneration of an agent is payable upon the performance by him of a definite undertaking he is entitled to be paid that remuneration as soon as he has substantially done all that he undertakes to do even if the principal acquires no benefit from his services and except where there is an express agreement or special custom to the contrary even if the transaction in respect of which the remuneration is claimed falls through provided it does not fall through in consequence of any act or default of the agent. KISHAN LINGAM SINGHA v. PERNENDU NARAIN SINGHA (1911)

CONSTRUCTION—contd

18 C W N 768

20 ———— Lease—Unilateral mistake not induced by fraud—Mistake not included in lease intended by the parties—Rectification mistake when ground for—Contract if may be repudiated—Second appeal. Where as a matter of construction a certain plot of land was found to be included in a lease having regard to its terms and the character of the property but the Court of Appeal below refused to set aside that construction on the ground that the deed in question included the plot in the area leased. Held on appeal that in the absence of fraud making the document operative a title to the land in suit or off share thereon, a common mistake to give effect to the intention of the parties such as would be a ground for its rectification in the contract as expressed could not be repudiated by the plaintiff or the lower Appellate Court error in law in not giving effect to it. SOHARJEE MOHAMMAD THE LOR CANING AND LAND IMPROVEMENT COMPANY LIMITED (1911)

18 C W N 225

21 ———— Misconstruction. A document does not always confer a right of appeal. KULDIP NALAYAN LAL v. BANWARI RAI

5 Pat L J 251

CONSTRUCTION OF STATUTES

See ASSAM LABOUR AND EMBROIDERY ACT (VI of 1901) 2 Pat L J 91

See BENCAL FERRIES ACT 1883 11 5 Pat L J 560

See CHOTA NAGPUR TENANCY ACT 1908. 4 Pat L J 411

CONSTRUCTION—contd

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898—

ss 14 15 3 Pat L J 291

ss 408 413 4 Pat L J 425

s 524 5 Pat L J 321

See DEFAMATION I L R 43 Cal 433

See DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT
3 Pat I J 537 & 581

See INTERPRETATION OF STATUTES

See MUSALMAN WAKF VALIDATION ACT
I L R 29 Bom 563See NON OCCUPANCY RIGHT
3 Pat L J 1See PENAL CODE ss 361 366
4 Pat L J 74

See STATUTE CONSTRUCTION OF

Consolidating Statutes—

See EXECUTION
I L R 33 Mad 199

1 ————— Rights q may be conferred by implication from language of totite. Rights cannot be conferred by mere implication from the language used in a statute. There must be clear and unequivocal enactment. Arnold v Mayor of Gravesend 2 K & J 514 591 & c 110 R P 327 followed. AMULYA PATAN SINGAR v TATTVI NATH DEY (1914) 18 C W N 1299 I L R 42 Cal 254

2 ————— Where a later Act of Legislature does not purport or affect to supersede an earlier Act the Court will endeavour to read the two enactments together and to avoid conflict if possible. RANGACHARYA v DASACHAPYA (1912) I L R 37 Bom 231

3 ————— Bombay Land Revenue Cod (Bom Act V of 1879) s 18. The Bombay Land Revenue Code (Bom Act V of 1879) is a taxing enactment and must be construed strictly in favour of the subject. SECRETARY OF STATE v LALDAS (1909) I L R 34 Bom 239

4 ————— City of Bombay Municipal Act (Bom Act III of 1883) s 251A cl (a)—Building—Directly over or directly under. —Construction Where it is suggested that a word bears any technical sense in the context in which it occurs, the construction must proceed upon the general rule that statutes are presumed to use words in their popular sense. CUPRIMHONY EBRAHIM v MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS (1909) I L R 34 Bom 496

5 ————— Interpretation—Preamble. Though the preamble of an Act does not control any plain enactment which follows it it may be a most useful guide when a question of doubt arises upon the construction of a particular provision and considerations relating to the scope of the Act are involved. SITAL CHANDRA CHOWDHURY v DELANEY (1916) 20 C W N 1158

6 ————— Per MOOREJEE J. In construing a section of an Indian Act which is professedly based on an English Act and which, in fact, reproduces almost word for word the language of the English enactment we are in practice not in theory bound by the decision of the English Court of Appeal. LAVENDRA NATH BAY v HEMENDRA NATH DAS (1917) 21 C W N 704 I L R 45 Cal 111

CONSTRUCTION—contd

7 ————— The Court should not interpret the statutory law when it provides for a specific procedure by reference to decisions pronounced under a different system of procedure. PADHAKISSEN KAPITTA v LUKHNICHAND JHAWAP 21 C W N 444

8 ————— The rule that enactments in a statute are generally to be construed to be prospective and intended to regulate the future conduct of persons is deeply founded in good sense and strict justice and in the absence of clear word to that effect a statute will not be construed so as to take away a vested right of action accrued before it was passed. IRONOTHIA NATH PAL CHAUDHURI v SADRAY DAS CHAUDHURI 21 C W N 1914

CONSTRUCTION OF WILL

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 37 Bom 107

See HINDU LAW—WIDOWS ESTATE
L R 46 I A 959

See NAKINS I L R 37 Bom 116

See SUCCESSION ACT (N of 1865)
I L R 37 Bom 611See WILL
I L R 38 Bom 637
I L R 43 Bom 68
I L R 41 Bom 70CONSTRUCTIVE NOTICESee HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY
2 Pat L J 513See MORTGAGE I L R 43 Cal 1052
I L R 43 Cal 1See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT
L R 46 I A 200See RATES AND TAXES
I L R 42 Cal 625See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1892
s 41 5 Pat L J 521CONSTRUCTIVE OFFENCE

See CONSPIRACY I L R 41 Cal 751

CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSIONSee MINTS AND MINERALS
5 Pat L J 273CONTEMPORANEOUS AGREEMENTSee EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) s 9 PROV I I L R 35 Bom 93CONTEMPORANEA EXPOSITIOSee SANAD CONSTRUCTION OF
I L R 39 Bom 639CONTEMPT OF COURTSee ANONYMOUS COMMUNICATION
I L R 43 Cal 635See CIVIL AND CRIMINAL CONTEMPT
I L R 45 Cal 162See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1857 s 170
I L R 33 All 69See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1909 s 115
I L R 42 All 26

CONTEMPT OF COURT—contd

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT (XIII)
OF 1870) s. 14

I L R 39 Mad 1045

See PROFESSIONAL MISCONDUCT

I L P 44 C.J. 639

1 ————— Its quasi-criminal character—Comments reflecting on witness and party under cross-examination is contempt—Contempt proceedings strict observance of rules of practice in—Applicant on by private party—If applicant to name the person charged with contempt—Court taking notice of its own initiative practice different—Rule issued against editor printer publisher without naming them on application of private party if to be discharged—Person charged waiving objection subject to question of costs—When apology accepted by Court it would allow costs when rule omitted name—An article in a newspaper reflecting on the party to a suit more especially when he is a witness under cross-examination is a contempt of Court. Proceedings in contempt are of a quasi-criminal character and all the rules of Court must be observed strictly in respect thereof. Where a private party applied for a rule against the editor printer and publisher of a newspaper alleging contempt of Court and omitted to name them respectively—Held that the rule was liable to be discharged. If the persons concerned waive the objection and offer apology which is accepted by Court the Court would not order any costs against them when the rule omitted to name them. WESTON v. EDITOR, PRINTER AND PUBLISHER OF THE BENDALER (1911) 15 C W N 771

2. ————— High Courts in India made Courts of Record by Charter jurisdiction of to commit for criminal contempt of inferior Magistrate's Court in Mofussil—Common law and inherited powers of Calcutta High Court—Powers inherited by Calcutta High Court from the Supreme Court the Sudder Dewani and Sudder Nizamat Adawlat—Original Side and its jurisdiction—Calcutta High Court is possessed power of English King's Bench as custos morum or guardian and protector of justice throughout the Kingdom—Power as Court of Record and one having superintendence over other Courts limits of their power—Contempt not in the face of the Court how punishable—Appellate jurisdiction contempt of delinquent witnesses from deposing before Magistrate is contempt of High Court—Pleadings—Criminal contempt motion for must proceed on legal evidence—Statement on information and belief if may be relied on in contempt proceedings—In Civil interlocutory motion source of information to be stated—Denial when not given by person charged with criminal contempt is admission—Admission in affidavit if may be considered—Supplementary affidavit or evidence in course of contempt proceedings—Superintendent and Remembrancer of Legal Affairs status of to move for or instruct Advocate General for commitment for contempt on Original Side—Governor in Council as party to motion for contempt of lower Criminal Court—Right of person charged with contempt to know who is moving—Costs—Civil and Criminal contempt—Summary proceeding in contempt draw back of to be sparingly resorted to—Contempt proceedings to be taken with the greatest caution—Taken only when interferes with course of justice and not contingent or too remote—Where no real prejudice prima facie tendency of language or reprehensible or objectionable writing if enough—

CONTEMPT OF COURT—contd

Commenting on the conduct or method of investigation by Police if contempt of Court—Criminal Investigation Department making imputation against pending trial if contempt—Possible evidence meaning of—Leave to move upon conditions not fulfilled—Motion petition of and party moving amendment of when allowable—Indian High Courts Act 21 of 1861 s. 101 as 13 of 1865—Letters Patent 1867 s. 26 and 27 Letters Patent 1865 s. 27 and 28—Supreme Court Charter of 1774 s. 25 and 21—53 Geo 111 c 155—Sudder Dewani Adawlat 21 Geo 111 c 70 s. 21—Sudder Nizamat Adawlat—Fog IX (Bengal) of 1835—Fog 11 (Beng) of 1901 s. 2—Act XX of 1841—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s. 474 repeals all penal laws pre existing—Neither the Supreme Court nor the Sudder Dewani Adawlat nor the Sudder Nizamat Adawlat had jurisdiction to commit a person for contempt of a Criminal Court in the mofussil. The Calcutta High Court which has inherited all jurisdictions and every power and authority in any manner vested in the Supreme Court the Sudder Dewani Adawlat and the Sudder Nizamat Adawlat has not derived any such jurisdiction from any of those Courts. Upon a true reading of the judgment in Rex v. Davis [1906] 1 A B 37 the jurisdiction to commit for contempt of an inferior Court by summary proceeding which the King's Bench Division of the High Court in England assumed in that case has been inherited by it from the old King's Bench and not from the other Courts of Record which became amalgamated in the English High Court. That jurisdiction rested on the special power of that Court to correct and protect against extra judicial error and to punish every kind of misdemeanour on a summary proceeding as well as an indictment or information as the custos morum or the guardian and protector of public justice throughout the Kingdom a dignity that reverted to it or was revived on the abolition of the Star Chamber. The Common Law powers as custos morum never belonged to the Supreme Court of Calcutta at least in regard to contempt of inferior Courts outside the Presidency Town and the Calcutta High Court cannot lay claim to this power by inheritance or by reason of its having been constituted by Charter a Court of Record or by reason of its power of superintendence over the Courts of mofussil Magistrates. Under 13 Geo 111 c 63 and the Charter of the Supreme Court of 1774 thereunder and subsequent legislation the criminal jurisdiction of the Supreme Court of Calcutta (apart from crimes maritime) was limited to the local limits of that Court except as to British subjects and that Court had no general power over mofussil Criminal Courts. The Common Law was similarly limited in its application to the Presidency Town and to British subjects outside its local limits. The Supreme Court possessed no statutory jurisdiction over the mofussil Magistrates or other Courts of the East India Company except as provided in 53 Geo 111 c 155 s. 111 and as regards contempts except in relation to such as were committed on the face of such Magistrates or Courts as provided in Act XXX of 1841 and not proceeded against in such Courts. The Sudder Nizamat Adawlat was neither a Court of Record nor a King's Court. The High Court however has in all its jurisdiction as a Court of Record power to commit for any contempt of itself in relation to those jurisdictions and

CONTEMPT OF COURT—contd

the Court on its Original Crown Side would have power so to punish any interference with the due administration of justice by a Division Bench in relation to a criminal appeal pending before it amounting to an offence under the Common Law and might possibly have such power even before any appeal was pending as for instance where it was shown that witnesses were being deterred from giving evidence or the jury were likely be prejudiced. Surendra Nath Banerjee v The Chief Justice and Judges of the High Court of Bengal 1 L R 10 Cal 109 considered In re Abdool & W R 32 What may be a contempt of an inferior Court is not necessarily a contempt of the High Court. No person can be punished for criminal contempt unless the offence be proved by legal evidence. A statement made on information and belief is not legal evidence upon which a person may be committed for criminal contempt. A party charged with criminal contempt need not deny that which is not legally proved against him. The Queen v Strangell 1 R 6 Q R 352 40 I J Q B 91 The absence of denial by such person cannot be taken to amount to an admission. But an admission in his affidavit in answer to a motion for committal for contempt can be taken into consideration by the Court. The power to commit for contempt by summary proceeding being an arbitrary unlimited and uncontrolled power should be resorted to sparingly and with the greatest caution. It is not enough for its exercise that there should be a technical contempt of Court. It must be shown that it was probable that the publication would substantially interfere with the administration of justice. Notwithstanding the prima facie tendency of the language where it appears that there was in fact no prejudice to any trial or the prejudice was contingent or too remote the Court would not take summary proceedings in contempt. The fact that any writing is reprehensible or otherwise objectionable does not necessarily make it cognizable for contempt of Court. Held that the articles in question in the present case did not constitute contempt of any Court. The Superintendent and Remembrancer of Legal Affairs and ex officio Public Prosecutor Bengal cannot move or instruct counsel to move the High Court in the exercise of its Common Law jurisdiction on its Original or Crown Side. The proper person to move the Court for contempt in the present case was the Governor in Council. The condition on which leave to serve a notice of motion is given must be complied with otherwise the application would be liable to dismissal. Per JENKINS C J Quære Whether contempt of inferior Courts committed out of Court should not be left to be punished by the general law by indictment or otherwise and not by summary procedure. JENKINS C J Positive evidence means evidence which goes expressly to the very point in question and that which is believed proves the point without aid from inference or reasoning as the testimony of an eye witness to an occurrence as distinguished from indirect or circumstantial evidence. MOOREHEAD J—Positive evidence means direct evidence as distinguished from circumstantial evidence. JENKINS C J—We are the judges. Impunity expressed distrust of the public and I prelate its mode of searching and its attempt of private but not nothing which is better witnesses from giving evidence. It cannot be said to have constituted contempt of any Court. MOOREHEAD J The C I D by reason of having investigated an offence under inquiry or trial, does not become the prosecutor thereof and an imputation that the investigation has been carried on in an objectionable manner does not constitute a contempt of Court. MOOREHEAD J It is a matter of vital importance for the party against whom an order for commitment for contempt is sought to know the person or persons at whose instance the application is made. If the application is refused he is entitled to know who is responsible for his costs. If the application is successful he is entitled to know who is the respondent in a possible appeal by him. The motion for commitment for contempt having failed costs were awarded to the respondent to be assessed as between party and party as on a hearing on the Original Side. In the matter of the AMRITA BAZAR PATRINA (1913)

CONTEMPT OF COURT—contd

I L R 41 Cal 173
17 C W N 1233

3 ————— Receiver appointed by the Court interference with while discharging his duty—Interference by one not a party to the suit if contempt—Strangers to the suit duty of when affected by order appointing Receiver—Practice in contempt matter—Affidavit The right of a stranger in possession to continue in possession is not affected by the order appointing a Receiver but the fact of his possession does not give him the privilege to interfere with the Receiver directed to take possession of the property. His proper course is to apply to the Court for the redress of his grievance. If he interferes with the Receiver he does so at his peril. The Court will not permit a Receiver appointed by its authority to be interfered with or dispossessed of the property he is directed to receive by any one although the order appointing him may be perfectly erroneous. The Court requires and insists that application should be made to the Court for permission to take possession of any property of which the Receiver either has taken possession or is directed to take possession. Ames v The Trustees of the Birkhead Docks 20 Beav 353 followed RAY CHAUDHURI & NOLTY PROKAS SHW (1913)

18 C W N 289

4 ————— Practice—Appellate—Assaulting in contempt—Procedure Where the prohibitory injunction on the defendant firm made no mention of M an assistant or of servants and agents but the notice of motion for committal for breach thereof was upon M who did nothing after service on him of the injunction. Held that the notice of motion was erroneous and the procedure which had been adopted was misconceived the proceeding against M if any should have been for assisting in a contempt of Court. Held also (on the merits) that there had been no contempt or participation in contempt on M's part as all that he did had been done prior to the injunction. MARSHALL & GRAYDON VECATA PATNAW (1915)

I L R 42 Cal 1169

5 ————— What constitutes contempt—Actual impediment of justice if necessary to complete offence—Jurisdiction of High Court to punish summarily contempt out of Court—Liability of printer and publisher of newspaper irrespective of knowledge of contents of offending publication—Summary jurisdiction in respect of contempt when should be exercised—Civil and criminal contempt distinction between—Contempt by attack on Court criminal nature of—Rule of interpretation appli

CONTEMPT OF COURT—contd

table to writing on binding coat mpt.—Evidence Act (I of 1873) s 74—P turns filed with Registrar of Joint Stock Companies is public document and secondary evidence thereof is admissible.—Onus on party producing certified copy to prove execution of document—Liability for contempt of director of limited company owning newspaper—Proceeding in contempt of lies against Corporations—Necessity of legislation for the registration of editors of newspapers In a suit decided in the Original Side of the High Court the trial Judge (GANGES J) held that the Calcutta Improvement Trust had power to acquire land compulsorily for the purpose of re-occupant. In an appeal against a decision of the Subordinate Judge of 21 Paragraphs two Judges of the Court (MOOKERJEE and CHATTERJEE JJ) sitting as a Division Bench on the Appellate Side held that the Trust had no such power. When the appeal against the decision of the single Judge in the Original Side was ready for hearing the following two articles appeared in the Amrita Bazar Patrika newspaper in two of its issues—

(i) There is a mischievous rumour afloat which should be contradicted. It is stated that a vigorous attempt is being made to get up a Bench to consider the appeal on the judgment of Mr Justice Greaves in connection with the acquisition of surplus land by the Calcutta Improvement Trust according to somebody's choice. We do not believe that it is possible for anyone far less the Chairman of the Trust to secure a Bench after his own heart as a counterpoise to the Mookerjee and Chatterjee Bench. We are sure the interest of every rate payer is safe in the hands of the Honble Judges and we do not think that any official of the Trust can go so far.

(ii) Something like consternation prevails on account of the proposed new constitution of the Appellate Bench of the Calcutta High Court before which appeals against the awards of the Improvement Trust are to be heard. It is known to the reader how this Bench was originally composed of Sir Asutosh Mookerjee and the Honble Justice Cumin and how latterly it has come to be presided over by the Honble the Chief Justice and Mr Justice Woodroffe. Rumour has it that for purposes of hearing Improvement Trust appeals the Bench is going to be strengthened by the appointment of Mr Justice Chetty. Now what is other the public nor ourselves can understand is this special arrangement for such a Special Bench. If it is contended that two Honble Judges of the highest Court in the land are incompetent to decide in appeal cases in which the Improvement Trust is concerned a contention however which we do not believe the Chief Justice will care to advance, why should there be a Special Bench of three and not a Full Bench of five on which at least two Indian Judges could find seats. As a matter of fact as landowners in Calcutta are mostly Indians and as Indian Judges are likely to know more of the conditions practices etc prevailing here it is but meet that the Appellate Bench in the present circumstances should be so composed as to associate Indian Judges with their European colleagues. The withdrawal of Sir Asutosh has given rise to unsavoury impressions in the public mind since this proposed arrangement is to follow close upon the heels of his judgment in the case of The Improvement Trust v Chandra Kanta Ghosh 11 C W 8. Be that as it may we have perfect faith in the present Chief Justice and believe that as soon as Sir Lancelot Sanderson understands the public feeling in the matter his Lordship will rather form a Full Bench or at least associate an experienced Indian Judge with himself for the hearing of Improvement Trust appeals. Proceedings in contempt were taken against the printer and publisher of the newspaper and the directors and manager and secretary of the company called The Amrita Bazar Patrika Co Ltd to which the newspaper belonged in respect of the said two articles. Held that the articles constituted a contempt of Court not only on the ground that they scandalized the Court but also on the ground that they were calculated to prejudice a litigant and interfere with the due course of justice. That the High Court in the Indian Presidencies are Superior Courts of record. The offence of contempt of Court and the power of the High Court to punish it are the same in such Courts as in the Superior Courts in England. It has the power of summarily punishing for contempt out of Court in relation to any of its jurisdictions. That the jurisdiction to punish for contempt is not obsolete. That the printer and publisher of a newspaper is liable for contempt even though he was not aware of the subject constituting such contempt. Necessity of legislation for the registration of the editor of a newspaper pointed out and what constitutes contempt of Court discussed. Held per SANDERSON C J—That the jurisdiction which the Court has in respect of a contempt of Court should be exercised with great care and should only be exercised when the case is beyond all reasonable doubt and this should especially be the case when the proceedings are at the instance of the Court itself. That the question was not whether the article in fact obstructed or interfered with the due course of justice but whether it was calculated to obstruct and interfere with the due course of justice. Per WOODROFFE J—That all proceedings whether in respect of civil or criminal contempts are of a criminal nature when their object is to punish by fine or imprisonment but the procedure in such cases is not in all respects the same as in an ordinary criminal case. Both the offence as well as the jurisdiction and procedure under which it is tried are in genere. As regards the standard of proof there is but one rule of evidence which in India applies to both civil and criminal trials and that is contained in the definition of proved and disproved in s 3 of the Evidence Act. Whether the case is civil or criminal a fact is only proved or disproved if it comes within the terms of that section. Per MOOKERJEE J—That a criminal contempt is conduct that is directed against the dignity and authority of the Court. A civil contempt on the other hand is failure to do something ordered to be done by a Court in a civil action for the benefit of the opposing party therein. Consequently in the case of a criminal contempt the proceeding is for punishment of an act committed against the majesty of the law and as the primary purpose of the punishment is the vindication of the public authority the proceeding conforms as nearly as possible to proceedings in criminal cases. In the case of a civil contempt on the other hand the proceeding in its initial stages at least when the purpose is merely to secure compliance with a judicial order made for the benefit of a litigant may be deemed instituted at the instance of the party interested and thus to possess a civil character. But here also refusal to obey the order of the Court renders it necessary for the Court to adopt measures against the person who has defied the authority at that

CONTEMPT OF COURT—contd

CONTEMPT OF COURT—contd

stage at least the proceedings may assume a criminal character. Where the contempt consists in an attack upon the Court the proceedings instituted to vindicate its dignity are of a criminal nature even though the attack has been made in connection with civil suits or appeals either actually decided or pending or about to be taken up for disposal. That in deciding whether there has been a contempt the obvious course to pursue is to read the offending words as they stand and to attach to the words used their natural meaning without the assistance of a laborious commentary. It is incumbent on the Court in all cases to consider the general tone of the writing. The meaning and intent are to be determined by a fair interpretation of the language used and are matters of law for the Court as to whether or not they constitute contempt. Disclaimer on the part of the publisher as to any intentional disrespect to the Court is consequently not a sufficient defence when the purpose and meaning of the writing is obviously of a contrary import. If the language is fairly capable of an innocent interpretation the Court will not be astute to read into it a sinister import. But if the intent is fairly clear liability to punish for contempt of Court cannot be successfully evaded by the use of a transparent artifice. That the two articles relating to the same topic and published in the editorial columns of the same newspaper at a brief interval of time between them might legitimately be read together to determine their scope and purpose even though they were proved not to have been written by the same person. Per Woodroffe and Mookerjee JJ—That the returns in the custody of the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies constitute public records of private documents within the meaning of s 74 sub s (2) of the Evidence Act and secondary evidence thereof is admissible under s 65 cl (e). Per Mookerjee J—That although secondary evidence may be admissible the party who produces the evidence is not relieved of his obligation to prove the execution of the document just as if the original had been produced unless the case is covered by s 80 of the Evidence Act or the legislature has expressly provided that the document or endorsement thereon is receivable in evidence without proof of execution. Per Mookerjee J—That the statement in the affidavits of two of the defendants could not be used to the detriment of the other defendants as the proceeding was in the nature of a criminal trial and supplementary evidence could not be given so as to prejudice the defendants. Per Mookerjee J—That it cannot be held as a matter of law that the directors of a limited company which owns a newspaper are liable to be committed for contempt of Court on account of a libel published in the paper. Per Woodroffe J—That the question whether persons in the position of directors are responsible must depend on the facts of each case. Per Mookerjee J—That proceedings by way of contempt would lie against Corporations as well as individuals in the case of individuals the process is by attachment of the person followed by fine or imprisonment or both in the case of Corporations the process is by fine followed by sequestration or distraint. The Court sentenced the printer and publisher to pay a fine of Rs. 300 and discharge the other defendants in the absence of proof of their complicity with the publication of the offending articles. In the Matter of the AMRITA BAZAR PATRIKA (1917) 21 C W N 1161

CONTEMPT OF COURT—contd

6 ———— Civil and Criminal Court — Court of Record — Prosecution by Judges — Trial by the same Judges — Jurisdiction — Standard of proof — Fair comment — Publication — Printer liability of Manager and Directors of Newspaper Company liability of Evidence Act (I of 1872) ss 3 74 (2) — Editor registration of Where a newspaper unlawfully published articles scandalising the High Court and the Chief Justice in his administration thereof by allegations implying that the Chief Justice had constituted a packed Bench the articles having a tendency to prejudice the parties and interfere with the administration of justice. Held per CUFAM (MOOKERJEE J discussing whether contempt proceedings were civil or criminal) that the Judges had jurisdiction to hear the Rule though issued on their own motion that the articles constituted a contempt of Court that the printer of the newspaper was liable therefor that there was no sufficient evidence of the existence of an editor that the prima facie case of responsibility for the publication against two of the directors and the managers of the company owning the newspaper had been met and that in the case of the third director although the facts raised a case of strong suspicion against him it was just possible he might not be responsible for the publication and that he should be given the benefit of the doubt. The Rule was therefore made absolute against the printer who was fined and discharged as regards the other respondents. The Legislature should provide for the registration of the editor or the person really responsible for the contents of a newspaper. Per Woodroffe J There is only one standard of proof applicable alike to civil and criminal trials and definition of proved and disproved in s 3 of the Evidence Act. The word record includes a collection of private documents. The Queen v Gray [1900] 2 Q B 36. Surendra Nath Banerjee v The Chief Justice and Judges of the High Court at Fort William in Bengal 1 L R 10 Calc 109. L R 10 I A 171 Legal Remembrancer v Math Lal Ghose and Others 1 L R 41 Calc 173. McLeod v St Aubyn [1899] A C 519. The American Exchange in Europe Case 58 L J Ch 705. St James Evening Post Case 2 Alk 469. Daw v Eley L R 7 Lk 49. In re Banks and Fenwick 26 C L J 401. Cheshire v Strauss 12 T L R 291. Reg v Judd 37 W R (Eng) 143. Ex parte Green 7 T L R 411. Weston v Peary Mohan Dass 1 L R 40 Calc 898 referred to. MOTI LAL GHOSE AND OTHERS In re (1917) 1 L R 45 Calc 169

7 ———— The petitioner was the plaintiff in a suit in the Court of Small Causes which was decreed. Later the Munsif on the Defendants' application for retrial or review issued a notice on the petitioner directing him to appear in Court with certain account books on a specified date and give his deposition failing which the suit was to be decided against him. The petitioner did not appear as directed and the Munsif called upon him to show cause why he should not be fined for disobedience. Cause was shown by a petition but there was no appearance and the petitioner was fined for contempt of Court. Held that the order was without jurisdiction and not covered by s 151 C P C or s 40 Cr P C or s 15 I P C s 151 C P C does not give the Court an absolute discretion to make any order it pleases. It does not certainly confer upon any Court a summary jurisdiction

CONTEMPT OF COURT—concl'd

which it does not otherwise possess to punish contempts by fine or imprisonment. In the case there was no contempt committed in the view and presence of the Court. In re Rani Lakshmi Bai 20 C W N 1984 referred to CHAGMAL SERRAOJI v KING EMPEROR (1910) 23 C W N 389

8. ————— Publication of proceedings in pending cases—Publication not permissible until the case comes on for hearing—Pleadings duty of—Practice and procedure. All proceedings in cases pending before a Court of Justice are privileged: they must not be published until the case comes on for hearing before the Court. In re HALUDAS J. JAHAVERI (1919)

L L R 44 Bom 443

CONTENTIOUS MATTER

See INSOLVENCY I L R 42 Calc 109

See PARTIES I L R 45 Calc 832

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882

See s 52 I L R 42 All 318

CONTENTS OF DECREE

See DECREE I L R 38 Calc 125

CONTINGENT RIGHT

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 40 Calc 274

I L R 43 Calc 432

I L R 41 Calc 642

See WILL I L R 45 Bom 83

CONTINUOUS BREACH

See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT (I of 1900) s 147

I L R 36 All 430

CONTINUOUS OFFENCE

See ENCROACHMENT

I L R 37 Calc 671

See PROSECUTION

I L R 37 Calc 545

CONTINUOUS ACCOUNT

See CHEQUE PAYMENT BT

I L R 42 Calc 1043

CONTRACT

See ABWAB I L P 40 Calc 606

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II of 1901) ss 10 20 83 I L R 33 All 695

See ARBITRATION

I L R 42 Calc 1149

See BURDEN OF PROOF 4 Pat L J 517

See CAUSE OF ACTION

I L R 41 Calc 625

See COMPROMISE I L R 42 Calc 801

I Pat L J 46

See CONSTRUCTION OF CONTRACT

I L R 40 Bom 301

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT

16 C W N 753

See CONTRACT ACT

See CONTRACT FOR SALE

See CONTRACT OF GUARANTEE

CONTRACT—concl'd

See CONTRACT OF SERVICE

See CONTRACT TO LEND OR BORROW

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) s 39
I L R 34 All 273

See EMBANKMENT

I L R 41 Calc 130

See FORWARD CONTRACT

I L P 40 Bom 517

See GUARDIAN AND MINOR

I L R 38 All 433

See HINDU LAW—ADDITION

I L R 39 Bom 528

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 37 Bom 340

See HINDU LAW (MITAKSHARA)

3 Pat L J 396

See JARADAR I L R 48 Calc 1078

See ILLEGAL CONSIDERATION

2 Pat L J 630

See INSTALMENTS

I L R 35 Bom 511

See MARKET FRANCHISE

I L R 47 Calc 1078

See MASTER AND SERVANT

I L R 35 All 132

See MINOR

I L R 34 All 296

I L R 1 Lah 389

See PESHKOSH I L R 45 Calc 866

See PRINCIPAL CONTRACT

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

I L R 38 Calc 802

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (IX of 1887) s 411 Act 3
I L R 37 Mad 533

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 ss 17 49
I L R 45 Bom 8

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE

See UNDER INFLUENCE

I L R 42 Calc 286

See WORKMAN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT (VIII of 18 9) ss 2 AND 3
I L R 41 All 390

————— breach of—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) Arts 97 AND 116 I L R 45 Bom 955

See LOSS OF GOODS

I L R 44 Calc 16

————— breach of by labourer or maistry—

See MADRAS PLANTERS LABOUR ACT (I of 1903) ss 24 35
I L R 39 Mad 689

————— breach of promise of marriage—

See HINDU LAW I L R 44 Bom 446

————— breach of to deliver goods at a particular time—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) ss 39 55 63 73 I L R 37 Mad 412

————— by bought and sold notes—

See ARBITRATION R 41 Calc 35

CONTRACT—contd

by members of Hindu joint family—

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 39 Bom 715

C I F terms—

See CONTRACT C I F

construction of—

See SALE OF GOODS

I L R 43 Cal 305

See MORTGAGE I L R 44 Cal 542

Counter proposals do not constitute—

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 ss 17 AND 49

I L R 45 Bom 8

for monthly deliveries—

See SALE OF GOODS

I L R 43 Cal 305

implied contract to pay compound interest—

See BANKERS I L R 44 Bom 474

illegality of—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) ss 56 (2) AND 65

I L R 40 Bom 570

incapacity to make—

See HINDU LAW—MINOR

I L R 38 Mad 166

induced by threat to commit suicide—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) ss 15 16

I L R 41 Mad 33

made before 1886—

See MALABAR TENANTS IMPROVEMENTS ACT (MAD ACT I OF 1900)

I L R 36 Mad 410

made by telegram—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O 7 r 10

I L R 1 Lab 203

of pre-emption—

See PRE-EMPTION I L R 38 Mad 114

public policy—

See CONTRACT ACT 1872 s 23

I L R 44 Bom 6

recision of—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH I ART 9.

I L R 37 Bom 158

See SALE I L R 43 Cal 390

suit for specific performance of—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH I ART 113

I L R 41 Mad 18

to contribute to costs of litigation—

See CONTRIBUTION I Pat L J 201

to pay money—

See MARRIAGE 16 C W N 447

to sell—

See CONTRACT FOR SALE

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) ss 39 50 61 62 73 74 AND 75

I L R 38 Mad 178

CONTRACT—*contd*to sell—contd

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

I L R 38 Mad 1187

See REGISTRATION ACT 1877, ss 3 17, 40

I L R 35 Mad 63

to sell goods without authority—

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877) SCH II ARTS 36 115, 120

I L R 38 Mad 275

Risk Note 'B'—

See RAILWAY COY

I L R 45 Bom 1201

Signed by party personally—whether oral evidence can show he contracted as agent—

See EVIDENCE ACT 1872 ss 91 AND 92

I L R 45 Bom 1242

variation of—

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE

I L R 39 Cal 981

void—

See NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES PENT ACT (XII OF 1881)

I L R 39 All 645

Unconscionable bargain—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT (MISC)

1 Pat L J 604

1 ——— Construction of — Or 700 800 say seven to eight hundred tons Words of description and not of estimation—Warranty—Equitable set off The plaintiff owner of a stock of coal at Shalimar Depot agreed to sell to the defendant the entire stock at Shalimar Depot or 700 800 say seven to eight hundred tons of steam coal for immediate delivery The entire stock at Shalimar Depot in fact amounted to 469 tons only which the plaintiff duly delivered On a suit by the plaintiff for the price of the coal sold and delivered—Held that the words or 700 800 say seven to eight hundred tons must be construed to be descriptive of the words entire stock and not merely words of estimation that the delivery of only 469 tons was a breach of the contract by the plaintiff and that the defendants were entitled to set off against the plaintiff's claim the damages caused by such breach KALYANJEE SHAMJEE & SHORROCK (1910)

I L R 37 Cal 334

2 ——— Sale—Deposit—Failure of purchase or to complete contract—I tender entitled to return deposit Plaintiff agreed to purchase 500 bales of cotton yarn from defendants and to deposit 5 rupees per bale as earnest money He deposited somewhat more than half of the earnest money and thereafter repudiated the contract Held that plaintiff was not entitled to recover that portion of the earnest money which he had paid Collins v Shimson 11 Q B D 140 Howe v Smith L R 27 Ch D 89 Ex parte Barrell In re Parrell I L J 10 Ch App 510 and Birlan Chand v Ladha Kishen Das I L R 19 All 489 referred to ROSEMAN LAL & THE DELHI CLOTH AND GENERAL MILLS COMPANY (1910) I L R 33 All 166

3 ——— Suit for damages for breach of contract is not applying railway sleepers according to contract—Specification of Railway Company as to dimensions and quality of sleepers—Implied warranty where agents had knowledge of

CONTRACT—con d.

of purpose for which the sleepers were required—stipulation that passing of sleepers was to be by manufacturer a party to contract—Requirements in such a case—Insufficiency of means taken to make sleepers conform with the contract—Passing of sleepers not reliable. In this case the respondent was the transferee of contracts entered into by one Iyer (i) with the Madras Railway Company in supply them with 1,000 sleepers and (ii) with the appellants through their agents at Madras to purchase from them 1,000 sleepers to enable him as he stated to the appellants agents to carry out his contract with the Madras Railway Company the basis of which was a specification of the Railway Company's requirements in the matters of dimensions and quality. The contract with the appellants through their agents was contained in letters which passed between the parties and was never embodied in a formal instrument. In one of the letters written by the agents to Iyer it was stipulated that the passing of our Moulmein or Rangoon friends the Bombay Birmah Trading Corporation (the appellants) is as usual final as regards both measurement and quality. On the transfer of the contracts to the respondent a formal agreement was drawn up between him and the Madras Railway Company and duly executed by both and in it the description of the sleepers to be supplied was practically identical with that in the specification of the Railway Company and the stipulation as to the passing of the sleepers was again insisted upon in the correspondence between the appellants agents and the respondent. In a suit by the respondent for damages in consequence of the rejection by the Railway Company of a quantity of the sleepers as not being in accordance with the contract nor fit for the purpose for which they were required one of the questions raised was whether Iyer had ever given a copy of the specification of the Railway Company to the appellants agents and so made it the basis of his contract with the appellants. As to this the first Court found that he did so and the Appellate Court came to a contrary conclusion. Held that it was unnecessary to decide the question first because their Lordships concurred with the opinion of the Court of Appeal that the evidence showed that the specification merely contained an enumeration of the qualities of a good sleeper usually insisted on by railway authorities and secondly because the appellants having through their agents been fully informed of the purpose for which Iyer purchased the sleepers from them must be taken to have impliedly warranted that they were reasonably fit for that purpose and thirdly because their Lordships thought that a sleeper the qualities of which were inferior to those of a good sleeper as usually insisted on by railway authorities could not well be considered a sleeper of the dimensions specified reasonably fit for use by the Madras Railway Company and the point was therefore irrelevant. Another question was whether the main defence of the appellants that they had not contracted to supply the sleepers in accordance with the specification of the Railway Company but according to the stipulation as to the passing of the sleepers in the contract between themselves and Iyer which was confirmed by them on the transfer of the contract to the respondent was maintainable. On this point the Courts below also differed the first Court deciding in favour of the appellants and the Court of appeal in favour of the respondent. Held that on the true construction of the stipulation as to passing it must have been contemplated that there was some standard with which those sleepers should be compared which at the lowest must have been the standard set up expressly or impliedly by the contract between the parties which was the specification or at least the requirement that the sleepers were reasonably fit as sleepers of the dimensions described for use by the Madras Railway Company so that the right conferred upon the appellants by the stipulation amounted merely to the right to determine by and through the skilled and experienced persons whom they should necessarily employ for the purpose acting honestly and impartially according to the best of their judgment whether the goods supplied were in conformity with the requirements of the contract under which they were so supplied. The real defence therefore rested upon the alleged fact that the sleepers were passed by the two expert persons employed for the purpose in the impartial exercise of their judgment. They may have acted honestly as the first Court thought they did but the evidence showed that they never approached the question they had to determine namely the conformity of the sleepers supplied with the contract under which they were supplied. They merely determined that the sleepers were fit to be sent out as the manufacture of their employers and there was not therefore any passing of the sleepers within the meaning of the contract. BOMBAY BIRMAH TRADING CORPORATION LIMITED v. AGA KHANOM KHANLEL SHIRAZI (1911)

CONTRACT—contd.

I L R 34 Mad 453

4 ——— Sale of goods—Goods not appropriated—Re sale power of in contract—Measure of damages. The plaintiffs contracted to sell 750 tons of sugar at an agreed price for delivery in equal instalments from August to December 1910 under an agreement which contained the following term. The goods to be at the buyer's risk and peril from the time of landing of the sugar until they be removed from jetty dock ghat or godown and should the buyers fail to take delivery of the sugar the sellers will have the option of re-selling the same in the open market by private sale or by public auction and hold the buyers responsible for all consequences. The defendants failed to take delivery of 100 tons under the August shipment. The goods remained in bulk and were never ascertained or even appropriated for the purposes of the agreement. After notice to the defendants the plaintiffs purported to dispose of the goods under the power of re-sale provided in the agreement and brought an action for the recovery of damages estimated on the basis of such re-sale. Held that as the goods had not been ascertained or even appropriated for purposes of the agreement they did not come within the power of re-sale as framed and the re-sale was inoperative as a method of measuring damages. Holt Schulte & Co v. Luchins Chand I L J 25 Cal 305 distinguished. Simble A power of re-sale in a contract can be so framed as to operate on goods even before appropriation. Inasmuch as the claim for damages was based on re-sale in the circumstances of the case no decree could be made for damages on the basis of the difference between the contract and market rates. ABOVILLA & Co v. SASSOV & Co (1910)

I L R 38 Cal 68

CONTRACT—contd

5 ———— Covenant in sale deed to discharge a debt due to a third party—Suit for compensation for breach—Actual damage not necessary to support suit—Cause of action—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sec II Art 116 On a sale of immovable property the vendee covenanted with the vendors to pay a certain sum of money on account of a mortgage debt due by the vendors. They did not pay in accordance with the covenant and the mortgagee thereupon brought a suit upon his mortgage and obtained a decree. Held on suit by the vendors for compensation for breach of the covenant that it was not necessary that the vendors should have suffered any loss before they could bring their suit and that as no time was specified in the sale deed for the payment of the mortgage money limitation began to run from the date of the execution of the deed. Lathbridge v Mutton 2 B & Ad 772 Carr v Roberts 5 B & Ad 78 Loosemore v Radford 9 M & W 657 Ashtown v Ingemells 1 R 5 Erch D 230 Dorasinga Tevar v Aruna Chetti 1 L R 23 Mad 441 Paghnath Rai v Brymohan Singh All Weekly Notes 1901 14 Kumar Nath Bhattacharjee v Naba Bhattacharjee 1 R 26 Cal 241 and Battley v Faullner 3 Born & All 228 22 R R 390 referred to RACHUBAR RAI v JAIS PAJ (1912)

I L R 34 All 429

6 ———— Return of goods not up to sample—Purchaser not bound to return goods to vendor When goods sent to a purchaser professedly in execution of a contract of sale are not of the kind which the vendor had agreed to supply it is not the duty of the purchaser to see that such goods are returned to the vendor it is enough if he gives notice to the vendor that the goods are lying at the place to which they were sent at the vendor's risk. Ormolddy v Wells 1 R 10 C P 391 followed PHACOT MAL v BABU LAL (1913)

I L R 35 All 325

6(a) ———— Goods supplied for special purpose—Appellants agreed to supply 6 sleepers for the Railway and therefore implied by warrants that their supplies would be good for that purpose—They were rejected as unfit for the purpose—Appellants relied on a stipulation in the contract to the effect that the passing of the sleepers by themselves would be final both as regards measurement and quality Held that this did not mean that they were entitled to deliver sleepers not up to warranty—They had to employ skilled and impartial people to say whether these supplies conformed with their warranty. THE BOMBAY BURMAH TRADING CORPORATION LTD v AGA MAHOMED KHALEEL SHIBAZEE

15 C W N 881

7 ———— Carriage of goods on inland waters—of Lower Burma—Receipt for goods shipped on cargo boats plying on river Irrawaddy—So-called mate's receipts not negotiable documents nor documents of title—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) s 13—Rate Circular issued by ship owners—Delivery by them of cargo without production of mate's receipt—Liability of Shipping Company The plaintiffs (appellants) advanced money to the first defendant under an agreement by which the money was to be employed in purchasing paddy to be stored in the plaintiffs' godown at Doungegyi and thence to be taken to Rangoon for sale. The agent of the first defendant at Doungegyi induced the plaintiffs' agent to allow the paddy to be shipped to Pangoon in boats belonging to the second defendant Company in the name of the first defendant as shipper. Eleven boat loads in all were sent in respect of eight of which the first defendant paid the money to the plaintiffs' nominee at Rangoon. In respect of the cargoes of the last three boats the agent of the first defendant endorsed and delivered to the plaintiffs what purported to be mate's receipts for the cargoes loaded. The first defendant sold the cargoes, obtained delivery of the paddy from the defendant Company without producing the mate's receipts which the Company's agents had given for the paddy and delivered the paddy to the purchasers paying nothing to the plaintiffs. In a suit against the first defendant for the amount due for advances and against the defendant Company for damages for that amount on the ground that the Company's agents had delivered the paddy to the first defendant without production by him of the mate's receipts and that their doing so was in breach of a representation which the Company made to the public by a printed Rate Circular or Notice and by their usual course of business that delivery of cargo carried by the Company's boats would only be made to persons holding mate's receipts for the cargo. Held (affirming the decision of the Chief Court of Lower Burma) that the receipt was not bill of lading nor a mate's receipt and not a negotiable instrument nor was it a document falling within s 137 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) and therefore not a negotiable document in the sense of that section. It was merely a simple ordinary receipt for goods and not a document of title upon the transfer of which the goods passed. Held also that the clause in the defendant Company's circular that 'mate's receipts must be given up before discharge is allowed to commence, or in the event of the mate's receipt not having come to hand, the Company's usual guarantee must be signed merely set forth a mode in which in conducting their own business, the Company would protect themselves in the course of their trade but did not constitute an obligation upon which the plaintiffs were entitled to found any liability on the part of the Company if the clause was not strictly complied with. There was therefore no document constituting a contract, and no course of business from which a contract could be inferred between the plaintiffs and the defendant Company. Nor was there any failure of duty on the part of the Company in delivering the goods without production of the mate's receipt by reason of the knowledge that the plaintiffs had rights against the shipper because the evidence in the case showed that these rights had been the subject of negotiation and settlement which resulted in the plaintiffs consenting to the goods being forwarded in the name of the first defendant, to whom they were therefore rightly delivered. NATCHAPPA CHETTI v IRRAWADDY FLOTTILLA COMPANY (1913)

CONTRACT—contd

I L R 41 Cal 670

8 ———— Illegality—Promissory note executed for compounding a charge of grievous hurt if valid—Inducement—Perjury—Grounds of interference—Moral as opposed to legal justice—Mere errors of procedure or technical defects Where a promissory note was executed as consideration for compounding a charge of grievous hurt against a person who had died previous to the complaint. Held that, as the offence could not be compounded except with the consent of the person to whom the grievous hurt was caused, the agreement to pay money evidenced by the promissory note was illegal and the promissory note was consequently unenforceable. The fact that the complainant may have a right to claim damages for the injury caused to the deceased would make no difference unless such right had been set up and proved. The High Court as a Court of Revision has no power to consider justice apart from such justice as the law recognises. Sri Sri Subee Dook v Debee Hingon, 8 W K 41^o referred to MOTTAL v THARATTA (1914) I L R 37 Mad 385

CONTRACT—contd

9 ——— Minor's rights over property purchased for his benefit—by maternal uncle—Sale of such property by father invalid. Where certain immovable property was purchased for the benefit of a minor by his maternal uncle and was subsequently sold by the minor's father as if he belonged to the joint family of which himself and the minor were members Hell in a suit by the minor after attaining majority to recover the property from the alienee that the sale for the benefit of the minor was valid, and he was entitled to recover Kulla Pandithan v Iomayi Seconl Appeal No 831 of 1909 followed. Kamla Prasad v Shro Gopal I L R 26 All 31^o Ulfot Rai v Gouri Shanior 3 All L J 670 and Meghan Dube v Pran Singh I L R 30 All 63 referred to. The essential fact which renders void a transaction by a minor is that some agreement by the minor is necessarily an essential part of the transaction. But when a contract by the minor is not a necessary condition for upholding his right in property his right should be maintained. Mohori Fido v Dharmadas Chose I L R 30 Cal 539 Varakottu Aaroyana Chetty v Logalinga Chetty I L R 33 Mad 312 referred to. MUTIA v PERUMAL (1914) I L R 37 Mad 390

10 ——— Earnest money forfeited—damages for breach of contract—ascertainment of—deposit of forfeiture of—Credit for forfeited amount. Where a person deposits a certain amount as earnest-money for the due performance by him of his part of the contract under which he agrees to pay the other party a certain sum but breaks the contract thereafter the other party who becomes entitled to retain the deposit as forfeited under the terms of the contract must in a suit by him for damages for the breach of contract give credit for the amount retained as forfeited and can only recover the difference between the actual loss sustained and the amount of the forfeited deposit. Oskenden v Henly I E D & E 435 & c 27 I J Q B 361 followed. VELJOZE TALUK BOARD v GOPALASWAMI NAIDU (1914) I L R 38 Mad. 801

11 ——— Breach of contract—Attachment of plaintiff's property in consequence—Right of suit without actual damage. The defendant having agreed with the plaintiff as one of the terms of a compromise of a suit in forma pauperis to pay part of the Court fee if subsequently levied and having failed to do so in consequence of which the plaintiff's properties were attached Held that on the defendant's failure to pay the plaintiff according to his contract the plaintiff was entitled to sue at once and recover substantial damages. RAMALINGATHUDAYAR v UNNASALAT AGNI (1914) I L R 38 Mad. 791

12 ——— Priority of—No right of suit on the contract generally. A mortgaged house

CONTRACT—contd

lands to B part of the consideration therefor being B's promise to discharge a debt of A to C Held that C who was a stranger to the contract cannot sue B for the payment of his debt without joining A as a party Per curiam. The following are some of the circumstances under which a stranger to a contract can sue the promisor—(a) the creation of a trust in favour of the plaintiff in respect of the amount sued for but a direction to pay as in the present case does not of itself create an express or constructive trust owing to the absence of the elements necessary to constitute a trust (b) the creation of a charge on immovable property by the promisor or allocation by the promisor of the specific money in suit in favour of the plaintiff (c) the creation of a settlement on marriage in which the plaintiff may be beneficially entitled as provided by s 23 of the Specific Relief Act and (d) estoppel as against the promisor owing to transactions between the plaintiff and the promisor. Khanja Muhammad Khan v Hussain Begam I L R 32 All 410 and D. B. Narain v Ramasadhan 17 C W N 1143 distinguished. ISWARAM PILLAI v SOUVIVAYU TARIQAN (1913) I L R 38 Mad 753

13 ——— Privily of contract—Right of third parties to sue on covenant in lease. Where on a lease of certain musli land the lessee undertook as between themselves and their lessor to be responsible for the payment to the zamindars of certain sums which the musliadar was primarily bound to pay Held that the zamindars could not enforce this covenant by suit against the lessees. Khanja Muhammad Khan v Hussain Begam I L R 32 All 410 Toushe v The Metropolitan Railway Warehousing Company L R 6 Ch App 671 and Debnorayan Dutt v Chundal Ghose I L R 41 Cal 137 distinguished. MANOJ SEV v MUHAMMAD HUSAIN (1914) I L R 37 All 115

14 ——— Stranger's right of suit on—Family settlement—Trust—Provision for nuptials of plaintiff's daughter of the family—Her right of suit though not a party to the contract. A person though not a party to a contract can sue to enforce the terms thereof if it be a family settlement by which some provision is made for him or her as a member of the family (or) for maintenance or marriage though the same is not made a charge upon the family properties. Iswaram Pillai v Taregan 28 Mad L J 127 distinguished. If the contract constitutes by its terms a trust in favour of the plaintiff a stranger to the contract is entitled to enforce such trust beyond the cognisance of a Court of Small Causes. SUNNABARAJA AITAN GAR v LAKSHMINATHAL (1914) I L R 38 Mad 738

15 ——— Interpretation of—Contracts should be interpreted by themselves and it is improper to interpret one contract by reference to another because they may seem to differ very little as it may result in identifying contracts which are wholly different. Gobbay v Autoom 14 L R 17 Cal 449 distinguished. Southwell v Bowditch L R 1 G P D 374 followed. PATIRAM BANERJEE v KANKINARA CO LD (1915) 19 C W N 623

I L R 42 Cal 1050
Specific performance and alleged not proved but another found

CONTRACT—contd

damage if lies The principle upon which the Court refuses specific performance of a contract not the subject matter of the suit is equally applicable to the claim for damages for breach of that contract. The principle on which damages are decreed in a suit for specific performance considered Niz. KANTA RAI CHAUDHURI v. LALIT MOHAN BANERJEE (1915) 19 C W N 933

17 ————— Arbitration—Calcutta Baled Jute Association's contract—Effect of clause containing home guarantee—Arbitration in London between Calcutta purchaser and London purchaser whether binding on Calcutta seller R D & Co a firm carrying on business in Calcutta as balers of jute sold 500 bales of jute to E D S & Co for shipment to London. The contract contained a clause in writing known in the export trade as a Home Guarantee that is a clause by which the Calcutta seller guaranteed the weight condition and quality at the port of destination. E D S & Co sold the jute to a London buyer who claimed an allowance for inferiority of quality and upon an arbitration in London an award was given against E D S & Co. R D & Co brought this suit in Calcutta against E D S & Co to recover the price of the 500 bales of jute. F D S & Co contended that they were not liable on the ground that under the terms of the contract R D & Co had guaranteed the condition and quality of the goods at the port of destination that by the award the goods had been invoiced back to the sellers and that in terms of the contract F D S & Co were bound by the award. Held that the clause in writing that is to say the home guarantee does not mean that a London award in a submission by the Calcutta purchaser and the London purchaser in accordance with the rules and conditions of the London Association contract of 1913 would be binding in a dispute between the Calcutta seller and the Calcutta buyer. To make such an award binding upon a total stranger to the London submission there should be a clear and unambiguous agreement to that effect. Held also that although it may be correctly contended that any dispute about quality between the Calcutta seller and the Calcutta buyer may be validly referred to arbitration in London in accordance to that clause the meaning of the clause cannot be extended so as to make an award between the Calcutta purchaser and the London purchaser binding upon the Calcutta seller. RAM DUTT RAMAIAH DASS v. E. D. SASSOOO & Co (1915) 1 L R 43 Cal 47

18 ————— Trafficking in offices—Official corruption—Contract for return of money paid to Nazir to secure appointment as peon—Suit to enforce such contract maintainability of—Public policy—Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 23 65 The sale of a recommendation nomination or influence in procuring a public office is illegal and void, for trafficking in offices would inevitably tend to official corruption and the Court will not assist a party who has entered into a contract tainted by moral turpitude both sides being particeps criminis in pari delicto. Tappenden v. Bandull 2 Bos. & P. 467 6 R R 562 followed. A suit to enforce a contract for the return of money paid to a Nazir to secure an appointment as a District Court peon for the plaintiff's son is not maintainable. Bai Jyoti v. Nanna Nagar 1 L R 10 Bom 152 referred to. Pichakutty v. Narayanappa 2 Mad H C R 213 discussed and distinguished. Such an agreement is void ab initio its object being opposed to public policy within the meaning of s 23 of the Indian Contract Act while s 65 thereof applies to an agreement subsequently (i) found to be void (ii) or made void by supervening circumstances. Balaki Das v. Nadu Das 1 O L J 261 and Gulabchand v. Ful Bai 1 L R 33 Bom. 411 considered inapplicable. LEDU COACHMAN v. HIRA LAL BORK (1915) 1 L R 43 Cal 115

CONTRACT—contd

19 ————— Part performance—equitable doctrine of if may be invoked by stranger to—Relinquishment of share in tenure without registered deed but for consideration by purchaser out of possession to person in possession—Remand order scope of Where a permanent tenure having been sold in execution of a decree for rent obtained against G the question was whether C at the date of the sale had a subsisting interest in the tenure so that (if he had) certain under tenures held by G were not touched by the sale and it appeared that C having acquired a share in the tenure at an execution sale had subsequently for consideration relinquished the share to G who was and continued in possession but no conveyance was executed to give effect to this transaction. Held (in a suit by the purchaser at the rent sale to eject G) that though a mere admission or disclaimer cannot operate to pass title to property where a conveyance is required under the law to transfer title here G could have sued C for specific performance of the contract and G could have successfully resisted a suit to recover possession by C. That by the application of the equitable doctrine of part performance C was precluded from setting up any title against G and had no subsisting right to the share at the date of the rent suit. Wajah v. Lonsdale L R 21 Ch D 9. Puchha Lal v. Kunj Behari Lal 18 C W N 445 and Mohammed Musa v. Ishore Kumar Ganguli L R 42 I A 1 I L R 4. Cal 301 relied on. Jadunath Poddar v. Rup Lal Poddar 4 C I J 93 s c 10 C W N 650. Odey Kousur v. Lodoo 13 Moo I A 355 and Dharam Chand Baid v. Vangy Sanku 16 O L J 436 distinguished. Held further that the purchaser though no party to the contract was entitled to invoke the aid of this doctrine in the same way as a creditor could in respect of contract of purchase made by his debtor with a stranger. That a remand order by the High Court directing a trial upon the issue whether C had a subsisting interest in the property covered an enquiry as to whether C had lost his interest in the property by the operation of the equitable doctrine of part performance. KHAGENDRA NATH CHATTERJEE v. SONATON GUHA (1915) 20 C W N 149

20 ————— Bond signed by defendant only and registered—suit upon a contract in writing, in this country does not necessarily imply that the document must be signed by both the parties thereto Apaji Dapuji v. Nil Kanta 3 Bom L R 66. Ramasami Chetti v. Sekhanda Chetti 1 Mad L J 737. Girish Chandra v. Kunjo Behari 1 L R 35 Cal 693 s c 12 C W N 623. Ambalambai Pandrama v. Iyagaram 1 L R 19 Mad 52. Aotappa v. Tallur Zemindar 1 L R 25 Mad 50. Zemindar of Iyanagram v. Behara Suryanarayana 1 L R 25 Mad 557 and Sannei Kolappa v. Venkata Harasimham Naidu 11 Mad L J 125 referred to. CHIEFLAFROO CROWTHURAI v. BANQA BEHARI SEN (1915) 23 C W N 408

5 ————— What constitutes—Conditional proposal to make provision for the plaintiff by purchase

CONTRACT—contd

of immovable property on condition of her living with the promisor until her death—Acceptance by plaintiff and performance of condition—Suit against heirs of promisor to recover village panchai for plaintiff by reverter a wealthy and childless lady—Limitation—Representative—Notice of Privy Council—Grant of special leave to cross appeal. This appeal arose out of a suit brought by the appellant for possession of a village called Repudi which had belonged to her great aunt a wealthy childless and widowed lady and in which on her death in 1899 the three defendants had in litigation between themselves been declared to be entitled in equal shares as her heirs. The appellant had been brought up by the Pami from an early age and had lived with her until 1886 when she was married and then the Pami being anxious that the appellant should not leave her offered (amongst other things) to make ample provision for her by the purchase of immovable property in consideration that she and her husband would continue to reside with her. This they did until 1893 during which time the Pami purchased two small properties in her own name and transferred them after a time to the appellant. In 1893 the Pami purchased 1 repudi also in her own name though making no concealment of her intention that the appellant was eventually to have it but the Pami a delay in transferring it to her caused unpleasantness, and the appellant a husband left and went to his own home. Negotiation took place and eventually the Pami on 12th October 1893 wrote to the appellant a letter in which she said Repudi was purchased for you alone. I shall retain it under me so long as I am alive and afterwards convey it to you yourself. Thenceforth the appellant and her husband lived with the Pami until her death. Held (reversing the decision of the High Court) that the letter was not merely an expression of intention but a conditional promise by the Pami and the promise was accepted and the condition performed by the appellant and her husband and there was accordingly a complete contract between the parties. Mannell v. Hedges 4 H L C 1039; Maddison v. Alderson L R 8 A C 467 and Jordan v. Money 5 H L C 180 referred to and discussed. Held also that the Pami's dying declaration constituted a reaffirmation and confirmation of the contract the true effect of the language being to declare that Repudi was already the appellant's and that the Pami knew an oral bequest to be unnecessary. From such a contract it was not open for those representing the Pami or her estate to renege on or fail to perform the obligation to deliver possession of the village to the appellant such possession to take effect from the Pami's death. The cause of action in the suit was on a ground common to all the defendants. The third defendant did not appeal from either of the decrees against him in the District Court and in the High Court. He was however in each case made a respondent by another defendant who appealed. On the present appeal by the plaintiff to the Privy Council, the Judicial Committee granted the application of the third defendant to be made a respondent and in that capacity granted him special leave to bring a cross appeal notwithstanding that his right of appeal to His Majesty in Council had then become barred by the Limitation Act. VEKKAYANMA RAO v. APPA RAO (1916) 1 L R 39 Mad 599.

21 ——— Carriage of goods by rail—Risk note—Liability of company for goods con-

CONTRACT—contd

signed on a risk note—Burden of proof. Where goods are booked for carriage by railway under a risk note and are lost in transit it lies upon the consignee claiming damages against the railway company to show that the loss was occasioned by the theft or wilful neglect of the company's servants. Shoobarat Ram v. The Bengal and North Western Railway Company 16 C W N 66 referred to. Bengal and North Western Railway Company v. Haji Mutsaddi 7 All L J 833 distinguished. LAST INDIAN RAILWAY COMPANY v. NATHMAL BEHARI LAL (1917)

I L R 39 All 418

22 ——— Damages for a breach—Custom of the Bombay Silver Market—Shroffs ostensible buyers and sellers—Shroffs acting for outside principals work either for kachhi or for palki adat kachhi adat distinguished from palki adat—Principal of kachhi adats may sue in his own name for damage or breach of contract without impleading the kachhi adats. On the 13th of July 1914 the plaintiff a merchant in the name of his kachhi adats and agent H and acting by his broker B entered into a contract whereby H agreed to buy and the defendants to sell 50 bars of silver at Rs 75 5 0 per 100 tolas for the ensuing Shravan i.e. August raida. The contract was entered into subject to the rules of the Panch Shroff Association whereby it was the duty of the defendants to tender a delivery order by the 12th of August 1914. On the 10th of August the plaintiff tendered to H the price of bars and on the 11th H asked for a delivery order. The defendants failed to give a delivery order by the 12th August. The plaintiff thereupon sued the defendants without making H a party for damages for breach of contract at the rate of Rs 3 3 0 per 100 tolas which was the difference in price between the contract rate and the rate prevailing in the market on the 13th of August. The defendants pleaded a custom of the silver market whereby the selling Shroffs were not personally liable to the principal of the buying adats. The defendants without prejudice further stated that the rate of Rs 76 12 0 was to be taken to be the highest buying and selling rate with reference to which damages could be assessed as the Shroffs at a special meeting held on the 16th August 1914 resolved that where a party was not able to give delivery silver bars could be bought and sold at Rs 76 12 0. Held (i) that the evidence called by the defendants fell far short of proving the custom alleged (ii) that if at the date of breach damages were recoverable by the usual and recognised measure it did not matter whether the adats or the principal sued (iii) that the ordinary law of principal and agent applied and the plaintiff was entitled under the contract to claim the difference in price between the contract rate and the market rate at the time of breach. It was not disputed at the trial that a custom of the Bombay Silver Market for forward contracts was that only Shroffs were the ostensible buyers and sellers though Shroffs might have and often did have outside principals for whom they were acting. The Shroffs when acting for principals, worked sometimes for kachhi adat and some times for palki adat. In the case of kachhi adat the adats Shroff guaranteed the performance of the contract to the other Shroff but did not guarantee its performance to his own principal. In the case of palki adat the adats Shroff who then acted for a hijh mission was liable as a

CONTRACT—contd

principal both to his own employer and to the other Shroff ABRAHAM E J ABRAHAM & SARUPCHAND
(1917) I L R 42 Bom 224

23 ——— Damages for Breach after outbreak of war—to supply enemy goods out of stock in a particular ship—Royal Proclamation prohibiting contra to illegal effect of—Capture and condemnation of steamer and goods by Prize Court effect of on contract—Purchase of goods from Prize Court by defendant and bringing goods to place of performance by other steamers effect of—Contract to supply goods of a certain description and quality—Supply of inferior goods effect of A contract made on the 25th August 1914 after the outbreak of war with Germany on the 4th August 1914 to supply German dyes expected to arrive by certain steamers believed to have started on their voyage from Germany before the war is unenforceable if under the contract the defendant was not to be liable in case of non arrival of the steamers at certain ports on account of the state of war and the ship and the dyes therein were as a fact seized during the voyage and condemned as prize by a Prize Court Held further (a) that the effect of the Royal Proclamation of 9th September 1914 prohibiting trading with the enemy and in enemy goods as illegal was to render the further performance of the contract illegal and to put an end to the contract (b) that the condemnation of the goods by the Prize Court related back to the date of seizure and divested the owners of the goods as from the date of seizure (c) that the fact that the defendants for their own convenience bought the goods from the Prize Court and brought them to the place of performance is immaterial as the goods ceased to be goods consigned to the defendants and (d) that a contract to supply dyes of 40 per cent strength on arrival of certain steamers is not enforceable when the steamers arrive with dyes of inferior description and quality Hal v Rawson 21 J C P 189 distinguished Arnhold Karberg Co v Blythe Green Jourdain & Co [1916] I K B 491 The Odessa [1916] A C 153 and The Zamora [1916] 2 A C 77 followed ABDUL RAZACK & KHANDI ROW (1917) I L R 41 Mad 223

24 ——— Damages for Breach of promise to marry—parties being Konkani Mahomedan—suit for damages for breach of promise to marry as under English law not maintainable under Mahomedan law Under Mahomedan law in a suit for breach of promise to marry the plaintiff cannot recover the damages peculiar to an action for breach of promise under the English law The action under the English law though based upon the hypothesis of a broken contract is attended with some of the special consequences of a personal wrong and damages may be given of a vindictive and uncertain kind not merely to repay the plaintiff for temporal loss but to punish the defendant in an exemplary manner This anomaly should not be introduced in the case of Mahomedans whose views of the relationship of the married parties to one another are so different to those of persons governed by the English law ABDUL RAZAK & MAHOMED HUSSEIN (1916) I L R 42 Bom 439

25 ——— By certified guardian on behalf of minor with Courts leave—Specific performance Where a guardian of minors appointed by Court with the Court's sanction agreed to sell the minor's property to A at a price which was above that fixed by the Court Held that a suit by A for specific performance of the contract was maintainable INAYATUNNESSA BIBI & JANAKI NATH SARKAR (1917) 22 C W N 477

CONTRACT—contd

26 ——— Privity of—Agreement between vendor and purchaser that the latter will pay the former's debt to a third person out of consideration money retained with him if may be enforced by vendor's creditor The first two defendants borrowed on a promissory note a sum of money from the plaintiff they thereafter transferred their properties to the third defendant who executed an agreement in favour of his vendors expressly undertaking to pay to the plaintiff his dues out of the consideration money retained in his hands The plaintiff sued his debtors as also the third defendant for his money Held that the plaintiff was entitled to enforce the agreement made between the third defendant and his vendors The principle underlying the decision in Debnarayan Dutt v Ramsadhan Mandal I L P 11 Cal 137 s c 17 C W N 1143 applied to the case and the distinction that the arrangement between the first two defendants and third defendant was never brought to the notice of the plaintiff was not material DWAREA NATH ASH & PRIYA NATH MALIK (1916) 22 C W N 279

27 ——— Third party's right to sue on—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 18 arts 62 115 and 116—Suit for rent by the third party to contract—Date from which limitation begins Contrary to his undertaking to redeem a prior kanam and to collect and pay the jennis arrears of rent due by the kanamdar a mellanamdar assigned his rights and liabilities under the melkanam to the kanamdar by the registered deed in 1909 without the knowledge of the jennis and thus enabled the kanamdar to continue in possession for a further period The jennis who came to know of the assignment in 1912 at once recognised it demanded arrears of rent from the kanamdar and brought the suit in 1913 against the kanamdar and the mellanamdar for all the rent due during the periods of the kanam and the melkanam Held by WALLIS O J and KUMARASWAMI SASTIPYAR J (BAKEWELL J dissenting) that (a) the jennis was entitled to recover from the kanamdar the arrears of rent as money had and received to the plaintiff a use and that the suit was not barred by limitation by reason of Art 62 and a 18 of the Limitation Act Per WALLIS O J and BAKEWELL J The jennis was not entitled to sue on the assignment to which he was not a party Per KUMARASWAMI SASTIPYAR J The jennis was entitled to sue on it Jamma Das v Ram Anjar Pande I L R 34 All 63 and Tweedle v Atkinson 30 Ch D 57 and other cases considered IRTI PANKJ MENON & DHARMAN ACHAN (1917) I L P 41 Mad 488

28 ——— Stranger to a contract when can sue—Privity of contract—The relation of trustee and cestui que trust when established—Covenant between assignor and assignee whether a stranger can enforce it—Part payment effect of H demised on the 8th October 1910 a certain zemindary to N for a term of three years at a yearly rent of Rs 10 000 (Rs 6 000 out of which was to be appropriated by N in reduction of the debts due to him from H) It was also agreed that in certain events N would pay H 7½ per cent of the actual realisable arrears of

CONTRACT—contd

rent. On the 16th December 1910 H mortgaged to K (in consideration of a sum of Rs 10,000 due to K from H) the sums payable to him under the demise of the 5th October 1910. A was put into possession of the demised premises on the 26th January 1910. By an indenture dated 23rd January 1911 H assigned to A all arrears of rent payable to him by A for three years and (as to all other moneys payable to him) under the said demise of 5th October 1910. By the said indenture A covenanted with H that he would pay the said sum of Rs 10,000 with all interests and costs due to K from H under the said mortgage dated 16th December 1910 and would keep H indemnified against the same. On the 23rd March 1911 A in pursuance of this covenant paid to K a sum of Rs 5,000. K (plaintiff appellant) brought this suit to recover the balance due under his mortgage from A (1st defendant respondent by virtue of his covenant contained in the indenture of the 23rd January 1911) and also against H (the second defendant) H did not contest the suit. Held that the suit must be dismissed as there was no privity of contract between K and A; neither was A a trustee for K in respect of the sums payable by H to K. A contract can create no right or liability in a person who is not a party to it unless he can claim or be charged through a party as in the case of a cestus que trust claiming through a trustee. There is however no doubt that a contract may be in form with a named person and yet intended to secure a benefit to another as a cestus que trust in such a way that the latter may sue in his own right to enforce the contract. HERODE BENARI GOSWAMI v. RAJA NARENDRA LAL KHAN (1918)

23 C W N 453

29 ————— Where the appellants contracted with Government to maintain the rights of all tenured holders entered in the Record of Rights prepared prior to the giving of a Kabulyat by the appellants. Held that a suit by the appellants for a declaration that one of the tenure holders covered by the Record of Rights had obtained a fraudulent entry therein and had no such rights as there recorded was not maintainable. MAHARAJA KUMAR MANMATH NATH KNY v. SHEKH ANNEER KHAN

2 Pat L J 39

30 ————— Illegal consideration—agreement to work without remuneration—Slavery bond—indivisibility of contract—Contract Act IX of 1872 s. 24—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Schedule I article 75 A contract whereby a labourer engages to work without any payment whatsoever under conditions that make it practically impossible for him to discharge the debt until some other capitalist redeems him is wholly void. Where two labourers executed a bond for a consideration of Rs 10 repayable at the end of two years with interest and the second of the two executants undertook to labour for the promisee for the period of two years without remuneration and agreed that in the event of his absentsing himself from work at any time during that period the promisee should be entitled to recover the principal with interest. Held (i) that the bond was a slavery bond and was therefore illegal and void; and (ii) that the provision for the payment of interest being inseparable from that part of the contract which was illegal was not enforceable. The general principle that time begins to run from the earliest date applicable to cases of instalment bonds

CONTRACT—contd

under article 75 of the Limitation Act 1908 is also applicable to cases of contracts which are subject to a condition and therefore time began to run against the promisee from the date the second executant of the bond absented himself from work. SATISH CHANDRA GHOSH v. KASHI SAHU

3 Pat L J 412

31 ————— Interpretation—Implied terms—Compensation assessment of plaintiff's contract ed to supply labour for reclamation work undertaken by the defendant Trust. The agreement inter alia provided that the plaintiffs were to find the necessary labour for filling and emptying waggons of sand and were to be paid by measurement of the area reclaimed having before commencing work satisfied themselves as to the correctness of the depths shown on the sections of the ground. It recited that the defendant Trust was at the time engaged in putting rubble protection to enclose the area to be reclaimed and this would be in progress probably when the works would be commenced and it was stipulated that the plaintiffs were not to make any claim for alleged or actual loss of material being washed away during the progress of the work and when quoting their rate for the labour in filling and emptying it must include all and every such contingency as loss in bulk through washing or spreading by the sea, sinking and settlement or leaking or blowing out of the waggons during their transit from the sandhills to the site of the reclamation and that the plaintiffs would be paid strictly in accordance with the work when actually done on the sections of the ground at the completion of the work and no allowance whatever as stated in the previous clause would be entertained for sinking, washing away etc. The trial Judge held that the plans and sections added an implied term to this contract that the defendant Trust was to supply the protection actually shown on the plans and sections whilst the Appeal Court was of opinion that the implied covenant was to supply an adequate protection, the inadequacy being proved by the more fact of the discrepancy between what they considered the proved wagon loads deposited and the proved amount measured. Held by the Judicial Committee that assuming without deciding that the contract had an implied condition that condition was only to execute the protection as shown on the plans. KARACHI PORT TRUST v. J. MACKEVIE DAVIDSON (1918)

23 C W N 961

32 ————— Sale on condition that the vendor or his descendants should have the right to repurchase—Nature of the right reserved whether personal or assignable—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s. 23—Construction of document—Second Appeal—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s. 100 One V obtained a decree against C, G being unable to satisfy the decretal debt sold his land to V in 1903 on condition that after the lapse of ten years G or his descendants should have the right to repurchase it within two years for the same price for which the land was sold. After the death of C his son was his only descendant and on his death his mother took as heir. She sold the rights reserved to G and his descendants in the sale deed to one M who in turn sold them to the plaintiffs. A suit having been brought to recover possession of the land sold by C the question was raised whether on the terms of the sale deed of 1903 the intention of the parties was that the right reserved

CONTRACT—contd

principal both to his own employer and to the other Shroff ABRAHAM E J ABRANAM : SARUFCHAND
(1917) I L R 42 Bom 224

23 ——— Damages for Breach after outbreak of war—to supply enemy goods out of stock in a particular ship—Royal Proclamation prohibiting contract as illegal effect of—Capture and condemnation of steamer and goods by Prize Court effect of on contract—Purchase of goods from Prize Court by defendant and bringing goods to place of performance by other steamers effect of—Contract to supply goods of a certain description and quality—Supply of inferior goods effect of A contract made on the 25th August 1914 after the outbreak of war with Germany on the 4th August 1914 to supply German dyes expected to arrive by certain steamers believed to have started on their voyage from Germany before the war is unenforceable if under the contract the defendant was not to be liable in case of non arrival of the steamers at certain ports on account of the state of war and the ship and the dyes therein were as a fact seized during the voyage and condemned as prize by a Prize Court Held further (a) that the effect of the Royal Proclamation of 9th September 1914 prohibiting trading with the enemy and in enemy goods as illegal was to render the further performance of the contract illegal and to put an end to the contract (b) that the condemnation of the goods by the Prize Court related back to the date of seizure and divested the owners of the goods as from the date of seizure (c) that the fact that the defendants for their own convenience bought the goods from the Prize Court and brought them to the place of performance is immaterial as the goods ceased to be goods consigned to the defendants and (d) that a contract to supply dyes of 40 per cent strength on arrival of certain steamers is not enforceable when the steamers arrive with dyes of inferior description and quality vs. 16 per cent strength Ha'e v Rawson 271 J O P 189 distinguished. Arnhold Karberg Co v Blythe Gre'n Jourdain & Co [1916] 1 K B 493 The Ode sa [1916] A O 153 and The Zamora [1916] 2 A O 77 followed. ABDUL RAZAK : KHANDI ROW (1917) I L R 41 Mad 225

24 ——— Damages for Breach of promise to marry—parties being Honkani Mahomedans—suit for damages for breach of promise to marry as under English law not maintainable under Mahomedan law Under Mahomedan law in a suit for breach of promise to marry the plaintiff cannot recover the damages peculiar to an action for breach of promise under the English law The action under the English law though based upon the hypothesis of a broken contract is attended with some of the special consequences of a personal wrong and damages may be given of a vindictive and uncertain kind not merely to repay the plaintiff for temporal loss but to punish the defendant in an exemplary manner This anomaly should not be introduced in the case of Mahomedans whose views of the relationship of the married parties to one another are so different to those of persons governed by the English law ABDUL RAZAK : MAHOMED HUSSEIN (1916) I L R 42 Bom 499

25 ——— By certificated guardian on behalf of minor with Courts leave—Specific performance Where a guardian of minors appointed by Court with the Court's sanction agreed

CONTRACT—contd

to sell the minor's property to A at a price which was above that fixed by the Court Held that a suit by A for specific performance of the contract was maintainable INAYATUNNESSA BIBI : JANAKI NATH SARKAR (1917) 22 C W N 477

26 ——— Privity of—Agreement between vendor and purchaser that the latter will pay the former's debt to a third person out of consideration money retained with him if may be enforced by vendor's creditor The first two defendants borrowed on a promissory note a sum of money from the plaintiff they thereafter transferred their properties to the third defendant who executed an agreement in favour of his vendors expressly undertaking to pay to the plaintiff his dues out of the consideration money retained in his hands The plaintiff sued his debtors as also the third defendant for his money Held that the plaintiff was entitled to enforce the agreement made between the third defendant and his vendors The principle underlying the decision in Debnarain Dutta v Ramsadhan Mandal I L R 41 Cal 137 s c 17 C W N 1143 applied to the case and the distinction that the arrangement between the first two defendants and third defendant was never brought to the notice of the plaintiff was not material DWARAKA NATH ASH : PRIYA NATH MALIKI (1916) 22 C W N 279

27 ——— Third party's right to sue on—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 18 arts 62 115 and 116—Suit for rent by the third party to contract—Date from which limitation begins Contrary to his undertaking to redeem a prior kanam and to collect and pay the jenmi arrears of rent due by the kanamdar a mellanamdar assigned his rights and liabilities under the mellanam to the kanamdar by the registered deed in 1909 without the knowledge of the jenmi and thus enabled the kanamdar to continue in possession for a further period The jenmi who came to know of the assignment in 1912 at once recognized it demanded arrears of rent from the kanamdar and brought the suit in 1913 against the kanamdar and the mellanamdar for all the rent due during the periods of the kanam and the mellanam Held by WALLIS C J and KUMARASWAMI SASTRIYAR J (BAKEWELL J dissenting) that (a) the jenmi was entitled to recover from the kanamdar the arrears of rent as moneys had been received to the plaintiff's use and that the suit was not barred by limitation by reason of Art 62 and s 18 of the Limitation Act Per WALLIS C J and BAKEWELL J The jenmi was not entitled to sue on the assignment to which he was not a party Per KUMARASWAMI SASTRIYAR J The jenmi was entitled to sue on it Jamma Das v Ram Adwar Pande I L R 34 All 63 and Tweedle v Atkinson 30 Ch D 57 and other cases considered ITTI PANKU MENON : DHARMAN AGHAN (1917) I L R 41 Mad 485

28 ——— Stranger to a contract when can sue—Privity of contract—The relation of trustee and cestui que trust when established—Covenant between assignor and assignee whether a stranger can enforce it—Part payment effect of If demised on the 8th October 1910 a certain zemindary to N for a term of three years at a yearly rent of Rs 10 000 (Rs 6 000 out of which was to be appropriated by N in reduction of the debts due to him from H) It was also agreed that in certain events N would pay H 75 per cent of the actual realisable arrears of

CONTRACT—contd

rent On the 16th December 1910 H mortgaged to K (in consideration of a sum of Rs 10 000 due to K from H) the sums payable to him under the demer of the 8th October 1910 A was put into possession of the demer premises on the 26th January 1910 By an Indenture dated 23rd January 1911 H assigned to A all arrears of rent payable to him by A for three years and (also all other moneys payable to him) under the said demer of 8th October 1910 By the said indenture A covenanted with H that he would pay the said sum of Rs 10 000 with all interests and costs due to K from H under the void mortgage dated 16th December 1910 and would keep H indemnified against the same On the 23rd March 1911 A in pursuance of this covenant paid to K a sum of Rs 1 000 K (plaintiff appellant) brought this suit to recover the balance due under his mortgage from A (1st defendant respondent by virtue of his covenant contained in the indenture of the 23rd January 1911 and also against H (the second defendant) H did not contest the suit Held that the suit must be dismissed as there was no privity of contract between K and A neither was A a trustee for K in respect of the sums payable by H to A A contract can create no right or liability in a person who is not a party to it unless he can claim or be charged through a party as in the case of a cestui que trust claiming through a trustee There is however no doubt that a contract may be in form with a named person and yet intended to secure a benefit to another as a cestui que trust in such a way that the latter may sue in his own right to enforce the contract KRISHNA BHABH GOSWAMI v RAJA NARENDRA LAL KHAN (1918)

23 C W N 453

29 ————— Where the appellant contracted with Government to maintain the rights of all tenure holders entered in the Record of Rights prepared prior to the giving of a kabulyat by the appellants Held that a suit by the appellants for a declaration that one of the tenure holders covered by the Record of Rights had obtained a fraudulent entry therein and had no such rights as these recorded was not maintainable MAHAFAJA KUMAR MANMATH NATH POK v SHRIKH AMER KHAN 2 Pat L J 39

30 ————— Illegal consideration—agreement to work without remuneration—Slavery bond—invalidity of contract—Contract Act IX of 1872 s 24—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Schedule I article 76 A contract whereby a labourer engaged to work without any payment whatsoever under conditions that make it practically impossible for him to discharge the debt until some other capitalist redeems him is wholly void Where two labourers executed a bond for a consideration of Rs 10 repayable at the end of two years with interest and the second of the two executors undertook to labour for the promisee for the period of two years without remuneration and agreed that in the event of his absconding himself from work at any time during that period the promisee should be entitled to recover the principal with interest held (i) that the bond was a slavery bond and was therefore illegal and void and (ii) that the provision for the payment of interest being in repayable from that part of the contract which was illegal was not enforceable The general principle that time begins to run from the earliest date applicable to cases of instalment bonds

CONTRACT—contd

under article 3 of the Limitation Act 1908 is also applicable to cases of contracts which are subject to a condition and therefore time began to run against the promisee from the date the second executant of the bond absconded himself from work SATISH CHANDRA GHOSH v KASHI SAHU 3 P L J 412

31 ————— Interpretation—Implied terms—Compensation assessment of Plaintiffs contracted to empty labour for reclamation work undertaken by the defendant Trust The agreement inter alia provided that the plaintiffs were to find the necessary labour for filling and emptying waggons of sand and were to be paid by measurement of the area reclaimed having before commencing work satisfied themselves as to the correctness of the depths shown on the sections of the ground It recited that the defendant Trust was at the time engaged in putting rubble protection to enclose the area to be reclaimed and this would be in progress probably when the works would be commenced and it was stipulated that the plaintiffs were not to make any claim for alleged or actual loss of material being washed away during the progress of the work and when quoting their rate for the labour in filling and emptying it must include all and every such contingency as loss in bulk through washing or spreading by the sea, sinking and settlement or leaking or blowing out of the waggons during their transit from the sandhills to the site of the reclamation and that the plaintiffs would be paid strictly in accordance with the work when actually done on the sections of the ground at the completion of the work and no allowance whatever as stated in the previous clause would be entertained for sinking washing away etc The trial Judge held that the plans and sections added an implied term to this contract that the defendant Trust was to supply the protection actually shown on the plans and sections whilst the Appeal Court was of opinion that the implied covenant was to supply an adequate protection the inadequacy being proved by the mere fact of the discrepancy between what they considered the proved wagon loads deposited and the proved amount measured Held by the Judicial Committee that assuming without deciding that the contract had an implied condition that condition was only to execute the protection as shown on the plans KARACHI PORT TRUST v J MACKENZIE DAVIDSON (1918)*

22 C W N 961

32 ————— Sole on condition that the vendor or his descendants should have the right to repurchase—Nature of the right reserved whether personal or assignable—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 23—Construction of document—Second Appeal—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 100 One V obtained a decree against G G being unable to satisfy the decretal debt sold his land to V in 1903 on condition that after the lapse of ten years G or his descendants should have the right to repurchase it within two years for the same price for which the land was sold After the death of G his son was his only descendant and on his death his mother took as heir She sold the rights reserved to G and his descendants in the sale deed to one B sold them to the plaintiffs A suit having of the land to recover possession question was raised whether on the deed of 1903 the right reserved was to be a right personal to G and his descendants or a right which he could assign to any other person Held on the construction of the sale deed that the intention of the parties was that the assignees outside the family would not enforce the contract specifically. It was a case of personal quality mentioned in s 23 of the Specific Relief Act 1877 as the personal quality need not necessarily be restricted to particular skill or learning but might include anything peculiar to a man or his descendants which would entitle them to special favour at the hands of the other contracting parties. In second appeal the High Court will have as good a right as the lower appellate Court to put its own construction upon a document as a whole in order to arrive at the intention of the parties thereto. VITHOBA MADHAV v MADHAV DAMODAR (1918)

CONTRACT—contd

I L R 42 Bom 344

33 ——— Wagering Contract—Pakka Adatia business in Bombay if necessarily wagering transaction—Speculation and wagering distinguished. Pakka Adatia dealings are well established as a legitimate mode of conducting commercial business in the Bombay market. Speculation does not necessarily involve a contract by way of wager and to constitute such a contract a common intention to wager is essential. BHAU WANDAS PAPASRAM v BURJORJI RUTTOJI DOMANI (1917)

I L R 42 Bom 373

22 C W N 625

34 ——— Suretyship—Interpretation.—Sale of principal debtor's interest in subject of contract if discharges him or surety—Forbearance of creditor to sue principal debtor if ground of discharge. Anything done or any promise made for the benefit of the principal may be a sufficient consideration to a surety for giving a guarantee. Where the sureties undertook liability for the performance by a lessee of the conditions of the lease the fact that the lessee's interest was sold in execution and purchased by a stranger did not have the effect of releasing the debtor or his sureties from liability to perform the covenants and conditions of the lease as agreed upon by them. Mere forbearance on the part of a creditor to sue the principal debtor or to enforce any other remedy against him does not in the absence of any provision in the guarantee to the contrary discharge the surety. KALI CHAPAN v ABDUL RAHMAN (1918)

23 C W N 545

35 ——— To supply goods indented from England—Terms of indent if incorporated in the contract. Upon the interpretation of a contract by appellants to deliver to respondents certain articles which both parties knew were to be shipped from England the question was whether a stipulation in the following words viz. "Terms cash less three months discount equal to 1½ per cent. Per Indent Nos 905 907 908 909" (the number referring to indents which under these numbers were the contracts made by the appellants with English manufacturers for the supply of the goods) was meant to incorporate the terms of the indents as terms of the contract. Held that the indents were not made parts of the contract in suit and the date of shipment in the indent was not incorporated in the contract as the date of shipment under the contract. ALEXANDER v COOUL DASS (1918)

21 C W N 1091

36 ——— Broker—Principal contract—Appropriation and assent—Stoppage in transitu—

CONTRACT—contd

Assignment—Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 99 103 193 Exceptions (1) (2)—Bill of lading assignment of. Where the plaintiff a broker liable on a principal contract appropriated the goods to the contract and the defendant assented to the appropriation by accepting the documents representing goods in question and dealing with and handing the same to a third party. Held that the property in the goods passed and the provisions of Exception (1) of s 103 of the Contract Act were not applicable. Held also that the plaintiff must prove that for the purposes of Exception (3) of s 103 of the Contract Act the circumstances under which the defendant obtained possession of the documents amounted to an offence on his part. Held also that the plaintiff had the right of stoppage conferred by s 99 of the Contract Act. Held also that the delivery of the bills of lading to a third party amounted to an assignment of the bills of lading within the meaning of s 102 of the Contract Act. RAJENDRA NATH ROY v BRAJENDRA NATH DAS (1919)

I L R 46 Cal 831

37 ——— Specific performance of Agreement to lease certain shares in property at fixed rent and premium—No express provision made for payment of kists and interest on arrears or for security—Draft approved of by pleader to be prepared—Receipt of earnest money—Agreement whether completed or not—Intention of parties. There may be a completed agreement though a document has to be executed embodying its terms. It depends on the question whether the parties intended that there should be no binding contract till the execution of a document or whether they intended the document to be merely commemorative of the terms of a bargain already completed even though its execution is in a manner required by law. Hyam v Gubbay 20 C W N 66 referred to and distinguished. Winn v Bull 7 Ch D 29 and Humphreys v Wickens 7 Ch D 655 distinguished. Where the defendant entered into an oral agreement to grant the plaintiff a putand lease of his specified share in certain mouzas at a fixed annual rent and a stipulated premium and a draft potlak was to be prepared and approved of by his pleader and part of the premium was paid at once and accepted by the defendant as earnest money but no such draft was prepared and approved of and there was no express provision made by the parties as to the payments of kists interest on arrears of rent and as to security for due payment of the rent. Held that the agreement was complete and enforceable in a suit for specific performance notwithstanding the omission of the approved draft and of express provisions as to kist interest and security. It having been found by the lower Appellate Court that the draft was intended by the parties to be merely commemorative of the terms already agreed upon and not a condition of the completion of the agreement and further that the matters relating to the kists and interests were presumably intended to be regulated by the Tenancy Law of the country and that no provision for security was necessary. DIJOYA KANTA LALUKI CHOWDHURY v KAILASH CHANDRA BHOSLIK (1919)

I L R 46 Cal 771

37(a) ——— X and Y who were carrying on business at Cawnpore and Calcutta agreed to accept for accommodation of Z's firm in Cawnpore a hundi for Rs 2,000 drawn on X and Y in Calcutta by one A in Delhi in favour of one Rupee in Delhi and in the case of payment by the acceptors of the amount of the bill to debit the same to the accommodation party 7 s firm.—In a suit by the acceptors against the accommodation party to recover the amount of the bill which was duly accepted and the amount which was paid to him in Calcutta. Held that the Plaintiff's cause of action would not be complete unless they proved the fact that they had accepted the bill in Calcutta in accordance with their undertaking to the drawers of the bill and paid the bill in Calcutta on due date in accordance with their acceptance. Held also that part of the cause of action arose within the Local limits of the ordinary jurisdiction of the High Court. PANCHANDER CAUSHANKAR, v. GANAPATHAM BISWANATH I L R 47 Cal 583

CONTRACT—contd.

38. — Railway Risk Note—Liability of Company for goods consigned on a risk note—Burden of proof—Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 103 The plaintiff consigned certain bales of piecegoods by the defendants Railway under a risk note. By the terms of the risk note in consideration of a special reduced rate being charged the consignor agreed to hold the Railway Administration harmless for any loss except for loss of a complete consignment due to the wilful neglect of the Railway Administration or to theft by or wilful neglect of its servants provided that wilful neglect was not to be held to include robbery from a running train or any other unforeseen event. The goods were properly carried in a closed wagon but one of the bales was lost in transit. The plaintiff having sued the defendant Railway Company for the value of the missing bale the Subordinate Judge decreed the plaintiff's claim holding that the defendant Company failed to prove the theft from the running train though he found that there was no evidence to prove that there was any theft from the train. The defendant Company having applied to the High Court under its revisional jurisdiction. Held covering the decree and dismissing the suit that the burden lay on the plaintiff under s 103 of the Indian Evidence Act to give proof of the fact that there was wilful neglect or theft by railway servants and he not having done so no question was reached of robbery from a running train. East Indian Railway Company v. Nathmal Behari Lal I L R 39 All 418 approved B B & C I RAILWAY COMPANY v. PANCHONAL CHHOTALAL & Co (1919) I L R 43 Bom 769

39. — Forfeiture of deposit—Failure of purchaser to carry out his part of the contract—Vendor entitled to retain deposit Where a plaintiff has advanced money to the defendant by way of earnest money and as a guarantee for the fulfilment of the contract in respect of which he is suing he cannot recover the earnest money where it is found that the breach of the contract is due to his own default. Bishan Chand v. Radha Kishan Das I L R 19 All 489 Roshan Lal v. The Delhi Cloth and General Mills Company Limited I L R 33 All 160 and The Vellore Taluk Board v. Gopalasami Aiyar I L R 33 Mad 801 referred to MUHAMMAD HABIBULLAH v. MUHAMMAD SHAFI (1919) I L R 41 All 391

40. — Offer and acceptance when acceptance may be infirmed—Receipt of money sent by would be purchaser The plaintiffs on the 7th of February 1918 wrote to the defendants inquiring the price of cocaine. The defendants replied on the 13th of February that it was Rs 20 per ounce without engagement meaning thereby that as the rate was varying from day to day they could not give any definite quotation. On the 14th of February the plaintiffs sent to the defendants a money order for Rs 1780 and asked the defendants to set aside for them an amount of cocaine represented by this sum. The money was received on the 16th of February. On the 23rd of February the plaintiffs sent to the defendants the permit which they had received for the import of the cocaine. On the 4th of March the defendants wrote that they were unable to supply cocaine at Rs 20 per ounce and later they returned the money which the defendants had sent. The plaintiffs thereafter sued the defendants for damages for non-delivery. Held that it was a legitimate inference from the conduct of the defendants in receiving the money sent by the plaintiffs and crediting it to their account that they had accepted the plaintiff's proposal. BISHAN PADO HALDAR v. CHANDI PRASAD & Co I L R 42 All 187

CONTRACT—contd.

40(a) — B entered into a contract with C for sale of 30 bales of dhoties with the condition that we sold the goods as were bought by us to L J Batta shafare all other terms according to Bahar (importing) Firms. The contract between B and L J had a clause for arbitration embodied in it—B filed a suit in respect of 27 bales out of 30 for no delivery and referred the matter to arbitration in respect of 3 bales on similar dispute. Held that the arbitration clause was not incorporated into the contract between B and C. CHATTURBHUJ CHANDUN MULLI v. BASUDEO DAS DAYA I L R 47 Cal 799

41. — Uncertainty—Agreement to convey land by way of gift—An agarnamah contained the following provisions—If the Sitambari Jain Society shall require any place on Paresnath Hill or below at Madhban for erecting mandir or dharamsala and for doing repairs and making bricks for the said purpose in that case I and my heirs shall give for making mandir dharamsala and bricks land stones and timber from the hill free of cost and if I and my heirs refuse to give in that case the Sitambari Jain Society shall take the same of its own power. Held that if this provision was an attempt to create an interest in favour of future generations of Sitambaris it was void for remoteness. Held further that the provision was not intended to create an interest in favour of the Sitambaris and that such a provision could not in India be regarded as creating an interest in favour of the other party to the transaction. A contract to convey immovable property by way of gift does not create any interest in the property. DAHYA BHAI v. MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH I Pat L J 238

42. — Uncertainty—Public Policy—agreement by Gayawal to pay part of his earnings from certain ceremonies to an Acharjya—maintainability of suit on the agreement Where the defendant a Gayawal undertook for a consideration that if he performed any ceremonies without calling in the plaintiff an Acharjya to assist him he would pay to the latter in one set of circumstances three fourths and in another the whole of his (the defendant's) earnings from the performance of the ceremonies. Held, that the agreement not being void as being against public policy or for uncertainty a suit lay at the instance of the plaintiff for recovery of the amounts due to him under the terms of the agreement BANULAL BARIK GAYAWAL v HARINAR PANDIT

CONTRACT—contd

1 Pat L J 539

43 ———— Forfeiture of deposit—A deposit if nothing more is said about it according to the ordinary interpretation of businessmen a security for the completion of the purchase so that in the event of the contract being performed it is brought into account but if the contract is not performed by the payer it is forfeited to the payee. But every payment made by the purchaser to the vendor is not in the nature of a deposit liable to be forfeited if the purchaser violates his contract. It is incumbent upon the Court in each case to ascertain the real intention of the parties from all the terms of the contract NAWAN KHAJA HARIBULLAH v ARKAN DEWAN

24 C W N 40

44 ———— Broker appointing under-broker—D & Co on 31st May 1911 appointed the Respondents to be their brokers for the sale and purchase of sugar for a period of five years. The Respondents being by the agreement authorised to appoint under brokers on the 8th January 1911 entered into an agreement with the Appellants constituting them under brokers in respect of all contracts to be entered into by them (the Respondents) for and on behalf of the D & Co under the Respondents agreement with D & Co and during the subsistence of the said agreement. On the 2nd December 1912 a new agreement was entered into between D & Co and the Respondents differing in many material respects from the contract of 31st May 1911 and appointing the Respondents brokers in the same business for a new period of five years on different terms. On the 12th August 1912 the Appellants contract was summarily ended by the Respondents without any justifying reasons. In a suit by the Appellants for damages for wrongful dismissal Held (no case being made that the previous agreement between D & Co and the Respondents was ended simply as a means of defeating the Appellants rights)—That the appointment of the Appellants as under brokers terminated on 2nd December 1912 with the termination of the original contract of D & Co with the Respondents LACHMAN DAS KHANDELWAL v RAGHUMULL

24 C W N 577

44(a) ———— C I F—To purchase and ship—E and Co Commission Agents entered into a contract with defendants under which they undertook to purchase and ship certain goods on account and risk of defendants and did ship them C I F on a chartermanship—Owing to outbreak of war during transit the goods were delayed—On defendants refusal to accept they were sold by the Plaintiff liquidator of E and Co who sued defendants for damages Held that E and Co as Commission Agents were under the special contract the general law and a 222 of the contract Act to recover damages for breach of contract HARRY MURKITH v ABDULLA SAHIN

I L R 40 Mad 1080

44(b) ———— Fidelity guarantee—Contract Act ss 120 and 131—Upon the appointment of a Khazanchee to a Bank in 1903 he his father and the Bank entered into an agreement whereby the father deposited security and the Bank agreed to employ the son subject to 3 months notice and the son agreed to act as Khazanchee and to inquire and if required report to the Bank upon the solvency of Asiatics having dealings with the Bank and any loss arising from the carelessness or default in so doing. The Khazanchee was also a customer and in 1907 and 1908 deposited promissory notes for which in 1908 1909 he without informing the Bank received payment from the makers—The money went to reduce his debit but the Bank relying on the notices made further advances. In 1910 the Khazanchee became insolvent—In 1913 his fathers executors sued for return of the securities deposited by the father Held that the agreement of 1903 did not constitute a continuing guarantee under the Contract Act a 129 so as to be ipso facto revoked on death of father under s 131 and that the Bank was entitled to hold the securities against the sons default SEN v BANK OF BENGAL

CONTRACT—contd

L R 47 I A 164

45 ———— Impossibility of performance—Where the parties were fully aware of the restriction imposed by Government on the supply of railway waggons on account of the war and a contract was entered into for the sale of goods and delivery thereof in the manner stipulated in the contract on the assumption that by the time the goods would become deliverable under the contract the said restriction would be removed Held—That the contract was void being impossible of performance and the buyer was not entitled to recover any compensation from the seller who was excused from the performance of the contract KUNJAL MONOHAR DASS v DURGABOSAD DUTT PRASAD

24 C W N 703

46 ———— Anticipating breach—Measure of damages—Damages for breach of contract by renunciation thereof before performance is due are measured by what the individual would have suffered by the continued breach due to the time of complete performance less any abatement by reason of circumstances of which he ought reasonably have availed himself MANINDRA CHANDRA NUNDY and others v ASWINI KUMAR ACHARYA

25 C W N 297

47 ———— Failure of condition—Where a contract provided that it should be void if there was a fluctuation in price announced by a certain syndicate—Held that the contract could not be avoided because that syndicate continued to exist on outbreak of war TOOLSIDAS TEPPAL v M. F. YANKEATA

25 C W N 26

48 ———— Public policy—agreement to bring about adoption—suit for recovery of consideration money Although it is now established that where money is paid for a purpose which is contrary to public policy it may be recovered at any time before the consideration for the payment has been performed yet if the contract involves anything of criminality or moral turpitude such as the courts on that ground would refuse to enforce then not only will the court refuse to enforce the contract but it will not assist either party to recover back anything paid under the contract even though the contract has not been performed. Where the plaintiff had paid the guru of a Hindu widow Rs. 5000 as a consideration for him to induce the widow to adopt one of the plaintiff's sons on the understanding that if the adoption

CONTRACT—contra

did not take place the money would be refunded, and the option did not take place with the result that the plaintiff claimed Rs. 5000 as damages for the breach of contract. Held that the Court would not assist the plaintiff to enforce the terms of the contract or to recover the money paid by him. RAGHUBAR DAS MAHANT v. RAJA NATARAN SINGH 4 Pat L J 542

49 ——— Mirror—Id contract—Indian Contract Act (1 of 18) s. 65 Plaintiff sued to recover value of the goods sold to the defendant. The defendant contended that he was a minor at the date of the transaction. The Subordinate Judge held that the defendant was a minor and dismissed the plaintiff's suit. On an application being made to the High Court it was contended that under s. 6 of the Contract Act the defendant was either bound to restore the goods or to give its price. Held discharging the rule that a 65 of the Contract Act started from the basis of there being an agreement or contract between competent parties and had no application to a case in which there never was and never could have been any contract. Motors Bazaar v. Diarmodar Ghose (1933) 9 Cal 539 relied on. MOTILAL MANSHURAM v. MANEKJI DATTABHAI (1930)

I L R 45 Bom 225

50 ——— Suits to purchase of goods of particular quality and description—Breach of contract—*Date of breach in the date on which goods are supplied according to contract—Date of breach not postponed until it is ascertained whether goods supplied are not according to contract—Measure of damages On 6th May 1918 the defendants agreed to sell to the plaintiffs 50 tons of Yellow Katha wheat at Rs. 820 per cwt. The delivery was to be in May/June 1918 at the seller's option. The last day for such delivery accordingly fell on 30th June 1918. The Railway receipts relating to the contract goods were handed over to the plaintiffs within the contract time. The plaintiffs took delivery and warehoused the goods about the 13th July 1918. On examining the goods the plaintiffs became dissatisfied with their quality and contended that there was not a proper and fair tender of the goods against the contract. Subsequently a joint survey was held and on 15th August 1918 the surveyors adjudged that the wheat tendered was not of the contract quality. On 20th August 1918 the plaintiffs rejected the goods. On 23rd August 1918 the plaintiffs bought 49 tons of wheat of the quality and description mentioned in the contract and sued to recover Rs. 250150 the difference between the price paid by them for 49 tons and the contract price. The trial Court held that as there was an attempted performance of the contract the date of the breach must be taken to be the date when the parties actually found that the goods tendered were not of the contract quality and that as there was no delay on plaintiffs' part to buy against the sellers the plaintiffs were entitled to recover the sum claimed with interest. The defendants appealed. Held reversing the decision of the trial Court (1) that inasmuch as the breach of contract was in respect of goods to be delivered at a future date the ordinary rule applied that the measure of damages was the difference between the contract rate and the market rate at the date of the breach (2) that the date of breach must be considered to be the date when the seller ought to have tendered goods according to the contract and failed to do so (3) that in the absence of an agreement to the contrary the date of the breach was not postponed until it was ascertained whether the goods were of the contract quality, or not (4) that as the plaintiffs had failed to prove that the due date must not be taken to be the date of the breach or that there was any difference between the contract rate and the market rate at the due date they were not entitled to claim damages against the defendants. RAMCHANDRA PANTYALLAH v. VASANJI SONS & Co (1930)

CONTRACT—cond

I L R 45 Bom 129

51 ——— Ill gal consideration—*Past cohabitation whether good consideration A past cohabitation will not be good consideration for the transfer of property. KISONBAS v. DHOOT (1919) I L R 44 Bom 542

51(a) ——— Sale of Ready goods A seller under a contract for sale of ready goods sued the buyer to recover damages for not taking delivery of the goods. The defence was that the seller had not the good in his possession at the date of the contract and the buyer was not therefore bound to take delivery. Held that if at the time of entering into the contract and the period intervening between that date and the date the seller was in a position to deliver when called or he had sufficiently complied with the terms of the contract. MULCHAND CHANDOLIA v. KUNDANJI MULL I L R 47 Cal 458

52 ——— Sale and purchase of goods to be manufactured by a mill—*Vendor agreeing to give delivery as and when the goods are received from the Mill—Contract conditional and not absolute—Vendor not bound to deliver goods on failure of the Mill to supply goods—No implied warranty that the Mill would manufacture and supply goods—Implied condition that the Mill would supply goods—Condition failing both parties released from contract—Buyer not entitled to damages On the 6th November 1917 the plaintiffs entered into a contract with the defendants for the purchase of 504 bales of Dhotes manufactured by a particular Mill. The contract which was in Gujarati provided Delivery by the 31st December 1918. Goods to be manufactured (bunto) are sold. The same are to be taken delivery of as and when the same may be received from the Mill. The plaintiffs obtained delivery of 360 bales only from the defendants who failed to deliver the balance of 504 bales. The plaintiffs accordingly sued to recover Rs. 70216 129 as damages contending that the contract was absolute and that the defendants had committed a breach in not supplying the full number of bales contracted for. The defendants pleaded that the contract was conditional the condition being that the goods were to be delivered to the plaintiffs if they were supplied by the Mill and not otherwise. The defendants also submitted that they had done everything in their power to get delivery of the remaining bales from the Mill but the Mill failed to supply the same to the defendants. The trial Court held that the contract was not absolute but conditional only and that the plaintiffs were not entitled to claim damages except with regard to 23 bales which the defendants in the circumstances of the case were bound to deliver to the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs were accordingly awarded Rs. 2875 as damages, but the rest of their claim was disallowed. The plaintiffs appealed. Held by H confirming the decision of the trial Court that the basis or the foundation of the contract was the anticipation common to both the parties to the contract that the Mill would supply the goods to be manufactured to the vendor and that if that anticipation was disappointed the foundation of the contract disappeared and neither party had any claim against the other for damages. Held by Marten J concurring that on the true construction of the contract the vendor did not warrant the manufacture and supply by the Mill of the goods in question but that there was an implied condition that the goods were to be manufactured and supplied by the Mill and that if that condition was not fulfilled both parties were released quoad those unmanufactured goods. Taylor v Goldsall (1863) 3 B & S 826 F A Tamplin Steamship Company Limited v Anglo-Mexican Petroleum Products Company (1916) 2 A C 397 and Tribhovanadas v Nagindas (1919) 21 Bom. L R 1137 referred to. HUFASDBAI FULCHAND : PRAGDAS BODHSEV (1919)

CONTRACT—contd

I L R 44 Bom 907

53 ————— Anticipatory breach—Damages—Costs—High Court Original Side Rule Ch. XXXI r 93 On the defendants repudiation of a contract to pay the plaintiff certain share in the profits on contracts secured by him for the defendants to supply goods the plaintiff brought a suit for damages before time for performance of the supply contracts had arrived. Held that the plaintiff was entitled to sue at once but his damages were to be assessed according to the cost of performance not at the time and place of the breach but at the time and place set for performance. Bradley v Newson Son & Co (1909) A C 18 Dilworth v Gubbay I L R 43 Cal 305 referred to Anticipatory breach takes effect as a premature destruction of the contract rather than a failure to perform it in its terms. Costs are allowed as incidental damages to indemnify a party against expense of successfully vindicating his rights in a Court. Only in very special or exceptional cases costs on special scale (Scale No 3) should be allowed. MAHENDRA CHANDRA NANDI : ASWATI KUMAR ACHARYA

I L R 43 Cal 427

54 ————— Death of vendor before completion—Vendor put in possession of property by vendor's widow—Suit to recover possession—Vendor can plead his contract of sale and possession delivered under it In January 1904 A, the owner of property in suit entered into an agreement with the defendant for sale of the property and received a part of the consideration as earnest money. Before the sale deed could be executed N died and his widow who was then a minor executed the deed in September 1904 in pursuance of the agreement of sale and put the defendant in possession of the property on receipt of the balance of the consideration amount. Thereafter the widow adopted plaintiff who in 1915 sued to recover possession of the property contending that the sale was invalid on account of the minority of the widow. The Court of First Instance passed a decree in favour of the plaintiff for possession on his paying within six months Rs. 1000 to the defendant as compensation for cancellation of the sale deed. On appeal held reversing the decision of the lower Court and dismissing the plaintiff's suit (1) that there was no objection to the widow putting the purchaser in possession and receiving the purchase price and thus carrying out the fiduciary obligation arising under the contract entered into by her husband (2) that the defendant by reason of his obtaining possession under a contract of sale could successfully resist the plaintiff's suit to eject him. Bapu Apaji v Kashinath Sadoba (1918) 41 Bom 438 followed. LAXMANRAO : BRADWANSINGH (1920)

CONTRACT—contd

I L R 45 Bom 434

55 ————— Right to enhance rent—Expression patna taluk whether implies fifty of rent—Hereditary tenure whether implies fifty of rent See Landlord and Tenant. BHUPEN DRO CHANDRA SINGHA : HARINATH CHAKRAVARTI

24 C W N 874

56 ————— Restraint of Trade—Goodwill sale of Contract Act (11 of 1872) s 27 By a written agreement the respondent purported to buy from the appellant the goodwill of his business of plying ferry boats between certain places on a river together with the intrest which he had acquired by agreement for the use of landing places and settlements for the collection of tolls at landing places and the appellant agreed that for three years he would not ply boats between the places in question. The appellant sued to recover the consideration agreed. Held that the agreement was for the sale of the goodwill of a business within Section 1 to a 27 of the Indian Contract Act 1872 and therefore was not void under that section as being in restraint of trade. Judgment of the High Court reversed. CHANDRA KANTA DAS v PARASULLEAH MULLICK (1921)

I L R 48 Cal 1030

57 ————— Wagering contract—Criteria for determining whether a speculative contract is also a wagering contract When persons who are in a position to carry out a contract at the time of making the contract or can reasonably be expected to be in that position when the time of performance falls due contract to receive or deliver goods at a future date such contracts are not necessarily wagering contracts because an element of speculation enters into them, even if the contract provides for the alternative of receiving or paying as differences instead of for actual delivery. The determination whether the parties intend to take delivery is important in arriving at a decision as to whether such contracts are or are not by way of wager and another important essential is whether the parties are dealing with actual commodities that they are handling or expecting to handle or agreeing to settle an account according to fluctuation in prices of commodities in which they do not have and cannot expect to have any real title. SRI NEWAS : PAM DRO

I L R 43 All 585

58 ————— Specific performance of—Contract—Agreement of sale executed on an unstamped paper—Part performance by delivery of possession of part of the property and execution of stamped but unregistered sale deed of the rest of the property—Secondary evidence of the agreement of sale not permissible—Suit for specific performance competent The defendant agreed in writing (unstamped) to sell two of his lands and a house to the plaintiff in consideration of an adjustment of accounts between the parties. In pursuance of the agreement the defendant handed over to the plaintiff possession of the lands and executed a stamped but unregistered sale deed of the house. On the plaintiff subsequently suing for specific performance the written agreement of sale abovementioned was not forthcoming. Held that secondary evidence of the untamped agreement of sale was admissible even on payment of penalty. Paya of Pothul v Inugants China Sitarima am (1894) 1 Mad 49 followed. Held further on the facts that the agreement of sale having been confessed and in part carried into execution the matter had advanced beyond the stage of Contract and the equities which had arisen could not be admitted unless the Contract was regarded—Specific performance was therefore decreed. HIRALAL LAMBARATAN v SHANKAR HIRACHAND

CONTRACT—con 1d

I L R 45 Bom 11-0

59 ——— Sale of goods—Delivery of good to be given on arrival of a steamer—Steamer arriving without goods—Warranty that the goods were on board the steamer—Tender liable for breach of contract The defendant contracted to sell goods to the plaintiff under the following terms. We have duly made a contract to give you the delivery of two tons of sodium sulphide packed in two cwt drums of United Alkalies make shipped per S. City of Delhi at the rate of Rs 50 per cwt deliver at Bombay. In case of the steamers meeting with any accident on the way we are not bound to give you the goods but on arrival of the aforesaid steamer we are bound to give you the delivery of the goods. The City of Delhi arrived in Bombay harbour but it did not carry the contract goods on board. The plaintiff having sued to recover damages for breach of contract. Held allowing the suit that the defendant by contracting that he would be bound to deliver the goods on arrival of the steamer gave a warranty that the goods which he had sold were on board the steamer but as the steamer arrived without the goods he was liable. Hals v Rowe (1858) 4 C B D 85 relied on. BHAILAL CHATURBHAI v KALYANTRAY VASAPAT (1971)

I L R 45 Bom 1222

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)

See EXECUTION I L R 44 Mad 919

Common Carriers (including carriers by sea) not governed by—

See BILL OF LADING

I L R 33 Mad 941

——— A Bailee for hire—Is ordinarily bound to return the article hired at the end of the period of hire but when the article is hired out for use for a certain purpose there is an implied warranty it is fit for that purpose and if there is breach of warranty the bailee is not liable to pay the hire and need take no step to return the article to the bailor ISUFFALLI HASANALLY v ISRAHIM DAFIBRAI

I L P 45 Bom 1017

cs 1 118—Evden v Ict (1 of 18 2)
s 93—Contract for sale and purchase of piece goods to be manufactured according to sample—Purchasers to clear goods within twenty-four hours of their being ready for delivery—Notice of the goods being ready for delivery tantamount to tender—Delivery to be taken by signing a delivery order—Goods and price debited to purchasers on signing a delivery order—Goods tendered different in quality and design from sample—Court act providing for reference to arbitration—Power of arbitrators to award an allow-

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—con 1

ance sa pri e s hen difference in quality not unreasonable—Parties requiring arbitrators to award an allowance bound by the award—Custom of the trade permitting allowance if the difference in quality not unreasonable—Custom cannot vary written contract In September and October 1913 the defendants entered into seven contracts with the plaintiffs referred to under the letters A to G for the sale and delivery of piece goods of certain specified descriptions. The contracts provided for delivery of the goods by instalments within a fixed period. As soon as the goods were ready for delivery the defendants sent a delivery order to the plaintiffs whereupon the plaintiffs would either remove the goods from the defendant's premises or sign the delivery order acknowledging that the goods had been taken delivery of and the price debited to them in which case the goods remained with the defendants at the risk of the plaintiffs. The goods were subsequently cleared by the plaintiffs at their convenience on payment of the price interest thereon at 0 per cent warehouse rent and all other charges. A common feature of all the contracts was that the defendants had agreed not to give delivery of similar goods to other customers during the period fixed for delivery under the plaintiffs' contracts. Contract A was for the 251 bales of which the plaintiffs took delivery of some while the contract was cancelled as regards others and 84 bales remained the subject of dispute as the plaintiffs contended that the bales were inferior in quality and were not otherwise in accordance with the contract. The dispute was referred to the arbitration of two experts in the trade nominated by the parties. During the survey of the goods both parties being represented by their respective salesmen the arbitrators were asked by the plaintiffs to award an allowance in price in the event of their holding that the goods are different in quality from the sample. The arbitrators found that there was a difference in finish, quality, width and in some cases of design and colour and they decided that the plaintiffs were entitled to an allowance of 4 annas per piece but must take delivery of the 84 bales with the allowance. The plaintiffs however refused to take delivery of the bales with any allowance on the ground that they were not bound to do so under their contract and that the arbitrators had in fact acted beyond the scope of the reference under the contract. Contracts B, C and D covered 653 bales of which 159 were taken delivery of by the plaintiffs who refused to take delivery of the rest on the ground that the defendants had committed a breach of the condition not to give delivery of similar goods to other dealers during the period fixed for delivery under the plaintiffs' contracts. Contracts E, F and G covered 305 bales of which 150 were taken delivery of while as to 42 the contract was cancelled and the plaintiffs demanded the balance of 113 bales on payment of Rs 7.36 being the amount due by them on an account being taken in respect of all the seven contracts. The defendants refused to deliver the 113 bales on receipt of Rs 7.36 but claimed Rs 31.34.7.6 the contract price thereof. The plaintiffs thereupon filed a suit asking for delivery of 113 bales on payment of Rs 7.36. The defendants pleaded that with respect to 51 bales under the contract A the plaintiffs were bound by the award of the arbitrators and that with respect to 400 bales under the contracts B, C, and D the plaintiffs wrongly rejected to take delivery of the defendants had given delivery of goods to other customers by sending them delivery orders and obtaining their signatures before the period of plaintiffs contracts began to run. The defendants counter claimed Rs 2 00 230 12 0 in respect of 722 bales of which the plaintiffs failed to take delivery. The defendants subsequently amended the written statement by pleading a custom of the trade that the buyer could not reject for difference in quality provided the same was not excessive or unreasonable and could be met by an allowance in the price. Held (1) that the custom alleged by the defendants was inconsistent with the stipulation in the contract that a certain quality of goods should be delivered in return for payment of a certain fixed price. In re North Western Paper Company Limited and Huttenbach & Co [1908] 2 K B 907 followed. In re Walkers Wines & Ham and Shaw Son & Co [1901] 2 K B 152 not followed. (2) that the plaintiffs were bound by the award of the arbitrators made in pursuance of their request and not objected to by their opponents. Re an arbitration between Green & Co and Balfour Williamson & Co 63 L T 525 referred to. (3) that the defendants had not committed a breach of the contracts B C and D as the debiting of the goods to the buyers and their issuing a delivery order marked the period of delivery rendering them liable for not clearing the goods from the premises of the defendants who held as warehousemen and bailees for the buyers. and (4) that the plaintiffs suit should be dismissed and the defendants counter claim be allowed. Burton & Power & The Bombay United Spinning and Weaving Co (1916) I L R 41 Bom 518

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd

s 2

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 44 Bom 797

s 2 (a) (b)—

See COMPANIES ACT ss 28 & 31

I L R 36 Bom 557

s 2 (d)—

See CONSIDERATION

I L R 45 Cal 774

s 2 (1)—There is nothing in the Contract Act (IX of 1872) to show an intention that a person not a party to the contract can sue on it. SHANKAR V. KUNATHI UNIAHAI (1913) I L R 37 Bom 471

s 2(d) 16 2)—Consideration—Loan of money not advanced until the borrowers made themselves responsible for a previous loan to their brother—Undue influence—Inadquacy of consideration—Defendant No 1 being under arrest on a charge of embezzlement his brothers defendants Nos 2 and 3 approached the plaintiff for a loan in order therewith to obtain the release of defendant No 1 on bail and to arrange for his defence. Plaintiff with whom defendant No 1 had previous dealings refused to advance any money unless defendants Nos 2 and 3 made a mobalagundi including a previous debt of defendant No 1 amounting to Rs 3 000. Defendants Nos 1 and 2 failing to obtain money elsewhere accepted these terms took a loan of Rs 1 200 and made the mobalagundi in the way directed. Held that the acknowledgment of liability by the defendants Nos 2 and 3 was a part of the consideration which they gave for the money borrowed from plaintiff that the Rs 1,200 advanced was good and valuable consideration for the promise or promises made by defendants Nos 2 and 3 and there was no inadequacy of consideration within the meaning of Explanation (2) of s 25 of the Contract Act. Urgent need of money on the part of the borrower does not of itself place the lender in a position to dominate the will within the meaning of 16 of the Contract Act. SHYAM DILHURIA & KUMUDI KANTA TALUKDAR (1918) 23 C W N 680

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd

ss 2 (d) 16 25—contd

ss 2 (d) 62—

See DEBTOR AND CREDITOR

I L R 41 Cal 137

s 3—

See COMPANIES ACT

I L R 36 Bom 557

s 4 61 and 103—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 107—Stoppage in transit—Instruments of title—Railway receipts—Effect of assignment of A from Bagalote consigned to B at Bombay certain consignment of bales of cotton. These consignments A entrusted to the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway at Bagalote for conveyance to Bombay which was effected by rail as far as Murmugoa on the lines of that Company and afterwards from Murmugoa to Bombay by sea by ships of the Bombay Steam Navigation Company. The Railway Company issued in respect of these consignments receipts which A handed over to B as the consignee of the goods in exchange for hundies for the amount of the value of the goods drawn by B in favour of A. These railway receipts contained inter alia the following condition—That the railway receipt given by the Railway Company for the articles delivered for conveyance must be delivered up at destination by the consignee to the Railway Company or the Railway may refuse to deliver and that the signature of the consignee or his agent in the delivery book at destination shall be evidence of complete delivery. If the consignee does not himself attend to take delivery he must endorse on the receipt a request for delivery to the person to whom he wishes it made and if the receipt is not produced the delivery of the goods may at the discretion of the Railway Company be withheld until the person entitled in its opinion to receive them has given an indemnity to the satisfaction of the Railway Company. While the goods were in transit and in the possession of the Bombay Steam Navigation Company B became in default and some of the hundies given by him to A in respect of the goods in transit were dishonoured. A thereon purported to stop the goods and gave the Steamship Company instructions not to deliver them to B but to C. In the meantime B had borrowed money from D and E and had transferred to D and E respectively the railway receipts for certain of these consignments as security. On the arrival of the bales at Bombay they were claimed by D and E respectively and also by C. The Bombay Steam Navigation Company filed two suits one against A, D and D and the other against A and E claiming that the defendants in each suit might be restrained from taking proceedings against the plaintiff Company in relation to the bales and that the defendants in each suit might be required to interplead together concerning their claim to the goods in question in

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—*contd*ss 4 61 and 103—contd

Such suit Held that reading s 103 of the Contract Act in conjunction with s 13 of the Transfer of Property Act (as provided for by s 4 of the Transfer of Property Act) railway receipts must be taken to be mercantile documents of title fulfilling one or other of the conditions specified in the explanation to s 137 of the Transfer of Property Act: proving in the ordinary course of business the possession or control of goods or authorising or purporting to authorise either by endorsement or delivery the possession of the document to transfer or receive the goods thereby represented and that under the third condition of the railway receipts in question it was clear that those documents fell under the latter class. Great Indian Peninsula Railway Company v Hanumanth Prasad and Viji Hanaray 1 L R 14 Bom 47 not followed. Simultaneously with the suits D had filed a suit against A and B to recover the monies advanced by him against the railway receipts transferred to him. Subsequently the entries in the general account of B in D's books showed that various sums were credited to B which if the rule laid down in s 61 of the Contract Act were applied would extinguish that debt. Held that the intention of D as indicated by his suit to enforce his claim against the proceeds of the sales of cotton covered by the railway receipts in question negatived the application of the rule. Held accordingly that D and E were respectively entitled to the benefit of s 103 of the Contract Act as against A and the sales having been sold that the persons in whose hands the sale proceeds were should hand over the net sale proceeds to D and E deducting any charges justly due. AMERCHAND & Co v RAJENDRA VITHALDALE (1913) 1 L R 38 Bom 245

s 6—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ss 4th 11.

1 L R 42 Mad 776

ss 8 9—

See CONTRACT 1 L R 42 All 187

s 9—

See s 10—

26 C W N 573

s 10—

See COMPANIES ACT s 28 43 61

1 L R 36 Bom 557

See LAND ACQUISITION

1 L R 44 Bom 797

ss 10 11—Guardian and minor—Sole of his own property by guardian to minor—Sole valid if for ben fit of minor A certificated guardian transferred some immovable property belonging to himself to his minor wards in satisfaction of money which he owed to them. After the guardian's death the minors sued his heirs for possession of the property. Held on the finding that the transaction was bona fide and for the benefit of the minors that the transfer in their favour was valid and could be enforced by them against the heirs of their late guardian. ULFAT PATEE GADHISANKAR (1911) 1 L R 33 All 657

s 11—

See MINOR

1 L R 40 Mad 308

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—*contd*s 11—contd

Minor—Sale—Minor vendee subsequently disposed of by third party—Right of vendee to recover purchase money from vendor Where certain zamindari property was sold to persons who were minors at the time of sale and the purchasers were subsequently ousted on suit by third parties it was held that the purchasers were at any rate entitled to recover from the vendors the sum which they had paid as purchase money. Mir Sarwarjan v Fakhr ud din Mohamed Chowdhurs L R 39 I A 1 I L R 39 Cal 232 and Mohori Bibee v Dharmadas Ghose 1 J R 30 Cal 539 distinguished. WALIDAD KHAN v JANAK SINGH (1913)

1 L R 35 All 370

ss 11 64 65 70—Sale by a minor—Discharge of mortgage by vendees—Sale not completed—Suit by vendees to recover consideration paid H and R two Hindu widows of whom R was a minor sold a shop to the plaintiffs. Registration of the sale deed was refused and the vendees thereupon sued to recover Rs 231 alleged to have been paid to certain mortgagees in discharge of a mortgage on the shop and Rs 100 so paid in cash to the vendors and they asked for sale of the shop. Held that the sale being by a minor the plaintiffs acquired no interest to support their discharge of the mortgage and that the remaining sum of Rs 100 not having been paid for necessaries was also not recoverable. SHAM LAL v RAM PIARI (1909) 1 L R 32 All 25 ss 15 16—Threat by a stranger to a contract to commit suicide held out to his wife and son and inducing them to enter into contract on that account—Validity of contract—Coercion and undue influence—Suicide whether an act forbidden by Indian Penal Code—Prejudice in its meaning By a threat of suicide a Hindu induced his wife and son to execute a release deed in favour of his brother in respect of certain properties which they claimed as their own. Held by WALLIS C J and SESHAGIRI AYYAR J (OLDFIELD J dissenting) that the threat of suicide amounted to coercion within s 15 of the Indian Contract Act and that the release deed was therefore voidable. Per WALLIS C J and SESHAGIRI AYYAR J—Suicide is an act forbidden by the Indian Penal Code and suicide by a Hindu if actually committed will be an act not only to his own prejudice but also to the prejudice of his wife and son with s 15. Per OLDFIELD J—Suicide is not an act forbidden by the Indian Penal Code directly or inferentially and hence the threat did not amount to coercion and the release was not voidable on that account. As the person who held out the threat was not a party to the release deed it was not voidable on account of undue influence within s 16 of the Indian Contract Act. ANUPPAH v SESHANNA (1911) 1 L R 41 Mad 33

s 15 to 16—

See HINDU LAW ADOPTION

1 L R 33 Bom 441

ss 15 69 70 72 illus (b)—

See VOLUNTARY PAYMENT

1 L R 40 Cal 598

16—(as amended by Act VI of 1899)—

See s 2

23 C W N 690

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—*contd*s 16—(as amended by Act VI of 1899)—contd

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1908) O A III r 3

I L R 38 Mad 830

See LETTERS PATENT (I 20

2 Pat L J 683

Interest grounds for reduction of—Undue influence It is not open to a Court to reduce the rate of interest in a promissory note unless the stipulation as to interest was obtained by the exercise of undue influence as defined in s 16 Indian Contract Act (Act IX of 1872) Balkrishna Das v Madan Lal I L R 9 All 303 discontinued Dhanpal Das v Paga Vanshar Bahadur Shing 33 I A 118 followed Per THE CHIEF JUSTICE—It was not open to the District Judge on general equitable grounds to interfere with the contract between the parties unless he was satisfied that the contract was brought about by the exercise of undue influence Per SANKARAN VARJ—Excessive interest in itself may be evidence of the fact that the debtor must have been in a very helpless condition to accept the term imposed by the creditors KESAVA LULU NAIDU v APILULAI ANNAI (1913)

I L R 38 Mad 533

Undue influence—Onus of proving undue influence—Suit to cancel contract on ground of undue influence—Domination of will must be put in a lion To treat undue influence as having been established by proof of the relations of the parties having been such that the one naturally relied upon the other for advice and the other was in a position to dominate the will of the first in giving it is erroneous. That merely proves influence. But both by the Law of India and the Law of England more than mere influence must be established so as to render it in the language of the law undue. It must be established that the person in a position of domination has used that domination to obtain unfair advantage for himself and so as to cause injury to the person relying upon his authority or aid. When the relation of influence as above set forth has been established and it is also made clear that the bargain is with the person who influences the other and is in itself unconscionable then the person in a position to use the influence has a heavy burden thrown on him of proving affirmatively that no domination was practised. Poonja TRUKAI v KANAPPA CHETTIAR

I L R 43 Mad (P C) 546

ss 16 19—

See UNDU INFLUENCE

I L R 42 Cal 286

s 16 19A—Undue influence—Contract—Facts necessary to justify interference of Court on the ground of undue influence The power of a Court to interfere with contracts allowed to be an unconscionable is limited by the provisions of the Indian Contract Act 1872—ss 16 and 19A. The fact that an excessive rate of interest is charged in a contract is not alone sufficient to establish that the making thereof has been induced by undue influence. But the Court must also find that the lender was in a position to dominate the will of the borrower when the contract was entered into before any promissory note or that the contract was induced by undue influence. Balkrishna Das

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—*contd*ss 16 19A—contd

v Madan Lal All Weekly Notes (1907) 55 Kripa Pam v Samudra din Ahmad Khan I L R 25 All 234 and Dhanpal Das v Vanshar Bahadur Singh I L R 28 All 570 referred to DEBI SARAI v CANO SAHAI (1910)

I L R 32 All 589

ss 16 74—

See HINDI LAW (MISOR)

2 Pat L J 212

See INTEREST

I L R 42 Cal 652 690

24 C W N 444

Interest—Stipulation for compound interest on default—Hard and unconscionable bargain—Usual of Court a power to interfere—onus probandi—Mortgage suit—Part of property sold to third party—Purchaser not impleaded effect of—Practice—Subordinate Courts bound to follow decisions of Patna High Court A contract cannot be avoided by a Court merely because it considers that the rate of interest is hard and unconscionable or unusual or that it will be ruinous to the debtor and a debtor cannot be relieved from his obligations except by showing that he comes within s 16 or 74 of the Contract Act 1872. A vague suggestion without a definite finding that the lender was in a position to take advantage of the pressing needs of the borrower does not entitle the Court to reduce the rate of interest unless the Court finds that the lender used his position to take an unfair advantage over the borrower. An agreement to pay interest on a mortgage bond at 2 per cent per mensem with yearly rests is not necessarily a hard and unconscionable bargain. Per MILLICK J—The subordinate Courts within the jurisdiction of the Patna High Court are bound to follow the decisions of that Court whether they are in conflict with the decisions of other High Courts or not. HANU PRASAD v PANDIT PAN CHANDRA PRASAD NARAYAN SINGH

4 Pat L J 565

s 18 cl (3)—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O A II r 91—Stamp Act (II of 1899) s 35—Court sale—Discovery that the judgment debtor had no saleable interest—Failure of consideration—Suit by auction purchaser for possession or return of purchase money—Relations of the judgment creditor and the auction purchaser—Suit not cognizable by Small Causes Court—Unstamped document regarded as non-existent A Court sole purchaser having discovered that the judgment debtors had no saleable interest in the property sold brought a suit against the judgment creditor for recovery of possession of the property or in the alternative return of the purchase money on the footing of total failure of consideration. A question having arisen as to whether the suit was maintainable. Held that the suit was maintainable inasmuch as under the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) there was an implied warranty of some saleable interest when the right title and interest of a judgment debtor was put up for sale and the purchaser's right based on such implied warranty to a return under certain conditions of the purchase money which had been received by the judgment creditor was recognized. The relations of the parties namely the judgment creditor and the Court sole purchaser were in the nature of contract. Held further that such a

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—*contd*s 18 cl (3)—contd

and though the subject matter was less than Rs 100 was no cognizable by a Court of Small Causes there being a prayer for possession of immovable property. An unstamped document being inadmissible in evidence must be taken as non-existent. PERUMAL AND OTHERS V. N. YAK GANGADHAR BHAU (1910)

I L R 35 Bom 29

s 18 and 19—

See CHUKANI FIGHT

I L R 42 Cal 28

s 19—Registered deed of gift—Right of revocation not reserved by the donor—Title of the donee—Challenge by a third party having no title. Though it might be open to a donor within the time allowed by the Law of Limitation to attack his gift under a registered deed which reserved no right of revocation on the grounds mentioned in s 19 of the Contract Act (IX of 1872) still so long as the registered deed stands the title of the donee under it cannot be challenged by a third party who has no title. TRINDAK BHUKAJI S. SHANKAR SHAMRAY (1911)

I L R 38 Bom 37

s 19 19A—

See S 10 I L R 32 All 589

See TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1842) s 35

I L R 43 Bom 173

See LUNDS INFLUENCE

I L R 42 Cal 286

s 20—Contract made under a mutual mistake as to the nature and extent of vendor's title—Contract to grant mining lease by Mogolis Brahmins tardar at a time when Brahminardars generally were believed to own subsoil rights—Refusal to complete contract on decisions of Court throwing doubt on the law—Suit for refund of advances—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 36. In October 1903 the defendants who owned a share in some Mogolis Brahmin land contracted to give the plaintiffs a lease the object of which was to enable the plaintiffs to work coal underground. The contract expressly provided that there should be a good title. At this time it was generally believed that the rights of the tenure holders included mineral rights. The plaintiffs advanced some money but later when the decision of the Privy Council in Abdram v. Shyama Charan I L P 36 Cal 1908 a c 16 C W N 1 and Hari Narayan Singh v. Shyam Chuckerbutty 14 C W N 746 threw doubts upon this understanding of the law the plaintiffs refused to carry out the contract unless defendants satisfied them as to their title to the property which the defendants not having done the plaintiffs sued for refund of the advances. Held that the contract was void under s 20 of the Indian Contract Act as having been entered into under a mutual mistake. That the contract had also been broken by the defendants by their failure to show a good title and to cure the defect therein and the plaintiffs were entitled to recover the money advanced by them. RAM CHANDRA MISRA v. GANESH CHANDRA GANGOPADHYAY (1916)

21 C W N 404

s 20 and 56—

See S 56

26 C W N 573

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd

ss 20 and 65—Fraudulent representation and impersonation by one of the executors of a deed—Mistake as to a matter of fact essential to the agreement—A person fraudulently mortgaging property not his own—Mortgagee believing in good faith the mortgagor to be owner of property—Transfer of mortgage by mortgagor in favour of a third party—Deed of transfer signed by the mortgagor as a concurring party, the mortgagor again fraudulently representing to be owner—Transferor and transferee acting under the belief that the real owner concurred in the transfer—Failure of consideration—Avoidance of contract. Under the will of their father J P and L M became entitled as tenants in common to equal moieties of a house at Mazgaon in Bombay. The third son C was given a right of residence in the house so long as he lived in harmony with his brothers and sisters. C however fraudulently represented himself to be his brother L M purported to create a mortgage of a moiety of the said house in favour of the defendant. Subsequently the defendant in consideration of a sum of Rs 1770 paid to him by the plaintiff transferred the said mortgage in favour of the plaintiff. The plaintiff having in fact that the said L M should be a party to the deed of transfer C fraudulently represented himself to be L M joined in executing the said deed as a concurring party. The plaintiff having discovered that the mortgage and the transfer deed were not executed by L M but by a forger in his name sued the defendant as transferor for return of the purchase money as on a total failure of consideration. The trial Judge applied the maxim caveat emptor and dismissed the suit. The plaintiff thereupon appealed. Held that the defendant was bound under s 65 of the Indian Contract Act to repay the purchase money to the plaintiff inasmuch as both parties being in the belief that the real owner had joined in the transfer were under a mistake as to a matter of fact essential to the agreement which was therefore avoided under s 20 of the Indian Contract Act. ISMAIL ALLARAEHIA v. DATTATRAYA (1916)

I L R 40 Bom 638

s 21 65 and 72—

See CONTRACT WITH EVENT

I L R 44 Bom 631

s 23—

See AGREEMENT AGAINST PUBLIC POLICY

See BILL OF LADING

I L R 38 Mad 941

See EXPECTANCIES

I L R 39 Mad 534

See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE

I L P 39 Bom 558

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) s 19

I L R 40 Mad 701

See MARRIAGE 15 C W N 447

See PUTNI 14 C W N 1031

Agreement to remunerate third party for using his influence to bring about settlement of civil dispute if opposed to morality or public policy. Where A promises to remunerate C in consideration of the latter undertaking to use his influence over B so as to effect a compromise of a civil dispute between A and B the consideration or object of the agreement is

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd

s 23—contd

no illegal and it is enforceable SYED MAHOMED
FAHURUL HUQ v SHAH WAZIRUL HUQ (1911)

16 C W N 480

2 ——— Criminal breach of trust prosecution against gomastha dropped at the instance of Magistrate on accused executing mortgage bond for the amount embezzled—Compound ing non compoundable offence if contrary to public policy Where at the trial of a gomastha for criminal breach of trust under s 408 Criminal Procedure Code the Magistrate having suggested that the matter should be settled out of Court the accused executed out of Court a mortgage bond in favour of his master for the amount embezzled and the prosecution was dropped and the accused was acquitted or discharged though the withdrawal of the prosecution was not mentioned in the mortgage bond as forming part of the consideration Held that the mortgage bond was illegal and a suit on its basis was not maintainable Per CARNDUFF J.—It is against public policy to compound a criminal case which is declared to be non compoundable by the Criminal Procedure Code and an agreement to that end is wholly void in law Williams v Payley L R 11 H L 260 referred to The circumstance that the Magistrate wrongfully suggested or sanctioned the compromise makes no difference Collins v Ballantyne 1 Sm L O Pd 11atp 369 relied on Sheikh Nubbs Bukh v Bibes Hingon & W R 412 not followed SHEIKH MAJEDBAH RAHMAN v SYED MUKTASAB HOSSEIN (1912)

I L R 43 Cal 113

16 C W N 354

3 ——— Agreement between several firms to fix rates for ginning and baling cotton and to share profits—Agreement neither in restraint of trade nor against public policy Held that an agreement whereby certain firms fixed the rates to be charged for ginning and baling cotton and further as to the manner in which the profit should be shared by the parties thereto was an agreement neither in restraint of trade nor of posed to public policy Haribhai Manek Lal v Sharaf & Co 1 Isobj I L R 22 Bom 61 and Fraser & Co v The Bombay Ice Manufacturing Co I L R 29 Bom 107 followed KUBER NATH v MAHALI RAM (1912)

I L R 34 All 587

4 ——— Contract between third parties for the payment of money on the failure of a marriage void as opposed to public policy An arrangement between A and B that B's daughter shall marry A's son and that if she fails to do so B shall pay a sum of money to A is opposed to public policy and void under s 23 Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) Venkaja Kristanaya v Lakshmi Narayana I L R 32 Mad 184 applied Hermann v Charlesworth [1905] 2 K B 123 referred to Purandaras Tribhuvandas v Purshottamdas Mangaldas I L R 21 Bom 23 explained DEVARAYAN v MUTTU PAMAY (1914)

I L R 37 Mad 333

5 ——— Foret Act (VII of 1878)—License—Agreement to enter into partnership contravening the terms of the license—Agreement not unlawful An agreement to share profits which would contravene the terms of the license as between the Forest Officer and the licensee is not forbidden by law nor would it defeat the provisions of any law Popunath Lalman v

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd

s 23—contd

Vaithu Hary; Dhate I L R 19 Bom 696 distinguished NAZARALLI SAYAD INAM v BABA MIYA DUREYATVISHA (1915)

I L R 49 Bom 64

6 ——— Contract—Agreement opposed to public policy—Assignment of mortgage taken by a patwari Held that the taking of an assignment of a mortgage by a patwari is not a transaction opposed to public policy within the meaning of s 23 of the Indian Contract Act 1872 Shyam Lal v Chhaki Lal I L R 22 All 290 and Sheo Narain v Mata Prasad I L R 27 All 73 overruled PRAGWAN DFI v MURARI LAL (1916)

I L R 39 All 51

7 ——— Contract—Agreement opposed to public policy—Purchase by a kanoongo of mortgaged property Held that there exists no legal prohibition against a kanoongo purchasing mortgaged property and suing to redeem the mortgage existing on it nor is such a transaction opposed to public policy within the meaning of s 23 of the Indian Contract Act 1872 KANALA DEVI v GUR DAYAL (1916)

I L R 39 All 58

8 ——— Agreement to pay money to the taluk clerk for giving special attention to a case whether opposed to public policy An agreement by which a litigant binds himself to pay his vakil a clerk a certain amount for giving special attention to his legal business which his vakil was bound to see to in consideration of his fee is opposed to public policy and is void and unenforceable Ex parte Cotton & Bear 107 referred to SURYA NARAYANA v SUBBAYYA (1917)

I L R 41 Mad 471

9 ——— Public policy interpreted according to the dicta of English Judges—Contracts for the sale and purchase of gold sovereigns at bullion rates for forward deliveries—Notifications under the Defence of India Act (IV of 1915) The plaintiff is a commission agent entered into contracts on behalf of the defendant his up country constituent to purchase sovereigns for Vaishakh and Jetb taudas of Samvat year 1974 i.e. May and June 1918 settlements The defendant failing to make payment on the said days the plaintiff sued for damages occasioned by breach of the contracts The defendant contended inter alia that the contracts were opposed to public policy within the meaning of s 23 of the Indian Contract Act and in support of his contention relied upon two Notifications issued under the Defence of India Act (IV of 1915) The first Notification dated 29th June 1917 and published on 8th July 1917 provided that no person shall melt break up or use other wise than as currency any current gold or silver coin The second Notification which was subsequent to the date of breach of the contracts and issued on the 22nd August 1918 provided that no person shall sell or purchase or offer to sell or purchase any coin for an amount exceeding the face value of such coin or shall accept or offer to accept any such coin in payment of a debt or otherwise for an amount exceeding its face value The trial Judge dismissed the plaintiff's suit holding that the trafficking in the gold currency of the country while the Great War was in progress tended to defeat and embarrass the whole scheme of the Government finance and was in its very essence opposed to public policy which in India at any rate was defined by and coincided with

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd

s. 23—contd

measures of Government and that the Notification of August 1918 following that of July 1917 showed that the trafficking in such coins had for some time therefore been contrary to public policy. The plaintiff appealed. Held reversing the decision of the trial Judge and decreeing the plaintiffs' suit. (1) that the contracts in suit were not void as opposed to public policy within the meaning of s. 23 of the Indian Contract Act inasmuch as no clear general head of public policy could be evolved which would justify the Court in holding them unlawful on the ground (2) that if the case was to be decided on the Notifications the contracts must be shown to be forbidden by law and would then fall under the first head of s. 23 of the Indian Contract Act and any reference to public policy would be irrelevant (3) that the contracts were not obnoxious to the Notification of June 1917 and were untouched by the Notification of August 1918. Per HAYWARD J.—There was in my opinion, no substantial justification for holding that those dicta (i.e. the English Judges on public policy) would be disregarded by Judges in India and that public policy should be interpreted under s. 23 of the Indian Contract Act as comprehending all the political policies from time to time of the Government of India. SHEPITA DAS LAKSHMINARAYAN & RAMCHANDRA I AMRATTANDAS (1919) I L R 44 Bom 6

10 ———— Contract for supply of copies of a specimen picture—Copyright in the picture obtained by a firm in England—Publication of picture in India not fraudulent—Copyright at common law—Fine Arts Copyright Act of 1862 (25 & 26 Vict c 68) On the 13th February 1912 the defendant entered into a contract with the plaintiff to prepare and supply to the plaintiff within three months from the date of the contract twenty thousand copies of picture of the Coronation of Their Majesties in England. The specimen picture was originally published in England by A Vivian Mansell & Co. which had obtained a copyright in the said picture. The defendant having committed a breach of contract the plaintiff sued for damages. The defendant contended that the object of the contract being to defraud an English Company who had a copyright in the picture the contract was void under s. 23 of the Indian Contract Act 1872. Held overruling the contention that the contract did not come within s. 23 of the Contract Act 1872 and the plaintiff was entitled to sue for damages for breach. The Fine Arts Copyright Act of 1862 (25 & 26 Vict c 68) does not extend to any part of the British Dominions outside the United Kingdom. As soon as an author, a publisher or a painter gave to the world what he had written or created it became public property and there was no right at Common Law before the Statute of Anne (8 Anne c 19) which protected him from his works being copied by one who chose to do so. Graves & Co. Limited v. Morris (1903) A C 426. Jefferys v. Boag (1854) 4 H L C 815 and MacMillan v. Khan Bahadur Shamsul Ulama Ali Zaka (1895) 19 Bom 55, referred to. VASUDEO GANESH & ANUPRAM HARIBHAI (1919) I L R 14 Bom 723

11 ———— Principal's illegal contract with a stranger—Money recovered by agent from stranger under the contract—Right of principal to recover from agent money really due The legality

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—o 1d

s. 23—contd

of a contract between the principal and a stranger under which an agent recovers money due to the principal is no bar to the principal recovering the money so realized from the agent. PALANIYANDU CHETTIAR & CHOCKALINGAM CHETTIAR (1911) I L R 44 Mad 334

12 ———— Contract in restraint of trade—Held on a construction of the Tabuliyat that an agreement whereby the plaintiff in consideration of an annual rental granted to the defendant the right to carry on a trade in hides in a particular district but which did not contain any undertaking that the plaintiff would not grant a similar right to any one else was not void under the Contract Act 1872 as being against public policy. A suit for the rent reserved in a Tabuliyat is governed by Article 116 of the Limitation Act 1908 and not by Article 110 K. L. Mackenzie v. Maharaja Sir Pratishwar Singh Bahadur. I Pat L J 37

13 ———— Illicit Policy—Anti nuptial agreement to provide for wife's maintenance in event of dissolution between the parties—Held that an ante nuptial agreement entered into between the prospective wife on the one side and the prospective husband and his father on the other (the parties being Muhammadans) with the object of securing the wife against ill treatment and of ensuring her a suitable amount of maintenance in case such treatment was meted out to her was not void as being against public policy. Bai Fatma v. Almahomed Aiyeb I L R 10 Bom 989 distinguished. MUHAMMAD MUNIR DIX & JAMAL FATMA I L R 43 All 650

— ss 23 65—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)
s 10 20 83 I L R 39 All 173

——— Agreement for consideration to procure appointment to a public office—Failure to fulfil promise—Suit to recover amount paid by les—In pari delicto parties—Refused Any contract to appoint one to a public office or involving the sale of a public office or securing an office for the promisor or recommending him for such office is opposed to public policy. Such contracts are void without reference to the question whether improper means are contemplated or used in their execution. Pichakutti v. Varayanappa 2 Mad H C R 213 distinguished and doubted. Where the contract alleged was that the defendant a Nazir of a District Judge's Court, was in consideration of plaintiff paying him Rs 150 to provide the latter a son with the post of a permanent peon within two years and the suit was to recover Rs 100 alleged to have been paid by plaintiff as afore-said on the ground that the defendant had failed to perform his promise within the time stipulated. Held that the parties in this case being clearly in pari delicto the Court would not assist the plaintiff to recover the money. Although where money has been paid under an unlawful agreement but nothing else done in performance of it the money may be recovered back this exception will not be allowed if the agreement is actually criminal or immoral. s. 60 of the Contract Act applies only in cases of agreements which are subsequently found to be void on account of some latent defect or of circumstances existing at the date of the agreement.

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd

s 23 65—contd

or of an agreement which is afterwards made void by circumstances which supervene LEDU COACHMAN v HIRALAL BOSE (1915)

I L R 43 Cal 115
19 C W N 919

Marriage brokerage or fee—Money paid under when recoverable—Principle of English Law applicability of—Transfer ostensible or real whether a proper est A marriage brokerage agreement is unlawful and void as to the and brokerage paid thereunder is recoverable if the agreement or substantial part of it is not performed. Such an agreement does not fall within s 65 of the Contract Act and the rule to be applied is the rule of English Law Taylor v Bowers 1 Q B D 291 Kearley v Thomson 21 Q B D 712 Barclay v Pearson [1893] 2 Ch 164 and Petherperumal Chetty v Munandy Serna 1 L P 35 Cal 551 referred to Ledu Coachman v Hiralal Bose 1 L R 43 Cal 115 dissented from. The rule applies whether the transfer of the property under the agreement was merely ostensible or real. In re Great British Steamboat Company 26 Ch D 616 followed SPINIVASA v SRISHA (1917)

I L R 41 Mad 197

24—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 11 I L R 40 Bom 614
See CONTRACT 3 Pat L J 412

Contract void—Consideration unlawful—Agreement to stifle criminal prosecution—Agreement against public policy The plaintiff sued for specific performance of a contract whereby the defendant's husband had agreed to convey certain land to her (plaintiff) for Rs 150 subject to the condition that in the event of a criminal prosecution for criminal breach of trust instituted by the plaintiff against the said intending vendor not being withdrawn the contract was not to be enforced. The defendants contended that the contract was void as being opposed to public policy. Held dismissing the suit that the contract could not be enforced as a part of the consideration was void on the ground of being opposed to public policy BANI RAMCHANDRA v JAYA WANTI GOVIND (1918) I L R 42 Bom 339

s 25—

See HATCHETTA I L R 46 Cal 746

See HINDU LAW (JOINT FAMILY)

I L R 2 Lah 263

to pay time barred debt—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 19

6 Pat L J 121

Public policy—Agreement for future separation between husband and wife—Mahomedan law—Agreements void An agreement for future separation arrived at between husband and wife (who are Mahomedans) is void as being against public policy under s 25 of the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872). Meharally v Sakerkhanabai 1 L R 7 Bom L P 602 followed. Raj Patna v Alimabomed Ayyer (1912)

I L R 37 Bom 260

Debt meaning of

A promise to pay the amount which may be found due by an arbitrator on taking accounts between the parties is not a promise to pay a debt within

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd

s 25—contd

the meaning of s 25 of the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) the amount not being a liquidated sum. The decision of SUBRAHMANYA AYYAR J in Sahju Sahib v Noordin Sahib 1 L R 22 Mad 139 143 followed. DORASAMI PADAYACHI v VAITHILINGA PADAYACHI (1916)

I L R 40 Mad 31

Agreement partly void—partly enforceable but indivisible The defendant executed an agreement in favour of the plaintiff (who was his brother and for some time had managed his properties) to this effect: I have been very much benefited by the works done by you and there is possibility of more good being done by you in future. In consideration of these benefits I attribute by my sense of duty promise to grant you for your enjoyment a life-long annuity of Rs 150. Held that the agreement so far as it related to past services was enforceable and void as regards future services but the agreement being one and indivisible and it being impossible to apportion the promised reward between the past and the future the whole agreement was void. BASANTO KUMAR CHOUDHURY v MADAN MOHAN CHOUDHURY (1918) 23 C W N 609

Time Barred debt—Not necessary that the agreement should in terms refer to the barred debt A promissory note purported to be executed for cash received but the real consideration was proved to be a debt the recovery of which was barred by Statute of Limitations. Held that the promissory note was a contract enforceable under s 25 cl (3) of the Indian Contract Act. A party to a contract may prove that the actual consideration was something different from that recited in the document and effect must be given to the real consideration. A contract falling within s 25 cl (3) of the Indian Contract Act is no exception to this rule. The agreement will be enforced if the real consideration is shown to be a barred debt though no reference is made in the document to such debt. Appa Rao v Suryaprasada Rao 1 I R 23 Mad 91 considered. Yasudera v Narasimma 1 L P 5 Mad 6 8 referred to. Kumara v Srinivasa 1 L R MOORELLY v MUNISAVMI MOORELLY (1909) I L R 33 Mad 159

Debt barred promise to pay—Conditional promise—Suit to recover debt if lies Acknowledgment of a barred debt cannot give a fresh start to limitation in favour of the creditor. Under cl (3) of s 25 of the Contract Act a barred debt is considered a good consideration for a promise to pay the new promise furnishing the measure of the creditor's right the whole of the promise whether free or clogged with a condition gives the cause of action. Where A and B entered into an agreement of partnership wherein it was inter alia provided that 6 annas out of the profits of the business in the share of A would go toward liquidating a previous debt of Rs. 600 due by A to B which had become time barred at the date of the agreement. Held that B could not recover the debt except in the manner provided in the agreement. BINDU DASYA CRUTIANI v CROTA (1917) 16 C W N 636

s 26—

See CUSTOM (MARRIAGE)

I L R 1 Lah 574

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—*contd*s 26—contd

Kabir namah—Autority given by Mahomedan husband to wife to divorce an husband marrying a second wife if val 1 A provision in a tabarnamah by which a Mahomedan husband authorises his wife to divorce herself from him in the event of his marrying a second wife is not void under s 26 of the Contract Act. It is lawful for a Mahomedan husband to delegate to his wife power to divorce on certain conditions and the husband marrying a second wife is such a condition. Eadarranissa v. Maflatula, B L P
41 and Ayatunnessa v. Karam Ali, 12 C W N
507 referred to. MAHARAJA ALI AYE A KHATIM
(1910) 19 C W N 1622

s 27—

s 27

I L P 34 All 187

I L R 34 All 587

I Pat L J 37

See CONTRACT I L R 48 Calc 1030

Agreement in restraint of trade—Mutual agreement between two neighbouring lan towners not to hold cattle markets on the same day Held that an agreement entered into by an owner of land with the owner of adjoining land to the effect that a market for the sale of cattle should not be held on the same day on the lands of both of them is not an agreement to which the principle of s 27 of the Indian Contract Act 1872 applies POTTER PAM v. ISLAM FATIMA (1910)

I L R 37 All 212

*Agreement in restraint of trade—Sole of goodwill with undertaking to obtain from business for a term—Goodwill what is—
By going off a newly started rival business if purchase of goodwill—Agreement not divisible wholly void—Compensation* Defendant had been carrying on business as a carrier of passengers by boats between certain terminal stations calling en route at certain intermediate stations. Plaintiff started a rival business and having secured the terminal ghats could embark and disembark passengers at more central points. After running it for a few months during which he did not acquire a name for punctuality safety or convenience he was bought off by defendant by an agreement by which for a consideration to be paid by defendant he purported to transfer his lease of ghats and his goodwill and bound himself not to exercise the business for a period of three years. Held that plaintiff had no goodwill to transfer and the word goodwill was introduced into the agreement only to circumvent the provision of s 27 of the Contract Act which the undertaking to abstain from carrying on boat business for three years contravened.
The provision of s 27 making agreements in restraint of trade not permitted by the exceptions to that section to that extent void implies that if the agreement can be broken up into parts it will be valid in respect of those parts which are not vitiated as being in restraint of trade.
Held that in the present case the agreement not being divisible was wholly void. That the agreement being found void under s 27 of the Contract Act defendant should be made to compensate the plaintiff for the advantages he had received under it. PARASITLAL MULLIK v. CHANDRA KANTO DAS (1917) 21 C W N 879

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—*contd*s 27—contd

Rival businesses in plying ferry boats—Sale of goodwill of one to the owner of the other—Agreement not to start similar business by vendor if in restraint of trade The respondent plied passenger ferry boats on a river.
The appellant started a similar business and gained an advantage over the respondent by securing better landing places and negotiating facilities for collecting dues. In 1910 the appellant purported to sell to the respondent the goodwill of his trade in plying the ferry boats and every description of interest and ownership which the appellant had acquired in the several landing places as well as settlements obtained for the collection of tolls. By a separate document the appellant undertook to close the business of plying the particular ferry boats and that if he ever earned on the business again he would return the whole amount of consideration. Held that the transaction amounted to a sale of a real good will within the meaning put on the expression in CRUTTON v. DOUGLAS (1) TRIGG v. HUNT (2) and INLAND REVENUE COMMISSIONER v. MULLER
(3) and as used in the same sense in s 27 of the Contract Act. CHANDRA KANTA DAS v. PARA-SITLAL MULLIK L R 48 I A 508
26 C W N 345

s 28—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s

3—Insurance—Agreement in restraint of legal proceedings—Modification of the law of limitation by agreement of the parties—Rights and remedies distinction between—Conditional release or forfeiture not invalid. The S Insurance Co granted a policy of insurance against fire to the B Co on certain property of the latter. The policy containing a clause to the effect that if a claim were made and rejected and an action or suit were not commenced within three months after such rejection all benefit under the policy should be forfeited.
Damage was caused to the property of the B Co
thus insured and a claim was made by that company of the S Insurance Co which was rejected by the latter. More than three months after such rejection the B Co filed a suit against the S Insurance Co to recover the amount of their claim. Held that there is a distinction between the extinction of a right and the loss of a remedy that s 28 of the Contract Act was aimed only at covenants not to sue at any time and at covenants not to sue for a limited time that a conditional release or forfeiture was a very different thing from a covenant not to sue although to avoid circuity of action a covenant not to sue had sometimes been held equivalent in effect to a conditional release and that the condition of forfeiture in the policy in question in the suit was not within the scope of s 28 of the Contract Act. The correctness of the decision in Hirabhai v. Manufacturers Life Insurance Co 11 Lon L P 41 doubted. PER BATCHLOR J—As I understand the matter what the plaintiff was forbidden to do was to limit the time within which he was to enforce his rights what he has done is to limit the time within which he is to have any rights to enforce and that appears to me to be a very different thing. *BABONA
SINGH AND WEAVER COMPANY LTD v. SATTA
NARAYAN MARINE AND FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY
LTD* (1913) I L P 35 Bom 344

s 30—

See PAKKA ADATIL.

I L R 45 Bom 342

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd

s 23 65—contd

or of an agreement which is afterwards made void by circumstances which supervene LEDU COACHMAN v HIPALAL BOSE (1915)

I L R 43 Cal 115
19 C W N 919

Marriage brocage agreement—Money paid under when recoverable—Principle of English Law applicability of—Transfer ostensible or real wheth r a proper est A marriage brocage agreement is unlawful and void ab initio and brokerage paid thereunder is recoverable if the agreement or substantial part of it is not performed. Such an agreement does not fall within s 65 of the Contract Act and the rule to be applied is the rule of English Law Taylor v Bowers 1 Q B D 291 Healey v Thomson 21 Q B D 742 Barclay v Pearson [1893] 2 Ch 154 and Petherperumal Chetty v Muniamandy Servas I L R 35 Cal 311 referred to Ledu Coachman v Hipalal Bose I L R 43 Cal 115 dissented from. The rule applies whether the transfer of the property under the agreement was merely ostensible or real. In re Gr at Berlin Steamboat Company 5 Ch D 616 followed SPRIVASA v SAKRA (1917)

I L P 41 Mad 197

s 24—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 11 I L R 40 Bom 614
See CONTRACT 3 Pat L J 412

Contract void—Consideration unlawful—Agreement to stifle criminal prosecution—Agreement against public policy. The plaintiff sued for specific performance of a contract whereby the defendant's husband had agreed to convey certain land to her (plaintiff) for Rs 150 subject to the condition that in the event of a criminal prosecution for criminal breach of trust instituted by the plaintiff against the said intending vendor not being withdrawn the contract was not to be enforced. The defendants contended that the contract was void as being opposed to public policy. Held dismissing the suit that the contract could not be enforced as part of the consideration was void on the ground of being opposed to public policy. BANI RAMCHANDRA t JAYA WANTI GOVIND (1918)

I L R 42 Bom 339

s 25—

See HATCHETTA I L R 45 Cal 746
See HINDU LAW (JOINT FAMILY)
I L R 2 Lah 263

to pay time barred debt—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 19
6 Pa L J 121

Public policy—Agreement for future separation between husband and wife—Mahomedan law—Agreements void An agreement for future separation arrived at between husband and wife (who are Mahomedans) is void as being against public policy under s 25 of the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872). Mitherrally v Saker Janoodai I L R 7 Bom I J 602 followed Bai Fatma t ALMAHOMED AYYEB (1912)

I L R 37 Bom 280

Debt meaning of A promise to pay the amount which may be found due by an arbitrator on taking accounts between the parties is not a promise to pay a debt within

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd

s 25—contd

the meaning of s 25 of the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) the amount not being a liquidated sum. The decision of SUBRAHMANYA AYYAR J in Sahju Sahib v Noordin Sahib I L R 23 Mad 139 143 followed DORASAMI PADAYACHI v VATHILINGA PADAYACHI (1916)

I L R 40 Mad 31

Agreement partly void—partly enforceable but indivisible The defendant executed an agreement in favour of the plaintiff (who was his brother and for some time had managed his properties) to this effect. I have been very much benefited by the works done by you and there is possibility of more good being done by you in future. In consideration of these benefits I am tuated by my sense of duty promise to grant you for your enjoyment a life long annuity of Rs 150. Held that the agreement so far as it related to past services was enforceable and void as regards future services but the agreement being one and indivisible and it being impossible to apportion the promised reward between the past and the future the whole agreement was void. BASANTO KUMAR CHOUHURY t MADAN MOHAN CHOUHURY (1918)

23 C W N 639

Time Barred debt—Not necessary that the agreement should in terms refer to the barred debt A promissory note purported to be executed for cash received, but the real consideration was proved to be a debt the recovery of which was barred by Statute of Limitations. Held that the promissory note was a contract enforceable under s 25 of (3) of the Indian Contract Act. A party to a contract may prove that the actual consideration was something different from that recited in the document and effect must be given to the real consideration. A contract falling within s 25 of (3) of the Indian Contract Act is no exception to this rule. The agreement will be enforced if the real consideration is shown to be a barred debt though no reference is made in the document to such debt. Appa Rao v Suryaprakasa Rao I L R 23 Mad 94 considered Laxudera v Narasimma I L R 5 Mad 68 referred to Kumara v Srinivasa I L R MOODELLY v MUNISAVATH MOODELLY (1909)

I L R 33 Mad 159

Debt barred promise to pay—Conditional promise—Suit to recover debt if lies Acknowledgment of a barred debt cannot give a fresh start to limitation in favour of the creditor. Under cl (3) of s 25 of the Contract Act a barred debt is considered a good consideration for a promise to pay the new promise furnishing the measure of the creditor's right the whole of the promise whether free or clogged with a condition gives the cause of action. Where A and B entered into an agreement of partnership wherein it was inter alia provided that 6 annas out of the profits of the business in the share of A would go toward liquidating a previous debt of Rs 600 due by A to B which had become time barred at the date of the agreement. Held that B could not recover the debt except in the manner provided in the agreement. BINDAE DASIA CHUTIAN t CHOTA (1912)

16 C W N 636

s 26—

See CUSTOM (MARRIAGE)
I L R 1 Lah 574

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—*contd*s 26—contd

Kabirramah—Auto
rativen by Mahomedan husband to wife to divorce on husband marrying a second wife if valid. A provision in a Kabirramah by which a Mahomedan husband authorises his wife to divorce herself from him in the event of his marrying a second wife is not void under s. 26 of the Contract Act. It is lawful for a Mahomedan husband to delegate to his wife power to divorce on certain conditions and the husband marrying a second wife is such a condition. Ladaramnissa v Mafatala 7 R L P 417 and Ayattunnissa v Karam Ali 12 C 11 4.
 07 referred to MAHARAJ ALI v AYE KHAMTUM
 (1314) 19 C W N 1632

s. 27—

See s. 23

I L R 34 All 487

I L R 34 All 687

1 Pat L J 37

See CONTRACT I L R 48 Cal 1030

Agreement in restraint of trade—Mutual agreement between two neighbouring landowners not to hold cattle markets on the same day. Held that an agreement entered into by an owner of land with the owner of adjoining land to the effect that a market for the sale of cattle should not be held on the same day on the lands of both of them is not an agreement to which the principle of s. 27 of the Indian Contract Act 1872 applies. POTHI IAM v ISLAM FATIMA (1915)

I L R 37 All 212

Agreement in restraint of trade—Sale of goodwill with undertaking to obtain from business for a term—Goodwill what is—Buyer of goodwill started rival business if purchase of goodwill—Agreement not dissolved wholly void—Compensation. Defendant had been carrying on business as a carrier of passengers by boats between certain terminal stations calling en route at certain intermediate stations. Plaintiff started a rival business and having secured the terminal ghats could embark and re-embark passengers at more central points. After running it for a few months during which he did not acquire a name for punctuality, safety or convenience he was bought off by defendant by an agreement by which for a consideration to be paid by defendant he purported to transfer his leases of ghats and his goodwill and bound himself not to exercise the business for a period of three years. Held that plaintiff had no goodwill to transfer and the word goodwill was introduced into the agreement only to circumvent the provision of s. 27 of the Contract Act which the undertaking to abstain from carrying on boat business for three years contravened. The provision of s. 27 making agreements in restraint of trade not permitted by the exceptions to that section to that extent void implies that if the agreement can be broken up into parts it will be valid in respect of those parts which are not vitiated as being in restraint of trade. Held that in the present case the agreement not being divisible was wholly void. That the agreement being found void under a G. of the Contract Act defendant should be made to compensate the plaintiff for the advantages he had received under it. PARAVULLAN MULLIK v CHANDRA KANTO DAS (1917) 21 C W N 979

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—*contd*s 27—contd

Pilot businesses in plying ferry boats—Sale of goodwill of one to the owner of the other—Agreement not to start similar business by vendor if in restraint of trade. The respondent plied passenger ferry boats on a river. The appellant started a similar business and gained an advantage over the respondent by securing better landing places and negotiating facilities for collecting dues. In 1910 the appellant purported to sell to the respondent the goodwill of his trade in plying the ferry boats and every description of interest and ownership which the appellant had acquired in the several landing places as well as settlements obtained for the collection of tolls. By a separate document the appellant undertook to close the business of plying the particular ferry boats and that if he ever carried on the business again he would retain the whole amount of consideration. Held that the transaction amounted to a sale of a real good will within the meaning put on the expression in CURTON v DOUGLAS (1) TRECO v HUNT (2) and INLAND REVENUE COMMISSIONER v MULLER (3) and as used in the same sense in s. 27 of the Contract Act. CHANDRA KANTA DAS v PARAVULLAN MULLIK L R 48 I A 508
 20 C W N 345

s 28—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s

3—Insurance—Agreement in restraint of legal proceedings—Modification of the law of limitation by agreement of the parties—Rights and remedies distinction between—Conditional release or forfeiture not invalid. The S Insurance Co granted a policy of insurance against fire to the B Co on certain property of the latter the policy containing a clause to the effect that if a claim were made and rejected and an action or suit were not commenced within three months after such rejection all benefit under the policy should be forfeited. Damage was caused to the property of the B Co thus insured and a claim was made by that company of the S Insurance Co which was rejected by the latter. More than three months after such rejection the B Co filed a suit against the S Insurance Co to recover the amount of their claim. Held that there is a distinction between the extinction of a right and the loss of a remedy that s. 28 of the Contract Act was aimed only at covenants not to sue at any time and at covenants not to sue for a limited time that a conditional release or forfeiture was a very different thing from a covenant not to sue although to avoid circuity of action a covenant not to sue had sometimes been held equivalent in effect to a conditional release and that the condition of forfeiture in the policy in question in the suit was not within the scope of s. 28 of the Contract Act. The correctness of the decision in Hireblas v Manufacturers Life Insurance Co 14 Bom L P 741 doubted. PER BACHELOR J.—As I understand the matter what the plaintiff was forbidden to do was to limit the time within which he was to enforce his rights what he has done is to limit the time within which he is to have any rights to enforce and that appears to me to be a very different thing. BARODA SPINNING AND WEAVING COMPANY LTD v SATTARABAYEN MARINE AND FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY LTD (1913) I L P 38 Bom 344

s 30—

See PAKKA ADATIA

I L R 45 Egm 242

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd

s 30—contd

See WAGERING I L R 37 Bom 261

See WAGERING CONTRACTS

I L R 42 Bom 373

Contract collateral to a wagering contract not unenforceable. Where an agent has incurred losses on behalf of his principal he is not disentitled to recover as against the principal by reason of the contract in respect of which such losses were incurred being a wagering contract. Shubba Val v Lachman Das I L R 23 All 165 followed. Thacker v Hardy I L R 4 Q B D 685 referred to. JAGAT NARAIN v SRI KISHAN DAS (1910) I L P 33 All 219

Wagering contract—Purchase of grain pit through agent—Intention of parties. The plaintiff who were commission agents purchased for the defendants at their request a grain pit. The defendants however did not pay the price agreed upon and the plaintiffs resold the pit at a loss. They then sued the defendants to recover the loss on the resale of the pit and their commission. Held that whether or not it might have been the intention of the parties that the grain pit should be resold as it was the defendants making a profit or bearing a loss on the transaction the transaction between the parties was not a wagering contract within the meaning of s 30 of the Contract Act. Forget v Ostigny [1895] A C 318 and Jagat Narayan v Sri Kishan Das I L P 33 All 219 followed. BISHESHAR DAYAL v JYALA PRASAD (1914)

I L P 26 All 426

Bombay Act III of 1865 s 1—Lottery—Sanction of Government of India—Effect of sanction to raise criminal prosecution—Sanction cannot override Imperial Acts or Acts of Indian Legislature defining civil law—Contract to purchase a ticket in a lottery though sanctioned by Government is void—Injunction cannot be granted in support of a void contract—Motion—Costs. In April 1917 the Western India Turf Club organised a War Loan Lottery having previously obtained the sanction of the Government of India for such undertaking as a special case. The tickets in the said lottery from No 1 onwards were offered to the public at P 10 each. The plaintiff being desirous of securing a particular ticket bearing the number 15315 purchased the same through one of the agents of the Club who had the disposal of such ticket. A receipt for P 10 was passed to the plaintiff in which the number of the ticket was entered. As the book containing the ticket had not been sold to that number the agent of the Club agreed actually to hand over the ticket itself when he got to the particular number in the book. Through some mistake the book containing the particular ticket was sent to Calcutta where it was issued and delivered to defendant No 3. The plaintiff in suing on having the ticket purchased by him applied to the Club for its delivery to him. The club thereupon decided to withdraw the ticket 15315 altogether to return the plaintiff's money paid in respect of that ticket and to issue a new ticket 15315 A to the 3rd defendant. The 3rd defendant altered the number of the ticket to 15315 A but the plaintiff declined to abide by this arrangement. The plaintiff then sued the Club and 3rd defendant for an injunction and order restraining the 1st defendant the Secretary of the

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd

s 30—contd

Club and 2nd defendant a member of the Club on behalf of him self and all other members of the Club from withdrawing ticket No 15315 from the lottery and from paying the amount of any prize drawn by that ticket or any other ticket substituted in place thereof to the 3rd defendant. Held (i) that the effect of the sanction of the Government of India being merely to save any prosecution under the criminal law so far as the civil law was concerned the Government had no power to overrule the Imperial Acts or the Acts of the Indian Legislature which determined the rights of parties (ii) that having regard to the first portion of s 30 of the Indian Contract Act which provided that agreements by way of wager are void the contract in question was an agreement by way of wager and was consequently void (iii) that the contract sued on was not one of the character mentioned in the first portion of s 1 of Bombay Act III of 1865 and was therefore null and void (iv) that no injunction could be granted in support of a void contract. DONABJI JAMSETJI TATA v EDWARD F LANCE (1917)

I L R 42 Bom 676

s 20 and 57—Intention of the parties—Payment of differences—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 37. There is no authority for the proposition that because under the term of a contract an obligation to pay or receive differences may arise on the happening of a particular event the contract is void as a wager if that event does not happen. Such a result would be inconsistent with the principle underlying s 57 of the Contract Act. JOSHI NARENDASHANKAR v MATHURADAS (1910)

I L P 34 Bom 519

ss 30 and 65—Money advanced on account of estate transactions not recoverable. Held that no suit will lie for the recovery of money deposited with another on account of estate transactions. Dayabhai Tribhotandas v Lakhmi Chand Panachand I L R 9 Bom 353 followed. CHHARGA MAL v SHEO PRASAD

I L R 42 All 449

s 32 34 56 and 65—Guarantee—Contract construction of—Whether contingent or unconditional agreement—Inadmissibility of evidence of what took place after the execution of the contract on question of its construction. The question for determination in this appeal was the construction of the following letter dated 7th August 1909 which was signed by the defendant and given to the plaintiffs as security for the repayment of the loan of Rs 1½ lakhs mentioned therein. In consideration of your having at my request acceded to the proposal of the Secretaries Treasurers and Agents of the Tricumbas Mills Company Limited to advance to the Mills Rs 1½ lakhs, I hereby bind my self to procure a loan within two weeks of Rs 1½ lakhs on the first mortgage of the Mills block property and to pay you thereout the said sum of Rs 1½ lakhs agreed to be advanced by you to the Mills. In a suit for damages for breach of the contract contained in the letter the Courts in India held in favour of the defendant that all he had undertaken to do was to procure the lending of Rs 1½ lakhs if a first mortgage of the Mills was given and to pay thereout Rs 1½ lakhs to the plaintiffs. Held (reversing that decision) that on its true construction the document amounted to a substantial undertaking by the defendant

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd

s 32 34 56 and 65—contd

that a loan of Rs. 11 lakhs should be procured and that out of that loan the sum of Rs. 14 lakhs should be repaid to the plaintiff. The plaintiff was one of what took place after the execution of the deed. The agreement was not admissible on the question of its construction. VISSANJI SON & CO. SHAFERJI RAMESHWAR (1912) 1 L R 36 Bom 357

s 37—

See DAMODAR PILLAI

1 L R 42 Cal 826

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IX OF 1882) s 34 1 L R 20 Mad 462

ss 38 54—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXXI r 3

1 L R 33 Mad 939

s 38—

See MORTGAGE 5 Pat L J 376

s 39—

See FLEISCHER AND LESSEE

1 L P 42 Mad 203

See MORTGAGE 2 Pat L J 168

Contract—Mortgage—

Part of consideration unpaid—Effect of such non-payment. Where on execution and registration of a mortgage an interest in the mortgaged property has vested in the mortgagee the fact that part of the mortgage money as specified in the deed of mortgage has not been paid, neither renders the mortgage invalid nor entitles the mortgagor to rescind it at his option. Gokal Chand v Rahman Punj Rec 1907 271 dissented from Taha v Dalai 1 L P 22 Bom 16 Subba Pau v Deva Sheth 1 L R 13 Mad 126 Bafraji Sahai v Udit Narain Singh 10 C W N 93 and Datt Nath Singh v Paltu 111 Weekly Notes 1908 38 referred to RASHIK LAL v RAM NARAIN (1912) 1 L R 24 All 273 ss 29 55 63 and 73—Breach of contract to deliver goods at a particular time—Damages measure of—Time at which damages should be computed. A contract to deliver goods within a certain period is broken by non delivery before its expiry in the absence of an agreement between the parties to extend the time for performance. The measure of damages in such a case is the difference between the contract rate and the market rate at the expiry of the period agreed upon as the time for delivery in the contract. Per WHITE C J—S 63 of the Contract Act does not entitle a promisee for his own purposes and without the consent of the promisor to extend the time for performance which had been agreed to by the parties to the contract. Nor does s 55 enable him to keep alive a broken contract in the hope of being able to recover heavier damages for its breach. Ogle v Earl Lane L P 2 Q B 275 281 and Ishmore v Cox v Cox & Co [1929] 1 Q B 43 explained Nickoll & Knight v Ashton Edridge & Co [1900] 2 Q B 2 S and Poth v Tarsen 1 Com. Cas 306 s c 73 L T G S referred to. Per AYLING J—S 63 deals only with concessions on the part of the promisee advantageous to the promisor and cannot be invoked to support an extension of time by the promisee for his own benefit. S. 55 read with s. 2 (i) means nothing more than this on the promisor's failure to perform within the contract time the promisor loses the power to enforce the contract that is, to claim any advantage due to himself thereunder. The promisee has the option of enforcing it or not as it may suit him and if he elects to enforce the contract he can under s 73 obtain only such damages as naturally arose in the usual course of things from the breach or the parties knew when they made the contract to be likely to result which cannot include any aggravation of damages caused by the promisee's action or inaction subsequent to the breach. MUTHAYYA MANI AGARAYAN v LAKSHY EDDIAR (1914) 1 L P 37 Mad 412 ss 29 55 64 65 73 74 and 75—Vendor's right to recover deposit forfeited by terms of a contract to sell. A entered into a contract on 14th February 1903 with B for the purchase of lands belonging to the latter for Rs. 41,000. Of this amount Rs. 4,000 was paid in advance. Rs. 20,000 was agreed to be paid by means of a mortgage and the balance before the 24th May 1903 when the conveyance was to have been executed. The contract provided that the Rs. 4,000 was to be forfeited if there was any delay on the part of the purchaser. It was also stipulated that the vendor was to execute the conveyance either in favour of the purchaser or the one nominated by him. In part performance of this contract a sale of a portion of the lands was effected in favour of A on the 28th March 1903. Just before the day for payment B gave notice to A that if the sale was not completed on or before the agreed date the contract would be avoided. A failed to perform the contract before that date. Subsequently B sold the lands to third parties and realised Rs. 1,500 in excess of the price stipulated by A. A brought a suit for the specific performance of the contract or in the alternative to recover the Rs. 4,000 paid by him. The Subordinate Judge did allow the claim for specific performance but decreed the return of the deposit of Rs. 4,000 to A. B appealed. Held by the Court (SADASTIA AYYAR, J. dissenting) that A the plaintiff was not entitled to a return of the deposit. Neither s. 64 nor s. 74 of the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) is applicable to such a deposit and a stipulation for its forfeiture in case of breach is not one by way of penalty. The law of India on this subject does not differ from the English law. A stipulation to forfeit 10 per cent of the consideration in case of breach is neither unreasonable nor extraordinary. A vendor can be given relief by way of rescission of contract and at the same time in the absence of express stipulation to the contrary may be allowed to retain the deposit. Hosce v Smith L P 27 Ch D 89 applied. Per WHITE C J—(i) The last rule could apply a fortiori when as in this case there is an express agreement to forfeit the deposit. (ii) Since the Judicature Acts the question whether time is of the essence of the contract must be governed by rules of equity and purchaser is entitled in such cases as here to fulfil his contract within a reasonable time after the agreed date. Per MILLER J—(i) Time was of the essence of the contract in this case. (ii) The agreement to forfeit is not wanting in consideration as the deposit is not made as part payment but as security for the purpose of lending the bargain. Per SADASTIA AYYAR, J.—J was

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd

s 39 55 63 and 73—contd

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd

ss 39 55 64 65 73 74 and 75—
contd

entitled to recover the deposit under the Indian Contract Act which is exhaustive as regards the law of Vendor and Purchaser and the English law is not applicable. A stipulation to forfeit a deposit is a stipulation to pay a penalty. Time was of the essence of the contract in this case. NATESA AIYAR v APPAVU PADAYACHI (1913)

I L R 38 Mad 178

ss 39 73 123—Suit for price of goods bargained and sold—Cause of action—Indian Contract Act has not altered the law relating to recovery of debts and liquidated demands—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 128 Before the passing of the Indian Contract Act wherever a consideration was executed for which a debt payable at the time of action had accrued due either under an express promise or under one implied by law the debt might be sued for in an indebitatus count thus the count lay where the consideration moving from the seller of goods was executed by his providing goods and only the money debt due by the buyer remained. The form of count in such a case both in England and in Bombay would have been for money payable by the defendant to the plaintiffs for goods bargained and sold by the plaintiffs to the defendant. The cause of action was said to sound in debt and not in damages. In s 128 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1908 there is legislative recognition that such suits as were maintainable in respect of debts at the time of the Common Law Procedure Act 1854 are still maintainable in British India. The Indian Contract Act has not altered the law relating to the recovery of debts and liquidated demands. The fact that a party to a contract may under s 39 of the Indian Contract Act when the other side has refused to perform it put an end to it and sue for compensation for the breach does not oblige him to take that course at his peril he may if he prefers to sue to recover any debt due to him which has arisen from his execution of his part of the contract. PER BACHELOR J—s 13 of the Indian Contract Act prescribes the method of assessing the compensation due to a plaintiff suing upon a breach of contract but it does not affect to extinguish or to limit a plaintiff's right to recover a determined sum due to him upon a contract which he for his part keeps on foot. If that is so the mere absence from the Act of a specific provision giving the remedy of a suit to recover the price cannot be construed as the distinct legislative withdrawal of that remedy. P R & Co v BHAGWANDAS (1909)

I L R 34 Bom 182

s 41—

See MORTGAGE. I L R 39 All 178

ss 41 and 47—

34 See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT 1877 ss 41 &
4 Pat L J 682

s 43—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 43
I L R 33 Mad 317

See CO SHAPER 15 C W N 332

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 34 All 634

s 43 65 69 70 72 146 222—

See CONTRIBUTION I L R 38 Cal 1

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd

s 44—

See JOINT JUDGMENT DEBTORS

I L R 39 Mad 548

ss 44 74—

See PENALTY I L R 44 Cal 162

s 45—Partnership—Suit by surviving members to recover debt due to firm—Representatives of deceased members not necessary parties to suit Held that the representatives of a deceased partner are not necessary parties to a suit for recovery of a debt which accrued due during the lifetime of the deceased partner. Held also that s 45 of the Indian Contract Act does not apply to a suit to recover a debt due to a partnership firm. Gobind Prasad v Chandra Sekhar All Hiv Notes (1881) 133 Motilal Becharlass v Ghellabhai Hariram I L R 17 Bom 6 and Debi Das v Vargat I L R 20 All 365 followed. UGAR SEN v LAKHMI CHAND (1910) I L R 32 All 638

s 47—Sale and purchase of cotton goods

—Forward contract March delivery—Contract not to be cancelled on any account—Contract governed by the Rules of the Bombay Trade Association—Rule 17 of the Bombay Cotton Trade Association—Vendor bound to tender goods without demand from the purchaser—Railway receipt not a delivery order—Vendor committing a breach cannot sue for damages—Vendor not mulcted in costs breach being technical By a contract dated the 20th January 1914 the defendant agreed to purchase from the plaintiff 200 hules of cotton—March delivery between the 15th and 20th. The contract was expressed to be in all details governed by the Rules of the Bombay Cotton Trade Association subject to the exception that it was not to be cancelled on any account. Under Rule 17 of the Rules of the Bombay Cotton Trade Association the vendor was bound to tender a delivery order backed by the goods before 1 P M of due date. In the event of his failure to do so the buyer had three courses open to him (i) to cancel the contract (ii) to buy at seller's ask (iii) to close at the room rate of the day. On the 19th March 1914 the plaintiff handed over to the defendant a railway receipt for 100 bales. On the 23rd March 1914 the defendant applied to the railway authorities for delivery of the goods and failing to get the same returned the railway receipt the next day to the plaintiff informing him that by reason of non performance on the plaintiff's part the contract had been cancelled by the defendant. The plaintiff relying upon the clause of the contract precluding either party from cancelling the same in any event claimed the sum of Rs 2279 13 0 the difference between the contract price and the market price in respect of 100 bales. The plaintiff further contended that giving a railway receipt was tantamount to giving possession of the good and that inasmuch as the defendant had accepted the railway receipt and did not notify the plaintiff that the goods had not come to hand before due date he was estopped from pleading that the plaintiff had not made a sufficient tender under Rule 17 of the Bombay Cotton Trade Association. Held (i) that it was the plaintiff's duty to satisfy himself that the goods covered by the receipt had actually arrived before due date and that if he failed to do so he would not be absolved from the obligation of tendering the delivery order backed by the goods according to the contract (ii) the plaintiff having shown himself to be in the breach could not approach the

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd

s 56—contd

Court and sue for damages on the contract Ian mali Harvond v Tarachand Caneshamdi (1891) Chitty & Patell's Com S C C Ca 305 referred to. MURKILLAND PAJARAM v NHALCHAND GURMUKHAI (1915) I L R 40 Bom 517

s 54—

See O Niff n 3

I L R 38 Mad 959

s 55—

See s 39 I L R 37 Mad 412

See SALE OF LAND

When time may be considered of the essence of a contract—Where in relation to make time of essence of contract is not specifically expressed in unmistakable terms—Pile of equity to disregard letter of contract and take contract substantially as meaning completion of it within reasonable time—It has taken place prior to signing of contract but nothing that takes place afterwards to be looked at in judging of intention By an agreement dated 6th July 1911 the defendant (respondent) agreed to sell his interest in certain land which he held on lease from the Secretary of State for India to the plaintiff (appellant) for Rs 80,000 of which Rs 4,000 was paid on execution of the agreement and it was agreed that the title was to be made marketable and that Rs 80,500 should be paid on the execution of the deed of sale which was to be prepared and received within two months from the date of the agreement and Rs 500 on the transfer of the land after the conveyance should have been registered and there was a clause to the effect that if the purchaser did not pay the amount of the purchase money within the fixed period he should forfeit his right to the earnest money and the vendor should be at liberty to re-sell the property On 3rd October 1911 requisitions as to title were made by the appellant The respondent did not comply with the requisitions, but on 6th October he asserted a right to put an end to the contract on the ground that time was of its essence and claimed to be entitled to the deposit of Rs 4,000 as the appellant had failed to complete his purchase within the time fixed In a suit for specific performance Held (reversing the appellate judgment of the High Court) that time was not of the essence of the contract S 56 of the Contract Act (IX of 1871) did not lay down any principle which differed from those that obtained as regards contracts for the sale of land by which equity in such a case looks not at the letter but at the substance of the agreement in order to ascertain whether the parties notwithstanding that they named a specific time within which completion was to take place really intended no more than that it should take place within a reasonable time Lennon v Napper v Sch & Les GS Roberts v Lorry v DeG M & Co 284 289 Tilly v Thomas L R 3 C 61 and Stockney v Keel (1915) 1 C 386 referred to as laying down the doctrine adopted by and embodied in s 56 in reference to sales of land The special jurisdiction of equity to disregard the letter of the contract in a certain way that the parties to it are to be taken as having really in substance intended as regards the time of its performance may be excluded by any plainly expressed stipulation that time is intended to be of the essence of the contract Equity will also infer an intention that time should be of the

CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—contd

s 55—contd

essence of a contract from what has passed between the parties prior to the signing of the contract the construction of which cannot in the contemplation of equity be affected by what takes place after it has once been entered into Held therefore that there was nothing in the language of the agreement or the subject matter to displace the presumption that for the purpose of specific performance time was not of the essence of the bargain The subject matter or the character of the leasehold were not such as to take the case out of the class to which the principle of equity applies The appellant did not bind himself by his correspondence subsequent to the agreement to a new agreement that time if it was not originally of the essence should be made so As to the language of the agreement itself their Lordships agreed with the view of the Trial Judge that there was nothing and in it sufficient to exclude the equitable canon of interpretation and with his conclusion that the defendant had no justification in claiming in the circumstances to treat time as of the essence JANSHED KHODARAM v BURJORJE DHUVJIBHAI (1915) I L R 40 Bom 289

Contract when time of the essence of—Contract for the assignment of leasehold property effect of the insertion of a definite date for completion and payment of the purchase money with conditions as to forfeiture of the earnest money and liberty for the vendor to re-sell—Certificate of lessor that conditions of lease have been complied with not necessary *C agreed to sell to I his interest in a property held on lease from the Secretary of State for India on certain conditions as to improvement for cultivation etc and as to not assigning or underletting the lands until these conditions had been carried out without the consent in writing of the Collector of Thana for Rs 8,000 of which Rs 4,000 was paid on the execution of the agreement and it was agreed that Rs 80,500 should be paid on the signing of the conveyance which was to be prepared and received within 2 months from the date of the agreement and Rs 500 on the transfer of the land after the conveyance should have been registered It was further provided that should I not have paid the amount of the purchase money within the time fixed then he should forfeit his right to the earnest money and C should be at liberty to resell the property Held that under the agreement time was of the essence of the contract Held further that I could not insist on C procuring a certificate from the Collector of Thana that all the conditions of the lease from the Secretary of State for India had been complied with BURJORJE DHUVJIBHAI v JANSHED KHODARAM (1913) I L R 38 Bom 77*

Contract for sale of land and machineries—Time as to time being of the essence of the contract—Unnecessary delay of purchaser causing forfeiture of right to specific performance The Defendant entered into an agreement with the Plaintiff for the sale of certain land and machineries wherein it was stipulated that the purchase was to be completed within the time and in the manner stated in the agreement and on failure thereof the vendor would be at liberty to cancel the agreement forfeit the earnest money and claim damages or specific performance of the contract Held that it is well settled that the mere fact that a date has been named for the performance of the agreement does not conclusively prove that contract because the contract had come to an end on the outbreak of war Held reversing the decision of Chandhuri J that the contract of affreightment which was an integral part of the contract with the buyers became unlawful on the outbreak of war inasmuch as it was a contract with an alien enemy and under the provisions of s 56 of the Indian Contract Act the contract with the buyers became impossible of performance

CONTRACT ACT—contd

— ss 56—contd

MADHORAM HURDEO DASS v G C SETT (1917)
21 C W N 670

— ss 56, 9 20—

*A contract for sale of certain goods on arrival if enforceable when goods shipped from Germany were captured after the outbreak of war by a belligerent but after proceedings in a Prs Court arrived in a different ship two years after—Such arrival if comes within the meaning of arrival contemplated by the contracting parties—Doctrines of frustration applicability of Defendant contracted to supply Plaintiffs with five cases of white shawl cloth The contract was made on 21st January 1914 and it was headed contract shipment and arrival The goods were to be shipped in July and August 1914 The Defendant had previously ordered 50 cases of white shawl cloth from sellers in London In part fulfilment of the Defendant's order 20 cases were shipped in July 1914 by his sellers in a Germany ship S S Spitzfels Hamburg to Calcutta The German ship was captured by the British in the Mediterranean shortly after the outbreak of the war and was condemned as prize Under Government orders the cargo was transhipped at Alexandria into a different ship which arrived in Calcutta in June 1916 delivery to the consignees being made conditional upon payment of extra charges in the nature of transhipping and forwarding expenses There was a provision in the contract that in case of loss of the ship the contract should stand cancelled. There was a further provision in the contract that if the goods did not arrive within the specified time the sellers should notify their buyers and the latter should declare whether they are prepared to grant an extension of time otherwise the contract should be considered as cancelled The Defendant did not inform the Plaintiffs of the arrival of the cases in June 1916 and he similarly ignored his other buyers of 1914 and sold them to other dealers at a profit to himself the market having risen The Plaintiffs in July 1917 in consequence of information which he had received tendered the contract price to the Defendant and brought the present suit for non delivery of the goods Held—That having regard to the capture of the ship and the transhipment the Plaintiffs was not entitled to the delivery of the goods on their arrival in June 1916 in the same way as if there had been no interruption*

GOLPI SANKAR AGRAWALLA v H P MOITRA
28 C W N 573

— ss 56 65—

—Contract of charter party

—Contract upon title of performance—Freight paid in advance—Export of goods shipped on board prohibited by Government—Claim for refund of freight—Bills of lading—Shipping orders—Common carriers—Carriers by sea—Private carriers—Carriers

CONTRACT ACT—contd

— ss 56 65—contd

*Act (III of 1865)—Carriers by sea excluded by the Carriers Act—Loss by way of demurrage On the 1st April 1915 the defendant Steamer Company entered into an agreement with C & Co a firm of freight contractors whereby the latter chartered the steamer Heja for a voyage Bombay to Naples Genoa and—or Marseilles any two discharging ports at charterers option Subsequently the Jeddah was substituted for the Heja The plaintiffs procured from C & Co freight for 2 500 bales of cotton on the said steamer and were given the shipping orders which they presented to the defendants The plaintiffs put 2 500 bales of cotton on board the Jeddah and the defendants issued twenty five bills of lading relating to them having received in advance Rs 32 610 6 2 for freight The import of cotton into Genoa being prohibited by orders of Government the Jeddah did not leave the harbour and the voyage had to be abandoned Eventually the steamer unloaded her cargo and the plaintiffs before getting delivery of their goods were required to deposit Rs 12 500 to cover the expenses and loss incurred by the ship The said sum was deposited by the plaintiffs under protest The plaintiffs subsequently demanded the return of Rs 32 610 6 2 paid by them for freight and on the defendants disputing their liability to return the amount filed the suit for the recovery of the freight paid and for an account of Rs 12 500 deposited to defray the costs of unloading The defendants pleaded (i) that money paid in advance for freight was irrecoverable at law (ii) that they were common carriers and that the rights and liabilities of common carriers were governed by the principles of English law as modified by the Common Carriers Act of 1865 (iii) that in any event they were not liable to return the freight money as they were ready and willing to perform their part of the contract and (iv) that they were entitled to retain Rs 5 039 3 7 out of the sum deposited with them for expenses and loss incurred by the ship Held (i) that the contract became impossible of performance under s 56 of the Indian Contract Act and that the defendants were bound under s 56 of that Act to restore the sum of Rs 32 610 6 2 being the advantage they had received under the contract (ii) that on the evidence before the Court the defendants could not be treated as common carriers they having let out and chartered the whole ship to C & Co for a private gain (iii) that carriers by sea in India are not entitled to the benefits of Act III of 1865 (iv) that the defendants were entitled to claim demurrage and expenses incurred for unloading the cargo *Avgut v Smith I C P D 423 referred to The Irrawaddy Flotilla Company v Bagwandas I L R 18 Cal 670 considered BOGGIANO & Co v THE ARAB STEAMERS Co Ltd (1915) I L R 40 Bom 529

—Contract with hostile

firm—Hostile firm incorporated in alien territory and having a branch in Bombay—Contracts with enemy become illegal on the outbreak of war—Trading with enemy—Impossibility of performance owing to the outbreak of war—Proclamations and Ordinances on the outbreak of war between Great Britain and Germany—Hostile Foreigners Trading Order—Extension of time of performance after breach—Waiver of breach The defendants were a German Joint stock Company incorporated under the laws of

CONTRACT ACT—*contd*ss 56 65—contd

Hanover having a branch in Bombay under the sole management of one C B a German subject by a contract in writing between the plaintiffs and the defendants by their manager dated the 18th of February 1914 the defendants agreed to purchase from the plaintiffs the total quantity of waste of the several descriptions specified in the contract produced in the plaintiffs' mills during the year ending the 31st December 1914 at the respective prices specified in the contract and to take delivery of whatever waste might be ready at least once monthly. The defendants deposited with the plaintiffs $\frac{3}{4}$ per cent Government Promissory Notes of the face value of Rs 200 to be retained by the plaintiffs against the fulfilment of the contract. On the 4th August 1914 war was declared between Great Britain and Germany. On the 18th August the plaintiffs wrote to the defendants calling upon them to take delivery of waste under the contract. On the 2nd August the manager of the defendant company replied that on account of the existing political position the defendants were not allowed to do business in India and requested the plaintiffs to keep the delivery of waste standing over until business was allowed to be resumed. On the 5th September the defendants' manager was interned as an alien enemy the defendants' local business ceasing for all practical purpose. On the 11th November the plaintiffs again called upon the defendants to take delivery of the waste the defendants replying that they were unable to arrange for further delivery until the declaration of peace. On the 14th November an order called the Hostile Foreigners Trading Order was issued by which an hostile foreigner or firm was prohibited from carrying on or engaging in any trade or business in British India except under a license issued by or under the authority of the Governor General in Council subject to such conditions, restrictions and supervision as the Governor General in Council may direct. On the 3rd December the plaintiffs again called upon the defendants to comply with their notice of the 11th November on or before the 8th December and subsequently extended the time for taking delivery until the 16th December. The defendants replied on the 18th December referring to the internment of their manager and claimed that under a section 6 of the Indian Contract Act the defendants were relieved from the performance of their part of the contract. On the 8th February 1915 the defendants obtained a license limited to the winding up and liquidation of their local business under Government supervision. On the 16th February the plaintiffs informed the defendants that they had sold the waste of which the defendants had been under contract to take delivery at a loss of Rs 400 13 0 and after deducting the value of the deposit demanded payment of Rs 2074 13 2. On the 11th March the plaintiffs filed the suit to recover the sum of Rs 400 13 0 from the defendants and for a declaration that the plaintiffs were entitled to retain the $\frac{3}{4}$ per cent Government Promissory Notes and to set off their value in part satisfaction of the decretal amount. The defendants pleaded (i) illegality of contract on the outbreak of war (ii) impossibility of performance and (iii) waiver on the part of the plaintiff granting extension of time of performance till the 16th December 1914. Held (i) that the contract in suit became illegal on the outbreak of war and was dissolved on the 4th August 1914 (ii) that it had become impossible for the defendants to perform their part of the contract owing to subsequent events arising from a state of war (iii) that assuming that it only became so after the 14th November 1914 the plaintiffs gave the defendants further time for taking delivery until the 16th December and waived any breach committed before that date (iv) that the defendants were entitled to a return of their deposit under a section 6 of the Indian Contract Act. Janson v Driefontein Consolidated Mines Limited [1909] A C 481 509 B Wolf & Son v Carr Parler & Co Limited 31 T L R 407 and Kreglinger & Co v Cohen 31 T L R 592 referred to. TEXTILE MANUFACTURING CO LTD v SALOMON PROTHERS (1913)

CONTRACT ACT—*contd*ss 56 65—contd

I L R 40 Bom 570

s 57—

See s 30

I L R 34 Bom 511

s 59 60—

Settled for arrears of revenue

I L R 36 Cal 537

15 C W N 443

ss 59 61—Appropriation of payment

mnis. An appropriation of payment must be made by the debtor at the time of paying and by the creditor at the time of receiving the money. If neither of them makes the appropriation the law appropriates the payment to the earliest debt. See s 59 to 61 of the Indian Contract Act enacted the rule of the Civil Law as laid down in Clayton's Case 1 Mer 379 604 with certain modification. KUNDAN LAL v JAGANNATH (1913)

I L R 37 All 649

s 60—Appropriation—Decree for principal and interest payable by instalments—Interest paid if may be applied first to discharging interest. Where a certain amount was decreed with interest at a certain rate and the defendant was directed to pay in regularly yearly instalments of a certain amount and he did pay the instalments as they fell due but did not say how the payment was to be appropriated and the decree holder claimed that he was at liberty to appropriate out of each payment as it was paid sufficient to satisfy the interest due at the date of payment and to credit the balance only to principal. Held that he was entitled to do so. Per RICHARDSON J (WALSLEY J dissent).—Where both principal and interest are payable under a contract or a decree in the absence of provision in the contract or decree and of appropriation by the debtor the creditor has the right to pay him self the interest first. BISWANATH BHATTACHARYA v SOMESHWAR SARMA (1917)

21 C W N 1055

s 60 and 61—Appropriation power of Court to make when neither party has done so. In making a payment to his creditor a debtor has the right to appropriate the payment to any particular debt or to any particular portion of a running account. If he omits to make an express appropriation the right to do so devolves on the creditor. Where neither party has exercised the right s 61 of the Contract Act 132 which is an enabling section entitles the Court to apply the payments to discharge the debts in the order in which they were. See s 60 and 61 of

CONTRACT ACT—contd

ss 60 and 61—contd

the Contract Act 1872 provide a procedure analogous in all particulars to the English Law of appropriation. In order to create a fresh period of limitation under the proviso to s 20 of the Limitation Act 1908 the fact of part payment of a debt must appear in the handwriting of the person on making the part payment. BISHUN PERKASH NARAYAN SINGH v MD SIDDIQUI

I Pat L J 474

s 62—Sale deed registered—Stipulation by vendee for benefit of vendor's creditor if enforceable by latter—Creditor informed of arrangement by purchaser and purchaser acknowledged as debtor—Purchaser if trustee—Donation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 116—Consideration definition of in Contract Act and in English law—Justice equity and good conscience rule of Courts in India to be guided by—Where a sum is payable by A B for the benefit of C D C D can claim under the contract as if it had been made with himself. Defendants Nos 1 to 4 had executed a bond in favour of the plaintiff defendants No 1 to 4 on 18th August 1903 sold all their properties to defendant No 5 by a registered deed which provided that a part of the consideration money was to remain with defendant No 5 for payment of the debt of the plaintiff. The same day this arrangement was communicated to plaintiff husband defendant No 5 whom plaintiff accepted as his debtor. On the 20th of January 1908 plaintiff brought a suit against the defendants for recovery of the money. Held that there was no novation of contract within the meaning of s 62 of the Contract Act. That plaintiff was entitled to sue and recover from defendant No 5 on the registered deed of sale although he was not a party to the contract and the suit was not barred by limitation. Tweedle v Atkinson I B & S 393 commented on and held to be no authority in India. Muhammad Khan v Husains Begum I L R 32 All 410 14 C W N 865 Gregory v Williams 3 Mercantile 582 Touché v Metropolitan Railway Warehousing Co L R 6 Ch App 677 Gandy v Gandy 30 Ch D 57 referred to and followed. Consideration as defined in the Indian Contract Act is wider than the requirements of the English law. In India the Courts are to be guided in matters of procedure by the rule of justice equity and good conscience. DEBNARAYAN DUTT v RAM SATHAN MOHDAL (1913) I L R 41 Calc 137 17 C W N 1143

Donation—where donor has disabled himself from performing his promise under the new contract—Intervention—right to revert to old consideration—Plaintiff sued to recover from defendant N S the money due to him on a bond executed in 1914. In 1916 N S executed a lease of land for 14 years in favour of one A O and on the same day sold to plaintiff and other creditors the right to recover the lease money from Amur Chand in payment of their debts. N S however refused to perform his contract with A O and to deliver possession of the land. The whole scheme therefore for payment of the debts fell through. Notwithstanding this defendant contended that there had been a novation of contract and that plaintiff could no longer sue on the bond. Held that under the circumstances of the case the plaintiff was entitled to rescind his sale contract and to revert to his previous consideration. s 62

CONTRACT ACT—contd

s 62—contd

of the Contract Act being no bar to the suit. Raja Ram v Mehr Khan (66 P R 1583) followed. Bhagat Ram Gayrat Patil v Chayur Patil (10 P W R 1916) Musammatt Bhao Bhari v Gujar Mot (63 P R 1917) Allah Ditta v Naar Din (50 P R 1916 P R) Dwarika Nath v Priya Nath (22 Calc W N 279) and Debnarayan Dutt v Chum Lal Ghose (I L R 41 Calc 137 146) distinguished. NAJAF SHAH v RANGU PAM

I L R 2 Lah 323

ss 62 63—

See ARBITRATION I L R 41 Calc 80

s 63—

See s 4 I L R 38 Bom 350

See s 30 I L R 37 Mad 412

See s 55 I L R 43 All 257

Release conditional on a future event valid—Evidence Act s 95—Evidence alunde admissible to prove claim released. It was not the intention of the Legislature in enacting s 63 of the Contract Act to depart from the English law under which releases contingent on the happening of a future event are valid. Such releases are valid under the Contract Act. Unlike the English law requires consideration in the case of releases not under seal the Contract Act requires no consideration in the case of releases. When a deed of release is silent as to the claim released, evidence alunde is admissible under s 95 of the Evidence Act to show what claim was intended to be released. MATHEW HENRY ABRAHAM v THE LODGE GOOD WILL No 460 BELLARY (1910) I L R 34 Mad 156

Time extension of if creates new contract—Delivery after expiry of extended time acceptance of if amounts to new contract—Contract varied by introduction of fresh terms effect of—Plaint statements in when merely descriptive. By mere extension of time for delivery of goods a contract is not wiped out and no new contract arises. Only the promise gets certain rights under s 63 of the Contract Act. But in a case where subsequent to the contract a new term was introduced for the redemption of goods by the defendants in the plaintiff's godowns before delivery and after the time for delivery had long expired the defendants took delivery of 375 bales of jute the original contract being for much more and there being nothing to show what was the new agreement or arrangement under which such delivery was taken. Held that the old contract had been superseded and the defendant could rely on the arbitration clause in the old contract and compel the plaintiff to submit the matter to arbitration in terms of such contract and a suit would lie for the recovery of the price of the goods so delivered. LUCIUM NARAIN BHAI PADAM v HOARE MILLER & Co (1913) 17 C W N 1098

s 64—

See s 39 I L R 38 Mad. 178

See s 50 I L R 33 Mad. 675

Benefit resulting of—Sale by guardian of wards lands—Sale for binding purposes—Purchase of other lands for wards out of sale proceeds—Suit by vendee for possession of portion of lands—Right of wards to avoid sale—Duty of wards to convey purchased lands or their value—

CONTRACT ACT—*contd*s. 64—contd

Suit by wards to set aside sale held barred by limitation—Complicity of wards to set up plea of invalidity of sale in defence in vendee's suit—Limitation on Act Art 44—Form of decree Where a guardian sold lands belonging to her wards for purpose of not binding on them and, with the sale, proceeded to purchase subsequently other lands for them but the purchase of the specific lands was not in the contemplation of the parties at the time of sale and did not form part of the same transaction as the sale the lands so purchased did not constitute a benefit arising out of the sale under s. 64 of the Indian Contract Act and the wards were not bound to convey them to the vendee before they avoided the sale. Where the vendee from the guardian under a voidable sale having obtained possession of a portion of the lands, sued to recover the remainder after a suit by one of the wards who had attained majority to set aside the sale had been dismissed as barred by limitation under art. 44 of the Limitation Act, it is open to the wards to set up the plea of invalidity of the sale in defence in the vendee's suit in respect of the portion of the lands in their possession. The vendee will be entitled in such suit to a decree for the value of the lands and in default of payment to a decree for possession. CHITTAASWAMI PEDDI v. KRISHNASWAMI PEDDI (1918) I L R 42 Mad. 36

s. 64 66—

See LIMITATION ACT 1877 SCH. II ART. 91 I L R 33 Mad. 321

s. 64 and 65—

See s. 11 I L R 32 All. 25

Written contract—Material alteration by one party effect of—Breach of contract—Damages—Repayment of advance If a written contract is materially altered by one party without the knowledge and consent of the other, the former is not entitled to damages for breach of contract but is entitled to a repayment of the advance made by him. ANANTHA RAO v. SRI RAYTA (19-0) I L R 43 Mad. 703

s. 65—

See s. 43 I L R 43 Cal. 115

I L R 40 Mad. 197

See s. 27 21 C W N 979

See s. 50 I L R 40 Bom. 529 570

See s. 31 I L R 37 Bom. 387

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II of 1901)

s. 19 AND 20 I L R 32 All. 383

See BHAGDARI AND NAHWADARI TENURES ACT (Bom. V of 1862) s. 3

I L R 39 Bom. 358

See BREACH AND RAJIA INCUMBERED ESTATES ACT (XVI of 1881) s. 28

I L R 41 Bom. 546

See CONTRACT I L R 45 Bom. 225

See HINDU LAW JOINT FAMILY

5 Pat L J 622

Void agreement party to if must restore and advantage gained under it—Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872) s. 92—Oral evidence to show the real transaction evidenced by document if admissible Where the plaintiff claimed the consideration money mentioned in a khobla and the defendant pleaded that the real consideration for the khobla was the service rendered to the plaintiff in inducing a third person to sell a certain property to the plaintiff and that there was no contract for payment of money. Held that oral evidence to show the real nature of the transaction was rightly admitted. s. 65 of the Contract Act does not apply when the object of the agreement is illegal to the knowledge of both parties at the time when it was made. Where a khobla was executed mainly in consideration of the services rendered by the defendant in inducing his employer to sell a property to the plaintiff and was thus void the contract could not be regarded as having been discovered to be void or become void within the meaning of s. 65 of the Contract Act. Held further that in the circumstances of the case both the parties being in pari delicto no relief should be granted. NATHU KHAN v. SEWAK KOZBI (1911) 15 C W N 403

CONTRACT ACT—*contd*s. 65—contd

*Agreement discovered to be void—Compensation payable of—Bhagdari Act (Bom. Act V of 1862)—Alienation of unrecognized subdivision of a bhag—*Valandana patla In 1902 the plaintiff executed a valandana patla of lands forming an unrecognized subdivision of a bhag in favour of defendants who were put in possession. The deed contained a personal covenant whereby the plaintiff bound himself to give compensation to the defendants in case their possession was obstructed. In 1910 the plaintiff sued to recover possession of the property by redeeming the valandana patla which he alleged was a mortgage. The lower Courts held that the alienation was void under the provisions of the Bhagdari Act (Bom. Act V of 1862) and following the decision of Jyibhai v. Nagji, 11 Bom. L R 693 ordered that the plaintiff could recover possession on payment of moneys he had received from the defendants. The plaintiff having appealed Held that the order of compensation against the plaintiff was justified inasmuch as the agreement was discovered to be void within the meaning of s. 65 of the Indian Contract Act (I of 1872) long after the transaction and as there was a personal covenant in the agreement. Per SHAN J.—Neither under s. 65 of the Indian Contract Act nor under the ruling in Jyibhai v. Nagji, 11 Bom. L R 693 is the Court bound to award compensation in all cases as a matter of course where a document is found to be void in consequence of the provisions of the Bhagdari Act. It has to be considered in each case whether the agreement is discovered to be void and whether any person has received any advantage under such agreement as required by s. 65 or whether the covenant in each particular case justifies the order of compensation. The amount of compensation also has to be determined with reference to the circumstances of each particular case. HARIDHAI HANSJI v. NATHUBHAI RATWADI (1913) I L R 38 Bom. 210

Minor—Minority successfully pleaded as a defence to a suit—Disallowance of costs—Appeal—Competence of Appellate Court to interfere with the discretion of the Court below as to the allotment of costs Where the Judge has given his reasons and all the circumstances are before the Court of appeal, the Court of Appeal can if satisfied that the Judges' discretion has not been judicially exercised interfere with it and make the order which the court below ought to have made. It is no ground for giving costs against a successful defendant that the defendant pleaded that he was a minor at the time when the transaction upon which the suit was based was entered into there being nothing to suggest that the plaintiff had been misled as to the real age of the defendant by any action or statement on the part of the latter. RADHE SHAM v BEHARI LAL (1918)

CONTRACT ACT—*contd*s 65—contd

I L R 40 All 558

Vendor and purchaser

—Failure of purchaser to obtain possession of the subject matter of his contract—Suit for recovery of consideration paid—Execution of decree—Civil Procedure Code (1908) O XXI r 89 The judgment debtors interest in certain immovable property was attached in execution of a decree and sold. Before confirmation of the sale the judgment debtors sold the same property privately with the condition inter alia that if the purchaser failed to get possession of the property sold owing to any act or omission on the part of the vendors the purchaser should have the right to recover the sale consideration with interest. An application to have the execution sale set aside was made by the purchaser and failed and the sale was confirmed. The purchaser under the private sale then sued his vendors to recover the consideration paid by him. Held that the plaintiff was entitled to recover by virtue of the provisions of s 65 of the Indian Contract Act 1872 notwithstanding that the case was not provided for by the terms of his contract. Haridas v Asaf Ali Khan I L R 34 All 186 and Panduraj Laxman Upadhye v Gound Dada Upadhye I L R 40 Bom 647 referred to. MAHA BH PRASAD PANDL v GANGA DIAL RAI

I L R 42 All 7

ss 65 73—

See CONTRACT

I L R 42 Bom 499

s 68—

See CONTRIBUTION I L R 38 Cal 378

Debt by minor—Necessaries—Hindu Law—Joint Hindu Family—Money borrowed to defray expenses of sister's marriage. One of the brothers in a joint Hindu family consisting of two brothers and a sister all minors the sister being about 13 years of age borrowed a sum of money to provide for the expenses of the sister's marriage. After the death of the borrower the lender sued the surviving brother to recover the sum so advanced from the property of the joint family in his hands. Held that the suit was maintainable notwithstanding that the deceased brother was a minor at the time that the money was advanced. Tulha v Gopal Rai I L R 6 All 639 Vaidantam Ammanar v Kallapuram Ayyangar I L R 23 Mad 51 Sham Charan Mal v Choudhry Ditya Singh I L R 21 Cal 800 and Clapp v Cooper 13 U L R 95 referred to. NADAN PRASAD v ADLPHIA PRASAD (1910)

I L R 32 All 325

Agreement by minor to sell immovable property validity of—Suit for recovery of money—Validity of property for money

CONTRACT ACT—*contd*s 68—contd

advanced Where a minor in order to secure funds to meet his marriage expense entered into an agreement for the sale of certain immovable property held that the minor was bound to repay the amount received and that the minor's property was liable for such amount. The plaintiff's claim being for Rs 134 10 0 only held that no second appeal lay from the decision of the lower appellate court dismissing the plaintiff's suit. PATHAK KALI CHARAN RAM v RAM DEVI RAM

2 Pat L J 627

ss 68 to 72—

See CONTRIBUTION

I L R 38 Cal 1

s 69—

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 45 Bom 638

See CONTRIBUTION 14 C W N 361

I L R 38 Cal 1

I L R 45 Cal 691.

See PATENT REGULATION s 13

15 C W N 404

See ESTATE RECOVERY ACT s 3 35

I L R 33 Mad 41

Interested in paying meaning of—When payment not voluntary A person is interested in making a payment within the meaning of s 69 of the Contract Act when there is an apprehension of any loss or inconvenience or of any detriment capable of being averted in money. A person whose immovable property is attached for a debt due by another is interested in paying the debt to save the property and can recover from the person by whom it is due. Payment under such circumstances is not a voluntary payment. SUBRAMANIAM IYER v RUNGAPPA RENDI (1909)

I L R 33 Mad 232

Interest in the payment meaning of—Decree against Hindu widow and sale of husband's estate—Sale set aside by reversionary heir by deposit under s 310A Civil Procedure Code (1908) of 1882—Suit to recover deposit from widow—Payment if voluntary if decree in law appears to bind widow personally. Where, by a deposit duly made under a 310A of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 the reversionary heir expectant upon the death of a Hindu widow in possession of her husband's estate as his heirress had a sale in execution of a decree for arrears of rent of properties other than the defaulting tenure set aside and then sued the widow for recovery of the amount deposited. Held that as the decree holder professed to sell the entire interest in the properties sold and the auction purchaser also claimed to have acquired the entire interest the reversionary heir was interested in the payment of the decretal amount which the widow was bound by law to pay—within the meaning of a 69 of the Contract Act. Until the sale is confirmed the judgment-debt remains unsatisfied and it is in satisfaction of the judgment debt that the payment under s 310A (excluding the portion which represents damages payable to the execution purchaser) is made. The question whether in point of law the reversionary interest was or was not touched by the sale being a matter for serious controversy the payment could not be viewed as a voluntary payment. The words interested in the payment of money which another is bound by law to pay may include the apprehension of any kind of loss or inconvenience and not merely the actual detriment capable of assessment in money. S. 69 thus lays down a more comprehensive rule than is supported by English authority. PAKHARATI CHAUDHARI v. NANI LAL SINGH (1913)

CONTRACT ACT—*contd*s. 69—contd

18 C W N 78

Payment by a person interested which another is bound by law to pay—Gift of land by donor who undertakes to pay judi on the land—Another donee taking gift of the rest of the donor's property with full notice of the obligation but the gift deed containing no stipulation to that effect—Obligation of the second donee to pay the judi. K who owned considerable property gave a portion of it to his daughter as her share (plaintiff) in 1878 the deed of gift expressly providing that K undertook to pay the judi in respect of the portion. In 1900 A made a gift of the residue of his property to B the gift deed containing special reference to the previous gift of 1878 and enjoining the donee to act according to that gift. The judi was regularly paid by A first and B afterwards. In 1900 B in his turn made a gift of the property to the defendant the deed of gift in this case contained a reference to the gift of 1878 but it contained no words requiring the donee defendant to abide by the terms of that gift. The defendant having failed to pay the judi to Government the plaintiff was required to pay it. He sued to recover the amount from the defendant. Held that the plaintiff was entitled to recover the amount from the defendant under s. 69 of the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) because the defendant was bound in law to pay the money in the payment of which the plaintiff was interested and which the plaintiff had paid. SOHANSHASTRI v. SWAMIRAO KASHINATH (1917) I L R 42 Bom 93

Decree for rent against recorded tenant who had sold his share before the whole of the amount owed for fell due—Sale in execution set aside by deposit by a co-sharer—Latter's right to recover from recorded tenant—Contribution suit for—Suit brought after recorded tenant ceased to own any interest in the tenure if suit of Small Cause Court nature—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887) Sch II Art 41—Second appeal—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s. 107 O XXI r. 89. Plaintiff owned a 3th and the defendant No 1 a 4th share in a tenure. In the beginning of 1308 B S the latter transferred his share to a stranger. Thereafter the landlord sued defendant No 1 who was the sole recorded tenant for arrears of rent for the years 1307 and 1308 and had the tenure sold. The sale was set aside under s. 310A Civil Procedure Code 1882 upon the application of the plaintiff who deposited the whole amount within the statutory compensation to the purchaser. Subsequently he sued for recovery of two-sevenths of the sum deposited from the defendant No 1 without making the latter's vendee a party or asking any relief from him. Held that the defendant as the recorded tenant was bound by law to pay the amount of the decree passed against him within the meaning of s. 69

CONTRACT ACT—*contd*s. 69—contd

Contract Act and the plaintiff as a person interested in the payment of the debt within that section was entitled to be reimbursed by the defendant No 1 and the fact that he had transferred his share before the arrears for 1308 accrued due was no defence against the portion of the claim which related to that year. Held further that the fact that at the date of the institution of the suit the defendant No 1 had no interest in the tenure did not put the case outside the scope of Art 41 of the Second Schedule of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act and the provisions of s. 102 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1908 restricting the right of second appeal did not apply to it. Krishna v. Gopi I L R 15 Cal 652 explained and distinguished. Quare Whether the plaintiff was in law entitled to recover more than 1/4th from the defendant No 1. BATEK NATH MANDAL v. BEHIN BEHARI CHAUDHARI (1912)

16 C W N 975

ss 69 and 70—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O

XXI r. 89 2 Fat L J 878

See CO-SHARER 15 C W N 332

See CONTRIBUTION I L R 38 Cal 1

I L R 45 Cal 691

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT 1881,

s. 30 I L R 39 Mad 965

See VOLUNTARY PAYMENT

I L R 40 Cal 593

*Contribution suit for—Co-sharer under rayats—Sale by one to the other not recognised by landlord—Decree for rent against both discharged by vendor—Right to recover A and B were under rayats in respect of a non-transferable holding B transferred his share to A in 1904. The transfer was not recognised by their landlord. The landlord obtained a decree in a suit for arrears of rent against A and B in respect of the years 1902-05 whereupon A satisfied the decree and brought a suit for contribution against B. Held that s. 69 of the Contract Act is applicable to the present case and B is bound to make compensation to A. Held further even assuming that s. 69 has no application s. 70 undoubtedly covers the case.* PROSUNNO KUMAR BOSE v. JAMALUDDIN MAHOMED (1912) 18 C W N 327

Suit for contribution—Co-owners—Purchasers of different portions of an undivided—Attachment for arrears of revenue—Payment by a purchaser of the whole amount of arrears—Sue by him for the entire amount against the zamindar and the other purchaser—Personal liability of registered holder only—Liability of share of the other purchaser—Zamindar liable only for proportionate share—Sale proceeds of zamindar's liability of—Property partly in Agency Trust—Defendant purchaser resident therein—Jurisdiction of Subordinate Court. The plaintiff was a purchaser in an auction sale held in execution of a decree of some villages in a zamindari of which the first defendant was the registered holder. The sixth defendant was a similar purchaser of some other villages therein within the jurisdiction of the Agency Court. For default in payment of revenue accruing due subsequent to the plaintiff's purchase one of the villages purchased by

CONTRACT ACT—contd

ss 69 and 70—contd

him was attached by the Government the plaintiff paid the full amount due on the entire zamindari to save his village from revenue sale. The plaintiff brought the suit in the Subordinate Judge's Court against the first defendant defendant Nos 2 to 5 (who were his undivided brother sons and nephew respectively) and the sixth defendant to recover the full amount paid by him from all the defendants personally and from the sale proceeds of the rest of the zamindari kept in deposit in the Government treasury. The defendants pleaded non-liability in law for the full amount while the sixth defendant raised the further plea that the Subordinate Judge's Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit as against him. Held (a) that the only person who is personally bound to pay the revenue to the Government is the registered holder (b) that a co-owner who pays to the Government the whole revenue due on an estate is not entitled to a personal decree against the other co-owners who not being registered holders are not under a personal obligation to pay the revenue though it may be a charge on the lands in their holding (c) that s 70 of the Indian Contract Act does not apply to such a case (d) that the Subordinate Judge's Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit as against the sixth defendant to enforce the charge on the villages purchased by him as the lands did not lie within its jurisdiction (e) that s 69 of the Indian Contract Act does not apply to a suit for contribution as the person interested in the payment of money must be a person who is not himself bound to pay the whole or any portion of the amount (f) that the plaintiff was entitled to sue the first defendant only for contribution and to recover from him and from the sale proceeds in deposit only the share of revenue payable on account of the property in the hands of the first defendant. Subramania Chettiar v Mahalingasami Sivan I L R 33 Mad 41 Praukky v Pakaram Hays 151 C 262 Narain Paj v Appu 281 C 456 and Futeh Ali v Gunanath Roy I L R 8 Cal 113 followed. Raja of Vizianagaram v Raja Sefru Cherla Somasekhara I L R 26 Mad 713 distinguished. Gayapathi Krishna Chandra Deo v Srinivasa Chariu 25 Mad L J 433 Raja of Pithapuram v Secretary of State 16 Mat L T 375 Yogambal Boye Amman Ammal v Nayna Pillai Markayar I L R 33 Mad 15 Mangala thammal v Narayanaswami Ayyar 17 Mad L J 259 Manindra Chandra Nandy v Jamahir Kumari I L R 32 Cal 613 and Moule v Garrett 7 Ez 101 102 referred to. JAGAPATI PAJ V SUBBAYAN NAMMA ARAD (1915) I L R 39 Mad 795

Darputindar of a co-sharer putindar depositing decretal amount to prevent sale of the putni in execution of a decree obtained against only some of the putindars if a person legally "interested in the payment"—Suit by putindar not party to the decree for declaration and injunction to restrain darputindar taking possession under s 171 of the Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885)—Power of Court to grant conditional injunction—Condition that plaintiff should pay his share of rent paid by defendant. The payment made by the darputindar of a share of a putni of the whole rent due on the putni to save it from being sold in execution of a decree obtained by the landlord in a suit for arrears of rent brought against some only of the putindars comes within ss 69 and 70 of the Contract Act. Where after an order under s 171 of the Bengal Tenancy Act was made in favour of such a darputindar one of the putindars who was not a party to the landlord's suit for rent sued for a declaration and injunction that his right in the property was not affected thereby and the Court below decreed the suit and granted the injunction but made it conditional on the putindar paying to the darputindar the amount of rent proportionate to his share of the putni. Held that the order making the injunction conditional was proper. PAJANI KANTO MONDAL v HATI LATI BHAROMED (1917) 21 C W N 623

CONTRACT ACT—contd

ss 69 and 70—contd

Lawful payment

*what is—Interested in paying who are—Deposit of decretal amount to prevent rent sale by person claiming under a forged mortgage bond—Sale set aside—Tenant if liable to repay by reason of benefit received—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 171 (3)—Interest voidable on sale. Plaintiff alleging to be mortgagee of a tenancy which was about to be sold in execution of a rent decree proceeded to deposit the decretal amount under s 170 cl (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act where upon the tenant challenged his right to do so on the ground that the alleged mortgage was a forged document. The executing Court accepted the deposit but without deciding the question of the genuineness of the mortgage. In a suit by the plaintiff to recover the amount paid it was found that the mortgage was not genuine. Held that the plaintiff was not a person having an interest in the tenancy which was voidable on the sale within s 170 cl (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act nor was he interested in the payment of the money within the meaning of s 69 of the Contract Act nor was the payment at lawful within the meaning of s 70 of that Act. That the plaintiff was also not entitled to recover on the ground of defendant having benefited by the payment since it is not in every case in which a man has benefited by the money of another that an obligation to repay that money arises. There must be an obligation express or implied to repay. *PANCHORR GHOSH v HARIDAS JATI (1916)

21 C W N 394

*Putindar's suit for rent against some darputindars—Sale thereunder set aside by deposit of decretal money and statutory compensation to auction purchaser by co-sharer not made party—Suit for contribution if lies. The Plaintiff who was part owner of a darputni which had been sold by the putindar in execution of a decree for rent obtained by him in a suit in which the Plaintiff had not been made a party had the sale set aside by depositing the decretal money and the statutory compensation of five per cent of the pro-rata money due to the auction purchaser and then sued the other co-sharers for contribution. Held That though the decree was not binding on the Plaintiff as the entire darputni had been put up to sale. Plaintiff had the right to sue under s 70 of the Contract Act though not under s 69 and that not merely in respect of the decretal amount but also of the statutory compensation money intended for the auction purchaser. *Suchand v Bakaram I L R 33 Cal 1 (1910) Jogannain v Badri Das 16 C L J 16 (1911) and Batut

CONTRACT ACT—*contd*s. 69—contd

Nath v Begun Dohary 16 C W N 25 (1911)
referred to KANGAL CH. PAL & GORI NATH PAL
24 C W N 1068

s. 70—

Dec s 11 I L R 32 AH 25

Dec s 70

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE O XXI
83 2 Pat L J 678

See REV. DECREE 14 C W N 699

of the Contract Act does not apply where the party sought to be made liable though benefited had no option but to enjoy the benefit. In order to enable a party to recover money paid by him from another under s. 70 of the Indian Contract Act it is necessary that the party sought to be made liable must not only have benefited by the payment but must also have had the opportunity of accepting or rejecting such benefit. Where no such option is left to him and the circumstances do not show that he intended to take such benefit he cannot be said to have enjoyed such benefit within the meaning of the section. When the person paying is interested in making the payment he cannot be presumed in the absence of evidence to show that he intended to act for the other party also to have acted for such other party. S. 70 of the Contract Act reproduces the English Law as laid down in Lamphear v Brahuat 1 Sm L O 163 Abdul Wahid Khan v Shaluka Bibi 1 L R 21 Cal 496 504 followed Damodara Mudalhar v Secretary of State for India 1 L R 18 Mad 83 considered. A person paying money into Court under s. 3101 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1832 to set aside a sale in execution cannot recover such money from the defendant who has obtained possession of the property when he has made the payment to protect his own interest and the circumstances do not show that he would not have made the application if the defendant had not consented. YOGAMMAL BOYEY AMMANI ANNA v ARYA PILLAI MARAYAR (1909)

I L R 33 Mad 15

Applicability of regardless of English decisions Plaintiff's father made a gift of a village to the defendant the condition being that the plaintiff's father should get the village sub divided in four (donee's) names you should pay to the Government the peshkash fixed thereupon according to the said sub division. Held that the defendant was bound to pay his portion of the peshkash only from the time of the sub division when alone the exact amount due by the defendant was ascertained and that plaintiff who had paid the whole peshkash was entitled to recover from the defendant under s. 70 of the Indian Contract Act whatever the defendant was liable to pay after the sub division. S. 70 of the Indian Contract Act should be applied in all cases where the requirements of the section are fulfilled, whatever might be the English Law on the subject. A person must be said to have enjoyed the benefit of an act within the meaning of s. 70 of the Indian Contract Act when he in fact enjoyed the benefit by accepting or adopting it without objecting to it. S. 70 does not require that the defendant must have an option of declining the benefit if that means that before

CONTRACT ACT—*contd*s. 70—contd

the benefit is conferred he must be given the choice of accepting or declining it. Per MILLER J—The fact that plaintiff's interest also might have suffered if the act was not done will not make the act any the less one done for the defendant. Narayanaswami Vaidy v Rajah Vellanki Sreenivasa Jagannatha Rao 1 L R 33 Mad 189, and Jogambal Boyer Ammani Annal v Vanna Pillai Marayyar 1 L R 33 Mad 15 referred to Per SADASIVA IYER J Obiter. If the benefit conferred is inseparably accompanied by onerous obligations that a reasonable man would refuse to accept s. 70 will not apply. Damodara Mudalhar v Secretary of State for India 1 L R 18 Mad 83 and Jornarain v Badri Das 16 C L J 156 followed. Jogambal Boyer Ammani Annal v Vanna Pillai Marayyar 1 L R 33 Mad 15 dissented from. Abul Wahid Khan v Shaluka Bibi 1 L R 21 Cal 496 and Ram Tuhai Singh v Bhusenar Lal Sahoo 21 I 131 distinguished. Rajah of Vizianagaram v Rajah Setu Chariara Dommalara 1 L R 26 Mad 686 referred to Sarbat Sar Chandra Deo v Srinivasa Chariar (1913) I L R 38 Mad 235

Payment made for another—Non gratuitous payment—Obligation of person enjoying the benefit—Mortgage—Stranger paying off a subsisting mortgage—Subrogation The defendant No 1 mortgaged his lands in 1893. In 1904 the mortgagee sued on the mortgage and obtained a decree for the mortgage amount or in default the sale of the property. The mortgagee applied in 1906 for sale of the mortgaged property. About that time the plaintiff went into possession of the lands on a ten years lease from defendant No 1. Shortly afterwards defendant No 2 who held a money decree against defendant No 1 brought the property to sale and purchased it himself. In 1907 the property was put up to sale in execution of the mortgagee's decree. But defendant No 1 borrowed a sum of Rs. 2463 from the plaintiff and paid off the mortgagee. Subsequently defendant No 1 sold a portion of the property mortgaged to plaintiff for Rs. 4000 the consideration being made up of Rs. 2463 with other sums lent to defendant No 1 personally. In 1908 defendant No 2 sued plaintiff to recover possession of the land and obtained possession. The plaintiff filed the present suit to recover the amount of Rs. 4000 from the defendants personally or by sale of the property. Held that defendant No 2 was not personally liable to repay Rs. 2463 to the plaintiff under s. 70 of the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) for it could not be said that the payment was made for defendant No 2 the plaintiff having without reference to the second defendant intruded himself in order to make the payment without the second defendant's knowledge. Held further that the land in possession of defendant No 2 was chargeable with the sum of Rs. 2463 because the plaintiff being a stranger who paid off a subsisting mortgage was entitled to be subrogated to the position of the mortgagee. Held that defendant No 1 was liable to make good the deficiency. J—S. 70 of the Indian Contract Act provides for compensation to be made for the operation of the section as prescribed. They are that

CONTRACT ACT—contd

— s 74 as amended by Act VI of 1899—concl'd

stances to exact one fifth of the penalty SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA : PERSER

— s 81— I L R 45 Bom 1213

See JUTE I L R 44 Calc 98

— ss 81 82 83—Usage of jute trade at Chandpur—Jute brought by fariahs and stored in Companies godown burnt before weighing—Jute insured by Company—Incidence of loss—Title passing of—Unascertained goods—Intention—English law Plaintiffs who were fariahs used to purchase loose jute from dealers (beparis) and sell them to amongst others defendants firm at Chandpur. The jute brought by the fariahs used to be stored in a godown called the fariahs godown and according to the usage of trade at Chandpur sale was not complete until the jute had been examined selected and weighed by the purchasing firm. The goods were however kept subject to the firm's lien for advances to the fariahs and it appeared that once the goods were stored in the godown the fariahs were not allowed to remove or sell them to other persons. Some jute which was stored by plaintiffs in defendants godown, and was insured by the latter as belonging to the firm caught fire before it had been tested selected and weighed and was burnt. Held that title in the jute had not passed to the defendants and the loss fell on the plaintiffs. That the contract being one for the sale of unascertained goods what remained to be done by the buyer to the goods appropriated to the contract by the seller was not merely for the purpose of ascertaining the price but was also for the purpose of placing the buyers in a position to say whether and to what extent they would for their part accept the goods offered to them. That the fact that the seller could not remove or sell the goods from the godown did not show that the property in the jute had passed to the firm. That the defendants who had an interest in the goods were justified in insuring them to protect that interest and were entitled to receive the whole amount of the policies of insurance to indemnify themselves against their loss and were not bound to apply any portion of it to the plaintiff's benefit. When nothing remains to be done to the goods by the seller for the purpose of ascertaining the price then prima facie the property in them passes although they have not been weighed by the buyer. It would be otherwise in England if the parties intended that property in the goods should not pass until the goods had been weighed. The Indian law is the same and the provisions of a 81 do not exclude the question of intention which is laid down in the English case as the determining factor. ABOUT AZIZ BEFARI v JOGENDRA KRISHNA PARY (1916) I L R 44 Calc 98

— s 88— 23 C W N 1224

See CONTRACT I L R 47 Calc 459

— s 93—

See JURISDICTION I L R 34 Bom 13

— ss 99 102—

See CONTRACT (35) I L R 48 Calc 831

— s 103—

See s. 4 I L R 38 Bom 255

CONTRACT ACT—contd

— s 103—concl'd

— Transfer of Property Act (IX of 1882 as amended by Act II of 1900) s 4 and 137—Instrument of title to goods—Railway receipt—Stoppage in transit—Assignment of railway receipt effect of On this appeal their Lordships of the Judicial Committee (upholding the decision of the High Court in Amerchand & Co v Ramdas Vithaldas Durbar I L R 38 Bom 255) held that the railway receipt in question in the case was an instrument of title within the meaning of s 103 of the Contract Act (IX of 1872). RAMDAS VITHALDAS v AMERCHAND & Co (1916) I L R 40 Bom 630

— s 107—
See DAMAGES I L R 43 Calc 493

— s 108—

See CONTRACT I L R 46 Calc 831

See HYPOTHECATION—
I L R 42 Mad 59

See RAILWAY RECEIPT
I L R 38 Mad 664

See SHARES I L R 46 Calc 331 342

See VENDOR AND SUB VENDOR
I L R 38 Calc 127

— The expression goods in s 108 of the Contract Act includes all moveable property. HAZARDULL SHOHAN LAL v SATIS CHANDRA GHOSH (1918) 22 C W N 1038

— s 108 178—
See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1872)
ARTS 48 49 I L R 40 Mad 878
I L R 38 Mad 783

— Possession—Hire purchase agreement—Pledge by the hirer how far valid—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 108 178 Under a hire purchase agreement dated 9th August 1913 the plaintiffs the owners let on hire a machine at Rs 150 per month the hirer first defendant having the option of purchasing it at any time during the hiring by paying Rs 2100. Cl. 9 of the agreement provided that if the hirer made default in punctually paying any hire or in payment it should be lawful for the owners to immediately put an end to the hiring and to seize and take away the same. On 2nd December 1914 the first defendant pledged the machine to the second defendant who was a bond fide pledgee for value. On 17th May 1916 the plaintiffs by letter determined the agreement of hiring under cl. 9 a sum of Rs 50 being due from the first defendant on account of hire on that date. The plaintiffs brought this action to recover the machine or in default Rs 2100 being the value of the machine. The first defendant did not contest the suit. Held that the possession of the first defendant was not possession under s 178 of the Indian Contract Act and so the plaintiffs were entitled to recover the machinery from the second defendant or its value. There is no distinction between possession under s 108 Except (1) and s 178 of the Contract Act. SAUBOLLE v A V SERVE (1918) 23 C W N 352

— s 114—
See CONTRACT 15 C W N 981

CONTRACT ACT—contd

s 118—

See s 1 1 L R 41 Bom 518

s 120—

See s 39 1 L R 34 Bom 192

ss 124 126 and 132—

See HINDU LAW 3 Pat L J 396

ss 126 128—

See PRINCIPAL AND SURETY

1 L R 44 Cal 978

Contract of guarantee—

Time-barred debt guarant ed—Liability on principal contract not enforceable at law—Contract of guarantee not valid In 1883 a sum of money was deposited by the trustees of a certain temple with the father of one M. In 1891 there was a demand for the return of the money and a refusal thereof by M's father. In 1897 on another demand being made one B by an oral contract of guarantee undertook to repay the temple trustees in case N failed to pay. In 1900 the temple trustees brought a suit against M and B to recover the deposit. The Subordinate Judge decreed the claim against both. Against this decree M alone appealed and in appeal it was held that the deposit with M's father was proved but that the suit was time barred in 1893. The suit was therefore dismissed as against the appellant M but the trial Court's decree as against B was confirmed. In 1912 the plaintiffs temple trustees executed their decree against B. In 1915 B having died his sons brought a suit to recover from M the sum which had been paid by them in execution. Both the lower Courts decreed the claim. On appeal to the High Court Held that it being ascertained that the debt due to the trustees of the temple was barred by time in 1893 and the contract of guarantee was not made until 1897 there was not in law any valid contract of guarantee. The foundation of the contract of guarantee was wanting inasmuch as there was not any enforceable liability in the third person. Hajirimal v Krishnaraj 1 L R 5 Bom 647 distinguished. Per BATCHELOR AG C J. By the word liability used in ss 126 and 127 of the Indian Contract Act 1872 is intended a liability which is enforceable at law and if that liability does not exist there cannot be a contract of guarantee. MANJU MAHADEV v SHIVA PA MAJU (1918) 1 L R 42 Bom 444

ss 126 and 140—Mortgage—Payment of mortgage debt by surety and subsequent suit for sale brought by the surety upon the mortgagee's redemption—Limitation—Act No IX of 1908 (Indian Limitation Act) Sch I Art 135 B at the request of her sister L agreed to guarantee payment of the amount due under two mortgages executed by L's deceased husband. B paid up the mortgage money and thereafter sued the representatives of L who had since died, to recover the amount due under the mortgages by sale of the mortgaged property. Held that B was entitled to the benefit of the securities held by the mortgagees but she was in no better position than they had been and as to one of the mortgages it was found that the suit would have been barred by limitation had the plaintiff been the original mortgagee and was therefore barred as regards the surety. BARKAT U NISSA BEGAN v MAHMOUD ALI MIAN 1 L R 42 All 70

CONTRACT ACT—contd

ss 126 140 141 145 69 70—

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT (XXVI of 1881) ss 30 47 59 74 94
1 L R 39 Mad 965

ss 127 128—

See PROMISSORY NOTE

1 L R 36 Mad 680

s 128—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898

s 514 1 L R 2 Lah 204

ss 129 and 131—

See CONTRACT L R 47 I A 164

s 131—Surety—Liability of heirs of surety for default occurring after his death—Construction of document Two persons engaged themselves as sureties in behalf of a peon in the Postal department. The bond which they executed was in a prescribed form of general application. It bound both the sureties personally and their representatives after their death but the bond further provided that a surety could terminate his liability in respect of the future by giving six months' notice to the prescribed postal authority. The bond in the present case was executed in 1902. In 1910 one of the sureties died. In 1916 the person on whose behalf the bond was given embezzled a sum of money which was recovered by the Postal department from the surviving surety. The surviving surety then sued the heirs of the deceased surety for contribution. Held that the plaintiff was entitled to recover. MUMAM NAD UBEID ULLAH v MUHAMMAD INSHA ALLAH KHAN 1 L R 43 All 132

s 133—Surety—Written agreement by surety that he would not claim his legal rights in suretyship—Variation in terms of contract without consent of knowledge of surety—Discharge of surety Defendant No 1 was appointed by the plaintiffs as their sub agent to sell their goods for which he was to be paid commission at the rate of 7½ per cent on the sale proceeds and to get set off office expenses. At the same time defendant No 2 agreed to be surety for defendant No 1 and wrote a letter of indemnity whereby he expressly waived all or any of the rights as surety (legal equitable statutory or otherwise) which may at any time be inconsistent herewith and which he might be otherwise entitled to claim and enforce and that the guarantee shall not be revocable by him at any time but shall continue during the employment of the sub agent. At a later date the plaintiffs and defendant No 1 varied the contract without the knowledge of defendant No 2 by providing that defendant No 1 was to be paid commission at the rate of 22 per cent inclusive of all office expenses. The contract of sub agency having come to an end the plaintiffs sued both defendants to recover money due from defendant No 1 under the sub agency. Defendant No 2 pleaded that the contract having been varied by the plaintiff and defendant No 1 without his knowledge he was absolved from liability as a surety under the provisions of s 133 of the Indian Contract Act 1872—Held that the variation of the contract involved the result that the surety (defendant No 2) was discharged as to transactions subsequent to the variation under s 133 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872. Held further that the in the letter of indemnity whereby defendant No 2 waived all rights under the statutes could not be read as implying any consent to the variation within the meaning of s 133 or as entitling the plaintiffs to enforce the liability against the surety even though according to law he was discharged from such liability CARRUTHER & Co v VISAKH KASHINATH (1920) I L R 45 Bom 157

CONTRACT ACT—contd— s 133—contd

— ss 134 137—Suit against principal and surety—Removal of principal's name as summons could not be served on him—Suit can proceed against surety alone if suit against principal be still in time—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O IX R 5 O XXIII P 1 A suit was brought in 1913 on a promissory note passed in 1912 by defendant No 1 as principal and defendant No 2 as surety. No summons could be served on defendant No 1 his name was therefore struck out and the suit proceeded against defendant No 2 alone. The lower Court dismissed the suit on the ground that as the principal was discharged by an act of the creditor (plaintiff) in having his (defendant No 1's) name struck out the surety also was thereby discharged. On plaintiff's application under extraordinary jurisdiction Held reversing the decree and remanding the suit that the mere omission of the plaintiff to pursue his suit against one of the defendants with the result that that defendant's name was struck off and the suit dismissed against him under O IX P 6 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) did not discharge the surety provided the suit was still in time against the principal NATHANBHAI TRICAMAL v RANCHHODLAL PAMU (1914) I L R 39 Bom 52

ss 134 151—

See HINDU LAW I L R 33 Mad 308

s 135—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908

s 135 AND O XXXVII s 3

I L R 43 Mad 272

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT 1909 s 30 I L R 44 Mad 381

— ss 135 139—Surety when discharged Mere forbearance on the part of the creditor in the absence of his doing or omitting to do any thing whereby the surety's eventual remedy against the principal debtor is impaired would not discharge a surety. The surety was not discharged when the creditor merely gave the debtor time to pay up without entering into a binding contract with that object BARADUR SING v BASANTA KUMAR ROY (1913)

17 C W N 695

s 137—

See s 134 I L R 39 Bom 52

— s 139—Discharge of surety by act of creditor detrimental to surety—Banker deposit with—Banker must allow specific direction of depositor even if he be indebted—Debtor's specific appropriation by to be observed by creditor The defendant's brother had an account at the plaintiff Bank which being considerably overdrawn the Bank called for additional security and the defendant gave a guarantee to the Bank agreeing to pay to them on a specified date to the extent of a

CONTRACT ACT—contd— s 139—contd

specified amount all money then due to the Bank from his brother on current account or otherwise howsoever including all interest charges and other expenses which the Bank might charge. After the date of payment mentioned in the agreement of guarantee and when there remained due to the Bank a large sum so guaranteed the defendant's brother opened a separate account with the Bank by depositing a certain amount on condition that the Bank would allow him to draw this sum by cheques and not take it in payment of the amount due to them on the guaranteed over draft account but that any profits of the business carried on by him with the money deposited on the second account would be paid to credit of the overdrawn account. The Bank did not inform the defendant of the opening of this new account and certain sums were transferred from this account to the previous overdrawn account purporting to be paid 59 said. After this second account was opened the Bank claimed from the defendant 664 of the balance on the overdrawn account. A copy of the account of the defendant 342 was supplied to the defendant showing due to the Bank on account 127 interest as also the second expression defendant's brother that the Act includes putting his liability assured MULL SHORAN due from his brother (1913) 17 W N 1030 the case the defendant's liability to the Bank arrangement made by the in opening the second account 1872) defendant was not entitled to open and the Bank entire the date mentioned in the agreement for payment at the rate used but not at any higher rate per C J—That in opening the second account the defendant did not act inconsistently with the provisions of s 139 of the Contract Act under which to discharge the surety it must be shown that only has the creditor omitted which his duty to the surety requires but also that the eventual remedy against himself has thereby been impaired or not shown to be the case here. That within the power of the Bank to draw amount in the second account to overdraw account inasmuch as deposited that amount on condition allowed to draw against it. That Clayton's Case 1 Mer 572 applies items in one current account and a specific appropriation by the debtor present case there was a specific by the depositor when he opened the and there were in fact two accounts and the rule in Clayton's Case 1 Mer 572 apply. That it was no duty of the defendant to communicate with the Bank when opening of this new account was contrary to the nature of the defendant's agreement with the Bank. *Mookerjee J—That in the absence of a agreement a guarantor has no right to appropriation by the creditor or Banker of m paid in subject to the qualification that the B

CONTRACT ACT—contd

s 162--concl'd

the relation of depositor and depository does not cease on the latter's death. The relation of the depositor and depository is that of a voluntary bailor and voluntary bailee and when the latter dies his success or becomes and remains an involuntary bailee. PROMOTHE NATH MULLICK v. PROMOTHE KUMAR MULLICK

26 C W N 772

ss 172 173 176—Pawn nature of security—Conditions necessary to fulfil contract of pawn—Right of pawnee to sue independently of the pawn—Government securities pledge of—Mere delivery without endorsement effect of The guardian of the plaintiffs who were minors with the leave of the District Judge lent a sum of money to the major brother the defendant on his undertaking to pledge his share in Government securities which stood in the names of himself and the plaintiffs and also his share in the gems and ornaments as security for the advance The securities were in the hands of the guardian and the ornaments were in a room to which locks had been separately put by the guardian and the defendant On receipt of the loan the defendant except executing a promissory note did nothing further Held that a pawn is not an equitable mortgage but a security intermediate between a simple loan and a mortgage which wholly passes property in the thing conveyed It is essential to the contract of pawn that the property should be actually or constructively delivered to the pawnee in fulfilment of which was done in this case That the plaintiffs were entitled to have their remedy on the promissory note independently of the alleged pledge under s 176 of the Contract Act which gives a clear right to the pawnee to institute a suit independently of the pawn That s 172 of the Contract Act which defines a pledge deals with goods and certain classes of documents are specifically referred to in s 173 which do not include Government securities That Government securities are by statute not negotiable or transferable without endorsement on the back by the transferor and mere delivery of Government securities without endorsement gives no property in them for purposes of negotiation or sale JOTI PRAKASH NANDI v. BHUTI PRAKASH NANDI (1910)

22 C W N 297

3 178—Pledge—Sale by pawnee of property pledged.—Notice of sale. The words—
He may sell the things pledged on giving the pawnee reasonable notice of the sale—as used in a 170 of the Indian Contract Act 187—mean that the pawnee must give reasonable notice of his intention to sell: it does not necessarily mean that a sale should be arranged beforehand and that due notice of all details should be given to the pawnee. KUN BEHARI LAL & THE BHAROGA COMMERCIAL BANK JUDGMENT (1918)

I L R 40 All. 522

— s 178—
S e s 103
See RAILMENT I L P 37 Bom 122

Per or authorized to take delivery of goods on behalf of consignee pledging receipt—Pledgee if acquires title in the goods—Fraud of third party—Upon which of two innocent persons loss should fall Defendant No 1 who has de pated by railway goods consigned to himself made over the railway receipt without endorsement to the defendant No 2 for the purpose of obtaining delivery. The defendant No 2 thus having implied authority to do all that was necessary for the purpose including authority to endorse the receipt in the name of defendant No 1 fraudulently and without defendant No 1's authority offered the receipt to plaintiff as a pledge for an advance which he asked plaintiff to make to him but plaintiff having insisted on the receipt being endorsed by defendant No 1 defendant No 2 later on presented the receipt again to plaintiff having an endorsement written by himself and purporting to be signed by defendant No 1 authorising the delivery of the goods to a servant of the plaintiff. Plaintiff thereupon made the advance which defendant No 2 fraudulently appropriated and took delivery of the goods from the Railway Company. Held that defendant No 2 had possession within the meaning of s 178 of the Contract Act of the railway receipt and of the goods it represented and that the plaintiff had acted in good faith within the meaning of the first proviso to the section and that the defendant No 2 had not obtained the goods by means of an offence of fraud within the meaning of the second proviso so that the plaintiff had good title in the property. It is unsafe to employ as a separate and independent ground of decision the principle that where one of two innocent persons must suffer through the fraud of a third the loss should fall on him who enabled the third party to commit the fraud. PROFULLA KUMAR BOSE v NABO KISHORE RAI (1919) 23 O W N 907 ss 178 179—Goods consigned by up country merchant to muzzadam and agent for sale in Bombay—Pledge of goods by the Agent—Principal's moving of the pledge and receiving money raised by pledge from agent—Pledgee entitled to entire moneys due on pledge—Pledgee's claim not limited to the interest of the pawner in the goods pledged—Custom of up country cotton merchants. The plaintiffs up country cotton merchants consigned cotton until the 29th of September 1913 to their usual consignees and agents for sale in Bombay D H and Co. In the course of their dealings the plaintiffs frequently called upon D H and Co to remit money to them in large sums on the security of the cotton in their hands and D H and Co used to raise money by pledge of the plaintiffs' cotton to the 3rd defendants firm. The plaintiffs' representatives in Bombay knew of this course of dealing. On the 30th September 1913 D H and Co were adjudicated insolvents. The accounts at that date showed that the 3rd defendants had advanced Rs 83,000 to D H and Co against which they held 77 bales of the plaintiffs' cotton and that D H and Co had remitted to the plaintiffs Rs 50,000. The plaintiffs sued to recover their cotton from the 3rd defendants unencumbered by the loans raised on the security thereof alleging that D H and Co were merely their warehousemen and muzzadams and as such had no right to create any charges on their cotton. At the trial the plaintiffs contended that in any event D H and Co had no authority to charge the plaintiffs' cotton beyond Rs 50,000 which was the sum remitted by them to the plaintiffs. Held that the plaintiffs having urged D H and Co to pledge their cotton when necessary and having

CONTRACT ACT—contd s 178—concl'd

CONTRACT ACT—cont'd

ss 178, 179—concl'd

known through their representatives of the manner in which their cotton was being dealt with the 3rd defendants were entitled to claim the entire moneys advanced by them on the pledge of the plaintiffs' cotton. S 179 of the Indian Contract Act does not limit the scope of s 178 but saves a pledge to the extent of the pledgor's own interest notwithstanding the presence of invalidating conditions falling under one of the provisions to s 178. In other words whenever he has an interest the person in possession of the goods or documents has unconditional authority to charge at least that interest. LAKHMIKHAND PADAMSEY (1916) & Co v LAKHMIKHAND PADAMSEY (1916) I L R 42 Bom 205

s 180—

See PARTNERSHIP I L R 43 Calc 733

s 194—

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT I L R 44 Bom 139

ss 196 to 200—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1886) s 1 I L R 38 Mad 997

s 201—Termination of agency—S 209—After the principal's death if agent is to be treated as a trustee—Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Art 89 or 120 applicability of where an agent is sued for accounts after the principal's death. O acted as gomastha under J until the latter's death in July 1912 and then he acted as agent under J's widow. The widow more than three years after her husband's death brought a suit against the agent for accounts from 1894 to 1915. Held—That Art 89 of the Limitation Act applied to the case and the claim for accounts for the period up to the death of J was barred by limitation as under s 201 of the Contract Act the agency was terminated on J's death and as the suit was brought more than three years after J's death Madhu Sudan Sen v Pakhal Chandra I L P 43 Calc 248 followed. That as O was not sued for any act done by him after the death of his late Principal which he might have done as trustee s 209 of the Contract Act or Art 120 of the Limitation Act did not apply. SREEMATI SARASWATI DAST v CHUNNI LAL GHOSH 28 C W N 321

ss 207 253 & (10)—

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT I L R 43 Calc 248

ss 208 209—Suit to recover money—Acknowledgment by defendant's gumasta (agent) after his death—Death of the defendant not known to plaintiff—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) s 19. Plaintiffs' firm had dealings with one Haji Usman from the 5th January 1901 till the 20th October 1903. Haji Usman's business managed by a gumasta (agent). Haji Usman died in or about March 1903 and the plaintiffs had no knowledge of his death. On the 2nd June 1903 the gumasta wrote to the plaintiffs a postcard stating "you mention that there are moneys due as to that I admit whatever may be found on proper accounts to be owing by me you need not entertain any anxiety." On the 30th May 1906 the plaintiffs brought a suit against the managers of Haji Usman's estate to recover a certain sum of money on an account stated. The defendants pleaded the bar of limitation on the ground that there was no acknowledgment of the debt by a competent person. Held that the suit was not time barred. The gumasta's letter of the 2nd June 1903 was an acknowledgment within the meaning of s 19 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877). The case fell within the provisions of ss 208 and 209 of the Contract Act (XV of 1872). The termination of the gumasta's authority if it did terminate did not take place before the 2nd June 1903 as the plaintiffs did not know of the principal's death and the gumasta was bound under s 209 to take on behalf of his late principal all reasonable steps for the protection and preservation of the interests entrusted to him. ABRAHAM HASI YAKUB v CHUNILAL LALCHAND (1911)

CONTRACT ACT—contdss 208 209—concl'd

I L R 35 Bom 302

s 212—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 20 (c) I L R 34 All 49

ss 215 216—Principal and Agent—Construction of Contract—Agent appointed to sell goods buying them on his own account S 216 of the Indian Contract Act is merely enabling and confers upon the principal the right to claim from his agent the benefit of the transaction to which the agency business related where the agent without the knowledge of the principal has dealt with the business on his own account instead of on account of the latter. The principal is free to exercise that right or not. The law is that where a party elects to adopt a transaction he must take its benefit with his burden. He cannot as is said both approbate and reprobate. But both the benefit and the burden must for that purpose be attached to end incidents of the transaction which the principal has affirmed by election. Where an agent appointed to sell his principal's goods for a fixed price buys them on his own account without the previous consent of the latter it is competent for the principal either to repudiate the transaction under the circumstances mentioned in s 216 of the Contract Act or to affirm it. If he elects to affirm the principal will be liable to pay to the agent such charges only as are incidents of the transaction of purchase that is such as the vendor under the contract would have been liable to pay to the purchaser because what is affirmed is the relation of vendor and purchaser. But if those charges are annexed by the terms of the contract to the agency so as to regulate the relation of principal and agent a distinction between the relation of vendor and purchaser the agent is not entitled to recover them. Salomons v Pender 3 H & C 639 and Andrews v Ramay & Co (1903) 2 K B 635 referred to JOACHIMOV v MEHJEE VALLABHDAS (1909) I L P 34 Bom 292

s 222—

See CONTRACT (44)

I L R 41 Mad 1060

See CONTRIBUTION I L R 38 Cal 1

See LIMITATION ACT 1877 ARTS 61 63

116 I L R 34 Mad 167

s 226—

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT (XXVI of 1881) s 27

I L P 40 Mad 1171

CONTRACT ACT—contdss 227 and 237—Principal and agent

—Agent acting in course of his employment beyond scope of authority—Third party misled and damaged thereby—Company—Special damages Plaintiff on the 30th of May 1917 tendered at the East Indian Railway Parcels Office at Collectorganj Cawnpore for consignment to himself at Allahabad by passenger train four boxes of Chinese crackers. There was some discussion at the parcels office amongst the employees of the Company as to whether the consignment could be sent by passenger train but in the end it was accepted. The sender paid the freight at parcels rates and was given a receipt which he took away. After the sender had left the office however the employees there came to the conclusion that they could not after all send these goods by passenger train and accordingly detained them. When the consignment did not arrive the plaintiff who urgently needed the goods for the shabbarat festival on the 6th June started a correspondence by telegram and letter with various officers of the Railway Company which however only ended in his being told that the goods could not be sent by passenger train and they continued to remain at Cawnpore. Ultimately the goods were despatched by goods train on the 23rd of June and reached Allahabad on the 28th. The plaintiff was asked to pay Rs 19 9 as freight and take delivery of the goods. He refused to do either and the goods were in consequence sold by the Railway Company on the 26th September 1917 for Rs 31. The plaintiff then sued the Railway Company to recover Rs 900 5 0 this sum consisting of damages value of the goods and various expenses connected with the transaction. Held that even if the Company's employees at Cawnpore had exceeded their authority in accepting the consignment to be sent by passenger train there was a valid contract with the Company and it was their duty when it was found that the consignment could only be sent by goods train to despatch it by this means with all reasonable speed. But the Company was not liable for special damages for not delivering the goods before the 6th June as the plaintiff had not given notice that they were particularly required for that date. Held also that as the Company's agents had rightly or wrongly accepted the consignment on a freight of Rs 3 8 the Company was not justified in demanding a further sum of Rs 10 1 and in detaining the goods in default of payments. FAZAL ILAHI v EAST INDIAN RAILWAY COMPANY

I L R 43 All 623

s 230 (2)—

See SALE OF GOODS

I L R 42 Cal 1050

s 230 (2) 246—

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

I L R 39 Cal 502

ss 231 232—

See IMMOVABLE PROPERTY

I L R 31 Mad 143

s 233—

See EVIDENCE ACT 1872 ss 91 AND 92

I L P 45 Bom 1242

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

14 C V R 4

CONTRACT ACT—contd

s 235—

S e LIMITATION ACT (VI OF 1877) SEC
II APTS 36, 115 AND 120

I L R 38 Mad 275

Principal and Agent

—Untrue representation by agent as to extent of his authority—Liability of agent Held that s 235 of the Indian Contract Act 1872 applies as much to the case of a person who untrue represents the extent of the authority given to him by another as to that of a person who represents himself to be the agent of another when in fact he had no authority from him whatever. Collen v Wright 27 L J Q B 215 7 L & B 301, referred to. GANPAT PRASAD v SARJU (1911)

I L R 3- All 168

—s 238—Contract of sale—Person purporting to contract for undisclosed principal where no such principal exists is entitled to enforce performance A person who purports to contract for an undisclosed principal where no such principal exists is not entitled to enforce the performance of it. PANJU v JANKI DAS (1912)

18 C W N 263

s 237—

See COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1982) SS
76 77

I L R 26 All 416

ss 239 266—

See PARTNERSHIP

—ss 239 247 248—*Hindu law—Joint Hindu family—Family business started during minority of undivided son—Business continued after son became major—Debts incurred in business—Son whether partner and personally liable and for what debts—Adjudication as insolvent—Son whether liable to adjudication—Partner whether son becomes by helping during minority or taking part in business after majority—Admission of minor to benefits of partnership meaning of A Hindu father of the Nattukottai Chetty caste started a business during the minority of his undivided son it was continued after the son became a major no public notice of repudiation of partnership (if the son were a partner) was given by the son on his becoming a major it was found that the son was helping in the business during his minority and was taking an active part in the business after attaining majority in respect of the debts incurred in the business both the father and the son were adjudicated insolvents the son applied to set aside the order of adjudication passed against him contending that he was not liable to adjudication Held (by the Court) that the business should be held to be joint family business of the father and the son. Held by WALLIS C J and SPENCER J. SADASIYA AYYAR J dissenting) that the members of a joint Hindu family on attaining majority do not recede solely by virtue of ss 247 and 248 of the Contract Act or otherwise become personally liable for and liable to adjudication in respect of debts contracted in the joint family business during their minority. Meaning of admitted to the benefits of the partnership in s 247 considered. The fact that the minor helped in the joint family business is not enough to show admission within the meaning of the section. Small v Valluvali v Sameswar I L R 5 Dom 5. In the matter of Haroor Mulariad*

CONTRACT ACT—contdss 239 247, 248—concl'd

I L R 14 Bom 189 and other cases considered. Lutchmanan Chetty v Sivaprasada Moddiyar I L R 26 Calc 349 followed. Per SADASIYA AYYAR J. Both by the rules of Hindu law and by s 48 of the Contract Act (which also applies to this case) the son was personally liable for all the debts in respect of non payment of which he was adjudicated an insolvent. Partnership in a family business does not depend upon the consent of the partners in many cases but upon the family being a trading family and the business being conducted for the benefit of the family persons born into the family from time to time becoming partners as a matter of course. THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNER OF MADRAS v PALANIPPA CHETTY (1918)

I L R 41 Mad 82

ss 239 illus (a) 249 251 252—

See PARTNERSHIP I L R 39 Bom 761

s 247—

See SALE OF GOODS

I L R 40 Calc 523

—Insolvency—Position of minor partner in a firm A minor partner of a firm cannot as such be adjudged an insolvent. The creditors of the firm are not entitled to proceed against him personally but are restricted to his interest in the property of the firm. Sanyasi Charan Mandal v Asutosh Ghosh I L R 43 Calc 225 followed. JAGMOHAN NARAYAN v GRISH BABU

I L R 42 All 515

ss 247 248—

See HINDU LAW 23 C W N 500

ss 247, 253 254—

See MINOR

I L R 43 Calc 225

s 251—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) ss
19 20

I L R 37 Mad 146

ss 252 254 sub s (6)—

See PARTNERSHIP

I L R 42 Bom 380

—253—The stoppage of business or refusal of a partner to supply Capital whenever demand is made cannot be treated as dissolution of a partnership. The question whether there has been an abandonment by a partner is a matter of inference to be drawn of the facts of each case. HARIMOHAN PODDAR v SUDAR ON PODDAR

25 C W N 847

—Dissolution of partnership by death of a partner—Execution of a trust deed by a partner the other partner affixing his signature as an attesting witness if can be treated as a contract to the contrary—Representatives of deceased partner is entitled to profits of the business continued by the surviving partner A partnership business was carried on by two persons one of whom died in August 1915. On the day previous to his death he executed a trust deed for continuance of the business after his death and the other partner affixed his signature thereto only as an attesting witness but after the execution of the deed said that he would not carry on the business unless his remuneration was fixed. The trustees subsequently refused to carry on the business. The surviving partner continued it.

CONTRACT ACT—contd§ 253—contd

business alone Held—That by the execution of the trust deed and the signature of the other partner as an attesting witness either to there was no concluded contract to the contrary within the meaning of a 33 of the Contract Act and the partnership was dissolved by the death of one of the partners in August 1910 by virtue of the operation of cl (10) of the section Held further—That as to the profits made out of the business by the surviving partner subsequently the latter is bound to share them with the representatives of the deceased partner after making all just allowances including fair remuneration for his management in accordance with the maxim ac es orium sequitur si um principale MAHAMED KAMAL v HAJI HEDAYATULLA

26 C W N 463

§ 254 (3)—Suit for dissolution of partnership by a partner who has himself been guilty of misconduct Plaintiff sued defendant for dissolution of partnership on the ground of disputes between the partners and also misconduct and dishonesty on the part of the defendant. It was found that the plaintiff himself had been guilty of gross misconduct that he had destroyed the old account book had falsely prepared a balance sheet and made false entries in the books and had tried to deprive the firm of a valuable account. Held that a partner who is himself guilty of misconduct is not entitled to sue for dissolution of partnership vide s 204 of the Contract Act and that this suit must accordingly be dismissed. Civil Appeal No 8 of 1903 decided by a Division Bench of the Chief Court (unpublished) referred to—See Lindley on Partnership 7th edition pages 615-617. Attwood v Moude 3 Ch 373 dictum of Lord Cairns not followed PAM SIVON v I AM CHAND

I L R 1 Lah 8

§ 254 252—See PARTNERSHIP I L R 42 Bom 380

§ 261 263—Partners—Death of one of the partners—Debt incurred after his death by surviving partner to pay off price of goods ordered by both—Liability of estate of deceased partner The estate of a deceased partner is not liable to a creditor for a debt incurred by the surviving partner subsequent to the death of the former although the debt was incurred to take up bills of lading for and obtain delivery of goods which had been ordered by the partners during the lifetime of the deceased partner but did not come forward until after his death. S 203 of the Indian Contract Act cannot override the express provisions of a 261 of the same Act. The creditor will be entitled in respect of such a debt to a decree against the surviving partner personally and against the assets of the partnership in his hands. Engel v Miller (1903) 2 K B 272 referred to SREENI ANNAI v VAIKAVAN CHETTIAR (1918)

I L R 42 Mad 15

CONTRACT C I FSee CONVISCATION I L R 42 Cal 324See C I F CONTRACTS

I L R 42 Bom 473

See CONTRACT*CONTRACT C I F—contdSee CONTRACT TO PURCHASE AND SHIP GOODS I L R 41 Mad 1000See SALE OF GOODS

I L R	40 Bom	11
I L R	12 Bom	16
I L R	45 Cal	28
I L R	1 Lah	22

To purchase and ship goods—C I F contract nature of—C I F contract with ordinary vendor and with commission agent difference between—Outbreak of war effect of—Liability of vendor and vendee—Special terms as to risk in contract effect of—Indian Contract Act s 27 E & Co who were commission agents entered into a contract with the defendants under which they undertook to purchase and ship certain goods on account and risk of the defendants and did ship them under a C I F contract on board a German ship. Owing to the outbreak of war during their transit the goods did not arrive at their destination until long after due time. On defendants refusal to accept the goods they were sold by the plaintiff the liquidator of E & Co who sued the defendants for damages for breach of contract. The defendants denied the liability. Held that E & Co being commission agents of the defendants were entitled both under the special terms of the contract and under the general law of agency embodied in s 222 of the Indian Contract Act to recover damages for breach of contract. In an ordinary C I F contract between vendors and vendees the tender of a bill of lading after the contract of affreightment has been dissolved by the outbreak of war is not such a tender as the vendees are bound to accept and they are not bound to pay for the goods. Arachal Karbery & Co v Brijes Giron Jourdan & Co (1916) 1 L R 485 followed. Where however goods are purchased from a commission agent though he is regarded for some purposes as a principal as any other vendor under a C I F contract yet the relationship of principal and agent still subsists for all other purposes. The true principal is that the assimilation is only to be carried so far as is necessary to give necessary efficacy to the transaction. Ireland v Livington L R 5 H L 395. Cassabrou v GDB 12 Q B D 797. Williamson v Barbour 9 Q D 529 referred to HARRY MIZANPURA v K. ARUDLA SATHI (1918) I L R 41 Mad 1060

Addition of C I F to C I F in indent form—Bill of Exchange presented along with shipping documents and accepted by the merchant in India—Goods shipped on an alien ship—War between the Governments of the shipper and the consignee—The alien ship seized as a prize—Bill not paid at maturity the acceptor not receiving goods—Release of the alien ship and delivery of the goods to the acceptor—Acceptor refusing to pay interest and notarial charges held liable to pay the same—Bill of Exchange presented without shipping documents after the outbreak of war—Shipping documents becoming void after the outbreak of war—Consequent failure of consideration for the acceptance of the bill—Acceptance conditional—Non liability of the acceptor to pay the principal amount of the bill interest and notarial charges—The Indian Contract Act (XXI of 1872) s 60 not available. Instrumentalists Act (XXVI of 1931) plaintiffs were merchants doing business in Glasgow. The defendant merchants in Bombay ordered through the plaintiff's agent in Bombay fifty cases of aluminium circles to be delivered at Madras on C I F C I terms. The first shipment was to be of fourteen cases and the remaining ones of twelve cases each. The first consignment of fourteen cases was in due course received and paid for by the defendants. The second and third consignments of twelve cases each were shipped from a German port on the 16th and 25th July 1914 respectively on two German vessels SS Barenfels and SS Kybfels Hansa Line. The shipping documents in respect of the Barenfels goods were duly delivered to the defendants along with the bill of exchange which the defendants accepted on 31st July 1914. On the 9th October 1914 the plaintiffs drew another bill of exchange in respect of the Kybfels goods which the defendants accepted on the 10th November 1914. The shipping documents for the said goods were not however received by the defendants at the time of the acceptance of the bill but were tendered by the plaintiffs some time after the filing of the suit. The two bills became payable on the 2nd October 1914 and 12th January 1915 respectively but were not met by the defendants by payment. War being declared between Great Britain and Germany SS Barenfels was in August 1914 seized on the voyage as a prize and on her release by the Prize Court allowed to proceed to Madras where she unloaded her cargo on 8th June 1915 when the defendants obtained possession of their goods on payment of the principal amount due under the first bill but not the interest from the date of maturity to the date of payment. The plaintiffs sued on 2nd February 1915 to recover from the defendants (i) the interest due on the first bill from the date of maturity to the date of payment together with notarial charge and (ii) the amount due on the second bill with interest. Held (i) that under the first bill inasmuch as the defendants obtained all that they were entitled to obtain under the C I F contract when the bill was presented to them for acceptance that is to say good shipping documents the risk after the acceptance was entirely their own and that having refused payment on maturity they were liable to pay over due interest after that date and the notarial charges incurred by the plaintiffs (ii) that under the second bill inasmuch as the bill of lading had become a void contract before it was tendered to the defendants on the 10th November 1914 there was at that time a failure of consideration for the acceptance of the bill and they were not bound to pay at maturity. Arnhold Kerberg & Co v Blythe Green Soudrian & Co (1915) 2 K B 379 followed. It is an accepted principle of the maritime law that all contracts of affreightment are put an end to by the outbreak of hostilities between the Government of the shipper and the shipmaster. Esposito v Darden 7 Ll & Ll 763 followed. MAR HALL & Co v NAGIE CHAND GULCHAND (1916)

CONTRACT C I F—contd

I L R 42 Bom 473

Breach—Suit for difference—Plaintiff's failure to prove freight insurance etc—Award of nominal damages if just set. Where under a c.i.f. contract it was agreed between S and J that if S failed to take delivery of certain timber in time J was to dispose

CONTRACT C I F—concld

of the same locally and S was to pay him the difference in price and S having failed to take delivery J sold the timber by auction in a regular manner and sued for the difference but did not give clear evidence of the freight the insurance the loading charges and certain Port or Customs duties which had to be deducted. Held that as S called no evidence on those points at all and there was no suggestion on his side that these expenses would have wiped out the difference the Appellate Court in India was not justified in awarding to J nominal damages of Re 1 only. A. V. JOSEPH v P. SNEH BUX (1918)

23 C W N 601

Defendants accepted shipping documents and drafts for the amount due but refused to take delivery on the ground that the goods were not in accordance with the description on the indents which however shewed the Contract C I F and that the indentors were bound to pay the drafts at maturity and if they had any claim in regard to the nature of the goods they would bring it in manner laid down in the indent. Held that the defendants could not in answer to the claim upon the draft plead failure of consideration because what they contracted for were shipping documents not the goods. STIRLING MALCOLM AND CO v JAWAJA NATH BHAGWAN DAS

I L R 1 Lah 22

CONTRACT FOR SALE

See CONTRACT

See SALE OF GOODS

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) s 92
I L R 38 Mad 514

See SALE I L R 41 Calc 148

By Co purchase of his interest—

See HINDU LAW I L R 44 Bom 967

of cotton under Bombay Cotton Trade Association Rules—

See AWARD I L R 44 Bom 780

Vendor's interest in the property sold ceasing to exist by Government Resolution—Vendor becoming entitled to other interest—Vendor cannot sue to recover the other right—Pre-emption—Personal right—Transfer—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 6. The defendant who was occupant of certain Survey Numbers had under a Government Resolution a right of pre-emption in stamps of trees standing on the lands sold the stamps to the plaintiff. After the date of the sale Government issued another Resolution by which the right of pre-emption was abolished and the occupant was awarded only 20 per cent of the net proceeds of the sale of the stamps by the Forest Department. This percentage was stated to be "a gift from Government and subject to no tribunal. The plaintiff sued to recover the percentage from the defendant which the latter received from Government in respect of the stamps sold by him. Held that the plaintiff was not entitled to recover anything from the defendant for what the plaintiff was claiming was a gift or bonus from Government to the defendant under a Government Resolution which gift or bonus was not and could not have been in the contemplation of the parties when the contract was entered into and which by itself was not transferable. The right

CONTRACT FOR SALE—concl

of cotton under Fomlay Cotton Trade Association Rules—concl

of pre-emption is a purely personal right which cannot be transferred to any one except the owner of the property affected thereby. Jasvanti v SAKHARAN GANU (1911) 1 L R 36 Bom 139

Construction—Compulsory to son of time—1 p to Wednesday—Until —Evidence Act (1 of 1873) s 91—Oral evidence On 1.11.1911 the defendant offered to sell his motor car to the plaintiff company in these words "Nevertheless I am willing to hand over the car to you against a cheque for Rs 3120. As I intend advertising the car unless you wish to have it please understand that my offer only holds good up to Wednesday next as the time I have is limited. The plaintiff company sometime on Wednesday, the 10th May, tendered Rs 3120 to the defendant and a led for delivery of the car in accordance with the offer of the 10th May. The defendant however refused the tender contending that his offer expired on Tuesday the 10th May. Held that upon the true construction of the letter of the 10th May and the words up to Wednesday the offer remained open until mid night on Wednesday and did not expire at mid night on Tuesday. The King v Steen 5 East 211 Bellhouse v Mellor 4 H & N 116 Isaac v Royal Insurance Co L R 3 Ex 226 and Rogers v Davis 8 Ir L R 399 considered MITRO POLYAN ENGINEERING WORKS v DEERLINGER (1917) 1 L R 45 Cal 481

CONTRACT OF CARRIAGE
See COMMON CARRIER LIABILITY OF
1 L R 38 Cal 28

CONTRACT OF EMPLOYMENT

See BROKER 1 L R 42 Cal 1050

CONTRACT OF MARRIAGE

See MARRIAGE CONTRACT OF
1 L R 39 Bom 682

See CONTRACT (21)
1 L R 42 Bom 499

breach of—
See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS
ACT (IX of 1887) SCH II ART 3 (g),
1 L R 38 Mad 274

CONTRACT OF GUARANTEE

See CONTRACT ACT 1872 ss 124 to 147

See PRINCIPAL AND SURETY

CONTRACT OF SERVICE

See SCHOOLMASTER
1 L R 44 Cal 917

See SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA
1 L R 38 Cal 378

See TRUST 1 L R 41 Cal 19

See WORKMEN & BAZARIES OF CONTRACT
ACT 1924 15 C W N 15

CONTRACT TO ASSIGN DOCUMENT

Damages awardable though no loss is proved—Measure of damages. A as the agent of B, took from D a debtor of B for

CONTRACT TO ASSIGN DOCUMENT—concl

the debt due a bill in favour of C. A undertook to get the bill endorsed in favour of B by C. A having failed to do so for more than a year B sued A claiming as damages the amount of the bill with interest. At the settlement of issues A produced the promissory note endorsed in favour of B. Held that B's suit was maintainable and that the endorsement after the suit was filed could not defeat B's claim. The contract to obtain the assignment not having been performed within a reasonable time the contract was broken and the right to sue accrued before the suit was brought. It could not be said that B had sustained no damage which he was entitled to recover as the bill standing in the name of a third party prevented him from suing on the original obligation. A promissory note in consideration of a pre-existing debt is only a conditional payment and if the promissory note remains in the hands of the original payee when it is dishonoured the original debt revives. If however the promissory note had been endorsed to a third party a suit on the original debt would not be maintainable. A delior In re (1908) 1 L R 344 referred to. It is not necessary that B should prove that D had become insolvent or that the money could not be recovered if a suit had been brought against D. The amount recoverable will be the amount for which the promissory note was executed. SUBRAMANIAM CHETTI v MUTHIA CHETTI (1917) 1 L R 35 Mad 639

CONTRACT TO LEND OF BOPROW

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE.
1 L R 43 Cal 59

CONTRACT WITH ENEMY

Status of hostile firms
—Common law doctrine—Trading licenses granted to hostile firms their effect—Licenses granted to manager of a firm not ultra vires—The Hostile Foreigners Trading Order of 1914—The Indian Councils Act of 1861 s 93—Act I of 1914—Interest made payable under contracts entered into before war—Suspension of interest after war—American cases though not authoritative noted on a note point. The existence of a state of war between the respective countries of the debtor and the creditor suspends the accrual of interest when it would ordinarily be recoverable as damages and not as a substantive part of the debt the reason being that a party should not be called upon to pay damages for retaining money which it was his duty to withhold. The accrual of interest is equally suspended, even when the alien enemy creditor remains in the country of the debtor until the debtor has actual notice that the principal can safely be paid without the possibility of its causing for the benefit of the enemy during the continuance of hostilities. PADGETT v JAMES HORNUM (1916) 1 L R 41 Bom 390

Forward cotton contracts—Manager of an Indian branch of enemy firm entering into contracts prior to war—Pledge of goods as security by manager before and after war—Settlement by manager of pre-war contracts by cross-contract—Agreement by Liquidator of an Indian branch firm valid—Liquidator acting under Controller of Hostile of war—Contract of Trading C

CONTRACT C I F—contd

defendants' merchants in Bombay ordered through the plaintiffs' agent in Bombay fifty cases of aluminium circles to be delivered at Madras on C I F C terms. The first shipment was to be of fourteen cases and the remaining ones of twelve cases each. The first consignment of fourteen cases was in due course received and paid for by the defendants. The second and third consignments of twelve cases each were shipped from a German port on the 16th and 25th July 1914 respectively on two German vessels SS Barenfels and SS Kybfels' Hansa Lane. The shipping documents in respect of the Barenfels goods were duly delivered to the defendants along with the bill of exchange which the defendants accepted on 31st July 1914. On the 9th October 1914 the plaintiffs drew another bill of exchange in respect of the Kybfels goods which the defendants accepted on the 10th November 1914. The shipping documents for the said goods were not however received by the defendants at the time of the acceptance of the bill but were tendered by the plaintiffs some time after the filing of the suit. The two bills became payable on the 2nd October 1914 and 12th January 1915 respectively but were not met by the defendants by payment. War being declared between Great Britain and Germany SS Barenfels was in August 1914 seized on the voyage as a prize and on her release by the Prize Court allowed to proceed to Madras where she unloaded her cargo on 8th June 1915 when the defendants obtained possession of their goods on payment of the principal amount due under the first bill but not the interest from the date of maturity to the date of payment. The plaintiffs sued on 2nd February 1915 to recover from the defendants (i) the interest due on the first bill from the date of maturity to the date of payment together with notarial charges and (ii) the amount due on the second bill with interest. Held (i) that under the first bill inasmuch as the defendants obtained all that they were entitled to obtain under the C I F contract when the bill was presented to them for acceptance that as to any good shipping documents the risk after the acceptance was entirely their own and that having refused payment on maturity they were liable to pay over due interest after that date and the notarial charges incurred by the plaintiffs (ii) that under the second bill inasmuch as the bill of lading had become a void contract before it was tendered to the defendant on the 10th November 1914 there was at that time a failure of consideration for the acceptance of the bill and they were not bound to pay at maturity. Arnhold Kerberg & Co v Blythe Green Jordan & Co (1915) 2 K B 379 followed. It is an accepted principle of the maritime law that all contracts of affreightment are put an end to by the outbreak of hostilities between the Governments of the shipper and the shipmaster. Esposito v Bowden 7 El & Bl 763 followed. MARSHALL & CO v NAGIN CHAND FULCHAND (1916)

I L R 42 Bom 473

Eratch—Suit for difference—Plaintiffs' failure to prove freight insurance etc—Award of nominal damages if suit fails Where under a c i f contract it was agreed between S and J that if S failed to take delivery of certain timber in time J was to dispose

CONTRACT C I F—concl

of the same locally and S was to pay him the difference in price and S having failed to take delivery J sold the timber by auction in a regular manner and sued for the difference but did not give clear evidence of the freight the insurance the loading charges and certain Port or Customs duties which had to be deducted. Held that as S called no evidence on those points at all and there was no suggestion on his side that these expenses would have wiped out the difference the Appellate Court in India was not justified in awarding to J nominal damages of Re 1 only. A V JOSEPH v P SHEW BUX (1918)

23 C W N 601

Defendants accepted shipping documents and drafts for the amount due but refused to take delivery on the ground that the goods were not in accordance with the description on the indent which however showed the Contract C I F and that the indentors were bound to pay the drafts at maturity and if they had any claim in regard to the nature of the goods they would bring it in manner laid down in the indent. Held that the defendants could not in answer to the claim upon the draft plead failure of consideration because what they contracted for were shipping documents not the goods. STIFFLING MASON AND CO v JAWAJ NATH BHAGWAN DAS

I L R 1 Lah 22

CONTRACT FOR SALE

See CONTRACT

See SALE OF GOODS

See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) s 97
I L R 38 Mad 514

See SALE I L R 41 Cal 148

By Co-purchase of his interest—

See HINDU LAW I L R 44 Bom 967

of cotton under Bombay Cotton Trade Association Rules—

See AWARD I L R 44 Bom 780

Vendor's interest in the property sold ceasing to exist by Government Resolution—Vendor becoming entitled to other interest—Vendor cannot sue to recover the other right—Pre-emption—Perpetual right—Transfer—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 6 The defendant who was occupant of certain Survey Numbers had under a Government Resolution a right of pre-emption in stumps of trees standing on the lands sold the stumps to the plaintiff. After the date of the sale Government issued another Resolution by which the right of pre-emption was abolished and the occupant was awarded only 20 per cent of the net proceeds of the sale of the stumps by the Forest Department. This percentage was stated to be "a gift from Government and subject to notribution. The plaintiff sued to recover the percentage from the defendant which the latter received from Government in respect of the stumps sold by him. Held that the plaintiff was not entitled to recover anything from the defendant for what the plaintiff was claiming was a gift or bonus from Government to the defendant under a Government Resolution which gift or bonus was not and could not have been in the contemplation of the parties when the contract was entered into and which by itself was not transferable. The right

CONTRACT FOR SALE—conold

of cotton under Fomlay Cotton Trade Association Rules—conold

of preemption is a purely personal right which cannot be transferred to any one except the owner of the property affected thereby JASUDIN V SAKHARAM CAHE B (1911) 1 L R 36 Bom 139

*Construction—Computation of time—Up to Wednesday—Until —Evidence 1st (1 of 18) s 91—Oral evidence
On 17th May 1917 the defendant offered to sell his motor car to the plaintiff company in these words: "Nevertheless I am willing to hand over the car to you against a cheque for Rs 3100." As I intend advertising the car unless you wish to have it please understand that my offer only holds good up to Wednesday next as the time I have is limited. The plaintiff company sometime on Wednesday the 16th May tendered Rs 3100 to the defendant and a bill for delivery of the car in accordance with the offer of the 17th May. The defendant however refused the tender contending that his offer expired on Tuesday the 15th May. Held that upon the true construction of the letter of the 17th May and the words up to Wednesday the offer remained open until midnight on Wednesday and did not expire at midnight on Tuesday. *The King v Stevens 5 East 244 Bellhouse v Mellor 4 H & L 116 Isaacs v Royal Insurance Co L R 5 Ex 296 and Rogers v Davis 3 Ir L R 399 considered Metro-Foliant Engineering Works v Derrunner (1917) 1 L R 45 Cal 481

CONTRACT OF CARRIAGE

See COMMON CARRIER LIABILITIES OF
1 L R 38 Cal 28

CONTRACT OF EMPLOYMENT

See BROKER 1 L R 42 Cal 1050

CONTRACT OF MARRIAGE

See MARRIAGE CONTRACT OF
1 L R 39 Bom 682

See CONTRACT (24)
1 L R 42 Bom 499

breach of—

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS
ACT (IX OF 1887) SCH II ART 35 (g),
1 L R 38 Mad 274

CONTRACT OF GUARANTEE

See CONTRACT ACT 1872 SS 174 to 147
See PRINCIPAL AND SURETY

CONTRACT OF SERVICE

See SCHOOLMASTER
1 L R 44 Cal 917

See SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA.
1 L R 38 Cal 378

See TRUST 1 L R 41 Cal 19

See WORKMEN'S BREACHES OF CONTRACT
ACT 1924 15 C W N 15

CONTRACT TO ASSIGN DOCUMENT

Damages awardable though no loss is proved—Measure of damages A as the agent of B took from D a debtor of B for

CONTRACT TO ASSIGN DOCUMENT—conold

the debt due A bill in favour of C A undertook to get the bill endorsed in favour of B by C A having failed to do so for more than a year B sued A claiming as damages the amount of the bill with interest. At the settlement of issues A produced the promissory note endorsed in favour of B. Held that B's suit was maintainable and that the endorsement after the suit was filed could not defeat B's claim. The contract to obtain the assignment not having been performed within a reasonable time the contract was broken and the right to sue accrued before the suit was brought. It could not be said that B had sustained no damage which he was entitled to recover as the bill standing in the name of a third party prevented him from suing on the original obligation. A promissory note in consideration of a pre-existing debt is only a conditional payment and if the promissory note remains in the hands of the original payee when it is dishonoured the original debt revives. If however the promissory note had been endorsed to a third party a suit on the original debt would not be maintainable. A debtor In re (1908) 1 K B 355 referred to. It is not necessary that B should prove that D had become insolvent or that the money could not be recovered if a suit had been brought against D. The amount recoverable will be the amount for which the promissory note was executed. Subramanian Chetty v Muthia Chetty (1910) 1 L R 35 Mad 639

CONTRACT TO LEND OF BOPROW

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE
1 L R 43 Cal 59

CONTRACT WITH ENEMY

Status of hostile firms
Common law doctrine—Trading licenses granted to hostile firms their effect—Licenses granted to manager of a firm not ultra vires—The Hostile Foreigners Trading Order of 1914—The Indian Councils Act of 1861 s 23—Act of 1915—Interest made payable under contracts entered into before war—Suspension of interest after war—American cases though not authoritative noted on a note point. The existence of a state of war between the respective countries of the debtor and the creditor suspends the accrual of interest when it would ordinarily be recoverable as damages and not as a substantive part of the debt the reason being that a party should not be called upon to pay damages for retaining money which it was his duty to withhold. The accrual of interest is equally suspended even when the alien enemy creditor remains in the country of the debtor until the debtor has actual notice that the principal can safely be paid without the possibility of its enuring for the benefit of the enemy during the continuance of hostilities. PADOETT v JAMSHETJI HORMUSJI (1916)

1 L R 41 Bom 390

Forward cotton contracts—Manager of an Indian branch of enemy firm entering into contracts prior to war—Pledge of goods as security by manager before and after war—Settlement by manager of pre-war contracts by cross-contracts—Agreement by Liquidator of an Indian branch of enemy firm valid—Liquidator acting under instruction of Controller of Hostile Trading Concerns—Effect of war—Contract of

CONTRACT WITH ENEMY—contd

agency whether terminated by war—Payment made by Liquidator in settlement of a claim cannot be recovered—Mistake of law—Pleadings—The Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 21 65 and 72—The Royal Proclamations of August 1914 Nos 1 and 2—Treasury Announcements—Hostile Foreigners (Trading) Order of November 1914—The Enemy Trading Act (X of 1916) ss 4 5 and 13—Controller can exercise all powers conferred on Official Liquidators by s 179 of the Indian Companies Act without sanction of Government—Counter claim. The plaintiffs W and Sons were a German firm with its head office in Germany and a branch office at Bombay managed by a German named Zoller. Prior to the outbreak of war between Great Britain and Germany on 4th August 1914 the plaintiffs had employed the defendants an Indian firm in Bombay as their guaranteed brokers and maccadams on the latter depositing with them Rs 50,000 by way of guarantee. In July 1914 certain cotton contracts were entered into between the plaintiffs and the defendants for January to March 1915 delivery. On 3rd August 1914 the plaintiffs returned to the defendants Rs 40,000 out of their deposit amount. On the 5th August 1914 the plaintiffs and the defendants entered into a written agreement (in pursuance of an arrangement arrived at between them the previous day) by which the plaintiffs pledged 799 bales of blankets belonging to them to defendants as security for the balance of the deposit amount and the differences on the forward contracts. On the 27th August 1914 Zoller further pledged certain cotton bales to the defendants by way of additional security. On 3rd September 1914 the forward contracts were closed by Zoller by cross contracts with the defendants at the prevailing market rates. On 5th September 1914 Zoller was interned and one Tombroff was appointed Liquidator by Government who in the course of his duties took directions from the Controller of Hostile Trading Concerns. In July 1915 the Liquidator with the assent of the Controller agreed with the defendants that they should sell the blankets and apply the sale proceeds towards the payment of their debt for the cotton differences. In or about September 1915 the Liquidator after communicating with the Controller entered into a further agreement with the defendants which in effect was that the Liquidator was to sell the cotton and the defendants were to give delivery to the purchasers and to allow the Liquidator to receive the purchase money on the express condition that the balance of the defendants claim remaining after the realisation of the blankets was to be paid out of the proceeds of the cotton. The sales of the blankets and the cotton were duly effected. The sale proceeds of the blankets sold by the defendants being insufficient to pay off the whole amount of the debt due to them the defendants sent to the Liquidator on 10th March 1916 a final statement of account showing a balance of Rs. 47,194 due to them and asked to be paid out of the sale proceeds of cotton in the hands of the Liquidator. On 12th April 1916 the Liquidator repudiated his liability to pay that amount or any alleging that the original pledge of the blankets on the 5th August 1914 was illegal and void and that he on the other hand was entitled to the sale proceed in the hands of the defendants as pledge after deducting therefrom Rs. 10,000 being the balance of the

CONTRACT WITH ENEMY—contd

deposit due to them and certain expenses incurred by them. On 6th August 1917 the plaintiffs by their Liquidator sued the defendants for the amount of the sale proceeds of the blankets containing inter alia that the pre war contracts of July 1914 and the pre war pledge (if any) of the 4th August 1914 became ipso facto void on the outbreak of war that the further pledges given on the 5th August and the 27th August 1914 were similarly void that the cross contracts of the 3rd September 1914 being tainted with the illegality of the pre war contracts were also void or amounted to the settlement of a nullity that Zoller's agency terminated ipso facto on the outbreak of war and that therefore he had no power to enter into any of the subsequent transactions and that under s 65 or s 72 of the Indian Contract Act they were entitled to recover payments made towards the satisfaction of the defendants debt the illegality of the transactions not being discovered by them till November 1915. The defendants resisted the plaintiffs claim for refunding the money paid and counterclaimed a large amount due at the foot of the account between the parties. On the figures agreed at the trial the plaintiffs claim was for Rs 69,467 9 0 and the defendants counterclaim for Rs 58,440 9 0 (the plaintiffs admitting their liability for Rs. 10,000 being the balance of the guarantee amount deposited by the defendants). The trial Judge Macdonald J dismissed the plaintiffs suit and decreed the defendants counterclaim holding (1) that although the pre war contracts and the two pledges became void on the outbreak of war the settlement of the contracts by cross contract was a legitimate transaction as merely fixing the damages for the breach of contracts of purchase which both parties mistakenly believed could still be legally enforced (1a) that Zoller's agency did not terminate on the outbreak of war and (1b) that the Liquidator having agreed that the amount realised by the sale of the blankets and the cotton bales he set off against the satisfaction of the debt due to the defendants that amounted to a payment which the plaintiffs were not entitled to recover either under s 65 or s 72 of the Indian Contract Act the latter section not applying to a mistake of law. The plaintiffs appealed—Held confirming the decision of the trial Judge (1) that assuming but without deciding that the plaintiffs contentions as to the effect of the war on the transactions in question were correct the legal position of the Indian branch of an enemy firm up to November 1915 was in view of the Proclamations and orders then in force sufficiently doubtful as to afford some justification for the view that the transactions were valid (2) that the Liquidator in the course of the winding up was entitled to enter into binding agreements with the defendants for the sale of the blankets and cotton and the application of the sale proceeds in discharge of the defendants debt irrespective of any disability attaching to Zoller (3) that the acts of the Liquidator done with the approval of the Controller were validated under s 13 of the Enemy Trading Act X of 1916 (4) that assuming that there was a mistake of law which was neither pleaded nor proved the agreements entered into by the Liquidator with the defendants were contracts within the meaning of the Indian Contract Act and could not be avoided under s 21 of the Act as being made under any mistake of law and that accordingly

CONTRACT WITH ENEMY—concl

the payments made to the defendants were made under the binding contract and could not be recovered under s 2 of the Act (5) that s. 65 of the Indian Contract Act did not apply as the payments were made under valid agreements but assuming that the payments were made under the pre-war contracts and pledges ending 3rd September 1914 the word agreement as used in the section did not apply to the pre-war contracts, for they were contracts and not agreements, and that the words do covered to be void were not applicable to the subsequent agreements as the parties knew all the material facts (6) that no advantage within the meaning of s 65 was received by the defendants under the pre-war contracts when ex hypothesi they became void on the outbreak of war and payments were made to the defendants in 1915 under subsequent agreements with the Liquidator (7) that the defendants were entitled to succeed on their counterclaim inasmuch as they changed their position with regard to the cotton in their possession on the faith of a promise made to them by the Liquidator and that promise was binding in law li L Ingle Limited v Monmouth Insurance Company (1915) 1 K B 271, Halsey v Eschenfeld (1916) 2 K B 707, Schaffens v Goldberg (1916) 1 K B 781, Holt v Lord, Upton Council v Holmworth Rural Council (1901) 2 Ch 69 referred to WOLF & SONS v DADYBA KHUMJI & Co (1919)

I L R 41 Bom 631

CONTRACT WITH GOVERNMENT

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (IX OF 1887) SCH II ART 3
I L P 37 Mad 533

CONTRADICTORY STATEMENT

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
I L R 37 Cal 618

CONTRIBUTION

See COMPANY I L R 40 All 45
See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) ss 69 AND 70 I L R 39 Mad 795

See CO SHARER 15 C W N 332See COSTS I L R 40 All 672

See HINDU LAW—(DEBT)
I L R 37 Mad 458

See LIMITATION
I L R 39 Mad 288

See MORTGAGE I L R 40 Mad 968
I L R 38 All 92
I L R 43 All 42

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE
I L R 44 Cal 573

See TORT 4 Pat L J 486

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 89
I L R 33 All 387 708

I L R 36 All 272

I L R 37 All 101

I L R 43 All 589

cause of action for—

See LIMITATION I L R 39 Mad 253

suit for—

See LIMITATION I L R 39 Mad 253CONTRIBUTION—*contdsuit for—*concl*See RENT DECREE 14 C W N 699

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (IX OF 1887) s 20 SCH II ART 41
I L R 41 All 51

— suit for in respect of repairs to a jointly owned well—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 SCH ARTS 61 AND 116 I L R 44 Bom 591

1 — Attachment—Purchase of part of attached property by a third party who satisfies the whole claim—No right of contribution against the remainder acquired by the purchaser An attaching creditor does not obtain by his attachment any charge or lien upon the attached property Where therefore a third party purchased a portion of certain property under attachment and satisfied the whole of the creditor's claim Held that the purchaser acquired no right of contribution as against the remainder of the attached property Moti Lal v Karabuddin 1 L R 95 Cal 179, Peacock v Madan Gopal 1 L P 29 Cal 478 and Muller v Lakhmani Dobi 1 L R 78 Cal 419 referred to LALTA PRASAD v ZAHUR UN DIN (1910) I L R 32 All 479

2 — Mortgage sale—Sale of estate by consent on one of co mortgagors paying off decree—Liability of other co mortgagors to contribute—Equity—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 69—Charge Where a mortgage decree having been passed against several persons a sale of the mortgaged property took place and then one of the mortgagors paid off the decree holder and by consent the sale was set aside Held in a suit by him against the other mortgagors for contribution that although the defendants were not liable under s 69 of the Contract Act the plaintiff not having paid the money to prevent the sale the defendants who kept the property were bound in equity to pay their share of the money which the plaintiff had paid to release the property The amount was declared to be a charge on the shares of the defendants PARSHU NARAY SINGH BAHADUR v BABU BENI SINGH (1909)

14 C W N 361

3 — Purchasers of mortgaged property—Mode of calculating amount as between purchasers of different items of mortgaged property M mortgaged 3 items of property to one S for Rs 1300 Two of these items were sold to two persons for Rs 1000 and the deeds of sale provided that the amounts for which the profits were sold should be paid to the mortgagee The sale of the third item was for cash but the property was not sold free of encumbrance and there was no contract between M and the third purchaser that the lands sold to the other purchasers should be liable for the Rs 1000 of the mortgaged money S assigned his mortgage and the assignee obtained a decree for the full amount due on the mortgage and in execution the properties sold to the third purchaser were brought to sale and the third purchaser paid up the amount to avoid the sale In a suit by the third purchaser for contribution it was contended by the third purchaser that the amount of Rs 1200 should be borne by the other two purchasers and the rateable contribution on all the properties should be only in respect of the balance left after deducting

COPYRIGHT—concl'd

avail himself of other peoples industry Nor will he be allowed to take quotations from judgments or facts obtained by another from the records of a case The principle is that whilst all are entitled to resort to common sources of information, none are entitled to save themselves trouble and expense by availing themselves for their own profit of other mens works subject to copyright and entitled to protection Lewis v Fullerton 2 Bear 6 8 followed JOGESH CHANDRA CHAUDHURI v MOHIN CHANDRA RAI (1914) 18 C W N 1078

Preparation by a member of the Board of Studies Allahabad University of a list of graduated selection from different authors for certain examinations—Publication by the Syndicate of a syllabus containing amongst other items the selection already referred—Publication of same in book form by a book seller—Infringement of copyright A member of the Board of Studies of the Allahabad University prepared at the request of the convener a list of graduated selections from standard Persian authors for the use of candidates for certain examinations of the University In preparing these lists he spent considerable labour learning and skill The Board of Studies after due consideration adopted with slight modifications the selections shown in the list as the subject for those examinations in Persian and published the lists for the information of the public generally and of the candidates concerned specially Subsequently to this B a firm of publishers compiled books from the original authors according to these lists Held that A had no copyright in the lists as by laying the result of his labours before the Board of Studies he placed the lists unreservedly at the disposal of the University authorities MUTAHMAD ABDUL JALIL v RAN DAYAL (1916) 1 L R 38 All 484

Reasons for acquisition of copy right in a compilation like a grammar—Novel mode of arrangement—Joint Hindu family—Inheritance of copy right in a work compiled by the father There is no reason why a copy right may not be acquired by the compiler of a book like a grammar if the arrangement of the subject matter is novel and has not been employed in previous books of the same nature Plaintiff compiled a book of this nature whereupon defendant produced a similar work He adopted special arrangement of the plaintiffs book copied a large number of pages verbatim from it added a small amount of matter of his own and slightly altered the title Held that the infringement of plaintiffs copy right extended to the whole of the book and could not be limited to the pages actually copied from plaintiffs compilation Held also that whether or not a copy right would in a joint Hindu family pass by survivorship the sons of a Hindu father who had acquired the copy right were entitled to sue respecting its infringement GURUR BAKSHI AND SONS v JWALA PRA AD SINGHAL 1 L R 43 All 412

COPYRIGHT ACT (XX OF 1847)

ss 7 and 12—Copyright—Suit for damages for infringement of copyright—Jurisdiction A suit to recover damages for infringement of copy right does not lie in the Court within the jurisdiction of which the plaintiff but not the defendant resides Neither is the possessor of a pirated copy

COPYRIGHT ACT (XX OF 1847)—concl'd

ss 7 and 12—concl'd of a copyright work bound to deliver it to the owner of the copyright whenever he (the owner) may happen to reside RAM KISHAN v PARTI LAZ (1910) 1 L R 33 All 24

COPYRIGHT ACT (111 OF 1914)

See COPYRIGHT 18 C W N 1078

CO RESPONDENT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XL R 22

1 L R 37 Eom 511

absence of—

See DIVORCE 1 L P 45 Calc 525

CORPORATION

See GURNISHEE 4 Pat L J 141

See SALE 1 L R 43 Calc 790

Senate of a University—

See UNIVERSITY LECTURERSHIP
1 L R 41 Calc 518

suit against—

See PLAINT 1 L R 43 Calc 441

CORPORATION SOLE

See MUTT HEAD OF
1 L R 38 Mad 356

CORROBORATION

See ACCOMPLICE 1 L R 38 Calc 559

See CONFESSIONS OF CO ACCUSED
1 L R 42 Calc 789

necessity of—

See ACCOMPLICE 1 L R 38 Calc 90

CORRUPTION

See OFFICIAL CORRUPTION

CO SHARER

See ACQUESCENCE 1 L R 37 All 412

See AGRA TENANCY ACT 1901 s 109

1 L R 42 All 311

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT s 171

15 C W N 512 782

185 1 L R 38 Calc 270

See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND

1 L R 40 Calc 982

See EXPROPRIATORY TENANT

1 L R 35 All 27

See HINDU LAW (PARTITION)

L R 41 I A 217

See ISARDAR

1 L R 43 Calc 1078

See MAROMEDAN LAW—PRE EMPTION

1 L R 39 Calc 913

See CO OWNER

See CO FARGENEE

See PARTITION 15 C W N 375

See PARTITION ACT (IV OF 1893)

15 C W N 552 555 (foot note)

CO SHARER—contd

See PENAL CODE s 447

I L R 36 All 474

See PRE EMPTION I L R 33 All 260

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE

I L R 44 Calc 573

See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT (III of 1901) s 118

I L R 39 All 707

— liability of —

See PENAL CODE s 230B

I L R 32 All 116

— payment by —

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE

I L R 41 Calc 1092

— suit by —

See BENGAL TENANT ACT s 188

I L R 38 Calc 270

1 ——— Injunction—Co sharer exclusive enjoyment of portion of property by—Injunction if may be granted where no injury to other co sharers found Where a co sharer had taken possession of a small plot of unoccupied land and had erected a tinshed thereon and it was found that by such exclusive possession his other co sharers had not suffered any substantial injury Held that no mandatory injunction should be issued requiring him to restore the land to its original condition. Watson & Co v Ram Chand Dutt I L R 171 A 110 s c 1 I L R 18 Calc 10 Dalbar Sardar v Hosein Ali Bepari I L R 26 Calc 533 Atarjan Bibee v Sheikh Ashak 4 C W N 788 Lachmeswar Singh v Manowar Hossain I L R 19 Calc 253 referred to BRAMMOYI CHOWDHURANI v GORI MOHAN ROY CHOWDHURI (1910) 15 C W N 188

2 ——— Right to contribution—Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 43 69 70—Rent paid by co sharer in wrongful possession of entire jote—Payment in good faith—Deduction on account of mesne profits—Payment whether gratuitous Defendant's title to an eight annas share in a jote having been declared in a suit brought by him against the plaintiff the latter sued the former for a moiety of the rent recovered from him by the landlord when he was in exclusive possession of the jote Held that in such cases the principle in Dakhina Mohan v Sarada Mohan I L R 4 Bom 643 applies and the plaintiff would be entitled to recover if the payment was made by him in good faith, subject however to a deduction on account of mesne profits realised by him in respect of the defendant's share. If the payment was made with a view to creating title in the entire jote it could not have been made in good faith It would be a voluntary payment and one not made lawfully within s 70 of the Contract Act Devi Himat Singh v Bhavabhai I L R 4 Bom 613 Bamasundari v Adhar Chandra I L R 22 Calc 23 Tulvel Chand v Saudamini I L R 4 Calc 668 referred to JIVAT ALI v FATEH ALI MATHAR (1911)

15 C W N 332

Cf CONTRIBUTION

I L R 45 Calc. C91

3 ——— Co-sharer landlord if may sue for his share of rent when no separate collection—Suit for apportionment if lies—prayer

CO-SHARER—contd

for apportionment in rent suit if entertainable—Parties—Decree for entire rent in favour of all co sharers when may be made A co sharer landlord can maintain a suit for his share of the rent separately if there is an arrangement for separate collection without a division of the lands amongst the co sharers The case of Paj Narain Mitter v Fladasi Bag I L R 27 Calc 479 does not lay down that there must be a division of the lands before a co sharer can maintain a separate suit for his share of the rent A sale of a share in an estate which has been let out in its entirety to a tenant does not of itself necessarily effect of a severance of the tenure or an apportionment of rent but if the purchaser desires such severance or apportionment he must give the tenant due notice to that effect and then if an amicable apportionment cannot be made by arrangement between all the parties concerned the purchaser may bring a suit against the tenant for the purpose of having the rent apportioned making all the co sharers parties to the suit Such an apportionment can be asked and effected in the rent suit itself But where in such a suit the plaintiff did not ask for an apportionment though he made all his co sharers parties the plaintiff was entitled to ask for a decree for the entire rent in favour of all the co sharers SHYAMA CHURN DAS v JOGES CHANDRA PAT (1912)

16 C W N 774

4 ——— Suit to recover joint possession Exclusive possession by a co-sharer—Where possession wrongful at its inception co sharers if may recover joint possession The defendant was in wrongful occupation as a tenant of a plot of land belonging to the plaintiffs and other co sharers Subsequently the defendant purchased the share of one of these co sharers and thus became interested in the land as a proprietor In a suit by his co sharers for joint possession of the land in suit Held that the plaintiff's occupation being originally wrongful the subsequent acquisition of joint title did not entitle the defendant to resist the plaintiff's claim for joint possession Watson & Co v Ram Chand Dutt I L R 18 Calc 10 distinguished. SHAKH SAMARADDI v SHYAMA CHURN SEN (1911)

16 C W N 251

5 ——— Ouster By one co sharer what amounts to—Claim and exercise of exclusive title under a lease from a stranger—When co-sharer in possession may keep exclusive possession—Change of case in second appeal—Remand prayer for The five sixths owners of an estate A sued the remaining one sixth owners for recovery of joint possession with the latter of certain lands within the estate The latter in defence stated the lands in suit were part of estate B which the owners of that estate had given them in lease Thus having been found against in the Court of first appeal the defendants in second appeal prayed to be allowed to set up the defence that they had been in occupation of the lands as co sharers and were cultivating the same as such with the consent of the plaintiffs The prayer was disallowed and held that this was a case of exclusion of co sharers by other co sharers and the plaintiffs were entitled to a decree for joint possession. Watson & Co v Ram Chand Dutt I L R 171 A 110 s c 1 I L R 18 Calc. 10 Lachmeswar Singh v Manowar Hossain,

CO SHARER—contd

L R 19 I A 48 s c I L R 19 Calc 253 and Mohesh Narain v Naubul Pathak I L R 32 Calc 837 s c I C L J 437 distinguished
MOOKERJEE J The rule laid down in Watson & Co v Ram Chand Dutt I L R 17 I A 110 s c I L R 18 Calc 10 is a rule of justice equity and good conscience and must be applied with reference to the circumstances of the individual case before the Court Prima facie co owners are entitled to hold joint possession of joint property and consequently if one co sharer seeks to defeat the claim of another co sharer to joint possession special circumstances must be alleged and established to justify exclusive occupation by one of them The principle deducible from the cases is that a co sharer who has been ousted from joint property is entitled to recover joint possession To constitute ouster a physical eviction is not essential if a co owner is in possession on behalf of or under an adverse claimant under such circumstances as to evidence a claim of exclusive right and title and a denial of the rights of the other co sharers there is an ouster in law When one co owner accepts a deed of the whole property from one who has no title and claims and exercises the rights of sole ownership under a denial of any other person's right in the premises he is in adverse possession to the exclusion of his co sharers NAKENDRA BHUSAN ROY v JOGENDRA NATH ROY (1916) 29 C W N 125g

6 Lease by majority of common land—Validity of lease—Lease whether binding on minority—Suit by minority in ejectment—Remedy whether limited to partition only—Form of decrees A majority of co sharers in sannu dayam or common land cannot grant a perpetual lease of the common property Where a lease by some of the co sharers is found to be invalid, the lessee is not entitled to be maintained in his possession leaving it to those co shares objecting to his lease to sue for partition as their only remedy Where the lease is by some of the co sharers to a person who is also a co sharer and the suit is by other co sharers to eject the lessee the proper decree to be passed is one declaring that the lease is not binding on the plaintiffs and directing recovery of possession by the latter on their own behalf and that of the other co sharers Pala niappa Chetty v Sreemath Debniskamony Pandara Sannadhi I L R 40 Mad 709 applied Watson and Company v Panchand Dutt I L R 18 Calc 10 explained RAOHANATHAYULU v GOVINDASARI (1918) I L R 41 Mad 1088

CO SHEBAITS

See PARTIES I L R 48 Calc 877

COSTS

See APPEAL I L R 43 Calc 857
 See ARBITRATION I L R 40 Calc 219
 See ATTORNEY I L R 43 Calc 932
 See ATTORNEY AND CLIENT I L R 40 Calc 386
 See BOMBAY MUNICIPAL ACT (POM ACT III 1894) s 47 301
 I L R 43 Bom 181
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 209
 14 C W N 556

COSTS—contd

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

s 35 I L R 43 Mad 61 284
 O XXV R I I L R 35 Bom 421
 O XXIV R 4 5 AND 10
 I L R 40 All 109
 I L R 41 All 473
 R 14 I L R 35 All 518
 I L R 41 Calc 173

See CONTEMPT OF COURT—15 C W N 791

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872)—

s 47 I L R 40 Bom 517
 s 65 I L R 40 All 558
 s 70 I L R 42 Bom 556

See CONTRIBUTION I L R 32 All 585
 1 Pat L J 201
 I L R 43 All 77

See COURT FEE 3 Pat L J 443

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

s 148 15 C W N 811
 s 344 I L R 42 Bom 254

See DECREE I L R 38 Calc 125

See DIVORCE ACT (IV of 1869) ss 2 4 7
 AND 45 I L R 38 Bom 125

See EASEMENT I L R 39 Calc 59

See EXAMINATION ON COMMISSION
 I L R 45 Calc 492

See EXECUTION OF DECREE (48)
 —4 Pat L J 330

See OUDH ESTATES ACT (I of 1869)
 I L R 33 All 344

See PAKKI ADAT SYSTEM
 I L R 39 Bom 1

See PLEADERS FEE I L R 41 Calc 637

See PRACTICE I L R 35 Bom 339

See PRE EMPTION I L R 2 Lah 294

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT
 I L R 41 All 254

See PRIVY COUNCIL
 I L R 36 Mad 501

See PUNAM I L R 43 Calc 1104

See SECURITY FOR COSTS
 I L R 42 Bom 5

See SHAWLS MEANING OF
 I L R 39 Calc 1029

See SOLICITOR'S LIEN FOR COSTS
 I L R 34 Bom 484
 I L R 35 Bom 352

See SUMMONS SERVICE OF
 I L R 43 Calc 447

Against Secretary of State—
 See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 4
 5 Pat L J 321

appeal courts powers regarding—See DAMAGES 29 C W N 352

apportionment of—
 See COGNITIVE POLICE
 I L R 40 Calc 4 2

COSTS—contd

- decrees against wife—
See RESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS
I L R 44 Bom 454
- due to mistake—
See LETTERS PATENT 1865 CL 36
I L R 45 Bom 713
- In pre-emption suit—
See PRE-EMPTION
I L R 2 Lah 284
- of reaping crops—
See CLAIM
15 C W N 817
- of wife—
See DIVORCE
I L R 44 Cal 35
- of restitution of suit dismissed for plaintiff's non-appearance—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O 18 n 8
I L R 44 Bom 82
- successful litigants deprived of—
See DAMAGES
21 C W N 352
- security for—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O
XXI R 1 AND O XXIII R 1
I L R 36 Bom 415
O ALLI R 10 XXI R 2 AND XXIII R 1
I L R 42 AU 626
- wife's claim for matrimonial suit—
See PRESENCE OF SMALL CAUSE COURTS
ACT 1912
I L R 45 Bom 218
- When not to be disallowed—
See CUSTODY—BROCKTON
I L R 2 Lah 386
- Where ejectment proceedings could have been taken in Small Cause Court—
See BOMBAY RENT (WAR PREVENTION)
ACT 1913
I L R 45 Bom 1236
- Liability of Guardian ad litem of a lunatic—Personal liability of guardian to pay costs incurred by unnecessary appeal The guardian ad litem appointed by the Court usually gets his costs out of the estate of the defendant whom he represents if he does not recover them from the plaintiff but when a guardian ad litem takes it upon himself to appeal against a decree he puts himself in the position of a next friend initiating proceedings and no longer is in the position of a passive guardian ad litem SURESHJI HORMASJI v MOHJI SING JACOB (1909)
I L R 34 Bom 374
- Partition—Civil Procedure Code (Act 5 of 1908) s 101 O XXI s 4 application of—Appellate Court power of It is not necessary for the application of O XXI r 4 of the Code of Civil Procedure that the decree should proceed on every ground common to all the plaintiffs or defendants. It is quite sufficient if it proceeds on any ground common to the party to which the appellant belongs. Under s 107 of the Code the Appellate Court has the same power as the Court of first instance. Shama v Sureshji

COSTS—contd

- Debra v Jardine Skinner & Co* 19 W R 160
Debar Ali Khan v Bhawan Sahai Singh 1 L R 34 Cal 875 and Pam Kamal Saka v Ahmad Ali 1 L R 30 Cal 49 referred to AMBKA PRASAD SINGH v PERDIP SINGH (1914)
I L R 42 Cal 451
- Application for Registration as share holder in a Company—Indian Companies Act (11 of 1884) s 214—High Court Rule R 704—High Court Manual of Circular Ch 1111 To regulate costs incurred in obtaining an order from the District Court to register the applicant as a shareholder of a Company recourse must be had to the High Court Manual of Circulars 1912 Ch 1111 and not to High Court Rules (Original Side) R 704 framed under s 254 of the Indian Companies Act (VI of 1884) DINODAR MONDAL GUNNING AND MANUFACTURING COMPANY LTD v NAJIBDAS MANDALAL (1910)
I L R 39 Bom 783
- Security for costs The fact that the appellant has no money of her own is not in itself a sufficient ground for demanding security for costs. When it appeared that the appeal was not merely vexatious (the appellant's suit having been decreed by one Court) the fact that the appellant had relations who had money to pay was not a sufficient ground for demanding security. MATHEA NATH SINGH v PRITHI SHASHI DEBI (1914)
19 C W N 448
- Discretion of court as to costs—As costs suit for against manager—Costs against manager for default or dishonest conduct in accounting—S 29 Precedency Small Cause Courts Act (VI of 1852) A person who takes up the management of another's estate and collects and disburses money has to be ready with his account. His failure to perform the obvious duty necessitates a suit and he must pay the plaintiff's cost. Collyer v Dudley 2 L J Ch 15 followed. This is all the more so when he makes a dishonest defence submits a false account and keeps back books of account or documents. HUTCHINSON v ANJAN KUMAR 1 L R 14 Cal 147 169 referred to. Where the manager sued the principal for arrears of salary in the Presidency Court of Small Causes and the principal sued the manager in the High Court for accounts and the two suits were heard together in the High Court and an amount less than Rs 1000 was found due from the manager to the principal costs were awarded against the manager on High Court side No 11 having regard to the circumstances above stated. SURESHJI GUOSHI v COEL MOHAN GOSWAMI (1915)
19 C W N 580
- Appellate Court when should not refer with order of primary Court as to costs. Where costs are in the discretion of the judge the Court of Appeal will assume that he has exercised his discretion unless it is satisfied that he has not exercised it. Also the Appellate Court will not interfere with an exercise of the discretion of the lower Court unless it has proceeded on a manifestly wrong ground. SRI PRADU MCKERRI v CHARU CHANDRA DEBI (1917)
22 C W N 372
- Between Principal and Agent in a suit for account—Manager liability of for costs—Presidency Small Cause Court Act (VI of 1852) s 29—Practitioner In the matter of costs the Court discretion is to be exercised with special reference to all the circumstances of the case including the conduct of parties. Sheo Dayl Tewari Chowdhury v Bishunath Tiwari Chowdhury 9 W R 61 referred to. If a person takes up the management of another's estate and collects and disburses moneys he must be ready with his account and if his failure to perform this obvious duty necessitates a suit then he must pay the costs. Collyer v Dudley 2 L J Ch 15 referred to. So where a manager has deliberately set up a false defence and on being ordered to render an account submits a false account and suppresses important documents thereby hampering and prejudicing the inquiry it is only right that he should pay the full costs of and incidental to the suit. Pam gopal Chatterjee v Bhoban Mohan Banerjee Coryton's Rep 126 and Hurriath Pas v Krishna Kumar Bahshi 1 L R 14 Calc 147 referred to. Because in a suit for an account a sum of money less than Rs 1000 was found due by the defendant it does not follow that such a suit should have been instituted in the Presidency Small Cause Court and that the provisions of s 22 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act apply. SUKUMARI CHOSH v GORI MOHAN GOSWAMI (1915) 1 L R 43 Calc 190

COSTS—contd

Solicitor's lien for costs—Minor—Next friend—Attorney's costs for proceedings under taken on the next friend's instructions—Whether attorney is entitled to a charge on the minor's property for his costs so incurred—Practice Where a suit has been brought by a minor through his next friend for declaration of the infant's title to and possession of property the attorney is entitled to have a charge declared on the properties for the amount of costs incurred by him and he is entitled to recover the same in a suit. Show v Neale 6 H L C 681 Baile v Baile L R 13 Eq 497 Prichard v Roberts L R 17 Eq 222 In re Howarth 8 Ch App 416 Helps v Clayton 17 O B (N S) 553 Ex parte Tued (1899) 2 Q B 167 Narendra Nath Sircar v Kamalabasi Das 1 L P 23 Calc 563 Desikbas v Jefferson Bhasi Shankar and Dinsha 1 L R 10 Bom 218 Khetter Kristo Miller v Kally Prosunno Chose 1 L R 25 Calc 887 In re Wright's Trust (1901) 1 Ch 317 Watkins v Dhunnoo Baboo 1 L R 7 Calc 140 Sham Charan Mal v Choudhry Debja Singh Pahraj 1 L R 21 Calc 872 Ispahani v Chund's Charan Pal 9 C W A exen and Bran on v Apparami 1 L P 17 Mad 257 referred to. KUMAR KRISHNA DUTT v HARI NARAYAN GANDOLY (1915) 1 L R 43 Calc 676

Costs of the Secretary of State for India to be taxed in the ordinary way—Profit costs of the Government Solicitor and brief fees to the Advocate General to be allowed on taxation—Application to review the certificate of the Taxing Master Where the Secretary of State for India is a party to a suit filed in the High Court in its Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction and costs are awarded to him he is entitled to have his bill of costs taxed in the ordinary way although the Government Solicitor and the Advocate General employed on his behalf are paid fixed salaries for the conduct of all Crown cases. Hence all profits costs of the Government Solicitor and brief fees to the Advocate General should be allowed on taxation. NEWBURN & Co v R. S. WARTENFELS (1916) 1 L R 40 Bom 583

COSTS—contd

Costs to abide the result—meaning of—Discretion of lower Court if fettered—Costs to abide and follow the result and costs to follow the event distinction between Where the High Court in remanding a case to the lower Court ordered that the costs should abide the result. Held that the words abide the result only connote that the order as to costs is to await the passing of the final decision in the case and have not the effect of fettering the discretion of the trying Judge. Distinction between abide the result and abide and follow the result or follow the event pointed out. PERIAH v LAKSHMIDEVAMMA (1915) 1 I R 39 Mad 476

Trustees—Discretion as to costs of—Appeal against order for costs—Trustees when entitled to costs of legal proceedings out of estate Although costs of a suit are discretionary with the Judge the Court of Appeal will interfere with the discretion of the Court of first instance where it is found that that discretion was not exercised on correct principles. Persons who are in the position of trustees ought to have their costs out of the trust estate when a question of legal proceedings is concerned unless they have unreasonably earned on or resisted such proceedings. The Court of first instance having come to the conclusion that the mutualis were really trustees ought to have applied this principle in making order as to costs. Where disputes had arisen between the mutualis of a uak estate and the trustees supervising their management and by mutual consent the matter was referred by Court to the Assistant Referee of the Court for report and upon the report being made the mutualis took exceptions to the report which were rejected by Court and the report was confirmed and the Court allowed only one set of costs to the true fee out of the estate and none to the mutualis. Held on appeal that the mutualis were entitled to get the costs of the reference out of the estate but not the costs of the proceedings resulting from their taking exceptions as the exceptions were rightly rejected by the Court of first instance as unreasonable. As the mutualis succeeded in their appeal to a material extent they as well as the respondent trustees were allowed costs out of the estate. AGA MD SHERAZI v SYED ALI MD SMOOSTER (1916) 21 C W N 339

On appeal for orders—General rule of the High Court (Civil) rr 21 25—1 leader's fee—Order on objection as to jurisdiction raised by defendant returning plaintiff for presentation to proper Court Held that r 21 of the General Rules (Civil) and not r 25 applied to a case where a question as to the jurisdiction of the Court having been raised by the defendant was decided against the plaintiff and the plaint returned for presentation to the proper Court. GAUNT BANAI v BANERJEE (1915) 1 L R 40 AU 516

Joint decree for costs against defendants claiming under separate titles of defendants being also wrong doers—Suit for contribution—Suit not maintainable Two persons each holding by a separate title a half share in certain property were arrayed as co-defendants to a suit for recovery of a share in the said property. The plaintiffs obtained a decree with cost the order for costs being against the defendants jointly. The plaintiffs decree holders executed the decree for costs against one of the judgment debtors and he then sued the other judgment debtor for contribution Held that the suit would not lie Failure v Tawnding Hewan 1 L R 19 All 46 followed NAND LAL SINGH v BEVI MANNO

COSTS—contd

Singh (1918) 1 L R 40 All 672

Successful party not to be deprived of costs unless guilty of misconduct omission or neglect—Director of Lower Court v Terfered with when facts were misapprehended and the established principle violated—Costs occasioned by unnecessary printing at the instance of attorneys payable by attorneys personally A Hindu Maratha by caste died possessed of property worth about Rs 3000. His widow the plaintiff sued the defendant claiming to be another widow of the deceased for a declaration that the latter though living with the deceased was not entitled to the rights of a Hindu wife but was according to the custom of the community entitled to maintenance out of the estate of the deceased. The trial Judge decided against the defendant and referred the suit to the Commissioner to take an account of the estate of the deceased and for an inquiry as to the proper amount to be allowed to the defendant for maintenance. Before the Commissioner the quantum of maintenance was agreed by consent of parties but the defendant put in a claim for ornaments which was disallowed. The Commissioner made his report and the suit then came up for further directions and costs before a Judge who was not the trial Judge. It was represented to him on behalf of the defendant that the suit was necessary and that costs should come out of the estate. The plaintiff submitted that the estate was small that the defendant never had any case and had lost all along the line and that although the plaintiff would be justified in asking for costs against the defendant she would not do so as nothing could be got from the defendant. The learned Judge thought that the plaintiff was more in fault than the defendant and ordered the costs to come out of the estate. The plaintiff appealed. Held (i) that there had been a misapprehension of facts on the part of the learned Judge who made the order of costs and a violation of the established principle by throwing upon the plaintiff the costs of the unsuccessful defendant where the plaintiff had been guilty of no misconduct. (ii) That the order as to costs out of the estate must be deleted and the defendant be made to bear her own costs. Cooper v Wittingham 15 Ch D 501 Kuppuasami Chetty v Zamindar of Kalahasti 1 L R 27 Mo 341 and Pinchardas Vithaldas v Das Kari 1 J P 10 Lom 676 referred to. Costs occasioned by the unnecessary printing of certain matter at the instance of parties attorneys were made payable by the attorneys personally and not allowed to fall upon the clients. LAXMIBAI v PADHABAI (1917) 1 L R 42 Bom 327

When part only of claim allowed. The Subordinate Judge having decreed the plaintiff's claim for less than half the amount should have allowed the plaintiff's costs to the extent of their success. KHAGARAM DAS v PAM SANKAR DAS PRAMANIK (1914) 19 C W N 775

Costs of Record—Inclusion of unnecessary matter—Disallowance of costs Their Lordships directed that the Registrar of the High Court should disallow to the successful appellants the actual costs of printing 331 pages of unnecessary matter wastefully included in the record and such consequential costs as he might think right in proportion and that the costs to be taxed in England should also be reduced by such amount as the Registrar of the Privy Council might consider attributable to the insertion of the superfluous matter. GOPAL CHANDRA CHAUDHRI v RAJANI KANTA GHOSH (1919)

COSTS—contd

1 L R 46 I A 299

Security for costs—Insolvent plaintiff—Cause of action arising after insolvency—Practice In a suit by an undischarged insolvent for a sum of money larger than his liabilities in the insolvency and due in respect of a transaction subsequent to the insolvency the defendant applied for security for costs. Held that the plaintiff ought not to be ordered to give security for costs. Rhodes v Dawson 16 Q B D 543 Cook v Whellock 24 Q B D 648 and Couell v Taylor 31 Ch D 34 referred to. E D MURRAY v EAST BENGAL MANAHAN FLOTTILLA Co Ltd (1918)

1 L R 46 Cal 156

Solicitor's lien enforcement of—Direct order for payment to solicitor—Jurisdiction of Court—Proper case. On an application by a solicitor made in a suit in which certain costs had been awarded to his client against the opposite party the Court has jurisdiction to enforce in a proper case the solicitor's lien by making a direct order for payment to the solicitor by the opposite party of such costs. Khetler Ario Mitter v Anil Prosenno Ghose 2 C W N 508 followed. Where the original client was dead and it appeared that his legal representatives were not people of substance and that they were unable to pay. Held that this was a proper case in which the Court in the exercise of its discretion would make a direct order for payment of such costs to the solicitor by the opposite party. Harrison v Harrison 1 L R 13 P 180 and Jackson v Smith 53 L J Ch 972 explained. HATNANDROY FOOLCHAND v GOOTI RAM BHUTTA (1919) 1 L R 46 Cal 1070

Witness examined under Presidency Towns Insolvency Act—(III of 1909) s 36—Practice In insolvency proceedings mortgage was examined under s 36 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act for the purpose of challenging the mortgage. At the time of such examination attorney and counsel appeared on his behalf. Subsequently when the mortgagee was not challenged he applied to Court for an order for costs against the creditor. Held that a witness examined under s 36 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) was not entitled to the costs of employing attorney or counsel. In re Waddell 6 Ch D 38 referred to. In re Appleton French and Scrutton Ltd (1905) 1 Ch 49 distinguished. ANSHU PROKASH GHOSH In the matter of (1919) 1 L R 46 Cal 95

Magistrate's power to order—Under s 148 of the Criminal Procedure Code the Magistrate who makes the order without any direction as to costs has the power to make same later and it does not amount on review or alteration of his first order. NAFAR CHANDRA PAL CHOWDHURY v SIDDHAPATHA KPRISA MAJUMDAR 1 L R 47 Cal 974

Record Containing Superfluous matter—In this case the Privy Council ordered that the costs of printing certain matter they considered superfluous should be disallowed.

COSTS—contd

GOPAL CHANDRA CHOWDHURI & PAJANKANTO GHOSH
I L R 47 Calc 415

Appearance of a third party in Administration actions—Creditor of heir in an administration action a creditor of the heirs of the deceased was allowed to intervene Held that the unsuccessful claimant should not be made liable for the costs of such intervenor Williams v Buchanan 7 T L R 276 Harbury v Upper Inny Drainage Board L P 12 Ir 211 In re Salmon Priest v Uppells 42 Ch D 351 In re Watt Smith v Watts 22 Ch D 5 In re Schunbacher Stern v Schunbacher (1904) 1 Ch 719 referred to SOUTENDRA MOHAN SINHA v MUNICIPAL SENRA (1920)

I L R 48 Calc 352

On vendors—Covenant to indemnify against defective title—Attack on title—Liability of vendor to pay not merely taxed costs but all reason-able costs as between solicitor and client Upon a covenant by a vendor of lands to indemnify the purchaser against all losses that the latter might be put to in defending his title or enjoyment of the lands from adverse claim the vendor is bound to pay the purchaser not merely taxed costs as between party and party of a suit in which he had to defend his title but the actual costs which he had to pay to his legal advisers and which are reasonable in the circumstances of the case Smith v Conynton (1832) 3 B & Ad 40 followed VENKATARAMAYYA APPA RAO v VARAPPASADA PAO (1920)

I L R 43 Mad 898

Reference—The costs of a reference under s 51 of the Income Tax Act 1918 made at the instance of the Chief Revenue Authority of Bombay within the local limits of the Original Jurisdiction should be taxed as on the Original Side ACHANABAD MILLS LIMITED v PE (1921)

I L R 45 Bom 1286

Taxation—P 51, High Court Rules—Counsel's fees—Opinion of Taxing Master on quantum of fees paramount—Principle regulating Court's interference—Practice Where the Taxing Master had exercised his discretion in accordance with the principles laid down in r 51 of High Court Rule Held that the Court ought not to interfere in taxation unless the master was wrong in principle or very clearly wrong in detail On a question of the quantum of fees the Court always allows the opinion of the Taxing Master to be paramount Observations of Bevil C. J. in Hill v Peck (1870) L P 5 C P 1 at page 180 referred to and followed SADASTEN GAMBHIRCHAND v BALAKRISHN HANUMANT (1921)

I L R 45 Bom 1234

COSTS OF REAPING CROPS

wrongfully attached—

See CLAIM

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908
s 100 O O 21 FR 5 AND 60

15 C W N 817

CO-TENANTS

See PUNJAB TENANCY ACT s 171

15 C W N 782

CO TRUSTEE.

See PUBLIC TRUST

I L P 42 Mad 375

COTTON GAMBLING

See WAGERING CONTRACT

I L R 39 Calc 968

COTTON TRADES ASSOCIATION RULES (BOMBAY)

See AWARD I L R 44 Bom 780

COUNCILLOR

See BOMBAY DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES

ACT (BOM ACT III of 1901) s 42

I L R 40 Bom 166

COUNSEL

See BARRISTER

See MALICIOUS PROSECUTION

14 C W N 86

Bar Council Resolutions of—

See LIMITATION I L R 40 Calc 898

duties of—

See BARRISTER I L R 44 Calc 741

See LX PARTE CALE

I L R 44 Calc 573

professional conduct of—

See COUNSELLOR AS WITNESS

See LIMITATION I L R 40 Calc 898

telegram from—

See BAIL I L R 38 Calc 293

Mr X a Counsel on direct instructions from client in error a ground in the memo of appeal which constituted a libel on the Judge in the Court below Held that the conduct of X was highly improper It is no disqualification for a Judge trying a case that before his appointment he was Counsel in other matters for one of the parties JACOB AND COMPANY v PASH BEHARI CHOW

I L R 47 Calc 828

COUNTER CLAIMS

Counter claims by defendant against plaintiff or husbandly—Original Side Rule No 41—English Supreme Court Rule O XIX r 3 restriction of Where two or more plaintiffs sue for a joint claim a defendant may set up counter claim against the plaintiffs individually The Court has a discretion under r 41 of the Original Side rules in such a case to decline to allow the counter claims to be set up on the ground of inconvenience JAMASADAN CHETTY v ABDUL KAFIM SAMIA (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 226

COUNTERFEIT COIN

See PENAL CODES 235 243

4 Pat L J 525

To become possessed Possession—Custody whether conscious possession—Intention with knowledge—Penal Code (Act XL) of 1900 s 7 2 13—31 direction—Penalty—Powers of H. J. Court—Letters Pat 1 1864 cl 96—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 37 For Criminal To constitute an offence under s 243 of the Penal Code it is essential to prove that at the time the accused became possessed of the coin he knew it to be counterfeit whether he was in possession of the coin himself or his wife clerk or servant was in possession of the coin on his account As there was a misdirection to the Jury in a part of the Judge's summing up which related to a material and essential element of the charge the conviction should be set aside in review under cl 26 of the Letters Patent Per MOOKERJEE J. The term possession has to be interpreted in the light of s 2 Indian Penal Code which by virtue of s 3 is applicable wherever the term is used in the Code. S 2 abolishes the distinction recognized in English law between possession and custody. S 3 of the Criminal Procedure Code has no application to a case reviewed under cl 26 of the Letters Patent. Mere misdirection is not necessarily misdirection. Per v SINGH 2 Cr App Rep 21 followed. The Judge's note of his charge to Jury is conclusive. As v Emperor v Ujjendra Nath Das 21 C L J 31 1906 H L 603 referred to. Per FLETCHER J. The point of time to be considered was the time when the accused had actual or constructive possession of the counterfeit coins for determining whether he had knowledge at the time that the coins were spurious. Per CHANDRINI J. There is a clear distinction in law between custody and possession. Custody means possession on account of another. S 47 Indian Penal Code does not express the complete thought of the legislature on the question of possession and it is competent to the Court to interpret the words. To become possessed in accordance with the meaning that the general law has given to them. In re Proceeding 2nd December 1886 3 Mad H C P App 21 referred to. EMPEROR v FATEH CHAND ARANWALLA (1910) I L R 44 Calc 477

COUNTERFEIT COIN—contd

COUNTERFEITING TRADE MARK

See TRADE MARK I L R 40 Calc 281

COURT

See PRACTICE I L R 34 Bom 406

See WORDS AND PHRASES

— duty of—

See INTEREST I L R 42 Calc 690

— inherent powers of—

See EXECUTION OF DECREES

I L R 34 All 518

— not closed if the officer on tour—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) s 192 I L R 38 Mad 295

— power of—

See INTEREST I L R 43 Calc 632

See PENALTY I L R 44 Calc 162

Offence brought under the notice of the Court in the course of a judicial proceeding—Proceeding instituted by one Munsif for resistance to attachment of moveables in execution—Preliminary inquiry and final order by successor—Legality of order—Judicial proceeding—Execution proceedings—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 4 (m) 476. The word Court in s 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code includes the successor of the Judge before whom the alleged offence was committed or to whose notice the commission of it was brought in the course of a judicial proceeding. Where therefore the judgment creditor brought to the notice of the Munsif on the 3rd December 1908 the fact of resistance to the attachment of moveables in execution of his decree and the Munsif called upon the opposite party to show cause but his successor after holding a preliminary inquiry under s 416 of the Code ordered their prosecution on 6th October 1909 for offences under ss 183 186 and 33 of the Penal Code. Held that the order was not without jurisdiction. Action under s 416 should as far as possible be prompt and expeditious and not unduly protracted. The definition of a judicial proceeding in s 4 (m) of the Criminal Procedure Code is not exhaustive. It includes an execution proceeding and the resistance to the attachment of moveables is when reported or complained of to the Court an offence brought under its notice in the course of a judicial proceeding within the meaning of s 476 of the Code. BAHADUR v PRADATULLAH MALLICK (1910) I L R 37 Calc 642

'COURT'—contd

Limitation Act (XV of 1877) s 14—Interpretation—Court in British India—Court in a Native State in India not included. The word Court as used in s 14 of the Indian Limitation Act (XV of 1877) means a Court in British India and not a Court in a Native State of India. CHANNALAPA CHENDASAPA v ABDUL VAHAB (1910) I L R 35 Bom 139

COURT FEE

See AD VALOREM COURT FEE

See APPEAL IN FORMA PAUPERIS

I L R 40 Mad 687

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1880 s 411

I L R 34 All 223

ss 268 278 283

I L R 38 Bom 631

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE—

s 110 I L R 39 All 723

s 47 O XXX 4 Pat L J 166

O XXXIII R 13

I L R 35 Bom 446

O XXXIV R 1 I L R 40 All 553

See COURT FEES AMENDMENT ACT 1890

I L R 41 Calc 556

See COURT FEES ACT (VII OF 18 0)—

s 3 AND 12 I L R 32 All 59

s 7 I L R 30 All 92 94

a 7 (n) SCH II ART 17

I L R 42 All 352

I L R 36 All 500

s 7 (IX) SCH I ART 1

I L R 36 All 40

SCH I ART I I L R 40 All 93

I L R 36 All 322

See DECLARATIONS AND INJUNCTIONS

I L R 38 Mad 923

See GHATWALI TENURES

I L R 41 Calc 612

See MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT (III OF 1873) ss 12 13

I L R 39 Mad 447

See MESNE PROFITS 3 Pat L J 116

COURT-FEE—contd

See SUCCESSION ACT (X of 1865) s 187
I L R 38 Mad 988
acceptance of, by Deputy Registrar—

See APPEAL, VALUATION OF
I L R 37 Cal 914
Appeal from order disallowing in interest—

See DECREE
8 Pat. L J 678

deficit—
See JURISDICTION I L R 41 Cal 520

non payment of—
See RES JUDICATA I L R 35 Bom 38

Whether High Court will revise interlocutory order—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908
5 Pat L J 400

See EXECUTION OF DECREE
5 Pat L J 235

deficit not due to mistake—Extension of time if proper—Limitation.
When an order allowing a plaintiff to deposit deficit court fees has been made and complied with no question of limitation can be raised.
But it is not proper for a Court to extend the period of limitation allowed by law to the prejudice of defendants by giving the plaintiff time to deposit deficit court fees when there is no question of any mistake merely to suit the convenience of the plaintiff SAMBHO KRON v HARMAN
PERSHAD (1914) 18 C W N 1071

Court fee on memo randum of appeal—Appeal from Order under s
144 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908)— Order if comes under s 47 (i) of the Code—Government Notification prescribing Court fee of Rs 2.
An order under s 144 of the Civil Procedure Code comes under s 47 (i) of the Code. Cl (6) of the notification of the Government of India No 460 dated 10th September 1889 applies to appeals from such orders and a Court fee of Rs 2 is chargeable on such appeals MADAN MEHAN
DE v NEGENDRA NATH DE (1917) 21 C W N 544

Declaratory suit—Consequential Relief S 42 of the Specific Relief Act does not sanction every form of declaration but only a declaration that the Plaintiff is entitled to any legal character or to any right as to property.—Court fee of Rs 10 is not sufficient for declaratory suits in strict sense—An injunction is consequential relief DEOKALI HOER v HEDAR NATH I L R 39 Cal 704

Appeal for appellate order—Court fee payable Where a suit for possession was dismissed by the first Court and the appellate Court holding that the Plaintiff was entitled to possession sent the case back to the first Court for ascertainment of the mesne profits.
Held that the appellate Court's order amounted to a reversal of the decision of the first Court and the Plaintiff should have been given a decree for possession. Held further that an appeal presented by the defendants against the order of the appellate Court was an appeal from an

COURT-FEE—contd

appellate decree and should have been made on an ad valorem Court fee RAJENDRATH DAS v JHARI SINOH 3 Pat L J 99

Mesne Profits—Appeal
as to A memorandum of appeal from an order dismissing an application for ascertainment of mesne profits must be stamped with an ad valorem stamp on the amount claimed NARAIN PRASAD
v SHIKO JAMESWAR PRASAD SINOH 3 Pat. L J 101

Suit for redemption of mortgage—Preliminary decree passed in two parts —Appeal The Court of first instance in a suit for redemption of a mortgage passed in effect two preliminary decrees. It first passed a decree declaring the plaintiff's right to redeem which was denied by the defendants against which the defendants filed an appeal and then whilst the appeal was pending, a second preliminary decree deciding the amount for which redemption might take place. Against that decree also the defendants appealed. Held that the two appeals were not to be regarded as separate appeals for the purpose of assessing the Court fee but should be counted as one LALTA PRASAD v SHEKHAR SINOH (1917) I L R 39 All 452

Appeal—Decree—
Civil Procedure Code (1908) O XXXIV r 6—Order rejecting application for a decree over against the mortgagor. An order on an application for a decree under O XXXIV r 6 of the Code of Civil Procedure is a decree as that term is defined in the Code. An appeal therefore from such an order must bear an ad valorem court fee stamp and not merely a stamp of Rs 2 MUHAMMAD LATIF HUSAIN v ALIM
UN NISSA BIBI (1918) I L R 40 All 553

Appeal—Memorandum of appeal insufficiently stamped—Conditional admission by Division Bench effect of—Whether deficit can be paid after expiration of limitation—Negligence of Vakils effect of—Court fees Act VII of 1860 s 4—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) ss
2 (7) and 5 Where the mortgagee of property which had been sold for arrears of revenue instituted a suit on the mortgage against the mortgagor the transferees from him and the revenue salo purchasers and obtained a decree the lower Court holding that the revenue salo purchasers were benamidars for the transferees from the mortgagor. Held that an appeal the valuation of which was fixed at Rs 20,000 by the revenue salo purchasers and which was declared to relate to a declaration and that properties purchased by the appellants (the revenue salo purchasers) are not liable for the mortgage Court fee as the been stamped with an ad valorem Court fee as the real object of the appeal was to release the properties purchased by the appellants at the revenue sale from liability under the mortgage. It appeared that on the 20th August the deficit in Court fee had been brought to the notice of the appellants Valoi and that in November he expressed his willingness to pay the deficit. The matter then went before a Divisional Bench.
In the meanwhile the period of limitation had expired. The Divisional Bench passed the following order. Subject to any objection that may be taken at the hearing let the deficit Court

COURT FEE—contd

fee be received if paid by Monday next. Held (i) that the order of the Divisional Bench was not a definite order condoning the delay in filing the deficit (ii) that under s. 4 of the Court fees Act 1870 the Court could not receive an appeal which was not properly stamped and (iii) that the filing of the appeal on a Court fee of Rs 10 with an explanation that this sum was paid as it is not possible to estimate at a money value the subject matter in dispute was not done in good faith within the meaning of s. 2 (7) of the Limitation Act 1908 and that the conduct of the Vakil when the deficit in Court fees was brought to his notice was want only negligent and that therefore the appellants were not entitled to the benefit of the Court's clemency under s. 5 of that Act. JODHAN PRASAD SINGH v. NANKEE PRASAD SINGH 3 Pat. L. J. 454

Suit for avoidance of a registered deed of gift. In a suit for the avoidance of a registered deed of gift the Court is bound if the Plaintiff proves his case to send a copy of the Court's order to the officer in whose office the instrument has been registered. This is consequential relief for which the Plaintiff must pay ad valorem Court fee. MUSAMMAT MOOWOYAR OJAIN v. SHIDAR JHA 3 Pat. L. J. 184

Dismissal of suit for possession—decision reversed by appellate Court and suit remanded for ascertainment of means payable on appeal from appellate order. Court fees payable on Where a suit for possession was dismissed by the first Court and the appellate Court holding that the plaintiff was entitled to possession sent the case back to the first Court. Held that the Court for ascertainment of Where an appeal against costs is distinct and separate from either parts of the appeal court fees must be paid ad valorem on the costs decreed. Where an appellant has failed to pay sufficient fees in the courts below his appeal will not be heard till the deficiency is made good. Where it is the respondent who was in default no decree shall be executed in his favour until the deficiency has been made good. T. K. ROWLINS v. LACHMI NARAIN JHA 3 Pat. L. J. 423

Suit for declaration and possession—Court fees Act (VII of 1870) s. 7 (d) (c). Where the holder of an eight anna mukarrari interest in an estate which was sold for arrears of Government revenue sued for a declaration that the sale was invalid by reason of fraud and irregularity in its conduct and prayed for confirmation or restoration of possession. Held that the plaintiff must pay an ad valorem court fee on the value of the whole estate sold and was not entitled to calculate an ad valorem fee on ten times the amount of the Government revenue. PAJA DHAKESWAR PRASAD SINGH v. JIVO CHAUDHRY 3 Pat. L. J. 448

Power of High Court to order refund of excess—Code of Civil Procedure (I of 1908) s. 151. In the exercise of its inherent powers the High Court has power to make an order directing the Taxing Officer to issue the necessary certificate to enable an appellant to apply to the Revenue authorities to obtain a refund of excess court fee paid on a memorandum of appeal. CHANDRADHAR SINGH v. TIPPAN PRASAD SINGH 3 Pat. L. J. 452

COURT FEE—contd

Declaratory suit—Consequential relief—Injunction prayer for—Endowments—Valuation of suit—Jurisdiction—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s. 42—Court fees Act (VII of 1870) s. 7 (ii) (c)—Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1877) s. 8. The plaintiff brought a suit for declaration that he was the sole shebait of the family deity and was entitled as such to exclusive possession of the disputed properties on behalf of the deity and also for a declaration that the registration of the name of the principal defendant as joint owner of the endowed properties with the plaintiff in the books of the collector was improperly made. He valued the suit for purposes of jurisdiction at Rs 11,005 and paid Rs 10 as court fee under Sch. II Art. 17 (ii) of the Court fees Act subsequently on an objection taken under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act by the principal defendant at the hearing of the suit a prayer was added in the plaint for an injunction prohibiting the principal defendant from interfering with the plaintiff performing his duties as shebait and managing the debutter properties and a further ad valorem fee was paid by the plaintiff under Sch. I read with s. 7 (ii) (d) of the Court fees Act for the injunction. The Court of first instance having heard the suit and dismissed it on the merits the plaintiff appealed to the High Court and upon the memorandum of appeal he paid Court fees in the same manner as in the Court of first instance. Held that the prayer for injunction was arbitrarily undervalued, that its value was the value of the relief claimed and that the plaintiff was bound to pay ad valorem Court fees upon the plaint and memorandum of appeal on the basis that the value of the relief claimed was Rs 11,005. Umahul Borul v. Nanyo Koer 11 C. W. N. 705 C. C. L. J. 427 Dayorom Sagwan v. Gordhondas Dayaram 1 L. R. 31 Bom. 72 and Boda Noth Adyo v. Mohanlal Adya 1 L. R. 47 Cal. 680 referred to P. J. KRISHNA DEY v. BIKIN BIKARI DEY (1913)

I L. R. 40 Cal. 245

Declaratory decree suit for consequential relief—Plaint rejection of—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O. VII r. 11—Valuation of suit—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) s. 7 paras. 11 cl. (c) & cl. (a)—Valuation for purpose of jurisdiction—Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1877) s. 8. In a suit for declaration that a decree amounting to Rs 2,794 and odd should be declared forged illusory and unfit for execution and also for a declaration that a family property valued at Rs 7,000 was not liable to be sold in execution of that decree the plaintiff paid Court fee ten times the Government Revenue payable on the land worth Rs 7,000. The court below rejected the plaint. Held that the real value of the reliefs claimed was Rs 2,794 and odd the value of the decree and that the plaintiff not having paid court-fee on that amount the plaint was rightly rejected. A plaintiff cannot value his case for the purpose of Court Fee and for the purpose of jurisdiction at different amounts. HARIBHAI PERAN SINGH v. SHYAM LAL SINGH (1913) I L. R. 40 Cal. 612

Administration Suit— Held that an Administration Suit by a creditor is an action for account and in such a suit the Plaintiff is entitled to place his own valuation on the relief claimed—After preliminary decree has been made other creditors invited establish their claims may be required to pay ad valorem fees. SHASHI BHUSHAN BOSE v. MANJINDRA CHANDRA NANDY I L R 44 Calc 893

COURT-FEE—contd

Suit for declaration that entry in Record of Rights is nullity Where a Court Fee of Rs 10 was paid in a suit under s 111A of the Bengal Tenancy Act but the plaintiff prayed for a declaration (a) that they were Occupancy Ryots and (b) that the entry in the Record of Rights showing them as tenants holders was a nullity and plaintiffs on being applied to for the decretal of Court fee on the second head of relief failed. Held (1) that the second prayer being for consequential relief was not such a declaration as was contemplated by the proviso to s 111A (2) that the judge had no alternative but to reject the plaint (3) that the plaintiff could not be allowed to strike out the second prayer. WIDYAPATI REMINDARY CO. LD v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA I L R 41 Calc 352

In a suit for a declaration that a decree for over Rs 2000 was bad and might be set aside the plaintiffs who were interested in only three annas share of the property which was valued at Rs 9000 were required to pay a court fee for the whole of the decretal amount. Held that the plaintiffs must value their suit according to the extent of their claim and the court fee was payable on that amount. GANESH BHAGAT v. SARADA IPASAD MUIERJEE I L R 42 Calc 371

Suit for administration or account In an administration suit valued at Rs 30000 for purpose of jurisdiction and Rs 100 for adjustment of accounts and wherein court fees were paid on the latter sum only, other with Rs 10 for the approximate value of the claim for account. Held that such a suit was in essence a suit for account within s 7 (iv) of the Court Fees Act and that adequate court fees had been paid. SARAJU BATA DAS v. JOGENDRA DAS I L R 45 Calc 634

Suit to set aside mortgage decree court fees payable on—Provision—power of High Court to interfere with a mortgage order Where the plaintiffs sued to set aside a mortgage decree for Rs 12200 and it was shown that their share in the property affected by the decree was Rs 1300. Held that they were liable to pay court fees on the latter sum only. Where the record of a case is before the High Court and there appears on the record an obvious error the Court will dispose of the matter at whatever stage it may happen to be. BANKEY BEHARI v. PAM PARADUP 4 Pat L J 191

Suit by several rayas for declaration of rent payable Where 78 rayas instituted a suit in respect of 78 holdings (1) for a declaration that the rents entered in the khatan were higher than the rents actually payable and (2) for a declaration that 59 rent decrees which the landlord had obtained at the higher rates were contrary to law. Held that a court fee of Rs 10 should have been paid in respect of each of the 137 causes of action namely 78 declarations that the rents entered in the khatan were wrong and 59 declarations that the decrees obtained were contrary to law. CHETIBU MAHTO v. KHAJA MUHAMMAD KAPIN NAWAB 4 Pat L J 297

COURT FEE—contd

Suit for possession—decree on condition that plaintiff pays off encumbrances—appeal against condition court fee payable on Where a suit for possession was decreed conditionally on the plaintiff paying off all encumbrances on the property and the plaintiff appealed against that part of the decree which required him to pay off the encumbrances held that court fees on the memorandum of appeal were payable ad valorem on the value of the encumbrances. HISHIR DUT MISIR v. KASTI PANDEY 5 Pat L J 455

Deficiency due from respondent on account of fees paid in lower court—appeal summarily dismissed whether deficiency recoverable—Procedure—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) ss 10 and 1 When an appeal has been dismissed by the High Court under O XII r 11 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 the court has no power to recover from the respondent who was appellant in the court below a deficiency in court fee due on the memorandum of appeal filed by him in that court. Sentent—That if in such a case the second appeal resulted in a decree in the respondent's favour the High Court would be competent under its inherent powers to refrain from signing the decree until payment of the deficit. Whenever it is intended to recover a deficit from a respondent before the High Court in respect of something due in the lower court the proper procedure is to admit the appeal for hearing and to take action under a 12 read with s 10 of the Court Fees Act 1870. RAJDEO NARAY SINGH v. RAMDIL SINGH 5 Pat L J 508

Where in a suit for partition the plaintiff prays for a declaration of his title and confirmation of possession in order to disperse a cloud cast on his title by reason of an entry in the Record of Rights stating that defendant was in exclusive possession of part of the land which formed the subject matter of the suit an ad valorem court fee is payable on the value of the plaintiff's share in the land in respect of which his name has not been entered in the Record of Rights in addition to the fixed fee for partition. PACHHYA PAUL v. MUHAMMAD CHANDO 6 Pat L J 662

Two appeals from one decree—Subsequently two second appeals filed by the same party the subject matter being the same—Consolidation of appeals The Court Fees Act 1870 does not provide for consolidation of appeals. If therefore there are two appeals in the same suit and then one party files two second appeals—one against each decree in first appeal—the appellant will have to pay the full court fee on each of his appeals. SHIR DAYAL v. MEHARBAN I L R 43 All 58

Appeal from a decree for redemption of a mortgage on payment of Rs 293 the principal amount of which was Rs 6400—Court Fees Act VII of 1870 ss 11 and 12 and Sch I Art 1—whether Court should allow appellant time to make up deficiency in Court fee—Civil Procedure Code Act V of 1908 s 149 The plaintiff sued for redemption of 3 mortgages of which

COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—contd

s 6—

Secs 4

3 Pat L J 74

s 7—

Secs 5

I L R 33 All 20

s 7 (II) and (IV) (c)—other sums payable periodically whether rent is A sum of money payable as rent does not come within the meaning of the words other sums payable periodically in s 7 (IV) (c) of the Court Fees Act 1870. The landlord sued for assessment of rent and recovery of a certain specific sum of money as damages for use and occupation of the land and the first court fixed Rs 102 per bigha as the rent and awarded damages calculated at that rate for six years. The tenants appealed and paid a court fee on the memorandum of appeal calculated in accordance with s 7 (II) (c). The appellate court rejected the appeals on the ground that the court fee should have been calculated in accordance with s 7 (II). Held that the suits were suits to obtain declaratory decrees or orders where consequential relief was prayed for and came within 7 (II) (c). KALI CHARAN ROY v MAHARAJA BAHADUR KESHO PRASAD SINGH 4 Pat L J 561

s 7 (ii) Sch II 17 (ii)—Court fee—

Suit for a sum payable periodically the reliefs claimed being first a declaration of plaintiff's title and secondly a specified amount of arrears. Plaintiff sued for a declaration of her right and that of her descendants to receive a certain annuity as also for arrears of the same. The reliefs prayed for were thus stated in the plaint—(a) It may be declared as against the defendants that the plaintiff and her descendants generation after generation are entitled to receive from the defendants and their representatives Rs 100 per mensem which is a charge on the property mentioned in Schedule A. (b) A decree awarding Rs 1800 on account of the monthly allowance at the rate of Rs 100 per mensem for 18 months may be passed. A court fee of Rs 10 was paid in respect of relief (a) and an ad valorem fee in respect of relief (b). Held that the suit was one to which s 7 (ii) of the Court Fees Act 1870 applied and the court fee payable in respect of relief (a) was consequently to be assessed on a valuation of ten times the amount claimed to be payable for one year. SHAHZADI BEGAM v MAHBOB ALI SHAH I L R 42 All 353

s 7 IV (a)—

Sec COURT FEE

3 Pat L J 448

Suits Valuation Act

(III of 1887) s 8—Suit for injunction—Valuation of claim. The plaintiff in a suit for injunction valued his claim for Court fee purposes at Rs 10 and for purposes of jurisdiction at Rs 500. The lower appellate Court accepted the valuation for both purposes at Rs 500 and asked the plaintiff to pay Court fees for that amount. On appeal to the High Court Held reversing the order that under s 7 cl. 4 (a) of the Court fees Act 1870 the plaintiff was entitled to value his claim at Rs 10 for Court fee purposes and that it was wholly unnecessary for him to fix any value for the purposes of jurisdiction as by s 8 of the Suits Valuation Act the value determinable for the computation of Court fees and the value for the purposes jurisdiction shall be the same. GOVINDA HANMATA (1300) I L R 45 Bom 567

COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—contd

s 7 (IV) B—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE s 2

I L R 2 Lah 114

s 7 (IV) C—

See s 7 (V & VI)

See s 10

See SCH III

See COURT FEE

I L R 40 Calc 245 615

3 Pat L J 194, 448

I L R 42 Calc 370

I L R 44 Calc 352

See DECLARATION

I L R 38 Mad. 822

See JURISDICTION

15 C W N 823

See LIMITATION ACT 1905 SCH I ACT 152.

I L R 43 Bom 376

In a suit for an injunction by way of consequential relief the plaintiff has the right to value his claim for the purpose of Court Fees and the value for the purpose of jurisdiction is the same. BAKERISHNA NARAYAN v JANAKDAL I L R 44 Bom 331

Declaratory suit—

Consequential relief prayer for—Injunction of consequential relief—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 42 S 42 of the Specific Relief Act does not sanction every form of declaration, but only a declaration that the plaintiff is entitled to any legal character or to any right as to any property. A court fee of Rs. 10 is not sufficient for suits that are not declaratory suits in the proper sense of the expression. An injunction is a consequential relief. Marsal v Khalil I Dr d Sm 342 62 E R 410 followed. The law as to declaratory decrees discussed. DROKARI HOJA v KEDAR NATH (1912) I L R 39 Cal 704

Court fee—Suit for declaration and consequential relief—Valuation for purposes of court fee. A prior mortgagee brought a suit upon his mortgage and obtained a final decree for sale to realize Rs 6818 12 5. A puisne mortgagee of part of the property covered by this decree who had not been made a party to the prior mortgagee's suit subsequently brought a suit against the prior mortgagee asking first for a declaration that the defendant was not entitled to bring to sale in execution of his decree the property comprised in the plaintiff's mortgage and secondly for an injunction restraining the defendant from bringing the said property to sale. The first relief was valued at the amount of the defendant's decree, namely Rs. 6818 12 5 and a court fee of Rs 10 was paid in respect of it. The second relief was valued at Rs 100 only and a court fee of Rs 7 8 0 was paid. Held that the plaintiff was bound to pay an ad valorem fee on the amount at which the suit was valued namely, on Rs 6818 12 5. JAGESHAR v DURGIA PRASAD SINGH (1914) I L R 36 All 500

Declaratory suit—Con

sequential relief—Injunction prayer for—Endowment—Valuation of suit—Jurisdiction—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 42—Court fees Act (II of 1870) s 7 (iv) (c)—Suits Valuation Act (III of 1877) s 8 The plaintiff brought a suit for a declaration that he was the sole shahid of the family deity and was entitled as such to exclusive possession of the disputed properties on behalf of

COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—*contd*s 7 (IV) C—contd

with consequential relief and that therefore the court fee payable in each case was not a sum equal to ten times the Government revenue but an ad valorem fee calculated on the value of the plaintiff's share in the joint family property SHAMA PRASAD SAHAI v SHEOJESHW SINGH

5 Fat L J 394

—s 7 (IV) (C) and (V)—Suit for possession as adopted son—invalidity of adoption contested—court fees payable In a suit for possession of an estate on the ground that he had been validly adopted by the widow of the last male owner under the authority of the latter the plaintiff valued the suit for purposes of court fees at ten times the Government revenue as if it were a suit for possession only. The validity of the adoption was contested by the defendants. Held that the suit was in effect a suit for declaration that the plaintiff was the adopted son of the last male owner and for consequential relief namely possession and that therefore ad valorem court fees were payable under s 7 (ii) (c) of the Court Fees Act 1870. UGRAVORA CHAUDHRY v LACHMI PRASAD CHODHRY 5 Fat L J 339

—s 7 cls (iv) (c) and (v)—Suit for declaration of the invalidity of a decree as against the plaintiff or his properties and for possession of some of those properties sold under the decree—Relief for possession only consequential on grant of declaration—No liability to value the declaration as on the amount of the decree—Plaintiff's right to give a combined valuation for both reliefs In a suit for (i) a declaration that a certain decree was of no legal effect against the plaintiffs or the properties in their hands and (ii) possession of part of those properties which had been sold in execution of the decree. Held (a) that the two reliefs were connected and were to be taken together the relief for possession being consequential on the grant of declaration (b) that the plaintiff was entitled to put in respect of both the reliefs a combined valuation for the purpose of court fees (iii) that the whole suit was not governed by s 7 cl 4 (c) of the Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) as there was a prayer for possession also which was to be valued as per s 7 cl 5 notwithstanding that the declaration was asked for and (iv) that the prayer for declaration was not liable to be valued for purposes of court fees as upon the amount of the decree sought to be set aside as invalid. RAJA GOPALA v VIJAYARAGHAVALLI (1914)

I L R 38 Mad 1184

s 7 (IV) (c) and Sch II, Art 17—

See COURT FEE I L R 44 Cal 353

I L R 40 Cal 245 615

s 7 (IV) (i)—

See ADMINISTRATION SUIT

I L P 44 Cal 890

See COURT FEE I L P 45 Cal 634

Suit for accounts—

Preliminary decree—Appeal by the defendant against the whole decree—Valuation In a suit coming under cl. (iv) s 7 of the Court Fees Act when the plaintiff has valued the relief prayed for and obtained a decree in this instance a preliminary decree for an account and the defendant appeals against the whole decree he is bound by the valuation in the plaint. Santia Malavi v Minari

COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—*contd*s 7 (IV) (f)—contd

mal I L R 23 Mad 490 approved and followed Delroos Lanoo Begum v Nawab Syud Ashgur Ally Khan 15 B L 173 and Bumcaro Lal v Daya Sunker Misser 13 C B A 815 referred to SRINIVASACHARI v PERIVDEVASMA (1910)

I L R 39 Mad 725

—Suit for administration or account—Valuation for purposes of Court fees—Jurisdiction—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) s 7 cl IV (f) In an administration suit valued at Rs 30000 for purposes of jurisdiction and at Rs 100 for adjustment of account and wherein court fees were paid on the latter sum only together with Rs 10 for the approximate value of the claim for account. Held that such a suit was in essence a suit for account within the meaning of a 7 cl IV (f) of the Court fees Act and that adequate court fees had been paid on the plaint which could not be rejected. Khatija v Sheikh Adam Husanally Jasi I L R 39 Bom 545 Sasi Bhushan Bose v Maharaja Sir Manindra Chandra Nandy 24 C L J 445 Satya Kumar Banerjee v Satya Kripal Banerjee 10 C L J 503 followed SARAJU BALA DAS v JOGEMATA DAS (1917)

J L R 45 Cal 624

—s 7 (IV) (f) and s 11—Suit for accounts and administration—Valuation of the suit for purposes of court fees In a suit for accounts and administration of the estate by the Court the claim was valued at Rs 130 for purposes of Court fees and at Rs 30000 for purposes of jurisdiction and pleader's fees. It was contended on behalf of the defendants that the suit had not been properly valued for purposes of court fees inasmuch as the suit was not an administration suit but was in effect a claim by the plaintiff for her share in the estate. This contention found favour with the lower Courts which held that the suit was not for administration and the stamp duty was payable on the value of plaintiff's share in the property which amounted to Rs 67 958 12 0. On appeal to the High Court. Held that having regard to the statements in the plaint an administration suit was maintainable and that it could be treated as a suit for account. The plaintiff would therefore be at liberty to value it at Rs 130 or any other sum under s 7 cl IV (f) of the Court Fees Act. In the event of a decree being passed for a larger amount than that covered by the fees already paid the plaintiff would be precluded by the provisions of s 11 of the said Act from executing such decree until fees liable on the whole amount of the decree had been paid. Khatija v SHEKH ADAM HUSENALLY (1916)

I L R 39 Bom 545

s 7 (IV) (i) II Sch II Art 17

(vi)—

See ADMINISTRATION SUIT

I L R 44 Cal 690

s 7 (V) (a)—

See COURT FEE—

I L R 40 Cal 815

s 7 V (a) c) (d)—

See CHATWAY TENCES

I L R 41 Cal 812

s 7 V (b) Appeal—Court fee—

Suit for possession—Decree for qualified possession—Appeal seeking to remove the qualification con

COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—*contd*s 7 (VI)—contd

payable in a suit in which the plaintiffs pray for a declaration that they are occupancy tenants and not tenure holders and that an entry in the Record of Rights describing them as tenure holders is wrong and is not binding on them is Ps 10 TEWARI KORA : BHUPAT MANDAR

4 Pat L J 302

s 7 (IX)—

See MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT (III of 1873) ss 12 13

I L R 39 Mad 447

See JURISDICTION

I L R 39 Mad 795

Decree on mortgage

—Separate liabilities of distinct properties—Appeal in respect of distinct properties—In a suit for sale on a mortgage a decree was passed declaring the separate liabilities of the different properties mortgaged. One of the defendants whose property was held liable for specific sums of money appealed. Held that the proper Court fee payable on the memorandum of appeal was a fee calculated on the sums of money for which the defendant's property was held liable and not one calculated on the full amount of the decree. CHAKRAVARTI KUTWAR : THE COURT OF WARDS (1912)

I L R 35 All 92

—Suit for sale on mortgage—Court fee payable in appeal—Value of the subject matter—Amount declared due on date fixed for payment—A decree for sale on a mortgage declared that on the date fixed for payment a specified sum would be due from the mortgagor which included interest pendente lite. Held that the Court fee payable in appeal from such decree was to be assessed not on the amount claimed in the suit but upon the amount with interest pendente lite found due by the Court of first instance at the date fixed for payment. BALDEO SINGH v KALKA PRASAD (1912)

I L R 35 All 94

s 7 (IX) Sch I Art 1—

—Suit for redemption or foreclosure of mortgage—Appeal—Court fee—The criterion laid down in s 7 (ix) of the Court fees Act 1870 for determining the court fee payable in respect of a suit for redemption or foreclosure of a mortgage does not apply to the appeal in such a suit. In the case of appeals or cross objections in suits for redemption or foreclosure in all cases in which the amount declared by the Court to be due at the date of the decree can be ascertained by reference to the judgment and the decree it is that amount at which the appeal or cross objections should be valued and future interest should not be taken into account. The rule in Baldeo Singh v Kalka Prasad I L R 35 All 94 modified. PACHUBHAI PRASAD v SHANKAR BAKHSH SINGH (1913)

I L F 36 All 40

s 7 (X)—

See DECREE 3 Pat L J 67

s 7 (XI)—

See SCH II ART 5

I L R 40 All 358

See JURISDICTION

I L R 38 Mad 795

COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—*contd*s 7 (XI)—contd

—Suit for possession against tenant holding on after expiry of lease and others who had not been inducted on land as tenants—Court fee—In a suit for possession against three Defendants Defendant No 1 admitted that he had been holding the land as a tenant under the Plaintiff under a lease which had expired. The other two tenants established their plea that there was no relationship of landlord and tenant between the Plaintiff and them. Held that the suit could not proceed as against Defendants other than Defendant No 1 on a plaint stamped with Court fee under s 7 cl. 11 of the Court Fees Act. PRAMATHA NATH GANGULY : AMIRABDI SHEIKH 24 C W N 151

ss 7 11—

See SECOND APPEAL 15 C W N 454

See COURT FEE I L R 44 Calc 890

—ss 7 11 Sch II Art 17 (6)—Suit for partition of immovables moveables and funds of joint family business—In a suit for partition the plaintiff has to include the whole of his claim that is to say the whole of the properties which are alleged by him to be properties of the joint family immovable properties moveable properties and funds which according to him have resulted from joint business carried on by members of the family on behalf of all and such a suit cannot be treated as one for recovery of possession of both immovable and moveable property requiring for their joinder Courts leave under O II r 4 of the Civil Procedure Code. An order passed in such a suit requiring the plaintiff to elect to proceed either with his claim for recovery of immovable properties or with that for recovery of the moveables and funds is erroneous. Held that the plaint in the suit was properly stamped as required by s 7 and Sch II Art 17 cl. (6) of the Court Fees Act. Should the amount due upon taking accounts prove on investigation to exceed the approximate value given in the plaint the course to be pursued was that under s 11 of the Court Fees Act. BENI MADHAB SARKAR v GOBIND CHANDRA SARKAR (1916) 22 C W N 669 ss 7 12 17—Suits Valuation Act—

—Suit for declaratory decree in respect of property worth over Rs 60 000 valued erroneously at Rs 1 0—Court which should entertain suit—Objection on the ground of jurisdiction when to be taken—Court fee objection as to to whom open and how corrected. Plaintiff brought this suit in respect of property all of which excepting a house in Plaintiff's possession was in the possession of the Collector. The house was worth about Rs 250 the value of the rest of the property being over Rs 60 000. He prayed for declaration of Plaintiff's title to the properties in suit and for an injunction to restrain obstruction to Plaintiff's possession of the house. The Court fee payable in respect of the former relief being fixed by law at Rs 10 irrespective of the value of the property the Plaintiff according to an erroneous practice commonly followed in Bombay valued the prayer for a declaratory decree at Rs 130 as being the value on which the fee nearest to Rs 10 would be leviable and he valued the prayer for an injunction at Rs 5 the fee paid on his plaint being thus Rs 10 60. The suit was instituted in the First Subordinate Judge's Court which in the circum-

COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—*contd*ss 7, 12, 17—contd

plaintiff would have jurisdiction to entertain the suit, as the value involved was over Rs. 5,000 and though the plaintiff had in fact though erroneously valued the suit at Rs. 13, the defendant raised no objection on the ground of jurisdiction. A decree having been passed in plaintiff's favour the defendant appealed to the District Judge but through no ground was taken in the memorandum of appeal on the question of jurisdiction the District Judge was of opinion that the District Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit but a time under s 21 of the Civil Procedure Code and the appeal on all merits and reversed the decree of the District Court. On second appeal to the High Court it was held that the suit was instituted in the proper Court and appeal lay to the High Court and not to the District Court. The High Court in consequence heard the appeal as a first appeal and confirmed the decree of the District Court. Held by the Judicial Committee that the objection as to jurisdiction which was not taken at the trial should not have been allowed to be taken at the hearing of the appeal. That the Court Fees Act was passed not to arm a litigant with a weapon of technicality against his opponent but to secure revenue for the benefit of the State and under s 1st of the Court Fees Act the detriment shown only to the revenue is to be corrected by the Appellate Court and a judgment not shown to have wrongly decided to the detriment of revenue cannot be set aside at the instance of a party on the ground of jurisdiction. LACHAPPA SURESH JADHAV DESAI v. SHRIDAPPA VENKATRAO JADHAV DESAI

24 C W N 33

ss 7 and 17—subjt meaning of—claim for possession of land, meane profits and mortgages with a plaintiff entitled to add the three claims together for the purpose of assessing court fee—no interference by High Court with the word subject In s 7 of the Court Fees Act 1870 means cause of action. In a suit for recovery of possession of land and for mortgages and meane profits the plaintiff is entitled to add together the value of the three claims for the purpose of assessing the court fees payable. He is not bound to assess the court fee separately on each item of his claim. It has been the established practice in the Calcutta High Court to interfere with interlocutory orders and that practice has been adopted by the Patna High Court. NAUDATY LAL v. WILFORD JOSEPH STEPHENSON

4 Pat L J 195

s 7 Sch II cl 3 4—Suits for dissolution of partnership—interim decree—Appeal—Court fee In a suit for dissolution of partnership the defendants appealed against the preliminary decree pleading that they had no interest in the partnership and that they sought only a declaration to that effect. Held that the appellants ought to pay an ad valorem fee according to the amount at which the relief sought was valued in the memorandum of appeal. SHOLA NATH v. PARSONS DAS (1910) I L R 32 All 517

s 8—

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT 1874 s 3
I L R 45 Bom 277

COURT FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—contd

s 8 Sch II Art 17 (VI)—

Court fees Act (VII of 1870) s 8 and Sch II Art 17 cl vi—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) s 3—Land Acquisition Judge order of appeal—Debtor property—Memorandum of appeal—Ad valorem fee—Award A certain debtor property having been acquired under the Land Acquisition Act the compensation money allowed by the Collector was deposited in Court. One T applied to withdraw that amount on the ground that she was entitled to it as executrix to the will of her late husband. On objection by one A that the money in deposit should be invested in Government securities and only the interest should be paid over to the shebait the Land Acquisition Judge passed an order under s 32 of the Act directing the payment of interest only to the applicant. Against this order T preferred an appeal to the High Court on a Court fee stamp of ten rupees only. Held that the case came under the provisions of s 8 of the Court Fees Act and an ad valorem court fee ought to have been paid. Shorattan Pasi v. Mohri I L R 41 All 354 and Kasturi Chetty v. Deputy Collector Billary I L R 21 Mad 969 referred to. Held also that to bring a case under the provisions of cl (vi) of Art 17 of Sch II of the Court Fees Act it must be established that it was not possible even to state approximately a money value for the subject matter in dispute but where the claim to receive the full amount of compensation money was disallowed and the only relief allowed by the Court was to withdraw the interest on the said money there it was possible to state approximately the money value of the relief claimed and therefore in such a case the provisions of Sch II Art 17 cl (vi) of the Court Fees Act would not apply. Banwari Lal v. Daya Sunder Misser 13 C W N 818 followed. THIRU YANT DAS v. KRISHNA LAL DE (1912)

I L R 39 Cal 906

17 C W N 933

ss 10 and 127—

See COURT FEES

5 Pat L J 508

deficiency in court fee paid on plaint—appeal by defendant—respondent called upon to pay deficiency—failure to comply—suit dismissed effect of—Code of Civil Procedure (Act I of 1908) O VII r 11—Res judicata—suit to set aside ex parte decree and sale thereunder—whether court fee payable on amount of decree or value of property sold If a plaintiff respondent fails to make good a deficiency in the court fee paid on the plaint it is competent to the appellate Court to call upon him to pay the deficit, and in the event of his failure to pay to dismiss the suit. The procedure of O VII r 11 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 is not applicable to a case in which an appellate Court acts under s 1st of the Court Fees Act 1870. In such a case rejection of the plaint is an inappropriate remedy and the law enjoins a dismissal without option thought it may be that the result of the dismissal from the point of view of res judicata is the same as that of a rejection. The valuation for the purpose of court fees of a suit under s 7(iv) (6) of the Court Fees Act must be in accord with the value of the subject and must not be an arbitrary valuation. Where plaintiff asks for a declaration and consequently he is bound to pay the loss from ad valorem fees to the loss from which he seeks to be relieved. In a suit in which the plaintiff asks for a declaration that a decree obtained against him and a sale held thereunder are void on the ground of fraud he is bound to pay an ad valorem court fee on the value of his share in the property sold and not merely an ad valorem fee on the amount of the decree. PANDIT BRIJ KRISHNA DAS v. CHOWDHURY MURALI PAI 4 Pat L J 703

COURT-FEES ACT, (VII OF 1870)—*contd*ss 7 and 12—contd

See s 7 (IV) (F)

I L R 39 Bom. 515

s 11—

See BEVAL N W P AND ASSAM CIVIL COURTS ACT (VII OF 1887) a 21

I L R 32 AH 222

s 12—

See s 5 I L R 32 AH 59
3 Pat L J 92See APPEAL 14 C W N 343See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 2
115 AND 151 4 Pat L J 57See COURT FEES 3 Pat L J 443See COURT FEES ACT ss 10 12 AND 13
4 Pat L J 703

Court fees paid in Lower Appellate Court insufficient—Appeal to High Court dismissed—whether High Court has power to restrain execution of decree until realisation of deficiency. Where an appeal to the High Court has been dismissed owing to the appellants failure to pay the deficit due in respect of the court fee payable by him on a memorandum of appeal or for other good and sufficient reasons the High Court has no power after dismissal of such appeal to call on the respondent to make good any deficiency in the court fee due in respect of the court fee payable by him in the Lower Appellate Court and consequently the High Court has no power in such circumstances to restrain the respondent from executing the decree obtained by him. KUMAR RADHIKA RAMAN PRASAD SINGH v. MUSAMMAT JAYAL KUTER 4 Pat L J 472

s 13—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ss 115 151 O LII x 23

I L R 43 Bom 363

s 17—

See s 7 4 Pat L J 195

See COURT FEE 3 Pat L J 443

Suit to obtain a declaration as adopted son and to establish title to property—Injunction with respect to a house—Declaration with respect to other property—Valuation of the plaint—Valuation for pleadings fees—Special jurisdiction of the first Class Subordinate Judge—Appeal to the District Court—Second Appeal—Return of the memorandum of appeal for presentation to the High Court—Jurisdiction. In a suit for a declaration that the plaintiff was the adopted son of V and as such was entitled to his property the plaint was valued at Rs 130 for a declaration of the rights and at Rs 69 0 6 9 0 for pleader's fees. The plaintiff prayed for an injunction restraining the defendant from interfering with plaintiff's rights in respect of a house which was already in his possession and the injunction was valued at Rs 5. With respect to the other property which was attached by the Collector after V's death the plaintiff sought for a bare declaration of his rights as V's adopted son. The suit was tried by the First Class Subordinate Judge of Belgum in his special jurisdiction and he allowed the claim. The defendant appealed to the District Judge and he notwithstanding the plaintiff's preliminary objection that the appeal lay to the High Court and not to his Court, held that the First Class Subordinate Judge had no jurisdiction to try the suit under his special jurisdiction because the suit was for a declaration and consequential relief which was valued at Rs 5 of the purposes of Court fees, and the valuation for the purposes of jurisdiction being the same as for the purposes of Court Fees that valuation was less than Rs 5 000. The District Judge therefore entertained the appeal and having found that the plaintiff's adoption was not proved disallowed the claim. On second appeal by the plaintiff held reversing the decree that the First Class Subordinate Judge was entitled to try the suit under his special jurisdiction and his decree was appealable to the High Court. The plaintiff distinctly laid claim to two subjects namely two kinds of properties. First there was property in the possession of the Collector and its value exceeded Rs 5 000 and that property having been in the possession of the Collector it was not necessary for and allowable to the plaintiff to ask for an injunction. He was only entitled to a declaration of his title. The other subject matter of the suit was the house as to which the plaintiff was entitled to ask for a declaration and consequential relief and to put his own valuation on the plaint. SHIDAPPA YETKATRAO v. GACHAPPA SUBBAO (1912) I L R 36 Bom 628

COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—*contd*s 17—contd

Subject suits against several tenants for correction of Record of Right—Court fees payable on. In a suit by a landlord against 25 sets of tenants in respect of 25 holdings for a declaration that their several lands were held under the batai system and that they were wrongly recorded as paying cash rent held that a court fee of Rs 10 should have been paid in respect of each of the 25 sets of tenants. LACHMAN SARTU v. SHEIKH ABDUL KARIM

4 Pat L J 299

s 19—Property held in trust not beneficially—Undivided share of deceased coparcener and property held in trust not beneficially—Surviving coparcener applying for Letters of Administration liable to pay court fees on value of share of deceased coparcener. Under the Mitakshara Law as administered in this part of India an undivided coparcener has power to mortgage or alienate his undivided share and he can at any time enforce partition of his own share. He can not therefore be said to hold his own share of the undivided property as trust property not beneficially or with general power to confer a beneficial interest in it within the meaning of these words as used in Annexure B of the form for valuation in Sch III of the Court Fees Act although as regards the shares of others he may be said to so hold them. Where a surviving coparcener governed by the Mitakshara Law applies for Letters of Administration in respect of property

COURT-FEES ACT, (VII OF 1870)—contdSch I Art 11 Sch III—contd

rupees Where the Court below decided that no Court fee was payable on an erroneous view of law the High Court could interfere in revision under s 15 of the Indian High Courts Act. THE COLLECTOR OF MALDAH v NERODE KAMINI DASS 1912) 17 C W N 21

Probate duty assessment

Value of property meaning of Construction of Statute Sch III Annexures A and B of the Court Fees Act make it clear that the duty payable at an application for probate or letters of administration under Sch I Art 11 of the Act is to be calculated upon the net value of the estate obtained by the deduction of the amount of debts from the gross value of the estate. Collector of Maldah v Nerode Kamini Das 17 C W N 21, may require re-examination and further consideration. The interpretation of the expression 'value of property' in Sch I Art 11 as the market value of property or the value of the entire property less the amount of encumbrance is the reasonable construction of the expression. The true mode of interpreting a Statute like the Court Fees Act which has been repeatedly amended is not to consider individual sections but to take them as a whole and to give effect to the legislative intent upon a particular matter. In the goods of KERR (1913) 18 C W N 121

Estate of which gross value over Rs 1000 but deducting debts net value less than that if chargeable with death duty The expression 'amount or value of the property' in Art 11 of Sch I of the Court Fees Act signifies what is described as the net total in Annexure A in Sch III obtained by the deduction of the amount shown in Annexure B as not subject to duty from the gross valuation of the movable and immovable property left by the deceased. Held therefore that no fee was leviable under the article upon the estate of the deceased the gross value of which was shown to be Rs 1244 11 0 and the amount of the debts Rs 622 leaving a net balance of Rs 722 11 0. Collector of Maldah v Nerode Kamini 17 C W N 21 not followed. In the goods of Harriett Tennant Kerr 18 C W N 121 s c 18 C L J 398 referred to. In the goods of QUIRINGBOROUGH (1915) 20 C W N 591

Sch I Arts 11 12—Succession certificate—Grant to widow—Death of widow—Fresh certificate application by daughter for—Court fee if must be paid again—Analogy of administration de bonis non if applies—Fiscal statute interpretation of—Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1849) s 14 Whenever a fresh succession certificate is taken even though it is to collect debts for which a succession certificate has already been taken out and the duty paid the duty prescribed by the Court Fees Act must be paid. R the widow of a deceased Hindu took out a succession certificate in respect of certain debts due to the deceased. After her death S the daughter of the deceased applied for a succession certificate in respect of the same debt and urged that stamp duty upon the debts having once been already paid by P she was not bound to pay duty again. Held that it was an application for a certificate within the meaning of s 14 of the Succession Certificate Act and Court fee was payable on it as such.

COURT-FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—contdSch I, Arts 11 12—contd

One fiscal Act cannot be construed by another fiscal Act. In re SAROJEBANSHY DEBI (1916) 20 C W N 1125

Sch II Art 5—Suit for declaration that plaintiff is an occupancy tenant—Agra Tenancy Act (II of 1901) s 95—Court fee In a suit under s 95 of the Agra Tenancy Act 1901, to declare the plaintiffs status as an occupancy tenant the plaint or memorandum of appeal should bear a court fee of eight annas as provided in art 5 of sch II to the Court Fees Act. s 7 cl xi of the Act does not apply to such a suit. PATAN SINGH v KHEM KHAN (1918) 1 L R 40 All 358

Sch II Art 6—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1882) s 269 1 L R 37 Mad 17

See STAMP ACT 1899 s 2 Arts 15 AND 40 1 L R 43 Mad 363

Stay of execution security bond for how stamped—Court fee or non judicial stamp—Indian Stamp Act (II of 1899) Sch I Art 15 Bonds given as security in pursuance of the order of the Court for stay of execution must be written on paper properly stamped under the Indian Stamp Act (II of 1899). Such bonds cannot be written on plain paper bearing a Court fee stamp of annas 8 only as they are not made by order of the Court within the meaning of Art 6 of Sch II of the Court fees Act. DWARAKA NATH DEY v SAILAJA KANTA MULLICK (1916) 21 C W N 1150

Sch II Art 11—

See COURT FEES 3 Pat L J 99 101

Sch II Art 12—Caveat what is a—Probate proceeding—Persons upon whom citations issued preferring objections—Objections if must be stamped as caveat A petition by which a party upon whom citation has been issued opposes the grant of probate is not a caveat and need not be stamped as such. A caveat which is in the nature of a precautionary measure intended to assure that there shall be no proceeding in the matter of the estate of the deceased without notice to the person who files a caveat is not necessary where persons interested in the estate of the deceased appear upon citation. BRABATARI DEBI v HARI CHARAN BANERJEE (1916) 20 C W N 787

Sch II Art 17—Value of suit under judgment debt or title disputed—Cancelling of attachment—Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1847) s 4 valuation under Where the prayer in a plaint is not only to cancel an attachment but also for a declaration that the judgment-debtor has no interest in the property the value of the suit is the value of the entire property claimed by the plaintiff. NARAYANAN SINGH v AITYASANI BEDDI (1915) 1 L R 39 Mad 602

Court fee payable in suit by person whose claim in respect of property attached in execution of decree has been rejected for default Under Art 17 Sch II of the Court Fees Act a court fee of Rs 10 is payable upon the plaint in a suit by a person whose claim to properties attached in execution of a decree has been rejected for default to set aside the decision dismissed for default is an order within the meaning of Or XVI r 63 of the Civil

COURT FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—c

Sch II Art 17—c

Procedural Code and subject to the result of a regular suit in consequence of SATINIPA NATH LAKSHMI SHIVA LAL AND BHAKAT

26 C W N 126

Sch II Art 17 (3)—

See (11)

I L R 42 All 353

See (11c)

See COURT FEE

I L R 44 Cal 352

See APPEAL VALUATION OF

I L R 37 Cal 914

See VALUATION OF SUIT

I L R 43 Bom 507

Distructory decree

Suit to have decree declared void and costs of suit dismissed—decree voidable—Court fee amount of Rs 100 by the plaintiff to have it declared that a decree passed in a previous suit declaring that certain alienations were not valid was not binding on her is properly instituted on a Court fee stamp of Rs 10 only because no consequential relief is needed or sought for in it. LALALA SINGHAI DEVI v. HONAYANA NATH MUKHERJI (1916)

21 C W N 375

Suit for declaration that entry in record of rights is nullity whether or not a regular suit for—See Art 17 of Act (II of 1870) (1) (a) (i) (c) (e) (f) (g) (h) (i) (j) (k) (l) (m) (n) (o) (p) (q) (r) (s) (t) (u) (v) (w) (x) (y) (z) (aa) (ab) (ac) (ad) (ae) (af) (ag) (ah) (ai) (aj) (ak) (al) (am) (an) (ao) (ap) (aq) (ar) (as) (at) (au) (av) (aw) (ax) (ay) (az) (ba) (bb) (bc) (bd) (be) (bf) (bg) (bh) (bi) (bj) (bk) (bl) (bm) (bn) (bo) (bp) (bq) (br) (bs) (bt) (bu) (bv) (bw) (bx) (by) (bz) (ca) (cb) (cc) (cd) (ce) (cf) (cg) (ch) (ci) (cj) (ck) (cl) (cm) (cn) (co) (cp) (cq) (cr) (cs) (ct) (cu) (cv) (cw) (cx) (cy) (cz) (da) (db) (dc) (dd) (de) (df) (dg) (dh) (di) (dj) (dk) (dl) (dm) (dn) (do) (dp) (dq) (dr) (ds) (dt) (du) (dv) (dw) (dx) (dy) (dz) (ea) (eb) (ec) (ed) (ee) (ef) (eg) (eh) (ei) (ej) (ek) (el) (em) (en) (eo) (ep) (eq) (er) (es) (et) (eu) (ev) (ew) (ex) (ey) (ez) (fa) (fb) (fc) (fd) (fe) (ff) (fg) (fh) (fi) (fj) (fk) (fl) (fm) (fn) (fo) (fp) (fq) (fr) (fs) (ft) (fu) (fv) (fw) (fx) (fy) (fz) (ga) (gb) (gc) (gd) (ge) (gf) (gg) (gh) (gi) (gj) (gk) (gl) (gm) (gn) (go) (gp) (gq) (gr) (gs) (gt) (gu) (gv) (gw) (gx) (gy) (gz) (ha) (hb) (hc) (hd) (he) (hf) (hg) (hh) (hi) (hj) (hk) (hl) (hm) (hn) (ho) (hp) (hq) (hr) (hs) (ht) (hu) (hv) (hw) (hx) (hy) (hz) (ia) (ib) (ic) (id) (ie) (if) (ig) (ih) (ii) (ij) (ik) (il) (im) (in) (io) (ip) (iq) (ir) (is) (it) (iu) (iv) (iw) (ix) (iy) (iz) (ja) (jb) (jc) (jd) (je) (jf) (jg) (jh) (ji) (jj) (jk) (jl) (jm) (jn) (jo) (jp) (jq) (jr) (js) (jt) (ju) (jv) (jw) (jx) (jy) (jz) (ka) (kb) (kc) (kd) (ke) (kf) (kg) (kh) (ki) (kj) (kk) (kl) (km) (kn) (ko) (kp) (kq) (kr) (ks) (kt) (ku) (kv) (kw) (kx) (ky) (kz) (la) (lb) (lc) (ld) (le) (lf) (lg) (lh) (li) (lj) (lk) (ll) (lm) (ln) (lo) (lp) (lq) (lr) (ls) (lt) (lu) (lv) (lw) (lx) (ly) (lz) (ma) (mb) (mc) (md) (me) (mf) (mg) (mh) (mi) (mj) (mk) (ml) (mm) (mn) (mo) (mp) (mq) (mr) (ms) (mt) (mu) (mv) (mw) (mx) (my) (mz) (na) (nb) (nc) (nd) (ne) (nf) (ng) (nh) (ni) (nj) (nk) (nl) (nm) (nn) (no) (np) (nq) (nr) (ns) (nt) (nu) (nv) (nw) (nx) (ny) (nz) (oa) (ob) (oc) (od) (oe) (of) (og) (oh) (oi) (oj) (ok) (ol) (om) (on) (oo) (op) (oq) (or) (os) (ot) (ou) (ov) (ow) (ox) (oy) (oz) (pa) (pb) (pc) (pd) (pe) (pf) (pg) (ph) (pi) (pj) (pk) (pl) (pm) (pn) (po) (pp) (pq) (pr) (ps) (pt) (pu) (pv) (pw) (px) (py) (pz) (qa) (qb) (qc) (qd) (qe) (qf) (qg) (qh) (qi) (qj) (qk) (ql) (qm) (qn) (qo) (qp) (qq) (qr) (qs) (qt) (qu) (qv) (qw) (qx) (qy) (qz) (ra) (rb) (rc) (rd) (re) (rf) (rg) (rh) (ri) (rj) (rk) (rl) (rm) (rn) (ro) (rp) (rq) (rr) (rs) (rt) (ru) (rv) (rw) (rx) (ry) (rz) (sa) (sb) (sc) (sd) (se) (sf) (sg) (sh) (si) (sj) (sk) (sl) (sm) (sn) (so) (sp) (sq) (sr) (ss) (st) (su) (sv) (sw) (sx) (sy) (sz) (ta) (tb) (tc) (td) (te) (tf) (tg) (th) (ti) (tj) (tk) (tl) (tm) (tn) (to) (tp) (tq) (tr) (ts) (tt) (tu) (tv) (tw) (tx) (ty) (tz) (ua) (ub) (uc) (ud) (ue) (uf) (ug) (uh) (ui) (uj) (uk) (ul) (um) (un) (uo) (up) (uq) (ur) (us) (ut) (uu) (uv) (uw) (ux) (uy) (uz) (va) (vb) (vc) (vd) (ve) (vf) (vg) (vh) (vi) (vj) (vk) (vl) (vm) (vn) (vo) (vp) (vq) (vr) (vs) (vt) (vu) (vv) (vw) (vx) (vy) (vz) (wa) (wb) (wc) (wd) (we) (wf) (wg) (wh) (wi) (wj) (wk) (wl) (wm) (wn) (wo) (wp) (wq) (wr) (ws) (wt) (wu) (wv) (ww) (wx) (wy) (wz) (xa) (xb) (xc) (xd) (xe) (xf) (xg) (xh) (xi) (xj) (xk) (xl) (xm) (xn) (xo) (xp) (xq) (xr) (xs) (xt) (xu) (xv) (xw) (xx) (xy) (xz) (ya) (yb) (yc) (yd) (ye) (yf) (yg) (yh) (yi) (yj) (yk) (yl) (ym) (yn) (yo) (yp) (yq) (yr) (ys) (yt) (yu) (yv) (yw) (yx) (yy) (yz) (za) (zb) (zc) (zd) (ze) (zf) (zg) (zh) (zi) (zj) (zk) (zl) (zm) (zn) (zo) (zp) (zq) (zr) (zs) (zt) (zu) (zv) (zw) (zx) (zy) (zz)

COURT FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)—concl

Sch II Art 17 (6)—concl

conjugal rights is a fee of ten rupees under art 17 cl VI of the second schedule to the Court fees Act 1870. Zair Hussain Khan v. Afshar d Jan 1 I I S All 516 referred to Asra v. FAIZAZ HUSAIN (1911)

1 L R 33 All 767

Court fee payable on plaint—It is by plaintiff in joint possession to have share partitioned—Fixed fee ten rupees In a suit for partition where the plaintiff alleges that he is in possession and merely claims partition of the property and separate possession of his share a court fee stamp of 10 rupees is sufficient. I. d. v. Lachman All Hec by Vales 1900 90 Hal H A v. D. r. s. Prasad I I I 28 Ill 340 and I d. h. s. I. v. P. a. (charita) P. a. I. c. R. v. S. followed TARA CHAND MUKHERJI v. APPEAL Hec (1911)

I L R 34 All 184

Suit for partition by a person who alleges he is in possession of it as co-tenant on behalf of himself and others is governed by Sch II art 17 (6) of the Court fees Act (VII of 1870). I. d. r. s. v. o. o. of 1891 (1894) 4 J L 110 not followed TARA CHAND MUKHERJI v. APPEAL Hec (1911) I I R 34 Ill 181 and Namuddin T. v. d. n. v. Amrullah (1918) 41 I C 16 (col 5) followed CILL v. VARADARAGHAYAYYA (1909)

I L R 43 Mad 396

Sch III—

See 19(1)

I L R 33 Mad 93

I L R 40 All 279

Trusts created by the testator's Will—Trusts referred to in item (1) of Annexure B of Sch III to the Court fees Act 1870 are trusts held beneficially by the testator during his life time and not trusts created by the testator's Will CHANDRABATI KUR v. THE COLLECTOR OF DARBHANGA 2 Pat L J 611

COURT FEES AMENDMENT ACT (XI OF 1899)

Limitation for proceedings of Collector where he thinks the value of an estate has been under estimated—Form of inventory of estate to be exhibited and filed in Court—Fill and true estimate of property—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881) S 98—Inventory accepted as sufficient by former Judges of Court In the matter of an application for letters of administration with the Will annexed the period of limitation in the proviso to sub s 4 of s 101 of Act VI of 1899 (amending the Court Fees Act 1870) for the proceedings of a Collector who has reason to believe that the valuation of an estate has been under estimated does not begin to run until an inventory under s 98 of the Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881) has been exhibited and filed in the proper Court and according to the last named section the inventory required is declared to be a full and true estimate of the property. In possession of the person applying for letters of administration. Held that such an estimate was not furnished by the exhibition and filing of a document (in this case a list of the immovable property of the deceased) which required to be filed by a reference

Sch II Art 17 (6)—

See ADMINISTRATION SUIT

I L R 44 Cal 69

See APPEAL

I L R 37 Cal 914

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 2

4 Pat L J 57

See VALUATION OF SUIT

I L R 43 Bom 507

See 7 I L R 44 Cal 890

See 8 I L R 39 Cal 906

Suit for restitution of conjugal rights—Court fee Held that the court fee payable in respect of a suit for restitution of

COURT FEES AMENDMENT ACT (XI OF 1899)—contd

to various other documents in order to ascertain the valuation of the property notwithstanding it had been accepted as such an inventory as the law required by previous holders of the office of Judge of the Court in which it was filed. BRUHA NESWARY KUMAR v COLLECTOR OF GAYA (1913)
I L R 41 Calc 556

COURT FEES AMENDMENT ACT (VI OF 1905)

See COURT FEES ACT (VII OF 1870) s 7
CL (V) SUB CL XI (CC)
I L R 39 Mad 873

COURT MARTIAL

*Trial by under Ordinance I (Government of India) of 1919 if competent to try per ons under s 121 A Indian Penal Code—Privy Council appeal to—Conviction under s 121 A Indian Penal Code (Act XI of 1860)—Conclusion of local tribunal in the nature of findings of fact—Privy Council if should interfere—Free pardon by Crown if bar to appeal—Conviction by Court Martial Commissioners—Jurisdiction—Ordinance I of 1919 The Appellant was convicted by a Court of Commissioners sitting at Lahore under Ord 1 of 1919 and having the powers of a summary Court martial of an offence under s 124A of the Penal Code in respect of certain articles which were published in the issues of the 6th 7th 8th 9th 10th and 11th April 1919 of the Newspaper Tribune of Lahore during disturbances which occurred at Lahore on the 6th 10th 11th and 12th April 1919. Held—That the Commissioners had jurisdiction to try him. Bugha v King Emperor L R 47 I A 128 s c 240 W A 650 followed. That the question whether on a reasonable construction of the articles complained of the Appellant was or was not guilty of the offence was one which partook so much of the nature of a question of fact being necessarily dependent not only on the construction of the written matter but also on the local conditions obtaining at the time of publication and a just appreciation of the effect which the publication under those conditions of the articles in question would be calculated to produce that the Board could not revise the conclusions of the local tribunal without putting themselves into a position which they have repeatedly declined to assume viz that of a Court of Appeal in criminal proceedings. A free pardon by the Crown granted to the Appellant subsequently to his obtaining special leave if proved would itself have been a sufficient reason for not entertaining the appeal. Levien v The Queen L R 1 P C 56 (1857) referred to. HAZI NATH ROY v THE KING EMPEROR (P C)
25 C W N 701*

COURT OF RECORD

See CONTEMPT OF COURT
I L R 41 Calc 173
I L R 45 Calc 169

COURT OF SESSION

— committal to—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 213
I L R 38 Bom 114

COURT OF WARDS

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

14 C W N 317

See BOMBAY COURT OF WARDS ACT (I OF 1900) I L R 37 Bom 313

See CENTRAL PROVINCES GOVERNMENT WARDS ACT s 18

I L R 40 Calc 794

See CIVIL COURTS ACT (XIV OF 1860) s 32 I L R 38 Bom 582

See COMPLAINT I L R 46 Calc 854

See COMPROMISE I L R 44 Calc 829

See COURT OF WARDS ACT

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF ACT (XVII OF 1879) s 2

I L P 37 Bom 97

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 38 Bom 662

See LIMITATION I L R 43 Calc 211
I L R 46 Calc 694

See OUDH LAND REVENUE ACT (XVII OF 1876) ss 173 174

I L R 38 AN 271

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT ss 45 46
15 C W N 503

See UNITED PROVINCES COURT OF WARDS ACT

— alienation by—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
I L R 40 Mad 846

— management of widow's estate by—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
I L R 40 Mad 846

— sanction of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE EMICTION
I L P 39 Calc 915

— Suit in respect of property taken by—

See COURT OF WARDS (PUNJAB) ACT 1900
ss 8 AND 19 I L R 2 Lah 151

— whether manager entitled to grant of probate—

See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT
1881, s 41 5 Pat L J 347

—

See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT
1881, s 41 5 Pat L J 347

See UNDER THE VARIOUS PROVINCES

COURTS (COLONIAL) JURISDICTION ACT
(37 & 38 VICT C 27)

— s 3—
See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF
I L R 39 Calc 487

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1881 ss 263
264 418 AND 319

I L R 36 Bom 373
s 317 I L R 35 Bom 342

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 47 I L R 42 Bom 411

s 47 O L J R 2
I L R 43 Bom 240

—

—

COURT SALE—co 13

S 700 XXI R. 72

I L R 42 Bom 621

O XXI P 91 I L R 35 Bom 29

O XXI P 5 I L R 36 Bom 37

O XXI Rn P 90

I L R 43 Bom 559

See COMPANIES ACT (VII of 1913) s 33

I L R 41 Bom 78

See MORTGAGE I L R 38 Calc 923

See MORTGAGOR AND MORTGAGEE

I L R 41 Bom 357

See PREEMPTION I L R 34 Bom 587

See SUBSTITUTION OF PROPERTY AND

SECRET I L R 39 Mad 293

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of

185) s 3 I L R 39 Bom 507

See VATAN I L R 37 Bom 81

— appeal for application to recover deficiency—

See SECOND APPEAL.

I L R 45 Bom 223

— validity of—

See DECREE AGAINST A MAJOR AN MINOR

I L R 39 Mad 1031

— when leave of Court to bid not obtained—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE ACT 1908 ss 47

AND GO O II P 2

I L R 41 Bom 352

— Stranger purchaser bona fide effecting improvements—Subsequent eviction right to rule re—Improvements A purchaser in a Court auction who was not a party to the decree is entitled to the value of the improvements and fee effected by him on being evicted from the property owing to some defect or irregularity in the proceedings leading up to the sale. The time of his making the improvements is immaterial provided he has in an honest belief in the validity of his title. Id does not mean only honest belief in the validity of his title and does not extend to the necessity of making proper enquiries as to the title and regularity of the prior proceedings. S 51 of the Transfer of Property Act is inapplicable to a purchaser at a Court-sale. Per CENTAM There is a great distinction between stranger purchasers and decree holder purchasers. The principle of caveat emptor has no application to a Court purchase. There is no covenant for title implied in a Court sale and the purchaser takes only the right title and interest of the judgment debtor. Quare Whether Zain ul Aidin Khan v Muhammad Asghar Sh Khan I L R 10 All 166 lays down that stranger purchasers in order to be entitled to protection should make their purchases bona fide? Nanjappa Gounden v Peruma Gounden I L R 37 Mad 630 Kundarpa Nath Ghose v Jogendra Nath Bose 12 C L J 391 Stoll v Starr 1 Sawyer 15 2. (India) Fed Cases 1081 and Bright v Boyd 1 Story 478 and Dharma Das Kundu v Amuljadhan Kundu I L R 33 Calc 1119 followed 24 American Cyclopaedia of Law and Procedure page 70 referred to MORTHENSA POWTHAN v ARSA BIVI (1915)

I L R 36 Mad 194

COTTON GOODS

— sale and purchase of—

See CONTRACT ACT (IV of 1872) s 41

I L R 40 Bom 517

COVENANT?

See MORTGAGE

I L R 35 Bom 327 371

I L R 39 Calc 898

See PREEMPTION

I L R 45 Bom 170

— breach of—

See EJECTMENT I L R 45 Calc 489

— Binding on Purchaser of Land—

See AGREEMENT I L R 41 All 417

— For Renewal or Pre-emption—

Differences between—

See LEASE FOR A YEAR

I L R 44 Mad 230

— in a mining lease—

See TENANTS IN COMMON

I L R 39 Mad 1049

— not to sue—

See CONTRACT ACT s 28

I L R 38 Bom 344

— personal covenant by mortgagor—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 20 SCH. I

ART 110 I L R 44 Bom 500

— to give mortgagee possession in lieu of interest—

See MORTGAGE I L R 40 Calc 448

— Covenant to re-purchase purely personal—Sale with an option of re-purchase—Suit by vendor's grandson against the vendee's daughter in law A deed of sale with an option of re-purchase contained the following clause—I have given the land into your possession if perhaps at any time I require back the land I will pay you the aforesaid Rs 600 and any money you may have spent on bringing the land into good condition and purchase back the land. In a suit brought 30 years after execution of the deed by the grandson of the vendor against the daughter in law of the vendee to exercise the option of re-purchase—Held that the covenant to re-purchase was purely personal and the suit was not maintainable. GURUNATH BALAJI v YAMANAVA (1911) I L R 35 Bom 258

— Covenant in Kabulyat for payment of Salami on transfer—Involuntary sale and voluntary sale difference in cases of A Kabulyat stipulated that at every transfer a certain salami should be paid. The tenure in respect of which this Kabulyat was given was sold in execution of a money decree. The landlord subsequently sued for recovery of salami. Held—That the covenantary sale. A condition transfer is not applicable of involuntary transfer unless there are which clearly make it a transfer. The transfer in cannot be treated as a voluntary sale. KUMAR v CHUKKIL 1932 W N 173

COVENANT FOR TITLE

See CROSS OBJECTION 5 Pat L J 328

See SALE L R 35 All 163

COVENANTS RUNNING WITH THE LAND

See MAINTENANCE GRANT

24 C W N 329

See PERPETUITIES 6 Pat L J 163

CO-WIDOWS

sons of—

See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN

I L R 43 Calc 944

CREDITOR

See ADMINISTRATION SUIT

I L R 44 Calc 690

See TRAUD I L R 38 Bom 10

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT

(III of 1909) s 17

I L R 38 Bom 359

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III of

1907) s 31

I L R 37 All 383

s 34

I L R 37 All 452

ss 43 (2) 46

I L R 39 All 171

acceptance by—

See LIMITATION I L R 38 Mad 374

assignment to defeat—

See DECREE ASSIGNMENT OF

I L R 37 Mad 227

claims of—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 46 Calc 891

fraud of—

See MORTGAGE BY MINOR

I L R 38 Mad 1071

neglect of—

See STAKEHOLDER I L R 35 Bom 1

of heir—

See COSTS I L R 48 Calc 352

petition by—

See COMPANY I L R 39 Bom 47

priority of—

See ADMINISTRATOR GENERALS ACT (II

of 1874) ss 28 34 and 35

I L R 38 Mad 500

right of in insolvency—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT 1907

s 36

I L R 37 All 252

CREMATION

exclusive right to sell fuel for—

See BENGAL MUNICIPAL ACT s 2601

14 C W N 1057

right to officiate at—

See HINDU LAW—CUSTOM

14 C W N 1057

CRIMINAL APPEAL

See PRIVY COUNCIL PRACTICE OF

I L R 44 Calc 878

See REVIEW I L R 46 Calc 60

CRIMINAL APPEAL—contd

presentation of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V

of 1898) ss 421, 233 537

I L R 39 Mad 527

CRIMINAL BREACH OF TRUST

See AGREEMENT AGAINST PUBLIC POLICY

I L R 40 Calc 113

See CHARGE I L R 40 Calc 318

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE

s 179

I L R 35 All 29

ss 182 and 531 I L R 32 All 397

s 222 I L R 42 All 522

See JURISDICTION I L R 44 Calc 912

See MISJOINDER I L R 38 Calc 453

See PENAL CODE ss 406 AND 403

I L R 35 All 361

s 400 I L R 33 All 36

I L R 42 All 204

s 400 I L R 38 Mad 639

See RECEIVER I L R 46 Calc 432

Property and its sale proceeds—Charge relating to property but conversion of misappropriation of the sale proceeds—Legality of conversion—Absence of dishonest intention at the date of the sale—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 405 409 s 400 of the Penal Code does not cover misappropriation by a person of the sale proceeds of the property entrusted to him. A person charged with criminal breach of trust of certain property entrusted to him cannot be convicted of embezzling not the property but the amount obtained by dealing with it. Byra Das Giri v Naradamon Beni 12 C W N 577. followed. But assuming that property in s 405 of the Penal Code includes the value thereof viz. its sale proceeds a person cannot be said to have disposed of the property or the sale proceeds in violation of his contract dishonestly unless it is shown that he had the intention of dishonestly appropriating the sale proceeds on the date of the sale of which there was no evidence in the case. An auctioneer is not liable for criminal breach of trust merely because he does not punctually carry out every term in the agreement e.g. as to the date of the sale and the time of payment of the proceeds. BALTHASAR v EMPEROR (1914) I L R 41 Calc 844

Misappropriated money suit for—Jurisdiction—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (I of 1887) Sch II Art 35 (ii) 1 suit for recovery of money with regard to which defendant has committed criminal breach of trust is not triable by a Court of Small Causes. CHERAKUDDIN v RAM SIRANAN (1909) I L R 48 Calc 679

CRIMINAL CASE

See APPEAL I L R 42 Calc 374

See CRIMINAL APPEAL

See PRIVY COUNCIL PRACTICE OF

I L R 36 Mad 501

I L R 41 Calc 1023

See PVIEW I L R 46 Calc 60

CRIMINAL CASE—cc 3

appeal in—

See PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF

I L R. 41 Cal. 368

I L R 42 Cal. 739

CRIMINAL CONTEMPT

See CONTEMPT OF COURT

I L R 41 Cal. 173

CRIMINAL CONSPIRACY

See CHARGE I L R 42 Cal. 957

proof of—

See MISJOINDER OF CHARGES

I L R 42 Cal. 1153

CRIMINAL COURT—

—jurisdiction of principle governing interference by Privy Council—

See PRIVY COUNCIL

I L R. 38 Mad. 501

Duty of Criminal Court in respect of a case before it duty on shed from the duty of a Civil Court trying a civil case—Relevant documents in existence but on file of a connected case—J of Cal of Court to send for record. Whatever attention may be taken up by a Civil Court trying a civil suit, where it is the duty of the parties to place their case as they think best before the Court. It is the duty of every Criminal Court to get to the bottom of a case and to bring all relevant evidence upon the record and to see that justice is done. EMPEROR v JAGAT PRASAD

I L R 43 All 283

CRIMINAL HOUSE TRESPASS

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, ss 143

AND 145 3 Pat L J 147

CRIMINAL INTENT

See CRIMINAL TRESPASS

I L R 43 Cal. 1143

CRIMINAL INTERCOURSE

See MAINTENANCE I L R 34 Mad 86

CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION DEPARTMENT

See CONTEMPT OF COURT

I L R 41 Cal. 173

CRIMINAL JURISDICTION

Criminal Procedure Code s 195—Pecision of order of Civil Court under—Civil Procedure Code s 115 A Civil Court in making an order under a 195 of the Criminal Procedure Code does not exercise criminal jurisdiction. The Criminal Revisional Bench of the High Court has therefore no jurisdiction to interfere with such an order. Salig Ram v Panna Lal I L R 23 All 551 In the matter of a petition of Bhupkumar I L R 28 All 219 Ram Prasad Roy v Sooba Roy I C B v 400 Garu Churn Saha v Guriya Sundari Das 7 O W N 112 Kala Prasad Chatterjee v Bhuvan Mahini Das 8 O W v 73 Erankoli Athan v King Emperor I L R 26 Mad 98 But the High Court can interfere with such order under s 115 of the Civil Procedure Code. The jurisdiction of the High Court to interfere under s 115 is not ousted by s 105 and s (6) of the Criminal Procedure Code inasmuch as an application under the latter is not an appeal but a substantive application. Hardo Singh v Hanuman Das Varain I L R 26 All 245 247 referred to. LAMBHIN BANIA v SEWDAK SINGH (1910) I L R 37 Cal. 714 14 C W N 808

CRIMINAL JURISDICTION—contd

CRIMINAL LAW

Trial under Ordinance I of 1919—Accused not named in Order for trial—Construction of Ordinance I of 1919—Executing Disaffection—Indian Penal Code s 124 A—Effect of Pardon. The appellant who was the Editor of a newspaper called the Tribune published at Lahore was convicted by a Court of Commissioners sitting at Lahore under the Martial Law Ordinance I of 1919 of an offence under s 124 A of the Indian Penal Code namely of having by written words excited or attempted to excite disaffection towards His Majesty or the Government established by law in British India. The order of the Lieutenant Governor made under Ordinance I of 1919 did not name the accused who were to be so tried but referred to all persons charged with offences connected with the recent disturbances. Held (1) that the validity of the Ordinance being established by the decision of the Board in Dugga v The King Emperor (I L R 1 Lahore 36 L P 471 A 18) the Commissioners Court had jurisdiction although the order of the Lieutenant Governor did not name the accused persons (2) that the Court having applied the right principles of law in considering whether an offence under s 124 A had been committed their Lordships would not advise an interference with the conclusion arrived at. It being stated by counsel for the Crown that since leave to appeal had been given a free pardon had been granted their Lordships observed that that would be a sufficient ground (as held in Leven v The Queen L R 1 P C 336) for not entertaining the appeal but as the pardon was disputed and direct evidence of its having been granted was not forthcoming their Lordships had not stopped the appeal on that ground. HALI NATH ROY v KING EMPEROR I L R 2 Lah 24 25 C W N 701

Sentence exceeding legal maximum—Transportation for term of years—Practice of Judicial Committee—Remitted to High Court to revise sentence—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 59 304 B 59 of the Indian Penal Code authorizes a sentence of transportation for life but not one of transportation for a term of years exceeding the maximum term of imprisonment which can be awarded for the offence. The appellants were convicted by a Sessions Judge under the Indian Penal Code s 304, of culpable homicide not amounting to murder and were liable under that section to a sentence of imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years. They were sentenced to three years rigorous imprisonment. Upon appeal to the High Court the conviction was affirmed and upon a petition for revision the sentences were enhanced to fourteen years transportation. Held that ten years was the maximum term of years to which the appellants could be sentenced to transportation and that the case should be remitted to the with instructions to

CRIMINAL LAW—contd

pass sentences according to law SAYYAFUREDDI
CHINNAYYA & KING EMPEROR (1921)

I L R 44 Mad 297

CRIMINAL LAW AMENDMENT ACT (XIV OF 1908)

See EVIDENCE ACT 1872 ss 25 114
133 157 I L R 35 Mad 397

— ss 12 14 (1)—

See BAIL I L R 37 Cal 412 & 429

CRIMINAL MISAPPROPRIATION

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 179
I L F 34 All 487

See JURISDICTION I L R 44 Cal 912

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
ss 403 AND 22 I L R 40 All 119
s 409 I L R 33 All 249

CRIMINAL OFFENCE

— whether a mere personal matter—

See PENAL CODE 1860 ss 304 and
323 I L R 2 Lah 27

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)

— s 4 (h)—

See COMPLAINT

See s 526

4 Pat L J 656

Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 193 210—Sanction to prosecute—Complaint—Letter from trying Magistrate to his official superior asking merely for direction as to procedure. The holder of a decree for rent passed by an Assistant Collector of the second class took out execution for a larger sum than was in fact due and also gave in his application a wrong date as the date of the decree. The judgment debtor paid the amount claimed under compulsion and there after applied for sanction to prosecute the decree holder. Upon receipt of this application the Assistant Collector wrote a letter to the District Magistrate forwarding it through his immediate superior the Sub divisional Magistrate in which he stated all the facts of the case and concluded by eliciting orders in the case. The Sub divisional Magistrate instead of forwarding this letter to the District Magistrate himself passed orders for the prosecution of the decree holder. He tried the case himself and convicted the decree holder of offences under ss 193 and 210 of the Indian Penal Code. On appeal the conviction and sentence were upheld by the Sessions Judge. Held that the letter written by the Assistant Collector to the District Magistrate in which the former did not ask that any action should be taken by the Magistrate but merely for direction as to how he should proceed did not amount to a complaint within the meaning of s 4 of the Criminal Procedure Code and there being no complaint the trial was illegal. EMPEROR & SHEO SAMPAT PANDE (1918)

I L R 40 All 641

Complaint Allegation

male in writing to a Magistrate—with a view to his taking action—Examination of complainant before issue of process—Quashing of proceedings

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

— s 4 (h)—contd

Where one N M wrote a letter to the Sub Divisional Magistrate in which he stated that the petitioner had used insulting language towards him and asked the Magistrate to take action and the Magistrate on receipt of that letter issued process against the petitioner without examining the said N M. Held that the letter in question certainly comes within the definition of complaint given in s 4 Cr P C and the Magistrate should have examined the complainant and then proceeded in accordance with law. KHETO MOHAN MITRA & EMPEROR (1913) 17 C W N 448

Obstruction of public servant—Complaint—Sanction want of—Quashing of proceedings—The Petitioner was summoned under s 186 Penal Code for obstructing a peon in the execution of a warrant under the Cess Act. The report of the peon on which the proceedings were started was merely a report of what took place and contained no express or implied request to the Magistrate to take any action. Held that the report did not come within the meaning of a complaint under s 4 cl (h) Cr P C. Held further The report not being a complaint and there being no sanction by the public officer concerned viz the peon the prosecution under s 186 Penal Code was bad. AHMED HUSAIN & EMPEROR (1913) 17 C W N 980 ss 4 (h) 173 200 190—Charge presented to Magistrate by Police officer in a non cognizable case of complaint or police report—Complaint if must have personal knowledge of the facts—Complaint—Reproduction of the language of section without a statement of fact if proper complaint—Complaint before Presidency Magistrate—Written record of facts constituting offence if required—Police report in s 190 (1) (b) if has under significance in the Town of Calcutta. The definition of complaint does not require any statement of facts beyond an allegation that some person has committed an offence but if that definition is read into s 190 (1) (b) of the Criminal Procedure Code it is clear that before a Magistrate takes cognizance he must have before him an allegation of facts constituting the offence a mere repetition of the words of a section of the Penal Code is not a proper compliance with the provisions of the sub section. The object of s 200 of the Criminal Procedure Code requiring a Magistrate to examine the complainant possibly is that the facts constituting the offence may be ascertained when in a written complaint they are not given. When a written complaint presented to a Presidency Magistrate does not contain an allegation of facts constituting the offence if the Magistrate examining the complainant does not reduce the examination to writing there may be no written record of the facts constituting the offence. But he is not bound by law to do so. And where a Presidency Magistrate merely noted the fact that he had examined the complainant the High Court in revision must presume that before he issued process he had before him an allegation of facts constituting the offence. Quara—Whether the term Police report in s 190 (1) (b) of the Criminal Procedure Code has a wider significance in the town of Calcutta in view of the fact that s 173 of the Code does not apply to the Police in Calcutta. The definition of com

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—cor d

ss. 4 (b) 173 100 100—

plaint in s. 4 (b) does not contain any limitation such as that the person filing the complaint must have personal knowledge of the facts nor does s. 190 of the Criminal Procedure Code. If a complainant is not speaking from personal knowledge a Magistrate taking cognizance would exercise a wide discretion in making the enquiry which he is authorized to do by s. 4 of the Criminal Procedure Code but he is not compelled to do so. SHYAM CHANDRAN v. MOHAMED ALI KHAN 5 C W N 267 ss. 4 (b) 100 200 and 203—Complaint at Jor Cement Works served by Superintendent of Salt Revenue Department : A Complaint Sheet sent to a magistrate in accordance with paragraph 10 of the Instructions issued by the Commissioner of Salt Revenue for the guidance of officers of the Salt Revenue Department containing a definite request to the Magistrate to try the accused for the offences set out in the sheet is a complaint within the meaning of s. 4 (b) of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898. Where a Magistrate on receipt of a complaint issued process before examining the complainant on oath as required by s. 200 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 but it was not shown that the accused had been in any way prejudiced by the irregularity that the verification of the accused should not be set aside on account of the irregularity which was covered by a 23 of the Code. INAGU SANT v. KING IMPEROR 1 P L J 592

ss. 4 (b) 100 200 202 522—

See ALAN INFORMATION TO POLICE

I L R 46 Calc 807

s. 4 (b) 105 (1)—Complaint—Information of the supposed commission of an offence communicated by the District Judge to the District Magistrate with a view to the latter taking action as a Magistrate : A Magistrate being of opinion that a document filed in a case before him had been tampered with communicated his suspicions to the District Judge who thereupon wrote to the District Magistrate requesting him to take action in the matter. Held that the letter of the District Judge to the District Magistrate amounted to a complaint within the meaning of s. 105 (c) of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Emperor v. Sundar Sarup 1 L P 26 All 114 followed. EMPEROR v. DEBI PRASAD (1912) I L R 35 All 8

ss. 4 (b) 195 (1) (b) 478—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 43 Calc 1152

ss. 4 (b) 199 238 (3)—

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860) s. 498 I L R 38 All 276

ss. 4 (b) 478—Complaint—Statement made to Magistrate in his executive capacity—(Ind. and Penal Code) Act XLV of 1860 s. 211 : Held that it was not competent to a Magistrate to treat as a complaint and found thereon such procedure as would naturally follow on a complaint including a prosecution under a 211 of the Indian Penal Code a statement which was made to him extra judicially and without any intention or desire that it should be taken as a complaint but merely

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—cor d

ss. 4 (h) 478—cor d

In reply to a question asked by the Magistrate

LAWSON : BHOLE SINGH (1915)

I L R 38 All 32

s. 4 (k)—

See ss. 202 AND 203 5 Pat L J 47

s. 4 (m)—Complaint—Petition asking for Police warning of complaint—Petition before Magistrate making charge against accused and asking for an order on Police to warn accused of complaint : A petition in which the petitioner made certain allegations against a person and asked for an order on the Police to warn him is not a complaint in a criminal case and no sanction to prosecute the petitioner under s. 211 Indian Penal Code for those allegations can be granted. PUNZO CHANDRA CHOSE v. HIRJI CHANDRA GHOSH (1911) 15 C W N 1051

ss. 4 (m) 125 478—

See MAGISTRATE POWERS OF

I L R 37 Calc 72

ss. 4 (m) 478—

See COURT MEANING OF

I L R 37 Calc 642

See JUDICIAL PROCEEDING

I L R 37 Calc 52

ss. 4 (1) (a) 236 237 403 (1)—

See ATTEFOIS ACQUIT

I L R 45 Calc 727

s. 4 (p)—Officer in charge of a police station meaning of—Search of a house by an authorized officer—Assistance by an unauthorized person whether unlawful : Where an officer in charge of a police station has gone on duty to a place outside his local jurisdiction the police officer next in rank deputed to act for him even though he is absent from the station so long as he is within the jurisdiction is an officer in charge of a police station. If a police officer entitled to conduct a search enters a building for such a purpose the association with him of another having no local jurisdiction does not make the other's entry an unlawful trespass. Morris v. Wise 2 F & F 51 and Sadagopa Charlu v. Satrugana Devara 23 M L J 445 followed. ASSAN ALLIAN MARIKATAYAR v. MASILANANT NADAR (1918) I L R 42 Mad 448

s. 4 (r) 240—

See MUKHTAR I L R 38 Calc 483

ss. 4 (t) 195 476 and 492—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 41 Calc 446

ss. 4 (t) 417 and 492—

See PUBLIC PROSECUTOR

I L R 41 Calc 425

s. 5—

See CALCUTTA RENT ACT 1920 s. 24

25 C W N 661

Several concurrent sentences each by itself non-appealable if appealable taken collectively : An accused who has been sentenced to concurrent terms of imprisonment no one of which is individually appealable has no right to insist them collectively

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 5—contd

Abdul Khaled v The King Emperor 17 C W N 72 not followed Suknandan Singh v King Emperor 16 C W N cclxxxiv referred to SHAEIJAN SHAIKH v EMPEROR (1913) 17 C W N 825

ss 6 435 439—

See HIGH COURT

I L R 37 Cal 287

ss 10 and 406

See APPEAL I L R 48 Cal 874

ss 12 202 203, 476 529 (f)—

See MAGISTRATE JURISDICTION OF

I L R 39 Cal 1041

ss 14 15 154 161, 164 241 285 2 295 364 465 and 533 and Sch III (4) (5) and (13)—Trial of a lunatic investigation into unsoundness of mind—Subsequent trial by different Judge and axes ora validity of—Confession power of Honorary Magistrate to record—Construction of Statutes The subsequent trial of an accused person whose trial has been postponed by reason of unsoundness of mind is not illegal merely on account of the fact that the Judge and assessors at the subsequent trial are not the same as at the time of the preliminary investigation under s 465 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898. The word postponed in a 465 is not fortuitous but has been deliberately chosen to indicate something different from an adjournment as used in other sections of the Code. Sub s (2) of s 465 is merely an enabling enactment giving the Court if any which subsequently tries the accused persona power to take into consideration the earlier proceedings as if they were a part of the record in the trial without the necessity of formal proof. An Honorary Magistrate recording a confession under s 164 is not performing a judicial act as such. A confession recorded by an Honorary Magistrate of the third class is legal even though such Magistrate has not been empowered to sit singly. The power granted to a Magistrate of the third class in sch III (13) is not confined to cases judicially before him. The fact that the Magistrate had no authority to carry on a preliminary enquiry or to act in a judicial capacity in the case in which the confession was recorded does not affect the validity of the confession. If there is any ambiguity as to the meaning of a statutory provision the Court is entitled to consider what consequences would result from such an interpretation with a view to ascertain what the real intention of the Legislature was. GHYSEA ORAOV v KING EMPEROR 3 Pat L J 291

s 15—Bench of Magistrates—Judgment and conviction by only some legality of The hearing of a case of assault was commenced by six members of a Bench of Magistrates whose legal quorum was only two. On adjourned hearings of the case sometimes four and sometimes only two took part. These two who took part in the proceedings of the case throughout concluded the trial and delivered judgment convicting the accused. Held that the conviction was legal. Kuruppana Nandan v Chairman Madura Municipal I L R 21 Mad 216 followed. There is no analogy between trial by a Bench of

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 15—contd

Magistrates and trials by arbitrators or jurors VENKATAPANA v SAMINATHA (1914)

I L R 38 Mad 797

ss 15 16 350—Honorary Magistrates—Effect of variations in the composition of Bench during the course of a trial—Local Governments power to make rules By rules framed by the Local Government under s 16 of the Code of Criminal Procedure it was provided (i) that when a Bench of Honorary Magistrates consisted of three members any two of them should form a quorum and (ii) that if the Bench held an adjourned sitting for disposal of a part heard case and the members of the adjourned session were not the same as sat at the first hearing of the case the provisions of a 350 of the Code of Criminal Procedure would be held to apply to the case. A Bench of Honorary Magistrates consisted of three members J N and P. A case under the Gambling Act came before the Bench and was partly heard by J and N. The case was then adjourned and at the next hearing came before J and P. The accused waived their right under s 350 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. The prosecution witnesses were cross examined the defence witnesses were heard the accused were examined and arguments were heard. The case was then again adjourned and on the next occasion the Bench consisted of J and N who proceeded to deliver judgment. Held that the rules framed by Local Government were not ultra vires but inasmuch as the course followed by the trial had probably been prejudicial to the accused, the trial so far as the last day's proceedings were concerned was set aside and the case remitted for disposal to J and P. Hardwar Singh v Khaga Osha I L R 20 Cal 870 discussed. EMPEROR v MATHURA (1918)

I L R 41 All 116

s 16—Difference of opinion between Magistrates forming Bench settlement of by casting vote of Chairman—Act VII of 1912 s 3 effect of on notification in force in Eastern Bengal and Assam—Act VII of 1905 s 3 effect of—Notification of Local Government issued prior to 1905 application of to Districts formerly in Eastern Bengal and Assam The notification issued by the then Government of Bengal under s 16 Criminal Procedure Code prior to 1905 that a difference of opinion between two Honorary Magistrates forming a Bench is to be settled by the casting vote of the Chairman which was one of the notifications which were kept in force in the Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam by s 3 of Act VII of 1905 still applies to the District of Faridpur under s 3 of Act VII of 1912. ULPAT SHAIKH v THE KING EMPEROR (1913) 18 C W N 394

s 18—Rules 1 2 4 of—the rules framed for the guidance of special Magistrates Bench in the Municipal District of Satara—Bench of three Magistrates commencing a trial—Absence of one Magistrate—The remaining two Magistrates hearing the rest of the case—Trial illegal A Bench of three Special Magistrates heard the prosecution evidence but owing to the absence of one of the Magistrates the remaining two went on with the trial heard the defence evidence and convicted and sentenced the accused. A question having arisen whether the trial was void in view of r 4

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—

s. 16—Rules 1, 2, 4 of—

of the rule 1 & the guidance of the Special Magistrate. See s. 111 that the trial was void inasmuch as it contravened the provisions of s. 4. EMPEROR v. MOHAMMAD (1913)

I L R 44 Bom 400

s. 17—Dist. Magistrate—Powers of Dist. Magistrate of District of Criminal Court s. 111 that s. 1 of the Code of Criminal Procedure does not empower a District Magistrate to delegate to the senior honorary Magistrate of the District the duty of distributing cases for trial amongst the other honorary Magistrates and Benchers. I L R 11 BOM v. SHAFI LAL (1914)

I L R 35 All 468

s. 20—A District Magistrate has jurisdiction in respect of offence committed outside Calcutta but within the limit of the Port of Calcutta. W. J. WOOD

I L R 47 Cal 147
24 C W N 79

s. 21 cl. (2) and 526 cl. (H)—

See INTERVENING MAGISTRATE

I L R 35 Mad 739

s. 35

See APPEAL

I L R 46 Cal 631

Scope of—Section 35 of Code applies when a person is charged with a crime. s. 35 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is not restricted to cases where the several punishments are all of the same kind that is are all sentences of imprisonment or all sentences of transportation but covers cases where both kinds of punishment are inflicted. ABDUL MOHAMMAD v. KING EMPEROR (1916)

21 C W N 608

Sentences when may be ordered to run concurrently s. 35 (1) Criminal Procedure Code authorizes a Court to direct that several punishments passed on an accused for two or more distinct offences do run concurrently only when such sentences have been passed on him at one trial. It is not competent to a Court to give such a direction when the sentences have been passed in different trials. DEJOY GOPAL CHOWD v. RAMAL MANDAL (1910)

20 C W N 1300

When a conviction is had before a Magistrate of the first class of several offences and the concurrent sentence is passed for each offence which in itself is not appealable an appeal does not lie to the Sessions Judge. ABDUL JABBAR v. THE KING EMPEROR

25 C W N 614

s. 35 and 408—

See SEDITION

I L R 38 Cal 214

Appeal—Aggregate sentences—whether concurrent sentences are aggregate The term aggregate sentences in s. 35 (3) of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 applies only to consecutive and not to concurrent sentences. Therefore no appeal lies to the High Court where the whole sentence to be served does not exceed four years. GUR SABA RAM v. KING EMPEROR

3 Pat L J 138

Appeal—Aggregate sentences—Concurrent sentences not aggregate the term aggregate sentences as used in

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s. 35 and 408—contd

sub (3) of s. 35 of the Code of Criminal Procedure applies only to consecutive and not to concurrent sentences. Where therefore an Assistant Sessions Judge passes concurrent sentences and the whole term to be served by the convict does not exceed four years the appeal under s. 408 of the Code does not lie to the High Court but to the Sessions Judge. Sher Mohammad v. Emperor v. Inia Tunj Lee (1901) Cal 8; Emperor v. Tulhila Lalshaman 11 Bom L R 311 and Peri v. Gulam 11 Bom L R 111 approved and followed. Abdul Khaled v. Asif Emjor 17 C W N 111 dissented from by WILSON & TELLS; RAM (1913)

I L R 35 All 154

s. 35 235—

See PENAL CODE ACT (XLI) OF 1860

s. 71 147 303 I L R 39 All 623

s. 35 (3), 413—

See APPEAL

I L R 40 Cal 631

s. 36 94 96 165 Sch III (8)—

See TRESPASS

I L R 39 Cal 953

s. 42—Penal Code s. 137—Omission to give assistance to the police—Extent of powers of police to require assistance A sub-inspector of police having received information that persons who had been concerned in a number of dacoities in the neighbourhood and who recently committed a dacoity at a village about two miles off had been seen in a forest tract near by called upon the zamindar's agent to lend him a gun belonging to the zamindar who was absent and on two villagers to join him in a search for the dacoits. The agent refused to lend the gun and the two villagers refused to join the expedition in search of the dacoits. Held, that the circumstances of the case were not covered by the provisions of s. 42 of the Code of Criminal Procedure and the persons in question could not therefore rightly be convicted under s. 137 of the Indian Penal Code. EMPEROR v. JOTI PRASAD

I L R 42 All 314

s. 49—

See HANES CORPUS

I L R 44 Cal 459

s. 54—*Penal Code (Act XLI of 1860)*s. 295 330—Cognizable offence—Issue of warrant of arrest—Arrest by a police officer without warrant

Legality of arrest—Obstruction of such officer by third parties if an offence A police officer is justified in making an arrest under s. 64 of the Criminal Procedure Code of a person against whom a charge of having committed a cognizable offence has been preferred although the warrant issued for the purpose had not been entrusted to him and a person obstructing and beating such officer while he is attempting to arrest the offender is guilty of offences under s. 295 332 of the Indian Penal Code. In the matter of Charu Ch Majumdar 20 C W N 1933 distinguished RATNA MUDALI v. KING EMPEROR (1917)

I L R 40 Mad 1028

Credible information A police constable having knowledge that a warrant is in respect of a cognizable offence against a certain person attempted to arrest such person and in so doing was assaulted and prevented from effecting the arrest. Held that the existence of the warrant was equivalent to credible information that the person in question had been concerned in a cognizable offence within the meaning of s. 54 (1) of the Code of Criminal Procedure and that the persons preventing the arrest were properly convicted under s. 303 of the Indian Penal Code. Queen Empress v. Dohp I L R 18 All 246 distinguished Emperor v. Gopal Singh (1913) I L R 35 All 6

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 54—contd

s. 54, 190 491 498—

See HABEAS CORPUS

I L R 44 Cal 76

s 55 53 110—Arrest of suspected person—Warrant—Proclamation S. 55 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is independent of Chapter VIII of the Code although proceedings under that chapter may follow an arrest under s. 55 as a natural sequence. An officer in charge of a police station can therefore arrest or cause to be arrested without a warrant or an order of a Magistrate any person who is by reputation a habitual robber, house-breaker or thief or otherwise comes within the scope of s. 110. Emperor v. Nepal (1913) I L R 35 All 437

s 55 57—Legality of a custody by a Magistrate—R. arrest by police S. 55 of the Code of Criminal Procedure cannot legally be made use of for the purpose of re-arresting under arrest a person whom a Court having acquitted him of the offence with which he was charged, has ordered to be set at liberty. Emperor v. Madar Ali Weekly Vol. 1, 1893 59 referred to Emperor v. Mateu (1910) I L R 41 All 433

s 59—

See ARREST BY PRIVATE PERSON

I L R 41 Cal 17

See PENAL CODE s 107

5 Pat L J 129

s 75 (1)—

See WARRANT VALIDITY OF

I L R 42 Cal 708

Presiding officer
Warrant of arrest signed by other than presiding officer—Result as to arrest Where a warrant for the arrest of a person was failed to surrender on the day named in his personal recognizance was signed not by the Magistrate who had cognizance of the case but by an Honorary Magistrate of the same town and that the warrant was signed by an unauthorized person and was therefore invalid and that resistance to a constable endeavouring to effect an arrest on the warrant did not amount to an offence under s. 303 of the Indian Penal Code 1860. Held also that the accused having surrendered before the warrant was executed and having been again released on his personal recognizance should not have been re-arrested. Jagpat Kheri v. King Emperor 2 Pat L J 487

s 75 77 79 80 537 and 555—

See WARRANT OF ARREST 3 Pat L J 493

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 88—Absconding person a member of an undivided Hindu family—Undivided interest of his in the family property or any portion thereof whether liable to attachment under s 88 The undivided interest of an absconding person who is member of an undivided Hindu family in the family property or any portion thereof can be attached under s. 88 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898). Musammit Golab Koonwar v. The Collector of Benares and Raja Odit Varan Singh & Moo I A 216 and Juggomohon Bishoi v. Roy Mohaarganath Chowdry, 11 Moo I A 223, followed Re Umayan 2 Weir & Cr R 43 approved Re Chinnyan 2 Weir & Cr R 43 overruled SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. RAJAGANATH AYYANGAR (1916) I L R 39 Mad 931

s 88 89—

See s 524

5 Pat L J 321

s 90 531 and 537—Arrest under s 90—Bail for appearance—S 531 applicability of A warrant purporting to be issued under s. 90 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) for the arrest of an absconding person who has been let out on his own bond is illegal unless the Court records its reasons as required by the section. The omission to do so is an irregularity not cured by s. 537 of the Code. s. 501 of the Code applies only to cases where there are sureties and where through mistake fraud or other wise insufficient sureties have been accepted. It does not apply to a case where there are no such grounds. R. Karthay Arsalan (1914) I L R 38 Mad 1088

s 80 Sch V Form VII—

See WARRANT I L R 33 Cal 789

s 84—

See SUMMONS TO PRODUCE DOCUMENTS

I L P 47 Cal 647

See TRESPASS I L R 39 Cal 953

Summons may be issued under to accused to produce document or thing Under s. 94, Criminal Procedure Code a Magistrate has power to issue a summons to an accused person to produce a document or other thing, even when its production might tend to incriminate him. Mahomed Jattariah and Co v. Ahm. d. Mahomed I L R 15 Cal 109 followed Akshar Chandra Ghosh v. The Emperor 10 C W V 1016 disapproved from KONDABEDDI (1914) I L R 37 Mad 112

The Chief Presidency Magistrate of Calcutta issued a search warrant in execution of which the books of the Petitioner's firm were taken possession of by the police. The Magistrate's order was set aside by the High Court in revision and thereupon the Magistrate issued a notice on the Petitioner calling upon him to be present in his Court to take delivery of books personally or by agent. The books were made over to the Petitioner's agent and simultaneously a notice was served on the Petitioner's agent under s. 91 Cr P C and the books were taken possession of. Held on a consideration of the circumstances of the case that the order under s. 91 Cr P C was properly made. Pratt v. King Emperor 24 C W N 410

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—cont

ss 94 96 192, 202—

See MAGISTRATE, POWER OF

I L R 28 Calc 63

ss. 94 165—

See SEARCH I L R 41 Calc 261

See SEARCH WITHOUT WARRANT

I L R 38 Calc 304

ss 94, 105—Scope of Search for specified article or thing—Article in possession of person if can be searched for—General search for article in property if authorised Where a Sub-Inspector of Police searched the house of one S who had been charged with criminal breach of trust in respect of a sum of money and the object of the search was to discover the money and a law in which it was contained and in the course of the search one of the petitioners cut the Sub-Inspector with a sickle on the hand and the other knocked him down and they were convicted under ss 33* 303 Penal Code Held that the search was covered by s. 165 Cr I C and the convictions under ss 33* 303 were right. That under ss 94 165 Cr P C a search can be made for a stolen article or incriminating document or thing in the possession of an accused person. Let one of the safeguards which the Legislature provides against abuse is that the search must be for a specified article or thing and not a search for stolen property generally. By SANJIVAN R. EMBREKOR (1913) 17 C W N 1209

s 96—

See s 36 I L R 39 Calc 953

General search warrant issue of when justifiable Under orders of the Government the officer appointed for the purpose was holding an investigation into the dealings with the Monitions Board with a view to find out what offence if any was committed and by whom in connection with the said dealings. On the application of this officer to the effect that the books and accounts of the Petitioner's firm among others mentioned in the petition were necessary for the purpose of the said investigation the Magistrate issued a general search warrant in respect of the books and documents of the Petitioner's firm specified in the petition. Held—That there was no enquiry or trial or other proceeding under the Code and there were no materials before the Magistrate on which he could decide that a search warrant should be issued and the order issuing the warrant was illegal. Per NEWBOLD J—When the law requires the sanction of a Magistrate before the issue of a search warrant that means that the Magistrate should apply his mind to the facts and he ought not to issue a search warrant simply because the police officer asks him to do so. T P PRATT v KING EMPEROR I L R 47 Calc 597

24 C W N 403

General search warrant issue of when justifiable Per CHAUDHURI J—An order under s 96 Cr P C cannot be made to further a police investigation which may or not result in an enquiry. The Magistrate has to form his own opinion upon the materials placed before him. He is not relieved from his duty by stating that he believed that the officer of government holding the investigation for the purposes of which the books were wanted had formed a correct opinion. The form of the search warrant in the Code refers to an enquiry now being made or about to be made. There are separate provisions in the Code for investigation and large powers are given to the police in cognizable cases for seizing of documents. The word investigation is defined in the Code and is differentiated from an enquiry. There is no express provision requiring the Magistrate to make a record or keep notes of the examination of the person on whose application the Magistrate issues the search warrant but some record ought to be kept in so far as the High Court to form an opinion as regards the materials upon which the Magistrate acted. Per NEWBOLD J—S 96 Cr I C empowers a Magistrate to issue a search warrant before any proceedings of any kind are initiated and in view of an enquiry about to be made. JAGANNATH AGARWALLA v KING EMPEROR 24 C W N 405

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*cont*s 90—cont

ss 96 98—Search warrant issue of long after application Where in a case of criminal trespass and theft the complaint at the time of applying for process prayed for the issue of a search warrant but the Magistrate after repeated applications made an order for the issue of the warrant more than three weeks after. Held that although the procedure was not contrary to the actual letter of ss 96 and 98 Criminal Procedure Code it was so dilatory that it could only tend to defeat the object for which such a warrant is issued. DILAS ROY CHOWDHURY v RAM GOPAL KUMAR (1917) 22 C W N 719

s 100—

See SEARCH WARRANT

I L R 45 Calc 905

Warrant under legality of when drawn up on a printed form under s 98—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1890) ss 147 and 33.—Pendency to the execution of warrant There being no printed form for search warrants under s 100 Criminal Procedure Code printed forms issued under s 98 are always used with the necessary modifications for that purpose. When a warrant under s 100 Criminal Procedure Code was drawn up on a printed form for use under s 98 Criminal Procedure Code and the warrant was snatched away and destroyed by the persons accused of resisting the execution of the warrant. Held that as the accused destroyed the warrant it must be presumed that the warrant under s 100 was properly drawn up on a form under s 98 Criminal Procedure Code with the necessary modifications. That the error if any in the warrant supposing that the necessary modifications had not been made would be one of form only. Buru Haldar v Prabhat Chandra G C L J 127 distinguished GURANAK v KING EMPEROR (1911) 16 C W N 336

Custody of child by natural father—Court's power to make over child to adoptive father A complaint was filed before the Magistrate alleging that the Petitioner had removed his son whom he had given in adoption to the complainant a son a widow from the complainant's custody without her consent. As soon as the was filed and before the issue of any which was ordered the boy was produced in Court and the Magistrate adjourned the case directing the Petitioner to move the High Court on failure of which the boy was to be made over to the complainant. Held—That it was very doubtful if a 100 Cr P C applied to the case. That under the circumstances the order of the Magistrate was not a proper order and should be set aside. CHAGAN RAI v. HERA LAL DOOSAJ 24 C W N 104

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

§ 100—contd

ss 100 552—

See MAGISTRATE JURISDICTION OF

I L R 39 Calc 403

§ 103—Right of investigating officer to search a house—Search made without witnesses—Resistance on the part of householder—Act No XLV of 1860 (Indian Penal Code) ss 332 and 503 A sub-inspector of police investigating a charge of theft requires no warrant to enable him to search a house which he suspects to contain stolen property. But in making such a search he is bound to comply with the provisions of § 103 of the Code of Criminal Procedure and if he attempts to make a search without any search witnesses being present the owner or occupier of the house is justified in resisting the attempt so far as to exclude him from the house. The owner or occupier is not however justified in using any more force than is necessary for such purpose. EMPEROR v. NIRMAL SINGH

I L R 42 All 67

Evidence of search apart from search list—Evidence Act I of 1872 s 91—

Matter required by law to be reduced to the form of a document When a search has been conducted under § 103 Criminal Procedure Code evidence can be given regarding the things seized in the course of the search and regarding the places in which they were found in addition to the evidence of the list which the law directs to be drawn up relating to the particulars of the property found. The words in § 91 Indian Evidence Act I of 1872 any matter required by law to be reduced to the form of a document could not have been intended by the legislature to mean observations of physical facts which under the ordinary law has to be proved by the testimony in Court. SOLAI NAIK v. EMPEROR (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 349

ss 103 309 423—

See Dacoity I L R 41 Calc 350

§ 105—

See TRESPASS I L R 39 Calc 953

§ 106—

See SECURITY TO KEEP THE PEACE

I L R 43 Calc 671

Offences involving breach of the peace—Offence punishable under s 804 of the Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) is such an offence—Security for keeping the peace on conviction On a conviction for an offence punishable under s 104 of the Indian Penal Code the accused was ordered to furnish security to keep the peace for a period of one year under s 106 of the Criminal Procedure Code. The accused having applied to the High Court to have the order set aside Held that the order was properly made for the expression "other offences involving a breach of the peace" in s 106 of the Criminal Procedure Code included offences which were offences because a breach of the peace had occurred or because a breach of the peace was likely to occur. EMPEROR v. SAYAD YACOOB (1918)

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

§ 106—contd

I L R 43 Bom 554

Security to keep the peace—Offence involving a breach of the peace

Mischief by remaining land mark—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 431 Held that an offence involving a breach of the peace mentioned in s 106 of the Code of Criminal Procedure does not mean only an offence which necessarily involves a breach of the peace or of which a breach of the peace forms an ingredient but includes such an offence as in common knowledge is ordinarily or very probably the occasion of a breach of the peace as for example the removal of a land mark. Baidya Nath Majumdar v. Nisaran Chunder Gope I L R 30 Calc 93 Arun Samanta v. Emperor I L R 30 Calc 366 Raj Narain Roy v. Bhagabati Chunder Nandi I L R 35 Calc 315 and Muthiah Othetti v. Emperor I L R 28 Mad 190 dissented from. EMPEROR v. MANIK RAI (1911)

I L R 33 All 771

Security for keeping the peace—Criminal trespass with intent to commit a breach of the peace Upon a conviction for criminal trespass where the intention of the trespasser is to commit a breach of the peace an order under s 106 of the Code of Criminal Procedure may lawfully be passed in the discretion of the Magistrate.

Empress v. Manik Rai I L R 33 All 771 Emperor v. Kundan Singh Weekly Notes 1855 p 303 and Queen v. Jhapoo 20 W P Cr r 37 referred to. EMPEROR v. DHARAM RAI

I L R 42 All 345

Accused convicted of offences under ss 207 and 143—Indian Penal Code and ordered to furnish security to keep the peace—

Irregularity of such order Petitioner was found to have been one of a crowd of people who intimidated a funeral party abused them and threatened them with violence unless the body was taken to the Jama Masjid for a decision of the question whether the deceased was a Mussalman or Kafir. He was convicted of offences under s 207 and 143 of the Penal Code and was also ordered to furnish security to keep the peace for one year. Held that the order to furnish security under s 106 of the Code of Criminal Procedure was illegal as the accused had not been convicted of the offence of criminal intimidation or of an offence involving a breach of the peace. An offence involving a breach of the peace is one in which a breach of the peace is an ingredient and not merely an offence provoking or likely to lead to a breach of the peace. Arun Samanta v. Emperor (I L R 30 Calc 366) followed. An order under s 106 of the Code cannot be passed on conviction for an offence under s 143 or s 207 of the Penal Code as these offences do not necessarily involve the use of force. Raj Narain v. Bhagabati Chunder (I L R 35 Calc 315) and Kannookarany Emperor (I L R 36 Mad 469) followed. ABDULLA v. CROWD

I L R 2 Lah 278

§ 106 (3)—Security to keep the peace—Power of appellate court not limited by juris

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s. 107—contd

under s. 107 Criminal Procedure Code In re MURTHI MOOPAN (1913) 1 L R 38 Mad 315

Security for keeping the peace—Action for damages for malicious prosecution Held that an action for damages for malicious prosecution may be founded upon the initiation against the plaintiff maliciously and without reasonable and probable cause of proceedings under s. 107 of the Code of Criminal Procedure just as much as upon the institution of a criminal prosecution in the ordinary acceptation of that term MUHAMMAD NIAZ KHAN v JAI RAM (1919) 1 L R 41 All 503

Security for keeping the peace—Whether person who does not go to the place where breach of peace is apprehended can be bound down The petitioner and another both claiming the right to take offerings from pilgrims alighting at Gaya Railway Station They both sent servants armed with lathis to the station to accost pilgrims with the result that there were disturbances The petitioner never went to the station himself Held that as he was in fact asserting a claim likely to cause a breach of the peace and making preparation for the enforcement of that claim through an armed servant he was liable to be bound down to keep the peace BALAJI MAHTOY v KING EMPEROE 1 Pat. L J 361

Security for keeping the peace—Action for damages for malicious prosecution An action for damages for malicious prosecution may be founded upon the initiation against the plaintiff maliciously and without reasonable and probable cause of proceedings under s. 107 of the Code of Criminal Procedure just as much as upon the institution of a criminal prosecution in the ordinary acceptation of that term Muhammad Niaz Khan v Jas Ram 1 L R 41 All 503 and Crowdy v Reilly 17 Q W N 554 followed CHITANJY SINGH v DHARAM SINGH 1 L R 43 All 402

Evidence Act (I of 1872) s. 74—Notice under s. 107 Criminal Procedure Code of a public document—Proof necessary for admission of such document in evidence A notice under s. 107 Criminal Procedure Code is a public document within the meaning of s. 74 of the Evidence Act but it cannot come in without proof that the parties mentioned in it are the parties concerned in the question at issue about which it is produced as evidence AMJAD v LAKSHMI KANTA JHA (1914) 18 C W N 644

Security for keeping the peace—Evidence—Nature of findings required to justify a Magistrate in passing an order under s. 107 In proceedings under s. 107 of the Code of Criminal Procedure it is not enough for the Magistrate to find that unless the persons before him are bound over to keep the peace there is likely to be a breach of the peace or disturbance of the public tranquillity He has to find in respect of each and all of such persons that they are likely to commit a breach of the peace or disturb the public tranquillity or that they are likely to do some wrongful act which may occasion such a disturbance Queen Empress v Abdul Qadir 1 L P 9 All 452 and Jagat Narain v

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s. 107—contd

Emperor 7 All J J 161 referred to EMPEROR v BRAJENDAN PRASAD (1914)

1 L R 37 All 33

s. 107 and 117—Security for keeping the peace—Evidence—Record of previous trial—Inquiry It is not competent to a Magistrate to proceed under s. 107 et seq. of the Code of Criminal Procedure to dispose with the inquiry provided for by s. 117 of the Code and to base his order merely on the results of a trial as recently tried by him EMPEROR v MCL CHAND (1914) 1 L R 37 All 30

ss. 107 117 118 526—Security for keeping the peace—Transfer—Jurisdiction S. 526 of the Code of Criminal Procedure enable the High Court to transfer criminal proceedings initiated under s. 107 of the Code once they have been properly instituted to any other criminal court of equal or superior jurisdiction (and which otherwise would have no jurisdiction) and the order of the High Court will give jurisdiction to the Court to which the case has been so transferred to make an inquiry under s. 117 and to pass an order under s. 118 In the matter of the petition of Amar Singh 1 L R 16 All 9 not followed. EMPEROR v WAHID ALI KHAN (1910) 1 L P 32 All 642

s. 107 125—District Magistrate if means the Magistrate of the district to which proceedings transferred from another district Where a proceeding under s. 107 Cr P C started in one district was transferred to another the District Magistrate of the latter district has alone jurisdiction under s. 125 in respect of the said proceedings GURUPRASADNA POI v HARI KIN KAL MUKHERJI (1919) 23 C W N 953

s. 107 125 438—Security to keep the peace—Revision—Jurisdiction of High Court and Sessions Judge A Magistrate of the first class ordered certain persons to give security for keeping the peace The persons to be bound over applied to the Sessions Judge to revise the order The Sessions Judge was of opinion that the applicants should not have been bound over and accordingly referred the case to the High Court with a recommendation that the order should be set aside Held the order having been passed by a Magistrate subordinate to the District Magistrate the record should under s. 125 of the Code of Criminal Procedure have been laid before the District Magistrate to deal with the matter Where a Code gives a particular Court jurisdiction to act in certain matters it is that Court which should be applied to and not the High Court Panarsi Das v Parbati Singh 1 L R 30 All 130 referred to EMPEROR v LALJI (1917) 1 L P 40 All 143 ss. 107 and 144—Penalty of expired order voidity Where an order restraining the petitioners from entering certain land expired on the 23rd April 1917 and a similar order was passed against the same parties on the 6th June 1917 held that the Magistrate should not have made the second order but should have proceeded under s. 107 if there was a likelihood of a breach of the peace by one clearly in the wrong S. 144 should not be used for anything in the nature of a permanent expedient without the sanction of the Local Government RASHMERNI SINGH v JAGANNATH ROY 3 Pat. L J 130

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1893) -

ss 10- 141 145 and 146 D. J.
and as per to of turn all property - Duty
May first - Co's po of us each see the of a 141 a suitable method of avoiding a break of the peace only if it is clear upon a review of the police report that the claim of the party creating the disturbance is not a claim made in good faith. The practice of issuing notices must be noticed under s 141 of the Criminal Procedure Code calling upon both parties to attend on a fixed date and submit statements; a mere warning of the law. The notices are in effect notice under s 14 (1) and (2) of the Criminal Procedure Code and where such notices have been issued, the High Court will direct that the procedure prescribed in Chapter VII of the Code be followed. KANAK ANAND for Prosecution

3 Pat L J 243

81 107 145 148—

7 JALCAN 1 L R 39 Cylc 469

SI 107 145--

S DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND
1 L R 39 Cal 160

1946-47 - 1947 - 1948 - 1949 - 1950 - 1951 - 1952 - 1953 - 1954 - 1955 - 1956 - 1957 - 1958 - 1959 - 1960 - 1961 - 1962 - 1963 - 1964 - 1965 - 1966 - 1967 - 1968 - 1969 - 1970 - 1971 - 1972 - 1973 - 1974 - 1975 - 1976 - 1977 - 1978 - 1979 - 1980 - 1981 - 1982 - 1983 - 1984 - 1985 - 1986 - 1987 - 1988 - 1989 - 1990 - 1991 - 1992 - 1993 - 1994 - 1995 - 1996 - 1997 - 1998 - 1999 - 2000 - 2001 - 2002 - 2003 - 2004 - 2005 - 2006 - 2007 - 2008 - 2009 - 2010 - 2011 - 2012 - 2013 - 2014 - 2015 - 2016 - 2017 - 2018 - 2019 - 2020 - 2021 - 2022 - 2023 - 2024 - 2025 - 2026 - 2027 - 2028 - 2029 - 2030 - 2031 - 2032 - 2033 - 2034 - 2035 - 2036 - 2037 - 2038 - 2039 - 2040 - 2041 - 2042 - 2043 - 2044 - 2045 - 2046 - 2047 - 2048 - 2049 - 2050 - 2051 - 2052 - 2053 - 2054 - 2055 - 2056 - 2057 - 2058 - 2059 - 2060 - 2061 - 2062 - 2063 - 2064 - 2065 - 2066 - 2067 - 2068 - 2069 - 2070 - 2071 - 2072 - 2073 - 2074 - 2075 - 2076 - 2077 - 2078 - 2079 - 2080 - 2081 - 2082 - 2083 - 2084 - 2085 - 2086 - 2087 - 2088 - 2089 - 2090 - 2091 - 2092 - 2093 - 2094 - 2095 - 2096 - 2097 - 2098 - 2099 - 2100 - 2101 - 2102 - 2103 - 2104 - 2105 - 2106 - 2107 - 2108 - 2109 - 2110 - 2111 - 2112 - 2113 - 2114 - 2115 - 2116 - 2117 - 2118 - 2119 - 2120 - 2121 - 2122 - 2123 - 2124 - 2125 - 2126 - 2127 - 2128 - 2129 - 2130 - 2131 - 2132 - 2133 - 2134 - 2135 - 2136 - 2137 - 2138 - 2139 - 2140 - 2141 - 2142 - 2143 - 2144 - 2145 - 2146 - 2147 - 2148 - 2149 - 2150 - 2151 - 2152 - 2153 - 2154 - 2155 - 2156 - 2157 - 2158 - 2159 - 2160 - 2161 - 2162 - 2163 - 2164 - 2165 - 2166 - 2167 - 2168 - 2169 - 2170 - 2171 - 2172 - 2173 - 2174 - 2175 - 2176 - 2177 - 2178 - 2179 - 2180 - 2181 - 2182 - 2183 - 2184 - 2185 - 2186 - 2187 - 2188 - 2189 - 2190 - 2191 - 2192 - 2193 - 2194 - 2195 - 2196 - 2197 - 2198 - 2199 - 2200 - 2201 - 2202 - 2203 - 2204 - 2205 - 2206 - 2207 - 2208 - 2209 - 2210 - 2211 - 2212 - 2213 - 2214 - 2215 - 2216 - 2217 - 2218 - 2219 - 2220 - 2221 - 2222 - 2223 - 2224 - 2225 - 2226 - 2227 - 2228 - 2229 - 2230 - 2231 - 2232 - 2233 - 2234 - 2235 - 2236 - 2237 - 2238 - 2239 - 2240 - 2241 - 2242 - 2243 - 2244 - 2245 - 2246 - 2247 - 2248 - 2249 - 2250 - 2251 - 2252 - 2253 - 2254 - 2255 - 2256 - 2257 - 2258 - 2259 - 2260 - 2261 - 2262 - 2263 - 2264 - 2265 - 2266 - 2267 - 2268 - 2269 - 2270 - 2271 - 2272 - 2273 - 2274 - 2275 - 2276 - 2277 - 2278 - 2279 - 2280 - 2281 - 2282 - 2283 - 2284 - 2285 - 2286 - 2287 - 2288 - 2289 - 2290 - 2291 - 2292 - 2293 - 2294 - 2295 - 2296 - 2297 - 2298 - 2299 - 2300 - 2301 - 2302 - 2303 - 2304 - 2305 - 2306 - 2307 - 2308 - 2309 - 2310 - 2311 - 2312 - 2313 - 2314 - 2315 - 2316 - 2317 - 2318 - 2319 - 2320 - 2321 - 2322 - 2323 - 2324 - 2325 - 2326 - 2327 - 2328 - 2329 - 2330 - 2331 - 2332 - 2333 - 2334 - 2335 - 2336 - 2337 - 2338 - 2339 - 2340 - 2341 - 2342 - 2343 - 2344 - 2345 - 2346 - 2347 - 2348 - 2349 - 2350 - 2351 - 2352 - 2353 - 2354 - 2355 - 2356 - 2357 - 2358 - 2359 - 2360 - 2361 - 2362 - 2363 - 2364 - 2365 - 2366 - 2367 - 2368 - 2369 - 2370 - 2371 - 2372 - 2373 - 2374 - 2375 - 2376 - 2377 - 2378 - 2379 - 2380 - 2381 - 2382 - 2383 - 2384 - 2385 - 2386 - 2387 - 2388 - 2389 - 2390 - 2391 - 2392 - 2393 - 2394 - 2395 - 2396 - 2397 - 2398 - 2399 - 2400 - 2401 - 2402 - 2403 - 2404 - 2405 - 2406 - 2407 - 2408 - 2409 - 2410 - 2411 - 2412 - 2413 - 2414 - 2415 - 2416 - 2417 - 2418 - 2419 - 2420 - 2421 - 2422 - 2423 - 2424 - 2425 - 2426 - 2427 - 2428 - 2429 - 2430 - 2431 - 2432 - 2433 - 2434 - 2435 - 2436 - 2437 - 2438 - 2439 - 2440 - 2441 - 2442 - 2443 - 2444 - 2445 - 2446 - 2447 - 2448 - 2449 - 2450 - 2451 - 2452 - 2453 - 2454 - 2455 - 2456 - 2457 - 2458 - 2459 - 2460 - 2461 - 2462 - 2463 - 2464 - 2465 - 2466 - 2467 - 2468 - 2469 - 2470 - 2471 - 2472 - 2473 - 2474 - 2475 - 2476 - 2477 - 2478 - 2479 - 2480 - 2481 - 2482 - 2483 - 2484 - 2485 - 2486 - 2487 - 2488 - 2489 - 2490 - 2491 - 2492 - 2493 - 2494 - 2495 - 2496 - 2497 - 2498 - 2499 - 2500 - 2501 - 2502 - 2503 - 2504 - 2505 - 2506 - 2507 - 2508 - 2509 - 2510 - 2511 - 2512 - 2513 - 2514 - 2515 - 2516 - 2517 - 2518 - 2519 - 2520 - 2521 - 2522 - 2523 - 2524 - 2525 - 2526 - 2527 - 2528 - 2529 - 2530 - 2531 - 2532 - 2533 - 2534 - 2535 - 2536 - 2537 - 2538 - 2539 - 2540 - 2541 - 2542 - 2543 - 2544 - 2545 - 2546 - 2547 - 2548 - 2549 - 2550 - 2551 - 2552 - 2553 - 2554 - 2555 - 2556 - 2557 - 2558 - 2559 - 2560 - 2561 - 2562 - 2563 - 2564 - 2565 - 2566 - 2567 - 2568 - 2569 - 2570 - 2571 - 2572 - 2573 - 2574 - 2575 - 2576 - 2577 - 2578 - 2579 - 2580 - 2581 - 2582 - 2583 - 2584 - 2585 - 2586 - 2587 - 2588 - 2589 - 2590 - 2591 - 2592 - 2593 - 2594 - 2595 - 2596 - 2597 - 2598 - 2599 - 2600 - 2601 - 2602 - 2603 - 2604 - 2605 - 2606 - 2607 - 2608 - 2609 - 2610 - 2611 - 2612 - 2613 - 2614 - 2615 - 2616 - 2617 - 2618 - 2619 - 2620 - 2621 - 2622 - 2623 - 2624 - 2625 - 2626 - 26

I L R 34 AP 449

Procedure— Appoint ment of chauffeurs by trial is using a market—Dis putes as to chauffeurs' dues between him and the servants of the animal. The traders who re quired a certain market in a village of the Azam garh district which was owned by a lady resident in Benares agreed among themselves to appoint a certain person as chairman of the market and to pay him for his services by means of a small con tribution for each beast of burden which brought goods to the market. The servants of the owner on the other hand wished to obtain these pay ments for themselves and it was found that they were ready to commit a breach of the peace in order to make good their alleged right thereto.
Held that the circumstances were not such as would warrant the taking of action under s. 14 of the Code of Criminal Procedure but that s. 107 of the Code was the more appropriate section under which to proceed. ENGLISH LAW
FORBES (1913) I L P 38 All 143

Y L P 38 AD. 143

Dispute over possession of fishery—Violation of breach of the peace—Pro ceeding under a 107 against one party—Applica tion by that party for changing 107 proceedings into proceedings under a 107, refusal of J. Magistrate —Discretion of Magistrate, High Court is com petent to interfere with alteration of Magistrate and proceedings to be instituted under a 107—Ille gal of a 107—Jurisdiction Where a dispute

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)— (1)

— 88 107 145—to 11

likely to lead to a breach of the peace was over the possession of a fishery and the Magistrate drew up a proceeding under s 107 Cr P C. Held—That the Magistrate had jurisdiction to proceed under s 107 Cr P C, and he having exercised his discretion it was not open to the High Court to direct that the Magistrate must proceed under s 14 and not under s 107 Cr P C. MURPHY (CHARLES SHERIFF) v. AMERICAN MILKERS 24 C W N 1075

ss 107 192 528—I criminal proceedings under s 101 and provision under the Penal Code—Di charge—Subsequent proceedings under a 107 on the same fact of unreasonable—Jurisdiction of Magistrate—Transfer by District Magistrate to a Magistrate without local jurisdiction before issue of notice to accuse—Ord of such Magistrate validity of—Notice to accuse in vi of effect of notice—A Magistrate is not entitled to initiate proceedings under s 107 of the Criminal Procedure Code upon facts and information which have already been the subject of enquiry under that section or in connection with charges under the Penal Code brought against persons who have been discharged in the proceedings—A District Magistrate cannot be said to have taken cognizance of a case under s 107 in which he has not issued notice to the accused to show cause why they should not be proceeded against and has no power under s 192 of the Criminal Procedure Code to transfer such a case to another Magistrate—A District Magistrate has no power under s 524 of the Criminal Procedure Code to make over the initiation of proceedings in a case under s 107 of the Criminal Procedure Code to a Magistrate who has no local jurisdiction in the matter—A Magistrate who has no local jurisdiction to initiate proceedings in a matter under s 107 Criminal Procedure Code acquires none by the transfer of a case to him from a Magistrate who has jurisdiction but has not taken proceedings and his proceedings are void and should be quashed—Proceedings under s 107 of the Criminal Procedure Code should be quashed if the notice issued to the accused under that section is in void as not to give the accused particulars of the offences charged—Narvelan Chandra Valerjee v The Emperor 13 C H 1 580—Sirja Kanta Roy Choudhry v Emperor 1 L R 31 Cal 333 and King Emperor v Munna 1 L R 24 1st 1st followed—Konda Peddy v King 11 W 109 (1917) 1 L R 41 Mad. 248

— 51 107 and 250—Frivolous or vexatious complaint—Compensation—Application to Magistrate to bind over certain persons to keep the peace. A person in respect of whom information has been laid before a Magistrate to the effect that he is likely to commit a breach of the peace or is otherwise liable to the provisions of s 107 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is not a person accused of any offence. An order for payment of compensation cannot therefore be made against a man who has petitioned a Magistrate to take action under s 107 of the Code. BIRDHACHAL PRASAD LAL v. LAL BIRHAI LAL (1914)

I L R 36 AM 382

ss 10ⁿ 350—2 ra isfr
Trial de novo—1 wlt of a case vi o (a) Criminal Procedure Co^t c eluzt ual r s 107 Criminal

1) pro pro
1 1

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 107 350—contd

and the accused is entitled in a security case to a trial de novo on the Magistrate being transferred VFNKATACHINNAIA & KING EMPEROR (1920)

I L R 43 Mad (F B) 511

ss 107 and 514—Forfeiture of bond to keep peace—Person bound over having brought a Civil suit to enforce his right The Hindus and Muhammadans of Chirunda were disputing about the location of the latter's slaughter house The District Magistrate selected a new site but on appeal by the Hindus the Commissioner charged this for another place Some of the Hindus had meanwhile been bound down to keep the peace in this connection They were dissatisfied with the place chosen by the Commissioner and brought a civil suit claiming that the site was in the shamilat deh and that it was chosen without the consent of all the proprietors and prayed for an injunction restraining the Muhammadans from building the slaughter house The District Magistrate then passed an order of forfeiture of their bonds holding that the institution of the civil suit was likely to cause a breach of the peace Held that it was not the intention of the Legislature to prevent persons even though bound over under s 107 of the Code of Criminal Procedure from seeking to enforce their rights in the Civil Court and that the order of forfeiture was consequently illegal SITAL & THE CROWN I L R 1 Lah 310

ss 107 445 and 435—

See REVISION 3 Pat L J 302

ss 107 496—Bail—ss 344 and 161 s 107 cl (4) Criminal Procedure Code makes an exception to the general rule laid down in s 496 which enacts that bail shall be given in all cases in which a person is not charged with a non bailable offence S 107 cl (4) compared with s 344 and 107 Criminal Procedure Code Je NARAYANASAMI NAICKEN (1913)

I L R 26 Mad 474

ss 107 526 (8)—

See TRANSFER I L R 41 Calc 719

s 108 (b)—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR I L R 43 Calc 591

ss 108 110 114—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR I L R 46 Calc 215

s 109—

See OSTENSIBLE MEANS OF SUBSISTENCE I L R 40 Calc 702

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR I L R 39 Calc 456

Security for good behaviour from vagrant and suspected person—Petitioner a kattar by profession and a dealer in cocoons was found at midnight in a location with two others who had in their possession a breaking implement On being discovered he fled and when arrested remained silent and the explanation he subsequently gave to the Magistrate of his presence at the time and place in question was false Held that the facts found did not bring the petitioner within either clause of

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 109—contd

s 109 of the Code Per SHAMS UL HUDA J That cl (a) of s 109 Criminal Procedure Code refers to a continuous act and does not therefore apply to a case where there is a momentary effort at concealment to avoid detection or arrest nor can it apply to the case of a person brought under arrest for it cannot be said of such a person that he is taking precautions to conceal his presence
PILSHU KANWAR & KING EMPEROR (1911)

22 C W N 163

ss 109 and 110—Binding over under both sections illegal A person cannot be bound over under both the ss 109 and 110 Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) Pe PANGASAMI PILLAI (1913)

I L R 38 Mad 555

ss 109 123 397—Penal Code (Act XLI of 1860) s 379—Concurrent sentences The accused was proceeded against under s 109 of the Criminal Procedure Code and sentenced on the 6th July 1909 under s 123 of the Code to rigorous imprisonment for nine months in default of security for good behaviour He was then tried for an offence of theft committed by him in November 1908 and was on the 17th August 1909 sentenced to suffer rigorous imprisonment for three months the second sentence was directed to take effect on the expiry of the first sentence Held that the two sentences ought not to run consecutively but must run concurrently EMPEROR ARJUN (1009)

I L R 34 Bom 326

s 110—

See ss I L R 35 All 407

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

I L R 43 Calc 153 1128

I L R 46 Calc 216

Order for security passed upon failure of charge of a substantive offence—Against the persons bound over Eight persons were sent up for trial on a charge of dacoity and were acquitted and an attempt to prove a case against them under 400 of the Indian Penal Code was also unsuccessful Held that the circumstances were not in themselves a bar to proceedings being brought afterwards initiated against the person acquitted under s 110 of the Code of Criminal Procedure Alep Ramani & King Emperor 11 C B A 113 distinguished EMPEROR & IAS KANWAR (1609)

I L P 32 All 25

Evidence of general reputation—Inadmissible to prove charge under s 117 Where a person is solely charged under s 110 cl (f) Criminal Procedure Code Act V of 1898 evidence of general reputation is inadmissible to prove that he is a dangerous and dangerous character A provision of law which is an exception to the general rule of evidence must be only applied to the cases to which it is confined by the legislature No argument can therefore be deduced from the admissibility of evidence of general reputation under s 117 Criminal Procedure Code MUTU PILLAI & EMFEROR (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 255

Fresh proceedings after expiration of an order under section—If can be based on material antecedent to the expiration of the previous order When after the expiration of the period of a bond for good behaviour taken under s 110 Criminal

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 110—contd

for the prosecution and relied on the confession of one of the petitioners implicating himself and two other petitioners in a case of dacoity. Held that it is not open to the trying Magistrate to put such an arbitrary limit on the witnesses whose evidence the defence desires to adduce. That the confession was inadmissible against the two co-accused the provisions of s 30 of the Evidence Act not being applicable to a case like the present. AMRULLA HANMANI v. KING EMPEROR (1917) 22 C W N 408

For a trial Legality of

The legality of a joint trial depends on what is alleged for the prosecution not on the facts actually found to be true. JOSEPHRA KUNAT V. AND ORS v. KING EMPEROR 25 C W N 324 ss 110 and 112—Security for good behaviour—Procedure Two persons who had been arrested under s 5 of the Code of Criminal Procedure were brought before a Magistrate on the 6th of September. On that date they were remanded in custody until the 10th of September for the production of evidence presumably with the object of issuing a notice under s 112. On the 19th of September the Magistrate treating the evidence given by the Sub-Inspector as evidence at a hearing under s 110 fixed a further date for the accused to produce their evidence. Held that this procedure was erroneous. It is only after an order under s 112 has been made that proceedings under s 110 can take place. Nor should a magistrate detain a person in custody under s 110 unless he has the information upon which he can make an order under s 112. KING EMPEROR v. PRINCE VAI 10 A L J 351 followed EMPEROR v. IJABANI I L R 42 All 648

ss 110 112 and 117—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

I L R 41 Cal 808

Necessity of setting out substance of a statement received in order under s 112—Trial of accused on charges under cl (a) and (f) of s 110—Evidence of general repute—Inadmissibility to prove charge under cl (f)—Evidence to prove charge under cl (a) Where an order under s 112 Criminal Procedure Code which does not clearly disclose the substance of the information received by the Magistrate the proceedings cannot be regarded as legal. KRISHNA SUNDH VAILO v. EMPEROR (1918) 47 I C 2—followed To prove a charge under cl (a) to (e) of s 110 Criminal Procedure Code evidence of repute is admissible. PER SESHAGIRI AYYAR J. Such evidence must relate to particular instances which have come to the knowledge of the deponent and must be specific. Mere belief and opinions without reference to acts and instances which have induced the witness to form the opinion can hardly be regarded as evidence of repute within the meaning of s 117 cl 3. PER MOORI J.—The evidence that is required is that of respectable persons who are acquainted with the accused and live in the neighbourhood and are aware of the accused's reputation. It must be the general opinion and not merely the repetition of what certain persons have said to the witness. To prove a charge under cl (f) of s 110 Criminal Procedure Code evidence of repute is

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 110 112 and 117—contd

inadmissible. The evidence must be of definite acts and instances. Where a person is tried jointly under cl (f) and any of the other clauses of s 110 evidence of repute admitted with regard to the latter cannot be taken into consideration in deciding the charge under cl (f). RAVIA REDDY v. KING EMPEROR (1920) I L R 43 Mad 450 ss 110 (b) 117—Security for good behaviour—Evidence for general repute not admissible when the case for the prosecution rests on s 110 (f). In a proceeding under s 110 of the Code of Criminal Procedure where the basis of the Court's order is cl (f) of that section the fact that the person against whom the proceeding is taken is so desperate and dangerous as to render his being at large without security hazardous to the community is not a fact which under s 47 of the Code can be proved by evidence of general repute. EMERSON v. IJABANI (1918) I L R 40 All 372 ss 110 117—Security for good behaviour—Joint inquiry—Statements made by parties concerned amounting to confessions and implicating other parties to the inquiry—Use of such statements as evidence against the others—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 30 On an inquiry which was being conducted against six persons jointly under s 110 and 117 of the Code of Criminal Procedure the case for the prosecution being that all six were habitually thieves and house breakers and also were associated together in the matter under inquiry two of such persons made statements to the magistrate amounting to confessions of the actual commission of a particular offence and containing incriminating matter as to the relations of two others out of the six persons before the Court with the other persons associated with them in the inquiry. Held that these statements might be taken into consideration along with the other evidence in the case as against the other persons mentioned in them whose cases were being jointly inquired into if not under s 30 of the Evidence Act at any rate under s 117 (8) of the Code of Criminal Procedure. EMERSON v. SANKI (1916) I L R 41 All 231

ss 110 118 367 424—

See PRACTICE I L R 40 Cal 376

ss 110 118 and 406—In appeal lies to the District Magistrate against an order under s 118 made in proceedings under s 110 by an additional District Magistrate. EMERSON v. ORS v. KING EMPEROR 25 C W N 383 ss 110 and 120—Per a vice condicti—If fit for surety Where a Magistrate rejected a surety because he had once been convicted under s 31 of the Penal Code. Held that although the Magistrate had a discretion he had acted unreasonably. RAVIA REDDY v. KING EMPEROR 25 C W N 141 ss 110 and 122—Security for good behaviour—Surety to be solvent and respectable—Surety refused when offered rejected on the ground that they could not exercise control and that certain persons were at large—Order rejected. PER MOORI J. On a charge of habitually committing offences certain persons were ordered to execute a personal recognizance and to furnish

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1893)—contd

ss. 110 and 122—

two solitary and reformatory cells for good behaviour for one year. Which sentence was offered to the accused was unanimously rejected on the strength of the evidence which showed that the accused were not firm, strong enough to exercise control over the accused and that the outlaws were still at large. Held that the accused's offer of having been shown to be dishonest and respectable the reasons given were not sufficient to discharge them to be at large. I L R 44 Bom 385

ss. 110 123

Sec. 110 for good behaviour—Sec. 123 for good behaviour—Order of removal to be sent to the Sessions Judge for order. Under s. 123 cl. (2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure it is only necessary to lay the proceedings before the Sessions Judge or the High Court when security has not been given, not when it has been given. Rajaram Pershad v. Queen Empress I L R 23 Cal 62 referred to. Emperor v. Han Ali Khan (1917) I L R 40 All 39

Sec. 110 for good behaviour—Nature of imprisonment to be awarded in default of finding security. In cases under s. 110 of the Code of Criminal Procedure the imprisonment awarded in default of finding security should be as a rule be simple rather than rigorous. It is in each case for the court concerned to exercise its discretion in deciding which class of imprisonment is called for. Emperor v. Gajadhar Singh I L R 42 All 503

ss. 110 and 167—

Proceedings under s. 110—Power to remand under s. 167. In proceedings under s. 110 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1893) the Magistrate has no power to remand an accused person to custody. S. 167 of the Code applies to proceedings under s. 110 and not to those under s. 110. Emperor v. Banya v. Bom L R 27 referred to. Rajaram Pershad v. Queen Empress (1917) I L R 39 Mad 928

ss. 110 107, 189 55—

Arrest on suspicion of complicity in a particular dacoity—Evidence insufficient—Detention in custody with a view to proceedings under s. 110 illegal without re-arrest under s. 110. Certain persons who had been arrested (under s. 110 of the Code of Criminal Procedure) on suspicion of having been concerned in a dacoity were committed to the local jail on a Magistrate's warrant. Before the formal conclusion of the investigation the investigating police officer reported to the Magistrate that there was no sufficient evidence upon which to charge these persons with participation in the dacoity. They were not however released but the Magistrate passed an order directing them to be detained in jail pending the result of a police enquiry with reference to their liability to be proceeded against under s. 110 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Twelve days after the passing of this order information was laid before a Magistrate having jurisdiction under s. 110 and an order was duly framed under s. 112 and communicated to the persons concerned. Held that the order for detention of such persons after the police had reported that there was no evidence against them on the specific charge of dacoity was illegal unless and until they were re-arrested by the police under s. 55

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1893)—contd

ss. 110 107 169 55—contd

Emperor v. Banya v. Bom L R 41 All 483 referred to. Emperor v. Han Ali Khan I L R 43 All 160

s. 110 (c) and 190 (c)—Security for good behaviour—Magistrate proceeding on his own knowledge effect of—Joint trial—Station diaries of police report entries in. Although s. 190 (c) of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 applies only to offences the principle of that clause is also applicable to cases of miscellaneous character. Where therefore on the complaint of one of the Magistrate instituted proceedings under s. 110 (c) of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 but in the course of his judgment observed that it was impossible to remove from his mind the impression which had been produced upon seeing large tracts of land completely devastated by the ravages of cattle and that in addition to the witnesses examined in the case a large number of persons had made complaints to him regarding the ravages of cattle held that the Magistrate should not have tried the case personally. Held (ordering a retrial) (1) that the accused were not liable to be tried jointly in a proceeding under s. 110 (c) unless there was evidence of something in the nature of conspiracy or of concert in respect of the various acts of habitual mischief deplored to by the witnesses (2) that there must be an investigation as to whether each of the accused had taken part in the various acts or otherwise acted in concert. Held further that entries in station diaries or police reports cannot be used without legal evidence of the acts alleged. Gowhar Ali v. King Emperor 4 Fat L J 7 ss. 110 528—Security for good behaviour—Transfer—Jurisdiction—Powers of District Magistrate. When proceedings under s. 110 of the Code of Criminal Procedure initiated before a Magistrate of the first class were transferred by the High Court to the District Magistrate with instructions to transfer them to some other Magistrate subordinate to him competent to try them it was held that the District Magistrate had no power to transfer such proceedings to a Magistrate of the second class. King Emperor v. Alauddin I L R 24 All 151 distinguished. Emperor v. Govind Bahadur (1914) I L R 37 All 20

s. 112—

See s. 110 I L R 42 All 646

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR I L R 41 Cal 808

ss. 112 118—Order to show cause in terms of if retracts scope of enquiry—Prejudice. The enquiry provided by s. 117 and 118 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is not strictly limited by the terms of the order drawn up under s. 112 calling upon the accused to show cause why he should not execute a security bond to keep the peace or for his good behaviour though if the person eventually bound down can show that he was misled or prejudiced by the terms of the order he would be entitled to relief. Dixit v. Legal Remedy v. C. R. v. N. R. Mirza (1914) 17 C W N 331 ss. 112 and 167—Security for good behaviour—Jurisdiction of Magistrate. Where a Magistrate in a case sent up by the police or action to be taken by the Magistrate under Chapter VIII of the Code of Criminal Procedure framed an order remanding

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 112 and 167—contd

the persons concerned to police custody under s 167 it was held that his action was ultra vires even if s 167 applied at all to proceedings under Chapter VIII of the Code no order could be passed under that section until the Magistrate had recorded an order under s 112 Empress v Babu I L R 6 All 132 In the matter of petition of Datt Singh I L R 14 All 45 and King Emperor v Faizul Haq 10 All 1 J 351 referred to Emperor v RAMESWAR (1914)

I L R 36 All 262

s 114—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.

I L R 48 Cal 215

s 117—

See s 167 I L R 37 All 30

I L R 32 All 642

See s 110 I L R 40 All 372

I L R 41 All 231

See s 526 I L R 32 All 642

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT (VIII OF 1879) s 36 I L R 40 All 153

ss 117 (4) 122 123 (3) 367 424

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

I L R 37 Cal 91

I L R 41 Cal 806

ss 117 242—Bond to keep the peace—Enquiry sufficiency of A Magistrate proceeding under s 117 Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) as nearly as practicable in the same way as under s 242 Criminal Procedure Code must state to the accused the particular of the matter against them and ask them if they can show cause why they should not be required to execute bonds. Held that the question as to you willing to execute the bonds required or do you wish for further inquiry answered by a statement that the accused would execute bonds is not a sufficient compliance with s 117 ALA HADRA AGARY v EMPEROR (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 139

s 118—

See s 107 I L R 32 All 642

See s 110 25 C W N 383

See s 112 17 C W N 321

See PRACTICE I L R 40 Cal 376

ss 118 and 123—Security for good behaviour—Imprisonment in default not to include solitary confinement The imprisonment which a person may be ordered to undergo in default of furnishing security for good behaviour cannot be made to include solitary confinement PATRON v HUNTER (1914)

I L R 36 All 495

s 118—

See s 477 I L R 33 Mad 85

ss 119 200 437—Security for good behaviour—Discharge by Magistrate—District Magistrate ordering fresh inquiry—Accused—Discharge—Interpreted as A District Magistrate can under 437 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898 order fresh inquiry into the case of a person discharged by a subordinate Magistrate under s 119 of the Code. The phrase "any accused person"

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 119 200 437—contd

as used in s 437 is not confined in its application to a person against whom a complaint has been made under s 200 of the Code. It includes a person proceeded against under Chapter VIII of the Code. The term "discharged" is not defined in the Code and there is no valid ground for departing in respect of it from the rule of construction that where in a Statute the same word is used in different sections it ought to be interpreted in the same sense throughout unless the context in any particular section plainly requires that it should be understood in a different sense Queen Empress v Mutasaddi Lal I L R 21 All 107 King Emperor v Fya ud din I L R 24 All 148 and Queen Empress v Mona Puna I L R 16 Bom 661 followed Queen Empress v Iman Mondal I L R 2 Cal 662 and Value Tayi Amal v Chidambaram Pillai I L R 33 Mad 85 not followed In re BABA YESHWANT DRSAT (1911)

I L R 35 Bom 401

ss 119 and 437—Security for good behaviour—Release or discharge—Competence of District Magistrate to order further inquiry under s 437 against a person in whose favour an order under s 119 has been passed Held that a person who has been released or discharged under s 119 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is so far in the position of an accused person who has been discharged within the meaning of s 437 of the Code that it is competent to the District Magistrate to take further action against such a person under the last named section. Where however proceedings had twice been taken under s 119 without result and the District Magistrate had not given the person concerned any opportunity of showing cause against the order which might be passed the proceedings were set aside Queen Empress v Ahmad Khan All Weekly Notes (1900) 206 Sheo Din v King Emperor 60 C 262 Muhammad Khan v King Emperor P R Cr 102 Value Tayi Amal v Chidambaram Pillai I L R 33 Mad 85 Queen Empress v Iman Mondal I L R 27 Cal 66 Dayanath Talagdar v Emperor I L R 33 Cal 8 Hopcroft v Emperor I L R 36 Cal 163 King Emperor v Fya ud din I L R 24 All 148 and Queen Empress v Mutasaddi Lal I L R 21 All 107 followed Queen Empress v Rathi All Weekly Notes (1899) 203 referred to PATRON v KHARUA (1913)

I L R 36 All 147

s 120—

See s 110 24 C W N 141

I L R 44 Bom 383

s 122—

See s 110 I L R 44 Bom 383

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

I L R 37 Cal 446

I L R 41 Cal 784

I L R 42 Cal 706

I L R 43 Cal 737

I L R 43 Cal 1621

bona fides of order of Release for the refusal to accept bail—The Magistrate in rejecting security under s 12 (Criminal Procedure Code) has to record his reasons for doing so. Before recording the reasons he should carefully con-

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) — cont.

- 132 -

...der and test them. He will let her by bringing them to it in the cl the person offered as sacrifices and all with in an oppor tunity of controvert them. For Bikkur Ezraon (1910) 14 C W N 709

• 123-

See 109 I L R 34 Bom 326

S e 41n I L R 40 AU 39

I L R 42 All 562

8 118 1 L R 36 All. 495

1 Fed. L. J. 212

1 L R 37 Eom 178

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

11 L. R. 37 Cal. 448

_____ not applicable to proceedings under Punjab Act V of 1918—

See RESTRICTION OF HABITUAL DRINKERS
LAW (LUNJAN) ACT 1918

1 L R 1 Lab 614

Order to fix ink security

—Refere ce by Magistrate to Sessions Judge—Sessions Judge to go into merits of the case In a proceeding under ss 110 and 118 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898 the Magistrate ordered the accused to be bound over for a period of three years and referred the case to the Sessions Judge under cl (3) of s 13 of the Code. The latter confirmed the order without going into the merits of the case. Held that the words of cl (3) of s 13 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898 were wide enough to give discretionary power to the Sessions Judge to deal with the case on the merits and pass such orders as the circumstances of the case might require. FUTHERON v AMIR DALA (1911) I L R 35 Bom 271

— 125—

Sec. 107 23 C W N 958

1 L P 40 All 143

5. Most THAIR LOWER OF

I L R 37 Cal 72

Security to keep the

you - (lat o of la l- o er of Magr trater to send acc d to jail Under a 17 of the toles of Criminal Tracture a District Magr trater may cancel a bond for good behavior but he is not competent to send the person whose bond is no cancelled to jail FEMPRACKER F FAKHER D DING KIAN (1911) I L R 33 All 624

Power of the District

Magistrate has jurisdiction under s 173 Criminal Procedure Code to cancel a bond to keep the peace on the ground that in fact it execution should not have been entered. s 173 Crim P C
v Fripp & I P 31 (1) I followed Nairn
 (over Rr I L R 37 Mad 125)

1. Indication to cancel order for the trial—Re: 1961. An application made to the District Magistrate to cancel an order for security to keep the peace under s. 1 of the Code of Criminal Procedure cannot be regarded in the same light as an appeal and the Magistrate's order thereon would not be quashed by the fact also that the argument had not been heard. Sembie that on an application for revision if an order for security to keep the peace by the High Court should not refuse to interfere solely on the ground that the applicant has not first applied to the District Magistrate under Section 145 of the Cr. P. Code.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

----- 125-----

1 L R 39 All 456

1 appeal—Jurisdiction

A District Magistrate taking action under s 19 of the Code of Criminal Procedure cannot treat an application made under that section as an appeal and reverse the order of a first class Magistrate on the fact. If he considers the order to be wrong on the merits he can exercise his revisional power and submit the record to the High Court but the cancellation of bonds contemningal to s 19 can only be on the ground that the bond are no longer necessary. BEVERST 35

(13) I L R 35 All 103

Perito — Jurisdiction

A District Magistrate taking action on an application made tentatively under s. 140 of the Code of Criminal Procedure cannot treat such application as an appeal and reverse the order of a Magistrate of the first class on the fact. If he considers the order to be wrong on the merits he can in the exercise of his revisional powers submit the record to the High Court but the cancellation of bonds contemplated by s. 140 can only be on the ground that the bonds are no longer necessary. Bharam Das v. Parlab Singh 1 I L R 34 411 103 followed. 1 MURRAY SHANKAR LAL (1919) 1 I L R 41 41 651

— 133 —

Public Finance—Con

struction of dam caused injury to village lands A and C being contiguous villages of which C lay at a lower level than A and B the surplus water falling on A and B used to run off through certain natural channels over the lands of village C the inhabitants of C erected a dam to keep the water from their lands and by so doing caused flooding of and damage to the land of A and B held that the area and number of persons affected by the action of the inhabitants of C were sufficient to justify a magistrate in treating their action as a public nuisance and taking steps to abate it under s. 133 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. EMPEROR v. RAJPOSA IATHAK (1912)

I L R 34 All 345

Jurisdiction—Clannel

which may be lawfully used by the public—Held over which water flows off fields at a higher level from a field that is a field which is on a lower level than the adjoining fields and over which the surplus water of those adjoining fields used to flow into a tank even if it could be described as a channel was not such a channel as had been or could lawfully be used by the public and action could not be taken under s 133 of the Code of Criminal Procedure for the removal of any obstruction from it. Jai Singh v. Mats Avtar 111 Weekly Notes (1906) 290 and Jai Maharaja v. Jai Ramraj Puteja 111 L.R. 2 Bom 958 referred to. Engineer v. Inamdar 111 P. 314 315 and Zaffer Nabal v. Engineer 111 L.R. 3 Cole 90 distinguished. Jagannathan v. A. V. Krishnaswami (1914).

R 36 All 208

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1873)—*contd*s 133—contd

Claim of right Magistrate's duty to decide bona fides of—Magistrate bound to refer parties to Civil Court if such claim is not mere pretence—Steps which Magistrate may take if suit not instituted in Civil Court within reasonable time Per SHARFUDDIN J (Ternoo, J dissenting) Sub s (3) of s 133 Criminal Procedure Code provides that no order duly made by a Magistrate under the section shall be called in question in any Civil Court From this latter provision it is clear that the provision of s 133 Criminal Procedure Code should be sparingly used Any order passed under the section cannot be questioned in any Civil Court It is therefore necessary that if the party against whom the order is contemplated to be passed raises a question that the pathway is not a public property in the case of the provision of this section the Magistrate trying the case should be careful not only to decide as to whether the pathway in question is situated on a private and or if it is for public use but he should even when the claim of the objection is not substantiated find whether the claim is bona fide or it is set up only to oust the jurisdiction of the Court If the Magistrate finds that the claim which is set up is a mere pretence he should then proceed to pass a final order and make the rule issued by him absolute If however he finds that the claim although not substantiated is not a mere pretence and is not raised to oust the jurisdiction of the Court but that it is raised bona fide he should stay his hand and refer the party to Civil Court And if the party within a reasonable time does not have recourse to Civil Court the Magistrate may then proceed to make the rule absolute MAXIMUM DEX & BIDHU BISAN SARKAR (1914) 18 C W N 1083

s 133 scope of—(Law of right Magistrate bound to determine bona fides of before appointing jury—Case in which bona fide claim of right raised as to appointment of jury asked for—Duty of jury to hear parties and evidence S 133 Criminal Procedure Code contemplates only an enquiry as to the existence or non existence of the obstruction complained of and not an enquiry into a disputed question of title and where a bona fide claim of private right is raised the Magistrate cannot make an order under the section but should leave the determination of the question to the Civil Court When once a party who raised a private right has asked for a jury and has had the case referred to the jury the jury are bound to hear the parties and such witnesses as they may desire to be heard When a second party to a proceeding under s 133 Criminal Procedure Code raises a question of private right and in doing so brings in a plea that the Magistrate should look into the bona fides of that claim before submitting the case to a jury Where however the second party raised the question of private right and also stated that if it was thought proper a jury might be appointed and a jury was appointed who on evidence held that inasmuch as a question of title was involved the proceeding could not be proceeded with and the Magistrate on perusing the material placed before the jury decided that the matter was one for the Civil Court and dropped the proceeding Held that the Magistrate was justified in making

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE (CODE ACT V OF 1873)—*contd*s 133—contd

the order passed by him ASHUTOSH CHANDRA KAPUR DUTTA (1914) 18 C W N 1148

Jury—Apparatus called by Magistrate as to appointment of jury In proceedings instituted under s 133 of the Code of Criminal Procedure at the instance of H against F F applied for the appointment of a jury which was granted He nominated two jurors The Magistrate called upon H to nominate two jurors H nominated two jurors and the Magistrate appointed a foreman The jury by a majority made an order against F and H that it is not illegal on the part of a Magistrate to address any inquiry to the applicant with a view to ascertaining the names of respectable and independent residents of the neighbourhood who would be willing to serve on the jury but the Magistrate should see that he does not appoint friends or partisans of the applicant The criterion in such cases is whether the person at whose instance the proceedings were instituted was allowed to exercise rights not conferred upon him by law as if he were a party to the litigation Upendra Nath Chatterjee v Ashutosh Chandra Chatterjee I L R 23 Cal 409 Anilash Chandra Sen v Ram Lal Mitra I L R 26 Cal 869 and Mir Inamuddin Ali v Queen Empress I L R 1897 Cr J 40 & referred to FIRZAD ALI & HAKIM ALI (1914) 1 L R 37 All 26

Reasonable opportunity to show cause—Order if can be made on result of local inspection—Fugue and indefinite order A proceeding under s 133 Cr P C is in the first instance entirely ex parte and the report or the other information whereon the Magistrate has taken action before making the conditional order is no evidence against the opposite party It is consequently desirable that reasonable opportunity should be given to the opposite party to show cause as contemplated by s 133 cl (b) and to adduce evidence as prescribed by s 137 (2) in order under s 133 cannot even by consent of parties be based upon information gathered at a local enquiry When in a proceeding under s 133 instituted against a number of persons it is alleged that various unlawful obstructions have been caused upon a public way it is essential that the order should state accurately with regard to each person the specific obstruction made by him which he is required to remove unless it is alleged that all the persons are jointly responsible for all the obstructions mentioned Kalimohan v Dattaraj Chandra I L R 11 C I J 114 followed P M MOHAMMAD KAMRAN & KING EMPEROR (1916) 20 C W N 1171

Public nuisance—If guilty of order proceeding on grounds different from those set out in the notice—and relating to the manner of carrying on a trade and not to the trade itself also referring to possible future violations and not to existing facts On the complaint of the Principal of the Khalsa College situated in the suburbs of Amritsar a notice under s 133 of the Code of Criminal Procedure was issued against the petitioners in the following terms You have dug pits by excavating land around the Khalsa College water cisterns in them and caused a bad smell This is a nuisance to the residents of the College

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*ss 133 137—contd

should not have made the order without taking evidence adduced by one side or the other. Prady Lal Mullick v. Suresh Chandra Krishna Mittal (1919) 23 C W N 774

Decision of case on local enquiry in the absence of parties Where in a proceeding under s 133 Criminal Procedure Code the Magistrate after recording evidence under s 137 went to the spot and held a local inspection and decided the case on the result thereof making the conditional order absolute. Held that the Magistrate acted illegally and the order made was liable to be set aside. The Magistrate was not entitled to substitute the evidence recorded in the case by his own evidence. Kailash Chandra Ghosh v. Siddheswar Banerjee (1919) 23 C W N 1054

s 133 138 139—Obstruction of a pathway—Magistrate's power to refer the matter to a jury—Bona fide claim to the pathway as private—Magistrate's duty to decide In a proceeding under Chap. A Criminal Procedure Code relating to the obstruction of a way it is the duty of the Magistrate before referring the matter to the jury to decide himself if whether or not the claim of right to the land in question is made in good faith and whether the pathway is a public one or not and it is only on deciding that there is no such claim that any matter can be referred to the jury. Dularam Deb v. Bannab Chandra Deb 10 C W N 845 followed Dilaram Mandal v. Gossain Das Mandal (1910) 14 C W N 544

In proceedings under s 133 before any reference can be made to the Jury it is incumbent on the Magistrate himself to investigate any claim for right that may be set up and not to leave that question to a Jury appointed under s 138. Sheik Ibrahim Ali v. Sheik Amjad Ali 2 Pat L J 87

ss 133 435 438 and 439—

See PRACTICE I L R 48 Cal 534

ss 135 to 137—

See s 133 I L R 43 Mad 318

s 138—

See 133 I L R 43 Mad 316

s 144—

See s 107 3 Pat L J 130 243

See ENACT CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)

ss 332 321 I L R 40 All 28

See PROHIBITORY ORDER

I L R 28 Cal 376

Proceedings under

Advisability of taking proceedings under s 144 Criminal Procedure Code to prevent disturbance of peace considered. Manik Chandra Chakravarti v. Inder Nath Khatri (1912)

17 C W N 205

Emergency orders under

Jurisdiction of Magistrate—High Court's power of interference under Charter Act (Act 25 of 1842) Art 15 Where a renewed order passed under s 144 Criminal Procedure Code did not state that there was again a temporary emergency and a continuing emergency in all the new of the police force to protect the petitioners in their rights. Held that the Magistrate gave himself a more extended jurisdiction than is covered by s 144 and the order was reversible by the High Court under art 15 Charter Act 21 of 1842. Victor 104 Their Lordships declined to set aside the order as the two months during which the order would remain in force was almost expiring on the date of hearing. Govinda Chetti v. Pappu Mal Chetti (1913) I L R 38 Mad 489

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*s 144—contd

Scope of section—Held order restraining the holding of—Doing of a lawful act on one's own property if can be restrained under the section Where the only ground mentioned for the issue of an order under s 144 Criminal Procedure Code restraining the holding of a rival hat was that the Magistrate was satisfied from the report of the police that by opening a new hat at only half a mile from the old and long established hat the petitioners were about to disturb the public tranquillity. Held that an injunction cannot be issued not to do a lawful act upon a man's own property and the order in the form in which it was issued was without jurisdiction. That the holding of a hat on a man's own property is not in itself a wrongful act and therefore any ulterior consequence which may arise from it cannot give rise to any proceeding against the owner of the land for committing an act likely to cause a breach of the peace unless those ulterior consequences are made the basis of the proceedings. The law as regards preservation of public peace is based upon an apprehension that either certain person or persons are likely to commit breach of the peace by their own acts or that they are likely to do wrongful acts which may occasion other people to commit breach of the peace. Rikhal Das Sinha v. The King Emperor (1912)

19 C W N 248

Successive orders pro perty of—Issued by High Court of order under section after expiration of two months A Magistrate could not by successive orders under s 144 Criminal Procedure Code extend the period of two months prescribed by cl (5) of the section. Satish Chandra Ray v. Emperor 11 C W N 79 referred to. Case in which the High Court set aside an order under s 144 Criminal Procedure Code after the expiration of two months from the date of the order. Bishweshwar Chakravarti v. Emperor (1916) 20 C W N 758

Circumstances justifying the exercise of jurisdiction by Magistrate Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 144—Circumstances justifying Magistrate exercising jurisdiction—Revision by High Court after expiration of two months from date of order Jurisdiction under s 144 Criminal Procedure Code primarily depends on the urgency of the case and the mere statement of the Magistrate that he considered the danger to be imminent is not sufficient to give him jurisdiction if the facts set out by him show that really there was no urgent necessity for action being taken. In this case the High Court set aside the order although two months had expired from the date thereof. Chandana Nath Mukherjee v. East Indian Railway (1918)

27 C W N 145

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—cont

s 145—cont

That as both parties came to Court and showed that no dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace existed inasmuch as they had compromised the Magistrate was precluded from passing an order under cl (6). That the existence of this order did not bar a subsequent proceeding under s 145 on a fresh dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace arising between the parties. SADHU BISWAS v MAHANADARI BISWAS (1910)

15 C W N 558

Adjournment—Property of—Witnesses processes to enforce attendance of when may be refused. A Magistrate acting under s 145 of the Criminal Procedure Code should take all the evidence that is produced before him on the day originally fixed by him for the disposal of the proceeding and unless he considers it necessary for good reason to require further evidence should decide then and there if he can which of the parties was in actual possession. Where the Magistrate on the application of one of the parties on the date originally fixed for the disposal of the proceeding under s 145 granted an adjournment and issued summons on witnesses named by the party some of whom did not appear on the adjourned date and some of those present were not examined by the party calling them and the Magistrate on the application of the party issued fresh summons and warrants for the arrest of the absent witnesses again adjourning the hearing and none of these witnesses appeared on the date so fixed and the party applied for fresh adjournment and the issue of fresh processes. Held that having regard to the previous conduct of the party concerned and also to the circumstances that the witnesses mentioned could not be found the Magistrate acted rightly in refusing to issue fresh processes. Held further that the Magistrate should not have granted any adjournment after the date originally fixed for the disposal of the proceeding as in the present case no adequate reason appears to exist for granting such adjournment. HARI PADA MANDAL v SANYASI CHARAN BISWAS (1912)

17 C W N 144

Failure to file written statements in time—Omission to adduce evidence on date fixed—Magistrate if may pass final order without granting time. Where the parties to a proceeding under s 145 Criminal Procedure Code did not file their written statement or adduce evidence though more than two months had expired from the date the proceeding was drawn up but applied for time to file the written statements. Held that the Magistrate did not act without jurisdiction in refusing to grant time and in attaching the disputed land under s 145 Criminal Procedure Code on the failure of the parties to adduce evidence. Sheikh Mansoor Ali v Matullah 12 C W N 826 (1912) See also BEJOY MAHAJAN CHOWDHURY v CHANDRA NATH CHAKRAVARTY (1909)

17 C W N 80

Proceedings after final order—Magistrate if may take proceedings by way of execution of the final orders in proceeding and s—Ultra vires—Police putting party in possession—Legitimacy. After passing final order declaring a party to a proceeding under s 145 Criminal Procedure Code to be in possession the Magistrate has no jurisdiction to take any proceedings in the nature of

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—cont

s 145—cont

execution of that order. Where after the Magistrate in a proceeding under s 145 Criminal Procedure Code had declared the first and third parties to be in possession of the property in dispute the police gave formal possession to those parties by planting bamboos but disputes still not ceasing the Magistrate held a local enquiry and again declared the possession of the first and third parties and a further enquiry was held to determine whether the property of which possession had been declared was identical with the subject of the proceeding under s 145 Criminal Procedure Code. Held that all the proceedings after the final order passed by the Magistrate in the proceeding under s 145 Criminal Procedure Code were ultra vires. There is no specific provision in the Code authorising a Magistrate to take proceedings in the nature of execution after passing orders under s 145. KUMAR LOKENDRA NATH POI v HIRI LAL POI CHOWDHURY (1909)

14 C W N 78

Title proof of—Evidence. Evidence of title is admissible in an inquiry under s 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1898) to enable the Court to decide the question of actual possession but proof of title is not proof of actual possession. INAGANTI PARTHASARATHY NAYANATH v PALLAPATI VENKATARAM PEDDY (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 138

Public claiming easement if may be prior to a proceeding under the section—Declaring the public to be in possession effect of—Joint possession—Ousting of Jurisdiction of the Magistrate—Right of the public to be in possession for one day in the year to perform puja nature of—Easement—Co-extensive conditional possession—Proceeding not directed to the decision of the absolute continuous possession of either party ultra vires. If the public are declared under s 145 Criminal Procedure Code to be in possession of any piece of land then both parties to the dispute are included in that term and the jurisdiction of the Court under s 145 Criminal Procedure Code is ousted. Where one of the parties to a proceeding under s 145 Criminal Procedure Code representing the public claimed only the right to worship on the disputed land on one day in the year and the right to make due and proper preparations for the holding of that worship by erecting huts for the purpose of holding puja. Held the right of such party to be in possession for one day in the year or to take such steps as are necessary to prepare for the puja is in the nature of an easement and not in the nature of possession. Proceedings under s 145 Criminal Procedure Code are entirely without jurisdiction unless they are directed to the decision of the absolute continuous possession of either party until they are ousted by the order of the Civil Court. MANIK CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTY v PREO NATH KHAN (1912)

17 C W N 205

Disput of land—Path ways thereon—Possession of disputed land found with one party—Order directing pathways to remain intact and remainder of disputed land to remain in possession of successful party—Jurisdiction to make such order. Where in a proceeding under s 145 Criminal Procedure Code the Magistrate found that the disputed land was in possession of the s 145-c ii

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1893)

one of party but directed that two pathways on the disputed land should remain intact and only the remainder of the disputed land should remain in possession of the second party. Held that there is nothing in s. 145 Criminal Procedure Code which gives a Magistrate power to pass an order of this kind. ASIT MOHAN CHOWDHARY & SAKAT CHANDRA (NO 11) (1913) 17 C W N 793

Jurisdiction of High Court to deal in revision of the orders passed under s. 145—S. 139 in any of words "otherwise comes to its knowledge" —S. 151 (2) compared—S. 145 Criminal Procedure Code—Defective preliminary order effect of Ss. 143, 144, 145 and 146 Criminal Procedure Code deal with proceedings which are not criminal or punitive but prohibitive and where cause is shown the local magistrate has unfettered discretion to act under them. There is no bar from the use of the word "otherwise" in s. 438 a power in the Sessions Judge and the District Magistrate to interfere with such orders cannot be inferred when they are expressly forbidden by s. 438 to call for record. Sequitur The words in s. 409 the record of which has called for by itself are not limited to cases where the High Court acts ex officio. The history of the law relating to superintendence and revision by the High Court reviewed. An omission to set forth in a preliminary order under s. 145 Criminal Procedure Code the grounds of a Magistrate's opinion do not affect the jurisdiction of the Magistrate. Ahmed Malomel Sarkar & Anr. Malomed J. L. R. 53 C. L. R. 35 discussed and Sitrahman Ayyar & King P. J. for J. J. J. v. M. G. D. Tinnah L. L. The essential requisite to give a Magistrate jurisdiction under s. 145 Criminal Procedure Code is that he must be satisfied from information of some sort that a dispute exists likely to cause a breach of the peace on criminal land or water or the boundaries thereof in his jurisdiction. Once he is so satisfied his jurisdiction is complete and his subsequent action must be confined in relation to procedure not jurisdiction. KAMAI KUTTY v. VIDYASARATHI LALA YALI PATA OF CHENNAI (1913)

I L R 26 Mad 275

Omission of Magistrate to give effect to presumption arising from recently published record of right as a question of jurisdiction—The omission of the Magistrate in making an order under s. 145 Criminal Procedure Code to give effect to the presumption arising from the entries in a recently published record of rights is not a question going to the jurisdiction of the Magistrate and the High Court cannot interfere on that ground. CHINTAMONI JYATI JAGANNATH PANANUJA DAS (1914) 19 C W N 123

Rent collection of dispute regarding lease on behalf of landlord—De is on in the absence of tenants—Produce rent applicability of section to The disputed land in respect of which proceedings under s. 145 Criminal Procedure Code were instituted consisted of several plots all held by tenants on a yearly rent of half the produce. The parties to the proceedings were the litheryal and the putaka the dispute between whom was as to the right to collect rent. It appeared that as regards some of the plots there was a dispute as to what tenants were

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1893)—contd

s 145—contd

in dispute. Held that as regards the plots all of which there was a dispute as to the tenants in possession the Magistrate should not have made any order in the absence of tenants who might be very seriously prejudiced by an order in favour of one or other of the parties to the proceeding. Held (as to the argument that s. 145 Criminal Procedure Code could not refer to a half share of the produce) that it was true that if it was a question of dividing a hitherto undivided share the section might not apply but in the present case the section applied as it was a question of rent and it so happened that the rent was half the share of the produce but there was no question of shares as between the two parties to the proceeding. HARI DAS SAMASTA v. ABDEL MOTTEB MULLICK (1916) 19 C W N 959

Refusal of process against a dacoit—Final order without jurisdiction—Where in a proceeding under s. 145 Criminal Procedure Code the petitioner applied for summons against a witness a Sub Inspector of Police and the Magistrate made an order that the Sub Inspector was to appear with his diaries but on the date on which the case was to be heard the witness did not appear and on the petitioner again applying for summons against him the Magistrate rejected the application remarking that the application was vexatious and ultimately passed the final order under s. 145 Criminal Procedure Code. Held that the order under s. 145 Criminal Procedure Code was made without jurisdiction. CAJUPPI HOWLAI & ALJUPPI HOWLAI (1917) 19 C W N 94

No examination of witness on either side—Final order on documentary evidence dating back to many years previous to date of proceeding—Magistrate duly under (4)—Jurisdiction—In a proceeding under s. 145 Criminal Procedure Code no witness was examined on either side but the Magistrate looked at the latest of the documents filed before him the latest of those documents dating back to about ten years before the date of the proceeding. It appeared that one of the parties was present in Court but was not examined. Held that the Magistrate was bound to take such further evidence as became necessary after a consideration of the documents and the final order was without jurisdiction. Cl (4) of s. 145 clearly provide that the Magistrate shall not exercise his jurisdiction under the section unless and until he has sufficient evidence before him JETHAN SINGH & RAM VARSIN BACHA (1914) 19 C W N 700

Order under section contrary to decree of Civil Court—The petitioners, the second party to the proceeding under s. 145 Criminal Procedure Code obtained a decree against one of the first party and another person who were entitled to an undivided one fourth share in the property in dispute. This share was sold in execution of the decree and purchased by the decree holders the petitioners who obtained delivery of possession through the Court. The Magistrate finding that the petitioners were never in actual possession of the property and the crop was grown by the first party made an order in favour of the latter. Held that the order was liable to be set aside. ATUL HAZRAH & UMA CHANDRA CHOWDHARY (1916) 20 C W N 796

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*s. 145—contd

that the various joint owners had held separate portions of the joint holding for themselves each one being in actual possession of a definite portion. The Magistrate thereon, without any further enquiry dismissed the application holding that s. 145 Criminal Procedure Code was not applicable to disputes for possession of jointland. Held that s. 145 Criminal Procedure Code was applicable to a case where the dispute is between co-sharers each claiming to be in possession of the disputed land to the exclusion of the others and that the Magistrate should have inquired and decided whether or not the applicant had been recently in actual possession. Musammot MALAN v. MAKHAN SINGH I L R 2 Lah. 372

Government of India Act 1915 s. 101—Order under s. 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure made by a Magistrate duly empowered to act under Chapter XII of the Code—Pecunia Juri diction When proceedings are in intention in form and in fact proceedings under chap. XII of the Code of Criminal Procedure and are taken by a magistrate duly empowered to act under that chapter the High Court has no power to send for the record of those proceedings, either under the Code of Criminal Procedure or under the Government of India Act 1915. Matuldhari Singh v. Jauri I L R 39 All 619 followed. It is however open to a party in such a case to satisfy the High Court that property of which he is entitled to possession has been dealt with by an order which has no legal authority at all and he may do so by an affidavit or in any other reliable manner and thereby invoke the superintending power of the Court. SUNDAR NATH v. BANANA NATH (1916) I L R 40 All 364

Symbolical possession—value of and how for a determining factor—Magistrate's duty to decide actual possession where considerable time has elapsed since delivery of symbolical possession The second party's case was that they purchased the disputed property at a sale in execution of a money decree against one N. and his sons while the first party alleged that the property belonged to the whole body of villagers whose possession continued even after the delivery of symbolical possession which took place in June 1915 up to November 1916 when the proceedings were started. Held that the value of the delivery of symbolical possession was little as against parties who set up an independent title and even as against N. and his descendants its value as a piece of evidence must vary inversely with the time that has elapsed since the date of the decree and the delivery of possession thereunder and it was incumbent on the Magistrate to consider the question of actual possession at the date of the proceedings on the evidence adduced on that point before he could make a final order. HAZARI KHAN v. NARAI CHANDRA PAL CHAUDHURY (1917)

22 C W N 479

Civil Court decree against third parties when and how for binding on the Criminal Court in deciding the question of actual possession Where in a proceeding under s. 145 Criminal Procedure Code it appeared that the first party previously brought a suit for rent against some persons not parties to the proceeding and purchased the disputed property at the sale

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*s. 145—contd

in execution of an ex parte decree obtained therein and was put into possession without the knowledge of the second party and the Magistrate found that the rent suit was not a bond fide one brought by the landlord against tenants in possession and declared the second party to be in possession of the disputed land. Held that in the circumstances of the case the order of the Magistrate was not erroneous and was not liable to be set aside. Per WALSHLEY J—That a previous order of the Civil Court relating to the property in dispute may throw light upon the matter but the evidentiary value to be attached to such a piece of evidence must depend upon the particular circumstances of the individual case. Per SHAMSUL MUDDA J—That decrees of Court so far as third parties are concerned may have different values in different cases. Where for instance there has been a real contest between the parties to a suit and upon an adjudication regarding title or possession a party has been awarded a decree and has been put in possession in execution of such a decree it may not be enough for a party claiming adversely to such a decree to show that he was not a party to it. Cases of money decrees followed by sale of properties would stand on a different footing. In those cases the sale in execution only passes the right title and interest of the judgment debtor. Consequently there is no adjudication regarding his title to the property except where an attachment gives rise to a claim and there is an adjudication on such claim or where the delivery of possession leads to an investigation under O XXI rr 97 to 100 Criminal Procedure Code. In estimating the value of delivery of possession against third parties it is also material to see what is the true nature of the possession said to have been delivered. ATUL CHANDRA MANDAL v. SRINATH LAIK (1919)

23 C W N 582

Order declaring one party to be in possession of property in the joint possession of both parties Where it was found that the second party was in possession of the disputed land on behalf of the first party as also on behalf of himself both parties being members of the same family and the Magistrate declared the second party to be in possession of the disputed land. Held that the order was without jurisdiction. Tarman Bibi v. Asamuddin Bepari 4 C N A 496 followed. KIRTI MONDAL v. HAJI BAUL MONDAL (1919) 21 C W N 1051

Omission to add proper parties—Jurisdiction of High Court—Government of India Act 1915 s. 107—Difference of opinion in a Divisional Bench—Opinion of Senior Judge when prevails—Letter Patent s. 38—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss. 499, 439 Where in a proceeding under s. 145 Cr P C the Petitioner applied to the Magistrate to be made a party on the ground that she was in possession of a portion of the disputed land on which her dwelling house stood and part of which she cultivated but the Magistrate rejected the application. Held per NEWBOLD J—That the omission to join a party in a proceeding under s. 145 Cr P C is not an error of jurisdiction and there was no irregularity in the case resulting in such prejudice as would justify the interference of the

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*s. 145—contd

High Court Per SHAMSUL HUDA J—That there were reasonable grounds in the case for the apprehension that the action taken by the Magistrate resulted in a serious failure of justice which justified the interference of the High Court which was not confined to questions of jurisdiction alone. There being this difference the opinion of the senior Judge prevailed. MOHAMMAD BAKHSH v. MARI JAM SARDAR 24 C W N 97

Likelihood of breach of the peace basis of jurisdiction under the section—Correct specification of subject matter of dispute in proceeding necessary. Where in his order directing the issue of a proceeding under s. 145 Cr P C, the Magistrate was of opinion that there was no likelihood of a breach of the peace but as the dispute was one relating to possession s. 145 Cr P C was applicable. Held—That the Magistrate acted without jurisdiction inasmuch as the basis of jurisdiction in cases of this character is the likelihood of a breach of the peace. Absence of a clear specification of the subject matter of dispute in the proceeding drawn up is a serious defect. SIN NAGAIY MUKHERJEE v. SATISH CHANDRA GUPTA 24 C W N 621

Ex parte order—Written return of service by the person—Affidavit proving service if necessary—Allegation of non-service of notice of order under cl (1) of s. 145—Application for rehearing refusal of by Magistrate—Magistrate's duty—High Court power of to order rehearing. Where in a proceeding under s. 145 Cr P C, the first party having been absent though there was a written return of service on them by the person the Magistrate passed an order in favour of the second party upon taking evidence of that party and subsequently on the first party having filed an application to the Magistrate for rehearing of the case on the allegation of non service of the notice of the order under cl (1) s. 145 the Magistrate refused the said application on the ground that the case could not be revived and thereupon the first party moved the High Court. Held—That the Magistrate should not have rejected the application for reopening of the case without satisfying himself about the truth or otherwise of the allegation of the first party as to the notice not having been served and in these circumstances the High Court directed that the matter be reheard by the Magistrate. KALI CH. KAPALI v. ABDUL LASKAR 24 C W N 902

Proceeding under s. 145 relating to dispute concerning loc on trees standing on the lands of a party without jurisdiction—Loc whether comes within definition of land under s. 145. Trees may come within the definition of land in s. 145 Cr P C, as being produce of land, but loc which is not a part of the tree itself but is a parasitic growth on the tree is not "crop" or a produce of land. Proceedings held under s. 145 Cr P C in respect of loc are therefore without jurisdiction. The definition of land as including crops or the produce is for the purpose of s. 145 only and there is no such definition in connection with s. 147. ALI MOHAMMAD MOYDAL v. FAKIRUDDIN MUMSHI 24 C W N 1039

Wrongful and forcible possession meaning of Under subs 4 of

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*s. 145—contd

s. 145 Criminal Procedure Code disposition may be wrongful and yet not forcible. A disposition otherwise than in due course of law is wrongful. It is not necessary that actual force or violence should have been used to some person or persons before a dispossession can be said to be forcible. When the dispossession is effected by a show of criminal force sufficient to intimidate the person in possession and to deter them from resistance it is forcible within the meaning of the section. SITANATH SHARMA BHOSMIO v. A HARVEY 25 C W N 601

Effect of sub s (5)—Duty of party to satisfy Magistrate as to non existence of likelihood of breach of peace. The effect of sub s (5) to a 145 Criminal Procedure Code is that unless a party is in a position to show to the Magistrate that there is no likelihood of a breach of the peace the Magistrate is not under sub s (1) stands. The mere absence of a finding of the Magistrate that there is likelihood of a breach of the peace where there are mere allegations by the parties to the contrary does not go to the root of the Magistrate's jurisdiction. RAJADA RANJAN BHATTACHARJEE v. BHARAT CHANDRA SHARMA 25 C W N 215

Reference to arbitration—acquiescence essence in award. Where a dispute concerning the possession of land is referred to arbitration by consent of the parties and the award of the arbitrators is acquiesced in by the parties the Magistrate is entitled to proceed under cl (4) of s. 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure and he is not bound to insist upon the production of evidence. HALDHAR SINGH v. BULAKI SINGH 3 Pat L J 249

Where in a proceeding under s. 145 the Magistrate without taking any evidence made the final order on the basis of a local enquiry of which no note or memorandum was seconded and on the basis further of a judgment in a Criminal Case under s. 448 of the Penal Code between a relation and some members. Held that the final order was based upon no evidence and must be set aside. GAGAN HOWLADA v. KARDUMUDI CROWKIDAR 25 C W N 1097

Dispute regarding immovable property—Right to tap a tree. The right to tap a tree is a question which may be the subject of proceeding under s. 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898. Where in a proceeding under s. 145 the Magistrate directed the second party to leave an opening in a wall which he was building for the purpose of allowing the first party to tap a tree. Held that the order was without jurisdiction. JIB LAL MANTOJI THE KING EMPEROR 3 Pat L J 316

Dispute concerning possession of mica mines—order with regard to possession of mines and of mica stored in a godown. Whether order separable. When the produce of land has been removed from and is wholly unconnected with and dissociated from the land in dispute a Magistrate has no jurisdiction to deal with it under s. 145 (?) of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898. In a dispute concerning the possession of a mica mine the Magistrate made an order with regard not only to the possession of the mines but also with regard to the possession of certain rights which had been taken out of the mines and situated in a godown belonging to a person unconnected with the parties and their dispute in a village other than that in which the mine in dispute was situated. Held that the order with regard to the possession of the mine in the godown was bad and must be set aside but that the order being divisible the portion regarding possession of the mines would be maintained.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*s. 145—c. contd

SUNDER LALL v JHAPI LALL 2 Pat. L. J. 637

Delegation of duties to arbitrators by Magistrate and duty of—jurisdiction wrongful delegation of duties is A Magistrate has no jurisdiction even with the consent of the parties to make over an enquiry under s. 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 to any other person. Sub s. (f) of s. 145 makes it clear that the section empowers only an enquiry by the person directed by the Act to hold it and by no one else. s. 145 read as a whole does not give the person charged with holding the enquiry under that section the right or power to delegate the duties which have been vested in him to any other person to hold an enquiry or to ascertain the facts which the law requires the Magistrate to do himself. It is a question of jurisdiction whether a person has power to delegate his duties or not. A person who has no power to delegate his duties to another acts in excess of jurisdiction by delegating his powers to another. Held per HADJI HADJI: JUDITH ATATI HESSATY 2 Pat. L. J. 86

Cancellation by District Magistrate of an order of his predecessor passed under sub s. (1) of s. 145—Whether intra vires—Revision Held that a Magistrate has jurisdiction to cancel an order passed under sub s. (1) of s. 145 Criminal Procedure Code and to stay proceedings if he becomes satisfied whatever the source of information may be that the state of things does not exist which alone would give him jurisdiction to proceed with the enquiry. The High Court cannot interfere in such cases as the Magistrate has not acted without jurisdiction. Manindra Chandra Nandi v Barada Kanta Chowdhry (I L R 30 Cal 112) followed. SANTOSH SINGH v PAM SINGH I L R 2 Lab 364

The absence of a likelihood of a breach of the peace deprives a Magistrate of jurisdiction. PASICK LAL HOSE v JAGA BATHU POY (1970) 25 C W N 214

Where in a proceeding under s. 145 it appeared that a proper appreciation of the oral evidence was impossible in the absence of an important document. Held that the Magistrate was wrong to refuse to grant an adjournment for the production thereof. BISWAMBAR POY BASHIA v AMINUDDIN TALUKDAR 25 C W N 602

Where in a case under the section the parties amicably made a reference of their dispute to 5 arbitrators and the Magistrate made his final order on an award given by 4 although both parties contested the validity. Held that a reference is not contemplated in a proceeding under this section which directs the Magistrate himself to decide the question of actual possession though if both parties had accepted

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*s. 145—contd

the award he could have proceeded under sub s. a. JANMADAS KAJRIWALA v HANUMAN BAKSI MAH WARI 25 C W N 719

Heirs of judgment debtor remaining in possession notwithstanding delivery of possession to auction purchaser by Civil Court—Such possession of heirs adverse to auction purchaser and fit to be upheld under the section—Sub s. 1—Dispossession of auction purchaser after delivery of actual possession by Court In execution of a decree against the predecessor of the first party possession was given to the auction purchaser the second party of a tank on the 17th November 1918 during the lifetime of the judgment debtor and of a residential house on the 16th May 1920 after his death. On the 22nd January 1921 proceedings under s. 145 were taken in respect of the tank and the house. It was found that notwithstanding the delivery of possession by the Court the first party who were the heirs and representatives of the original judgment debtor continued all along to be in possession up to the date of the proceedings. Held that the possession of the first party from the date of the death of the judgment debtor to the date of the proceeding was adverse to the second party and in that view the order in favour of the second party in respect of the tank should be set aside. That having regard to the fact that the case of the second party was that actual possession was given to them of the house on the 16th May 1920 and having regard to the finding that the first party was in possession up to the date of the proceeding it was clear that between the delivery of possession and the institution of the proceedings there was dispossession of the second party and the order in their favour in respect of the house was also liable to be set aside. SHAHABU MANDAL v BHADJHARI NATH 25 C W N 43

Collection of offerings at a Karbala whether proceedings with regard to are incompetent—Counsel right of to be heard A dispute with respect to the collection of offerings at a Karbala cannot be the subject matter of a proceeding under s. 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898. The words "hear the parties" in s. 145 (f) mean "hear the evidence of the parties and arguments of Counsel or Pleaders appearing on their behalf or arguments addressed by them" and if the Magistrate refuses to hear arguments he is not complying with the provisions of the law which are imperative. GHULAM SIBTAI v MOHAMMAD HANIF KHATTUN 5 Pat. L. J. 246

Possession given under decree of Civil Court whether bars proceedings—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) O XXI rr 35 and 6 Where possession of immovable property has been delivered to an auction purchaser under O XXI r 35 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 a Magistrate acts without jurisdiction in proceeding under s. 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 and in making an order against the auction purchaser under that section. The possession which is delivered to an auction purchaser under O XXI r 35 is actual possession and not symbolical formal possession as under r 36 of that. DEHARI GIB v RANI BAW NAWESWARI 5 Pat. L. J. 104

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

— s 146—contd

by a Criminal Court under s 146 Criminal Procedure Code the plaintiff was found to have held exclusive and undisturbed possession of the galla for eleven years prior to attachment. Held that in the circumstances of the case such possession was evidence of a right to possess and unless a better title or antecedent possession was proved by the defendants the plaintiff would be entitled to be maintained in possession against all but the true owner. Nisa Chand Gaita v Kancharam I L R 26 Calc 579 s c 3 C W N 668 doubted and distinguished. Wise v Imrunissa Akhatun L P 7 J A 73 and Sundar v Parbat L R 16 I A 186 referred to. The rule laid down in the former case presupposes facts to which the provisions of s 9 Specific Relief Act apply. SHYAMA CHARAN PATEL v SURYA KANTA ACHARYA (1910)

15 C W N 103

Order under s 146 Criminal Procedure Code—Suit by one party against the other for declaration of title—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 49 Where in a proceeding under s 146 Criminal Procedure Code between the plaintiff and the defendants the Magistrate being unable to decide which party was in possession passed an order under s 146 of the Code and appointed the Collector as Receiver to take possession of the land. Held that the plaintiff was justified in instituting a suit for declaration of title against the defendants and was not bound to ask for recovery of possession of the land. The suit was therefore not bad under s 42 of the Specific Relief Act. ANJAN KUMAR SINGH v DEOAL & BHAGWAN CHANDRA RAY CHAUDHRY (1911)

15 C W N 753

Attachment order under s 146 without jurisdiction—Evidence omission to take when amounts to want of jurisdiction—Jurisdiction Where in a proceeding under s 146 Criminal Procedure Code the Magistrate without taking any evidence or making any local enquiry made an order attaching the land in dispute under s 146 Criminal Procedure Code. Held that the order of the Magistrate was incompetent and without jurisdiction as the Magistrate did not make the slightest effort to satisfy himself as to the factum of possession. Sheikh Mansur Ali v Matwullah 12 C W N 896 relied upon. Bejoy Madhab Chaudhury v Chandra Nath Chuckerbutty 14 C W N 80 referred to. SHEO BALAK RAY v BHAGWAT PANDAY (1912)

16 C W N 1053

Limitation—Attachment under s 146 of the Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1898)—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sec II Art 14, or 144—Arts 47 and 120 applicability of Where a property was attached under s 146 of the Criminal Procedure Code on the 7th March 1899 and it remained under attachment till the 26th February 1903 when on the application of the purchaser of the holding of the opponent of the plaintiff in the proceedings under s 146 who had been put in symbolical possession by the Civil Court the Magistrate put him in possession of the same and the plaintiff on the 28th February 1906 instituted a suit to recover possession. Held that the limitation applicable would be that provided by Art 142 or Art 144 of Sec II of the Limitation Act and the suit was not time barred. Goncam Ranchor v Sri Girdharaj I L R 20

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

— s 148—contd

All 120 followed. Paya v Venkatagiri & Isala patti Subbiah I L R 26 Mad 410 dissenting from NISARALLI SHEIKH & ADEBUDDI SHAHA (1912) 18 C W N 1073

— Suit to determine rights of parties to order under period of limitation for — Suit if lies against Magistrate. BROJENDRA KISHORE POI CHOWDHURY & SAROJINI RAY (1913) 20 C W N 481

— Section when to be applied—Order made in disregard of decision under s 41 of Survey Act (V of 1856) B S and entry in record of rights—Rejection of material evidence on erroneous grounds—Order made without jurisdiction or after gross and material irregularities prejudicing party. Where in a proceeding under s 146 Criminal Procedure Code the trying Magistrate without giving effect to an order made under s 41 of the Survey Act and the entry in the record of rights in accordance with the order regarding the disputed land which remained fallow up to the time when the present dispute arose attached it under s 146 Criminal Procedure Code. Held that an order under s 146 Criminal Procedure Code can be made only when the Magistrate is unable to satisfy himself as to which of the contending parties is in possession and the trying Magistrate when he proceeded to determine the question of possession which arose between the parties should in the first instance have presumed that the possession of this fallow land was with the owners who held title as determined by the decision under s 41 of the Survey Act which had the force of an order of the Civil Court and which title was further to be presumed from the entry in the record of rights. That the Magistrate not having done that and discarded and rejected on erroneous grounds practically every piece of evidence that might have led him to a correct conclusion made his final order either without jurisdiction or after such gross and material irregularities as seriously to prejudice the second party. PRAFULLA NATH TAGORE & J HUBBARD (1917) 21 C W N 1059

Attachment when to be made—Imperative duty of Magistrate to consider evidence on record Under s 146 Criminal Procedure Code a Magistrate is entitled to make an order of attachment only when he is unable to satisfy himself as to which of the parties was in possession at the date of the proceeding. The section contemplates that the Magistrate should consider the evidence fairly and judicially for the purpose of arriving at a decision. The High Court set aside the order under s 146 Criminal Procedure Code on the ground that the Magistrate did not give to the case that judicial consideration which the law requires. AMBIKA NATH ROY & MOULVI WAZIDALI KHAN (1919)

23 C W N 910

— ss 146 148—

See ATTACHMENT 1 L P 40 Calc 105

— ss 146 196 235 239 342 364, 447 454 532—

See JURY RIGHT OF TRIAL BY
I L R 37 Calc 467

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1938)—

s 146 439—Defect in form of writ in order—Jurisdiction—Petition Where in proceedings under Chapter VII of the Code of Criminal Procedure the initial order was defective in that it did not set forth the grounds for the Magistrate being satisfied of the existence of a dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace but on the other hand both parties were fully cognizant of the matter in dispute and there was in fact danger of a breach of the peace the High Court declined in revision to interfere with the Magistrate's order. GANGA SARA SINGH v BHAGWAT PRASAD (1909) I L R 32 All 132

s 14—

S A DISPUTE CONCERNING EASEMENT

I L R 39 Cal 560

Order of Police to remove a bundh thrown across a ryot's field—Conflict between orders of Civil and Criminal Courts A Magistrate is not authorised to carry out an order under s 147 Criminal Procedure Code e.g. an order directing the removal of a bundh—through the agency of the police. Pasupati Nath Bose v Nando Lal Bose 3 C W N 67 Lalit Chandro Negi v Torani Prasad Gupta & Co 335 distinguished. MORLEY DALMIE PURI v KHANAD KHAN (1909) I L R 36 Cal 923 14 C W N 179

Dispute concerning the right to act as pujari and not the right of use of land—Easement S 147 of the Criminal Procedure Code is not limited in its terms to easements but relates to any dispute concerning the right of use of land or water. A dispute concerning merely the right to act as pujari in a temple and not the right of use of the land on which it stands is not within the scope of s 147 of the Code. Koder Bitcha v Koder Bitcha Routhon I L R 29 Mad 23, not followed. OUTPAT GHOSAL v LAL BEHARI DAS (1910) I L R 37 Cal 578

Jurisdiction—Jurisdiction to pass order under s 147 on a proceeding under s 143 No order can be passed under s 147 Criminal Procedure Code on a proceeding taken under s 133. ABDUL FAKHAR MIA v SAFAR ALI (1910) 15 C W N 667

Ferry dispute as to possession of—Dispute referred to arbitration pending proceedings—Proceeding stayed—Failure of arbitration—Revival of proceeding without fresh proceeding—Jurisdiction Where proceedings which were started in respect of a disputed ferry in September 1908 were stayed owing to the dispute having been referred to the Commissioner of the Division for arbitration but the arbitration having failed the Magistrate on 24th May 1910 purported to revive the proceedings and called upon the parties to appear with evidence on 19th June 1910. Held that the Magistrate acted without jurisdiction in reviving the proceeding merely because the arbitration proved ineffectual without being satisfied that there were at the time sufficient grounds for proceeding under the section and without drawing up fresh proceedings for that purpose. Fresh proceedings should if necessary be drawn up on the basis of present circumstances and not on what existed in 1908 and it should not be assumed that the causes which existed in 1908 or 1909 still continue to exist. When the dispute was referred

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1938)—contd

s 147—contd

to arbitration the trying Magistrate recorded an order further proceedings are unnecessary and they are therefore stayed. Held that the order was in terms one under s 145 (5) Criminal Procedure Code and directly it was passed the Magistrate ceased to have jurisdiction notwithstanding that by mistake he omitted to withdraw an order of attachment previously passed by him. KALA KANNA SINGH v PAMESHWAR SINGH (1910)

15 C W N 271

Dispute about right to collect tolas from hat if comes within the section A dispute relating to a right to collect tolas from a hat is a dispute concerning the right of use of land within the meaning of s 147 Criminal Procedure Code. The words concerning the right of use of any land or water in s 147 Criminal Procedure Code which have been substituted in the present Code in place of the words the right to do any thing in or upon tangible immovable property in the corresponding section of the Code of 1882 are of wider and more general application than the words concerning land or water in s 145 Criminal Procedure Code. SARAT CHANDRA MADAK v MADARAK MULLICK (1918)

21 C W N 439

Right of use of any land or water—Some positive right claimed by each party and denied by the other—Magistrate's duty—Intention of the Legislature S 147 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is not well or artistically drafted. When a dispute exists concerning the right of use of any land or water each side claims some positive right the existence of which the other side denies and the positive right claimed on either side involves the negative right of preventing the other party from exercising the right which he claims. The Magistrate has to deal with the opposing rights which cannot both exist at the same time. But the Legislature cannot have intended that the section should be one-sided in its operation or that the party which comes on the record as the first party should have any advantage over the second party. The Magistrate must have power to make an order whichever party establishes its right. In the clause if it appears to him that such right exists the words such right must be understood as meaning such right as is claimed by either party. When the Magistrate had found that one of the parties has the right which he claims the enabling clause which follows may make an order permitting such thing to be done or directing that such thing should not be done as the case may be. It is clearly intended to give him the power to protect the right so found to exist. The relative words such thing have no true antecedent but the sense is not difficult. The protection is to be afforded by some appropriate order of permission or prohibition. PRATAP MOHAN SHARMA v HARISH CHANDRA SHARMA (1918)

23 C W N 858

s 148—

See s 146 I L R 40 Cal 105

Costs under II may be assessed after order—High Court's power of revision as to the amount of costs awarded An order for assessment of costs under s 148 Criminal Pro cedure Code does not become illegal simply because it was not made at the time of pronouncing judgment in the proceeding under ss 145, 146 or 147 Criminal Procedure Code. The order will be good if it is made within a reasonable time while the same Magistrate who decided the proceeding is sitting and the parties are able to appear before him. Renoda Sundari Choudhury v Aals Kristo Poul Choudhury 1 L R 22 Calc 337 Queen Empress v Tomiyuddi 1 L R 24 Calc 767 referred to and explained. When costs allowed by the Magistrate fall within the scope of s 148 the High Court will not interfere on the ground that they are either excessive or deficient. BAKSI SINGH v SAYAD MOHAMED AKBAR ALI KHAN (1911)

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

— s 148—contd

15 C W N 811

In a case under s 145 an order for costs may be made subsequent to the passing of the judgment. All that the law requires is that the order should be made by the same Magistrate. An application for costs if not made at the time the judgment is delivered should be filed within a reasonable time. NAFAR CHANDRA PAL CHOWDHURY v SIDHARTHA KRISHNA MAZUMDAR

24 C W N 672

— ss 148 202 293 294 556 Expln—

See LOCAL INSPECTION

1 L R 37 Calc 340

— s 154—

See s 14

3 Pat L J 291

First information if evidence. First information is not evidence in the case. It is tendered by the Crown for such use as the defence may be able to make of it and to test the consistency of the prosecution evidence. ASVAR SHEIKH v THE KING EMPEROR (1910)

15 C W N 198

First information proper recording of by Police. A careful and accurate record of the first information has always been considered as a matter of the highest importance by the Courts in India the object of the first information being to show what was the manner in which the occurrence was related when the case was first started. Emperor v Kampu Kuki 11 C W N 554 referred to. As the first information can be used in evidence under ss 157 and 158 of the Evidence Act to corroborate or impeach the testimony of the person lodging the first information such a document becomes valueless if drawn up by some person other than the proper informant. As the first information in this case which related to a charge of criminal conspiracy at Midnapore was drawn up by a police officer employed in the Criminal Investigation Department in Calcutta and settled by an attorney. Held that it was of no value. PEARY MOHAN DAS v D WESSEX (1911) 1 L R 40 Calc 898

16 C W N 145

First information of substantive evidence. Six persons were convicted of murder and sentenced to death. The Sessions Judge treated the first information in the case as a piece of substantive evidence. The accused appealed to the High Court. There was a difference of opinion between the Judges who first heard the appeal necessitating a reference to a third Judge

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

— s 154—contd

and nearly six months elapsed before the appeal was finally disposed of. Held per STEPHEN AND CARNDUFF JJ—The first information although a document of great importance which is in practice always and very rightly produced and proved in criminal trials is not a piece of substantive evidence and it can be used only as a previous statement admissible to corroborate or contradict the author of it. AUTOR SINGH v EMPEROR (1913)

17 C W N 1213

— ss 154 and 155—

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)

s 499 1 L R 41 All 311

— ss 154 155 157 162 and 551—

See EVIDENCE ACT (1 OF 1872) ss 20 AND

114 1 L R 35 Mad 217

— ss 154 173 190 (1) (b)—

See CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS INSTITUTION OF

1 L R 37 Calc 49

— ss 157 159 476—Police report by Sub Inspector—Further investigation by Superintendent—Subsequent inquiry by Magistrate—Order for prosecution of witnesses examined in the Magistrate's inquiry—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 193. On the strength of a police report the District Magistrate ordered the Superintendent of Police to investigate a certain case. The Superintendent made an investigation and came to the conclusion that the case was not a true one but at the same time suggested that a Magistrate might be sent to inquire into it. The District Magistrate accordingly deputed a Magistrate of the first class to inquire. He made an inquiry which resulted in an order for the prosecution of certain witnesses who had given evidence before him. Held that there was no legal authority for the inquiry held by the Magistrate and his order for the prosecution of the witnesses was therefore invalid. In the matter of the petition of Kandhaya Lal All Weekly Notes (1899) 87 and Moul Dar v Nourani Lal & C W N 531 referred to. EMPEROR v ABDUL RAHMAN (1909)

1 L R 32 All 30

— s 161—

See s 14

3 Pat L J 291

Statement recorded by the police consideration of by Court—Criminal trial—Duty of Judge to record independent finding as to truth or otherwise of evidence. Where the Sessions Judge in his judgment gave no finding as to the truth or falsity of each witness's statement but relied entirely on the difference in what they said in Court and what they said or were alleged not to have said before the police. Held that it is exceedingly dangerous to appeal from evidence judicially recorded under the sanction of cross examination to alleged statements made to the police which are not judicially recorded. It is the Judge's duty to make up his mind while the witness is before him whether he is a witness of truth or falsehood and it is only when the Judge sees any reason to distrust his evidence that omission in a police record can become of any importance. JUNO PAI v THE KING EMPEROR (1912)

19 C W N 217

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd
s 162—
See s 161 I L R 35 Mad. 247
See POLICE DIARIES
3 Pat. L J 568

Statements made to police during investigation—Proof of the statement by oral deposition of the police officer to whom it is made—Indian Evidence Act (1 of 1872) s 157 During an investigation a witness stated to the police that she had seen a boy at the scene of murder soon after the offence was committed. When examined before the committing Magistrate she denied the presence of the boy at the scene of the offence. At the trial before the Court of Sessions she admitted the presence of the boy. The statement that the witness had made in the investigation was sought to be proved at the trial by the oral deposition of the police officer to whom it was made. The defence objected to this deposition on the ground that it offended against the provisions of s 162 of the Criminal Procedure Code. The Sessions Judge overruled the objection and let in the evidence. The accused having appealed Held that the police officer could be allowed to depose to what the witness had stated to him in the investigation for the purpose of corroborating what she had said at the trial. EMPEROR v. HANU MARADNI (1914) I L R 39 Bom 53

ss 162, 154, 165 157 and 651—
See EVIDENCE ACT ss 20 114 133 157
I L R 35 Mad 397

ss 162 288—Indian Evidence Act (1 of 1872) ss 21 17—Evidence—Admissibility of evidence—Statements made by witness to Police and Panch—Statements made by the witness as accused before Committing Magistrate—Witness deposing to different story before Sessions Court—Corroboration of the deposition before the Committing Magistrate by statements made before the Police and the Panch—Investigating Police Officer—Deposition of as to statements made by witnesses to him—Examination in chief—Practice and procedure. During the trial of an accused person the Sessions Judge admitted into evidence and used against the accused the following statements (1) statements made by a witness to the Police implicating the accused (2) the same witness statement to the Panch (3) and his statement as an accused person made before a Magistrate and (4) statements made by the co-accused to the Police. The witness when he was examined before the Committing Magistrate gave a consistent story but he deposed to quite a different version when he was examined in the Sessions Court. The learned Judge disbelieved the changed story and he used the witness statements to the Police and his statements as an accused person and his statements to the Panch by way of corroboration of what the witness had stated to the Committing Magistrate. The accused was convicted and sentenced. On appeal—Held (i) that it was an error to admit statements Nos 1 and 2 for the purpose of corroborating statement No 3 for only the statements of witnesses made to the trying Court can be corroborated in the manner contemplated by s 157 of the Indian Evidence Act 1872. Previous statements might be used to corroborate or contradict statements made at the trial not to corroborate statements made prior to the trial.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd
ss 162 288—contd

(ii) That statements No 2 were altogether inadmissible as evidence of the accused's guilt or they could at most be regarded as admissions by the co-accused which could possibly be used against him self but could not be proved and used against the accused. The Investigating Police Officer ought not to be allowed to depose in examination in chief to what the witnesses stated to him. If it opens up an undesirably wide field for cross examination and leads to the attention of the Court being diverted and distracted from the true issue. Moreover it is contrary to the plain intention of s 162 of the Code of Criminal Procedure which is that such statement should be used if at all on behalf of and not against the person under trial. EMPEROR v. AKBAR BADOO (1910)

I L R 34 Bom 599
s 164—
See s 14
3 Pat. L J 291
See CONFESSION I L R 40 Cal 873
2 Pat. L J 89

Difference between statement and confession—Statement taken on affirmation under s 164 from a complainant not a confession—Admissibility in evidence of statement to prove perjury A complainant's sworn statement charging another with an offence was recorded by a Magistrate as a statement under s 164 of the Criminal Procedure Code. Held the fact that the statement happened also to amount indirectly to a confession of the complainant's own guilt of some other offence but not recorded as such by the Magistrate in accordance with the provisions of s 361 of the Code is no bar to its admissibility in evidence against the complainant on a charge of perjury. Semle. Whether a statement is to be regarded as a confession or not depend on the connection in which and the purpose for which it was made. A statement recorded as such cannot be used as a confession nor a confession as a statement. RE PAMANJANNA (1910) I L R 39 Mad. 877

Narrative for search of house—Resistance to police—Legality of warrant In the course of an investigation into a dacoity which had occurred in the Agra district a circle inspector of the Mainpuri district sent a sub-inspector to the circle inspector concerned with a suggestion that the house in which one Nihal Singh lived in the Mainpuri district might be searched. The Agra circle inspector thereupon gave as he said written instructions to the sub-inspector who had been sent to him from Mainpuri to the effect that the house of Nihal Singh be searched in connection with the dacoity at Nagla Mirali that he might be arrested for the sake of identification and that the houses of those persons should also be searched who were suspected by the sub-inspector of receiving stolen property. Nihal Singh was not directly implicated by any one in the dacoity under investigation. When the police in pursuance of this order attempted to search the house where Nihal Singh was living which belonged to Brikhban Singh his father in law they were assaulted by Brikhban Singh and his relations and friends and prevented from conducting the search or arresting Nihal Singh. Held that the authority under which the police had attempted to make the search was invalid and the persons

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*s 164—contd

resisting them could not be convicted under s 332 of the Indian Penal Code. Whether or not these persons might have been found guilty under other sections of the Indian Penal Code as e.g. ss 107, 395 or 142 was discussed as a matter arising on the evidence in the case EMPEROR v. BRIKUNHAN SINGH (1915) 1 L R 38 All 14

Portion of a statement admitted—

When the first information was given by the accused himself in which he admitted committing the offence but when he made a statement subsequently before the Deputy Commissioner he did not make a confession and this statement was not recorded. Held that the first information was only admissible as far as it gave a narrative of events before the occurrence but accurate could demand that it be considered in its entirety. SUPERINTENDENT AND LEGAL REMEMBRANCE BENGAL v. LALIT MOHAN SINGHA POI 25 C W N 788

ss 164 293—

See MISDIRECTION 1 L R 45 Cal 557

ss 164 (3) and 342—Confessions recorded by Magistrate—Without making a memorandum of the enquiry made to satisfy himself that the confession is made voluntarily—Examination of accused by the Court—Improper questions. Held that although it is most advisable that a Magistrate recording a confession under s 101 of the Code of Criminal Procedure should make a memorandum of enquiry showing what steps he has taken to fully satisfy himself that the accused person is confessing voluntarily a confession otherwise duly recorded is not inadmissible in evidence merely because no such memorandum has been made. Aga Shree Sin v. Emperor (4 Cr L J 335) and Queen Empress v. Narayan (1 L P 25 Bom. 543) distinguished. Held also that although a Court may under section 342 of the Code at any stage of any enquiry or trial put such questions to the accused as the Court considers necessary it is not competent to the Court to cross-examine the accused or to ask him questions with the object of trapping him into some sort of admission. UMAR DUTTA CROW 1 L R 2 Lab 129 ss 164 (1) and 533—Held that it is imperative for the Magistrate before recording a confession made to him in the course of a police investigation to question the person making it as to whether it was made voluntarily and that the defect being one of substance was not cured by s 533 and the confession was not admissible in evidence. FARID v. THE CROWN 1 L R 2 Lab 325

s 165—

See s 4 (p) 1 L R 42 Mad 446

See s 94 17 C W N 1209

See SEARCH BY POLICE OFFICER

1 L R 41 Cal 261

General search without warrant—Private defence right of against police search. S 165 Criminal Procedure Code does not authorise a general search by the police for stolen property in the house of an absconding offender. It speaks of a specific document or thing which may be the subject of summons or order under s 94. Iskhar

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*s 165—contd

Chandra Ghosal v. The Emperor 12 O W N 1016, referred to. Where the police without a search warrant under a 98 Criminal Procedure Code entered the house of the accused and searched for stolen articles—Held that the search was illegal and the occupiers of the house who were also part owners had the right of private defence against the searching officers. BAJRAMI GOPE v. EMPEROR (1910) 1 L R 38 Cal 204 15 C W N 343

A search made by a Sub-Inspector of Police under following directions. From a circle inspector. House of Nihal Singh be searched in connection with the dacoity at Nagla Mahi and that he might be assisted for sake of identification and that houses of those persons should be searched who were suspected by Sub-Inspector of receiving stolen property held invalid. EMPEROR v. BRIKUNHAN SINGH 1 L R 38 All 14

s 167—

See s 110 1 L R 39 Mad. 928

See s 112 1 L R 36 All 262

s 167 169—

See s 110 1 L R 39 Mad. 928

1 L R 43 All 186

s 170—Whether the discretion vested in the investigating police officer by s 170 can be controlled by the Superintendent of Police. UMESH CHANDRA ROY v. SATISH CHANDRA ROY (1917) 22 C W N 69

s 172—

See PRIVY COUNCIL PRACTICE OF

1 L R 44 Cal 876

Case Diaries proper recording of by investigating officer. The object of recording case diaries under s 172 Criminal Procedure Code is to enable Courts to check the method of investigation by the Police and this object was defeated in this case as the provisions of the law for recording case diaries from day to day had been deliberately disobeyed by the Police during the most important period of the investigation. Queen Empress v. Mannu referred to. PEARA MOHAN DASS v. D. WESTON (1911) 16 C W N 145

ss 173 190 (1) (b)—

See s 4 25 C W N 357

See COGNIZANCE OF OFFENCE

1 L R 40 Cal 854

See CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS

1 L R 37 Cal 49

s 177—

See s 470 4 Fa' L J 208

See EMIGRATION 1 L R 37 Cal 27

Jurisdiction—Effect of place where offence was committed ceasing to be British territory. An offence was committed in March 1910 at a place which was then part of the Mirzapur District. Subsequently one of the persons alleged to have taken part in the commission of such offence was arrested in Bengal and sent to Mirzapur when he was committed by the Joint Magistrate to take his trial before the Court.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 177—contd

of Section. In the meanwhile the place where the offence was committed had ceased to be British territory. Held that this fact did not oust the jurisdiction of either the Magistrate or the District Judge of Mirzapur. LAFORCE v GANGA (1912)

I L R 34 All 451

ss 177 to 187 520 531—Murder committed outside Madras—Inquiry by Chief Presidency Magistrate and commitment to High Court Sessions—Jurisdiction of Magistrate—Original Criminal Jurisdiction of High Court—Letters Patent of 24—Jurisdiction whether conferable under s 526 Criminal Procedure Code The petitioners were charged before the Chief Presidency Magistrate of Madras with having kidnapped a child from his guardian in Madras with having stolen his jewels from him in Madras and with having taken him out of the city to a place within the jurisdiction of the Sessions Judge of Chingleput and there murdered him. The Chief Presidency Magistrate after inquiry committed the petitioners to the High Court Sessions on the abovesaid charges. On an application to the High Court on its appellate side to set aside the commitment so far as the charge of murder was concerned on the grounds that (a) the Magistrate had no local jurisdiction to inquire into the case and (b) the High Court had no local jurisdiction to try the charge of murder. Held (a) that the irregularity or illegality if any in the Magistrate's proceedings was cured by s 531 Criminal Procedure Code (ii) that even if the High Court had no jurisdiction on its Original Side to try the case an order could be made under s 526 Criminal Procedure Code directing the trial at the High Court Sessions. Ordered accordingly. Sembi. The High Court has power under cl. 24 of the Letters Patent in the exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction to try persons for offences committed outside the City of Madras. Queen Empress v James Ingle I L R 16 Bom 200 and Queen Empress v Pam Des I L R 13 All 35 referred to. Assistant Sessions Judge of North Arcot v Pamammal I L R 36 Mad 387 distinguished. GANAPATHY CHETTY v PEK (1910)

I L R 42 Mad 791

ss 177 531—

See PENAL CODE ss 463 471

I L R 56 Mad 387

179—Criminal misappropriation—Jurisdiction—Place where consequences of offence occurred The word consequence in s 179 of the Criminal Procedure Code means a consequence which forms a part and parcel of the offence. It does not mean a consequence which is not such a direct result of the act of the offender as to form no part of that offence. Hence where an agent in charge of a branch shop in Sultanpur misappropriated money belonging to his principal, which should have been sent to the head office at Cawnpore it was held that the Courts at Cawnpore had no jurisdiction to try the agent for criminal misappropriation. Queen Empress v O'Brien I L R 19 All 111 and Colville v Krishna Aikore Dore I L R 96 Cal 746 distinguished. Babu Lal v Ghansham Das v All I R 333 referred to. GANESHI LAL v NAND KINORE (1911)

I L R 34 All 457

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 179—contd

Jurisdiction—Place where consequence of act ensued—Act No XLV of 1869 (Indian Penal Code) s 406—Criminal breach of trust Held that the loss caused to the person beneficially entitled to property through a criminal breach of trust is a consequence which completes the offence and a prosecution will therefore lie at the place where such loss occurred. Queen Empress v O'Brien I L R 19 All 111 Emperor v Mahadeo I L R 32 All 377 followed. Babu Lal v Ghansham Das All W N 2 (1903) 115 Ganeshi Lal v Nand Aikore I L R 34 All 457 and Sirdar Meru v Jethabhai Amirthai 8 Bom L R 513 distinguished. Aurbhe Pam v Kollu Pam 4 O C 376 dissented from. LANGRIDGE v ATKINS (1912) I L R 35 All 29

ss 179 181 (2)—

See JURISDICTION I L R 44 Cal 912

Complainant in Madras town doing business in mofassil by agent—Agent's duty to remit principal's money to Madras—Misappropriation by agent in mofassil—Jurisdiction to try offences under Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 406 or 409 A firm in the town of Madras dealing in kerosine oil authorized an agent in a mofassil station to sell their oil and remit to them at Madras the sale proceeds less his commission. The agent sold the oil in the mofassil and without sending the proceeds misappropriated the same. Held (a) that the proceeds were the property of the Madras firm (b) that the case was governed by s 181 and not s 179 of the Criminal Procedure Code and (c) that as the misappropriation and consequent loss occurred to the Madras firm primarily only in the mofassil station the Magistrate at that station and not the one in Madras had jurisdiction to try the offences under s 406 or 409 Indian Penal Code. Cases on the subject reviewed. KRISHNANACHARI v SHAW WALLACE & Co (1915) I L R 9 Mad 576

ss 179 and 182—

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)

s 405 I L R 38 Mad 639

ss 179 to 182—Entrustment to native Indian subject in India—Conversion outside British India—Loss in India—Jurisdiction of Indian Courts to charge and try without certificate under s 188 A entrusted some jewels at Vellore to the accused a native Indian subject for sale. The accused pledged them in Bangalore and misappropriated the proceeds at Madras. Held that the British Court at Vellore had jurisdiction to try the accused for breach of trust or dishonest misappropriation without a certificate under s 188 Criminal Procedure Code. Sessions Judge Tanjore v Sundara Singh (1910) Mad W N 143 Imperial v Tribhuvan 13 Cr L R 530 dissented from. ASSISTANT SESSIONS JUDGE NORTH ARCOT v RAMA WANI ASARI (1914)

I L R 38 Mad 799

s 182—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 411—Theft within British territory—Petitioner of stolen articles out of British territory—British Court of law jurisdiction to try accused for and retention of stolen articles The accused was found in possession of stolen articles at a place outside British territory. The theft

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 164—concl

Resisting them could not be convicted under s 332 of the Indian Penal Code. Whether or not these persons might have been found guilty under either sections of the Indian Penal Code as e.g. ss 107, 395 or 142 was discussed as a matter arising on the evidence in the case EMPEROR v. BRIKIDHAN SINGH (1915) 1 L R 38 All 14

Portion of a statement admitted—

When the first information was given by the accused himself in which he admitted committing the offence but when he made a statement subsequently before the Deputy Commissioner he did not make a confession and this statement was not recorded. Held that the first information was only admissible as far as it gave a narrative of events before the occurrence but accused could demand that it be considered in its entirety. SUPERINTENDENT AND DEPT. REMEMBRANCE BENGAL v. LALIT MOHAN SINGHA ROY 25 C W N 788

ss 164 298—

See MISDIRECTION 1 L R 45 Cal 557

ss 184 (3) and 342—Confessions recorded by Magistrate—Without making a memorandum of the enquiry made to satisfy himself that the confession is made voluntarily—Examination of accused by the Court—Improper questions. Held that although it is most advisable that a Magistrate recording a confession under s 164 of the Code of Criminal Procedure should make a memorandum of enquiry showing what steps he has taken to fully satisfy himself that the accused person is confessing voluntarily a confession otherwise duly recorded is not inadmissible in evidence merely because no such memorandum has been made. NGA SHUE SIN v. EMPEROR (4 Cr L J 335) and Queen Empress v. Narayan (1 L R 20 Bom 543) distinguished. Held also that although a Court may under section 342 of the Code at any stage of any enquiry or trial put such questions to the accused as the Court considers necessary it is not competent to the Court to cross examine the accused or to ask him questions with the object of trapping him into some sort of admission. ULAF DIN v. CROWN 1 L R 2 Lah 129 ss 164 (1) and 533—Held that it is imperative for the Magistrate before recording a confession made to him in the course of a police investigation to question the person making it as to whether it was made voluntarily and that the defect being one of substance was not cured by s 533 and the confession was not admissible in evidence. FARID v. THE CROWN 1 L R 2 Lah 325

s 165—

See s 4 (p) 1 L R 42 Mad 446

See s 94 17 C W N 1209

See SEARCH BY POLICE OFFICER. 1 L R 41 Cal 281

General search without warrant—Private defence right of against police search. S 165 Criminal Procedure Code does not authorise a general search by the police for stolen property in the house of an absconding offender. It speaks of a specific document or thing which may be the subject of summons or order under s 94. Ishwar

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 165—concl

Chandra Ghosal v. The Emperor 12 C W N 1016 referred to. Where the police without a search warrant under s 98 Criminal Procedure Code, entered the house of the accused and searched for stolen articles—Held that the search was illegal and the occupiers of the house who were also part owners had the right of private defence against the searching officers. BAJRAMI GORE v. EMPEROR (1910) 1 L R 38 Cal 204 15 C W N 343

A search made by a Sub Inspector of Police under following directions. From a circle inspector. House of Nihal Singh be searched in connection with the decoity at Naglu Muh and that he might be assisted for sale of identification and that houses of those persons should be searched who were inspected by Sub Inspector of receiving stolen property held invalid. EMPEROR v. BRIKIDHAN SINGH 1 L R 38 All 14

s 187—

See s 110 1 L R 39 Mad 828

See s 112 1 L R 36 All 262

s 187 169—

See s 110 1 L R 39 Mad 828

1 L R 43 All 188

s 170—Whether the discretion vested in the investigating police officer by s 170 can be controlled by the Superintendent of Police. UMESH CHANDRA ROY v. SATISH CHANDRA ROY (1917) 22 C W N 89

s 172—

See PRIVY COUNCIL PRACTICE OF 1 L R 44 Cal 878

Case Diaries. Proper recording of by investigating officer. The object of recording case diaries under s 172 Criminal Procedure Code is to enable Courts to check the method of investigation by the Police and this object was defeated in this case as the provisions of the law for recording case diaries from day to day had been deliberately disobeyed by the Police during the most important period of the investigation. Queen Empress v. Mannu referred to. PEARY MOHAN DASS v. D. WESTON (1911) 16 C W N 145

ss 173 190 (1) (b)—

See s 4 25 C W N 357

See COGNIZANCE OF OFFENCE 1 L R 40 Cal 854

See CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS 1 L R 37 Cal 49

s 177—

See s 478 4 Pat L J 298

See EMIGRATION 1 L R 37 Cal 27

Jurisdiction—Effect of place where offence was committed ceasing to be British territory. An offence was committed in March 1910 at a place which was then part of the Mirzapur District. Subsequently one of the persons alleged to have taken part in the commission of such offence was arrested in Bengal and sent to Mirzapur when he was committed by the Joint Magistrate to take his trial before the Court.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s. 177—contd

of Session. In the meanwhile the place where the offence was committed had ceased to be British territory. Held that the fact did not oust the jurisdiction of either the Magistrate or the District Judge of Mirzapur. EMPEROR v GANGA (1919)

I L R 34 All 451

ss 177 to 185 528 531—Murder committed outside Madras—Inquiry by Chief Presidency Magistrate and commitment to High Court Sessions—Jurisdiction of Magistrate Original Criminal Jurisdiction of High Court—Letters Patent cl. 24—Jurisdiction whether conferable under s. 526 Criminal Procedure Code. The petitioners were charged before the Chief Presidency Magistrate of Madras with having kidnapped a child from his guardian in Madras with having stolen his jewels from him in Madras and with having taken him out of the city to a place within the jurisdiction of the Sessions Judge of Chingleput and there murdered him. The Chief Presidency Magistrate after inquiry committed the petitioners to the High Court Sessions on the abovesaid charges. On an application to the High Court on its appellate side to set aside the commitment so far as the charge of murder was concerned on the grounds that (a) the Magistrate had no local jurisdiction to inquire into the case and (b) the High Court had no local jurisdiction to try the charge of murder. Held (i) that the irregularity or illegality if any in the Magistrate's proceedings was cured by s. 531 Criminal Procedure Code (ii) that even if the High Court had no jurisdiction on its Original Side to try the case an order could be made under s. 526 Criminal Procedure Code directing the trial at the High Court Sessions. Ordered accordingly. Sembie. The High Court has power under cl. 24 of the Letters Patent in the exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction to try persons for offences committed outside the City of Madras. Queen Empress v James Ingle I L R 16 Bom 200 and Queen Empress v Pam Dev I L R 18 All 357 referred to. Assistant Sessions Judge of North Arcot v Pamammal I L R 36 Mad 337 distinguished. GANAPATHY CHETTY v PEX (1919)

I L R 42 Mad 791

ss 177 531—

See PENAL CODE ss 403 471

I L R 36 Mad 387

s. 179—Criminal misappropriation—Jurisdiction—Place where consequences of act ensued. The word consequence in s. 179 of the Criminal Procedure Code means a consequence which forms a part and parcel of the offence. It does not mean a consequence which is not such a direct result of the act of the offender as to form no part of that offence. Hence where an agent in charge of a branch shop in Sultanpur misappropriated money belonging to his principal which should have been sent to the head office at Cawnpore it was held that the Courts at Cawnpore had no jurisdiction to try the agent for criminal misappropriation. Queen Empress v O'Brien I L R 19 All 111 and Colville v Kristo Kishore Bose I L R 26 Calc 746 distinguished. Eabu Lal v Ghanasham Das 5 All L J 333 referred to. GANESHI LAL v NAND KISHORE (1919)

I L R 34 All 457

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s. 179—contd

Jurisdiction—Place where consequence of act ensued—Act No XLV of 1869 (Indian Penal Code) s. 406—Criminal breach of trust. Held that the loss caused to the person beneficially entitled to property through a criminal breach of trust is a consequence which completes the offence and a prosecution will therefor lie at the place where such loss occurred. Queen Empress v O'Brien I L R 19 All 111. Emperor v Mahadka I L R 32 All 377 followed. Eabu Lal v Ghanasham Das All L J 333 (1908). 115 Ganesh Lal v Nand Kishore I L R 34 All 457 and Sirdar Meru v Jethabhai Amirbhai 8 Bom L R 513 distinguished. Airbhe Pam v Kallu Pam 4 O C 376 dissented from. LANBRIDGE v ATKINS (1912) I L R 35 All 29

ss 179 181 (2)—

See JURISDICTION I L R 44 Calc 912

Complainant in Madras town doing business in mofassil by agent—Agent's duty to remit principal's money to Madras—Misappropriation by agent in mofassil—Jurisdiction to try offences under Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s. 406 or 409. A firm in the town of Madras dealing in kerosine oil authorized an agent in a mofassil station to sell their oil and remit to them at Madras the sale proceeds less his commission. The agent sold the oil in the mofassil and without sending the proceeds misappropriated the same. Held (a) that the proceeds were the property of the Madras firm (b) that the case was governed by s. 181 and not s. 179 of the Criminal Procedure Code and (c) that as the misappropriation and consequent loss occurred to the Madras firm primarily only in the mofassil station the Magistrate at that station and not the one in Madras had jurisdiction to try the offences under s. 406 or 409 Indian Penal Code. Cases on the subject reviewed. KRISHNAMACHARI v SHAW WALLACE & Co (1915) I L R 39 Mad 576

ss 179 and 182—

See PENAL CODE (Act XLV of 1860)

s. 406 I L R 38 Mad 639

ss 179 to 182—Entrustment to native Indian subject in India—Conversion outside British India—Loss in India—Jurisdiction of Indian Courts to charge and try without certificate under s. 188. A entrusted some jewels at Vellore to the accused, a native Indian subject for sale. The accused pledged them in Bangalore and misappropriated the proceeds at Madras. Held that the British Court at Vellore had jurisdiction to try the accused for breach of trust or dishonest misappropriation without a certificate under s. 188 Criminal Procedure Code. Sessions Judge Tanjore v Sundara Singh (1910) Mad W N 143. Imperator v Tribhuan 13 Cr L J 530 distinguished from. ASSISTANT SESSIONS JUDGE NORTH ANCOVT v PANASWANI ASARI (1914)

I L R 38 Mad 779

s. 180—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s. 411—Theft within British territory—Petition of stoler articles out of British territory—British Courts if have jurisdiction to try accused for and retain out of stolen articles. The accused was found in possession of stolen articles at a place outside British territory. The theft of the articles took place within British territory. The accused was placed on his trial before the Court in British territory having jurisdiction over the place where the theft took place. Held that the British Courts had no jurisdiction to try the accused for an offence under s. 411 Indian Penal Code committed at a place beyond British territory with regard to the stolen properties. MOH. SHAWARI PRASAD SINGH v. THE KING EMPEROR (1914) 18 C W N 1178

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contds 180—contd

s 181—

See JURISDICTION I L R 41 Cal 912

Kidnapping committed outside British India—Jurisdiction of British Courts when person kidnapped detained within British India—Moyurbhunj not in British India. A person charged with having committed the offence of kidnapping in Moyurbhunj which is outside British India cannot be tried by a Court in British India within the local limits of which the person kidnapped may be conveyed or concealed or detained. BRITA SANKAL v. DAMA SANKAL (1915) 20 C W N 62

Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 406—Criminal breach of trust in respect of monies received at Singapore for which the accused was liable to account in Calcutta—Court in Calcutta if has jurisdiction to take cognisance of the complaint—Jurisdiction. Where a firm carrying on business in Calcutta employed A as agent at Singapore and prosecuted him in Calcutta for criminal breach of trust in respect of monies received at Singapore for which he was to render accounts in Calcutta. Held—That the Court in Calcutta had jurisdiction to take cognisance of the complaint. ABDUL LATIFF YUSOFF v. ABU MUHAMMAD HASSIM (1915) 26 C W N 175

s 182—

See PENAL CODE s 405

I L R 38 Mad 639

ss 182 531—

See COMPANY I L R 45 Cal 490

Jurisdiction—Place

at which consequence of act ensued—Criminal breach of trust—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 408. One M was employed as an agent by a firm in Mirzapur. Goods were entrusted to him for sale in various districts in Lower Bengal and from time to time as he sold goods he remitted money to his employers at Mirzapur. When called upon to furnish accounts he offered to furnish Rs 500 as a deposit but did not submit any account. Held that the Courts of Mirzapur had jurisdiction to try M for whatever offence he had committed arising out of the above transactions. Queen Empress v. O'Brien I L R 19 All 411 followed. EMPEROR v. MAHADEO (1910) I L R 32 All 397

s 185—

See JURISDICTION I L R 41 Cal 305

See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT

I L R 44 Cal 595

Power of the High

Court under the section to transfer case pending in Court not subject to its jurisdiction—Stay of further proceeding to enable accused to bring Civil action—

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contds 185—contd

Proceeding which discloses no offence if to be quashed. Where the nominee of a policy holder claiming payment in respect of a life policy effected at Chittagong and resident within the District of Chittagong brought a charge of cheating in the Court of the District Magistrate of Chittagong against the Secretary and other officers of an Insurance Company having its head office at Gujranwalla in the Punjab and a branch office at Chittagong and the Insurance Company brought a charge of cheating against the nominee and others in the Court of the District Magistrate of Gujranwalla both charges relating to the payment of the amount secured on the policy. Held (on an application by the nominee under a 185 Cr P C) that the High Court could properly make an order under s 185 Cr P C to the effect that the offence should be enquired into and tried at Chittagong and transfer the case from the Court of the District Magistrate of Gujranwalla to that of the District Magistrate of Chittagong. Proceedings in the case were however stayed for two months to enable the accused to institute a Civil suit. Held (on the application of the officers of the Insurance Company) that as on the face of the record no offence had been disclosed against them the proceeding against them should be quashed. HIRAN KUMAR CHOWDHURY v. MANGAL SEW (1912) 17 C W N 781

High Court if can interfere merely on the ground of convenience. Where the petitioners were prosecuted in the Court of the Additional District Magistrate of Lahore under ss 409 420 467 447 Penal Code and on the allegations of the prosecution the Courts at Chittagong and Lahore were equally competent to exercise jurisdiction in the case. Held that s 185 Cr P C does not warrant interference by the High Court merely upon the ground of convenience. The decision of the High Court within the local limits of whose appellate jurisdiction the offender actually is can only be sought where a doubt arises as to the Court by which an offence should be enquired into or tried. RAJANI BINODE CHAKRABARTY v. THE ALL INDIA BANKING AND INSURANCE CO. LD. LAHORE (1913) 17 C W N 1297 I L R 41 Cal 305

Doubt as to Court

having jurisdiction to try a case decision of High Court in case of. In a case under s. 408 Indian Penal Code instituted in the Court of one of the Presidency Magistrates of Calcutta it being doubtful whether the Courts in Calcutta or in the District of 24 Parganas had jurisdiction the High Court in exercise of its jurisdiction under s. 185 of the Code of Criminal Procedure decided that the case should be inquired into and tried by the Court within the District of 24 Parganas. RENOUE PERRY MAL v. GATESER CHANDRA MISHRA (1916) 21 C W N 434

21 C W N 434

Transfer of case—

Case pending in a Court outside the jurisdiction of High Court—Power of High Court to transfer to a Court within its jurisdiction or to decide by which Court such case shall be tried. S. 185 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) does not empower a High Court to transfer to a Court subordinate to its own jurisdiction a case pending in a Court subordinate to the jurisdiction of another High

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 185—contd

Court nor does it empower a High Court to decide by which Court such a case shall be tried. RAHMAN SAPIR v VELLARU (1916) 1 L R 40 Mad 835

ss 188 122—

See SUPRETT 1 L R 42 Cal 706

Effect of ill galor on trial of accused—Extradition Where a man is in the country and is charged before a Magistrate with an offence under the Penal Code it will not avail him to say that he was brought there illegally from a foreign country. The principle upon which English cases to this effect are based underlies also s. 183 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898). EMPEROR v VINAYAK DAMODAR SAWARRAR (1910) 1 L R 35 Bom 225

Offence committed on high seas—Native Indian subject of His Majesty—Jurisdiction of British Magistrate to try accused with out sanction of Government The accused pulled up certain fishing stakes which the complainant had planted in the sea at a distance of five or six miles beyond the low water mark. They were convicted by a Magistrate for offences punishable under ss. 426 143 of the Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1900). On appeal, it was contended that the Magistrate had no jurisdiction to try the case without the sanction of the Local Government under a 188 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) for the offences if any were committed on the high seas. Held overruling the contention that the Magistrate had jurisdiction to try the case inasmuch as the first proviso to s. 188 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898 was limited to territorial jurisdiction and had no bearing upon the question of jurisdiction to try an offence committed on the high seas. EMPEROR v MANUEL PHILIP (1917) 1 L R 41 Bom 667

Penal Code s. 363—

Kidnapping from lawful guardianship—Offence committed outside British territory—Jurisdiction—Certificate of Political Agent The absence of the certificate of the Political Agent required by s. 188 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is an absolute bar to the trial of a case to which the provisions of that section apply. Queen Empress v Ram Sundar 1 L R 19 All 109 followed. EMPEROR v NARAYN (1919) 1 L R 41 All 452

Certificate of Political

Agent not obtained—Agreement between Darbar of Native State and the neighbourhood authorities in British India not a substitute therefor The existence of an agreement between the Darbar of a Native State and the authorities of the neighbouring portion of British India to render mutual assistance in the arrest of persons found gambling in either territory will not do away with the necessity of obtaining the certificate of the Political Agent or the Local Government where such certificate is required by section 188 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. EMPEROR v NANDU

1 L R 42 All 89

ss 188 22—Offence committed in Native territory—Certificate granted by Political Officer as to fact of particular section of the Indian Penal Code—Trying Magistrate not debarred from convicting under another section if within the facts stated A certificate granted by a Political Officer under

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 188 227—contd

s. 188 of the Code of Criminal Procedure in respect of a certain set of facts will cover every charge which the facts disclosed in the proceedings will suffice to sustain. The certificate is granted on the allegation of certain facts which constitute the charge against the accused and the trying Magistrate is not restricted to the section which is mentioned in the certificate but at the utmost to the facts. EMPEROR v KRISHNA NATH TIWARI (1911) 1 L R 33 All 514

s. 190—

See s. 4 1 Pat L J 592

See s. 54 1 L R 44 Cal 78

See s. 110 4 Pat L J 7

See s. 104 1 L R 37 Cal 49

See COGNIZANCE 1 L R 40 Cal 854

See COMPLAINT 1 L R 41 Cal 1013

See FALSE INFORMATION

1 L R 46 Cal 807

See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURT

1 L R 40 Cal 71

See JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATE

1 L R 37 Cal 221

Complaint not disclosing facts—Validity when may be questioned The complaint in this case did not set out the facts which constituted the alleged offence but stated that the persons named had committed offences punishable under certain sections of the Penal Code. Held (per MOOKERJEE J.) That a complaint of this description constituted a merely colourable compliance with the provisions of s. 190 Criminal Procedure Code. Per HARRINGTON J.—There was a complaint which the Magistrate had jurisdiction to entertain. Where a trial has been concluded the proceedings cannot be attacked on the ground that the materials the Magistrate had before him at the time he issued process were meagre or even insufficient if the Magistrate had jurisdiction to issue process. To make the whole proceeding void it is necessary to show that there was no complaint before the Magistrate and the Magistrate had no other course but to refuse to issue process on the ground that he had no jurisdiction under the law to issue process. When the accused took no steps at the initial stage to set aside the Magistrate's order issuing process on the ground that on the face of it the materials on which it was made were insufficient and proceeded to trial. Held (per HARRINGTON J.) that no objection could be allowed to be taken to the issue of the process upon an appeal from the conviction had at the trial the point not being one affecting the fairness of the trial in any way. Per MOOKERJEE J. The case was covered by cl. (a) of s. 537 of the Criminal Procedure Code. PRINCE BEHARI DAS v KING EMPEROR (1911)

18 C W N 1105

Information before police reported to be false—Judicial enquiry ordered by Deputy Magistrate upon report of police—Case made over to another Magistrate—Issue of process by latter after enquiry—Competency of such Magistrate to try Where the police reported an offence and lodged against the peti-

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 190—contd

tioners by one S to be false and recommended the prosecution of S and the Deputy Magistrate in charge on receipt of the police report ordered a judicial enquiry although there was no complaint by S and subsequently recalled that order and made over the case for disposal to another Deputy Magistrate who after taking evidence issued summonses against the petitioners. Held that the Deputy Magistrate who issued process against the petitioners did not act either upon a police report or upon a complaint and although s 190 cl (c) may not strictly apply the petitioners ought to be allowed to have the case tried by another Magistrate. ANANTA RAM TEWARY v SHEIKH ALTAN SARKAR (1913) 17 C W N 795

Trial by second class Magistrate as case under s 408 Indian Penal Code of complaint disclosing offences under s 409 477A Indian Penal Code and acquittal by him—District Magistrate a jurisdiction to take cognizance of further complaint. A complaint was filed against the petitioner disclosing offences under ss 409 and 477A Indian Penal Code. The case was by mistake made over to and tried by a Magistrate exercising second class powers and not invested with the power of making commitment to the Court of Sessions who treated the case as one under s 408 Indian Penal Code and acquitted the accused. The complainant subsequently presented a further complaint under ss 409 and 477A Indian Penal Code to the District Magistrate who took cognizance of the same. Held that the District Magistrate was competent to take cognizance of the second complaint. KRISHNA DEO v GOSWAMI v MOHENDRA NATH DUTT (1918) 23 C W N 518

Omission of one Magistrate to take cognizance on suspicion effect of on subsequent proceedings. WOODROFFE J (BEACH CROFT J concurring). Where the Police searched a hut on suspicion and incriminating evidence was found and after the search was over the Additional District Magistrate came to the spot and saw what had been found and a search list was prepared which the Additional District Magistrate signed and the accused were subsequently placed before another Magistrate who held an enquiry and committed the accused to the Court of Sessions for trial. Held that the fact that the Additional District Magistrate did not take cognizance of the case at once did not render the subsequent proceedings before another Magistrate bad nor could such subsequent proceedings be held to be prejudicial to the accused. That it was not the duty of the Additional District Magistrate to take cognizance of the case on the basis of what he found at the spot. PAMESH CHANDRA BANERJEE v EMPEROR (1913) 18 C W N 493

[I L R 41 Cal 350]

District Magistrate receiving information of offence as President of District Board—Right to take cognizance under s 190 (c). The fact that a District Magistrate who happens to be also the President of a District Board receives in the latter capacity information as to the commission of an offence by a servant of the Board does not debar him from taking cognizance of the offence under s 190 (c) of the Criminal Procedure Code. Tikur Pershat Singh

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 190—contd

v The Emperor (1906) 10 O W N 77a, dissented from SUNDARASAN v KING EMPEROR (1920) I L R 43 Mad. 709

Cattle Trespass Act (I of 1871) s 20—Magistrate—Cognizance of offences—Special authority to try cases under the Cattle Trespass Act. A Magistrate who is authorized under s 190 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1893 to take cognizance of offences upon receiving complaints can take cognizance of complaints under s 20 of the Cattle Trespass Act 1871 although he is not specially authorized in that behalf. EMPEROR v VISHWANATH VISHNU (1919) I L R 44 Bom 42 ss 190 and 200—Complaint failure to examine complainant. M the defendant in a civil suit filed a petition before the District Magistrate stating that he had no certain knowledge of the fact but he had heard that the plaintiff had taken steps to abstract from another court where a number of papers had been filed in a previous suit papers in connection with the present suit and had employed K J and B to introduce by forgeries entries therein which would support the plaintiff's case. He did not ask the Magistrate to issue summonses or warrants against the accused but desired that a confidential enquiry should be made by the Criminal Investigation Department. The Magistrate ordered the inquiry to be made and on receipt of the report of the inquiry issued warrants against the three accused. The High Court stayed further proceedings pending the disposal of the civil suit. When that suit had been decided the Magistrate without making any further enquiry ordered the proceedings against K to be continued. Held that the petition filed by M was a complaint within the meaning of s 190 (1) (c) of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1893 and that the Magistrate should have examined M on oath under s 200. Held further that on receipt of the report of the enquiry by the Criminal Investigation Department the Magistrate should either have called upon M to lodge a further complaint and examined him on oath or should have directed the officer of the Criminal Investigation Department to file a complaint. The power of a Magistrate to proceed upon information is intended to be used in cases in which the Magistrate has good reason to believe that there has been a serious infringement of the law but is unable to take action in the ordinary way for the reason that the party concerned is unwilling or unable to prosecute. It is not open to a Magistrate under s 190 (1) (c) to take cognizance upon complaint without examining the complainant or upon the report of a police officer. JAYNA LAL SARKAR v THE KING EMPEROR 2 Pat L J 857

ss 190 200 and 403—There is nothing in the code to prevent a Magistrate from entertaining a second complaint after an order of discharge by another Magistrate. BRINOO SINGH v KING EMPEROR 2 Pat L J 34

ss 190 295 (c) 309 530 (k) 531—See MAGISTRATE I L R 3P Cal 119

ss 190 497 498—See BAIL I L R 37 Cal 412

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 190 (1) 202 203—

See COMPLAINT I L R 41 Calc 1013

s 191—

See DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT (IV of 1915)
s 2 I L R 41 All 164

s 192—

See s. 107 I L R 41 Mad. 248

See MAGISTRATE POWER OF
I L R 33 Calc 68

Transfer—Case transferred by District Magistrate to the Court of a Sub divisional Magistrate—Further transfer by Sub divisional Magistrate ultra vires Held that when a District Magistrate has referred a case for trial to a Sub divisional Magistrate the latter has no power to transfer it to any other Magistrate subordinate to him. BASHA HUSAIN v ALI HUSAIN (1913) I L R 33 All 166

ss 192 200 to 203 476 537—

See FALSE INFORMATION
I L R 43 Calc 173

s 193—Transfer—Appeal—Case—Powers of Sessions Judge Held that the word cases as used in s 193 (2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure does not include appeals In re the petition of Mansa Asmal I L R 9 Bom 16, and Chatter Pal Singh v Raja Ram I L R 7 All 621 followed. Allah Dei Begum v Kesari Mohi I L R 23 All 93 referred to EMPEROR v ABDUR PAZZAR (1910) I L R 37 All 286

s 195—

See s 4 I L R 35 All 6
I L R 43 Calc 1152

See s 197 I L R 2 Lah 305

See s 236 I L R 45 Bom 634

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL
I L R 41 Calc 734

See APPEAL RIGHT OF
I L R 44 Calc 804

See APPRAISEMENT
I L R 48 Calc 1088

See CALCUTTA RENT ACT 1920 s 24
25 C W N 681

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 115
I L P 33 All 512

See CRIMINAL JURISDICTION
I L R 37 Calc 714
14 C W N 896

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE
s 476
I P s L J 233 593 and 837

See PENAL CODE (Act XLV of 1860)
ss 18-211 I L R 34 All 522

ss 19 AND 193
I L R 45 Bom 663

See PERJURY I L R 33 Mad 471

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
See USING A FORGED DOCUMENT
I L R 39 Calc 463

Further evidence—Superior Court has no jurisdiction to order further inquiry by Subordinate Court A superior Criminal Court

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 195—contd

to which an appeal has been preferred under s 10, of the Criminal Procedure Code against an order of an inferior Criminal Court granting sanction has no power to take or call for further evidence The power to do so given by s 478 is limited to appeals under that chapter KRISHNA REDDY v EMPEROR (1909) I L R 33 Mad 90

Sanction by Presidency Small Cause Court—Order granted by single Judge—Powers of Full Court to revoke the sanction—Full Court not an Appellate Court—Presidency Small Cause Courts Act (XV of 1882) ss 37 38 Where a sanction to prosecute has been granted by a Judge of the Presidency Small Causes Court at Bombay the Full Court of that Court has no power to revoke that sanction Per CHANDAVAR KAR J The language used in ss 37 and 38 of the Presidency Court of Small Causes Act (XV of 1882) does not appear to be appropriate for the purpose of conferring appellate jurisdiction upon the Full Court Per BATHURLOJ J The jurisdiction conferred by s 38 of the Act is not appellate but revisional only SHIVLAL PADUA In re (1909) I L R 34 Bom 316

False information to police prosecution for—Sanction to prosecute—Cognizance of offence without the complaint of the public servant with whom false information lodged Where on the Police reporting an information to be false the Inspector of Police purporting to act under s 190 Criminal Procedure Code granted sanction for the prosecution of the informant under s 182 Indian Penal Code and the Magistrate took cognizance of the offence Semble That without the complaint of the public servant to whom the alleged false information was given the Magistrate was not right in taking cognizance of the offence ISSER v KING EMPEROR (1910) 114 C W N 765

Appeal—Held that when sanction to prosecute has been granted or refused by a Court under the provisions of s 190 of the Code of Criminal Procedure only one appeal from such order will lie under that section Kankai Lal v Chhadamm Lal I L R 31 All 43 followed Muthuswami Mudali v Veera Chetti I L P 30 Mad 33 referred to NATA PRASAD v BAHAN BAHAI (1914) I L R 36 All 469

Perjury—No detestable in public interest In granting sanction to prosecute for perjury Courts should not merely see whether there is a good prospect of conviction but should also consider whether the circumstances are such as to render prosecution desirable in the public interests Where the petitioner a girl of fifteen in a statement before a Magistrate under s 164 Criminal Procedure Code said that her mother and one Bashayya used to talk and fight with each other and as a witness before another Magistrate stated that they never quarrelled with each other Held that a prosecution for perjury was not desirable NATTANA PARAKESAM Pe (1914) I L P 37 Mad 564

Omission to record position as on solemn oath—Or affirmation—Presiding Judge of Small Causes enquiry by Peon as to proper use of summons if judicial proceedings in service

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 195—contd

of summons Before the Registrar of the Presidency Court of Small Causes at Calcutta whose duty it is to enquire into the proper service of summons and to take evidence in this behalf it transpired that the petitioner in this case by false representation had returned the summons as properly served and the Public Prosecutor at the instance of the Chief Judge made an application for sanction to prosecute the petitioner under s 205 of the Indian Penal Code which was granted by the said Registrar under s 195 of the Criminal Procedure Code and upon a rule being obtained to question the propriety of the sanction Held that the proceedings before the Registrar were judicial proceedings and he was a judicial officer that the sanction given by him to prosecute was properly given and the fact that it was not stated in the depositions recorded by the Registrar that they were taken on solemn oath or affirmation was a matter covered by s 13 of the Oaths Act Queen v Sewa Bhogta 14 B L R 291 and Queen Empress v Shava 1 L R 16 Bom 359 referred to BALGHAND v TARAK NATH SADIH (1914) 18 C W N 1323

—cl 1 (b)—False endorsement on a promissory note—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV 1860) s 193 complaint under—Sanction—Necessity Where a complaint of false endorsement on a promissory note to prove a payment of Rs 1500 was preferred to a Second Class Magistrate but was transferred to a First Class Magistrate and where between the date of filing of the complaint and its transfer a civil suit on the promissory note was filed Held that the sanction of the Civil Court under s 195 (1) (b) was necessary before the Court could take action on the complaint Held also that the date of the presentation of the complaint before a Magistrate having no jurisdiction to entertain it was not the date of the institution of the Criminal Proceedings Re PARAMESWARAN NAMUDURI (1915) 1 L R 39 Mad. 677

—Sanction to be granted on legal evidence—S 195 (b) High Court hearing an appeal under—Judges divided equally in opinion—Whether an appeal lies under cl 15 of the Letters Patent A Magistrate received a complaint of criminal breach of trust examined the complainant on oath under s 200 Criminal Procedure Code but suspecting the complaint to be false referred it under s 202 Criminal Procedure Code to a Police Inspector for investigation and on receiving the report of the Inspector to the effect that the case was entirely false dismissed the complaint under s 203 Criminal Procedure Code On an application being made for sanction to prosecute the complainant for preferring a false complaint the Magistrate asked the complainant to show cause why sanction should not be given but as no witnesses were examined by him to show the truth of his complaint the Magistrate granted sanction Held affirming the decision of SHYDARA AYYAR J that the above materials did not constitute legal evidence for the Magistrate to grant the sanction and that hence the sanction given should be set aside Quere Whether an appeal under cl 15 of the Letters Patent lies against an order of a Division Bench of the High Court when one of the Judges differs from his colleague on hearing an application under s 195 (b) Criminal Procedure

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 195—contd

Code to revoke a sanction granted by a lower Court BAPU v BAPU (1913)

I L R 39 Mad. 768

—Scope of section—Proceedings in relation to which sanction of Court necessary—Information to police followed by complaint in Court Where the information to the Police was followed by a complaint to the Court based on the same allegations and on the same charge as that contained in the information to the police and the complaint was investigated by the Court sanction or a complaint of the Court itself under s 195 (b) Criminal Procedure Code would be necessary before the Court could take cognizance of an offence punishable under s 211 Indian Penal Code alleged to have been committed by making a false charge to the police on the ground that it was an offence committed in relation to a proceeding in Court BROWN v ANANDA LAL MULLICK (1916) 20 C W N 1347

—Sanction against witness for forgery It must be taken—No sanction is necessary for the prosecution of any person who is not a party to the suit or proceeding for offences under s 467 or abetment thereof Guridhari Marwari v Emperor 12 C W N 802 distinguished DEBI LAL v DHANADHARI DASRAI (1911) 15 C W N 565

cl. 1 (b & c)—Jurisdiction—Sanction to prosecute Subordination of Courts—Transfer of case out of local jurisdiction power to A petition asking for sanction to prosecute for certain offences under s 195 (b) and (c) Criminal Procedure Code Act V of 1898 should not be transferred to a Court to which the Court before which the petition for sanction was pending is not subordinate as the sanction of such a Court would be ineffective The High Court cannot transfer a case under s 110 Criminal Procedure Code to any Magistrate other than one within whose local jurisdiction the person is found against whom proceedings are instituted In the matter of the petition of Amar Singh 1 L R 16 All 9 Held that the same principle applies to s 195 Criminal Procedure Code EXAMBARAS WARRA IYER v VEERAVADRA THEVAN (1910) 1 L R 34 Mad 186

—cl 6—False evidence—Prosecution stayed at the instance of the party to be proceeded against pending the disposal of the appeal by the Appellate Court—Expiry of six months time—Power of the High Court to extend time nunc pro tunc Under s 195 cl (6) of the Criminal Procedure Code of 1898 the High Court has the power to extend the time of a sanction to prosecute even after the expiry of the original period of six months from its date Aaruppana Sengaram v Sina Gowden 1 L R 26 Mad 480 followed Kati Kinkar Seti v Dinobandhu Bandy 1 L R 33 Cal 379 dissented from KRISHNA KERRINO & Co v MILLER (1916) 1 L R 41 Bom 631

—Appeal—Letters Patent s 10 Held that an order made by a single Judge of the High Court granting sanction for a prosecution under s 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is not a judgment within the purview of a 10 of the Letters Patent and is not appealable under that section Neither can such an order be called in question under sub s (6) of s 195 of the Code of

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—cont'd

§ 185—cont'd

Criminal Procedure inasmuch as a Judge of the High Court sitting in banc is not subordinate to a Division Bench of the Court Hurrikah Chander (Lord's v. Kol sundar De's I I P 9 Calc 46 referred to RAMJAN v. MAHABO PRASAD (1916) I L R 39 All 147

Sanction granted by a Court of Small Causes—Application to revoke sanction Jurisdiction—District Judge When an order granting, or refusing sanction to prosecute is made by a Court of Small Causes under a 101 of the Code of Criminal Procedure the Court to which an application for the reversal of such order lies is the Court of the District Judge Sundar Lal v. King Emperor 6 All L J 26 No. 10 *Mukhammad v. Huh Lal I L R 31 All 313 In re Ram Prasad Malla I L R 37 Calc. 13 and E. dhu Lal v. Chhatu Cope I I R 43 Calc 397 referred to Aj. dhu Prasad v. Ram Lal I L R 41 All 197 distinguished *Ambika Tevari v. King Emperor I Patna L J 206 and Sukhdeo Singh v. The District Magistrate of Muzaffarpur 2 Patna L J 111 sented from CHIDDA Lal v. BHASAN LAL (191) I L R 39 All 6,7

On the hearing an application to the High Court against the order of the Presidency Small Cause Court refusing sanction to prosecute a Takil has right of audience before Bench appointed by the Chief Justice to dispose of it D. D. N. Lal v. Chhatu Gora (1917) 21 C W N 654 cl. 7—Prosecution of witness pending disposal of suit in which he deposed—Provision of sanctioning—Cl (7)—Revocation of sanction granted by Subordinate Judge if to be applied for before District Judge or High Court In a suit brought by a lady relating to a certain business which she claimed as the exclusive property of her husband the petitioner who was her brother and Ammakhair entrusted with the conduct of the suit filed an affidavit about entries in the books of the business showing the defendant a status therein. While the suit was still pending on the application of the defendant the Subordinate Judge granted sanction for the prosecution of the petitioner in respect of the statement in the affidavit. The petitioner moved the High Court. Held that generally speaking it is not desirable that witnesses should be prosecuted while the case in which they have deposed or are about to depose is still pending and in the circumstances of the present case (the plaintiff being dependent on the petitioner for the prosecution of her case) the order made was all the more improper. Without deciding whether an application for revocation of sanction granted by a Subordinate Judge should be made to the District Judge as being the Court to which appeals ordinarily lie from the former Court the High Court set aside the order in the present case P. K. Kumar Dey v. Satish Chandra Ghosh (1917) 21 C W N 753

Abetment of perjury—Before a Committing Magistrate—Application for sanction made to the Committing Magistrate—Transfer of the Magistrate pending inquiry—The Magistrate succeeded by another Magistrate who had no power to commit—Sanct on proceedings sent to District Magistrate—Grant of sanction by District Magistrate. It was alleged that the applicant who was a pleader had during the course of an inquiry before a Committing Magistrate abetted perjury. An application for sanction to prosecute the applicant was therefore made to the Magistrate. While the proceedings for sanction were pending before him the Magistrate was transferred and was succeeded by another Magistrate who had only second class powers and had no power to commit. The outgoing Magistrate accordingly submitted the sanction proceedings to the District Magistrate who conducted the inquiry and granted the sanction. The applicant applied to the High Court contending that the District Magistrate had no jurisdiction to grant the sanction. Held that the District Magistrate had jurisdiction to grant the sanction inasmuch as he was clearly one of the officers on whom devolved the disposal of committal of cases In re RAMJAN N. BELLARY (1917) I L R 42 Bom 190

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—cont'd

§ 185—cont'd

Appeal—Against order refusing sanction—Munsif of Jaunpur—Additional Sessions and Subordinate Judge of Jaunpur—Bengal Agra and Assam Civil Courts Act (XII of 1877) s. 21(2) Held that an application to revoke or grant a sanction for a prosecution granted or refused by the Munsif of Jaunpur would lie to the Additional Sessions and Subordinate Judge, Jaunpur. Held also that a Court to which such an application is made is competent to take additional evidence for the purpose of satisfying itself whether sanction ought or ought not to be granted. Rahmatullah v. The Emperor 32 Indian Cases 157 followed EMPEROR v. JACOB SHUKUL (1917) I L R 40 All 21

cl. 8—Period for which sanction remains in force—Terminus a quo Under cl (6) of a 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure the date on which sanction is given is the date of the order of the Court which originally granted sanction and not the date of any subsequent order refusing to set it aside. In re Muthukudam Pillai I L R 6 Mad 190 followed TILAK RAM v. DALIP SINGH (1918) I I R 40 All 338

cl. 8—Confirmation of sanction by APPEAL. LATE COURT—Revision application against grant of sanction rejected summarily by High Court—Time cannot run from the date of summary rejection On the 24th July 1916 a sanction to prosecute was given by the first Court. It was confirmed on appeal by the District Court on the 23rd October 1916. An application to the High Court under its revisional jurisdiction against the grant of sanction was summarily rejected on the 1st February 1917. A complaint under the sanction was filed on the 10th July 1917. Upon an objection being raised that the complaint was time barred under a 195 cl (6) of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898 as more than six months had elapsed since the grant of sanction. Held upholding the objection that the complaint was time barred for the summary rejection of the application by the High Court did not constitute a date from which the period of six months began to run. PARTABRAO MHAOKORRAE In re (1917) I L R 42 Bom. 281

Of Receiver appointed by Court—Without sanction—Agent of firm appointed Receiver

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

§ 195—contd

of summons Before the Registrar of the Presidency Court of Small Causes at Calcutta whose duty it is to enquire into the proper service of summons and to take evidence in this behalf it transpired that the petitioner in this case by false representation had returned the summons as properly served and the Public Prosecutor at the instance of the Chief Judge made an application for sanction to prosecute the petitioner under s. 65 of the Indian Penal Code which was granted by the said Registrar under s. 195 of the Criminal Procedure Code and upon a rule being obtained to question the propriety of the sanction. Held that the proceedings before the Registrar were judicial proceedings and he was a judicial officer that the sanction given by him to prosecute was properly given and the fact that it was not stated in the depositions recorded by the Registrar that they were taken on solemn oath or affirmation was a matter covered by s. 13 of the Oaths Act. Queen v Sewa Bhogta 14 B L R 294 and Queen Empress v Shova 1 L R 16 Bom 359 referred to. BALCHAND v TARAK NATH SADIU (1914) 18 C W N 1323

—cl 1 (b)—False endorsement on a promissory note—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV 1860) s. 193 complaint under—Sanction—Necessity Where a complaint of false endorsement on a promissory note to prove a payment of Rs 1500 was preferred to a Second Class Magistrate but was transferred to a First Class Magistrate and where between the date of filing of the complaint and its transfer a civil suit on the promissory note was filed. Held that the sanction of the Civil Court under s. 195 (1) (b) was necessary before the Court could take action on the complaint. Held also that the date of the presentation of the complaint before a Magistrate having no jurisdiction to entertain it was not the date of the institution of the Criminal Proceedings. Re PARAMESWARAN NAMBUDEI (1915) 1 L R 39 Mad. 677

—Sanction to be granted on legal evidence—S. 195 (b) High Court hearing an appeal under—Judges divided equally in opinion—Whether an appeal lies under cl. 15 of the Letters Patent A Magistrate received a complaint of criminal breach of trust examined the complainant on oath under s. 200 Criminal Procedure Code but suspecting the complaint to be false referred it under s. 202 Criminal Procedure Code to a Police Inspector for investigation and on receiving the report of the Inspector to the effect that the case was entirely false dismissed the complaint under s. 203 Criminal Procedure Code. On an application being made for sanction to prosecute the complainant for preferring a false complaint the Magistrate asked the complainant to show cause why sanction should not be given but as no witnesses were examined by him to show the truth of his complaint the Magistrate granted sanction. Held affirming the decision of SUNDARAYYAN J. that the above materials did not constitute legal evidence for the Magistrate to grant the sanction and that hence the sanction given should be set aside. Quere Whether an appeal under cl. 15 of the Letters Patent lies against an order of a Division Bench of the High Court when one of the Judges differs from his colleague on hearing an application under s. 195 (b) Criminal Procedure

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

§ 195—contd

Code to revoke a sanction granted by a lower Court. BAFU v BAFU (1913)

I L R 39 Mad. 768

—Scope of section—Proceedings in relation to which sanction of Court necessary—Information to police followed by complaint in Court Where the information to the Police was followed by a complaint to the Court based on the same allegations and on the same charge as that contained in the information to the police and the complaint was investigated by the Court sanction or a complaint of the Court itself under s. 195 (b) Criminal Procedure Code would be necessary before the Court could take cognizance of an offence punishable under s. 211 Indian Penal Code alleged to have been committed by making a false charge to the police on the ground that it was an offence committed in relation to a proceeding in Court. BROWN v ANANDA LAL MULLICK (1916) 20 C W N 1347

—Sanction against witness for forgery If must be taken—No sanction is necessary for the prosecution of any person who is not a party to the suit or proceeding for offences under s. 467 or abetment thereof. Qandhari Narayan v Emperor 12 C W N 82, distinguished. DEBI LAL v DRAJADHARI GASKAT (1911) 15 C W N 565

cl. 1 (b & c)—Jurisdiction—Sanction to prosecute Subordination of Courts—Transfer of case out of local jurisdiction power to A petition asking for sanction to prosecute for certain offences under s. 195 (b) and (c) Criminal Procedure Code under s. 195 (b) and (c) Criminal Procedure Code Act V of 1898 should not be transferred to a Court to which the Court before which the petition for sanction was pending is not subordinate as the sanction of such a Court would be ineffective. The High Court cannot transfer a case under s. 110, Criminal Procedure Code to any Magistrate other than one within whose local jurisdiction the person is found against whom proceedings are instituted. In the matter of the petition of Amor Singh 1 L R 16 All 9. Held that the same principle applies to s. 195 Criminal Procedure Code. EXAMBARAS WARA IYER v VEERAYADRA THEYAN (1910) 1 L R 34 Mad. 188

—cl. 6—False evidence—Prosecution stayed at the instance of the party to be proceeded against pending the disposal of the appeal by the Appellate Court—Expiry of six months time—Power of Court—Expiry of time when prosecution Under the High Court to extend time when prosecution Under s. 195 cl. (6) of the Criminal Procedure Code of 1898 the High Court has the power to extend the time of a sanction to prosecute even after the expiry of the original period of six months from its date. Karuppana Seragam v Sinaa Gowden 1 L R 26 Mad 480 followed. Kali Kinkar Sett v Dinobandhu Pandey 1 L R 32 Cal 379 dissent from. KRISHNA KARKISO v Co v MILLER (1916) 1 L R 41 Bom 831

—Appeal—Letters Patent s. 10. Held that an order made by a single Judge of the High Court granting sanction for a prosecution under s. 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is not a judgment within the purview of s. 10 of the Letters Patent and is not appealable under that section. Neither can such an order be called in question under sub-s. (6) of s. 195 of the Code of

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s. 195—contd

Criminal Procedure inasmuch as a Judge of the High Court sitting singly is not subordinate to a Division Bench of the Court Harnal Chunder Choudhury v. Kailasunderi Debi 1 I L R 3 Cal 46 referred to PANJAS v. MADADYO PRASAD (1916) 1 I L R 39 All 147

Sanction granted by a Court of Small Causes—Application to revoke sanction Jurisdiction—District Judge When an order granting or refusing sanction to prosecute is made by a Court of Small Causes under s. 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure the Court to which an application for the reversal of such order lies is the Court of the District Judge Sundar Lal v. King Emperor 6 All I J 796 Hoar Muhammad v. Hib Lal 1 I L R 31 Ill 313 In re Pam Prad ad Malla 1 I L R 3 Cal 13 and Lidhu Lal v. Chhatu Gope 1 I L R 43 Cal 597 referred to Ayudhya Prasad v. Ram Lal 1 I L R 3 All 127 distinguished Ambala Terori v. King Emperor 1 Patna L J 906 and Sulhao Singh v. The District Magistrate of Jhouspur 2 Patna L J 111 cited from CHIDDA LAL v. BHATAN LAL (1917) 1 I L R 39 All 657

On the hearing an application to the High Court against the order of the Presidency Small Cause Court refusing sanction to prosecute a taluk has right of audience before Bench appointed by the Chief Justice to dispose of it UDYU LAL v. CHATTERJEE (1917) 21 C W N 654 cl. 7—Prosecution of witness pending disposal of suit in which he deposed—Principle of sanctioning—Cl. (7)—Revocation of sanction granted by Subordinate Judge if to be applied for before District Judge or High Court In a suit brought by a lady relating to a certain business which she claimed as the exclusive property of her husband the petitioner who was her brother and Amuktbeer entrusted with the conduct of the suit filed an affidavit about entries in the books of the business showing the defendant's status therein. While the suit was still pending on the application of the defendant the Subordinate Judge granted sanction for the prosecution of the petitioner in respect of the statement in the affidavit. The petitioner moved the High Court. Held that generally speaking it is not desirable that witnesses should be prosecuted while the case in which they have deposed or are about to depose is still pending and in the circumstances of the present case (the plaintiff being dependent on the petitioner for the prosecution of her case) the order made was all the more improper. Without deciding whether an application for revocation of sanction granted by a Subordinate Judge should be made to the District Judge as being the Court to which appeals ordinarily lie from the former Court the High Court set aside the order in the present case. PAJ KUMAR DEUTY v. SATISH CHANDRA GHOSH (1917) 21 C W N 753

Abetment of perjury—Before a Committing Magistrate—Application for sanction made to the Committing Magistrate—Transfer of the Magistrate pending inquiry—The Magistrate succeeded by another Magistrate who had no power to commit—Sanction proceedings sent to District Magistrate—Grant of sanction by District Magistrate It

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s. 195—contd

was allowed that the applicant who was a pleader had during the course of an inquiry before a Committing Magistrate abetted perjury. An application for sanction to prosecute the applicant was therefore made to the Magistrate. While the proceedings for sanction were pending before him the Magistrate was transferred and was succeeded by another Magistrate who had only second class powers and had no power to commit. The outgoing Magistrate accordingly submitted the sanction proceedings to the District Magistrate who conducted the inquiry and granted the sanction. The applicant applied to the High Court contending that the District Magistrate had no jurisdiction to grant the sanction. Held that the District Magistrate had jurisdiction to grant the sanction inasmuch as he was clearly one of the officers on whom devolved the disposal of committal of cases. In re PANJAS v. BELLARY (1917) 1 I L R 42 Bom 190

Appeal—Against order refusing sanction—Munsif of Jaunpur—Additional Sessions and Subordinate Judge of Jaunpur—Bengal Agra and Assam Civil Courts Act (XII of 1877) s. 21(4) Held that an application to revoke or grant a sanction for a prosecution granted or refused by the Munsif of Jaunpur would lie to the Additional Sessions and Subordinate Judge, Jaunpur. Held also that a Court to which such an application is made is competent to take additional evidence for the purpose of satisfying itself whether sanction ought or ought not to be granted. Rahmatullah v. The Emperor 32 Indian Cases 157 followed EMPEROR v. JAORUP SHUKUL (1917) 1 I L R 40 All 21

cl. 6—Period for which sanction remains in force—Terminus a quo Under cl. (6) of s. 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure the date on which sanction is given is the date of the order of the Court which originally granted sanction and not the date of any subsequent order refusing to set it aside. In re Muthukudam Pillai 1 I L R 6 Mad 199 followed TILAK RAM v. DALIP SINGH (1918) 1 I L R 40 All 338 cl. 6—Confirmation of sanction by Appellate Court—Reissuance application against grant of sanction rejected summarily by High Court—Time cannot run from the date of summary rejection On the 24th July 1916 a sanction to prosecute was given by the first Court. It was confirmed on appeal by the District Court on the 23rd October 1916. An application to the High Court under its revisional jurisdiction against the grant of sanction was summarily rejected on the 1st February 1917. A complaint under the sanction was filed on the 10th July 1917. Upon an objection being raised that the complaint was time barred under s. 193 cl. (6) of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898 as more than six months had elapsed since the grant of sanction. Held upholding the objection that the complaint was time barred for the summary rejection of the application by the High Court did not constitute a date from which the period of six months began to run. PARVATRAO MIRASKOJIRAO In re (1917) 1 I L R 42 Bom 281

Of Receiver appointed by Court—Without sanction—Agent of firm appointed Receiver

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

—s 195—contd

and acting for it portion of The accused was a partner and sole representative in Calcutta of a firm to which some moneys were due from a firm of which the complainant was a partner. The firm of the accused brought a suit in the High Court and by virtue of an order for attachment before judgment took delivery of some bales of jute belonging to the firm of the complainant in respect of which the firm of the accused was appointed Receiver. Subsequently an order was made by the High Court with the consent of the parties that on the complainant's firm furnishing security the firm of the accused would give delivery of the jute to the complainant's firm which however on taking delivery of some bales alleged that the jute had been tampered with. A charge was then laid under s 406 Indian Penal Code against the accused. Held that although strictly speaking the firm of the accused was appointed Receiver the accused as representing the firm must be deemed to be the Receiver appointed by the High Court and the prosecution did not lie without the sanction of the Court. SANTOKE CHAUDHURY v. SUGAN CHAND MUNAWAT (1918) 22 C W N 910

Appellate Court to which appeals do not ordinarily lie hearing appeal by transfer—Jurisdiction of to grant sanction for perjury whether as original or as Appellate Court. The offence of perjury is complete when the false statement is made in the Court of first instance and it is not re committed in the Appellate Court by the production of the record or otherwise in appeal so as to entitle the Appellate Court to grant sanction as an Original Court. And a Joint Magistrate to whose Court appeals from convictions by a Third class Magistrate do not ordinarily lie but who hears an appeal from such Court by transfer from the District Magistrate cannot grant sanction for perjury committed before the Third class Magistrate either as a Court of first instance or as an Appellate Court. Eroma Varior v. Emperor 1 L R 26 Mad 656 referred to Bhadesar Tiwari v. Kamla Prasad 1 L R 35 All 90 not followed. ANANTHARAMAN v. TUCKER (1918) 1 L R 41 Mad 787

Disobedience to an order of a public servant—Under s 144 Criminal Procedure Code—Public servant whether a Court—Sanction for disobedience whether a judicial or administrative order—Appeal. An order under s 144 of the Criminal Procedure Code is a judicial and not an administrative order and an order of a Sub Magistrate refusing to sanction the prosecution of a person for an offence under s 188 of the Indian Penal Code in respect of an order made by him under s 144 of the Criminal Procedure Code is the order of a Court to which the appeal provisions in s 195 (7) of the Criminal Procedure Code are applicable. Sankaram Aiyar v. Sankarappa Mudaliar 2 Weir 155 considered. ARUNACHALAN PILLAI v. PONNUSAMI PILLAI (1918) 1 L R 42 Mad 64

—cl 6 — Arms Act—(VI of 1878) ss 25 and 28—False information to District Magistrate—Sanction by District Magistrate—Application to Sessions Court to revoke sanction whether competent—District Magistrate granting sanction whether a Court. Where a District Magistrate receives information of illicit possession of arms and issues

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

—s 195—contd

a search warrant in consequence of the information he acts as a Court though the information may have been given under s 28 and the search warrant issued under s 2a of the Indian Arms Act and an application lies to the Sessions Court under s 195 (6) of the Criminal Procedure Code to revoke a sanction given by him for the prosecution of the informant for an offence under s 182 of the Indian Penal Code. Sankarari Aiyar v. Sankarappa Mudaliar 2 Weir 155 dissented from. Clarke v. Brayendra Kishore Choudhury 1 L R 39 Cal 953 referred to. PATCHALU REDDI v. CHITRA VENKATA REDDI (1918) 1 L R 42 Mad 96

Probability of proceedings being abortive—abortive. Where it appeared to the High Court that in the peculiar circumstances of the case if proceedings for the prosecution of the Petitioners were taken there was a strong probability of their being abortive. Held—That the sanction granted by the lower Court should be revoked. Observations of Jenkins C J in re Attorney 1 L R 41 Cal 446 s c 190 W V 593 approved of. CHAUDHURI VIA v. ABDUL PARAHAN 24 C W N 102

Appellate Court—An application under a 195 cl (6) of the Code of Criminal Procedure stands on a different footing from an application in revision and is analogous to an appeal. The intention of the Legislature is that a Court of superior jurisdiction whose jurisdiction is invoked under the above section should consider the entire matter on the merits upon a complete review of all the facts. RAJ RAJA DAT v. SHEO DAYAL (1915) 1 L R 37 All 439

—cl 1 (b & c)—Income-Tax Collector—Revenue Court—Sanction to prosecute—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 193 196 199 471—Offences committed before the Income Tax Collector. An Income Tax Collector is a Revenue Court within the meaning of that term as used in claus (b) and (c) of a 195 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1893. PUNAMCHAND MANEKAL in re (1914) 1 L R 35 Bom 642

Insolvency Proceedings—Where alleged forged documents were filed in the Insolvency Court. Held that the sanction of the Insolvency Court to prosecute for offences relating to the making and using of the said documents is necessary although the offence of forgery was complete before the commencement of the Insolvency Proceedings. Where the documents were produced before the Official Assignee. Held that the sanction of the Court and not of the Official Assignee was necessary. The Official Assignee does not become a civil Court merely because he has a wide discretion in deciding on claims of persons alleging themselves to be creditors of the insolvent or because persons aggrieved by decisions of his can appeal to the Court from those decisions. BEARDSSELL AND CO v. ABDUL CUNNI SAIB (1914) 1 L R 3 Mad 107

—cl 1 (c)—In respect of a document produced in a Civil Court—If a party but before the prosecution it had become a party to an appeal. The words used in s 195 (1) (c) when such offence has been committed by a party to any proceeding in any Court refer not to the date of the commission of the alleged offence, but to the date on which the cognizance of the Criminal Court is invited. Hence when once a document has been produced or given in evidence before a Court the sanction of that Court or of some other Court to which that Court is subordinate is necessary before a party to the proceedings in which the document was produced or given in evidence can be prosecuted notwithstanding that the offence alluded to was committed before the document came into Court at a time when the person complained against was not a party to any proceeding in Court. Grdhar Mervari v King Emperor L. C. W. N. S. King Emperor v Raja Vudofa Ali Khan & Oudh C. s 313 and Emperor v Lalit Prasad L. R. 34 All 654 referred to Noor Mahommed Cassim v Kailhorru Maneljee 4 Bom. L. P. 963 not followed. EMPEROR v BHAWANI DASS (1915) L. R. 38 All 169

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd
s 195—contd

—cl 1 (c)—Mamlatdar's Court—Enquiry into Record of Rights—Mamlatdar's Court is Revenue Court—Land Revenue Code (Bombay Act I of 1879) Chapter VII A Mamlatdar holding an enquiry relating to Record of Rights under Chapter VII of the Land Revenue Code (Bombay Act I of 1879) is a Revenue Court within the meaning of s 195 (1) (c) of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) EMPEROR v NARAYAN GATWATA (1914) I L R 39 Bom 310

—cl 1 (b)—Election petition—Penal Code (Act XLY of 1860) s 193 511—Court—District Judge hearing election petition under s 22 of the Bombay District Municipalities Act (Bom. Act III of 1901) is a Court—False evidence before the District Judge—Sanction for prosecution—A District Judge hearing an election petition under the provisions of s 22 of the Bombay District Municipalities Act (Bombay Act III of 1901) is a Court within the meaning of s 195 clause (b) of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898. No prosecution for attempting to fabricate false evidence (ss 103 and 511 of the Indian Penal Code) before the District Judge can be instituted without having obtained sanction as required by s 195 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898. Raghooburn Sahay v Kokil Singh I L R 17 Cal 872 followed. In re NANCHAND SHIVCHAND (1912) I L R 37 Bom 365

—cl 1 (a)—Disobedience of the order of a public servant—Application for sanction if necessary—Police report—Where sanction for a prosecution under s 188 Penal Code for disobedience of an order under s 144 Cr P C was granted by the Magistrate on a police report setting forth the facts of the disobedience of the order and also containing a request that the petitioner should be prosecuted under s 188 Penal Code. Held that the order was clearly made under s 195 (1) (a) Cr P C. Per CHAPMAN J. So far as the provisions of s 195 (1) (a) are concerned there is no necessity of any application for sanction. PANCHU MONDAL v THE KING EMPEROR (1913) 17 C W N 976

—cl 1 (b)—Falsifying False evidence—Penal Code (Act XLY of 1860) s 193—Fabricated document—Certified copy filed with plaint as proof—Charge of fabricating false evidence sanction if necessary—The petitioner was said to have fabricated a kabinnama which was registered and he subsequently brought a suit in the Munsif's Court for restitution of conjugal rights and filed

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd
s 195—contd

a certified copy of the kabinnama along with the plaint as proof of marriage and asked the Court to cause the original to be produced. Held under s 195 cl (b) Cr P C no Court could take cognizance of an offence under s 193 Penal Code imputed to the petitioner except with the previous sanction or on a complaint of the Munsif's Court or of some other Court to which the Munsif's Court was subordinate such offence being committed in relation to a judicial proceeding in the Munsif's Court. ABDUL MAJID KHAN v MUMSHI ABDUL HUSS (1913) 17 C W N 937

—cl 6—Appeal—Revision—Held that the Appellate Court equally with the Court of first instance has power to grant sanction for a prosecution in respect of a document filed or evidence recorded in the suit. Held also that a petition under s 195 (6) of the Code of Criminal Procedure seeking the cancellation of an order under s 195 (1) should be classed as a criminal appeal. BHADE SWAR TIWARI v KANTA PRASAD (1912) I L R 35 All 90

—cl 1 (c)—Forgery—Offence alleged not in connection with any proceeding before any Court—Sanction unnecessary—By s 195 cl (c) of the Code of Criminal Procedure Courts are prohibited from taking cognizance of an offence described in s 463 of the Indian Penal Code when such offence has been committed by a party to any proceeding in any Court in respect to a document produced or given in evidence in any such proceeding. The section does not remove from the cognizance of Criminal Courts an offence described in s 463 when such an offence has been committed by an ordinary individual. So long as the prosecution is confined to offences connected with a document committed prior to its production in Court such prosecution is within the law and requires no sanction. EMPEROR v LALTA PRASAD (1912) I L R 34 All 654 —cl 6—Application to District Judge to revoke sanction—To prosecute granted by Munsif—Transfer to Subordinate Judge if valid—Civil Courts Act (VII of 1887) s 92 cl (1) and (4)—An application under sub s 6 of s 195 Criminal Procedure Code is not an appeal within the meaning of sub s (2) of s 2 of the Bengal Civil Courts Act. An application made to a District Judge for the revocation of a sanction to prosecute granted by a Munsif cannot therefore be transferred by him for disposal to a Subordinate Judge. HARI MANDAL v KESUB CHANDRA MANNA (1912) 16 C W N 903

—cl 7—Sanction refused—Further application—Case—Principal Court of original jurisdiction—In a suit for arrears of rent exceeding Rs 100 a decree was passed in favour of the appellant. In course of execution proceedings the respondents made certain statement which according to the appellant were false. The appellant applied for sanction to prosecute them under s 195 cl (7) of the Code of Criminal Procedure. The sanction was refused by the Assistant Collector. Held on application made to the District Judge to grant sanction, that no such application lay. The case in connection with which an offence was alleged to have been committed was in progress in execution from which no appeal lay and the District Judge was not in relation to such proceedings the principal Court of original jurisdiction. AYUDIA PRASAD v RAM LAL (1911) I L R 34 All 197

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

—s 195—contd

Appeal—Order granting sanction by Presidency Small Cause Court—Appeal to High Court—Jurisdiction to Appellate and not Original Side— Principal Court of Original Jurisdiction meaning of From an order of the Presidency Small Causes Court giving or refusing sanction an appeal lies to the High Court generally and not to any particular branch of it But the jurisdiction it exercises being Appellate and not Original it is the Appellate side alone that can dispose of such matters The effect of clause (7) (c) of s 195 Criminal Procedure Code is merely to designate the Court to which an appeal lies under that clause and not to describe the nature of the jurisdiction which it exercises in dealing with orders of the Small Cause Court Its effect is only to make the High Court the appellate tribunal Siva Balkrishna Singh v Ramdhan Bania 14 C W A-886 followed Per Curiam When one Court deals with a judgment of another Court having power to confirm or to set it aside the jurisdiction it exercises is appellate jurisdiction Original jurisdiction is the jurisdiction in original proceedings instituted in the Court whether suits petitions or other proceedings The Original Side of the High Court is not a different Court from the Appellate Side the Court is one but it exercises both original and appellate jurisdiction JAGTA DOSS v SARABATHY CHETTY (1913)

I L R 36 Mad 138

Provincial Small Cause Court sanction to prosecute granted by—appeal to District Judge if lies v Provincial Small Cause Court is under sub-cl (c) of cl (7) of s 195 Criminal Procedure Code to be deemed to be subordinate for the purposes of that section to the Court of the District Judge DEBARAT CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTI v AKSHAY KUMAR BANERJEE (1917)

21 C W N 948

Police report based on a judgment of Court—Sufficient legal basis for grant of sanction Though a Court should not accord a sanction to prosecute under s 195 Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) for bringing a false complaint merely on the strength of a police report yet if the report is based upon a judgment of the Court in a counter-case brought against the complainant in connection with the same matter wherein his defence which was exactly the same as his complaint was found to be false such report is sufficient legal material for the Court to accord its sanction for false complaint Queen Empress v Sfikh Bauri I L P 10 Mad 232 ref red t s 195 Criminal Procedure Code does not prescribe any rule as to upon what materials a Court should accord its sanction nor does it say that a fresh or preliminary enquiry should be held before granting sanction Per JADAVRAYA AYYAR J The complainant's sworn statement which was disbelieved by the Magistrate was another legal material to form the basis for the grant of sanction against him A sanction given by the lower Court ought not to be lightly revoked by a Court of Appeal A third appeal to the High Court to revoke a sanction though legally made

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

—s 195—contd

in the form of a petition under s 195 Criminal Procedure Code ought not to be encouraged in practice Re NARAYANA NADAN (1914)

I L R 38 Mad 1044

Undue delay in passing order thereon— Upon an application by the decree holder for an action to prosecute the judgment debtors and certain other persons for wrongful resistance to execution the trying Court after adjourning the case from time to time for the examination of witnesses ultimately disposed of the matter after examining the plea only Sanction to prosecute was given but nearly six months from the date of the application In the circumstances of the case the High Court strongly condemned the delay which had taken place in disposing of the application MAKIAN LAL SANA v SARAJENDRO NATH SANA CHOWDHURI 24 C W N 743

Court hearing an appeal application for sanction to taking additional evidence— An appellate Court hearing an application to revoke or grant a sanction granted or refused by a Lower Court under s 195 Criminal Procedure Code has power itself to take additional evidence before disposing of the application Rama Aiyar v Venkataswella Padayachi (1907) I L R 30 Mad 311 and Krishna Reddy v Emperor (1910) I L R 33 Mad 90 distinguished SURESHASRI v EMPEROR (1921) I L R 44 Mad 47

cls 1 & 13—Abetment of offences of forgery and personation—Committed not in the course of judicial proceedings The offence or offences in which s 195 cl (1) sub-cl (c) read with cl (3) of the Code of Criminal Procedure requires that sanction should be given by a court with respect of documents produced in Court must be offences committed by parties to the proceeding whether the offence be one of the substantive offences described in s. 463 or punishable under ss. 471 475 or 476 of the Indian Penal Code or only amounts to abetment of any such offences EMPEROR v GHANSHAM SINGH (1909) I L R 32 All 74

cl 6—Refusal of sanction by First Class Magistrate—Additional Sessions Judge can grant it on appeal—Jurisdiction Under s 195 cl 6 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898 an Additional Sessions Judge has jurisdiction to hear an application or an appeal from an order passed by a First Class Magistrate refusing or granting sanction In re SIKANDARABAI (1910) I L R 44 Bom 577 cl 7—Appellate Court—What is—Sanction to prosecute made to District Court after refusal in Small Cause Court A District Judge has no power to sanction a prosecution under s. 209 of the Indian Penal Code in respect of a case instituted in Small Cause Court and with regard to which sanction has already been refused by the Small Cause Court Judge The words that is to say in cl (7) of s 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure do not indicate that a supplementary provision is to be found in cl (c) but they are merely an explanation of the word to which appeal ordinarily lie The words original jurisdiction in sub-cl (c) of cl (7) of s 195 mean original jurisdiction over the case to which the case in question belongs. A Small Cause Court is itself

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

—s 105—contd

a principal court of original jurisdiction with regard to suits cognizable only by a Small Cause Court. STEINBOE SINGH v THE DISTRICT MAGISTRATE OF MUZAFFARPUR 2 Pat. L J 1

Duty of Court granting.—Claim before Official Assignee whether a proceeding in Court and claimant whether a party—Insolvency Court sanction by for offences under ss 193 and 465 Indian Penal Code committed before Official Assignee. A Court granting sanction under a 190 Criminal Procedure Code ought to abstain from analysing the evidence or expressing any opinion as to the probability or otherwise of a conviction. All that the Court should feel is that the matter is one which on the face of it require investigation by a Magistrate. The granting of sanction is in no way tantamount to an intimation that a prima facie case has been made out. If a claimant files a false affidavit and a forged document in support of a claim before the Official Assignee and thereby commits offences under ss 193 and 465 Indian Penal Code. Held that the offences are committed in a proceeding in Court and the claimant is a party within the meaning of a 190 Criminal Procedure Code and that the Insolvency Court can grant sanction. Krishnamma v Chittur Chinnappa Perayya (1915) 37 M L T 15 followed dictum of BESHAJIRI AYYAR J in Palanippa Chettiar v Pannasami Chettiar (1917) 39 M L J 4 dissenting from HAJEE MAHOMED HALIBULLA DADSHA SAHIB Inre (1920)

I L R 43 Mad 1

Assignment of the decree.—Assignee can prosecute under the sanction. A decree holder having obtained a sanction to prosecute a witness of the judgment debtor for perjury assigned the decree. The assignee of the decree then launched prosecution against the witness under the sanction. The witness objected that as the sanction was granted to the original decree holder and not to the assignee the prosecution should not go on. Held overruling the objection that the assignee was entitled to go on with the prosecution inasmuch as there was no provision that the prosecution should be specified in a 190 of the Criminal Procedure Code. In re WITTHAL BHENKRA (1918)

I L R 43 Bom 538

Alteration in a document filed before an Assistant Collector.—In his administrative capacity.—Certificate of age produced by candidate for post of patwari. Applicant who was a candidate for the post of patwari produced before an Assistant Collector a certificate of the upper primary class dated the 16th May 1917 with the apparent object of showing (though it did not do so) that at the date of his application he was of full age. One of the zamindars filed a complaint with regard to the certificate in question alleging it to be a forgery and the applicant was committed to the Court of Session. Held that the order of committal was not bad for want of the sanction required by s 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. The document upon which the charge was based was not produced before the Assistant Collector in a judicial capacity but in his administrative capacity under Chapter III of the Land Revenue Act. EMPEROR v SANTI LAL I L R 42 All 130

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

—s 190—contd

—cl 6 & 7—Small Cause Court Judge appeal from order of—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (Act of 1884) ss 24, 27 and 33—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) s 115—Government of India Act 1913 s 107. Held by the Full Bench (Juala Pra ad J dissentiente) that an application for revocation or grant of a sanction given or refused by a Small Cause Court of by a Munsif or Subordinate Judge exercising the powers of a Small Cause Court under s 190 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 lies only to the District Court and not to the High Court. Per Allinson J.—Sanction granted or refused by a Small Cause Court may come before the High Court in its revisional jurisdiction under s 115 of Code of Civil Procedure 1908 or possibly under s 107 of the Government of India Act, 1913 but not under the provisions of s 190 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898. S 190 is self contained and provides its own procedure. Sub s (6) does not give an unqualified right of appeal to the person against whom an application for sanction has been decided. It is an enabling clause authorizing a superior authority to review an order of a subordinate authority granting or refusing sanction. The word authority in sub s (6) applies both to public servants in sub s 1 (a) and to Court in subs 2 (b) and (c). When the authority granting or refusing sanction is a Court then the provisions of subs (7) indicate the authority which is empowered to revise the order. Except cl (c) which applies only to Courts from which no appeal lies whether the Court be a Civil Criminal or Revenue Court subs (7) refers to cases in which an unqualified and absolute right of appeal is given from the decision of one Court to another at the instance of a party to the litigation before it. S 20 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act 1887 does not confer an absolute and unqualified right of appeal and although it enables the High Court in the exercise of its discretion and power of superintendence to review the proceedings of a Small Cause Court with a view to secure that justice is done and that the law is properly applied and administered it does not constitute the High Court a Court to which appeals from Small Cause Courts ordinarily lie in the sense contemplated by s 195 (1) of the Code of Criminal Procedure. There is no Court to which an appeal ordinarily lies from a Small Cause Court and therefore an appeal against an order of a Small Cause Court granting or refusing sanction is governed by cl (c) of subs (1) and not by cl (a) or (b). Obiter dictum.—The District Magistrate is the principal Court of original jurisdiction in Criminal cases and the Collector is the principal Court of original jurisdiction in Revenue cases. A Small Cause Court is a Court of civil jurisdiction. Per Juala Pra ad J. An application against an order passed by a Small Cause Court Judge granting or refusing sanction may be made either to the District Court or to the High Court but as a matter of procedure an application should first be made to the District Court. Neither subs (1) nor any of its sub-clauses applies to Courts of Small Causes. The High Court at Patna has no ordinary original civil jurisdiction. LALJI TEWARI v THE KING EMPEROR

4 Pat. L J 609

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 195—contd

After a considerable lapse of time—Points for consideration (e.g.) subsequent conduct as regards granting sanction for prosecution discussed. In the circumstances of this case it was held that after so long a lapse of time since the offence alleged the ends of Justice did not require that there should be a prosecution. TRAILOKYA NATH BAYERJEE v RADHAKRISHNAN ALIAS BOYOMALI BHATTACHARJY 25 C W N 886 cl 6—Sanction given or refused—Order by Munsif refusing sanction to prosecute—Order affirmed by District Judge—whether High Court has power to grant the sanction—Perjury when sanction to prosecute for should be given—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 193. It is only when a sanction to prosecute given by the first court is revoked by the appellate authority referred to in cl. (6) of s 193 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 or when a sanction refused by the first court is granted by such appellate authority that the order of the appellate authority can be said to be an order refusing or giving sanction as the case may be. And therefore it is only when the appellate authority gives or refuses a sanction which has been refused or given by the first court that the appellate order is appealable under cl. (6). But the Patna High Court following the practice in the Calcutta High Court will interfere in proper cases with an order of a District Judge confirming a sanction to prosecute granted by a Munsif. No person should be convicted under s 193 of the Penal Code unless it be proved that it is impossible that the statements of the party accused, made on oath can be true. Sanction to prosecute for perjury should not be lightly given in cases where the court would have to determine the question by merely weighing the evidence on both sides. PADAPATH SINGH v RATAN SINGH 5 Pat L J 23 cl 7(a)—Munsif Court to what subordinate—An application was made for sanction to prosecute a witness for a false statement alleged to have been made by him in a civil suit before a Munsif. The Munsif had been transferred from the district and sanction could therefore be given only by the Court to which the Court of the Munsif was subordinate and the question was referred to the High Court whether the application was cognizable by the Subordinate Judge or the District Judge. Held that having regard to cl. (a) of sub s (7) of s 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 the Munsif must for the purposes of the section be deemed to be subordinate only to the Court of the Subordinate Judge of the 1st class. Bure Khan v Queen Empress (16 P R (Cr) 1898) Lakhu Ram v Nand Ram (29 P R (Cr) 1918) and Boddu Rama Jya v Chitturi Suryaya (29 Indian Cases 77) followed. Sunder Singh v Phuman Singh (56 Indian Cases 591) disapproved. DEVA NATH v MURAHMAD ABDULLA

I L R 2 Lah 57

Sanction to prosecute—Jurisdiction of Additional District Judge to revoke Sanction granted by Munsif—Sanction where an appeal in the suit has been assigned to him by the District Judge. An Additional District Judge having all the powers of the District Judge in respect of cases assigned to him by the District Judge is competent to revoke a sanction to pro-

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 195—contd

secute granted by a Munsif in a case which is before him in appeal. Mutsaddi Lal v Mutu Mol 9 A L J 95 referred to. RAM CHARAN v MEWA RAM I L R 43 All 409 cl 6—Application under not An appeal—No revision intended after order passed under s 195 (6)—Jurisdiction to grant sanction not ousted by transfer of magistrate from one sub-division to another in the same district. Held that an application under 195 cl. (6) of the Code of Criminal Procedure to revoke or grant a sanction given or refused by a Subordinate authority is not an appeal. Bhadekar Tivari v Ramta Prasad I L R 35 All 90 not followed. Held also that it was not the intention of the Legislature that when a question of granting or refusing sanction to prosecute has already been before two courts it should be brought by way of revision before a third. Mata Prasad v Baran Barkas I L R 36 All 469 followed. Held further that where an application for sanction is properly before a Magistrate of the first class in charge of sub division of a district his jurisdiction to pass orders on such application is not taken away by the fact of his being transferred to another sub division of the same district. Mithani v King Emperor 9 A L J 448 referred to. It is objectionable for a court dealing with a sanction case under a 195 cl. (6) of the Code of Criminal Procedure to confine itself to merely writing the word Rejected on the application without giving any reasons for the rejection thereof. CHHOTU v KHACHRU

I L R 42 All 64

Appeal what is—Application to higher Court for grant of sanction to prosecute refused by Lower Court—whether an appeal for purposes of limitation. The petitioner applied under s 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure for sanction to prosecute. The first Court refused to grant sanction. An application was made to the Lower Appellate Court under sub s (6) of the same section. The application being put in on the 2nd day was dismissed as time barred under art 154 of the Limitation Act. Against this decision the petitioner preferred the present application for revision to the High Court. Held that although applications under s 195 (6) Criminal Procedure Code are akin to appeals and may be treated as appeals yet they are not appeals for the purposes of the Limitation Act and the application to the Lower Appellate Court was therefore not time barred. Hardeo Singh v Hanuman Das (I L R 26 All 214 F R) and Bapu v Bapu (I L R 39 Mad 750 F R) followed. PURNA LAL v JAMTEA MAL I L R 1 Lab 602

Appeal from an order of a Judge of the late Chief Court granting sanction for the prosecution of the appellant in respect of allegations made by him in an affidavit presented to that Judge. Held that no appeal is competent from an order of a Judge of the late Chief Court of the Punjab under s 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure granting sanction for the prosecution of the appellant in respect of allegations made by him in an affidavit presented to that Judge. RAMJI DAS v TAZ CROWN I L R 1 Lab 659

Sanction to prosecute—Costs if may be ordered by civil Court in proceedings

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 195—contd

under the section Proceedings for sanction under s 195 Criminal Procedure Code though taken in a civil Court relate to a criminal matter and the Court has no power to direct payment of costs in such cases BIJOLNATH BHATTAR & PURAN CHANDRA BANERJEE 25 C W N 661 cl 1(c) In a dispute as to the possession of immovable properties between an auction purchaser and another claimant to the land the latter produced a certain document before the police officer who was inquiring into the dispute. The officer filed it with his report and subsequently referred to it in his deposition. The party who had produced the document withdrew from the proceedings and the Magistrate without referring to the document recorded a finding that possession was with the auction purchaser. The latter moved the Magistrate to impound the document and to sanction the prosecution of his opponent. The latter resisted the application on the ground that sanction was not necessary. The auction purchaser thereupon filed a complaint against him under ss 473, 474 and 476 of the Penal Code. The accused pleaded that sanction was necessary but process was issued. The accused moved the High Court without having moved the Sessions Court. Held (1) that although the conduct of the accused was open to criticism in the High Court was bound to decide whether the prosecution was such as the law admitted (2) that it would be a strain of ordinary language to say that the document which came into court merely because it was attached to the Police Report prior to the proceedings was produced in the proceedings (3) assuming however that it was produced the prosecution of the accused who had no band in its production was not barred by reason of the absence of sanction (4) that the accused had not in any way abused the authority of the court and therefore the sanction of the court was not necessary. The words has been committed by a party in a 195 (1) (c) can only mean (5) alleged to have been committed by a party JAYABHAI THAKUR & BALDEO PRASAD SYON 5 Pat L J 135

ss 195 (6) and 439—Sanct on to prosecute—Petition—Powers of High Court S 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure does not enable the High Court to reconsider an order of a Sessions Judge refusing under cl (6) to grant a sanction to prosecute which was refused by the Magistrate and although the revisional jurisdiction of the High Court under s 437 of the Code of Criminal Procedure can always be exercised in order to prevent a gross and palpable failure of justice it should not be exercised in such a way as to practically give a right of appeal in cases where such right is definitely excluded by the Code ANIS ULLAH KHAN & MANSHUK PARI (1914) I L R 36 All 403

Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 115—Ord 131 sec c 104 s 15—Order by Civil Court refusing sanction—Jurisdiction of High Court to revise such order—Delay in applying for sanction. The opposite party brought a suit for the recovery of money in the Court of the Munsif which was dismissed the claim being found to be false and malicious. An application for sanction to prosecute the opposite party

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 195 (6) and 439—contd

was however rejected by the Munsif as also by the District Judge in appeal on the ground of delay in making the application. Held (on an application by the Local Government against the order refusing sanction) that it was clear from the decision of the Full Bench in Emperor v Har Prasad I L R 40 Calc 471 s c 17 C W N 617 that the orders of the Munsif and the Judge are not orders of a Criminal Court and cannot therefore be revised under s 439 Criminal Procedure Code. The High Court however in the exercise of its powers under s 115 Criminal Procedure Code and s 15 of the Charter Act granted sanction for the prosecution of the opposite party holding that the case being in substance a prosecution undertaken by Government mere delay could not be taken as suggesting mala fides. DEPUTY LEGAL REMEMBRANCER & RAM UDAR SINGH (1914) 19 C W N 447 ss 195 (6) and 476—Sanction to prosecute—Lapse of sanction—substitution of proceedings under s 476 legality of. The period of six months provided by a 195 (6) of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 can only be extended by the High Court and it is not competent to any other court when that period has expired without any action having been taken to draw up proceedings under s 476 LALI TEWARI & LALU KUMAR 5 Pat L J 58

Indian Penal Code s 471 474—Using as genuine a forged document—Filing a forged document as coming from the custody of the person by whom it purported to be held if constitutes offence committed by such act sanction if necessary for prosecution for—Possession of forged document knowing it to be forged and intending to use it as genuine prosecution for if lies without sanction—Stay of criminal proceedings pending determination of civil suit. Where in a case under a 474 Indian Penal Code the prosecution story was that the accused who was the plaintiff in a rent suit himself filed a kabuliyat and an amalnama which were forged and which purported to be filed by the complainant the defendant in the rent suit. Held that the act constituted offence within the meaning of a 471 Indian Penal Code and the offence committed was one under that section and in respect of that offence sanction under a 195 or an order under a 476 Criminal Procedure Code was necessary. That no sanction is necessary for a prosecution under s 474 Indian Penal Code. That the decision of the issues in the rent suit being largely dependent on the question whether the documents in question were or were not genuine it was expedient that the criminal proceedings should be deferred pending the final disposal of the rent suit. ASRABUDIN SARKAR & KALIDAYAL MULLIK (1914) 19 C W N 125

ss 195 (6) and 509—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE 4 Pat L J 374

ss 195 (6) (7) (c) 435 439—See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION I L R 44 Calc 816

ss 195 476—See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURT I L R 37 Cal 250

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 195 476—contd

Sanction to prosecute—Sanction set aside by superior Court and order for prosecution under s 476 substituted—Jurisdiction Held that a Court bearing an application under s 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure to revoke sanction for a prosecution granted by a subordinate Court has jurisdiction to set aside the order of the subordinate Court and direct a prosecution under s 476 of the Code. In the matter of the petition of Mathura Das I L R 26 All 80 overruled. CHADAMNI v LALTA PRASAD (1912)

I L R 34 All 602

ss 195 476 532 537—

See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURT

I L R 40 Cal 380

ss 195 (1) 478—Sanction to prosecute—Subsequent order to prosecute passed under s 478 The grant of a sanction to prosecute to a private individual under s. 195 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898 is no bar to the subsequent institution of proceedings by the Civil Court it self under s 478 of the Code. Queen Empress v Shankar I L R 13 Bom 335 followed. EMPEROR v NAQJI GHELADRAI (1909)

I L R 34 Bom 88

ss 195 (8) 537—Sanction to prosecute—Irregularity of illegality—Complaint filed after expiry of the time allowed by s 195 (6) Held that the taking cognizance of a complaint in respect of which sanction had been obtained under s 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure after the expiry of the six months period allowed by clau e (6) of the section and when objection was taken at the earliest opportunity by the accused was more than an irregularity and was not covered by the provisions of s 537 of the Code. EMPEROR v ZAMIR SENON (1915)

I L R 37 All 283

s 196—

See CONTEMPT OF COURT

I L R 41 Cal 173

See JURY RIGHT OF TRIAL BY

I L R 37 Cal 467

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

*Sanction vagueness—Objection that Local Government illegally constituted if may be taken Where a conviction under s 121A of the Penal Code at a trial which was sanctioned under s. 196 Criminal Procedure Code by the Local Government was challenged on appeal to the High Court on the ground that the Local Government was not legally constituted and had no authority to sanction the prosecution. Held (per HARRINGTON J) That it was not open to persons who had been convicted to question the right of the de facto Government of the Province to exercise any of those powers which a Government may lawfully exercise no such point having been taken as an early stage of the trial by motion to the High Court and the fairness of the trial and the merits of the case being in no way affected. Per MOOREHEAD J—The acts of one who although not the de jure holder of a legal office was actually in possession of it under some colour of title or under such conditions as indicated the acquiescence of the public in his actions cannot be collaterally impeached in any proceeding in which such person is not a party. *Farler v Kell I

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 196—contd

*Lord Raymond 658 12 Mad 467 R v Redford Level Corporation 6 East 609 followed. When the persons sought to be prosecuted were all named in the sanction and the sections of the Code under which they were alleged to have committed offences as also the period of their activity were specified the mere fact that those persons were not described as members of a revolutionary society (the existence of which was sought to be established at the trial) did not affect the validity of the sanction. The sanction was neither vague nor did it amount to a delegation of authority vested in the Local Government. *Barindra Kumar Ghose v Emperor 14 C W N 1114 I L R 37 Cal 467 distinguished. PULIN BEHARI DAS v KING EMPEROR (1911)

16 C W N 1105

*Authority by Government for filing complaint—Telegram by Government to District Magistrate—Authority to Public Prosecutor—Discretion given to District Magistrate as to filing complaint immediately—Complaint to be submitted to Government for supplemental sanction—Authority whether valid Where the Government sent a telegram to a District Magistrate expressly authorizing the Public Prosecutor to file a complaint against a person for an offence under s. 124 A Indian Penal Code but the telegram added that the Public Prosecutor might act on this authority immediately if the District Magistrate on consultation should think it desirable and that the complaint prepared should be submitted at once to the Government for issue of supplemental sanction. Held that the authority given by the Government was valid under s 196 of the Criminal Procedure Code. Per DAPIER J—S 196 Criminal Procedure Code is a disabling section and should not therefore be construed with the strictness applicable to an enabling section. *Chadambaram Pillai v Emperor I L R 32 Mad 3 followed. Queen Empress v Samariter I L R 16 Mad 463 distinguished. Barindra Kumar Ghose v Emperor I L R 37 Cal 467 dissented from. VARADARAJULU NAIDU P v PUBLIC PROSECUTOR MADURA (1918)

I L R 42 Mad 180

Held that the sanction of the Local Government required by s 196 must be conveyed by the Chief Secretary. Any order signed by a Deputy Secretary is not in proper form. MD OZULLAH v BEVI MADRAS CHOWDHURY

28 C W N 878

*Held that although the allegation of the prosecution supports a case of conspiracy to forge documents for which sanction to prosecute is required under s 196 there is no reason why the accused should not be tried for offences in respect of which no sanction is required (eg) conspiracy to cheat and cause delivery of property. *ABDUL SALEM v KING EMPEROR

28 C W N 660

ss 196 235 342 360 (1) 41—

See CHANGE

I L R 42 Cal 957

ss 196 428—Prosecution for offence under s 124 A Indian Penal Code—Sanction to be given—Local Government—Sanction by one Member of Government alone whether sufficient

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss. 196 428—contd

—Sanction after complaint whether valid—Sanction by telegram—Proof of sanction—Telegram purporting to be sent by Government—Presumption as to sender—Evidence Act s 83—Objection overruled by Magistrate—Conviction—Appeal—Additional evidence on appeal as to proof of sanction if can be permitted—Policy in granting sanction under s 196 Criminal Procedure Code. Sanction given after the filing of the complaint does not fulfil the requirements of s. 196 Criminal Procedure Code Lirindra Kumar Chose v King Emperor I L R 3 Cal 46, followed. Sanction granted under s 196 of the Code must in order to satisfy the section, have been the act of the Local Government and not of a single member of such Government. S 83 of the Evidence Act forbids the raising of any presumption as to the person by whom a telegram is sent and the Act does not contain any special provision as to telegrams purporting to emanate from Government. Where therefore a telegram containing a sanction to prosecute a person under s. 124 A Indian Penal Code purported to be despatched from Cochin and to be signed Madras which is the telegraphic name of the Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras there was no presumption as to the person by whom it was sent and in the absence of proof it could not be held that the telegram was sent by the authority of the Madras Government. The powers given by s 48 Criminal Procedure Code to an appellate Court to take additional evidence are perfectly general and are subject only to the condition that the Court should record its reasons. Where a conviction on a serious charge such as sedition if otherwise sustainable would have to be upset for want of formal proof of sanction owing to a misconception as to the proper mode of proving it on the part of the prosecution a misconception which was shared by the trial magistrate Held (by WALLIS C J and AYLING J) SADASIVA AYYAR J dissenting) that it was a fit case for the appellate Court to admit additional evidence to supply the defect in formal proof of the sanction but on its being elicited in Court that the sanction sought to be proved was not the act of all the members of the Local Government the Court declined to order fresh evidence to be taken and set aside the conviction and sentence Per SADASIVA AYYAR J—Under s 428 Criminal Procedure Code an Appellate Court should permit additional evidence to be taken only where it feels a reasonable doubt whether on the evidence as it stands the conviction is justified and not where being convinced that the prosecution falls on the evidence on record it considers that the negligence of the prosecutor might be excused the discretion to be exercised under the section is not an arbitrary one and should not be exercised especially against the accused in a criminal case if the prosecution had ample opportunity to adduce all its evidence and is similar to the power exercised by an Appellate Court in a civil appeal under O XLI r 27 Civil Procedure Code. Considerations of public policy involved in granting sanction under s 196 Criminal Procedure Code in the first instance or after failure of a prosecution on technical grounds pointed out by SADASIVA AYYAR J VARADARAJU NAIDU v King Emperor (1919) I L R 42 Mad 885

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 196 532—Penal Code ss 121

124—Order of Government authorising complaint certain offences—Delegation of power. Where order under s 196 of the Criminal Procedure Code authorized a particular police officer to prefer complaint of offences under ss 121A 122 123 s 124 of the Penal Code or under any other section of the said Code which may be found applicable to the case and the examination of the complainant also referred to the same sections—Held that no complaint under s 124 of the Penal Code was thereby authorized by the Local Government or in fact preferred that the Magistrate had no power to commit thereunder and that the defect was not cured by a subsequent order obtained while the case was before the Sessions Court authorizing a complaint under the section which was not in fact made thereafter nor did s 532 of the Criminal Procedure Code apply in such a case Sham Khan's case (1890) Pun. R Cr J No 16 approved of Queen Empress v Morton I L R 9 Bom. 288 distinguished and Queen Empress v Bal Gangadhar Tilak I L R 9 Bom 112 dissented from. The Local Government cannot delegate to any other body or person the controlling power and discretion of determining whether cognizance shall be taken by the Court of an offence mentioned in s 196 of the Criminal Procedure Code and its judgment must be specifically directed to the particular section and not other under which the prosecution is to be carried on and the order or authority should be procured by a deliberate determination in this respect. An order authorizing a complaint under certain specified sections or under any other sections found applicable if it means found by any one other than Government involves a delegation which cannot be sustained BARBUDA KUNIA GHOSE v EMPEROR (1909) I L R 37 Cal 467

s 196A—

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
s 120B I L R 40 All 41

s 197—

SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

—A Magistrate or Judicial officer who is holding a trial cannot be said to be acting in a judicial capacity if he abuses or defames a witness or legal practitioner before him but if in order to examine a witness he detains him until the time of his re-examination he acts judicially and if in doing such an act he commits any offence sanction under this section is necessary before a complaint can be lodged against him RAJNAB CHARAN TARA v SUDHOMY CHOWDHURY

25 C W N 958

Order was set by a District Judge under s 197—whether or not given by the High Court. The respondent a practicing Vakil applied to the District Judge at H; for sanction under s 197 Criminal Procedure Code to prosecute the petitioner a Subordinate Judge for offences under ss 500 504 and 506 Indian Penal Code in connection with an incident which occurred while the petitioner was bearing a case in his Court. The District Judge ordered a notice to issue to the petitioner to show cause why sanction should not be granted and petitioner then filed an application. High Court for the revision of that Held that the application for revision was not maintainable as the order complained of was an executive and not a judicial order. The distinction between the provisions of s 197 and those of s 195 of the Code explained in Aando Lal Basak v. Mitter (1 L R 26 Cal 852) followed. Grey v. North Western Railway Administration (13 F P (Cr) 1891) referred to. ATTI HUSSAIN KHAN v. HARGHARAN DASS ss 187 210 215—Committal proceeding—Evidence taken in absence of sanction to prosecute—Sanction produced before Magistrate on the day he passed an order committing the case—Committal order passed in view of the wishes of the parties and a Government Resolution—Order of committal not valid The accused a Votandar Patil was charged with the offences of harbouring an offender and taking a bribe from him. Enquiry into the case was instituted and the whole of the evidence was taken in absence of a sanction to prosecute The Magistrate committed the case to the Court of Session relying on a Government Resolution and yielding to the wishes of the parties The sanction was produced before the Magistrate on the day he committed the case The Sessions Judge referred the case to the High Court as he was of opinion that the commitment was illegal. Held quashing the order of commitment that owing to the absence of sanction the whole of the proceedings before the Magistrate were without jurisdiction and totally invalid. Held further that the Magistrate was not competent to commit the case to the Court of Session solely by the wish of the parties and the terms of a Government Resolution. EMPEROR v.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—cont'd

- s 197--contd

BEHMAJI ENKALI (1917) 1 L R 42 Bom 172

ss 187 239 and 532—Sanction to prosecute public servants—Form of sanction—Public servants conspiring to cheat three persons—Joint trial—Commitment quashing of after the trial has once commenced—Practice and procedure The two accused the Kulkarni and the Patil of a village conspired to cheat certain ryots of their money Sanction to prosecute them was given by the Collector for cheating or for such other offence with which it may be necessary to prosecute them in connection with obtaining money from ryots They were tried at one trial by the Additional Sessions Judge who heard the whole case and recorded the opinions of the assessors The case then stood over for judgment But the learned Judge being of opinion that the sanction was invalid and that the joint trial of the two persons for distinct offences of the same kind was not permissible quashed the commitment and directed a free inquiry under s 532 of the Criminal Procedure Code On review Held that the sanction was not invalid inasmuch as the sanctioning authority had applied its mind to the facts of the case and had sanctioned the prosecution of the accused and had also sufficiently designated the offence or offences which might be established in connection with obtaining money from ryots Held also that the joint trial of the accused was regular because the offences charged against them were committed in the same transaction within the meaning of s 239 of the Criminal Procedure Code they having been clear proximity of time and space clear continuity of action and sufficiently specific community of purpose Held further

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF
1898)—contd

----- ss 197 239 and 532-----contd

that under the circumstances the lower Court had no power to quash the commitment and direct a fresh inquiry under s 532 the proper procedure being to move the High Court for a quashing of the commitment under s 215 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1899. EMPHATICALLY : MADHAV LAXMAN (1918) I L R 43 Bom 147

$ 108---

See PEVAL CODE (Act VLI of 1860)
§ 494 I L R 32 All 78

SS 198 200 503—

See COMPLAINT I L R 42 Calc 19

3 189—

See PENAL CODE s 493
I L R 38 All 276

$ 200—

See s 4 1 Pat L J 592
25 C W N 357

Se s 110 I L R 35 Bom 401

See s 120 2 Feb L J 24 657

See s 439 I L R 33 Mad 48

See COMPLAINT I L R 42 Calc 19

See FALSE INFORMATION
I L R 43 Calc 173
I L R 46 Calc 807

Complaint by a purdanashee ady signed and presented by agent holding general power to present complaints—Absence of special power—Duty of Magistrate to satisfy himself if complaint really by person by whom it purports to be—Magistrate bound to examine complainant before issuing process—Complaint not presented in person proper course for Magistrate on receipt of—Words at once effect of in s 200—S 198 compliance with the requirements of—S 503 accepts of—Examination of complainant on commission—Indian Penal Code (Act XL) of 1860) s 500—Defamation A complaint was filed before the Chief Presidency Magistrate under s 500 Indian Penal Code purporting to be made by a purdanashee lady and signed by a person in whose favour there was a general power of attorney authorising the presentation of criminal complaints but no power of attorney authorising the presentation of the specific complaint The Chief Presidency Magistrate issued process against the accused and transferred the case to another Magistrate Held (on a reference under s 432 Criminal Procedure Code) that the Chief Presidency Magistrate was wrong in issuing process against the accused. It is perfectly well settled that a process cannot be issued against an accused person either by the Magistrate first taking cognizance of an offence or by the Magistrate to whom the case is transferred under the proviso to s 200 Criminal Procedure Code unless and until the Magistrate issuing process has first examined the complainant
And this is more necessary in the case of a purdanashee lady than in other cases to enable the Magistrate to satisfy himself that the complaint is really her own action That the Magistrate should be very loth to take cognizance of any complaint which is not presented in person The words at once in a 200 of the Code clearly

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*s. 200—contd

Indicate that ordinarily a complaint must be preferred in person and a complaint should not be accepted which is not signed by the complainant and is not preferred by a person duly authorised to prefer that specific complaint. That whether the requirements of s. 194 Criminal Procedure Code were satisfied in the present case depended upon whether or not the complaint was the complaint of the lady. (The High Court quashed the proceedings giving liberty to the lady to file a fresh complaint and directed her examination.) A fresh complaint was made by a common law officer to a Magistrate. Held that the terms of s. 403 Criminal Procedure Code are very wide. They refer not only to an enquiry and a trial but to any other proceedings. The section authorises the examination of any witness and the complainant is a witness. ABHOYESWARI DEVI v. K. HOPU MOHAN BATHUR (1914)

I L R 42 Calc 19
18 C W N 1020

ss 200 203 435 437 and 528—

Complaint petition of objection to dismissal of court case where amounts to—Dismissal of counter case without examining complainant whether the District Magistrate has power to set aside order of— Penal Code (Act XI of 1860) ss 39 and 45. A instituted a criminal case against B under s. 40 of the Penal Code and B lodged an information against A alleging that he had committed an offence under s. 30. B was acquitted of the charge under s. 40 and in the counter case the Magistrate recorded the order. Enter false under s. 39 Indian Penal Code. B thereupon filed a petition of objection before the Sub Divisional Officer asking that an investigation might be made and A summoned. He also moved the District Magistrate who set aside the order dismissing the counter case and sent the case to the Sub Divisional Magistrate for orders. A applied in revision to the High Court to set aside the District Magistrate's order. Held—(1) that the petition of objection was a complaint within the meaning of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898. (2) that the Magistrate's order directing the case under s. 39 to be entered as false was in substance an order of dismissal under s. 403. (3) that where the final order is in fact an order of dismissal under s. 203 then the revisional jurisdiction of the District Magistrate can be exercised even though the complainant has not been examined on oath. (4) that s. 437 contemplates that where a complaint has been dismissed under s. 203 the revisional jurisdiction of the District Magistrate can be invoked irrespective of the consideration whether the dismissal is legal or illegal. SABRU CHARAN PATEL v. BALJI SWAIN 3 Pat L J 346

ss 200 254—

Procedure—Accused summoned without the complainant being examined—Irregularity—Proceedings not vitiated—Hurt both simple and grievous—Cumulative sentences legality of. The complainants made a complaint to the police to the effect that the accused beat them causing grievous hurt. The police did not send up the case and the complainants applied to the Magistrate who sent for the police papers and summoned the accused without examining the complainants. On the date fixed the complainants were absent and the accused were discharged.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*ss 200 254—contd

Later in the day the complainants appeared and explained their delay and the Magistrate again gave them time to produce evidence. He summoned the accused found them guilty and sentenced them to imprisonment. Held that the course the Magistrate adopted was irregular but did not vitiate the entire proceedings. Held further that where different persons are injured grievous hurt being caused in one case and simple hurt in others it is competent to the Court to impose separate and accumulated sentences. EMR. MOH. HATESHAR (1915) I L R 37 All 628

s. 201—

See FALSE INFORMATION

I L R 43 Calc 173

s. 202—

See s. 437 4 Pat L J 456

See COMPLAINT I L R 46 Calc 854

See FALSE INFORMATION TO POLICE

I L R 40 Calc 807

See LOCAL INVESTIGATION

I L R 37 Calc 340

See MAGISTRATE POWER OF

I L R 38 Calc 68

See MALICIOUS PROSECUTION

I L R 37 Mad 181

—Local enquiry by pleader

—Consideration of new ground at hearing of rule. A Magistrate has no jurisdiction to order a local enquiry by a pleader in the nature of a commission in a civil case. Case in which the High Court considered a ground other than those on which the rule was issued. MOHAN KHAN v. OAYZUDDIN SHEIKH (1913) 18 C W N 399

—Magistrate's duty to record reasons before directing local investigation—

Accused if should be allowed to be represented when Magistrate considers the report of the local investigation. It is most desirable that Magistrates should follow the procedure which is quite clearly laid down in Chap. XVI dealing with complaints to Magistrates. Under s. 40 if the Magistrate on examining the complainant distrusts the statement of the complainant he must record his reasons before directing a local investigation. It is irregular and quite inconsistent with the scheme of the Code of Criminal Procedure to allow the accused to be represented by a lawyer to argue the case for the defence when the Magistrate is considering under s. 402 Criminal Procedure Code the report of the local investigation ordered by him. BALAJI LAL MUKERJI v. PARUPATI CHATTERJI (1916)

21 C W N 127

ss 202 203—

See COMPLAINT I L R 41 Calc 1013

I L R 46 Calc 854

See FALSE INFORMATION

I L R 43 Calc 173

See MAGISTRATE JURISDICTION OF

I L R 39 Calc 1041

See MALICIOUS PROSECUTION

I L R 38 Calc 880

of without giving complaint dismissal the complainant

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 215 and 478—Letters Patent cl (15)—Order of commitment by a Judge of the High Court on the Original Side—Appeal on questions of fact only whether permissible. A witness in a Civil suit before the High Court was committed to the High Court Sessions for trial on charges of perjury. On appeal against the order of commitment held that assuming such an appeal could be preferred under the general words of cl (15) of the Letters Patent s 215 Criminal Procedure Code which enacts that an order of commitment made by any Civil Court can be quashed only on a point of law modifies to that extent the general provisions of cl (15) of the Letters Patent and that as no point of law is involved in the appeal the order of commitment cannot be quashed. Quere whether an appeal lies under cl (15) of the Letters Patent from an order of commitment by a High Court Judge trying a Civil suit. VENKATAGIRI AYYAR v N M FIHN (1920) I L R 43 Mad 361

ss 221 223 350—

See RIOTING I L R 39 Cal 781

ss 221 222 223—Forgery charge of Omission to set out intention. Where the charge under s 467 Penal Code did not set out the intention of the accused. Held that this vitiated the charge. HAIDAR ALI PRADKRANTIA v EMPEROR (1913) 17 C W N 354

s 222 (2)—

See PENAL CODE s 409

I L R 33 All 38

Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 406—Criminal breach of trust—Gross sum specified in charge—Particulars as to time—Defect in charge amounting to illegality—Applicability of s 537 Cr P C to cure such defect—Retrial if may be ordered where charge fails for want of evidence. Where the appellant who was an executor to the estate of one D M R under his will and who was finally called upon on the 16th August 1910 to deliver over to the complainant all money valuables and papers belonging to the testator's estate was placed on his trial on two charges under s 406 Penal Code and was charged in the first charge with having committed criminal breach of trust in respect of or having dishonestly misappropriated the gross amount specified in the charge between 17th August 1909 and 15th August 1910 and in the second charge with having committed the same offence in respect of the account books of the estate between 11th July 1910 and 15th August 1910 and it appeared that most of the sums making up the gross amount charged were received before the period specified in the charge and the evidence did not disclose any completed act of breach of trust between the dates mentioned in the charge and there was no evidence of any dishonest dealing with the account books before the 15th August 1910. Held as to the first charge that the error in the charge and the discrepancy between the dates specified therein and the actual dates on which the offence appeared to have been committed were not a mere irregularity which might be cured by the provisions of s 537 Cr P C. It vitiated the whole trial and the appellant was entitled to an acquittal. Sub nanaya Ayyar v King Emperor 5 C W N 566 I L R 43 Mad 61 followed. It was not enough to know that there was embezzlement at some time before during or after the period charged, because the charge was framed under the special provisions contained in cl (2) of s 222 Cr P C and the provision thereto and it was at any rate necessary to show an act or acts of embezzlement in respect of the gross sum named in the charge or some part of it committed within the space of one year. Held as to the second charge that the same objection applied to the second charge which however was not bad on the ground that there was a separate offence as regards each account book and the appellant could not be tried for more than three of such offences the books forming one set of account books of the estate and having been found together in two locked boxes the keys of which were with the accused. No retrial was ordered in this case as the charges failed not because they were not deficient in point of form but because they were not supported by the evidence adduced. PROMOTHA NATH RAY v HIRSA EMPEROR (1912) 17 C W N 479

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 222 (2)—contd

Act No XLV of 1860 (Indian Penal Code) s 408—Criminal breach of trust—Charge of general defect in accounts where agent had not only to receive but also to expend moneys of his principal. S 222 sub s (2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure was meant to provide for the case of an agent or subordinate whose duty it might be merely to receive sums of money from time to time and to account for them. It is not suitable to the case of an agent whose employment involves the expenditure of money belonging to the principal as well as its receipt. Emperor v Ibrahim Khan I L R 33 All 36 referred to. Although transactions which involve civil liabilities may amount to criminal offences and often do so that the dividing line between the two in a discussion of the case is almost indistinguishable the use of the criminal law not for the purpose of punishing an offender or in the public interest but as a means of exerting pressure to extract money from an agent is to be discouraged. EMPEROR v MOHAN SINGH I L R 42 All 522 ss 222 (2) and 233—Penal Code as 409 and 477A—Misjoinder of charges—Criminal breach of trust and falsification of accounts—Illegality. An accused person was charged with and tried at the same trial for offences under s 409 and s 477A of the Indian Penal Code. In respect of the former offence he was charged with criminal breach of trust respecting a lump sum of money composed of numerous items. In respect of the latter offence he was charged with suppressing a large number of documents showing the tender to him of sums of money by the persons liable to pay the same and with putting false numbers on three of such documents. These documents (called arvavale) related as well to other sums of money as to the sums which the accused was alleged to have embezzled. Held that the principle of s 222 (2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure could not apply to s 477A of the Indian Penal Code and that the framing of the charges against the accused in the manner described was an illegality which vitiated the trial. EMPEROR v HALKA PRASAD (1915) I L R 38 All 42

ss 222 (2) 223 234—

See CHARGE I L R 41 Cal 22

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1893)—cont d

ss 222, 234 239—Charges misjoinder of—Criminal misappropriation or breach of trust—Charge how to be framed where several persons are implicated—Joint charge illegality of Where in a case more than one person were jointly charged with the offence of criminal breach of trust under a 408 Indian Penal Code with respect to a sum of money Held that there was a misjoinder of charges in the case. The wording of s 222 Criminal Procedure Code refers to a single accused and it must be so because it is impossible to hold that two persons can be guilty of misappropriation of the same parcel of money. S 239 therefore has no application to such a case. When two persons are implicated in a case of criminal misappropriation or breach of trust with respect to a certain sum of money the charges against them must be of misappropriation in one case and of abetment in the other. It is also open to the Court to frame the charges against each of them in the alternative i.e. of misappropriation or abetment. GIRWAR NARAYAN v THE KING EMPEROR (1912) 18 C W N 600

s 227—

See s 188 I L R 33 All 514

See s 217 26 C W N 344

s 233—

See s 471 I L R 39 Mad 527

See CHARGE I L R 40 Calc 846

See EXCISE I L R 41 Calc 694

Omission to frame two separate charges for two offences if vitates trial—Distinct offence meaning of—S 337 irregularity cured by—Scope of section The petitioner was charged with and convicted of having caused hurt to two persons and thereby having committed an offence under s 323 Indian Penal Code. Only one charge was framed against the petitioner in respect of the hurt caused to two persons. Held per Sharfuddin and Beachcroft JJ That the omission to frame two separate charges was an irregularity cured by a 537 Criminal Procedure Code. The effect of the words "subject to the provisions herein before contained in a 37 Criminal Procedure Code" cannot be that the section is to have no application if there has been any departure from any of the previous sections of the Code. Those words must be read as having reference only to ss 509 to 536 and do not refer to the entire Code that precedes that section. That the case of Subramania Iyer v The King Emperor I L R 25 Mad 61 s c 5 C W V 866 is not an authority for the proposition that failure to observe the first part of s 233 is fatal to the trial. Beachcroft J—The observation of the Judicial Committee that their Lordships are unable to regard the disobedience to an express provision as to a mode of trial as a mere irregularity is limited in its application to the case where charges are tried together which the law expressly says shall not be tried together in the same trial. The words "mode of trial" in that sentence cannot have reference to the formal defect of drawing up one charge instead of two. The drawing up of the charge is part of the trial but the words "mode of trial" have reference to the constitution of the trial and when their Lordships speak of disobedience to an express provision as to a mode of

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1893)—cont d
s 233—cont d

trial they do not refer to a formal defect in the proceedings in a trial which is properly constituted. Sharfuddin J—In Subramania Iyer v The King Emperor I L R 25 Mad 61 s c 5 C W V 866 the case before the Privy Council was not that any provision of s 233 was contravened. The only question before their Lordships was whether the mode of trial in which one indictment contained 41 acts spread over a period longer than 12 months was or was not illegal by reason of the provisions of s 34 of the Code. What their Lordships of the Privy Council have prohibited is that if the law expressly provides a particular mode of trial a disobedience of that vitiates the whole of the trial. It is doubtful if the framing of charges is a mode of trial but joint trial of charges as to distinct offences would be a mode of trial and if an accused is tried jointly on several charges not coming under ss 234 235 236 and 239 that trial would be null and void. When two offences have been committed and they have no connection with each other they are distinct offences within the meaning of a 233 Criminal Procedure Code. Fletcher J S 233 Criminal Procedure Code provides that for every distinct offence of which any person is accused there shall be a separate charge. The causing of hurt to two different persons is obviously two distinct offences and there ought to have been two separate charges framed against the petitioner of the offences charged under a 323 Indian Penal Code and the failure to do so rendered the trial illegal. The whole of s 537 is governed by the words "subject to the provisions hereinbefore contained." This includes amongst other provisions the provisions contained in a 233 and a neglect of the provisions contained in that section is not cured by a 537. RAM SURESH SINGH v THE KING EMPEROR (1915) 19 C W N 972

ss 233 235—

See s 222 I L R 38 All 42

I L R 41 Calc 722

See s 239 5 Pat L J 11

See CHARGE I L R 40 Calc 318

ss 233 236 239—Unjoinder of charges—Illegality—Penal Code (Act XLVI of 1860) ss 408 and 467 The accused was charged and tried at one and the same trial for three offences under s 408 of the Indian Penal Code committed within a period of one year and three offences of forgery under s 467 of the Code and was convicted and sentenced in respect of all the six offences. Held that this was an illegality not covered by s 537 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Subramania Ayyar v King Emperor I L R 25 Mad 61 followed. In re Bal Gangadhar Tilak I L R 33 Bom 371 referred to and discussed. EMPEROR v SURESH SINGH SINGH (1910) I L R 32 All 219

ss 233 235 239—

See CHARGES I L R 46 Calc 712

Irregularity in charge—Unjoinder of offences and parti—Charge framed confusio—Prejudice—Petition by a new Magistrate Where the two petitioners were charged under a 34 Penal Code causing hurt to three persons and only one was framed against them which was in the following terms—

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*ss 233 235 239—contd

That you on or about the 1st day of February 1906 at M voluntarily caused hurt to R S and L by a dao a cutting instrument and thereby committed an offence punishable under a 324 I P C and one of the petitioners was convicted under a 324 Penal Code and the other petitioner was convicted by the lower Appellate Court under a 352 Penal Code for using a lathi against two of the persons named in the charge. Held that the irregularity in the charge might have prejudiced the accused in their trial and the conviction should be set aside and the accused should be retried on charges properly framed. Re trial by a new Magistrate ordered. SITAL CHANDRA MOITRA v THE EMPEROR (1906) 17 C W N 419 ss 233 535—Charges misjoinder of

The four petitioners were convicted under a 103 Indian Penal Code for fabricating two lathis executed on the same day one by two of them and the other by the two others the two sets of executants not having any community of interest. Held that there was a misjoinder of charges. SORUDHYA RAJI v FAJEL SHAH (1917) 21 C W N 756 ss 233 to 239—Person—Joint trial—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 409

The word person in s 234 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 is not confined to the singular number. It is for the trial Court in the exercise of its discretion to determine whether the trial of more than one accused should be joint or not. If a joint trial would prejudice the accused the trial should be separate. KAILASH PRASAD VARMA v KING EMPEROR 3 Pat L J 124

ss 233 234 537—
See CHARGE I L R 41 Cal 66

s 234—
See s 222 16 C W N 600
See s 233 3 Pat L J 124
See JOINDER OF CHARGES
I L R 38 All 457
I L R 43 Cal 13

Section 5 applies to offences against different persons. S 234 Criminal Procedure Code is not limited to cases where the offences have been committed against the same person. It applies where the complainants are different persons. Per Fletcher J. The power given by s 234 is however one that requires to be used with great care and caution when there are different complainants. CHATTADHARI MIAN v THE KING EMPEROR (1915) 19 C W N 557

Misjoinder of charges
Two accused persons were tried together on two charges, namely theft in a building (s 380 Indian Penal Code) and theft of paddy in a field (s 39 Indian Penal Code) committed on two different dates the property in the building and the paddy belonging to one and the same complainant. Held that there was a misjoinder of charges under a 234 Criminal Procedure Code. RAHMAN BIBI v MADARAK MANDAL (1916) 20 C W N 62

Joint trial—Same transaction
The petitioner was jointly tried and con-

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*s 234—contd

icted under a 411 Indian Penal Code along with another person who was either the thief or who as first receiver having obtained a certain amount of the booty subsequently handed over a portion of it to the petitioner. Held that the first receipt or retention by the co accused and the act by which he handed over a portion of the stolen property to the petitioner did not form part of the same transaction. The High Court set aside the conviction and directed a retrial by a Magistrate other than the trying Magistrate. RAMRATAN SUKUL v EMPEROR (1917) 21 C W N 1111

Misjoinder of charges
The accused was tried on three charges of criminal misappropriation (s 409 Indian Penal Code) as also a charge under s 210 Indian Penal Code. The offence under s 210 had relation to one of the charges of criminal misappropriation but not to the other two and it partly referred to matter unconnected with any of the said charges and the date of this offence was not within the year within which the offences of criminal misappropriation were alleged to have been committed. Held that there was a misjoinder of charges. KING EMPEROR v PAVENDRO POY (1918) 22 C W N 586

Person charged with more than one offence—Whether separate charges must be against same person. S 234 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 is not limited to offences committed against the same person. BABU LALL v KING EMPEROR 2 Pat L J 209

ss 234, 537—Penal Code s 477A—Charge—Misjoinder of charges—Illegality Where a person who was sent up for trial under a 477A of the Indian Penal Code was charged with having wilfully altered and mutilated certain accounts between the years 1907 and 1909 and the evidence showed that the subject matter of the charge was practically five series of entries in certain sets of books. Held that the charge so framed was bad, and the defect could not be remedied by s 537 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Subrahmanya Ayyar v King Emperor I L R 25 Mad 61 and Queen Empress v Mohi Lal Lohari I L R 26 Cal 560 referred to. EMPEROR v SALIM ULLAH KHAN (1909) I L R 32 All 57

s 235—
See s 233 I L R 46 Cal 712
See CHARGE I L R 42 Cal 857
See JURY RIGHT OF TRIAL 21
I L R 37 Cal 467
See PENAL CODE, ss 71 147
I L R 39 All 623

Same transaction
What is—Community of purpose or design and continuity of action necessary. In order that a number of acts may be so connected together as to form part of the same transaction within the meaning of a 234 Criminal Procedure Code community of purpose or design and continuity of action are essential elements. To constitute community of purpose the mere existence of some general purpose or design will not be sufficient. The purpose in view must be something particular and definite. There is no continuity of action where each act is a completed act in itself and the

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 235—11

original design accomplished so far as that act is concerned. Where a company is formed with the object of defrauding the public, it cannot be said that distinct acts of embezzlement committed in the course of a several years form part of the same transaction by reason of such general object.

COTAGUDI VETRABADI v. DURAI—(1910)

1 L. R. 33 Mad 502

See transaction. The accused by means of personating a Police Officer obtained from several sums of money on different occasions and on one occasion attempted to obtain another sum. Held that the trial of the accused on a charge under s. 170 Indian Penal Code and on three charges of extortion in respect of three sums and in the alternative on three charges of cheating in respect of those three sums and on a charge of an attempt at extortion in respect of another sum was not illegal by reason of misjoinder of charges as the offences charged were committed in the same transaction. Queen Empress v. War Jai 1 L. R. 10 All 53 referred to and followed. JAGDI N KUMAR SINGH v. ATMA RAM (1911)

15 C W N 732

Where charges under Bihar and Orissa Excise Act 1915 (B and O Act II of 1915) s. 47 (a) and the Opium Act (I of 1878) s. 9 (c) can be tried together—Separate sentence—General Clauses Act (I of 1897) s. 25. Where the accused was charged and convicted of having sold opium to a certain person on two occasions and of being in possession of opium and was separately sentenced for each conviction held that in the joint trial for the two offences nor the separate sentences imposed was illegal. BALI SINGH v. KING EMPEROR

[3 Pat L J 433]

ss 235 (1) and 537—Misjoinder of charges at one trial—vitates whole trial and is not a mere irregularity—meaning of same transaction explained. A case (appellant) was anxious to marry the daughter of one Jagannath but her father objected and arranged to marry her to another man in February 1904 and on 31st January the ceremony of lagan which precedes the actual marriage by a few days was celebrated. On 1st February between noon and 1.30 P.M. accused gave some sweetmeats poisoned with arsenic to Amir Singh, aged 9 years and on the same day about 5 P.M. he gave a similar sweetmeat to Dalip Singh, aged 12 years both being sons of Jagannath. After eating the sweetmeats the two boys were taken ill. Dalip Singh recovered but Amir Singh died the next day. The Sessions Judge tried the accused at one trial for both offences namely the murder of Amir Singh and the attempt to murder Dalip Singh, and convicted him of both offences. On appeal to the High Court it was contended that the joint trial was contrary to law and therefore altogether illegal. Held that if the joint trial of two offences is contrary to the express provisions of the law their joinder vitates the whole trial and the mere fact that the accused has not been prejudiced by the procedure is not a valid ground for condoning the defect. Subramania Aiyar v. King Emperor (1 L. R. 25 Mad 611 P.O.) followed. Held further that no hard and fast rule can be laid down for determining the question whether the charges in a particular case constitute one transaction. The answer to the question depends, to a large extent upon the peculiar circumstances of each case. The word transaction in s. 235 (1) of the Code of Criminal Procedure suggests not necessarily proximity in time so much a continuity of action and purpose. It is not necessary that the acts constituting the crimes should have been committed on the same occasion but it is sufficient that though separated by a distinct interval of time they are closely connected by continuity of purpose and progressive action towards a single object. Emperor v. Sherufuli Allibhai (1 L. R. 27 Bom 135) and Emperor v. Datto Hanmant (1 L. R. 37 Bom 19) referred to. Held also that upon the facts of the present case the trial did not transgress the rules as to the joinder of charges because the charges in this particular case did constitute one transaction. LAHLAD v. THE CROWN

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*ss 235 (1) and 537—contd

1 L. R. 1 Lah 562

ss 236 (b) 537 (b)—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s. 193—Perjury arising from contradictory statements—Alternative charge—Suits of acts consisting of contradictory statements—Judicial proceeding—Statement taken under s. 164—Contradictory statements made before different Courts—Sanction of each Court essential—No interference in revision unless want of sanction occasions failure of justice. A statement recorded by a Magistrate in the course of a police investigation under s. 164 of the Criminal Procedure Code is not evidence in a stage of a judicial proceeding within the meaning of Explanation 2 to s. 193 of the Indian Penal Code 1860. Held by MACLEOD C.J. and PRATT FAWCETT and SETALWAD JJ. (SHAH J. dissenting)—Although a statement recorded under s. 164 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898 is not evidence in a stage of a judicial proceedings but comes within the meaning of the words evidence in any other case used in s. 193 of the Indian Penal Code it can be linked with a statement which is evidence in a stage of the judicial proceeding following on the investigation so that the two can be said to be a series of acts on which an alternative charge can be framed under s. 236 of the Criminal Procedure Code of intentionally giving false evidence under s. 193 of the Indian Penal Code 1860. Queen Empress v. Mayappa bin Aiyappa (1891) 18 Bom 37 overruled. Queen Empress v. Ismail ulat Fatawa (1897) 11 Bom 659 and Queen Empress v. Kh. M. (1899) 2 All 114 approved. Held by MACLEOD C.J. and SHAH J.—Where an alternative charge of giving false evidence is based on contradictory statements made before different Courts it is necessary that sanction of each of these Courts must be obtained under s. 193 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898 before the Court can take cognizance of the charge. If however want of sanction has not occasioned a failure of justice it cannot be made the basis of interference in revision. Sunder Dassell v. Sital Mahto (1900) 28 Cal 217 referred to. EMPEROR v. PURSHOTAM ISHWAR (1920)

1 L. R. 45 Bom 834

ss 236 237—

See AUTHORITY

See COCAINE

45 Cal 727

11 Cal 537

2 z

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*SS 236 237—contd

Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 147 223—s 237—Criminal Procedure Code when applies—Conviction of rioting without any charge under s 43 Indian Penal Code—Conviction under s 233 Indian Penal Code by Appellate Court after setting aside conviction of rioting legality of The petitioners were convicted by the Magistrate under s 147 Indian Penal Code. On appeal the Sessions Judge set aside the conviction and sentence under s 147 Indian Penal Code and convicted the petitioners under s 233 Indian Penal Code. No charge had been framed against the petitioners under s 233 Indian Penal Code. Held that s 237 has to be read with s 236. If the facts of the case do not fall under s 236 s 237 has got no application. There was no charge framed against the petitioners for an offence of causing hurt and they had therefore no opportunity to defend themselves on this charge and the conviction and sentence must be set aside. GEYU MANJHI v THE KING EMPEROR (1914)

18 C W N 1276

s 237—

See PENAL CODE SS 417 420 AND 511

1 Pat L J 391

Conviction of rioting with common object of assault—Appellate Court on charge of rioting and conviction of assault if proper—Necessity of finding against individual accused on charge of a assault. The petitioners were charged under s 147 Indian Penal Code the common object of the alleged unlawful assembly as stated in the charge being to assault the police. No charge under s 353 or s 233 was framed. The Magistrate convicted the petitioners under s 147 Indian Penal Code. The Sessions Judge in appeal acquitted the petitioners of the offence of rioting and convicted them under s 303 Indian Penal Code in respect of the assault committed upon the several police officers. The Sessions Judge did not find which police officer was assaulted by which petitioner. Held that the Sessions Judge was wrong in convicting the petitioners of an offence under s 303 Indian Penal Code the petitioners not having been called upon to answer any such charge. That in the view taken by the Sessions Judge of the case a finding as to which police officer was assaulted by which petitioner was essential. HAR NARAYAN SARDAR v THE EMPEROR (1914)

18 C W N 1274

Charge under s 457 Indian Penal Code of house breaking by night with the object of committing theft conviction under s 456 for house breaking by night with the object of carrying on intrigue with the complainant's wife—Propriety of conviction without amendment of charge—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 456 457. The accused was tried on a charge under s 457 of the Penal Code of breaking open at night the door of the complainant's house with the object of committing theft and was convicted under s 456 for having committed the offence of house breaking by night with the object of carrying on an intrigue with the complainant's wife. Held that though it cannot be laid down as a general rule that in all cases a prosecution for house trespass with the alleged object of theft must fail if that object is not proved, when a charge

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*s 237—contd

has been definitely proved in which theft is alleged as the object the accused cannot be convicted of house trespass with some other object without an amendment of the original charge unless the Court is satisfied that he has not been in any way prejudiced. HAJARI SOHAR v KING EMPEROR ss 237 238 423—Person convicted of an offence cannot on appeal be convicted of abetment of such offence. The power of an Appellate Court under s 423 of the Code of Criminal Procedure to alter a finding must be used in accordance with the provisions of ss 237 and 238 of the Code. Where a person who has been convicted of an offence has appealed the Appellate Court cannot after acquitting him of such offence convict him of the abetment of such offence. PADMA NABHA PANDITAYATA v EMPEROR (1909)

26 C W N 344

I L R 33 Mad 264

s 238—

See LURKING HOUSE TRESPASS

I L R 44 Calc 353

See PENAL CODE s 493

I L R 38 All 276

Trial with the aid of assessors—Conviction of the accused for a minor offence which is triable only by a jury—Trial regular—Practice and procedure. The accused was tried for an offence punishable under s 302 of the Indian Penal Code by the Sessions Judge of Belgaum with the aid of assessors. At the close of the trial and after the opinions of the assessors were recorded the learned Judge was of opinion that though the accused was not guilty of the offence charged he was still guilty of the minor offence punishable under s 306 of the Code. Accordingly in the same trial he convicted the accused of the minor offence though it was triable in that District only by a jury. On appeal—Held that the Sessions Judge was competent to convict the accused of an offence punishable under s 306 of the Indian Penal Code even though it was triable by a jury. PERCIVAL J.—S 306 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898 invests the Court trying the offence (however constituted) with authority to find as an incident to such trial that certain facts only are proved in the trial which facts constitute a minor offence though such minor offence is not triable by the Court as constituted. PER SHAH J.—The necessary implication of s 238 appears to be that there need be no separate trial with reference to the minor offence. According to the section even the charge is not required to be made. PANDITAYATA v EMPEROR (1902) 26 Mad 443 referred to. EMPEROR v CHANGOUDE (1909)

I L R 45 Bom 619

s 239—

See s 197, { I L R 43 Bom 147

See s 22. 16 C W N 600

See JOINT TRIAL 1 Pat L J 65

See JURY I L R 37 Calc 467

See MISJOINDER. I L R 38 Calc 453

I L R 42 Calc. 700 1153

I L R 46 Calc. 741

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*cont'd*s 239—cont'd

Joint trial of principal and abettor—Prejudice—Feint by another Judge Where there were three charges under ss. 403 and 409—109 Indian Penal Code against two accused persons in respect of three sums said to have been defalcated on three different dates and the Sessions Judge tried the two accused jointly in spite of objection taken by them. Held that under a 239 Criminal Procedure Code judicial discretion was given to the Court to try the principal offender and the abettor either jointly or separately and the manner in which this discretion should be exercised must depend on the facts of each case. The High Court on a consideration of the circumstances of the case held that the accused should not have been tried on the charges jointly and set aside the convictions and sentences and directed that the re trial if any should take place before another Sessions Judge. DWARAKA SING v KING EMPEROR (1913) 19 C W N 121

Same transaction determining factor as to In deciding whether offences are so connected as to form one and the same transaction the determining factor is not so much proximity in time as continuity and community of purpose and object. S 239 Criminal Procedure Code is only an enabling section and does not in any way trammel the discretion of the Court. LEGAL REMEMBRANCE BENGAL v MOY MOHAN ROY (1914) 19 C W N 672

Procedure—Joint trial—Thief and receiver tried together Held that in the absence of evidence clearly disassociating the act of receiving the stolen property from the theft thereof the theft and the receipt of the stolen property may be considered as parts of the same transaction. It would not therefore be illegal to try thief and the receiver jointly. EMPEROR v BALABHAI HORGOUND 6 Bom L P 517 followed EMPEROR v BUDHA (1916)

I L R 38 All 311

ss 239 233 and 235—In the same transaction—joint trial Where the first accused seized a woman with the intention of forcibly having sexual intercourse with her and was attacked by her husband and the second and third accused thereupon appeared and assaulted the husband. Held that in the absence of proof that the three accused were acting for a common purpose in execution of a common design a joint trial in which the first accused was charged under a 354 of the Penal Code and the second and third accused under a 393 was illegal. TEJANIDHI GOBINDA CHANDRA BHARATI v THE KING EMPEROR

5 Pat L J 11

ss 239 435 436 439—Evidence Act (I of 1874) s 91—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XVIII rr 5 and 6—Prosecution for perjury—Deposition of a witness not read over and interpreted to him before his signing it—Record whether admissible in proof—Irregularity or illegality—Public policy—Joinder of persons in preliminary inquiry whether prohibited—Discharge of accused by Sub Magistrate—Power of Sessions Judge to direct commitment for offences under ss 471 and 193 Indian Penal Code Where a deposition of a witness is not read over and interpreted to him before it is signed by him he cannot be prosecuted for perjury on such deposition under s 193 of the Indian Penal Code. Omission to interpret and read over the deposition to the witness is not a mere irregularity but renders the record inadmissible in proof of the deposition under s 91 of the Evidence Act as the guarantee provided by the law for its accuracy has been substantially ignored and it is dangerous and against public policy to make a witness liable on such a wholly unsafe record. Bogra v Emperor I L R 34 Mad 141 distinguished Meango v Bariah 45 I C 507 dissented from. A Sessions Judge acting under ss 435 and 436 of the Criminal Procedure Code cannot direct commitment to the Sessions Court of an accused who has been discharged by a Sub Magistrate in a preliminary enquiry into offences under ss 193 and 471 of the Indian Penal Code for forgery of a promissory note not being a Government of India Promissory note as such offences are not exclusively triable by a Court of Sessions. S 209 of the Criminal Procedure Code prohibits only a joint trial and not a joint preliminary inquiry into a case against several persons for the purpose of commitment to the sessions. CHENCHIAN v KING EMPEROR (1919) I L R 42 Mad 561

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*cont'd*ss 239 435 436 439—cont'd

s 241—

Sec s 14

3 Pat L J 291

s 242—

Sec s 117

1 L R 34 Mad 139

See CHAPOR

1 L R 42 Calc 957

ss 246 247—Examination of complainant if absolutely necessary—Examination of witnesses on date of hearing in the absence of complainant if vitiated trial S 244 of the Code of Criminal Procedure does not make the examination of the complainant himself in a summons case absolutely necessary. S 247 Cr P C gives the Magistrate a discretion to adjourn the hearing on any day when the complainant is absent and the examination of witnesses on any such day in the absence of anything to show that the accused was in any way prejudiced does not vitiate the trial. SARAYDI HAZI v KING EMPEROR

24 C W N 199

ss 244 and 540—Right of accused to summon witnesses—Second application by accused to Magistrate not seized of the case—Procedure—Affidavit When an accused person has been called upon to make his defence and has applied for and obtained the summoning of witnesses on his behalf his only means of procuring the summoning of further witnesses is to ask the Court to take action under s 540 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. The accused has no right to put in a second application simpliciter for the summoning of more witnesses nor has the Court any power to grant such an application more particularly when such Court is a Magistrate not seized of the case to whom the application is made in the absence of the trying Magistrate. Observations on the content drafting and attestation of affidavits. EMPEROR v MANOAL (1913) I L R 36 All 13

s 24—

Sec s 244

24 C W N 199

See ACQUITAL

I L R 46 Calc 867

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*s 247—contd

See COMPLAINT

I L R 42 Cal 335

1 ——— Death of Complainant effect of in a summons case—Substitution of relative of complainant In a case under s 352, Indian Penal Code after the death of the complainant his nephew applied for substitution of his name in place of the deceased. The Magistrate directed the case to be proceeded with the ground assigned being that the accused had been guilty of the contempt of the process of the Court. Held, that it was not a sufficient ground and the Magistrate should have recorded an order of acquittal under s. 247 Criminal Procedure Code. TURNA CHANDRA MOULIK v. DEBGAJ CHAUDHARI PAL (1913) 19 C W N 334

2 ——— Death of complainant—Application by the son of complainant to proceed with the case—Acquittal under s 247 Criminal Procedure Code—Reference under s 438 Criminal Procedure Code—Interference by High Court—Practice in case of acquittals On the application of the complainant in a case of rioting which ended in a conviction proceedings under ss 151, 155 Indian Penal Code were instituted against the person in whose interest the riot had been committed. On the date fixed for hearing the complainant's son appeared in Court his father having died in the meantime, and asked to be allowed to go on with the case but the trying Magistrate acquitted the accused under s 247 Criminal Procedure Code being of opinion that he had no option in the matter. Held that it is open to doubt whether s 247 Criminal Procedure Code was intended to apply to a case like the present. The section seems to apply to the case of a complainant who is alive but does not appear. That in any view the trying Magistrate should have proceeded with the case. That the practice of the High Courts has always been to refuse to interfere in revision with acquittals except for special reasons but in the present case which was one of considerable importance involving the peace of the district and in which the Magistrate had not exercised his discretion and given reasons for refusing to go on with the case the order of acquittal should be set aside. DANOO SANKU v. JITAN DASANI (1916) 20 C W N 562

3 ——— Summons case, hearing of when concludes—Non appearance of complainant on date fixed for argument and consequent acquittal of accused if proper Where in a summons case after the examination of the witnesses for the prosecution and the defence the Magistrate adjourned the case for argument for the purpose of the documentary and oral evidence being explained to him and on that adjourned date the complainant did not appear and the accused was acquitted under s 247 Criminal Procedure Code. Held that although the Code of Criminal Procedure makes no provision for argument in a case governed by Chap XX of the Code the hearing of the case did not end with the examination of the witnesses for the parties and s 247 had application to the circumstances of the case. RAM JIRAT RAI v. ANILAKH BHARAI (1913) 18 C W N 584

4 ——— Order of acquittal on a count of complainant's absence passed on

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*s 247—contd

a date not fixed for hearing of case effect of. A case was called on by mistake on a date not fixed for hearing and the Magistrate recorded an order of acquittal under s 247 Criminal Procedure Code on account of the absence of the complainant. On the date fixed for hearing the mistake was discovered and the Magistrate ignored the order previously passed by him under s 247, Criminal Procedure Code and went on with the case which ended in a conviction. Held that an order passed on a date which was not fixed for the hearing of the case and on which date the complainant was necessarily absent is no order at all and the trying Magistrate had jurisdiction to ignore it and go on with the case and come to the finding which he did. High Court Proceedings No 1793 2 W 30th followed Suresh Chandra v. Banku, 2 C L J 622 distinguished ACHAMBERT MONDAL v. MOHARAB SINGH (1914) 18 C W N 1180

5 ——— Complaint by servant on behalf of master—Acquittal under s 247 on death of such complainant—Complaint of same offence by another servant—Previous acquittal of bar to Magistrate's taking cognizance of second complaint—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 476—Maiming an animal A servant on behalf of his master filed a complaint that an elephant belonging to his master had been maimed by the accused. The Magistrate receiving the complaint issued process under s 426 of the Penal Code. On the date fixed for the disposal of the case finding that the complainant was dead the Magistrate acquitted the accused under s 247 Criminal Procedure Code. Thereupon another servant (the petitioner) complained to the Sub divisional Magistrate of the same offence of maiming his master's elephant but the Sub divisional Magistrate dismissed the complaint under section 203 Criminal Procedure Code on the ground that the previous acquittal was a bar to his taking cognizance of it. Held that the previous acquittal was wholly without jurisdiction and was no bar to the Magistrate taking cognizance of the second complaint. MAHMOO CHOWDHURY v. TURAN MIAN (1914) 18 C W N 1211 ss 247 and 403—Autresfois acquit—Acquittal under s 247 bars further proceedings Where a case was disposed of under s 247 Criminal Procedure Code the complainant and accused both being absent the order under s 247 operates as a bar to further proceedings. The provision in s 403 Criminal Procedure Code that a fresh trial will not be barred unless the accused has in the first case been tried does not limit the effect of an order of acquittal under s 247 Criminal Procedure Code. In the matter of GUDGILAPU PADOAYA OF PALAKOT (1910) 1 L P 34 Msd 253 ss 247 403 and 491—Order of acquittal under s 491 whether final bar to further proceedings—Autresfois acquit In a summons case the Public Prosecutor withdrew from the prosecution before the accused had been served and the accused was acquitted under s 491 Criminal Procedure Code. On a difference of opinion between ANNOOR RAHIM and NAJIB J J as to whether the accused could be said to have been tried as well as acquitted within the meaning of s 403 so as to bar further proceedings. Held by MR JOHN WALLIS C J under s 491 that the rule of English

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 247 403 and 494—contd

law requiring the accused to have been tried as well as acquitted in order to bar further proceedings which is embodied in s 404 of the present Code (s 61 of the Code of 1872) is inapplicable to the statutory acquittals subsequently introduced into the Code i.e. the sections now numbered 491 247 and 344 which are intended to bar further proceedings whether the accused can be said to have been tried or not. Cases governed by s 429 Criminal Procedure Code cannot be referred to a Full Bench. Pe Kalavaya I I R 40 Mad 97 (see note) distinguished from Pe DUBIKULA LAL SAHIB (191) I L R 40 Mad 976 ss 247 259—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 352 and 404—Summons case—Warrant case—Trial of both offences in one trial—Procedure to be followed—Absence of complainant at the hearing—Discharge of a civil effect of—Subsequent trial for the same offences whether barred. Where a complaint was preferred against a person for offences under ss 302 and 304 of the Indian Penal Code committed in the course of the same transaction the former offence being triable as in summons case and the latter as a warrant case and the Magistrate discharged the accused owing to the absence of the complainant on the day of hearing and a fresh complaint was preferred in respect of the same offences. Held that the procedure to be followed in such a trial is the one provided for the trial of a warrant case and that the discharge of the accused did not amount to an acquittal of the offence under s 304 of the Indian Penal Code and was not a bar to the subsequent trial for the same offence. Pajnarani I I R 11 Cal 91 Pe Saha v. Sarda I L R 9 Mad 60 Hosain Sardar v. Kalu Sarda I L R 29 Cal 431 and In re Samu udin I L R 22 Bom 711 followed. RAGHUNATH NAICKER v. SINGARANI (1918)

I L R 41 Mad 727

ss 247 428—It is open to doubt whether s 247 was intended to apply at all to a case where the complainant has died. Douso SAHU v. JITAN DUSADH I Pat L J 284 ss 248 258 345—Warrant case—Non compoundable offence—Complainant withdrawing from prosecution—Order of acquittal—Practice and procedure. In a warrant case in respect of a non compoundable offence it is not competent to the Magistrate on a private complainant's offering to withdraw from the prosecution to enter an order of acquittal. EMPHYON v. RAACHOD BAWLA (1917) I L R 37 Bom 269

s 248 345—Wrongful confinement case—Petition filed by the complainant praying that the case may be struck off without hearing—Such petition whether compromise or withdrawal—Procedure in warrant cases for withdrawal—Meaning of compromise and withdrawal. Compromise is a word which in itself contemplates an arrangement to which there are two parties. Withdrawal has no such meaning. A case is compromised if with the consent of the accused it is withdrawn. A case is withdrawn under a 248 Criminal Procedure Code without the consent of the accused. When a petition is filed by the complainant praying for striking off the case it is clearly open to the Magistrate to satisfy himself under what section the

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 248 345—contd

petition is before him. Where the answers of the complainant clearly indicate that the case had not been compromised but was being withdrawn without the consent of the accused and the subsequent action of the accused shows that he had never consented to the compromise of the case. Held that the petition was not a petition made under s 345 Criminal Procedure Code and that the subsequent proceedings resulting in the trial and conviction of the accused were in order. Murray v. Queen Empress I L R 21 Cal 103 Abdul Issa v. Khater Mondal 3 C W N 33 and In re Ganesh Narayan Sahe I L R 13 Bom 600 referred to. BAYAN ALI v. KING EMPEROR (1910) 20 C W N 1209

s 250—

See s 107 I L R 36 All 382

See COMPENSATION I L R 39 Cal 157

See COMPENSATION TO ACCUSED I L R 38 Cal 302

See INFORMATION 14 C W N 26

See PENAL CODE s 494

I L R 40 All 615

See WORKMEN v. BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT (XIII) OF 1850 ss 1 2

I L R 41 All 62

False charge—Veracious charge—Compensation awarded to accused from complainant—Order sanctioning prosecution of complainant for false charge under s 211 of the Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 20 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) applies to a charge which is false and also to a charge which is frivolous or vexatious. Emperor v. Lal Asha 5 Bom L R 128 and Beni Madhub Kumbi v. Kumud Kumar Bhowa I L R 30 Cal 193 followed. It is competent to a Magistrate passing an order of compensation under s 20 of the Criminal Procedure Code to also recommend the use of sanction to prosecute the complainant under s 211 of the Indian Penal Code 1860. Adiljan v. Alogan I L R 21 Mad 937 followed. Dachu Lal v. Jagdam Sahai I L R 26 Cal 181 not followed. In re GOFALA BANAU (1912)

I L R 37 Bom 3 6

In appeals under s 250 notice to accused not imperative. In appeals under s 250 of the Criminal Procedure Code it is not imperative that notice should be given to the accused. ANBAKKAGARI NAOI REDDI v. BASAPPA or MEDINAKULAPALLI (1909)

I L R 33 Mad. 99

Frivolous or vexatious complaint—Award of compensation to accused—Award to be made by order of discharge or acquittal and not by separate order. Held that s 250 of the Code of Criminal Procedure was not intended to meet the case of false accusation but of frivolous and vexatious accusations. Held also that the direction to pay compensation in a case found to be frivolous or vexatious cannot be made in a subsequent proceeding but must form part of the order of discharge or acquittal. PAN SINGH v. MATHEA (191) I L R 24 All 4

Compensation to be awarded—Final order if should be contained in order

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1893)—contd

s 250—contd

of discharge or acquittal—Proviso meaning of—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine when to be ordered Where in discharging the accused under s 203 Criminal Procedure Code the Magistrate in his order of discharge declared the case to be vexatious and directed the complainant under s 250 Criminal Procedure Code to pay compensation to the accused subject to any cause being shown by him and no cause being shown by the complainant the Magistrate the day after made his previous order absolute and further directed the complainant to suffer simple imprisonment for 30 days in default of payment of the compensation. Held that the Magistrate's order directing the payment of compensation was in strict compliance with s 250 Criminal Procedure Code. It is sufficient that the Magistrate fixed the compensation in his order of discharge. The proviso to s 250 clearly contemplates that the direction in the first paragraph of the section shall be considered as in the nature of a rule and that that rule shall not be made absolute until the complainant has shown cause. Haru Tanis v Saivik Roy I L R 33 Cal 372 distinguished. So far as the sentence of imprisonment in default of payment was concerned the High Court held that there was an obvious error and ordered it to be amended in terms that the compensation shall be recovered as if it were a fine and in the event of its not being so recovered there shall be simple imprisonment. Lalit Mohan Singh v Kunja Lachary Ghosh (1913) 18 C W N 702

Compensation order for payment of by complainant—Opportunity to show cause The Magistrate after acquitting the accused made the following order—Accused acquitted complainant to pay compensation to each of the accused under s 250 Criminal Procedure Code and show cause why he should not pay. Complainant is absent. His brother verbally shows cause which is insufficient order made absolute. Held that the complainant was in fact given no opportunity of showing cause and the order should be set aside. Sunil Singh v Monanir Prasad Singh (1914)

18 C W N 1277

Compensation—Accused tried on two charges and acquitted on one but convicted on the other S 250 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is only applicable where the trying court discharges or acquits the accused altogether. It cannot be made use of where the accused being tried on two charges is acquitted on one but convicted on the other. Mukht Bera v Jhotu Santra I L R 21 Cal 53 followed. Muhammad Ali Khan v Raja Ram Singh (1918)

I L R 40 All 610

Trivolous or vexatious accusation—Compensation—Against whom order for compensation can be made It is not necessary that the person against whom an order for compensation under s 250 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is made should be the person who himself gives information to a Magistrate in consequence of which another is accused of an offence provided that he is the person upon whose information an accusation is made. Furzeer v Bahawal Singh (1917)

I L R 43 All 79

Complaint or information given to police officer Where a criminal pro-

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1893)—contd

s 250—contd

ceeding was started not upon the petitioner's complaint or upon information given by him to a police officer or to a Magistrate as required by the Criminal Procedure Code 1893 s 250 but upon evidence obtained by the police upon enquiry instituted by them. Held the petitioner could not be said to have instituted the proceedings even though his statement was taken with that of others during the enquiry by the police. Saeju Prasad Sreen v The King Emperor

"I P. L J 108

Compensation for frivolous or vexatious complaint—Bombay Public Conveyances Act (Bom Act VI of 1863) s 28—Proceeding to recover legal fare not complaint for an offence A proceeding to recover legal fare under s 28 of the Bombay Public Conveyances Act 1863 is not a complaint for an offence and even if frivolous or vexatious no order for compensation can be passed under s 250 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1893. In re Valli Mitha (1910)

I L R 44 Bom 433

Order for compensation without examining all the witnesses of complainant's legality of In a case of rioting and intimidation the Magistrate after examining only some of the witnesses of the complainant discharged the accused and after asking the complainant to show cause why he should not be ordered to pay compensation to the accused passed an order for compensation without examining the remaining witnesses in spite of his request to do so. Held that the order was not illegal but one that should only be made in very exceptional circumstances. Appalanarasayya Bhukta v Emperor

I L R 44 Mad 51

s 250 493—Compensation order for appeal—Notice to the accused order without improper but not illegal—Complaint false as well as frivolous or vexatious In appeals under s 250 of the Code of Criminal Procedure notice should ordinarily be given to the accused even though failure to give notice may not render the proceedings of the Court illegal. Emperor v Palani appavelan I L R 22 Mad 187 approved. Am bakkagari Nagi Reddy v Basappa of Medimattula palls I L R 31 Mad 89 followed. Gurusankar Dasen v Tirumurthi Chetty 27 Mad L J 679 explained. Alegarsami Vajulu v Balakrishna namu Mudal ar I L R 26 Mad 41 Imperative. v Badashiv I L R 22 Bom 619 In the matter of the petition of Umrao Singh v Falsi Chand I L R 11 All 719 and in the matter of Tencottu Shekhar I L R 38 Cal 393 referred to s 250 not only refers to false complaints but to frivolous and vexatious complaints as well. Emperor v Bideen Prasad I L R 26 All 612 and B. N. Madhab Das v Kumbud Kumar Biswas I L R 39 Cal 123 referred to. Ram Singh v Mathura I L R 31 All 311 doubted. Per Sreenivas J s 250 does not declare what the powers of an Appellate Court are in disposing of appeals under clause (3) of the section. It is therefore unnecessary to invoke the aid of s 423 for the purpose. Per Seshagiri Ayyar J The powers of the Appellate Court to grant redress have to be gathered from s 123. s 250 is not self contained as are sections relating to grant of sanction and to convictions for contempt (ss 195 and 480)

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1893)—contd

s 250 423—contd

Chapter XXXI of the Criminal Procedure Code applies to appeals against orders under s 250 of the Code VENKATARAMA v KRISHNA (1916)

I L R 38 Mad 1091

s 250 537—Fruitless or evanescent complaint—Compensation—Procedure—Irregularity A Magistrate after recording the evidence for the prosecution and the statement of the accused came to the conclusion that the complaint was unfounded and discharged the accused and in the same order called upon the complainant to show cause under s 250 of the Code of Criminal Procedure why he should not pay compensation to the accused. Four days later after hearing the complainant the Magistrate passed an order directing him to pay compensation. Held that the proceedings though not strictly in accordance with s 250 of the Code were not so far in variance with its provisions as to fall outside the purview of section 537 Jugal Kishore v Abdul Karim All Weekly Notes (1905) 214 and Emperor v Punomchand Shirochand & Dom L R 47 followed. In re Saffar Hussain I L R 25 All 315 not followed. GUHRIY KOREE v BHALLU KHAN (1914)

I L R 36 All 132

s 253 359—

See Review

I L R 38 Cal 328

s 253 (2) 350 and 437—

See AUTTEROS ACQUIT

I L R 28 Mad 585

s 253 259—Warrant case—Discharge of accused for absence of complainant In a warrant case an order discharging an accused person on account of the absence of the complainant cannot be made under s 253 Criminal Procedure Code. Such an order can only be made under s 259 and in a case where the offence may be lawfully compounded. ALEXANDER v COVVOOR (1916)

20 C W N 698

s 254—

See s 200

I L R 37 All 628

Section 4 Magistrate was competent to try—Commitment of case gish d—Indian Penal Code s 277 It is not competent to a Magistrate to commit a case which it is within his jurisdiction to try unless he is of opinion that the accused if guilty cannot be adequately punished by him. EMPEROR v BIRNATH GOSHAIR (1919)

I L R 41 All 454

s 254 317—Commitment to Sessions by Magistrate competent to try and adequately punish legally The terms of a 317 of the Criminal Procedure Code are general and give a Magistrate who is empowered to commit a discretion in committing a case for trial which is not limited by s 251 so as to make it obligatory on him to try every case which he can adequately punish. Q v Empress v Kayamulla Mian I L R 21 Cal 499 King Emperor v Dhiram Singh I L R 61 and Emperor v Jagmohan 11 Cal 1 J 51 not followed. In the matter of Chinnamirattu I L R 1 Mad 232 applied. Crown Prosecutor v Tuv v BHADAVATU (1918)

I L R 42 Mad 83

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1893)—contd

s 255 256 271 272 and 428—

See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) s 21

I L R 38 Mad 457

s 255 342—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 30—Confession of co accused admissible under—Separate trials not necessary where confession made during trial When before a Magistrate in a statement under a 347 Criminal Procedure Code certain accused confessed the crime and implicated their co accused and further under s 250 (1) pleaded guilty to the charges. Held that it was not necessary to try the co accused separately to enable the confessions to be used against them under s 30 Indian Evidence Act. Queen Empress v Lalshayya Pandaram I L R 22 Mad 491 dissented from. Queen Empress v Parbu I L R 17 All 524 and Queen Empress v Pakhi I L R 19 Dom 195 distinguished. Pe DATI REDDI (1913)

I L R 38 Mad 302

See CROSS EXAMINATION

I L R 37 Cal 236

Compensation for making a fruitless or evanescent complaint—Consequential order—S 473 sub s 1 cl (d)—Power of Appellate Court under An Appellate Court can pass an order against the complainant awarding compensation to the accused under s 250 Criminal Procedure Code. Such an order may very reasonably be regarded as a consequential order within the meaning of s 473 sub s 1 cl (d). Balls Pandey v Chittan I L R 28 All 695 dissented from. HAFIS VOGT v TURANI DHANU (1900)

14 C W N 212

s 256—

Summons case and Warrant case trial of—Procedure that of Warrant case—Warrant case withdrawn—Charge framed in summons case—Right of accused to recall and cross examine prosecution witnesses—Magistrate refusal of illegal—Prejudice—Onus on prosecution When a summons case and warrant case are tried together the procedure to be followed is that prescribed for the warrant case. Pannarayan Koonwar v Lala Tomoti Raut I L R 11 Cal 91 followed. If the complaint in respect of the offence triable as a warrant case is not preceded with but a charge be framed only in respect of the offence triable as a summons case the accused is entitled to recall and cross examine the prosecution witnesses under s 256 of the Code of Criminal Procedure as he could not have anticipated the withdrawal of the former charge and could not be said to have been in default. A refusal of the Magistrate to allow the accused to recall and cross examine the prosecution witnesses is illegal and it is for the prosecution to show that the accused are not prejudiced thereby. P SOBHANADAT (1913)

I L R 39 Mad 503

s 255 and 257—

Right of accused after charge to recall prosecution witness for further cross examination—Just or qualified right—Applicability of s 256 to witness not present before Court—Waiver by counsel whether binding on accused—Entering upon a final meaning of—Evidence Act (I of 1872) sec. 53—Disposition of prosecution witness cross examined before charge—No opportunity for further cross-examination after charge

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 256 and 257—con 1

—Deposition ad ther admittible at the trial s 256 Criminal Procedure Code confers an absolute and unqualified right on the accused to recall for further cross examination only such of the witnesses as are still before the Court and have not been discharged from further attendance. After the charge had been framed the accused pleaded not guilty and mentioned to the Court that he had witnesses to examine. Held that he had entered upon his defence and an application for further cross examination of a witness discharged from attendance must be deemed to have been made under s 257. Waiver by counsel of further cross-examination in case a charge is framed cannot prejudice the right of the accused under ss 256 and 257 Criminal Procedure Code. A deposition of a prosecution witness is admissible in evidence if the accused had an opportunity of cross examining him before the charge and there was no opportunity for further cross examination after charge. LOCKLEY v KING HARRISON (11.0) I L R 43 Mad 411

—Cross examination—duty of court to secure attendance. After a charge had been framed against the accused he applied for four of the prosecution witnesses to be summoned for cross-examination. The Magistrate ordered him to pay Rs 20 as process fees to secure the attendance of the four witnesses and this was done. One of them did not obey the summons and the accused applied to the court to summon him. The Magistrate ordered this to be done on condition that a further sum of Rs 20 was deposited. The accused did not comply with this condition and the witness was not summoned. Held that in the absence of a recorded finding that the application to summon the witness was frivolous and vexatious and would defeat the ends of justice the Magistrate was bound to secure the attendance of the witness. RAMTAD SINGH v THE KING EMERALD 5 Pat L J 54

s 256 258 417—Criminal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 406—Appally Local Government against acquittal—Cours and duties of the High Court—Order of acquittal passed after cross examination of prosecution witnesses subsequent to framing of charge. The accused was placed on his trial for having committed criminal breach of trust in respect of some sales of jute. The accused admitted his liability. The trying Magistrate framed a charge under s 406 Indian Penal Code and after cross examination of the witnesses for the prosecution acquitted the accused under s 258 Criminal Procedure Code holding that the case was one of civil dispute. Held (on an appeal by the Local Government under s 417 Criminal Procedure Code) that in an appeal from an acquittal the High Court could not interfere unless the judgment of the Court below was wrong and perverse or without jurisdiction and based upon obvious errors in procedure and there being nothing of the kind in the case the High Court should uphold the decision of the Magistrate even though wrong because it would be based at the most on a doubtful weighing of facts and not on any irregularity or negligence or other matter owing to the jurisdiction or the regularity

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 256 258 417—con d

of the trial. That the order of acquittal having been passed subsequent to the framing of the charge and after the cross-examination of the witness for the prosecution was not irregular or without jurisdiction. DISTRICT LEGAL PRACITICE OFFICE OF BENGAL & ANDHRA DWAR (1913) 18 C W N 666

s 258—

See s 249 I L R 37 Ecm 69

See s 439 18 C W N 1244

s 259—

See s 24 I L R 41 Mad 77

See s 253 20 C W N 663

s 260—

See COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1902) s 74 I L R 35 All 13

See WORKMAN'S DEFECT OF CONTRACT ACT 1900 I L R 43 All 221

cl (1)—Bengal Tenancy Act (1111 of 1850) s 71—Paddy cut and carried away by landlord from tenant's land value of for summary trial for theft. Since a tenant is entitled to the exclusive possession of the whole produce until it is divided under s 71 of the Bengal Tenancy Act his complaint against landlord for theft for having cut and carried away paddy worth Rs 88 of which the latter was only entitled to one half cannot be summarily tried by a Magistrate as the value of the property in this case must be regarded as Rs 88 and not Rs 44 only. HAZOO v BUDEN KADINAY (1910) 20 C W N 1212

Summary procedure

advised in the middle of a trial of legal—Such charge of procedure can be prejudicial to accused—Illegality of conviction—Trial before the Magistrate. The petitioners were summoned under ss 156 and 206 Indian Penal Code. After the examination in chief of the witnesses for the prosecution in the regular manner the Magistrate being of opinion that no offence under s 206 was made out charged the procedure to that applicable to summary trials and ultimately convicted the petitioners under s 156 Indian Penal Code. Held that the procedure adopted by the Magistrate was not authorized by law and caused prejudice to the accused and the conviction was therefore liable to be set aside. GOVINDRAJ DA v BABOYIN DAS DEORA 26 C W N 331

s 26—Hearing and recording of evidence—Complainant and his witnesses examination of—Procedure—Practice s 263 of the Criminal Procedure Code does not excuse the Magistrate from hearing the evidence of all witnesses. In all criminal cases the complainant and such witnesses as he may produce must be examined whether their evidence is required to be recorded or not and the case must be decided upon the effect of their evidence. JAGBIR SHANKAR v TAJIB SHANKAR (1912) I L R 9 Cal 531

s 263 342—

See SUMMARY TRIAL I L R 41 Cal 743

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 263 and 355—

See SUMMARY TRIAL.

I L R 48 Cal 280

ss 268 and 513—Trial by Sessions Judge with the aid of assessors—Evidence recorded by the Judge alone after the assessors had been discharged—Illegality Where a Sessions Judge is trying a case with the aid of assessors it is the Judge plus the assessors who constitute the Court not the Judge alone. Where therefore a Sessions Judge recorded evidence after the assessors had been discharged it was held that this was a material irregularity which vitiated the trial. Queen Empress v Pann Lal I L R 15 All 136 followed. EMPEROR v JAI UGH I L R 43 All 125

ss 271 272—

See EVIDENCE ACT 21

I L R 36 Mad 457

ss 271 272 308 403—

See AITREFOIS ACQUIT

I L R 41 Cal 1072

ss 282—Jury—Juror discharged during trial and fresh juror substituted—Trial not recommenced—Invalidity of proceedings On trial by a jury after two witnesses had been examined one of the jurors was discovered to be deaf and was discharged and another juror sworn in his place. The trial however was not commenced afresh, but the evidence given by the two witnesses was read over to and admitted by them. Held that this procedure was inadmissible and the trial so held invalid. EMPEROR v NARAYAN (1914)

I L R 36 All 481

ss 284—Assessors—Trial with only one duly appointed assessor—Trial illegal Of two assessors assisting the Sessions Judge in the trial of a sessions case one only had been duly summoned to act as an assessor in that case. The other was a gentleman of some position who had formerly been on the list of assessors but had been exempted on the recommendation of the District Magistrate. Held that in these circumstances there was no lawful trial before a lawfully constituted tribunal and that a new trial must be ordered. Queen Empress v Padri Ali B N (1894) 201 followed. EMPEROR v MAX SINGH (1913)

I L R 35 All 570

ss 284 and 285—Trial with assessors—one assessor absent—person not on official list of assessors acting as assessor—validity of trial Where one of two assessors who had been summoned to assist the Sessions Judge in a trial for forgery was absent on the day when the trial opened, and the Judge ordered another person who was not on the official list of assessors to act as assessor. Held that the trial was illegal. BALAK SINGH v THE KING EMPEROR

3 Fat L J 141

ss 285—

See ss 14

3 Pat L J 291

ss 287—

See PRACTICE I L R 40 Bom 220

ss 287 and 310—previous conviction when evidence of may be tendered—Evidence Act (I of 1872) ss 14 and 54 S 287 of the Code of

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*ss 287 and 310—contd

Criminal Procedure 1898 permits a previous statement of the accused to be read as a part of the case for the prosecution only so far as such statement refers to the offence for which the accused is being tried and not so far as it relates to a previous conviction. The latter portion cannot be read out to the jury or a sessions under a 310 until they have given their verdict. Evidence of the previous conviction of an accused person amounts to evidence of bad character and is not admissible under a 54 of the Evidence Act 1872 unless and until the accused produces evidence of good character. TEKA AMR v THE KING EMPEROR 5 Fat L J 706

ss 289 292—

See RIGHT OF REPLY

I L R 43 Cal 426

ss 291—

See WITNESS I L R 47 Cal 758

ss 293 294—

See LOCAL INSPECTION

I L R 37 All 340

ss 295—

See ss 14

3 Pat L J 291

See MAGISTRATE I L R 39 Cal 119

ss 297—Charge to jury—Misdirection

—Omission to tell the jury that they could draw inference against the prosecution when material facts were not called—Evidence Act (I of 1872) ss 114 111 (g)—Summing up of the evidence—Omission to draw attention of the jury to discrepancies in the prosecution evidence—Retrial—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 304 Where certain material witnesses named in the first information and also in the evidence who were available were not examined at the trial and the Judge did not tell the jury that they could draw an inference unfavourable to the prosecution, and in summing up the evidence the Judge omitted to draw the attention of the jury to discrepancies in the evidence of the principal witnesses for the prosecution between the statements made in their examination in chief and those in cross examination. Held that the omission to place before the jury the matters stated above constituted material misdirection to the jury. The conviction and sentence passed on the accused were set aside and a retrial ordered. Famindra Nath Banerjee v Emperor I L R 36 Cal 281 s c 13 C W A 197 (1918) referred to. TENARAM MONDAL v THE KING EMPEROR 25 C W N 142

ss 297 298—Duty of Judge in charging jury—Judge in charging jury if bound to explain law on exceptions reducing murder to culpable homicide when an exception pleaded and when there is no evidence of that—Withdrawal of case under s 304 Indian Penal Code if necessarily follows from direction that exceptions in s 300 do not apply—Court if should considered case not made by counsel defending accused—Lay down the law in s 297 meaning of—Non-direction if always misdirection—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 105—Letters Patent 1865 s 20—Review of Criminal case decided by High Court in Original Criminal Jurisdiction on certificate of Advocate General—Statement by presiding Judge as to what took place at

ss 297 298—Duty of Judge in charging jury—Judge in charging jury if bound to explain law on exceptions reducing murder to culpable homicide when an exception pleaded and when there is no evidence of that—Withdrawal of case under s 304 Indian Penal Code if necessarily follows from direction that exceptions in s 300 do not apply—Court if should considered case not made by counsel defending accused—Lay down the law in s 297 meaning of—Non-direction if always misdirection—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 105—Letters Patent 1865 s 20—Review of Criminal case decided by High Court in Original Criminal Jurisdiction on certificate of Advocate General—Statement by presiding Judge as to what took place at

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 297, 298—contd

trial—Jurisdiction of High Court to consider case when errors all jod in certificate not established
 The accused was tried and convicted in the Criminal Sessions of the High Court. He was placed on his trial on charges under ss 300 301 and 306 Indian Penal Code to which he pleaded not guilty. He was defended by counsel who argued that the case against the accused was one of murder or nothing and the jury could not convict him of murder on the meagre and unsatisfactory testimony before the Court. There was an sudden provocation was no part of the defence case. The Judge in charging the jury laid down the law under a 300 Indian Penal Code but not that under a 301 or the exception contained in a 300. He ordered that he did not see that there was any evidence of any of the exceptions provided for in a 300. He did not explain to the jury the application of the exception of provocation to the facts of the case. The jury found the accused guilty under a 301 by a majority of 8 to 1 and the Judge agreeing with the verdict gave judgment in accordance therewith. No verdict was taken on the charges under a 301 and 306 Indian Penal Code. The case came up before a Full Bench on a certificate granted by the Advocate General under a 21 of the Letters Patent. Held that a statement by the Trial Judge as to what took place at the trial is conclusive. That there was no illegality in not taking the verdict of the jury on the charge under a 301 Indian Penal Code. That where there is no misdirection or other error as certified by the Advocate General under a 26 of the Letters Patent his certificate is misconceived and the High Court has no power to interfere. It is not within its power to reopen the case and express any opinion on the merits. That in the present case in the absence of any direct evidence of grave and sudden provocation or of facts from which this exception could be legitimately inferred the Judge was correct in excluding enquiry into the exception. That under a 105 of the Evidence Act the Court has to regard the absence of grave and sudden provocation as proved until the contrary is proved by the accused on whom the onus lies. Per JENKINS C J That it is not impossible under the law to leave the case to the jury under a 301 Indian Penal Code after holding that the exceptions enumerated in a 300 do not apply to the circumstances of the case. That under ss 297 and 298 Criminal Procedure Code it comes within the duty of the Judge to determine whether any evidence has been given on which the jury can properly find the question for the party on whom the onus of proof lies. It is not enough to say that there was some evidence. There must be evidence on which the jury might reasonably and properly conclude the fact to be established. That the duty of the Judge in charging the jury is to lay down the law in reference to the case presented to the Court and the facts of the case and not to perplex the minds of the jury with considerations that are outside the legitimate scope of the enquiry. That the conduct of a case by counsel is not a negligible factor even in a criminal suit though it may not conclude the accused and in approaching the question whether the Judge rightly decided as a matter of law that there was no evidence of any of the exceptions. It is relevant to consider how the accused's case was placed before the Court. Per STEPHEN J That the propriety and not the possibility of an inference is the test by which a Judge should decide whether or not he should suggest a case for the consideration of the jury on his own initiative. It is the duty of a Judge to make a case for the accused on which he thinks that a verdict of not guilty may be properly returned though the case has not been suggested by or on behalf of the accused. It is the duty of defending counsel to make the Judge aware of any case that he considers may be made on behalf of the accused though he has not made it himself. Per WOODROFFE J It cannot be laid down as a general proposition of universal applicability that a Court cannot and should not consider a case in favour of the accused which he has not raised. If such a case arises on the prosecution evidence it should be put to the jury for their consideration whatever line might have been taken by the accused or his counsel. But on the question whether an inference does arise in favour of the accused the fact that a particular defence has or has not been taken may affect the significance of the evidence given. Per WOODROFFE J The expression lay down the law in a 297 Criminal Procedure Code does not signify lay down the whole law on the subject irrespective of the facts of the particular case before the Court. The reasonable construction of a 297 Criminal Procedure Code is that the Judge should lay down the law only in so far as it bears upon the evidence adduced in the particular case. The mere fact that counsel for the accused has failed to present to the Court a particular aspect of the case cannot justify an omission on the part of the Judge to draw the attention of the jury to what appears to be a possible answer to the charge against the accused even on the prosecution evidence. Mere non-direction is not necessarily misdirection those who allege misdirection must show that something wrong was said or that something was said which would make wrong that which was left to be understood. I very summing up must be regarded in the light of the conduct of the trial and the questions which have been raised by the counsel for the prosecution and for the defence respectively. Per HOLMWOOD J No error of law is committed by a Judge who refrains from directing the jury as to exceptions which have neither been raised nor relied upon by the accused and have no basis in evidence on the record. Where there is no evidence bringing the case directly within any such exception it would be misdirection to ask the jury to come to a finding of fact on a hypothetical state of circumstances which do not bring the case within the exception as a matter of fact. KING ESTERON v UPENDRA NATH DAS (1914) 19 C W N 653

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 297, 298—contd

ss 297 303—

See JURY TRIAL BY

I L R 40 Calc 367

ss 297 303 304—Trial by Court of Sessions—Verdict how to be taken where many accused and both jury and assessors charged 297 Criminal Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1898) specifically enacts that the Judge shall only charge

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1893) - old

- 13 303 and 307—contd

THAT A Sessions Judge is neither bound nor entitled to put such questions to the jury still his having done so for the purpose of determining whether he should make a reference is not improper or a sufficient ground for not accepting the reference. SUBBIAH THAYAN The Assistant Sessions Judge of Tiruvallur (1939)

I L R 43 Mad 744

• 307—

See CRIMINAL TRESPASS
N. L. P. 41 Cal. 682

Se REFERENCE I L R 42 Calc 788

Se Reference I L R 27 31 not
I July and jury - Reference to High Court - Siba (1) - Opinion of the jury is equivalent to verdict - I elicit grounds of when desirable to certify. Tax expression opinion of the Sessions Judge in jury in siba (3) of s 317 of the Criminal Procedure Code is equivalent to opinion of the Sessions Judge and verdict of the jury and it is not necessary for a Sessions Judge before making a reference to the High Court to ascertain the opinion of the jurors apart from their verdict Enno v O'Neil I L R 27 31 not followed. After the jury have returned their verdict and after the Judge has stated that he will not accept the verdict it may be desirable to ascertain the grounds of their verdict but there is no express provision in the Code as to ascertaining the opinion of the jury
TARAPADA NAIKAR (1913) 18 C W N 615

2 Jurisdiction of High Court to convict of offence under 375 Penal Code (1st XLV of 1892) Two High Courts are empowered to refer to the High Court for Proclamation to convict the case of an offence under 375 of the Penal Code. Sir V.
 Dhanraj Ayyangar J. in Pratibha Ummer v
Emperor I L R 25 Mad 213 followed by Basappa J. in Pratibha Ummer v
Emperor I L R 25 Mad 213 dissented from Murugesu
Reddy (1911) I L R 37 Mad 2333.

3 ----- R. Jere & to High
----- Judge and Jury-----

3
Court or I agree it between Judge and Jury—Acceptance by Judge of verdict on some charges reference to High Court on others—High Court reference to High Court on charges in relation to which verdict accepted by trial Judge—Course to be followed by High Court on such reference in trial verdict referred Where the accused was tried on several charges and the Sessions Judge accepted the verdict of the jury as to some and disregarded others and referred the verdict to the High Court as to the latter Held that by this limited form of reference the High Court was precluded from considering the entire evidence on the record and on such reference all that the High Court had to decide was whether the verdict of the jury on the charges as to which there was disagreement between the Judge and the jury was a reasonable verdict which a body of reasonable men could arrive at having regard to the evidence bearing on these charges That the Sessions Judge if he considered that the interests of justice required a reference to the High Court should have referred the whole case leaving it to the High Court to consider the whole of the evidence that was placed before the jury KING EMPRESS OF INDIA
CHARAN POY (1916) 21 C W N 435

21 C W N 435

— 233 —

See 297 19 C W N 653

See MI DICTIONARY

— 233 (1) (c) 317—
I L P 47 CIL 893

— 333 —
S e V e n d i e r I L A 43 Cal 237

a juror hold a communication with a juror after charge without Court's leave. What if it was proved that after the charge had been delivered a person other than a juror spoke to or held communication with a member of the jury without the leave of the Court. Held that that was sufficient to set aside the verdict and it was not relevant to consider whether the interference had in fact prejudiced the accused. It is a matter of great importance that s. 397 of the Criminal Procedure Code which is explicit in its terms should be observed. R v Ketter [1970] 1 A B 467 referred to by Lord Widgeman. HANCOCK v. HANCOCK EXHIBIT (1018) 23 C W N 739

301—Trial by jury—Verdict settled by casting lots—Enquiry thereto—Evidence of individual jurors admissible Where it was alleged that the verdict of the jury was arrived at by casting lots and the Sessions Judge held an enquiry into the matter in the course of which he examined besides other persons all the jurors Held that the statement of a juror as to what happened in the jury room is inadmissible KING EMPEROR & HANCOCK BURNAY ROY (1913) 17 C W N 727

65 393 301—

Se 8 -9- 1 L R 33 M11 58

— ss 303 and 307—Verdict of jury—
Reasons for their verdict—Power of Sessions Judge to question jury as to their reasons for their verdict—Question if permissible for determining whether reference to High Court necessary. A Sessions Judge is not entitled under s 303 of the Criminal Procedure Code to question the jury as to the reasons for their verdict even if he intended to make a reference to the High Court under s 307 of the Code. Ratnan v No 30 of 1919
dissented from Emperor v Sumanis (1907)
I L R 30 Mad 469 and Public Prosecutor v
Abul Hamid (1913) I L R 36 Mad 589 followed

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

§ 307—contd

4 ————— Jury verdict of Interference of High Court on reference when verdict not perverse Where the accused were tried on several charges and the jury unanimously found them not guilty on all the charges but the Sessions Judge not accepting the verdict as to some of the charges referred the case to the High Court. Held that in the circumstances of the case the verdict could not be said to be perverse or erroneous and the accused should be acquitted.
 A GAR MONDAL & KING JAMES (1918)

22 C W N 511

5 ————— Reference to High
Court by Sessions Judge on discharge with jury Scope of High Court's interference The accused was tried on charges under ss 302 & 411 of the Indian Penal Code and found not guilty by a majority of the jury. The Sessions Judge disagreeing with the jury referred the case to the High Court under s 307 Criminal Procedure Code. The High Court on a consideration of the evidence held that the guilt of the accused was not proved beyond reasonable doubt and acquitted the accused. Held that the Sessions Judge was not justified in referring the case to the High Court. (1918)

22 C W N 1028

6 ————— Reference to High Court for acquittal The accused was found guilty under s 302 and s 303 of the Indian Penal Code by the verdict of a majority of the jury. The Sessions Judge though not agreeing with it accepted it on the ground that he could not call it perverse.
Held that it is no longer the law that before making a reference the Judge must be satisfied that the verdict is perverse. It is sufficient that he should be clearly of opinion that it is not satisfactory for the ends of justice. The High Court set aside the verdict on the ground of misdirection and acquitted the accused. Held that the Sessions Judge was justified in referring the case to the High Court.
 (1918)

23 C W N 47

7 ————— Jury and jury
disagreement The accused was tried on charges under s 302 of the Indian Penal Code and found guilty by the verdict of a majority of the jury.
 The Sessions Judge though not agreeing with it accepted it on the ground that he could not call it perverse. Held that it is no longer the law that before making a reference the Judge must be satisfied that the verdict is perverse. It is sufficient that he should be clearly of opinion that it is not satisfactory for the ends of justice. The High Court set aside the verdict on the ground of misdirection and acquitted the accused. (1918)

17 C W N 167

8 ————— Reference to High Court on disagreement with jury—Matters which must be stated by Sessions Judge in making reference Incompetent reference—Effect of—Direction to jury—Duty of Sessions Judge to present case to jury dispassionately and impartially—Statement in charge to jury not borne out by record The accused were placed on their trial all on charges under ss 302 & 303 of the Indian Penal Code and were found guilty by the verdict of a majority of the jury. The Sessions Judge disagreeing with the verdict of the jury made a reference to the High Court under s 307 Criminal Procedure Code stating that the verdict was erroneous and inconsistent and could not be accepted that a murder had been committed and if the evidence was believed all the accused should have been found guilty under s 302. Held—

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

§ 307—contd

That the reference was not a proper reference as there was not a sufficient compliance with the provisions of s 307 Criminal Procedure Code. It is only if the Judge has made a proper reference that the High Court can deal with the matter.
 In dealing with the matter the High Court has to give due weight to the opinions of the Sessions Judge and the jury and in making a reference the Judge is bound to state the grounds of his opinion and in the case of an acquittal the offences which he considers to have been committed. The record was sent back to the Sessions Judge for a proper reference which having been made the case was heard. The Sessions Judge in charging the jury said that the case of the accused who pleaded alibi were bound to prove the plea and if the jury were of opinion that they had failed to establish the plea the presumption against them would arise. The Sessions Judge in making a reference said a Judge in his summing up under this section discussed the evidence and the facts of the case.
 (1918)

25 C W N 682

§ 308—

See APPROVER ACQUIT

I L R 41 Cal 1072

§ 309—

See DISCRETION I L R 41 Cal 350

See MAJORITY I L R 39 Cal 119

—ss 309 403 423 439—

See VARIATIONS I L R 40 Cal 163

§ 310—

See s 37 5 Ind L J 706

§ 317—

See PARDON

I L R 42 Cal 58 856

Tender of pardon
Approval—Pardon of the confessions of pardon Discharge of accused—Forfeiture of pardon—Trial of approver—Approver committed to Sessions Court Re-trial of the discredited accused—Accused to be committed if given facts are made out to be a Court for joint trial with the approver—Joint trial —Evidence and procedure In an inquiry into a charge of dacoity against five accused persons the Magistrate granted a conditional pardon to one of them. The approver was examined as a witness in the inquiry and the four remaining accused persons but he denied all knowledge of the alleged dacoity and the accused persons were charged by the Magistrate under s 209 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898).
 The pardon granted to the approver was next withdrawn and the case against him with regard to dacoity was proceeded with under s 339 of the Criminal Procedure Code. It ended in his being committed for trial to the Court of Sessions. The material pieces of evidence to be adduced against the approver was his con-fessional statement which implicated both himself and the four accused persons. The Sessions Judge referred the case to the High Court for an order quashing the commitment and directing the rule of the approver along with the accused and a third person. Held that the third person had the power to direct that the accused person who had been directed should be subjected to a re-trial jointly with the approver for under s 43 of the Criminal Procedure Code the High Court had the power in the case of those accused persons to direct that there shall be a fresh inquiry and if that inquiry ended in the framing of a charge that the accused should be committed to a particular Court. See 1370. Held further that inasmuch as the provision of sub (3) of a 337 of the Criminal Procedure Code was fully carried out at the trial with the accused person being directed the power of the Magistrate to direct the trial of the accused person was not committed to the Magistrate. Per Constitution Sub s 30 of 337 of the Criminal Procedure Code contained only a direction that the accused should be committed to the Court of Sessions or the High Court. It was to be carried out in the case of the Magistrate himself or his own representative. Held that the accused person's testimony of the substance of the case is that the approver shall not be subjected to a trial until the judicial proceedings against him are finished. Held that the purpose of the section is that the Magistrate or the High Court should be satisfied that the accused person would be satisfied if the approver were detained in custody or not until the order of his discharge was made. Emperor v. Iqbal Ali Khan (1912).

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1893)—*13*s 337—contd

I L R 37 Bom 146

1370—1371—1372—1373—1374—1375—1376—1377—1378—1379—1380—1381—1382—1383—1384—1385—1386—1387—1388—1389—1390—1391—1392—1393—1394—1395—1396—1397—1398—1399—1400—1401—1402—1403—1404—1405—1406—1407—1408—1409—1410—1411—1412—1413—1414—1415—1416—1417—1418—1419—1420—1421—1422—1423—1424—1425—1426—1427—1428—1429—1430—1431—1432—1433—1434—1435—1436—1437—1438—1439—1440—1441—1442—1443—1444—1445—1446—1447—1448—1449—1450—1451—1452—1453—1454—1455—1456—1457—1458—1459—1460—1461—1462—1463—1464—1465—1466—1467—1468—1469—1470—1471—1472—1473—1474—1475—1476—1477—1478—1479—1480—1481—1482—1483—1484—1485—1486—1487—1488—1489—1490—1491—1492—1493—1494—1495—1496—1497—1498—1499—1500—1501—1502—1503—1504—1505—1506—1507—1508—1509—1510—1511—1512—1513—1514—1515—1516—1517—1518—1519—1520—1521—1522—1523—1524—1525—1526—1527—1528—1529—1530—1531—1532—1533—1534—1535—1536—1537—1538—1539—1540—1541—1542—1543—1544—1545—1546—1547—1548—1549—1550—1551—1552—1553—1554—1555—1556—1557—1558—1559—1560—1561—1562—1563—1564—1565—1566—1567—1568—1569—1570—1571—1572—1573—1574—1575—1576—1577—1578—1579—1580—1581—1582—1583—1584—1585—1586—1587—1588—1589—1590—1591—1592—1593—1594—1595—1596—1597—1598—1599—1600—1601—1602—1603—1604—1605—1606—1607—1608—1609—1610—1611—1612—1613—1614—1615—1616—1617—1618—1619—1620—1621—1622—1623—1624—1625—1626—1627—1628—1629—1630—1631—1632—1633—1634—1635—1636—1637—1638—1639—1640—1641—1642—1643—1644—1645—1646—1647—1648—1649—1650—1651—1652—1653—1654—1655—1656—1657—1658—1659—1660—1661—1662—1663—1664—1665—1666—1667—1668—1669—1670—1671—1672—1673—1674—1675—1676—1677—1678—1679—1680—1681—1682—1683—1684—1685—1686—1687—1688—1689—1690—1691—1692—1693—1694—1695—1696—1697—1698—1699—1700—1701—1702—1703—1704—1705—1706—1707—1708—1709—1710—1711—1712—1713—1714—1715—1716—1717—1718—1719—1720—1721—1722—1723—1724—1725—1726—1727—1728—1729—1730—1731—1732—1733—1734—1735—1736—1737—1738—1739—1740—1741—1742—1743—1744—1745—1746—1747—1748—1749—1750—1751—1752—1753—1754—1755—1756—1757—1758—1759—1760—1761—1762—1763—1764—1765—1766—1767—1768—1769—1770—1771—1772—1773—1774—1775—1776—1777—1778—1779—1780—1781—1782—1783—1784—1785—1786—1787—1788—1789—1790—1791—1792—1793—1794—1795—1796—1797—1798—1799—1800—1801—1802—1803—1804—1805—1806—1807—1808—1809—1810—1811—1812—1813—1814—1815—1816—1817—1818—1819—1820—1821—1822—1823—1824—1825—1826—1827—1828—1829—1830—1831—1832—1833—1834—1835—1836—1837—1838—1839—1840—1841—1842—1843—1844—1845—1846—1847—1848—1849—1850—1851—1852—1853—1854—1855—1856—1857—1858—1859—1860—1861—1862—1863—1864—1865—1866—1867—1868—1869—1870—1871—1872—1873—1874—1875—1876—1877—1878—1879—1880—1881—1882—1883—1884—1885—1886—1887—1888—1889—1890—1891—1892—1893—1894—1895—1896—1897—1898—1899—1900—1901—1902—1903—1904—1905—1906—1907—1908—1909—1910—1911—1912—1913—1914—1915—1916—1917—1918—1919—1920—1921—1922—1923—1924—1925—1926—1927—1928—1929—1930—1931—1932—1933—1934—1935—1936—1937—1938—1939—1940—1941—1942—1943—1944—1945—1946—1947—1948—1949—1950—1951—1952—1953—1954—1955—1956—1957—1958—1959—1960—1961—1962—1963—1964—1965—1966—1967—1968—1969—1970—1971—1972—1973—1974—1975—1976—1977—1978—1979—1980—1981—1982—1983—1984—1985—1986—1987—1988—1989—1990—1991—1992—1993—1994—1995—1996—1997—1998—1999—2000—2001—2002—2003—2004—2005—2006—2007—2008—2009—2010—2011—2012—2013—2014—2015—2016—2017—2018—2019—2020—2021—2022—2023—2024—2025—2026—2027—2028—2029—2030—2031—2032—2033—2034—2035—2036—2037—2038—2039—2040—2041—2042—2043—2044—2045—2046—2047—2048—2049—2050—2051—2052—2053—2054—2055—2056—2057—2058—2059—2060—2061—2062—2063—2064—2065—2066—2067—2068—2069—2070—2071—2072—2073—2074—2075—2076—2077—2078—2079—2080—2081—2082—2083—2084—2085—2086—2087—2088—2089—2090—2091—2092—2093—2094—2095—2096—2097—2098—2099—2100—2101—2102—2103—2104—2105—2106—2107—2108—2109—2110—2111—2112—2113—2114—2115—2116—2117—2118—2119—2120—2121—2122—2123—2124—2125—2126—2127—2128—2129—2130—2131—2132—2133—2134—2135—2136—2137—2138—2139—2140—2141—2142—2143—2144—2145—2146—2147—2148—2149—2150—2151—2152—2153—2154—2155—2156—2157—2158—2159—2160—2161—2162—2163—2164—2165—2166—2167—2168—2169—2170—2171—2172—2173—2174—2175—2176—2177—2178—2179—2180—2181—2182—2183—2184—2185—2186—2187—2188—2189—2190—2191—2192—2193—2194—2195—2196—2197—2198—2199—2200—2201—2202—2203—2204—2205—2206—2207—2208—2209—2210—2211—2212—2213—2214—2215—2216—2217—2218—2219—2220—2221—2222—2223—2224—2225—2226—2227—2228—2229—2230—2231—2232—2233—2234—2235—2236—2237—2238—2239—2240—2241—2242—2243—2244—2245—2246—2247—2248—2249—2250—2251—2252—2253—2254—2255—2256—2257—2258—2259—2260—2261—2262—2263—2264—2265—2266—2267—2268—2269—2270—2271—2272—2273—2274—2275—2276—2277—2278—2279—2280—2281—2282—2283—2284—2285—2286—2287—2288—2289—2290—2291—2292—2293—2294—2295—2296—2297—2298—2299—2300—2301—2302—2303—2304—2305—2306—2307—2308—2309—2310—2311—2312—2313—2314—2315—2316—2317—2318—2319—2320—2321—2322—2323—2324—2325—2326—2327—2328—2329—2330—2331—2332—2333—2334—2335—2336—2337—2338—2339—2340—2341—2342—2343—2344—2345—2346—2347—2348—2349—2350—2351—2352—2353—2354—2355—2356—2357—2358—2359—2360—2361—2362—2363—2364—2365—2366—2367—2368—2369—2370—2371—2372—2373—2374—2375—2376—2377—2378—2379—2380—2381—2382—2383—2384—2385—2386—2387—2388—2389—2390—2391—2392—2393—2394—2395—2396—2397—2398—2399—2400—2401—2402—2403—2404—2405—2406—2407—2408—2409—2410—2411—2412—2413—2414—2415—2416—2417—2418—2419—2420—2421—2422—2423—2424—2425—2426—2427—2428—2429—2430—2431—2432—2433—24

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

§ 339—contd

the pardon was tendered it is open to him to plead his guilt in mitigation of trial and it will then be for the jury to determine in what manner the pardon has been forfeited. Attorney v. Emperor 1 I L R 32 Mad 175 followed. EMPEROR v. BHABHA (1911) 1 I L R 29 All 205

Pardon tendered by District Magistrate—See or Judge entering compromise if approved—Validity of compromise—Jurisdiction. The case in connection with which the pardon was tendered by the District Magistrate was tried by the Sessions Judge who at the conclusion of the trial directed the commitment of both the accused to the Sessions for trial on the original charge. Held following (Court v. A.D. (1906 P. I. P. 180a)) that the Sessions Judge had jurisdiction to pass the order and at their trial the petitioners could plead their pardon and it would be for the trial court to decide whether or not the pardon had been forfeited. CHANDAN SINGH v. THE CROWN

1 I L R 1 Lah 218

§ 340—

See MITHUNAR 1 I L R 78 Cal 488

§ 341—

Deaf and dumb accused—Procedure and practice. Though great caution and diligence are necessary in the trial of a deaf and dumb person yet if it be shown that such person had sufficient intelligence to understand the character of his criminal act he is liable to punishment. LUTHER v. A. DRAKE AND LUMB Act 10 (1911)

1 I L R 40 Ecum 118

Accused who does not understand proceedings—case reported to High Court—proper action. Held that the usual practice in cases reported to the High Court under s 341 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is to refer the matter to the Local Government but where the offence is a minor one the Court may sentence the accused to a term of imprisonment or discharge him. EMPEROR v. GABRA (37 P. R. (Cr.) 1889) CROWN v. LOST MUHAMMAD (13 P. R. (Cr.) 1912) QUEEN v. LEUKA HARI (22 W. P. 35 (Cr.) Att. Ram v. Emperor (34 P. 2 (Cr.) 188a) and Criminal Revision No. 101 I 1915 (unpublished) referred to. CROWN v. RAJMAN

1 I L R 1 Lah 260

§ 342—

See s 140 1 I L R 37 Cal 467

See s 255 1 I L R 38 Mad 303

See s 263 1 I L R 41 Cal 742

See s 164j 1 I L R 2 Lah 129

See s 43a 25 C W N 609

See CHARGE 1 I L R 42 Cal 957

See WITNESSES 1 I L R 45 Cal 20

1 Cross examination of accused propriety of. Cross examination of the accused by putting questions with a view to induce him to incriminate himself condemned. HAIDAR ALI PRADHANIA v. EMPEROR (1912)

17 C W N 254

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

§ 342—contd

2 Need not for examination by the Court in certain cases. See CANDASHAR GOALIA v. EMPEROR WILLIS LEONARD 25 C W N 609

3 Criminal Law Amendment Act (XV) of 1908. See under Code of Criminal Procedure if may examine accused in. It is within the competence of the Court in a case under Act XV of 1908 to examine the accused in order to give him an opportunity of explaining the circumstances appearing on the evidence against him. EMPEROR OF INDIA v. NAONEPA NATH GUPTA (1910) 19 C W N 893

4 Right of the Magistrate or Sessions Judge to put questions or like statements from accused. See under evidence taken by prosecution to implicate them—Answers taken from accused in confrontation of a witness not admissible in evidence. In a criminal case the prosecution had not led in any evidence in implicating the accused or some of the accused in the crime charged. The Magistrate is not entitled under s 342 of Criminal Procedure Code to put questions to such accused or to invite them to make a statement and this rule equally applies to trials before the Sessions Court. Answers to questions received by the committing Magistrate in contravention of s 342 of the Criminal Procedure Code are not admissible in evidence against the accused in the subsequent trial before the Sessions Court. Mohideen Abdul Kader v. Emperor 1 I L R 2 Mad 478 and Pig v. Emperor 6 C Cr C 335 followed. See AMULLA RAJLAL (1915) 1 I L R 9 Mad 79

5 Power to examine accused—Summons case—Practice and procedure. Under s 342 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898 a Magistrate is bound in a summons case to examine the accused before committing him. EMPEROR v. FERNANDEZ (1920)

1 I L R 45 Bom 672

8 Order s 342 the Court must examine the accused after the witnesses for the prosecution have been examined. Therefore an examination of the accused after the prosecution witnesses have been examined is not in compliance with the section. MIRABAI SINGH v. THE KING EMPEROR 6 Pat L J 645

§ 342 244 245 253 and 283—s 342 of the Code applies to summons warrant and sessions trials and an omission to examine accused in accordance with it vitiates such a trial. A prosecution under s 218 of the Bengal Municipal Act 1854 of s 302 and 303 within time if instituted within 6 months from the expiry of the time allowed for compliance with the order under the latter section. GULAM PASUL v. THE KING EMPEROR 6 Pat L J 175

§ 342 269 364 and 533—Sessions trial—omission to examine accused effect of—Statement by accused person effect of omission to record—Confession effect of retracted. Per JWALA PRASAD AND SULTA IMHAD JJ (MULLICK J dissenting). The provisions of s 347 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 are mandatory and the omission to examine the accused after the witnesses for the prosecution have been examined

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

—s 342, 289 364 and 533—contd

mined and before the accused is called on for his defence vitates the trial. Per JYALA PRASAD J—The filing of a written statement by the accused does not take the place of an examination under s 34. It is doubtful whether the omission to prepare a record of the examination of an accused person under s 34 can be cured by s 533. A confession which is not supported by the evidence of witnesses must be examined very carefully to see whether it gives those details which indicate that it is a natural narrative of what took place in the presence of the man making it and is not at variance with any evidence in the case which is believed and is not merely a parrot-like repetition of a story put into a man's mouth. Even a retracted confession may be acted upon so far as the confessor is concerned if after applying the proper tests the Judge is convinced of its truth. While the High Court is dealing with the case of an accused person who has appealed it is competent to consider the case of a co-accused who has not appealed and to set aside the conviction. Per SULTAN AHMED J—It is unsafe to convict an accused person on a retracted confession alone. RAGHU BHUMJI v THE KING EMPEROR 5 Fat L J 430

—s 342, 362—

See EXCISE OFFICERS

I L R 46 Cal 411

—s 344—

Case taken upon police charge-sheet—Informant represented by vakil—The ice of vakil—Application by informant for adjournment—Adjournment conditional on payment of costs by informant—Validity of order Where a case was taken up by a Magistrate on a police charge sheet filed on information furnished by a person who retained a vakil to represent him at the trial and joined in an application for adjournment made by the police officer on the ground of the vakil's absence. Held that it was competent to the Magistrate under s 344 of the Code of Criminal Procedure to grant an adjournment conditional on the payments of costs by such person although he was not a complainant under s 200 of the Code. Mathura Prasad v Basant Lal I L R 23 All 207. Sew Prasad Poddar v The Corporation of Calcutta 9 C W N 18 and Mathurami Iyer v Ramanathan Chettiar Criminal Revision Cases Nos 483 and 486 of 1916 followed. SUNNASI KUDUMBAN v SIVASUBRAMANIAM HOYE (1917) I L R 40 Mad 1130

Order of adjournment

at the instance of a party—Liability to pay costs of the day. In granting an adjournment at the instance of a party the Magistrate can order him to pay the costs of the day to the opposite side under s 344 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898 only where the circumstances are exceptional and where for some reason or another the ordinary method of conducting criminal cases must be departed from. In re ABDUL RAHMAN (1917)

I L R 42 Bom 254

—s 345—

See s 218

I L R 37 Bom 369

20 C W N 1209

See COMPROMISE I L R 45 Cal 816

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

—s 345—contd

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s 439

I L R 39 Mad 604

Compromise effected out of Court by parties pending hearing of rule issued by High Court if can be given effect to under s 345 Criminal Procedure Code The petitioner was the complainant in a case and the accused in the counter case. The petitioner's complaint was dismissed by the Magistrate and in the other case he was convicted under s 352 of the Penal Code. He moved the High Court and obtained a Rule in each case in one for a further enquiry into his complaint and in the other for a reduction of the sentence passed on him. Pending the hearing of the Rules both cases were compromised by the parties out of Court. Held that at the hearing of the Rules the parties had no locus standi to ask the Court to treat the compromise as one coming under s 345 Criminal Procedure Code. ABRAHAM CHANDRA DEX v SUBODH CHANDRA GHOSH (1914) 18 C W N 1212

Compounding offences

—Revision—Powers of High Court—Court not competent to allow composition in revision. Held, that the High Court has no power to allow a case to be compounded which is before it in the exercise of its revisional jurisdiction. EMPEROR v RAM CHANDRA (1914) I L F 37 All 127

Compounding an offence—Complainant residing before hearing effect of Per ABDUR PANDE J (AYLING J dubitante)—A composition arrived at between the parties of a compoundable offence is complete as soon as it is made and it has the effect of an acquittal of the accused under s 345 Criminal Procedure Code in respect of that offence though one of the parties later on resiles from the compromise and no statement or petition recording the compromise is filed in Court by the parties. Murray v Queen Empress I L F 21 Colo. 1033 referred to. KANVI ROWTHIR v INAYATHALLA SANIE (1915)

I L R 39 Mad 946

Compounding of an offence before filing complaint whether lawful The compounding of offences mentioned in the first paragraph of s 345 Criminal Procedure Code is lawful even if it takes place before any complaint is filed in respect thereof in a Court and once a composition has been arrived at it has the effect of an acquittal under the section so as to bar the trial of the offence. KUMARASAMI CHETTI v KUPPUSWAMI CHETTI (1915)

I L R 41 Mad 685

Composition of an offence with one of several accused persons effect of The composition of an offence under s 345 of the Criminal Procedure Code with one of several accused persons does not effect an acquittal of the others. Chandra Kumar Das v The Emperor 7 C W N 176 dissented from. MUTHIA NAICK v THE KING EMPEROR (1917)

I L R 41 Mad 323

Compounding of offences—Composition with one accused does not mean acquittal The compounding of an offence with many accused has not

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1893)—contd

s 349—contd

he could not pass an adequate sentence. The latter transferred the case to a Magistrate of the First Class who committed it to the Court of Session. A question having arisen if the commitment was legal. Held quashing the commitment that under s 349 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1893) it was the Sub divisional Magistrate alone who was competent to deal with the case. EMPEROR v. NARAYAN NARAYAN (1914) I L R 38 Bom 719

s 350

See s 15 I L R 41 All 116

See s 107 I L R 43 Mad 511

See s 145 I L R 37 Calc 812

See s 23 I L R 38 Mad 585

See s 30 I L R 40 Mad 108

See MAGISTRATE TRANSFER OF

I L R 37 Calc 812

See RIOTING I L R 39 Calc 781

Procedure—Jurisdiction
the Magistrate ceasing to have jurisdiction by reason of the transfer of a case pending before him to another Court—Evidence not necessarily to be excluded. S 350 of the Criminal Procedure Code

as much to cases in which a Magistrate exercises jurisdiction so far as the parties are in question is concerned by reason of order to another Court as to cases in which a Magistrate ceases to exercise jurisdiction by reason of his own death or transfer to another Court. Mohesh Chandra Saha v. Emperor I L R 457 Audrutulla v. Emperor I L R 468 781 and Palanisamy Goundan v. Emperor adjourn 32 Mad 218 followed. EMPEROR v. S (1918) I L R 40 All 307

Transfer—Jurisdiction
charge of person who of Court to which a case is transferred the trial and hence taken by the Court from which it went made so of the Code of Criminal Procedure of the various cases in which Magistrates succeed in their offices but applies also to all cases of Criminal from the file of one Magistrate to that of another under s 58 of the Code. An order of commitment to the Court of Session passed by a person on evidence recorded by a bench of Magistrates from whose Court it was transferred, and illegal order. Queen Empress v. Bashir v. The Muziris I L R 14 All 310 distinguished. Emperor v. Anjanu All Weekly Notes (1889) 136 not followed. Mohesh Chandra Saha v. Emperor (1917) 35 Calc 457 and Palanisamy Goundan v. Emperor I L R 3, Mad 218 followed. n v. NARAYAN (1914) at the of the instance of Magistrates who have not heard the whole to pay evidence whether legal. The petitioner was under conviction for an offence and s 33 1898 order by a Bench of Honorary Magistrates and with whom of whom had heard the entire evidence that all criminal cases should be decided by Magistrates who have heard the whole of the case and that s 350 of the Code of Criminal Procedure does not apply to cases tried by Benches of Magistrates consequently the conviction of the petitioner must be set aside. Sufferuddin v.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1893)—contd

s 350—contd

Abraham (I L R 3 Calc 754) Ram Sunder De v. Jagab Ali (I L R 1 Calc 558) Shambu Nath v. Ram Kamaal (13 Calc L R 219) Hardwar Singh v. Klega Oja (I L R 90 Calc 870) Damra Thalar v. Bhowani Sahoo (I L R 23 Calc 194) Queen Empress v. Basappa (I L R 18 Mad 393) Ro Subramanyam Ayyer (I L R 31 Mad 304) Va Paik v. Va Bau (50 Indian Cases 679) Emperor v. Mathura (I L R 41 All 116) Abdul Ali v. Emperor (15 All L J 937) followed. GIRDHARI v. THE CROWN I L R 2 Lah 237

s 355—

See SUMMARY TRIAL

I L R 48 Calc 280

s 358—

See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND

1 L R 42 Calc 381

s 360—

See CHARGE I L R 42 Calc 957

See DEPOSITION 14 C W N 83

ss 360 (1) 476—

*Handing over record of deposition to witness for being read by him if sufficient compliance with law—Such deposition is admissible and assignment of perjury is can be made thereon—Examination of witnesses in enquiry under s 46 Criminal Procedure Code—Duty of Magistrate to make a record of statements. An order under a 476 Criminal Procedure Code was made against the petitioner directing his prosecution under s 103 of the Penal Code with reference to a deposition given by him as a witness at a criminal trial. It appeared that after the deposition had been recorded the record was handed over to the petitioner who proceeded to read it over himself. The Magistrate held a preliminary enquiry under s 476 Criminal Procedure Code before making the order for prosecution, and examined witnesses in the course of that enquiry but made no record of their statements. Held that the provisions of s 460 sub s (1) Criminal Procedure Code were not sufficiently complied with inasmuch as that subsection requires that the evidence should be read over in the presence that is in the hearing of the accused in order that the accused should have an opportunity of correcting any mistake in it. That the deposition was inadmissible and the order for prosecution must be set aside. That the Code of Criminal Procedure does not contain any provision with regard to the manner in which the evidence in an enquiry under s 476 Criminal Procedure Code should be recorded but for future reference the Magistrate should have made a summary of the statements of the witnesses examined. KING EMPEROR v. JOGENDRO NATH GHOSH (1914) I L R 42 Calc 240 18 C W N 1242*

s 362—

See s 342 5 Pat L J 430

See EXCISE OFFICER

I L R 46 Calc 411

Record of evidence recorded by Presidency Magistrate. It is the duty of the Magistrate in a case which comes within

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 362—contd

s 362 Criminal Procedure Code to take a note of all the material facts whether they appear in the course of the examination in chief or in the course of cross examination. AN FOONA CURIA MAY v KING EURENOR (1918) 22 C W N 834

s 364—

See s 14 3 Pat L J 291

See s 140 1 L R 37 Calc 467

See s 342 5 Pat L J 430

Statement made by a co-accused—Refusal of accused to sign record—Indian Penal Code s 159 When the statement of an accused person has been recorded under the provisions of a 361 of the Code of Criminal Procedure and admitted by the accused to be correct the accused is bound to sign the record of such statement, and his refusal to sign it amounts to an offence within the meaning of s 180 of the Indian Penal Code. Imperial v Suresh 1 L R 1 Bom 15 distinguished EURENOR v UMAN INAN (1917) 1 L R 39 All 399

s 365 533—

See EVIDENCE ACT (1 or 1872) s 91
1 L R 35 All 230

s 366 and 367—

See s 19 25 C W N 887

s 367—

See CHARGE TO JURY 1 Pat L J 317

See PRACTICE 1 L R 40 Calc 378

Transfer of a Magistrate who has written but not delivered judgment—Dmynd for a n trial before successor under s 350 of Criminal Procedure Code—Legality of order granting new trial—Successor not bound to pronounce his predecessor's judgment A Magistrate who had tried a case wrote a judgment dated and signed it on the day fixed for judgment. Owing to the absence of one of the accused he did not pronounce it on that day but adjourned the case to a later date. In the meanwhile the Magistrate was transferred to another station and succeeded by another Magistrate before whom all the accused demanded on the adjourned date a de novo trial. On a reference under s 433 Criminal Procedure Code held that the action of the new Magistrate in according a de novo trial under s 360 Criminal Procedure Code was not illegal and that he was not bound to deliver his predecessor's written judgment. Obiter In the absence of a demand for a new trial it would be in the discretion of the successor to date sign and pronounce his predecessor's judgment. Quare Whether it is legal for him to pronounce his predecessor's judgment in the face of a demand for a new trial. In re Santara Pillai 13 Mad L J 197 considered. Pe Saraman Pillai (1918) 1 L R 40 Mad 108

s 367 and 421—Appeal—Appeal summarily dismissed—How far Court bound to record reasons for dismissal A Court of criminal appeal is not bound when dismissing an appeal summarily under s 421 of the Code of Criminal Procedure to write a judgment as defined in s 367 of the Code. It is however advisable that

s 367 and 421—contd.

It should give reasons for rejecting the appeal in view of the possibility of its order being challenged by an application for revision. Queen Empress v Naradhi 1 L R 20 Bom 519 followed. Rash B Kari Das v Daljopal Singh 1 L R 21 Calc 22. Queen Empress v Varman 1 L R 3 All 514. Queen Empress v Nannhi 1 L R 17 All 93. And Queen Empress v Pandoh Bhat 1 L R 19 All 506 referred to. EURENOR v KUDMAN (1914) 1 L R 38 All 496

s 367 418 423—Trial by Jury—Charge to Jury—Record of heads of charge—Misdirection—Appellate Powers of Appellate Court—Nine persons were tried by a jury on a charge of dacoity the case for the prosecution being that the dacoity charged was committed by these nine persons together with the approver. The jury however found a verdict of not guilty in favour of seven out of the nine accused. Held that no conviction for dacoity which implies the participation of five or more persons could be had against the remaining accused. The King v Plumm (1902) 2 K B 339 referred to. In a trial by jury before a Session Court the record of the Judge's charge to the jury ought to show in what manner the law applicable to the case has been explained to the jury. The mere statement that the law was explained is not sufficient. It ought also to show that the evidence relied upon by the defence was properly put before the jury. Emperor v Baiy Nath All W V 1993 p 232 followed. In appeal from the verdict of a jury it is not open to the Appellate Court to substitute its own finding for that of the jury and to convict the accused of the offence of which the jury have acquitted them or of some cognate offence substantiated by the evidence which was before the jury and in this respect an appeal under s 418 of the Code of Criminal Procedure must be distinguished from a reference under s 307. Hafadar Khan v Queen Empress 1 L R 21 Calc 535 referred to. EURENOR v INAN (1917) 1 L R 39 All 248

s 367 424—

See JUDGMENT 1 L R 37 Calc 194

s 367 424—Judgment in appeal Where the reason for upholding a conviction in a judgment in appeal was that the evidence for the prosecution was slightly stronger and the story as regards probability was far more likely. Held that this was not sufficient for a conviction in a criminal case. KABIR ALI v KING EURENOR (1916) 21 C W N 550

s 368 and 369—

See REVIEW (CRIMINAL)

1 L R 48 Calc 60

1 L R 38 Calc 828

Power of High Court to review its own order on the criminal side—Rules of Court Ch VII r 8—Finality of order Held that the High Court has no power to review an order dismissing an application for revision made by an accused person. In the matter of the petition of F W G Bbons 1 L R 14 Calc 42 and Queen Empress v Durga Charan 1 L R 7 All 672 followed. But so long as an order is not assailed as required by the Ch VII

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 368 and 369—contd

r S of the Rules of Court it is not final and it is open to the Judge who passed it to alter it Queen Empress v Lalit Tewari 1 L R 21 All 17 and Emperor v Kallu 1 L R 27 All 92 followed EMPEROR v GORIND SARAI (1915) 1 L R 38 All 134

s 368—

See PREVIEW IN CRIMINAL CASES

1 L R 38 Cal 828

ss 358 488—Final order in proceed- ings for maintenance of wife or child if can be re- viced by Magistrate Proceedings under a 488 Criminal Procedure Code are judicial proceed- ings and the final order or the reasons given for the final order in any such proceeding is in effect a judgment and the principle enunciated in s 369 Criminal Procedure Code applies to judgments passed in proceedings under s 488 Criminal Procedure Code and a Magistrate has no power to review a final order passed in such a proceeding LATDA NARAY NEWAR v MANMATHA KAMINI (1916) 21 C W N 344

Trial completed and sentence passed for offence under s 9 of the Indian Penal Code—Trial continued on another charge under ss 75 and 379 of the Indian Penal Code in the same case—Further trial is bad The accused was com- mitted to a Court of Session on two charges one under s 379 and another under ss 75 and 379 of the Indian Penal Code The trial went on the first charge and ended in conviction and sentence The second charge was next taken up in the same trial and a sentence was passed on the accused again The accused having appealed Held that the subsequent proceedings on the second charge were not valid and should be set aside for when the judgment including the sentence was pronounced in the trial on the first charge there was no power under s 369 of the Criminal Procedure Code to alter or review the same EMPEROR v MARI PARSU (1917) 1 L P 42 Bom 202

s 374—

See PRIVY COUNCIL PRACTICE OF

1 L R 44 Cal 876

Capital sentence— Circumstances to be considered by the High Court in confirming sentence of death—Delay between passing of sentence in the Sessions Court and final orders in the High Court if sufficient ground for not confirming sentence of death Per CANDLER J—As the law stands in India where the alter native sentences of death and transportation are prescribed for murder the fact that the accused had the capital sentences suspended over their heads for nearly six months is a matter for the consideration of the Judge of the High Court who finally disposes of the appeal and he ought not to confirm the sentence of death which might have been rightly passed by the Sessions Judge in the first instance unless he personally thinks that such sentence should be carried out at the time final orders are passed by him and delay such as in the present case is a sufficient reason for refraining from imposing the extreme penalty AUTOR SINGH v EMPEROR (1913) 17 C W N 1213

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 386—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1882) s 69 1 L R 40 Mad 787

s 397—

See s 109 1 L P 34 Bom 328

Sentence of impris- onment whether imprisonment for failure to give security is—Sentence of imprisonment on person already in prison legality of imprisonment under s 123 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898 on account of failure to furnish security for good behaviour is not a sentence of imprison- ment within the meaning of s 397 of the Code When a person is convicted of an offence and sentenced to a term of imprisonment such term cannot under s 397 be made to commence on the expiry of the period for which he has been committed to prison under s 123 MARKANDAR GUNDA v THE KING EMPEROR 1 Pat L J 212 ss 397 123—Sentence—Postponement of sentence—Person undergoing imprisonment for failing to give security—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 379—Theft—Practice and procedure The accused was convicted of an offence of theft and sentenced to suffer rigorous imprisonment for six months At that date he was undergoing imprisonment for failing to give security for good behaviour The Magistrate directed that the sentence passed in the theft case should take effect after the expiry of imprisonment inflicted in the security proceedings Held that the sentence passed in the theft case could not be postponed to the expiry of imprisonment in the security proceedings inasmuch as the latter was not a sentence of imprisonment as used in s 397 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898 Em- peror v Kany 5 Bom L P 26 Emperor v Durga 6 Bom L P 1028 and Emperor v Arjun 1 L R 31 Bom 106 followed EMPEROR v VISHNU BALKRISHNA (1919) 1 L R 37 Bom 178

s 403—

See s 190 2 Pat L J 34

See s 247 1 L R 34 Mad 253
1 L R 40 Mad 976

See s 271 1 L R 41 Cal 1072

See s 345 17 C W N 348

See s 413 1 L R 39 All 233

See ACQUITTAL 1 L R 37 Cal 604

See ABSENCE EXAMINATION OF 1 L R 40 Cal 163

See AUTOREFORS ACQUIR

See DEFAMATION 1 L R 48 Cal 383

See RIOTING 1 L R 46 Cal 78

Previous acquittal plea of—Acquittal of some accused charged with rioting grievous hurt and murder—Liability of others to be tried for the same offences—Prosecution story found to be false as to the grievous hurt and murder An acquittal of some of the accused on charges of rioting armed with deadly weapons grievous hurt and murder is no bar under s 403 of the Criminal Procedure Code to the trial of others concerned in the same case Where the Sessions Judge was of op e original

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 403—contd

trial that the prosecution story as to the manner in which the deceased met his death did not represent the truth and acquitted the accused though he did not disbelieve the fact of a rioting having occurred while one of the As is or believed the whole story. Held that the High Court would not interfere with a pending prosecution against others for the same offence. Asish Das Ghose v King Emperor (1910) 11 All 433 distinguished. HOKAI SARDAR v MEHAR KHAN (1910) 1 L R 37 Cal 650

(1) Autres acquit—

403 (4) scope of—Sanction to prosecute s 190—Indian Penal Code (Act VII of 1860) s 18 and 11 Sanction was obtained by the complainant to prosecute the accused for an offence under s 41 of the Indian Penal Code. Accused was tried and convicted but the conviction was quashed by the High Court in revision on the ground that the accused had not committed an offence under that section but under s 152 Indian Penal Code for which no sanction had been granted. Complainant thereupon obtained sanction to prosecute the accused under s 18 Indian Penal Code. On accused pleading in bar of prosecution s 403 (1) Criminal Procedure Code the Magistrate overruled the objection and his order was confirmed by the Court of Session. Accused petitioned the High Court. Held that the prosecution was barred by s 403 (1) Criminal Procedure Code. Held further that s 403 (4) refers to the character and status of the tribunal when it refers to competency to try an offence and that a sanction under s 190 Criminal Procedure Code is not a condition of the competency of the tribunal but only a condition precedent for the institution of proceeding. In re RANA PATNI BHATTIA (1913) 1 L R 36 Mad 303

Previous acquittal—

Court of competent jurisdiction—Sanction Where the law requires a previous sanction to be given before a charge can be entertained by a Court that Court is not a Court of competent jurisdiction until the sanction has been obtained. In re Samsudin 1 L R Bom 71 followed. The fact therefore that a person has been tried for and acquitted of offences under the Indian Penal Code in respect of certain transactions in connection with the registration of a document is no bar to his trial for an offence under s 8 of the Registration Act arising out of the same transactions. EMERSON v JIWAN (1914) 1 L R 37 All 10ⁿ

Previous acquittal—

Subsequent trial how far barred—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 46 109 471 The accused was tried before a Court of Session for abetment of forgery in relation to a document under ss 467 and 109 of the Indian Penal Code and was acquitted. He was again tried before the Court of Session for using as genuine the same forged document under s 471 of the Indian Penal Code. It was objected that the previous acquittal was a bar to the second trial under s 403 of the Criminal Procedure Code. Held overruling the contention that sub 1 of s 403 of the Criminal Procedure Code did not apply to the case inasmuch as the case was not one contemplated by s 236 that is to say a case where upon the facts proved

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—co ld

s 403—contd

it was doubtful what should be the true view of the offence constituted. Held further that the case fell under subcl (2) of s 403 for the series of acts beginning with the forgery and ending with the use of the forged document in the Civil Court to support the civil claim must be regarded as so connected together as to form the same transaction or carrying through of a single predetermined plan so that under s 236 (1) it would have been competent to try the accused for both offences at the same trial. Held also that the case fell under subcl 4 of s 403 because the Court which acquitted the prisoner on the charge of abetment of forgery was not competent to try the offence under s 471 of the Indian Penal Code inasmuch as at the time of the earlier trial no sanction for the prosecution under s 471 had been given under s 190 of the Criminal Procedure Code. EMERSON v JIWAN BHATTIA (1913) 1 L R 40 Bom 97

Autres acquit—Duty

of Court before which case in bar is taken to decide on evidence. The petitioner charged the opposite party before the Presidency Magistrate of Calcutta with cheating and criminal breach of trust. The preliminary objection was taken that the accused had been tried on the same facts in the Court at Burdwan and acquitted. The Magistrate on hearing both parties and looking into the papers of the previous trial discharged the accused holding that no further trial could go on. Held that whether the facts in the present case were the same as those in the previous case has to be determined after hearing the evidence and ascertaining what the facts are in this case and what were the facts found in the previous case. The case was sent back to the Magistrate for due enquiry. M V MEKHENJI v MATANOR CHARAN LALIT (1913) 23 C W N 539

Autres acquit—as to bar must be based on investigation of facts. A Court ought not to decide that a charge pending trial before him is barred under s 403 of the Criminal Procedure Code without an investigation of the facts put forward on behalf of the complainant. PADMA KISHEN CORNER v FATEH CHAND BORAH (1913) 23 C W N 543

Discharge of complaint

by one Magistrate whether fresh complaint can be entertained by another Magistrate. There is nothing in the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 to prevent a Magistrate from entertaining a second complaint after an order of discharge by another Magistrate. BIROO KING v KING EMERSON 2 Pat L J 34

Autres acquit—

Legality of trial person previously acquitted for offence for which a separate charge might have been framed in the former trial—Indian Penal Code (Act VII of 1860) ss 57 79 and 147 The petitioners who were police constables were convicted of rioting in the course of which they took several persons in custody. Two of the petitioners were previously tried on a charge under s 342 I P C in respect of the arrests made by them and were acquitted. Held that the present trial of these two petitioners for rioting was not vitiated by contravention of the rule embodied in section 7 sub s (1) Cr P C. The case was covered by sub s (2) which provides that a person ac

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

— s 403—contd

quitted or convicted of any offence may to after wards tried for any distinct offence for which a separate charge might have been made against him on the former trial under s 235 (1) Cr P C Held on a consideration of the circumstances of the case that the petitioners were not entitled to the benefit of s 403 Cr P C PAN SAHAY PAN v KING EMPEROR 24 C W N 763

Intersais acquit The petitioner were tried on charges of kidnapping a minor girl and rioting with the common object of kidnapping the girl. The trying Magistrate acquitted them of the said charges but convicted them of being members of an unlawful assembly with the common object of causing a riot and wrong full restraint. In appeal the Sessions Judge set aside the conviction and ordered a retrial on charges of abducting the girl in order to confine her secretly and of rioting with that common object. Held that retrial on the charges mentioned was barred by s 403 Cr P C KALANATH BARNAN v KING EMPEROR 24 C W N 856

— ss 403 423 439—Previous acquittal or a charge of causing simple hurt—Subsequent death of person injured—Commitment of the persons acquitted of the minor offence under s 44 of the Penal Code—Revision S and R were charged with causing simple hurt to K. The case was compounded and both the accused were acquitted. A later on died of the injury caused by S and R. The Magistrate thereupon sent up P for trial before the Sessions under s 304 and discharged S as he found that the injury caused by him did not in any way contribute to K's death. The Sessions Judge directed the Magistrate to commit S also and he was committed accordingly. Held that there was no legal bar to the trial of S under s 304 of the Indian Penal and to his conviction under that section if the evidence enabled the Court to apply either s 34 or 114 of the Penal Code to the case. A commitment can only be set aside on a point of law and as no such point arose in this case High Court did not interfere. EMPEROR v SAILANI (1913) 1 L R 36 All 4

— s 406—

See s 110 25 C W N 393

See APPEAL 1 L R 48 Calc 874

— s 407—Sanction to prosecute—Appl to Magistrate of the first class—Appeal to District Magistrate—Transfer—Jurisdiction S 407 of the Criminal Procedure Code does not entitle a District Magistrate to send appeals under s 190 of that Code to a Magistrate of the first class subordinate to him. That section deals with appeals from convictions. Sadhu Lal v Ram Churn Pasi 1 L R 30 Calc 304 followed. EMPEROR v LAL SINGH (1911) 1 L R 34 All 244

— s 408—

See s 35 3 Pat L J 138

See s 413 1 L R 40 Mad 591

See SENTENCE 1 L R 38 Calc 214

Assistant Sessions Judge—One accused sentenced to imprisonment for more than four years—Others to a lesser period—Appeal When an Assistant Sessions Judge sentences one of several accused to more than four years or to rigorous imprisonment and others to less or terms the appeals of all lie to the High Court even though the accused who is sentenced to more than four years does not appeal. EMPEROR v HAR DAYAL (1915)

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

— s 408—contd

1 L R 37 All 471

— ss 408 413—One of several co accused in the same trial sentenced to one month's imprisonment others to a longer period—Appeal Held that the right of appeal exercisable by a person who has received an appealable sentence carries with it a right of appeal also by any other person convicted at the same trial even though that particular person may have received a sentence which if it stood alone would not have been appealable. EMPEROR v LAL SINGH (1916)

1 L R 38 All 395

— ss 408 413 and 439—Joint trial of several accused—one only awarded appealable sentence—whether Appellate Court may deal with case of all accused—Revision power of High Court—Construction of Statutes K and L others were jointly tried for theft and were all convicted. A was awarded an appealable sentence and the other 14 were awarded non appealable sentence. A appealed to the Sessions Judge who disbelieved the story of the theft and acquitted all the accused. In revision the High Court went into the merits of the case of all the accused and affirmed the finding of the Sessions Judge. Per ATKINSON J (JWALA PRASAD J dissentiente)—If two or more persons are tried jointly and some are convicted and awarded non appealable sentences and others are convicted and awarded appealable sentences and the latter alone appeal the Appellate Court is not entitled in that appeal to deal with the cases of those who have been awarded a non appealable sentence. ATKINSON J—S 408 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 must be read and construed subject to the limitations and qualifications expressed in s 413. Per JWALA PRASAD J—S 413 controls s 408 only in cases in which there is no sentence upon any convicted person above the limit prescribed by s 413 so that if any of the persons convicted in the same case has received a punishment above that limit the right of appeal given in s 408 enables a person to appeal whose sentence is otherwise unappealable. Per ATKINSON J—The word cases in s 413 applies to all cases whether they be summons cases warrant cases or trial cases. The word is used in its widest and most extensive sense to cover the trial of all cases in respect of which an accused person may be convicted. Per JWALA PRASAD J—The High Court has power in a proper case to set aside the conviction and sentence passed on an accused person who has not appealed while considering the case of the co accused who did appeal and the High Court has a similar power in considering an appeal by the complainant. Per JWALA PRASAD J—The Court has no power in interpreting a section to add words to the section which the Legislature has omitted especially when the addition of the words would curtail an undoubted and substantial right given by the statute in clear and unambiguous terms such as the right of appeal given by s 408 of the Code. It is consonant with the rules of construction of a statute that the inter

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*ss 408 413 and 439—contd

pretation favourable to the right expressly conferred upon a subject should be accepted and acted upon as being the true intention and meaning of the Legislature INERT JHA : THE KING EMPEROR 4 Pat L J 435

ss 408 415—Appeal—Sentence

Where certain persons were tried by a Magistrate of the first class convicted of an offence under s 32, Indian Penal Code and sentenced to a day's imprisonment and a fine of fifty rupees. Held that the circumstances that the accused were in fact neither sent to jail nor actually imprisoned would not prevent their being entitled to appeal to the Sessions Judge. EMPEROR v ALAM (1911) I L R 33 All 510

s 409—

See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE.

4 Pat L J 373

s 410—

See EXCISE I L R 41 Calc 694

s 413—

See s 408 4 Pat L J 435

See APPEAL I L R 40 Calc 631

Concurrent sentences—Two sentences of one month running concurrently.—Appeal Where the accused were convicted on two separate charges and sentenced to one month's rigorous imprisonment on each of the charges by a first class Magistrate the sentences to run concurrently. Held that an appeal lay to the Sessions Court. BRUN BEHARY DEY : THE EMPEROR (1911) 15 C W N 724

Practice—Sentence—Magistrate passing non appealable sentence—Adding to sentence to make it appealable—Appeal to Sessions Judge—The Sessions Judge to entertain the appeal and to decide it on merits The Magistrate trying a case passed at first a non appealable sentence on the accused but at the request of the accused made an addition to the sentence passed so as to make it appealable When the accused appealed to the Sessions Judge his appeal was dismissed on the ground that no appeal lay inasmuch as the sentence first passed by the Magistrate was not appealable and the addition to the sentence could not be made legally. In revision. Held that the Sessions Judge had committed an error in holding that he had no jurisdiction to hear the appeal for though the Magistrate had no jurisdiction to alter the sentence once passed by him yet for the purposes of the Sessions Judge's jurisdiction so far as the appeal was concerned that was the very mistake which he was called upon to correct by way of appeal When the appeal was heard again by the Sessions Judge he struck out the addition made by the Magistrate in the sentence and having done that dismissed the appeal on the ground that the sentence appealed from was not appealable. In revision. Held that when the Magistrate had passed a sentence beyond one month an appeal lay to the Sessions Judge under s 413 of the Criminal Procedure Code whether that sentence was passed legally or illegally. Held also that the Sessions Judge being once seized of the appeal the whole appeal became open to his Court even

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*s 413—contd

on merits. EMPEROR v KESHAY LAL VIRCHAND (1911) I L R 35 Bom 418

*Appeal—Concurrent sentences aggregating to more than one month by a Magistrate of the first class—Whether appeal lies for the purpose of appeal concurrent sentences passed by the trying Magistrate on an accused must be taken in the aggregate The petitioner and others were found guilty by a Magistrate of the first class under ss 143 and 365 read with s 114 Penal Code and each of them was sentenced to one month's rigorous imprisonment under each of the sections the sentences to run concurrently. Held that an appeal lay to the Court of Sessions. ABDUL KHALEK : THE KING EMPEROR (1912) 17 C W N 72*

*Appeal—One of two co-accused given a non appealable the other on appealable sentence—Indian Registration Act (XVI of 1908) s 83—Permission—Criminal Procedure Code s 403—Previous convictions. Held that a person who has received a non appealable sentence does not derive any right of appeal from the fact that a co-accused tried jointly with him has received a sentence which is appealable. EMPEROR v Lal Singh I L R 35 All 305 and Shopal v King Emperor 15 Oudh Cases 356 dissented from. Peg v Kalubhai Meghabhai " Bom H C Rep (Crown Cases) 35 and Aiyar v Venkatarishnayya 31 Mad L J 53 followed. Held also that according to s 63 of the Indian Registration Act 1908 all that is required for the institution of a prosecution under the Act is the permission of the Registration officer. This is not the same as a sanction which word has received a technical meaning owing to its use in Chap VI of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Held further that where a conviction and sentence are set aside merely for want of jurisdiction this does not bar a fresh trial on the same facts. EMPEROR v HUSAIN KHAN (1918) I L R 39 All 293*

ss 413 408—Joint trial of several accused—Appealable sentence on some and non appealable sentence on others—No right of appeal for the latter—S 403 of Criminal Procedure Code no guide to the interpretation of s 413 of Criminal Procedure Code s 413 of Criminal Procedure Code prohibit an appeal by a person against whom a non appealable sentence has been passed even though appealable sentences have been passed against others jointly tried with him. Though for convenience a joint trial of several accused persons under certain circumstances is allowed on conviction each accused must be deemed to have been convicted in a separate case of his own for the purposes of s 413 of Criminal Procedure Code. The analogy of s 408 Criminal Procedure Code cannot be extended to s 413 of Criminal Procedure Code. PROCTOR J a view in Emperor v Lal Singh I L R 35 All 395 not followed. Palani Karayan v Emperor 17 Mad L J 243 distinguished. Reg v Muljibhai & Bom H C R 24 (Cr C) and Reg v Kalubhai Meghabhai " Bom H C R 36 (Cr C) referred to. It does not follow as a matter of course that because some of the accused tried along with others are acquitted on the merits on appeal by them others should necessarily

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*ss 413, 408—contd

Have the benefit of the finding of the Appellate Court. Citation of the rulings of the Chief Court of Burma disallowed VENKATAPISHUNAYYA Re (1916) I L R 40 Mad. 591

s 41—

See CHARGE I L R 42 Calc 957

See PUBLIC PROSECUTOR

I L R 41 Calc 425

I L R 46 Calc 544

See STATUTE 24 & 25 VICT C 101 ss 1

AND 2 I L R 38 All 168

Appeal from an acquittal—Distinction if any between such appeal and appeal from conviction with regard to consideration of evidence.—General rule applicable to criminal cases.—Appellate Court's duty to give due weight to decision of lower Court. An appeal from an acquittal does not stand on a different footing with regard to the consideration of evidence to an appeal from a conviction. No distinction is drawn in the Code of Criminal Procedure between an appeal from an acquittal and an appeal from a conviction. There are no special rules for dealing with the evidence in an appeal from an acquittal which it is expressly provided in the Code may lie on a question of fact. Due weight must of course be given to the decision of the Court below and the reasons advanced for that decision. Only one broad rule can be laid down with regard to the consideration of evidence in all criminal cases and that is that the innocence of the accused person must be presumed and the burden lies upon the prosecution of completely rebutting that presumption. If after the consideration of the whole evidence any doubt is felt by the Court as to the guilt of any accused person he is entitled to the benefit of that doubt and the verdict must be in his favour. DEPUTY I KHAL PRINCEBANDER BIRAD AND ORS v MATEE DABRI SINGH (1916) 20 C W N 128

ss 417 435 438—

See ACQUITTAL I L R 44 Calc 703

ss 418 to 423—

See s 367 I L R 39 All 348

s 421—

See s 367 I L R 38 All 496

See APPEAL I L R 38 Calc 307

I L R 41 Calc 406

Appeal—summary dismissal. In dealing with an appeal under a 421 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 the Appellate Court should give some reason for dismissing the appeal summarily although not required by law to write a judgment. GUBERNAT BEHARA v THE KING EMPEROR 2 Pat L J 695

ss 421 423—

See APPEAL I L R 41 Calc 406

ss 421 233 537—Criminal appeal—presentation of to an officer of the Court or to one of the Judges.—Appellate Side Rules P I (1) (f)—Divisional Court for the disposal of criminal business powers of to admit criminal appeals when Admission Court is sitting.—Notes to the Weekly Sitting List.—Charter Act (24 & 25 VICT Cap 104)

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*ss 421 233 537—contd

ss 13 and 14—Joint trial of two separate calendar cases—Offences distinct—Illegality not cured by s 537 Criminal Procedure Code—Retrial if acquittal wrong. When a case of acquittal taken up by the High Court in the exercise of its powers of revision was under the consideration of a Bench notice was issued to the Public Prosecutor to appear at the further hearing of the revision and also to inform the Court whether Government intended to appeal against the acquittal. He appeared and handed in the appeals by the Government to the learned Judges who perused them and ordered notice forthwith. On that date an Admission Court constituted by a single Judge was sitting. Held that there was a valid presentation of the appeals. The fact that a single Judge sitting in the Admission Court is entrusted with the duty of admitting criminal appeals does not deprive the Divisional Court constituted for the disposal of criminal business of the right to exercise its power of admitting criminal appeals. It is by reference to the rules made by the High Court that the respective powers of Judges sitting alone and of Divisional Courts must be ascertained and not by reference to the notes to the Sittings List which are merely instructions for the guidance of practitioners. Under s 13 of the Charter Act rules for the exercise of the High Court's appellate jurisdiction by one or more Judges or by Divisional Courts can be made only by such High Court the powers of the Chief Justice being only those conferred by s 14 to determine which Judge shall sit alone and which in Divisional Courts. Per OLDFIELD J—As regards presentation no special method is enjoined in the Code of Criminal Procedure and therefore the question is one of administrative convenience alone. So long as there is an actual presentation to an officer of the Court such as a Bench Clerk or to one of the Judges its members the presentation is not invalid. Where on the presentation of a single complaint against the accused containing all the allegations necessary for the establishment of two cases those allegations being shortly that accused had cheated the Bank of Madras in connection with certain bills of exchange and also by a false representation contained in a document as to the amount of his assets the Magistrate after recording the prosecution evidence continuously without discriminating between that which was relevant on each of the two charges framed separate charges and also numbered them as different calendar cases but when the witnesses came to be cross examined he lost sight of the necessity for keeping the two trials separate and allowed the witnesses to be cross examined promiscuously in respect of both the charges. Held that the joint trial of the two cases was illegal inasmuch as it contravened the provisions of a 233 Criminal Procedure Code and that the legality could not be cured by s 537 Criminal Procedure Code. Subramania Ayyar v King Emperor I L R 25 Mad 61 followed. Where in an appeal preferred by the High Court against the acquittal of an accused after an illegal trial the Court is of opinion that the acquittal is wrong on the merits the accused cannot be convicted and sentenced by the High Court the only course open is to order that the accused be tried a second time. Per NAZIR J—The decision of the Privy

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 408 413 and 439—contd

pretation favourable to the right expressly conferred upon a subject should be accepted and acted upon as being the true intention and meaning of the Legislature INRU JHA v THE KING EMPEROR 4 Pat L J 435

ss 408 415—Appeal—Sentence
Where certain persons were tried by a Magistrate of the first class convicted of an offence under s 325 Indian Penal Code and sentenced to a day's imprisonment and a fine of fifty rupees. Held that the circumstances that the accused were in fact neither sent to jail nor actually imprisoned would not prevent their being entitled to appeal to the Sessions Judge EMPEROR v ALAM (1911) 1 L R 33 All 510

s 409—

See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE

4 Pat L J 374

s 410—

See FINE I L R 41 Cal 694

s 413—

See s 408 4 Pat L J 435

See APPEAL 1 L R 40 Cal 631

Concurrent sentences—Two sentences of one month running concurrently—Appeal Where the accused were convicted on two separate charges and sentenced to one month's rigorous imprisonment on each of the charges by a first class Magistrate the sentences to run concurrently. Held that an appeal lay to the Sessions Court OFFICER BRINARY DE v THE EMPEROR (1911) 15 C W N 734

Practice—Sentence—If a Magistrate passing non appealable sentence—Adding to sentence to make it appealable—Appeal to Sessions Judge—The Sessions Judge to entertain the appeal and to decide it on merits The Magistrate trying a case passed at first a non appealable sentence on the accused but at the request of the accused made an addition to the sentence passed so as to make it appealable When the accused appealed to the Sessions Judge his appeal was dismissed on the ground that no appeal lay inasmuch as the sentence first passed by the Magistrate was not appealable and the addition to the sentence could not be made legally In revision Held that the Sessions Judge had committed an error in holding that he had no jurisdiction to hear the appeal for though the Magistrate had no jurisdiction to alter the sentence once passed by him yet for the purposes of the Sessions Judge's jurisdiction so far as the appeal was concerned that was the very mistake which he was called upon to correct by way of appeal When the appeal was heard again by the Sessions Judge he struck out the addition made by the Magistrate in the sentence and having done that dismissed the appeal on the ground that the sentence appealed from was not appealable In revision Held that when the Magistrate had passed a sentence beyond one month an appeal lay to the Sessions Judge under s 413 of the Criminal Procedure Code whether that sentence was passed legally or illegally Held also that the Sessions Judge being once seized of the appeal the whole appeal became open to his Court even

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 413—contd

on merits EMPEROR v HESHAYAL VECHAN (1911) 1 L R 35 Bom 418

Appeal—Concurrent sentences aggregating to more than one month by a Magistrate of the first class—Whether appeal lies For the purpose of appeal concurrent sentences passed by the trying Magistrate on an accused must be taken in the aggregate The petitioner and others were found guilty by a Magistrate of the first class under ss 143 and 360 read with s 114 Penal Code and each of them was sentenced to one month's rigorous imprisonment under each of the sections the sentences to run concurrently. Held that an appeal lay to the Court of Sessions ABDEL KHALIK v THE KING EMPEROR (1912) 1 C W N 72

Appeal—One of two co-accused given a non-appealable the other an appealable sentence—Indian Registration Act (VI of 1908) s 83—Permission—Criminal Procedure Code s 403—Previous convictions Held that a person who has received a non appealable sentence does not derive any right of appeal from the fact that a co-accused tried jointly with him has received a sentence which is appealable EMPEROR v Lal Singh 1 L R 38 All 395 and Shkopai v King Emperor 15 Oudh Cases 386 dissented from Peg v Kalubhai Meghabhai 7 Bom H C Rep (Crown Cases) 35 and Agar v Venkatarushrayya 31 Mad L J 537 followed Held also that according to s 83 of the Indian Registration Act 1908 all that is required for the institution of a prosecution under the Act is the permission of the Registration officer This is not the same as a sanction which word has received a technical meaning owing to its use in Chap VI of the Code of Criminal Procedure Held further that where a conviction and sentence are set aside merely for want of jurisdiction this does not bar a fresh trial on the same facts EMPEROR v HUSAIN KHAN (1916) 1 L R 39 All 293

ss 413 408—Joint trial of several accused—Appealable sentence on some and non appealable sentence on others—No right of appeal for the latter—S 403 of Criminal Procedure Code no guide to the interpretation of s 413 of Criminal Procedure Code S 413 of Criminal Procedure Code prohibits an appeal by a person against whom a non appealable sentence has been passed even though appealable sentences have been passed against others jointly tried with him Though for convenience a joint trial of several accused persons under certain circumstances is allowed on conviction each accused must be deemed to have been convicted in a separate case of his own for the purposes of s 413 of Criminal Procedure Code The analogy of s 408 Criminal Procedure Code cannot be extended to s 413 of Criminal Procedure Code POGOR J a view in Emperor v Lal Singh 1 L R 35 All 395 not followed Palani Koran v Emperor 17 Mad L J 248 distinguished Reg v Muthya Nana 5 Bom H C F 24 (Cr C) and Peg v Kalubhai Meghabhai 7 Bom H C P 35 (Cr C) referred to It does not follow as a matter of course that because some of the accused tried along with others are acquitted on the merits on appeal by them others should necessarily

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

— ss 413, 408—contd

have the benefit of the finding of the Appellate Court. Citation of the rulings of the Chief Court of Burma disallowed VENKATKRISHNAIA Re (1916) I L R 40 Mysd. 591

— s 41—

See CHARGE I L R 42 Calc 957

See PUBLIC PROSECUTOR

I L R 41 Calc 425

I L R 48 Calc 544

See STATUTE 24 & 25 VICT C 104 ss 1

AND 2 I L R 38 AU 169

*Appeal from an acquittal—Distinction if any between such appeal and appeal from conviction with regard to consideration of evidence—General rule applicable to criminal cases—Appellate Court's duty to give due weight to decision of lower Court. An appeal from an acquittal does not stand on a different footing with regard to the consideration of evidence to an appeal from a conviction. No distinction is drawn in the Code of Criminal Procedure between an appeal from an acquittal and an appeal from a conviction. There are no special rules for dealing with the evidence in an appeal from an acquittal which it is expressly provided in the Code may be on a question of fact. Due weight must of course be given to the decision of the Court below and the reasons advanced for that decision. Only one broad rule can be laid down with regard to the consideration of evidence in all criminal cases and that is that the innocence of the accused person must be presumed and the burden lies upon the prosecution of completely rebutting that presumption. If after the consideration of the whole evidence any doubt is felt by the Court as to the guilt of any accused person he is entitled to the benefit of that doubt and the verdict must be in his favour. DEPUTY LEGAL PENDEMBANCHI BHAR AND OJISA v MATUK DHARI SINGH (1915) 20 C W N 128*

— ss 417 435 438—

See ACQUITTAL I L R 44 Calc 703

— ss 418 to 423—

See s 367 I L R 39 AU 348

— s 421—

See s 367 I L R 38 AU 496

See APPEAL I L R 38 Calc 307

I L R 41 Calc 406

*Appeal—summary dismissal. In dealing with an appeal under s 421 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 the Appellate Court should give some reason for dismissing the appeal summarily although not required by law to write a judgment. GURUBHAI BEHARA v THE KING EMPEROR 2 Pat L J 695*

— ss 421 423—

See APPEAL I L R 41 Calc 406

— ss 421 233 537—Criminal appeal—presentation of to an officer of the Court or to one of the Judges—Appellate Side Rules R 1 (1) (f)—Divisional Court for the disposal of criminal business powers of to admit criminal appeals when Admission Court is sitting—Notes to the Bench Sitting List—Charter Act (24 & 25 VICT Cap 104

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

— ss 421, 233 537—contd

*ss 13 and 14—Joint trial of two separate calendar cases—Offences distinct—Illegality not cured by a 537 Criminal Procedure Code—Retrial if acquittal wrong. When a case of acquittal taken up by the High Court in the exercise of its powers of revision was under the consideration of a Bench notice was issued to the Public Prosecutor to appear at the further hearing of the revision and also to inform the Court whether Government intended to appeal against the acquittal. He appeared and handed in the appeals by the Government to the learned Judges who perused them and ordered notice forthwith. On that date an Admission Court constituted by a single Judge was sitting. Held that there was a valid presentation of the appeals. The fact that a single Judge sitting in the Admission Court is entrusted with the duty of admitting criminal appeals does not deprive the Divisional Court constituted for the disposal of criminal business of the right to exercise its power of admitting criminal appeals. It is by reference to the rules made by the High Court that the respective powers of Judges sitting alone and of Divisional Courts must be ascertained and not by reference to the notes to the Sitting List which are merely instructions for the guidance of practitioners. Under s 13 of the Charter Act rules for the exercise of the High Court's appellate jurisdiction by one or more Judges or by Divisional Courts can be made only by such High Court. The powers of the Chief Justice being only those conferred by s 14 to determine which Judge shall sit alone and which in Divisional Courts. PER OLDFIELD J—As regards presentation no special method is enjoined in the Code of Criminal Procedure and therefore the question is one of administrative convenience alone. So long as there is an actual presentation to an officer of the Court such as a Bench Clerk or to one of the Judges its members the presentation is not invalid. Where on the presentation of a single complaint against the accused containing all the allegations necessary for the establishment of two cases those allegations being shortly that accused had cheated the Bank of Madras in connection with certain bills of exchange and also by a false representation contained in a document as to the amount of his assets the Magistrate after recording the prosecution evidence continuously without discriminating between that which was relevant on each of these two charges framed separate charges and also numbered them as different calendar cases but when the witnesses came to be cross examined he lost sight of the necessity for keeping the two trials separate and allowed the witnesses to be cross examined promiscuously in respect of both the charges. Held that the joint trial of the two cases was illegal inasmuch as it contravened the provisions of s 233 Criminal Procedure Code and that the legality could not be cured by s 537 Criminal Procedure Code. Subramania Ayyar v King Emperor I L R 25 Mad 61 followed. Where in an appeal preferred by the High Court against the acquittal of an accused after an illegal trial the Court is of opinion that the acquittal is wrong on the merits the accused cannot be convicted and sentenced by the High Court the only course open is to order that the accused be tried a second time. PER NAIR J—The decision of the Privy*

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—cont'd

ss 421, 233 537—cont'd

Council in Subramania Iyyar v King Emperor I L R 25 Mad 61 does not compel the Court to hold that in no case can a misjoinder of charges or a failure to try charges separately be an irregularity within the meaning of s 337 Criminal Procedure Code. The Public Prosecutor v Kapini Koya (1916) I L R 39 Mad 527

s 422—

See APPEAL I L R 41 Cal 408

ss 422 423—

See s 439 I L R 39 Mad 505

s 423—

See s 237 I L R 33 Mad 214

See s 250 I L R 38 Mad 1011

See s 403 I L R 39 All 4

See s 421 I L R 39 Mad 527

See APPEAL I L R 32 Cal 774

I L R 4 Cal 478

See APPELLATE COURT I L R 32 Cal 293

See APPELLATIONS I L R 40 Cal 103

See CRIMINAL TRIALS I L R 43 Cal 1143

See DECISION I L R 41 Cal 350

See DEPOSITIONS I L R 45 Cal 895

See EVIDENCE ACT s 187 14 C W N 493

See JURY, TRIAL BY I L R 48 Cal 635

See RISTING I L R 39 Cal 696

See TRADING WITH THE ENEMY I L R 42 Cal 1094

Appeal—Power of

Appellate Court to alter finding of acquittal into one of conviction. An Appellate Court can under s 423 of the Criminal Procedure Code in an appeal from a conviction alter the finding of the lower Court and find the appellant guilty of an offence of which the lower Court has declined to convict him. Queen Empress v Jabannilla I L R 23 Cal 975 followed. Emperor v Bardar (1911) I L R 34 All 115

Sentence—Alteration

of sentence whether amounting to an enhancement or not. A Magistrate on a conviction under s 379 of the Indian Penal Code sentenced the accused to one month's rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs 5 each and in case of a default in payment of the fine to one week's further imprisonment. The District Magistrate on appeal by the accused altered the sentence to one of three days imprisonment and a fine of Rs 100 and in default of payment of fine to a further imprisonment of one month. Held that in the absence of any evidence that the accused were unable to pay the fine or regarded the sentence passed on appeal as more severe than the original sentence it could not be said that the sentence had been enhanced. Queen Empress v Chagan Jagannath I L R 23 Bom 439 and Balkhatsulu Naidu v Emperor I L R 39 Mad 103 doubted. Fakhal Raja v Akrode

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—cont'd

s 423—cont'd

Pershad Dutt I L R 27 Cal 175 approved. Emperor v Menan Chav (1914) I L R 35 All 485

Honorary Magistrates

Judgment of Bench signed by one member only. Appeal—Order returning judgment to be signed by the other member of the Bench which had heard the case. A District Magistrate on an appeal from the decision of a Bench of Honorary Magistrates found that although the case had apparently been heard by a Bench of two Magistrates the judgment was signed by only one member of the Bench and accordingly returned the judgment to be signed by the other Magistrate who had heard the case. Held that this procedure was in no way opposed to s 423 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Emperor v Goril Das (1918) I L R 41 All 217

Alteration of finding under Penal Code (Act XL of 1860) s 325—Conviction under may be altered to conviction under s 144—Appellate Court power of. Under s 423 (b) (2) Criminal Procedure Code the Appellate Court may alter the finding maintaining the sentence and there is nothing to restrict the finding which may be altered to a finding of conviction. A conviction under s 325 Indian Penal Code may be altered by the Appellate Court into a conviction under s 147 Indian Penal Code. The sentence under s 325 being maintained. Abdus Messer v Lathim Varan I L R 2 Cal 506 distinguished. Appanna v Pithani Naza Lakshmi (1910) I L R 34 Mad 543

Power of Appellate

Court to alter finding of acquittal to a finding of conviction—Penal Code (Act XL of 1860) ss 14, 353 and 355. Under s 433 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 an Appellate Court has power to alter a finding of acquittal to a conviction either on a point of law or on a point of fact. Where the accused were charged with the offence of being members of an unlawful assembly with the common object of resisting arrest and the trial Court acquitted them on this charge and convicted them under s 323 of the Penal Code. Held that the Appellate Court having found that one of the common objects of the assembly was to resist arrest was entitled to alter the conviction to one of rioting with the said common object. Managau Singh v And Emperor B Pat L J 565 ss 423 and 428—Order setting aside conviction and ordering trying Magistrate to retry the case. take additional evidence and decide the case on both original and additional evidence. Legality of Sub Divisional Magistrate convicted the petitioners of offences under the Indian Penal Code ss 147 and 146. The Sessions Judge on appeal sent the case back for further evidence to be recorded with a direction to the Magistrate to record a fresh decision on the evidence already recorded and on the additional evidence. By his order the Sessions Judge set aside the conviction and sentence and ordered a retrial from the point at which the additional evidence should have been taken. After taking the additional evidence the Magistrate again convicted the petitioners who again appealed. By this time the Sessions Judge who heard the first appeal had been

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 423 and 428—contd

ss decided by another. At the request of both parties the Appellate Court disregarded the additional evidence and decided the case on the original evidence. He upheld the convictions. Held per CHAMBER C J that even if the first Sessions Judge's order was not merely irregular but illegal it was not necessary for the High Court to order a new trial by the Magistrate. Ordinarily the proper course would have been to set aside all the proceedings subsequent to the alleged illegal order and to require the Sessions Judge to record a fresh judgment on the evidence originally recorded or send the case to another Sessions Judge for that purpose. But as both sides had asked the Sessions Judge to disregard the additional evidence and as the Sessions Judge had already recorded his finding on the original evidence it was unnecessary to return the case to him in order that he might record a fresh judgment. Held per JWALA LHASAD J that the Sessions Judge's order setting aside the convictions and sentences ordering a retrial of the accused and directing the Magistrate to take additional evidence was wholly illegal. Held further however that under the circumstances of the case the accused had not been prejudiced. GAJAYAND THAKUR v KING EMPEROR 1 Pat L J 99

ss 423 439—

See 403 I L R 36 All 4

See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT

I L R 38 Cal 786

High Court power of to alter finding of acquittal into conviction and enhance sentence in Revision—Penal Code (A) I L R of 1890 s 300 explained. S 423 cl (b) Criminal Procedure Code 1898 gives power to the High Court when hearing an appeal against a conviction to alter the finding and s 439 gives power to enhance the sentence so as to make it appropriate to the altered finding. S 439 sub a (f) which enacts that nothing in this section shall be deemed to authorise a High Court to convert a finding of acquittal into one of conviction must be construed as referring to cases where the trial has ended in a complete acquittal. Any other construction would be inconsistent with the power to alter the finding given to the Court as a Court of Revision by virtue of its power to exercise the power conferred on a Court of Appeal by s 423 cl (b). In this view the High Court having in revision altered a finding of rioting into one of murder enhanced the sentences from five years rigorous imprisonment to transportation for life. In the course of a riot the accused attacked and killed a man with dangerous weapons. Held that the acts of the accused having caused the death of the man and there being nothing to suggest that they were not sufficient to cause death as their ordinary and natural result in the absence of proof of circumstances sufficient to give the accused the benefit of any of the exceptions to s 300 of the Penal Code they must be taken to have intended to kill the man and are guilty of murder. BALI PABU R 1 L R 37 Mad, 119

ss 424—

See s 367 21 C W N 550

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 424—contd

See JUDGMENT OF APPELLATE COURT

1 L R 37 Cal 194

See PRACTICE 1 L R 40 Cal 376

ss 424 367—Appellate judgment what should be. The petitioners were convicted all under ss 147 and 342 Indian Penal Code and some also under s 354 and some under s 458 Indian Penal Code. The convictions were affirmed in appeal by the Sessions Judge. Held that there ought to be sufficient materials in the appellate judgment itself to enable the High Court to form a conclusion as to the propriety of the conviction of each of the accused having regard to the various offences with which he was charged and to enable it to come to a conclusion as to the correctness of the sentence which has been passed upon each of the accused having regard to the nature of the offence with which each of the accused was charged. The High Court directed a rehearing of the appeal by the same Sessions Judge. ARINDRA RAJBUKSHI v KING EMPEROR (1916) 20 C W N 1296

s 425—

See s 196 1 L R 42 Mad 885

See s 473 1 Pat L J 89

See EVIDENCE ACT s 21

1 L R 36 Mad 457

Retrial power of High Court to order after obtaining additional evidence—Government of India Act (w and 6 Geo V c 61) s 107—Witnesses duty of Court to secure attendance of—Petitions filed by parties duty of Court to pass order on. The High Court has power to direct the Sessions Judge to rehear an appeal after obtaining additional evidence. It is the duty of the Court when processes have once been issued for the attendance of witnesses to exhaust all the powers allowed by law to enforce their attendance unless the party citing such witnesses can be shown to have been guilty of wilful obstruction and delay. Where the accused repeatedly requested that certain persons should be summoned as witnesses and the Court twice issued process without securing their attendance. Held that the fact that the accused had failed to deposit the travelling and diet expenses of the witnesses did not excuse the Court from its duty to secure their attendance as the accused had never been requested to deposit the sum necessary for the expenses. MAHOMED ZAHIRUDDIN v KING EMPEROR 3 Pat L J 632

s 429—

See PRINTING PRESS

1 L R 38 Cal 203

ss 429 439—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION (18)

1 L R 39 Mad 750

s 432—Reference under—Indian Electricity Act (IX of 1910) s 33 scope of—Every person meaning of. The words every person in s 33 of the Indian Electricity Act is not confined to persons licensed under Parts II and III of the Act. S 33 of the Act is not confined to cases in which the accident actually results in personal injury but also extends to cases

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 439 258—Order of acquittal set aside by High Court in revision on merits on the application of the complainant Where the trying Magistrate in his judgment by which he acquitted the accused while laying great stress on all considerations that might affect the credibility of the witnesses for the prosecution omitted to consider what might be advanced in their favour and also failed to appreciate the corroborative value of an important witness for the prosecution the High Court on the application of the complainant set aside the order of acquittal on the merits and directed a re trial by a new Magistrate. SHANKH BAGU v. RAJIA SINGH (1914) ss 429 422 423—Order of acquittal Revision petition to the High Court by private parties—Power of High Court to interfere—Interference in what cases—Service of notice of appeal on District Magistrate—Omission of service effect of—Irregularity The High Court has power to interfere in revision against an order of acquittal on the application of private parties but will do so only when it considers that interference is urgently demanded in the interest of public justice. The High Court will not interfere with an order of acquittal where the question is one as to the appreciation of evidence or where there is no patent error or defect in the order which has resulted in grave injustice. Mere omission to serve notice of appeal on the District Magistrate under ss 422 and 423 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is only an irregularity and will not render the proceedings ab initio void. VELLA SANKRATHAN v. SOLAI SERRAI (1913)

18 C W N 1244

I L R 39 Mad 505

ss 439 476—Revision—Jurisdiction of High Court—Order for prosecution passed by a District Magistrate instead by a Collector acting as a Court of Revenue The Collector of a district in deciding a Revenue appeal came to the conclusion that a receipt filed in the case was not genuine. He took no action at the time as a Court of Revenue but subsequently acting as District Magistrate he held an inquiry into the matter of the receipt and sent the person whom he thought to be concerned with the making of the receipt to a subordinate Magistrate for trial. Held that the High Court had jurisdiction to interfere in revision and that the order passed by District Magistrate was ultra vires. EMPEROR v. RAM SARAI (1917)

I L R 40 All 144

ss 439 517 520—Restoration of movable property—Charge of theft—Malkhana register order passed in making over property to complainant—Acquittal by High Court—Subsequent order of Magistrate refusing to revise order in Malkhana register—Revision by High Court Certain properties alleged to be stolen properties were found in the house of the petitioner who was tried and convicted of theft. These properties were in the custody of the Court and after the judgment of the Sessions Judge affirming the conviction of the petitioner the trying Magistrate passed an order in the Malkhana register to the effect that the properties should be made over to the complainant. No order was passed on the record of the case. The petitioner moved the High Court against the conviction and sen-

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)

ss 439 517, 520—contd

tence and was acquitted. After his acquittal by the High Court the petitioner applied to the trying Magistrate for the restoration of the properties to him but the Magistrate held that he could not revise his previous order in the Malkhana register. The petitioner then moved the High Court and obtained a Rule. Held that the Malkhana register forms no part of any criminal case unless it is brought on the record in a legal way and the order in complainant's favour recorded in it was not one under s 517 Criminal Procedure Code but the order refusing to revise that order was an order under s 517 Criminal Procedure Code and the High Court had jurisdiction to revise it under s 520 as also under s 439 Criminal Procedure Code. The intention of the Legislature in cl (3) of s 517 is that an order under s 517 should not be carried into effect until it really becomes final either by there being no appeal within the prescribed period or by any final order by a Court of final jurisdiction. That after the accused is acquitted of theft or burglary the proper order to make is to direct that the properties found in the possession of the accused should be restored to him. The complainant in that case could go to the Civil Court file a suit and secure an injunction. That in the circumstances of the case the absence of a prayer by the petitioner as to the restoration of the properties in his previous application to the High Court was no bar to his getting relief in this Rule. KEDAR BISWAS v. MATURIA NATH MITRA (1917)

18 C W N 839

ss 439 562—Revision—Powers of High Court Inasmuch as action taken under s 562 of the Code of Criminal Procedure takes the place of a sentence on an accused person the High Court cannot in revision substitute for an order under that section a definite sentence of whipping or imprisonment. EMPEROR v. GHASTI (1914)

I L R 37 All 31

ss 447 454 532—

See JURY TRIAL BY

I L R 37 Cal 467

s 451—

See s 435

25 C W N 609

ss 462 (3) 537—European British subject—Jury—Jury not chosen by lot—Illegality Held that the provisions of s 462 (3) of the Code of Criminal Procedure are imperative and if there is no choosing of the jury by lot as provided for by the section the result is that the whole trial is vitiated. Brojendra Lal v. King Emperor 7 C L J 163 referred to EMPEROR v. BRADSHAW (1911)

I L R 33 All 335

ss 464 485—Insanity—Inquiry into present unsoundness of mind of accused person to precede his trial on the substantive charge Where there is any reason for supposing that an accused person may be of unsound mind and consequently incapable of making his defence it is imperatively necessary that this question should be inquired into or tried under the provisions of s 464 or s 465 of the Code of Criminal Procedure before the Court proceeds to inquire into or try the substantive charge against the accused. Al Ham mad Hussain v. King Emperor 16 Oudh Cases 221 referred to EMPEROR v. JHAZU

I L R 42 All 137

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 465—

Sec s 14 3 Pat L J 291

s 471—acquittal of criminal lunatic
—Court can order his detention in jail—Further orders to be passed by Government. When a criminal lunatic is acquitted under the provisions of s 470 of the Criminal Procedure Code, the Court can order under s 471 of the Code that the accused be detained in custody in the jail where he then is until the further orders of Government and that the case be reported to Government for further orders. EMPEROR v. SONIA HIRIA (1918) I L R 43 Bom 134

s 476—

Sec s 4 I L R 33 All 32

Sec s 12 I L R 39 Calc 1041

Sec s 107 I L R 32 All 30

Sec s 193 I L R 40 Calc 360

Sec s 202 18 C W N 95

Sec s 439 I L R 40 All 144

See APPRAISEMENTS
 I L R 48 Calc 1086

See CAPTIONERS
 I L R 36 Mad 72

See COLLECTOR I L R 40 Calc 463

See COMPLAINT I L R 40 Calc 444

See COURT I L R 37 Calc 642

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 19,
 5 Pat L J 58

See FALSE INFORMATION
 I L R 43 Calc 173

See JUDICIAL PROCEEDING
 14 C W N 799

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT 14
 15 C W N 269

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT I OF
 1903 ss 164-167

See PERJURY I L R 43 Calc 542
 I L R 42 Calc 240
 I L R 39 Mad 414

See MAGISTRATE POWER OF
 I L R 37 Calc 72

See MAGISTRATE JURISDICTION OF
 I L R 39 Calc 1041

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
 I L R 41 Calc 446
 I L R 43 Calc 1152

Court meaning of—Offence brought under the notice of the Court in the course of a judicial proceeding—Proceeding instituted by one Munsif for residence to attachment of moveables in execution—Preliminary enquiry and final order by successor—Legality of order—Judicial proceeding—Execution proceedings. The word Court in s 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code includes the successor of the Judge before whom the alleged offence was committed or to whose notice the commission of it was brought in the course of a judicial proceeding. Where therefore the judgment creditor brought to the notice of the Munsif on the 23rd December 1909 the fact of resistance to the attachment of move-

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*s 476—contd

ables in execution of his decree and the Munsif called upon the opposite party to show cause but his successor after holding a preliminary inquiry under s 476 of the Code ordered their prosecution on 6th October 1909 for offences under s 183 186 and 333 of the Penal Code. Held that the order was not without jurisdiction. Action under s 476 should as far as possible be prompt and expeditious and not unduly protracted. The definition of a judicial proceeding in s 4 (m) of the Criminal Procedure Code is not exhaustive. It includes an execution proceeding and the resistance to the attachment of moveables is when reported or complained of to the Court an offence brought under its notice in the course of a judicial proceeding within the meaning of s 476 of the Code. BHADUR v. ERADATULLAH MALLIK (1910) I L R 37 Calc 642 14 C W N 799

Court—Civil Procedure Code 1909 s 33—Revision—Inexpediency of order not ground for revision on the civil side. The word Court in s 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure includes the successor of the Judge before whom the alleged offence was committed. Baladur v. Eradatullah Mallik I L R 37 Cal 642 followed. Whether a particular order is expedient or not is not a ground on which the High Court can interfere in revision under s 115 of the Civil Procedure Code. In the matter of the petition of NAWAL SINGH (1912) I L R 34 All 293

Judicial proceeding—Brought under the notice of the Court—Decree on an award—Jurisdiction. Held that the words brought under its notice in s 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code are wide enough to cover an offence which may have been committed in another forum and on some previous occasion. Held also that a proceeding in which a Court is asked to pass a decree in accordance with an award made with reference to a pending suit cannot be said to be other than a judicial proceeding within the meaning of the same section. Girwar Prasad v. King Emperor 64 L J 39. Umrao Singh v. Hardeo I L R 29 All 418 and Parke Bhari Lal v. Potho Ram I L R 23 All 45 referred to. EMPEROR v. KAMTA PRASAD (1911) I L R 33 All 396

Witness producing forged receipt—Prosecution ordered by successor of trying Judge without preliminary enquiry—Legality. The power to direct prosecution under s 476 Criminal Procedure Code is conferred on the Court and not on the individual judicial officer who fills the judicial office at the time of the original trial. A successor of the officer before whom the original trial took place is not bound to hold an independent investigation before making an order under s 476 Criminal Procedure Code. The holding of a preliminary enquiry in a proceeding under s 476 Criminal Procedure Code is discretionary and a person against whom an order for prosecution has been passed without such an enquiry cannot complain unless he has been prejudiced by the omission. Shakti Bahadur v. Eradatullah I L R 37 Calc 642 explained and followed. DRYA NARAYAN BERA v. BEPTI BHARTI MITTER (1911) 15 C W N 691

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

— s 476—contd

Preliminary inquiry—Revision When a Magistrate takes action under s 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure it is not necessary to the validity of his order that he should hold a preliminary inquiry nor if he does hold preliminary inquiry is it necessary that he should give the person against whom such inquiry is being held an opportunity of cross examining the witnesses. Queen Empress v Matabadal I L R 15 All 392 followed. ABDUL GHAFUR v RAZA HUSAIN (1912) I L R 34 All 267

Order under s 476 by Civil or Revenue Court if may be revised by High Court under s 439—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 115—High Courts Act 21 & 25 Vict C 104 s 14 In the case of an order passed under s 476 Cr P C by a Civil or a Revenue Court a 439 Cr P C has no application but such an order can be revised by the High Court under s 115 of the Civil Procedure Code or under s 15 of the High Courts Act 21 & 25 Vict C 104. An order made by a Criminal Court under s 476 Cr P C is liable to revision by the High Court under s 439 Cr P C. S 439 Cr P C is to be read along with and subject to the provision of s 435 Cr P C. Where an order under s 476 made by a Civil or a Revenue Court is sought to be revised by the High Court the Bench exercising Criminal Jurisdiction cannot as such deal with the matter but the Judges composing that Bench may do so if authorised by the Chief Justice under s 14 of the High Court Act. HAF PRASAD DAS v THE EMPEROR (1913) 17 O W N 647

Related order—Acquittal of the accused by one Magistrate order for prosecution of the complainant by another with jurisdiction Where the persons complained against by the petitioner were tried and acquitted by a Deputy Magistrate on the 1st August and a week later another Deputy Magistrate called on the petitioner to show cause why he should not be prosecuted under s 211 Penal Code and finally on the 23rd August directed his prosecution under s 476 Cr P C but subsequently on the District Magistrate observing that the order for prosecution ought to be made by the Magistrate who tried the accused persons the trying Magistrate on the 16th September passed the following order—Petition purporting to show cause against prosecution under s 211 filed. The cause shown is not good. Draw up proceedings under s 211 I P C.—This order purporting to be made under s 476 Cr P C although the accused persons had applied for the prosecution of the petitioner. Held that there was no judicial proceeding of any sort or kind before the Magistrate who made the order of the 23rd August and his order for the prosecution of the petitioner was altogether beyond his jurisdiction. That the related order of the 10th September did not represent the independent judicial opinion of the Magistrate who made it. If he had thought that action ought to be taken under s 476 Cr P C he ought to have passed the order one and a half months before and the fact that he did not do so indicated very clearly that he did not at the time think it necessary. There may be cases in which a Court may not think it necessary in the public interest to take action under s 476

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

— s 478—contd

Cr P C but may be willing to allow the person injured to seek redress. In such a case it is not necessary that the order should be passed at or near the time of the disposal of the original case. Held however in the present case that even treating the order of the 16th September as one made under s 185 Cr I C the further prosecution of the petitioner should not be sanctioned considering how illegally and unnecessarily he has been harassed in these proceedings. BHIM LAL SHAH v EMPEROR (1912) 17 C W N 290

Information before Police reported false—Informant called upon by Magistrate to prove his case—Order for prosecution under s 211, Penal Code—Jurisdiction to make such order The petitioner lodged an information with the Police who reported it to be false. The petitioner made no complaint in Court but the Sub Divisional Magistrate on receipt of the police report passed the order 'complainant to prove his case and made over the case for disposal to another Magistrate who ultimately made an order under s 46 Cr P C against the petitioner. Held that the order of the Sub Divisional Magistrate and the proceedings held thereunder do not come within any of the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure and the order for prosecution was without jurisdiction. SABRA MANTOV v THE EMPEROR (1913) 17 C W N 824

Sanction for Prosecution but no order sending to Magistrate—S 537 (b)—Illegality or Irregularity Where a sanction to prosecute given under s 476 Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) did not order the accused to be sent before the nearest First Class Magistrate but merely ordered his prosecution. Held that though the sanction was irregular it was not illegal and that the irregularity was cured by s 537 (b) Criminal Procedure Code. In re Bhun Kishor I L R 28 All 249 255 dissented from. RE SUTPATYA THARAGAN (1914) I L R 37 Mad. 317

Limitation—There is nothing in s 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure which requires a Court to take action if at all immediately after the conclusion of the case in which the offences are said to have been committed or within any fixed time thereafter In the matter of the petition of Anand Singh I L R 34 All 333. Gurjar Prasad v King Emperor 6 All L J 392 followed. Arya Kannu v Emperor I L R 32 Mad 49. Ramadulla v Emperor I L R 31 Mad 140 not followed. In re Lakshmi Das I L R 32 Bom 181. Emperor v Rukstamji Harbhajji Tarwala 4 Bom L R 778 referred to. EMPEROR v THAK PANDAY (1915) I L R 37 All 344

Insufficient inquiry—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 182—Calling for a report from interested party as to truth of complaint propriety of—Order for prosecution without sufficient enquiry into truth of complaint The petitioners filed an application before the Sub Divisional Magistrate praying for proceedings under ss 144 and 107 Criminal Procedure Code against several servants of a certain factory whereupon the Magistrate called for a report from the Manager of the factory and on receipt thereof required the petitioner to show cause against prosecution under a 182 Indian Penal Code and then after examining some witness on each side but without examining the petitioners themselves made an order under s 46 Criminal Procedure Code directing their prosecution for an offence under a 182 Indian Penal Code. Held that the order of the Magistrate in calling for a report from the Manager of the factory was open to great objection. That the accused being the servants of the factory the Manager was an interested party and he ought not to have been a led to make a report in these judicial proceedings. Held (in setting aside the order for prosecution) that further enquiry should be made into the truth of the petitioners complaint and they themselves should be examined if they chose to give evidence. EMPEROR v RAFFI RAUT (1914)

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

— s 476—contd

19 C W N 127

— Held that a gazetted subordinate to whom the Collector had delegated his powers and who had before him proceedings for sale of immovable property (ancestral) was a Revenue Court acting in pursuance of a 70 of the Civil Procedure Code and that the High Court had no jurisdiction to revise an order passed by such officer under s 40 of the Criminal Procedure Code. EMPEROR v A HARI LAL

I L R 39 All 91

— Perjury—Court bound to set out assignments of perjury alleged—Civil Procedure Code 1908 s 115—Revision—Material irregularity. Held that when a Civil Court makes an order under a 46 directing that a person should be prosecuted for perjury such Court is bound to set forth in its order the specific assignments of perjury alleged against the accused. Failure to do so is a material irregularity within the meaning of a 115 of the Code of Civil Procedure. EMPEROR v KASHI SIKHL (1910)
I L R 38 All 695

— Stay of previous proceeding pending appeal in matter out of which they arise. DEVI MANTO v KING EMPEROR (1916)

20 C W N 1116

— Brought under the notice of the Court in the course of a judicial proceeding.—Circumstance fulfilling this requirement of the section. In a case under a 147 Indian Penal Code a certain document was exhibited and used in evidence on behalf of the petitioner who was the accused. The trying Magistrate after having heard the evidence proceeded on leave and while on leave wrote a judgment which he forwarded to the District Magistrate who treated it as nullity and transferred the case to his own file under a 300 Criminal Procedure Code. Before him the Public Prosecutor applied under a 494 Criminal Procedure Code to withdraw from the prosecution. After examining the evidence the District Magistrate allowed this application. Subsequently after making a preliminary enquiry he made an order directing the prosecution of the petitioner under ss 467 474 475 Indian Penal Code in respect of the aforesaid document. Held that the offences as to which the prosecution of the petitioner was directed were brought to the notice of the District Magis-

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

— s 476—contd

trats in the course of a judicial proceeding within the meaning of a 476 Criminal Procedure Code and the order made was not without jurisdiction. CHANDRA KISTORE ROY v KING EMPEROR (1916)
21 C W N 755

— Person not named in order—Magistrate taking cognizance of case on order under section if can proceed against persons not named in the order. The District Judge made an order under a 476 against one R who had applied before him for the probate of a will which in his opinion was prima facie a forgery and in respect of which R was guilty of forgery or using or attempting to use a document knowing it to be forged. Before the Magistrate on the application of the public prosecutor the petitioner who was not a party to the probate proceedings before the District Judge was also summoned under ss 190B and 467 Indian Penal Code in the same proceeding which was pending against R. Held that the petitioner was not a party to the proceedings in the Civil Court and as the offence which appeared to have been committed was one of those described in cl (1) (c) of s 190 Criminal Procedure Code neither sanction under that section nor a complaint of the Court under a 476 was a necessary precedent to proceeding against him. That the Criminal Procedure Code provides for the taking cognizance of offences and not of offenders and a Magistrate who has legally taken cognizance of an offence on an order under a 476 has jurisdiction to proceed against any one who may be proved by the evidence to be concerned in that offence whether he was mentioned in the order under s 40 or not. CHIDHARI LAL SINGH v KING EMPEROR (1916)

21 C W N 950

— Off not mentioned in 195—Preliminary enquiry necessary of—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 25B. Where it was reported to a Munsif that the accused persons had endeavoured to rescue the judgment debtor in a certain case tried by the Munsif from the custody of the executing peon and the Munsif purporting to act under s 46 Criminal Procedure Code made an order sending up the accused to the Magistrate for trial under s 190B Indian Penal Code. Held that the order made was bad for two reasons: 1. that the offence under a 290B is not one of the offences mentioned in a 190 Criminal Procedure Code and that the order was made without making any preliminary enquiry. That there may be cases where no preliminary enquiry is necessary for example in a case where the Judge is trying the case and all the facts which are material to the charge have been brought to the notice of the Judge or have come out during the course of the hearing of the case and the Judge is already in possession of all the material facts on which it is necessary for him to form the judgment. But in a case like the present when the incident took place outside the Court and as to which the Judge himself could have no knowledge and as to which evidence must be called for unless the Court holds such a preliminary enquiry as may be necessary to enable him to determine whether or not there is any case fit to be sent to the Magistrate it has no jurisdiction to send the accused under a 476 Criminal

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—cont'd

s 476—cont'd

Procedure Code TARAK DAS MOTTRA : KING
EMPEROR (1916) 21 C W N 125

Perjury—Court not bound to set out assignments of perjury alleged—Criminal Procedure Code 1908 s 115—Revision—Material irregularity In every case whether under s 193 or s 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure the particular statement when the offence refers to a statement should be set out so that the accused person should not be taken by surprise but should clearly know what is the statement which he is required to meet. It does not however follow that non specification of the statement is a material irregularity justifying interference in revision by the High Court. EMPEROR : CHHOTAY LAL (1917)

I L R 39 All 367

Offence not committed by a party to the proceeding S 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1898) does not apply to cases where the offence was not committed by a party to a proceeding in respect of a document produced or given in evidence in such proceeding. Abdul Khadar v Meera Sahab I L R 15 Mad 224 followed. RAMALINGAM P.

I L R 40 Mad 100

Jurisdiction—Order for prosecution of persons not parties to a proceeding before the Court A Court in taking action under s 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure is not restricted as regards the person against whom an order may be made to the parties to a proceeding pending before it. Jadunandan Singh v Emperor I L R 37 Cal 250 dissented from. EMPEROR : GANGA RAM (1917) I L R 40 All 24

Knowledge of commission of offence after close of proceedings—Order under s 476 of Criminal Procedure Code validity of Held by the FULL BENCH—Even where the facts of judicial proceeding are fresh in the mind of a Judge he cannot take action under s 476 of Criminal Procedure Code if the commission of an offence during the course of that proceeding is discovered by him only after the close of the proceeding. Per KUMARASWAMI SASTRI J.—In such cases it is open to the Court to act under a 193 Criminal Procedure Code and direct an officer to file a complaint. Aiyakannu Pillai v Emperor I L R 32 Mad 49 applied. In re PADMANABHA HEEBARA (1918)

I L R 42 Mad 422

Revenue appeal—heard by Assistant Collector—Direction to prosecute a party to the appeal as well as a third person implicated in the offence though not a party to the appeal—Preliminary inquiry conducted in part by the Assistant Collector and completed by the Criminal Investigation Department—Direct on to prosecute need not be a part of the revenue appeal or its continuation Accused No 1 a Mamlatdar having decided a revenue case brought by accused No 2 an Inamdar against his tenants to recover rents appeals were preferred from the decision to the Assistant Collector. The appeals were decided on the 18th July 1916 by the Assistant Collector who having suspected the genuineness of a kaba layat produced in the case proceeded on the 28th July 1916 to call for an explanation of the

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—cont'd

s 476—cont'd

Inamdar and on the 10th October 1916 obtained a report from the Mamlatdar. The Assistant Collector perused the explanation and the report but as he considered the matter serious and demanding further inquiry he applied on the 7th March 1917 for assistance of the Criminal Investigation Department from the District Magistrate. The assistance was given and inquiry made by the Police. On receipt of the report from the Police the Assistant Collector passed on the 2nd July 1917 an order referring the matter for inquiry to the nearest First Class Magistrate under s 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code. The Magistrate committed the accused to the Sessions Court where on trial held they were convicted and sentenced. On appeal to the High Court it was contended (i) that even if the offence was brought under the notice in the judicial proceedings of the Assistant Collector as regards the Inamdar it was not brought to his notice as regards the Mamlatdar (ii) that the whole of the preliminary inquiry ought to have been made by the Assistant Collector and that he was functus officio as soon as he made his reference to the District Magistrate and (iii) that the delay in proceeding under s 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code was fatal to the jurisdiction of the Assistant Collector to act under the section. Held (i) that what was provided for in s 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code was that after making preliminary inquiry into any offence brought to notice the case might be sent for inquiry to the nearest Magistrate of the First Class that is to say it was the case which was to be sent and not necessarily all the offenders who might be concerned in the commission of the offence (ii) that some inquiry at least having been made by the Assistant Collector he was not deprived of jurisdiction to act under the section by the mere fact that he took the precaution of making a more careful and deliberate inquiry with the assistance of the Criminal Investigation Department or by the fact that he applied to the District Magistrate for assistance (iii) that there was nothing in the wording of the section to require that officers acting under it were bound to make their inquiry either in the actual course of the judicial proceedings or so shortly thereafter as to make it really a continuation of those proceedings. In re Lakshmidas Lalji I L R 32 Bom 181 followed. Pahmadulla Sahib v Emperor I L R 31 Mad 130 Aiyakannu Pillai v Emperor I L R 32 Mad 49 Begu Singh v Emperor I L R 34 Cal 551 and Bahadur v Eradatullah Mallik I L R 37 Cal 612 619 dissented from. EMPEROR : WAMAN DINKAR (1918) I L R 43 Bom 300

Offence referred to in s 195—meaning of—Jurisdiction of Court to take action under s 476 whether restricted to limitations imposed by s 195 Criminal Procedure Code Held by the FULL BENCH—The words in s 476 Criminal Procedure Code any offence referred to in s 195 incorporate the conditions laid down by s 195 and a Court can take action under s 476 only under such conditions. Hence proceedings under s 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code cannot be taken against a person who is neither a party to nor a witness in a suit in respect of

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 46—contd

abatement of felony of a document exhibited in the suit GOVINDA LAL v. REX (1919)

I L R 42 Mad. 540

Bengal Tenancy Act—It is competent for a Collector in cases of disobedience to orders under ss 69 and 70 of Bengal Tenancy Act to act under s 193 or 476 of the Code and direct a prosecution under 183 of 1861 in respect thereof LAKHMAN POP AND OTHERS v. NARAYAN HAZRA 25 C W N 617

False complaint—Order passed by successor to Magistrate who dismissed complaint legality of A Sub Divisional Magistrate on a complaint being preferred to him recorded a finding that the complaint was false and called upon the complainant to show cause why he should not be prosecuted under s 182 of the Penal Code. The Magistrate was then transferred and his successor on the matter coming up before him referred it to a Subordinate Magistrate for hearing complainant and witnesses and report. On receipt of the report the Sub Divisional Magistrate dismissed the complaint and two months later passed an order under s 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure directing the prosecution of the complainant under s 211 of the Penal Code. Held that the Sub Divisional Magistrate had jurisdiction to direct the prosecution of the complainant. Held also that the procedure adopted by the Sub Divisional Magistrate in referring the enquiry to a Subordinate Magistrate for the purpose of hearing the complainant and witnesses and for report was irregular and that this irregularity was cured by s 37 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Per ATKINSON J—If an irregularity takes place and is allowed to pass unheeded and unnoticed and a fresh prosecution follows founded upon the irregularity and conviction follows thereon after conviction the accused party cannot raise the intermediate irregularity in an antecedent proceeding as a ground for challenging the validity of the subsequent conviction. BAIR NATH SINGH v. KING EMPEROR 1 Pat L J 553

Power of Appellate Court—of setting aside grant of sanction The District Judge has power to convert proceedings to obtain or to revoke sanction refused or granted in a lower Court under s 193 of the Criminal Code into proceedings under s 46. AMRITA PRASAD v. KING EMPEROR 1 Pat L J 607

An applicant obtained an ex parte decree in a Small Cause Court in the Darbhanga District. The decree was transferred to the Chapra District for execution. The defendant in that suit then sued in the Munsiff's Court at Chapra to have the decree set aside on the ground that it had been obtained by fraud and having obtained a decree he applied to the Munsiff for sanction to prosecute the applicant and others who had assisted him in the false suit. The Munsiff refused to grant sanction but on appeal against that order the District Judge directed the applicant to be prosecuted for various offences specified in his order. Held that under s 46 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 the District Judge was authorised to send the case for enquiry and

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 476—contd

trial to the nearest Magistrate of the first class at Chapra. LAKHMI DINOH v. BINJIMOHAN LAL 1 Pat L J 586

Offence committed in another Province—In the course of a judicial proceeding The first petitioner instituted a suit in the Small Cause Court at Bala pur in the Central Provinces against a resident of Arrah and obtained an ex parte decree. At the petitioner's instance the decree was transferred to the Court of the Subordinate Judge at Arrah for execution. The judgment debtor then brought a suit in the Court of the Munsiff at Arrah to have the decree of the Bilaspur Court set aside on the ground of fraud and obtained a decree. The petitioner appealed to the District Judge of Arrah who confirmed the Munsiff's decision and directed the prosecution of the three petitioners under ss 209 and 210 of the Indian Penal Code 1860 as he found that they had combined to bring a false suit in the Bilaspur Court and had obtained a decree in that suit by concealing from the defendant the institution of the proceedings and by tampering with the service of summonses. Held that the District Judge had jurisdiction under s 46 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898 to order the prosecution of the petitioners. The hearing of the appeal by him was a judicial proceeding and the offences alleged to have been committed by the petitioners were brought to his notice in the course of that proceeding. Per SHARFUDDIN J—S 476 is a self-contained section and the reference in it to s 193 is only for the purpose of avoiding enumeration of the sections mentioned in s 193. RAJ KUMAR SINGH v. KING EMPEROR 1 Pat L J 298

In the course of a judicial proceeding—Application to Small Cause Court for sanction to prosecute cf—Appeal to District Judge—Appeal dismissed but prosecution ordered A sued B in a Court exercising the powers of a Small Cause Court and obtained an ex parte decree. B then sued to have the ex parte decree set aside on the ground of fraud and succeeded. He then applied to the Court which tried the first suit for sanction to prosecute A. The Court rejected the application. B appealed under s 193 (6) of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898 to the District Judge who refused to revoke the sanction but passed an order under s 476 for the prosecution of A. Held that as the District Judge had no jurisdiction to entertain the appeal or application under s 193 (6) the matter did not come to his notice in the course of a judicial proceeding within the meaning of s 476. Per CHAMBER C J—With reference to Small Cause Court suits the District Judge is not "the Principal Court of original jurisdiction within the meaning of a 193 () (c)". AMRITA TEWARY v. KING EMPEROR 1 Pat L J 293

Revenue Court—whether Certificate Officer under the Public Demands Recovery Act (B and O II of 1914) is— in the course of a judicial proceeding A Certificate Officer while proceeding under the powers conferred upon him by the B and O Public Demands Recovery Act 1914 for the recovery of public demands adjudicated upon a demand thereof by a person

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

— s 476—contd

is made is a Pevnuia Court and has power to direct a prosecution under s 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1893 A Certificate Officer issued a demand for road cess on two co shar rs and one of them, A filed a petition which purported to be on behalf of both of them but was signed by K only pleading payment and he produced a challan in support of his plea The Certificate Officer directed an inquiry to be made in his office as to the fact of payment and having come to the conclusion that the challan was forged he called upon A to show cause why he should not be prosecuted Eventually he directed the prosecution of both the co sharers although only K had been called upon and had alone appeared to show cause Held (i) that the offence committed had been brought to the notice of the Certificate Officer in the course of a judicial proceeding and (ii) that although neither of the accused was entitled to notice yet in the circumstances of this case K a co sharer should also be called upon to show cause why he should not be prosecuted. MATHURA PRASAD v THE KING EMPEROR 4 Pat L J 475

Procedure—Application for stay of proceedings thereunder initiated by a Civil Court—Question at issue in the criminal proceedings also sub judice in a civil case—Procedure—Jurisdiction Proceedings initiated by a Civil Court subordinate to the High Court under s 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure may be stayed by the High Court in the exercise of its general powers of superintendence though not under the provisions of either the Code of Civil Procedure or the Code of Criminal Procedure As regards the general question of the stay of criminal proceedings when those on the face of them raise a question of fact which is still under adjudication by a Civil Court of competent jurisdiction the better procedure is to move the Civil Court for the expediting of the hearing of the case before it and then to move that the Criminal proceedings be stayed until the determination by the Civil Court of the question at issue before it Muthura Kunwar v Durga Kunwar Weekly Notes 1906 p 251, referred to Raj Kumar Singh v Emperor I L R 43 All 189

Civil Court must come to a finding as to which of the parties committed offence Held that a Civil Court ought not to take action under a 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code without coming to a finding as to which of the parties sent for trial had committed the offence Crown v Prabhu Dyal (163 P L P 1905) followed ANAR NATH v MAX PAJ I L R 2 Lah 63

Criminal Procedure Code—In the course of judicial proceeding meaning of—Petition for return of documents filed before Clerk of Court of can be made the subject matter of enquiry and order under the section After the disposal of two rent suits in the Court of the Munsif the petitioner it was alleged filed two petitions before the clerk in charge of rent suits in the Munsif's Court a Ling for the return of the documents filed by one B whose interest had since been acquired by the petitioner in the said rent suits The e petitions purported to bear

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

— s 476—contd

the signature of the pleader of B who acted for him in the said rent suits but it was alleged that this signature was forged The Munsif after holding a preliminary enquiry made an order under s 476 Criminal Procedure Code directing the prosecution of the petitioner for offences under ss 463 471 Indian Penal Code Held that the petitions in question were not filed in the course of a judicial proceeding and the Munsif had no jurisdiction to make the order The words committed before it in s 476 Criminal Procedure Code are qualified by the words in the course of a judicial proceeding GIRJANAND KALI MITRA v THE EMPEROR

25 C W N 680

— s 478 and 478—Commitment made by a Munsif in the United Provinces to the Court of a Sessions Judge in the United Provinces in respect of offences alleged to have been committed in Bengal Where in the course of a judicial proceeding before the Munsif of Fatehsbad in the district of Agra certain offences under ss 193 209 216 467 and 471 of the Indian Penal Code which appeared to have been committed in Bengal were brought under the notice of the Court and the Munsif committed the persons suspected of such offences for trial to the Court of Session at Agra Held that the Court had jurisdiction under s 478 read with s 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure to make the commitment EMPEROR v KILSHALI RAM (1917) I L R 40 All 118

— s 477—Scope of section—Accused not allowed an opportunity of defending himself—Irregular exercise of jurisdiction—Procedure S 477 of the Code of Criminal Procedure gives to the Court of Session power to charge a person for any offence referred to in s 195 and committed before it It further gives the Court of Session the power to commit for trial and to try the person for the charge it has framed but the section nowhere lays down that the trial is to be a summary trial nor does the section anywhere demand a decision which is to be more prompt and speedy than that of any ordinary trial The section was not intended so to be used as to give the accused no opportunity of defending him self against the charge framed EMPEROR v HADIDAR KHAN (1918)

I L R 41 All 197

— s 477A—
See COURT FEE STAMP

I L R 47 Calc 71

— s 478—

See s 195 I L R 34 Bom 88

L P 43 Mad 361

See s 476 I L R 40 All 116

Procedure—Commitment made by Munsif without following procedure laid down in the section—Commitment quashed A Munsif holding an inquiry under the latter portion of s 478 of the Code of Criminal Procedure with a view to making a commitment to the Court of Session is bound to follow substantially the provisions of Ch XVIII of the Code Where in such circumstances the Munsif neither examined the witnesses in the presence of the accused nor

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd— s 478—contd

explained the charge to them the commitment was quashed as being bad in law EMPEROR v DABU PRASAD (1917) I L R 40 All 32

— s 488 (1) (3) (6)—

See s 369 21 C W N 344

See MAINTENANCE I L R 41 Calc 48

Maintenance order if can be enforced against estate of deceased husband After the death of the person against whom an order for maintenance was made there is no claim enforceable under a 488 Cr P C against the estate of the deceased and the order for maintenance cannot be enforced in respect of arrears accrued due during the lifetime of the person who was ordered to pay maintenance EAD ALI v LAL BIR E (1913) 17 C W N 1130

Maintenance—Child meaning of—Prostitution not a profession which the law will recognise The word child in a 488 (f) Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) means a person who has not attained the age of majority. The attainment of puberty cannot be taken as the age when child hood ceases. The law will not treat prostitution as a profession by which a girl might earn her livelihood and maintain herself under s 488 Criminal Procedure Code. It is against public policy to do so KUNHISAWAMI AYYAR v CHATTABADANA (1914) I L R 37 Mad 565

Maintenance—Criminal revision petition to the High Court—Order of a single Judge—Appeal against it maintainable—Letters Patent of 15—Criminal trial order No appeal lies under cl 1 of the Letters Patent against an order of a single Judge of the High Court dismissing a criminal revision petition filed against an order of a Joint Magistrate passed under s 488 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1898) APPADU v APPANA (1910) I L R 39 Mad 472

Unable to maintain itself meaning of—Child entitled to maintenance from its mother a taxia not entitled to order for maintenance from father A child that possesses a right to maintenance from its mother a taxia is not entitled under a 488 Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) to an order for maintenance against its father Korayand Pollar v Kayat Beran Kutta I L R 19 Mad 461 followed In re Parathy Valappal Mowden (1913) Mad W A 297 not followed. The words unable to maintain in s 488 are not confined to physical inability but include also pecuniary inability CHANTAN v MATHU (1910)

I L R 39 Mad 957

Jurisdiction of Court within whose local limits the husband temporarily resided on the date of the institution of the case and some days previously Where in a case under a 488 Criminal Procedure Code in titated before the Chief Presidency Magistrate it appeared that the husband ordinarily resided outside Calcutta but was temporarily there on the date the application was filed and for some days previously Held that his temporary residence was sufficient to give the Calcutta Court jurisdiction under

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd— s 488 (1) (3) (6)—contd

sub s (9) of a 488 Criminal Procedure Code JOLLY v JOLLY (1917) 21 C W N 872

Mutual Consent—Wife's maintenance fixed by panchayat—Claim by wife for payment whether Magistrate has power to entertain Where the differences between husband and wife are referred to the arbitration of a panchayat and the panches award the wife a certain stipend as maintenance a Magistrate has power under s 488 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 to entertain a claim by the wife for the maintenance awarded to her even though the reference to the panchayat was by consent of the parties NATHUN SOYAR v MUSAR MAT MATURWA KUR 4 Pat. L J 109

Fresh application under section 488 if may be entertained after previous application dismissed for default Where an application under s 488 Cr P C for the maintenance of an illegitimate child was dismissed for default and the Magistrate entertained a fresh application Held that there was no bar to the Magistrate entertaining the fresh application inasmuch as there was no adjudication of the first application MONMOHAN DE v SUBBALA DAS

24 C W N 32

s 488 489—Magistrate—Order for maintenance to wife—Subsequent decree for restitution of conjugal rights—Decree puts an end to order for maintenance—Subsequent application by wife for increase in rate of maintenance not competent In 1910 a wife obtained an order for maintenance under the provisions of s 488 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898. In 1912 the husband obtained a decree against his wife for restitution of conjugal rights. The decree was never executed and the husband continued to pay without objection the allowance directed by the Magistrate's order of 1910. In 1918 the wife applied for and obtained from the Magistrate an order under a 489 of the Code for an increase in the amount of maintenance. The husband having applied to the High Court Held that the decree of 1912 having as a matter of law determined or put an end to the Magistrate's order under s 488 an application under a 489 of the Code was not competent to the wife CHANDU LAL PANCHOD In re (1919)

I L R 43 Com 585

— s 491—

See EXTRADITION WARRANT

I L P 42 Calc 793

See HABEAS CORPUS

I L R 39 Calc 164

I L R 44 Calc 78

I L R 45 Calc 12

See JURY TRIAL BY

I L P 44 Calc 723

Grounds on which it may be issued—Habeas Corpus right to if may be taken away by Indian Legislature—Exclusion of right if must be express or by necessary implication—The Extradition Act (33 & 34 Vict c 59) how far applicable to India—Indian Extradition Act (XI of 1903) ss 3 and 4 sub s (1) if excludes jurisdiction of High Court in Habeas Corpus—Extradition warrant issued after enquiry by Governor

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*s 491—contd

ment of bar to High Court's entertaining application, Evidence Act (I of 1872) ss 2 78 86—Foreign records authentication of—Hearsay evidence admitted by foreign Court if admissible—Copy of document proved in foreign Court if admissible The jurisdiction of the High Court to give directions in the nature of Habeas Corpus under s 491 of the Criminal Procedure Code is not excluded by the issue by the Government of India of a warrant under s 3 sub s 8 of the Extradition Act. The Government can only issue a warrant by virtue of the provisions of the Legislature authorising it and if those provisions have not been earned out the warrant and the custody thereunder may be found to be illegal under s 491 Criminal Procedure Code though with the extradition proceedings themselves the High Court cannot except as allowed by the Act directly interfere. Quere Whether a supreme right like that to a Habeas Corpus can be taken away or limited by the Indian Legislature. Held that if it can be so taken away it must be clearly shown that it has been expressly taken away. Per MOOKERJEE J—The burden lies heavily on those who assert it to show that it has been taken away by such implication as is absolutely necessary for the interpretation of the Statute. Levinger v The Queen 1 R 3 P C 289 referred to. But the High Court in such a proceeding would not weigh the evidence before the Magistrate. Where the Magistrate has jurisdiction it is sufficient that there is some evidence on which the Magistrate may reasonably act. In re Siletti 87 L T 332 334 71 L J K B 935 followed. Per CURRIE. The Evidence Act does not contain the whole law of evidence applicable to British India. Where therefore the records of a German Court were not authenticated in accordance with the Indian Evidence Act but in the manner prescribed by the English Extradition Act which is applicable in this country the records were admissible under it. Quere Whether hearsay evidence admitted in evidence in the proceedings in Germany is admissible in extradition proceedings in India. When the original Bill which the prisoner was alleged to have obtained by cheating was put in and proved by witnesses at the enquiry in the German Court. Held that a copy of the document sent as part of the authenticated depositions and papers was admissible in evidence. There may be cases where the production of the original may be necessary for an enquiry in India. In re STALLMAN (1911) 1 L R 39 Calc 164 15 C W N 1053

Directions of the nature of a habeas corpus—Application to be made to Judge on the Original Side of the High Court—S 54 scope of—Circumstances justifying arrest—Credible information and reasonable suspicion meaning of An application under a 491 Criminal Procedure Code is to be made to the High Court in its Ordinary Original Criminal Jurisdiction. The petitioner who was the managing agent of a certain Provident Company of Calcutta was arrested by the Calcutta Police under s 54 Criminal Procedure Code on receipt of a letter written by an Inspector of Police in a certain district in the Bombay Presidency to the Commissioner of Police Calcutta

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*s 491—contd

in which it was stated that on enquiries into complaints against the Company and their local agent in Bombay it appeared there being prima facie evidence to that effect that the managing agent and the local agent committed offences under s 409 420 Indian Penal Code. The letter contained a request to cause the arrest of the petitioner and was forwarded by the District Magistrate with a note that the petitioner might be arrested under s 54 Criminal Procedure Code and sent to the Magistrate 1st class of the District to be tried by him. It was admitted that the officer effecting the arrest in Calcutta relied solely on the aforesaid letter and had no personal knowledge of the facts of the case. Held that the arrest of the petitioner under s 54 Criminal Procedure Code was not proper. That s 54 Criminal Procedure Code gives wide powers to a police officer to make an arrest without an order from a Magistrate and without a warrant only in certain circumstances limited by the provisions contained in the section and it is necessary in exercising such large powers to be cautious and circumspect. The section gives a police officer personal authority and involves personal responsibility and the reasonable suspicion and credible information must be based upon definite facts which the police officer must consider for himself before he acts under the section. He cannot delegate his discretion or take shelter under the belief or judgment of another police officer. In the circumstances of the case the High Court under s 491 Criminal Procedure Code directed the release of the petitioner. In the matter of CHARU CHANDRA MAJUMDAR (1916) 20 C W N 1233

s 492—

See PUBLIC PROSECUTOR 1 L R 41 Calc 425
See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION 1 L R 41 Calc 446

s 494—

See s 247 1 L R 40 Mad 976
See WITNESS 1 L R 46 Calc 700
See WITHDRAWAL OF PROSECUTION 1 L R 43 Calc 1195

Prosecution against one of two accused withdrawn—Such accused if competent witness—Confession and prior statements of such accused if should be produced for cross examination and contradiction The petitioner along with one M was placed on his trial under s 411 of the Penal Code but the prosecution against M was withdrawn under s 494 Criminal Procedure Code although no formal order of discharge was recorded. M was thereupon examined as a witness for the prosecution. It appeared that M had made a confession to a Magistrate and this confession was subsequently verified by the same or another Magistrate to whom M made further statements. The confession and these further statements were not placed on the record and copies of these were refused to the petitioner. Held that notwithstanding the omission to record a formal order of discharge M ceased to be on trial with the petitioner as soon as the prosecution against him was withdrawn and that being so he became a competent witness but for the purpose of cross examination and if necessary for contradiction the prior statements of the witness should have been made acceptable to the accused SHERATI SUEKAR v THE KING EMPEROR (1904)

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contds 494—contd

18 C W N 1213

Withdrawal of process by public prosecutor with leave of Court—Court must record reasons for granting leave—s 10—Power of Superintendent of Police to control discretion of investigating police officer. In accord with or withholding consent to an application by the public prosecutor for withdrawal under s 494 (a) the Court acts in a judicial capacity and for its order as for every order judicially made the Court must give and record its reasons so that the High Court may be in a position to say whether the discretion vested in the Court has been properly exercised Quare Whether the discretion vested in the investigating police officer by s 170 Criminal Procedure Code can be controlled by the Superintendent of Police UMESH CHANDRA POY v SATISH CHANDRA ROY (1917)

22 C W N 89

An order under this section allowing withdrawal of process is a judicial order and reasons should be given UMESH CHANDRA POY v SATISH CHANDRA ROY

25 C W N 615

s 496—

See s 107 I L R 38 Mad 474

See EXTRADITION ACT (XV of 1903)

ss 7 B AND 8A

I L R 43 Bom 210

ss 497 498—

See RAIL

s 498—

See HABEAS CORPUS

I L R 44 Cal 76

s 501—

See s 70 I L R 38 Mad 1088

s 503—

See COMPLAINT I L R 42 Cal 19

s 512—

Evidence taken against an accused person who has absconded—Conditions precedent to the use of such evidence against accused when arrested Evidence purporting to have been recorded under the provisions of s 512 of the Code of Criminal Procedure cannot be used against the person concerning whom it was taken unless it can be shown that before such evidence was recorded it was proved to the satisfaction of the Court that the accused had absconded and that there was no immediate prospect of arresting him EMPEROR v RUSTAM (1915)

I L R 38 All 29

Evidence taken against accused persons who have absconded—Conditions precedent to the use of such evidence against accused when arrested A Magistrate recording evidence under the provisions of s 512 of the Code of Criminal Procedure put on record a finding that

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contds 512—contd

the accused had absconded but did not further state that there was no immediate prospect of their arrest There was however evidence on the record from which he might have reasonably inferred that there was no immediate prospect of their arrest Held that the evidence so recorded was admissible against the accused when subsequently arrested EMPEROR v RUSTAM I L R 38 All 29 distinguished EMPEROR v BHAGWATI (1918)

I L R 41 All 60

s 514—

See s 107

I L R 1 Lah 310

Surety bond to produce accused before Sessions Court—Proceeding for forfeiture if may be taken by a Magistrate Where a surety bond has been executed for the appearance of an accused person before a particular Court under s 514 of the Criminal Procedure Code proceedings to have the bond forfeited can be initiated only by that Court HIRA LAL SHARMA v EMPEROR (1909)

14 C W N 259

Forfeiture of bond—Bond for appearance taken under the City of Bombay Police Act (Bom 11 of 1902) ss 106 107—Jurisdiction of Chief Presidency Magistrate to order forfeiture The Presidency Magistrate of Bombay has no jurisdiction under s 514 of the Criminal Procedure Code to order forfeiture of bonds taken under ss 106 and 107 of the City of Bombay Police Act 1902 CRAWFORD In re (1918)

I L R 42 Bom 400

Forfeiture of bond against surety where principal is not bound—Indian Contract Act IX of 1872 s 108 One P K was arrested in Gwalior under a warrant issued at Montgomery He was released on bail on C S standing surety for him He failed to appear before the Magistrate at Montgomery and that officer forfeited C S a security The arrest of R K was thereafter found by the High Court to have been illegal and C S then applied for revision of the order of forfeiture Held that although R K the principal was under the circumstances not liable on his bond the surety C S was not free from liability on that account S 108 of the Contract Act only explains the quantum of a surety's obligation when the terms of the contract do not limit it and has no reference to the nature of the obligation of the principal Ka hiba v Shripat Narayan (I L R 19 Bom 697) and Sohan Lal v Puran Singh (51 P R 1916) followed CHALUJ SINGH v THE CROWN

I L R 2 Lah. 204

Bail bond—Bail prisoner committing suicide—Discharge of sureties When a person who has been let out on bail commits suicide the sureties are discharged from their obligation to produce him—VIJAYARAGHA VALLU NAIDU Re (1914) I L R 37 Mad. 156

s 516—

See s 514

14 C W N 259

s 517—

See s 439

18 C W N 909

See s 514

5 Pat. L. J 321

Immovable property S 517 c If Immovable

Code

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

—s 517—contd

has no application to immovable property
BRESOR SIVON : KIRO EMPEROR (1913)

18 C W N 1148

Selling aside of order by High Court—Fe delivery of possession The petitioners were convicted under s 476 of the Penal Code. The Magistrate directed the Police under s 517 to deliver possession of a garden over which the petitioners were alleged to have obtained possession by means of trespass. The order under s 517 was set aside by the High Court in revision on the application of the petitioners but the Magistrate refused to re-deliver possession of the garden to them. Held that the order of the High Court setting aside the order under s 517 Criminal Procedure Code carried with it the incident of restoration of the garden in question to the petitioners. The High Court directed the Magistrate to restore possession of the garden in question to the petitioners through the Police.
SHEONANDAN SIVON : BROJANATH PATTAR (1913)

18 C W N 1147

Order as regards disposal of property—Direction in making orders to be judicially exercised—Currency note—Property passed by delivery The accused stole a currency note which he offered to a goldsmith as price for gold ornaments purchased by him. The goldsmith not having had sufficient cash got the note cashed by a neighbouring shop keeper (applicant) who cashed it in good faith. At the trial of the accused the note was attached from the applicant. The accused was convicted of criminal breach of trust of the currency note which belonged to Government and the note was ordered to be delivered to the Crown. The applicant having appealed. Held that as property in a currency note passed by mere delivery the applicant had obtained a good title to the note notwithstanding that the accused had no title.
The Collector of Salem 7 Mad H C P 233 and Empress v Jongsavur Mochi 1 L R 3 Cal 479 followed. Orders under s 517 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) are discretionary but the discretion is open to correction where it has been exercised in violation of accepted judicial principles. In re PANDHATYATH PONDLE (1915)

1 L R 40 Bom 186

Delivery of property

Order of delivery of property on joint receipt—Validity of such order On the discharge of an accused person on a charge of theft of articles admittedly found in possession of that person on the ground that the accused had a bona fide belief in a claim of right to their possession that person cannot claim return of the articles under s 517 Criminal Procedure Code as a matter of course. Under s 517 Criminal Procedure Code even where a party is charged with theft and that charge is dismissed or the party is discharged an order can be made for the delivery of the subject matter of the alleged theft to some party other than the party in whose possession the property was found at the date of the alleged theft.
P N C No 477 of 1905 (unreported) followed and patle. If acquisition of an undivided m of the family may rightly be handed by the Court to the manager of the undivided family and the undivided member on their joint receipt.

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

—s 517—contd

Chalalanda Alasani v Chalalanda Ratnachalam 2 Mad H C 66 distinguished. KANAGA SABA
v EMPEROR 1 L R 34 Mad 94

ss 517 and 520—

Appeal—Jurisdiction

Power of Appellate Court to pass orders regarding property in respect of which an offence has been committed S 520 of the Code of Criminal Procedure gives to an Appellate Court the same power as the Court which originally tried a case to pass orders under s 517 of the Code.
Balaram Gogoi v Chinlaram Kohla 9 C W N 519 followed.
In re Devidan Durgaprasad 1 L R 22 Bom 811 distinguished. EMPEROR v AZMAT SHAH KHAN (1913)

1 L R 35 All 374

Power under to confiscate property produced before Court—Conviction for gambling under ss 6 and 7 of Madras Towns Nuisances Act (III of 1889) ss 6 and 7—Confiscation of money not actually used for gambling but found on gambler's person—Validity of On a conviction for gambling under ss 6 and 7 of the Madras Towns Nuisances Act (III of 1889) an order to confiscate money found with the gamblers can only be passed under s 517 of the Criminal Procedure Code and only in respect of such money as has been actually employed in gambling and not in respect of other money found on the person of the gambler. Per ALYING J—Although s 517 is in its terms wide confiscation of property produced before a Criminal Court is not justifiable unless it has been used for an offence or an offence has been committed regarding it. Per PHILLIPS J—The powers under s 517 are very large and the Magistrate's discretion is wide and the section empowers him to make such order as he thinks fit for the disposal of property produced before him but the discretion must be exercised judicially and not arbitrarily. Re APPAJI AYYAN (1918)

1 L R 41 Mad 644

Confiscation of property found with a vagrant ordered to give security under s 109 (6) and 118—Validity of order of confiscation—Enquiry in s 517 whether includes inquiry under s 117 Under s 517 Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) a Court can order confiscation not only of property which has been used for the commission of an offence or regarding which an offence has been committed but also of any other property which has been produced before it. A proceeding under s 117 Criminal Procedure Code is an inquiry within s 517. In re Goundaraja Padayachi 51 I C 327 and Jaganathan v Varalaraja Mudaliar (Criminal Revision Case No 570 of 1915—unreported) dissented from. Passul Bibee v Ahmed Moosayee 1 L R 34 Cal 347 followed. Princ RAMANNA In re (1918)

1 L R 42 Mad 9

—s 520—

See s 439

18 C W N 8-9

Magistrate—Order as to disposal of property—On appeal to the Sessions Court the order left untouched—Application to the District Magistrate to revise the order—Jurisdiction—Notice to the other side—Practice In trying a case of theft a Magistrate of the First Class convicted the accused and passed an order of disposal of the property produced before him. The Sessions Court on appeal confirmed the conviction but left untouched the order as to the disposal of property. An application was then made to the District Magistrate to raise the order and he varied it without issuing notice to the other side. Held reversing the order that the terms of s. 520 of the Criminal Procedure Code did not give any jurisdiction to the District Magistrate to interfere and that he could only interfere as a Court of Revision where there had been no appeal to the Sessions Court. Held also that the District Magistrate ought not to have disposed of the matter without giving notice to the other side. In re LAXMAN LANGU BANOBI (1911) I L R 35 Bom 253

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*s. 520—contd

Order as to disposal of property—Order can be varied only by a Court of Appeal or Court of Revision entitled to act in the case. In acquitting an accused person of the charge of theft of cattle the trying Magistrate ordered the cattle to be returned to him. This order was modified by the Sessions Judge who ordered the cattle to be given up to the complainant. The accused having applied to the High Court. Held that the Sessions Judge had no jurisdiction under s. 520 of the Criminal Procedure Code to make the order he had made since he was neither a Court of Appeal nor a Court of Revision in the case. In re Laxman Ranga Pargari I L R 31 Bom 253 followed. Queen Empress v Ahmed I L R 9 Mod 445 dissented from. In re LAKSHMI PERUMAL (1918) I L R 42 Bom 664

s. 522—

See s. 145

I L R 37 All 654

Restoration of immovable property—Appellate Court power of Jurisdiction. An order under s. 522 of the Criminal Procedure Code can only be made by the Court which convicts of an offence attended with criminal force. An Appellate Court has no power to make such an order restoring possession of immovable property. Varayan Gound v Vemuri I L R 23 Bom 494 referred to. BHAGBAT SHABA v SADIQUE OSTARAI (1912) I L R 39 Cal 1050

Propriety of order in the absence of finding as to dispossession of immovable property. An order under s. 522 Criminal Procedure Code is not sustainable where there is no finding that the complainant has been dispossessed of any immovable property. MOHAN KHAN v GAYZUDDIN SHEIKH (1913) I L R 39 Cal 1050

18 C W N 399

Penal Code (Act XL) of 1860) ss 167, 169—Restoration of possession of immovable property—Criminal force meaning of—Fitting with the common object of causing violence to inanimate object—Applicability of s. 52. When the accused was convicted of rioting for causing violence in the prosecution of a common object viz by destroying the complainant's fencing and raising a new fencing on the complainant's land. Held that violence having been caused in this case to the fencing only and not to any person on there was no criminal force as defined in s. 319 of the Penal Code and no order directing delivery of possession could be made under s. 522 Criminal Procedure Code. SADASTH MANDAL v EMPEROR (1913) 18 C W N 1160

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*s. 522—contd

Appellate Court if can set aside order while mainaining conviction—S. 473 cl (d)—Incidental order. An Appellate Court has power under s. 473 cl (d) which authorises the Appellate Court in appeal to make an incidental order to set aside an order under s. 522 while affirming the conviction. UJIN SHEIKH v SAED ALI SHEIKH (1915) 19 C W N 990

Order restoring possession of immovable property—In propriety of setting aside order in the absence of party affected. When an order under s. 522 was made in respect of a bid on a conviction of rioting and hurt and the Sessions Judge in appeal set aside the conviction of rioting finding that the complainant who claimed to be the auction purchaser of the property did not get possession and directed the order to be in abeyance pending a reference to the High Court but subsequently in the absence of the complainant declared it to be void. Held that the Sessions Judge's order should not have been made behind the back of the party affected by it. MAJIDALI SARDAR v ALI AHAN (1919) 23 C W N 862 ss 522, 145—Infructuous order directing restoration of immovable property if bar to proceeding under s. 145. An infructuous order under s. 522 Criminal Procedure Code which was never carried out is no bar to the jurisdiction of the Magistrate taking proceedings under s. 145 Criminal Procedure Code in respect of the same property. PHONHAT CHANUNHA CHATTENJIT v PHORANNO KHAN SEY (1914) 18 C W N 1089

s. 523, 521—

See RIGHT OF SUIT

I L R 40 Bom 200

ss 524, 517, 58 and 69—Divulging of property produced in Court or seized by police—Suits to contest order of disposal—Limitation—Effectiveness of State liability of for costs. The power of a Criminal Court with regard to property dealt with in s. 514 or 515 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 is limited to making arrangements for the custody and protection of the property while in the custody of Government and to making a transfer of possession to such person as it thinks proper. These sections do not empower the Government to confiscate the property or conclude to the right of the person from whose possession the property has been taken or of any other person to contest the decision of the Criminal Court by civil suit. Such an order of confiscation being illegal and without jurisdiction the plaintiff's suit for recovery of possession is not barred by reason of their omission to institute a suit within one year of the order for the purpose of having it set aside. The words "the Government in s. 514" are to be construed as meaning that the disposal of the property or to sell the property or to

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

ss 535 537 (a)—

See CHARGE I L R 40 Calc 168

s 537—

See s 4 I Pat L J 392

See s 90 I L R 38 Mad 1084

See s 193 I L R 37 All 283

See s 233 I 9 C W N 972

I L R 41 Calc 66

See s 234 I L R 32 All 57

See s 235 I L R 1 Lah 562

See s 236 I L R 45 Bom 834

See s 240 I L R 26 All 132

See s 268 I L R 43 All 125

See s 421 I L R 33 Mad 527

See s 462 I L R 33 All 385

See s 476 I Pat L J 553

See COUNTERFEIT COIN

I L F 44 C.Jc 477

See FALSE INFORMATION

I L R 43 Calc 173

See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURT

I L P 40 Calc 360

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 48 Calc 867

See UNITED PROVINCES EXCISE ACT (IV

OF 1910) s 63 I L R 35 All 358

See WARRANT 3 Pat L J 493

Penal Code (XIV of 1860) ss 182 and 211—Inequity upon ground of absence of sanction—Practice—Revision—Application by private prosecutor against order of acquittal Held that a Court of criminal appeal was not justified in setting aside a conviction under s 182 of the Indian Penal Code on the sole ground that the offence if any which the appellants had committed was one under s 211 of the Code and that no sanction for a prosecution under that section had been obtained. In this case under special circumstances the High Court entertained an application in revision presented by a private prosecutor against an order of a quittal. G. R. BAKSH SINGH v KASHI PAM (1914)

I L R 37 All 110

Complainant referred to accused for report—complaint dismissed—validity of order. It is not merely irregular but illegal for a Magistrate to whom a complaint is made to call upon the person accused for a report as to the truth or falsity of the charge preferred against him. Such an illegality is a factum rendering void an order made as a consequence of it. S 337 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 deals merely with irregularities in procedure so far as such irregularities involve breaches of the rules of procedure provided by the Code of itself. HAR NARAIN HALWAI v KARIMAN ANTI

5 Pat. L J 61

Two false suits filed by same plaintiff—Order directing prosecution and enquiry as to whether it referred to both suits or only one but construed by trying magistrate as referring to both—Convictions upheld. Two suits were filed on the same day by the same plaintiff

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—*contd*s 537—contd

(1) against one B P in the Court of the City Munsif of Pareilly (2) against C D a relative of B P in the Court of the Subordinate Judge. It was alleged and found that both suits were instituted with the same object of harassing B P. Both suits were dismissed as false. In relation to the suit in his Court the Subordinate Judge took proceedings against the plaintiff under s 476 of the Code of Criminal Procedure and in the course of the proceedings sent for and examined the record of the case in the City Munsif's Court. The Subordinate Judge then recorded an order under s 476 of the Code directing the prosecution of the plaintiff under s 209 of the Indian Penal Code. This order was ambiguously worded and did not leave it beyond doubt whether the Subordinate Judge intended to direct the prosecution of the plaintiff in respect of both suits or only in respect of the suit in his own Court. The Magistrate however before whom the case came tried the plaintiff for offences in relation to both and convicted him in respect of both. Held on application in revision—it not being made to appear that the accused had suffered any prejudice—that the case was covered by s 537 of the Code of Criminal Procedure and the conviction of the plaintiff of offences in relation to both suits was not illegal. EMPEROR v ZAHIR SINGH I L P 37 All 283 referred to. EMPEROR v RABU RAM I L R 42 All 12

s 540—

See s 244 I L R 38 All 13

s 652—

See MAGISTRATE JURISDICTION OF I L R 39 Calc. 403

s 555—

See WARRANT 3 Pat L J 493

s 556—

See COMPLAINT I L R 46 Calc 854

See LOCAL INSPECTION

I L R 37 All 340

Personally interested—Magistrate ordering prosecution as president of octroi sub-committee—Jurisdiction. A Magistrate as the president of the octroi sub-committee of a Municipal Board ordered the prosecution of the accused and with the consent of the accused tried the case himself. Held that the Magistrate must be deemed to have been personally interested within the meaning of s 306 of the Code of Criminal Procedure and was not qualified to try the case of the applicant whose consent could not confer jurisdiction upon him. EMPEROR v MOHAN LAL I L P 2, All 24 distinguished. In the matter of the petition of Inayat Hussain All Weekly Notes (1899) 74 referred to. EMPEROR v BISHESHAR BHATTACHARYA (1910) I L R 32 All 635

Whether District Magistrate can try a case under the Indian Factories Act XII of 1911 where he himself as Inspector of Factories ordered inquiries and sanctioned the prosecution. Held that a District Magistrate who as Inspector of Factories ordered an enquiry to be made and in the same capacity sanctioned the prosecution is disqualified by s 306 of the Code of Criminal Procedure from trying the

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 556—contd

ca e Mangal v Emperor (5 P W F 191-) referred to Queen Empress v Pochi Reddi
(1 L P 24 Mad 33) distinguished LORINDA
PAMEL THE CROWN 1 L R 1 Lah 35.

s 562—

See s 439 1 L R 37 All 31

not applicable to aggravated forms of cheating

See PENAL CODE s 40

1 L R 1 Lah 812

Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 40—S 56 whether applicable to a conviction under s 470 The word cheating in s 40 of the Code of Criminal Procedure does not cover the form of cheating punishable under s 40 of the Indian Penal Code Emperor v Pamyar Dad Khan 16 C L J 31 approved and followed Hernandez v Pamyar Dad Khan 41 L J 465 distinguished from SANDAPAM VETAR v THE KING EMPEROR (1917)

1 L P 41 F sd. 533

s 562 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 decries the offences to which it applies by the short marginal descriptions given in the Penal Code in the sections dealing with those offences and the section does not warrant the construction that dishonest misappropriation and cheating include every offence under the headings of Criminal Misappropriation and Cheating in the Penal Code EMPEROR v DEVA KANTA JHA 5 Pat L J 267

The accused a young man of 20 was convicted of theft for having picked the pocket of complainant of Rs 10 and sentenced to 2 months rigorous imprisonment. The High Court in revision directed the accused to be released on furnishing a bond with sureties under the section. ABDUL KADER v MOHAMMAD GORE 25 C W J 720

s 565—

Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 75—Whipping (Act IV of 1909) s 4—Sentence of whipping only passed on a convict—Order to accused to notify his residence—Validity of the order S 563 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) must be strictly construed. The order contemplated by the section can only be made at the time of passing sentence of transportation or imprisonment upon a convict. It cannot be made when the Court instead of passing that sentence passes a sentence of whipping EMPEROR v FULJI DARRA (1910) 1 L R 35 Bom 137

Notification as to residence or change of residence—Temporary absence for a night not noticed—Whether an offence under Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 16 Where all that was proved was that the accused who had been ordered to notify his residence and change of residence under s 563 Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) was absent from his house for a single night without notifying his absence. Held that such temporary absence did not amount to a change of residence and that the accused was not guilty of an offence

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—contd

s 565—contd

under s 16 Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) Pe CHENGADU (1917)

1 L R 40 Mad 769

Sch III (8)—

See TRESPASS 1 L R 39 Calc 953

Sch V form M VII—

See WARRANT 1 L R 38 Calc 769

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS

See LEAVE TO APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

See PRACTICE

See PRIVY COUNCIL—PRACTICE OF

1 L R 42 Calc 739

Legal institution of—Police report not disclosing nature of information—First information report omitting to state the information received—Information given by police officer to himself—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 154 173 199 (1) (b) A prosecution is not legally instituted under s 199 (1) (b) of the Criminal Procedure Code when the police report under s 154 does not set forth the nature of the information and the first information report under s 154 is equally defective in this respect LEE v ADHI KART (1909) 1 L R 37 Calc 49

Pendency of civil suit—Letter alleged to be forged set up as a defence—Genuineness of letter a principal issue in the case—Subsequent institution of criminal proceedings for forgery in respect of the same Where after the institution of a civil suit on a promissory note the defendant was called upon to furnish security and set up as an answer to the plaintiffs claim a letter which was alleged to bear a forged signature and in respect of which criminal proceedings under ss 463 and 467 of the Penal Code were taken by one of the plaintiffs. Held that inasmuch as the letter was a necessary part of the defendant's case and the question of its genuineness a principal issue in the suit the criminal proceedings ought to be stayed pending the decision in the civil suit SHASHI BHUSHAN SEAL v EMPEROR (1910)

1 L R 38 Calc 166

CRIMINAL PROSECUTION

agreement to settle—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) s 2

1 L R 42 Bom 33

limitation of time for—

See CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL ACT (BENG III OF 1899) ss 341 (1) ETC

1 L R 37 Calc 364

CRIMINAL REVISIONAL JURISDICTION

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 439

See HIGH COURT

See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF

Practice—Jurisdiction of High Court—Rule issued on one or more of several grounds in a petition and ultimately discharged—Fresh Rule on the grounds of the same petition When a Rule has been granted on one or more of several grounds contained in a petition and is ultimately discharged the High Court has no juris-

CRIMINAL REVISIONAL JURISDICTION—
could

diction to issue a fresh Rule in the same case on the other or some of the other grounds of the petition which were considered on the first occasion unless permission was given to the party at the time of the discharge of the first Rule to renew the application on the other grounds or some of them. Rai Radha Gobind v Gossain Mohendra Gir 6 O W N 340 and Bibhuty Mohan Roy v Dammoo Dass 10 C L J 30 referred to JOYMAN-GAL PERSHAD NARAY SINGH v JHAGROO SARD (1911)

I L R 38 Calc 933

Dismissal of complaint reasons for—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 203—Grounds not taken in the first Court of Revision might be taken in the High Court—Government Circular its effect—Statute law—Practice Grounds which were not urged in the first Court of Revision might be taken in the High Court Under s 203 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) reason for dismissing the complaint must be recorded. No circular of the Government can authorize Magistrates to infringe or in any way alter the Statute law. MAHARUDDIN SHARIF v ABDUL RAUF (1912)

I L R 40 Calc 41

Practice—Time limit of applications to High Court in criminal revision—Application made after the expiry of 60 days from the date of the order As a matter of practice the High Court will not save in exceptional circumstances entertain an application in criminal revision unless it is made within sixty days excluding the time necessary to obtain copies from the date of the order complained of. In the matter of KUTUBA MOHAMMAD GILL (1916)

I L R 43 Calc 1029

CRIMINAL SESSIONS HIGH COURT

power to direct enquiry—

See PERJURY I L R 43 Calc 542

CRIMINAL TRESPASSSee CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898
S 106 I L R 42 All 345See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
SS 441 442 AND 447

See THEFT I L R 44 Calc 66

See TRESPASS

Mischief—Entry by a servant upon land in the possession of the Court of Wards and cutting bamboos thereon under the order of the owner—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 474 A servant of a proprietor who has voluntarily surrendered his estate to the Court of Wards does not commit criminal trespass of mischief by cutting or removing bamboos etc growing thereon for the benefit of his master under the circumstances of this case. PARNESWAR SINGH v FARRER (1910)

I L R 38 Calc 180

Unanimous verdict of Jury—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 39—Reference to High Court whether permissible in such a case—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 119 391 3 & 119—Absence of charge—Intentional Criminal trespass depends on the intention of the

CRIMINAL TRESPASS—could offender and not upon the nature of the act and when the man's intention is to save his family and property from imminent destruction it cannot be said that because he commits civil trespass on his neighbour's land and cuts a portion of the bund belonging to his neighbour which he ordinarily would not be justified in doing he is guilty of any criminal offence. Where the verdict of the Jury is unanimous and the Judge has agreed with it he can make no reference under s 307 of the Criminal Procedure Code. Where the accused were charged under ss 148 149 and 150 and the Jury found them guilty under s 326 only. Held that the verdict of the Jury under s 326 was a judgment of acquittal inasmuch as there being no charge under that section independently, there could be no verdict given upon it. Ria uli v King Emperor 16 C W N 1077 Panchu Das v Emperor I L R 34 Calc 698 referred to EMPEROR v MADAN MANDAL AND OTHERS (1913)

I L R 41 Calc 662

High Court power of to allow composition of an offence on revision—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 345 (5) 23 (1) (d) 439—Absence of Criminal intent—Entry on land under bona fide claim of right—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 441 447 The High Court has no power as a Court of Revision under s 439 read with s 423 (1) (d) to sanction the composition of an offence when entered into after the conviction of the accused. Adhar Chandra Dey v Subodh Chandra Ghosh 18 C W N 1212 Sankar Rangayya v Sankar Pamayya 16 Cr L J 760 20 Mai L J 591 and Emperor v Pam Chandra I L R 37 All 127 followed. Emperor v Pam Piyuri I L R 32 All 183 Adar Ahmad v King Emperor 11 All L J 13 Aidhan Singh v King Emperor 1 Cr L J 599 5 Punj L R 257 Pam Sarup v Emperor 11 Cr L J 496 13 O C 161 and Lall v Emperor 15 Cr L J 567 17 O C 92 dissented from. Abdur Razim v Ali Husein (1897) 41 N A 26 distinguished. To sustain a conviction under s 447 of the Penal Code it is necessary to prove not only entry on land in the possession of the complainant but also one of the intents specified in s 441. Where a person was charged under ss 447 and 504 of the Penal Code and convicted only under the former. Held that the intent to commit an offence or to intimidate insult or annoy not having been established the conviction was bad. If a person enters upon land in the possession of another in the exercise of a bona fide claim of right without any such intent he cannot be convicted under s 447 though he may have no right to the land. Empire v Budh Singh I L R 2 All 101 Pesludhar Parus 9 B L J App 19 and Juralahan Singh v King Emperor 7 C L J 238 followed. AKSHOR SINGH v RAMESHWAR SARDI (1916)

I L P 43 Calc 1143

CRIMINAL TRIAL

See EVIDENCE I L R 42 Calc 784

See JURISDICTION I L R 41 Calc 305

prosecution of accomplice—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 330
I L R 37 All 331

ratification of defective charge—

See CHARGE I L R 42 Calc 957

CRIMINAL TRIBES ACT (III OF 1911)

s 5—The District Magistrate in granting or refusing an application to take the name of a person out of the register kept under a 5 of the Criminal Tribes Act does not perform any judicial functions his functions are administrative and the High Court is not entitled to interfere with any order made by the Magistrate in this respect HASAN ALI BEGARI v. KING EMPEROR

I L R 47 Cal 843
 24 C W N 624

ss 8 and 28—

See CRIMINAL TRIBES ACT

I L R 47 Cal 843

s 23—

1 First conviction for scheduled offence after the Act—Conviction for such offence prior to the Act—Punishment An accused person who belongs to a tribe notified to come under the Criminal Tribes Act (III of 1911) and who is for the first time after the enactment of that Act convicted of an offence specified in the schedule to the Act is liable to be punished under cl (a) and not cl (b) of s 23(1) of the Act though he may have been convicted once or several times of such offence before the passing of the Act
SELLAMANI P. (1916) I L R 40 Mad 923

2 Member of criminal tribe—Second conviction for scheduled offence—Enhanced punishment The second conviction contemplated by cl (a) of s 23 of the Criminal Tribes Act 1911 need not be the second conviction after the Act nor is it necessary that it should be second in fact Taking the conviction or convictions prior to the Act as one group constituting one conviction the first one after the Act would be the second conviction for the purpose of the section though in point of fact it may be one more in a series of convictions prior to the Act A third conviction within the meaning of cl (b) of the section must be at least the second after the Act
In re Sellamani (1916) 40 Mad 923 followed
EMPEROR v. TUKA NANA (1909)
 I L R 45 Bom 1082

CRITICISM OF GOVERNMENT

See SEDITION I L R 38 Cal 253

CROSS APPEAL

See CONTRACT I L R 39 Mad 509

See PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF
 I L R 37 Cal 623

CROSS CLAIMS

Under same decree—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXI R 10
 I L R 40 Bom 60

CROSS DECREES

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—
 O XXI R 18 I L R 38 All 669
 O XXI R 18 19 20
 I L R 33 All 240

CROSS EXAMINATION

Exhibiting documents during—
 See RIGOUR OF PEXLY
 I L R 43 Cal 428

CROSS EXAMINATION—contd

of prosecution witnesses—

See JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATE
 I L R 39 Cal 665

paper put to witness—Right of opposite counsel to see—

See PROBATE I L R 39 Cal 245

question put in—

See DEFAMATION I L R 41 Cal 514

Prosecution witnesses cross examination of after charge—Failure to name on date of the charge the witnesses required for cross examination—Subsequent application before close of the case—Right of cross examination continuance of—Walter—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 256 S 256 of the Criminal Procedure Code merely lays down that after the plea of the accused is taken he shall be required to state whether he wishes to cross examine any and if so which of the prosecution witnesses who evidence has been taken but it does not state at what particular time he is to be asked this question nor up to what time he has this right Where therefore the accused were asked on the day the charges were framed whether they would call any of the prosecution witnesses for cross examination and did not name any but made an application to recall some of them for that purpose on the next court day and before the case had closed Held that they were entitled to have the prosecution witnesses recalled for the purpose of cross examination and that there was no waiver of their right under the section
INDER RAI v. O R BROWN (1909)
 I L R 37 Cal 238

If a cross examining counsel after putting a paper in the hands of witness merely asks him some questions as to its general nature of identity his adversary will have no right to see the document but if the paper is used for refreshing the memory of the witness or questions are put respecting its contents or regarding the handwriting his opponent may claim to see the paper
Taylor on Evidence 452 referred to and approved
In the goods of GOESSUR DUTT (1911)
 16 C W N 265

Postponement Sessions trial—Application by defence counsel to postpone cross examination till next day—Trial for murder—Refusal by Judge effect of—Prejudice to accused—Re trial—Practice Where at a Sessions trial the defence counsel applied after the examination in chief of the first prosecution witness for postponement of the cross examination of the witness till the next day on the ground of his unpreparedness but did not ask for an adjournment of the trial itself Held that the application was a reasonable one which the Judge should under the circumstances have allowed Though the accused is not entitled to such postponement as of right the Court may in a proper case grant the indulgence Where the result of the refusal of such application was that the witnesses examined on its date four of whom were important were not cross examined by counsel or pleader and the witnesses subsequently examined were inefficiently cross-examined and the cross examination of the former witnesses might have elicited matters as to which the subsequent witnesses might cross-examine and that Held that the accused
 3 C

CROSS EXAMINATION—contd

there should be a retrial by another Judge
SADASIV SINGH v EMPEROR (1913)

I L R 41 Cal 239

Practice—Accused right of—Leading questions—Evidence Act (1 of 1872) ss 153 154 In India as in England the accused are entitled in cross examination to elicit facts in support of their defence from the prosecution witnesses wholly unconnected with the examination in chief. In the course of cross examination of this character the defence are entitled in view of the generality of s 143 of the Indian Evidence Act to ask leading questions. Under s 154 the Court has the discretion to permit the prosecution to test by way of cross examination the veracity of their own witnesses with regard to the (unconnected) matters elicited by the defence in cross examination. ANANTA LAL HAZZA v EMPEROR (1915)

I L R 42 Cal 957

The usual practice where some dependants support plaintiff's case is to order that they shall be at liberty to cross examine the plaintiff's witnesses first if they desire to do so and to call their evidence and address the court before the defendants who oppose the plaintiff's case do so. In the special circumstances of this case the High Court in the exercise of its powers of superintendence interfered with the order of the lower court refusing to allow the defendants who opposed the plaintiff's claim to cross examine the latter's witnesses after the other defendants had cross examined them. MOTIRAM MARWARI v LALIT MOHAR GROSS

5 Pat L J 545

CROSS-OBJECTION

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908
s 62 I L R 49 Bom 541

O XLI r 22

See COURT FEES 3 Pat L J 443

See COURT FEES ACT (VII of 1870)

See I ART 1 I L R 40 AH 93

See OBJECTION

See SALE I L R 43 Cal 790

memorandum of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XLI r 22

I L R 38 Mad 705

Dismissal of suit—entire appeal for failure to give security—whether such dismissal is a dismissal for default—Code of Civil Procedure (Act I of 1902) O XLI r 22(4) Where the respondent has filed a cross objection and where the parties have entered into contest before the Court on several occasions and the appeal is dismissed upon the appellant's failure to furnish security such a dismissal is a dismissal for default and the respondent is therefore entitled to have his cross objection heard and determined. MOWAN SINGH v SINGH

4 Pat L J 164

Appeal by one defendant against plaintiff—Co-defendants impleaded as formal respondents cross-appeal by defendant respondent when appeal by him is barred—Code of Civil Procedure (Act I of 1902) O XLI r 22(4) and 22(5)—Covenant of title—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) ss 45 and 55 (1) Where one of several defendants against whom a decree is passed

CROSS OBJECTION—contd

has allowed the period for appealing to elapse O XLI r 22 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908, was not intended to revive his right merely because a co-defendant has instituted an appeal against the plaintiff on entirely different grounds. An appeal was filed by one of several defendants in which the plaintiff was the real respondent and the other defendants were merely formal respondents. The appeal was directed against the decree in so far as it affected the appellant's liability towards the plaintiff only. Of the defendant respondents the only one who appeared in the appeal was defendant No 1. He was affected by the decree in so far as it declared that a mortgage of the plaintiff respondent's property which had been made to him had been satisfied and that the plaintiff was entitled to possession of the mortgaged property. The time to appeal from the decree having elapsed defendant No 1 preferred a cross appeal as against the plaintiff respondent. Held that the defendant No 1 was not entitled to prefer the cross appeal O XLI r 22 (1) in so far as it relates to a cross objection was provided to meet the case where a respondent although the decree is not entirely in his favour is content to let matters rest provided his opponent does not appeal but who may not be willing to run the risk of having the findings in his favour varied or reversed without an opportunity of appealing against the findings which are adverse to him. The rule should ordinarily be confined to cases of cross objections urged against the appellant but O XLI r 33 gives the court a wide discretion where justice requires it that cross objections against a co-respondent should be heard. The rule should not be invoked to enable a litigant to avoid the provisions of other statutes such as the Limitation Act or the Court Fees Act. In 1890 C transferred half of his mining rights in a certain manu to S. In 1904 C having died in the meanwhile S released to C's estate for consideration the right title and interest which he had acquired by the transfer of 1895. Held that it was not competent to the administrators of C's estate to complain that there was a defect in the title which C himself represented to S as subsisting. THE OFFICIAL TRUSTEE OF BENGAL v CHARLES JOSEPH SMITH

5 Pat L J 329

Held that r 22 of O XLI of the Civil Procedure Code is not applicable to an appeal under cl 15 of the Letters Patent and a memorandum of cross objection can not be entertained in these appeals. CHANDRA SARMA v PROSARNA KUMAR DHAR

24 C W N 1010

CROSS SUITS

See ACCOUNT 15 C W N 930

CROWN

See SECRETARY OF STATE

applicability of Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) to—

See LEASE I L R 40 Mad 810

delegation of authority to Secretary of State

See EXECUTION OF DECREE
I L R 38 Cal 734

escheat to—

See MORTGAGE LIAISON
I L R 42 Mad 327

CROWN—contd

right of to prosecute—

See CONSPIRACY 1 L R 42 Cal 957

right of in Rivers—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION ACT 1865 s 4

1 L R 37 Mad 322

CROWN DEBT

priority of—

See ADMINISTRATION

1 L R 45 Cal 653

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1889 s 411

1 L R 34 All 223

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1852) s 60 1 L R 40 Mad 767

CROWN GRANTS

rule of construction of—

See ISLAM 1 L R 40 Mad 268

CROWN GRANTS ACT (XV OF 1895)

s 2—

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

1 L R 40 All 470

ss 2, 3—

See PEONISTRY ACT (XVI OF 1908)

Es 1st 90 1 L R 36 All 176

S 90 1 L R 43 Mad 65

s 3—Government's power to prescribe by sanad rule of descent for grants by it contrary to its law—Subject's power to do same—Other property treated by grantee as part of sanad property if governed by sanad—Property given by Government in exchange for property granted if devolves according to sanad—Property given for the use of grantee as such if governed as to descent by sanad—Movable property if so governed The Crown has in British India power to grant or to transfer lands and by its grant or on the transfer to limit in any way it pleases the descent of such lands But a subject has no right by express declaration still less by mere volition actual or presumed to impose upon lands or other property any limitation of descent which is at variance with the ordinary law of descent of property applicable to the case B died possessed of properties descended under a Government sanad according to the rule of primogeniture and others not governed by the sanad Held that Government had power to give to B in exchange for any land covered by the sanad other lands and the lands so acquired by B in exchange would be subject to the rule of descent prescribed in the sanad Held also that the rule of descent prescribed in the sanad governed a house which Government had allotted to B for his use as Taluqdar of the village the subject matter of the sanad although it was not covered by the sanad and no express grant of the house was produced or even shown to have existed That the moveable property left by B not being covered by the sanad was not governed by the rule of descent prescribed therein PAJENDRA BAHADUR SINGH v. PANDU RAOHUBANS KUMAR (1918) 23 C W N 101

CRUELTY—contd

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS

1 L R 40 All 332

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS

See DISTRICT POLICE ACT (BOMBAY)

1 L R 45 Bom 203

See PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO ANIMALS ACT (XI OF 1890) s 3 CL (b)

CULPAE HOMICIDE

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)

Ss 37 302 304

1 L R 35 All 505 560

S 304 1 L R 42 All 272

Ss 304 AND 325 1 L R 40 All 103

1 L R 42 All 302

Ss 325 300 EXCEPTION 4

1 L R 40 All 686

sentence of transportation for 14 years—If Legal—

See PENAL CODE s 59

25 C W N 514

CUMULATIVE SENTENCES

Rioting—Separate sentences for rioting and causing hurt—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 147 373 Separate sentences for the offences of rioting and hurt are legal where it is found that each person took an individual part in the assault Wilmory Poddar v Queen Empress 1 L R 18 Cal 442 Mohar Mir v Queen Empress 1 L R 18 Cal 793 Ferasat v Queen Empress 1 L R 19 Cal 105 referred to RAM ANOOTH SINGH v EMPRESS (1913) 1 L R 40 Cal 511

CURATORS' ACT (XIX OF 1841)

See SUCCESSION (PROPERTY PROTECTION) ACT (XV OF 1841)

ss 3 4 and 14—Oath's Act (V of 1810)—Death of representative Vatandar—Deceased's widow representative Vatandar—Death of the widow—Application by the nearest heir of the deceased male Vatandar for possession—Six months calculation of—Property claimed by right in succession—Inquiry upon solemn declaration—Affidavit upon solemn affirmation One Kotrappa representative Vatandar of Deshagat Vatan died in 1897 His widow Basawa was entered on the Vatan Register as representative Vatandar and she held the Vatan property until her death in 1907 Within six months of Basawa's death Kanappa who claimed to be the nearest heir of Kotrappa applied for possession of the property under the Curators' Act (XIX of 1841) and the Judge granted his application One of the opponents to the application thereupon moved the High Court under the extraordinary jurisdiction contending that (i) under ss 14 of the Curators' Act (XIX of 1841) the provisions of the Act could not be put in force because Kotrappa died more than six months before the date of the application and (ii) in granting the application the Judge did not follow the procedure which was made imperative by the words of s 3 of the Curators' Act (XIX of 1841) that there was no inquiry upon solemn declaration of the complainant (applicant) in granting the order

CRUELTY

See DIVORCE 1 L R 38 Cal 907

1 L R 39 Cal 395

CURATORS' ACT (XIX OF 1841)—contd

ss 3, 3 and 14—contd

that (1) the decease of the proprietor whose property was claimed by right in succession referred to in s 14 of the Curators Act (XIX of 1841) included the decease of Basawa because she was between the death of her husband and her own decease the proprietor of the property claimed. All that was to be decided was who should be put into possession of the property in succession to the last deceased holder (2) The Judge having acted upon the application of the claimant in addition to his affidavit on solemn affirmation the statements in the affidavit furnished sufficient grounds for action under s 4 of the Curators Act (XIX of 1841) having regard to the provisions of the Oaths Act (V of 1840) BAHMAFFA v. KHAMAPPA (1909) I L R 34 Bom 115

CURRENCY NOTE

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s 517 I L R 40 Bom 185

Delivery of halves of—Such delivery does not pass the property in the notes—Creditor receiving halves of notes from debtor not entitled to in full delivery of the other halves The delivery by a debtor of halves of currency notes to his creditor with the intention of paying off the debt by remitting the other halves does not pass the property in the notes to the creditor so as to enable him to claim delivery of the other halves Smith v. Mundy 29 L J Q B 172 followed. The debtor does not by simply sending the first halves without anything more become a trustee or bailee in respect of the other halves of the notes Per ANDER RAHM J—S 92 of the Indian Contract Act does not apply to money or currency notes although the definition of goods in s 76 of the Contract Act is wide enough to cover coins and currency note Per BAKERWELL J—The delivery of the half notes to the creditor was only one step towards or preparatory to the actual delivery of the notes and indicates only an intention to transfer and does not constitute a delivery of the notes KOTI VENKATA RAMIAH v. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS (1907) I L R 33 Mad 195

CURRENT ACCOUNT

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 SCH I ART 85 I L R 1 Lah 12

CUSTODY

See COINTEGRITY COIN

I L R 44 Calc 477

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) s 28

I L P 42 Bom 1

See JUTE I L R 44 Calc 98

CUSTODY OF CHILDREN

See GUARDIAN I L R 38 Mad 807

See GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT (VIII OF 1900) s 25 I L R 39 Bom 438

See HINDU ADOPTION I L R 41 Calc 714

See MINOR L R 41 I A 314

CUSTOM

See ADOPTION I L R 40 Calc 879

See ACTUAL BANIAS OF ZIRA I L R 40 Calc 879

See BANIANA OPANT I L R 42 Calc 562

CUSTOM—contd

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 100 I L R 36 All 254

See COMMON LAND I L R. 1 Lah 249

See CUSTOM OF CASTE

See CUSTOM OF THE TRADE

See CUSTOM OF USAGE

I L R 45 Calc 2853

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 32 All 247

See HINDU LAW ALIENATION

I L R 43 Calc 417

See HINDU LAW—CUSTOM

I L R 32 All 363

42 Calc 562

See HINDU LAW IMPARTIBLE ESTATE

2 F L J 339

See HINDU LAW PARTITION

I L R 45 Bom 740

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

14 C W N 770

I L R 43 Calc 997

See INSURANCE I L R 38 Bom 484

See JAJGER I L R 42 Calc 305

See JEWISH LAW

I L R 38 Calc 709

See JURISDICTION I L R 35 Bom 264

See KHAM EAST JOTES

I L R 43 Calc 359

See KHAMMURA STATE OF SUCCESSION TO

I L R 33 Calc 711

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 39 All 125

I L R 34 All 545

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE EMBITION

I L R 39 Bom 163

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—SUCCESSION

14 C W N 59

See MAPILLAS OF NORTH MALABAR

I L R 38 Mad 1052

See MEMONS I L R 43 Bom 647

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING

15 C W N 752

See OCCUPANCY FRIGHT

I L R 43 Calc 43

See PALAS OF TURNS OF WORSHIP

I L R 42 Calc 455

See PRE EMBITION

See PRIMOGENITURE 18 C W N 55

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT

ACT 1897 SCH II CL 13

I L R 43 All 681

See RAILWAY RECEIPT

I L R 38 Mad 684

See RE MARRIAGE

See SCHOOL MASTER

I L R. 44 Calc 617

See SORAO GRANT I L R 42 Calc. 582

Adoption by Jains in Idar State—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 43 Bom 754

CUSTOM—contd

- adoption of daughter's son—
See PUNJAB COURT ACT 1918
 I L R 2 Lah 167
- adoption by widow without authority
 by Mahesris of Delhi—
See DECLARATORY SUIT
 I L R 1 Lah 92
- adoption of daughter's son by Brahmins of Amritsar—
See PUNJAB COURT ACT 1918 s 41
 I L R 2 Lah 167
- adoption of an orphan boy among Jains in the Idar State—
See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION (74)
 I L P 45 Bom 754
- Bombay Silver Market—
See CONTRACT (—) I L R 42 Bom 224
- enabling tenant to build—See MARPUS FATES LAND ACT (I of 1904) s 9 11 151 157 187 (g)
 I L P 37 Mad 432
- evidence etc in relation to written contract—
See DOWL KHALIAT 25 C W N 13
- expert evidence in proof of—
See CATCH MEMOS
 I L R 41 Bom 181
- finding as to existence of—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 100
 I L R 41 Mad 374
- khandamadani—
See PUNJAB COURTS ACT 1914
 I L R 1 Lah 245
- modifying ordinary Law—
See ILLEGITIMATE SON 25 C W N 433
- See CUSTOM I L R 45 Calc 450
- of caste—
See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE
 I L R 39 Bom 538
- of impartibility—
See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
 I L R 41 Mad 776
- of Succession (Mohomedan)—
See OUDH ESTATE ACT II
 1869 I L R 38 All 552
- of inalienability—
See IMPARTIBLE ESTATE
 I L R 36 Mad 325
- of Mohesris of Delhi—
See DECLARATORY SUIT
 I L R 1 Lah 92
- of Marwari merchants—
See HINDI SHAH JOO
 I L R 39 Bom 513
- of Nattukottal Chetties in Madura
See HINDU LAW—PARTITION
 I L R 44 Mad. 740
- privacy in Gujarat—
See EASEMENT I L R 44 Bom 496
- plea of—
See TRUST I L R 41 Calc 433

CUSTOM—contd

- primogeniture—
See CLATON I Pa^t L J 109
- See HINDU LAW 21 C W N 60
- recorded in Wajub ul arz—
See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSES ACT
 1857 SCH II CL 13
- I L R 43 All 681
- transmissibility of agricultural tenancies—
See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882
 s 43 25 C W N 420
- up country cotton merchants—
See CONTRACT ACT (I of 1822) ss 118
 119 I L R 42 Bom 205
- temple—disqualification of females to perform duties in—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1908) O XXIII P 3
 I L R 38 Mad 850
- Adoption—
*Of brother's daughter's son—Jats—Jullundur Tahsil—onus probandi—Piyas v Am Hild that the plaintiff the adopted son on whom the onus lay had failed to prove that by custom among Jats of Mau a Manho tahsil and district Jullundur the adoption of a brother's daughter's son is valid Pal v Bida
 (50 I R 1893 F B) Surain Singh v Jawahar
 Singh (0 Indian Cases 839) Pal v Waryam
 Singh (94 P P 1913) and Natha Singh v Margal
 (90 P R 1914) referred to also Sant Singh v Megha Civil Appeal No 1233 of 1907 (unpub lished) and the Ruway v Am Ullam Singh v Kesra Singh (189 P R 1890) dissented from JALPAT SINGH v UJAOAR SINGH
 I L R 1 Lah 15*
- *Of a stranger—Jats of tahsil Fatehabad district Hissar—onus probandi—estoppel—where adoption was the result of a compro mise to which the challenger's grandfather was a party Hild that the onus of proving that the adoption of stranger (ie the illegitimate child of the widow of a brother) is valid by custom among Jats of Bangroom tahsil Fatehabad district Hissar rests on the adopted child and that this onus had not been discharged in the present case Ralligan's Digest of Customary Law page 54 and paragraph 37 (b) referred to Malagur v Jagir (93 P R 1893) distinguished Hild however that as the defendant who challenged the adoption was the grandson of a party to the compromise under which the adoption was made and under which he received a material benefit and who was present and con senting when the ceremonies were performed the defendant was stopped from disputing the adop tion and was bound by his grandfather's action.
 Labha v Musamma Ahalah (7 P R 1905) Deri
 Dhal v Utam Deri (37 P R 1907) Hasib Khan v
 Muhammad (63 P R 1912) Dhaqat Ram v Gokal
 Chand (150 P R 1908 p 637) and Chuhar v Musammamat Jas Kuar (69 P R 1917) referred to MOMAN v Musammamat DHANNI
 I L R 1 Lah 31*
- By an adopted son of his brother—Hindu Jats—Ludhiana District—P w v Am Hild that it had not been shown that among Hindu Jats of the Ludhiana District a son less proprietor who happens himself to have been an adopted son, is d barred from exercising the

CUSTOM—*contd*Adoption—contd

general power possessed by a proprietor in the central and eastern parts of the Punjab of appointing one of his kinsmen to succeed him as his heir. Pattigan's Digest of Customary Law paragraph 37 and the judgment of the District Court of Ludhiana dated 9th October 1914 (Civil Appeal No 124 of 1914 Hira v Dewa Singh) referred to Mehra v Mangal Singh (90 P R 1914) and Ralla v Budha (50 P R 1893 (F B)) distinguished. Held also that the plaintiffs collateral on whom the onus lay had failed to prove that the adoption of a brother is invalid among these Jats. Sant Singh v Mula (44 P R 1913) and Waryam Singh v Juan Singh (205 P L R 1913) referred to—also Ruttigan's Digest paragraph 36 and introduction to Chapter III and the Ludhiana Customary Law of 1911 page 98. Semle that the suggested rule that no adoption can be valid in which the mother of the person adopted is debarred from marrying the adoptive father does not apply amongst agriculturists of Ludhiana. Gordon Waller's Customary Law page 93 referred to. Jiwa Singh v Mussammal Chandi. I L R 1 Lah 39

Adoption of daughter's son—Many Rajputs tahsil Nakodar district Jullundur—Rwajiam. Held that by custom a Many Rajput of tahsil Nakodar district Jullundur is authorised to adopt his daughter's son who is also an agnate relation. SANMAD KHAN v KHA WAJE KHAN. I L R 2 Lah 193

Of daughter's son—Dhano Jats—Tahsil Kharar District Ambala—Wajid ul arz—value of. Held that by custom among Dhano Jats of Tahsil Kharar the adoption of a daughter's son is valid. Surder Singh v Mst Mam (63 P R 1888) followed. Ralla v Budha (50 P R 1893 (F B)) referred to and distinguished. Held also that a Wajid ul arz being part of a Revenue Record is of greater authority than a Pirayiam which is of general application and is not drawn up in respect of individual villages. GURBAKISH SINGH v Mst PARTAPO.

I L R 2 Lah 346

Hindu Law—Will by adoptive father of entire estate in favour of natural son born after the adoption—whether valid. The plaintiff appellant was adopted by his adoptive father in 1903 about five years later the adoptive father got a natural son the defendant respondent. The plaintiff sued the defendant for a share in the estate of his adoptive father. The defendant resisted the suit on the grounds (1) that the plaintiff being the daughter's son of his adoptive father could not be validly adopted, (2) that the adoptive father (deceased) left a will by which he devised his entire estate to the defendant. Held that under Hindu Law the adoption of a daughter's son is invalid but that the plaintiff had succeeded in establishing a custom recognizing the validity of the adoption of a daughter's son among the Akhatras of the town of Amritsar and that he must therefore be treated as the validly adopted son of his deceased adoptive father. Sardar Duan Singh v Mussammal Duhban (72 P R 1878) Atma Singh v Jatta Singh (61 P R 1893) Tafa v Shub Charn (16 P R 1883) Ganda Mal v Mussammal Chandi (67 P R 1887) and Harnaman v Atma Pam (91 P R 1900) referred to. Held also that as soon as the plaintiff was adopted he became a co-partener with his adoptive father and that the latter could not dispose of any property which belonged to the joint family. His will therefore could operate only upon his separate property and was invalid qua the joint property. All the property in the hands of the members of a joint family should be treated as joint property unless the contrary is proved. Held further that the adopted son takes one fourth of the entire estate in those provinces which follow the Mitalshara School of law. Mayne's Hindu Law paragraph 163 referred to. PABNA NAND v SHIV CHARN DAS.

CUSTOM—*contd*Adoption—contd

I L R 2 Lah 69

Alienation—

Ancient property—

just antecedent debt—nature of enquiry to be made by the alienee—rule laid down in Devi Ditta v Saudagar Singh (65 P R 1900) explained. The main question for determination in this case was whether an alienee of ancestral immovable property from a person governed by custom is bound to prove necessity or enquiry as to necessity with respect to a debt which was due by the alienor to an antecedent creditor and which had been discharged by the alienee. In other words is it the duty of the alienee to enquire not only into the existence of the antecedent debt but also into the nature and necessity thereof? Held per SNAT LAL J that an alienee discharging an antecedent debt is not required to make an enquiry into the nature thereof and that this is in accord with the rule laid down in Devi Ditta v Saudagar Singh (65 P R 1900 (F B)). Muhammad Hayat Khan v Sandhe Khan (55 P R 1903) and Muhammad Islam v Hari Lal (7 P R 1914) approved. Maharaj Singh v Balaat Singh (I L R 23 All 508 541) and Trevelyan's Hindu Law page 310 referred to. But the law enunciated above only helps an honest alienee who acts in perfect good faith. An alienee paying off an antecedent creditor gets no advantage if he has knowledge of the true nature of the debt or acts in bad faith or where he and the antecedent creditor are in effect one and the same person. Held per LEROSSIGNOL J that the principle laid down in Devi Ditta v Saudagar Singh is that the initial onus lies on the outsider alienee to show that the debts were due and when he has discharged that onus the turn of the opposite party then comes to show that the alienee made no proper enquiry or that if he made one he must have learnt of the real nature of the debts. The words made no enquiry whatever in Devi Ditta v Saudagar Singh refer to an enquiry as to the existence of the debts but include also an enquiry as to their nature if the party challenging the alienation can show that the result of the first enquiry should have raised doubts in the minds of an ordinary prudent man as to the morality or reasonableness of the debts. Held per CURRIAM that in this case all the circumstances including the fact that the alienor was a neighbour of the alienee showed that the alienee must have known that the debts were contracted as an act of reckless extravagance and could not be regarded as just debts. JHANNU v NIAMAT KHAN. I L R 1 Lah 472

I L R 1 Lah 472

Incestral property—will in favour of daughter in presence of a half brother—Kahals—Mauza Idharwal tahsil Chakwal district Jhelum—Pirayiam. Held that it has been proved that by custom among Kahals of tahsil Chakwal district Jhelum a sonless proprietor has the power to make a free disposition of his ancestral land to a daughter in the presence of brothers or other collaterals Khida Lalsh v Wahan Ali (88 P P 1911) Nir Khan v Sarfar (100 P R 191) Nura v Tara (46 I P 1900) Fa Lalsh v Johan Shah (51 I P 190) Hayat v Musammam G Han (5 I P 1918) and Musammam Rahmat v Fateh Muhammad (94 P P 1912) referred to Musammam Nur Bhatt v D Ha (56 P P 18) not followed MUHAMMAD KHAN v MUSAMMAM KHAN I L R 2 Lab 170

CUSTOM—contdAlienation—contd

Necessity—Sale price enhanced by a fictitious item—whether the actual transaction can be upheld The plaintiffs the nephews sued in 1914 to challenge a sale of 18 kanas 3 marlas ancestral land made by their 2 uncles in 1908 for Rs 1,000 on the ground that it was without consideration and necessity. The District Judge found that Rs 288 of the consideration was fictitious probably inserted with the intention of scaring away pre-emptors and decreed plaintiffs' claim on payment of their share in the balance of the purchase money. The defendants appealed to this Court. Held that in cases like the present the real issue is what was the contract between the vendor and the vendee and if it is found that by consent of the vendor and the vendee a fictitious amount was included in the ostensible sale price the only matter which remains for consideration is whether the real contract is one which should be binding on the collaterals. Civil No 210 of 1903 (unpublished) followed. Akar v Sundar Singh (27 I R 1905) not followed. Held also that as in this case the actual sale price of Rs 1,212 for 18 kanas of land paying a revenue of Rs 5 only was apparently the full market value and the vendors were in a necessitous condition and considering the delay in taking action the sale should be upheld and the plaintiffs' suit dismissed. PUNJAB SINGH v ARJAN I L R 2 Lab 22

Family Primogeniture in Chota Nagpur—One branch of a family is evidence of its applicability to another branch There is a custom in Chota Nagpur that an estate granted by the Maharaja of Chota Nagpur is impartible and is governed by the rule of primogeniture. This is not merely a family custom prevailing in the Maharaja's family but it is also the lex loci of Chota Nagpur. Where a custom prevails in one branch of a family it is strong evidence to be relied on that it applies with equal force to another branch of the same family. Per CHAPMAN J The Privy Council decision to the effect that the words putra putradi occurring in a modern Hindu Will would convey an estate unconditional and unlimited are based upon the ground that these words had by 1868 acquired a technical significance. It is quite impossible to say that in 1760 before the British had acquired jurisdiction in Chota Nagpur that the words putra putradi had acquired that technical meaning. Per ATKINSON J A grant of land containing the words putra putradi conveys an absolute perpetual estate in the lands descendible from generation to generation coupled with full powers of alienation. Query Whether in Chota Nagpur this rule is subject to a proviso so long as there are lineal male descendants entitled to inherit. LAL GAYENDRA NATH SAHI DEO v LAL MATHEWAL NATH SAHI DEO I L R 2 Lab 109

Evidence of presumption—Inference of existence of a custom from continued use of land

CUSTOM—contd

for a particular purpose It is open to a Court to infer from long enjoyment not exercised by permission stealth or force the existence of a custom. If after considering the evidence the Court comes to the conclusion that an alleged custom is unreasonable or that the privilege is enjoyed as a result of permission given or that it is exercised by stealth or force the Court is entitled to find against the custom. Awar Sen v Mamman I L R 17 All 57 referred to SHADI LAL v MUHAMMAD ISHAQ KHAN (1910) I L R 33 All 257

Maintenance claim—The Plaintiffs were two Mahomedan concubines and their illegitimate sons by a deceased Hindu claiming against the Legitimate son for maintenance on the ground of family custom Held custom not proved. CHARANJIT SINGH v AMIR ALI KHAN I L R 2 Lab 243

Inheritance—Customary Law of Punjab—Sheikh Ansaria Tribe of—Gift by father to daughter—Estate taken by donee—Evidence and proof of custom—Acquiescence and consequent estoppel—Partition by agreement of parties as acquiescence in title of allottees—Limitation Act (XX of 1877) Sch II Art 118—Ineffective adoption—Mahomedan Law The appellants claimed possession of the property in suit on the allegation that it was ancestral property to which they were entitled as reversioners. The defence was that the respondent was in possession under a gift from the last owner a Mahomedan lady who had adopted him as her heir and who had herself received the property in disparte as a gift from her father in lieu of her mother's dower and that the suit was barred by limitation. The parties were Sheikh Ansaria of a Pathan tribe of Punjab Mahomedans and the appellant's case was that according to a custom prevailing in the family no women could take by gift a greater interest in ancestral property than an estate for life and without power of alienation and that the gift to the respondent was therefore void. In dismissing the appeal from the Chief Court of the Punjab Held by the Judicial Committee on the documentary evidence as to the course of litigation concerning the property and the circumstances connected with its devolution since 1847 and on the other evidence in the case that not only had no such custom as alleged applying to the family been proved but the evidence relating to the devolution of the property was inconsistent with the existence of such a custom and in fact disproved it nor was it supported by evidence as to the limited rights by custom of a widow in her deceased husband's property nor by evidence of a custom preventing a Mahomedan father from giving his property to one son to the exclusion of another. Held also that there was strong evidence of the appellant's acquiescence in the respondent's title in the fact that in 1890-96 the principal lands which had been held in undivided shares by the parties were by agreement partitioned each having allotted to him lands which represented his share and that the respondent's share on the partition represented lands which had come to him from the gift which the appellants now disputed as being void. Seemle That the omission to bring within the period prescribed by Art 118 of Sch II of the Limitation Act (XX of 18) a suit to obtain a declaration that an adoption was invalid or never in fact took place was no bar to a suit like the present for possession of property. Tirwan Bahadur Singh v Ram

CUSTOM—contd

eskur Bakhs Singh I L R 28 4P 727 L R 33 I A 156 followed. Under the general Mahomedan law an adoption cannot be made and even if it be made can carry with it no right of inheritance. MUHAMMAD UMAR KHAN v. MUHAMMAD NIAZ UD DIN KHAN (1911) I L R 39 Cal 418

Timber—Tenants of wazari and appropriate timber trees—Reasonableness or unreasonableness of custom if question of law or fact—Custom not unreasonable. The reasonableness or unreasonableness of a custom is a question of law. Brathwaite v. Foley 3 C P 129 135 followed. Where a customary right claimed by tenants to cut and appropriate trees upon the holding was upheld in the First Court but the Judge on appeal declared the custom to be unreasonable in so far as it permitted the appropriation of timber trees. Held that there was nothing unfair or dishonest or contrary to the public good in the custom and it was not unreasonable. GURU KAR v. RAVI KARAN MOVI SINGHA MANDHATA (1915)

15 C W N 1188

Succession—Among tribal communities in the Punjab—Agnates—General custom excluding daughters—Exceptions to—Succession of daughter when married to near collateral who is in her father's house as khana damad (resident son in law)—Riwaj i am or official record of customs value as evidence. A Mahomedan Jat belonging to the sub community of Dabs settled in the Jhang District of the Punjab died without male issue and leaving a widow and a daughter who was married to a near collateral of the deceased who was also his khana damad or resident son in law. In a suit by the respondents who as collaterals based their claim to a share of the property of the deceased on a general custom of agnatic succession in the community or tribe to the exclusion of the daughter and her descendants the appellant the son of the daughter of the deceased who was the devisee of his will, alleged that a daughter married to a near collateral who takes up his residence in the father in law's house as a khana damad succeeded to her father's inheritance in preference to the agnates and produced in support of this special custom the Riwaj i am or official records of custom in addition to a considerable amount of oral testimony. Held (reversing the decision of the Chief Court) that on the death of the widow who had inherited the entire estate the daughter and her son were entitled to succeed in preference to the respondents. Assuming that such a general custom as that relied on by the respondents existed as to which the decisions of the Punjab Chief Court were by no means uniform specially in the case of Mahomedan tribes who were endogamous it was clear that the rule was admittedly subject to many exceptions. See Kattigan's Digest of Customary Law for the Punjab Chap II para 23 where they are enumerated. And Re s. Tribal Law in the Punjab where particular stress is laid on the value of the Riwaj i am as a record of tribal customs and it is said that "son in law of the house is a regular institution." Held also that the Riwaj i am was a public record prepared by a public officer in discharge of his duties and under Government rules and was clearly admissible in evidence to prove the facts therein entered subject to rebuttal. And their Lordships were of opinion that the statements in the Riwaj i am for the Jhang District formed a strong piece of evidence in support of the custom set up by the appellant.

CUSTOM—contd

which it lay upon the respondents to rebut and they had failed to do so. BEQ v. ATAR DIRTA (1916) I L R 41 Cal 749

Inheritance—Evidence admissible to prove custom at variance with the Mahomedan law—Exclusion of daughters from inheritance—Riwaj i am—Value of the riwaj i am as evidence. One Saryid Asghar Ali a native of Qasbi Palwal in the Gurgaon district of the Punjab and the owner of a small amount of land in Palwal though not a Biswadar nor a member of an agricultural family entered the service of the Government of the North Western Provinces and became a tahsil dar. He rendered distinguished service during the mutiny and was rewarded by Government with the grant of a village called War Badshapur in the Bulandshahr district. After his retirement Asghar Ali retired to his native town. He died in 1876 leaving him surviving two widows two daughters and a minor son. On the petition of the widows the Bulandshahr estate was taken over by the Court of Wards. When the son came of age the Court of Wards released half the estate in his favour but retained half for the benefit of the widows and the daughters and their heirs. After the death of the widows and one of the daughters the son Ali Asghar sued to recover possession of the remaining half of the Bulandshahr property on the ground that according to the custom of the Punjab and the local custom of the biswadars of Palwal in particular daughters were not entitled to any share in the paternal inheritance in the presence of a son. Held that evidence was admissible to prove the custom alleged by the plaintiff notwithstanding that such custom was contrary to the Mahomedan law but that the plaintiff had failed to prove that any such custom as that set up by him applied to his family. The value as evidence of the document known as Riwaj i am discussed. ALI ASGHAR v. THE COLLECTOR OF BULANDSHAHR (1917)

I L R 39 AU 574

There is a custom in Chota Nagpur that on estate granted by the Maharaja is impartible and governed by the rule of primogeniture. LAL GANENDRA NATH SAINI DEO v. LAL NUTRULAL NATH SAINI DEO

1 Pat L J 109

Proof of custom—modifying Mahomedan Law—Custom excluding women from share of inheritance of paternal relation—Bombay Regulation IV of 1827 s. 26—Punjab Laws Act 1872 s. 5—Essentials in proving custom—Family custom—Position and relationship of members of family—Denial by prominent member of family of existence of custom—Failure to produce Revenue Records as evidence. On the death of a wealthy Shia Mahomedan in Sind intestate and leaving no widow or child the nearest surviving relations were a nephew (the plaintiff appellants) and a sister and her son the first and second defendants respondents. The appellant a case was that the question as to the rights of inheritance was governed not by Mahomedan Law but by a custom which excluded women from any share in the inheritance of a paternal relation. Held that under s. 26 of Bombay Regulation IV of 1827 which had been extended to Sind no presumption can be made in favour of the existence of a usage or custom where it is known that such usage or custom is prevalent but it was incumbent on the appellant to allege and prove the custom on which

CUSTOM—con d.

he relied. Dava Parn v Sohail Singh 41 Punjab Rec 393 per Lord Pearson J is a case under s. 5 of the Punjab Laws Act 1872 the words of which are more strongly in favour of the appellant's contention than those of s. 26 of Bombay Regulation IV of 1827. Custom binding inheritance in a particular family has long been recognised in India. See Soorendro Nath Poy v Heeramonjee Burmonjee 12 Moo I A 81 and the principles applicable to the proof of customs in England were not to be applied in considering such a custom as that claimed in the present suit. Nor was it necessary to reject as useless for proving such a custom all the instances mentioned by Crofton J. In his judgment in the Judicial Commissioner's Court. An example of each of the conditions there laid down ought certainly to be established by some witness but it was not necessary that all should be proved in every case as that might greatly weaken the evidence by tradition to which in a custom of the character under consideration great weight was due. Ramalakshmi Ammal v Sivananthe Perumal Sethuraj 14 Moo I A 870 referred to as to what was essential to the proof of special usages modifying the ordinary law of succession. Held also assuming that the custom relied on which had not been precisely defined by the appellant was a custom by which in the event of intestacy daughters of the deceased were excluded in favour of their brothers and sisters in favour of male paternal relations that such a custom had not on the evidence been sufficiently proved. The position and relationship of the different members of the family must always be considered in determining whether claims were not met because the rights to which they related did not exist or whether they were put on one side because in the circumstances there was no need for asserting them. Murali v Villayanno 1 L P 8 Mad 461 referred to. The fact that prominent members of the families concerned denied that such a custom as alleged existed and the non-production of the Revenue Records one of which showed a division according to Mahomedan Law and not according to the custom here set up were both evidence strongly against the custom. In the opinion of their Lordships though there was much in history for the custom and some evidence by which it received support yet on the whole the evidence fell short of the standard to which it must attain in order to succeed in altering the devolution of property according to Mahomedan Law to a devolution determined by a family custom. ABDUL HUSSEIN KHAN v SONA DENO (1017)

1 L R 45 Cal 450

— Marriage—Pogha (bride price)—Due to nearest male relative of a woman married without his consent.—Pathans of siaga Malhad.—District Attock.—woman of full age—whether the custom can be legally enforced.—Muhammadan Law.—Indian Contract Act IX of 1872 s. 26. The plaintiff N K. claimed to recover a sum of Rs 400 from the defendants A a minor and G father of A as bride price due to him as the nearest male relative of Mussammat B J the 19 years old daughter of his uncle. The allegation in the plaint was that A had abducted and married B J without the consent of the plaintiff and was by custom liable to pay to the latter the compensation known as rogha. The first Court decreed the claim holding that there was a universal custom amongst these Pathans that if a woman whether virgin married or widow, is abducted without the consent of her nearest relative or guardian the abductor is liable to pay a sum of money to that relative or guardian. In appeal the District Judge upheld the decision relying on Shah Rahman v Ismail Khan (87 P R 1904). The defendants preferred a second appeal to the High Court. Held that the existence of the custom of rogha is established but it is not enforceable as it is immoral and opposed to public policy. Mussammat B J being 19 years of age and competent to enter into a contract of marriage with any man of her own religion the claim for compensation in the present case is in the nature of a claim for loss of a chattel or for the plaintiff's abstaining from committing an illegal act that is to say abstaining from any attempt to murder or otherwise injure the defendant. Venkata Krishnaiah v Lakshmi Narayana (1 L R 32 Mad 155 F B) referred to. Shah Rahman v Ismail Khan (87 P R 1904) distinguished. Gazetteer of the Attock District page 66 and Settlement Report of the Kohat District, pages 70 to 79 and paragraph 159 referred to. Per Dwydas J. The Courts in this country are not bound to enforce a payment by a person who has performed an act which he was legally entitled to perform and which does not expose him to any contractual liability because by a barbarous custom the alternative is the enmity of the relatives of the bride which is likely to take the form of attempts upon his life. Per Scott Smith J. To enforce such a custom would be tantamount to saying that a woman of full age cannot marry a man unless the latter pays a large sum which it may be impossible for him to do to her nearest male relative. It would be a custom in restraint of marriage and opposed to the principle of s. 26 of the Contract Act. ABDUL KHAN v KUR KHAN 1 L P 1 Lah 4

CUSTOM—contd

— Tribal Custom.—Marriage custom requiring husband to live in wife's parent's household the children being additions to wife's clan.—Custom not immoral or opposed to public policy.—Suit for restitution of conjugal rights by husband against wife.—Removal of wife from parent's house if may be decreed. There is nothing immoral or opposed to public policy in a tribal custom which requires a son in law to reside in the family of his father in law in order to have access to his wife. Quære Whether Lalungs are governed by Hindu Law. Assuming that they are Hindus. Held that their marriage relations must be governed by customs which prevail amongst the tribe provided that the customs are neither immoral nor opposed to public policy. Their marriage custom according to which the parents of the girl find a husband for her and take him to their house—as a member of their family—the offspring of the marriage entering the clan of their mother—is a valid custom and is a good defence to a suit by the husband for restitution of conjugal rights by removal of the wife from her father's house. It was not injurious to the public interests that is to the interests of the tribe to which the parties belonged nor was it in conflict with any express law of the ruling power. Telait Venmohini v Basanta Kumar Singh 1 L R 93 Cal 751 s.c. 5 C W N 673 referred to. LENGAHALING v PRAGUR LALING (1915) 20 C W N 406

— Partition.—A custom was found among the Vattakottai Chetties in Madura why a Chetti during the life of his wife married another he appropriated out of his property a portion called moopu for the first wife's maintenance that portion descending to her son if she had one and the rest of the property was nationally divided one moiety going to the son or sons by the first wife and the other moiety to the son or sons by the second wife. In a suit for partition brought by the only son of a first wife against his father and the sons by the second wife the Judicial Committee applied the custom without however determining what the father's share would be in the circumstances as the question did not arise before their Lordships. The authorities as to the custom of patnibhaga or the division according to wife considered. [Judgment of the High Court reversed.]

CUSTOM—contd

PALANIAPPA CHETTIAR v. ALAGAN CHETTIAR

I L R 44 Mad (P C) 740

Pre-emption—Urban immovable property—Delhi—Pahar Ganj—proof of custom—value of previous judgment based upon a compromise. Held that the plaintiff on whom the law had failed to prove that the custom of pre-emption prevails in Pahar Ganj a suburb of Delhi. The custom of pre-emption has been held onus to prevail generally throughout the city of Delhi but that applies only to the city proper as circumscribed by the city walls constructed during the Moghal period and has no application to a suburb which has grown up since the British Rule. Held also that a judgment based upon a compromise or confession although of some probative force cannot be placed on the same footing as one in which after contest a custom was held to be proved or negated.
IMPERIAL OIL SOAP AND GENFFAR MILLS Co. v. M. MUSARRAH UD DIN

I L R 2 Lah 83

Religious institutions—Darbar Sahib (Golden Temple) Amritsar—Succession to office of granthi—Son or chela—whether an infant can become a chela. The plaintiff sued for a declaration that he as son of Harnam Singh deceased the late granthi of the Darbar Sahib Amritsar was entitled to succeed his father in the office of granthi in preference to the defendant a brother of Harnam Singh who claimed to have been duly appointed as chela and nominated by deceased as his successor and duly elected and installed. Held that the office of granthi to the Darbar Sahib Amritsar is of a religious character and not secular. Held also that the question of succession to the office must be decided by the custom and practice of the institution as proved by the evidence and a son merely as such had no right to succeed. Held further that it had been established that one of the qualifications for the office of the granthi is that the candidate must be a good Sikh and a properly initiated Singh and next he must become a chela and be nominated by his predecessor and this must be followed by an election and installation. Var Singh v. Bhugut Singh (No 4 P P 1878) and Bhai Bhagat Singh v. Harnam Singh (No 43 P R 1879) followed. Macauliffe's History of the Sikh Religion Chapter VII pages 55 59 60 and 61 and Encyclopædia Britannica Cambridge Edition 1911 Volume XXV pages 84 85 referred to. Held also that there is no clear rule laid down as to the initiation of a chela or as to the nomination of a successor or election of a granthi but a person is created a Singh by the ceremony called Khandaka Patul or Baptism by the sword and the candidate must have reached an age of discretion and capacity to remember obligations so that plaintiff as an infant less than a year old could not have been created a Singh. Encyclo

CUSTOM—contd

pædia Britannica Volume XXV page 86 referred to. INDER SINGH v. FATEH SINGH

I L R 1 Lab 511

Darbar Sahib—(Golden Temple), Amritsar—Succession to properties in the land of a granthi—Son or successor to the office—Relevancy of previous decision on points at issue—Indian Evidence Act I of 1872 ss 11 13 and 43. The plaintiff as duly appointed successor to Harnam Singh the late granthi of the Sikh religious institution known as Darbar Sahib or Golden Temple at Amritsar sued the son of Harnam Singh for possession of certain properties and the question was which of the properties in possession of Harnam Singh were dedicated to the office of granthi and which were his self acquired property and not dedicated to the religious use. A previous judgment which was given in a suit contesting the right of the then granthi Jawahar Singh (the predecessor of Harnam Singh) to alienate certain shops was referred to by plaintiff as proving that these shops were wagf and attached to the gaddi as found by the Court. Defendant objected to the relevancy of this judgment. Held that in regard to properties dedicated to the office of granthi of the Darbar Sahib Amritsar succession goes to the person succeeding to the office while properties acquired by the granthi him self out of his income and not proved to have been dedicated to the office descend to his natural heir. There is a pre-emption that property which has descended from one granthi to another to the exclusion of natural heirs has been dedicated to religious uses, even if there is no positive evidence of actual dedication. Ram Singh v. Nehal Singh (No 106 P R 1839 page 470) and Har Parashad v. Shadu (No 31 P R 1916 page 96) approved. Held also that a previous judgment in a suit contesting the right of the then granthi to alienate certain shops wherein it was held that these properties were wagf and attached to the gaddi and could not be alienated by the granthi could only be treated as admissible in evidence for the purpose of showing that at that time and on the right of the granthi to alienate certain property was called in question. The finding of the Court that the property was wagf and was attached to the gaddi is not relevant in the present case. Guyya Lal v. Fateh Lal (I L R 6 Cal 171 F B) Rawasami v. Apparu (I L R 12 Mad 9) and Muhammad Amin v. Hassan (I L R 31 Bom 143 157) followed. Ameer Ali and Woodroffe's Law of Evidence 5th Edition page 170 et seq referred to. INDER SINGH v. FATEH SINGH

I L R 1 Lab 510

Dohli tenure—Explained—sole for mortgage by Dohldar—is absolutely void and can be impeached by the Dohldar's successor or Held that the Dohli tenure is a rent free grant of a small plot of land by the village community for the benefit of a temple mosque or shrine or to a person for a religious purpose. So long as the purpose for which the grant is made is carried out it cannot be resumed. But should the holder fail to carry out the duties of the office the pretors can eject him. A tenure of this kind cannot be alienated by sale or mortgage and any such alienation by the Dohldar is absolutely void and can be impeached by the Dohldar's successor. FEWA RANI UDGRAH

I L R 2 Lab 313

Succession—Frustrate from time immemorial—Grant purporting to create family

CUSTOM—contd

custom—Proof of long line of succession Whereby a confirmatory grant dated the 4th February 1797 a Raja after confirming a previous grant of a similar nature by his predecessors gave to a Rani certain properties as Joutuk Romim Bruthi and laid down in the sanad of grant that she and the future Panis were not entitled to sell or make a gift of the Bruthi but to enjoy the profits only for life and presented a rule of succession to the effect that only Panis of the family were to succeed to the properties for life and no Rajas could claim or alter the course of succession as foresaid Held that the grant in so far as it laid down a rule of succession was absolutely void as it presented a right of succession unknown to Hindu Law It was also void as it purported to create successive life estates in favour of unborn persons the estate itself being undivided Even if the rule of succession laid down in the sanad of 1797 had actually been followed it could not be treated as binding upon the family unless it had ripened into a family custom Held also that in order to establish a custom it must be shown that the custom had existed from time immemorial and where the custom set up was peculiar only to a single family the rule was more strictly enforced than ever A family custom of proved antiquity was entitled to be recognised by the Courts irrespective of the position and rank of the family but where the origin of custom was known it must be shown that there had been a long line of succession in accordance with the usage Samrun Singh v Khedun Singh 28 D A Sel Pcp 116 Perlab Deb v Surup D' Panikr 25 D 1 Sel Pcp 249 Pomalokshmi Ammal v Sivana Ila Perumal Sethuoyar 12 B L P 399 13 Moo 1 4 0 Govardhwaraj Praad Singh v Superundhwaraj Irasod Singh 1 L R 23 All 37 1 R 27 F A 239 Prince Mahomed Bukhar Sal v Rani Dhoamani 2 C L J 20 referred to AMBALIKA DAS v ANANTA DAS (1918) 1 L R 45 Calc 835

Primogeniture—Hindu Law A Custom of primogeniture found and established becomes the law of the family regulating succession to the family estate another ordinary Hindu Law does not apply to it save so far as it was not in consistent with the Custom PAO KHEORU SINGH v MUSAMMAT GANZENARAT 24 C W N 601

Succession—Acquired property—Sisters or collaterals in 9th degree—Jats—Jhelum District—Punjab—am—Where custom is not established either Courts can fall back on the personal law of the parties—Punjab Laws Act II of 1879 s 5 The parties to the suit out of which the present appeal has arisen were Jats of the Jhelum District The plaintiffs were the sisters of the last male holder while the defendants were collaterals in the ninth degree Plaintiffs relied upon custom but neither they nor defendants succeeded in proving a custom The entry in the Pucayam was against succession of sisters The property was non ancestral The Lower Courts dismissed the suit holding that plaintiffs had failed to prove their right to succession by custom Held that no custom having been ascertained as to the rights of sisters as against collaterals of the 9th degree in the case of acquired property the Courts should have fallen back on the personal law of the parties for the decision of the case and that the suit must consequently be decreed in favour of the sisters Musammatt Sordar Dab v Sayad Ali Shoh (4 P R 1888) Khanan v Musammatt Joth (116

CUSTOM—contd

P R 1897) and Kluda Bakhsh v Musammatt Fatch Khanun (13 P R 1919) followed Musammatt Harnaman v Sanio Singh (198 P W R 1917) Musammatt Ullar Kour v Atma Singh (4 P I 18 0) and Ali Muhammad v Surayud Dab (13 P I 1917) distinguished also Pattigan Digest of Customary Law paragraph 24 Held also that unless there is a provision to the contrary the rules laid down in a Pucayam refer to ancestral and not acquired property Musammatt Foy Kour v Talok Singh (38 P R 1916) and Budhi Parlaek v Chander Bhan (123 P R 1918) followed Musammatt FATIMA BIBI v SHAH NAWAZ 1 L R 2 Lah 9

Self acquired property—Sisters or collaterals in 8th degree—onus probandi—Muhammadan Pajputs—tahsil Nakoda district Jullundur—Punjab—am—Held that in questions of succession to self acquired property between collaterals of the 8th degree and sisters the onus of proving that they have a preferential right is in the first instance on the latter Hamir v Ram Singh (134 P R 1907 F B) and Musammatt Harnaman v Santa Singh (98 P W R 1917) referred to also Pattigan Customary Law Art 34 Bholi v Kahna (35 P R 1909) distinguished Held also that in regard to Muhammadan Pajputs of the Jullundur District the onus was also clearly on the sisters in view of the entries in the Pucayam of the district and that they had failed to discharge that onus Beg v Allah Ditta (45 P R 1917 P C) referred to Musammatt HUSAIN BIBI v NICHIA 1 L R 1 Lah 1

Daughter or near collaterals—Siras of Miana Hazara Tahsil Dhara District Shahpur—entries in Wajid ul arz and Riwayt—am—value of—whether applicable to both self acquired and ancestral property—Musammatt G B the widow of plaintiffs uncle G R on 10th April 1910 made a gift of her husband's landed property in 3 villages in tahsil Dhara in favour of her daughter and her deceased daughter's son The plaintiffs sue for a declaration that the gift shall not affect their reversionary right after the death or remarriage of the widow It was found by the High Court on appeal that some of the property was ancestral and some was not The entries in the Wajid ul arz of the villages concerned and in the Pucayam were against married daughters succeeding as heirs to their father's property Held that the portions of a Wajid ul arz which refer to custom are not provisions intended to enure for the duration of the Settlement only but are statements that a certain custom exists Rahman v Bala (8 P R 1397) and Masla v Pollo (52 P R 1896) followed Also that there is a certain presumption as to the correctness of such entries Dileksh Pam v Nathu Singh (98 P R 1894 F B) Dakus Khan v Ghulam Kasim Khan (1 L P 45 Calc 793 P C) Dugambar Singh v Ahmad Sayad Khan (1 L P 37 All 1 9 P C) Aulia v Aila (49 P R 1898) Akmal Shah v Khuda Bakhsh (33 P R 1903) Mahomed Pam v Pam Mohar (65 P R 1903) and Muhammad Farja Ali v Bhakri (1 L R 40 All 56) followed But that though such entries are evidence the presumption as to their correctness is a rebuttable one Held also that entries in the Pucayam also carry with them certain presumptions of correctness Sam Pam v Musammatt Hemi Das (4 P R 1897) Ali Muhammad v (4 P R 1901) Sharan v (4 P R 1901) Mehr Khan

CUSTOM—contd

v Karam Laha (13 P R 1902) Sher v Alam Sher (91 P R 1912) Beg v Allah Ditta (45 P R 1917 P C) and Saide Khan v Mussammat Amir un Visa (91 P R 1918) followed. These presumptions are also rebuttable and when positive instances are given the Ruwa is cannot be regarded as overriding them. Vidhu v Ram Singh (2 P R 1909) Mussammat Zainab Bibi v Badar ud Din (43 P R 1913) Lela v Ram Chand (23 P R 1916) Mussammat Paj Kaur v Talot Singh (38 P R 1918) and Budhi Parbakh v Chander Khan (123 P R 1919) followed. Held further that in the case of self acquired property the general custom is that daughters are preferred to collaterals. Rutigan's Customary Law Article 23 (2) referred to. And as the entries in the Wajid ul ar. of the villages concerned do not distinctly state that they relate to self acquired property as well as ancestral property they should be read as referring merely to the latter. Samanid v Mussammat Jinduan (C 4 No 665 of 1905 unpublished) followed. Held consequently that in this case in the absence of proof to the contrary the daughter is heir to the self acquired property of her father and her mother's gift stands good to that extent but will not bind the rights of the plaintiffs in respect of the ancestral property. GULAM MOHAMMAD v Mussammat GAURAN BIBI I L R 1 Lah 234

Self acquired property—daughters or collaterals.—Trains of Luckhiana—in giving of ajous of property. Held that by custom a daughter is generally preferred to collaterals in the succession to acquired property of her father and by acquired property is meant property not necessarily acquired by the father himself but property acquired by him of any of his ascendants short of the common ancestor. Lokha v Hara (64 P R 1893) Mussammat Ichra v Joushara (18 P R 1896) Sham Ram v Mussammat Hemi Bai (73 P R 1898) Khuda Yar v Sultan (103 P R 1900) Vidhu v Ram Singh (2 P R 1909) and Parbakh Singh v Mussammat Panjabu (25 P R 1912) followed.—also Rutigan's Digest of Customary Law s 23 (2). Mussammat JASANT v NOR MOHAMMAD I L R 1 Lah 265

Self acquired property—sister or collaterals in 6th degree.—Mussalman Pajputa—Jullundur District—Ruwa—am. Held that among Mussalman Pajput agriculturists of the Jullundur District the onus probandi was on the plaintiff the sister of the deceased to prove that she is entitled to succeed to her brother's land in preference to the defendants collaterals in the 6th degree. The entry in the Ruwa is am being against her although the land was non ancestral qua the defendants. Rangha v Mussammat Jinduan (104 P R 1914) and Bholi v Kahna (35 P R 1909) distinguished. Mussammat JEWET SANDHU I L R 1 Lah 433

Ancient property—daughter or collateral in 7th degree.—Birk Jot of Waza Birlahad Phillaur—district Jullundur—estoppel. The plaintiffs collaterals in the 7th degree of Suchet Singh a Birk Jot of Maua Birk and the heirs of the latter a peckhlag sons and others after his death for possession of his land and house property. They had previously sued for declarations in respect of one exchange of land in favour of the peckhlag and other in respect of a will in their favour and obtained decrees. In those cases the daughter of Suchet Singh had not been mentioned. In the present case it was however urged that plaintiffs had no locus standi in the presence of the daughter who was a preferential heir. Held that the plaintiffs on whom the onus lay had failed to prove that by custom thus collaterals in the 7th degree exclude the daughter. Also that the old law to the effect that in the Jullundur District generally and particularly in the Phillour Tahsil agnates of any degree exclude daughters (vide Ree v Tribes Customs 1893 p 130) is no longer correct. The customary Law of the Jullundur District 1918 by Ras Bahadur Bhai Hota Singh referred to also Beg v Allah Ditta (45 P R 1917 P C) Bholi v M Singh (36 P R 1908) Khaire Khan v Ghulam Ghani (32 P R 1911) Mussammat Partapa v Asa Ram (96 P R 1916) Juan Singh v Mussammat H Kaur (41 P R 1914) Saide Khan v Mussammat Amir un Visa (91 P R 1918) and Mussammat Ichra v Bholi Singh (52 Indian Cases 152) Held also that the plaintiffs could not be allowed to rely on Suchet Singh's will to exclude the daughter from succession seeing that they had already obtained a declaration that it is invalid in a suit against the same defendants. BAGLA SINGH v BAGO I L R 1 Lah 464

CUSTOM—contd.

Held that a Custom of Pogha (Bundi price) exists amongst Patanas but is not enforceable as being immoral and against public policy. ABRAHAM v MIN KAV I L R 1 Lah 574

Sayads of Kharkhanda Rohtak District.—Family custom allowing special claims to females.—Daughter of predeceased brother or son of predeceased sister—Whether females possess the right of representation on same profile. B A a Sayad of Kharkhanda in the Rohtak District died in 1871. The whole of his property ultimately passed into the hands of his last widow Mussammat B B and her donees. After her death three suits for possession were instituted: (1) by Mussammat N N the daughter of S A a predeceased brother of B A (—) by A A the son of a sister who survived B A but died before his widow Mussammat B B and (3) by Mussammat A N a collateral in the fourth degree. Held that the Sayads of Kharkhanda have for a very long period followed custom. Kadar Ali v Sultan (67 P R 1879) Civil Appeal No 2795 of 1916 (unpublished) Mir Mumta Ali v Jawad Ali (82 P R 1887) Hanyad Ali v Jai Muhammad (173 P R 1892) Aman Ali v Mussammat Imana Begam (46 P R 1899) Mussammat Umul ul Ala v Mussammat Said ul Visa (143 P R 1933) Mussammat Yasid ul Visa v Manzur Ali (10 P R 1907) and Fai ul Din v Aman Ali (141 P R 1910) followed. Held however that in matters of succession they have been somewhat influenced by their personal law and have widely recognised the right of succession of females. Mir Mumta Ali v Jawad Ali (82 P R 1887) Fai ul Din v Aman Ali (141 P R 1910) Mussammat Yasid ul Visa v Manzur Ali (10 P R 1907) and Civil Appeal No 2295 of 1916 (unpublished) followed. Held also that on the death of a male holder the whole of his estate vests in the widow and as the husband's life is assumed to continue in her person succession does not open out until the date of the death of the widow. Both Mussammat N N and A A were therefore respectively the daughter and son of a predeceased brother and sister. The brother having admittedly a priority over a sister the rights of Musammam v v brother and sister were superior to those of A v a sister's son. It was also proved that the same would have been the result if A. A. had been the son of a surviving sister. Monsi Jari v Keri Adhians (1 L. L. 5 Calc. 6 C.) Jarji Amral v Vargayazari (1 L. L. 39 Mad 651 P. C.) and Musammam Pilla v Muhammad (15 Indian Cases 74) follow. Held further that the right of representation exists in favour of females among the Wajeds of Kharakda at least in the absence of near male heirs. Mir Murda Ali v Jarad Ali (5 P. P. 155) Fai ud Din v Aman Ali (11 P. P. 1910) Musammam Ali v Ali v Ali v 2 Ansar Ali (19 P. P. 1909) and Civil Appeal No 2904 of 1916 (unpublished) followed. Held also that as a daughter who succeeds by the right of representation has in every way the rights of a male. Musammam Ali had the right to contest alienations made by the widow of B. A. Maqud ul Nisa v Kani Johra (13 P. P. 1908) per Robertson J. Mir Mumta Ali v Jarad Ali (8 P. P. 153) and Fai ud Din v Aman Ali (11 P. P. 1910) followed. Held further that under O. C. R. 12 Civil Procedure Code a decree should have been passed in favour of Musammam Ali directing an enquiry as to the rent or mean profits from the institution of the suit until the delivery of possession to the decree holder. Musi Nasia v Nisa v Musi A. A. D. C. N. A. 1 L. P. 2 Lab. 283

CUSTOM—contd

Self acquired property

—collaterals in 9th degree or daughters—*Gaur Brahmins of Thanesar Tahsil district Karnal—Village deserted and after 25 years re acquired by son of the descendants of the common ancestor—whether land remains ancestral—Rivaj—Custom—The plaintiffs collaterals in the 9th degree of one M. brought the present suit for a declaration that two gifts made by the widow of M. of land inherited partly from husband and partly from one M. B. in favour of her two daughters and the son of a brother in law of M. S. should not affect their reversionary rights. It appeared that the village in which the land was situate was deserted about the year 1 D 1800 and the village had then passed out of cultivation and that 20 years later some of the original proprietors or their descendants returned and re founded the village and brought the land again under cultivation. The entries in the Purajam of the taluk were to the effect that daughters could not inherit their father's property. Held that the land became the self acquired property of the persons who returned to the village 20 years after its desertion and re acquired it and could no longer be considered to be ancestral property of the descendants (such as plaintiffs) of the common ancestor who may have originally possessed the whole village. Held also that the burden of proof that by custom among Gaur Brahmins of Mau a Chhapri in the Thanesar Tahsil of the Karnal District collaterals in the 9th degree exclude daughters in succession to non ancestral property rested on the plaintiffs and was not shifted on to the defendants by entries in the Purajam which were quite opposed to all principles of customary law and unsupported by instances. Abdul Karim v Sahib Jan (5 P. P. 1908) Bholi v Man Singh (56 P. P. 1908) *Wara

CUSTOM—contd

v Mat Maryon (51 P. P. 1917) and Khuda Balhah v Fateh Khan (13 P. P. 1919) followed also. Patigan's Digest of Customary Law article 23 Beg v Allah Ditta (45 P. P. 1917 P. C.) distinguished. Held further that the mere entries in the Purajam in favour of the plaintiffs case were not a sufficient reason for holding that the defendants should not be allowed their costs. MAKHAR v Mat Maryon 1 L. R. 2 Lab. 366

—Whether land gifted to a stranger reverts to the line of the donor on death of donee without lineal heirs. The plaintiff a Jat sued for redemption of land which was mortgaged by M. L. a Khatra to the second defendant C. D. Plaintiff asserted that the land had been gifted by his father to M. L. and that as the latter died without leaving any lineal heirs the land reverted to the line of the donor by Customary Law. Held that the rule of reversion to the donor's line on death of the donee without lineal heirs under Customary Law is not applicable where the donee is a stranger to the donor. Ahala v Fahmatullah (133 P. R. 1904) per Lal Chand J. and Ahmad Hussain v Rup Indar Singh (14 Indian Cases 73) followed. Sita Ram v Paja Ram (12 P. R. 1892) F. B. and Barlat Ali v Jhandu (197 P. R. 1901) distinguished. MULA SINGH v ASHUT CHAND 1 L. R. 2 Lab. 283

—Ancestral property—Ferozepore District—Lessee not carrying out conditions of lease—Government afterwards granting proprietary rights to the sons of the lessee. One C. was one of the lessees under Government whose position is described in paragraph 258 et seq. of Wil on a Settlement Report of the Ferozepore District 1879-83. He had to fulfil certain conditions in order to preserve even his lease. He died in 1875 without fulfilling these conditions and the Government was legally entitled to evict him. Later in 1883 Government decided to grant proprietary rights to such lessees and these rights were actually granted to C. and sons. Held that the land was not ancestral property in the hand of the sons of C. Bhuvan v Aziz (85 P. P. 1909) followed. Paj Kisore Das v Janti Singh (1 L. P. 66 Lab. 387) referred to. HARJIT CHAND MAL 1 L. P. 2 Lab. 195

—Unreasonable or Uncertain—Inundated lands—Remission of rent. Where in a suit for rent the tenants set up a custom of total remission of rent on the ground that a certain portion of the land was subject to inundation resulting in the destruction of crops the extent of such destruction not being specific and that crops were so destroyed during one of the years for which rent was claimed. Held that such custom was both unreasonable and uncertain and consequently unenforceable in law. Tyson v Smith 91 & E. 406 Malamaya Deb v Haridas Halder 1 L. R. 42 Calc. 455 Sahibry Gladstone 91 L. C. 69 referred to. SHIVABARAN MOO KEFJEE v BRUNATH GCHAIT (191) 1 L. P. 45 Calc. 475

—Unreasonable or Uncertain—Inundated lands—Remission of rent. Where in a suit for rent the tenants set up a custom of total remission of rent on the ground that a certain portion of the land was subject to inundation resulting in the destruction of crops the extent of such destruction not being specific and that crops were so destroyed during one of the years for which rent was claimed. Held that such custom was both unreasonable and uncertain and consequently unenforceable in law. Tyson v Smith 91 & E. 406 Malamaya Deb v Haridas Halder 1 L. R. 42 Calc. 455 Sahibry Gladstone 91 L. C. 69 referred to. SHIVABARAN MOO KEFJEE v BRUNATH GCHAIT (191) 1 L. P. 45 Calc. 475

CUSTOM OF TRADE

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1892) 1
113 1 L. R. 41 Bom. 515
—proof of—
See SCHOOL MASTER—
1 L. P. 44 Calc. 917

CUTCHI MEMONS—contd

If acquired property (iii) that Cutchi Memons were subject by custom to the Hindu law of succession and inheritance as it would apply to the case of an intestate separated Hindu possessed of If acquired property and no more (iv) that the will challenged in this suit was a good and valid will in all respects and that the bequests to charity were neither void for uncertainty nor bad under the Mahomedan law as offending against the radical principle that a gift must be made in present and not conditioned in future. The Ajojahs and Memons Case (1847) Perry O C 110 considered Mahomet Sulek v Haja Ahmed I L R 10 Bom 1 dissented from Jaa Mahomed v Datu Jaffer I L R 38 Bom 419 followed and the judgment therein incorporated Abraham v Ibrahim 9 Moo I A 195 Ahmedbhai Hubibbhai v Cassimbhai Ahmedbhai I L R 13 Bom 631 Sheryj Hasam v Datu Mary Khoja 12 Bom II C F 51 Herba v Garbai I Bom II C R 294 and Cangabai v Tharar Mulla I Bom II C R 71 referred to Jalnaba v P D Sethna I L R 34 Bom 604 and Chunilal Porrat Shankar v Bai Samrath I L R 38 Bom 399 referred to and distinguished. ADVOCATE GENERAL OF BOMBAY v JIMABAI (1916) I L R 41 Bom 181

CYPRES DOCTRINE

See CHARITABLE TRUST

I L R 48 Calc 124

See LIMITATION ACT 1877 SCH II ART

123 I L R 38 Bom 111

See TRUSTEES AND MORTGAGEES POWERS

ACT (XXVIII of 1866) s 43

I L R 35 Bom 380

DDACOITY

S s 1 ENACT CODE ss 390 AND 396

I L R 2 Lab 275

S s SEARCH WITOUT WARRANT

I L R 38 Calc 304

organization to commit—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

I L R 48 Calc 215

preparation to commit—

See MAGISTRAT I L R 39 Calc 119

Conclusion for if proper when less than five of the accused charged a jointly concerted—Charge of dacoity if sufficient notice of conspiracy with others not specified—Verdict of jury—Weight of evidence High Court if a valid discuss—Misdirection Where 8 persons were each of them separately charged with dacoity but the jury acquitted four of them but found the other one guilty the evidence before them being that there were more than five persons concerned in the offence even if the four who were acquitted were not there Held that the charge as against each of dacoity was sufficient notice to each of the accused that they were charged with four or more others and the conviction by the jury of dacoity would import a finding that there were four or more others engaged

DACOITY—contd

preparation to commit—contd

with each dacoit The mere fact that the evidence was not sufficient to convict four of the accused actually charged would not in any way affect the question of the number of persons engaged It is not necessary that the charge should in such cases specify that other persons besides those convicted and acquitted took part in the dacoity or that they should be referred to in the charge Although in this case the evidence was not perhaps such as would commend itself to minds professionally trained to weigh testimony for the High Court to express any opinion on its weight would be to usurp the functions of the jury It had only to see that there had been no error of law in the proceedings and no misdirection to the jury RASUDDAZZAMAN v EMPEROR (1911) 15 C W N 434

Assessors —

Questioning Assessors before delivery of their opinion—Charge alleging preparation to commit dacoity by assembling with masks arms and implements—Acquittal of preparation and conviction of assembling—Repugnancy in the findings effect of—Appellate Court power to alter finding of acquittal into one of conviction—Search—Irregularities in search effect of—Right of accused to urge technical points—Necessity of cross examination by accused on point when allegations of fraud and dishonesty are made—Presumption of knowledge from possession of incriminating articles—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 103 309 423—Distinction between offences of preparation and assembling—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 399 and 402—Occupant of the place A Judge ought not to put a long list of questions to the assessors before they have stated their own opinions and then record their answers to them He should allow them in the first instance to give their opinions in their own language and way and he may then put to them such questions as are necessary to elucidate or supplement their opinions Where the accused were charged under a 399 of the Penal Code with making preparations to commit dacoity by assembling together with masks arms and implements which might be used for that purpose and the Judge found that there had been such assembly with such articles but that there was not sufficient evidence of preparation and acquitted them under a 399 but convicted them under s 402 of the Penal Code Held that there was no repugnancy in his finding as as though he was of opinion that the accused did not commit an offence under 399 by assembling with masks arms and implements he had found that they did assemblable within the meaning of a 40 and that the discovery of these articles with the other circumstances of the case showed that the purpose of the assembly was to commit dacoity In a popular sense assembling to commit dacoity may be an act of preparation for it but a mere assembling without further preparation is not preparation within a 399 of the Penal Code Section 402 applies to mere assembling without proof of other preparation A person may not be guilty of dacoity yet guilty of preparation and not guilty of preparation yet guilty of a offence Evidence of the findings of masks arms and implements at the place of the assembling is not necessary to constitute the offence s 40 but only to indicate the assembling action for—]

DAMAGES—contd

See TRADE MARK

I L R 42 Calc 282

actual when necessary in support action—

See FIDELITY I L R 37 Mad 527

against manager of a joint Hindu family—See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) s 3
I L R 40 Mad 338

arbitrators powers to amend—

See AWARD I L R 44 Bom 780

ascertainment of—

See CONTRACT BREACH OF
I L R 38 Mad 801

assessment of—

See LABEL I L R 37 Calc 760

See PRACTICE I L R 42 Calc 819

decree against father for—

See HINDU LAW—FATHER'S DEBT
I L R 39 Calc 862

breach of Contract of marriage—

See HINDU LAW I L R 44 Bom 448

earnest money—Forfeiture of—

See CONTRACT (BREACH OF)
I L R 38 Mad 801

for negligence of agent—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 6(c) I L R 38 Mad 138

for wrongful attachment—

See APPEAL I L R 37 Calc 426

malice—Inference of—

See MALICIOUS PROSECUTION
I L R 45 Bom 227

interest on—

See TRUSTEE I L R 38 Mad 71

measure of—

See ACTIO PERSONALIS MORITUR CUM
PERSONA I L R 35 Bom 12See CONTRACT I L R 39 Calc 563
I L R 42 Bom 224
I L R 45 Bom 129See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) ss 39
s 63 73 I L R 37 Mad 412
s 73 I L R 41 Mad 709See SALE OF GOODS
I L R 43 Calc 305See SALE OF GOODS ACT (36 AND 57 VICT c 71) ss 4 AND 47
I L R 34 Bom 640See VENDOR AND PURCHASER
I L R 1 Lah 380

principle of assessment—

See DAMAGES IN TORT
I L R 36 Mad 580

on failure of condition precedent—

See CONTRACT I L R 44 Bom 508

DAMAGES—contd

quantum of—

See NEGLIGENCE I L R 38 Bom 553

r moteness of—

See DAMAGES IN ACTIONS ON TORT
I L R 38 Mad 539

See SECRETARY OF STATE

I L R 37 Mad 55

I L R 39 Mad 781

suit for wrongful dismissal of a Municipal Officer—]See DISTRICT MUNICIPAL ACT (BOM III
OF 1901) ss 2 46 AND 167
I L R 39 Bom 800

suit for—

See CARRIERS I L R 47 Calc 1027

See CAUSE OF ACTION

I L R 41 Calc 825

See INJUNCTION I L R 42 Calc 550

See LEASE I L R 40 Mad 910

See LIMITATION I L R 40 Calc 898

See MAORAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF
1908) s 189 I L R 39 Mad 239

See RAILWAY RECEIPT

I L R 38 Bom 659

See SAWLS I L R 39 Calc 1029

See TORT I L R 39 Mad 433

suit for against the Secretary of State for India—]

See TORT I L R 39 Mad 851

suit for by representative—]

See RAILWAY COMPANY
I L R 41 All 488time at which should be computed—See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) ss 39
s 63 73 I L R 37 Mad 412

unliquidated claim for—

See LESSOR AND LESSEE
I L R 39 Mad 939

(a) FOR BREACH OF CONTRACT 1474

(b) IN TORT 1477

(a) BREACH OF CONTRACT

1 ————— Penalty or liquidated damages —Test—Contract breach of—Damages real but difficult to assess and prove—Stipulation in contract to pay a liquidated sum as damages for breach when reasonable to be enforced—Languageused if material—Plain if it should be asked to prove actual damage—Contract interpretation—Language used by merchants in their trade interpretation of Plaintiff and defendant who werepartners in a business of exporting and selling tea grown upon certain estates belonging to the defendant in 1895 dissolved their partnershipby a deed in which it was stipulated inter alia that for 10 years after the 30th July 1896 whenthe plaintiff took over the whole business the defendant should sell the whole or any part of the crops grown on the said estates to the plaintiffat a valuation so long as the plaintiff should to the defendant year a sum of Rs 5 for

DAMAGES—contd

(b) IN TORT—contd

have use then prima facie the arta of the family is responsible. But in either case it is only a presumption which may be rebutted and if the Police act on the information which they believe showing that the article found in a house is in the exclusive possession of one member of the family and the article is found in a portion of the joint family residence of which all the members of the family have the use then the head of the family is not liable to arrest merely on the ground that the article is found in a portion of the house to which all the family can resort. Queen Empress v Sangam Lal I L R 15 411 129 relied on. The rules contained in what is known as the Jail Code are rules framed by the Local Government under the powers contained in the Prisons Act and subsequently sanctioned by the Governor General in Council. Rules when so framed and approved have the same force as the Statute and it is not open to any person to set aside the provisions of such rules. A careful and accurate record of the first information has always been considered as a matter of the highest importance by the Courts in India the object of the first information being to show what was the manner in which the occurrence was related when the case was first started. Emperor v Kampti Lala 11 C W N 524 referred to. As the first information can be used in evidence under ss 157 and 158 of the Evidence Act to corroborate or impeach the testimony of the person lodging the first information such a document becomes valueless if drawn up by some person other than the proper informant. As the first information in this case which related to a charge of criminal conspiracy at Madras was drawn up by a police officer employed in the Criminal Investigation Department in Calcutta and settled by an attorney. Held that it was of no value. The object of recording case diaries under 172 Criminal Procedure Code is to enable Courts to check the method of investigation by the Police and the object was defeated in this case as the provisions of the law for recording case diaries from day to day had been deliberately disobeyed by the Police during the most important period of the investigation. Queen Empress v Mann J L R 19 411 320 referred to. PRABHU MOHAR DAS v D WESTON (1911) I L R 40 Cal 898 18 C W N 145

2 ————— Malicious abuse of civil process—If and when actionable—Deceitful execution and erroneous belief in its utility—Trespass actionable without proof of malice and want of reasonable cause—Want of reasonable and probable cause is question of law—Second appeal—Dismissal for trespass—Provision of assessment—Exemplary and nominal damages—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) if create rights to sue Where there has been arrest of person or seizure of property in consequence of a civil action which is unfounded vexatious and malicious an action for damages may be against the plaintiff. Whether there was reasonable or probable cause is a mixed question of fact and law and the High Court in second appeal is not bound to accept the facts found in the first appeal but is entitled to examine whether the inferences drawn from those facts is legitimate. If a litigant executes any form of legal process which is invalid

DAMAGES—contd

(b) IN TORT—contd

for want of jurisdiction irregularity or any other reason and in so doing he commits any act in the nature of trespass to person or property he is liable therefor in an action of trespass. It is not necessary to prove any malice or want of reasonable or probable cause. Where therefore the defendant had obtained an attachment of the property of the plaintiff under an erroneous impression that he had a decree capable of execution the defendant was liable to be sued by the plaintiff for damages for trespass. Chisold v Crakchley [1910] 2 K B 244 followed. Where land with standing crop on it was attached by the defendant in execution of a decree which he erroneously believed he held against the defendant but the plaintiff did not ask the direction of the Court or make any the slightest effort for the protection of the crop which in consequence deteriorated and ultimately became valueless. Held that the attachment was not the proximate cause of the loss of the crop and the defendant could not be made liable for the value of the crop. The plaintiff was also not entitled to recover the amount she had to pay to the plaintiff whom she employed to care the records and ascertain whether there was a valid decree against her in favour of the defendant. For an act of trespass for which no blame attached to the defendant he could not be held liable to pay exemplary damages. Only nominal damages (which is not necessarily small damages) should be allowed in recognition of the fact that there has been an infringement of a legal right which is actionable without proof of actual damage or harm. FRANZ STAN v A W D WATT (1911) 16 C W N 540

3 ————— Wrongful attachment—Suit for damages for—Want of reasonable and probable cause and malice in it be proved—Malice what amounts to—Special damage proof of amount of In a suit for damages for attachment before judgment the plaintiff is bound to prove want of reasonable and probable cause for applying for attachment and malice in fact. The provisions of s 91 of the new Code of Civil Procedure and s 491 of the old Code which empowered Courts to award compensation when the attachment was applied for on insufficient grounds were not intended to affect the applicability of the aforesaid rule of law in regular suits brought for compensation. Malice means any improper or indirect motive i.e. some motive other than the one which would actuate the party. No hatred or enmity is required. Where the motive for the attachment is not to defeat any intended fraud on the part of the debtor but to enforce speedy payment it will amount to malice. The plaintiff in such a suit must prove special damages. It is not necessary however to show pecuniary loss or that the plaintiff was affected in a specific manner. It will be sufficient if it is shown that the allegations made against him must damage his reputation and credit. It will be sufficient if the plaintiff must have sustained some damage such as the law takes notice of. Quart Hill Golf Mining Company v Fyfe 11 Q B D 674 referred to. Amaras v Pillai v Udayar 4414 I L R 5 Mad 10 followed. The fact that the defendant is a man of slender means ought not to be taken into consideration as a ground for reducing the amount

DAMAGES—cont'd

(b) IN TORT—cont'd

awardable as damages to the plaintiff. Nanjarra Chettiar v. Ganapathi Soudan (191)

I L R 35 Mad 599

_____ for attachment before judgment—

SEATTLE MEET BEFORE JUDGEMENT

L. L. R. 39 Mad 952

4 Malicious prosecution—Onas of plaintiff's evidence of facts set out at 1st to 17th water of 1st set out p new of his 1st 1st 1st 1st 1st 1st 1st 1st 1st 1st the 1st 1st 1st 1st 1st 1st 1st 1st 1st 1st thereupon used 1st 1st malicious prosecution Plaintiff's evidence that he instituted the charge on information of his servants whom he believed and in good faith held that an action is a malice, cannot be inferred from the mere fact that prosecution has failed and the accused has been acquitted In an action for malicious prosecution the burden of proving malice and the absence of a lawful cause for the prosecution lies on the plaintiff The crucial point in almost all such actions is the state of mind of the prosecutor at the time he institutes the charge After the decision of the case in defendant's favour by the Appeal Court it was urged on behalf of the plaintiff upon review that the defendant should be held liable for the acts of his servants Held that the Court had properly refused to permit a new case to be set up at that stage A counsel who had advised the prosecutor to institute the charge was a competent witness C E
VICTOR & COUSIN HENRY JOSEPH PLUM (1909)
14 C W N 86

5 ————— Principle of assessing—Datta gu too remote cannot be recovered—Principle of assessing damages in actions on contract compared—Duty of plaintiff to take means to reduce the damage—Easements Act (1 of 1882) s 33
 In a suit for damages sustained by the plaintiff in consequence of the defendant's obstruction of the plaintiff's right to way of his field owing to which the plaintiff did not cultivate his land their Lordships held (i) that non cultivation of the lands was too remote a consequence of the defendant's wrongful act of obstruction as the plaintiff had not shown that there were no other means of cultivating and that it was in consequence of the wrong it was not reasonably possible for him to cultivate (ii) that damages for the loss of crops could not be given but that all that he was really entitled to was the extra cost which he would be put to for the cultivation of his land in consequence of the right of way being obstructed and (iii) that the plaintiff was entitled to substantial damages for interference with the exercise of his right Sodgwick on Damage paragraphs 202 and 210 referred to b 33 of the Easements Act (V of 1882) and Brynall Singh v Telas Choudry 6 C W N 197 applied Per CURLIAM Though the rule is the same in actions on contract and in tort viz that the damages which the plaintiff is entitled to must result directly from the wrongful act of the defendant and that no claim can be made to damages which are only too remotely connected with it there may be differences in the application to actions on tort of this basic principle which is common to both kinds of actions in a contract it is the duty of the plaintiff as

DAMAGES—cont'd

(b) IN TORT—cont'd

prudent man to take measures to reduce the damages as far as possible for a breach of contract consists in the defendant's failure to do a certain act that he is bound to do and it would be quite open to the plaintiff to take other measures to obtain the result he expected from the defendant's performance. A tort on the other hand may consist in the defendant's failing to do an act which he is bound to do or in doing one which he ought not to do or in preventing the plaintiff from doing an act which he is entitled to do.

KARIBAYAN & GOWD : VEERABHADRA (1913)
I L R 36 Mad. 580

6 _____ Grounds of interference by the Court of Appeal—Costs order for if can be interfered with by the Court of Appeal—Cases where a successful litigant can be deprived of his costs—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 98 (if applicable to Letters Patent Appeals) Per SANDERSON C J—The Court of Appeal should not interfere unless the decision of the trial Judge on a question of damages appears to be clearly erroneous. The Englishman v Lola Laypat Patil 1 P 3, Calc 760 s c 11 C 11 v 713 (1916) approved. The costs were in the discretion of the Judge. Such discretion must of course be a judicial discretion to be exercised on legal principles not by chance medley, nor by caprice nor in temper. Dictum of Lord Coleridge C J in Huxley v West London & Ry Company 1 Q B D 373 of p 3, 6 (1886) approved. The trial Judge should not have taken into consideration matters which must involve speculation on his part as to the attitude of the respective parties. Principles on which a successful litigant should be deprived of his costs discussed. Jones v Cuning 13 Q B D 262 at p 268 (1884) approved. Every thing which increases the litigation and the costs and which places on the defendant a burden which he ought not to bear in the litigation is a perfectly good cause for depriving the plaintiff of costs. Huxley v West London Extension Railway Company 14 A C 26 at p 39 (1889) approved. Per WOODHOUSE J—The English cases which deal with the question of revision of damages by the Court of Appeal have no application in this country where the jury system does not prevail. Here the question of damages is to be dealt with by the Court of Appeal as any other portion of the case. Englishman Limited v Laypat Patil 1 P 3, Calc "60 s c 11 C 11 v 713 (1916) followed. The conduct of the plaintiffs next friend can in no way affect the damages to be paid to his infant son for actual injury and suffering. There is nothing wrong in itself in claiming exemplary damages for the Courts themselves award such damages. The ordinary rule is that costs do follow the events. The Court may however direct otherwise but under the Code (s 30) if it does so it must state its reasons in writing. This provision was enacted both to secure a proper exercise of discretion and in order that the Court of Appeal may be in a position to control the order and see whether there is good cause for departing from the general rule. It is not sufficient answer to say in such case in an appeal from the judgment that the costs are in the discretion of the Court. The appellate Court must itself decide whether the costs should be sustained or not. It is required to be stated on the facts of the case.

DAMAGES—concl'd(b) IN TORT—concl'd case There are certain well known principles on which a successful party may be deprived of his general costs But where the Court purports to act on these principles it is open to the Appellate Court to enquire whether on the facts these principles have been rightly applied The Court can get no nearer to a perfect test than the enquiry whether it would be more fair as between the parties that some exception should be made in the special instance to the rule that costs should follow upon success Dickson et Bowen C J in Forsler v Paraghar [1893] 1 Q B 561 The mere fact that the plaintiff claims more than he gets is no ground of depriving him of costs unless it is shown that the cost of the action has been increased by his claim As regards the judgment about the costs of the appeal the Judges having differed it was held that s 98 C P C was not applicable but s 36 of the Letters Patent applied and the opinion of the Chief Justice prevailed JOSHI v HULL : ARTHUR FRANCIS PATIL 24 C W N 352

for trespass on land—Question of title raised in a suit if may be tried Although a decision on a question of title to land in a suit for damages for trespass thereto may not be conclusive the Court is not for that reason precluded from trying and deciding that question in such a suit SAYARALLI MOLLAN : BICOLA MOLLAN (1910) 23 C W N 647

DAMDUPAT (RULE OF)

See LIMITATION I L R 37 Bom 326

Decree in mortgage suit between Hindus—Interest accruing after date fixed for redemption whether rule applicable to The rule of damdupat applies to Hindus only so long as the relation between the parties is contractual and ceases to apply when the matter has passed from the realm of contract into that of judgment Where a decree has been passed on a mortgage the rule does not apply to the interest accruing after the date fixed for redemption In the matter of Hari Lal Mullik I L R 33 Cal 1269 followed Ram Kanya Indhuvar v Chhaj Churn Dey I L R 21 Cal 810 not followed Satar Korr v Sham Krishen I L R 33 Cal 1269 I L R 34 I 1 2 referred to NANDA LAL ROY : DHIRENDRA NATH CHAKRABARTY (1913) I L R 40 Cal 710

Damdupat application of the rule of—Mortgage—Assignment of mortgage—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 2 (d)

The fact that the person entitled to sue on a mortgage happens by assignment to be a Parsee cannot affect the (Hindu) mortgagor's right to claim the advantage of the rule of damdupat if it existed when the mortgage was entered into It is not proper to infer that because it has been expressly enacted that nothing in Chapter II of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) shall be deemed to affect any rule of Hindu Law the Legislature has deprived a Hindu mortgagor of the protection afforded him by the rule of damdupat The right of a mortgagor to sue for his principal and interest arising from a contract must be taken to be made subject to the usages and customs of the contracting parties JEE WANDAS v MANORDAS (1910)

I L R 35 Bom. 199

DAMDUPAT (RULE OF)—cont'd

Mortgage between Hindus whether the rule of Damdupat applies to—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 2—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 37 There is nothing in the Transfer of Property Act (read with the Contract Act) to preclude the rule of damdupat from applying to mortgages between Hindus Modhwa Sudhanta Onahim Vidhi v Venkataramany lu Vaid I L R 26 Mad 662 not followed In the matter of Hari Lal Mullik I L R 33 Cal 1269 Nanda Lal Roy v Dharendra Nath Chakrabarti I L R 40 Cal 710 Jeevanba v Manordas Lachmondas I L R 35 Bom 199 and Sadarabai v Jayaram I L R 34 Bom 111 referred to KUNJA LAL BIRYJI : NARSIMHA DEBI (1916) I L R 42 Cal 829

DANABANDI AND BATAI SYSTEMS OF TENANCY

Presumption as to contract of tenancy from contract of tenancy in respect of adjoining lands—Record of rights published after institution of suit if can be relied on—Non attendance of landlord at apportionment—Liability of tenant if he appropriates whole of crops—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1886) s 69 The plaintiff claimed that certain lands were held by the tenants under the danabandi system but the Courts below found that they were held under the baitai system In two other suits against the tenants of the same village the Court found that the tenants held under the danabandi system There was no proof that there was an invariable custom prevalent in the village The lower Appellate Court in deciding the case relied upon the record of rights which was finally published long after the institution of the suit Held that the mere circumstance that the contract of tenancy in respect of some land was of one description does not necessarily indicate that the contract was of the same description in respect of different lands in the same village held by other tenants and the Court was free to conclude upon the evidence that the lands were held under the baitai system That the lower Appellate Court did not act improperly in relying on the record of rights KAMALESHWAR PERSHAD SINGH : KANTHARI SINGH (1913) 17 C W N 1159

DANCING WOMAN

Illegitimate son of Sudra by—

See HINDU LAW I L R 39 Mad. 138

DANDA

See HINDU LAW—DEBT

14 C W N 659

DANDIDARI RIGHT

Dandidari right if a monopoly or a legal right to be recognised by Courts of Justice—Such right if personal or if can be transferred—Transfer if must be by registered instrument—Estoppel application of rule of to employees and contracting parties—Assignee of right having enjoyed profit if can deny assignor's title At a public auction held at the instance of Government the plaintiff as the highest bidder purchased the road side lands on the bank of a river together with the dandidari right for one year It appeared from the lease granted to him by Government that he became entitled to occupy the lands for one year and to exercise the calling of a broker in the market held thereon during that period. The defendants took an assignment from the plaintiff of the dand dari right and they commenced at once to exercise the calling of a broker in the market place by virtue of the Government license which was made over to them but they withheld payment of the money they had agreed to pay. The plaintiff sued for recovery of the consideration with damages for unlawful detention of his money. Held that the term dand dar literally means a measurer and is applied to signify a broker who negotiates the sale of paddy and other produce in a market place and receives as remuneration for his service a commission from the seller and the buyer who may choose to employ him. That the contention of the defendants that the alleged dand dari right tended to create a monopoly and should not be recognised as a legal right by any Court of Justice was untenable. The principle that every arrangement which places a restriction upon a man's right to exercise his trade or calling tends to create a monopoly and is void as against public policy has no application to the present case. There is nothing illegal or contrary to public policy in Government allowing a market to be held on its land and taking measures to restrict the admission of brokers. That the dand dari right was not a right personal to the grantor from Government and could be transferred. The very fact that the right was granted by Government to the highest bidder affords some indication that the personal element does not enter into consideration when the grant is made. That the dand dari right was transferable only by a registered instrument. That the defendants were at least licensees under the plaintiff and as they had exercised their calling without interruption or interference they at any rate were not entitled to contend that the plaintiff had no title or that they themselves had acquired none from him. LAXMAN JENA v. ARJUN NAIK (1014) 18 C W N 1194

DANDIDARI RIGHT—contd

DANGEROUS ARTICLE

See CAS COMPANY 14 C W N 158

DARBAR SAHIB—

See GOLDEN TEMPLE, AMRITSAR
I L R 1 Lah 511 540

DARBHANGA RAJ

See BABUANA CHANT
See HINDU LAW—CUSTOM
I L R 42 Calc 582

DARPATNI (TENURE)

See LEASE I L R 45 Calc 940

DASTURAT

See MALIKANA 15 C W N 1029

*Nature of the right of—Immovable property interest in—Circumstances affecting inference as to the existence and lawful origin of—Limitation—Limitation Act (XII of 1877) Sch II Art 131—Factual meaning of. The plaintiffs sued for a declaration of their right to recover certain sums of money as dasturat specified annual rates and for recovery of the sums as a charge on properties in the possession of the defendants. It appeared that the plaintiffs*

DASTURAT—contd

claim for dasturat was asserted and allowed in Courts of law since 1799 sometimes in spite of opposition on other occasions without opposition. Held that the inference drawn by the lower Courts that the right alleged by the plaintiffs did exist and had a lawful origin was legitimate and the plaintiffs had an enforceable right to realise the sums claimed as dasturat from the defendants. That Art 131 of the Second Schedule of the Limitation Act of 1877 was applicable to the case. That refusal in Art 131 plainly implies a previous demand and as the plaintiffs averred that there had been no demand and refusal within twelve years of the commencement of the present suit the burden was cast upon the defendants to establish that the plaintiffs did make a demand and that the defendants did refuse and as there was no evidence of this demand and refusal the suit was prima facie not barred under Art 131. That the right claimed was clearly in the nature of an interest in immovable property being a right vested in the proprietors of a specified estate to receive certain sums of money periodically from proprietors of other estates in their character as such. Under the Limitation Act of 1879 a suit to recover such an interest could have to be brought within twelve years from the date when the cause of action arose upon the denial or refusal of the right and as it was not shown that there was any refusal while the Act of 1879 was in force it must be held that the right was not extinguished before the Limitation Act of 1871 came into force. HEM CHANDRA CHAUDHURI v. ATUL CHANDRA CHAKRABARTY (1913) 19 C W N 336

DASTUR DEHI

See PRE-EMPTION I L R 35 All 478

DATE OF BIRTH

See EVIDENCE I L R 43 I A 256

DATE OF SALE

See SALE I L R 45 Calc 151

DATTAKA CHANDRIKA

See ADOPTION 28 C W N 1

See 5 PARAS 24 & 25—

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION
I L R 40 Bom 270

DAUGHTER

See HINDU LAW—DAUGHTERS' ESTATE
I L R 35 All 491
38 All 111

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE
I L R 38 Mad. 1144
I L R 48 Calc 30

bequest to—

See HINDU LAW—WILL
I L R 41 Calc 1007

See WILL I L R 44 Calc 181

marriage of—

See I L R 38 Calc 327

DAUGHTER—contd

succession of—

See CLERSON I L R 44 Calc 749
 I L R 1 Lah 284 365 464
 I L R 2 Lah 368

suit by for possession of father's estate—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 2 CL (11) O XXI r 1
 I L R 39 Mad 382

Hindu Law—Mistak shara—Daughters inheriting property from their father—Shares separate and absolute—Tenants in common In the Bombay Presidency a daughter taking property from her father inherits it as stridhan and daughters take their shares separately and absolutely. When the property so inherited is not physically divided it is held by the daughters as tenants in common and not as joint tenants and there is no survivorship between them. In cases affecting inheritance the rule is to adhere to the decisions of the Court to which the district from which the case arose is subject. VITHAPPA v SAVITRI (1910)

I L R 34 Bom 510

DAUGHTER IN-LAW

adoption by—

See HINDU LAW I L R 44 Bom 508

right to maintenance—

See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE
 I L R 37 Mad 396

DAUGHTER'S SONS

See CUSTOM (ADOPTION)

I L R 2 Lah 193

See WILL I L R 38 Bom 697

Adoption of, Khatri of Amritsar—

See CUSTOM (ADOPTION)
 I L R 2 Lah 69

of the great grandson of the great-grandfather—

See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN
 I L R 40 Calc 82

DAYABHAGA

See HINDU LAW—ATANTUKA STRIDHAN
 I L R 37 Calc 86

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE
 I L R 38 Calc 603
 I L R 48 Calc 643

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION
 I L R 43 Calc 1

See HINDU LAW—DIVORCE
 26 C W N 254

If governs Kooches of Assam—

See HINDU LAW 24 C W N 173

DEAD LOCK.

See COMPANY I L R 47 Calc 654

DEAF AND DUMB ACCUSED

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s 341

I L R 40 Bom 598

DEATH

of pleader in personal action—

See PERSONAL ACTION
 I L P 2 Lah 189

presumption of—

See LIMITATION ACT (XXI OF 1908) ART 140 (11) I L R 40 Bom 239

sentence of—

See PRIVY COUNCIL PRACTICE OF
 I L R 42 Calc 739

Presumption of—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 108—Person not heard of for seven years—Time as to when presumption arises—Onus of proof When a person is not heard of for seven years the presumption that arises under s 108 of the Evidence Act is that he is dead at the time when the question is raised and not at some antecedent date. Fani Bhushan Banerjee v Suryya Kanta Pay Choudhury I L R 33 Calc 25 followed. Moolla Kasim v Moolla Abdul Rahim I L R 33 Calc 173 referred to. NARAI v LAL SARKI (1909)

I L R 37 Calc 103

See ALSO EVIDENCE ACT ss 107 AND 108
 37 Mad 443

DEBIT

See MORTGAGE I L R 39 Mad 419

DEBT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O XXI r 46 (10)
 I L R 37 Mad 51

See HINDU LAW—DEBT
 I L R 39 Bom 113
 I L R 36 Bom 68

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
 I L R 34 Bom 72
 I L R 43 Bom 17

See PAYMENT TOWARDS DEBT
 See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE
 I L R 38 Calc 162

See TIME BARRED DEBT
 I L R 42 Bom 444

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE
 I L R 38 Calc 162

See TIME BARRED DEBT
 I L R 42 Bom 444

See ATTACHMENT OF—
 See LIMITATION ACT (XXI OF 1908) SCH I ARTS 29 (2) AND 170
 I L R 38 Mad 972

See CONTRACTED IN SINGAPORE—
 See BANKRUPTCY
 I L R 40 Mad 581

See EXTINGUISHMENT OF—
 See MORTGAGE
 I L R 38 Calc 242

See PART OF—
 See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE
 I L R 42 Calc 10

See PAYABLE IN KIND—
 See INTEREST ACT (XXII OF 1839)
 I L R 38 Mad 464

DEBT—contd

—son's obligation to pay—

See HINDU LAW—DEBT

I L R 41 Mad 136

I L R 41 Bom 341

—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) s 55 sub-s (4) There is no authority for the contention that a charge which is not mentioned in s 55 sub-s (4) of the Transfer of Property Act is merely a personal right which cannot be transferred to an assignee. The debt could undoubtedly be transferred and there is no reason why the security for the debt should not also be transferred with it. Haji Pirajit Deopati Singh v. L. P. 9 Cal 101 and Moti Lal v. Poonam Das v. I. I. I. 31 All 413 distinguished. SHEO NANDAN LAL v. ZAINAL ABIDIN (1911)

I L R 42 Cal 849

—Hypothecation of debt has the right to sue for the debt. Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) s 131 The holder of a charge on a debt due to his debtor is a transferee of an actionable claim and entitled to recover the debt from the transferor's debtor. S 134 of the Transfer of Property Act shows that the mortgagee is a transferee and entitled to sue in his own name for the recovery of the original debt. Where the original creditor is added as a party the chargeholder though not entitled to the whole amount may recover the amount. PAVANA H. PILLAI v. MUTHU CHETTI (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 53

—Carrying interest—Payment without specific appropriation—Creditor's right to apply payment in discharge of interest first. Where a debt is due which carries interest and moneys are received without a definite appropriation on the one side or on the other the rule which is well established in ordinary cases is that the money is first applied in payment of interest and then when that is satisfied in payment of the capital. MEKA VENKATADRI APPA ROW v. RAJA P. A. ROW

26 C W N 33

—Due with interest—Indefinite payment—Right of creditor to appropriate towards interest—Position when debtor makes specific appropriation—Entry in creditor's book as evidence of acceptance of debtor's appropriation. A creditor to whom principal and interest are owed is entitled to appropriate any indefinite payment which he gets from a debtor to the payment of interest. A debtor might in making a payment stipulate that it was to be applied only to principal. If he did so the creditor need not accept the payment on the terms but then he must give back the money or cheque by which the money was proffered. P. T. SETH ABRAHAM v. SETH ADITHYAN KISHOREN

26 C W N 153

DEBTOR

See IMBARDAS MENT

I L R 42 Cal 652

See MORTGAGE

23 C W N 817

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III of 1907) s 31

I L R 37 All 383

DEBTOR—contd

—part payment by iterate—

See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (XV of 1882) s 69

I L R 38 Mad 438

—rights of surety against—

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT (XXI of 1881) ss 30 47 59 74 AND 94

I L R 39 Mad 965

See INSOLVENCY I L R 44 Cal 535

DEBTOR AND CREDITOR

See INSOLVENCY I L R 44 Cal 899

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1882) s 33

I L R 43 Cal 521

—Acknowledgment of debt by creditor—Rights of creditor—Notation—Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 2 (d) and 62 Where the transferor of a debtor's liability has acknowledged his obligation to the creditor for the debt to be paid by him and the provisions of the registered instrument conveying to him all the moveable and immoveable properties of the original debtor and the acknowledgment was communicated to the creditor and accepted by him. Held first that the arrangement between the creditor and the transferee did not amount to a novation within the meaning of s 62 of the Contract Act secundo that the obligation undertaken by the transferee was for and intended to be for the benefit of the creditor and lastly that the creditor is entitled to sue the transferee on the registered instrument. Tieddie v. Atkinson I B & S 393 171 E R 762 is inapplicable in British Courts in India. Alhaji Muhammad Khan v. Husni Begam I L R 32 All 410 I L R 1 A 157 Gregory and Partners v. Williams 3 Mer 589 36 E R 224 Touche v. Metropolitan Railway Warehousing Company L R 6 Ch App 671 and Gandji v. Gindji 39 Ch D 51 referred to. The definition of consideration in the Indian Contract Act is wider than the requirement of the English law. The aim of the modern Courts of justice in British India is to do complete justice in one suit according to the general principles of justice equity and good conscience. Rambux v. Chittangee Morosoodji Paul Choudry B. L. R. Sup 101 675 7 W R 37 referred to. DEBNATHAN DUTT v. CHUNILAL GEORGE (1913)

I L R 41 Cal 137

—Creditor an alien enemy firm—Interest on debt—Debtor not entitled to claim suspension of interest from the date of outbreak of war to the date when the enemy firm obtains a license to trade. Where a person indebted to an alien enemy had paid interest in respect of a transaction entered into before the outbreak of hostilities and sought a refund of the amount paid for the period between the outbreak of hostilities and the date of a license to trade obtained by the enemy firm. Held following the opinion expressed in Hugh Stevenson and Sons v. Alkies Gesellschaft für Carbonnagen Industrie [1918] 1 C 239 that he was not entitled to such refund as there was no suspension of interest in respect of such transactions during that period. WALLI ED v. BERTHOLD PEIR (1919)

44 Bom. 1

DECREE—contd

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT—

s 85 I L R 34 Bom 354

ss 88 89 I L R 40 Bom 321

— after adverse possession—

See LIMITATION I L R 44 Bom 314

— against a deceased person—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)
O XXXI R 7 I L R 40 All 423

— against a company before liquidation—

See COMPANIES ACT (VII of 1913)
s 207 I L R 38 All 407

— against a father—

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 42 Bom 17

— against recorded tenant effect of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 37 Cal 75

— against Talukdar—

See GUJARAT TALUKDARS ACT (BOM ACT VI OF 1883) s 9E
I L R 43 Bom 44

— against widow for husband's debt—

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW
I L R 39 Mad 565

— against wife—

See RESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS
I L R 44 Bom 454

— alteration of—

See PRIVY COUNCIL PRACTICE
I L R 37 Cal 623 649

— as signment of—

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE
I L R 43 Cal 990

— based on perjured evidence—

See ISALD I L R 37 All 535

— by instalments—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O
XXXIV R 14 I L R 44 Bom 981

— by mutual consent—

See HUSBAND AND WIFE
I L R 38 Cal 629— conditional on money being paid into Court—See EXECUTION OF DECREE
I L R 39 All 103

— construction of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908 O
XXXIV R 4) s 4 AND 10
I L R 40 All 109

See EXECUTION OF DECREES

I L R 37 All 97

— execution—Claim to property—

See ATTACHMENT
I L R 45 Bom 1020

— ex parte—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1909
ss 4 AND 151 I L R 44 Bom 702DECREE—contd— ex parte—contd

s 148 O XX I I L R 38 All 77

See EX PARTE DECREE

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSES ACT 1897
s 1 I L R 42 All 438— extension of time for payment limited by—See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908
149 151 O XXXIV R 8
I L R 42 All 634
— I L R 43 All 2

— for balance—

See MORTGAGE I L R 47 Cal 370

— for costs—

See CONTRIBUTION I L R 32 All 585

— for joint possession—

See HINDU LAW—HUSBAND AND WIFE
I L R 38 Mad 1036

— for less than amount claimed—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O
XXXIII R 10 AND 11
I L R 38 All 469

— for money—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE
I L R 39 Cal 298

See EASEMENT I L R 39 Cal 59

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 37 Cal 75

— for order of abatement of suit—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O
XXXII R 3 S 9 I L R 1 Lah 493

— for redemption—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ss 11 4 I L R 42 Bom 246

— for restitution of conjugal rights—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O
XXI R 3 I L R 44 Bom 972

— for sale—

See EXECUTION I L R 43 Cal 591
See MORTGAGE I L R 37 All 369
47 Cal 370 662

— in preemption case—

See PRE EMPTION DECREE
I L R 2 Lah 231

— form of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)—
O XXXI R 7 I L R 43 All 318

O XXXI R 3 I L R 34 All 150

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION
I L R 40 Cal 966See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 37 Mad 435See MORTGAGE I L R 36 All 36 & 123
I L R 40 Cal 378

I L R 38 Bom 24

DECREE—contd

in terms of award—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 443
I L P 44 Bom 202

knowledge of—

See SUBSTITUTED SERVICE
I L R 38 Calc 394

mistake whether a ground for altering—

See RES JUDICATA 1 Pat L J 313

modifying decree of Lower Court—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 110
I L R 43 All 220

modification of after appeal—

See PRACTICE 1 L R 37 Cal 548

mortgage suit—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 47 O XII R 10
I L R 39 Mad 488

mortgage of—

See MORTGAGE 1 L R 33 Mad 429

nature of—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) s
132 AND 133 I L R 39 Mad 981

of Appellate Court—

See MORTGAGE 1 L R 39 Calc 925

of Revenue Court—

See PUNJAB LAND REVENUE ACT 188
s 117 I L R 1 Lah 223

of Small Cause Court—

See AMENDMENT OF DECREE
I L R 1 Lah 342

on compromise—

See COMPROMISE DECREE
I L R 1 Lah 344

part assignment of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O
XVI R 10 I L R 35 All 204 passed in ignorance of the death of one of the respondents—

See APPEAL PARTIES TO AN
I L R 39 Mad 386

payable by instalments—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH
I ART 18 (7) I L R 39 All 230

payment or adjustment of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O
XVI R I L R 46 Bom 91

power to alter—

See LIMITATION I L R 44 Calc 759

reversed in appeal—

See ASSIGNMENT OF A MONEY DECREE
I L P 38 Mad 36

revivor of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 188 s 44
14 C W N 257

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH
I ART 153 I L R 40 Mad 1127

DECREE—contd

satisfaction of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1882) s 257A
I L R 38 Bom 219

security for performance of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s
145 I L P 39 All 225

setting aside of—

See JURISDICTION L P 46 I A 140
See MISTAKE I L R 43 Calc 217

suit on—

See EXECUTOR DE SON TORT LIABILITY
AS I L R 33 Mad 423

transfer of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 47 AND 50
I L R 38 Mad 1076

s 48 O XII I L R 35 Bom 103
s 144 I L R 40 Mad 489

See POLITICAL AGENT AT SIKKIM
I L R 38 Calc 859

upon compromise—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF
1908) s 43 I L R 39 Bom 256

whether creates a mortgage—

See MORTGAGE I L R 2 Lah 53

without evidence—

See EX PARTE DECREE
I L R 43 Calc 1001

1 ALTERATION AMENDMENT ETC	Col 1502
2 CONSTRUCTION ETC	1 05
3 EXECUTION	1 10
4 FORM	1 11
5 TRANSFER AND ASSIGNMENT	1 15

1 ALTERATION AMENDMENT AND SETTING ASIDE OF DECREE

See LIMITATION 2 Pat L J 206
See PRACTICE I L P 37 Calc 649

See PRIVY COUNCIL A TIL
I L R 27 Calc 623

by Court which granted it—s 41 & 42 OF 1882

I L R 1 Lah 342

1 ——— By Subordinate Judge of his decree after it had been affirmed by the High Court on appeal—Future interest set out of decree not being in accordance with judgment—Amendment limited to one decree holder of joint decree as applied to High Court—Civil Procedure Code 1882 ss 200–209 A joint and several mortgage decree passed by the court of a Subordinate Judge under s 88 of the Transfer of Property Act (IX of 1882) which gave future interest on the amount of decree was affirmed on appeal by the High Court. Subsequently on the application of the judgment debtor (the respondent who had appeared in the court the whole amount due under the decree including future interest) the Subordinate Judge, notwithstanding objections by the decree holders, set aside the decree by striking out the future interest and the ground that such interest was not due with the

DECREE—contd1 'ITIGATION AMENDMENT AND SITTING ASIDE OF DECREE—contd

judgment on which the decree was based. The decree holders (the appellants and another who was a transferee of the original decree holders) made separate applications to the High Court for revision of the Subordinate Judge's order. On the application of the transferee decree holder a Bench of the High Court held that the Subordinate Judge had no jurisdiction to amend a decree which had been affirmed by the High Court and set aside his order but only so far as it affected the transferee decree holder. On the appellants' application the same Bench held that under the circumstances it was not a case in which they ought to exercise their discretionary power of revision. Held by the Judicial Committee that if the order of amendment was without jurisdiction as altering a decree after it had been amended on appeal the alteration was equally ineffectual in the appellants' cases as in the case of the other decree holder and should not have been allowed to stand and the appeal was therefore decreed. BRJ NARAYAN v. FETRAL BIKRAM BANAHUR (1910) I L R 33 All 295

2 ——— Decree of competent Court it may be challenged in a fresh suit—Fraud practised on the Court to be proved—Ex parte mortgage decree set aside against one defendant—Re-hearing fresh decree against all—Application for order absolute in respect of later decree opposed by defendants against whom previous decree not set aside—Objection overruled and decree made absolute—Suit to set aside decree on same grounds if competent—Merger of first decree in second whether there is first decree whether implicitly set aside—Upon an application to set aside an ex parte mortgage decree pronounced by R and B it was found that there was no proper service of summons upon B and upon a rehearing, a new and comprehensive decree against all three defendants was passed. The decree holder's application for an order absolute in respect of this decree was opposed by R on the ground that he was no party at the rehearing and that the previous decree against him never having been set aside a second decree in respect of the same matter could not be legally made against him. The objections were overruled and a decree absolute was made against all the defendants. R then brought the present suit for a declaration upon the same grounds that the second decree was in fact null and void as against him. Held that the suit was equivalent to a suit for the rescission and destruction of a former decree of a competent Court—a relief which could not be obtained except on the ground of fraud practised upon the Court which made the decree. A challenge of the validity of the exercise of the jurisdiction of a Court—a challenge which has no reference to the merits of the case—can never in law justify a denial of the exercise of such jurisdiction. PAVAN PRASAD PANDIT v. MAHANT JAGAT PATAI Gm (1913) 20 C W N 35

3 ——— Conditional decree—Ordering a plaintiff to make a payment within a specified time—Court not competent to extend time limited—Civil Procedure Code (1908) s 114—Review of judgment—Ex parte—Except in the case of mortgage decrees where a Court by its decree orders a party to make a payment or take certain action within a specified time and provides that certain detrimental consequences shall follow in the event of non compliance with its order the Court itself has no jurisdiction to extend the time limited by the decree save on an application for review under s 114 read with O XXII r 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Nail Ram v. Bhagwan Chand 15 A L J 511 overruled. SAJJADI BEGAM v. DELAWAR HUSAIN (1918)

DECREE—contd1 ALTERATION AMENDMENT AND SITTING ASIDE OF DECREE—contd

I L R 40 All 579

4 ——— Clerical or arithmetical mistake—*Whether successive applications for amendment of decree maintainable—Civil Procedure Code (A) of 1833) ss 13 206—Inherent power of Court—A Court is competent to entertain successive applications for amendment of clerical or arithmetical mistake in a decree or of error arising therein from any accidental slip or omission. Such applications for amendment of a decree are not barred by the rule of res judicata. But if an application for amendment has been heard and disposed of on the merits a subsequent application may not be maintained in the same matter and it may be barred upon general principles of law. The power to amend a decree so as to correct a clerical or arithmetical mistake therein or an error arising from an accidental slip or omission is inherent in every Court and may be exercised at any time the error is discovered although the Court cannot exercise such power unless the error is of the description mentioned in s 206 of the Code of 1882. LANGAT SINGH v. JAGAT KOER (1911)

I L R 39 Cal 285

5 ——— Rectification of—*Suit of lies to rectify a decree in a previous suit—Where a decree was passed by a Court which had jurisdiction and authority to make it and the judgment debtors failed to adopt the remedies for correcting the decree which were open to them by law by reason of their omission to a certain term of the decree in time a suit to rectify the decree is not maintainable. Chand Ven v. Asma Banu 10 C W N 1012 Jogendra Chandra v. Ganga Bihari Ghatak 8 C W N 473 Sri Gopal v. Prithi Singh 6 C W N 389 referred to. BHANDI SINGH v. DONLAT RAI (1912)

17 C W N 33

6 ——— Decree incapable of execution—*Limitation of decree—Limitation—Time of runs from date of amendment—A decree which does not specify the reliefs granted is inapplicable of execution and cannot be considered as time barred and legally dead even though three years have elapsed from the date of the decree. An application for execution of a decree for rent which was originally incapable of execution is not barred by limitation although presented more than three years after the date of decree but within three years from the date of amendment of the decree making it capable of execution. MOHAMMAD PROSAD SINGH v. ABUL HAMID (1913)

18 C W N 266

7 ——— Not in accordance with judgment—*A decree must be self contained and must be executed as it stands. If it is not in accordance with the judgment application should be made for its amendment. BRUKARI SCKUL v. CHANDRAN RAMANUJ DAS (1914)

17 C W N 57

DECREE—*contd*1 ALTEATION AMENDMENT AND SETTING ASIDE OF DECREE—contd

8 ———— Mistake—To justify rectification there must be very strong ground such as that the decree was obtained by some grave mistake vitiating the whole character of the decree so that its execution would amount to an abuse
Jogenaratta v Gangi Bishnu Ghatlack 8 C W N 43 and Chand Mer v Srimati Aima Banu 10 C W N 1034 referred to SREENATH DAS v GRANESHYAM NAIR (1917) 3 Pat L J 485

9 ———— Mortgage decree—Application for decree absolute after expiry of limitation and without notice to mortgagor—Suit to set aside. A suit will not lie to set aside a decree absolute merely on the ground that the application was barred by limitation and no notice given to the mortgagor
BHAIJA PARWA v JANNA KHAN 3 Pat L J 478

10 ———— Compromise—If a decree expiry of a compromise is inaccurate the only cause is a separate suit to set it aside for grave mistake etc
PAM LAYAN SAHU v RAM BIRCH KHER 5 Pat L J 205

11. ———— Fraud—Decree power of court set aside for fraud—The mere fact that a decree is obtained by fraud is not per se sufficient for the Court to set it aside—If obtained in respect of a non-existent subject matter a court can set aside even its own decree
Vanda Kumar Halder v Ramyban Halder 1 L R 4 Cal 990 approved CHATTU SINGH v PAI PADMA KISHEN 4 Pat L J 187

2 CONSTRUCTION OF DECREE

1 ———— Decree in suit—Suit by mortgagor for account—Application for redemption decree in appeal—Redemption decree passed by Court in appeal—Decree in the suit—Interpretation—Delhi Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879) s 15D cl (3) Held dismissing the second appeal that when the decree of the lower Court is reversed or varied in appeal the decree of the Appellate Court becomes the decree in the suit which is to be executed in execution proceedings
NAVJATI SARDARMAL v PAMA DHONDI (1909) 1 L R 34 Bom 158

2 ———— Decree for rent—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 6, 159 160 167—Suit for entire rent by person for the time being found to be sole landlord subsequently held to be a co-sharer—Decree of rent decree or money decree—Purchaser at rent sale of maj annul subordinate interest without annulling superior interest immediately under him—Remand—Transfer of analogous case for trial by one Court Where certain persons who were alleged to be only co-sharers being found by the Court of first instance to be the 16 annas proprietors of certain zamindari properties took possession of the whole of the properties in execution of their decree pending an appeal to the High Court and were maintained in possession even after the High Court had set aside the decree and until it was decided by the Privy Council agreeing with the High Court that they had only a two-thirds share in the properties Held that a decree for the entire rent obtained by them during this period in a suit instituted after they had got themselves registered as 16 annas

DECREE—*contd*2 CONSTRUCTION OF DECREE—contd

proprietors under the Land Registration Act was a decree for rent within the meaning of s 65 of the Bengal Tenancy Act That they were then the only persons competent to maintain a rent suit and for the purposes of that suit they completely represented the estate of the landlords The purchaser of a tenure at a rent sale cannot annul a subordinate interest leaving untouched a superior interest immediately subordinate to the interest purchased by him
MAHJUDIN SARDAR v ASHUTOSH CHAKRABORTY (1910) 14 C W N 352

3 ———— Order dismissing an appeal for default—Appeal from such an order—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 2 sub s (2) O XII r 17 An order dismissing for default an appeal under O XII r 17 of the Code of Civil Procedure is not a decree within the meaning of a 2 of the Code and as such is not appealable
Pidha Nath Singh v Chand Charan Singh 1 L R 30 Cal 660 Ramchandra Pardurang Nair v Madaw Purushottam Nair 1 L R 16 Bom 33 Pohlar Singh v Gopal Singh 1 L R 14 All 361 referred to PURNIMATI DAS v PARAN CHANDRA BHEPA (1910) 1 L R 39 Cal 341

4 ———— Whether executable or merely declaratory—Appeal against preliminary order after passing of final order maintainability of—If final orders in execution are appealable—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 2 47 A decree which does not direct possession of any of the suit lands to be given to plaintiff who sued for possession of all the lands in suit but merely declared the right of the defendant to remain in possession of a portion of the lands of the whole of which he was in possession is one that is not capable of execution by the plaintiff by way of possession of the rest being given to him especially when there was not even a declaration of plaintiff's right to the rest of the lands A question whether a decree is executable or not is certainly one that comes within ss 2 and 47 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) the former of which enacts that the determination of any questions within s 47 is a decree an appeal lies from such determination under s 2 The determination of a mere issue by the executing Court made prior to the passing of the final order would not be regarded as an adjudication between the parties against which an appeal would lie le katagiri Iyer v Sadagopachariar 14 Mad L J 359 referred to Orders in execution which declare (i) that execution shall issue and that a Commissioner be appointed for carrying out execution (ii) that interest is payable and (iii) that a party is entitled to mesne profits are appealable though the final orders determining the extent of amount will have to be passed only thereafter
Varaana Pattar v Gopalakrishna Pattar 1 L R 28 Mad 343 Ram Arpal v Rup Kuar 1 L P 6 All 269 Bhup Indar Bahadur Singh v Bujar Bahadur Singh 1 L R 23 All 157 Maharaja of Burdwan v Tara Sundari Debi 1 L R 9 Cal 619 and Deoki Nandan Singh v Bansi Singh 14 C L J 35 referred to Held that an appeal against a preliminary order in execution can be filed even after the date of the final order which merely carries out and is consequential on the preliminary order though no appeal has been filed against

DECREE—*contd*3 EXECUTION—contd

Order for stay of execution not applicable—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1908) s 47

I L R 45 Bom 241

1 ————— Decree for rent—Suit for redemption—Taking of accounts under the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879)—Result of account showing that mortgagee overpaid himself from rents and profits—Mortgagee's right to execute decree for rent In virtue of a decree for four years rent passed at a time when the provisions of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act did not apply the plaintiff (mortgagee) became entitled to recover a certain sum from the defendant (mortgagor). After the introduction of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act the latter sued the former for redemption of the mortgage of the land in respect of which the rent note sued on had been passed on taking accounts in the way directed by the Act. It was found that the plaintiff as mortgagee had overpaid himself from the rents and profits of the land. The plaintiff thereafter applied to execute his decree for rent. Both the lower Courts dismissed the application on the ground that the plaintiff had already recovered more than was due to him as mortgagee from the rents and profits of the land. On appeal—Held that the rent decree must be executed as it stood having regard to the fact that the provisions of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act did not apply when it was passed and that the accounts which were taken for the purposes of the subsequent decree were taken for a special purpose—that is for enabling the defendant to redeem on favourable terms and did not entitle him to recover anything from the plaintiff by way of set off. MUGAFA v. MAHANADHAR (1909)

I L R 34 Bom 260

2 ————— Legal representative—Who ought to be made representative—Person with the best prima facie title sufficiently represents estate. A decree holder who has to apply for execution against the legal representative of the deceased judgment debtor may select from among several rival claimants as legal representative the one whom he believes honestly to have best prima facie title and the representation in the absence of fraud or collusion will be sufficient even though it is subsequently found out some other person is the true legal representative. Khanay mal v. Damm I L R 32 Cal 296 explained. RAMSWAMI CHETTIAR v. OFFICIAL MANI CHETTI (1909) I L R 33 Mad. 8

2(a) ————— Until a decree nisi is made absolute (when it must be by proper application in Court) there is no decree capable of execution. See JERAMUJU COWARAJI v. THE HOPE MILLS LTD

I L R 33 Bom 273

3 ————— Preliminary in suit for accounts applied against—Final decree made pending appeal—Preliminary decree set aside on appeal—Application to execute final decree—Executing Court of civil court treat the final decree as superseded though not formally set aside. On 21st March 1906 a preliminary decree was passed directing the defendant to render accounts to the plaintiff. On 1st May the defendant referred an appeal

DECREE—*contd*3 EXECUTION—contd

and did not thereafter appear in the proceedings for taking accounts which went on in the first Court and did not take any part in those proceedings which ended in a decree in favour of the plaintiff for a definite sum on the 28th May 1908. On 11th August 1908 the Appellate Court set aside the preliminary decree holding that the defendant was not bound to render any account and that decree was affirmed by the High Court in second appeal on 30th August 1910. On 2nd February 1911 the plaintiff having applied for execution of the final decree of 28th May 1908 Held that the passing of the final decree did not take away the jurisdiction of the Appellate Court to hear the appeal against the preliminary decree. Maclean v. Narsinga Sahai 10 O L J 113, Basanth Nath v. Sahmulla 6 O L J 547 and Madhusudan v. Kumari Kanta I L R 32 Cal 1123 distinguished. That the final decree which was dependent on and subordinate to the preliminary decree was superseded by the decision of the Appellate Court setting aside the preliminary decree and it was not necessary for the defendant to have the final decree formally set aside. That it was competent to the executing Court to refuse to execute the final decree on the ground that it had been superseded and ceased to be operative. RAM NATH SINGH v. BASANTA NARAYAN SINGH (1913) 17 O W N 868

4 ————— Mahomedan family—Decree for debts of a deceased Mahomedan against the heir in possession—Other heir not a party to the suit whether bound by the decree—Representation. A Mahomedan died leaving as his heirs a son M, two widows S and B and three daughters. He bequeathed all his property to M. On M's death the property was inherited by his heirs a daughter A and his widow P who remained in possession of the property. A money decree was obtained against the estate of M in a suit by a creditor in which the defendants were R S and an illegitimate son of M. A was not made a party to the suit. In execution of the decree M's right title and interest in house No 371 was sold and purchased by defendant No 4. Subsequently A having died her interest in the property was conveyed by her heir to the plaintiff who sued to recover by partition. A estate in house No 371. Held that the plaintiff was entitled to succeed as A's share in the house was not bound by the creditors decree as she was not made a defendant in the suit and her interest could not be represented by P. Dona Iara v. Bhimaji Khondo I L R 30 Bom 333 discussed. BHAGYATHIBAI v. ROSHANBI (1918) I L R 43 Bom 412

5 ————— Instalment decree—Decree directing interest to be paid annually and principal after twenty five years and in default of payment of interest interest and principal to be recovered at once—Defaults made in payment of interest—Proceedings taken from time to time for recovery of interest—Defaults mutually condoned—Subsequent application for execution for arrears of interest and principal amount—Execution not barred. A decree was passed in favour of the plaintiff on the 19th February 1894. It provided for the payment of a certain sum by way of interest every year and for the payment of the principal

DECREE—*contd*3 EXECUTION—contd

on the expiration of twenty five years but if the interest was not paid in any year then the principal and interest in one sum was to be recovered at once. The judgment debtor made default in payment of annual instalments of interest. Execution proceedings were therefore taken from time to time for a series of years till 1914 in order to get payment of the instalments of interest due under the decree. In 1916 the judgment creditor issued a Darkhast praying for execution for the whole amount principal and interest. The judgment debtors contended that the execution was entirely barred because the judgment creditor had not taken advantage of the default clause. The trial Court dismissed the Darkhast on the ground that the principal had not become due that only three years interest was recoverable but that had not been claimed. On appeal to the High Court Held that the judgment creditor and debtor having mutually conceded all previous defaults it was open to the judgment creditor after 1914 when continued default in payment of interest was made to take advantage of the decree and apply in execution further instalment which was in arrear and for the principal amount. Rachand Motchand v Dhondo Laxman 1918 42 Bom 799 referred to Amrit Khandwaleo v Govind Ranchandra 1970 I L R 44 Bom 840

6 ———— Mistake—In partition effected by Collector—Partition not in accordance with the direction of the decree—Wrongful distribution of shares—Collector a power to re open partition—Court's duty to rectify mistake of its agent. One Atmaram Bhagwant a member of a Mirasi family brought a suit for partition of his 1/36th share in three villages. In November 1883 a decree was passed directing that the half share of the Desai family in each of the three villages should first be separated and the remaining share divided between the members of the Mirasi family in accordance with the decree. Atmaram applied for execution of the decree in Darkhast No 177 of 1893 but before partition was made on this application defendant No 8 filed Darkhast No 404 of 1894 for his share. These Darkhasts were disposed of in 1898 when defendant No 8's share was separated and given into his possession. The appellants (defendants Nos 10-12) then applied for separate possession of their share in 1900 but when the surveyor prepared a list of lands remaining over after the first partition as the share of the appellants the latter found that the Khasgi land in one of the villages remaining for their share was less than what they were entitled to and that the plots below and adjoining their houses had been allotted to the share of defendant No 8. They then applied to the Collector to re open partition. The Collector declined to do this and referred the matter to the Court on the ground that the appellants refused to take possession of their shares. The appellants therefore applied to the Court for fresh partition and determination of their legitimate share. The lower Courts dismissed their application as being barred by res judicata. On appeal to the High Court Held granting the application that the Court would not allow a mistake of one of its agents in carrying out its directions to work permanent injury

DECREE—*contd*3 EXECUTION—contd

RANCHANDRA DINKAR & KRISHNAJI SAKHARAM (1915) I L R 40 Bom 118

7 ———— Baroda Court—Application for execution presented to Baroda Court though within time according to Baroda law still out of time according to British Indian law—Transfer of decree to British Indian Court—Execution barred by limitation. A decree was passed by the Baroda Court in 1909. The first application to execute the decree was made in 1913 it being within the time prescribed by the law in Baroda. The decree was transferred to the Ahmedabad Court (British) for execution in 1915 where the judgment debtor contended that no application to execute the decree having been made within three years of its date the execution of the decree was barred. Held that the decree was incapable of execution in the Ahmedabad Court having been barred according to the British Law of Limitation which governed the case. NABIBHAI LAZIMBHAI & DAYABHAI AMULAKH (1916)

I L R 40 Bom 504

8 ———— Instalment decree—Entire decretal debt to become payable on failure to pay any one instalment—Application to execute the decree three years after default. An instalment decree was made on June 28 1909. It provided that the debt be paid in eight annual instalments and that on failure to pay any one of the instalments before the next had become due the creditor could call in the whole amount of debt with interest at the agreed rate. It was found that no instalment was ever paid. In September 1915 the creditor presented the Darkhast but the lower Courts held it time barred. On appeal to the High Court it was contended that it was optional with the creditor to waive all breaches on the part of the debtor to fulfil his obligations under the instalment decree and so at the end of eight years the creditor could sue for at least three instalments in arrears then due. Held that on the terms of the decree a complete legally enforceable right had accrued to the judgment creditor on failure to pay the first annual instalment in June 1910 and the period of limitation allowed to him within which to enforce it was three years and no longer. The Darkhast was therefore barred by limitation. RACHAND MOTCHAND V DHONDO LAXMAN (1918) I L R 42 Bom 728

9 ———— Limitation—Application for execution time barred—Subsequent application to execute the decree—Application allowed—Order not reversed in appeal—Further application presented in time—Application not barred. A decree was passed on 18th February 1909. The first Darkhast was presented on 20th March 1907 second on 31st March 1910 and a third on 1st September 1910 when the defendant appeared and contended that the Darkhast of 31st March 1910 was barred. The Court decided that the Darkhast of 1st September 1910 was in time and directed that the money due should be paid by instalments. On 26th March 1913 Rs. 200 were paid to plaintiff. The last Darkhast was filed on 19th November 1915 to recover the balance due. The lower appellate Court dismissed the Darkhast as time barred on the ground that the decree was dead on 31st March 1910 and even though the further Darkhast was admitted thereafter that would not have the effect of reviving the decree. On appeal to the High Court Held that the Darkhast was within time as the order made on the Darkhast of 12th September 1910 not having been reversed on appeal was valid. Mungol Pershad Ditch v Giryu Kant Lahiri Choudhry (1881) L R 3 I A 123 relied on. DESAI v DUNDAPPA

DECREE—*contd*3 EXECUTION—contd

I L R 44 Bom 227

10 ——— Surety-bond for restitution—Suit Where a bond is passed as security for restitution in the event of the decree being reversed in appeal a suit based upon such bond can be maintained. MOTILAL VIRCHAND v THAKORE CHANDRASANJI (1911)

I L R 36 Bom 42

4 FORM

Irregularity—Decree not drawn up—Contents of decree—Costs—Practice It is the duty of a Court to draw up a decree after a case has been decided and the decree should show the costs incurred by the parties. SAGAR CHANDRA MANDAL v DIGAMBAR MANDAL (1919)

I L R 38 Cal 125

5 TRANSFER AND ASSIGNMENT

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE

I L R 43 Cal 990

1 ——— Transfer takes effect from date of transfer and not from date of its recognition by Court. Where a decree is transferred by an instrument in writing such transfer takes effect from the date of such instrument and not from the date of its recognition by the Court. Puthandi Mammed v Idris Mordin I L R 20 Mad 187 considered. The transfer of a decree may in the absence of a contract to the contrary be regarded as conditional upon the Court granting the transferee permission to execute. The transferee before repudiating the transfer is bound to do all that is reasonably necessary to obtain such permission. SADAGOPA CHAFFAR v RAJESWARATHA CHAFFAR (1909)

I L R 33 Mad 62

2 ——— Assignment to defeat creditors—Transfer made for valuable consideration but not bona fide—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1852) s 53—Statute 13 Eliz c 5—Validity of transfer of moveable property—Practice of Privy Council—Point not before Courts below In this case the Judicial Committee upheld the decision of the High Court as to the invalidity of certain assignments which though for good consideration were made to defeat creditors and held that the question whether any of the parties could establish right based not on the assignments but on other grounds such as the actual payment of debts was a point not before the Courts below and therefore their Lordships would not decide it. CHIDAMBARAM CHETTIAR v SRINIVASA SASTRIAL (1914)

I L R 37 Mad 227

3 ——— If may be questioned as Benami in execution proceeding—Decree assigned to judgment debtor's pleader—Effect—Pleader trust & loan to reconvey on terms—Proper procedure—Cancellation of suit The assignment of a decree to the pleader of the judgment debtor does not extinguish the judgment debt and release the judgment debtor from liability. The pleader

DECREE—*contd*5 TRANSFER AND ASSIGNMENT—contd

holds the decree on trust for his client and is bound if called upon by the latter to assign the decree to him but no Court will decree such an assignment except upon equitable terms. A question that the assignee of a decree is benamidar for some body else cannot be gone into in execution proceeding. When the judgment debtors alleged that the assignee was a benamidar for their pleader Held that it was not practicable in execution proceedings to go behind the decree and alter the liability of the parties after investigation of the sum which would be equitably payable by the judgment debtor to the assignee of the decree to entitle him to obtain a reconveyance thereof. This should be the subject of investigation in a suit the execution proceedings being started to enable the judgment debtor to institute such a suit. HACEEDRABALA DASST v DEBENDRA NATH MANISH (1917)

23 C W N 491

DECREE AGAINST A MAJOR AS MINOR

Court sale in execution of decree—Validity of—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Art 12 applicability of A decree obtained against a person treating him as a minor while in reality he was a major on its date is not a nullity, consequently a sale in execution of such a decree cannot be set aside on the ground that the Court had no jurisdiction to pass the decree. The period of limitation to apply to set aside the court sale is one year as provided by Article 12 of the Limitation Act. SESHAIAH RAO v HANUMANATHA RAO (1915)

I L R 39 Mad 1031

DECREE FOR DIVORCE

See DIVORCE ACT (IV of 1869) s 37

I L R 39 Bom 182

DECREE FOR INJUNCTION

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1908) s 2 (II) 53

I L R 42 Bom 504

DECREE FOR MONEY

—payment of—See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XXI s 1

I L R 35 Bom 35

DECREE FOR PARTITION

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) ART 15

I L R 45 Bom 952

Decree made absolute unnecessarily—Application to execute the decree if made within three years of the final decree is in order

DECREE FOR POSSESSION

Decree holder obtaining possession of the property without executing the decree—Subject's disposal—Maintenance of a fresh suit—Doctrine of merger where applicable The doctrine of merger does not apply to a decree for ejectment. If a party obtains a decree for a debt or for damages for tort the original cause of action merges in the decree but a decree in ejectment differs very much from other decrees. Plaintiff obtained a decree for possession of certain immovable property which she did not put into execution for over three years but had obtained actual physical possession over the property. She was subsequently dispossessed and brought a suit for possession. Held that as she had been in actual possession of the property a fresh cause of action had accrued and her suit was maintainable being within twelve years of such dispossession. Quare Whether a suit is maintainable upon a decree when the execution of it has become time barred. DHARMAJI SIVOK v. LAKHMAN KUNWAR (1916) 1 L. R. 38 All 509

DECREE FOR POSSESSION—contd

DECREE FOR RENT

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

1 L. R. 41 Cal 926

See MORTGAGE 1 L. R. 38 Cal 923

Right of Landlord to choose manner of execution. Held that it was not competent for a Court to direct in what manner the landlord shall execute a decree for rent and he cannot be compelled to proceed first against the holding and then against the person of the tenant. MAHARAJA KESUJI PRASAD SINGH v. LALJI PATEL 1 Pat. L. J. 138

DECREE-HOLDER

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act IV of 1892) s. 108 1 L. R. 34 Bom 575
39 Mad 1026

See INSOLVENCY 1 L. R. 41 All 274

See LIMITATION ACT (XV of 1877) s. 8

See II Act 179 Expl. I

1 L. R. 34 Bom 672

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) s. 2

1 L. R. 38 Mad 837

See I Act 1906 AND L. O.

1 L. R. 38 Mad 972

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY Act 1907

ss. 16 AND 34 1 Pat. L. J. 235

transferee of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1908) ss. 47 AND 49

1 L. R. 38 Mad 1076

Rival—

See PAYABLE DISTRIBUTION

1 L. R. 38 Mad. 221

status of—

See SALE 1 L. R. 43 Cal 234

Petition for execution

—Sale of properties not mentioned in the decree—Personal decree—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXXIII r. 6—Application of necessary—Court's power to amend—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) s. 153 A decree holder cannot ignore the terms of a decree directing him to bring the properties mentioned in it to sale before proceeding against other properties of the judgment debtor. Maiti Ramoj v. Chodimala Ramamirthy 3 Mad. I. T. 335. Varadiah v. Raja Perumal Raja Bahadur Appeal Against O 257 of 1909 followed. But when the judgment debtor has no saleable interest in the properties directed to be sold the decree holder need not go through the farce of putting them up to sale. A decree directing the defendant to pay a certain sum and in default directing the hypothecated property to be sold is a personal decree. Paya of Kalahasti v. Varadachariar 21 Mad. L. J. 1036 followed. When there is a personal decree no application for another personal decree under O XXXIV r. 6 can be granted. Danabandhu v. Mashida 16 C. L. J. 318 referred to. S. 103 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) enables the Court under the above circumstances to order if necessary an amendment of the execution petition. PERIASANI KONE v. MUTHIA CHETTIAR (1913) 1 L. R. 38 Mad 677

DECREE HOLDER—contd

DECREE IN FORECLOSURE

See MORTGAGE 1 L. R. 39 Cal 925

DECREE NISI

See DEKHAAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF Act (XVII of 1819) s. 10B

1 L. R. 43 Bom 477

See MORTGAGE

1 L. R. 43 Bom 334

Decree for possession or payment of a certain sum within six months in default forfeiture of the right to recover possession—Appeal—Confirmation of decree—The term of six months to run from the date of the final decree. The plaintiff brought a suit to recover possession of property as purchaser from defendants 1-6 and to redeem the mortgage of defendant 7. The first Court having dismissed the suit the appellate Court on plaintiff's appeal passed a decree directing the plaintiff to recover possession on payment to defendants 1-6 of a certain sum within six months from the date of its decree and then to redeem defendant 7 and on plaintiff's failure to pay within six months from the date of the decree he should forfeit his right to recover possession. All parties being dissatisfied with the decree the plaintiff preferred a second appeal to the High Court and the two sets of defendants filed separate sets of cross objections. The High Court confirmed the decree and the plaintiff's second appeal and the defendants' cross objections were dismissed. Within six months of the date of the High Court's decree the plaintiff deposited in Court the amount payable by him and applied for execution. Defendant 7 contended that the plaintiff not having complied with the terms of the decree of the first appellate Court his right to recover possession in execution was forfeited. The lower Courts upheld the defendant's contention and dismissed the decree nisi. On second appeal by the plaintiff. Held reversing the decree that the time for executing a decree nisi for possession ran from the date of the High Court's decree confirming the decree of the lower Court for what was to be looked at and interpreted was the decree of the final appellate Court. Raja Bhup Indar Bahadur Singh v. Dyan Bahadur Singh 1 L. R. 27 I. A. 209 and Vandana v. Vithu 1 L. P. 19 Bom. 253 followed. SATWA ALAJIRAV v. SAKHARLAL ATYAHAMSHET (1914) 1 L. R. 39 Bom. 175

DECREE ON MORTGAGE

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)
SCH II ART 179
I L R 39 Bom 20

DECREE OVER

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908
O XXXIV R 6
I L R 42 All 519

DEDICATION

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT
I L R 46 Calc 951

These can be dedicated by a joint family and no deed is necessary
TADI BULLI TAMHIREDDI v TADI BULLI GANGIREDDI
I L R 45 Mad 281

DEDICATED PROPERTY

— acquisition of—
See SREBAIT I L R 40 Calc 895

DEED

See EVIDENCE ADMISSIBILITY OF
I L R 38 Calc 892

— construction of—
See CONSTRUCTION OF DEED
See PROMISSORY NOTE

I L R 36 Mad. 370

— execution of—
See PANDAYASHEN LADY
I L R 47 Calc 175

— form of proof of—
See EVIDENCE I L R 44 Calc 345

— Interpretation of deed
—Reference to conduct where language unambiguous if permissible Where the language of a written instrument is clear no reference is permissible for its interpretation to the conduct of the parties
PONDRI BAKSA MANDAL v SHAJAD AHMED (1914)
19 C W N 1311

— Material alteration of —Destruction of right of suit—Negotiable Instruments Act (XXVI of 1881) s 87 An alteration in a document which has the effect of enabling the payee to sue on the document in a Court where he could not have sued on it in its original form is a material alteration and as such deroys the right of action on the document. Altering a negotiable instrument by causing the words or order to disappear and making it non negotiable is a material alteration under ordinary law and also under s 8 of the Negotiable Instruments Act (XXVI of 1881). The facts that the payee overtly filed the suit in another Court different from the one intended at the time of the alteration and that it was not necessary for him to rely on the altered state of document to enable him to succeed therein do not make the alteration any the less material. Gour Chandra Das v Prasanna Kumar Chandra I L R 33 Calc 817 followed De ro x Verley et Cie v Meyer & Co 2 Q L D 343 distinguished LAKSHMINATH v NARASIMHARAOHAYA MIVANGAR (1913)
I L R 28 Mad. 746

DEED—contd

Easements adjacent ages appurtenances held and enjoyed as part of the house meaning of Words in a sale deed of a house such as the following — All my right title and interest in and to the said house and ground with all the buildings fixtures rights easements advantages and appurtenances whatsoever to the said house and ground appertaining or with the same held and enjoyed or reputed as part thereof or appurtenant there to are wide enough to convey not only actually existing easements but also (a) a way formerly enjoyed as an easement but as to which the right had been suspended by unity of possession of the two tenements and (b) a way which during the unity of possession had never existed as an easement but was in fact used for the convenience of one of the tenements afterwards served Churder Coomer Moolery v Aoyitah Chunder Sett I L R 7 Calc 665 followed. If on a disposition of property belonging to the same owner tenements are served and conveyed to different people either simultaneously or at different times but as part of one transaction quasi easements apparent and continuous and necessary for the enjoyment of the several tenements as they were enjoyed at the time of severance will pass to the grantees thereof. In either case the conveyances are regarded in equity as one transaction and each grantee who takes his tenement with the knowledge that the other tenements are being conveyed at the same time or will be conveyed as part of the same transaction is deemed in the absence of express stipulation to take the land burdened or benefited as the case may be by the qualities which the previous owner had a right to attach to the different portions of his property before severance
VENKIAH v KRISHNAMOORTHY (1913)
I L R 38 Mad. 141

DEED OF CONVEYANCE

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER
I L R 37 Calc 362

DEED OF ENDOWMENT

See RELIGIOUS TRUST
I L R 40 Calc 251

DEED OF SALE

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER
I L R 42 Calc 56

DEED OF TRUST

See TRUST
I L R 40 Calc 232
I L R 41 Calc 19

DEFAMATION

See ACQUITTAL I L R 37 Calc 804
See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 18) s 13—
I L R 40 All 271
I L R 43 All 92

See LIBEL
See MALICIOUS PROSECUTION
I L R 38 Calc 580
See PENAL CODE (ACT XLA OF 1860)
s 498 I L R 37 Mad. 110
See PENAL CODE s 400

DEFAMATION—contd

See PRIVEY COUNCIL PRACTICE OF
I L R 41 Cal 1023

See TORT I L R 39 Mad 433

— made outside British India—

See TORT I L R 39 Mad 433

— suit for—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O
XXV p 1 I L R 35 Bom 421

1 ——— Subsequent prosecution—Acquittal under s 182 of the Penal Code—Subsequent complaint under s 300 by the person defamed in respect of the same statement—Subsequent prosecution not barred—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 403 An acquittal under s 182 of the Penal Code in respect of false information contained in a petition to the manager of an estate is no bar to a subsequent prosecution for defamation under s 300 of the Penal Code on the same statements Sharbelhan Gohari v Emperor 10 C W N 83 distinguished. PAN SEBAK LAL v MONESWAR SINGH (1910)

I L R 37 Cal 604

2 ——— By pleader—Questions put in cross examination on strictions without ascertaining their truth or falsity—It is vice personal malice—Presumption of good faith—Rebuttal of presumption—Duty of Advocate—Public good—Penal Code (Act XXI of 1860) s 499 Exception (3) A pleader is entitled to the presumption that the questions he asks in cross examination are put in good faith for the protection of his client's interest within Exception (3) to s 499 of the Penal Code To rebut the presumption it is not sufficient merely to show that the client knew the imputation to be untrue but there must be convincing evidence that the pleader was actuated by an improper motive personal to himself and not by a desire to protect or further his client's interest Upendra Nath Bagchi v Emperor 1 L R 36 Cal 370 13 C W N 310 followed It is the duty of the pleader to present his client's case but it is not his duty to enquire whether it is true or false so far as any rate as the purpose of a prosecution for defamation is concerned It is for the public good that a person charged with the responsibility of an advocate should as far as may be feel unfettered by any control other than that of the Court in the use of every weapon placed at his disposal by law for the defence of his client KRISHNA LEHARI SEN v HARENDRA CHANDRA SINGH (1913)

I L R 41 Cal 514

3 ——— Expulsion from caste—Words imputing loss of caste are actionable—Privilege—Caste usage It is open to one member of a caste to refuse to associate with another for what he considers to be an infringement of caste rules and no Court can call upon him to sign a reason for not associating It is not however open to one member to call another an outcaste The caste or the majority of them may expel a member from the caste The Courts will interfere if he is so expelled without being given a proper opportunity for explanation Word which impute unworthiness to remain a member of the caste are defamatory and give rise to a cause of action and where the words used are ambiguous it must be decided on evidence whether they were intended to bear a libellous meaning Where a libellous communication is made regard ing a member of a caste the mere fact that the person making such communication is a member of the caste will not of itself suffice to make the communication privileged GOODRAM CHETTY v DURAISAMI CHETTY (1909)

DEFAMATION—contd

I L R 33 Mad 67

4 ——— Pleader's comment in Court that the Plaintiff forged documents by means of fraud if amounts to—Suit for defamation against pleader—Defence pleader's comment that the Plaintiff forged documents by means of fraud if amounts to defamation—Legitimate comment privilege of—Question of malice and of personal charge In a suit for rent the defence pleader while commenting on certain exhibits used the expression that the Plaintiff (a lady) forged documents by means of fraud In a previous rent suit brought by the husband of the Plaintiff the collection paper were held to have been manufactured Held—That there was no malice and the pleader was not liable for making legitimate comments on the case The expression used by the pleader did not necessarily imply any personal charge against the lady who might have had nothing personally to do with the suit beyond the fact that she was the Plaintiff in it What the pleader did was in the professional discharge of his duty and in good faith for the protection of the interest of his client and his remarks were not irrelevant but were pertinent to the enquiry which was being made before the Judge and had a direct bearing on the case SHIVA KUMARI DEBI v BECHANAN LAHRI

25 C W N 835

5 ——— Statement by accused—made in application to District Magistrate for transfer of case—Absolute or qualified privilege—English law applicability of in the mofussil—Construction of Statute—Penal Code (Act XXI of 1860) s 499 S 499 of the Penal Code is exhaustive and if a defamatory statement does not fall within the specified Exceptions it is not privileged The English common law doctrine of absolute privilege does not obtain in the mofussil in India A defamatory statement made in and forth by an accused against whom a trial is pending in a Criminal Court and contained in a petition to the District Magistrate for a transfer of the case is not absolutely privileged but is privileged under s 499 of the Penal Code Cre v Delaney 12 IF P Cr 1 Agudaa Ponn Sali v N N Chand 21 L R 1 L R 3 Cal 56 and Kal Nath Gupta v G B Dey 18 Cal 113 followed Pitambar Veikata Peddy v Emperor 10 Cr L J 311 entered from Baba G v L N Sural v Muggeram Choudhary 11 B L R 1 Elumbar 18 Cal 1 Chaturam Sircar 1 L R 10 Cal 261 Wolfe v Lobb v Jearam Sircar 1 L R 10 Cal 61 Gopal Jan v Elora 1 Khetri 1 L R 10 Cal 839 distin in Hadar 11 v Ibru 31 1 L R 3 Cal 56 referred to Kar 1 1 L R 10 Cal 441 (note) explained The proper course is in construing an Act is to ascertain the natural meaning of its language and not to a time that it was intended to leave the existing law unaltered except when such intention is stated Link of England v Taghario [1891] 4 C 10 and Chandra Nath Sircar v Karamalla 11 1 L R 10 Cal 566 followed The note of a Code is to be exhaustive in the in respect of which it

DEFAMATION—contd

declares the law and it is not the province of a Judge to disregard or go outside the letter of the enactment according to its true construction Gokul Mandar v Padmanand Singh 1 L R 29 Calc 707 followed Harri Sraon v Emperor (1912) 1 L R 40 Calc 433

8 ————— *D. Defamatory statements by a party to a judicial proceeding—Absolute or qualified privilege—Distinction between civil and criminal liability—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1897) Preamble and ss 1 2 5 and 499—Charter Act (21 and 25 Vict c 194) s 9—Letters Patent 1865 cl 39—Common Law of England as to defamation—Reference to previous history of legislation—Construction of Codes—Illustrations as aid to construction—Refusal of sanction not bar to prosecution for defamation—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 403—Powers of the Supreme and High Courts in contempt. A defamatory statement on oath or otherwise by a party to a judicial proceeding falls within s 499 of the Penal Code and is not absolutely privileged. Under cl 39 of the Letters Patent 1865 the provisions of such Code must be followed and the Court cannot engraft thereon exceptions derived from the Common Law of England or based on public policy. The civil liability for defamation in India does not stand on the same basis as the criminal. A suit for damages for a defamatory statement made on oath or otherwise by a party to a judicial proceeding in the absence of statutory rules on the subject is governed by the principles of justice equity and good conscience which according to a large preponderance of judicial opinion are identical with the corresponding relevant rules of English Common Law. The preamble to the Penal Code and ss 1 and 2 read with s 4 prescribe that all acts or omissions contrary to the provisions of the Code or of special or local laws or other laws enumerated in s 5 of the Code and none others are punishable as offences. H O Pro 2^o Sept 1866 3 Mad H O Ap XI XVII referred to. Reference to the previous history of legislation is legitimate only when there is a reasonable doubt as to the construction of a statute. Shurree Persad Varain Singh v Lal Chatterput Singh 3 Moo 1 A 100 130 Brower v McLachlan 1 P P C 543 559 referred to. But in the construction of Codes the language of the statute and its natural meaning must be first examined uninfluenced by any consideration of the previous law on the point and an interpretation cannot be placed on the plain language of a statute inconsistent therewith on the supposed policy of the Legislature not to depart from the English Law on the subject. Bank of England v Vaughan Bros [1891] A C 197 Pobinson v Canadian Pacific Ry Co [1892] A C 431 Surendra Nath Sircar v Kamabanshi Das 1 L R 23 Calc 563 followed. The history however of the Penal Code shows an intention to deviate in many respects from the English Law of defamation. Drafts of the Penal Code 1837 Note B of 1840 and 1847 Chap XXV referred to. The Court must administer the law as presented by the Legislature and neither enlarge nor restrict its scope. Egerton v Brownlow 4 H L C 1 123 referred to. An illustration is a useful indication of the intention of the Legislature but is not binding when inconsistent with the language of the section. Dubey Sahas v Ganesh Lal 1 L P 1 AU 34 35 Queen Empress v Falsrava 1 L R 15 Bom 491 *Ko. Jash Chunder Ghos v Sanatan

DEFAMATION—concl'd

Chung Baroo 1 L R 7 Calc 132 referred to. The Court should accept the illustrations when it can do so in aid of construction and they should not be rejected for inconsistency with ideas derived from another system of jurisprudence nor except in a very special case for an assumed repugnancy. Mahomed Syedul Ariffin v Yesh Oo Gaik [1916] 2 A C 575 referred to. The refusal of an application for sanction to prosecute a party to a judicial proceeding under ss 182 193 I P C is not a bar under s 403 Cr P C to his prosecution for defamation. Ram Sebal Lal v Munswar 1 L P 37 Calc 604, referred to. The Supreme Court had power to punish summarily for contempts under the Common Law of England such part thereof having been introduced into the Presidency Towns by their Charters and the High Courts have the same power either by inheritance under s 9 of the Charter Act 24 and 25 Vict c 104) replaced by the Government of India Act 1915 (5 and 6 Geo V c 61) s 196 or as inherent in them as Courts of Record untrammelled by cl 30 of the Letters Patent 1865. Surendra Nath Banerjee v G J and Judges of the High Court 1 L R 10 Calc 109 131 McDermot v Judges of British Guiana 5 Moo P C (N S) 466 497 Legal Remembrancer v Matulal Ghose 1 L P 41 Calc 173 and P Motilal Ghose 1 L R 45 Calc 169 referred to. Similarly the power and authority exercised by the Supreme Court outside the Presidency Towns as indicated in Re Maharanes of Lahore (1815) Tay 498 has become vested in the High Court subject however to the provisions of the Letters Patent and the legislative power of Governor General in Council. Authorities reviewed. SATISH CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTY v PAN DOTAL DE (1920) 1 L R 48 Calc 339

DEFAULT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O IX
See CONSERV DECREE 1 L R 44 Bom 544
See DEKKAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF ACT (XVII of 1879) s 15B cl. (2) 1 L R 35 Bom 190
See EXECUTION OF DECREE 1 L R 38 Calc 482
See MORTGAGE 1 L R 39 Mad 981
See WAIVER 15 C W N 10

— dismissal of suit for—
See APPEAL 1 L R 37 Calc 426
See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1887) s 10 1 L R 38 Mad. 867
— in filling annual list of members—See COMPANY 1 L R 45 Calc 490
— in payment of instalments—
See LIMITATION 1 L R 38 Mad. 374

DEFAULTER

See INCUMBRANCE 1 L R 37 Calc 322
See SALE FOR ARREARS OF PENANCE 1 L R 41 Calc 1092
1 L R 44 Calc 412

DEFECT

See CHARGE I L R 41 Cal 66

DEFECTIVE DECLARATION

See IN URANCE I L R 41 Cal 581

DEFECTIVE INSTALLATION

See GAS COMPANY 14 C W N 158

DEFENCE

See HABEAS CORPUS I L R 38 Cal 164

opportunity for—

See MURDER I L P 40 Mad 177

struck out—

See FOREIGN JUDGMENT I L R 39 Mad 85

DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT 1915

See COINTEGRATION ACT 1902 s 23 I L R 44 Bom 6

s 2—

1 ————— Defence of India (Consolidation) Rules 1915 rr 23 29 and 30—Procedure—Criminal Procedure Code s 191 Upon a statement made to a District Magistrate not upon oath and not signed by the informant the Magistrate issued warrants against four persons in respect of an offence under r 23 of the Defence of India (Consolidation) Rules 1915. The four persons were tried for and convicted of such offence and were sentenced to twenty months imprisonment. Held that the trial was bad. Either the Magistrate was acting under s 191 (c) of the Code of Criminal Procedure in which case he was bound to ask the accused if they objected to being tried by him and then he did not ask them or he was acting as on a complaint in which case he was bound to record the informant's statement upon oath. Furthermore with reference to rule 30 of the rules in question the District Magistrate should have recorded a formal proceeding intimating his opinion that the initiation of a prosecution against the persons implicated by the informant's statement was advisable. Held also that the rule under which the conviction had been recorded was inapplicable to the facts of the case because it is not possible to dissuade a person from doing something which he has already done. EMPEROR v MAHADEO SINGH (1918) I L R 41 All 164

2 ————— *Rules framed under creating offences—Time from which acts specified in rules are offences—Special tribunals no creation of—Trial by Magistrates as under Criminal Procedure Code and duty of—Sanction for prosecution by Acting District Magistrate and duty of—General Clauses Act (X of 1897) s 17 cl (1) Rules framed under s 2 of the Defence of India Act must be read as part of that section and are effective from the date of their publication and are not dependent on the remainder of the Act being brought into operation. Held accordingly that a person in the Presidency of Madras who in contravention of the rules dissuades anyone from entering into His Majesty's Military Service is guilty of an offence though the remainder of the Act had not been brought into operation in this province. Held further that in the absence of*

DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT 1915—contd

s 2—contd

a notification creating special tribunals for the trial of such offences under the Defence of India Act such offences are triable by the ordinary Magisterial Courts of the country in the manner provided by the Criminal Procedure Code as offences against other laws within schedule II of the Code. By virtue of s 17 cl (1) of the General Clauses Act (X of 1897) an Acting District Magistrate is competent to sanction a prosecution in all cases where a District Magistrate can sanction the same. KANDASAMI PILLAI v EMPEROR (1918) I L P 42 Mad 69

s 4—Power to create Court— S 22 of the Indian Councils Act read with s 9 of the High Court Act is wide enough to empower the Governor General in Council to create new tribunals as contemplated by s 4 of the Defence of India Act. A High Court has power to declare an Act of the Indian Legislature ultra vires. PARASURAM NARAYAN v EMPEROR 3 Pat L J 537 ss 7 8 and 11—Jurisdiction of High Court—Held that the High Court has no jurisdiction to superintend the proceedings of Commissioners appointed under the Act. SHEOWANAND PRASAD SINGH v KING EMPEROR 8 Pat L J 581 rules 23 29 and 30—

See DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT 1915 2 I L R 41 All 164

DEFENDANT

See PRISONER I L P 41 Cal 619

addition of—

See PARTIES I L R 48 Cal 48

changing character of—

See PARTIES I L R 87 Cal 629

duty of—

See PLEADING I L R 37 Cal 856

misdescription of—

See PLAINT I L R 43 Cal 441

right to offer evidence—

See PRACTICE I L R 40 Cal 119

*Death of—Legal Representative not brought on record—Decree a bar consequent to such death and duty of—Object on to a decree in execution. A decree passed after the death of the defendant and before his legal representative was brought on the record is nullity. Jenardhan v Ramachandra I L P 96 Bom 31, Padma Prasad Singh v Lal Sahab Puri I L R 13 All 53 and Indu Devi v Jagan Lal I L P 17 All 4 followed. Goda Cooparammer v Soondrammall I L R 3 Mad 16 distinguished. Objection to that effect can be taken in the execution proceedings. SUBRAMANIAM v VAITHINATHAN (1913) I L R 38 Mad 682*

DEITY :

See PARTIES I L R 46 Cal 877

DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT (BOB XVII OF 1879)—contd

s. 2—contd

Agriculture Relief Act 1879 irrespective of the proportion which his strictly agricultural income may bear to any other income accruing to him. A blawad (shepherd) who engages personally in agricultural labour is an agriculturist although his income from agricultural (i.e. pastoral) sources may be greater than his other income. BHUKHA FAKIRA v RAICHAND MANJI (1911)

L L R 37 Bom 393

3 ——— Income of Government revenue not an agriculturist The income derived from tenants by an inamdar which is to a certain extent attributable to the fact that he is the assignee of Government revenue and therefore does not have to pay over a portion of that income to Government but may keep it for himself cannot be taken into consideration in estimating whether or not he earns his livelihood wholly or principally by a culture and therefore is not an agriculturist within the meaning of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879). JASIRATH PAMCHANDRA v VINAYAK GANADHAN (1911)

L L R 35 Bom 266

4. ——— Sources of income

Agriculture—Scholarship or stipend received by a student is not income from non-agricultural sources The income from agricultural sources of two brothers was Rs200 a year. They had two houses which yielded as rent Rs30 a year. One of the brothers held a scholarship of Rs15 a month and the other received a stipend of Rs7 a month at a training college. The money they thus received from non agricultural sources amounted to Rs294. A question having arisen whether they were agriculturists within the meaning of a 2 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879) Held that the brothers were agriculturists for the money they received either as scholarship or stipend were mere bounties.

PARTABHAI v KESHAVANT KRISHNA (1911)

I L R 36 Bom 199

5 ——— Son of agriculturist

is not an agriculturist The minor son of an agriculturist who is depending for his support on his father is not an agriculturist within the meaning of a 2. Dependence for livelihood upon another who is an agriculturist is not the same thing as earning livelihood for oneself by agriculture. To earn livelihood by agriculture is to obtain means of livelihood by it. DAODU v VIKRAMJI (1912)

I L R 26 Bom 496

6 ——— Gosavis—Earning livelihood by mendicancy and also from agriculture The plaintiffs who were Gosavis had no lands of their own at the date of the suit but purchased some thereafter. They were following two occupations one that of Gosavis and the other that of agriculture. On a claim made by them to be agriculturists within the meaning of the term as defined in the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act 1879 Held that the plaintiffs were not agriculturists for they adduced no proof to bring them lives under the first part of the definition and they could not take advantage of the second branch inasmuch as they being Gosavis the presumption would be that their ordinary occupation was that of mendicancy. SAVALFUPI v DALAVALLAD NADASHET (1912)

I L R 36 Bom. 543

DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF ACT (BOB XVII OF 1879)—contd

s. 2—contd

7 ——— Grant of a village as service vatan

—Concession—Grant of revenue a d lot of soil—Holders not agriculturists Where a Sanad evidencing grant of a village as service vatan did not go the length of granting anything more than a share of the revenue and provided that in certain cases the grant may be converted into private property which had not been done and a question having arisen as to whether the grant was one of soil and whether the holders were agriculturists within the meaning of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879) Held that the grant was a grant of a share of the revenue and not a grant of the soil and did not entitle the holders to be considered agriculturists in view of explanation (b) to a 2 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879). CHUNILAL JAMNADAS v BHANUMATI (1911)

I L R 26 Bom 151

8 ——— Interpretation

2 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879) gives two definitions of the term agriculturist one in cl 1 and the other in cl 2. The former applies where a party to a suit is an agriculturist at the time the suit is filed by or against him. The second clause which gives a special definition of the term agriculturist for the purposes of Chapters II, III, IV and VI and a 60 of the Act is not exhaustive but is merely inclusive and is intended for a special purpose. The decision in Mahadeo Narayan Lokhande v Vinayak Ganga dhar Purandhar I L R 36 Bom 504 does not lay down the proposition of law that a party to a suit is not entitled to the privileges of an agriculturist under the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act 1879 if he was not an agriculturist at the time the liability in question was incurred even though it may be that he was an agriculturist within the meaning of the first clause of a 2 at the time of the suit. DAMODAR NANDPAM v MANBAI (1909)

I L R 34 Bom 65

9 ——— Amending Act

(XVIII of 1881)—Patnagiri District—Mortgage of 1881—Suit on account—Agriculturist The plaintiff whose land and residence was in Ratnagiri District executed a mortgage in the year 1881. The Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879) which extended to the districts of Poona Satara Sholapur and Ahmednagar was not applicable to the Patnagiri District in the year 1881. In the year 1890 the plaintiff brought a suit for an account of what was due on the mortgage under the provisions of a 15D of the Act (XVII of 1879) and contended that he was an agriculturist in 1881 that is when the liability under the mortgage was incurred. Held that the plaintiff could not sue under a 15D of the Act (XVII of 1879) as he was not an agriculturist within the meaning of the Amending Act (XVIII of 1881). The expression then defined by law in a 2 cl 2 of the Act (XVII of 1879) relates to the time when any part of the liability was incurred. SHANKAR RAMKRISHNA v KRISHNAJI GANESH (1909)

34 Bom 161

as 2 (2) 1872) s. 2—Agriculture of sale—Pedemption s. 112—

of form
hes

DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT (BOM XVII OF 1879)—contd

ss 2 (2) 10A—contd

at the time of the transaction The object of a 10A of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879) is not to enable a party to the suit to prove notwithstanding the words of the document what the real intention was at the time when the document was executed. Regard must be paid to the date of the transaction and an agriculturist can only be allowed according to the provisions of a 10A to enjoy the special benefit of the favoured class in regard to the provisions of a 92 of the Evidence Act (I of 1872) if he belonged to the favoured class as defined by the statute at the date of the transaction SAWANTRAVA v GIPIAPPA FAKIPAPPA (1913)
I L R 38 Bom 18

Agriculturist at time of transaction—Sale or mortgage—Oral evidence prove which—Defendant conveyed his land to plaintiff by document in form of sale deed—some time before ss 2 and 20 of Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act 1879 was extended to District in which defendant lived The plaintiff having sued to recover possession of the land the defendant sought to prove by oral evidence that the transaction was a mortgage under a 10A of the Act Held that the defendant could not take the advantage of a 10A of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act 1879 since he could not prove that he was an agriculturist at the date of the transaction as at that time it could not be said that the Act was extended to the District merely because ss 2 and 20 had been extended
CHANDASATTA v CHENNAIGAVADA I L R 44 Bom 217

ss 3 cl (y) and 10A—Suit for possession under a sale deed—Contemporaneous lease—Nature of suit—Intention of parties The plaintiff relying on his sale deed of 1837 sued to recover possession of the land in suit alleging that the defendant held it as his tenant under a lease of even date with the sale deed The defendant pleaded that his father and not the plaintiff was the purchaser under the deed of 1837 that the plaintiff was the sarkar (ceditor) who advanced money and the payment of interest was secured by the contemporaneous lease Both the lower Courts went into the question of intention of the parties under a 10A of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act and found the defendant's case established on facts On appeal to the High Court Held that the case was rightly disposed of under a 10A of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act The nature of the suit under cl (y) of a 3 of the Act should not be determined by the frame of the plaint but by the allegations of the parties which raised the question of mortgage or no mortgage
GANTAN JAYAKIND v MALHARI (1916)
I L R 40 Bom 397

ss 3 (w) 12 and 13—Suit for redemption—Mortgage superseded by consent decree—Allegation of fraud—Form and reality of the suit The plaintiff's father executed a mortgage in 1894 In 1909 the mortgagee sued the mortgagor for the recovery of the mortgage debt and for sale of the property In 1909 there was a consent decree by which a new sum was taken as capitalized principal and provision was made for payment of money by instalments The security under this arrangement differed in

DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT (BOM XVII OF 1879)—contd

ss 3 (w), 12 and 13—contd

some particulars from the security of the earlier mortgage On the same day as this consent decree was obtained Survey No 50 which was included in the older mortgage but was excluded from the purview of the consent decree was sold by the mortgagor to the mortgagee In 1903 the mortgagee obtained possession of the property and since then remained in possession In 1911 the plaintiff brought a suit to redeem the mortgage of 1894 by setting aside the consent decree and the sale deed alleging that they were obtained by fraud coercion and misrepresentation Held that the suit though in form a redemption suit was in reality a suit to set aside a sale deed and a Courts decree and then to recover property of which the plaintiffs had been fraudulently deprived Such a suit is outside the provisions of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act 1879
Bachu v Bikkchand 13 Bom L R 56 applied S 3 cl (w) of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act 1879 contemplates either simpliciter or primarily and substantially a mortgage suit
VINAYAKRAO BALAKSHI v SHANKARAO VITALA (1916)
I L R 40 Bom 655

ss 3 (w) 10 and 53—Suit falling under a 3 (w)—Decision not appealable—Reason by District Judge The decision in a suit falling under a 3 (w) of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879) is not appealable according to the provisions of a 19 of the Act Under a 53 of the Act the District Judge alone and not the Subordinate Judge of the First Class is authorized in such a case to pass an order in revision
SITARAM MORAPPA v VINAYANATH SEER KARAN DORA (1914)
I L R 39 Bom 165

s 10A—

See s 2 I L R 38 Bom 18

I L R 41 Bom 217

See s 3 I L R 40 Bom 397

Written instrument—

Oral evidence to vary the terms—Enactment relating to procedure—Retrospective effect—pending proceedings—Suit—Appeal The law embodied in a 10A of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879) is one of procedure and being retrospective in effect applies to pending proceedings whether in a suit or an appeal
GOPAL GHUZA v RAJARAM ANTHA (1911)
I L R 38 Bom 305

Redemption suit—Sale in reality a mortgage—Frustrance of oral agreement vying the written document—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 90 pro I The plaintiff brought a redemption suit under the provisions of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879) alleging that the deed which he had executed to the defendant though on its face a deed of sale was in reality only a deed of mortgage the defendant having promised at the time of the execution of the deed that he would allow redemption on payment of the money advanced The defendant replied that the transaction was a sale The First Class Subordinate Judge of the Dharwar District to which a 10A of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879) was not extended found on the evidence that the deed passed by the plaintiff was not proved to be really a mortgage and dismissed the suit The plaintiff

DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT (BOM XVII OF 1879)—contd

— s 10A—contd

appealed urging that the proper issue in the case was as to whether the sale deed was not obtained or induced by the defendant by means of fraud or misrepresentation within the meaning of proviso 1 of s 1 of the Evidence Act (I of 185-) and prayed for a remand. Held confirming the decree that the plaintiff sought to make a new case in appeal in so far as he endeavoured to base his case not upon a separate oral agreement but upon some fraud which would invite the application of proviso 1 of s 9 of the Evidence Act (I of 1852). Held further that in the districts to which s 10A of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879) was not extended it was not open to the Court to enter upon a defence which consisted of an allegation of an oral agreement varying the written contract. Dogli v Na a I L R 35 Bom 93 and Na guri Malappa v Pamappa I L R 31 Bom 59 followed. Bal Rajen Das v H F Lodge I L R 2 M 119 referred to. SONANA BASAPPA v GADGOLEA KORNATA (1910) I L R 35 Bom 231

(IV of 185-) s 41—Sale deed in the nature of mortgage—Bona fide transferee for value without notice of mortgage—Transfer executed less than twelve years before the institution of suit—Whether transferee protected The second proviso to s 10A of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act does not protect a bona fide transferee for value without notice of the real nature of the transaction if he holds under a registered deed executed less than twelve years before the institution of the suit. Per MARLTON C J—The object of the Legislature in enacting s 10A of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act was to protect the mortgagor and not the transferee if the mortgagor was sufficiently diligent in seeking to redeem the property. Per HEATON J—Where s 10A of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act applies s 41 of the Transfer of Property Act ceases to have any application and is replaced by the 2nd proviso to s 10A (of the former Act). PRANJIVANDAS v MIA CRAND I L R 45 Bom 87

— s 12—Compromise by pleader—Court's duty to record the compromise and pass decree in its terms—Pleader's compromising without authority from his client—Client to apply to cancel the compromise There is nothing in the provisions of s 12 or in any other section of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act 1879 which expressly deprives the parties to a suit of the power of entering into a compromise and having that compromise recorded under s 375 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 which is the same as order XXIII rule 3 of the Code of 1908. A compromise means the settlement of a disputed claim. Where a party complains that a compromise effected in his name by his pleader was unauthorised he must move the Court to cancel all that has been done and to revive the suit. Basangouda v Chirchigirigouda I L R 34 Bom 408 followed. PRANJIVAN GANAPATI (1910) I L R 34 Bom 502

cf I L R 35 Bom 190

— ss 12 13—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 11 LXII IV O II n 2
I L R 39 Bom 138

DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT (BOM XVII OF 1879)—contd

— ss 12 13—contd

— Retrospective effect—Indebtedness existing at the date of the passing of the Act as well as future indebtedness The plaintiff sued to recover from the defendant a certain sum due on a money bond dated the 14th May 1904. The suit was cognizable by the Court in its Small Cause jurisdiction. The bond sued on was passed in adjustment of an existing debt which itself was the balance due on previous advances. Some of the provisions including ss 12 and 13 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879) were made applicable to the district on the 10th August 1903 and the present suit was filed on the 26th March 1909. As the several advances which led to the bond were prior in date to the application of the provisions of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879) to the district the following question arose—Whether s 13 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879) is retrospective so as to apply to the case of transactions entered into before the date of its extension to the district but the suit in respect of which is instituted after that date? Held in the affirmative that s 13 of the Act is retrospective. Ss 12 and 13 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879) show that it was the intention of the Legislature to open up all transactions between the parties having a bearing upon the claim out of which the suit arises from the very commencement. This is one of the means adopted by the Legislature to carry out the intention expressed in the preamble of relieving the agricultural classes from indebtedness existing at the date of the passing of the Act as well as future indebtedness. SIVLAL JETHA BHAI v BHUKA RAMJAN (1909)

I L R 34 Bom 220

— Several mortgages as part of the same transaction over the same property—Splitting up of security—Suit on one mortgage—Sale in execution of decree free from any incumbrance—Sale proceeds applied in paying off the mortgage in suit—Balance of sale proceeds—Second suit on remaining mortgages—Attachment of balance of sale proceeds—Second suit barred

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O II n 2

I L R 45 Bom 55

— s 13—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 2 97

I L R 39 Bom 422

See STATUTE CONSTRUCTION OF

I L R 35 Bom 307

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 185-) s 68

I L R 45 Bom 117

1—Mortgage by Vatan dar—Suit for account and redemption—Adverse possession by mortgagee—Hereditary Offices Act (Bom Act III of 1834) s 5—Mesne profits from the date of suit One Madhavrao grandfather of the plaintiff by a deed, dated the 10th July 1867 mortgaged with possession certain Vatan Inam lands to Babaji Anant an ancestor of the defendants. Madhavrao s 3 and in 1909

DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT (BOM XVII OF 1879)—contd

— s 15B—contd

to carry out the compromise. KISHAN DAS SHIV RAM MARWADI v NAMA RAMA VIR (1910)

I L R 35 Bom 180

5 ——— Civil Procedure
Code (Act V of 1908) O XVIII r 3—Agriculturist mortgagor—Suit for account of principal and interest—Decree in terms of compromise—Compromise made without compliance with the special provisions of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act—Compromise valid Held by the Full Bench that a compromise in a suit which came under the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act (XVII of 1879) was not bad in law because it was made without compliance with the special provision (s 15B) of that Act. *SHIVAYAGAPPA v GOVIN
DAPPA* (1913) I L R 37 Bom 814

6 ——— Payment by instalments—Default in payment—Order for sale of necessary portion of property under s 15B (2)—Application to make the decree final under Order XXXIV rule 5 (2) of the Civil Procedure Code not necessary. A decree holder for sale upon a mortgage in default of payment of instalments order under s 15B (1) of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act (XVII of 1879) need not apply under Order XXXIV rule 5 (2) of the Civil Procedure Code to make the decree final before he can apply for sale of the necessary portion of the property under s 15B (2) of the Act. *KASHINATH VINAYAK
v RAMA DATT* (1910) I L R 40 Bom 492

7 ——— s 15(d)—Suit by mortgagor for account—Application for redemption decree in appeal—Redemption decree passed by Court in appeal—Interpretation In a suit for an account brought by a mortgagor under the provisions of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act (XVII of 1879) the Court found that a sum of Rs 100 was due by the plaintiff to the defendant. The defendant appealed. The Appellate Court on the plaintiff's application that his suit should be treated as one for redemption passed a decree for redemption on payment of Rs 20 by the plaintiff to the defendant. The defendant preferred a second appeal contending that the whole of the decree in the suit in s 15B cl (3) of the Act meant decree in the original Court and not of the Court of Appeal. Held dismissing the second appeal that when the decree of the lower Court is reversed or varied in appeal the decree of the Appellate Court becomes the decree in the suit which is to be executed in execution proceedings. *NAVATJI SARDARVAL
v RAMA DHOOR* (1909) I L R 34 Bom 158

8 ——— s 20—Court—Instalments power to grant—Status of agriculturist not at the date of decree but in execution proceedings. The Court has no power to grant instalments under s 20 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act (XVII of 1879) in the case of a judgment debtor who was not an agriculturist when the decree was obtained but who becomes one at the time of the execution by limiting himself exclusively to profits in land. *RALCHAND CHATERCHAND v
CHUNILAL JAGJIVANDAS* (1913) I L R 37 Bom 486

9 ——— s 22—Decree—Execution—Agriculturist—Exemption from liability to attachment of

DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT (BOM XVII OF 1879)—contd

— s 22—contd

sale—Absence of proof of exemption—Jurisdiction of the Court to order sale—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 60 5 60 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) lays down the general rule that property liable to attachment and sale in execution of a decree is lands houses etc belonging to the judgment debtor. An agriculturist in order to resist the application of that general rule must prove that he belongs to the privileged class so as to render s 2 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act (XVII of 1879) applicable to his case. In the absence of such proof the exemption from liability to attachment or sale does not exist for the purpose of execution proceedings and the executing Court has therefore complete jurisdiction to make the order for sale. NARAYAN ANAND RAM v GOHWAT (1911)
I L R 37 Bom 415

10 ——— House of agriculturist—Exemption from sale—Exemption not confined to cases of contractual debts but extends to reversion proceedings—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 144 The defendants paid into Court a sum which they had to pay under a decree and at the same time preferred an appeal against the decree.
The sum paid into Court was taken away by the plaintiff. The appeal filed by the defendants was successful the decree was reversed and the suit ordered to be retried. The defendants thereupon applied under the provisions of s 144 of the Civil Procedure Code for restitution of money paid by them and prayed for an order to sell the plaintiff's house in case he failed to make the restitution. The plaintiff contended that he being an agriculturist his house could not be sold by virtue of the provisions of s 23 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act 1879.
The lower Courts negatived the contention on the ground that the provisions of s 22 applied only in cases of contractual debts and not to restitution proceedings. The plaintiff having appealed held that if the plaintiff was an agriculturist his house was immune from sale
under s 2 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act (XVII of 1879). The true construction of s 2 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act (XVII of 1879) is first a general provision that immovable property belonging to an agriculturist shall always be immune from sale and secondly a provision directing that this immunity is subject to exception where the two following conditions are both satisfied that is to say (1) where the decree or order in question relates to the repayment of a debt and (2) where the agriculturist's property has been specially mortgaged for the payment of that debt. The limiting words referring to a debt occur only in the proviso and cannot be imported into the main rule so as to restrict its express generality. *MAHADEO
KARVATH v RAMA TEKARAM* (1911)

I L R 40 Bom 194

11 ——— ss 39 42—(Contd) on—Time taken up in contest of a proceeding—Exemption from attachment. The plaintiff sued on a promissory note dated the 17th of June 1904. He first applied on the 3rd May 1904 for a copy of the certificate
under s 39 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief
Act 1879 and obtained it on the 31st August 1904. Then on the 10th September 1904 both

DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT (BOY XVII OF 1879)—cont'd

— ss 39 48—cont'd

he and the defendant made a joint application for conciliation. The conciliator held that the first certificate that he had granted had become null and void and gave a fresh certificate on the 3rd December 1908. The suit was brought on the 11th December 1908. It was contended that the suit was barred by limitation. Held that the suit was within time inasmuch as the whole proceeding from the 3rd of May 1904 to the 3rd of December 1908 was one and continuous and that period should be excluded under s 48 of the Act. DEVIPRASAD v VITHALDAS (1911) 1 L R 36 Bom 183

— ss 47 and 49—*Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1952) s 35—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 11 Art 11—Agriculturist mortgagor—Suit—Conciliator's certificate—Mortgagor needs every party along with other persons interested—Exclusion of time spent in obtaining Conciliator's certificate—Limitation—Defendants 1 and 2 brought a suit on a mortgage against defendant 3 and while the suit was pending, defendant 3 mortgaged the same property namely a house along with other properties to the plaintiffs. Defendants 1 and 2 having obtained a decree they applied for execution and sought to recover the decretal debt by sale of the house. Thereupon the plaintiffs intervened and applied that the house should be sold subject to their mortgage lien. The plaintiffs' application being disallowed they brought a suit against defendants 1, 2 and 3 to establish their right founded on their mortgage. The suit was brought within one year of the order rejecting their application after the exclusion of the time taken up in obtaining the Conciliator's certificate under ss 47 and 48 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879) defendant 3 being described in their mortgage as an agriculturist. Defendants 1 and 2 contended that defendant 3 being not a necessary party the Conciliator's certificate was unnecessary and the suit was time barred. Held that under the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1952) defendant 3 was a necessary party to the suit which was brought on the strength of the mortgage and he being an agriculturist the Conciliator's certificate was necessary and the suit was therefore not time barred. EKSATH PATDORA v DAGADURAM (1917) 1 L R 36 Bom 624

— s 48—

See LIMITATION 1 L R 38 Bom 656

— *The words period of limitation prescribed in the section construction of—Whether the words refer only to the period expressly provided in the Limitation Act—Decree—Execution—Conciliator's certificate—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 48—Limitation—A decree was obtained on October 28th 1899 and was followed by three darkhast which had been made within the time allowed. The fourth darkhast was presented on August 23rd 1913 that is more than twelve years after the decree. In July 1911 the judgment creditor applied for a conciliator's certificate the suit being governed by the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act 1879. The certificate was obtained on March 29th 1913. A question being raised whether under s 48 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act 1879*

DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT (BOY XVII OF 1879)—cont'd

— s 48—cont'd

the judgment creditor was entitled to exclude the interval of time occupied in obtaining the certificate in computing the period of limitation prescribed by s 48 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908. Held answering the question in the affirmative that the words "the period of limitation prescribed for any suit or application in s 48 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act 1879" were general and comprehensive and referred to the limitation prescribed in any law for the time being in force. They could therefore control or modify the period of time allowed not only in the statute of limitation but also that in s 48 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908. Dayaram v Laxman 13 Bom L R 254 distinguished SHIDAYA VIADHABAYA v SATAPPA BHARAPPA (1918) 1 L R 42 Bom 367

— s 71—*Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXI r 20 O XXI r 7—Decree in favour of minor—Compromise of the decree with minor's mother—Compromise neither certified to nor sanctioned by the Court—Payment made under compromise to be taken into account under the decree—A decree passed on a mortgage provided for payment of Rs 602 10 0 in annual instalments of Rs 60 each commencing from the 15th April 1916. The decretal holder having died his widow acting as natural guardian of her minor son, compromised the decretal debt for Rs 350 the payment of which was endorsed on the decree though not certified to the Court. Nor did the Court sanction the compromise. Later the widow and the Nazir of the Court were appointed guardians of the property of the minor. Early in 1907 they applied to recover the amount of the first instalment which had accrued due. Held that under s 71 the Executing Court notwithstanding O XXI r 2 was entitled to take into account the payment made to the widow though it was not certified. Held further that the judgment debtor was not entitled to take advantage of the compromise but could take into account the money actually paid. CHHOGANLAL KALIDAS v PARASHRAM KURNATHANKAR 1 L R 45 Bom 1128

— s 72—*Agriculturist—Status at the time when the cause of action arises—Sons of original debtor not in existence at the date of the cause of action are yet within the statute—Persons meaning of The defendants father passed a registered bond to the plaintiff in 1900 the cause of action under which accrued in 1901. In 1912 the plaintiff filed a suit to recover moneys due under the bond and tried to bring his claim in time by reference to the provisions of s 72 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879). The defendants contended that the section did not apply for at the time the cause of action arose in 1901 they were not only not agriculturists but were not in existence at all. The lower Court negatived the contention and decreed the suit. The defendants having appealed. Held that the suit fell within the scope of s 72 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act and that the plaintiff was entitled to the extended limitation. The word "person" in s 72 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879) is equivalent to the word "defendant" which occurs in s 3 cl (v) of the Act. PIRAPPAS v ANNAJI APPAJI (1910) 1 L R 40 Bom. 189

DELAY

- See BAIL I L R 37 Cal 412
 See D W O F C E I L R 47 Cal 1068
 See LIMITATION ACT (V of 1877) ss
 5 AND 7 I L R 34 Bom 583
 See LIMITATION ACT (V of 1908) ss
 5 AND 14 I L R 42 Bom 295
 See PETITION I L R 41 Bom 37
 See PROBATE I L R 42 Cal 480
 See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
 I L R 47 Cal 741
 See STAY OF EXECUTION
 I L R 48 Cal 798

caused by closing of Court—

- See GENERAL CLAUSES ACT (V of 1894)
 s 10 I L R 35 Bom 35

effect of—

- See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I of 1877)
 ss 15 AND 17 I L R 37 Mad 403

excuse of—

- See INSURANCE I L R 38 Bom 653

in filing appeal—

- See LIMITATION ACT (V of 1908) s 5
 I L R 41 Bom 15

- See AMENDED LETTERS PATENT cl 15
 I L R 42 Bom 260

In investigation of claim

- See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act VIII of 1809) s 10 I L R 34 Bom 676

DELEGATION OF AUTHORITIES POWERS OR FUNCTIONS

- See LOCAL GOVERNMENT POWERS OF
 I L R 37 Cal 487

- See PROBATE 14 C W N 1098

by Chairman—

- See DEMOLITION OF BUILDING
 I L R 37 Cal 585

by Collector—

- See REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT
 BOMBAY (V of 1876) s 4 (c) 5 AND 6
 I L R 37 Bom 542

by Trustee—

- See TRUSTEE OF A TRUST
 I L R 44 Mad 646

District Magistrates powers of—

- See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 17
 I L R 36 All 468

nazir's power of—

- See ATTACHMENT I L R 40 Cal 849

DELHI

Pabar Ganj—Whether Custom of Pre emption prevails—

- See CUSTOM (PRE EMPTION)
 I L R 2 Lah 83

DELHI LAW ACT (XIII OF 1912)

- See FORFEITURE I L R 42 Cal 730

DELIVERY

- See CARRIERS I L R 39 Cal 311
 See SALE OF GOODS
 I L R 40 Cal 523

taking of—

- DISHONESTLY RECEIVING STOLEN PRO PERTY I L R 40 Cal 990

DELIVERY OF INSTRUMENT

- See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 s 17
 25 C W N 935

DELIVERY OF POSSESSION

- See RIOTING I L R 41 Cal 43

resistance to—

- See POSSESSION I L R 47 Cal 907

DELIVERY ORDER

- See CARRIERS I L R 41 Cal 703

- See VENDOR AND SUBVENDOR
 I L R 38 Cal 127

DEMANDS

- See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE EMPTION
 I L R 37 All 522

DEMISE

absence of actual—

- See REGISTRATION OF DOCUMENTS
 I L R 46 I A 240

DEMOLITION OF BUILDING

- See ACQUISITION I L R 37 Cal 833

Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng Act III of 1899) s 18 102 (I) (c)
 391 449—Sanction by District Building Surveyor of additions to contemplated building—Delegation of power by Chairman—Legality of sanction—Sanction of General Committee—Proceeding under s 449—Application thereunder to Magistrate signed for the Chairman by the Secretary to the Corporation and the General Committee—Irrregularity An addition to a contemplated building sanctioned by a District Building Surveyor to whom the power of sanction has been delegated by the Chairman under s 18 of the Calcutta Municipal Act 1899 is a duly authorized action and the sanction of the General Committee under s 391 is not necessary S 391 applies only to alterations and additions to existing buildings.
 Where the General Committee approved of the suggestion of the Building Sub Committee that certain additions to a building were unauthorized and that an application should be made to the Magistrate under s 449 of the Act and directed the Chairman to make; whereupon an application was made purporting to come from the Chairman but signed by the Secretary to the Corporation who was also Secretary to the General Committee—Held that the irregularity if any was cured by a 102 (I) (c) of the Act HISOPI LAL JAIN : THE CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA
 (1910) I L R 37 Cal 585

DEMONSTRATIVE LEGACY

- See WILL I L R 43 Cal 201

DEMURPAGE.See RAILWAY COMPANY

I L R 42 All 655

DENATURED SPIRITSee EXCISE

I L R 41 Calc 694

DENIAL OF JUSTICE.See DIPUTE CONCERNING LAND

I L R 38 Calc 24

DE NOVO TRIAL.See REMAND

I L R 44 Calc 929

DEPENDENT RELATIVE REVOCATION

— doctrine of—

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 39 Mad 107

DEPORTATIONSee LABEL

I L R 37 Calc 760

DEPOSITSee BENGAL TENANCY ACT s 103 A

15 C W N 760

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1865) s 39

s 64 s 73 74 AND 75

I L R 36 Mad 178

See PATRIAL SALE I L P 47 Calc 337— by co tenant under s 310A Civil Procedure Code 1882—See CONTRIBUTION I L R 38 Calc 1

— by judgment debtor—

See PATRIAL DISTRIBUTION

I L R 40 Calc 619

— forfeiture of—

See CONTRACT I L R 33 All 166

I L R 38 Mad 801

I L R 41 All 324

24 C W N 40

See CONTRACT ACT 1872 s 39

I L R 33 Mad 375

— in Court—

See MORTGAGE I L R 37 Calc 282

— of earnest money forfeiture of—

See CONTRACT BREACH OF

I L R 38 Mad 801

— of money—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) s 17

I L R 37 Mad 175

— order to make—

See LIENS ACT (I of 1910) s 3

I L R 37 Bom 555

— right to on insolvency—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1909) O XXXVIII R. 5

I L R 39 Mad 903

— Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 43 70—Deposit by co tenant not made party in co sharer landlord's suit for share of rent to set aside sale—Civil Procedure Code (I of XIV of 1882) s 3104—Sale set aside—Liability of other co tenants to contribute A co sharer land

DEPOSIT—contd

lord brought a suit for his share of the rent against all except one of several co tenants and sold the holding in execution of the decree obtained therein a purchaser of the interest of the remaining co tenant applied under s 310A Civil Procedure Code and the sale was set aside on his making the required deposit *Held Per JENKINS
C J* that on the findings of fact of the lower Appellate Court that the plaintiff did not intend to make the deposit gratuitously and that the defendants enjoyed the benefits thereof and the deposit having moreover been made lawfully in that it was done with the approval of the Court a "0 of the Contract Act applied That the plaintiff was entitled to sue the defendants in contribution but only in respect of their share of the decretal debt and not in respect of the penalty of 5 per cent on the purchase money payable under s 310A Civil Procedure Code Per Do s J—That the plaintiff was entitled to recover the defendants share of the decretal debt not under s 10 as being a co tenant he was himself liable to the landlord for the whole debt but under s 43 his obligation to pay remaining notwithstanding that the decree was passed against the other co tenants only That the sale not having been confirmed and the sale proceeds withdrawn when the deposit was made the decree remained undischarged and was only satisfied when the money deposited by plaintiff was withdrawn *MOHENDRA GHOSHAL v BHUBAN
MARDANA* (1910) 14 C W N 945

1 — Husband depositing money in wife's name in his shop—Interest allowed over the amount—Deposit allowed to withdraw—Husband acknowledging trust—Creation of trust — Trusts Act (II of 1882) s 5 and 6—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) s 5 and 54 D made a credit entry of Rs 20,000 in his books in the name of his wife H carrying interest at 4½ per cent The entry was made on the 1st November 1891 as of the 30th November 1890 The amount of Rs 20,000 was treated as belonging to H in the savings (balance sheet) in the samadastak book (a count book of deposits etc) and in the vayya sahis (interest account book) In November 1895 H on the occasion of her going on pilgrim age withdrew some money from the account
H died on the 2nd March 1901 On the 29th
July 1901 D wrote a letter to his four daughters by H saying that the money above referred to was given by him to H as a gift that the four daughters had equal right to take the money but that it was to be divided after his death
In February 1903 D debited the whole amount in H's account and credited the same to the sons of M one of the daughters of D and H
This he confirmed by his will which he made shortly afterwards wherein he stated that the money was always his own and never belonged to his wife H After D's death which took place in March of the same year the three remaining daughters of D and H sued to recover their share of the money —Held that the plaintiffs were entitled to recover their share in the amount Held by CHANDAVARKAR J that the circumstances proved how that D intended a trust in favour of his wife H and that that trust was carried into effect legally by him Held by HEATON J was no trust but that in the circumstance D conferred on H a right to the
he did not actually

DEPOSIT—cont'd,

give her money and this right be by his own acts and words made perfect by those means which were appropriate to the purpose BAI MANAKORE v BAI MANOLA (1911)

I L R 35 Bom 403

2 ———— Stakeholder—Valid assignment by depositor to his creditor—Neglect of the creditor to recover—Creditor chargeable with the amount Where money deposited with a stakeholder was validly assigned by the depositor to his creditor in satisfaction of his debt and the creditor being able to recover the amount, was charged with neglect to do so he was chargeable with the amount GANPATRAO PALERISHVA BHILIS v HARAPAJA MADHATRAO SINDE (1910) I L R 35 Bom 1

3 ———— Contract for purchase of land—Every payment by a purchaser to the vendor is not in the nature of a deposit liable to be forfeited if the purchaser violates his contract It is in incumbent on the Court in such cases to ascertain the real intention of the parties from all the terms of the Contract NAWAH RAJAJA HABIBULLAH v ARNEN DEWAN

24 C W N 40

DEPOSIT IN COURT

See MORTGAGE I L R 37 Calc 282

See SALE I L R 48 Calc 811

time for—

See EX PARTE DECREE

I L R 39 Mad 583

Putni rent—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 51 61 67 (2) 125 (e)—Putni Regulation (VIII of 1819) s 61 of the Bengal Tenancy Act is applicable to a putnidar as it does not in any way affect the Regulation VIII of 1819 relating to putni tenures and it is open to him to deposit the putni rent in Court BATA KRISHNA RAO v JANAKI DAS PANDU (1914) I L R 41 Calc 1000

Judgment debtor—Transferee of the judgment debtor—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 174—Sale setting aside of An application under s 174 of the Bengal Tenancy Act can be made by the judgment debtor alone and by no other person Ranjit Kumar Ghosh v Jogendra Nath Ray 16 C L J 416 referred to SURENDRA NARAYAN SINGH v LACHMI MOH (1915) I L R 43 Calc 100

Money paid under compulsion of Law—Want of bond fides—Action for recovery of money—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXI r 46 cl (1)—Attachment of debt due to a stranger on the allegation that the garnishee's creditor was benamidar of the judgment debtor—Deposit by garnishee conditional on enquiry—Withdrawal of the money from Court by the attaching creditor without notice to the garnishee—Court's power of enquiry Where debt due to a stranger was attached on the allegation that he was benamidar of the judgment debtor and the attaching creditor withdrew the money by leave of the Court without notice to the garnishee in a suit by the latter for the recovery of the money deposited it being found that there was no benami transaction as alleged Haji that the rule that money paid under compulsion of a legal process was irrecoverable can only be pleaded where the party who has got the benefit of his opponent's payments acts bona fide Marriot v Hampton 7 T P 269 distinguished Hard and Co v Wallis (1900) 1 Q P 675 followed CI (3) r 46 of O XXI of the Civil Procedure Code does not contemplate of cases where the deposit was purely conditional on enquiry being held as to judgment debtor's rights and a withdrawal by the attaching creditor of the money so conditionally deposited without notice to the garnishee even though made with the leave of the Court is a grave abuse of judicial process It is true that O XVI does not expressly contemplate of an enquiry as is enjoined by O V, rule 45 of the Rules of the Supreme Court in England but the Court has inherent power to enquire HARIPATRA CHOWDHURY v HARADAS ACHARYA CHOWDHURY (1915) I L R 43 Calc 289

DEPOSIT IN COURT—cont'd

DEPOSIT OF TITLE-DEEDS

See TITLE I L R 37 Calc 239

DEPOSITION

See INSOLVENT I L R 46 Calc 996

See PERJURY—WITNESS I L R 42 Calc 240

corroboration of—

See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) ss 21 157 I L R 34 Bom 599

reading over of—

See CHARGE I L R 42 Calc 957

taken in absence of accused—

See HABEAS CORPUS I L R 39 Calc 164

under compulsion—

See FALSE EVIDENCE I L R 37 Calc 878

Criminal Procedure Code s 360—Deposition of witnesses to be read out to them in presence of accused The disregard at trials in the refusal of the provision of s 360 of the Criminal Procedure Code which requires that deposition of a witness should be read over to him in the presence of the accused or his pleader condemned JYOTISH CHANDRA MOH HERJEE v EMPEROR (1909) I L R 35 Calc 955 14 C W N 82

Witness reading over his deposition in Court—Admissibility of same on subsequent trial for perjury—Misdirection—Material evidence recorded in anticipation of the examination of a witness not ultimately called—Direction to Jury to exclude such evidence—Power of High Court to substitute its own finding for verdict of Jury—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXI r 5—Evidence Act (I of 1872) ss 80 167—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 473 The perusal of his deposition by a witness is a substantial compliance with r 5 O XVIII of the Civil Procedure Code and such deposition when duly signed by the Judge is admissible under s 80 of the Evidence Act without proof on a subsequent trial of the deponent for giving false evidence Elahi Baksh Kazi v Emperor I L R 45 Calc 875 referred to Empress v Mayadab Gossami I L R 6 C 762 Mahendra Nath Misser v Emperor 12 C W N 8

DEPOSITION—contd

845 Pallal Chandra Lal v Emperor 1 L R 58 Cal 508 Juchal Chandra Mukerjee v Emperor 1 L R 56 Cal 933 and Emperor v Joge dra Nath Chandra 1 L R 4 Cal 940 distinguished Karale nallan Chetty v Emperor 1 L R 58 Mad 305 Potra v Emperor 1 L R 34 Mad 141 and Meenaga v Loring (1918) Mad H V 2 referred to. The essential requirement of s 80 is that the witness should be duly sworn and examined and that his deposition should be signed by the Judge. A certificate at the end of the deposition that it was read over to or by the witness is not required by O XVIII and its omission does not affect the admissibility of the deposition under s 80 of the Evidence Act on the presumption arising thereunder. Where certain material evidence was admitted at the trial in anticipation of the examination of a witness who was not however called and the Judge directed the jury to put it out of their minds—Held that such evidence might have had considerable influence on their minds and that its admission was a misdirection notwithstanding the Judge's direction to exclude it from consideration Per v Vorlon (1910) 2 A B 500 referred to. It is always dangerous to give in advance evidence the admissibility of which depends on what other witnesses may say when and if examined and the Court should be very cautious in allowing such evidence to be given especially in jury trials. Under s 16 of the Evidence Act if in the opinion of the Appellate Court there is sufficient legal evidence to justify the decision the improper admission of other evidence is not in itself a ground for interference. But in jury trials the Appellate Court ought not to substitute its own verdict on the legal evidence for that of the jury. Hafadar Khan v Queen Empress 1 L R 21 Cal 245 Sadhu Shaukh v Empress 4 C W 576 followed. In such cases the Court should not confirm the conviction on the legal evidence as sufficient unless satisfied that the verdict would have been the same if no evidence had been wrongly admitted and this principle applies as well to cases of improper admission of evidence as to cases of misdirection. Conviction and sentence set aside but no retrial ordered in the circumstances. Ramesh Chandra Das v Emperor (1919) 1 L R 46 Cal 893

Admissibility of deposition when not taken in accordance with law on a subsequent trial for abetment of forgery and of use—Deposition signed by Judge and witness—No cross examination on the point at the trial—Presumption of compliance with the law—Civil Procedure Code (Art 1 of 1908)—O XIII rr 5 6—Evidence Act (1 of 1872) ss 80 91. The provisions of O XVIII rr 5 and 6 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act 1 of 1908) are directory and non-compliance therewith does not render the deposition inadmissible on a subsequent trial of the deponent either for giving false evidence or for abetment of forgery and of dishonest use of a bond proved by him in the course of a civil suit. Empress v Mayadeth Gossami 1 L R 6 Cal 767 Kamatich vailan Chetty v Emperor 1 L R 58 Mad 308 and Emperor v Jagendra Nath Ghose 1 L R 4 Cal 940 commented on. Potra v Emperor 1 L R 34 Mad 141 approved. If a deposition has not been read over to the witness in the presence of the presiding Judge it does not prove itself under s 80 of the Evidence Act but it may still be proved in some other way e.g. by the Judge who recorded it or by the admission of the deponent. S 91 of the Evidence Act even if it covers deposition merely excludes oral evidence of its content but does not make the document inadmissible in evidence nor does it deal with the question of its mode of proof otherwise. Where the deposition bore the signatures of the presiding Judge and of the deponent in his own vernacular and the Judge and a pleader for the defendant on whose behalf the appellant had deposed were examined at the Sessions trial but not cross examined by the latter to show that the deposition had not been read over to him in the presence of the presiding officer and there was nothing to the contrary on record of the Sessions trial. Held that the inference was that the deposition had been so read over to the deponent. Per BEACHCROFT J. A Court is not precluded from ascertaining from the document itself what is in it merely because the contents may not in fact be correct. Failure to ensure the accuracy of the record may create doubt as to the correctness of its contents but does not affect its admissibility when it is otherwise proved. ELAHI BAKSH HAZI v EMPEROR (1918) 1 L R 45 Cal 825

DEPOSITION—contd

DEPUTY COLLECTOR

See COLLECTOR

— procedure by under the Rent Recovery Act—

See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT

1 L R 38 Cal 832

DEPUTY COMMISSIONER

See PATNI LEASE

1 L R 42 Cal 1029

— order of—

See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF

1 L R 40 Cal 518

DEPUTY MAGISTRATE

See PUNITIVE POLICE

1 L R 40 Cal 452

— in charge of the district—

See MAGISTRATE JURISDICTION OF

1 L R 39 Cal 1041

DERAILMENT OF TRAIN

See NEGLIGENCE 1 L R 48 Cal 757

DESAI IN BELGAUM DISTRICT

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) SCH

I ART 15 1 L R 43 Bom. 376

DESAIGIRI ALLOWANCE.

— Surat District. In the District of Surat Desaigiri allowance is alienable. Bai Jada v Narisid (1900) 1 L R 25 Bom 40 referred to. ABU HALIMAI v DULLA BUBHAI 1 L R. 45 Bom. 918

DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY

See SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE
1 L R 41 Calc 590

DESERTION

See DIVORCE 1 L R 44 Calc 1091
1 L R 47 Calc 1068

DESHGAT INAM

See FORFEITURE 1 L R 38 Bom 530

DESHGAT VATAN

See GRANT 1 L R 39 Bom 68
See GRANT OF LAND
1 L R 43 Bom 37

DESHMUKHI VATAN

See HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT (Bom Act III of 1874) ss 11 11A
1 L R 37 Bom 37

DESHPANDE KULKARNI VATAN

See PENSIONS ACT (XIII of 1871) s 4
1 L R 37 Bom 81

DESHPANDEGIRI CASH ALLOWANCE

See LIMITATION ACT (I of 1908) s 7
1 L R 42 Bom 277

DESIGN

— First watch band—
Registration—Application by outside party to expunge—Cancellation of registration by Controller—Jurisdiction of Controller—New and original design —Shape and configuration—Ornamentation and utility—Analogous designs—Different purposes and disimilar uses—Motion to the High Court by registered proprietor—Other specific and adequate legal remedy available—Specific Relief Act (II of 1877)
s 43—Patents and Designs Act (II of 1911) s 62
64 67 G registered a design for a wrist watch band which he called the 'Novelty' band. Subsequently Messrs B & Co copied the design and on threat of legal proceedings by G applied to the Controller of Patents and Designs under s 62 of the Patents and Designs Act for an order to remove the design from the register. Thus the Controller did after having issued notice on G and having heard both parties G then in an application entitled In the matter of s 45 of the Specific Relief Act and in the matter of the Indian Patents and Designs Act 1911 moved the High Court for an order that the Controller had no jurisdiction to remove the registration of the design and that he should be required to restore the design to the register on the ground that the design was new and original.
The Court dealt with the matter under s 64 of the Indian Patents and Designs Act and discharged the Rule. Messrs B & Co contending that the design in question had been anticipated by a bracelet produced by Messrs C & K. On appeal by the petitioner Held that the Controller had no jurisdiction to cancel the registration and under the Act the proper and ordinary way of expunging the registration of a design was to apply to this Court under s 64 of the Patents and Designs Act. Held also that s 62 of the Patents and Designs Act was limited to applications by the registered proprietor or by some person in whom his interest was vested and the action of the Controller was not justified

DESIGN—contd

by that section. Held also that the Court had no power to revise the Controller's decision under s 64. Held also that this application which was made under s 45 of the Specific Relief Act was not barred by s 64 of the Patents and Designs Act. Held also that the application of the shape of the 'Novelty' band to a watch to be worn on the wrist was for a purpose so different from and for a use so dissimilar to the purpose of the bracelet that the design in question might be said to be original. Per SANDERSON C J.
The shape and configuration of the metal band taken by itself cannot be said to be new or original.
Per WOODROFFE J. A wrist band used to carry an ornament such as that produced by Messrs Cooke and Kelvey and a wrist band to carry a watch do not appear to me to be so analogous as to deprive the applicant of his claim to novelty.
Further the band is original and differs from the other band produced by its circular shape according to which it passes at the back of the watch and as a consequence of that produces a flattening GANUETER v THE CONTROLLER OF PATENTS AND DESIGNS (1917)
1 L R 45 Calc 606

DESTINATION

See TRADING WITH THE ENEMY
1 L R 42 Calc 1094

DESTRUCTION OF IMAGE

See IMAGE 1 L R 41 Calc 87

DETECTIVE

See ACCOMPLICE 1 L R 38 Calc 98

— privilege of—

— See CHARGE 1 L R 42 Calc 957

DETENTION IN CUSTODY

See POLICE OFFICER
1 L R 40 Calc 591

DEVOLUTION OF INTEREST

See LIMITATION 1 L R 43 I A 113

DEUR RAJAH OF

See NABAB 1 L R 36 Bom 639

DEVASTANAM COMMITTEE MEMBER

See HINDU LAW—DEBT
1 L R 37 Mad 458

DEVOLUTION SCHEME OF

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE
1 L R 39 Calc 803

— difference of opinion—

See REVISION 1 L R 47 Calc 439

DHOLI TENDRE

See CUSTOMS (PROSECUTIONS)
1 L P 2 Lab 313

DIGWARS

— appointment of—

See DIGWARI TENDRE
1 L R 43 Calc 743

DIGWARS—could position of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

1 L. R. 39 Calc. 696

DIGWARI TENURE.See LANDLORD AND TENANT

1 L. R. 39 Calc. 696

Digwar in district Bankura—appointments made by Government—Whether any relief thereto could be given by the Civil Courts—Declaratory decree effect of Where the Magistrate of Bankura sanctioned the plaintiff's appointment as Digwar in succession to his deceased father the last holder but the Commissioner cancelled it on a misreading of the law as to his title and on appeal to the Government the plaintiff was directed to go to the Civil Court for relief. Held that the Digwars of Chat Bharra in Bankura were the holders of an office remunerated by the enjoyment of land and the history of the office established a general usage on the death of a Digwar holding office to appoint his heir in his place as the successor to his office. That here the usage of the heir taking his predecessor's place could be traced back to the seventeenth century and so long a usage could not be disregarded as an exponent of the Digwar right. On the contrary the force of law could safely be ascribed to it subject to the qualification that the heir's claim and tenure of office was dependent on the approval of the Government. That the Civil Court could do no more than express its conclusion that the plaintiff was the heir of one of the last incumbents and his claim to succeed was subject to the approval of the Government and that the ground on which the Commissioner cancelled the Magistrate's sanction was erroneous in law. Jogendra Nath Singh v. Kalicharan Poy 9 C. W. N. 663 distinguished. That in view of all the circumstances of the case a declaratory decree could be made defining the plaintiff's position though it may be that it was not really necessary for having regard to the Government's reply referring the plaintiff to the Civil Court it would probably be prepared to give or withhold its approval in accordance with the view expressed by the Civil Court seeing that it invited recourse thereto. That in doing this it was necessary for the High Court out of a wreckage of procedure to construct the material for a just decision as the plaintiff was not happily drafted. Cockerell v. Dickens 2 Moo. I. 1 353 Durga Prasad Sureka v. Bhagan Lal 1 L. R. 31 Calc. 614 1 L. R. 31 I. 4 127 Gopi Narain Khanna v. Banndhar 1 L. R. 27 All. 375 L. R. 3. I. 1 193 referred to. Hemendra Nath Roy v. Upendra Narayan Poy and Secretary of State for India (1914) 1 L. R. 43 Calc. 743

DILUTION OF SPIRITSee EXCISE 1 L. R. 41 Calc. 694DILUVIONSee LANDLORD AND TENANT

1 L. R. 41 Calc. 683

See LIMITATION 1 L. R. 44 Calc. 858

Reformation in situ—Land settled with raiyat submergence of followed by non payment of rent—Abandonment—Accretion

DILUVION—could

The Plaintiff sued to recover possession of newly formed khur lands as accretion to his raiyatjote. The defence was that the land was reformation in situ of land held by the Defendant in a Government khass Mahal and which had been submerged in the river. It appeared that the lands diluviated in the same year that the Defendant obtained a lease of the land and remained under water for thirty years during which period no rent for it was paid by the Plaintiff and since re appearance the land was in the possession of the Defendant without any objection on the part of Government. Held—That the land being reformation in situ could not be claimed by the Plaintiff as accretion to his estate. The only person entitled to object to the Defendant's possession was the Government the owner of the khass Mahal. The land could not be held to be accretion to the Plaintiff's estate merely because the Defendant's rights under the lease might have been extinguished. AMINADDI alias AMIRADDI v. TARINI CHARAN MONDAL

24 C. W. N. 211

Abatement of rent on ground of—Rent suit for—Abatement on ground of diluvion—Shifting of onus of proof on landlord to prove amount recoverable on proof by tenant of fact of diluvion—Finding as to length of unit of measurement if can be assailed in second appeal Where there is no express agreement to the contrary as soon as the fact of diluvion is established by the tenant in a suit for rent he is entitled to abatement and the burden is shifted to the landlord to prove the reduced amount of rent justly recoverable by him which can be done only by proof of the extent of the diluvion. The finding of the lower Court on evidence as to the length of the unit of measurement cannot be assailed in second appeal. KRISHA DAS LAL v. ABDUL KARIM

25 C. W. N. 325

DIRECTIONSee THIRD PARTY

1 L. R. 34 Bom. 423

to administrator (High Court can give)—

See SUCCESSION ACT (OF 1865) ss 264 AND 239

1 L. R. 44 Bom. 652

DIRECTORSee COMPANIES ACT (IV OF 1884) ss 137 AND 141 1 L. R. 40 Mad. 706See COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913) 38 1 L. R. 41 Bom. 76

— liability of—

See COMPANY

1 L. R. 45 Calc. 458 490

— of a Bank—

See PRESIDENCY BANKS ACT

ss 37 3 1 L. R. 39 Mad. 101

— of a Company—

See COMPANY 1 L. R. 42 Bom. 264

— personal interest of—

See COMPANY 1 L. R. 33 Mad. 991

— powers of—

See 1 L. R. 36 All. 412

DIVORCE—contd

Husband's petition—Foreign domicile—Divorce Act (I) of 1869—Territorial jurisdiction The husband who was an Italian subject with an Italian domicile instituted proceedings for divorce on the ground of his wife's adultery. The marriage had been solemnized in India and the parties were residing in British India. Held that under the provisions of the Indian Divorce Act the Court was bound to grant a divorce on proof of adultery although the divorce would have no effect outside India. LeMesurier v LeMesurier [1895] 4 C 617 and Shaw v Gould L R 3 E and 1 App 55 referred to. GIORDANO v GIORDANO (1912)

I L R 40 Cal 215

Husband's petition—Security for wife's costs—Practice In a husband's petition for dissolution of marriage where both parties are subject to a 4 of the Indian Succession Act (N. of 1863) and the wife has no means of her own the Court has a discretion to order the petitioner to furnish security for the respondent's costs. Proby v Proby I L R 6 Cal 357 Young v Young I L R 23 Cal 916 Thomas v Thomas I L R 23 Cal 913 Thomson v Thomson I L R 14 Cal 580 Watling v Watling (1910) April 22 (unreported) Johns v Johns 6 C W 414 and Mayhew v Mayhew I L R 19 Bom 293 considered. BATEMAN v BATEMAN AND NICCHI (1914)

I L R 41 Cal 903

Evidence Act (I) of 1872 ss 60 112 118 and 120—Non access competency of parties to testify—Legitimacy of child—Expert opinion on legitimacy relevancy of When in a suit for divorce the petitioner (husband) did not make any person a co respondent but simply averred that his wife was generally leading an immoral life a judge would be wrong in adding a person as co respondent sue motu without calling on the petitioner to amend the petition by making the necessary allegations against him. In the absence of the adoption of such a course the proper order to make is to strike out the co respondent's name from the proceedings. Whatever might be the English common law on the subject under ss 118 and 120 of the Indian Evidence Act both the parties to proceedings for divorce are competent to give evidence as to non access and illegitimacy of the child. Held on the evidence in the case that a child born 11 months after the cessation of marital intercourse was illegitimate and that the petitioner was entitled to a divorce. Rosario v Ingles I L R 13 Bom 468 referred to. Under a 60 of the Evidence Act a Court can consider and act upon the opinions of experts contained in treatises as regards the question whether a particular child could or could not have been begotten just before the period of non access. JOHN HOWE v CHARLOTTE HOWE (1913) I L R 38 Mad. 466

Co respondent absence of—Leave of Judge for dispensing with co respondent when to be obtained—Jurisdiction of Court in case of want of such leave—Matrimonial Causes Act of 1857 (29 and 31 Vict c 35) s 28—Divorce Court Rules (Engl h) 4 5 and 6—Indian Divorce Act (I) of 1869 s 7 11 Where the husband was petitioner for divorce but could not name

DIVORCE—contd

the alleged co respondents (the Master having issued citation) and at the hearing applied for leave to dispense with the co respondents. Held that the direction for such leave must be by application to the Judge on motion founded on affidavit before the hearing of the petition. Held further that the Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the petition where such leave had not been obtained. Cox v Cox (1910)

I L R 15 Cal 525

*Petition for divorce by wife—Husband and wife not living together but separately from each other at the date of the petition—High Court's jurisdiction to hear the petition—Indian Divorce Act (I) of 1869 s 3 (1)—Practice of Bombay High Court—Under the Indian Divorce Act the High Court has jurisdiction to hear a petition if both parties are resident within its jurisdiction at time of presentation notwithstanding that they were living separately. Durand v Durand 1870 14 W R 416 referred to. Xavier v Xavier 1892 P J 153 not followed. BORGANA v BORGANA (1920)*

I L R 44 Bom 924

Petition by wife—Husband and wife not having permanent residence—Last resided together in Bombay—Jurisdiction—Indian Divorce Act (I) of 1869 s 3 (1)—Practice In a petition for divorce by wife the Court found (1) that the husband and wife had no permanent residence they having lived at several places since their marriage (2) that they last lived together at an Hotel in Bombay for a greater portion of a month the husband being then on leave from war service in Mesopotamia and (3) that both the parties were within the jurisdiction when the petition was filed and served on the respondent. Held that there was a sufficient reason within the meaning of the Indian Divorce Act 1869 to give the Court jurisdiction to entertain the petition. Bright v Bright (1909) 36 Cal 964 followed. Flowers v Flowers (1910) 33 All 63 and Wadia v Wadia (1914) 38 Bom 195 distinguished. MURRAY v MURRAY (1920)

I L R 45 Bom 547

Husband and wife—Petition by husband—Adultery—Condonation—Collusion—Conduct conducing to adultery—Desertion—Divorce Act (I) of 1869 ss 12 13 14 Condonation is a conclusion of fact not of law and means the complete forgiveness and blotting out of a conjugal offence followed by cohabitation the whole being done with full knowledge of all the circumstances of the particular offence forgiven. The forgiveness which is to take away the husband's right to a divorce must not fall short of reconciliation and this must be shown by a re-statement of the wife in her former position which renders proof of conjugal cohabitation with restitution of conjugal rights necessary. Collusion is held to exist where the initiation of the proceeding for dissolution of marriage is procured and its conduct (especially if abstention from defence be a term) provided for by agreement or bargain between the spouses or their agents although it does not appear that any specific fact has been falsely dealt with or withheld. The mere fact that the husband refused marital intercourse to the wife by itself is not such wilful neglect or misconduct as conduces to the adultery nor can the fact that the parties went their own way in the sense that they had their own friends and interests be said to lo conduct conducing to adultery even when coupled with the abstinence by the husband from marital intercourse. The fact that the husband had at teined from marital intercourse without rea on alle cau e and that the parties went their own way in the sen e that they had their own friends and interests would not justify a finding of desertion on the part of the petitioner. STE CROIX v STE CROIX (1917) I L R 44 Calc 1681

DIVORCE—contd

Suit against wife
—Wife found guilty of adultery—Decree nisi on Ireland's petition—Appeal—Wife's costs applicable for—Liability of husband—Practice and procedure Where the wife has been herself found guilty of adultery by the Court of first instance and then actively brings the matter before the Court on appeal the husband cannot be justly called upon by her as a matter of right to provide for her costs. Robertson v Robertson 6 P D 119 Ottway v Ottway 13 P D 141 Holt v Holt 28 L J (P and M) 1^o referred to Per MOOREHEAD J It is plain however that the doctrine in question is an encroachment upon the ordinary rule that costs follow the event and speaking for myself I am of opinion that every attempt to extend its operation should be cautiously scrutinised. STE CROIX v STE CROIX (1916) I L R 44 Calc 35

Adultery—Condonation—Delay—Indian Divorce Act (IV of 1869) ss 12 13 and 14 Condonation of past matrimonial offences is impliedly conditioned upon the future good behaviour of the offending spouse so that if after condonation the offences are repeated the right to make the condoned offences a ground for divorce revives. To constitute a revival of condoned offences the offending spouse need not be guilty of offences of the same character as those condoned. Peacock v Peacock 1 Sw and Tr 183 Keats v Keats 1 Sw and Tr 304 Ellis v Ellis 4 Sw and Tr 154 Ste Croix v Ste Croix I L R 44 Calc 1091 Windham v Windham 32 L J P 21 and A 89 9 Jurist A S 82 Thompson v Thompson I L R 9 Calc 95 Price v Price (1911) P 201 Moss v Moss (1916) P 105 Roberts v Roberts 117 L T 157 Blandford v Blandford 8 P D 19 referred to Although poverty is almost always a sufficient excuse for delay it is not to be supposed that there is no lapse of time where a line may be drawn. Mortimer v Mortimer 2 Hag Con 310 Coope v Coope 1 Curt 755 Short v Short L R 3 P and D 193 Harrison v Harrison 3 Sw and Tr 362 Nichol v Nicholson L R 3 P and D 53 Mason v Mason 7 P and D 23, 8 P and D 21 Edwards v Edwards 17 T L R 38 Pears v Pears 107 L T 50, Hughes v Hughes 32 T L R 62 Coppinger v Coppinger 34 T L R 558 and Mittler v Mittler 12 C W N 1009 referred to MORENO v MORENO (1920) I L R 47 Calc 1068

Nullity of marriage—
Impotency—Syphilis—Fraud—Indian Divorce Act (IV of 1869) ss 18 19 On a husband's petition for a declaration of nullity of marriage on the grounds (i) impotency of the respondent at the time of the marriage due to syphilis and (ii) the petitioner's consent to the marriage being obtained by fraud Held that permanent and incurable impotency existing at such time and of such nature as to render complete and natural sexual intercourse between the parties practically impossible was a good ground for annulment of marriage. Impotency has been taken to mean physical and incurable incapacity from entering into the marriage that is incapacity to consummate the marriage. Allen v Baler 41 Am Rep 444 A B v C B 8 F 603 4 Scot J P 441 Ryder v Ryder 44 Am St Rep 833 referred to BIRENPA KUMAR BISWAS v HEMLATA BHOWA (1920) I L R 48 Calc 283

DIVORCE—contd

Fe marriage validity of—Indian Divorce Act (IV of 1869) ss 7 57—Alimony A successful petitioner in a suit for dissolution of marriage entered into a second marriage within six months from the decree for dissolution of marriage becoming absolute. Held that the second marriage was null and void. Worer v Worer L R 16 P D 15^o referred to Held also that the reputed wife was not entitled to any permanent alimony. TURNER v TURNER (1921) I L R 48 Calc 636 25 C W N 710

DIVORCE ACT (IV OF 1869)

See DIVORCE I L R 40 Calc 215

ss 2 4 7 45—High Courts Act 24 and 25 Viet c 104 s 9—Amended Letters Patent of the Bombay High Court cl 35—Restitution of conjugal rights—Jurisdiction of the Bombay High Court to entertain a suit for the restitution of conjugal rights as against (a) a non Christian respondent and (b) a respondent not residing within the Presidency—Principles and Rules of English Court for Divorce and Matrimonial Causes acted on in India—Refusal of Court to grant relief by restitution of conjugal rights when the respondent is absent from the jurisdiction when the suit is in title and remains absent—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908 s 20 (corresponding to Act XII of 1882 s 17) applicability of to matrimonial suits—Residence whole amounts to in order to give the Bombay High Court jurisdiction to pronounce a decree for the restitution of conjugal rights—Costs of unsuccessful petition by wife rights of the petitioner's solicitors over monies deposited in Court by the respondent as security for the petitioner's costs and over monies deposited by a respondent appellant as security for the costs of the appeal The respondent a Parsi married the petitioner a Christian in London. Subsequently the parties lived together for some time in London and then came out to Bombay where they also lived together for some time. Afterwards the parties returned to England but apparently owing to differences which had arisen between them immediately on their arrival in London at Victoria Railway Station the respondent deserted the petitioner and never thereafter lived together again. The respondent having made up his mind about that time that he could not live with the petitioner. The respondent remained in England but the petitioner returned to Bombay with the intention of taking legal proceedings against the respondent there and did sue the respondent in the Bombay High Court claiming restitution of her conjugal rights. Held that under s 9 of the High Court's Act and cl 35 of the Amended Letters Patent of the Bombay High Court the jurisdiction exercised by the High Court in matrimonial matters previous to the coming into force of the Indian Divorce

DIVORCE ACT (IV OF 1869)—*contd*ss 24, 745—contd

Act had been confined to matters between British subjects professing the Christian religion Held further that as regards the jurisdiction conferred to the Bombay High Court by s 4 of the Indian Divorce Act (which included jurisdiction to entertain suits for the restitution of conjugal rights) the powers of the Bombay High Court were still limited to Christian subjects within the Presidency so that the High Court had no jurisdiction to grant a decree of restitution either against a Parsi respondent or against any respondent not within the Presidency Held further that following the principles on which the Courts for Divorce and Matrimonial Causes in England have acted and given relief which principles are made applicable in India under s 7 of the Indian Divorce Act the Bombay High Court could not give relief by way of restitution of conjugal rights if the respondent named in the petition were absent from the jurisdiction at the time the suit was instituted and remained absent although residence at the date of the suit of both spouses whatever their domicile might be would be sufficient to give jurisdiction in suits of this nature Firebrace v Firebrace & P D 63 Chichester v Chichester 10 P D 186 and Armytage v Armytage [1893] P 178 followed Semble In the case of matrimonial offences including those other than adultery the application of the Civil Procedure Code s 20 (corresponding to s 17 of Act XIV of 1882) under s 45 of the Indian Divorce Act involves the necessity of either residence on the part of the defendant or the accrual of the cause of action within the jurisdiction in order to enable the Court to entertain the suit Thornton v Thornton I L R 10 Bom 422 referred to Semble Also that mere residence in India at the time of the institution of a suit is not residence within the meaning of s 2 of the Indian Divorce Act and that the residence of the petitioner should be bona fide and not casual or as a traveller Held however that moneys deposited by a husband respondent as security for his wife's costs of a petition constituted a fund paid in for the benefit of her attorney who was entitled to have it applied for his benefit whatever the result of the petition provided that he had been in no way to blame and that that rule applied to moneys deposited by a respondent appealing from the decision of the lower Court as security for the costs of the appeal in accordance with the rules of the Bombay High Court NUSSEAWANJEE WADIA & ELEONORA WADIA (1913)

I L R 38 Bom 123

s 3—

Se DIVORCE I L R 45 Bom 517

Resid ncs—Divorce—Jurisdiction—

Peside Held that a mere temporary sojourn in a place there being no intention of remaining there will not amount to residence in that place within the meaning of s 3 of the Indian Divorce Act 1869 so as to give jurisdiction under the Act to the court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction such place is situated FLOWERS & FLOWERS (1910)

I L R 32 All 203

Political Resident at Aden—District Judge—Jurisdiction to try suits under Indian Divorce Act—Aden Courts Act (II of 1884) s 3 The Political Resident at Aden not having been appointed a Commissioner of a Division

DIVORCE ACT (IV OF 1869)—*contd*s 3—contd

not a District Judge as defined in s 3 sub s (2) of the Indian Divorce Act 1869 and has no jurisdiction to try suits under the Act MOURA & MOURA (1912) I L R 37 Bom 57

ss 3 16 37 and 44—Dissolution of marriage—Alimony—Jurisdiction—Nature of High Court's jurisdiction—Civil Procedure Code (1st V of 1908) s 24 (1) (a)—Transfer of proceedings In a suit for dissolution of marriage under the Divorce Act (IV of 1869) a decree was passed in favour of the petitioner by the Divisional Judge Nagpur Division The said decree was confirmed by the High Court on the 20th November 1914 The unsuccessful petitioner thereupon having applied to the High Court praying that the opponent may be ordered to pay her proper sums by way of alimony Held that the Court which was empowered to make the order either for alimony or for the maintenance and education of the children was the Court of the Divisional Judge and not the High Court Held further that having regard to the nature of the personal jurisdiction which the High Court possessed over European British subjects under s 3 of the Divorce Act 1869 the Court of the Divisional Judge was not a Subordinate Court in the sense in which that expression was used in s 24 (1) (e) of the Civil Procedure Code so as to enable the High Court to transfer the proceedings of which notice had been served upon the respondent to the Divisional Court for disposal WALLACE & WALLACE (1915) I L R 40 Bom 109

s 3 7—Practice—Alimony—Discretion of Court Held that the power to make an order for alimony in favour of the wife after a decree for divorce obtained by the husband on the ground of adultery is discretionary In a case where there was no suggestion that the husband's conduct had led to the wife's misconduct and the wife was in fact under the roof of the co respondent the Court refused to exercise its discretion Kelly & Kelly 5 B L R 71 referred to McGOWAN & McGOWAN (1916)

I L R 38 All 688

ss 4 6 7 8 and 15—

See BOMBAY CIVIL COURTS ACT (XIV of 1869) s 16 I L R 39 Bom 138

ss 7 45—

See DIVORCE I L R 37 Calc 613

ss 7 11—

Se DIVORCE I L R 45 Calc 525

ss 12 13 14—

Se DIVORCE I L R 44 Calc 1091
I L R 49 Calc 1068

s 14—Husband and Wife—Dissolution of marriage—Misconduct of husband petitioner—Grave and unexplained delay in filing petition—Discretion of the District Judge—High Court's power to interfere with the discretion The petitioner who was the husband prayed for a dissolution of the marriage on the ground of his wife's adultery The District Judge exercising the discretion conferred to him under s 14 of the Indian Divorce Act 1869 refused to grant a decree nisi in view of the following circumstances (i) that there was grave and unexplained

DIVORCE ACT (IV OF 1869)—*contd*s 14—contd

delay before any complaint was made by the husband as regards his wife's abandonment of him (ii) that both husband and wife had combined to withhold facts from the Court (iii) that husband had been guilty not of an isolated act but of a persistent course of adultery. Held that it was impossible for the High Court as a Court of Appeal to say that the District Judge's discretion was wrongly or improperly exercised adversely to the petitioner. LALIER v PALMER (1916) I L R 41 Bom 36

s 16 17—Decree of dissolution of marriage—Petition of by High Court—Withdrawing of petition on coming up for confirmation—English Procedure A decree of dissolution of marriage passed by a District Court under a 14 of the Indian Divorce Act may be rescinded by the High Court at the request of the decree holder when it comes up for confirmation under s 17. The High Court has jurisdiction to rescind the decree of the District Court and allow the petition to be withdrawn. There is nothing in the Divorce Act which requires a distinction to be drawn between ss 16 and 17 with reference to the power of the Court to rescind a decree where the relations of husband and wife have been resumed before the decree has been confirmed. The power to make such order as to the Court seems fit is not limited to cases where further enquiry has been ordered. The analogy of English procedure whereby on a petitioner withdrawing his petition the Court may set aside the decree nisi may be invoked in construing the Indian Divorce Act. WILLIAM DARE v BELLE DARE (1910) I L R 34 Mad 339

s 17 43 57—

See KIDNAPPING I L R 41 Cal 714

s 18 19 20 and 57—

See DIVORCE I L R 48 Cal 233

s 18—Consummation of marriage when practically impossible—Syphilis in one of the parties if it amounts to impotency—Syphilis as a ground for refusing performance of a promise to marry or a ground for nullity or divorce—Fraudulent concealment—Incurability of the disease—Physical examination—Inference when such examination is not allowed Where syphilis was contracted prior to but was not known to exist at the time that the contract to marry was entered into or where such disease was contracted subsequent to the making of the contract to marry but through no wrongful act of the Defendant its existence furnished a good defence to an action for breach of promise. Atkinson v Baler 2 Peake 103 (1796) Allen v Baker 41 Am Rep 411 86 V C 91 (1882) Hall v Wright E B & E 746 113 R R 861 (1888) Boast v Furth L R 4 O P 1 (1868) and Robinson v Dawson L R 6 Exch 267 (1871) referred to. Capacity for sexual intercourse must exist at least in posse at the time that the marriage is entered into. It is for this reason that permanent and incurable impotency existing at such time and of such nature as to render complete and natural sexual intercourse between the parties practically impossible is recognised as a ground for the annulment of the marriage. A B v C D § F 603 43

DIVORCE ACT (IV OF 1869)—*contd*s 19—contd

Scot L R 411 (1906) and A B v O B 12 Rellie 36 22 Scot L R 461 (1885) referred to. Impotency means physical and incurable incapacity to consummate the marriage. The capacity for sexual intercourse is not necessarily affected by the existence of syphilis and yet such disease may render coition practically impossible. Ryder v Ryder 44 Am St Rep 833 66 Vermont 158 (1894) and Smith v Smith 171 Mass 401 68 M St Rep 440 41 L R A 800 (1898). The existence of syphilis in one of the parties to the marriage may furnish good ground for divorce to the other on the ground of cruelty. To constitute such a ground of cruelty it is usually required that the disease should have been actually communicated to the complainant that the complainant should have been ignorant of the existence or nature of the Defendant's disease at the time of its communication and that the Defendant should have infected the petitioner knowingly and wilfully. Popkin v Popkin 1 Haggy Eccl 733 (note) (1794) Collect v Collect 1 Curt 678 (1837) Jones v Jones [1860] Searle and Smith 138 Brown v Brown L R 1 P and D 46 (1866) Strain v Strain 13 Pettie 132 (1830) 23 Scot L R 90 (1885) and R v Clarence 22 Q B D 23 (1888) referred to. Concealment of a loathsome and incurable form of syphilis is recognised as a fraud sufficient to warrant divorce or annulment especially where the existence of the disease is discovered by the other party before the marriage is consummated and the parties immediately separate. Such disease must be actually and probably incurable but annulment has been granted notwithstanding a mere remote possibility of a cure. Smith v Smith 171 Mass 401 68 M St Rep 440 41 L R A 800 (1898) Fondal v Fondal 175 Mass 353 78 Am St Rep 502 (1900) State v Lovell 79 Am St Rep 353 01 P 313 (1899) Lyon v Lyon 230 Ill 366 13 L R 1 (N 9) 096 12 4m St Rep 25 (23) (1907) and Bunger v Bunger 85 Kan 554 26 Am St Rep 16 (134) (1911). The Courts have a wide discretion in ordering physical examination of the party suffering from the disease and always do so subject to such conditions as will afford protection from violence to natural decency and sensibility. Briggs v Morgan 3 Phill 34 2 Hag Con 34 (18 0) and Harrison v Harrison 4 Moo P C 96. Where a party refuses to attend for medical inspection the Court may probably draw an unfavourable inference. F v F 75 L T 192 (1896) E v B [1901] P 39 and W v S [1903] P 231. BIRENDRA KUMAR BISWAS v HENLATA BISWAS

21 C W N 914

25 C W N 708

s 20—

See DIVORCE

25 C W N 710

s 23—Discretion of Court—Petitioner's adultery a ground for refusing a decree for judicial separation Where the petitioner (the wife) in a suit for divorce or in the alternative for a judicial separation was found to have herself committed adultery to which the conduct of the respondent had in no way conduced it was held that this was a good ground for the refusal of a decree for judicial separation. Othay v Othay 1 P D 141 followed. Cons

DIVORCE ACT (IV OF 1869)—contd

s 23—contd

tantinidi v Constantinidi [1906] P D 248 distinguished RAME v RAME (1911)
 I L R 33 All 500

s 37—Decree for divorce—Permanent maintenance—award of a lump sum—Joymant in a suit for divorce brought by the wife the District Judge has under s 37 of the Indian Divorce Act (IV of 1869) power to make the order for payment of a lump sum for the permanent maintenance of the wife per HALWARD J—The plain meaning of the words of s 37 of the Indian Divorce Act (IV of 1869) is that the gross sum of the money should be paid absolutely to the wife and that the annual sum of money should be limited for the period of her life TAYLOR (Miss) v CHARLES BLEACH (1914)

I L R 39 Bom 182

Decree absolute dissolving marriage—Petition for alimony 10 years after decree—Power of Court to grant after such delay—Delay whether reasonable how determined—On any decree absolute is s 37 meaning of A wife whose marriage was dissolved by a decree absolute passed in 1900 petitioned to the Court in 1920 for grant of permanent alimony. Held that the Court had no power to pass an order in her favour under s 37 of the Indian Divorce Act after such unreasonable delay after the passing of the decree absolute. The words on any decree in s 37 of the Act should be construed as meaning at the same time as or after a reasonable time after the passing of the decree. What is reasonable time must be determined upon all the circumstances of each case Scott v Scott (1921) P 187 followed LOVIN v LYDD (1921)

I L R 44 Mad 939

Held that the power to make an order for alimony after decree obtained by husband for adultery is discretionary W E McGOWAN v JOHN GEORGE McGOWAN

I L R 38 All 638

s 57—Marriage—Remarriage petitioner in divorce proceedings within six months of the decree becoming absolute Where the successful petitioner in a suit for dissolution of marriage entered into a second marriage within six months of the decree for dissolution of marriage becoming absolute it was held that the second marriage was void Warter v Warter L R 15 P D 15, 59 L J P & M 37 followed JACKSON v JACKSON (1911)

I L R 34 All 203

Marriage solemnized before the expiry of six months as required by validity of s 57 of the Divorce Act (IV of 1869) expressly prohibits remarriage within six months of the making of the decree absolute the Indian Law does not completely dissolve the tie of marriage until the lapse of a specified time after a decree of dissolution and the marriage is still in force within the meaning of s 19 (f) so as to give the Court jurisdiction under s 15 to pronounce a decree of nullity regarding such prohibited marriage JACKSON v JACKSON I L P 34 All 203 followed Chichester v Mure 39 L J 146 and Warter v Warter L R 15 P D 152 referred to BARTIE v BROWN (1913)

I L R 38 Mad 452

DIVORCE COURT RULES (ENGLISH)

rr, 4 5 6—

See DIVORCE I L R 45 Calc 525

DOCTRINE OF PROTECTION

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING

I L R 42 Calc 745

DOCTRINE OF SATISFACTION

Inapplicability s 7 in India of doctrine of satisfaction—Indian Succession Act (X of 1865) s 164—General applicability in India of the principles of the Indian Succession Act in so far as they are not overridden by some special provision of local law or usage—Khojas—Law applicable to Khoja wills—The Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 92 The plaintiff claimed to be entitled to a sum of money deposited by him with one Karmali Moledina deceased a Khoja Mahomedan and also to a legacy under the will of Karmali Moledina He therefore sued the executors of the will of Karmali Moledina for a declaration to that effect and for the admission if necessary of the estate of Karmali Moledina The defendants maintained inter alia that the legacy must be taken as intended as payment of the balance due on the deposit by the plaintiff from Karmali Moledina and that the plaintiff could not claim both the legacy and the debt Held that inasmuch as the principles of interpretation announced in the Indian Succession Act were intended by the Legislature to be universally applicable unless overruled by some special provision of local law or usage the doctrine of satisfaction which is abolished by s 164 of the Indian Succession Act must be considered as exploded in India Held further that if it be considered that the wills of Khojas are governed by Hindu Law the will of Karmali Moledina would be governed by s 164 of the Indian Succession Act but if such wills are governed by Mahomedan Law the will would have to be interpreted in accordance with the provisions of the general law of evidence and in particular would be governed by the provisions of s 92 of the Indian Evidence Act and that in either case the defence set up under the doctrine of satisfaction would be defeated Quere Whether the wills of Khojas are governed by Hindu or Mahomedan Law HAS O'ALLI MOLEDINA v POFATALL PAFEBUDAS (1912)

I L R 37 Bom 211

DOCUMENT

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT

See DISCOVERY

See DOCUMENTS CONSTRUCTION OF

See EVIDENCE ACT

s 92 I L R 35 Bom 231

I L R 42 Bom 512

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 39 Bom 441

See REGISTRATION OF DOCUMENTS

L R 46 I A 240

See SANAD CONSTRUCTION OF

I L R 36 Bom 639

See SEARCH BY POLICE OFFICERS

I L R 41 Calc 261

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1852) s 54

I L R 41 Bom 550

DOCUMENT—contd

admissibility of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) Sec

II CL 11 I L R 38 Bom 60

See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) ss 68

I L R 40 All 526

attested by one witness only—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of

1899) ss I L R 38 All 461

alteration of—

See FORGERY I L R 38 Calc 75

bearing forged signature—

See PENAL CODE (Act XLV of 1860)

s 30 467 I L R 38 All 430

construction of—

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT

execution of—

See ATTENTION

I L R 37 Calc 526

exhibiting during cross examination—

See PICTURE OF PEPY

I L R 43 Calc 426

granting exemption from assessment of rent—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT ss

30 123 I L R 34 Bom 287

of title—

See VENDOR AND SUB VENDOR

I L R 38 Calc 127

production of in Court—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 44 Calc 1002

proof of—

See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) ss 68

69 I L R 39 All 109 112

secondary evidence of—

See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) ss 6,

68 90 I L R 41 All 592

where not called upon by opponent if matter for comment It is open to a litigant to refrain from producing any documents not forming part of his case that he considers irrelevant if the other litigant is dissatisfied it is for him to apply for an affidavit of documents and he can obtain inspection and production of all that appears to him in such affidavit to be relevant and proper. If he fails to do so neither he nor the Court at his suggestion is entitled to draw any inference as to the contents of any such documents. BIJAS KUNWAR v DEBRAJ RANJIT SINGH (1915)

I L R 37 All 557

19 C W N 1207

Release document

written but not signed by executant if operates as Name written at the commencement of document is sufficient. The place and manner of signature of a document is immaterial provided that the signature is inserted in such a manner as to authenticate the document and where the instrument is in the handwriting of the party to be charged it is sufficient if his name is inserted at the commencement. Where this was the case Held that the document was operative as a release though not signed by the executant. GANGARAM AGARWALA v LICHIRAM KISHEN DYAL (1914)

DOCUMENT—concl

19 C W N 611

Disclosure of duty of an attorney with regard to—Discovery—If affidavit of documents—Duty of the attorney to disclose—Non disclosure when amounts to a breach of duty—Documents subsequently discovered when to be disclosed It is the duty of an attorney to be extremely careful in ascertaining from his client who has to make an affidavit of document exactly what materials and documents are in his possession. It is further his duty the moment he finds that there are other documents which have not been disclosed at the very earliest moment to bring the documents to the notice of his opponent and give him an opportunity of inspecting them. Held that though in this case the attorney was wrong in not disclosing the documents subsequently when they came to his knowledge his conduct was not such as to justify any further investigation by a special Bench. IN THE MATTER OF AN ATTORNEY

25 C W N 89

DOCUMENTS CONSTRUCTION OF

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENTS

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 40 Bom 686

mortgage by conditional sale—

See SALE DEED I L R 41 Bom 964

DOCUMENTS INSPECTION OF

Caste—Trustee of caste funds—Extent of right to inspect documents—Demand and refusal—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts in caste question—Application of Indian Trusts Act (II of 1932) ss 5 and 6 to creation of trusts of caste funds—Civil Procedure Code (I of 1908) s 151 As a result of discussions in a Hindu caste a suit was filed by the plaintiff a trustee of certain caste funds and member of the Managing Committee against the defendant a co trustee and the President of that Committee. The plaintiff prayed for a declaration that he had the right to inspect all books and documents of the Mahajan Managing Committee Sub Committee and Trustees and for an injunction restraining the defendant from interfering with him in the exercise of such right. The only two documents about which there was any real controversy were the minutes of the Sub Committee and the correspondence file of the Mahajan. Held that as trustees of the Deraser and Badharan funds the plaintiff had no right either in law or by virtue of any caste rules to the roving inspection claimed. Dani of Bombay v Suleman I L R 32 Bom 466 471 referred to. Held further that the Mahajan fund of this caste being a purely secular fund the Indian Trusts Act applied and the plaintiff could not claim to have been made a trustee of that fund merely by virtue of a caste resolution and his own letter of acceptance. Held further on the evidence that there has been no express proper refusal by the plaintiff to the refusal by the defendant to enable a suit of this Held further that

DOCUMENTS INSPECTION OF—contd

where rights to property are not involved all matters of internal management must be left to the decision of the caste. The question in dispute was in reality a question between the caste and a section apparently a small section of the caste led by the plaintiff, and as such it was outside the Court's jurisdiction in accordance with the decision in Vemchand v Sarai chand I L R 5 Bom 81 note. Lalji Shomji v Walji Wardhman I L R 19 Bom 507 referred to and distinguished. Held lastly that when according to well established principles certain questions have been removed from the jurisdiction of the Court they cannot be brought within the jurisdiction under s 151 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). JETHABHAI NARSAY v CHAPSEY COOVERJI (1909)

I L R 34 Bom 467

DOCUMENTARY EVIDENCE

See EVIDENCE

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R 45 Cal 378

proof of—Documents admitted in evidence without objection if can be objected to in the appellate stage—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 100 finding of fact when can be challenged in second appeal—Res judicata necessity of specifically raising the plea In a suit for Akhas possession the Defendants pleaded that they held under a lease. The Court of Appeal below found that the lease required to be proved that there was no document evidencing settlement nor in fact any evidence of settlement at all and that though there were two rent receipts they were not properly proved. In the Court of first instance the said rent receipts were admitted in evidence without objection by the Plaintiffs. Further as a matter of fact there was evidence both oral and documentary about the settlement. Held that the rent receipts having been admitted in evidence without objection in the Court of first instance no objection could be taken in the Appellate Court that they were not properly proved. Held further that when there was evidence of the settlement in question the finding of fact arrived at by the lower Appellate Court on the point could be successfully challenged in second appeal. The question of res judicata though not specifically raised by the parties, may be gone into by the Court. PAJESWARI DAS v PULIN BEHARI MITTER

25 C W N 381

DOMICILE

See DIVORCE I L R 40 Cal 215

See GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT 1890
89 I L R 34 Bom 121

See MEMOS I L R 43 Bom 647

See PRIZE COURT I L R 44 Bom 61

See SUCCESSION ACT (V OF 1865) ss 7
9 10 I L R 41 Bom 687DONEE.

Donee alienation by—Gift burdened with an obligation—Restrictions on alienation When it is doubtful whether a deed embodies a complete dedication of property to a religious trust or merely creates a gift of that property subject to an obligation to perform certain services the question should be decided by reference to the deed itself. In the former case the property would be inalienable and in the latter alienable subject to the obligation and notwithstanding restrictions as to selling or mortgaging the said property. DASSA PANCHANDRA v NARSINGHA (1910)

DONEE—contd

I L R 35 Bom 156

DONORS FAMILY

benefit to—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKE

I L R 44 I A 21

DOWER

See COURT FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)

SCH I ART I I L R 36 All 32

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 4

I L R 44 Mad 317

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT

I L R 42 Cal 36

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R 32 All 477

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE EMPTION

I L R 37 All 522

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WIDOW

I L R 32 All 551 563

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889) ss 2 & AND 7

I L R 32 All 335

I L R 33 All 327

s 4 I L R 43 All 341 498

payment of (discretion of Court)—

See MUHAMMADAN LAW

I L R 1 Lab 597

possession in lieu of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW

I L R 36 All 558

relinquishment of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW

24 C W N 335

Marriage of a Sunni with a pregnant woman—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW

I L R 45 Bom 151

DOWL BANDOBUST

See NAVIGABLE RIVER

I L R 46 Cal 390

DOWL KABULIAT

See KHOD KAST JOTES

I L R 48 Cal 359

The mere fact that a document is called a dowl kabuliati does not decide its nature The document should be looked at as a whole and any evidence designed to shew customary incidents of tenure as attaching to the jotes must be rejected if and so far as it conflicts with what is contained in the dows themselves. Evidence of custom of transferability is thus excluded by an express statement in the dowl that is no

E

To be retained until Month Year

landlord a consent
PROCTOR & KUMAR
25 C W N 13

Document
I L R 41 Bom 5

liability to—Cal.
I L R 38 Mad. 6
Calcutta Municipal Act
1909 and 511—Place
recharge of drainage—
going to the landlord public drain by the landlord A place law charge of drainage by the Corporation within the meaning of a 199 of Calcutta Municipal Act must be a place over which the Corporation have acquired by some procedure under the Act a right to make use of private property as a public drain A tenant of premises is not bound under a 299 to convey the drainage therefrom into a drain belonging to his landlord over which the Corporation have no such right GOVIND CHANDRA ADDY & CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA (1910) I L R 38 Calc 268

DRAWER

right of—

See BILLS OF EXCHANGE I
I L R 46 Calc 524

DRINK.

unwholesome exposing for sale—

See MADRAS CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (II OF 1904) BY LAW 109
I L R 38 Mad. 362

DRUGS

See EXCISABLE ARTICLES I
I L R 39 Calc 1053

DRUNKENNESS

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
s 80 I L R 38 Mad 479

DUNNAGE

See CHARTER PARTY
I L R 41 Bom 119

DUPLICITY

See CHARGE I L R 41 Calc. 66

DVYAMUSHYAYANA ADOPTION

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
I L R 41 Bom 315
I L R 42 Bom 277

DWELLING

See JURISDICTION I L R 34 Mad. 257

DWIRAGAMAN CEREMONY

gift at—

See HINDU LAW—GIFT
I L R 37 Calc 1

EARNEST MONEY

credited on recovery of damages—

See CONTRACT BREACH OF
I L R 38 Mad 801

forfeiture of—

See AGREEMENT TO SELL
24 C W N 967
See CONTRACT I L R 33 All 166
I L R 41 All 324

receipt of—

See CONTRACT I L R 43 Calc 771

A deposit unless paid on any special terms is prima facie by way of earnest money but in each case the intention of the parties must be gathered from all the terms of the contract NAWAB KHAN HABIBULLAH &
ASMAN DEWAN 24 C W N 40

EASEMENT

See BENGAL RIVER ACT 1889 s 11
5 Pat L J 500

See EASEMENTS ACT

See INCORPORATE RIGHTS

See LIMITATION ACT (I of 1908) s 20
800 I ART 144
I L R 40 All 461

See LIGHT AND AIR

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS
L R 46 I A 302

See PROFIT a prendre
2 Pat L J 323

See WATER FLOW
I L R 38 Mad 149

adverse Possession—

See BENGAL FIRMS ACT 1885
5 Pat L J 500

dedication of Road—

See PUNJAB MUNICIPAL ACT 1911
I L R I Lah. 117

infringement of—

See EASEMENT I L R 38 Mad 280

of necessity—

See EASEMENTS ACT (V OF 1882) s 13
I L R 33 All. 467

over Land forfeited to Government—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT 1885
I L R 43 Mad. 529

Suit relating to—Easement—Servant owners of all must be parties A decree based on an easement cannot be passed when all the servient owners are not parties MADAN MOHAN CHATTOPADHYA & AKSHAY KUMAR BARTY (1909)
14 C W N 15

Continuous easement—Easement Act
(V of 1882) ss 33 47—Drain a continuous easement—Here non user does not extinguish continuous easement under s 33 or 47 of the Act A drain from one land to another is a continuous easement within the Easement Act Where such a right of easement by drainage has been granted but was not possessed or enjoyed for more than twenty years on the date of grant but no

EASEMENT—contd

obstruction to such use existed more than three years prior to the institution of the suit such non user without anything more does not extinguish the right under s 33 or s 47 of the Easement Act. The non user without anything more is not an implied release or abandonment of the right. The period of twenty years of non enjoyment which will extinguish the right under s 47 begins when the enjoyment was obstructed by the servient owner or rendered impossible by the dominant owner. CHINTAKINDY LABYATAMA v LANKA SANYASI (1910) 11 L R 34 Mad 487

Prescription—Continuous user for irrigation purposes of water of bundh—Annual user if to be proved—Water taken from bundh at different points in different years—User if in definite—Permissive user Where it was proved that the defendant had been taking water from plaintiff's bundh for irrigating his paddy lands whenever occasion required for more than twenty years—Held that the defendant had acquired the right to the easement by prescription. That it was not necessary for him to prove an annual user the statute only requiring enjoyment with out interruption for twenty years and not actual user. Hellings v Verney L R 13 Q B D 304 not followed. Budhu Mandal v Mahat Mandal I L R 30 Cal. 1077 and Krista Das Chowdhry v Joy Narayan Panyo 8 Q W N 133 relied on. The mode of user of the water by the defendant was not indefinite merely because openings were made by him at different points in the embankment in different years according to the height of the water in the bundh. The fact that the defendant had years ago paid Rs 50 for repair of the bundh did not prove the user to be permissive. GHASIRAM MANDAL v ASHUBH MANTO (1910) 15 C W N 259

Natural channel—Flow of water—Duty of owner of land through which a natural channel runs The owner of land through which a river or other natural channel flows is bound within certain limits as between himself and other riparian owners not to do anything which shall obstruct the flow of the water or materially interfere with their rights. But such owner is not bound to keep the channel clear so that the amount of water that can pass down it may not be diminished. BALDEO SINGH v JAGAT KISHORE (1911) 2 I L R 23 All 619

Flow of water—Over servient tenement in a definite channel if necessary for acquiring right of easement The fact that water flows over the surface of the servient tenement without a definite channel for its carriage cannot prevent the acquisition of an easement. Budhu Bhushan Palit v Dny Madhab Mazumdar & Co W N 244 overruled. MOTSHI MISSIR v BHIM RAJ PAM (1913) I L R 40 Cal. 459

Overhanging eaves—for discharge of water—Easement and not trespass The possession of a porch or eaves for discharge of water overhanging the defendant's land is an easement and not an occupation of defendant's property. CHOTALAL HIRACHAND v MANILAL GADALBHAT (1913) I L R 27 Bom. 491

Discharge of water—Stopped by owner of dominant tenement—Servient owner if may complain—Defined channel on dominant tenement effect of An easement exists for the benefit of the dominant tenement alone and the servient owner acquires no right to insist on its continuance or to ask for damages on its abandonment. The principle does not cease to be applicable where water has flowed in a defined channel on the dominant tenement before it reaches the servient tenement. ARTAN CHOWDHURY v ASOKHABEN (1913) 17 C W N 1066

EASEMENT—contd

Ancient Lights—Actionable Interference—Principle to be applied—Nuisance The owner or occupier of a tenement in respect of which an easement of light has been acquired by prescription is entitled to a quantity of light the measure of which is what is required for the ordinary purposes of habitation or business of the tenement according to the ordinary notions of mankind. The actual user will neither increase nor diminish the right. The question in an action for obstruction is whether the obstruction amounts to a nuisance. The effect of Jolly v Kine [1907] 4 C 1 is to establish that the law laid down in Colls v Home and Colonial Stores [1904] A C 179 is as formulated by Lord Davey in that case at p 204 and as above stated. PAUL v ROSSOV (1914) I L R 42 Cal. 46
L R 41 I A 180

Light and Air—Damages for infringement A mandatory injunction will be granted to remove an obstruction of an easement of light and air where the consequence is to drive the Plaintiff's house so as to make it uncomfortable and partly useless. In such a case damages are not an adequate remedy. MUNSHI KASHUN AYYAN v SOHLITRA MUKHATANDREY
I L R 36 Mad 11

Water rights—Distinction between surface water and water flowing in a definite channel No claim can be made either as a natural right or as an easement by prescription to water which does not flow in a definite course but which should be regarded as surface water or surface drainage. The right to the water of a stream does not cease when it ceases to flow in a confined water course unless it exhausts itself as a stream and merely soaks into the ground. The chief characteristic of surface water is its inability to maintain its identity and existence as a water body. When the flow of water on one person's land can be identified with that on another a right to such flow can arise although the water may flow along an intervening piece of land. Water flowing into a field from a known channel and passing along the field onwards into another field though not over a confined track in the former field but along its whole area is not surface water. Well defined existence arising from an ascertained course is the real test in coming to a conclusion against any body of water being regarded as surface water. The question whether or not particular water is surface water is one of fact to be determined by the circumstances attending its origin and continued existence. The right to the water of a stream is sustainable notwithstanding the fact that the water in the stream is not always sufficient for the purpose for which the right is claimed or that it reaches the plaintiff's land not directly but indirectly by flowing into another channel. A river channel supplied the means of irrigation for the lands of the parties to the suit and the other ryots of the village. A branch leading from the main channel passed through the lands of defendants Nos 1, 2 and 3 in a definite water course up to the fourth defendant's land when it entered the fourth defendant's field and after irrigating it flowed over its field and joined another channel which irrigated the plaintiff's lands. Defendants Nos 1, 2 and 3 blocked up the channel at a point higher than the fourth defendant's lands. In a suit by plaintiff for declaration of his right to the customary supply of water through the channel and for an injunction restraining the defendants from obstructing the water course. Held that the water of the channel when it entered the fourth defendant's field could not be regarded as surface water but continued in a definite water course and plaintiff was entitled to the usual supply of water unobstructed. ADIVARANA v RAMUDU (1914) I L R 37 Mad 304

EASEMENT—contd

Right of support—Disturbance—Actual damage when necessary to support action—Temporary structure whether an easement of support acquirable in respect of. No actual damage is necessary to support an action for the disturbance of an easement of support for a building. Contra where the disturbance is of a natural right. Backhouse v Doornik 11 L C 30 referred to. The rule requiring actual damage is applicable only to an action for damages but actual damage is not necessary to entitle a person having a right of support to relief by way of injunction. Corporation of Lymington v Allen 6 Ch D 281 followed. The question whether a right of support can be claimed for a temporary structure which has been in existence for the statutory period was not decided. Maberley v Douson 5 L K B 961 referred to. PANAPISUDA v SEETHARAMA (1914) I L R 37 Mad. 527

Right to discharge surplus water across a public way—If may be acquired by prescription—Right acquired before dedication of way to public. A person cannot by prescription acquire a right of easement to discharge surplus water from his own to another tenement through a channel across a public way intervening between the two tenements. To establish such a right he must prove that the public way was formerly private property and the easement claimed had been acquired while it was still private property. KAILASH CHANDRA NADY v SURENDRA NATH SAMANTA (1913) 18 C W N 378

Light and Air—In action for the infringement of the easement of light and air is founded not on trespass but on nuisance. The amount in an actionable nuisance the interference in the case of a house suitable for residence and business purposes where the ceiling and letting value has not been diminished must cause a sensible privation of light and air sufficient to render the occupation of the house uncomfortable and to a sensible degree less fit for the purposes of business. In an action for infringement the character of the previous enjoyment of the dominant tenement must be taken into consideration but it does not furnish the decisive measure of the unlawful loss or annoyance. To determine whether a nuisance has been proved the existing state of things must be considered but subject to the qualification that light and air coming from other sources to which a right has not been acquired by grant or prescription ought not to be taken into account. PATL v ROBINSON I L R. 39 Calc. 59

EASEMENT—contd

Prescriptive right to take water—By means of definite mode of access—Like other owner of servient tenement may substitute some other means of access. When the owner of a dominant tenement has acquired a prescriptive right to take water from a tank on the servient tenement and has for this purpose used a particular means of access for the statutory period he has acquired a right to reach the water by means of such definite mode of access the servient owner at his own discretion may not substitute for his own some other means of access. JIBAY ANDA CHAKRABARTY v KALIDAS MALIK (1914) I L R 42 Calc 184

User of easement—For less than the prescriptive period—No right to sue for infringement. Intangible rights such as easements are not capable in an exact sense of being possessed and unless an easement had ripened into a prescriptive one mere enjoyment of the easement for any length of time short of the full period of prescription gives no right for the enjoyer to maintain an action against any person infringing such a user. Protection given in law to mere possession of corporeal things cannot be extended to such cases. Jeethann v Venkamma 5 Mad 1 J 24 and Kondapa Rajam Naidu v Desaru Jonda Suryanarayana 1 L R 34 Mad 173 distinguished. English authorities reviewed. NARASAPPAYYA v GANAPATHI RAO (1913) I L R 33 Mad. 280

Right to discharge water—Not claimed as easement but as ancillary to ownership of land. The plaintiffs were the owners of land on the south of that of the defendants on a higher level and the water falling on the land of the plaintiffs flowed on to the land of the defendants who built a bund on their land so as to obstruct the water accumulated on the plaintiffs' land from flowing towards the north through the defendants' land. The plaintiffs alleged that they were entitled to have the water on their land discharged through the defendants' land but they did not claim it as an easement but as a right ancillary to their property which they had not parted with. Held that there was such a right as that claimed by the plaintiff although the plaintiffs did not claim the right to discharge their water and did not in fact discharge their water on to the defendants' land by any definite channel. That the duty of the defendants was to allow the water from the plaintiffs' land to pass on through their land. It was then opened to them to dispose of it in the way they thought best. PANADHIN SINGH v JAGANNATH SINGH (1914) 19 C W N 54

Right of way—Permanent tenures held under same landlord—One if may acquire right by prescription against the other—Prescriptions by tenant in possession inuring to owner's benefit—Grant implied upon severance in cases of continuous easements—Continuous easement right of way when—Permanent adaptation of tenement—Grant inferred from long user alone—Easement of necessity—Grant if may be presumed upon severance—Suit for declaration of right of easement—All servient owners if necessary parties—Cause of action. A dominant owner has no cause of action against a servient owner who has neither caused obstruction to the exercise of the right of way nor has he caused obstruction to the exercise of the right of way. 19 C W N 54

EASEMENT—contd

ss. 18, 23—contd

there was a written agreement between the parties in the year 1870 whereby the defendant's father agreed that he would not make any opening in his back wall the plaintiff had the right to require the defendant to close the said apertures and window MULLA BHANA v SUNDAR DANA (1913) I L R. 38 Bom 1

See also EASEMENT I L R. 41 Bom 496

s. 24—Accessory easement—Extension of the doctrine of accessory easement The plaintiff and the defendant owned neighbouring houses. The wall of the plaintiff's house abutted on the defendant's land. The plaintiff had acquired an easement of discharging rain water from eaves of his roof on to the defendant's land. On the strength of the easement the plaintiff sued for an injunction to restrain the defendant from making any use of his land which would prevent the plaintiff from going upon it for the purpose of repairing the wall of his house. The trial Court refused to grant the injunction. The lower appellate Court found that the case fell under s. 24 of the Easements Act 1882 and that the repair of the wall was an accessory easement to the admitted easement of discharging the water through the eaves. On appeal to the High Court Held that the right to enter upon the defendant's land to repair the wall which would preclude the defendant from making any use of his land was no such easement as the plaintiff was entitled to or was contemplated by s. 24 of the Easements Act 1882. HIMALAYAGANJAL v BHIRABHAI AMRITAL (1918) I L R. 42 Bom 529

s. 28—

See EASEMENT I L R. 42 Calc. 46

s. 33—

See DAMAGES IN ACTIONS OF TORT I L R. 36 Mad 550

s. 47—

See s. 13 I L R. 45 Bom 80

ss. 59, 60—License—Perpetuity—Right of transference of property in respect of which a license has been given Held that the rule laid down by s. 59 of the Indian Easements Act 1882 is not independent of that laid down by s. 60 and does not confer upon the transferee any higher rights than those possessed by the transferee. IAS PUNJABI LAL v ACHAI KUNWAR (1914) I L R. 37 All 91

s. 60—License—Denial by licensee of licensor's title Held that a licensee in possession does not like a tenant by denying the title of the grantor of the licence forfeit the licence and become liable to immediate ejectment. DIANUS KUNWAR v FAKIRA Ill Weekly Notes 1901 p. 157 followed MAJID AKBAR ALI KHAN v SHAH MUHAMMAD (1917) I L R. 39 All 621

EASTERN BENGAL AND ASSAM DISORDERLY HOUSES ACT (II OF 1907)

ss. 2, 3—

See BROTHER I L R. 45 Calc. 301

EASTERN BENGAL AND ASSAM DISORDERLY HOUSES ACT (II OF 1907)—contd

ss. 2 to 6—

See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF I L R. 37 Calc. 287

ss. 2 and 7—

See DI ORDERLY HOUSES ACT 16 C W N 1049

ss. 3 and 5 (e)—The District Magistrate power of to interfere with order by a Criminal Court under s. 3 of the Act The District Magistrate has no power either under the E. B. and Assam Disorderly Houses Act or any other law to interfere with an order passed by a Criminal Court in the exercise of its jurisdiction under s. 3 of the Act. LOHIT MOHAN CHAKRAPARTY v HARENDRO KUMAR DEB (1917) 21 C W N 1135

ss. 6 and 7—Inquiry—Authority if can be delegated S. 7 does not authorise any one to enter the house if Magistrate can be satisfied in other ways that the nuisance still exists. FEROJA PESHKAR v KING EMPEROR 16 C W N 1049

EASTERN BENGAL AND ASSAM TENANCY ACT (I OF 1908)

In a suit for rent a decree was made on compromise and the tenant took some extra land a new rent being fixed when an execution was sought and objection was taken that s. 147 had not been complied with. Held that objections raised to the validity of the decree could not be raised in execution proceedings. HENRI CHANDREY v CHANDRA MOHAN NAIMONAS 24 C W N 1070

EAST INDIA COMPANY

See SECRETARY OF STATE

non liability of—

See TORT I L R. 39 Mad. 331

rights of—

See HABEAS CORPUS I L R. 44 Calc. 459

EAVES

See EASEMENT I L R. 37 Bom. 491

See EASEMENTS ACT (I OF 1882) ss. 18, 23 I L R. 38 Bom. 1

EDITOR, PRINTER AND PUBLISHER.

See CONTEMPT 15 C W N 771

—duties of Editor—

See COMPANY I L R. 38 Mad. 991

—registration and liabilities of—

See CONTEMPT OF COURT I L R. 45 Calc. 169

EJECTMENT

See AGRI TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)

ss. 10 and 22 I L R. 42 All. 36

ss. 24, 16 I L R. 41 All. 23

s. 194 I L R. 36 All. 441

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT, s. 100.

15 C W N 974

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE, 1879

s. 43 I L R. 45 Bom. 303, 350

See CANTONMENT PROPERTY I L R. 36 Bom. 1

EJECTMENT—contd.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 185 s 339
I L R 35 Bom 470
I L R 36 Bom 29

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 11
EXPL IV I L R 35 Bom 567
O XXXIII R 1

I L R 42 Bom 155

See FARNDARI TENURE

I L R 39 Bom 316

See LINDAPFER

I L R 37 Calc 694

See JURISDICTION

I L R 41 Calc 915

I L R 33 Mad 795

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

14 C W N 339

I L R 34 Mad 161

I L R 39 Calc 903

I L R 43 Calc 184

I L R 41 All 654

I L R 43 Bom 785

I L R 44 Calc 403

I L R 44 Bom 950

See LIMITATION I L R 48 Calc 65

See LIMITATION ACT 1908

ART 44 I L R 41 Mad 102

ART 142 5 Pat L J 724

See MADRAS ESTATE LAND ACT (I OF 1903) I L R 38 Mad 163 608 843

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING

I L R 44 Calc 272

See OCCUPANCY RIGHT

I L R 46 Calc 43

See SUB LEASE I L R 48 Calc 783

See TENANTS IN COMMON

I L R 39 Mad 1049

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 111 I L R 35 All 145

See UNDER RAIYAT

I L R 39 Calc 278

See WAIVER 2 Pat L J 595 conversion of suit for into one for partition—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 37 Mad 529

from old waste grounds—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 111 CL (g)

I L R 35 All 145

I L R 42 Bom 193

See UNDER RAIYAT 23 C W N 437

property acquired by wife trading with husband—

See HINDU LAW

I L R 38 Mad 1036

suit for subsequent to alienation—

See MADRAS PROPRIETARY ESTATES VII LAOE SERVICE ACT (II OF 1894) ss 5 AND 10 CL (12)

I L R 39 Mad 830

EJECTMENT—contd.

—suit in against trespasser—

See RIGHT OF SUIT

I L R 39 Mad 501

—tenant on sufferance—

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 45 Bom 725

—By Inamdar—Right of to eject tenants—Presumption of such right There is no presumption that an inamdar has a right to eject persons in possession of inam lands He must prove such a right MADDU VERRAYYA v LADULLA KANGALI NAIDU (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 246

Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act—(Deng VI of 1908) ss 4(3) 41—Non occupancy raiyats—Under raiyats ejectment of—Transfer of property Act (IV of 1882) s 106—Incidents of tendency created by contract or custom—Verbal notice sufficiency of Where a raiyat sued an under raiyat in ejectment and got a decree but on appeal the Judicial Commissioner of Chota Nagpur dismissed his suit on the ground that the provisions of s 41 of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act had not been complied with as an under raiyat has at least the rights of a non occupancy raiyat Held that the view taken by the Judicial Commissioner was erroneous An under raiyat must for the purposes of that Act be treated as belonging to a class of tenants quite distinct from the class of non occupancy raiyats Those portions of that Act which dealt with tenants generally could be applied to under raiyats In a suit for ejectment of an under raiyat by a raiyat the Court can have regard only to the relations established between the parties either by contract or custom Where there is no evidence of a lease the tenancy would no doubt be ordinarily held to be a tenancy from year to year There is no statutory provision that the tenancy of an under raiyat in Chota Nagpur can be terminated only by a notice in writing GURU CHARAN HAJAM v BUKHAL HAJAM (1913)

I L R 40 Calc 858

Previous suit for compensation—For use and occupation with a prayer for ejectment effect of—Resquecence—Limitation That the effect of the plaintiff's predecessor bringing a suit for compensation for use and occupation without a prayer for ejectment was not a waiver of the right to eject and a recognition of the defendants as tenants It is open to an owner of land first to sue a trespasser for compensation and then to bring a suit for ejectment to assert his right to the land PAJ KRISHNA RUDRA v PHAKIR DOME (1913)

19 C W N 478

Plaintiff to prove title—In order to succeed in an action of ejectment the plaintiff must strictly prove his title PAM CHANDRA MARTAND WALKER v VINAYAK VENKA TESH KOTHEKAR (1914) I L R 42 Calc 334

18 C W N 1154

Landlord and Tenant—Right of lessee after expiry of lease to eject a trespasser Where a lessee whose lease had expired prior to suit sued for possession of the land leased to him from a trespasser Held that the expiration of the lease did not necessarily imply the expiration of the lessee's right of possession and the lessee was entitled to a decree for possession as against trespassers where the landlord

ELECTION—contd

— of mahant of temple—

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 37 All 298

— petition—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT
V OF 1898) s 195

I L R 37 Bom 365

See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES
ACT (II OF 1916) ss 19 to 26

I L R 41 All 646

— right of—

See BURMESE LAW

I L R 44 Calc 379

— roll—

See MUNICIPAL ELECTION

I L R 45 Calc 850

I L R 46 Calc 132

Calcutta Municipal Act—Beng III of 1899 s 56—Corrupt Practices—Impersonation
—Coercion—Intimidation—Free election—Interference by the candidate or his agent The election of a candidate as a Municipal Commissioner was challenged under s 56 of the Calcutta Municipal Act 1899 on the following grounds viz—(i) That five persons were impersonated, four of them being dead and one absent from Calcutta. (ii) That a voter was coerced to vote for the elected candidate. (iii) That certain grogshop owners had been dissuaded by Hem Chandra Lahiry Inspector of Police and did not vote through fear. (iv) That the said Inspector of Police interfered with the election, intimidated voters and freely canvassed for the elected candidate. Held that the election must stand inasmuch as the charges were not substantiated. The Calcutta Municipal Act 1899 contains no provision regarding corrupt practices in elections. Mens rea is an essential ingredient to constitute impersonation. In this case there was nothing to show that the elected candidate or his agent fraudulently and wrongfully caused improper personification and so the charge of impersonation could not stand. In order to avoid an election on the ground of intimidation and undue influence it must be shown either that (i) the rioting or violence was instigated by the candidate or his agents for whom he is responsible or that (ii) it prevailed to such an extent as to prevent the election from being an entirely free election. MONORANJAN MUKHERJEE v BROJO GORAL GOSWAMI (1918) 22 C W N 678

Public body—Vacancy

—Election to fill up vacancy by less than a majority of voters validity of—Appointment of a minor as Muthawallis of a mosque validity of According to a scheme framed by the High Court a mosque in Madras was governed by a managing committee of five members including the President and three Muthawallis working under them and vacancies in the committee were to be filled by election by an electoral body consisting of the remaining committee members and the three Muthawallis and the committee was to appoint competent men as Muthawallis for the mosque.
In 1900 one M M who was then eleven years of age was appointed by the committee as one of the Muthawallis. In 1914 the electoral body consisted of the president three other members of the committee and two Muthawallis excluding M M. Notice of a meeting to fill up a vacancy

ELECTION—contd

in the committee in 1914 was served on all the members of the electoral body except M M. Three members of the electoral body attended the meeting at which the plaintiff was elected. There was no rule or practice fixing the quorum for meetings of the electoral body. Held (i) that plaintiff having been elected at a meeting attended by less than a majority of those entitled to vote his election was invalid. (ii) that the election of M M as Muthawallis while he was a minor was invalid ab initio and (iii) that M M even though a major at the time of plaintiff's election was not entitled to vote and want of notice to him of the meeting was immaterial. PATA v ALI
(1916) I L P 40 Mad 541

—Specific Relief Act—I of 1877 s 42
—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 9—
Discretionary Relief principles on which granted—Delay—Indian Councils Act 1909 (9 Edw VII
c 4) s 6—Power of Governor General in Council to make Regulations—Civil Court jurisdiction of
When a plaintiff seeking to impugn the validity of an election held on February 14 1913 first made an application to the Governor General in Council in accordance with Regulations framed under s 6 of the Indian Councils Act 1909 which Regulations provided that the decision of the Governor General in Council on the intention construction or application of the Regulations should be final and afterwards when the election of the defendants had been declared to be valid by the Governor General in Council filed a suit on June 19 1913 praying for a declaration that the election was invalid and for an injunction restraining the defendants from exercising the function of the office to which they had been elected. Held without deciding the question as to the jurisdiction of the Court and the power of the Governor General in Council to make Regulations excluding that jurisdiction that in the circumstances the Court should not exercise its discretionary jurisdiction under s 42 of the Specific Relief Act in favour of the plaintiff. The Court in interfering in cases of disputed elections should apply the principles followed by the Courts of Common Law in granting or refusing prerogative writs. BHUPENDRA NATH BASU v PANJIT SINGH
(1913) I L R 41 Calc 384

ELECTRICITY ACT (IX OF 1910)

ss 14 19—Personality of licensee to make full compensation for any damage detriment or inconvenience caused by him or by any one employed by him—Damage whether caused in the exercise of the powers granted to the licensee. A gas company laid a 3 inch main in a street in Bombay. Subsequently an electric supply company caused cables contained in troughing to be laid over this main in such a manner that the main for the distance of some 36 feet was rendered inaccessible for the purpose of removing the same except by sinning the electric company's cables by reason of the position of the cables. It was found that the work of laying the cables had not been executed nor must it be deemed to have been executed to the reasonable satisfaction of the gas company. Subsequently the gas company desired to replace the 3 inch main with a 4 inch main and for this purpose opened up the street in question when they discovered the position of the cables. On account of the position

ELECTRICITY ACT (IX OF 1910)—contd

s 14, 19—contd

of these cables the gas company were compelled to make a diversion in the route taken by their 4 inch main and claimed that the electric supply company should pay the cost thereof the latter company refused to do so Held that the damages, if any suffered by the gas company were damages recoverable under s 19 of the Indian Electricity Act of 1910 as the damage alleged lay in the gas company being deprived of access to its own property (the main) which was inflicted once and for all when the electric supply company laid their cables over the main and that it was a question of fact whether such damage had been committed Held further that the gas company were not compelled to proceed under s 14 of the Act and did not lose their remedies against the electric supply company by reason of their not having availed themselves of the provisions of that section Quære whether a licensee causing only a little damage detriment and inconvenience as may be liable for damages under s 19 of the Indian Electricity Act (IX of 1910) In re BOMBAY GAS COMPANY LTD AND BOMBAY ELECTRIC SUPPLY AND TRAMWAYS COMPANY LTD (1914) I L R 39 Bom 124

s 33—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE

s 43— I L R 39 Mad 686

ELEPHANT

Nature and extent of liability for damage done by elephant—An elephant belongs to a dangerous class of animals. Liability of owner and person in possession. It may be laid down as a rule of law that in India the elephant belongs to a dangerous class of animals. A person who keeps an animal belonging to a class that is dangerous takes the risk of any damage it may do. The absolute liability of a person for any harm done by his animal independently of any intent or negligence on his part does not depend on the manner or extent to which such animals are employed but upon the nature of the class to which such animal belongs or the particular kind of mischief committed. Liability for damage done by an elephant attaches to the owner of the elephant as well as to a person in whose possession the elephant happens to be when it commits such damage. VEDAPUTTI v RAFFAT NAIR (1912) I L R 35 Mad 708

EMBANKMENT

See SALE OF ARREARS OF REVENUE

I L R 42 Cal 765

Bengal Embankment Act (II of 1882) s 76 cl (a) (b)—Addition to existing embankment means (a) of increasing height of embankment—Essentials of offence under s 76 (b). The words existing embankment in s 76 (b) of Bengal Act II of 1882 mean an embankment existing at the time the addition is made. Ajodhya Nath Koila v Pay Krishna Bhow I L R 30 Cal 481 followed. Gowrdhan Sinha v Queen Empress I L R 11 Cal 570 explained as overruled. The only offence constituted by cl (b) as distinguished from cl (a) of s 76 is the omission to obtain the sanction of the Collector to the addition to an existing embankment within a prohibited area irrespective of the question whether such a $\frac{1}{2}$ is likely to interfere with counteract or impede any public embankment and public watercourse. RAMNATH PANDIT v EMPEROR (1911) I L R 33 Cal 413

EMBANKMENT—contd

Poolbundi charges—

*Contract between emindar and putindar as to payment of poolbundi charges—Change of law after contract—How far change affects the contractual relationship—Embankment Act (XXXII of 1855 and Bengal VII of 1866)—Bengal Embankment Act (Beng II of 1882) s 64 to 59 68 74. An agreement between the landlord and the putindar entered into while the Embankment Act is (XXXII of 1855 and Bengal VII of 1866) were in force that the putindar was to be exempt from all charges to which the term poolbundi could be reasonably applied is operative even after those Acts were superseded by the Bengal Embankment Act of 1882. There is nothing in the Act of 1882 to render such an agreement contrary to the policy of the law or void for any other reason. The putindar is entitled to come to Court for the purpose of having his contractual rights vindicated as soon as he has reason to apprehend the breach of the contract on which he relies. SINHA PRASAD SAMANTA v RAKHALMANT DAS (1913) I L R 41 Cal 130*

Addition to embankment—

*Proof of notification and due publication thereof—Failure to comply with the prescribed mode of publication—Effect of failure—Existing embankment meaning of—Lease by Collector before the passing of the Act giving power to erect and repair embankments—Application of the Act to such lease—Removal of unauthorized addition to an embankment—Bengal Embankment Act (II of 1882) s 6 76 (b) 79 and 80. The provisions of s 6 and 80 of the Bengal Embankment Act as to local publication of the notification are merely directory and not mandatory. Brundaban Ghose v Emperor 7 C W 286 followed. Gowrdhan Sinha v Queen Empress I L R 11 Cal 570 referred to. An existing embankment in s 76 (b) means one existing when the addition is made. Pannath Pandit v Emperor I L R 33 Cal 413 followed. The provisions of s 76 (b) apply to and supersede the terms of a lease granted by the Collector before the passing of the Act giving the lessee the power to erect and repair embankments. LAKSHMI KANTA HASRA v EMPEROR (1919) I L R 46 Cal 825*

EMBARRASSMENT

of debtor—

See INTEREST I L R 32 Cal 652

EMBEZZLEMENT

See PENAL CODE ACT (XLV of 1860) s 408 I L R 40 All 585

EMERGENCY LEGISLATION

See COMMERCIAL INTERCOURSE WITH ENGLAND

See HABEAS CORPUS

I L R 44 Cal 459

EMERGENCY LEGISLATION CONTINUANCE ACT (I OF 1915)

See HABEAS CORPUS

I L R 44 Cal 459

EMERGENCY LEGISLATION CONTINUANCE ACT (I OF 1915)—contd

if ultra vires Ordinances III and V of 1911—Power of Governor General in Council to pass Act embodying provisions of ordinances—Ordinance III of 1914 s 11 effect of—Jurisdiction of Courts to question orders of internment passed under Emergency Legislation Continuance Act—Indian Councils Act 1861 (24 25 Vict c 67) ss 22 23 Under s 23 of the Indian Councils Act 1861 (24 25 Vict c 67) no ordinance can have any force of law for more than six months from its promulgation but the power of the Governor General in Council to pass an Act embodying the provisions of an ordinance is in no matter controlled or taken away by that section It is clear that the Governor General in Council has power to pass an Act like the Emergency Legislation Continuance Act (I of 1915) which embodies the provisions of Ordinances III and V of 1914 1914 which is embodied in the Emergency as s 11 of the Ordinance No III of 1914 which is embodied in the Emergency Legislation Continuance Act of 1915 seeks to oust the jurisdiction of the Courts it offends against s 22 of the Indian Councils Act 1861 that the Emergency Legislation Continuance Act of 1915 is not ultra vires of the Governor General in Council and the High Court has not power to call in question orders passed thereunder It is for the Governor General in Council to be satisfied on the materials before them and the Court cannot call for the materials or examine them In England the common law rule that when an Act is repealed and the repealing Act is repealed by another which manifests no intention that the first shall continue repealed the repeal of the second Act revives the first does not apply to repealing Acts passed since 1800 and the last repeal does not now revive the Act or provisions before repealed unless words be added reviving them The same principle or rule of law applies to this country S 3 of the General Clauses Act (I of 1868) expressly provided that for the purpose of reviving either wholly or partially a Statute Act or Regulation repealed it shall be necessary expressly to state such purpose and the same is the effect of s 6 and 7 of the General Clauses Act (X of 1897) In the matter of JEWIA NATHOO (1916)

20 C W N 1327

EMIGRATION

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 43 Calc 30

inducing—

See ASSAM LABOUR AND EMIGRATION ACT 1901 s 20 164 I Pat L J 388

Unlawful recruitment—A s s a m Labour and Emigration Act (II of 1901) s 164

—Emigrate meaning of—Inducement to go from a place in British India to Fij—Subsequent inducement at another place to proceed to Sylhet—Locus delicti—Jurisdiction of Criminal Court—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1895) s 177 A recruiter who induces a person at Cawnpore to go to Fiji but on the way takes him to a cooly depot at Arrah and induces him to proceed to Sylhet in contravention of the Assam Labour and Emigration Act commits no offence under a 164 of Act VI of 1901 at Cawnpore but only at Arrah and a Magistrate of the latter place has jurisdiction to try such offence FAIZ ALI v IMPEROR (1909)

I L R 37 Calc 27

EMOLUMENTS

partition of—

See MADRAS PROPRIETARY ESTATES VILLAGES SERVICE ACT (II OF 1894) ss 5 AND 10 cl (2)

I L R 39 Mad 930

ENCROACHMENT

See BOMBAY DISTRICT MUNICIPAL ACT (III OF 1901) ss 113 112

I L R 38 Bom 152

See BUILDING I L R 39 Calc 84

See MADRAS DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT (IV OF 1884) s 168

I L R 38 Mad 456

See MUNICIPAL COUNCIL I L R 38 Mad 6

See PUBLIC NUISANCE I L R 42 Calc 702

on public street

See PROSECUTION I L R 37 Calc 545

Bengal Local Self government Act (Leng Act III of 1885) s 140—Infringement of bye law—Erection of fence on the slope and edge of a road without impeding the passage along it—Continuing Offence—Daily Fine Where a bye law passed by the District Board prohibited encroachment on any part of a road maintained by it or its slopes or side ditches by the placing of fences thereon Held that the erection of a fence along the slope and the edge of such road without impeding the passage over it is an infringement of the bye law though the Board has no proprietary right in the road or in the land on which its slopes or side ditches stand A sentence of a daily fine in anticipation in the case of a continuing offence which may be committed after the date of the proceeding in which it was passed is illegal NIMANI GHATAK v EMPEROR (1910)

I L R 37 Calc 671

Municipal Act (Bengal III of 1884) s 217—Encroaching on a public road—Materials sufficient to determine road to be public

Where the petitioner was convicted under s 217 Bengal Municipal Act of encroaching on a public road upon a finding that the road in question which was given a name by the Municipality was made over the petitioner's land to a trenching ground and so used for some time and was subsequently given up with the closing of the trenching ground Held that this alone was not sufficient for the conclusion that the road was a public one NANDO LAL NEOGY v GORALA MUNICIPALITY (1910)

22 C W N 599

ENCUMBRANCE

See EXECUTION OF DECREE I L R 40 Calc 623

See GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT (VIII OF 1900) ss 7 (-) 29 30

I L R 37 Mad 38

See SALE I L R 43 Calc 263

by co sharer—

See JOINT ESTATE I L R 43 Calc 103

E. ENCUMBRANCE—contd

—discharge of—

See MADRAS REVENUE RECOVERY ACT
(II of 1864) s 14

I L R 37 Mad 49

Transfer of portion of occupancy holding of encumbrance—Exchange of for all purposes a sale—Bengal Tenancy Act (III of 1885) s 101 The transfer of a portion of a non transferable occupancy holding is not an encumbrance within the meaning of s 161 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. Abul Palaman Chowdhury v Ahmatar Rahman I L R 43 Cal 558 followed. Rameshwar Singh v Prithwanidan Khattar I Pat L J 103 and Fauz-iddin Khan v Ahola Vaidya Khan I C B 229 referred to. Chunila Salai v Kallu Prasantha Chuckerbarty I L R 23 Cal 251 distinguished. An exchange is not for all purposes a sale. Binoy Krishna Mukherji v Surendra Nath Banerji (1919) I L R 46 Cal 891

ENDORSEMENT

See RAILWAY RECEIPT

I L R 38 Bom 659

See VAKALATNAMA

I L R 43 Cal 884

—fraudulently obtained suit on—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I of 1877)
ss 39 40 41

I L R 39 All 103

—of document (admitted as evidence)—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT

I L R 36 All 627

—of payments by mortgage—

See MORTGAGE I L R 37 Cal 589

See MORTGAGE BY MORTGAGEE

I L R 38 Mad 1071

ENDOWMENT

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT

I L R 39 All 311

See COURT FEE I L R 40 Cal 245

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L R 32 All 461

See LIMITATION I L R 37 Bom 231

See MAHOMEDAN LAW

I L R 37 Cal 263

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 40 Cal 297

See RELIGIOUS TRUST

I L R 40 Cal 251

Conditions of valid endowment—Hindu Law—woman's estate—dedication to idol settler valid—Occupancy right acquisition of by firm Where it is sought to establish that certain lands are the subject of a valid endowment it must be shown (i) that an absolute grant of the lands was made with the intention that the properties should be applied to the purposes of the endowment (ii) that the properties have since the grant been so applied and (iii) that the members of the family of the settler have not treated the property as one the profits of which were mainly intended to be applied for their own benefit. The dedication must be held to be nominal when there is no proof of the application of the income of the property for the purposes of the endowment and when the whole conduct of the parties is inconsistent with the hypothesis of a valid trust. A woman having the estate of a Hindu mother cannot create a valid title in favour of an idol. The members of a firm are capable of acquiring rights of occupancy in land. Sini Thakur Parmod Banabihari v C G Atkins 4 Pat L J 533

ENDOWMENT—contd

Property—Its nature by trustee (Acharya) to wife—Property claimed to be acquisition of Acharya out of perquisite claim not proved The head of an endowment having conveyed some properties to his wife his successor brought this suit for recovery on the allegation that the property was part of the endowed property. The defence failed to prove that the property was acquired by the Acharya with funds which he longed exclusively to him or which might be regarded as his official perquisites and the other evidence pointed to the property being part of the endowed property. Held that the suit was rightly decreed. Musammat Kanla Jachni v Mahant Basdeo Prasad (P C) 25 C W N 217

See COMMERCIAL INTERCOURSE WITH THE ENEMY

ENEMY

See SALE OF GOODS

I L R 45 Cal 28

—attempting to trade with—

See TRADING WITH THE ENEMY

I L R 40 Mad 34

—ship—

See CAROO I L R 42 Cal 334

ENEMY TRADING ACT (X OF 1916)

See CONTRACT WITH ENEMY

I L R 44 Bom 631

See ENEMY

See WAR LEGISLATION

ENFORCEMENT OF RIGHT

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE EMPTION

I L R 41 Cal 47

ENFRANCHISEMENT

—and resumption—distinction between—

See CHARITABLE INAMS

I L R 40 Mad 939

—of Shirdinjam villages effect of—

See INAM I L R 40 Mad 268

ENGAGEMENTS

—construction of—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1868) s 1

I L R 38 Mad 997

ENGLISH LAW

—applicability of—

See DEFAMATION

R. 40 Cal. 433

ENHANCEMENT OF RENT—contd

assertion by the tenant that his rent cannot be enhanced not followed within 12 years by a suit for enhancement does not confer on the tenant a right to hold the land at a permanent rent. BIRENDRA KISHORE MANIKYA v DOULAT KHAN (1917) 22 C W N 856

Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 105-109—Case under s 105 dismissed for non prosecution—Subsequent suit suit for same matter if barred under s 109
An application made under 105 whether it is withdrawn or whether it is dismissed for non prosecution is nevertheless an application made within the meaning of the provisions of s 109 of the Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885). The provisions of s 109 of the Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) should be strictly enforced and not whittled down as appears to be the effect of the decisions in Cleddin v Tul Singh I L R 40 Cal 498 and Kamini Sarda Choudhury v Abdul Halim Woular 58 C I J 554. s 109 is an effective bar to a claim in the Civil Court for enhancement of rent on the ground of an increase in area which was the subject of an application previously made under s 105 of the Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) but dismissed for non prosecution. AZEDA KHAN v MAJIDALI CHOWDHURY (1920) I L R 48 Cal 157

ENHANCEMENT OF SENTENCE

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 473
I L P 36 All 485

See PATHWAY PASSENGER
I L R 44 Cal 279

See SENTENCE ENHANCEMENT OF

ENJOYMENT

—adverse—

See EASEMENTS ACT (V OF 1892) s 15
I L R 38 Mad 1

ENMITY OR HATRED

—dissemination of—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR
I L R 43 Cal 591

ENQUIRY

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 117
242 I L R 34 Mad 139

ENTICING AWAY MARRIED WOMEN

See PENAL CODE s 498
I L R 42 All 401

EPIDEMIC DISEASES ACT (III OF 1897)

—ss 2-3—
See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
ss 188 AND 269
I L R 38 Mad 602

EQUITABLE ASSIGNMENT

See ADMINISTRATOR GENERALS ACT (II OF 1874) ss 28 34 AND 3,
I L R 38 Mad 500

EQUITABLE ESTOPPEL

See ESTOPPEL BY JUDGMENT
I L R 37 Mad 270

EQUITABLE ESTOPPEL—contd

See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION
3 Pat L J 416
See WILL [24 C W N 529

EQUITABLE LIEN

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT ss 80
100 I L R 33 All 708

EQUITABLE MORTGAGE

See MORTGAGE I L R 43 Cal 895
See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1859) s 59 I L R 38 Bom 372

Transfer for Property Act (II of 1885) s 59—One of several joint mortgagors not coming to property comprised in the title deeds deposited of properties still in Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction of the High Court—Jurisdiction—Letters Patent cl 12—Mortgage decree Where several joint mortgagors had effected an equitable mortgage by deposit of title deeds one of them having no interest in any of the properties covered by the deposited title deeds within the Ordinary Original Jurisdiction of the High Court—Held that the defendants having incurred a joint debt and that debt having been secured by them by a deposit of title deeds they were jointly responsible and the question whether one of the defendants was interested or not in any of the properties covered by the deposited deeds in the way affected the question of jurisdiction of the Court. It is not relevant in such a suit to enquire what interest each one of the mortgagors had in the properties comprised in the title-deeds jointly deposited by them. MATIGARA COAL CO LD v SUBRAGERS LD (1911) I L R 38 Cal 824

Deposit of title deeds—whether all title deeds should be deposited—what interest passes on for closure The Transfer of Property Act 1882 is not exhaustive. There are many mortgages known to English Law which it is difficult or impossible to bring within the terms of the Transfer of Property Act 1882. There is no tithel rule that in an equitable mortgage all the title deeds should be deposited. It is merely a question of intention. Where a share in an indigo concern is mortgaged the parties must be taken to intend that when foreclosure or sale taken place at some subsequent date the share shall pass to the purchaser as it stands at the date of foreclosure or sale. This would include not only what strictly could be held to be accessories but also changes in good will rights under contracts etc. West v Lawday 11 H L C 375 approved. BHUPENDRA NATH BASU v MESSRS NAT WAJIRUNISSA BEGAN 2 Pat L J 293

EQUITABLE RELIEF

See CONSENT DECREE
I L R 44 Bom 544

EQUITABLE SECURITY

See MORTGAGE I L R 39 Cal 810

EQUITABLE SET OFF

See CONTRACT I L R 37 Cal 334

Order disallowing plea before demand if may be reviewed at final hearing Held that in the circumstances of the case the Court of the Judicial Commissioner was right in

EQUITABLE SET-OFF—contd

allowing the defendant a plea of equitable set-off at the final hearing after a remand it had ordered for certain inquiries although at the previous hearing it had upheld the decision of the lower Court rejecting the plea. SHEO NARAIN SIVON : BISHUNATH SINGH (1913) 18 C W N 426

EQUITIES ON PARTITION

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 60 AND 91

I L R 39 Mad 310

EQUITY JUSTICE AND GOOD CONSCIENCE

rule of—

See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE

I L R 37 Mad 396

EQUITY OF REDEMPTION

See MORTGAGE I L R 34 Mad 115

I L R 39 Bom 55

I L P 38 All 411

I L R 44 Bom 723

See MORTGAGE AND MORTGAGEE.

I L R 41 Bom 357

See REDEMPTION

See TITLE I L R 37 Cal 239

acquisition of, by trespassers—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 65 (c)

I L R 39 Mad 959

assignment of to sureties—

See MORTGAGE I L R 45 Cal 702

clog on—

See MORTGAGE I L R 32 All 631

See MORTGAGE 5 Pat L J 423

sold and pre-empted—

See BUNDLKHAND ALIENATION ACT (II OF 1903) s 3 I L R. 37 All 467

suit by Transferor of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE O XXIV RE 2 3 4 AND 5 5 Pat L J 595

Transferee of part of—

See MORTGAGE

I L R 48 Cal 22

Entry in Revenue records more than 12 years old—whether sufficient for acquisition of title—adverse possession In 1888 on the death of Musammat Bhuri the surviving widow of Hasam Shah plaintiff succeeded in having his name entered in the Revenue records as owner of the land originally owned by Hasam Shah and mortgaged by Musammat Tajo one of his widows in 1868 with possession to the defendants 1 to 3 predecessors. Plaintiff sued in 1911 for redemption of the mortgage and the question was whether he had acquired a title to the equity of redemption by reason of the entries in the Revenue records in his favour since 1868 Held that the plaintiff could not and did not acquire ownership of the equity of redemption by merely having an entry in his favour in the Revenue records. Kanwar Sen v Dabari Lal (34 Indian Cases 173) followed. Anghoo Lal v Musammat

EQUITY OF REDEMPTION—contd

Maml. Bibi (b C N 1 601) and Hudbar Khan v Gopidhar Chaurhe (25 Indian Cases 600) distinguished. SHAH KAWAZ : SHEIKH AHMAD

I L R 1 Lab 549

Purchase of by mortgagee—Right of mortgagee to redeem A purchase of mortgaged property by a mortgagee at a sale held in contravention of s 69 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 voidable not void. The mortgagee must therefore have the sale set aside before he can redeem the property. PANDIT SHEO NARAIN GUHA : PAM JATAN GUHA (1917) 2 Pat L J 587

Extinguishment—Mortgagee passing a rajinama to mortgagee for the land—Mortgagee executing labuliyat to pay Government assessment In 1871 the plaintiff mortgaged the land in dispute to the defendants and in 1879 passed a rajinama relinquishing all his occupancy rights in the said land in favour of the defendants. The latter at the same time gave a complementary labuliyat agreeing to pay Government assessment on the land. The plaintiff having sued to redeem the mortgage Held dismissing the suit that the rajinama and labuliyat effectually extinguished the plaintiff's equity of redemption. VENKAT NARAYAN : COPAL RANGHAR (1914) I L R 39 Bom 55

ERRONEOUS DECISIONS AND ORDERS

on a question of law—

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877) SEC 31 ART. 178 AND 179

I L R 36 Mad 553

See RES JUDICATA

I L R 39 Cal 848

ERROR

of fact—

See SALE BY GOVERNMENT

I L R 44 Cal 328

of Law—

See CHARGE I L R 40 Cal 186

ERROR OMISSION OR IRREGULARITY

See CHARGE I L R 40 Cal 16

correction of—

See REMAND I L R 44 Cal 929

ESCAPE FROM CUSTODY

See ARREST BY PRIVATE PERSON

I L R 41 Cal 17

See PENAL CODE s 23D

I L R 32 All 116

I L R. 43 All 185

ESCHEAT

See MAHOMEDAN LAW

I L R 44 Bom 947

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 91 I L R 33 All 111

failure of Husband's heirs on widow's death—

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I L R. 45 Bom 1106

ESTATE

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1905) s 3 I L R 33 Mad 33

absolute or limited—

See HINDU LAW—WILL I L R 33 AN 440

falling into possession—

See EXPECTANCIES I L R 39 Mad 554

In common Tenancy—

See SALE FOR ARIEARS OF REVENUE I L R 39 Cal 353

of deceased person (Liability of)—

See MAINTENANCE I L R 41 Cal 88

Tanjore Palace—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1905) s 3 (2) (d) I L R 40 Mad 389

ESTATE LAND ACT

See MADRA ACT I OF 1903

ESTATES PARTITION ACT (BENG VIII OF 1876)

Division of tenancy
There is nothing in the Estates Partition Act 1876 to prevent the partition of a tenancy into separate tenancies without the consent of the tenants
PANLOCHAN KUTTA & ADEPNATH MISHRA
1 Pat L J 270

ss 7 111 149—

See TITLE SUIT FOR I L R 37 Cal 662

as 23 25 29 45 46 119—2 does not bar a suit for a declaration that a 3rd person passing as a tenant is in reality not a tenant
LAKSHI CHOWDHURY & AKLOO JHA

16 C W N 639

a 7—Previous partition when a bar to fresh partition—Actual joint possession of parts of the property at the time when partition is applied for enables a partition to be made although there had been a previous partition—Civil Court jurisdiction of a d. ch. re estate unfit for partition on b. j. Collector S 7 of the Estates Partition Act contemplates a formal division of the lands of an estate by metes and bounds agreed to by all the owners and a possession of separate lands held in severalty by each such owner Where it was found that there had been a previous arrangement by which the co sharers had possession of different lands but there had not been a complete partition by metes and bounds and an ymali share was retained and some co owners who were ignored in that partition subsequently obtained an ymali share in each of the mouzas Held that there was no complete partition as contemplated by s 7 of the Estates Partition Act such as would bar partition under the Act Semble If a complete partition is once effected no subsequent partition under the Act can take place except on a joint application by all the proprietors even though after such partition each of the separate parcels becomes, or some of them become jointly vested in more proprietors than one so that it might be said that there was joint ownership in the property at the time of application under the Act.

ESTATES PARTITION ACT (BENG VIII OF 1876)—contd

s 7—contd

Where there were several co sharers holding ymali shares in all the mouzas and the lower Court had declared that the land was not fit to be partitioned and thereby barred all future partitions Held that the order was wrong and that the ymali share holders might if they chose ask for a partition of the entire taluk. Quare Whether a Civil Court has jurisdiction to prohibit absolutely a partition to be made by the revenue authorities TAJAMAI ALI & MUSSUD ALI (1910) 14 C W N 632

ss 11 113 and 114—

Revisional Powers of the Board of Revenue discussed BIRABHADRA RUTH AND ORS v JANARDAN PROHERAJ NOKA PAJIA 1 Pat L J 491

s 12—

See PARTITION 4 Pat L J 29

ss 23 24 26 77 94 and 99—Private partition of bakaht lands effect of—sale of separated plot by proprietor in possession—rights of purchaser Ss 23 24 26 and 77 show that a Civil Court has jurisdiction to decide a question of title or extent of interest not only between a proprietor and a stranger but also between the proprietors themselves after a partition has been completed BAHIRIA KANAKDILARI KIER & BINDISHWARI GIR 5 Pat L J 456

ss 25 and 29—

See LIMITATION 6 Pat L J 41

See PARTITION 3 Pat L J 168

ss 25 119—Civil suit for declaration of tenancy right where Collector decides against it in partition proceedings—Maintainability—Defect of parties objection when must be taken Where in the course of partition proceedings before the Collector the defendants set up a claim that they were tenant in respect of that land to which the plaintiffs who were some of the joint proprietors objected and the objection was overruled by the Collector Held that a suit by the plaintiffs for a declaration that there was no tenancy right of the defendants was not barred LAKSHI CHOWDHURY & AKLOO JHA (1911) 16 C W N 639

ss 26 29 and 94—

See ORDER IN COUNCIL 2 Pat L J 496

s 99—

See JOINT ESTATE I L R 43 Cal 103

ss 82 and 119—Where a Revenue Court has passed an order under s 92 refusing a partition on the ground that the land is rent free property s 119 does not bar a suit for partition in the Civil Court JITACANDHAN SINGH & MYSAM MAH SUDHA KIER 6 Pat L J 689

ss 111, 149—Decision of title in proceedings under s 149 civil suit—Mirs tenur air eam lanca proving—Perman in stru in proof of perma ency of tenure s 111 except 3 of the Estates Partition Act applies only to permanent tenures the existence of which is admitted by the tenure holders and has no application where this is denied by any of them S 149 of the Estates Partition Act does not bar a separate suit for the establishment of a mirs title found against by the revenue officers although the mirs in order

ESTATES PARTITION ACT (BEING VIII OF 1876)—contd

ss 111 149—contd

happen to be a part proprietor. The object of s 149 is only to exclude the jurisdiction of Civil Courts in cases where the question relates to the determination of Government Revenue or to the details of partition. It does not oust the jurisdiction of the Civil Court in matters which involve a question of title. Mananda Kihore v Daise Thirurain 1 L R 36 Calc 526 rebd on. Where it was found that a tenure had been in existence for at least 75 years that the origin of the tenancy was unknown that substantial structures were erected on the land that the conveyance of the tenure referred to the tenure as miras tenure that while the transferable character of a jote purchased along with the tenure was disputed the purchasers were left in undisturbed possession of the tenure. —H 11 that from these circumstances it could be legitimately inferred that the tenure was of a permanent character. Upendra Krishna Mandal v Ismail Khan 1 L R 32 Calc 41
c 3 C W N 880 Miratan Mandal v Ismail Khan 1 L R 32 Calc 51 s c 3 C B A 895
Anba Kumari Devi v Belari Lal Sen 1 L R 34 Calc 90 s c 11 C B N 585 retd upon
Abdul Wahid v Shatuka Bibi 1 L R 31 Calc 49F distinguished JAGOO NAIR CHONDRAJI KALI NARAY RAY CHOWDHURI (1910)

15 C W N 45
1 L R 37 Calc 662

ss 119, 88—but against order of Revenue Court when On the application of defendant a co sharer for the partition of his share in a taluk proceedings under the Estates Partition Act were taken. Throughout the proceedings no question was raised under s 88 and no order was passed under that section. The plaintiff another co sharer objected only to the mode in which the common land were divided but never took the objection that more land was allotted to the estate under partition than that estate was entitled to. The plaintiff's objection was rejected by all the revenue authorities up to the Board of Revenue and the final order for partition was made. The plaintiff then brought a suit for declaration of title to and possession of certain land alleging that by reason of fraud practised by one of the defendants in connection with the preparation of the record of rights on which the partition proceedings were based land belonging exclusively to him had been partitioned as joint land. Held that under s 119 of the Estates Partition Act the plaintiffs not being persons aggrieved by an order under s 88 had no right of suit in the Civil Court. Fletcher J—That the plaintiff could not be allowed to recover land allotted to defendant whilst retaining lands allotted to him by the same partition. Richardson J—Where there is no dispute as to the quantum of interest each co sharer has in joint lands but the question is as to whether a particular piece of land is part of the joint lands or is the exclusive property of a co sharer the question is not one under proviso (i) to s 119 of the Act. GURBACHAN PRASAD TEWARI v KALI PRASAD NARAY SINGH (1914)

18 C W N 1322

ESTOPPEL

See ADMINISTRATOR PENDENTE LITE.

1 L R 41 Calc 771

See ADOPTION 1 L R 34 All 8

ESTOPPEL—contd

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

1 L R 40 Calc 173
1 L R 37 Mad. 373

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)
s 15 1 L R 41 All 223

See ARBITRATION ACT 1908
1 L P 43 All 458

See BENAMI
1 L R 37 All 507
1 L P 46 Calc 568

See BOMBAY CITY LAND REVENUE ACT
(BOM II OF 1876) ss 30 35 39 40
1 L R 39 Bom 564

See BOMBAY CITY IMPROVEMENT ACT
(BOM. ACT IV OF 1878) s 48 (11)
1 L R 42 Bom 54

See CHARITABLE TRUSTS
1 L R 34 Mad 406

See CHAUDHARI CHAKRAVARTY LANDS
15 C W N 976

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882
s 13 1 L R 33 Mad 459
s 43 1 L R 34 All 172
s 287 1 L R 35 All 257

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1903
s 60 O XXI R 93
1 L R 40 All 680

O ALI R 5 (3)
1 L P 41 Mad 227

See COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1832) ss 76
7 1 L R 26 All 416

See CO PARTNERSHIP 1 L R 42 Bom 215

See CUSTOM 1 L R 39 Calc 418

See EASEMENT ACT s 13
1 L R 45 Bom 80
See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) ss 115
116 1 L R 38 All 226
1 L R 40 Mad 561
1 Pat L J 16
1 L R 41 Bom 480

See EXECUTION OF DECREE
3 Pat L J 454

See EXECUTION SALE
24 C W N 269

See FRAUD 1 L R 36 Bom 185

See HINDU LAW ADOPTION
1 L R 37 Mad 529
1 L R 40 All 593

See HINDU LAW JOINT FAMILIES
1 L R 43 All 703
26 C W N 201

See HINDU LAW PARTITION
1 L R 39 Mad. 587
1 L R 41 A 247
1 L R. 43 Calc 1059

See HINDU LAW REVENUE
1 L R 40 All 467

See JURISDICTION 1 L R 34 Mad. 257

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
1 L R 36 Mad 53
1 L R 33 All 213
1 L R. 46 Calc 1070

ESTOPPEL—contd

See LAND REGISTRATION

I L R 38 Calc 512

See LEASE

I L R 42 Bom 103

See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION

3 Pat L J 415

See LIMITATION ACT (Ist of 1908) s 19

I L R 40 Mad 701

See MAHOMEDAN LAW 24 C W N 321

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DONOR

I L R 33 All 291

See MINOR

15 C W N 239

See MORTGAGE

15 C W N 572

22 C W N 641

I L R 34 All 640

I L R 40 Calc 534

I L R 35 All 353

I L R 36 All 141

I L R 47 Calc 448

See MUNICIPAL ELECTION

I L R 47 Calc 524

See NOTICE

I L R 40 Calc 503

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING

24 C W N 818

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

14 C W N 381

See RES JUDICATA

I L R 41 Calc 69

I L R 2 Lab 88

See SALE OF GOODS

I L R 42 Bom 16

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT 1877 s 41

I L R 44 Bom 175

See SUB LEASE

I L R 48 Calc 783

See TITLE

I L R 44 Calc 771

See TRADE MARK

I L R 40 Calc 814

I L R 42 Calc 262

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT s 107

I L R 36 Bom 500

See VENDOR AND SON VENDOR

I L R 38 Calc 127

See WAIVER

I L R 44 Calc 10

See WAFF

I L R 37 Bom 447

See WIFE

3 Pat L J 199

— doctrine of feeding the—

See EXPECTANCIES

I L R 39 Mad. 554

— non user of right to take water from a well—

See EASEMENT ACT 1880 s 13 AND 47

I L P 45 Bom 80

— standing by while building operations are going on—

See ACQUESCENCE

I L R 2 Lah 258

1 DENIAL OF TITLE

2 ESTOPPEL BY CONDUCT

3 ESTOPPEL BY JUDGMENT

ESTOPPEL—contd

I DENIAL OF TITLE

Sarajam—Inam—Miras (permanent tenancy)—Denial of Sarajamdar's title—Attornment to successive Sarajamdars In an ejectment suit brought by an Inamdar against persons claiming to hold as miras or permanent tenants it was conceded that the inam rights in the land in suit appertained to a sarajam held on political tenure and that the present incumbent of the sarajam was the plaintiff. The defendants resisted the plaintiff's claim to eject them on the ground that the inam rights were merely the right to receive the royal share of the revenue and that the proprietary rights in the soil were prior to the date of the grant vested in the grantee of the inam had descended to his heirs independently of the inam and furnished the leasehold or miras right. Held that the defendant's contention involved the denial of the title of the reverendary rights in the lands in the defendants' occupation of the successive sarajamdars approved by Government. The defendants had however been continuously paying rent for their holding to the successive sarajamdar including the plaintiff. They were thus estopped by attornment from disputing the plaintiff's title. Isader Daji v Babaji Panu 8 Bom H C R (4 C) 118 and Dad dem Marlow v Wiggins 4 Q L 357 referred to. TRIMBAK PANCHANDRA v SHEKH GULA & LILANI (1909) I L R 34 Bom 329

Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 115—Acquiescence—Both parties equally conversant with true state of facts—Vague allegation is— Rent controversy to be ascertained by the Judge Where parties make vague and loose allegation it is always essential to the correct determination of the suit that the real controversy should be ascertained by the Judge by questioning their legal advisers as to what is exactly their position in the matter. Where both parties to a suit are equally conversant with the true state of fact it is absurd to refer to the doctrine of estoppel. In the year 1811 Government granted to the defendants predecessor in title a certain plot of land situate at Dhandhuka. The grant expressly stated that a strip of land belonging to Government was the southern boundary of the plot so granted. This statement was repeated in the mortgage deed executed by the defendants' predecessor in title to the defendants themselves in the year 1833. In the year 1890 the defendants purchased the said plot and encroached on the strip by extending their building on it. Thereupon the Secretary of State for India in Council brought a suit against them to recover possession of the strip after removing the defendants' encroachment. The suit was brought in the year 1908. The defendants' plea was that they were in possession and enjoyment for a long time and consequently there was acquiescence and estoppel on the part of the officers of Government and Dhandhuka Municipality and they wished to lead evidence to prove their plea. Held that the defendants' title deeds having brought to their knowledge the title of the Government the doctrines of estoppel and acquiescence were not applicable and the suit was governed by sixty year limitation. The Government being a party to it. PAN CHODLAL VANDER V THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA I L R 35 Bom 182

ESTOPPEL—contd

II ESTOPPEL BY CONDUCT—contd

—Conduct confirming the exchange whether an estoppel in a suit to recover possession—Transfer of Property Act IV of 1880 ss 51 54 and 118—Compensation The plaintiff and the defendant exchanged adjacent plots of land each worth more than a hundred rupees by means of an unregistered deed on 4th March 1908 both believing that they had effected a valid transfer. Possession was taken by each party and defendant began to erect a very costly building placing a wall thereof on the land he had acquired in exchange. While the building was in progress the plaintiff demanded and obtained Rs 525 from the defendant on the ground that the plot he parted with was found to be more in extent than the defendant's. After the completion of the building the plaintiff brought this suit in 1911 for recovery of his plot after removal of the defendant's building on it. The defendant pleaded inter alia that he had acquired a valid title to the plot that the plaintiff was estopped by his conduct from recovering the plot and that if the plaintiff was to get a decree he must pay compensation as a condition of recovery. Held on Letters Patent Appeal, by SADASIVA AYYAR and NAIR JJ (ABDUS SAMAD J dissenting)—(i) that the plaintiff was not estopped and that he was entitled to recover his plot owing to the absence of a registered deed of exchange as required by ss 51 and 118 of the Transfer of Property Act and (ii) that the plaintiff must pay sufficient compensation before recovery under s 51 of the Transfer of Property Act. Kurri Veerareddi v Kurri Bapireddi 1 L R 29 Mad 336 followed. Mahomed Musa v Aghore Kumar Ganguli 1 L R 42 Cal 301 and Yenayamma Rao v Appa Rao 1 L R 99 Mad 909 explained and distinguished. Per ABDUS SAMAD J—Plaintiff was estopped by his conduct from recovering his lot in spite of the want of a registered deed of exchange. Per SADASIVA AYYAR and NAIR JJ The word transferee in s 51 of the Transfer of Property Act includes also a transferee under an invalid transfer and the words the person causing the eviction include a transferee under an invalid transfer. PANANATHAN v PANGANATHAN (1917).

1 L R 40 Mad 1134

—Erection of building on another's land—acquiescence of owner's manager A stranger who constructs a building on the land of another without the latter's consent is liable to be ejected. In such a case the trespasser is not entitled to claim compensation for the building erected even though an agent of the owner of the land created or encouraged an expectation that the trespasser would be given an interest in the land if the agent's powers are expressly limited so as to exclude conveyance of land. Per CHAPMAN J—In India the power to dispose of the land property of a company does not usually lie in the hands of the local manager. Per ATKINSON J—A person who deals with a known agent endowed with limited authority and powers is bound to ascertain the scope of the agent's authority and he neglects to do so at his peril. The description of a person in a power of attorney as a general agent and manager cannot override the express limitation in the deed. STOKING v THE TATA IRON AND STEEL COMPANY (1917) 2 Pat L J 600

ESTOPPEL—contd

III ESTOPPEL BY JUDGMENT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 ss 13 44(b) 1 L R 35 Bom 297

—Settlement—Suit by after born son to set aside settlement—Difference between estoppel and res judicata Estoppel and res judicata are entirely different. Res judicata precludes a man averring the same thing twice over in successive litigations while estoppel prevents him saying one thing at one time and the opposite at another. CASSAMALLY JAIRAJBHAI v SIR CURRISHOY ENNAHIM (1911).

1 L R 36 Bom 214

—Res judicata and estoppel distinguished Res judicata ousts the jurisdiction of the Court while estoppel does no more than shut the mouth of a party. Estoppel never means anything more than that a person shall not be allowed to say one thing at one time and the opposite of it at another time while res judicata means nothing more than that a person shall not be heard to say the same thing twice over. BHAISHANKER NARABHAI v MORARJI KESHAJI & Co (1911).

1 L R 36 Bom 283

—Equitable estoppel—Res judicata—Indemnity contract of—Breach—Decree against promisee is binding on promisor The second defendant undertook to pay interest on certain debt of the plaintiff and in default agreed to indemnify the plaintiff against all losses caused thereby. The second defendant having defaulted the creditor recovered judgment both for principal and interest on the debts in a suit to which the plaintiff and second defendant were parties. The court finding that second defendant's plea of payment of interest was false. In a suit by the plaintiff for recovery of damages against the second defendant on account of the latter's default in payment of the stipulated interest the second defendant again pleaded payment. Held that whether the technical rule of res judicata was applicable or not the second defendant was equitably estopped by reason of the finding in the previous suit from raising the contention that he had really paid the interest due to the creditor. Where there is a contract to indemnify a decree passed against the promisee cannot be impeached by the promisor and if both the promisee and the promisor were parties to the suit by the third party or if the promisor had notice of the suit the judgment would be conclusive against the promisor. The contract on the part of the promisor is substantially broken when the Court finds in a suit honestly defended by the promisee that there has been a violation of duty by the promisor which has entitled a third party to the damages for which the indemnity has been given. Parker v Lewis 1 L R 8 Ch 4 1035 1038. Mercantile Investment and General Trust Company v River Plate Trust Loan and Agency Company [1894] 1 Ch 578 and Krishnan Vamshar v Kannan 1 L R 21 Mad 8 referred to. NALLAPPA v VIDYACHALA (1914).

1 L R 37 Mad 270

—Judgment affirmed on appeal—Second appeal not decided on merits—Finally decided—British Baluchistan Peguian IX of 1896 s 10 The appellant in pursuance of a deed of dissolution of partnership executed a bond for payment of a sum of money to the respondent to set aside

EVIDENCE—contd

of value of the subject matter—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1908) s 110 I L R 40 Bom 477

onus of proof of necessity

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT
I L R 40 Mad 402

recording of—

See SUMMARY TRIAL
I L R 43 Cal 233

regarding property transactions—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT s 27
I Pat L J 455

sufficiency of to prove necessity—

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT
I L R 40 Mad 402

unregistered deed re property—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT 1877 s 115

where witness not sworn—

See OATHS ACT (III of 1873) s 13
I L R 38 Mad 550

Admissibility of evidence—Family settlement—Evidence of settlement consisting of a joint application by the parties for mutation in respect of the property in dispute. The brother and widow of a deceased Hindu settled a dispute between them as to the ownership of the property of the deceased by means of a joint application in the Revenue Court stating that the property should be recorded half in the name of each. This was done and subsequently each sold the share of which he or she was recorded as owner. Thereafter the widow sued to recover the share which had gone to her husband's brother. Held that it must be presumed from the application in the mutation proceedings the recording of names by the Revenue Court in accordance with that application and the subsequent sales on the strength of that record that the parties entered into a family arrangement and the application presented to the Revenue Court was therefore not compulsorily registrable and was admissible in evidence. KORTA v. PIANI I AL (1913)

I L R 35 All 502

Expert in handwriting—Value to be attached to evidence of—Corroboration of such evidence. An accused should not ordinarily be convicted of forgery upon the uncorroborated testimony of a handwriting expert. The value to be attached to the evidence of handwriting experts discussed. In re VENKATA ROW (1913)

I L R 38 Mad 159

Private knowledge of facts by Judge

How far may be relied on by him—Savaram lands—Meaning of Savaram—Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908) s 135 construction of. Where the Judge used knowledge gained by him from his own experience as to scarcity of land for cultivation (although his knowledge was partly derived from facts relating generally to the lands in the zamindari of Nuzvid in which the lands in suit were situated). Held that the fact of which he had such knowledge was merely a fact of economical history and that he had not acted illegally in relying upon it. Per SUNDARA AYYAR J.—A Judge is not entitled to rely on specific facts not proved by the evidence in the case but known to him personally or otherwise but he may use his general knowledge and experience in determining the credibility of evidence adduced before him and applying it to the decision of the specific facts in dispute in the case. Per SUNDARA AYYAR J.—I think the only practical rule which can be laid down in these cases is that if a Judge knows of his own knowledge as an individual observer of a past relevant concrete private incident and that fact cannot be subjected to ocular proof at the time of trial (such as a person's colour, resemblance of features, appearance, behaviour, chemical experiments on the present condition of the object) and if the truth of such incidents is contested between the parties, he should mention his private knowledge of such incidents to the parties and he should refuse to be the Judge in that case unless both the parties after he so mentions to them his said personal knowledge of that particular incident state that they have no objection to his continuing as Judge. In the present case the learned Judge has not gone further than to use the general knowledge which he has acquired as a past revenue officer and as a revenue Court of experience in the course of the performance of his duties in zamindari tracts and I hold that he was entitled to use such knowledge in coming to conclusion on the facts after the consideration of the evidence let in in this case. Per CURRIAM. The word savaram as applied to lands does not necessarily convey the idea of full proprietary right in the zamindar. All that is clear is that savaram was compensation granted to a Zamindar or Revenue officer under the Mahomedan Government. Per CURRIAM. Where pattas entered into in 1897 evidenced agreements to leases operating from 1st 1898. Held that s 185 of the (Madras) Estates Lands Act I of 1908 (does not preclude the Court from taking such pattas into consideration it being the date of the contract that is material in deciding whether the evidence is admissible. Per SUNDARA AYYAR J. The Act does not lay down any rule as to all the kinds of evidence that may be produced to prove that the land in question is private land and it cannot be held that all evidence as to leases subsequent to 1st July 1898 is shut out altogether. Per SUNDARA AYYAR J.—Evidence as to leases granted after 1st July 1898 is shut out by s 185 if the leases are sought to be used for the purpose of proving the character of the tenure of the land. LAKSHMIYIA v. VARANAKIA APPAROW (1913)

EVIDENCE—contd

I L R 38 Mad 168

Documentary evidence—Reversal by appellate Court of decision as to genuineness of documents—Evidence taken on commission so that first Court had not the usual advantage of seeing and hearing witness—Suit by head of family and owner of impartible raj to recover immovable property reversioning to raj on failure of objects for which it was given as maintenance. In this appeal from the decision of the High Court in Palesham Parthabharan Singh v. Rudra Nara s I L J 542 their Lordships of the Judicial Committee agreed with the view of the High Court that the plaintiff (respondent) was entitled to succeed so far as his claim was based on the agardnama which if genuine was decisive of the case and without dissenting from their opinion on the point of law as to the competency of the Appellate Court under the circumstances to add a party after the period of limitation for the suit had expired affirm

EVIDENCE—contd

ed the first name as to the genuineness of the first name and second name and the first name of the appeal INDRA AHMAD FATEHULI KHAN V. RAJA SINGH (1910) I L R 32 All 241

— Usufructuary mortgage—Burden of proof—It is for the plaintiff to prove that the mortgage was not given for the purpose of the mortgaged property and did not attempt to recover possession until the period of limitation had almost expired. It was held on plea raised by the defendant that no conclusive presumption has been established that the burden of proving that consideration had passed was rightly shifted to the plaintiff. Atel and L. Mahabir I L R 8 All 611 followed. Mahabir Prasad v. Roshan Dey I L R 11 All 103 (1904) 13 distinguished. Prasad v. L. Mahabir (1911)

I L R 33 All 483

— Prosecution of witness for perjury on deposition irregularly taken—Evidence irregularly taken under a 300 Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1895)—Effect of irregularity. Where a deposition has been read to a witness over in Court and has been admitted by him to be correct in the presence of the Judge, the fact that another witness was being examined at the time is no defence to a prosecution of the deponent for giving false evidence in the deposition as read over. Kamolechithan Chetty v. Emperor I L R 28 All 303 commented on. Though deposition so recorded might invalidate the conviction of the accused in the case in which the deposition was so recorded, the deponent having admitted its correctness may be properly convicted of perjury thereon. Singh Prasad v. Emperor I L R 153 of 1894 (supra) d. (II Weir v. Cr. R. 135) distinguished. Boora v. Emperor I L R 34 Mad 141

— Unstamped promissory note executed in Rampur in favour of the Nawab of Rampur—As to such note in British India—Lex loci contractus—Rampur Stamp Law as 52 prior (c) and 53. Certain moneys having been advanced by the Nawab of Rampur a promissory note was accepted as security in favour of the Nawab of Rampur and bearing no stamp. The Nawab being examined on commission stated—This debt is due to me personally and, ordinarily speaking, a debt which is due to me is due to the State and a debt which is due to the State is due to me but the said amount I advanced from my own funds. According to the Stamp Law of Rampur a document executed in favour of the State did not require to be stamped. Held that the lex loci contractus had to be applied and that the note in question not being drawn in favour of the Nawab in his private capacity did not require to be stamped. Mina Begum v. The Nawab of Rampur (1911)

I L R 33 All 571

— Proof of adoption—Presumption from non appearance of plaintiff in Court as witness—It is not necessary for each plaintiff to cause his opponent to be cited as a witness. Non production of account books with entries made at ceremonies of adoption—Unsatisfactory conduct of case. In this case in which the only issue was whether an alleged adoption had taken place or not the onus being on the plaintiff (respondent) to prove that he had been

EVIDENCE—contd

